ONLY 50 STATE BANKS QUALIFY

SMALL NUMBER OF RESERVE BANK SYSTEM IS DUE TO STATE LAWS

WILL ELECT DIRECTORS SOON

Names of Nominees Will Be Mailed to Electors This Week—15 Days For Balloting

By Associated Press. Washington, June 27.—Fifty state banks and trust companies, all told, have qualified for membership in federal reserve banks as against 7500 national banks. This small number of state institutions in the federal banking plan, is due chiefly to state laws forbidding state banks to acquire stock in other corporations. There are only twenty states in which the treasury department officials are absolutely certain it is possible for state banking institutions to become members of the new federal reserve banks without some modification of the laws. These states are: Vermont, New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, South Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Texas, Arizona, California and Oregon. Two of these states, Kentucky and South Carolina, have passed enabling acts since the passage of the federal reserve act and in the others, without exception, officials have given assurance steps would be taken to make changes in state laws which will enable state banks to join the federal reserve banks if they so desire. However, in many states, the legislatures do not convene until 1915.

Stocks Over Subscribed.
No effort has been made by the reserve bank organization committee to induce state organizations to participate in the new federal reserve bank. National banks over-subscribed the stock of the reserve banks and it was not necessary to solicit the participation of state banks. However, there were state institutions which were anxious to be among the original members of the new reserve banks and all such were welcomed in case they met the requirements of the federal reserve act.

Ballot For Directors.
The reserve bank organization committee early next week will mail to the electors of all member banks a complete list of nominees for their various positions. Each elector will be allowed fifteen days after the receipt of this list before he casts his ballot for director. The member banks elect six directors, three of class A and three of class B. The federal reserve board will name three directors for each of the federal reserve banks.

Nominees Not Numerous.
Members of the committee were surprised at the comparatively small number of nominations for directors. The entire number was only 268 with more than 7000 banks voting. This result showed a general disposition to work harmoniously in their selection of directors. It was expected that the list would have been much larger and it would have created no surprise for it to reach 2000 or more.

OKLAHOMAN DIES FROM HEAT PROSTRATION

By Associated Press. Stigler, Okla., June 27.—C. A. Blanton, one of the leading residents of this city, died early today from a burst blood vessel in the brain superinduced by heat prostration. He was found yesterday unconscious lying on a horse beneath a tree and died while being brought home. Today was the eighth day since any appreciable rain has fallen in the eastern portion of the state. This is the earliest longest drought in 32 years.

THIRD STORM SWEEPS THREE NORTHERN STATES

At Lacross, Wisconsin Water Runs Through Streets and Excursionists Imperilled

By Associated Press. Lacross, Wis., June 27.—The steamer Sidney with 1000 excursionists aboard was out on the Mississippi when a storm broke. Capt. Startt made a dash for port and succeeded in landing his passengers only with great difficulty. The river at the time was a sea of white caps. The third violent storm of the week today swept large sections of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa. Though less severe than the tornado of Wednesday, the storm did more damage generally. Water ran from two to four feet deep in the streets of Lacross. Train service is crippled in all directions. At and around New Albin and Lansing, Iowa, the rivers overflowed their banks and for many miles destroyed crops.

PAPERS ON BANK FAILURE ARE GONE

DOCUMENTARY EVIDENCE IN LORIMER BANK CASE SUD-DENLY DISAPPEARS

LOAN TO SENATOR PAYNTER

Kentucky Senator It Appears Owed Bank $29,150 At Time Of Vote On Lorimer

By Associated Press. Chicago, June 27.—Disappearance from the offices of James Brady, state auditor, of documentary evidence bearing on the failure of the La Salle Street Trust & Savings Bank, was reported today. One of the missing documents was the report of J. S. Rice, state bank examiner, who made the first report that the bank was in a shaky condition. Rice submitted the report to L. L. Bacchus, then chief clerk in the state auditor's office. The late James S. McCullough was then state auditor. Rice resigned his political job to become secretary of the La Salle Trust & Savings Bank and vice president of the Broadway Savings Bank of the Lorimer-Muncay string. Bacchus became vice president of the La Salle Street Bank. Macklay Hoyne, state's attorney and James Wilkerson, United States district attorney, were anxious to get the missing papers for use before grand juries.

Loan To Senator Paynter.
A detailed statement of the transactions of Thomas H. Paynter, former United States senator from Kentucky, with the Lorimer-Muncay bank from Nov. 1, 1911 to Oct. 1, 1912, when it operated under a national charter, was made public in the district attorney's office. On July 1, 1912 the report shows that Paynter owed the bank $29,150. Two weeks later Lorimer was ousted from the Senate by a vote of fifty-five to twenty-eight. Paynter voting with the minority in favor of Lorimer. The record as given out purports made to show that Paynter made no reduction in the balance between July 2 and September 30; in other words his debt on the day of the vote in the Senate was $29,150. On October 22, when the bank became a state institution, the balance against the former Kentucky senator had been reduced to $21,650 and the account was placed on the books of the state bank. Paynter made various payments up to June 2 last, when the account was wiped off, but he started a new one by obtaining a loan of $2675. Ten days later the bank failed.

Total Number of Deaths Was 2074—Births Numbered 3,696 During Month

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, June 27.—Tuberculosis caused 214 deaths in Texas in May, being the leading cause of death, according to the monthly report of vital statistics given out today by Registrar R. P. Babcock. The report shows that pneumonia claimed ninety-two victims, Bright's disease forty-nine and forty-two died from paralysis.

Among the deaths is that of a Mexican woman in Presidio county who was killed by a bomb being thrown into her room last April. The total of births is given at 3696 of which 1769 were white males and 132 black males, 1536 white females and 146 females. Thirty-six sets of twins were born during May. The total number of deaths was 2074. Of the deaths five were over 100 years and eight over ninety years. One white man in Cameron county was 111.

INDECENT SONGS BARRED BY GERMAN AUTHORITIES

By Associated Press. Berlin, June 27.—Songs that have pleased the Crown Prince and his family cannot be indecent. At least this appears to be the rule of law from the conduct of the state's attorney in an action against a Berlin music publisher. The action began with the confiscation of fifteen songs. The prosecutor contended that each of these was indecent and a violation of the law concerning obscene publications.

The defendant's attorney set up that ten of the songs had been sung at a special performance in the palace before the Crown Prince and other members of the imperial family by a cabaret performer.

GOVERNMENT HAS PLENTY OF MONEY

SURPLUS OF $30,000,000 INDICATED IN THE TREASURY REPORTS.

CUSTOMS REVENUE GREATER

Income Tax Promises to Produce More Than $100,000,000 Next Year.

By Associated Press. Washington, June 27.—Fortified with official figures from the treasury department, Democratic Leader Underwood today told the House there would be no deficit. In government finances and that any such condition was a dream springing from political antagonism. In an analysis of the government's finances, Mr. Underwood said the total receipts of the government for the fiscal year ending next Tuesday would be $733,000,000 leaving a surplus of $30,000,000 with only half a year's operation of the income tax.

That did not include Panama expenditures estimated at $35,000,000. Next year he declared Panama expenditures virtually would pass away and canal receipts would pay running expenses. The speech was in support of the Senate amendment to the legislative appropriation bill to increase the treasury, and for collecting income taxes from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000 which was finally agreed to. Mr. Underwood explained the increase was for collecting the income tax from those trying to evade it.

$100,000,000 Income Tax.
"For next year," he predicted, "we can be assured of collecting more than $100,000,000 from the income tax; even if no more proportionately is collected than was collected this year and more proportionately will be collected." Mr. Underwood said customs receipts were producing the current year, $22,000,000 more than the administration expected and the treasury department reported the figures for the current year just ending:

Income and corporation tax, $75,000,000, which had been estimated at $90,000,000; Internal revenue, $309,000,000 estimated at $312,000,000; customs receipts $292,000,000; estimated at $270,000,000; miscellaneous, $57,000,000, estimated at $59,000,000. There will be no falling off in the income tax receipts, he said a large proportion of the income accrues and is payable in January and February but the income tax became operative as to the normal tax in March and as to the super-tax not until the bill became a law in October. Probably one-half of the dividends and interest on bonds are payable in January and February of each year and they are not included in this year's income tax returns, so it is fair to say that only one-half of the year has been available in which to collect the tax. I think the occupation tax will show an

CHURCHMEN DO NOT OPPOSE CARRANZA

PARTY SENT BY ARCHBISHOP OF MEXICO CITY TO BEAR MESSAGE

CARRANZA IS AT MONTEREY

Rebel Chieftain Devotes Stay There Almost Entirely To Amusements

By Associated Press. Monterey, June 26, via Laredo, June 27.—A party of churchmen visited General Carranza today to bring him the assurance that the church party of Mexico was not opposed to him. The party was sent by the archbishop of Mexico City and the bishop of Saltillo. They declared that only the Spanish members of the party opposed Carranza and the constitutionalist movement.

Gen. Carranza's stay was almost entirely devoted to an elaborate program of amusement. He attended a luncheon at noon, races and other sports in the afternoon, a reception at six and a ball in the evening.

SUFFRAGISTS PLEAD CAUSE

DESCEND ON CAPITOL SEEKING SUPPORT AND WAYLAYS STATESMEN.

ENCOURAGEMENT IS RECEIVED

Speaker Clark Tells Women They Are Going at It in the Right Way.

By Associated Press. Washington, June 27.—Women suffragists representing their sisters in thirty-eight states descended on the capital again today, seeking support. Speaker Clark told them that women's suffrage was as "inevitable as the rising of tomorrow's sun." Vice President Marshall, pressed to take a more definite stand, intimated that his wife would not let him, and Secretary Bryan, waylaid by an enthusiastic suffragist in a capital corridor, took refuge in an elevator.

Prominent Women Plead Cause.
Dr. Anna Howard Shaw and Jane Adams of Chicago and Mrs. Heshad Brackridge of Kentucky pleaded their cause to both Marshall and Clark. Mrs. Brackridge, grand-daughter of Henry Clay, said she hoped the vice president would help the cause. "The vice president interrupted:

"I've got to remember my wife and I don't want to get separated from her." This was interpreted to mean that Mrs. Marshall opposed the movement.—Mrs. Antonette Funk of Chicago said the delegation wanted their petition sent to the senate by messengers.

"I will do that for you," said Marshall, and calling pages, he ordered the petitions distributed. Dr. Shaw told both the vice president and the speaker there was a demand for women's suffrage throughout the United States. She said she attended the meeting of the International Council of Women at Rome, representing 7,000,000 women and that the meeting voted unanimously for suffrage.

World Wide Suffrage Demand.
"This shows," she said, "that the desire for suffrage is from all over the world. The method of securing suffrage by states is too slow and unless we can get congress to encourage the movement it will be greatly delayed. Therefore, we demand that congress shall pass some form of suffrage law."

Miss Addams pointed out that in Chicago there were municipal questions on which women voted. "You are going at this thing in the right way," said the speaker, "if you women are going to run the world, I hope you will improve on the men. I think women should vote; whenever it is submitted in Missouri I am going to vote for it." Miss Geneva Clark, the speaker's daughter, was in the party. "Your father came across with his suffrage support," she was told. "He wouldn't have dared come home if he hadn't," she replied.

BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATION IS ATTACKED IN SUIT

BRESCADA BLAMES ANGELES FOR BREACH

CARRANZA'S SECRETARY ISSUES STATEMENTS ON CARRANZA-VILLA RUPTURE

ANGELES AN EVIL GENIUS

Exercise Beful Influence Over Villa To Further Own Selfish Purposes

By Associated Press. Washington, June 27.—Alfredo Brecada, private secretary of Gen. Carranza, leader of the constitutionalist forces in Mexico, issued a statement here today that Gen. Felipe Angeles in reality is an agent of Gen. Huerta. Brecada's statement, issued after a long conference with Luis Cabrera one of Gen. Carranza's representatives, who is here for participation of the constitutionalist forces in an informal peace conference with delegates to the Niagara Falls mediation, admits a breach in the constitutionalist ranks that probably cannot be healed unless mediation should succeed.

Brecada's Statement.
"Public opinion in the United States has been greatly misled," the statement says, "in the matter of the attitude of General Villa toward General Carranza and consequently I find it necessary in view of the knowledge and acquaintance I have with the facts, to issue a statement to make known the real situation. The trouble between Villa and Carranza has not all the importance that has been supposed and can be composed when the real causes of the break become known."

Angeles Disturbing Factor.
"Villa had appeared always as an entirely subordinate character to Carranza in spite of persistent attempts made to make him appear as holding personal ambitions and as being disloyal towards Carranza. Had it not been for the intervention of Felipe Angeles, chief author of the recent happenings, there never would have been any differences. Whenever the insubordination of Villa is spoken of, we ought to say the insubordination of Angeles. General Angeles was a commander in the federal army. He was sent on a mission to Europe by Huerta. He stayed there until October, 1913. He then asked to join the ranks and the colors of the constitutionalist army. Angeles was accepted. He accepted money for his family and for his trip. He was welcomed by Carranza, who in view of Angeles being a military man, appointed him sub-secretary of his war department. His nomination was well accepted by the revolutionary leaders; as a matter of fact he always tried to keep apart from Carranza and the revolutionary leaders."

Start of Trouble.
The trip of Carranza from Sonora to Chihuahua, coincident with the beginning of the military activities against Torreón and their yielding to the wishes of Villa, Angeles was sent from Sonora to help Villa in the investment of Torreón. Since the arrival of Angeles near Villa, a change in the attitude of the latter was felt. Nearly all the acts of Villa, meaning disagreement with Carranza, such as the imprisonment and attempted shooting of Gen. Chao, were due to the activities of Angeles. On June 12, Carranza asked Villa to send some reinforcements to Natera who was investing Zacatecas. Villa acting under the advice of Angeles, refused to send reinforcements unless he could take charge of the assault, doing all the fighting with his own forces. Carranza insisted, Villa refused again and in a fit of anger tendered his resignation as military commander of the northern division.

"Carranza found himself obliged to accept the resignation, but wishing to follow domestic proceedings he informed Angeles of the matter."

INJUNCTION IS SOUGHT BY LOONEY

CHARGES COMMERCIAL SECRETARIES' ORGANIZATION POLITICAL IN PURPOSE.

ASKS FOR DISSOLUTION

Charges Attempt to Mould Public Opinion to Secure Repeal of Laws.

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, June 27.—Alleging that it is essentially political in its nature, Attorney General B. F. Looney tonight instituted a suit in the Travis county district court against the Texas Business Men's and Commercial Secretaries Association at Fort Worth, seeking the dissolution of the organization.

Temporary Restraining Order.
A temporary injunction was issued restraining the officers of the association and ninety-five individuals and corporations who are also named as defendants restraining them from paying any money to the association or its officers. The president, secretary and directors of the association are among those named. The suit is based upon alleged violation of the act of the legislature which prohibits the use by a railroad corporation of any of its funds or assets for anything except the legitimate purposes of the organization and another act which prohibits a corporation of any character from contributing to the expenses of any candidate for office or for the promotion or defeat of any question submitted to a vote of the people.

Sought To Mold Sentiment.
It is alleged that the association has sought to mould public sentiment by bringing about the repeal or amendment of certain laws affecting corporations particularly the stock bond law and that the pretense of any other purpose of the organization is a sham and a fraud. Practically all the big business interests of the State are members of the association. Many Chambers of Commerce and commercial organizations in towns over the entire State contribute to the support of the organization.

News Service Attacked.
The association has for several years sent out a news service to practically all the papers of the State giving development news and containing appeals against stringent legislation. Excerpts from this news service are quoted by the attorney general in his petition. It has been known for several weeks that the attorney general was conducting an investigation into the affairs of the association one of his assistants being in Dallas recently for this purpose. The activities of the association and its connection with the Radford and Lewis "Farmers' Union" letters has become an issue in the gubernatorial campaign. It is said the attorney general's attention was directed to the association through charges made by one of the candidates for governor.

Declare Suit Political.
The literature of the association says its purpose is to aid in the development of the resources of the State. Some of its officers seen last night declare that the charge that its purpose is political is absurd and charge that the suit against it is a political move.

They filled the end of a stick with spikes, by attaching to it a piece of leather studded with sharp pointed nails. The negro took this stick and walking leisurely down a row knocked the cotton plants enough so that all diseased squares fell to the ground, whereupon he speared them with the spikes and tossed them into a bag over his shoulder. It is said the spiked stick requiring little or no effort, made an ideal job from the negro's point of view and that he reduced the apparent supply of weevil squares by more than fifty per cent.

ADVENTURES OF KATHLYN

The tenth installment of the "Adventures of Kathlyn" will be shown at the Majestic Monday. The story follows:

Kathlyn and her sister, Winnie, have hardly disappeared through the trap leading from the big animal cage to the tunnel that had been burrowed beneath, than the hungry and frenzied lions that were in the arena swarmed onto the stage and began clawing at the trap, excited to ferocity by the fresh scent of human beings. This sensational disappearance naturally excited and surprised the vast assembly, and the scene in the royal box where Umballah was presiding baffled description. At first the dark Prince and his Councilors could hardly believe their eyes, and thought it was only a trick of the performers to temporarily escape the arena lions. But they waited for the return of the interperd Kathlyn and her sister, in vain and finally the uproarous crowd was indignantly dismissed. Umballah was baffled again—truly puzzled over the surprising situation when one of his servants, a native Prince, brought him word that Kathlyn, her father, Bruce and her sister were outside the walls. This stirred Umballah to pernicious activity and he at once ordered the captain of the guards to start a detail on the run, make them prisoners and bring them all back to the palace.

Fast following their escape, Kathlyn and her supporters accepted the hospitality of Ramabai's home. The latter had arranged with a prominent revolutionary leader to finance a movement against the false and insistent rulers of Alaha, particularly Prince Umballah, who never neglected an opportunity to crush the weak beneath his heel and add to the suffering of the people. The new arrivals are not long learning this ambitious plan and their familiarity with the methods of Umballah and the fact that they have repeatedly outwitted him, moves naturally for their selection in the leadership of the revolution. Quite appropriately it appears that Kathlyn should elect herself to lead such a dangerous coup d'etat. Her own habiliments might have marked some feminine weakness that would have disqualified her for leadership, but happily she finds a suit of armor in Ramabai's home, dons it and becomes a real Joan of Arc, an Evangel for the new cause of the people. This Amazon wears ancient silver armor, but she has swinging at her side an automatic gun of the latest design which brings her to date and which she uses with accuracy.

Unable to discover Kathlyn, the captain of the guard returns to Umballah's palace and the latter cunningly bethinks him of Ramabai's house and orders a second expedition. The captain of the guard, however, unfaithful to Umballah, now bargains for his mercenary services with the revolutionists. Just at this time, the palanquin from Umballah's palace passes with one of his ladies of the Harem. She overhears the plot, orders her attendants to take her at once to the palace. Umballah is notified and immediately prepares a counteraction. He orders the captain of the guard thrown into the lion's pit, offers large bounties to the soldiers who remain loyal and then by a lucky stroke captures Bruce, Ramabai and Col. Hare. But he did not count upon the real leader of the revolution. Kathlyn, who hurries to the scene of action leading the charge against Umballah's dispirited soldiers.

The imposing Amazonian figure of Kathlyn fills her followers with confidence in her leadership and they finally fight their way into the very palace of Umballah. Then the revolutionists release the captain of the guard from the lion's pit, but fail to secure the keeper, who, in turn, opens the door and drives his lions scurrying through the palace. A native slave warns Kathlyn and her party of this new danger confronting them. During the scramble to get away, Kathlyn becomes separated from her father and Bruce and they, having in the interim accidentally gained their own freedom, start out to search for her.

In the meantime, Kathlyn has been trailed by a huge and hungry lion, and darts into a seemingly vacant house where she finds other lions sequestered. She rushes up to the top balcony of this villa and helpless to extricate herself from the dilemma raises her voice, calling for help. Umballah, who is trying to make his own escape from the revolutionists, in a palanquin, hears her, and in mocking response to her cry for aid, cruelly applies a torch to the building, leaving her trapped amid the surging clouds of smoke on the upper balcony with hungry lions waiting below.

The friends of Mrs. M. E. Jourdan will regret to learn that she is seriously ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Heath, 1008 Travis. Another daughter, Mrs. John Beverly, of Clarendon, has been at her bedside for the past week.

INDIANAPOLIS RACES AT EMPRESS THEATRE MONDAY

Monday at the Empress pictures will be shown of the Indianapolis races in the Pathe Weekly. A four reel Florence Turner feature will be shown Monday also. Of Miss Turner's performance the Moving Picture World makes the following comment:

Miss Florence Turner is at her best. Which is only another way of saying what all picture lovers know, that when Miss Turner is given the big part in a real story she is great; and so she is here. Miss Turner's year abroad has in no measure dimmed her art—she has not forgotten any of the individual touches the possession of which long ago established her as one of the first in the hearts of picture patrons the world over. A twelve months' stay in England unquestionably has benefited her health. She is the Miss Turner of old—always sure of a situation—as mirth provoking in farce as she is amusing in comedy, convincing in drama, superb in tragedy; and "The Murdoch Trial" is a tragedy.

Miss Turner has the role of a young woman whose father dies in India, leaving to his daughter, Helen, a hundred thousand dollars in the custody of Murdoch, not knowing the latter is in financial trouble. A letter to Helen telling her of the situation never reaches her. A nephew of Murdoch, an unscrupulous as the uncle, destroys it and pretends to burn the letter of instruction to Murdoch. The nephew tries to win Helen; she cannot bear the sight of him. When the uncle learns that Helen has a lover he determines to win the girl himself as the surest means of self protection. There is a quarrel between the uncle and the lover when the latter is detected in a clandestine meeting with Helen. Lionel threatens to kill the uncle. Later Murdoch and his nephew get into an argument when the latter shows to Murdoch the letter that makes Murdoch a defaulter. The nephew stabs and kills Murdoch. The butler, looking on from another room, falls unconscious. Lionel, returning to the house to make sure that Helen is safe, enters the room where lies the body just as Helen comes in another door. Each believes the other has committed the crime. When the nephew comes in with a servant the former accuses Lionel and summons the police. The butler's mind is unhinged.

At the trial Lionel is convicted. As sentence is pronounced Helen starts the court by asserting that she did the killing. The butler, in a sanitarium, restored but not released, reads that Helen is to be executed the following day for the crime. He escapes and notifies the attorney and they with Lionel, ride to the residence of the home secretary, after previously capturing the nephew and taking him along. A reprieve is secured.

AN ACTUAL SAVING ON

Herrick Refrigerators

We sold more than two cars of HERRICK'S last season and in consequence bought heavy this season. They are selling right along, but for fear we may have some to carry over we make this special price offer:

Ten Per Cent Off

In order to reduce our Stock we desire all to bear in mind two things relative to this sale:

That our regular marked price on Herricks allows us only a small margin of profit.

Also, that TEN PER CENT OFF in this Store means just that much saved to the purchaser.

IT MEANS $1.85 on an $18.50 Herrick
 $2.00 on a $20.00 Herrick
a saving of $3.00 on a $30.00 Herrick

No "marking-up-before-cutting" methods ever employed here. Every Herrick guaranteed. A cheaply built Refrigerator never proves by test to be economical.

Wichita Falls, Texas, June 28.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS. Carrier boys are not authorized to collect for subscriptions to The Times.

Col. Edwards of the Henrietta Review, who attended the Press Association in this city last week, has been forced to admit that Wichita Falls can do the handsome thing when he tries.

The biggest yield made yet by any one wheat crop reported to The Times was that of a farmer residing at or near Mankins in Archer County, which was thirty-two bushels per acre.

Interest in the gubernatorial race is picking up. Two months ago everybody, practically speaking, seemed ready to concede that was a one-sided affair, and that Colonel Ball would win by 75,000 or 80,000.

The Texas Press Association met at Wichita Falls Thursday of last week, adjourning at the close of the morning session Saturday.

The Dallas-Wichita Falls interurban proposition was discussed at length yesterday afternoon at a banquet given by the Chamber of Commerce to the more than fifty representative business men of Dallas, and several other representatives of the cities and towns along the proposed route or routes, including Denton, Bowie, Montague and perhaps others.

company, and those who subscribed the $50,000 for the making of the surveys and for other expenses would be issued stock in the company, or first mortgage bonds.

Mr. Kell thought it would be fair to take the census figures of 1910 showing the relative population of Dallas and Wichita Falls and the other cities and towns interested, for the purpose of ascertaining the amount each place should guarantee, saying that he stood ready to guarantee that Wichita Falls would not only subscribe her full proportion of the $50,000 expense money, but would put up as much money as Dallas would for the construction of the road in proportion to population.

This proposition seemed to meet with favor by all interested, and committees were appointed to proceed with raising the money for the preliminary survey. The meeting was composed of as fine a bunch of business men as ever came together in this city, and they came with a determination to do business.

It is rather a sarcastic circumstance that while the newsboys were outside the White House crying the news of the biggest mercantile failure ever known in this country, the President was inside the White House promising the country, in an address to a delegation of Virginia editors, the greatest business boom in its history.

There is no necessary contradiction in the two circumstances; the failure may be symptomatic of nothing to preclude the early advent of the boom which the President predicts and promises.

It is not because he is lacking in determination and will power. The President expresses both a full understanding and agreement with those who contend that it is uncertainty of what Congress may do that is holding business in check.

Some Snake Story. Mrs. G. L. Hester has a sure enough snake story. For some time she had been missing her eggs, and thought perhaps some person had been having eggs to eat or sell at her expense.

Government Has Plenty of Money. Increase of about four or five million over the last year of the Payne bill, continued Mr. Underwood.

JACK JOHNSON RETAINS TITLE
BIG DINGE HAS LITTLE TROUBLE IN BESTING WHITE OPPONENT AT PARIS.
FIGHT WENT 20 ROUNDS
Toward the End Negro Had Moran at His Mercy—Moran Lacked Fighting Skill.
By Associated Press.
Paris, June 27.—Jack Johnson, the heavyweight champion fighter, tonight retained the title by defeating Frank Moran of Pittsburgh in a twenty round contest, on points. There was plenty of hard hitting on the part of Johnson, but not a single knockdown or anything that looked like a finishing blow. Moran's face was bleeding from cuts on the nose and under the left eye. Johnson showed no marks.
Toward the end of the fight the crowd jeered a great deal at some of the tactics of Moran, who hung reluctantly on Johnson to save himself. When the gong rang, Referee Charpentier immediately announced Johnson as the winner.
Moran Was Game.
Moran was game and stubborn and did most of the leading and made many friends. Johnson's superior skill and his effective upper-cutting wore down his opponent and won the fight, which at times seemed amateurish. Terrific upper-cuts on which Johnson relied in many of his battles, were brought to play on his young adversary, who was unable effectively to block them. They repeatedly were sent to Moran's jaw when he least expected them, and several times the Pittsburgher was sent wobbling, but there was not a single knockdown or anything that looked like a finishing blow. At the close Moran's face was bleeding from cuts on the nose and under the left eye. Johnson bore no marks.
Negro Played With Him.
Toward the middle of the contest it appeared as if Moran would not go the twenty rounds, but he kept driving. Although he had reached the negro his blows lacked force and were comparatively ineffective. Now and then he tried to land on his adversary, but swung wildly through space. Moran took his punishment without a word when he saw he could do so without danger. Toward the end Johnson had the Pittsburgher at his mercy.
Moran was apparently fearful and clung to Johnson's body for support, at the same time trying to land, but without success. His manner of fighting was cowardly.

WOULD PROBE SOURCE OF NEWSPAPER STORIES
Senators Outraged at Leaks From Senate Committee Propose Investigation
Washington, June 27.—Spurred to action by apparent freedom with which proceedings of the foreign relations committee, in consideration of the Nicaraguan and Columbian treaties have been published from day to day, several senators today agreed on a resolution asking for authority to subpoena senators and Washington correspondents to an inquiry to determine how proceedings of the committee, supposed to be especially secret, got out. The resolution was referred to a standing committee. It is expected the Senate will pass it.
Chairman Stone of the foreign relations committee read into the Congressional Record this statement:
"All newspaper reports of what has occurred in the committee on foreign relations in its proceedings regarding the Nicaraguan and Columbian treaties are unauthorized and inaccurate and moreover are unworthy of belief because whoever gave out the alleged information betrayed the confidence of the committee and government and deliberately violated his word of honor."
"No man upon that committee," declared the senator, "can give out the confidential business of the committee except he has upon him the brand of absolute dishonesty and betrayal." He said that he regarded the disclosure of what had taken place behind closed doors as a disgraceful performance.
The committee may decide to go into a broad inquiry that will reach out through the Senate. Under the resolution it may summon newspaper men to attempt to learn how they obtained their information about the two treaties.

Mr. Woolard, of the A. & M. College, Stillwater, Okla., has taken charge of the Bookkeeping, Banking and Penmanship schools. It is our intention to give the best training it is possible to give—and that's what Mr. Woolard is here to do.
Our own ad-manager, J. Bryan Dickinson, will teach the Advertising and Salesmanship Courses. Dickinson is a born writer, a highly trained one, and has many years of experience in composing commercial literature.

INTERURBAN MEETING PLANS SURVEY OF PROPOSED ROUTES

Committees For Preliminary Work Are Named At Conference Friday Night

VISITORS ARE ENTHUSIASTIC OVER PROJECT

Automobile Trip Adds To Their Determination To Build Line— J. A. Kemp Heads Committee

Selection of a committee representing Dallas, Wichita Falls and all intermediate towns wanting the proposed Dallas-Wichita Falls interurban, empowered to raise the necessary funds, employ an engineer and conduct a survey of at least three routes for the proposed line was the tangible result of Friday afternoon's meeting at Lake Wichita between the business men of Dallas, Wichita Falls, Denton, Irving, Grapevine, Montague, Nocona, Bowie and other intermediate towns. This committee was made up of five members from Dallas and Wichita Falls and one member from each of the towns wanting the line. J. A. Kemp was the unanimous choice for chairman of the committee.

After this committee has completed surveys and secured estimates of cost and a report as to density of population, probable traffic, cost of operation and all details necessary in connection with the promotion of such a line, they are to report at another meeting of representatives of all the towns. Then if it is believed such a line could be profitably operated the organization of a company will be started to build and operate the line.

Probable Cost of Surveys
The cost of the surveys will be between $25,000 and $30,000. It was estimated that Dallas and Wichita Falls would take nearly $5,000,000 to build the line and get it into operation. Of this amount at least one million dollars must be raised through the sale of stock before the sale of bonds for the remainder can be undertaken. Dallas, Wichita Falls and all the towns represented yesterday pledged they would do their proper share in raising the money for the survey and in the purchasing of stock provided the report was favorable to the enterprise.

Wichita Falls and Dallas members of the committee were named Friday. The commercial organizations of the other towns will be asked to name the committeemen from each. Negotiations are to be opened at once for engineers to make the necessary surveys.

Dallas members of the committee are: W. M. Doran, H. L. Seay, A. A. Jackson, J. C. Duke and John V. Hughes. Wichita Falls members are: Wiley Blair, Frank Kell, T. J. Taylor, Fred Gates and R. E. Huff.

Visitors are Heard
R. E. Huff, president of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, presided at the meeting which was held on the second floor of the pavilion. That an interurban line was much desired and that it would be beneficial to all the towns it touched and that Dallas and Wichita Falls should be the terminals were points upon which all who spoke were agreed. Dallas, Wichita Falls and Irving, Grapevine, Denton, Gainesville, Nocona, Montague and Bowie representatives were agreed upon these points.

Hon. Alvin Ousley of Denton said that it was an established fact that Dallas had become the queen city of Texas, and that it was no less well established that Wichita Falls was the leading city of Northwest Texas. He said it was highly desirable that these two cities should be connected by an interurban line. "If it is known that Wichita Falls will lead in the enterprise Dallas will back it up," he said, "and Denton will do her part."

Judge Jameson of Montague told of the fruit country around Montague and the need of that country for connections with markets like Dallas and Wichita Falls.

"When you come to build this line," he said, "our people will say to you, take our town and give us the interurban."

Tributes to Wichita Falls
J. W. Chancellor of Bowie said that while Bowie couldn't take the burden of the interurban "take our town" that Bowie wanted the line and must have it. Representatives of other intermediate towns spoke in the same vein declaring that they were ready to pledge their communities to do a full share in financing the line if it touched them.

Mr. Hathaway of Irving declared that after seeing Wichita Falls and making the trip to Iowa Park, Electra and other points in the county he was more anxious than ever that Dallas and Wichita Falls have interurban connections. He declared he had seen the biggest things he had ever seen in his life on the trip.

"I've seen cotton fields a mile long, corn rows a mile long and wheat stacks bigger than the Dallas county court house," he said. "Yes, and I've seen some of the biggest men I have ever met."

To Prorate Expenses.
The discussion then turned to plans for getting the promotion of the line into concrete form. After some discussion it was decided to appoint a

HAL MCKINNEY TOOK FIRST MONEY IN THE FREE FOR ALL PACE

FINAL PROGRAM IS THE BEST

Mary Malone Took Second Money in Feature Event Making a Game Fight

Hal McKinney, a big bay stallion owned by C. N. Clark of Hammett, Cal., captured the first and third heats and the big end of the money in the free-for-all pace, the feature of the closing day of the Wichita Falls race meet. An immense crowd witnessed the events.

Hal McKinney drew down $500 in prize money, second money going to Mary Malone, third to Baron Hall and fourth to the Citimax. The $1000 purse was split four ways, $500, $250, $150 and $100.

The California horse showed himself the class of the field in the big event, taking the first and third heats handily and making a game bid for the second heat in which Mary Malone, T. J. Jeffries' mare which won so many races last year and which many had picked as Friday's winner took first place.

Other Events of Program.
Three harness events and one novelty running event made up the afternoon's program, the longest and most pleasing of the four days. The novelty race was a mile event, a $25 purse being awarded for the horse leading at each quarter mile. Our leader, with Tiller up, led for the first three quarters, taking $75 home, but C. W. Kennon, ridden by Slesoff, was first under the final wire. The summaries follow:

Colleges For Deaf Mutes Then And Now

Fifty years ago today the first college in the world to offer collegiate education with honorary degrees to deaf mutes was publicly inaugurated at Washington, D. C. It was on this same day that the degree of Master of Arts was conferred upon the deaf and dumb American artist, John Carlin. This was the first degree conferred by the college and is said to be the first granted to a deaf mute in the world's history. It bore the signature of Abraham Lincoln, the ex-officio patron of the college according to the Act of Congress which established the institution. The college was given the name of the "National Deaf Mute College." It possessed two little brick buildings neither of which had cost more than $9,000. One was built by an appropriation from Congress and the other at the expense of Amos Kendall who seven years before had founded the Columbia Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, out of which the college grew. Among the speakers of the day was the 27-year-old college president, Dr. Edward Miner Gallaudet. He was the son of Thomas H. Gallaudet who was the founder of the education of deaf mutes in America. The college opened with seven students. The faculty consisted of one professor beside the college president.

business, industries and lines of business. There are scores of deaf mute ministers and instructors in all states of the Union. One is practicing as a lawyer before the United States supreme court. A deaf mute conducted the defense in a famous murder case in a New York court. Several mutes are acting as editors and reporters on magazine and newspaper staffs; some are earning excellent salaries and commissions as traveling salesmen and insurance agents; one has achieved fame as a sculptor, while another is capably filling the position as bank cashier.

BRECAJA BLAMES ANGELES FOR BREACH

voled the officials who were under orders of Villa that they choose by themselves their active leaders, but the officials influenced by Angeles caused to appoint a subordinate and agreed to accept Villa as their leader and they were thus in attitude of disobedience toward Carranza. Carranza was acquainted with the real cause of Villa's attitude and ordered the immediate discharge of Angeles from the position he held.

Grievances Postponed. Attempts have been made to patch up the breach and induce Villa to recede from his attitude. Nothing was attained but that Villa realized that most of the revolutionary leaders had shown their loyalty to Carranza and that the real purpose of Angeles was to use Villa as a tool for his ambition to become provisional president of Mexico. Then Angeles' purpose became in vain. In view of this revelation, Villa has agreed to postpone the discussion of his grievances until the revolution has triumphed. Carranza has also considered that the chief purpose and that it would be impolitical to spend time in an attempt to subdue Villa. The attitude of Villa fostered on the inside by Angeles, has been encouraged on the outside by certain foreign elements who had time to impress on the American people that Villa is the chief factor in the constitutionalist revolution. The principal foreigners doing this work in favor of Villa are two intimate friends of Lazara de la Graza, financial agent of Villa. One of them is a fellow of many doubtful connections in the United States and he claims to have in Washington people to help him in official circles. The other is an American who has posed as the confidential agent of the state department of the revolution, but who as a matter of fact has only been a political adviser of Villa in international matters.

ing and holding in the last half of the contest caused unfavorable comment. The tactics of Johnson on several occasions brought a caution from the referee and jeers from the crowd. Many French spectators who seemingly did not understand boxing voiced their objection to in-fighting, but cheered resounding, harmless whacks.

Great Crowd Sees Fight.

The great amphitheatre presented a wonderful sight. Several hundred women in handsome gowns applauded the two pugilists as they struggled. Among the women were those who bore such great names in French society as Baroness Henry D. Rothschild, the younger Duchess de Uses, Countess Mathieu de Noailles, the poet, princess Delucinge, the Duchess de Rohan, Princess Morouzieff and Countess de Troumiers.

Johnson's white wife occupied a prominent place, wearing as many diamonds as most of the great ladies. She cried out shrilly from time to time, "Hit him, daddy," "Come along, Pop," "Now, then, Jack, let him have another." Gloved hands joined in the applause that rang through the building as the two gladiators struggled for supremacy. Spencer Eddy, former American minister to Argentina, sat near the ringside. Near him sat the Duke of Westminster.

After the fight, Johnson pointed out that no champion of his age ever before defended the title and won. He is thirty-six years old. He appeared little worse for the battle. Asked if he would like to take on Johnson, Charpentier said, "Johnson is a little bit too heavy for me at present. Moran, in his dressing room after the fight, said:

Moran No Worse For Fight. "At the worst it should have been a draw; I was the aggressor throughout the whole twenty rounds and I was not hurt. I return to my camp and train for another fight. My manager has one in mind." Moran spent a social hour with friends at a hotel, then had his cuts attended by a doctor and motored to his quarters. No statement of the receipts was given out.

FIRST ROUND

Time was called at 10:38 and the crowd cheered as the fighters jumped to the middle of the ring. Moran started at a lively clip and got in the first whacks, sending stiff ones to the negro's head and stomach; the big black retaliated with a staggering punch to the American's jaw and a brisk mixup followed, in which the negro landed heavily on Moran's stomach.

SECOND ROUND

Moran fouled the fighting when the gong sounded but Johnson came back in vigorous style and managed to send several hard uppercuts to the Pittsburgher's jaw. The American stood the punishment well and returned some hard ones landing on the negro's head, Johnson sent a light hook to the white man's cheek as the gong sounded for time.

THIRD ROUND

The negro got busy in this round and sent a series of hard uppercuts to Moran's jaw. Moran returned some jolting blows to the negro's stomach, and seemed to be holding his own fairly well.

FOURTH ROUND

Johnson drew first blood of the fight with a stiff right to Moran's nose. The American came back vigorously, but the champion smiled confidently as he met the attack. Each fighter took some hard blows on the head without visible effect.

FIFTH ROUND

Johnson seemed fresher and more confident as the fifth round began. Moran started with a hard one on Johnson's jaw and the black retaliated with several punches to the body. Moran blocked cleverly as the negro tried several uppercuts. Johnson was able to land a light blow on Johnson's solar plexus.

SIXTH ROUND

The negro continued his uppercuts landing several terrific blows on the white man's jaw, but the challenger seemed to stand the punishment very nicely and came back with several vigorous rights and lefts to Johnson's face, which brought a cheer from the crowd.

SEVENTH ROUND

Moran came in briskly and sent a series of stiff jabs to the negro's head. The champion came back with as wicked a blow to Moran's stomach and Moran got in a good left punch on Johnson's chin. Johnson landed another on Moran's nose, widening the ugly cut he had previously inflicted.

EIGHTH ROUND

The champion continued his earlier style of fighting, allowing the Pittsburgher to take the aggressive, but resorting again and again to the uppercut, landing three of these on Moran's jaw. The clinched and Moran began a lively bombardment of the negro's stomach, landing five or six blows. Both fighters seemed to be going nicely in this round.

NINTH ROUND

Moran stepped in with a vicious left hook to the body. Johnson landed on the challenger's head and sent several hard ones to the jaw. Johnson abandoned his defensive tactics and started in to rush the fighting.

TENTH ROUND

Both fighters miked it heavily, Johnson getting the better of the in-fighting. The referee told them to break away and as they did so, Johnson sent a hard blow to Moran's jaw and the white man's second claimed a foul. The blow brought a stream of blood from the Pittsburgher's nose and lips. Johnson was warned by the referee. Both men resumed their hard fighting, but Moran seemed to be weakening.

ELEVENTH ROUND

Moran started this round in better shape and opened by landing a hard blow on Johnson's head. The negro proceeded to rush the fighting and was again warned by the referee for holding. Moran sent three hard blows to the body, but Johnson came back in vigorous style, also landing some vicious knocks.

TWELFTH ROUND

Johnson continued to land his favorite uppercuts and Moran seemed less and less able to avoid them. The negro sent in a straight left to the nose and followed it with a cut over the eye. Moran was breathing hard and it did not seem that he would last long. The negro took a hard swing at his jaw, but the white man dodged.

THIRTEENTH ROUND

Moran seemed to be weakening and was unable to land effectively, although he led the fighting. They exchanged blows on the jaw, each landing hard. Johnson took his blow and then stepped back, smiling at the other. Then he suddenly sent a hard right to Moran's jaw, staggering him.

FOURTEENTH ROUND

The champion rushed at Moran who avoided him, the negro laughing as he lunged at the other. Moran managed to send a hard blow to the negro's face, but was relentlessly rushed to the ropes.

FIFTEENTH ROUND

The champion rushed at Moran who avoided him, the negro laughing as he lunged at the other. Moran managed to send a hard blow to the negro's face, but was relentlessly rushed to the ropes.

SIXTEENTH ROUND

The negro seemed to be forcing the fight in this round. Moran landed hard on the black's stomach and Johnson came back with a hard left to Moran's nose.

SEVENTEENTH ROUND

EIGHTEENTH ROUND

It looked like the end was near for the white man, in this round, the negro having things his own way. He sent a vicious blow to the stomach, following it with two blows to face and then a hard left to the body.

NINETEENTH ROUND

Moran seemed to make a futile rally in this round, carrying the fight to the negro in vigorous fashion. There was considerable in-fighting and Moran indulged in considerable holding. Johnson suffered little from the white man's tactics.

TWENTIETH ROUND

Both men seemed to be trying hard for a knockout. Johnson sent several hard rights to Moran's face. The white man swung wildly and ineffectively, while Johnson staggered him with hard blows. The negro landed frequently and almost at will, but the Pittsburgher was still on his feet and fighting when the gong sounded for the finish. The referee stepped to the center of the ring and held up Johnson's right hand, announcing a victory for the negro, on points.

Business is the big free for all. The grand stand sweepstakes, everybody can enter, nobody is barred. But can everybody win? Well hardly, the race is not won by the chap who can kick track behind him the fastest, nor the one who looks swift. The honors, the blue pennant and the big purse in the business handicap go to the fellow who can not only keep up the pace but get faster. It all goes to the man who can go strong on the home stretch and look fit as fiddle and hard as nails at the last quarter post. We have passed the grand stand many times in the last four years. We have kept the pace and gotten faster with each round of the track. We have never flung a shoe or run a jockey. "We have em all back of the flag and goin' lame as ducks." We Make Good When our Goods Don't

SOCIALISTS WOULDNT GIVE CHEERS FOR THE EMPEROR

Action May Result in Wholesale Prosecutions on Lese Majeste Charge

By Associated Press. Berlin, June 27.—It is several weeks since the Reichstag closed, but the action of the socialists has been the subject of press comment. There is ordinarily little sympathy lost between the non-socialist organs of the left and those of the right, but they have shown great unanimity in attacking the socialist demonstration as a breach of good manners.

The North German Gazette, undoubtedly speaking for the government, declares that the next Reichstag must take measures to prevent a repetition of such public insults to the Emperor.

In the Prussian Diet, the conservatives interpolated on the matter, desiring to know whether the prosecuting attorney's office had been asked to proceed against the socialists for lese majeste, or whether it intended to take such action. Replying, the minister of justice, while he severely criticized the action of the socialists, declared that he doubted greatly whether it would be possible to get convictions, since it would probably be held that the giving of the customary cheers for the Emperor constituted a part of the Reichstag proceedings. The imperial constitution provides that deputies may not be brought to account for their actions or utterances in the Reichstag. An acquittal, said the minister, would place the socialists in the light of victors, and a conviction would make them appear martyrs. In either case the result could not benefit the state, and it had been therefore decided to take no notice of it.

In 1904 the elder Liebnicht refused to rise when cheers were proposed for the Emperor in the Reichstag. The authorities prepared a complaint against him and asked the Reichstag to consent to his prosecution. Consent was refused and the case had to be dropped. There appears to be considerable doubt, in any event, whether a mere refusal or neglect to stand up when the Emperor is being cheered is sufficient to constitute the crime of lese majeste.

Indications of a sharpening of the campaign against the socialists are observable in many places throughout the empire. The police authorities are particularly active against the so-called "workingmen's gymnastic societies." They proceed by declaring them political associations out of hand, and acting under this declaration, they forbid minors from attending them. The socialists maintain that the mass associations are nonpolitical and devoted entirely to gymnastic work, but the police have been able to bring evidence enough to satisfy the courts in all cases thus far carried to the courts, that the associations are a part of the party propaganda for winning recruits among the young.

ONE PENNY PER WEEK FOR LODGINGS, ENGLISHMAN'S PLAN

Vicar Starts Movement to Provide Cheap Accommodations for Poor

By Associated Press. London, June 27.—Lodgings at a penny a week are offered to the poor of Midsur, in Sussex, by the Rev. F. Thatchell, vicar of the Parish. He has turned an old vicarage over to this purpose. The penny a week secures a bed, and sitting room in cases of genuine poverty.

The reason for the penny rental scheme lies with the charity commissioners of the town, who have been letting the public almshouses to the highest bidder. The result has been that the very poor have been forced to pay more than they could afford for lodgings. To overcome official competition, the Vicar has started his penny lodgings.

PRESENT BATTLESHIP TYPES FAST GETTING OUT OF DATE

By Associated Press. London, June 27.—The recent assertion by Sir Percy Scott that battleships are fast becoming archaic have received wide attention because it was Sir Percy who did so much to ward perfecting the big-gun service of the British dreadnaughts. "The introduction of vessels that swim under water has," says Sir Percy, "entirely done away with the utility of the ships that swim on top of the water. Since warships would not dare come within sight of a coast that was adequately protected by submarines. No fleet can hide itself from the aeroplane eye and the submarines can deliver a deadly attack even in broad daylight. "The navy will be entirely changed; naval officers will no longer live on the sea, but either above it or under it, and the strain on their systems and nerves will be so great that a very lengthy period of service will not be advisable; it will be a navy of route, for we shall require nothing but boldness and daring. "In war times the scouting aeroplanes will always be high above on the look out, and the submarines in constant readiness, as are the engines at a fire station. If an enemy is sighted the gong sounds and the launch of a flotilla of submarines will be slipped. "Whether it be night or day, fine or rough, they must go out to search for their quarry; if they find her she is doomed, and they give no quarter, they cannot board her and take her as a prize, as in the olden days; they only wait till she sinks, then return home without even knowing the number of human beings that they have sent to the bottom of the ocean. "Will any battleship expose herself to such a dead certainty of destruction? I say no."

GERMANY IS SUBSIDIZING AUTO TRUCKS READY FOR WAR

By Associated Press. Berlin, June 27.—The German military authorities have adopted a novel form of the subsidy principle as a preparation for the next war. Imitating the example of those countries that subsidize steamships in order to convert them into naval vessels in times of war, the German War office has for above a year been paying subsidies on heavy automobile trucks, which the army will take over by requisition as soon as a war breaks out, so far as they may be needed. The aim of the authorities, however, goes much farther than merely to have a certain number of such trucks at hand which may be requisitioned; they hope to get them so generally introduced that the armies can find them anywhere in sufficient quantities for moving military supplies. The system is to pay the subsidy to the manufacturer at the time that he sells the machine to a person buying it for his own use. All the leading German automobile building companies are now putting such subsidized drags upon the market. The military authorities are so well satisfied with the system that they have just decided to increase the subsidies and to extend them to the sixth year, whereas they had hitherto only been paying them for five years. Hitherto the total subsidy for five years on an automobile with one trailer was $1,857; while henceforth it will be $2,048 for five years.

There are some foods that every economical housewife aims to keep a supply of on hand during the hot weather. There's baked beans, canned soups, canned spaghetti as well as a variety of canned fruits and vegetables. It doesn't pay to get low on this stock because an emergency is liable to arise at any time when you'll want something very quick—quicker than any grocer can get it to you. Suppose you make up a list of the quantity you ought to have and let me quote you a price on the bulk order. It will save you money as well as save you time and trouble.

C. B. MCCONNELL RETURNS FROM M. W. A. HEAD-CAMP

C. B. McConnell has just returned from Toledo, Ohio, where he has been in attendance on the meeting of the head camp of the Modern Woodmen of America. Following is a synopsis of the proceedings of the head camp as reported by him:

"The following head officers were elected: Head consul, A. R. Talbot; head clerk, James A. McMurray; head banker, J. D. Volz; directors, E. E. Murphy, B. S. Tanner, R. R. Smith, F. R. Korns and A. N. Bort. On account of injunctions pending in the courts against the so-called Chicago rates that section of the by-law was repealed and the old rate was re-adopted.

"A small portion of the membership, a faction calling themselves 'insurgents' who used the rate question as a ruse, but whose real designs were on the head offices, made a strenuous effort to gain control of the organization in the past year but failed completely. The crisis was reached when the report of the credentials committee was pending and while there were some heated discussions and exciting times at the Wednesday morning session, there was no riot as was reported by some of the sensational newspapers. Following the adoption of the credential committee's report, which stamped out 'insurgency' the convention settled down to business.

"The head officers' reports showed the society to be in a healthy and flourishing condition and with 'insurgency' blotted out and harmony prevailing, with no rate question to cause agitation among the members, great things are expected in the growth and development in the society between now and 1917 when the next head camp will be held. The board of directors were authorized to make the necessary arrangements for holding the encampment at the Panama Exposition in San Francisco next year."

WILBARGER COUNTY TAX VALUES SHOW INCREASE

(Vernon Record) According to the report of County Tax Assessor A. P. Mason, taxable values in Wilbarger county for 1914 are $200,190 in excess of last year. Figures for 1914 are $11,669,600 as compared with $11,469,410 for 1913. The increased values are due in a large measure to increased activities in drilling for oil. The income from this source forms a very considerable part of the county's revenue. Land values are about the same as last year with a little change in stock, money and negotiable paper returns.

ENGINEERS AND FIREMEN ON WESTERN LINES MAY STRIKE

Would Affect Ninety-eight Railroads Employing More Than 55,000 Men

Engineers and firemen on ninety-eight western railroads are asking for higher wages and better working conditions and there is some possibility of a strike, which would affect about 55,000 men.

The first explanation of the existing trouble between the railroad managers and the engineers was received Wednesday as a statement from the conference committee of the railroads, which treated with the engineers for six weeks at Chicago. This statement in part follows: "The final request submitted by the employees' committee proposed increasing the number of arbitrary allowances, reducing the number of hours of work after which overtime would be paid, increasing the rate for overtime 100 per cent in passenger service and 50 per cent in freight and other service; and in addition advancing the rate substantially per 100 miles for all service, as well as creating many new positions.

"These and other concessions requested would increase the pay rolls of the railroads more than $32,000,000 per year or approximately 50 per cent.

"The original requests of the engineers and firemen were presented Oct. 10, 1913. These requests if granted would increase their wages approximately $27,000,000 per year, according to a careful estimate made by the conference committee of the managers. Upon receipt of these requests, the individual western railroads gave notice of their desire to terminate the wage schedules in effect with their engineers and firemen and enter into negotiations for the purpose of making agreements. The main object of the new agreements proposed by the railroads was to secure uniformity as well as simplification of the wage schedules, which have become complicated and frequently require extra payment for services which are a part of the regular work of the engineers and firemen.

"For reasons which were fully presented, the conference committee of managers did not believe that the railroads would be justified in making an increase in the wages of the employees, to say nothing of the large increases requested. But it was not intended to make any reductions in wages. Therefore, the conference committee of managers advised the employees' committee that if the latter would accept such a revision of the rules as would be suggested by the managers, the managers' committee would join with the employees' committee in adopting revised rules of pay which would secure to the employees as large compensation as they had been receiving.

"In the original proposal of the employees there was not a word said that it was desired that the basis of computing overtime in train service, which is universally ten hours, should be reduced. The employees came back afterward with another proposition, which asked all the concessions demanded originally and in addition demanded that a reduction of ten hours to eight hours be made in the basis of computing overtime.

"The employees know that it would be impractical to reduce the actual day in train service to eight hours. To do so it would be necessary to shorten practically all railway divisions, to relegate yards and shops.

"The conference of managers objected to the original proposition and naturally regarded the new proposal as much more objectionable. J. H. Keefe, assistant general manager of the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe was the Texas representative on the conference committee of managers. Ninety-eight railroads are concerned in the pending trouble. The wages now paid to the 55,000 engineers amount to $67,570,000.

N. W. TEXAS OIL AND GAS SANDS

A. W. WHITNEY CONTRIBUTES INTERESTING SUMMARY OF SANDS HERE

MIDDLE SANDS ARE BEST

Big Increase Probable at Petrolia When the Great Gas Pressure Begins to Lessen

H. W. Whitney, correspondent here for the Oil and Gas Journal and the Oil City Derrick contributes an interesting article in a recent issue of the Derrick on the oil bearing sands of this section. His article follows:
The progress of oil development about Electra since the discovery of petroleum in 1910 has been rapid. From that year to the present there have been approximately 2,000 producing wells completed, with a daily production of from 1 to 1000 barrels with a total production for all fields amounting to about 27,500 barrels. The presence of oil was noted as far back as 1890, but with the phenomenal pool at Spindletop holding the attention of the large oil companies and the operators of the entire world, little interest was directed elsewhere. At that time the industry was in its infancy, or just emerging from obscurity in the south and southwest, and but little was known of the geological conditions existing throughout the present producing State of the southwest. With the discovery of oil in the famous Lucas gusher at Spindletop, the methods of drilling wells had to be changed. It was then that the rotary method of drilling came into prominence, as it was found impossible to use cable tools owing to the soft character of the formations. Of the late rotary has found its way into the different fields of Louisiana and Texas, as far north as southwest Oklahoma.

The producing sands of the Texas Panhandle differ of course from those of the southern part of the state, which are classified geologically as the Pliocene, Neocene and Tertiary, while those of the north Texas fields are under the Permian and Pennsylvania series. The yield of oil from the newer series is considerably greater than from the older producing formations, but do not maintain the steady production, nor is the oil as high in specific gravity.

In the Electra pool, the first sand which may be designated as belonging to the shallow group, is found approximately 500 to 800 feet below the surface. The wells found in these sands maintain a steadier production than those of the middle and deep groups. Some oil has been struck at about 90 feet, in a limestone formation, which is classified as Beaver-bank or Limestone, but has never produced oil in paying quantities. The middle group is considered the most reliable producing sand in the Electra pool and from the number of producing wells completed in it and their output, the title has been justly earned. This sand is found at about 1,500 feet in some cases varying a little, and wells completed in it show an initial production of from 100 to 1,000 barrels and better and it has been the mainstay of the Electra pool and is found at depth ranging from 1,940 to 2,000 feet, with a thickness of ten to 25 feet. In its day the now ancient Corsicana Petroleum Co.'s No. 3 was considered the largest well in the pool. It came in with an initial production of 1,800 barrels from a depth of 1890 feet and six months later was still flowing at the rate of 600 barrels per day. Since then several larger wells have been completed but none with a production greater than 2,000 barrels. The present initial production of wells in this sand is from 50 to 600 barrels, most of the late completions nearing the 200-barrel mark. In the Burk Burnett pool, which is in a sense a continuation of the Electra pool to the east, wells are completed at a depth of approximately 1,400 feet and from 1700 to 1800 feet the initial production ranging from 15 to 1,000 barrels, the average, however, is about 40 barrels. It has been demonstrated that a medium shot improved these wells, in most cases almost doubling the production. This is also the first Texas field to use torpedoes.

In the Henrietta, or Petrolia pool, which is incidentally the oldest producing area in North Texas, excepting Corsicana, four distinct sands are found. Three of these may be classified in the shallow group and are found at 260 feet and 350 feet and 720 feet, and while not very prolific, make up the bulk of the production of the Petrolia pool. The initial production in from one to eight barrels per well. They are drilled with a portable drilling machine at a small cost, which accounts for the large number of small wells in this pool.
In the deep sand some excellent wells are completed at an average depth of 1,750 feet. The oil of this group is generally accompanied with a vast amount of gas, for which the Petrolia pool is noted. The initial production of the wells range from 50 barrels to as high as 1,200 barrels. It will be recalled that J. M. Guffey Petroleum Company completed its Dunn No. 1 several years ago with an initial production of 1,200 barrels; two years later it was still producing at the rate of 50 barrels per day. The Petrolia pool is of a freakish character; the sands of the deep group do not cover a defined or extensive area, but has a tendency to trend off in narrow streaks, so the operators are playing a game of chance all the time. The gas producing sand of this pool is one of its greatest assets. The daily output of the gas runs into millions of feet, which could be increased at will, as the amount seems inexhaustible. It is the present source of supply for the cities of Fort Worth, Dallas, Wichita Falls and other towns along the route of transportation. It would not be surprising in time to see an astonishing increase in the output of oil from the deep sand and when the present heavy gas pressure lessens.

is Carrying Young Man, Semi-invalid, to East—Will Visit Old World Before Returning

On a tour of the world on a motorcycle with a side seat attachment, carrying one passenger, Miss Della Crowe of Waco passes through the city this morning. Miss Crowe came here from Fort Worth and left for Dodge City, Kansas, where she expects to attend the International Motorcycle races on July 4th. She plans to reach Dodge City by July 2, going by way of Lawton and Oklahoma City. From Dodge City she will go to Milwaukee, Wis., where the Harley-Davidson motorcycles, one of which she rides, are manufactured. From Milwaukee she will ride to New York, and after a tour of that country, will traverse the Asiatic continent into Europe.

In her trip from New York to the Pacific Ocean she intends to follow the route of the Lincoln-highway.

As a passenger she is carrying a young man, who is a semi-invalid, to an eastern point. With herself and passenger and baggage, the machine carries between six and seven hundred pounds but it pulled through the sandy roads between here and Fort Worth without great difficulty.

On her trip Miss Crowe is paying her expenses by writing for newspapers and magazines and has already secured a number of orders for stories.

SAYS CANADA IS SUFFERING FROM FINANCIAL STRINGENCY: London, June 27.—"The world-wide financial stringency" has caused the curtailment of constructive work in Canada, according to official warning from the Canadian government to the steamship and railway agencies in England, who are advised that artisans and laborers should "postpone coming to Canada until normal conditions again prevail."

There are still many excellent openings for farmers with capital, states the circular, and the demand was never stronger for farm laborers and female domestic servants than at present. Immediate employment is promised this class of workers. An employment list for the provinces of Ontario and Quebec issued by the Department of the Interior, shows that the yearly wages of farm hands, in addition to board and lodging, ranges from $100 to $220 a year, the average being about $150. Monthly pay during the summer season varies from $10 to $30 with board. Domestic servants are promised from $10 to $12 a month, or "according to ability."

STATE SUPREME COURT DOES NOT PASS UPON OIL LEASE

Matter Will Not be Decided Until Next Fall When Court's Vacation Ends

The question of Wichita county's right to tax oil and gas leases which has been pending in the courts for more than a year, and upon which this county has thousands of dollars tied up in collections, will not be settled until next fall. The supreme court adjourned at Austin Friday without passing on the case. It had been generally expected that a decision would be forthcoming before the court adjourned for vacation, but no action was taken.

COMMENT ON GUM CHEWERS AND SOME OTHER FOLKS

Editor The Times: "O, would some power the gift to give us; to see ourselves as others see us."

Truly Bobbie Burns was right when he wrote the above couplet. Surely if some of the young people of today could see themselves as others see them they would act differently. A short time since we were at a show where there were from five to six hundred people present and more than three-fourths of them had their mouths full of gum and as I heard a young man remark were "chewing like goats." Anyway they were snacking, mincing and grinding away on that gum as if their lives depended upon it an amazing noise enough to disgust an Egyptian mummy. What would our grandmothers or even our mothers have said if girls had gone about in company slobbering and chewing like that? In the good old days a girl who chewed gum in the presence of a young man made herself an object of ridicule and we still think the practice is not only ridiculous but disgusting.

Listen girls! A girl who would go about escorted by a young man with a cigarette or a cigar in his mouth puffing and smoking like a miniature volcano in eruption was not considered very refined and other girls avoided her society as much as possible and the young man was tabooed by all the most respectable girls and yet we actually saw young men at this same show smoking cigarettes and cigars, right in the crowd with ladies on all sides and filling the air so full of the vile smoke that people who were not used to it could hardly stay in the tent. Such manners I never saw. And this the Twentieth Century when people are supposed to have reached the highest stage of civilization. Why do not parents and teachers get busy and see if we can't at least teach the young generation common decency? A TEACHER.

WANTS EUROPE'S THRIFTY PLANS FOR THIS COUNTRY

American Secures Many Ideas Looking to Elimination of Waste in United States

By Associated Press. London, June 27.—Simon W. Straus of Chicago, who has been spending six months in Europe conducting investigations as president of the American Society of Thrift, is to take home a number of suggestions.

One of them is the establishment of cooperative societies. He has found that the work is done by them in Great Britain is second in extent only to that of the United States steel corporation, and that such societies not only save the fees of the middleman, who is thus to put productive toll, but give their members a sense of thrift. He found the societies working with great success also in France, Switzerland and Germany.

The use of vacant city lots for gardening by school children is another movement he will try to further. The American cities most of which are not yet overdeveloped as are those of those in the old world, usually have plenty of vacant lots, left for years in an unsightly condition until building operations are begun. Mr. Straus urges that these be turned into gardens, where school children may receive valuable elementary training in thrift.

In a summary of his investigations of thrift in Europe he finds Germany excelling in the economy and efficiency of government, while the Frenchman leads in individual thrift. If the two were combined in the United States, he said, the cost of living would take a big drop, and prosperity increase.

Northwestern is Warned About Tax. (Frederick Leader)

Passenger service was resumed on the Wichita Falls & Northwestern Railroad Sunday on the schedule similar to that in effect before the company took off two daylight trains several weeks ago. Below is a copy of a letter which was sent by A. P. Watson, corporation commissioner to the general manager of the road, threatening application for a receiver for the road unless its track was put in good condition and adequate service given. The order for resumption of the temporarily discontinued passenger service was made before this letter could have reached the general manager, but it is to be hoped that it may have the effect of making the company better the condition of its roadbed:

"Oklahoma City, June 17. W. A. Webb, general manager M. K. & T., Dallas, Texas. Dear Sir: I herewith enclose copy of report made by Mr. Thompson, engineer of the commission as to the condition of your track. I hope you will find it possible to follow the suggestions therein. The commission will wait ten days to be fully advised what action you will take in the matter in putting this road in the proper condition. When a track gets in the condition that it is necessary to discontinue passenger service it is time for the commission to apply to the court and have a receiver appointed in order that the people may be properly served. We suggest that you put at least from one hundred to two hundred men on this road and that you reinstall the passenger service at an early date and give the commission full assurance that the road will be in condition to move the crops. This letter may sound somewhat positive to you, but there is no excuse as far as we know, but conditions of this kind cannot exist and some man will be put in charge of that road to change it if necessary. Very truly yours, A. P. WATSON, Com."

GRANDFIELD VOTERS ORDER BONDS FOR WATERWORKS

(Grandfield Enterprise) The waterworks bond election Tuesday carried by a vote of 79 to 6 and the wood pipe fiasco, which rendered the water system abortive, will soon pass into the dimmed past like a troubled dream. The next summer will see the streets of Grandfield sprinkled and the natives will have time to work some of the sand out of their gizzards, while the dry goods man will be relieved of the tax caused by soiled fabrics and the physical strain of fighting dust. Aside from the comforts and advantages of a water supply, the water keeper, we understand the perfection of the water system will mean a revival of the burned light plant and an ice factory which will reduce the high cost of keeping cool. The pumping station, ice and light plant can all be run with the same machinery and practically with the same force of men, thus reducing the cost of production to a minimum and making possible a corresponding low rate to the consumer.

MOVING PICTURE TARGETS FOR USE OF GERMAN SOLDIERS.

By Associated Press. Berlin, June 27.—The moving picture has been turned to account by the army, and it is likely that a portion of the soldiers' rifle range work will hereafter be done with moving pictures for targets. A test of the new contrivance at the Doberitz range gave good results, and the Emperor, who witnessed the tests himself and fired a number of shots, was pleased with the innovation. Long rolls of paper replaced the usual film, and on them appear marching soldiers, cavalrymen, artillery in full gallop, cycle troops and other moving objects. The instant a bullet strikes the paper the spot of impact is brilliantly lighted and the movement of the contrivance is arrested for nearly a second, giving an opportunity to see the full effect of the shot. It is believed that the invention will not only improve the soldiers' marksmanship, but will also prove valuable in training them to aim and fire rapidly.

HORSES GO TO CLARENDON, SPECIAL TRAIN IS PROVIDED

More Than 100 Animals Shipped to Scene of Next Races on Circuit

A special train of twenty cars carrying more than 100 race horses left here last night for Clarendon, Texas, where the second meet of the Texas Short Ship Circuit will open Tuesday. Practically all of the horses that were here for the races last week will be entered at Clarendon. By running a special train to carry them to Clarendon the railroad company was enabled to give the horses the special care necessary in handling their cars with a minimum of trouble.

A number of new horses will be entered at Clarendon and will make the circuit of the other towns in the association.

While the races here lost money for the promoters the horsemen fared as well as if the crowds had been large enough to make the races pay and all were as well satisfied with the meet as could be expected when it is considered that some of them are bound to be losers.

WON'T ALLOW MILITANTS TO USE LABOR PLATFORMS.

By Associated Press. London, June 27.—Many branches of the Independent Labor party and some of the trades unions have passed resolutions against allowing militant suffragettes to speak from socialist or labor platforms, while the executive committee of the National Union of Railwaymen has decided that women shall not be accepted as members of that organization. This has been reported by the suffragettes throughout the country.

The decision against allowing militants to speak from labor platforms was dictated by a desire to please the constitutional suffragists, who are supporting labor candidates for the House of Commons, and to mark the members' disapproval of the action of the militants in interrupting labor meetings, despite the fact that the party supports the movement for votes for women. This also has had something to do with the decision of the Railwaymen's executive not to accept women as members.

WICHITAN'S SON INJURED IN FORT WORTH ACCIDENT

Robert J. Dyson Seriously Hurt Late Friday Night When Automobile Overturns

Robert J. Dyson, son of J. W. Dyson, the well known drilling contractor of this city, was probably fatally injured at Fort Worth Friday night when an automobile in which he was returning from a dance at the Rivercrest Country Club was overturned. Two other boys and a girl, the other occupants of the automobile were also injured. Young Dyson received cuts and bruises on his head and body. It was feared yesterday that he could not recover. His father who received word of the accident Saturday morning left on the noon train for Fort Worth.

The driver lost control of the car when it struck the street car tracks near Greenwood cemetery. It swerved and went over. Young Dyson was the most seriously injured of the four.

The injured young men were taken to All Saints Hospital. The accident happened about midnight last night. While Young Dyson had not made his home in Wichita Falls he had visited his father here several times and is known to a number of young people and old men who with friends of his father, rare hoping that

OLD FOLKS FIND NEW REMEDY RELIEVES ALL KIDNEY AND BLADDER MISERIES

Drives Rheumatic Pains Away, Relieves Backache and Bladder Disorders After A Few Doses Are Taken

Sleep disturbing bladder weaknesses, backache, rheumatism, and the many other kindred ailments which so commonly come with declining years, need no longer be a source of dread and misery to those who are past the middle age of life. The new discovery, Croxone, ever comes all such disorders because it removes the very cause of the trouble. It soaks right into the kidneys, through the walls and linings; cleans out the little filtering glands and cells, and gives the kidneys new strength to do their work properly. It neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid substances that lodge in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism; and makes the kidneys filter and sift out all the poisonous waste matter from the blood and drive it out of the system. It matters not how old you are or how long you have suffered, Croxone is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You will find it different from all other remedies, and more than a few doses are seldom required to relieve even the most chronic, obstinate cases. It is the most wonderful remedy ever made for restoring the lifeless organs to health and strength and ridding the system of every particle of uric acid, and you can take it with the utmost confidence that nothing on earth will so quickly cure such conditions. You can obtain an original package of Croxone at trifling cost from any first-class druggist. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone should fail in a single case.
