FED INJUNCTION MADE PERMANENT

ORGANIZED BASEBALL WON NOT-ABLE VICTORY IN CASE HEARD AT HOT SPRINGS

NO RIGHT TO INTERFERE

Judge Henderson Holds That Contract Partly in Restraint of Trade Not Wholly Void

By Associated Press.
Hot Springs, Ark., April 4.—Organized baseball won a notable victory in the courts today when Chancellor J. P. Henderson rendered his decision in the case of Howard Cannitz, representing the Federal League baseball league, temporarily rejoined by the Pittsburgh National League Club with interfering with or communicating with players under contract with the latter team.

Judge Henderson made the injunction permanent and held that a party who was not an interested party in the contract had no right to interfere to invalidate them. Cannitz had answered the injunction proceedings, alleging that organized baseball was a trust and that the contracts with the players were invalid on the ground that they were not mutual in their provisions and worked a hardship on the players. The case was in the chancery court for three days and was fought by a big array of counsel on both sides.

The case resolved itself into the right of a disinterested party to tack or attempt to break down contracts in which he was not a party or directly interested. This phase of the case was brought sharply to the fore when Players Viox and George McQuillan were placed on the stand. These men, the players' counsel sought to prove from the Pittsburgh National League. They testified that they were under contract and were satisfied with their contracts and working conditions.

The decision of Judge Henderson covers the following principal points: That a contract is property and is entitled to consideration as property rights. That no person has a right to induce a third party to break a contract. That interference with labor contracts will be stopped by injunction. That persuading a person to break a contract is malicious. That a contract partly void by reason of being in restraint of trade is not wholly void.

After a lengthy review in the case, Chancellor Henderson said: "Under the facts in this case, the defendant being connected with a rival baseball team, the season opening on the fourteenth of April, knew plaintiff was here at Hot Springs training his men for the opening day. He came to Hot Springs to procure some of the players of plaintiff and offered them over $1000 in advance of their contract price with the plaintiff, to break their contracts with plaintiff and join his team. He was bound to know it would work a great injury to plaintiff to deprive him at that date of his players. I can see no purpose of the defendant except to employ plaintiff's players and thereby deprive him of entering the baseball game as a competitor, and by reason thereof, defendant's company would be greatly benefitted financially."

"It is just such a wrong as a court should not permit when appealed to, therefore, the temporary injunction will be made perpetual."

RESOLUTION DIRECTED AT PRESIDENT FAILED

Methodist Episcopal Conference Rejects Resolution Concerning Attendance at Mass

By Associated Press.
New York, April 4.—Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church life today after a warm debate tabled a resolution requesting the president of the United States to discontinue the custom of attending Thanksgiving mass at the Roman Catholic Cathedral in Washington. The motion prevailed 80 to 73. Those in favor of the resolution thought that the cabinet should divide up and visit the various churches.

POLITICS CHARGED BANK SELECTIONS

MOST VIGOROUS CRITICISM DIRECTED UPON CHOICE OF RICHMOND

"POLITICS" CHARGE DENIED

Organizations in Some Cities That Failed to Get Banks Approved Committee's Choice

By Associated Press.
Washington, April 4.—Members of the reserve bank organization committee continued silent today, although criticism of their selections of reserve cities in the division of the country into banking districts was still heard in Congress. No official explanation was forthcoming, in defense of the committee's choice, but an unofficial view was that some of the criticisms have a political tinge. Defenders of the committee declare that no matter who had been charged with the responsibility of setting up reserve districts they would have reached fundamentally the same conclusion.

Apparently the most vigorous criticism has been directed toward the choice of Richmond, Virginia, in preference to Baltimore or Washington and of Atlanta instead of New Orleans. It was said, however, by those familiar with the committee's deliberations that the trend of trade from the South is north and eastward and not toward New Orleans and that in consequence Atlanta is more strategically located for a reserve bank.

Why Richmond Was Chosen
In defense of Richmond, it was argued that closer business relations with the south prevail there than in Baltimore or Washington. One fact was brought out tonight, that a poll of all the national banks which have signified their intention of entering the system was taken into consideration in naming the cities. In every district but one a majority of banks favored the city chosen by the committee as a reserve center. Some surprise was expressed at the critics who dwelt upon the fact that the New York district does not include Jersey City, Newark and some nearby Connecticut points.

It was recalled tonight, however, that the fact that these cities are put in Philadelphia or Boston districts will not prevent their having about the same relation with banks in New York as at present. About the only difference will be, that their reserve funds will not be kept in New York. In this connection, it was said that under the present system more than $200,000,000 of reserves from small banks throughout the country is usually on deposit in four banks in four great cities. In time of stress as in 1907 much of this sum is out in call loans. When a crash comes, it is argued, the small banks are likely to find themselves unable to get their reserve funds from these cities.

THE BONAVENTURE BRINGS 69 DEAD

SEALING STEAMER SAILS INTO JOHNS WITH CARGO OF DEAD

DISASTER WAS UNAVOIDABLE

Thousand Men on Ice When Storm Broke With Typical Arctic Suddenness—Raged Two Days

By Associated Press.
St. John's Newfoundland, April 4.—Amid silence like a funeral hush, the sealing steamer, Bonaventure, steamed slowly up to the harbor at dusk today bringing sixty-nine of the dead and fifty of the crippled survivors of the disaster that overtook hunters on the ice floes near Bess Isle Strait in Tuesday's blizzard. Fifteen of the living were removed to a hospital in a critical condition. Several others were seriously ill and all but one survivor bore signs of their exposure in the Arctic gale in which seventy-seven met death. The uninjured survivors were stricken blind after being poked up, but it is believed he will recover.

Five thousand persons, many of them relatives of the victims were at every vantage point along the harbor front all day, waiting for the Bonaventure's arrival and for some news of the missing sailors. The Southern Cross carried 170 men; not a word has been heard from the latter vessel since she was seen driving before the storm Tuesday morning. Hope aroused by reports that she had made harbor were dashed when investigation proved an error in identification had been made.

Storm Broke Suddenly.
The disaster which overtook the Newfoundland hunters was unavoidable, according to Captain Randall of the Bonaventure. Tuesday dawned with no evidence of blizzard conditions, so that it was quite permissible to put men on the ice after a storm ship within sight of him had a total of a thousand men on the ice. The storm broke with typical arctic suddenness. The hunters from the Florida were fortunate enough to reach their ship safely. The Stephano's men had reached the ice toward the spot where their crew had been seen before the snow set in. This took her away from the Newfoundland group, who were far from their own. As soon as the Stephano was notified of her man, she headed back into the storm to pick up the Newfoundland hunters. It was impossible to see a ship length ahead into the snow curtain and when the Stephano's captain thought he was within a mile of the stranded hunters he lay to and kept his whistles going in the hope that they would be guided toward him.

Blizzard Raged Two Days.
As hours passed and not a man reported, he concluded all had reached their own ships, but the Newfoundland had no wireless and all blizzard raged with unabated fury, the fleet remained in ignorance of the fate of the 150 men marooned on the ice. On Thursday the weather cleared and the Bonaventure was making ready to start her men after seals again when a look-out in the Bonaventure was driven toward them with all possible speed, but so bad were ice conditions that it required nine hours to cover the four miles. In the meantime Captain Randall's men had reached the men, and a few of the hardest were courageous and able to help themselves. Many were in a stupor, some were raving. Others had been stricken with ice blindness.

Many bodies were found frozen so fast to the ice that pick-axes were necessary to chop them out of the survivors' grasp. Each had watched a brother die in his arms. By good fortune, thirty of the Newfoundland hunters had not strayed far and were able to reach their ship else the death list would have been greater.

In the meantime the Stephano had worked within striking distance and had picked up a few of the survivors and recovered a few bodies. After the snow-filled hollows had been searched for some bodies, the Bonaventure took her way home.

DRUNKEN INDIANS' HORRIBLE CRIME

TWO INDIANS FILLED WITH LIQUOR ASSAULT WOMAN AND MURDER FAMILY

VICTIMS RICH SEMINOLES

Posse of Seminole Light Horsemen Have Left For Wewoka and Lynching Is Feared

By Associated Press.
Seminole, Okla., April 4.—David Bow Legs, wealthy and prominent Seminole Indian, living four miles west of Seminole was shot and killed, his wife criminally assaulted and shot through the body, her two-year-old daughter shot twice through the head and Jimmie Walker, a fourteen-year-old nephew, beaten to a pulp by two drunk Indians who entered the Bow Legs home early this morning.

Bow Legs, the daughter and nephew all died late this afternoon. At almost the same time the three wounded victims of the Indians were dying Sheriff Moore arrested in the southern part of Seminole county, P. J. Holata, Indian brothers living near Wewoka, and accused of the crime and took them to Seminole county jail at Wewoka.

Lynching Is Expected.
Soon after a posse composed of members of an old tribal organization known as the Seminole Light Horsemen departed from Seminole and a lynching is feared. No other arrests were made. In a dying statement, Mrs. Bow Legs implicated the two young Indians and said they were intoxicated. Mrs. Bow Legs after the assault dragged herself to a short distance away and was found by farmers at daylight. Bow Legs was shot through the head and was found sitting in a chair with a newspaper in his hand. The boy and the little girl were in bed. The boy's body was covered with bruises and his face was swollen. A whiskey bottle was found in the fireplace at the Bow Legs home and a quart of alcohol in the yard.

UNCLE SAM WILL GO SLOW IN RECOGNIZING REBELS

By Associated Press.
Washington, April 4.—Anticipating a period devoid of important engagements in Central Mexico where Villa's army rests after its capture of Torreon, the interest of the officials here centers on how far rules of civilized warfare will be observed in the treatment of federal prisoners. The conduct of constitutionalists in their hour of triumph is being given close attention by officials whose advice may have much weight in determining the policy of the United States. It was said today by the state department that constitutionalists here believe consideration of their claims to recognition cannot be delayed much longer.

The statement attributed to the rebel leader at Torreon, that he was awaiting news of the political effect of their victory on Washington also is taken as a sign of the expectation that the United States government will recognize their claims. Conditions precedent to political recognition in such cases always have been regarded as involving the establishment of a regular government at some capital and the possession of one or more seaports through which the new government can communicate with the outside world. Recent reports assert that Tampico is about to surrender to the constitutionalists without further fighting. In that case it will remain only for General Carranza to locate a capital and appoint a cabinet and other administrative officers to claim recognition.

The United States, however, is likely to go slow in admitting this claim. "Already the constitutionalists through the lifting of the embargo on arms and ammunition have received substantial advantage and some authorities on international law are suggesting weighty objections as to actual political recognition at this stage."

FIGHT BEGUN FOR ALL OPEN SESSIONS

PROMINENT SENATORS ANNOUNCE THEY WILL DISCUSS PROCEEDINGS OF EXECUTIVE SESSIONS

THEY CANNOT BE PUNISHED

Senator Kenyon Introduces Resolution to Life Ban on Publicity Except Treaty Sessions

By Associated Press.
Washington, April 4.—Open war was declared in the United States Senate today against the time-honored rule of secrecy relating to proceedings in executive session. Following the defiance enacted Friday against suppressing debate on the confirmation of Winthrop Daniels of New Jersey, as a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, actual hostilities began when Senator Kenyon of Iowa, after a conference with those of his colleagues who are leading in the movement to lift the ban on publicity, introduced a resolution to provide for open sessions on all matters except treaties, unless otherwise directed by unanimous consent of the Senate.

Backed By Others.
It was submitted with the backing of Senators La Follette, Cummings, Gronna, Borah, Clapp, Jones, Bristow, Norris and Poindexter who propose, as they gave notice Friday, to discuss freely executive session debates on the qualifications of nominees for public office whenever they feel that the public should be informed regarding them. These senators were united today in the anti-secrecy campaign and all declared themselves without fear of any attempt being made to unseat them on the ground that they are violating the oath of office. Kenyon, the senator who adheres to the strict interpretation of the Senate rules admitted that the Senate could not punish members who disclosed information relating to presidential appointments, agreeing that the absence of secrecy was a matter "dealing to the individual conscience."

Administration leaders and Republican senators who have long cherished the dignity of Senate procedure, expressed the view today that no action would be taken at this session of Congress at least. If senators wish to make public debate concerning presidential nominees, it was stated that they would be privileged to do so without endangering their seats.

WIFE'S VISITS TO MOTHER LEAD TO DREADFUL TRAGEDY

By Associated Press.
San Antonio, Texas, April 4.—An angry wife, a bride of seven months, persisted in visiting her parents, Alfonso Zungu, an employe of a local transfer company, shot and killed his wife, wounded his mother in law and then shot himself, probably fatally. The tragedy occurred this morning at 506 Lovelace Lane where his wife's family resided.

The relations between Zungu and the family of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Martina Santos, have not been cordial since he and Nellie Santos were married. His wife insisted, on visiting her mother and did so last night. This morning Zungu went to the house. Mrs. Santos ordered him to leave, but he pushed her aside and as his wife entered the room, shot her through the heart. She died instantly. He then shot Mrs. Santos through the neck and pressing the muzzle of the weapon to his right temple, pulled the trigger. His death is expected. Mrs. Santos will recover.

Dallas, Texas, April 4.—The Southern Conference of Unitarians today elected the following officers: President, Charles H. Patterson of New Orleans; first vice president, Shearon Bonner of Dallas; second vice president, Capt. Alfred R. Pirtle of Atlanta; secretary-treasurer, Rev. John Wesley McMemphis. The conference unanimously adopted resolutions endorsing President Wilson's maintenance of principles of peace, "higher ideals and national honor."

STATE LEASES RIVER WATER POWER RIGHTS

Closes Contract With Cuero Light and Power Company for Use of Gaudalupe River

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, April 4.—The State of Texas, through a board composed of the governor, the land commissioner and the attorney general, by virtue of an act of the Thirty-third Legislature, today closed a contract with the Cuero Light and Power Company of Cuero, DeWitt county. By terms of the deal the company leases from the state the bed of the Gaudalupe river at that place for the construction of a dam for development of electric light and power plants. The contract is for fifty years. The state is to receive one-tenth of the company's gross receipts.

Bowie, Texas, April 4.—W. N. Newman, a prominent attorney here, shot himself yesterday. Physicians say he will recover. The shooting was said to be accidental.

NO COMPROMISE FOR GEN. VILLA

SAYS THIS REVOLUTION MUST BE LAST IN MEXICO AND MUST BE THOROUGH

MEXICO CITY ULTIMATE GOAL

Believed He Will Proceed Simultaneously Against Saltillo, Monterey and Zacatecas

By Associated Press.
Chihuahua, Mexico, April 4.—When Gen. Villa took Torreon, he took only thirty prisoners alive and unharmed, according to information received here today. Whether this means many were executed or that General Refugio Velasco, the crippled but gallant federal commander, escaped with nearly all of his men not dead or disabled, could not be learned. However, it is known that he made the first few miles of his escape on foot when he came to the first place where the rebels had been removed.

This circumstance is construed in favor of the report that he got away with the remnants of his army intact. A dispatch from an Italian army officer with the rebel artillery, received today from Torreon, says: "Dead horses and dead men are piled high in the streets and the ruins of the city are spattered with blood. It is impossible to estimate the number of federal dead, but superficial inspection of public places would indicate that the number of bodies scattered about it will be a task to get rid of the dead, but a gigantic funeral pyre probably will be built and the bodies of men and animals incinerated."

Among the dead are some of the picked fighters who fought against Zacatecas in the south when were sent north to attempt to check Villa's victorious march. When Villa entered this city only the federals who were made prisoners remained to tell the story of their defeat. During the course of the fighting when the federal garrison saw defeat was certain, they threw down their arms and took to flight.

Villa's Future Movements.

As to Villa's future movement, military strategists say they believe that having refuted the expected neutral attitude of the United States against Saltillo and Monterey to the east and Zacatecas to the south. Assuming success in this project, they say the two armies then will unite probably at San Luis Potosi for the campaign against Mexico City. They assume that Matamoros and Tampico will be reduced by rebel forces already threatening them. Rebel officers here quote General Villa as opposed to any compromise with the enemy if one should be proposed.

"We will be ready to discuss it in Mexico City," he is quoted, "there can be no compromise. Madero compromised and his government failed through the treachery of those who did not appreciate him or took advantage of his clemency. This revolution must be thorough and conclusive. It must be thorough and conclusive. This we must accomplish by force of arms, so that in the end there will be no questioning of our orders or our laws."

PREDICTS BIG ATTENDANCE FORT WORTH CONVENTION

By Associated Press.
Sherman, Texas, April 4.—Scott Fulton of Van Alstyne, one of the committee for the constructive democratic, in an interview here today, said county conventions will be held throughout Texas April 6. He added that the state convention would be held in Fort Worth April 14. And predicted it would be one of the largest attended conventions of its kind in the history of the State.

VILLA CLEARING UP TORREON STREETS

BODIES OF DEAD BEING BURNED AND WRECKAGE AND ENTANGLEMENTS CLEARED AWAY

AFTERMATH OF THE BATTLE

At Least a Fortnight Will be Required to Re-Organize the Army for Campaigning

By Associated Press.
Torreon, April 4.—This city, from which General Velasco and most of the unharmed of his command fled yesterday, was occupied by the rebels in force today and the work of burning the bodies of the dead, clearing up the wreckage of shell-shattered adobe walls, street barricades and tangled wire entanglements was begun.

While Villa took a large number of prisoners, Velasco escaped with a considerable portion of his force. He was pursued last night by General Velasco who today reported he fought a small engagement with the rear guard of the retreating force and later, General Villa, with reinforcements to make an attempt to capture or annihilate it. Non-combatants here with whom the Associated Press correspondent today talked, estimated Velasco's garrison did not number more than 5,000 men of whom 1,500 were killed or wounded. When Velasco fled he left behind in the military hospital 200 wounded. When the rebels entered the place, they found only one nurse, an estimated Dorothea de la Cruz. She said the other nurses followed the army. The patients were in a high state of anxiety for they had been told Villa took no prisoners. They were reassured by the British vice-consul at Gomez Palacio, who entered the hospital first, climbing over bodies of the wounded who had died there.

Dying Federals Shout 'Villa, Villa.'

The air was foul with the odor of dried blood. The British official announced that Villa had assured him none of the wounded would be harmed. Those who had the strength raised themselves on their elbows from pallets on the floor and from their cot and cried a feeble "Viva, Villa." The nurse was soothing a dying patient, who with his last breath joined the cheering and then sank back dead. Persons who say they were eyewitnesses declare that Velasco summarily executed three Spaniards whom he accused of firing on his troops. The wife of one of these, Lofero Lopez, attempted to shield her husband and the same bullet killed both. It is said that fifty Spaniards, including women and children, took refuge in a bank building under the protection of American Consul Ulmer, who remained in town throughout the battle.

Foreigners Unharmed.

The insurgents have shown no disposition to harm those Spaniards who are known to have remained neutral. Other foreigners, including fifty-five Chinese, Syrians and Austrians and 100 Americans were unharmed, so far as could be learned today.

It was reported that Gen. Velasco himself was wounded, but this report, like the one that he went insane in the trenches, could not be confirmed and the impression prevails that he still is at the head of his troops. Two federal generals were killed and three wounded. It is said here that Velasco's retreat was brought about by his losses in the night assault made by the rebels and indications that his soldiers worn out by the long fighting and fearful of the cruelties which they were told Villa practiced on the wounded, were in the course of the house to house fighting, rebels and federals frequently came within talking distance of each other and in some cases got on such friendly terms that they ceased firing entirely. In most of these cases the federals were persuaded to remain when Velasco retreated and they will be enrolled under the rebel banner.

Villa's Soul of the Battle.

At least a fortnight, and probably longer, will be required to reorganize the army before the expected campaign against Saltillo and Monterey can be made. The federal artillery was superior to that of the rebels, many of whose shells proved defective. Villa was the soul of the battle; his spirit animated everything. When things were going wrong he would gallop along the battle line, encouraging, or reprimanding as the individual case required.

"Well done," he said to a gunner whose shell had fallen true, "men like you will redeem Mexico." He complimented a young man who remained loyal to the fighting line. He chided a soldier who on some pretext was making for the rear by saying: "What, boy, do you find the dancing floor too rough?" Villa was in his headquarters at Gomez Palacio Thursday night when Torreon fell. Almost up to the hour of the federal flight he could not see the end of the battle and that morning had telegraphed for bigger cannon as it seemed as if his artillery was inadequate to dislodge the enemy from their positions.

Prizes For Track Meet Winners.

A special feature of the district track meet to be held in Wichita Falls, Texas on Saturday, April 11, is an offer of a loving cup to the winning school in the senior class and one to the winning school in the junior class. The cup for the champion senior school has been presented by the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce and the one for the champion junior school by the Art Loan and Jewelry Company of Wichita Falls. Both of these are handsome and valuable trophies of which any school will be proud and should arouse keen competition. Only those schools that are members of the University Interscholastic League and that are in the Wichita Falls district are eligible to compete for these.

The rules that apply to the possession of such of these loving cups are as follows:

1. The school winning the championship of this district at the annual district meet shall have possession of the cup for one year only.
 2. At the next annual district meet it shall again be put up for competition.
 3. To become the permanent possession of a school, it must be won three years in succession by the same school.
- The Art Loan and Jewelry Co. will have the loving cup, offered by this firm on display in their shop window in a few days.

Furthermore, if a farm that is capable of producing 30 bushels of wheat per acre, or one bale of cotton per acre, it is worth more to the tenant farmer than a farm that will not produce more than half that much with the same amount of cultivation. And again, if it be wrong for owners of farm lands to charge higher rental than one-third or one-fourth of the product, why is it not wrong for the owner of the business house or residence to charge more than a stipulated amount of rentals. To enact a law regulating farm rentals smacks of Socialism of the worst sort. The tenant farmer can better afford to pay a higher rental for a good farm than he can for a poor farm. To place all farms on a level is all rot and buncombe. At least, that is the way such a proposition strikes the Times.

Galveston's mayor is peeved because Texas would not give 7500 to buy a fine silver service for the battleship Texas. An effort was started to have school-children give a nickel each to raise the sum. In all only $2400 was raised and the officers on that big battleship will have to brush up their old stiff and buy what little $2400 will buy and try to get along with that—unless they add to the fund from their own pockets. Sad it is that they have to suffer such hardships, but there is no help for it. Some who gave toward that $2400 probably do not own $2400 worth of property of all kinds. Lots of people who give to good causes have little to spare—but there is no call to waste money on such projects and school children's nickels do not always come plentifully. Let them spend them some other way, even if the mayor of Galveston is peeved.—Mt. Pleasant Times Review.

It is not right for parents to train their children up to be grasping or stingy. That would result in the future generation being largely a generation of tight-wads, and next to the knacker and grouch, a tight-wad is the most to be despised. But this business of seizing nickels from the scanty purse of the children of today is being worked over-time. Let them keep their nickels and occasionally spend them for candies and sweets, and for things that strike their childish fancy, that they may get some real pleasure from this. It is a rich nation, and if it is absolutely necessary to raise the sum of $7,500 with which to purchase a silver service for the battleship Texas, let those who are able dig up the money. The mayor of Galveston has no right to feel peeved. The wonder is that he ever succeeded in grafting the kids out of $2400 worth of their nickels and dimes.

CHICKENS AND GARDENS

The Times has received the following:

Editor Times: Dear Sir, and shall I not say friend, as I believe our city paper is a friend not only to the citizen who wants to do right. My story is this: There is an old lady in her 75th year trying to raise a garden. She has no fence. Her neighbor on her side has his lot enclosed and has about 75 chickens, old and young. Up to a couple of days ago no effort was made to keep them off my garden, and now the whole flock of little ones is running in and out as they please. This writing to you is to get you to publish in your paper a brief synopsis of the law concerning such things; or must I fence or give up my garden? An early reply to this will greatly oblige an old lady, and also a subscriber. Respectfully and kindly, A SUBSCRIBER.

The Times is of the opinion that there is an ordinance forbidding those who have chickens allowing them to run at large. Would advise the lady to call up the City Hall, and feel quite sure those in authority will tell her the legal course to pursue. But if the garden was ours and the chickens belonged to our neighbor, in order not to offend him we would catch the chickens, put them in an enclosure and fatten them for him, and when he wanted one for table use, kill and prepare it for him. That is, we would do that if we had that kind of neighbor, and if there were any chickens left after we had supplied our own table.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE

There is much interest at this time in regard to the Monroe Doctrine. Below is the doctrine as it was written by President Monroe in his message to Congress December 2, 1823: In the discussions to which this interest has given rise, and in the arrangements by which they may terminate, the occasion has been deemed proper to assert, as a principle in which rights and interests of the United States are involved, that the American continent, by the free and independent condition which they have assumed and maintain, are henceforth not to be considered as subjects for future colonization by any European power.

We owe it, therefore, to candor and to the amicable relations between the United States and those powers to declare that we should consider any attempt on their part to extend their system to any portion of this hemisphere as dangerous to our peace and safety. While the existing colonies or dependencies of any European power have not interfered, and shall not interfere, but with the governments who have declared their independence we have, on great consideration and on just principles, acknowledged, we could not view any interposition for the purpose of oppressing them or controlling in any other manner their destiny by any European power in any other light than as the manifestation of an unfriendly disposition toward the United States.

CONSTRUCTIVE DEMOCRACY

Some of the prominent constructive democrats have a signed letter in the daily papers saying their convention to name a candidate for governor must be as scheduled next week for the following reasons:

"Colonel Ball represents organized effort to perpetuate the prohibition effort and to commit the Democracy of Texas to nationwide prohibition in utter subversion of state sovereignty and local self government. We refuse to be led into commitment to a doctrine which if triumphant would permit three-fourths of the states of the union to annual or abridge any part of the constitution of this sovereign state contrary to the wish of its sovereign citizens. Not even our homestead law would be safe against commercial greed and federal usurpation.

"Is Rank Socialism Mr. Ferguson's paramount issue is a proposal to limit by law the rental of farm lands to a third and a fourth of the product. If the state can limit rentals to a third and fourth it can limit rentals to a sixth and an eighth. If the state can fix the rentals farms it can fix the rentals of stores and dwellings, for estate in the soil is identical in construction. To fix the income of property is to fix its value. The proposal in its logical and inevitable application means the abrogation of the right of contract and the ultimate confiscation of all real estate to the possession of regulation of the state, and this is rank socialism. Resisting to the wish of its sovereign citizens to a bonus about the proposed standard of rental, and the measure is a shallow delusion which the people will repudiate when they consider its full meaning.

"We refuse to be driven to make a choice between the two political evils of a federal despotism to which Colonel Ball's organization is committed and outright socialism to which Mr. Ferguson is committed. We will not sacrifice the political peace of the state by supporting Colonel Ball as a means of defeating Mr. Ferguson, and we will not sacrifice our democracy and rights of property by supporting Mr. Ferguson in order to defeat prohibition.

VILLA CLEARING UP TORREON STREETS

American Flag Insulted. His black hair was standing straight up for the most part and a six day stubble of beard was on his face. News of the evacuation had reached him and he smiled, fairly purring his answers to questions put by newspaper men. He said: "Tell the public that after eleven days fighting the federal evacuated Torreon, leaving their dead and wounded behind them, that is all." Stories are told here of alleged insults to the American flag by federal soldiers who were enraged by rumors that a large number of Americans are in Villa's army. As a matter of fact there were but few. None of them was killed or wounded. The formal entry into the city was without ceremony. The victory has greatly raised the spirit of the soldiers who have come through a very trying campaign and who now talk confidently of taking the national capital itself.

FLORAL HEIGHTS TEAM WON BOTH GAMES OF DOUBLE HEADER The Floral Heights baseball team defeated the City View team in both games of a double header played at Bacon Saturday afternoon. The first game was won 12 to 5 and the second 12 to 2. McConnell and Colburn were the starters for Floral Heights, the first game and Colburn and Weaver the second. For the City-View team Thames and Thames were in the points and in the second game Thompson and Thames.

come into court with clean hands. You, having been a party to the breach of obligations, claim you are entitled to an enforcement of the contract, notwithstanding your action in that regard.

In defense of his position that the Chicago Federals come into court with "clean hands," Attorney E. R. Gates asserted that barring the validity of the reserve clause, Killifer had discharged all moral obligations under it when he waited until January 14, 1914, before signing with the Federals. Attorney George Pepper of Philadelphia took the other side. His argument was around the epigram "Should the seducer of an empire be entitled to equity?" It was brought out that the ten days' clause was eliminated from Killifer's contract and the reserve clause broadly amended subsequent to his signing—the 1914 National League contract.

FRATERNAL MYSTIC CIRCLE ORGANIZED TUESDAY NIGHT

Lone Star Ruling No. 2137 of the Fraternal Mystic Circle was organized at the K. of P. hall Tuesday evening, March 31 by Harry Landin, one of the supreme officers of the Kansas City lodge. A charter membership of eighty-five has been secured by the local deputy, O. W. Ollif, out of whom sixty were present. The following officers were elected: Worthy Ruler—M. H. Buchanan. Vice Worthy Ruler—W. H. Allen. Past Worthy Ruler—M. L. Tittle. Worthy Recorder—S. L. Williams. Worthy Collector—E. H. Eddleman. Worthy Treasurer—O. Nicholson. Warden—John Stanley. Marshall—J. H. Directoire Gowns Rival Early Victorian Crinoline New York, April 4.—Following closely upon the heels of the wonderful Paquin exhibition are the spring openings of the large stores. In years gone by "the" was announced by cards sent to different patrons who came to view models displayed on forms, or at the most upon wax figures. But now people are demanding more and the stores are rising to the occasion and striving to appeal to their customers in a theatrical display of their gowns on living models and in a setting befitting the exquisite and gorgeous costumes. One store had for its recent display a setting in the garden of the Palais Royale, as suggested by a scene in "Les Merveilleuses," a play now being given at the Theatre des Varieties in Paris. The orchestra played while specially trained mannequins displayed these gowns to their best advantage on the raised promenade. Mirrors were arranged at the entrance of the promenade, so that it appeared as if two models were entering, the reflection vanishing like an apparition as the living mannequin, carefully posed, stepped daintily down the steps, away from side to side in the music's rhythm. There has probably been no time when there has been greater doubt as to what may be the next turn in Fashion's wheel, and this was shown in the choosing of the gowns exhibited. The Directoire type mingled freely with the crinoline styles of the early Victorian period; the straight lines of the former, style, with its coat short in front and long behind, contrasting forcibly with a beruffled skirt needed to stand away from the body and with one example of the daintiest of chiffon and organdy panellets exposed at every movement. Among the coats and wraps were many capes. They were very full at the back and sometimes fastened to a loose-fitting sleeveless vest. Taffeta and moire were used for the evening wear, while broadcloth and divyette were used for street and afternoon wraps. A handsome coat of taffeta was shown. It was very full in the back, blowing over an exaggerated low waistline, below which hung a plain circular pelum. Several jackets had a cape of the same material fastened to the shoulders and hanging to the waist. One had double circular capes which came just below the shoulders. A smart tailored suit of ten ladies' cloth had a short jacket with body and sleeves in one. It was short in front; but in the back was cut with a panel rounding at the bottom, which extended well below the waist. A Japanese collar and cuffs trimmed the waist of checked tan, green and yellow cloth. The skirt had two pleated ruffles of the checked goods about eight inches wide, each headed with a bias band of the tan. A crushed girde of the checked material ended in long ends, which were attached in the back well below the line of the lower ruffle. Among the jackets the kimono cut was most prominent, by far, exceeding the raglan or set in sleeves. This certainly should please the woman who makes her own clothes. A tan jacket, made in this manner, was very short in front and longer in the back. A circular piece was attached just below the bust-line, about three inches wide, fitting plainly in front and graduating to eight inches in the back, where it was very full and rippled. The skirt had a tunic which bloused over in the back. Tunic and panniers were on all skirts—except the ruffled crinoline ones. They were plain, draped and puffed, short and long, until it is safe to say that the length may be governed by the most becoming line to the figure. Some reached across the front only, others crossed the back, while still another mode had gathered pieces at either side not meeting in front or back. Striped skirts are worn with plain jackets. A black and white striped taffeta skirt was scalloped on the bottom and bound with ribbon. The coat worn with it was of black taffeta. Beaded bands are being used for trimmings—sometimes in brilliants, and again in Indian designs, with rich, exotic colors. The gown I have chosen for my first illustration is especially suited to spring season. It is of deep red, one of the fashionable spring colors. The waist is kimono cut, with extra fullness added by two tucks caught under a band of Indian heading, whose colors blend bottom with the red of the gown, which fastens on either side of the belt. A frill of finely pleated net finishes the neck. The skirt is made with an inverted pleat in the front and double tunics, both longer in the front than in the back. With this was worn a hat of milan braid, with a novelty feather standing stiffly on one side. The style of this hat depends upon its being placed upon the head at the proper angle. Among the afternoon gowns a frock was so charming in its line, so smart in its silhouette and withal so practical that I have used it for my second illustration. The material is a moire linen of a cool and fresh shade of blue, suitable to wear on a warm afternoon when one desires at least to look cool and belle the feelings. The skirt was smartly bouffant at the hips, narrowing at the ankles. The waist had raglan sleeves, with pleats in front—and a circular fitted piece around the neck of plain blue bound with the moire linen. Both belt and cuffs of blue, were treated in the same manner, while as a finish at the neck is worn a frill of silverest fluted organdy. The round turban which crowned the toilette was topped with a bow of blue moire-taffeta to match the color of the linen. A dainty little frock of delicately flowered Dolly Varden silk was made with very full panniers in the back, giving the same effect as the skirts worn years ago when the real bustle was a part of every woman's wardrobe. One unusually charming gown of net lace, with loomed overskirts and a bodice which was more décolleté in the back than in the front, had a cape of the lace. This had a wide collar of wired lace, which flared over a band of brown fur; a turban covered with white flowers and stylishly posed wing in the front, perched coquettishly on the head of the model, while in her hands she carried a muff covered with the same dainty white flowers.

J. E. Hines, a farmer residing on R. 3, brought to the Times office yesterday a sample of bread made out of ground fetereta which for taste is as good if not better than the bread one usually finds on the tables and restaurants made of corn meal. Mr. Hines brought some of the grain to the city and had it ground at Sherrod & Co's Grocery store on their coffee mill or grinder. He is of the opinion that fetereta meal will soon supplant corn meal.

EASTER EXHIBIT

W. B. McCLURKANS

One of the wonderful Bischoff Styles

The McClurkan Store is in the height of Easter Readiness. The Fashion Book is fully open here for whoever will read and study. Never have there been such broad and brilliant display of new goods. Never, indeed, have the Spring Things been so beautiful. Feel welcome to come and look to your heart's content—Even though you may not be in readiness to buy.

Every one in whom the new season stirs a longing for what is new in apparel invited to come this week and make close inspection of the new things assembled for your service and your delight. The new gowns, suits and wraps, the new blouses, the thousands and one dress accessories—all of the Spring fashions will have their most elaborate presentation here this week.

The early spring season has been the most successful in our history. The new Bischoff styles in suits and coats have more than ever appealed to the best dressers, and now just before the gala dress day, we are showing complete lines in every department for spring and early summer.

Frocks For the Dance

Of the dainty soft taffetas that are so adaptable to the seasons styles, with their multiplicity of flounces, frills and furbelows. In all the delicate shades of the season, such as pea green, tango, maize, light blue, tan, lavender, peach, white, etc. The assortment is the broadest we have ever shown—full in keeping with the demand due to the present enhanced interest in the dance.

Coat Suits of Silk

There's an irresistible charm to these suits of silk, with enough elaboration in the trimming that they might be taken for a dress until closer inspection reveals the jaunty little coat. Created of such materials as moires, crepes, poplins, cascade d'eau, taffetas and other popular silk weaves. Colors black, navy, Copenhagen, tan, tango, rose and other new shades. Skirts elaborately finished with ruffles and new overskirt effects; a most wonderful variety—choose from.

Dresses For the Younger Set

It is seldom you ever have the pleasure of looking at such a magnificent variety of dresses for children and juniors as is shown here. Complete assortment of Dresses in ginghams, percales, chambrays, reps, crepes, pompadour lawns, etc.

Dresses For Street Wear

There is almost no limit to the styles in pussy willow cloth, taffetas, plain crepes, pompadour crepes, figured colennes, plain and figured crepe de chimes. There is a quaintness, an old-fashioned air about the new-fashioned styles that adds to their charm. The assortment is too varied for more than general mention, so we ask you to see them.

Dainty New Blouses

Never, within our memory, was there such a change in Blouses as there has been this season—and it is doubtful if styles were ever so handsome. This applies to the voile and lingerie effects as well as to the more elaborate silk models. There's a magnificent showing of crepe de chimes and lace effects in all the new high colors, such as flesh, peach, maize, tango, emerald, white, etc.

Beautiful White Dresses

It's none too early to be planning on these charming summer garments. Our present showing is the most wonderful in point of variety that we have ever presented. Every dress you pick up is of a different kind of material—more weaves than you could count or name. The styles in which they are made are most alluring.

Much Novelty in Skirts

This is the day of the separate skirt—not only for its utility, but also because many of the newest ideas have better development when skirt and waist are separate than in the one piece dress. There's an enormous variety in the stock of skirts at McClurkan's. So broad is the assortment that no attempt will be made to describe them.

"Footnote" About Shoes

All the spring fashions in footwear are now here, and will be on display this week. We think our stock the best exhibit of tasteful and excellent shoemaking ever made in the city. No one can observe the graceful lines and truly exquisite workmanship in the new pumps for women without a feeling of pride in American craftsmanship. These new Pumps and Oxfords for women and children are to be commended as much for their smooth fitting shapes and their durability as for their correct exposition of the new modes.

For the men we offer the new spring styles in Michael Stern's Clothes, the noblest as well as the staple hat shapes, Bowden and Made-Wright Oxfords, and the latest fads and fancies in furnishings. For the little man, too, we offer apparel that appeals both to the boy who wants to look well dressed, and the mother who desires style and economy.

LAST CHANCE TO SEE FEDS PLAY

GAME AT LAKE PARK THIS AFTERNOON—LAST EXHIBITION GAME HERE

THIS IS GETAWAY WEEK

Indianapolis Team Leaves Tomorrow Night and Kansas City Probably Thursday
The fans' last chance to see league baseball, probably this season, will come this afternoon at 3:30 at the lake park when the final exhibition game between the Kansas City and Indianapolis Federals will be played. Both teams are now in excellent form and fans may expect a snappy exhibition, the weather permitting.
This is getaway week for both teams. Tomorrow night the Indianapolis Federals will entrain and start the long trip home, stopping at several Oklahoma and Missouri points en route, for exhibition games. The Hoosiers had one long practice session Saturday. It was too cold to go out in the morning, but in the afternoon conditions moderated sufficiently to permit a brisk workout.
Both teams have been hampered more or less by the weather and while their appreciation of their treatment here is hearty, their appreciation of the weather man is not so great. For the first ten days here they had made-to-order weather, but since then the weather has been alternately hot, wet and cold, so that it was impossible to keep the men in proper condition.

Kansas City will probably leave by Thursday. The Packers have kept closely in their quarters at the lake and with fans have seen little of them; they have been practicing hard and are said to be in splendid condition.

FIRST ELECTION UNDER NEW CHARTER TUESDAY

Chief Interest Centers in Mayoralty Contest—City Attorney's Race—Plenty of Candidates
Wichita Falls' first election under her new city charter will be held Tuesday, when the voters will have an opportunity to express their preference for the various city officers. Candidates, as may be seen by the official ballot list recently published, are quite numerous; there are four aspirants for mayor, two for city attorney, eight for alderman, five for city marshal, three for city health officer, two for city secretary, two for recorder and one each for tax collector and city engineer.
Chief interest centers in the contest for mayor and for city attorney, both races being vigorously contested. There is no great amount of excitement, however, over the outcome of any of the races. Nearly all the candidates are making personal canvass and the vote is expected to be large.
The Socialist candidates for office will not be designated as such on the ballot. It was rumored that local Socialists would resort to court proceedings to have a party designation placed on the ballot, but this has not yet been done.

LAMBERTS ROMANCE IS COMING TO THE WICHITA

The Girl and the Stampedee Will Be the Attraction On April 20th
Victor E. Lambert's romance, "The Girl and the Stampedee" will be the attraction at the Wichita Theatre on April 20th. It abounds in the quaint and interesting types that Mr. Lambert has been so successful with in his productions to the public through his plays and books. The piece deals with the westward and for the first time in all the so-called western plays. Mr. Lambert has in "The Girl and the Stampedee" correctly portrayed the man from the west in his true character. The company is a large and strong one and carries complete scenic equipment which was used in its New York and Chicago engagements. As always, it has been up to Mr. Lambert to introduce something new into his plays and in this case he has been wonderfully successful. The sale of seats will start one week in advance.

RACE HORSES SOON WILL BEGIN TO ARRIVE HERE

Secretary Jeffries Will Open Headquarters of Race Meet Here in May
T. J. Jeffries of Childress, who is to be secretary of the race meet to be held here in June, will come to Wichita Falls about the first of May to take charge of the preparations for the affair. About the same time, strings of horses from various parts of the country with their owners and trainers, will begin to arrive and go into training at the fair grounds at the lake. Wichita Falls is the opening point on the circuit and therefore will be picked as the training point by the horse-owners.
In a letter to J. B. Marlow, Mr. Jeffries calls attention to the fact that Clarendon, which is one of the towns on the circuit, has pulled off a stunt that he thinks Wichita Falls should duplicate. Clarendon merchants have added $600 to the purse for the free-for-all pace, making a total of $1000 with six monies offered. Mr. Jeffries believes that Wichita Falls, being the opening town, should do the same. The additional entries will pay the difference, he believes, in addition to bringing horses here that would not otherwise be brought.

25 MAJORITY FOR DRY'S SATURDAY

RESULT OF ELECTION COUNTY OUTSIDE WICHITA FALLS BECOME DRY TERRITORY

THREE PRECINCTS VOTE WET

Saloons West of Burkburnett Will have to Close—The Vote 449 Dry, 424 Wet

By a majority of 25 the voters in Wichita county outside of commissioners' precinct No. 1 in which the city of Wichita Falls is located, voted dry in Saturday's local option election. This means that the two saloons now doing business in the Clara community west of Burkburnett must close and leave Wichita Falls the only wet spot in the county.

The total vote was 449 dry and 424 wet. Four boxes voted dry and three wet, Electra, Burkburnett and Clara being the precincts giving a majority for the wets, Iowa Park gave a dry majority of 46 votes.

A comparatively light vote was cast excepting at Clara and Burkburnett little interest being taken in the campaign. The vote does not show any radical change in sentiment on the liquor question in any of the precincts.

The vote in the various precincts follow:

Cashion	27	8
Clara	14	31

OFFICIAL LADIES VETERANS' UNION

SOUTHERN SOCIAL CIRCLES TAKING INTEREST IN CONFEDERATE REUNION

SOCIAL EVENTS OF REUNION

Crowning Event of Week Will Be Annual Ball For Maids and Sponsors

Jacksonville, Fla., April 4.—Southern social circles are again taking an interest in the great social, military and sentimental annual meeting that brings together a crowd of from 75,000 to 100,000 people to do honor to the ex-Confederate soldier—the reunion of the survivors of the Confederate armies.

The reunion is to be held this year at Jacksonville, Fla., May 6, 7, 8 and 9. It is the first time that the ex-Confederates have selected Florida as the reunion state and uncommon interest attaches to the meeting here and throughout the south. Owing to the comparatively early date of the reunion, the divisions, brigades and camps made their appointments of sponsors and maids early—and these ladies compose the social side of the reunion. They are known as the official ladies of the meeting, entertained as such and courted by the entire social fabric of the south.

The origin of the sponsors and maids custom at Confederate reunions is familiar. Twenty odd years ago a Mississippi camp of Confederate veterans appointed Miss Winnie Davis, daughter of Jefferson Davis, sponsor at a reunion. Miss Davis, in turn, appointed a couple of her young friends to be her maids of honor. This incident, intended at the time as a temporary honor for the family of Jefferson Davis, became a custom and now every organization in the United Confederate Veterans Association appoints sponsors and maids of honor. The young ladies must have an older female head along with them and each organization appoints a chaperon and matron of honor.

The sons of Confederate veterans following in the footsteps of their fathers, maintain organizations in every southern state, and hold their reunions on the same dates. They appoint sponsors and maids of honor. The two organizations, closely allied therefore, send to each Confederate reunion several hundred official ladies, selected from the best families of the south, that stand high in the social scale in their communities. No meeting anywhere in the world brings together at one time so large a number of handsome and accomplished ladies to be entertained by the city and sponsors of the reunion. The entertainment of these ladies is one of the difficult but pleasant duties of a reunion city. A committee is appointed by every reunion city to entertain the maids and sponsors and upon this committee falls the duty of seeing that the ladies are provided with everything necessary to their pleasure and comfort.

Mapping out a social program therefore, for a Confederate reunion is a task that demands the best of talent in the entertainment line. There are luncheon, reception balls, trips to points of interest around cities and anything else in the line of social entertainment the committee may devise. The crowning event of the week in society, however, is the annual ball for maids and sponsors. The reunion is held in a city where a hall large enough to accommodate several hundred dancing couples at once can not be secured, a dancing pavilion is constructed for the occasion. This pavilion consists of large canvas tent, well floored and lighted; it is also supplied with comfortable seats on the grandstand order, where several thousand spectators may witness the ball. If a reader has not seen one of these annual balls at a Confederate reunion he has but limited idea of its size and brilliancy. Nothing so splendid can be seen in the United States, unless it be the inauguration ball at the national capital, now fallen into social desuetude. If the inauguration ball is put out of the contest, the annual ball of the Confederate reunion, at which the maids and sponsors, hold sway, is the greatest social function of the United States.

The ladies and gentlemen who participate in these balls, are descendants of men and women of that splendid civilization of the south, which before the war, was known and appreciated around the world. No section of any country knew better how to entertain than the south in those days. It was a proud people, jealous of its reputation and of knightly courtesy. But, being supported by slavery, it went down in the flames of war and suffered as no other social system has ever suffered in the history of the world. Out of the wreck of that system, the south has emerged with a new order, but the same ideals. The south glories in the past and is proud of the present. It is proud of its women and has no fear to enter them in any beauty show on earth. The Confederate reunion, in one sense, is the annual beauty show of the southern states and this year, as already stated, it is to be held in Jacksonville, the southernmost of the large cities of the Atlantic coast.

The social side of the Jacksonville reunion will be participated in by representatives of all southern states, the border states and a few western commonwealths. There are sixteen state divisions of the United Confederate Veterans' Association as follows: South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, Louisiana, Tennessee, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia, Kentucky, Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Arkansas. Each state sends large delegations of young women to the reunion, selected with regard to their social standing at home. In addition to the state delegations, the commander in chief has his own official ladies, chosen from the south at large. There are three departments known as the Army of Northern Virginia department, Army of Tennessee department and Trans-Mississippi department. Each department appoints maids and sponsors and sends them to all reunions. The scope of country covered by these many organizations has about half the population of the United States; hence, the interest in a Confederate reunion is always widespread. Society circles in all of this territory are interested in the Jacksonville reunion and the event will bring here one of the largest crowds of young people ever assembled in the south. Florida appeals to the young, because of its flowers and its wonders—its poetry, its song and its attractive history. Rivers and ocean, gulf and bays have interest all their own. The pale-and the pine, hickory and holly and a hundred other forest trees, that abound throughout the state as nowhere else on the continent, invest Florida with an interest as wide as the nation. Great interest attaches to the Jacksonville reunion being to any recent meeting of the Confederates, and preparations are being made to entertain a large crowd of people in May.

LARGE FIRST MONDAY CROWD IS EXPECTED

Tomorrow is "First Monday" an occasion of little moment to ninety per cent of Wichita Falls' citizens, yet one of importance to farmers, stockmen and others in this section of the world. The first Monday in each month was set aside by the Chamber of Commerce more than a year ago as a day for trading stock and as a special occasion for farmers. Since then the event has always been generally observed, bringing hundreds to this city to swap horses, make purchases and enjoy themselves generally. Farmers and horse dealers from as far away as fifty miles make it a point to visit this city then and one result has been that Monday is nearly as active a day for farmers' trade as Saturday usually is. It is probable that steps will be taken shortly to make First Monday still more of an occasion here, by offering inducements which will bring still larger crowds to the city.

Easter is the one occasion when every one gets that "dress up" feeling

On Easter morn, watch that fashion procession and you'll notice a difference in the way clothes look. There is a "distinction" in Hand-Tailored Suits that you don't find in the regular bought-in-the-shop kind.

We Tailor Our Suits at Home --The Hooper Way

Each man gets his suit made to his individual measurement. Try it on until it fits you—the trouble is ours—not yours. Just now our assortment of woollens is complete, and if we were disposed to do a little "blowing" on our own behalf we would say truthfully that we are showing the nobbiest line of patterns ever brought to this city. Come in any time; we'll be pleased to show you.

We want to demonstrate our ability to do cleaning and pressing. Our auto delivery will assure you of quick service.

WHY WE WENT INTO THE COFFEE ROASTING BUSINESS

We have been playing the game for twenty-five years and always paid particular attention to coffee. Always had a great deal of trouble in getting blends to suit us and for years before we commenced to roast bought our different coffees roasted separately and blended them ourselves and always enjoyed a splendid coffee business but coffees don't blend perfectly except in the roaster where the different flavors can combine harmoniously. Years ago we bought a hand power roaster and experimented on a small scale but our business soon outgrew this and we had to go back to the Roaster. In 1909 we built a small building at the rear of our store and rigged up the hand roaster with a motor and commenced to roast our coffee but did not let the public know we were doing so as we wished an unbiased verdict. Inside of ninety days our business had quadrupled and become too big to handle with our little plant so we ordered our coffees roasted again and went East to purchase a plant large enough to handle our increasing business. We bought the very best and up-to-date machinery obtainable and came back unafraid to ADVERTISE THE FACT THAT WE ROAST OUR OWN COFFEES, and since that time our business has increased faster than we dreamed. So we know we are right. If you are using our FRESH ROASTED COFFEES there's nothing to say. If not, would be pleased to show you the difference.

Miss Carrie Kell, Wichita Falls, Texas

Miss Georgia Dinkins, Little Rock, Ark.

Miss Morie Murphy, Little Rock, Ark.

General (Judge) Edgar Scurry of this city, commander of the Trans-Mississippi Division of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, has announced his appointments of official ladies of the Division for the annual reunion at Jacksonville, Florida, May 5 to 8 inclusive. They are as follows:

Sponsors—Miss Carrie Kell of Wichita Falls, Mrs. E. M. Hammer of Fort Worth.

Maid of Honor—Miss Georgia Dinkins of Little Rock, Ark.

Chaperone—Mrs. J. Frazee Cappelman, Little Rock, Ark.

To be named an official lady for the Trans-Mississippi Division is an honor that is second only to that of being named for the whole army and is one that is one of the prized distinctions in southern society.

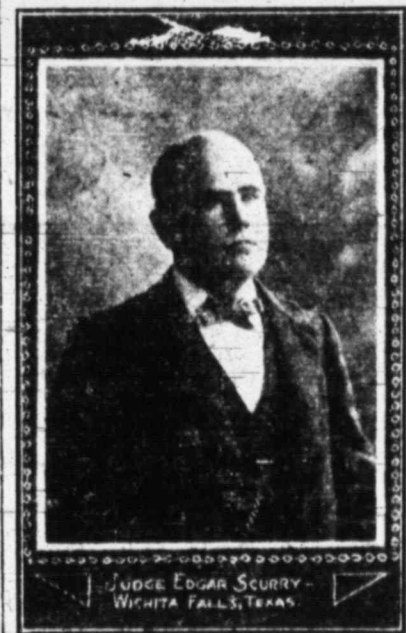

The ladies, appointed by Judge Scurry will attend the reunion, will be given places of honor in the parade of sponsors and maids and at the grand ball which will be one of the most brilliant functions of the year.

The parade of the sponsors and maids will be in automobiles in red and white roses typifying the Confederate colors. It will be one of the most dazzling spectacles ever witnessed in the southern states.

The official ladies appointed by Judge Scurry are representatives of the best society of the division from which they were appointed.

Mrs. Cappelman, Poetess.

Mrs. Josie Frazee Cappelman of Little Rock, chaperone, is best known as a writer of poetry being classed by critics as the "Ella Wheeler Wilcox of the South." Some of her poems have been collected into a column and have been published under the title "Heart Songs." Mrs. Cappelman has served the Veterans and the United Daughters of the Confederacy in almost every capacity, beginning this week when she was elected president of the Trans-Mississippi Division of the U. S. C. V.

Judge Edgar Scurry, Wichita Falls, Texas

besides holding several other positions of honor.

Miss Carrie Kell. Miss Carrie Kell of Wichita Falls, is the daughter of Frank Kell and a grand daughter of William Thompson Kemp who was a gallant Confederate soldier serving as orderly sergeant in Coker's Company in the Spaight's Regiment. She was born in Bosque county, Texas, and now lives in Wichita Falls.

Miss Georgia Dinkins. Miss Georgia Dinkins, maid of honor, is the daughter of R. W. Dinkins of Fort Worth, Texas. She was born in Mississippi and moved to Texas a few years ago. On her father's side she is descended from the Dinkins and Jefferson families of Michigan, North Carolina. On her mother's side she comes from the Fosters of Virginia. All of these historical families took a prominent part in the Revolutionary War and later their descendants gave loyal service to the Confederacy. Her grandfather, J. A. Dinkins of Madison county, Mississippi, enlisted as a volunteer soldier when past age and saw four years active service in the Confederate cause. Miss Dinkins is related to Mrs. T. J. Latham of Memphis, Tenn., for whom a chapter of the U. S. C. V. in Memphis is named and also to Captain James Dinkins of New Orleans, author of "The Little Confederate."

Mrs. E. M. Hammer. Mrs. E. M. Hammer was born in Texas and is a daughter of Mrs. E. P. Caldwell of Dallas. She is a granddaughter of the late Captain E. S. Cranford of Charlottesville, Va., who enlisted as a volunteer in the Confederate service at the age of seventeen and gave four full years to the cause. Captain Cranford was in General's famous regiment and also served that commander as private secretary. Mrs. Hammer is also related to Marion Cranford, the famous author. Her home is in Fort Worth.

Miss Morie Murphy. Miss Morie E. Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. L. Murphy of Little Rock, Ark., is a Kentuckian by birth but spent her childhood in Vicksburg, Miss., later coming to Fort Worth, where she received her education.

Miss Murphy is a granddaughter of First Lieutenant Miles Jones Murphy, Company A, First Florida volunteers, afterwards becoming 10th. Lieut. Murphy was also a physician of wide reputation and a member of the Florida legislature of 1860, which legislature voted unanimously for secession of Florida. Lieut. Murphy's regiment was in the battle of Gettysburg and in line of the heaviest of the enemies' fire. The men acquitting themselves with honor. Miss Murphy's grandmother is Mrs. Marie C. Murphy, honorary president of the U. S. C. V. of the State of Florida, and after passing through the struggle of '62 and '65 with her husband she helped organize the first active chapter in the state. Mrs. R. C. Cooley, aunt of Miss Murphy, is one of Florida's most talented women and has lately been elected first vice president of the National Suffragette convention at New Orleans, La.

and in a manner that reached the audience. It would be hard to speculate on any one selection as every one was enjoyed. "Le Misere" from "Il Trovatore," in which he was accompanied by Mrs. Walter Robertson, was perhaps the most wonderful operatic selection of the evening, the two voices blending in just the manner to render the correct dramatic effect. The simpler and by some better loved ballads, "Just Awearyin' For You," "Where Did You Come From Baby, Dear?" and others in the same strain were received with no less degree of appreciation. Mrs. Walter S. Robertson's excellent production to the public of Wichita Falls, who remember her most favorably by the introductory concert given at the opera house last fall. In addition to her part in the selection from "Il Trovatore," sang a selection from "Les Huguenots" that was received most favorably by the audience. The talented reader, who was presented to Wichita Falls for the first time Wednesday evening, Miss Marzelle Hart of Weatherford, delighted her audience with several selections. Included among these were character and dialect readings, rendered in a most captivating manner. Miss Ona Bell, accompanist in all of the vocal numbers, filled that position with rare skill and finesse, and added much towards making the program a perfect one. She proved herself a most skillful accompanist, keeping thoroughly

MURCHISON RECITAL A DELIGHTFUL EVENT

Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Feser entertained a host of their friends in a most unusual and enjoyable manner with a recital at the Wichita Theatre. The recital proved to be one of the most pleasant social affairs of the season and was by far the most largely attended of any affair of the nature that has been given in this city. The boxes were occupied by a number of prominent society people and intimate friends of the host and hostesses. In the lower boxes were Messrs. and Mesdames Roberts, R. E. Huff, Reese, Blair, Kemp, Kell, Robertson, Mrs. Addicks, Messrs. Witter, Robertson and T. E. Bock and Miss Edna Bock of Mineral Wells. A number of young people assisted in ushering and distributing the programs and afterwards occupied the remaining boxes. Those assisting in this manner were: Misses Bess Kell, Lillian McGregor, Ann Freear, Messrs.

Stone, Carter McGregor, Burns and Burton Stayton. The stage was arranged to represent a comfortable, home-like library and the rich and elaborate furniture supplied a charming setting for the performers who contributed to the entertainment and added not a little eclat to the affair. The guests were entertained by an excellent program of varied selections rendered by Ivan Murchison, assisted by Mrs. Walter Robertson, soprano, Miss Marzelle Hart, reader and Miss Ona Bell, accompanist. Mr. Murchison, son-in-law of the host and hostesses, has had much experience on the concert stage and in grand opera throughout this country and his voice is one of natural richness, cultivated by years of training to a quality such as local music lovers seldom have the opportunity to hear. This was his first appearance on the concert stage of Wichita Falls, although he has sung a number of times at private affairs. All of his selections were rendered with much expression

If It Were Possible For Us To Describe

The character, the quality, the art, the beauty, the dramatic value of the picture plays we have booked for exhibition this week there is not any doubt but that EVERY LADY, GENTLEMAN and CHILD in Wichita Falls would be a patron of

5c To All The Victoria 5c To All

Should we fail to secure the custom of every devotee of the KINEMATOGRAPHIC ART we feel that we must attribute our failure to our own inability to properly describe, in convincing terms, THE INDISPUTABLE EXCELLENCE of our films and the apparent quality of our Theatre. Read this week's picture Calendar—clip it out, keep it for reference and resolve NOW to "COME EVERY DAY."

Monday "The Dream Child"

April 6th "American" feature drama. A picture play, fine in conception, beautiful in execution, staged by a famous director, featuring Mr. E. Coven and Miss Winifred Greenwood, supported by a strong cast, including one of the cleverest child actresses in the world. Love, intrigue, devotion, a dramatic masterpiece that plays upon the heart strings. AN INTERRUPTED SEANCE—A Reliance comedy of the refined type that will produce hilarity. Please don't fail to see our pictures Monday.

Tuesday "Miss Maude Fealy"

April 7th "The Golden Cross" See this constellation of brilliant stars in this elaborate photo drama. It was made for your pleasure and enjoyment. Also Roscoe Arbuckle (the fat boy) in an enormous Keystone comedy "TWIN LOVE AND FIRE."

Wednesday "Our Mutual Girl Day"

April 8th The second and sixth reels will be shown. No doubt attempts will be made from time to time to attract your attention from "Our Mutual Girl," in fact there is already evidence of that intention (due to her great popularity) but for your sake and ours too, don't let anything prevent you from seeing every installment of the most wonderful motion picture ever made in the world. Remember Wednesday is our established day for "Our Mutual Girl." And to go with "Our Mutual Girl" pictures we will have an excellent two-reel Reliance production entitled "THE GREEN EYED DEVIL." This photoplay was written by the famous author DANIEL CARSON GOODMAN. Dr. Goodman is the writer whom John Macy, literary critic of the Boston Herald said would have a monument erected to him in Boston Common 100 years from today. Produced by James Kirkwood under personal supervision of the master director, David W. Griffith and presenting a notable Reliance cast. Could anything more be said or written?

Thursday "Little Billy's City Cousin"

THE CARBON COPY, "American" drama, a compelling story replete with dramatic detail. MUTUAL WEEKLY, the best of all topics, showing many important and interesting items.

Friday "Repaid"

Saturday "North of 53"

April 11th A stupendous two-reel Kay-Bee drama of the northwest. The very title of this stirring drama of the Canadian wilds breathes of the lumber camps and piney woods and the rude life of trading stations. BETWEEN SHOWERS, Keystone comedy.

PROFESSOR O. H. FOSTER

Who has bought and taken charge of Wichita's Business College, known as Wheeler Hughes Business College.

With the support of the business men of Wichita Falls we predict success for Professor Foster's school. He comes to us highly recommended by some of our leading educators. Has been educated in the best schools in the state of Texas, viz: Texas University, North Texas State Normal and Grayson College, and for some time has been superintendent in different schools in this section of the state. He is very conservative. He proposes to continue in the quarters now occupied by the school and devote his first efforts in improving the instruction in the courses now taught by the school. As soon as he begins to progress satisfactorily in this he will commence adding new departments and look about for better quarters in which to locate permanently.

Wichita Falls already has a model system of public schools but there is still room for a good commercial school.

We bespeak for the professor, the hearty support of the business men of Wichita Falls.

Huff, General Attorney of the Wichita Falls & Northwestern Railroad Company, Wichita Falls, Texas. Dear Sir:—Internal complaint we will have to make an order for a stub train to be run on your road Wichita Falls & Northwestern Railroad in Oklahoma to accommodate the way Company that they hold their traveling public. How Information On White Slave Traffic Is Collected

A young woman, aged somewhere between seventeen and fifty, steps to the ticket window at the Union Station, buys a ticket for Oklahoma City then walks to the waiting train and takes her seat. There is little in her action to excite comment or attention; yet here in Wichita Falls, a cog in a great wheel has turned; presently in Baltimore will turn another cog and finally in Oklahoma City, yet another cog will click and revolve. The machinery of government is in motion.

For the too-much-rouge on the woman's cheeks, the flashing of her attire, her general appearance, proclaim her a habitue of that district that many people know too much about and that a great many more do not know enough about. The fact that she has left Wichita Falls is recorded here and is transmitted by a government official at Baltimore; he in turn transmits it to Oklahoma City. And when the woman leaves there for Kansas City or Shreveport or wherever her fancy takes her, the cogs will turn again and the facts be placed on record.

A year ago the woman could have come and gone without a single extra scratch of a governmental pen. Since then the special commissioner for the suppression of the white slave traffic has been busy and throughout Texas and Oklahoma and practically the entire country, the work is organized.

This City Is First Organized.

Wichita Falls was the first city in Texas in which the work was organized, the deputy commissioner coming to this city after his tour of Oklahoma. Just how complete the organization is, cannot be stated, but it probably takes in from twelve to twenty of the leading towns in Texas. Each of these cities has a "local white slave officer" whose duty it is to keep the special commissioner at Baltimore informed of the movements of all the dissolute women of whom he has record.

In this city the white slave officer is S. Heysler of the law firm of Heysler and Edelman. Mr. Heysler was appointed last September, when the work was organized here.

To go back to the woman who bought the ticket for Oklahoma City, when she left her haunts in this city, the proprietress or "madam" as the government calls her, of the resort, sent the white slave officer a note reading like this: "The names and addresses used are fictitious."

The First Cog Turns.

Departure. Local white slave officer—Siz. I beg to advise you that A. B. left my house March 31 and went to the house of C. D. at Oklahoma City. (Signed) E. F. 190 Blank street."

The first cog is turning. The white slave officer, upon receipt of the note, fills out a blank that reads as follows:

Departure. Special commissioner for the suppression of the white slave traffic, Sir: I beg to advise you that on March 31, A. B. left the house of C. D. at 190 Blank street and my best information is that she intends to go to Oklahoma City and there enter a house at 290 Blank street, conducted by G. H. This missive also contains any other information regarding the woman that the officer may have.

Another Revolution.

The special commissioner at Baltimore, thus apprised of the movements of A. B. sends notice to the white slave officer at Oklahoma City. The latter visits the woman at the address indicated and questions her, filling in a blank with the answers. This blank comprises the following data:

1. Name by which known.
2. Maiden name.
3. Married name.
4. Other names by which party has been known.
5. Age.
6. Weight.
7. Height.
8. Where born. Specify if party is a naturalized foreigner—state when and where she was naturalized. If party was born a foreigner and has not been naturalized, state when she first entered United States, name of vessel, port of entry.
9. State in what country parents were born.
10. Color of hair.
11. Eyes.
12. Complexion.
13. State when party first started in this business.
14. Give name of city or town.
15. Street number.
16. Name of madam.
17. Give list of houses in which party has lived during the past year, stating the names of the madams, the names of the streets, the numbers of the houses, and how long party was in each house.
18. Give a list of all offices in which party has been an inmate of, hours and length of time in each.
19. Give names and present or last known address of parents or relatives.

20. General remarks. By this time the woman's mind of information has probably been pretty well exhausted. The blank is then forwarded to the officer at Baltimore. If the woman has been in this country less than three years, it is apt to go hard with the proprietress should she fail to file a complete statement of facts with the proper officers, as both fine and imprisonment are included in the penalty.

120 Cases Recorded Here.

Such is the method by which the government keeps track of the derelicts that roam its highways. The information is kept on file at Baltimore and by a study of it, the cases of white slavery, the channels and paths that it follows, and the best means for its suppression may be worked out. Since last September, when he began the work here, Mr. Heysler has recorded 120 cases. The population of the district is constantly changing, but seldom does a woman enter or depart without the fact being recorded. Copies of the white slave act are furnished the proprietresses and for the most part they cooperate with the officer in securing the needed information.

The ranks in Wichita Falls are recruited largely from Oklahoma points and from Fort Worth, Dallas, and Waco. The white slave officer has some cases recorded where the life of a man began here in Wichita Falls.

If the officer's investigation reveals that the woman was enticed across the state line or that her movements were due to any other will than her own, the cogs turn more rapidly. For the law says that when a man takes a woman from one state to another for any immoral purpose—the act comes within the purview of the law. A Texas federal judge recently gave this statute a black eye by holding that only cases of commercialized vice could be considered violations of the white slave law. If that decision is upheld it will lighten the work of the special commissioner, to say the least.

The same work is going on in every city where there is any number of such women in the United States. The government has begun the fight against commercialized vice and private organizations and associations have taken up the cudgel.

How You May Throw Away Your Glasses

The statement is made that those who wear eyeglasses do not really need them. If you are one of these unfortunates, then these glasses may be ruining your eyes instead of helping them. Thousands who wear these "windows" may prove for themselves that they can dispense with glasses, if they will get the following prescription filled at once. Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Opton; fill a two-ounce bottle with water and drop in one Opton tablet. With this harmless liquid solution bathe the eyes two to four times a day and you are likely to be astonished at the results right from the start. Many who have been told that they have astigmatism, eyestrain, cataract, sore eyelids, weak eyes, conjunctivitis and other eye disorders, report wonderful benefits from the use of this first prescription. Get this prescription filled and use it; you may so strengthen your eyes that glasses will not be necessary. Thousands who are blind or nearly so, or who wear glasses would never have required them if they had cared for their eyes in time. Save your eyes before it is too late! Do not become one of these victims of neglect. Eyeglasses are only like crutches and every few years they must be changed to fit the ever-increasing weakened condition, so better see if you can, like many others, get clear healthy, strong magnetic eyes through the prescription here given. The statement is made that thousands wear eyeglasses who do not really need them. If you are one of these unfortunate ones, then there is hope for you. Thousands who wear these "windows" may prove for themselves that they can dispense with glasses if they will get the following prescription filled at once. Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Optona; fill a two-ounce bottle with water and drop in one Optona tablet. With this harmless liquid solution bathe the eyes two to four times a day and you are likely to be astonished at the result right from the start. Many who have been told that they have astigmatism, eyestrain, cataract, sore eyelids, weak eyes, conjunctivitis and other eye disorders, report wonderful benefits from the use of this free prescription. Get this prescription filled and use it; you may so strengthen your eyes that glasses will not be necessary. Thousands who are blind or nearly so, or who wear glasses would never have required them if they had cared for their eyes in time. Save your eyes before it is too late! Do not become one of these victims of neglect. Eyeglasses are only like crutches and every few years they must be changed to fit the ever-increasing weakened condition, so better see if you can, like many others, get clear healthy, strong magnetic eyes through the prescription here given. ADVENTURES OF KATHLEEN

Another installment of the Adventures of Kathlyn series will be shown at the majestic Tuesday night. The story follows:

After Kathlyn's seemingly marvelous escape from the Temple of the Lion, where she almost became a victim of fanatical men, not to remark the hungry and marauding lion, she is still followed by the wild beasts that rove in the vicinity in search of prey. She realized her peril through some keen second sense and eventually makes her way by woodcraft to a tree, at the base of which is an idol. This being in the nature of a votive shrine, it is frequently visited by the pilgrims and pious Pharisees, who offer prayers for protection from the beasts of the jungle and also leave peace offerings in the form of food. Above in the branches of this spreading tree is propped a rude hunting booth where the native hunters have been accustomed to watch in security for the stalking game that prey upon one another in the depths of the jungle. This unnatural tree seems to have kindly shadows, and Kathlyn takes refuge among its branches, exhausted after her terrible flight through the tangled woodlands. Unarmed, she realizes that she must now depend upon her wifery and fleetness on foot to avoid the dangerous inhabitants of that neighborhood. With this idea in view, she waves for herself a dress of fibrous grass that blends with the flora and the markings of many wild animals does comport with their environment, giving them inconspicuous security.

She completes this garment not long soon when the carnivora which has been upon her trail, rounds up at the base of the tree and settles down with fearful roars and snarling, warning her that it is time for her to look to her safety. She is so surprised that in her haste to get away she drops her tattered and discarded temple gown, flinging further into the depths of the everglades in her new garb, blending so well with the surroundings that it helps to conceal her whereabouts.

Bruce, the American hunter, who accomplished Kathlyn's rescue in the amphitheatre from the forty hungry lions, has been hot upon her trail since the stampede of elephants drove them far apart. Unfettered, however, he has penetrated the depths of the jungle, followed her from the burning fat to the ruined temple and now to the base of the tree, where he finds her torn and discarded garment. He is encouraged to continue his search with greater zeal.

In the interim, some jealous leaders lose an elephant that has strayed far afield to feed and give chase. The elephant becomes panicky and in its flight almost knocks down the tree that shelters Kathlyn. In her fright she tries to run away, but the traders who have come upon the scene, capture her, believing her to have been an escaped slave.

The chief of this band, after taking counsel, concludes to take his captive to a nearby city, place her in a slave market and sell her. Then follow a series of interesting events, showing the method of eating for captives that have more than ordinary value in the eyes of their owners—for the fair Kathlyn at once excites the cupidity and admiration of the leader of the band, who naturally concludes he has a pearl of great price in her. (Incidental to this is the caste mark on the forehead of the human chattel). A few days after Kathlyn emerges from the jungle, the slave market is auction block in she is put upon the auction block in the slave market of Allaha. Disguised in her wild garb of woven grass, bearing her caste mark and deprived of all the finery that once marked her as a queen, she is so heavily veiled she is not recognized by any of the dusky magnates who frequent the market of Allaha. Eventually she is sold, curiously enough to Umballah, who does not recognize her on account of the Sarée over her face, concealing Umballah, concludes to reveal to him her identity and when she does, he is furious and indignant beyond words.

While she was in the slave market, she managed to learn of the whereabouts of Bruce and conveyed a message to him through the caste marker of Allaha. Bruce is again close, but is a few minutes too late to save her, as Umballah, in his fury, has ordered Kathlyn to be incarcerated in the same prison that conceals her father. She had believed her sire dead, but when she is placed into the dungeon she recognizes the ragged and emaciated lost one and a joyous meeting drives melancholy from the inhospitable place. This, however, is short lived, for the malignant Umballah appears and tells Col. Hare that his daughter Kathlyn is now his slave—his chattel—and that he will do with her as he likes. Instead of having the effect he hoped—in blinding the prisoner in chains at his feet—it inspires him with fury, and Hare, now possessed of maniacal strength, springs upon Umballah like a wild beast and bears him down, grinding him against the rocky floor of the dungeon.
