

NO DEVELOPMENTS IN MEXICAN SITUATION

TENSITY REFLECTED AT WASHINGTON BY CONTINUATION OF PREPARATIONS

RAID ANTICIPATED

Major Rice Encamped On Rio Grand Opposite Salazar With Three Troops of Cavalry

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Sept. 9.—The density of the situation along the Mexican border was reflected today by the possibility of President Taft calling a special session of Congress to pass on the question of intervention.

With the border patrol strengthened by additional cavalry and other troops practically upon their arms at forts throughout the west ready to move at an hour's notice to supplement the forces upon the Arizona and New Mexico frontiers it was felt the situation is well in hand for the present, but department officials were apprehensive of the next move of the rebel General Salazar, encamped near the United States troops opposite Douglas and protesting he meant no harm but believed to be planning another raid into American territory.

In anticipation of a raid by Salazar, Major Rice with three troops of cavalry is encamped near the rebel leader. Outposts have been established by both sides. Major Rice is concentrating his command, but the border is being patrolled by armed cowboys acting as scouts.

General Steever reported that Lieutenants Boone, Johnson and Waggoner in charge of patrolling parties, had talked with Salazar near Lang's ranch and that Salazar protested he meant no harm to Americans.

Gen. Steever's dispatch added that "Johnson does not believe the statement."

Brigadier General Murray, commanding the western division, has instructed Brigadier General Schuyler to utilize all the troops at Fort Huachuca, Arizona and has dispatched two troops of cavalry to Apache to strengthen the patrol.

Gen. Murray reports more troops are needed and suggests that part of the Ninth cavalry on the way from Fort Russell be assigned to his command.

The rebels are reported threatening the city of Torreon. The reported victory of the federals at Nacazara is discredited in a dispatch from Gen. Schuyler who said it was generally accepted that the rebels had been paid by the Nacazara railroad to leave. It was added that a number of Americans still remained in the Mormon colony there, but refused to leave until ordered by their bishop.

Reports of another revolt in Southern Mexico did not command much interest here. The situation in which the United States is concerned is along the border.

The news that President Taft considers the situation a grave one and has given thought to the expediency of putting it up to Congress is expected to bring out the usual crop of reports of troops under orders to move and of plans completed by the general staff of the army for campaigning in Mexico.

The general staff has completed plans for any such emergency. Should it arise, some War Department officials would wake up at night and, like Von Moltke at the outbreak of the Franco-Prussian War, send to the telegraph wires in a moment a sheaf of orders that would put an army ashore and afoot in battle array.

So it is perfectly proper to say the War Department is ready to invade Mexico at a moment's notice. But it is no more ready to invade Mexico than it is to repel invaders from across the oceans. It has standing orders with the principal railroads and steamship lines by which it can begin moving an army within twenty-four hours. It has ready for instant transportation the supplies and munitions of war to support such an army in a campaign.

While they are apprehensive of the situation, army officers hope there will be no intervention. They say a campaign against Mexican guerrillas would be a close parallel to the chase after Aguinaldo—a campaign which could not be ended in less than two years and which would have results beyond accurate predictions.

Senor Calera, the Mexican Ambassador, is expected to arrive in the City of Mexico Friday. He left Washington feeling that this government would be satisfied with vigorous attempts on the part of the Madero government to stop raiding on the border and threatening situations for Americans in Chihuahua and Sonora.

The Mexican government, it is said, is ready to reinforce its troops in Northern Mexico for that purpose, and to facilitate that movement, may ask to pass them through Texas, and New Mexico. The United States probably would permit that. Meanwhile the border patrol of United States troops has been reinforced by two full regiments of cavalry, and there is a general feeling here that this government will await the results of these new measures before taking other steps.

Fear Rebels May Seize Arms Intended For Americans

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Sept. 9.—Arms and ammunition which President Taft authorized exported to Mexico for use of Americans in danger from rebels in Cananea have been ordered held up at Douglas, Arizona, until there are assurances that they will not fall into the hands of the rebels. The arms will be held at Douglas until the railway south as far as Nacazara is clear of rebels or until the Mexican government can furnish a guard to insure the safety of arms.

It is expected there that the immediate effect of rebel interference with

A RATE EXPERT IS EMPLOYED

YOUNG MEN'S PROGRESSIVE LEAGUE WILL COMPILER RATES SHOWING ADVANTAGES

TO INCLUDE ALL LINES

Information Will Be Used in Campaign To Locate New Wholesale Houses

To show, in specific terms, the advantages which this city offers to jobbers and wholesalers in the way of railroad rates, is the task undertaken by the Young Men's Progressive League which hopes in this way to bring more of these enterprises to Wichita Falls. To this end, an exhaustive campaign is being mapped out.

The services of a rate expert have been secured and the present rates from Wichita Falls to every point in this city's trade territory on various classes of freight, including drugs, dry goods, hardware, glass, groceries and the like, will be compiled. In connection with these figures, there will be published the rates on the same articles from other competitive points. Both in bound and out bound rates will be set forth.

These comparisons will be published in booklets, including other information about Wichita Falls and a booklet will be compiled for each wholesale industry or jobbing enterprise which the league is trying to bring here. For instance, there will be one booklet setting forth the rates and advantages which this city can offer to a drug wholesale establishment, another booklet setting forth similar data for dry goods wholesalers, and so on.

It is believed that in this way the attention of prospective business could be engaged much more forcibly and with better chances of success, than by dealing in generalities. The league will start to work along this line at once.

News has been received here of the appointment of Clyde Sweeton of Sulphur Springs as assistant attorney general of Texas. Mr. Sweeton is a brother of Wilbur Sweeton of the Model Clothing store, also Mrs. J. C. A. Guest of this city.

The amendments include the so-called grandfather clause designed to disfranchise negro voters, prohibiting sale of intoxicating liquors in Arkansas, creating a State text book commission, limiting legislative sessions to sixty calendar days, means to provide for the recall of all elective officers and giving to municipalities having 1000 or more inhabitants the legal right to issue bonds for improvement purposes.

NICARAGUAN REBELS MAY ATTACK HONDURAS

They Resent Friendship Shown the Diaz Government and Threaten Retaliation

By Associated Press. Nicaragua, Sept. 9.—A threatened attack by Nicaraguan rebels on Honduras in retaliation for the friendship Honduras has been showing the Diaz government is reported in today's dispatches to the navy department. Arms have been sent the Honduran troops and the government has prepared to raise troops to repel an invasion. Rear Admiral Sutherland today reported he was patrolling the Bay of Monseca to prevent filibustering in aid of the insurrectionists.

Minister Wetzel has sent a report to the State Department which discounts the original report of the wholesale massacre of loyal troops at Leon August 19. It is being further investigated.

Official notice was received by the local postoffice this morning of the raise in the salaries of rural mail carriers from $1000 to $1100 per year, effective October 1. Wichita Falls will have five rural carriers, beginning October 1, and the advance will affect all of them. The higher price for feed was the chief factor in getting the increase, which will apply throughout the country.

Nine-Year-Old Will Tarver Dragged Baby Brothers From Burning House

By Associated Press. Dallas, Texas, Sept. 9.—Mrs. Robert Wagner accidentally set fire to and burned her neighbor's house here today when with her clothing in flames she ran next door for aid. She was probably fatally burned. A gasoline stove ignited Mrs. Wagner's clothing.

W. A. Tarver, aged nine years and living in the house next door, saved the lives of his two baby brothers, one a month old and the other a little over two years. He ran into the swirling smoke of his home and dragged them out before the firemen arrived.

Mrs. Wagner's home also was consumed. Her small baby was painfully but probably not fatally burned.

News From The Oil Fields

A location was made Saturday for Clint Woods' first well on the R. L. Eeds farm. The location is 250 feet south and 250 feet east of the northwest corner of Woods lease. It is a few hundred yards east of the first tank on the Eeds farm and is almost directly east of the first Eeds well.

Drilling was started Friday evening on the Corsicana Petroleum Company's well on the McClure lease just across the road and north from Eeds farm. Mr. Hivie and the Western Oil Company have derricks up and will start drilling this week on the M. A. Eeds place near the Western Oil Company's first well. The Guffey Company has a derrick up and is rigging up on the Ward and Todd lease west of the Eeds.

The Western Oil Company's well on the Eeds farm continues to produce better than 150 barrels daily.

Big Rush On At Book and Stationary Stores—Class Work Will Begin Tomorrow

Record-breaking attendance is said to have been the order of the day at all the schools in this city at the beginning of the 1912-13 session this morning. While definite figures on the actual enrollment will not be available before the end of the week, there was every indication of a large increase.

Some of the classes were dismissed early today so that the children might purchase their school supplies, and the book-stores were crowded with young shoppers early this afternoon. Tomorrow the class work will begin in earnest.

It is said that many of the oil men who are making their headquarters here have enrolled their children in the public schools of the city and these additions are expected to materially increase the attendance.

September 29th Designated As Rally Day For Texas Sunday Schools

Plans are being made in every county and city, under the direction of the Texas Sunday School Association, for a house visitation, in the interest of the various churches and Sunday schools, Catholics, Jews and Gentiles will work together. People will be extended an invitation to attend the church, synagogue and Sunday school of their choice.

The plan is to have every city and county divided into districts, with competent supervisors over each district and when the time arrives every one will be at his or her post, and will go two and two up and down the streets, previously assigned to them, courteously securing the information desired, also leaving an invitation inviting the people to the church of their choice. The visitors will be at work in the interest of every church and will never be permitted to invite anyone to their own church, but to the church they are already inclined to attend.

JEWISH NEW YEAR OCCURS THIS WEEK

New Year's Eve Begins On Evening of the Eleventh—Day Marks Beginning of Jewish Year 5673

The Jewish holiday season begins somewhat earlier this year than other years. The first holiday is the new year or Rosh Hashanah, which occurs this year on September 12, the new year eve being on September 11. In the Jewish tradition the Rosh Hashanah marks the anniversary of the creation of the world, supposed to have taken place 5673 years ago; hence the Jewish year beginning with this new year's day will be known as the year 5673.

"Rosh Hashanah," new year is one of the festivals ordained in the Bible, Lev. XXIII, 24-25, in the verses, "In the seventh month, in the first day of month shall ye have a Sabbath, a memorial of trumpets and holy convocation," and "Ye shall do no servile work therein." As the Jews note from the Biblical wording, the new year's day is intended as a day of memorial and of remembrance, when not only God calls to mind everything His children have done during the past year to pass judgment upon them according to their works, but when the children of God should remember their deeds and properly value them.

Also, according to the Biblical prescription, the Shofar or Ram's horn is solemnly sounded a number of times in the Jewish house of worship to arouse the conscience of the worshippers.

In order to prepare for the solemn holy season the orthodox Jew repairs to the synagogue where penitential prayers are intoned in a special mournful chant. This morning service continues during the ten days immediately following new year's day until the day of atonement.

In many communities, especially in Europe, it is customary for orthodox Jews to congregate on the afternoon of the first day of the year near a running stream where in addition to certain penitential prayers from the seventh chapter of Micah all their sins into the depths of the sea." In some districts crumbs of bread are thrown into the waters symbolical of the sins to be forgiven.

The day is observed seriously and solemnly. It emphasizes the sense of Divine guidance, and, at the same time, of human responsibility. The blowing of the trumpet, the Shofar or ram's horn, is the peculiar service of the day. It is the bugle call of the Spirit, arousing the conscience in the awakening the impulse to make the new, coming year more fruitful of noble and unselfish action.

The observance of the day is complete alike by both the reform and orthodox wings of the Synagog. Offices and business houses are closed and the house of prayer is thronged with worshippers.

WILSON PLANS SPEAKING TOUR

PURE FOOD ADVOCATES

Perfect Organization To Work For Success of Wilson at the Polls Candidate Busy

By Associated Press. New York, Sept. 9.—A conference of advocates of pure food legislation attended by Governor Wilson resulted today in a plan to organize workers for pure food laws throughout the country in an association to work for Democratic victory in November.

After this meeting Governor Wilson went to the Democratic headquarters and spread out before himself a big map of the United States and with several party leaders sought to plan a new tour. He listened to suggestions and took notes from which he probably will make an itinerary. Representative Hurlison of Texas, Senator ore of Oklahoma and Senator Daniels of North Carolina discussed with the governor further plans for speaking. From the number of requests from the middle west asking the presidential candidate's presence at various meetings, it is apparent that Governor Wilson will probably do more speaking than originally intended.

After the first western trip which will begin September 16 and end September 21 the governors will have two days rest at Seagirt but present plans are that he will start out almost immediately for another western invasion. It is likely that on the second trip he will go to Missouri, Nebraska and Illinois. He will probably meet Bryan the latter part of the month.

DRY, HOT WEATHER IS DAMAGING COTTON

Reports Received Today Indicate Serious Damage at Many Points

Reports are coming in from many points in Southwest Oklahoma and Northwest Texas of damage to the cotton crop by the continued hot dry weather. Some fields which fifteen days it was thought would yield a bale to the acre, it is now estimated will yield only a half a bale.

The damage has been particularly heavy in the sandy lands in the northern part of the county. Cotton on the tight clay lands is holding up remarkably well and has been damaged but little so far.

The unfavorable weather is causing the bolls to open rapidly and there is a demand for pickers much greater than the supply.

Fifteen or twenty wagon loads of pickers from Southwest Texas where the crop was very short and has already been picked passed through the city yesterday for points along the Red River.

Prohibition Again an Issue In Maine Election Today

Portland, Me., Sept. 8.—Maine, where a governor, legislature and four congressmen are being elected today is the center of the political spot light and the result will be hurried by one side or the other, as a certain portion of the result in the nation in November.

As a matter of fact, nothing could be farther from the truth. In the days of the late James G. Blaine, Thomas B. Reed and Nelson Dingley, Maine actually furnished a standard by which the trend of political sentiment in the United States could be gauged with accuracy. Furnish Blaine with the republican plurality in Maine in September and he could tell you at once not only who was to be the next president but the approximate size of his vote. And the rule held good after the Pine Tree state passed into the control of Mr. Blaine's successors.

In 1888 the republicans had a plurality of 18,000 in Maine in September and two months later Cleveland went down to defeat. In 1892 the margin was cut to 12,500 and Cleveland swept the country in November. The dissatisfaction inspired by the first months of his administration was reflected in the republican plurality in Maine in 1894, an off year, when it jumped to 39,900, and the antipathy aroused by Mr. Bryan was manifested in September, 1896, the republican nominee for governor polling 82,596 votes as against 34,350 recorded for his democratic opponent, a high water margin of almost 50,000.

In 1900 the re-election of McKinley was forecasted by a republican plurality in the state of 33,300 and as late as the campaign of 1904 the republicans won by 26,800 and Theodore Roosevelt cleaned up the country from coast to coast.

That was the end of the application of the Maine rule to the nation. For in 1908 Hon. Bert M. Fernald was chosen governor by only 7,273 votes, while William H. Taft was made president by a vote that left no question as to what the sentiment of the people was.

Two years later the democrats elected Frederick W. Plaisted governor by 8,640 votes, named two congressmen out of four and sent a democratic legislature to the state house.

What is the reason for this complete overturn in one of the most consistently republican states in the union?

The answer is rum. Prohibition is a part of the constitution of Maine and all other issues have been submerged in a bitter fight to determine whether it shall remain there or be wiped out and local option in some form placed on the statute book.

Years of nullification and graft in the cities and larger towns fostered an over spreading revolt against the republican state machine as was reflected in the steadily melting pluralities between 1900 and 1908. Yet the party leaders were helpless in the face of the rising tide of discontent.

The truth is, they wavered and the party split into three factions. One favored strict enforcement of the liquor law; the second was content to let matters stand as they were; the third came out openly for repeal of the prohibitory amendment to the constitution. On the other hand the democrats, once scorned in the state of Neal Dow as the advocates of rum, became correspondingly enthusiastic with each successive election. Then came the landslide and the absolute repudiation of the republican state machine in 1910.

The repeal of the prohibitory amendment was submitted to the people at a special election September 10, 1911, and the vote was so evenly divided that it was impossible to determine who had won for several days. It was finally decided that the anti-repeal supporters were the victors by a few hundred votes.

The returns were canvassed by Gov. Plaisted and his council and for a time it was a question whether the amendment would not be wiped out after all by the throwing out of some hundreds of votes because of technical irregularities in making the recount that the party must not accept a tainted victory prevailed and the constitution remains as it was before the triumph of 1910.

So in the presidential year of 1912 Maine faces the same old all consuming issue, entirely local and quite aside from the questions which will be fought in the national arena this fall.

Gov. Plaisted asks re-election on his record as governor and on the unsettled liquor issue. How he will come out no one can judge with accuracy.

The liquor law has been nullified under him as under his republican predecessors. He and his party have made an honest effort to end prohibition, and have failed, not ignominiously to be sure, but still a failure. They now ask to be permitted to continue the fight and the people will give them their answer at the polls today.

The best information obtainable in a very involved situation indicates the probable re-election of Gov. Plaisted by something under his old plurality of 8,600. Some of his party leaders claim 15,000 to 20,000 but his margin is likely to be under rather than above his 1910 figure.

The republicans on the other hand, estimate the plurality of Hon. William T. Haines their nominee at from 4,000 to 12,000. Privately, however, most of them admit that they have little hope of victory.

The Roosevelt element in the situation is an unknown factor and no definite criterion by which to judge the Colonel's chances in the nation at large will be produced by the Maine result.

While Mr. Roosevelt had a solid delegation from the state at the first Chicago convention, the extent to which his supporters will follow him into the Bull Moose movement can be determined only by the final test at the polls in November. For in Maine his leaders have refused to place a ticket in the field, preferring to endorse the regular republican state ticket.

Therefore the only interest from a Roosevelt viewpoint in Monday's result will be found in an effort to judge from the size of the republican and democratic votes to what extent the

Why Women Ask the Right to Vote

Want to Free People From Hands of Bosses

By American Press Association.

By Mrs. OLIVER H. P. BELMONT, Woman Suffragist of New York

Few Men Use Ballot For Good It Can Do

WOMEN DO NOT NEED THE RIGHT TO VOTE AS MUCH AS THE STATE NEEDS THE VOTES OF WOMEN!

And, again, I say that when the women vote the BOSS WILL LOSE HIS POWER, and the ballot box will reflect the best sentiment of the community, and LEGISLATORS WILL ENACT LAWS OF MAXIMUM VALUE TO THE STATE.

Men vote because it is their PRIVILEGE. A small percentage of every community votes because it is interested in the cash book and ledger of politics. Few vote because they are INTERESTED IN LAWS TO BE ENACTED.

Election day is a holiday, with half an hour in the morning at the ballot box and the whole evening shouting over the returns. Can any fair minded man assert that the whole duty of a male citizen as an elector is HONESTLY, PROPERLY AND FULLY DISCHARGED!

Women want the right to vote. They do not wish to share with the male elector his participation of his rights as he now enjoys them. They have no desire to swell such a procession.

WOMEN WANT TO VOTE AND BY THE BALLOT GIVE LIFE AND SUBSTANCE TO PRINCIPLES WHICH ARE NOW CRUSHED AND SPURNED, UNHEEDED BY THE BOSSES—PRINCIPLES THAT WILL HELP THE WEAK, CURB THE STRONG AND BE HELPFUL TO THE STRUGGLING MASSES OF THE STATE AND NATION.

A Fly In the House Is More Dangerous Than a Rattlesnake

By Dr. WOODS HUTCHINSON of New York

NO longer can we dismiss the fly with a contemptuous "Shoo!" He is an influence to be reckoned with. Black as he is painted, we must concede him certain virtues.

He distributes samples of pestilence with a lavish hand, and the goods always match the samples whether you have ordered them or not and are marked D. O. D.—DEATH ON DELIVERY.

WE MAY ADMIRE THE FLY FOR HIS INDUSTRY, PERTINACITY AND BUSINESS ENTERPRISE. WE MAY EVEN LOVE HIM—LUKE WARMLY—AS ONE OF GOD'S CREATURES, BUT WE HAD BETTER WIPE HIM GENTLY BUT FIRMLY OUT OF EXISTENCE JUST THE SAME.

A fly in the house is AS DANGEROUS AS A RATTLESNAKE, AS FILTHY AS A LOUSE AND AS DISGRACEFUL AS A BEDBUG. The time will come when any modern, cleanly home will feel itself shamed and disgraced by the presence of a fly, and when every householder upon whose premises a brood of flies is detected will be HEAVILY FINED OR SENT TO JAIL.

American Schools Sacrifice Efficiency For Democracy

By Professor CHARLES DEGARMO of Cornell University

WHILE American schools are more democratic, German schools are more efficient.

AMERICANS HAVE SACRIFICED EFFICIENCY FOR DEMOCRACY, WHILE THE GERMANS HAVE SACRIFICED DEMOCRACY FOR EFFICIENCY.

In our system any pupil may pass from the primary to the grammar school, from the grammar school to the high school and then enter upon any form of higher liberal or vocational training. EVERYBODY IS EDUCATIONALLY ELIGIBLE TO EVERYTHING.

The American student studies Latin for four years or less, while the German youth studies it for nine, and so on in corresponding degree for other studies.

Entered at the Postoffice at Wichita Falls as second-class mail matter

Wichita Falls, Texas, Sept. 9, 1912

Thursday, September 12th will be Jewish New Year and will be observed as a holiday. To all Wichita Falls Jewish population The Times extends best wishes for a happy New Year.

The city public schools opened today. Don't make the mistake of keeping your boy or girl from school. Most of them want to go to school, and it will be better to make it compulsory for those who do not.

According to telegraph news in another column, jack rabbits are so numerous in one section of Texas that they are being killed by the thousands and fed to hogs. If this is true, no one need be surprised when pork starts jumping.—Corpus Christi Caller.

Says the Cleburne Review: "The other day we saw a man give a boy a dime to run to the postoffice mail some important letters. The man hurried away to catch his train and the boy started for the postoffice a block away. He stopped, however, and dropped them into a mail box on the street and they consequently failed to go off. Something wrong with that boy's training." And in after years when he has grown up and seeks employment when it is not to be had he will wonder why others whose advantages have been less than his should be favored and he turned away. An unreliable boy is very apt to develop into an unreliable man, and for such a one, the business world has no place.—Denison Herald.

SUNDAY CLOSING PROVOKES MUSE

PATRON SENDS PROTEST IN VERSE TO POSTMASTER IN BEHALF OF DAN CUPID

FEW COMPLAINTS MADE

Most Folks Seemed Willing To Wait Until Monday For Sunday's Mail

Wichita Falls folks went without their mail yesterday. The new law passed by the last Congress was put into effect yesterday and with the exception of a favored few, patrons of the postoffice went mail-less. The hotels, newsdealers and newspapers were exempted from the provisions of the law, but that was all.

There was no side door or back door business, such as is done by some establishments that have to close on Sunday. There was a force of clerks on hand to take care of the outgoing mail which was handled the same as usual but it required just half the force that is usually kept busy on Sunday. Under the old plan, each of the clerks in the office here got every fourth Sunday off; under the changed rule, it will be every other Sunday off.

Few patrons made any complaints and most of them, when they learned of the rule, expressed satisfaction that the step had been taken.

One local wholesale house bought three dollars worth of special delivery stamps Saturday to expedite its Sunday letters, but most folks seemed willing to wait until Monday. There was no congestion this morning and Acting Postmaster Gibson said that all the mail was up by 6:15 this morning.

The closing caused one patron to burst forth into poetry. When a reporter called at the postoffice this morning the force was hearing Acting Postmaster, Gibson read the following:

My Dear Bacon: Now you've gone and done it, on you we lay the blame— You've closed the Port of Entry to Cupid's little game. No letters now on Sunday, from Mil- lie, Maud or May To little Percy Moneybags, he must wait a long, long day. For shame on you old "Side-meat" you've conspired 'gainst the boy As you have against a business firm, who encourages nuptial joy. And little Bessie Hetherblom, will sigh and cry and pout She'll wire William Taft to put the P. M. out. And little Johnny Newlywed, whose deary is away. But sends her love and kisses that should reach him every day, Will snort about and call you names that I can't call you here Because a days delay's allowed from his precious little dear. (I know you'd send the letter, to that mother from her boy. And break the rules to do it—your pay'd be in her joy. But think of all those "Mushy Jays" who, from love are really sick I know its no affair of mine, but still I write this kick. For I am glad, I'm very glad, you've closed the office, tight. As I will get a day of rest from gemat "Please pay on sight" And from those Shylock bankers who have money in their head It will be a cinch on Sunday, I'll not know I'm in the red. I am really very sorry for that miss- ing "Billet Doux" for that miss- ing "Billet Doux" But I'm really glad to miss the one that says your "bill is due." So taking the general average we find you're not far wrong. For what the other folks have lost is gained by old Bill Long. Sincerely yours, W. G. L.

PROHIBITION AGAIN ISSUE IN MAINE TODAY

progressives are willing to stand by the regular machine in state affairs. Four red hot congressional fights are on. In 1910 the pluralities ranged from 501 in the fourth district to 2,711 in the second. Under the present conditions even the candidates themselves are at a loss to judge accurately their chances.

The overturn in the state of Blaine and Reed was completed when the democratic legislature elected Hon. O. B. Gardner to finish out the unexpired term of the late William P. Frye in the United States senate, this action following the election of Hon. C. F. Johnson to the seat vacated by the retirement of Senator Hale.

So much for the situation as it is today. Today's election will perhaps settle for a time the eternal rum question, but whatever the outcome, no man who understands present conditions in the faction torn commonwealth will attempt to forecast the decree of the people of the United States in November by the results in Maine September 9.

The following table shows the vote for governor cast by the two leading parties in Maine at each state election since 1892.

With students enrolled from New Mexico and Oklahoma and many parts of Texas, the Academy of Mary immaculate began the session of 1912-13 this morning. The attendance is said to be the best in the history of the institution, although exact figures are not available today. Yesterday's trains brought in numbers of students from out of the city and the local enrollment is also unusually large, so that the session begins with unusually flattering prospects.

DR. H. A. WALLER DENTIST

Office: Room 207 Kemp & Kell Building. Phone 836.

I take pleasure in announcing to my former friends and patrons that my office is now open on 2nd floor Kemp and Kell building. My new office is equipped with all the latest sanitary dental appliances known to modern dentistry, including two full sets of instruments and an electric sterilizer. This enables me to use sterilized instruments on each patient. It is a well known fact that many contagious diseases, such as tuberculosis, diphtheria, pyorrhea, (that deared disease which causes the teeth to become loose and fall out commonly known as scurvy) and many blood diseases can be transmitted from the mouth of one patient to that of another by the dentist. It affords me great satisfaction to see my patients this safe and sound. Soliciting a renewal of your liberal patronage of past years, I beg to remain. Yours sincerely, DR. H. A. WALLER.

WOODPECKERS OF LARGE SIZE
 Species That Abound in Mexico and Central America Attain Large Proportions.

To those readers who may only be familiar with the average sized woodpeckers found in this country, it will be interesting to know that there are species of this famous group of birds in existence, which, even when compared with such sizable species as the well-known "flicker," appear in proportion like great ravens, placed by their lesser congeners, the garrulous magpies.

Our common pileated woodpecker, which ranges over North America at large, may attain a length of nearly 20 inches, while the handsome black woodpecker of northern Europe, the pile nolin of the French, averages but three or four inches smaller.

Both of these, however, underestimate the true giants of this interesting race of birds, for our ponderous ivory-billed woodpecker, now found only in the wilder timbered districts of the gulf states, has a length of 21 inches and a wing extent of nearly a yard. The magnificent imperial woodpecker of Mexico and Central America is even larger by an inch or more than the last-named species, and is truly a most remarkable bird.

There is one very peculiar thing about these big woodpeckers, and that is in their general coloration they are all of a glossy black, with white markings, and the males have brilliant scarlet crests or other color areas of the same on their heads.

The imperial and the ivory-billed have powerful white, chisel-cutting bills, capable of making great havoc with the partly decayed trunks of forest trees, where they search for the pine-destroying insects which constitute their chief food.

Black Fox Farming.
 There is in Prince Edward island a new development which is attracting great attention in the shape of raising of fur bearing animals. It has been proved that the climate of the province is particularly suitable for the breeding of black foxes, and a number of farmers have embarked in the industry with the most profitable results. The fur of the black fox, owing to its rarity, has become exceedingly valuable, and the commissioner of agriculture for Prince Edward island states that a pair of live foxes were sold recently for £5,000 and another pair for over £4,000.

The price of this spring's pups was over £2,000 a pair and £1,600 a pair, while a cash deposit varying from 10 to 25 per cent is being paid for fox cubs that are due to be born in the spring of 1913. Black fox farming, as it is called, does not entail any considerable expense, the ranches consisting usually of an acre of ground with a steel wire enclosure about fifty feet square for two pairs, containing little houses for the animals.

WILL TAKE RELIGIOUS CENSUS THIS MONTH

The visitors will not even tell which church they are from. The visitors will find out who and where people are, what church and Sunday school they prefer, getting the ages of the children and such other information.

The visitors will meet at the close of the visitation at some appointed place in the district. Then the cards will be carefully looked over and distributed to the ministers of the churches which the people have expressed a desire to attend.

The local churches are expected to have previously organized a force of local visitors sufficiently large to look after every card turned over to them and immediately they will call and extend a personal invitation to these parties who do not attend any church or Sunday school and they will continue to call upon and keep in touch with them until they have secured every one as a member of their church, or at least an attendant.

Local churches will have special committees to meet and help the strangers get acquainted who will be at their church on rally day, September 29.

This is not a new plan. It has been thoroughly tried out in many cities. Texas has held several statewide visitations before, so with the experience of the past, this promises to be the best and most thorough canvass ever made.

Richmond, Virginia, held a home visitation last May. It took one hour to complete the work. They had enlisted over four thousand six hundred men and women to help in the campaign. The governor of Virginia issued a proclamation endorsing the movement; the mayor of Richmond issued a proclamation recommending that all employees be excused for the work; the board of education declared a half holiday in all the city schools; the Chamber of Commerce, the Clearing House Association and Business Men's Club endorsed the movement. Bishops, priests, rabbis, ministers, doctors, lawyers and bankers helped the campaign. Kansas City met with much the same results and all were enthusiastic over the success.

If there is a Sunday school worker anywhere who has to this time not been informed regarding this work, please write at once to the visitation superintendent, Texas Sunday School Association, Dallas, Texas, and information will be furnished and you will be put in touch with the one in charge of the work in your district or county.

EASY TO TEACH BLACKBIRD. Is a natural imitator and responds quickly to training—its memory strong.

The blackbird, which belongs to the thrush family, has strong imitative powers, and has even been taught to speak. There is not much variety in its natural song, but its voice has a pure, flute-like tone and full volume. The bird is very susceptible of being trained, and when reared by hand, from the nest is capable of forming strong attachments and makes itself a great favorite.

When a blackbird is six or eight weeks old, his training should be begun. Take him to a quiet room away from any other birds, and each night and morning whistle the portion of the tune you wish him to learn, or play it on the flute. Feed him before you begin, and put a fat, lively worm where he can see it. After you have whistled or played the air, say twenty times, stop, so that the bird may have an opportunity of imitating it.

If he should make the attempt, give him the worm at once, praising and caressing him meanwhile. He will soon begin to see why a reward was given to him, and will not be slow in trying to earn it. When once he has learned the tune he will never forget it, and it will pass into and become a part of his song.

After the blackbird has completed his education, he should be placed near some other singing bird, whose notes he would soon learn and blend with his own.

Put his cage out of doors whenever the weather permits, and he will tell you how pleased you have made him. But during the hot days of summer, let him be well shaded and kept cool, as heat and dry air seem to affect his voice. He will begin to sing in the end of February or the beginning of March, and will continue until the fall, if the summer is not too hot.
