Citizens speak out at hearing

Tax rate hearing set for Sept. 6

By KEELY COGHLAN Staff Writer

Citizens bombarded city council members Tuesday night with complaints about taxes, city salaries, fire protection and recreational facilities.

About 250 citizens attended a public hearing on the 1985 budget, many of whom were critical of the council's proposal to raise property taxes by 15.74 percent from this year's effective rate.

After the hearing, councilmen agreed to have a public hearing on the proposed tax rate at 6:15 p.m. Sept. 6. Included in the budget proposal is a tax rate increase to 73 cents per $100 valuation.

The current tax rate is 68 cents per $100, but increased property values have lowered the effective tax rate - the rate needed to bring in the same amount of revenue as the year before - to 63 cents per $100 valuation.

According to councilmen, the extra money is needed to restore fund balances, which the city has been living off instead of passing tax increases in the past.

Councilmen voted 5-1 in favor of considering the tax increase and having a public hearing. Councilman Larry Miller voted against increasing taxes; Councilman Harold Hall, on a previously scheduled vacation, said he favored the tax increase in a letter to council members.

Member Gary Don Carey, who voted in favor of having a public hearing on the tax, said, however, that he opposes a property tax increase.

"I voted for another meeting on the tax increase," Carey said. "As far as a tax increase right now, Councilmen Russ McEwen, Henry Sanchez, Larry Miller and Mayor Clyde Angel, from left, discuss the budget and citizen's comments from the stage of the Municipal Auditorium.

A standing-room-only audience in the city council chambers looks much smaller in the Municipal Auditorium, where the meeting was moved for space. About 250 people attended the public hearing on the city's 1985 budget, which lasted two hours.

Former City Councilman Jack Watkins warns council of a possible rollback if the property tax rate is increased.

when the chips are down, I'm going to vote against it."

During the hearing, citizens suggested council members cut the number of personnel, cut the number of fleet vehicles, reduce personnel salaries, eliminate supervisors and cut non-essential items - including the completion of a sprinkler system and a proposed softball complex.

"People can't pay the (tax) load," said Cecil Gilstrap. "The county held the line. The college is holding the line. I think y'all ought to hold the line."

Weinberger praised for weapon cut

WASHINGTON (AP) - Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger won wide congressional praise for scuttling the Army's troubled Sgt. York air defense gun, a costly weapon that worked no better than the system it was designed to replace.

The decision to cancel the gun means the Army will have to go back to the drawing board to come up with a weapon to defend its infantry troops against aerial attack. The service already has missiles and high-speed guns for that purpose, but says a better system is needed.

"The system didn't work well enough," Weinberger told a Pentagon news conference Tuesday. "That's the simple fact."

Weinberger said today that "canceling this particular system doesn't give us the protection we need. What we have to do now is develop as rapidly as we can an effective system."

Interviewed on the NBC "Today" show, he said "the Soviets have developed an increasing helicopter capability to stand off there and fire lethal fire into troops in combat at some distance from them, and we need a system that can destroy those helicopters."

"The adage about Weinberger is that he's never seen a weapons system he didn't like, but he's now shown that given the right circumstances, he's not against canceling a program. It's a very important and dramatic decision," said Sen. Dan Quayle, R-Ind.

It is rare for the Pentagon to kill a weapon after production has begun. Eight years ago, President Carter halted the B-1 bomber program, but only four prototypes had been built and production wasn't started. President Reagan resurrected the plane.

Although Congress is in recess, legislators quickly praised Weinberger's decision and said it would help him as he tries to defend Reagan administration defense budget requests before an increasingly reluctant Congress.

"This gives Weinberger tremendous credibility on Capitol Hill," said Sen. Warren Rudman, R-N.H., by telephone from his home. Rudman, a frequent critic of the Sgt. York, said, "It certainly was the right decision."

Rep. Denny Smith, R-Ore., the weapon's chief critic in the House, called Weinberger's decision "a gutsy move" and said it "sends a strong signal to contractors to clean up their act."

A frequent Weinberger critic, Sen. David Pryor, D-Ark., said by telephone from Jonesboro, Ark., that "I must say I am pleasantly surprised. I did not ever think I would see the day when Weinberger would turn thumbs down on a weapon when it's been around so long. It was a turkey."

Sen. Charles Grassley, R-Iowa, another critic, said, "I think it shows Weinberger has gotten some wisdom and shows that when we cut down the budget, the Pen-

Joining football team is local girl's dream

By SCOTT FITZGERALD Staff Writer

A former snuff dipper and current weight lifter is fighting all barriers to make a personal dream come true.

The dream is an obsession to participate in the American men's game of football.

"I decided to give up snuff because it might lead to lip cancer, and I wouldn't be able to play football," said 18-year-old Lisa Swinney, who will be a senior at Big Spring High School.

She's aware of her obsession. "Football is an obsession with me. I even sleep with a football at night. It's hard to let go of it," Swinney said.

She wouldn't mind the tackling, grunts or injury risk the game offers. "My dream is to be able to play football so that any girl could play football in Texas or anywhere they wanted," she said.

Swinney asked Big Spring Steer head football coach Quinn Eudy last November if she could work out with the boys' off-season spring training program that consisted of weightlifting and road training.

Eudy told her no. She inquired again about participating in April spring training drills, and Eudy again said no.

Eudy acted in accordance with University Interscholastic League rules that prohibit girls from participating in boys' tackle football. The UIL rules govern all Texas high school sport activities, and infractions lead to ineligibility in UIL competition.

UIL athletic director Bill Farney said that under the non-discrimination clause of the UIL constitution, girls are eligible to compete in boys sports provided no girls teams have been established in that particular sport.

Football is the lone exception, and the rule is explicit, said Farney. Women cannot participate with men in contact sports, the UIL constitution says.

"Football has been ruled out according to the agencies and courts because it is a contact sport," Farney said. "Schools could be legally responsible for injuries. To subject a girl to that situation would place her in a high risk injury situation."

Swinney said she had hoped for a tryout as outside linebacker or running back.

Lisa Swinney

"I like getting tackled. Once I'm down, I get mad and want to hit harder," she said.

She said her parents have objected to her desire for a tryout with the Steers.

"They just won't support it," Swinney said.

Her training the last two years has consisted of three to four hours daily lifting weights and up to a mile of running. A friend guided her through some tackling drills last winter, she said.

She has no special player she idolizes; it's the sport that enchants her, she said.

If her plans for a tryout with the Steers continue to be thwarted, Swinney said she will continue plans to write a book about football from a woman's point of view.

The book, Swinney said, would cover such things as coaches' duties and an overall look at football from a woman's perspective.

Loeffler lashes out at Gov. White

ABILENE (AP) — Republican gubernatorial candidate Tom Loeffler blasted Gov. Mark White, saying the state is often being led by public opinion polls and photo opportunities.

"I do not see the leadership in the governor's office necessary and capable of directing our state through this critical period," Loeffler said at an Abilene press conference Tuesday.

"Texas today has too much governorship by photo opportunity, too much leadership by public opinion polls. Texans demand a governor of substance, not of imagery," the congressman from Kerr County said.

Loeffler formally announced his plans to run for governor last week, but he has been campaigning since spring.

So far his only GOP opponent is former Gov. Bill Clements, although former congressman and ex-Democrat Kent Hance is expected to announce his candidacy.

Loeffler has he would run a positive campaign. But while being "positive" toward his GOP opponents, he has criticized Governor Mark White's administration.

"The politicizing of every issue, of every board and commission, will end when I become governor," Loeffler said. "Playing politics in-abuse of the governor's power. "I am under no illusion as to what kind of campaign this will be," he said, looking past the primary. "Mark White has proven himself to be a better politician than a governor."

Loeffler said there was a need for change in Texas and talked about the changes made by President Reagan's administration.

"President Reagan brought a new beginning to America and changed the role of the federal government," he said. "It is now time to bring a new beginning home to Texas and into the governor's office."

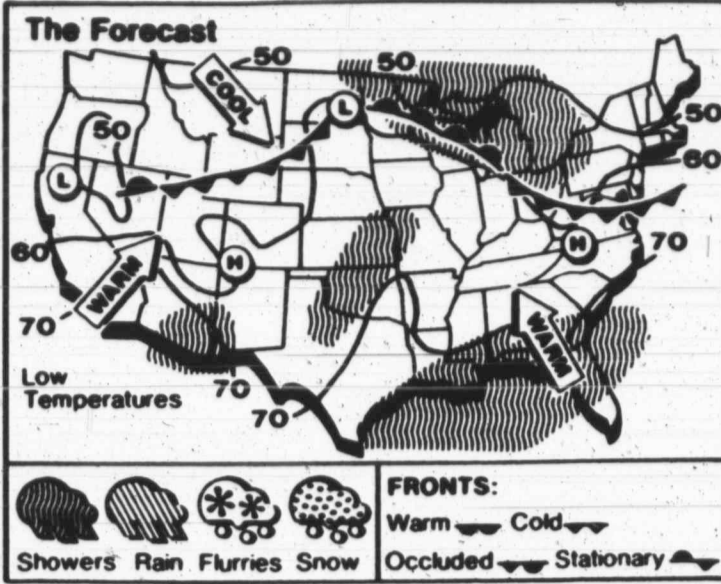

The congressman blasted White for "raising taxes" last year and fees this year.

The four-term congressman has been critical of Congress' handling of the federal deficit in the past. The federal budget deficit has tripled under the Reagan administration.

"Mark White's statement in 1982 that he would never raise taxes is the first White lie," Loeffler said. "Absolutely until spending priorities are re-evaluated, there will be no tax increase with a Loeffler administration."

stead of showing the commitment and courage to solve the problems that face our state is a blatant

Police Beat

Cop injured at disturbance

A Big Spring patrolman was injured Tuesday night while answering a disturbance call at the West Wind Motel at 2004 Gregg.

Patrolman Hector Cantu was treated at Malone-Hogan Hospital for cuts on his right forearm and a swollen right temple, a hospital spokeswoman said.

According to the police report, Marcus Aguilar, 25, no address given, hit Cantu with his fist when Cantu and his partner, patrolman Bobby Armstrong, arrived at the scene.

Aguilar was arrested on suspicion of failure to identify, assault on a police officer and criminal mischief. According to reports, he gave a false name when police asked him to identify himself.

During the arrest, he also damaged the police car, a white 1984 Ford, by kicking out the right rear window and kicking in the inside right rear door panel and the outside right front door panel, according to police reports.

Police early today also arrested Samuel Joseph Ross, 17, of Driver Road at the Ponderosa Motel on suspicion of evading arrest.

Ross, who was driving a 1984 black Honda motorcycle, tried to avoid being pulled over for a traffic violation, according to the accident report.

Ross pulled into the parking lot of the motel and lost control of the motorcycle. A juvenile male passenger on the motorcycle also was arrested and placed in the custody of the juvenile probation office.

Sheriff's Log

Missouri truck turns up here

Howard County sheriff's deputies are investigating the theft of a one-ton flatbed truck that was stolen Tuesday night on Interstate 20 at Exit 192 near Coahoma.

The yellow truck, owned by Herzog Contracting Corporation, has Missouri license plates with the number 24-224, and Herzog Contracting Corp. emblems are displayed on both doors, according to the sheriff's log.

Upon investigation this morning at the scene of the theft, a sheriff's deputy found an abandoned yellow 1976 Chevrolet Malibu in the east-bound lane of I-20.

The sheriff's office later learned the vehicle was reported stolen on June 15 from Sapulpa, Okla., a sheriff's deputy said.

Coahoma schools cut budget, want tax hike

COAHOMA — Coahoma school board members approved a $4.7 million budget for the 1985-86 fiscal year at a special meeting last night.

The figure is a reduction from the current $5 million.

The bulk of reduction comes from refinancing the elementary school building, said Jerry Doyle, Coahoma superintendent.

Despite cutting seven teachers and four aides from the staff and other budget cutting measures, a tax increase will be needed to pay for new requirements of House Bill 72, said Doyle.

The board will hold a public hearing Sept. 9 and will set the tax rate Sept. 16, he said.

School board will consider new teacher review form

School trustees will be asked to adopt a new teacher evaluation form, more detailed than this year's, when they meet Thursday in a special session at the Big Spring High School board room.

According to Superintendent Lynn Hise, the document is more detailed and more in line with new rules concerning teacher placement on the career ladder.

Three Big Spring teachers appealed decisions about their place on the career ladder during the past school year. The board upheld the administrative decision in all three cases.

One complaint about the career ladder rules was vagueness. "We feel it's just a better instrument," Hise said of the document. He added that state officials are designing a new form to be used next year.

The agenda also calls for discussion and approval of the new teacher evaluation/appraisal document for the 1985-86 school year; approval of Local Policy Update 24; consideration of Chapter 1 pro-

Actress dead at 88

EDGARTOWN, Mass. — Actress Ruth Gordon, whose stage and screen career spanned 70 years and included a supporting actress Oscar for "Rosemary's Baby," died today at her Martha's Vineyard summer home, police said. She was 88.

"She passed away peacefully in her sleep," said state Trooper James Metallano.

She was found by her husband of 43 years, Garson Kanin, a producer and author.

Her screen credits include "Inside Daisy Clover," "Where's Poppa," and "Harold and Maude," about the love between a teen-age boy and an old woman, which attracted a devoted cult following. She was the friendly neighbor devil worshipper in "Rosemary's Baby" and she played Clint Eastwood's mother in "Every Which Way But Loose" and "Any Which Way You Can."

She won an Emmy award for an appearance on the TV show "Taxi" in 1979.

Fires derail service

NEW YORK — Suspicious fires in four junked railroad cars spewed smoke through Grand Central Terminal today, cutting off commuter rail service used by 60,000 people at the height of the morning rush.

Dense clouds of black smoke poured into the air from ventilation ducts at the normally bustling station and along Park Avenue, which sits atop the tunnels leading out of the station. Emergency equipment jammed the streets and downtown Manhattan traffic was badly congested.

More than 40 people, including 12 firefighters, were treated at Grand Central and 29 were sent to hospitals, said Emergency Medical Services spokesman Louis Cafiero. Most suffered smoke inhalation or heat exhaustion.

In addition, 17 people who suffered smoke inhalation on a train in a tunnel leading out of Grand Central were taken off the train at a station some 80 blocks north of the terminal, he said. One firefighter suffered a back injury.

Police corner a man who filed a charge by officers which scattered about 200 people gathered near Athlone stadium in Cape Town, South Africa, Wednesday for a protest march to the prison where black leader Nelson Mandela is serving a life term.

Rioters demand release of black leader

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Thousands of anti-apartheid demonstrators of all races defied the law today by mounting marches to demand freedom for Nelson Mandela, the imprisoned black leader of the banned African National Congress.

Police firing tear gas and rubber bullets stopped one of the processions, and riot policemen armed with rubber whips and truncheons disbanded another before it could start.

But a third march from the mostly white University of Cape Town was under way toward President P.W. Botha's official residence early in the afternoon, residents said.

The residents said about 1,000 people of all races were singing freedom songs and marching, but it was not clear whether police knew about it or if Botha was at the residence.

At 10 a.m. (3 a.m. CDT) police broke up a planned march from the mixed-race suburb of Athlone to Pollsmoor Prison, where Mandela is serving a life term following his conviction on charges of plotting sabotage.

One man screaming "Allah akbar," Arabic for "God is great," was seen being hauled away from the clash that developed moments before the scheduled start of the march.

Some of South Africa's Moslems, classified as Asians under the government's racial separation laws, speak and read Arabic.

Some of the crowd suffered bruises, but it was not clear if there were any serious injuries.

Agency head fired

BONN, West Germany — Chancellor Helmut Kohl will fire the head of West Germany's intelligence agency as a result of the country's spy scandal, high-ranking government sources said today.

The sources, speaking on condition they not be identified, told The Associated Press that Kohl informed Heribert Hellenbroich, the intelligence agency chief, of his decision during a meeting this morning.

Hellenbroich has been in charge of the agency for less than a month. He was formerly in charge of Bonn's counter-espionage service, where Hans Joachim Tiedge worked as a section chief in charge of counter-spy activities against East Germany.

Tiedge defected to East Germany last week, and since then reports of a series of personal problems have surfaced.

Kohl also faces growing pressure to fire the interior minister because of Tiedge's defection.

Opposition Social Democratic leader Hans-Jochen Vogel on Tuesday demanded the resignation of Interior Minister Friedrich Zimmermann, saying: "If a disaster of this scope happens you have to take responsibility and resign."

Zimmermann's ministry deals with interior security matters.

Terrorists arrested

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador — Authorities have arrested three men they suspect of being part of the leftist terror squad that sprayed a cafe with gunfire, killing 13 people, including six Americans, President Jose Napoleon Duarte said.

A fourth suspect was wounded in the June 19 attack and died in a hospital, Duarte said Tuesday at a news conference.

He said security forces still were hunting seven other suspects, five of whom have been identified.

A statement issued at the news conference identified all 11 suspects as members of the Central American Revolutionary Worker's Party, which claimed responsibility for the attack.

Dad accused of murder wants his life to return to normal

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — A father spared a prison sentence for killing a martial arts instructor accused of kidnapping and sexually assaulting his son says he just wants his life to return to normal.

"I want to thank my family and my friends in Baton Rouge who supported me," Leon Gary Plauche, 39, said after he was sentenced Tuesday to five years of supervised probation, during which he is to undergo treatment for substance abuse and perform 300 hours of community service work.

"I would just like to get on with my life," he said. Plauche pleaded no contest on May 16 to manslaughter in the death of Jeffrey Doucet, 25, who was shot in the head in the Baton Rouge airport March 16, 1984.

The shooting, filmed by a television crew, occurred as police escorted Doucet in handcuffs after returning from California where FBI agents had arrested him on a charge of kidnapping Plauche's 11-year-old son.

Judge Frank Saia, calling the shooting a tragedy and saying that imprisonment would serve no useful purpose, suspended a sentence of seven years at hard labor. The maximum sentence would have been 21 years in jail. Saia said therapists who have worked with Plauche said that prison would do little to rehabilitate him. "In fact, prison life might have a devastating effect on him and everything that has been accomplished during the past year and a half," he said.

Plauche was originally indicted on a second-degree murder charge but bargained with prosecutors to plead no contest to manslaughter.

"The victim is from a good family and the defendant is from a good family," Saia said. "In this case, if there is anything that is unusual, it is because both sides are victims. Both sides suffered."

Doucet's mother, Elia Doucet, broke into sobs as the sentence was read and was supported by family members as they left the standing-room-only courtroom.

"They didn't even let me know that my son had been killed. I found out when I saw my son killed on television..." said Mrs. Doucet, her voice trailing off.

Roland Doucet, a brother, made the unusual move of addressing the court before sentencing.

"I believe thou shalt not kill and society says thou shall not kill," he told the court. "I believe that Jeffrey believed that."

"That man took his life from him," Doucet said, pointing at Plauche.

Afterwards, Doucet called the sentence an outrage.

"I don't believe justice was done," he said. "It's just going to show people that if you have political connections you can get away with murder on national TV in Baton Rouge."

The sentence was in line with psychological reports filed in court Monday, and with motions by defense attorney Anthony Marabella, who asked Saia not to imprison Plauche.

"There is virtually no risk that (he) will commit another crime, nor will incarceration serve any useful purpose nor will a probationary sentence deprecate the seriousness of the crime," Marabella wrote.

Two psychological reports included detailed accounts given by both Plauche and the son.

Dr. James L. Brabham reported that the son described how Doucet, the boy's martial arts instructor, had sexually abused him for months prior to the kidnapping.

The boy was abducted Feb. 19, 1984, and was rescued by authorities in California Feb. 29, more than two weeks before the shooting.

The boy suffered from bad dreams after the incident, but he has progressed well and the prognosis for a normal life appears to be good, Brabham wrote.

Dr. Edward P. Uzee examined the father and concluded Plauche could not tell the difference between right and wrong when he shot Doucet.

"Gary's sense of right and wrong became a mirror image of what is right and wrong according to law and society, but Gary believed he would be failing in his duty — that he would be wrong if he did not carry out his God-given mission to kill Jeffrey Doucet."

Budget hearing dealt in ironies

Tuesday night's public hearing on the city budget was a study in irony. It was also an exercise in frustration for many citizens who voiced opposition to rising taxes and fees. People, finding no object for their anger, lashed out blindly, and in some cases maliciously.

Councilmen should be applauded for their willingness to listen to their constituents. And, ultimately, the productive approach by the citizens will be to support those they elected to represent them.

Councilmen listened to the people, 150 strong, in a hot, ill-lit auditorium, owned by the city of Big Spring but allowed to decay into a deplorable state. The reason? No one has been willing to commit tax money to restore the stately structure. The recent impetus for renovation has come from private donations, not public funds.

Most citizens took turns railing against tax oppression, bitter that a hefty tax increase is planned. But some came to plead special consideration. Firefighters who spoke out could see no rationale for reducing their manpower. The message was clear: cut, but don't cut my program.

City Manager Don Davis was peppered with cries of "fire 'em, fire 'em" when citizen Danny Heckler, who does as his name implies, ferreted out the fact that Davis makes $50,000 a year for his efforts. Yet no one sees a need to call to task the four Howard County commissioners — whose combined incomes for part-time work total about $100,000 a year.

Citizens fumed about lack of leadership even as they roared those we elected to lead us.

It was indeed a night of ironies, made deeper by the fact that there's next to nothing which can be cut from the city budget. Manpower is being reduced. Salaries are frozen. The only "frill" is a plan to extend to all city employees the newly won benefits of firefighters. And, in the final irony, it was a public vote of the people that gave these benefits to the firemen in the first place.

The public hearing was needed. It allowed complaints that needed to be aired. And in the final analysis the tax rate proposal may be adjusted. We have several days before a decision must be made.

When it is made, however, we hope the mandate voters gave councilmen will not be brutalized in a headlong rush that may be pennywise and pound foolish.

Happy holidays at Hotel Home

(Whilst Art Buchwald is on vacation we reprint some columns from the past.)

The problem after a summer vacation is that parents of college students can never be quite sure if their children had a good time or not.

I've taken a leaf from Holiday Inns, Howard Johnson motels and Hilton to solve this problem. In many motel and hotel rooms there is a form the management asks the guests to fill out regarding the service of the establishment.

As a public service I am printing a similar form that parents can mail to their children after they have returned to school to find out if they were satisfied with their vacation visit. Just clip it out and stick it in with the next check you send to your loved ones.

Dear Guest,
In order to improve our service at ... (write in address) we are asking you to fill out the following form. Your answers will help us in our desire to improve our guest operation and to guarantee that you will come back again. A stamped return envelope is enclosed for your convenience.

1. Were you happy with the hotel service you received from your mother? ... Your father? ... Other members of the family? ... If you weren't please tell us where you felt they let you down in the blank space on the back of this form.

2. Were you satisfied with the meals? Please rate them as (a) Excellent (b) Good (c) Fair or (d) Poor.

3. Could your friends find everything they wanted in the icebox? Yes ... No ... Was there enough beer, wine and liquor available for them when they dropped by? Were they satisfied with their accommodations when they decided to sleep over? Yes ... No ... Were there any complaints about the room service?

4. Did you find the house quiet enough when you slept late in the morning? Were you disturbed by anyone coming into your room asking when you were getting up? Was your room cleaned up satisfactorily while you were in the kitchen having breakfast?

5. How did you find the laundry service? Were there always fresh clothes in your drawers and did our staff pick up the dirty ones every day which you threw on the floor?

6. Was there enough hot water for your bath or shower? Did you find your father's hairbrush when you needed it? Were you happy with the brand of cosmetics you borrowed from your mother's dresser? Did you have enough clean towels every day? Did your mother pick up the dirty ones after you bathed in a cheerful manner?

7. What was your opinion of our limousine service? Was there a car always available when you needed it or did you have to wait until a member of the family completed an errand? Did the doorman park your car or did you have to do it yourself?

8. How would you rate the help? (a) friendly and on the job; (b) willing to drop everything to resolve a request, no matter how demanding; (c) surly and uncooperative. In this respect were you made to feel at home, or did you get the impression the help would be happy when your vacation was over?

Our existence depends on your patronage and our only purpose is to make you happy. If we have done so, we're very pleased. If we have failed in any way, no matter how small, we would like to hear from you. Remember: "Our Casa is Your Casa."

Sincerely yours,

Ag graduate school evades procurement rules

WASHINGTON — In Washington, it's hard to come up with a scam that someone hasn't already thought up. But the inventive administrators of the Graduate School of the U.S. Department of Agriculture managed to do it.

For the past three years, this obscure institution has been providing services and personnel for various agencies and charging commissions to do it. If you worked for a government agency that needed extra personnel, computers or furniture and you wanted to avoid the cumbersome procurement channels, the thoughtful folks at the Graduate School were usually willing to help.

It was an ingenious bit of flim-flammy that deserves at least an Honorable Mention in our Hall of Shame.

We first broke the story two weeks ago with a report that two Washington-area Army installations spent $235,000 over a two-year period on equipment — including a microwave oven, a bar stool, slide projectors and an exercise machine — through "inter-agency agreements" with the Graduate School. The purchases were disguised as "educational services" to bypass the regular procurement process.

A few days later, the Agriculture Department's inspector general reported that the Graduate School had acted as a "pass-through contractor" to purchase supplies and equipment and to hire employees wanted by client agencies. The Graduate School collected commissions of up to 30 percent, which were concealed as "overhead fees."

The school, which offers adult-education courses, receives no appropriations and is supposed to subsist on tuition fees. But with a $30 million contract income, its annual budget soared from $4.9 million in 1980 to $23 million in 1985. There was so much money coming in, said one insider, that the school "couldn't handle it" and began to have billing and accounting problems.

It will be a few months before the scandal runs its course. One Graduate School official, Director Edmund Fulker, has resigned under pressure, and a federal grand jury is looking into the operation. Other investigations may be in the offing.

Our reporter Kenneth Reid has learned that a federal grand jury probe of the Army's contracts with the school has already snared one individual who pleaded guilty to filing fraudulent claims. "There's a lot more to come," said a source in the U.S. Attorney's office in Alexandria, Va.

The inspector general at the Agency for International Development also is auditing the $11 million in contracts his agency signed with the Graduate School. In one case, an AID official requested that a particular individual be hired by the school and assigned to a foreign aid project. "We would like to have him report for work on or about Sept. 8," the official wrote in a letter to the school's head of international programs on Aug. 22, 1983.

Federal regulations flatly forbid agencies to designate who is to be hired on contract jobs. By using "inter-agency agreements" with an entity that is not a federal agency, the foreign aid officials were able to circumvent the rules.

The Graduate School's former business manager, Kenneth Dickerson, repeatedly warned his supervisors that the deals they were making with other government agencies were not on the up-and-up.

In a Dec. 16, 1982, letter to Fulker, for example, Dickerson questioned expenditures made for an Army educational center at Fort Belvoir, Va. "I suspect a good many of the purchases do not simply comply with federal procurement regulations," he wrote.

Footnote: Fulker said his school had actually "saved the government money," not the other way around. The overhead fees were legitimate, he said, and often necessary because the agencies he dealt with took so long to pay.

UNDER THE DOME: Special interest groups, as well as average citizens, are apparently taking those exhortations to "write your congressman" seriously. Last year, 200 million pieces of mail were sent to Capitol Hill; that's a five-fold increase since 1973.

ISTHMUS IMBROGLIO: In Central America, where conspiracy theories flourish and bloom, a Panamanian newspaper, Critica, has accused leaders of Panama's Christian Democratic party of conspiring — along with Christian Democrats in other Latin American countries — to destabilize the isthmus nation. This, despite the fact Christian Democrats hold only five seats in Panama's 67-member legislature. State Department officials dismiss this latest conspiracy theory as Panamanian paranoia over the possible spread of violence to its borders from nearby Nicaragua and El Salvador.

MINI-EDITORIAL: Too often, we learn of youngsters who have hitchhiked and paid a horrible price — received brutal treatment or even death from someone who picked them up. Across the country, there are scattered skeletons hidden in tangled thickets, submerged in swamps, and buried under clumps of sagebrush who were once cheerful hitchhikers, naively unconcerned about the possibility of danger. Think before you thumb.

Cancer runs more than skin-deep

To the editor:

Why did Reagan and White House spokesmen lie about the intestinal cancer and the skin cancer on Reagan's nose? It was known one year ago last June, as reported by the U.S. Washington Newsletter, that he had the intestinal problem.

The above-named publication reports that right-wing members of Reagan's staff feared he could lose the election if the story was leaked before the election. An agreement was made that Reagan would resign prior to the expiration of his term, turn the presidency over to George Bush in order to make it easier for an incumbent to be elected in 1988. Bush, in turn, would probably name Jean Kirkpatrick for his vice-president.

One can only be a Doubting Thomas with statements issued by the Reagan Administration. Ronnie has charmed the U.S. voters out of their votes and is fast putting them on a road to financial ruin. We now have the largest deficit ever and the greatest trade imbalance in our history.

Reagan talks about the Democrats as the big spenders, but all of the Democratic administrations put together could not equal the spending of Ronald Reagan's first four years ... and he is still spending.

tagon has to make some tough decisions."

And Sen. Alan J. Dixon, D-Ill., also a critic, said: "I think it's going to improve his standing with the Congress that he had the courage to do this."

The Sgt. York, also known as Divad for division air defense, was designed to chiefly defend against low-flying Soviet helicopters.

The service had planned to buy 618 of the guns from Ford Aerospace for a total cost of $4.8 billion. The Pentagon had already sunk $1.8 billion into the program and had received 65 Divads.

The weapon consisted of two rapid-firing 40 mm cannons mounted on a modified tank chassis and guided by a radar linked to a computer. It was named after the Army's most decorated hero of World War I.

But it has been plagued by problems, particularly in tests, and Congress last year ordered a halt to production until more tests could be done. Weinberger said those results from earlier this summer convinced him to scrap the program.

"The independent operational tests demonstrated that the system's performance does not effectively meet the growing military threat," he said.

"The tests demonstrated also that while there are marginal improvements that can be made to the Divad, these are not significant compared to the capability to current air defense weapons and therefore not worth the additional costs," he said.

Ford Aerospace, which assembled the weapons at Newport Beach, Calif., said the gun met "contractual specification requirements established by the Army."

Company president Donald B. Rassier said Ford Aerospace may offer its own new weapon and already started "work to identify effective solutions to the new air defense threat."

Current weapons used by the Army include the Vulcan high-speed gun and Chaparral short-range missiles. Those 20-year-old weapons still need to be replaced, Weinberger said.

Also available is the Roland, another ground-to-air missile. The Pentagon planned to buy 7,000 missiles, but cut the program three years ago after costs skyrocketed and now has only 600 Roland missiles.

Rollback election possible

City council members have proposed a 15.74 percent increase in property taxes from the effective tax rate, making it possible for residents to go through a tax rollback procedure.

The proposal, which would increase taxes to 73 cents per $100 valuation, is a five-cent increase over the current rate of 68 cents. However, because total appraised property values in the city increased, a tax rate of 63 cents per $100 would bring in the same amount of revenue as last year.

Residents upset about the proposed increase, assuming it is approved by the council, would have 90 days to gather signatures of 10 percent of the city's registered voters on a rollback petition.

The petition would have to be certified by the city secretary. If certified, the city would be required to hold an election on the rollback question.

Taxes could only be rolled back to the current rate, 68 cents per $100.

Hearing

Former city councilman Jack Watkins went further. "If you pass a tax increase at 73 cents, the taxpayers will have a rollback election. ... I'm not trying to intimidate you but I'm telling you the facts," he said.

Richard Gibbons drew loud applause as the first of many speakers to propose making the golf course and tennis courts self-sustaining enterprises. "Why does the city continue to subsidize the golf course and tennis courts? ... It needs to be a 'bare bones' budget."

The golf course will bring in about $100,000 this year, but still will be $80,000 in the hole, city officials said. Councilman Russ McEwen defended the $50,000 price tag for completing the sprinkler system out of revenue-sharing funds. "If we improve it, it will draw more players," he said.

The softball complex and golf course drew support from Steve Frazer of the Big Spring Softball Commission and Chris Christopher, Fibertex chief executive officer.

Frazer, representing 800 people who signed a petition for construction of a new softball complex, said tournaments at good fields brought in many out-of-town players, most of whom spent $75 a day in town.

Christopher, like Councilman Johnny Rutherford, said the recreational complexes were necessary "quality-of-life" items to draw industry to town.

Councilmen drew particularly heavy heat from former and current firefighters, who criticized the city's plan to close Central and reduce fire department personnel by two people through demotions and attrition.

Residents of the city's west end of town asked the council to delay closing Central until they open a new fire station on the west, perhaps at an old building at the Big Spring Airpark.

"You need to give some protection before you pull the rug away," said a businessman. "If it takes you seven minutes to get to my business, I lose $200,000. ... People who live there can't afford to live anywhere else. If they lose their home, they lose everything."

According to McEwen, council members have considered opening a new station at the airpark in another year. The department's response times will not be changed, he said.

Firemen, including members of the city's union, asked the council not to demote two lieutenants, but to keep them as floating employees at that rank. The city already is paying higher classification pay nearly every shift, and this would help to avoid that, said union president John Branham.

The firemen also claim they would run the same amount of equipment as they run with Central Fire Station open. Equipment, they say, determines the number of employees, not stationhouses.

McEwen said the proposal will save the city $50,000. He also said eight employees from other departments are being cut through attrition.

Water

to criticism from former city councilman Jack Watkins.

Watkins, who was on the council in the '70s, shot back, saying the council then had fired the city administration and made up a $256,000 deficit in one year.

"If you raise the water and sewer rates, you're going to dry up this town," Watkins said. "We're sick. We need a doctor, not more of this patent medicine."

Watkins, who said he had not been to a council meeting in four years before Tuesday's public hearing, drew applause when he finished talking. "We're in hard times. We need help and you people can help us," he said.

Steve Chrane, who also complained about the city's water, said residents couldn't drink it. "If you raise the rates, you're liable to see a water well and septic tank in everyone's yard," he said.

Chrane echoed statements by an earlier speaker who did not give his name.

"Outside most cities there are signs saying 'Public Water Supply Approved.' There's not one outside our city. I wonder why we are raising the price of water when we can't safely drink the stuff," the man said. He was cheered and applauded by the audience.

Council members defended the increases, saying the money was to be used for a 10 percent fund for future improvements, for debt retirement from bonds for capital improvements of water and sewer lines, and to keep up the city's bond rating.

They also said the city could do little to improve water taste unless they wanted to invest $10 million in a desalination plant.

According to Councilman Johnny Rutherford, the best chance to improve water taste is completion of the Stacy Dam by the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Councilman Gary Don Carey, who voted in favor of the increase, said it was needed to assure water supplies. "I feel like we in West Texas are growing — maybe not Big Spring, per se, but West Texas is growing.

"It's one of the driest areas."

Dear Abby

Object of women's charms objects to all the attention

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem I suppose most men would sell their souls to have, but I would sell mine to be rid of it. Women chase after me. I have just begun a new job, and four of the 11 secretaries here are after me — one is married. They are not even subtle; they come right out and tell me what they have in mind. One actually started putting her hands where they didn't belong, and when I sternly rebuked her, she continued to pursue me.

I am not interested in any of these women because I am gay. This is no secret, but it doesn't seem to dampen their enthusiasm — they want me anyway. I have had this problem all my adult life, but now it's reached the breaking point.

I once asked four women why they thought women fell for me knowing I was gay, and I got four different answers.

Believe me, if I ever find out what it is, I am going to change it! Please rush me some advice. I'm at the end of my rope.

RELUCTANT SEX OBJECT IN OHIO

DEAR OBJECT: You should know there is nothing more tempting than forbidden fruit! Tell these predatory females that you aren't interested, just as you'd tell a man in whom you had no interest.

DEAR READERS: Even though selling or serving alcoholic beverages to persons of high school age is illegal in most states, studies reveal that 93 percent of high school students have consumed alcoholic beverages at least once — with 72 percent drinking in the past month.

The need for dealing realistically with teen-age drinking is supported by drinking and driving statistics, and the growth of treatment facilities for adolescent alcoholics.

I have just read a booklet that I think should be in every home where there are children from 10 to 18 years old. It's for children and parents to read. It's titled, "Let's Talk About Drinking."

It can be obtained by writing to: Family, P.O. Box 57008, Washington, D.C. 20037.

The booklet is free. And the postage is paid, too. Send for your booklet today.

DEAR ABBY: I've lived in this home for 25 years and have always used gas to heat it. Last year my next-door neighbors decided to switch to wood. The wood burning continues for 24 hours a day all winter long and the inside of my house constantly smells of burning wood. My eyes burn, my nose is stuffy and my sinuses hurt.

Wood burning is allowed in this township, so I was advised to speak to my neighbors about this annoyance. I even offered to pay them $500 a winter not to burn wood, but they told me they didn't want the money. I tried to seal my house up to keep the odor out, but it creeps in anyway.

I can't afford to move, and I'm uncomfortable with things as they are, so what do you advise?

DREADING WINTER

DEAR DREADING: Because an activity is permitted by law does not make it moral, ethical or acceptable. One's conduct should be guided by consideration for others and a sense of fairness.

Obviously if you can't afford to move, you can't afford to sue your neighbors for imposing noxious fumes on you. Pity. It appears that you are at the mercy of selfish and unfeeling neighbors.

If anyone out there has a suggestion, please send it to me, and I'll pass it along.

DEAR ABBY: In January, I sent an original manuscript as a gift to Woody Allen. I had hand-bound the pages, and decorated the binding with baroque pearls and amethyst. I enclosed my name, address and telephone number. I had hoped that Woody would either send me a note or call me, or at the very least, instruct his secretary to do so.

To date, I haven't received even an acknowledgment that my gift was received. Abby, is it unrealistic of me to expect a thank-you from a famous person?

DISAPPOINTED IN CALIFORNIA

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: The recipients of unsolicited material are not required to acknowledge or return it, unless return postage is provided.

Some famous people are instructed by their attorneys to never acknowledge (or read) unsolicited manuscripts, so even though yours was elaborately decorated, there's a good chance that Woody Allen didn't even see it.

Dr. Donohue

Surgery may prevent full stroke

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Will you kindly tell me what is involved with an endarterectomy? My elderly mother had a mild stroke (3 on a scale of 10) and tests showed that the left internal carotid artery is 50 percent blocked. We had a post-stroke visit with her internist, who is also a cardiologist. He is a very conservative doctor, but he has suggested that we investigate the procedure so that an educated decision can be made. Mother is in remarkably good health. Her blood pressure is under control. — Mrs. J.K.

From what you tell me, I guess your decision will have been made by the time you read this and that you've been able to weigh all the pluses and minuses involved in such a decision. But let me use your letter to talk about this very generally.

An endarterectomy is an operation where an artery is opened and cleared of obstructing fatty debris that is clinging to its walls. You mentioned carotid arteries, the ones in the neck that bring blood to the brain. Their importance is obvious. If they can be kept cleared, the chances of stroke are much less. Endarterectomies are also done elsewhere in the body — in the legs, for example, to improve circulation there: when blockage threatens mobility.

So you can see it is a very valuable procedure to have available. So why isn't it done for everyone with arterial buildups? One reason is the one you hint at. You mention (another part of your note) that your mother is 90. Not everyone that age is a suitable surgical risk. And second, for many there are non-surgical alternatives to prevent strokes.

Your doctor was wise in setting forth the alternatives and suggesting that you seek a second opinion and fuller information on which to base a decision.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: My aunt, who is 27, is suffering from costochondritis of the rib cartilage. Doctors tell her there is no medical cure. She has been given an electric device to ease the pain, but it hasn't helped that much. They told her that the disease goes away by itself. Is this true? Can you tell me more about this disease, what causes it, and can it be cured? — J.U.

It seems I'm always having to write the line that begins, "The cause of this illness is not known..." It must be as frustrating to readers as it is to me, and it must shake a lot of faith in medicine as a science.

But that's the case with costochondritis. We don't know why on earth such rib cartilage inflammation should occur. The problem here is right where the rib cartilage attaches to the breastbone, so it is a problem typified by great pain. Simple pain medicine works for most until the inflammation subsides, and for others steroids will be needed. Time, though, is the only real therapy for costochondritis.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Do some liquids cause a person to urinate more often than others? If so, which ones? — A.B.L.

Liquids containing caffeine (coffee, tea, caffeinated soft drinks) have a diuretic action. Alcohol will cause excess urination by blocking the action of a hormone that signals the body to retain needed fluid.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Wise moms can trick kids into eating good foods

Wise mothers can outsmart their children and trick them into actually liking foods that are good for them.

Two experts, Annette B. Natow, Ph.D., R.D., and Jo-Ann Heslin, M.A., R.D., answer some of the most-asked questions from mothers in the September issue of Redbook, explaining how to get a child to eat right without tears or tantrums, fancy foods or fuss.

Toddlers between the ages of 1 and 3 tend to be finicky eaters, the experts say, but patience and offering good food choices can lay the foundation for healthy eating habits.

What about the toddler who refuses to eat meat?

"It is better not to make an issue of a child's refusal to eat a specific food — just be sure you are providing substitutes while continuing to offer meat to your child, and one day he'll surprise you by eating it," Natow and Heslin wrote.

Toddlers can be encouraged to eat vegetables by serving them in unfamiliar form, such as creamed or in matchstick pieces. Serve raw vegetables at the start of a meal when the child is hungriest. Some fruit, such as peaches and apricots, have many of the same nutrients as vegetables.

"Ages 4 to 6 are crucial to a child's nutritional development — it is during this period that eating patterns and attitudes about food form," the experts wrote.

Labor Day calls for an outdoor barbecue

By CAROL BALDWIN
Lifestyle Editor

Labor Day weekend is a good time to plan an outdoor barbecue with friends. We've put together a selection of recipes for outdoor cooking.

This week's Recipe Exchange also includes some drink ideas that contain no alcohol.

We received a call this week from Mrs. J. Roy Haynes who is looking for a recipe for apple strudel. Haynes said she traveled through Europe earlier this year and ate strudel "all over Europe." Since returning home, she hasn't been able to find a strudel recipe. If you have one you'd like to share, send it to the Herald Recipe Exchange, Box 1431, Big Spring, Texas, 79720.

CHUCK ROAST MARINATED IN WINE

1 4 lb. chuck roast, cut 1 1/2 inches thick
1 tsp. grated lemon peel
1/2 cup white wine
1/2 cup cooking oil
2 Tbsp. sliced green onions with tops
2 tsp. mild-flavored honey
1 1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 tsp. prepared mustard
1/4 tsp. pepper

Score fat edges of roast. Place in shallow glass or ceramic baking dish. Combine lemon peel, wine, cooking oil, green onion, honey, salt, Worcestershire sauce, mustard and pepper. Pour over roast. Cover; let stand overnight in refrigerator, turning several times. Remove roast from marinade, reserving marinade. Pat excess moisture from roast with paper toweling. Grill roast over medium-hot coals 30 minutes. Turn and cook 30 minutes more for medium-rare. Heat reserved marinade on grill. Remove roast to serving platter. Carve across grain into thin slices. Spoon marinade over. Serves 6-8.

BEEF AND VEGETABLE KEBABS

1/2 cup cooking oil
1/2 cup soy sauce
1/4 cup lemon juice
2 Tbsp. prepared mustard
2 Tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 clove minced garlic
1 tsp. coarsely cracked pepper
1 1/2 tsp. salt
1 1/2 lb. lean beef round or chuck, cut in 1-in. pieces
Yellow squash, onion wedges, mushroom caps

Mix oil, soy sauce, lemon juice, mustard, Worcestershire, garlic, pepper and salt. Add beef. Cover and refrigerate overnight, turning meat occasionally. Thread meat and vegetables on skewers. Grill over hot coals, turning often, until meat reaches desired doneness, 15 minutes for medium rare. Serves

SPECIAL HAMBURGERS

1 cup minced celery
1 cup minced carrot
1 cup minced mushrooms
Fine dry bread crumbs
4 eggs
1 Tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper to taste

In large bowl, mix by hand the beef, onion, celery, carrot, mushrooms, 1 cup breadcrumbs, eggs, Worcestershire and salt and pepper. Knead several times to ensure thorough blending. Then make individual patties, flattened to 1/2-to-1-inch thickness. Coat in extra bread crumbs and fry in 1/4 inch hot oil until browned on both sides. Serves 6.

QUICK GARLIC CUBED STEAKS

1/4 cup butter or margarine
2 Tbsp. Worcestershire sauce

1 tsp. finely snipped parsley
1/2 tsp. celery salt
1 minced garlic clove
6 beef cubed steaks
Salt and pepper
6 Vienna or French bread slices, toasted

In saucepan, melt butter; stir in Worcestershire sauce, lemon juice, snipped parsley, celery salt and garlic. Brush butter mixture on both sides of steaks. Place steaks in wire grill basket. Grill over hot coals 1 to 2 minutes. Turn basket over and grill 1 to 2 minutes more. Season steaks with salt and pepper. Place each steak on a slice of toasted bread. If desired, spoon remaining butter mixture over steaks. Serves 6.

GRILLED POTATO AND ONION BAKE

4 large baking potatoes, scrubbed
2 medium onions
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
Salt and pepper to taste

Escargot business moves at snail's pace

PETALUMA, Calif. (AP) — To say business is slow at Enfant Riant Escargot of California is putting it mildly. It truly moves at a snail's pace.

America's only commercial escargot company is on the move, and owners Mike Beyries and Tracy Brash hope more palates will grow sophisticated enough to appreciate their product.

Two million snails slither through two greenhouses in Petaluma every year en route to restaurants and gourmet food stores in 26 states. The snails are packed in water in 7 1/2-ounce cans retailing for $6-$7, including a mini-cookbook.

While Beyries and Brash are serious about their 2-year-old business, they're not above joking. Beyries insists his little mollusks have great intelligence and are trainable.

Holding one in the palm of his hand, he orders it to "Stay! Sit! Play Dead!" The little critter complies.

"You have got to have a sense of humor to be in the snail business," Beyries said. His background as a professional stand-up comic on the club circuit in Los Angeles has definitely come in handy.

Beyries, however, was teaching at San Francisco State University when Brash suggested starting an escargot company. Brash had been trying to do a story on a Santa Rosa man raising snails commercially, but found he had moved to Texas, leaving behind a book on raising snails.

"It started just as a lark," Beyries said. "Tracy is an epicurean and gourmet who has traveled throughout Europe."

Brash soon was raising snails at his Tiburon home. Enter Beyries, his boyhood chum.

"We sat down and started to talk about it one night and were still talking when the sun came up the next morning," Beyries said.

Lots of research followed, including a check of governmental regulations.

"They couldn't decide if we were a farm or a ranch," Beyries said. "Our insurance company lists us as a feed lot."

The company buys snails by the ton from farmers happy to unload the pests attacking their plants.

After delivery to Petaluma, the snails are fed a mixture of soymeal, bran flakes and trace minerals. Several weeks later, they've been fattened to eating size and are fed only water for three days to cleanse the digestive system.

While Beyries and Brash normally work with only one other employee, they hire as many as 30 part-time workers during cooking week once a month, during which the snails are parboiled, picked out of their shells and cooked under high pressure.

While some imported escargot come with flavoring, Beyries said most chefs prefer the pure version so they don't have to work to overcome another flavor.

"The texture is perfect," he said, noting his escargot are not rubbery and chewy like their larger, imported cousins.

Start-up costs two years ago came completely out of pocket for the two men.

"We think of ourselves like a small winery; we like to keep control," Beyries said.

In fact, he likens the escargot industry to the wine industry of the 1940s.

"At that time, people thought only foreigners, winos and extraordinarily rich people drank wine. Now people think of escargot as only appetizers you order in restaurants. We hope that will change, too."

While the company is short of its ultimate goal, it is on track.

"We set up a five-year schedule and we're within $100 of the goal we set for two years," Beyries said.

McEnroe nips Israeli

NEW YORK (AP) — It would have ranked as one of the greatest upsets in the history of tennis — at the U.S. Open or anywhere else. Instead, John McEnroe's victory over Shlomo Glickstein will be just a footnote, a step on the road to a match with Boris Becker.

Glickstein, Israel's finest tennis player but ranked only 175th in the world heading into this $3 million tournament at the National Tennis Center, took McEnroe to the limit Tuesday. But after squandering four match points, McEnroe, the defending champion, top seed and top-ranked player in the world, survived to play again with a breathtaking 6-1, 6-7, 2-6, 6-3, 7-6 victory, winning the decisive tie-breaker 9-7.

Becker, the 17-year-old Wimbledon champion from West Germany, shrugged off his own center-court jitters earlier and swept past Peter Doohan of Australia 6-4, 6-1, 6-2.

Today, the defending women's champion, No. 2-seed Martina Navratilova, was to begin play against Pascale Paradis of France, No. 1 women's seed Chris Evert Lloyd was to face Janine Thompson of Australia, No. 2 men's seed Ivan Lendl of Czechoslovakia was scheduled to play Jay Lapidus and Jimmy Connors, the No. 4 seed, was matched against Gary Muller of South Africa.

After Becker walked off the court to applause, McEnroe walked on to cheers. The fans were his, and they were appropriately appreciative as he serve-and-volleyed Glickstein into submission in the first set.

But as McEnroe's game began to desert him, the crowd in the half-filled, 20,000-seat stadium shifted to Glickstein, subtly at first, then dramatically as he repeatedly scored with a succession of passing shots or lobs to the baseline over the charging McEnroe. They cheered each of Glickstein's winning points, groaned at every loser, booed at close calls that went against the 27-year-old Israeli.

Then, slowly, McEnroe began to reassert himself, and with his gallantry, his support in the stands began to re-emerge until the cheering was loud and lusty no matter who won a point.

McEnroe was winning the points he needed to survive, the mark of a champion. And finally, after Glickstein had fought off four match points in the fifth-set tie-breaker, McEnroe blistered a cross-court backhand that the lunging Glickstein netted.

McEnroe, the winner by the barest of margins in a grinding 3 hours, 51 minutes, raised one arm in a feeble, exhausted salute, then trudged to the net, rested both hands on the cord, hung his head wearily, shook hands with Glickstein and patted him on the shoulder as they walked off the court together.

The tournament, which has another dozen days and nights to run, will have trouble equalling this opener.

"I've been playing the last three or four weeks as well as I've been playing all year," said McEnroe, who defeated Lendl in the finals of his last two tournaments, at Stratton Mountain, Vt., and Montreal, "so it surprised me how flat I was during the match. ... I was amazed how bad I felt considering how good I felt a couple of days ago."

"It was an amazingly bad game. I couldn't have done it worse if I'd tried. It was unbelievable how he jerked me around. I've never been so happy to win a first-round match. ... I went five sets in the first round a couple of years back and wound up losing (to Bill Scanlon) in the round of 16. I hope that isn't going to happen again."

Glickstein, who had won only two sets in three previous matches against McEnroe, said that when he saw who he'd be going against in the opening round, "I thought it was the worst draw ever."

Steers to challenge top-ranked Mustangs highly-regarded 4-A Sweetwater Mustangs in a controlled scrimmage at 7:30 p.m. in Mustang Bowl.

Coach Quinn Eudy's Steers will get a good test against the Mustangs, who are ranked number one in the state by some preseason polls. Last year the Mustangs were 12-2 and advanced to the semi-finals of the state playoffs. They were defeated by eventual state champion Denison 31-7.

The scrimmage will be a chance for the Steers to get some revenge for last year's seven touchdowns to one drubbing by the Mustangs. In that contest, the Sweetwater first unit outscored Big Spring 3-1.

"Sweetwater is a very fine ball club," said Eudy. "They do a great job of running the wishbone and they are very quick. They can also throw the football and will use a lot of trick plays. We'll just have to defense the right person of the option and tackle."

Eudy's defense should be primed and ready with returning down linemen Todd Coker (NG) and tackle Luis Puga returning. Senior Jerry Freshour has come on strong and will start at the other defensive tackle spot. David Shortes and Charles White will handle the ends positions.

The linebackers will be led by returning starter Mike Cahill and Robert Sumner. Handling the corners will be Brian Reid and Danny Williams. Sean to the ball better. The kids have been great, we've asked them to work hard and that's just what they've been doing."

Offensively, returning starter Carl Speck will handle the quarterback duties. Eudy said that Speck and backup singal-caller Decker have both looked good running the Veer offense.

The fullback will be Charles White and the halfback will be returning starter and last year's leading rusher Colin Carrol.

Shortes will get the job at the tight end position while Kevin Freeman and Kim Anding will be the wide receivers.

The Steers offensive line has four holdovers from last year's starting crew. Tackles Puga and Tim Green return to their positions as well as center Charley Ogle and guard Jay Burcham. The other guard, Paul Sotello; is the newcomer to the interior line.

Eudy was pleased with his line's play in last week's team scrimmage. "We got good movement off the ball. We'll get some yards if we continue to knock people off the ball."

There will be no kicking game in the scrimmage and Eudy said each team will get the ball for about 80 plays.

The freshmen Steers will scrimmage Sweetwater at 5 p.m. while the junior varsity follows at 6. Both scrimmages will be held on the Sweetwater practice field. The sophomore Steers will scrimmage the Loraine varsity at 6:30 p.m.

Lady Steers at home

The home crowd will get its first chance to see this year's version of the Big Spring Lady Steers volleyball team Thursday when the Lady Steers host Plains in their home-opener at 7 p.m. in Steer Gym.

Coach Susan Sharp's team will face a very worthy opponent in Plains, a long-time Class A power.

Sharp's troops have been playing well of late. Last night they defeated San Angelo Lake View in two consecutive matches, raising their record to 5-2 for the season. The Lady Steers placed two players on the All-Tournament squad. Senior spiker Monique Jones and junior setter Tab Green were selected to the elite squad. Green was filling in at setter for the injured Lisa Hale, who sprained her ankle. Hale should be almost at full strength for tomorrow's contest.

The freshmen Lady Steers will start Thursday's action off at 5 p.m. and the junior varsity will follow at 6. The junior varsity brings a 6-1 record into the game, including a second place finish at the Monahans journey.

Seasoned veterans feel NFL ax

By The Associated Press

Jack Youngblood and Reggie McKenzie may have worn National Football League uniforms for the last time, but even the coach who cut another multi-year All-Pro, punter Dave Jennings, believe he'll get another chance.

"I feel certain he'll kick in the league this year," New York Giants Coach Bill Parcells said Tuesday after announcing that Jennings had been waived. "I think he was a great player at his position. He's one of the best who ever kicked."

In other player moves Tuesday, the Dallas Cowboys traded veteran linebacker Anthony Dickerson to Buffalo for an undisclosed draft choice. Dickerson, a starter the last two seasons, was traded after the strong preseason performances of linebackers Jeff Rohrer and rookie Jesse Penn.

The Houston Oilers obtained former NCAA champion kicking specialist Tony Zendejas from the Washington Redskins for a conditional draft choice in 1987. Houston also waived seven players, including third-string quarterback Brian Ransom and veteran running back Arthur Whittington.

Youngblood surrendered to back problems by retiring from the Los Angeles Rams, while McKenzie, a sparkplug on the Buffalo Bills' "Electric Company" offensive line, was dropped by Seattle.

"I've had to make some tough decisions in my life, but none as tough as this one," said Youngblood, a 14-year starter for the Rams who holds the team record with 202 consecutive games played. "Football has been my life for as long as I can remember, but it's too important to me to go on if I can't continue to play as I once did."

The 6-foot-5, 245-pound Youngblood, whose iron-man streak ended late last year because of a herniated disc, was an All-Pro performer six times and played in seven Pro Bowls.

McKenzie was cut by the Seahawks along with defensive end Mike Fanning, center John Hill and defensive end Mark Bell.

All NFL teams had to cut their rosters to 50 men by Tuesday and 45 next week before the regular season starts.

The Los Angeles Raiders released Reggie Kinlaw and Odis McKinney, both prominent veterans of two Super Bowl games.

Kinlaw, a seventh-year nose tackle from Oklahoma, was one of the heroes of the Raiders' 38-9 victory in Super Bowl XVIII when he was credited with helping nullify Washington's vaunted ground game.

He was also a major factor in the Raiders' 27-10 victory over Philadelphia three years earlier in Super Bowl XV. McKinney, a backup safety often used as a fifth defensive back on passing downs, came to the Raiders in an offseason trade in 1980.

The Detroit Lions cut eight players, among them 1978 Outland Trophy winner Greg Roberts, an offensive lineman, and veteran linebacker Steve Doig. Roberts spent five seasons with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers and one with the Oklahoma Outlaws of the USFL.

The Green Bay Packers cut veteran defensive back Estes Hood, wide receiver Ron Cassidy and 6-foot-9 offensive tackle Dale Markham, a three-year starter with the USFL's Oakland franchise.

The Tampa Bay Buccaneers waived defensive back Fred Acorn, wide receiver Carl Williams and placekicker Obed Ariri. Ariri, who set team records for points and field goals last year, was beaten out by Donald Igwebuike, a childhood friend of Ariri's who followed him to Clemson University as a soccer player.

The Buffalo Bills cut defensive end Leroy Howell, safety James Perryman, former New York Jets wide receiver Bobby Jones and linebackers Andre Young and Blanchard Montgomery.

The St. Louis Cardinals cut former University of Missouri star Curtland Thomas, the team's leading wide receiver in training camp.

The Cincinnati Bengals signed veteran defensive end Ross Browner, a six-year starter, to a new contract and put seven players on waivers, including two veterans, linebacker Guy Frazier and guard Gary Smith.

Cleveland waived veteran linebacker Dick Ambrose, who came to the Browns as a 12th-round draft choice from Virginia in 1975. He was a mainstay on the Browns' defense until he suffered a broken ankle in 1983, an injury that still plagued him in training camp.

The Indianapolis Colts waived seven players, including nine-year veteran tackle Ted Petersen, four-year pro linebacker Gary Padjen and rookie fullback Mark Brooks of Notre Dame.

Dave Finzer, who had a punt of 87 yards for Chicago last season, was among 10 players cut by the Bears. Other veterans waived were second-year running back Donald Jordan, second-year offensive tackle Tom Andrews and second-year wide receiver Jack Cameron.

Denver waived defensive end Walt Boyer, placed running back Rick Parros on injured reserve and signed free agent quarterback Scott Stankavage.

Free safety Rick Sanford, a first-round draft choice in 1979 who lost his starting job early last season, was among six players cut by New England.

The Atlanta Falcons reduced their roster to 50 by cutting seven players, including veteran running back Lynn Cain. Cain, whose 2,313 yards is fourth-best in Falcon history, started much of his first four seasons but was a reserve the last two years.

Linebacker Vernon Maxwell and veteran safety John Turner were cut by the San Diego Chargers.

White Sox bang Rangers, 7-4

CHICAGO (AP) — Dave Wehrmeister has been knocking around the minor leagues for some 12 years with occasional but short trips to the big leagues.

It was a tough existence at best. But Tuesday night Wehrmeister, a 32-year-old right-hander, made it pay off by hurling four hitless innings of relief for his first major league save in a 7-4 Chicago White Sox victory over the Texas Rangers.

What kept him going? "I had confidence and believed in myself," said Wehrmeister, who retired the first 11 batters he faced, issued a walk and then ended his brilliant four-inning stint by striking out pinch-batter Duane Walker to end the game.

Wehrmeister originally was signed by San Diego and had brief stops with the Padres in 1976, 1977 and 1978. He failed to post records with the New York Yankees in 1981 or the Philadelphia Phillies last year. The rest of the time was spent in the minor leagues.

"I knew I was capable of pitching in the major leagues," said Wehrmeister. "But they kept rushing younger pitchers ahead of me. They were always looking to the future. But I always felt I was a better pitcher."

Wehrmeister added: "Every day I go to the park I learn something. I spent 12 years in the minors and learned a lot. I don't have the velocity I did at one time, but I've become a better pitcher."

It was brilliant relief, and nobody appreciated it more than White Sox Manager Tony LaRussa.

"That gave me a chance to rest four guys in the bullpen," said LaRussa. "When you go to the bullpen in the sixth inning, you usually have to use one or two more pitchers."

"He was great," said LaRussa. "He faced 13 guys and retired 12. You can't do much better than that."

Winner Britt Burns, 14-8, was ineffective, although the White Sox staked him to a 7-1 lead after four innings.

Dickie Noles started for the Rangers and was kayoed in the fourth.

Astros 11, Cubs 4
HOUSTON (AP) — The struggling Houston Astros are contemplating a few player moves, but it's a good bet that rapidly-developing second baseman Bill Doran will remain an Astro.

The 27-year-old Doran had five RBIs, a personal career high, as Houston, crushed the injury-plagued Chicago Cubs 11-4 in the Astrodome Tuesday night.

Doran leads the club with 21 stolen bases, 135 hits and 13 homeruns.

"Doran is the case of a kid who came in the league three or four years ago, and he started off struggling," Chicago Manager Jim Frey said.

Tuesday's win was only the second for Houston in its past seven games.

The Astros exploded in the White Sox catcher CARLTON FISK waits for the throw as Rangers' STEVE BUCHELE slides safely home from on a PETE O'BRIEN fly out in the fifth inning in Chicago Tuesday.

seventh inning to overcome a 4-3 deficit.

Doran had a single, double and triple. Jose Cruz and Mark Bailey knocked in two runs each, adding to the Astros' 13-hit attack. Cruz leads Houston with 59 RBIs.

Cub reliever Ron Merdith, 2-1, suffered the brunt of the seventh-inning outburst by allowing five runs. Houston's Dave Smith, 7-5, won the game in relief of starter Joe Niekro.

"I threw a lot in the bullpen last night ironing out some things. I'm a little tired because of it, but it helped my movement and location tonight," Smith said. The league's top pinch hitter — Thad Bosley, who is 17-for-46 in that role this season with a .370 average — was the "almost hero" for Chicago, slugging a seventh-inning home run that temporarily put the Cubs ahead, 4-3.

"That's the role that Jim Frey has chosen to use me and Richee Hebner in this season," Bosley said.

"I think I hit a slider or maybe a knuckle ball that was down. I was looking for something low, and I got the bat on the ball enough to clear the right field wall," he said.

Cardinals open up NL East race

By the Associated Press
The St. Louis Cardinals seem to come up with a new way of winning night after night, and that — combined with the mediocre play of the New York Mets over the past two weeks — has made a once-torrid divisional race a little cooler.

"There are so many ways we can beat a club," St. Louis reliever Jeff Lahti said Tuesday night after the Cardinals came from behind to beat Cincinnati and increase the St. Louis lead in the National League East to three games.

"We hit home runs . . . we steal them blind . . . we base-hit them to death . . . we hit balls in the gap," said Lahti, whose 16th save preserved St. Louis' 6-4 victory over Cincinnati.

While the Cardinals won their season-high seventh straight game, the Mets dropped their second straight to NL West leader Los Angeles, being shut out by Jerry Reuss until Darryl Strawberry homered with two outs in the bottom of the ninth inning of a 2-1 loss.

The Cardinals close out a road trip tonight in Cincinnati before a nine-game homestand that precedes a crucial three-game showdown with the Mets Sept. 10-12. The Mets head for the West Coast for 10 games, and the importance of their trip has not been lost on catcher Gary Carter.

"The schedule is in the Cards' favor with all those home games," Carter said. "We have to stay close to them on this road trip and then get them here."

NL Roundup

Cardinals 6, Reds 4
Willie McGee borrowed a lighter bat from teammate Vince Coleman because he needed to pull the ball with two men on base and St. Louis trailing 4-3 in the eighth inning. The strategy worked as McGee hit his league-leading 16th triple into the gap in right-center to score both runners and put the Cardinals ahead to stay.

Pete Rose did not play for Cincinnati, and remains 11-hits shy of passing Ty Cobb's all-time record of 4,191 hits.

Dodgers 2, Mets 1
Reuss, 12-8, was thankful for the quick feet of rookie shortstop Mariano Duncan, who went to the right side of second base to rob Keith Hernandez and snuff out a sixth-inning threat by New York.

"I've seen Duncan do a lot of things every day that I don't believe," Reuss said.

Duncan tripled, walked, stole two bases and scored both runs for the Dodgers, who lead San Diego by 7½ games in the NL West.

Strawberry's homer, his 21st, cost Reuss a shutout and complete game. Tom Niedenfuer came on to get the final out and record his 14th save.

Braves 7, Pirates 6
As far as Bob Horner is concerned, the worrying is a thing of the past.

"I can't tell you how much this year mentally has meant to me for my own sanity knowing that the career-threatening injury I had is gone," said Horner, who three-run homer with two out in the ninth inning gave Atlanta a come-from-behind victory at home.

Horner's 21st homer came off reliever Don Robinson, 4-10, and capped a five-run Atlanta rally as the Braves handed Pittsburgh its 16th consecutive road loss. The Pirates last won away from their Three Rivers Stadium home on July 22.

The victory was the second in a row for the Braves under Bobby Wine, who replaced fired Manager Eddie Haas on Monday.

Padres 4, Phillies 1
San Diego needed a victory to break a three-game losing streak, and left-hander Mark Thurmond was there to answer the call. He struck out a career-high eight batters in 7 2-3 innings.

Thurmond, 6-7, gave up seven hits and walked just two. Roy Lee Jackson got his second save.

"I felt very strong," Thurmond said.

Graig Nettles had two doubles and drove in the winning run. Tim Flannery chipped in with two hits and two RBIs, and Carmelo Martinez hit his 16th homer to pace the Padres.

Giants 6, Expos 1
Brad Wellman figures there are times when mistakes can be forgiven.

Wellman missed a squeeze sign with the bases loaded in the ninth inning, then lined a triple to lead the San Francisco Giants to a 6-1 victory over the Montreal Expos.

"It's a good thing I got that hit because I would have probably caught hell for it," Wellman said. "I missed the sign because I was trying to concentrate on the pitch. I wasn't having a good night at the plate."

San Francisco went ahead in the ninth after loading the bases against Jeff Reardon, 2-6.

Ageless John blanks Yanks

By the Associated Press
Tommy John says he's basically the same pitcher he was in 1979 and 1980 when he recorded consecutive 20-victory seasons for the New York Yankees.

Only now, John is beating the Yankees, rather than pitching for them.

The 42-year-old John pitched seven innings of three-hit ball Tuesday night, helping the Oakland A's down the Yankees 3-0.

The loss dropped the Yankees five games behind American League East-leading Toronto, which beat Minnesota 8-0.

John, who was released by the California Angels earlier this summer and was signed by Oakland as a free agent, is 2-1 for the A's and 4-5 overall.

Blue Jays 8, Twins 0
Steve Davis, a Toronto rookie who had already won 20 games in the minors this season, pitched four innings of one-hit relief to win his first major-league decision.

Filer, Davis, Dennis Lamp and Bill Caudill teamed to hold Minnesota to three hits. Filer's injury did not appear serious, the team said.

The Blue Jays scored three runs in the first inning off Frank Viola, 13-11. Jeff Burroughs doubled home two of the runs.

AL Roundup

Angels 7, Orioles 3
California rookie Jack Howell broke out of a 1-for-21 slump by hitting two home runs, including a grand slam.

The victory, coupled with Kansas City's loss, gave the Angels a 2½-game lead in the AL West.

Howell hit his first career slam in the second inning, knocking out Scott McGregor, 10-12, and then connected for his fourth homer of the season in the fifth off righty Ken Dixon. Howell got up again in the eighth with the bases loaded, but grounded out.

Brewers 8, Royals 5
Rookie Earnest Riles singled three times, raising his average to .304, and drove in two runs to lead Milwaukee over visiting Kansas City.

The Brewers, who trailed 3-0 after the top of the first inning, scored twice in the bottom of the first and four times in the second.

Mariners 3, Tigers 1
Matt Young pitched a five-hitter, his second straight strong outing for Seattle.

Young, who broke a six-game losing streak by shutting out Baltimore in his last start, allowed just a fifth-inning homer to Chet Lemon. Young, 9-14, struck out six and did not walk a batter.

Indians 6, Red Sox 2
Tony Bernazard singled three times, highlighting a 16-hit attack that paced Cleveland over Boston.

The Indians broke the game open with three runs in the seventh. Brook Jacoby singled home the first run and George Vukovich doubled home the final two.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: One of those days when you would be wise to take as many contacts as possible and to quietly tune in on what such individuals want and expect from their relationship with you.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) If you try a different angle with older persons, you can now solve problems with them more easily now.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Get your outside tasks handled vigorously and efficiently in daytime then pursue your personal goals later.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Study carefully a missive from afar since it can be of real assistance to you and later get the backing of a bigwig.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Get your books of account more streamlined so that they will be easier to handle, then study into new activities.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Get agreements wound up in the morning with partners and then get right to work on your side of the matters.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Labors should be very easy to handle in the morning, then you can confer with outside partners and plan the future better.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Show more cooperation for your mate and get good results, then get right to the work ahead of you and accomplish a good deal.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Even if you are out in business, it is well to keep your mind on home and family, then later you can enjoy amusements.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Get communications acknowledged in a novel way during the morning and then handle family matters well.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Study your property for needed improvements and then study pamphlets, brochures that can give you good ideas.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have fine ideas for making progress and should follow own inclinations now. Improve all your practical affairs.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Come to right decision about future benefits early in the day then take any health treatments you may need.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will comprehend anything that is of a modern nature and should have courses in modern technology for best results during the lifetime. One who will need little spiritual training since this will be natural.
