TORREON'S FALL MATTER OF MINUTES SAYS VILLA

Rebels Reported To Have Begun Attack On Last Line Of Federal Defenses In The Shot And Shell Ridden City

REBELS NOW IN CITY'S BUSINESS SECTION

Federal Generals Reported To Be Ending Own Lives While Men Attempt To Surrender To The Victorious Villa's Forces

By Associated Press.
Juarez, Mexico, March 28.—The attack of federal defenses at Torreon began at noon today, according to a telegram from General Villa, who declared he expected to capture the stronghold tonight.
Last night's assault is declared to have been unsuccessful because of the failure of the supply of hand grenades, the most useful ammunition in street fighting. Villa is declared to have received 5000 more grenades before he renewed the attack today.
The position already taken in the business section of the city, it is said, was made more secure last night and the smelter, like the bull ring and the principal hotel, is said to have become rebel property. Before noon today was devoted to disposing of the dead and making comfortable the headquarters of the wounded at Gomez Palacios and in the field hospitals.
One telegram received from General Villa urged that hospital supplies be rushed to the front in the most urgent haste. The cost of his victories is now known to have been heavy and the fact that more hospital supplies must be sent from here, despite the large store which Villa took with him adds confirmation.

STREET DEMONSTRATION AGAINST GEN. HUERTA

Belief Growing in Mexico City That Government Forces Failing to Check Rebels
By Associated Press.
Mexico City, March 28.—Already demonstrations against President Huerta have occurred in the streets of the capital. The police tonight charged a small crowd of students who were shouting against Huerta and making derogatory remarks on the government. Emboldened by the growing popular belief that the government forces are failing to hold back the rebels at Torreon, the students had organized a manifestation but not more than fifty had joined in the movement when they were faced by a squad of police near the Alameda. About forty shots were fired by the police, who apparently aimed high and no one was hurt. A number of participants were arrested and the others took refuge in the side streets.

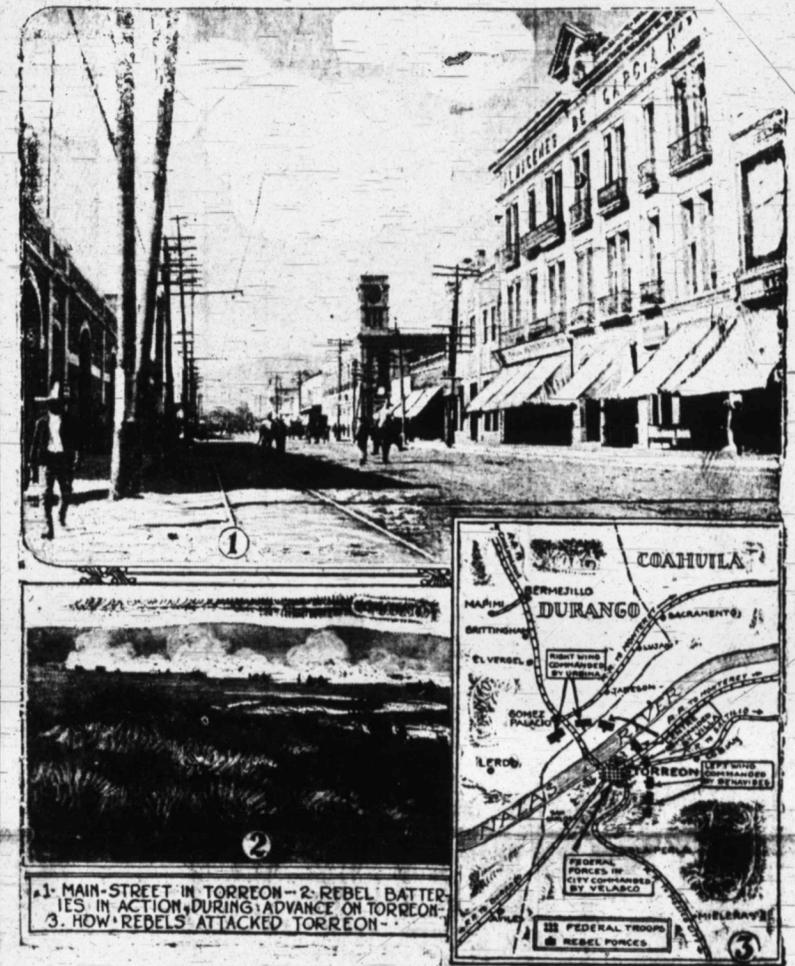

FOUR FAMILIES MISSING IN A KANSAS CYCLONE

Storm Sweeps Across Rice County
Town and Score of Houses Were Blown Down
By Associated Press.
Topeka, Kan., March 28.—A score of small houses were blown down. Mrs. Charles Van Buskirk probably was fatally injured and four families are missing as the result of a tornado that swept across the little town of Frederick, Rice county tonight. The families are those of J. K. Caldwell, Frank Moore, Edward Erkeberg and John Aued. Wires are down and details of the storm are meager. A message from Genesee said a heavy windstorm unroofed many small buildings there and injured several persons. No one was killed.

THREE KILLED IN ARKANSAS FEUDISTS FIGHT TUESDAY

By Associated Press.
Little Rock, Ark., March 28.—Three men were killed and a woman fatally injured in a feud at Nagu, Ark., thirty miles north of Russellville early Tuesday. Particulars of the trouble are lacking. Officers are hurrying to the territory, hoping to prevent further killings. Reports indicate that the entire section is up in arms and that further fighting is likely.

MORE CONVICTS PAROLED BY GOVERNOR COLQUITT

Forty-Two Paroled Men Will Work on State's Railroad Under Lindale
Honor System
By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, March 28.—Forty-two more convicts were paroled today by the governor, this time to work on the state railroad. J. B. Stubbelfield, general manager of the road, was here today and after a conference with him, the governor granted the request to parole the convicts. They were paroled on the Lindale plan; that is, each convict will get fifteen dollars per month, one-half of which goes to the prison commission and the other half to the convict. All are placed on the honor system.

JUDGE TALIARRO ANNOUNCES FOR THE GOVERNORSHIP

Houston, Texas, March 28.—Interest was added to the contest for governor of Texas today when Judge Sinclair Taliarro, for many years a leading member of the Houston bar, announced for governor. While a strong anti, his announcement says nothing of submitting his claims at Fort Worth but support is asked for the democratic nomination in the July primaries. With Col. Ball, this gives Harris county two candidates.

MASQUERADED AS MAN MORE THAN SIXTY YEARS

By Associated Press.
Quincy, Ill., March 28.—After masquerading as a man for sixty years and serving as a soldier in General Grant's army during the Civil War, Albert Cashier, whose sex was discovered at the Soldier's Home recently, today was committed to an insane asylum. The woman was born in Ireland seventy-three years ago. She came to America as a stowaway when thirteen, clad in boy's clothing. When the war broke out, as she had continued to represent herself as a male, she enlisted in Company G, Ninety-fifth Illinois Infantry. She participated in some of the bloodiest battles of the war and behaved with gallantry. When the war ended, she resumed civil life as a workman until age and exposure during the war made her helpless. She then entered the Soldier's Home, where her sex was discovered while she was under care of a surgeon. She refused to tell her family history.

ULSTER TROUBLE IS STILL SIMMERING

AFFAIR MONDAY
CRISIS IS STILL IMPENDING
"Aristocracy Against the People" Will be Battle Cry of Radical Wing of Liberals
By Associated Press.
London, March 28.—What has been pronounced "the greatest crisis of statesmanship in 300 years" is simmering over Sunday. Both houses of Parliament will train their heaviest guns on the whole complicated affair Monday. Passions are running high and country houses where politicians spend the week-end are deserted. Party leaders are conferring in London, and urgent summonses have been sent to all members to attend.
If the outcome of the crisis is to be a general election in the near future, the radical wing of the Liberal party will form a close alliance with the labor party, through coalition crystallizing its platform into the battle cry "the aristocracy against the people."
Premier Asquith announced an army order which generally is considered to have been intended as a sort of charter in which Field Marshal French and General Ewart might be induced to remain in their position. Col. Seeley's tenure in the office of the war ministry seems destined to be of short continuance. The name of John Burns is discussed most often as Seeley's probable successor.
That a democratic government would be carried to such lengths as to give supervision of the army into the hands of the sturdy character who came into the limelight, first as labor agitator, would have been unthinkable a decade ago, yet a recognition of the soldier as one of the same claims with the officer in the rights and duties which the government proclaimed today is a long step toward the same leveling of the classes.

Count of Arkansas Senatorial Contest
By Associated Press.
Little Rock, Ark., March 28.—Until the official canvass of the vote in Wednesday's democratic primary is made Monday, it will not be known whether James P. Clarke was re-nominated or was defeated by Judge William F. Kirby. Belated returns at one time tonight put Judge Kirby slightly in the lead. He was 129 votes ahead in a total of 128,091 votes.
The receipt of the official vote from Short county and additional returns from Phillips county put Senator Clarke back in the lead on the 11:30 count tonight. The totals are: Clarke 65,197; Kirby, 64,818. Clarke's lead is 379.

Melting Snows Pouring Great Flood

By Associated Press.
Jackson, Miss., March 28.—Revised estimates of the damage done by the flood today when Town Creek, flowing through the center of the city, overflowed its banks and inundated the entire business district of the western part of the city, in place of $125,000. More than a hundred business houses suffered, including two big department stores, Illinois Central freight depot, cotton compress in which hundreds of bales of cotton were stored, a dozen or more wholesale houses, the electric light plant necessitating the stopping of street car traffic, washing away of culverts and the undermining of several new concrete bridges. An immense brick garage built over the bed of the creek was undermined and partly caved in.
No deaths have been reported, although one negro man stated he had seen two negro boys struggling in the water of the creek but was unable to render assistance. Along the banks of the creek hundreds of negroes were caught in their cabins by the sudden rise and were rescued by boat parties. The water receded nearly as fast as it rose and except for piles of debris and household effects in the streets, there is tonight no sign of the flood.
UPPER ALLEGHENY

By Associated Press.
Pittsburg, Pa., March 28.—Flood stages were reported from the Upper Allegheny river today because of melting snows and last night heavy rain. At Warren, Pa., it was rising rapidly and much damage had been done. Trolley and railroad lines were reported in trouble and a number of factories had shut down.

No trains passed over the Katy today until tonight on account of washed out tracks southeast.

A FILIBUSTER ON CANAL TOLL REPEAL

REPORTS OF ORGANIZED EFFORT TO DELAY PASSAGE AROUSES
ADMINISTRATION LEADERS.

OWEN CRITICIZES O'GORMAN

Oklahoma Senator Disposition to Petition is Silly—Liberty Rather Than Asset

By Associated Press.
Washington, March 28.—Reports that an organized effort will be made in the Senate to delay passage of the bill repealing Panama toll exemptions aroused administration leaders today, while general debate of the issue in the House continued to hold public interest. The intimation that a prolonged filibuster by the Senate had been determined upon, now that the first decisive battle had been won by the president, was reported to several senatorial supporters of the administration and it was suggested that Senator O'Gorman, chairman of the inter-oceanic canal committee already was delaying consideration of the measure in his committee.
How long the issue will be held on the Senate committee, Senator O'Gorman would not predict, declaring that there were other important matters of legislation in the committee which were as busy as anti-trust and appropriation bills.
"I heard several democrat senators who probably will vote to repeal the exemption, declare today that they did not look for a vote in the Senate within six weeks," the New York senator added.
Delay Legislation, Not Asset.
Senator Owen, who is leading the preliminary fight for repeal, asserted tonight that any attempt to delay the bill in the Senate unduly would be foolish. He intimated that deliberate delay in the committee might result in forcing the issue before the Senate on a motion to discharge the canal committee from consideration of the subject.
"Any disposition to petition in this matter," said Senator Owen, "obviously would be a silly thing to do, as far as Senator O'Gorman is concerned. I think he is disposed to delay now. Senator O'Gorman seems to take the view that this controversy is a party asset, instead of a party liability. I think the result of the vote in the Senate Friday will have some effect inasmuch as it shows where the big majority of the party stands."
Big Crowd Hears Debate.
The debate drew crowds to the House gallery today. Hours before the gallery doors were open today, the corridors were crowded with spectators and there were lively scrambles for seats. Two women engaged in a physical encounter for possession of a seat before the House convened. It was a stirring battle, the hats and collars of the feminine contestants being rudely disturbed before doorkeepers could part them.
The debate today was spirited on both sides, party lines being disregarded. Representative Fitzgerald, chairman of the appropriations committee, who joined Speaker Clark and Mr. Underwood in the attack on the president, was loudly cheered when he attacked the repeal. Mr. Fitzgerald asserted he had no sympathy with those who condemned the president for his views, but declared his firm conviction that tolls exemption from American ships was essential to the success of the nation with the transcontinental railroads, to increase the efficiency of American naval forces and to prevent the control of an isthmian canal by a European power. The verbal warfare raged throughout the day, holding the attention of the House membership as no debate has for many a day.
Senator Reed's Proposal.
Democratic leaders who met defeat yesterday, were not at all cast down. Senator Reed of Missouri, injected a new phase into the situation today by introducing a bill to repeal the toll exemption on American ships, but providing further that foreign vessels might enter into coastwise trade. He said to break up any existing American monopoly in coastwise shipping. The bill provides that foreign owned vessels may enter the ports of the United States to the same extent and under the restrictions imposed upon vessels of the United States, the president to prescribe and from time to time to change the tolls charged for the use of the Panama canal by coastwise traffic. It is stipulated however, that charges should be as nearly as possible equal the expense of transporting such vessels through the canal without seeking to recover any interest upon the investment of the United States in constructing the canal.
Senator Livingston also introduced a bill to give the president authority to suspend tolls whenever consistent with the interest of the United States.
Sharp Criticism of Wilson.
Representative Chandler, Progressive of New York, who opposed the repeal, declaring that the people in the 1912 election had endorsed the free tolls plank of the various platforms and that "for one man, no matter how his station or how great his

U. S. PROTESTS AGAINST GERMAN OIL MONOPOLY

Formal Action Taken by Government in Behalf of American Investors in Germany
By Associated Press.
Berlin, March 28.—Formal action was begun today by the United States government against the petroleum monopoly bill recently introduced in the German imperial parliament. The first step was a written memorandum presented by James W. Gerard, United States ambassador to the German foreign minister. This memorandum expressed the confident expectation of the United States that certain injustices toward American investors will disappear. It is pointed out that the United States has no wish to interfere with any price agreement between the Standard Oil Company and Germany, should such a matter be under consideration. It respects, however, that American citizens who have invested capital in German enterprises, for instance the Standard's German subsidiary, concerns will be compensated for all investments effected by the measure. The German foreign minister did not reply to the memorandum. The committee in charge of the bill postponed its discussion until April 28 when a further postponement is expected.

POTTS TELLS ABOUT GOOD ROADS WORK

SMALL ATTENDANCE BUT DEEP INTEREST MARKED MEETING SATURDAY

A COMMITTEE TO BE NAMED

Two From Each Commissioners' Precinct With That Body Will Make Recommendations

The good roads meeting held at the court house yesterday afternoon did not bring out as large a crowd as was expected, as a matter of fact, but of the fifty or sixty who were present all seemed interested. One reason for the small attendance was due perhaps to the fact that a preliminary or examining trial in the case of Iris Moore, charged with stabbing to death Deima Stearman was going on at the same hour in Justice Howard's court.

M. A. Marcus Opens Meeting
The meeting was called to order by M. A. Marcus who, after stating its purpose, said the first thing in order was to elect a chairman, and on motion Judge J. T. Montgomery was elected, who immediately introduced Prof. R. J. Potts of the A. & M. College, who is also consulting engineer of the Texas Good Roads Association.

Prof. Potts Entertained the Audience
Prof. Potts entertained the audience for about an hour, telling of the various kinds of materials out of which good roads are constructed, and explaining their cost, lasting qualities, and the kind of material best suited for different sections of the state. In wet sections, or where it rained a great deal, a different kind of material was used than that used in countries where it did not rain quite so often or so much. He also referred to the sand-clay roads for such climates and countries as this, and said their cost on a basis of sixteen feet wide was in the neighborhood of $5,000 per mile. He also explained the laws under which various counties had voted good roads bonds, and the laws of Texas generally governing the issuance of bonds for good roads.

At the conclusion of his address he said that he would try to answer any questions asked him. Several questions concerning the method, or first steps to be taken toward calling for an election to vote on a proposition for bonds for good roads were asked, and which he answered by telling how other counties had done and at the conclusion of his address D. P. Dalley arose and offered the following resolutions which were adopted without opposition:

The Resolution
"Resolved, That a committee to consist of the five members of the Commissioners' Court of Wichita county, Texas, and two additional members from each commissioner's precinct in Wichita county be appointed for the purpose of determining what permanent roads in their opinion should be provided in Wichita county, Texas, the character of material to be used and the approximate cost of such roads, and to recommend to the next meeting of this body what amount of bonds, if any, should be voted by the people of Wichita county for the purpose of providing permanent roads."

Resolved further, that the Commissioners' Court of Wichita County, Texas, is hereby requested to employ a competent engineer to give the proposed permanent public roads in the county with the committee to be appointed as above provided, and to advise said committee as to the best and most economical material to be used in constructing said proposed roads; and the approximate cost of such roads; and to perform such other services as may be required of them by the Commissioners' Court in connection with the matter.

Resolved, further, that the members of said committee, excepting the Commissioners' Court be appointed in the following manner: That the chairman of this convention shall name a committee to consist of one person from each commissioner's precinct in the county, and said committee shall recommend to this meeting two persons to act upon said committee from each of said commissioner's precincts.

Resolved further, that said committee be requested to report as speedily as possible, and to give through the papers public notice of the time at which their report will be presented to another meeting of the Good Roads Association, to be called by the chairman for the purpose of hearing said report.

9 SOUTHERN STATES DEFAULT ON DEBTS

BRITISH BONDHOLDERS HAVE CLAIMS AGGREGATING $75,000,000

ON BONDS ISSUED BY STATES

Bonds Have Been in Default From 40 to 70 Years Says English Organization

By Associated Press.
London, March 28.—Nine Southern States of the United States now owe British bondholders a total of more than $75,000,000 not including interest, on account of debts which have been in default from forty to seventy years according to a report of the council of the corporation of foreign bondholders.

"This association, organized forty years ago to protect the interests of holders of foreign securities, has for many years had eleven foreign states on its black list but this year the Republic of Guatemala, under pressure from the foreign office, has resumed payments after a default extending over fourteen years.

"The elimination of Guatemala," says the report, "leaves the unenviable distinction of defaulters to the Republic of Honduras and nine states of the United States of America; namely, Arkansas, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and West Virginia."

It has not been possible to obtain reliable information with regard to most of these debts, but it is understood that the loans were contracted for public improvements and do not include Confederate bonds or war debts.

"With the exception of Alabama's debt, of which no reliable information is obtainable, the amounts owing British bondholders are estimated as follows:
Arkansas—$8,700,000.
Florida—$7,000,000.
Georgia—$12,700,000.
Louisiana—$6,000,000.
Mississippi—$7,000,000.
North Carolina—$22,600,000.
South Carolina—$6,000,000.
West Virginia—$15,239,370.

Of these debts the report, which is headed by Viscount Goschen, the new chairman, says:
"It is indeed deplorable that these prosperous and progressive states of the great American Union take no steps to settle their defaulted debts, and it seems, to say the least of it, an anomaly that the United States should insist on compliance with its obligations by a country like Santo Domingo when so many of the states within its own borders are not observing their own engagements."

Excuses Put Forward
"The excuses put forward by these states for non-payment are manifold, but they may be generally classed under three heads:
"(1) North Carolina pleads that any defaulted obligations were contracted while the state was being administered by the federal government after the Civil War. The answer to this, of course, is that the bondholders have nothing to do with the federal government. One of the other excuses which the state should not be responsible for the issue of the loans in question, and it is not unfair that the state should reimburse its creditors to the federal government and that the federal government should refer them back again to the state. Tennessee for many years adopted the same attitude as North Carolina; but the former was wise enough to realize that no state can maintain its position in the world of credit which attempts to justify the repudiation of obligations by excuses which, in the case of individuals, would not be tolerated in a civilized court of law and therefore came to a settlement with the holders of its bonds.

"(2) Louisiana alleges that there were irregularities of some kind or another in connection with the issue of most of her repudiated bonds. If so, of course, just an end to all world. If a state, on discovery that its own officials had acted incorrectly in the course of the issue of a loan, repudiated all responsibility for the money obtained from the public. There is, however, one issue or part of an issue, known as 'Aby's' bonds, concerning which not even the foregoing excuse can be pleaded. In this case, in spite of the fact that the bonds are expressed on their face to be issued by the State of Louisiana in accordance with the State's constitution and although they are specially secured, on arrears of taxes collectible by the State, which, if admitted, were 'diverted' to other purposes, payment is denied on the astonishing plea that the bonds were not guaranteed by the State.

"(3) Mississippi's excuse for not recognizing her defaulted debt is the worst of all. Between 1822 and 1835 the State issued two loans, for which she obtained full value and the proceeds of which were invested in the establishment and development of two banks. So long as the banks flourished and made good profits the interest on the loans was paid; but when owing to over speculation had times came and the banks got into difficulties, Mississippi made the excuse for ceasing all further payments to the bondholders. For a State to repudiate its obligations to its creditors because the investments made to make with the money do not turn out profitably is absolutely indefensible, and, as far as the council are aware, such an argument has never been resorted to by even the most backward of the Spanish American Republics."

Berlin, March 29.—Germany is not yet ready to see the "unwritten law" become a feature of trials of husbands and wives for killing faithless partners. Press comment on the acquittal of Count Mielczynski, who slew his wife and her nephew in the countess's bedroom, is sympathetic toward the count, but the acquittal is generally considered a miscarriage of justice. The Kreuzzeitung even makes it a text for advocating abolition of the jury system. It says:
"We can understand how the jurists felt themselves impelled to acquit if possible. From a purely humanitarian standpoint one can be glad that they did reach an acquittal. Count Mielczynski's holiest rights were transgressed against and his deed testified to a feeling of honor, and an earnest appreciation of the married relation which we could only wish prevailed everywhere among our people. But the basic principle of our justice, that the individual shall obtain his rights and revenge through the state, may not for this reason be abandoned."
The Tageszeitung also understands the feeling that prompted acquittal, but declares that it "would be a grave thing if this feeling prevailed or should come to prevail throughout our folk. Such acquittals are almost the rule in the Latin countries, especially in France, and it is a good indication of the sound moral sense of the Germans that the Latin example has very generally found our disapproval."
A conviction of Mielczynski, with a finding of extreme mitigating circumstances, would have permitted a sentence as low as six months in prison.

Veal Loaf, Hamberger Steak—For Economy.

Do you make a veal loaf, hamberger steak or chili as often as you would like to?

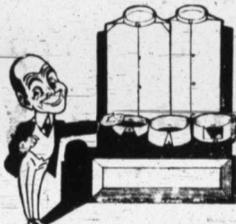

If you have to chop the meats yourself, you probably haven't. Then here's a suggestion.

In cutting up meats, in my department, there are left from the forequarters and other parts pieces that, ground up, would make excellent veal loaf, and Hamberger or chili material.

In the bulk they don't look quite so attractive as a round of steak or some other part of the beef that you might select, but when they are ground up they are just as nutritious, just as satisfactory and far cheaper.

Suppose you try this this week. Give me an order ground up, would make excellent veal loaf, and hamberger steak or a chili and I think you will find something very satisfactory and economical.

WOUNDED REBELS REACH CHIHUAHUA

SIXTEEN COACHLOADS FORM VAN GUARD OF LONG LINE OF WOUNDED OVER 300 MILES

FEDERAL FIRE WAS DEADLY

Accounts Agree That After Five Days Fighting Villa Had Not Taken Gomez Palacios

By Associated Press. Chihuahua, March 28.—Evidence of the severe fighting which the rebels suffered at the hands of the federals outside of Torreon was brought here today with the first two trainloads of rebel wounded. Sixteen coaches of wounded soldiers wrapped in blankets and blood stained bandages reached the city as the vanguard of a long line of wounded scattered along the railroad for three hundred miles. Three hundred rebels wounded, including lieutenant colonels and about twenty minor officers, arrived here last night.

Number of Dead Unknown.—They reported a total of about 1000 wounded on their side with an unknown number of dead. General Trinidad Rodriguez was probably fatally wounded and Gen. Maximo Garcia was seriously wounded and they were left at the front. All accounts given by the soldiers were that the federals surprised Gen. Villa who instead of frightening the Huerta forces by his approach found that Torreon garrison stubbornly entrenched and prepared to resist.

These accounts agreed that while the first firing resulted in a victory after five days fighting Villa had failed not only to enter Torreon proper, but had not taken Gomez Palacios, a suburb. Most of the wounded were soldiers of the Carranza brigade commanded by General Bonavides, who undertook to blaze the way through the heavy federal cannonading outside Gomez Palacios. These soldiers were killed and wounded by scores, according to the story told by individual soldiers; they were sent out to almost certain death to bring out the federal fire so the federals might be located for an attack from other points. Many injured died and the dead simply were covered with horse earth without the digging of graves.

"Hell Met at Torreon."—"Hell met us at Torreon," said a youthful soldier as he crawled out of the train with his head, arms and legs wrapped in rags, but with a grim smile on his face. He was one of the small boys who joined the Carranza brigades in numbers. As the train with its freight of mutilated men neared the city, every public conveyance in Chihuahua was ordered to the station. These formed a line and soon a continuous procession of wagons and coaches passed the station to an abandoned warehouse where the wounded were stretched on cots and on the floor. Most of the hotels were filled with wounded officers.

Pitiable as their condition was, it was noticeable that all of the wounded had been given first aid treatment before they were started toward. This was regarded as marking an advancement in the treatment of wounded in Mexican revolutions, for in previous fights few of the wounded were treated on the battlefield at all.

Some Diplomats Offended.—It is probably not generally known that some of the members of the diplomatic corps were offended at the inference conveyed in the American newspaper that the secretary of state had "grape juice" dinner. He has been the host of many official and semi-official functions, and at no time has anything stronger than grape juice been served.

Impartially severely, he had a personal leaning toward the home rule. The king and the members of his court were outspoken in condemning Sir Edward Carson for organizing Ulster volunteers army, and resented his act in reviewing the volunteers as though they were a regular military body and assuring such prerogatives by reason of which the Unionists named him "King Carson." Such an offense as General Robert Baden-Powell discovered when he placed his portrait on postage stamps during the siege of Mafeking is an unpardonable sin in the eyes of the court.

Staff Officers to Resign.—While Premier Asquith and Col. Seeley were closeted with the King recently, Major General Sir William R. Robertson, director of military training at the war office, accompanied by a colleague, visited the palace according to reliable information, and asked to be admitted to the conference on urgent business. The request was granted and the officers announced that they and a majority of the staff officers would resign immediately unless the government made its peace with the Curragh officers.

IS BECOMING POPULAR TO TURN ON THE CUP

"Dry" Dinners May Become the Thing at Washington—Administration Example

Washington, March 29.—Is the time approaching when wineless dinner parties will be the rule, rather than the exception, in the national capital? Many persons are inclined to answer this question in the affirmative. The influence of example is always potent, and when the men and women in high places turn on the wine cup, it is not strange that a change of thought with respect to the serving of wine at society functions takes place. It is now pretty generally understood that the Wilson administration is a temperance affair, though not puritanically so. What is known as "high society" ever thought of giving a dinner party or a select social function without serving wine. There is one exception to this statement that ought to be noted. Several years ago Mrs. John B. Henderson, wife of a former senator from Iowa, the occupant of what is known as the "Henderson castle," situated in the Avenue of Presidents made the public announcement that wines would no longer be served in her home. Just to show that she meant what she said, she caused the wines that were in her cellar to be emptied in the gutter in the street, and for several hours a stream of wine trickled through the most aristocratic street in the city. But Mrs. Henderson had few, if any, followers.

Always Served Wine.—Prior to the coming in of this administration no one connected with what is known as "high society" ever thought of giving a dinner party or a select social function without serving wine. There is one exception to this statement that ought to be noted. Several years ago Mrs. John B. Henderson, wife of a former senator from Iowa, the occupant of what is known as the "Henderson castle," situated in the Avenue of Presidents made the public announcement that wines would no longer be served in her home. Just to show that she meant what she said, she caused the wines that were in her cellar to be emptied in the gutter in the street, and for several hours a stream of wine trickled through the most aristocratic street in the city. But Mrs. Henderson had few, if any, followers.

Changed a Year Ago.—With the advent of the Wilson administration a year ago came the change. The capital soon understood that the Wilsons would restrict the use of wines at White House functions, if not abolish wines altogether, and people here knew without being told the views of William J. Bryan, the new secretary of state, with respect to wine drinking. As time went on it developed that the Vice President and Mrs. Marshall never served wine on their table and that at least one-half the members of the cabinet tabooed its use in their home.

The old crowd of habitués on here found much cause for regret when the secretary of state entertained the representatives of the foreign governments and served them with grape juice instead of fermented drinks. But the "joshing" which the secretary of state was obliged to take did not cause him to change his thought about the wine. He has been the host of many official and semi-official functions, and at no time has anything stronger than grape juice been served.

Some Diplomats Offended.—It is probably not generally known that some of the members of the diplomatic corps were offended at the inference conveyed in the American newspaper that the secretary of state had "grape juice" dinner. He has been the host of many official and semi-official functions, and at no time has anything stronger than grape juice been served.

Carried Past Them.—Recently when the Italian ambassador gave a dinner in honor of the Vice President and Mrs. Marshall the waiter bearing the wines was simply carried past them without comment, thus relieving them of the necessity of reversing their glasses or otherwise declining the service. This custom promises to be generally followed from now on.

Of the members of the cabinet, Secretary Daniels, of the navy, and Mrs. Daniels are probably the most frequent entertainers. They have a beautiful home in the suburbs, and unless they are dining out, guests are invariably to be found at their table. They have not even had glasses for wines placed on their table. Very naturally with the members of the President's official family turning their wine glasses down, hosts and hostesses are taking up the question as to whether they ought not to abolish wines from their tables. Many have already done so, and as one person who is in the "swim," put it today, "It looks as if the reform would become catching, if it is not already so."

GOOD USE OF THE SILO IN SAVING DROUTH CROPS

(An address delivered by C. M. Evans, superintendent of extension work at the Agricultural and Mechanical College, before the Texas Industrial Congress.)

If there is any objection to farming in Texas that has been offered more than any other it is that farming is a haphazard proposition. One year we will make a bumper crop, and perhaps the next year we will make a failure, due to drouthy conditions. If we could introduce something into our farm equipment or system of farming that would tend to insure a fair profit each year we would be going a long step forward in the solution of the farm problem.

The silo is a great equalizer of farm practice, and I believe that the more extensive use of it will tend to produce more regular and substantial profits. We all know that last year there were hundreds of thousands of acres of corn stalks in the state of Texas that bid fair to make a bumper yield until late in the season, when struck by the drouth. As soon, however, as the hot dry winds came, blades were parched and broken from the stalks, and after being broken after the first rains came, so that very little was secured from the many acres of corn that had cost usually about $8 per acre to produce. The experiments have shown, however, that had this drouth-stricken corn been placed in a silo at the proper time it would have been worth $4 to $8 per ton for feeding beef cattle and a little more than that for the feeding of dairy cattle. When we estimate that from four to six tons of green foliage in the form of silage would have been produced per acre it is easy to see that these drouth-stricken crops would have been made profitable by the use of the silo. The silo not only provides a means of saving drouth-stricken corn crops, but by the use of the silo we can make a profitable crop out of sorghum and grain sorghum, which experience has taught us are sure crops in most every part of the state, provided proper cultural methods are used.

There are a great many other things that might be said in favor of the silo in drouthy regions, one of which is that it forces us into a system of stock farming by means of which we can keep up the fertility of our soil by feeding the total crops back on the land as barnyard manure, from silage. This barnyard manure not only has a value as a fertilizer, containing much available plant food, but it has a physical effect on the soil, due to the addition of humus which tend to make a soil drouth-resistant. This humus is simply the residue from decayed organic matter. This fact is made plain when we consider that if we should take equal portions of sand, loam and humus, that the humus would have the power of absorbing over seven times as much moisture as the sand and at least four times as much as the loam. Then, if these same portions of sand, loam and humus are spread out to dry it would be found that the sand would give up its moisture about three times as fast as the humus, so we can see from this the importance of humus to any soil in a drouth-stricken region.

Notice to Masons.
There will be a called meeting of Wichita Falls Lodge No. 635 A. F. & A. M., Monday night at 8 o'clock. Important business.

Wichita Falls, Texas, March 29, 1914

Automobile registrations for Wichita county for the week were fourteen—or to be more accurate, thirteen automobiles and one Ford. It is also a matter of record that more automobiles were registered during the months of February and March than there were marriage licenses issued in Wichita county.

Wilson and Bryan make a great team—when they pull together. At Baltimore they measured political strength with the Clark, Underwood and Harman forces, and defeated them. Seemingly Speaker Clark and Leader of the House Underwood are still smarting under the lashing they got at Baltimore and have united their forces to defeat the President's recommendation in the Panama canal matter. So far—the President has won out, and the indications are that Messrs. Clark and Underwood have started something that is not going to add any feathers in their political caps.

The splendid rains of Thursday and Friday nights are cause of flattering crop reports from the country surrounding Wichita Falls. Farmers had begun to get a little discouraged, but now admit there was little cause. They were just afraid of what might happen if the rains did not come soon. Now they are optimistic and are expecting to raise bumper wheat and oat crops, to say nothing of corn, cotton and feed crops. The year 1914 looks like it was going to be a record breaker for big crops of every kind, and if it keeps on raining every time we need it the farmers are not going to lose much time discussing candidates for office and what they stand for. Good crops mean a lot more for them than any political reform that is now before

The laws of Texas, as the Times understands it, permits the levying of a tax as high as 25c on the $100 taxable values for the building of good roads. The taxable values in Wichita county are in the neighborhood of $15,000,000. A tax levy of 10c or 12 1/2c on the $100 taxable values would be ample to take care of good roads bond issues of $600,000. According to figures made by expert good road builders, good roads of an average width of 16 feet wide can be constructed substantially at a cost of $5000 per mile, or less. If the people of this county should vote bonds to the amount of $500,000, it would furnish money sufficient to construct about 100 miles of good roads. A committee composed of the commissioners court and a representative citizen from each commissioner precinct in the county has been commissioned to determine whether an election shall be called to vote for or against good road bonds in this county, and if an election is ordered a survey is to be made in advance of the election to determine how many miles of good roads it is desired to be constructed, and in what portions of the county they are located. In that way the taxpayers will be given an intelligent idea of how the money realized from the sale of the bonds (provided they are voted) is to be expended. To the Times it seems a fair proposition, and it put up to the people in that way the Times believes will meet with their endorsement.

Those who believe the state should pay its officials—both county and precinct—salaries that are in proportion for services performed, instead of paying by the fee system, should see to

It that candidate for the legislature whom they intend to vote for shall declare themselves on that very important matter. In some counties in Texas some county officials are paid more for their services than the governor of the state under the present fee system and in some instances a justice of the peace makes more out of his office than a judge of the court of civil appeals. It is even alleged that a sheriff in one county made as much as $35,000 out of his office in a single year. That's going some. And it must be remembered that these enormous salaries come out of the pockets of the people, more often than not out of the pockets of those who are least able to pay them. Swat the fee system advocates, it matters not whether they be pros or antis on the prohibition question. The people of Texas should not lose sight of the fact that there are others things of quite as much importance as the matter of prohibition that is worth their careful study.

AN IMPOSSIBLE VAMOOSE

Wichita Falls is to have a dynamite factory. We should advise all the good citizens of Wichita Falls to move to Bowie before their plant is put in operation. The other fellows may remain there and take their chance.—Bowie Blade.

If all the good citizens were to move from Wichita to Bowie there wouldn't be anybody left at the old stand but the two Eds who are in the newspaper business there. State Press doesn't men by this to insinuate that Ed Howard and Edgar Haney are not good citizens. On the contrary, there are none better. But they would be willing to risk their reputations in order to stay on the job and chronicle the hegira. Vividly would they describe in their newspapers the scenes and incidents of the great exodus, of how Mr. Kemp marched away bravely but with blanched cheeks; how Mr. Kell strode forth unflinchingly but reluctantly; how Judge Huff embraced each lamp post as he passed, bidding sad farewells; how Rev. McKee fared away in obvious grief and looked back longingly even as Lot's wife of old; how Dr. Meredith backed away with his automobile in reverse, thereby keeping his eye on Wichita to the last; how Bill Long wept as he trudged away, his tears mixing freely with the perspiration of his face. Finally, when all the thousands of other good citizens had shaken the dust of Wichita from their feet and only the two Eds and the unnamed tenants of the canvas house were left, then the two Eds would go, with nobody to write their going. It is an interesting suggestion, this thing of all the good citizens of Wichita Falls moving to Bowie; but we bet they don't do it.—State Press in Dallas News.

THE SUSPENDED SENTENCE

(Dallas Times Herald) Among the general laws of Texas there is one known as the "Suspended Sentence" law, which provides for a suspension of sentence in certain felony cases. By the operation of this law, the criminal court judge can, on the recommendation of the jury, suspend sentence on a convicted defendant when that defendant has never been convicted of a felony. The suspended sentence means that the defendant goes unpunished during good behavior. If he is later convicted of a felony, he must serve the prison term imposed on him for the new offense, plus the term imposed at the time he was permitted to take advantage of the suspended sentence law. Such, compressed, is the law. We have our doubts about its wisdom. We favor no Draconian system of justice, either in the severity of the criminal code, itself, or in the ruthlessness with which it may be enforced.

But we are sometimes struck by the thought that what we need in the state of Texas is not a plan whereby convicted defendants shall escape punishment but a plan whereby justice shall be more effectively meted out to transgressors.

All of us who follow criminal cases know how often the manslayer escapes his deserts on some plea of the "unwritten law," the "hip pocket movement" or specious insanity.

And now we have the suspended sentence for lesser offenders.

One defect in the suspended sentence law, we think, is the fact that it permits a jury to escape responsibility. None of us likes to deprive a fellow man of liberty. We all shrink from the responsibility of punishing others, when we can. The suspended sentence act gives a jury an opportunity to escape such a responsibility.

The jury is apt to reason somewhat along the following lines: "The defendant is guilty, we think. We shall return a verdict in accordance with our belief. But who are we that we should deprive another man of his liberty? Are we qualified to cast the first stone? Is there not some way whereby we can return a verdict according to the facts as we see them and at the same time give the man another chance?"

There is. The loophole of the unwritten law opens up invitingly. The jury takes advantage of it and a man, sometimes confessedly guilty, escapes the punishment that society declares he should suffer.

"Give the poor fellow another chance" is a sentimental cry we have often heard echo and re-echo in the courts of Texas. Its sentimentality is responsible for more than one man being slain by some other man who has time dishonored precedent to justify him in the belief that he can take human life and escape unpunished. Is this feeling of security against punishment to be broadened now that the suspended sentence has become a part of our legal machinery? Perhaps it would not be a bad idea to let the judge decide whether or not the suspended sentence shall be put into operation, instead of making it mandatory that he shall follow out the jury's instructions in the matter.

R. A. (BOB) BAIN ANNOUNCES AS CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF

No little interest will be injected into the race for sheriff today, when it becomes known that R. A. Bain of Iowa Park has decided to enter the race and authorize The Times to make the announcement. Mr. Bain or "Bob" as he is universally called, has been a resident of "Wichita" county for something like eight years and has lived in Iowa Park for three years. He is engaged in the meat and cattle business; in conduct of that business has built up a large acquaintance and friendship with men all over the western end of the county. By those who know him best he is considered an ideal man for sheriff. He is fearless of danger and outspoken in conviction, a man who does the right thing as he sees it, and whose best efforts are toward the betterment of his fellow man and of conditions. He is a man who makes friends readily and keeps them when

IRA MOORE IS OUT UNDER $5,000 BOND

YOUTH CHARGED IN COMPLAINT WITH MURDER BOUND OVER TO GRAND JURY

NEIGHBORS GO ON HIS BOND

State Examines Two Witnesses but Defense Offered No Testimony at Hearing

Ira Moore, aged nineteen, was bound over to the Wichita county grand jury to answer to a complaint charging murder in connection with the death of Delma Stearman of the same age who died Thursday morning following a fight with Moore on Saturday in which Stearman was stabbed several times. Moore was given a preliminary hearing Saturday afternoon before Justice W. J. Howard who placed his bond at $5,000. The bond was signed by neighbors of James Moore, father of the young man who lives in the country.

Only three witnesses were placed on the stand, two eye witnesses to the affray by the state and James Moore, father of the accused, who testified as to his son's inability to make a large bond. Attorneys Carlton and Greenwood who represented the defendant asked for a bond of between $2,000 and $3,000 but Judge Howard set it at $5,000. The defendant looks even younger than his age. His father, a plain, quiet looking man who bears evidences of hard work, sat at his side with the attorneys during the hearing, which was held on the upper floor of the old jail. Probably 150 men and boys, friends and neighbors of the Stearman's or the Moore's crowded into the room and gathered in a circle close around the table where those taking part in the hearing sat.

Stearman's Dying Statement. County Attorney Dan Boone first introduced the "dying statement" of Stearman taken on the night before his death, after the physician told him he could not live. This statement follows:

"I and this fellow (meaning Moore) came from the country where we had been picking cotton for his brother-in-law. He had some money

A DEMONSTRATION FOR MOTHER JONES

MEETING MAY BE HELD HERE APRIL 11TH TO CONDEMN HER TREATMENT

WOULD BRING MINERS HERE

Miners' Union Man From Newcastle Here Trying to Arrange for Special Trains and Rates

A demonstration of miners, in protest against the treatment accorded "Mother" Jones in Colorado, may be held in Wichita Falls on April 11, if the plans of the miners at Newcastle on the Wichita Falls & Southern are carried out. They expect to come to this city about 200 strong on that date and hold a meeting at which action will be taken in connection with the Colorado coal strike incidents.

J. P. Huffman, an official of the miners' union at Newcastle, was in the city yesterday conferring with railroad officials and others with reference to the plans for the meeting. The miners, if they come here, will have a special train and are expected to make quite an occasion of it. They plan to meet at the court house and to adopt resolutions and take other action in connection with the Colorado incidents.

"Mother" Jones is a woman who has for many years taken a prominent part in the strikes of miners and other workers. She goes into the strike districts and assumes leadership in many instances, of the strikers and her success as an agitator has caused her to be deported from more than one strike district. The incidents in Colorado in which she recently figured have been mentioned in The Times.

The meeting, if held, would be the first of the kind ever held in Texas and Mr. Huffman believes that miners from Thurber and other points would be here. He hopes to conclude arrangements for the meeting early this week.

If you ever intend to own a home or make an investment which is sure to increase in value now is the time and Scotland addition is the place. 73-He

BOYS LITERARY SOCIETY

HOLDS INTERESTING SESSION

The Boys Literary Society of the Wichita Falls high school held its regular Friday evening session at the high school building. A very enjoyable program was rendered by the members of the society. Extempore talks were given by Gus McIntosh and Ray Anderson. Howard White delivered an interesting declamation on "Mortgages." The subject for the debate for the evening was, "Resolved, That the United States should apply the literacy test to all immigrants." The affirmative argument was represented by Ray Anderson and Homer Gentry, while Lester Cooper and Edgar Carney spoke in behalf of the negative side. The judges rendered their decision in favor of the negative. The program ended with a talk by J. A. Thurman.

As a result of an auto truck accident that took place Friday evening one hitherto perfectly good piano is "purty high ruint." An auto truck, loaded with a new piano, boxed was on its way to Floral Heights and in turning the corner at Tenth and Indiana the box became dislodged in some manner and tumbled to the pavement. The remains would make good kindling wood but would hardly do for anything else.

Ask the Man Who Presses Other Men's Clothes

He will tell you something like this: "Some suits are easier to press than others."

"If a suit isn't thoroughly shrunk by the London cold water process, dampness is apt to make the edges 'cockle' so that no amount of pressing will smooth them again."

"If pure woolen is not used, the suit soon sags at the elbows and knees or stretches in places. That, too, is something I can't remedy."

"But what every man ought to guard most against is the suit frayed into shape at the factory instead of being hand-tailored. A hot iron will temporarily hide many little shortcomings in tailoring. But a little wear and—well, I can make the coat look fairly good, but not like a hand-tailored one."

No clothes at like prices hold their shapeliness and freshness quite so well as

Kirschbaum Clothes

$15, $20, $25 and up

See the Guarantee and Price Ticket on the Sleeve

In every one of these suits we offer you garments which are guaranteed to be all-wool, shrunk by the original London cold-water process, hand-tailored and sewn at all points of strain with silk thread.

in the bank and kept checking it out. We had a fight in the pool room over some board he owed mama. After that he came out home and I was afraid that he would cut mother and I ran out and hit him about three times. He had his knife open when he hit me but I did not see it. The first lick he hit me with a knife out home. In the fight at the pool hall he passed by me three times before I started and he hit at me first but I ducked and he hit the wall. About an hour and a half after that he came out home outside of our yard in the road. I did not owe him any money. He claimed that I owed him some money in the pool hall, but I did not owe him. I thought he owed me $24 and he claimed that I owed him $7. I did not have anything in my hands at either fight. When Ira turned around and sassed mama she picked up a stick about two and a half feet long. No one hit Ira Moore besides me."

An Eye Witness Testifies.

Launce Lester, lately of Coffeyville, Kansas, employed by the Wichita Brick and Tile Company and a boarder of the Stearman home was the first witness. He said that Moore and Stearman had had a fight at the Grand Pool Hall on the afternoon before the cutting in the evening. The two had been separated. He heard neither make threats

Another Eye Witness.

Hugh Irwin who said his home was at Lorwich, Canada, and was also employed at the brick plant and is a boarder at the Stearman home, testified that when Mrs. Stearman went out to ask Moore about the money he claimed her son owed him, he said to Stearman, "You had better go and see that Stearman mother get protection." At that Stearman went out to the road. The witness walked to the doorway. As soon as Stearman got through the gate at the road the two ran together. He thought Stearman struck the first blow. The two were clinched a few seconds when Stearman staggered back. He saw Mrs. Stearman make several swipes at Moore with a board but not until after her son had staggered back did she clinch.

"DOLLY OF THE DAILIES"

NEW MARY FULLER SERIES

Mary Fuller is soon to appear here in a new series and will doubtless delight Wichita Falls audiences as much in her new role as she did in "Who Will Marry Mary." The first installment of the new series will be seen at the Majestic Monday. The story follows:

"The day after Dolly Desmond had started the community with the excellence of her graduation oration, Bobby North, a reporter on the local paper, suggested that it would be a good idea for her to write stories and things for the paper. Dolly was delighted with the idea, and started at once to put it into effect. She decided to write a story which, although ostensibly fictional, should actually give a truthful picture of life about her as she saw it."

After a week of hard work which involved much burrowing of midnight oil and much weariness for the fair young authoress, the masterpiece was finished. The editor was delighted with it. It was published under the title, "The Perfect Truth—a Story of Real Life" and at Dolly's request, the name of the author was omitted. On the afternoon of the publication of the story, the Ladies' Home Sewing Guild was engaged in its customary routine of languid needle-work. One of the members began to read "The Perfect Truth," but stopped with a gasp of surprise and called the attention of the other members to the article.

Graphic, pitiless bits of description, the essential characteristics of each of the members of the Ladies' Guild were set forth so plainly, that there was no possibility of mistaking their several identities. Dolly had used the pen of a satirist with telling effect. The meeting of the Ladies' Guild ended in a furor of confusion. Mrs. Broome, the hostess, particularly scorned by the anonymous author, rushed to the newspaper office and demanded use, name of her defamer. The editor refused to give her the desired information, but a note from Dolly on Bobby's desk made all things clear to Mrs. Broome.

Lots in Scotland addition will double inside of two years. 73-He

Quality--Refinement

THESE ARE THE WATCHWORDS HERE

Our programs every day this week are extra strong. Music changed daily on the Wurlitzer Orchestra.

Monday "The Raiders"
March 30

A great two-reel K-B drama of Kentucky mountain life. Tense, thrilling. THE WIFE—Beauty film, featuring Margaretta Fisher and Harry Pollard. A dramatic gem and one other picture, a comedy.

Tuesday "Baffles, the Gentleman Burglar"
March 31

This is a two-reel Keystone comedy, made especially for those who like to laugh. THE SACRIFICE—Lillian Gish in this heart string social drama. One other good picture.

"Our Mutual Girl Day"

Wednesday
April 1

Think of it! Two of these wonderful pictures at once—THE FIRST and FIFTH reels. It would scarcely be possible for the most prolific writer to adequately describe the wonderful beauty, the exceptional refinement and culture, the lofty appeal, the charm and grace of this first reel. See it by all means and understand the beginning of the story. In this reel "Our Mutual Girl" leaves her country home and goes to live with her rich aunt in New York City. With her aunt she sees the wonderful, fashion creations at "Lucille's" and after a strenuous day retires to the luxurious bed room her aunt has prepared for her. But it can not be said that one of these wonderful pictures is more wonderful than the other. THE FIFTH reel is just as wonderful as the FIRST. In the FIFTH reel "OUR MUTUAL GIRL" while riding in Central Park, meets Andrew Carnegie, the iron master and after a little chat the great millionaire compliments her as being "THE BEST LOVED GIRL IN THE WORLD." To round out a program of rare quality we have booked a superb two-reel Thalhouser production "A LEAK IN THE FOREIGN OFFICE"—Featuring James Cruze and Flo La Badie—being "The Adventures of a Diplomatic Fren Lance" from the famous story which was published in the Blue Book.

"A Thief Catcher"

Thursday
April 2

Keystone comedy. A TURN OF THE CARDS—Majestic drama. MUTUAL WEEK-LY—Current events and one other choice picture. Better pictures can not be seen anywhere.

"The Reform Candidate"

Friday
April 3

Three-reel Majestic drama. A powerful political story with a unique and appealing love story interwoven. After many blood curdling experiences the candidate is saved in the finale because his wife could wear a messenger boys suit. One other picture, a comedy that will make you laugh.

"The Plays' The Thing"

Saturday
April 4

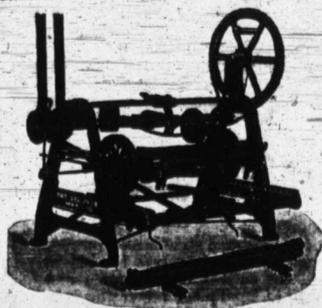

Two-reel feature drama. A powerful and absorbing drama of the stage, a girl's secret marriage, the fearful result, the reckoning, the penalty, a notable film; a dramatic masterpiece by the Domino players. LOVE AND GASOLINE—A great Keystone comedy and one other fine picture.

"LEAKS" QUESTION BOTHERS SENATE

ANNUAL RUMPUS ABOUT REPORTS OF EXECUTIVE SESSION

SENATOR KERN EXORCISED

Others Favor Making It a Crime For Papers to Print News of Executive Sessions

Washington, March 28.—The United States Senate is pestered with itself. The annual rumpus about "leaks" as to happenings in executive sessions has just been staged. There was a grave debate about the matter the other day.

The question of "leaks" from the executive sessions has been perennial ever since there was a Senate. A humorist here is credited with the epigram that the only reason the Senate adjourns its secret sessions is in order that members may have an opportunity to talk the session over with newspaper men. The writer recalls vividly how a number of years ago the late Senator Heyburn, of Idaho, made an impassioned and indignant appeal to senators not to talk about executive sessions—referring to a piece of news which Heyburn himself had given the writer following a recent session. Heyburn was perfectly honest about his protest—he didn't realize that he had let the news slip—but his is the attitude of most of the senators. Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, is, however, "wise" to the newspaper boys. "These correspondents are trained men," he told the Senate. "They get a point from one senator, a point from another and then piece it together. They talk with senators about public questions and gain their point of view. Then, with the fragmentary pieces of information, they are able to put together a plausible story."

Reverting to Heyburn's protest again, the Idaho senator made his protest in open session and then when the Senate got down to executive business, he got up and said some more bitter words. A newspaper correspondent with a sense of humor made it his business to gather the gist of Heyburn's argument and the next morning the Idaho senator was astounded to note that his speech in the executive session was reported in full. Then, with the fragmentary pieces of information, they are able to put together a plausible story.

Senator Kern is the man most exercised now about the leaks. He has introduced a resolution demanding an investigation by the Senate foreign relations committee of how the newspapers get their information. Other senators favor making it a crime for a newspaper to print news of happenings in executive sessions.

A serious complication arising out of the race question is anticipated by army officers when the amendments to the so-called army "Manchu" law becomes effective. Major Chas. Young of the Ninth Cavalry, a colored man, is the complication. According to the "manchu" amendments, Young and every other army officer will have to serve four years of every six with troops in the field. In Young's case this will entail his occupying a major's quarters in various barracks. Usually such quarters are contained in one of a row of three houses provided for those of the major's rank.

Thus far the war department has succeeded in giving Young who is a West Point graduate various detached details, thus preventing any breach because of his close association in barracks, with brother officers. But these detached details will not be possible under the Manchu law amendments.

Thus far the race question has never been a serious one in the army owing to the re-organization of white and colored regiments, yet officers at a post are thrown so constantly from each other's company—particularly those of the same rank—that disposition of Young is a vital question.

PHENOMINAL RAINFALL NEAR MOUNT PLEASANT

WEATHER CHANGES, HOW FORECASTED

NOTHING OCCULT ABOUT WORK OF U. S. WEATHER BUREAU—PREDICTIONS NOT GUESSWORK

HOW FORECASTS ARE MADE

Other Nations Co-Operate With U. S. in Tracing Movements of Weather Conditions

(By Burton K. Standish) Washington, March 28.—Just because accidents will happen like that "flare-back" which on March 4, 1909, isolated Washington, the Weather Bureau wants it distinctly understood that its predictions aren't guesswork. They haven't any goosebone prophesied up at the Observatory; they don't believe in Brother Groundhog, not the tree frog, nor the moss on the trees, nor any of those other old-fashioned weather-guides. The process of figuring out the kind of weather that is coming is a highly scientific work.

Some folks have an idea there is something occult about the forecasting of storms, frost and floods. Not a few think the observers must necessarily get their data by reading the planets, the stars and the moon. But they don't. "Suppose a business man had ordered a carload of pineapples from Hawaii," says a stationer just loaned from the Bureau in explanation of its work. "He would know the average time it would take the steamer to make the trip to the Pacific Port, the average time for unloading and loading into refrigerator cars, and the average number of days to be allowed for the trip across the continent to New York. His estimate, however, would be subject to error, because the steamship might be delayed by fog, or the railroad cars by accident.

"Storms, like pineapples, as a rule do not originate in the United States. They come from the Philippines, Japan, Siberia, Alaska, Canada, the Gulf of Mexico. The Weather Bureau gets cable, telegraphic or wireless notice of a foreign storm.

"Station after station and vessel after vessel, reports the storm's arrival in its neighborhood so that the general direction about how long it takes to reach our Pacific Coast and then how long after they will reach the Atlantic Coast.

"To keep tab on cold waves that come into the United States from Canada and Alaska, the Weather Bureau studies the Canadian weather reports. England sends reports from Iceland, the British Islands and Continental Europe and daily reports come from St. Petersburg. A storm sometimes encircles the world in its course.

"When weather disturbances are reported, the forecasters know from experience about how long it takes to reach our Pacific Coast and then how long after they will reach the Atlantic Coast. "The forecasters watch for the region of low barometer, which is the storm center around which the winds blow in the wild or eddy moves widely forward with the general eastward drift of about 650 miles a day in our latitudes. The forecaster determines the direction of movement of the storm and its velocity.

"How the youth of the land figure in the wireless business is indicated in figures just issued by the Department of Commerce. Of 2,346 licensed stations, 1,049 are operated by persons under 21 years of age. Of the first grade operators fifty-seven per cent were twenty-one years of age or older, and 83 per cent 18 or older. Of the second grade operators, forty-nine per cent were twenty-one years of age or older.

A national search for old ballads has just been inaugurated by the Bureau of Education. Convinced that many of the English and Scottish popular ballads of olden times still survive in the United States and that immediate steps are necessary to rescue them from oblivion, the Bureau has commissioned Professor C. Alphonse Smith, of the University of Virginia, a prominent folklore investigator, to institute a nation wide search.

"If our American diversions are not collected immediately, they can never be collected at all," Professor Smith asserts. "Many influences are tending to obliterate them. Catchy but empty songs not worthy of comparison with the old ballads, the use of commercial singing and all are depriving our homes and schoolrooms of a kind of literature which for community of feeling and for utter simplicity of style and content, is not surpassed in the whole history of English or American song."

BIG DECREASE IN TEXAS RAILROAD EARNINGS

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, March 28.—Income from the operation of Texas railroads decreased $5,275,183 or 25.48 per cent for the seven months ending January 31, compared with the same period last year, according to the Railroad Commission. The statement shows total operating revenue $68,791,484, a decrease of $3,818,549, or 5.26 per cent; total operating expense, $53,362,606, an increase of $1,456,634 or 2.81 per cent.

900 BRITISH OFFICERS ARE READY TO RESIGN

By Associated Press. London, March 28.—Sir Edward Russell, a prominent government supporter, asserted today: "It is a positive fact that when he visited the war office early this week, Field Marshal Lord Roberts had in his pocket a list of nearly 900 officers of the army who are ready to send in their papers."

There Never Was a Better Time To Make Money Than Now

Every day in every city in the United States one may hear the old cry, "I would have made a lot of money if I had bought that property when it was offered to me at $—." And ten years hence we'll hear the same story by people right here in Wichita Falls now, people who are afraid to buy because they think the city is going to stand still. In the very nature of things it can't stand still—it must grow, and when it grows it will grow in one logical direction—toward the water supply.

HIGHLAND HEIGHTS

Was selected by some of the best business men in the city as the most logical site for the industrial center because it offered every inducement and advantage that a critical citizenship could demand. To encourage home building and to meet a demand for ideal home sites, lots were put on the market at prices so low that any one could buy, and improvements were instituted that tended to make it thoroughly modern and urban. It has all of the advantages of the city—gas, city water, electric lights, schools, churches and five cent street car fare.

FREE STREET CAR RIDES FOR TOLEDO CITIZENS

By Associated Press. Toledo, Ohio, March 28.—Only one tenth of one per cent of the patrons of the Toledo Railway took advantage today of the opportunity to ride free pending the result of the injunction proceedings brought by the company against the city in federal court. An ordinance requiring the company to carry all passengers for three cents fare became effective at midnight. Conductors were instructed to refuse three cent fares but to permit passengers who refused to pay more to ride free. Acceptance of three cent fare would be formal acceptance of the low fare ordinance, and hence the company's action. The free-rider order turned anticipated rioting and tragedy to burlesque and prevented all disorder.

ARMY APPROPRIATION BILL CARRIES $101,750,000

By Associated Press. Washington, March 28.—The Senate today passed the annual army appropriation bill carrying $101,750,000, about $7,500,000 more than the House bill and about the same amount over the last army appropriation bill. "I would not yield to these big increases," announced Senator Thomas C. Campbell, "were it for the disturbed conditions on the

"I Consider It The Best Diamond In The City For The Money"

We sold a diamond one day this week for $550 to a man who had looked at every stock in the city, and had even gone to Fort Worth and Dallas to see if he could not get a better deal. After he had purchased the stone he told us how he had looked around, and the prices that had been made, and wound up with this very significant remark: "I consider this the best diamond in the city for the money."

That is the way all our customers talk, and it means a whole lot. It means that our prices must be right and our goods are equal, if not better, than others can show. All we ask of any buyer is comparison. Come in and compare. A word to the wise is sufficient.

WHY WE WENT INTO THE COFFEE ROASTING BUSINESS

We have been playing the game for twenty-five years and always paid particular attention to coffee.

Always had a great deal of trouble in getting blends to suit us and for years before we commenced to roast bought our different coffees roasted separately and blended them ourselves and always enjoyed a splendid coffee business but coffees don't blend perfectly except in the roaster where the different flavors can combine harmoniously.

Years ago we bought a hand power roaster and experimented on a small scale but our business soon outgrew this and we had to go back to the Roaster.

In 1909 we built a small building at the rear of our store and rigged up the hand roaster with a motor and commenced to roast our coffee but did not let the public know we were doing so as we wished an unbiased verdict. Inside of ninety days our business had quadrupled and become too big to handle with our little plant so we ordered our coffees roasted again and went East to purchase a plant large enough to handle our increasing business. We bought the very best and up-to-date machinery obtainable and came back unafraid to ADVERTISE THE FACT THAT WE ROAST OUR OWN COFFEES, and since that time our business has increased faster than we dreamed. So we know we are right.

If you are using our FRESH ROASTED COFFEES there's nothing to say. If not, would be pleased to show you the difference.

LISTS CLOSED FOR OFFICIAL BALLOT

TEN DAY LIMIT FOR FILING PETITIONS OF CANDIDATES HAS EXPIRED... CITY SECRETARY KEPT BUSY

Four candidates for mayor, eight for alderman, five for chief of police and one or more for the other city offices to be filled, will have their names on the ballot for the election April 7.

The lists are now closed and no more names can be placed on the ballot. The four socialist petitions and that of W. M. Ross were filed at noon Friday, giving Secretary McCarty only a few hours in which to check the names and be found all of them lacking in the required number of signatures.

Some difficulty was experienced in checking the signatures by reason of the fact that there is no record of an old age exemption and a man who signed the petition might be a legal voter, with old age exemption and yet not be a voter of record.

The name of George Kelly will appear on the ballot as a candidate for city secretary, but it is said to be the intention of the socialists to run him for "city inspector."

The socialists are circulating copies of their platform, which declares for a number of reforms, such as municipal ownership of all public utilities, establishment of municipal stores, abolition of contracts for public improvements and other principles in line with socialist ideas.

ANOTHER WHEAT GROWING SHOWER FRIDAY NIGHT

The wheat and oat crops of Northwest Texas received another boost early Friday morning when a second generous rain visited this section.

The rain extended from Kirkland south to Rhoads on the Denver and from Byers to Holiday and Dundee on the Valley.

Wheat will be materially benefitted by these showers and in some parts of Northwest Texas the rain came just in the nick of time for the oat crop, which was beginning to suffer.

PROFIT SHARING IN NEW GLOVE FACTORY

WICHITA FALLS MANUFACTURER FOLLOWING EXAMPLE OF HENRY FORD

HIS BUSINESS VERY THRIVING

Safe, Sane and Sanitary is Motto of T. A. Hilburn Who Pays Bonus Every Three Months

Henry Ford, manufacturer of automobiles, who recently began a profit-sharing plan with his employees, has a counterpart in Wichita Falls in the person of T. A. Hilburn, manager of Hilburn Brothers glove factory.

The glove factory began operations here in January and at the end of its first week was employing about a dozen girls. Last week there were forty-three on the pay roll.

The entire output of the current year is contracted for and some big orders are now being filled. On a visit to the plant one can see finished gloves stacked up until you wonder where all the people to wear them are coming from.

T. A. Hilburn, who is in charge of the plant here, took up glove making as a sort of side line, because he believed there was a good market for that kind of gloves.

"Safe, Sane and Sanitary" is the motto in this factory. That doesn't tell half of Mr. Hilburn's ideas. He believes that while making gloves is the prime consideration, the welfare of his employees and the manner in which he operates his plant, is of no less importance.

The girls work in a big, roomy second story with plenty of light and air, in cold weather this room is heated. There are cloak rooms and other provisions for convenience and comfort.

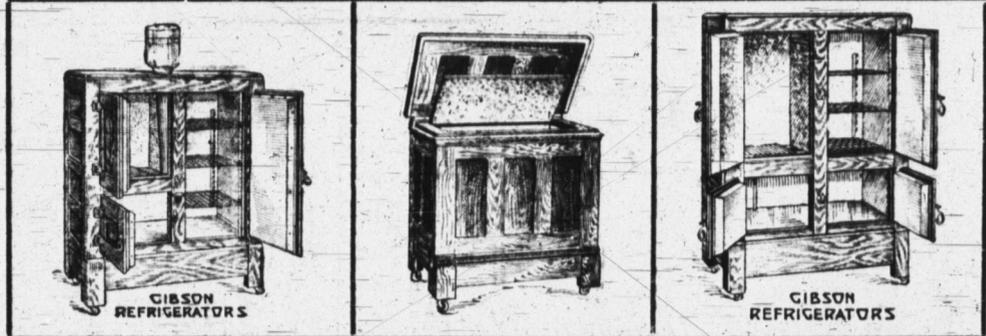

Most manufacturers would consider, according to present day standards, that they were doing enough, if not too much, for their employees in giving them such agreeable surroundings; not so with Mr. Hilburn.

The Texas Wonder cures kidney and bladder troubles, dissolves gravel, cures diabetes, weak and lame backs, rheumatism and all irregularities of the kidneys and bladder in both men and women.

The Rohatch Mineral Water Acts directly on the digestive organs of the stomach. Strengthens the kidneys and keeps the blood in fine condition.

Wheat will be materially benefitted by these showers and in some parts of Northwest Texas the rain came just in the nick of time for the oat crop, which was beginning to suffer.

CLOSED DOWN TO INSTALL MACHINERY

MACHINERY WILL BE INSTALLED TO GO AWAY WITH THE GATHERERS AND BLOWERS

WILL REQUIRE ALL SUMMER TO REMAIN OVER TOMORROW

New Equipment Will Greatly Increase Output of Wichita Falls Window Glass Plant

The plant of the Wichita Falls Window Glass Company yesterday shut down for a four month period during which new machinery is to be installed and extensive improvements made. The new machinery will reduce the number of men employed here but will increase the output of the factory.

When the new machinery has been installed the factory will be in operation all the year round, instead of closing down during the summer months as has been the custom. Early this week the fires will be turned out under the big furnaces and work will start on the necessary changes within a short time. Yesterday morning the work of draining the furnace of its supply of molten glass began, the operation being attended by incidents not on the program. The channel through which the liquid stream was being conducted over the furnace broke and the liquid fire poured out threatening to set fire to the building. The stream of molten glass was chilled with water and the flow stopped until repairs could be made.

The furnace is to be rebuilt to accommodate the new machinery, which will dispense with the services of the gatherers and blowers. Eight towers about thirty feet high, will be erected over as many openings in the furnace; from the top of each tower a pipe will be lowered into the molten glass. This pipe will have a bell shaped mouth which will pick up the molten glass and draw it up from the furnace. A motor driven fan in the pipe will then operate doing the blowing on much the same principle that has been done by human beings. At the same time the pipe is slowly lifted up into the tower again the glass forming a long cylinder below its mouth. The completed cylinder may be flattened and cut, just as this part of the work is done at present.

This new machinery has been installed in many glass plants throughout the country and is said to be very satisfactory from the manufacturers standpoint, increasing their daily production and lessening the cost. Most of the workers at the local plant will leave early this week to points in Kansas, Indiana and other sections where glass factories are still in operation.

RED CROSS FIRST AID CAR IS HERE

ACCIDENT PREVENTION AND FIRST AID TO INJURED EXHIBITS AND LECTURES

Public Invited To Visit Car and Attend Lecture at Moose Hall Monday Night

The American Red Cross Association, operated in connection with "the safety first" movement of the Katy system, arrived in Wichita Falls yesterday from Denison and will remain here until tomorrow night. The first meeting was held in the car yesterday afternoon; another meeting will be held at the Northwestern shop and tomorrow night, Dr. W. N. Lipscomb, in charge of the car, will speak at the Moose Lodge hall. During the afternoon meetings will be held in the car which will be parked at the Union Station.

A. A. Krause "Safety First" commissioner of the Katy system, accompanied the car which is making a tour of all the Katy lines. Dr. W. N. Lipscomb, who is the Red Cross representative, is a graduate of the medical department of the University of Texas.

Public is invited. While the meetings are being held primarily for the benefit of railroad men, the public is urged to attend. A particular invitation is extended to Boy Scouts, policemen and firemen. Mr. Krause, who was the first speaker at Saturday's meeting, urged his hearers to do all in their power to prevent trespassing on railroad property saying that a great many accidents were due to this; 180,000 persons on railroad property had been killed in the United States in ten years; he said, Mr. Krause spoke along the lines of putting the safety of one's self and one's fellow employees above every other consideration, by proper methods and by proper equipment.

First Aid Methods. Dr. Lipscomb, who also spoke, discussed first aid to the injured methods at considerable length and he has given close attention. His remarks dealt with what to do before the doctor arrives, when a man is injured and he pointed out how it is possible to save a man's life in many cases by simple expedients, whose death would ensue before the arrival of a physician. He demonstrated the use of the tourniquet, in cases where a man has been severely cut and is in danger of bleeding to death.

Location of Arteries. The location of the principal arteries was demonstrated and Dr. Lipscomb showed how it was possible by pressing one's finger against this artery the general flow of blood. In the arm the artery above the elbow allows the general line of the seam of one's coat; in the leg, it starts down from the groin along the crease of one's trousers, turning back and taking a piece of cord or wire and using it as a tourniquet. Dr. Lipscomb divided more effective means; the use of a cord, he said, often made necessary to amputate where it could not have been required otherwise. Taking a signal flag and an inflated rubber bulb, he placed the bulb against the artery and bound it firmly in place with the flag, then inserted a needle in the knot to increase the pressure.

Warning About Burns. The doctor gave a warning about burns. Frequently, he said, when a man was severely burned he seemed to be in no pain; this was due to the fact that he was suffering from "burn shock" in which case it was necessary to get a physician with all possible speed, as death was apt to ensue in a short time. Dr. Lipscomb discouraged the use of peroxide-hydrogen, carbolic solution and turpentine for cuts and bruises, advising the judicious application of iodine tincture. Other ointments, he said, were more apt to increase the infection.

An Improvised Stretcher. A demonstration of how to make a simple but serviceable stretcher out of a pair of jumpers and two crow bars was a feature of the lecture. Tramps and other more or less common ailments were also discussed. Treatment in cases of fainting. The lecture was attentively heard and the men seemed much interested. The car will remain here long enough to give all local railroad men an opportunity to hear Dr. Lipscomb and Mr. Krause.

DISTRICT COURT OPENS AT ARCHER CITY MONDAY. District Judge Scurry, Court Stenographer Sherrard and other members of the local bar will go to Archer City tomorrow where the district court will open. There is an extremely light docket there this term. The following are the principal cases on the docket: State vs. Wes Maxwell, perjury. State vs. Wes Maxwell, illegal vote. State vs. Clyde Pool, burglary. State vs. J. H. Power, swindling. J. S. Melguin vs. Lulu Woodward, et al for debt. Martin Taber vs. J. W. Wilson, et al partition. E. E. Verbillon et al vs. W. P. Armstrong, trespass to try title. W. R. Estill et al vs. Southwestern Railway Co., damages.

Strong, sturdy, many men are needed to cope with affairs and conditions. The men are found in the Order of Knights of Pythias. Meets Thursday night, Balloting on candidates and installation. Dr. DuVal, C. C. 73 1/2

GAME THIS AFTERNOON WEATHER PERMITTING

Hoopsters and Kansas City Federal Will Play at Lake Park at 3:30 P. M.

The weather permitting, Kansas City and Indianapolis will meet for the third time this afternoon. The game will be played at the lake park, starting at 3:30 and will be preceded by a band concert. If there is no more rain, the indications are that the field will be in first class condition for the game. Both teams worked out yesterday in spite of the softness of the ground. The Hoopsters went out to the city park and found the field too muddy so held their workout on the grass outside of the park. No pitching selections have been announced for this afternoon, though it is expected that both managers will give their first string slugs an opportunity to show themselves again. The Indianapolis player who to partially redeem himself for the two defeats they have suffered at Kansas City's hands and the game promises to be worth seeing.

BALL PLAYER LOSTS MUCH PRIZED RING

Vincent Campbell, outfielder of the Indianapolis Federal League baseball club lost a valuable diamond ring somewhere on the Petrofka road. He Bill McKechnie and Al Scheer of the ball club search with Lord Monroe about four miles out of the city to do some jack rabbit hunting. It was not until his return to the Hearne Hotel that Mr. Campbell missed his ring. He made a search of Mr. Monroe's auto but the ring was not there. The ring had a stone weighing about a karat and is very valuable to Mr. Campbell because his mother gave it to him. He will pay a $500 reward to the person who finds and returns it to him at the Hearne Hotel.

TWO ELECTIONS WILL BE HELD NEXT SATURDAY
 School Trustees Will Be Chosen and Local Option Election in County Outside City
 School trustees for every school district in Wichita county will be held next Saturday and in practically every instance the present incumbents will be re-elected without opposition.
 In Wichita Falls, W. J. Ballock and A. H. Carrigan are the trustees whose terms expire and neither has any opposition to succeed himself. Another election will be held in the second, third and fourth commissioners' precincts on prohibition, these precincts including all of the county except the precinct in which Wichita Falls is located. There are now two saloons in the territory mentioned.

PRECINCT MEETINGS NOT YET CALLED BY CONSTRUCTIVES
 "Constructive democrats" of this and all other Texas counties are expected to hold precinct mass conventions next Saturday to select delegates to a meeting to be held at Fort HuVal, the Progressive Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialist. 73 1/2 structural democrats" seem to be taking little stock in the movement, and at this writing it appears doubtful whether any action will be taken in Wichita county at all.

 Wichitans who have hitherto aligned themselves with that faction of the democratic party said that they did not know of any plans for a meeting here—and their individual preferences for governor appeared to be of marked diversity.
 Having had decidedly the best medical training and vastly more experience than any specialist in this city why shouldn't "we know how." Dr. HuVal, the Progressive Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialist. 73 1/2

It Only Takes From $350 to $750 To Own Your Own Home Under Our Building Proposition in Southland Addition

To the first two buyers in each block in Southland Addition, who pay for the lot in cash, the Southland Addition will lend the amount of money needed to build your home and you can pay back the loan in monthly installments.

This is an unusual proposition to home builders and you will never get another chance like it after the required number of applications are filed. Every lot in Southland Addition on the market has sidewalks, sewerage, on or near high pressure water mains, car service, protective restrictions that will prevent abuses against adjoining property, and ideal location. Lots range in price from $350 to $750, 50x150 feet. Now is the time to get your choice of location.

EPISCOPAL GUILD MET MONDAY AFTERNOON

The ladies of the Episcopal Guild met in regular session Monday afternoon with Mrs. McCullough. On account of the amount of business the history lessons have been dropped for the present and business discussions occupied the entire afternoon. The members present were: Mesdames Datson, Fontaine, Warner, Gates, Gwynn, Sammons, Reed, McElroy, Kennedy, Rothrock, Carnes, Whitney, Short, Shult, Allen, Bibb, Milburn, Childers, Cravens, McClough and Rev. Datson. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. McElroy.

ALLINE ANDERSON CELEBRATES EIGHTH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. A. R. Anderson very delightfully entertained last Friday afternoon in honor of her little daughter, Alline's eighth birthday. The afternoon was spent in playing numerous games dear to childish hearts, one which created much amusement being a contest. In this contest Little Miss Lorenz McOneham was the winner. Late in the afternoon Mrs. Anderson invited the small guests into the dining room. Here she served delicious refreshments of ice cream, angel food cake and candies, assisted by her daughter, Miss Grace, and Mrs. Dollard. The large birthday cake with its eight lighted candles was the object of much admiration. Those who had the pleasure of enjoying this occasion and helping Little Alline celebrate her birthday were: Mary Margaret Hendrickson, Dorothy Hines, Lillian Bartle, Luell Short, Clara Bess Short, Marie Bundy, Georgia Maxwell, Virginia Miller, Judith Sherrod, Nova McLean, Lurleen Short, Edmontine Friberg, Marie Gevin, Lorraine McOneham, Lore Rastie, Mildred Sherrod, Eva Mead, Ruth Mead, Dora Snyder, Ann Lyman, Grandma Friberg, Mr. and Mrs. Dollard and the little hostess.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The regular monthly missionary meeting of the First Presbyterian Church was held Monday afternoon at the church parlors. The devotional exercises were led by Mr. McKee and Dr. McKee gave an introductory talk on "What is Needed in Wichita Falls." This was followed by an excellent and interesting talk by Mr. Hillburn on "What the Working Girls in Wichita Falls Need." Mr. Hillburn's talk was full of advice to the ladies and suggested means of providing occupation for the working girls, more especially the factory girls, after hour and in the evening. The study course on China and Mrs. Patterson was leader for the afternoon. Mrs. Leitch gave a talk on the cotton mill and machinery used in China and Mrs. Hunt read a very interesting paper on the railroads of China. Mrs. Harrington explained the telegraph system of China and Mrs. Fowler had for the subject "Exposés in China." ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED AT A PRETTY PARTY

An announcement of more than ordinary interest on account of the prominence of both the young people was made yesterday afternoon, when in the very prettiest manner possible, the sister of the groom to be, Miss Ona Bell, announced the engagement of Miss Mabelle Jackson and Ben Moseley Bell, the wedding to take place on the sixth of May. Miss Bell invited the Old Maids and the Little Sisters a few other friends to spend a social afternoon with her at the apartments of Mrs. Walter Robertson at Kemp Court. After the guests had all assembled and some time had been spent in gay chat, Mrs. Robertson sang "O Fair, Sweet and Holy," with Miss Ona Bell at the piano. Miss Bell at the completion of the song changed the music into a wedding march, and Miss Jackson, who until then had been hidden, marched in and stood in the double doors leading to the music room, directly underneath a large heart, suspended by two ribbon streamers which was dropped down on her head. An arrow pointed to the bride-elect by a small Kewpie disclosed the secret, the inscription reading: "Ben Moseley Bell, May sixth, nineteen hundred and fourteen." Miss Jackson was attired in a bridal like frock of white, trimmed with pink orange blossoms, with a bridal veil on her head, the veil being caught up with pink sweet peas, and carried a shower bouquet. The rooms were beautifully decorated in the bride's colors, pink and white, with vases of pink and white carnations and sweet peas in the various rooms. Potted plants made a pleasing background for the charming scene. After the excitement had somewhat subsided the guests were invited into the dining room, on entering Miss Jackson threw her bouquet, which was caught by Miss Jewel Kemp.

The dining room presented a scene of exquisite beauty, the centerpiece being a mass of the delicate tinted sweet peas on a hand painted tray in pink and white. The sweet peas rested on a bank of ferns, which trailed lace like fronds over the luncheon cloth. Pink and white satin streamers were drawn from the chandelier to the four corners of the table, where they were caught in a huge rosette. On each plate lay pink and white candles were burning, and according to an old wedding superstition, the girl whose candle burned to the end or on whom she finished her refreshments might expect favor from the little blind god, but for the candle to go out boded ill, and prospects would be for single blessedness. In the refreshment course the color scheme was carried out in the white brick cream with a pink heart in the center. A second course consisted of coffee, cheese straws, mints and salted almonds. A number of superstitions were recalled and the girls tried their fortunes to determine who should next wear orange blossoms, the lot falling to Miss Lillian McGregor. The guests on this occasion were Misses Carrie Kell, Jewel Kemp, Agnes Reid, Mabel Simpson, Mabelle Clifton, Eddie Carver, Augustus Wadsworth, Ann Freear, Martha Mae Kemp, Bess Kell, Kathleen Blair, Lillian McGregor, Theresa Smith, Rose Kinson, Ellen Adelle Robertson, Mesdames Murchison, Brainard, Jackson, J.
