NEED OF ACTION AGAINST SALOON DISCUSSED HERE

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE SPEAKERS
OCCUPY LOCAL PULPIT SUN-DAY, OBSERVING FIELD DAY OF ORGANIZATION

ELECTION IS LIKELY

Question of Asking Legislature To Submit Question Will Be Considered at Meeting to Be Held Next Month

With a campaign for submission of a state-wide prohibition amendment to the constitution as their object, four speakers of the Texas Anti-Saloon League occupied Wichita Falls pulpit Sunday, this being a "field day" for the anti-saloon workers. The liquor traffic was discussed from various aspects and approximately $1000 was raised in cash and pledges to carry on the work of the League.

Dr. A. J. Barton, state superintendent of the League, was among the speakers, occupying the pulpit at the First Baptist Church here in the morning and speaking at Electric last night.

Whether or not the submission question goes before the voters at the July primary to determine whether it shall be made a plank in the democratic platform, will be determined at a convention to be held about the middle of March, at a place to be announced later, according to Dr. Barton, who discussed the situation before leaving for Electric.

"It is our duty to have a prohibition election every two years. We have a referendum every two years on the governorship, and I believe in voting on the saloon just as often."

Wants Submission This Year. Dr. Barton said, however, that this was his individual view, and that the meeting to be held next month would determine what would be done. No petition for putting submission on the ballot, he said, had yet been circulated, but he felt quite generally that it was quite generally on record, had he it, the number of signatures was negligible compared with the number of buildings. So far this year only two petitions have been filed, though many times that number of new buildings have started.

No fee is charged for the permit, although a penalty is prescribed for failure to take them out.

He quoted some Scriptural verses dealing with the land question, to the effect that a man's ownership of land depended upon the use to which he put that land. Quoting further from the Bible, he read verses declaring that a man under the influence of drink thought that evil was good, that darkness was light and that bitter was sweet and that evil was good. Further Scripture discussing the influence of drink led Dr. Barton to say that the "saloon and brothel are twin sisters of hell, and neither has a right to habitation among the sons of men."

Discussing the man who drinks, Dr. Barton said he would be moderate and conservative and that all he would say was that the man who drinks is in a very bad way. It need not be thought, he said, that because of the exhilarating effects of drink, that it was a good stimulant, good for the nerves. He went into the scientific aspects of the matter at some length, declaring that alcohol is really the exception from the bodies of the bacteria, the lowest form of organism and that it is a real poison to every higher kind of animal life, and a worse poison for man than for any other animal.

The Question of Revenues. Dr. Barton told of seeing a man die at San Angelo from the effects of strychnine after drink had run down his life.

"It seemed to me," he said, "that I could see the city of San Angelo and Tom Green county, and the State of Texas and the national government standing around that body like so many ghosts, saying 'we don't care anything about this man's life, give us some of the money that he left behind when he died.'"

Questioning some railroad men in the congregation, he elicited from them the information that there is no railroad that will keep an engineer who drinks, and that when an engineer is discharged for drinking, the Brotherhood will not take his case.

"You boys know Ty Cobb, don't you?" Dr. Barton asked. "These fellows never heard of him. Ty Cobb says 'I don't drink because drink ruins my batting eye. The man who plays football or who is a pugilist has to leave drink alone.'"

Dr. Barton said that the 3200 saloons in Texas that are breaking the mothers' hearts and sending boys to jail were far worse than disaster like that of the Eastland, which though they snuffed out a thousand lives, took far less lives, according to statistics than did the liquor traffic.

The world of industry, the world of commerce, the world of morals, the world of religion, the world of mothers, all these are opposed to drink," he said. "The only world that stands for it is the underworld."

The Man Who Sings. Dr. Barton went at some length into the question of saloons in their general effect on business.

"Wichita Falls is a good town to let me tell you a secret," traveling men tell me that neither their sales nor their collections are as good in Wichita Falls as they are in towns like Hillsboro.

Comparing the saloons with other retail establishments, Dr. Barton declared that the man who votes for the saloon license is just as guilty as the saloon man himself.

Taking up the question of revenue for governmental purposes, Dr. Barton showed that the saloon charged the city, county, state and nation 80 per cent for collecting this money, not figuring the court costs and other expenses that the saloon entailed.

"When I go into Houston or Galveston or San Antonio or Dallas or some other Texas city that is run by saloon revenue and when I step on the pavements, I feel somehow like I'm stepping on human hearts." He contended that the sale of liquor was not a right, but a license and said that this contention was upheld by twelve decisions from the supreme court of the United States.

"We're going to have another statewide prohibition election in Texas," he continued, "when we're going to have it." We're going to have it before the anti's want it."

He told of talking with a man who had interviewed some prominent Texans on the subject, this man having seen among others, "a former governor." Dr. Barton by grimaces and actions indicated that "former governor" was a distasteful subject to him.

"We won in 1911 at the ballot box and lost at the counting machine," said Dr. Barton, "since then the world has been turned upside down on the subject. A dozen other states have put their prohibition and motherhood above the liquor traffic. Florida, Texas and Louisiana are the only southern States where you can still buy liquor, and we are going to make Texas the driest place you ever saw."

At Christian Church. Rev. J. P. Sewell of Abilene, president of the Christian college at that place, was the speaker at the First Christian church. Mr. Sewell discussed the saloons from the standpoint of the saloon keeper, putting forth the argument that man who opposes the saloons is the true friend of the saloon keeper. He endeavored to show how the saloons harm the man who is in the liquor business.

The saloon keeper is excluded, he said, from membership in churches, from membership in 50 of the secret and fraternal organizations in the country, from life insurance in the largest companies in the country; his fire insurance is double five or six times that of other business houses and last, but not least, the family of the saloon keeper is excluded from the best society.

The announcements in regard to the state convention and the state wide election were made and an offering for the league was taken at the conclusion of the sermon.

At Presbyterian Church. The object and accomplishments of the Texas Anti-Saloon League formed the subject of the address given at the First Presbyterian Church by Rev. W. J. Herwig, one of the Anti-Saloon League's "field day" workers. The league was defined as "the church in action against the saloon."

Mr. Herwig told of strenuous campaigns which resulted in prohibition carrying in Jim Wells and Bell counties and in other counties of almost equal importance. Since the reorganization of the forces, the speaker said, the churches have been working in harmony and everything points to a great moral victory for the state of Texas.

"The League is just now conducting a great educational campaign and the people all over Texas are just as busy, better informed as to the question of prohibition than ever before," he said. "This campaign will close with the opening of the big convention in Dallas to be held March 12, 14 and 15. The list of speakers includes such men of international reputation as William Jennings Bryan and Richard Pearson Hobson."

Mr. Herwig urged that the First Presbyterian Church send as large a delegation as possible to the Dallas convention and to help in the offering for the carrying on of the work of the League. The congregation's purpose was set forth as being mainly to decide the question of a state-wide prohibition in 1917 and the offering was made to this end.

At M. E. Churches. The part that the saloon and its products play in the public moral reform was the basis of a splendid temperance sermon which was delivered at the M. E. Church, South, by Rev. Arthur Webb, field secretary of the Anti-Saloon League. Mr. Webb took his text from the passage of Scripture reading, "righteousness exalteth a nation but sin is a reproach to any people." The many phases of the liquor traffic and the moral and economic evils which it breeds were discussed at length by Mr. Webb who also told of the work of the Anti-Saloon League, the organization of the religious and moral forces of the state against the liquor traffic.

The meeting was well attended and at the close of the sermon cards were passed and a subscription taken for the cause. The offering was quite substantial.

Mr. Webb spoke at the First M. E. Church last night.

Good and Clever.

All the good people were clever. And all clever people were good. The world would be nicer than ever. We thought that it possibly could.

But somehow 'tis seldom or never. The two hit it off as they should. The good are so harsh to the clever. The clever so rude to the good.

So friends, let it be our endeavor. To make each by each understood. For few can be good like the clever. Or clever, so well as the good!

U. C. T. RECEPTION SATURDAY EVENING

Saturday evening the members of the Wichita Falls Council of the United Commercial Travelers entertained their families with a delightful Leap Year party.

The men were in charge of the arrangements and the carefully planned and executed entertainment proved their ability as entertainers beyond the shadow of a doubt.

The approaching national holiday of Washington's Birthday was noticed in the decorations of the hall and the patriotic motif was further featured in the table covers and napkins and the score cards for the game of 42.

Minute silt flags were prominent. A light supper was the first feature of the entertainment, the small tables being arranged before the arrival of the guests.

A sandwich course with olives and food grape juice and assorted pastes, Fort-two, music and dancing were the diversions and a novelty was introduced in the person of a most authentic "Washington" with powdered wig and powdered collar.

E. K. Lynn, one of the entertainment committee being the master of ceremonies. The affair was one of the largest and most successful of the social meetings enjoyed by the U. C. T.'s and their families.

A special program in the way of a talk by Dr. A. V. Andrews and an address by Dr. Bruce Greenwood preceded the supper hour. A flashlight picture of the guests was taken at the supper tables.

Those present included Messrs. and Mesdames J. R. Tynan, S. E. Shupert, Wilford Hargrave, Ray, Abe Marcus, M. A. Marcus, J. C. Pressley, R. D. Thornburn, J. S. Walker, A. C. Lambie, J. O. Hancock, D. SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell. I tried next every kind of medicine, but none did me any good.

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it."

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlasting tired feeling?

Also, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.

INJURED YOUTH'S CHANCES IMPROVE

Condition of William Billings, struck by Automobile Saturday, is Favorable

William Billings, the young messenger boy whose skull was fractured Saturday evening when he was struck by an automobile driven by Oscar Williams, is not only still alive but has a very good chance for recovery, according to information from the Amason-Hargrave hospital this morning.

Billings is conscious and seems quite cheerful, despite his condition. He is required to do his breathing through a tube, on account of the injury to his nose.

Almost the first thing the boy said Sunday morning was that Mr. Williams was not to blame for the accident. He is reported to have said that he was looking back over his shoulder when the car struck him.

Although the lad is still in a very serious condition on account of the severe injury to his head, the outlook for his recovery was quite hopeful today. Several days must pass before he can be considered out of danger, however.

5 YEAR SENTENCE FOR OSCAR WELLS

Jury Reaches Verdict Sunday Morning—New Trial Will Be Asked

A verdict of guilty, with a five-year sentence, was returned Sunday morning by the jury in the case of Oscar Wells, negro, charged with murder in the 30th district court, in connection with the killing of "Kid" Hopper, another negro, last August. In a previous trial of this case, the jury disagreed.

The jury retired at four o'clock Saturday afternoon and retired that night without reaching a verdict. It was understood that nine favored conviction, with sentences as high as fifteen years, and that three were at first for acquittal. Yesterday morning the three were won over, and the verdict was brought in. It is understood that motion for a new trial will be filed by counsel for the defense.

Wells is still to be tried by the charge of killing George Johnson, who met death at the same time as Hopper. Johnson and Hopper were killed in a negro barber shop. They had some trouble with Wells on the day before, and Wells' plea was self-defense and threats.

INVITATIONS SENT TO "TEXAS EXES"

Plans For Annual University of Texas Banquet March 2 Are Under Way

Invitations to alumni and ex-students of the State University to attend the annual Independence Day banquet of "Texas Exes" are being mailed out by the Wichita Falls District Alumni Association to ex-students in a number of Northwest Texas counties. Dr. Everett Jones, president of the association, hopes to have a record breaking crowd present.

These banquets have been held here on March 2 for several years, and similar affairs are held in various Texas cities, there being one meeting place for each senatorial district. The letter of invitation follows:

"For several years it has been a custom for all graduates and ex-students of the State University to meet at some common point on the night of March second to renew old acquaintances, hear the old Varsity songs again, and enjoy a banquet. As time goes on these meetings have become more enthusiastic attendance has been multiplied and that inborn desire in the heart of every ex-student to live one more day of the old University life has become almost universal.

"As rapidly as possible these meetings are formed into permanent organizations and the members took an interest in the welfare of the Parent Institution. Seriously speaking the University of Texas is today in a rut. It does not take rank commensurate with its possibilities. Something is wrong. Your suggestions may be the spur that would place that old school on the road to higher planes of education.

"On March second, 1916, that day being Thursday, you are expected to be present at a banquet of the alumni and ex-students to be held in Wichita Falls. At this meeting it is planned to have one principal speaker, some one connected with the University, and after this address is finished we ever attended one of these banquets, you will be here, but if you have not, begin right now to shape your affairs so you can come.

"Just one other point, if it happens that you have married, some one or are about to marry some one who is not an ex-student, bring him or her along, for the chances are that you have told this partner so much about your escapades in the University that he or she will feel that Judge Simpkins or Dean Carter of Galveston are old acquaintances.

"Remember the date, Thursday, March second, and make your plans to meet with us. Very truly yours, "EVERETT JONES, President

Pierce-Fordyce Gets Well on Abandoned Lease—Rig at Electric Burned

The Pierce-Fordyce Oil Company is again becoming a factor in oil production circles in Northwest Texas. It was once leased by Andrew Brian of this city, but he turned it loose when conditions in the neighboring territory made it appear there was small chance for getting oil there. Since then the Pierce-Fordyce company has developed quite a bit of production there.

WILD ROSE REHEARSALS ARE NOW IN PROGRESS

The following regarding the "Wild Rose" has been received: The second act of the "Wild Rose" was given a reading rehearsal on Saturday afternoon. It proved even better work than the first. The cast is enthusiastic and working with a will. Four rehearsals are called for next week in itself a sign of determination on the part of the cast to make good. Everything points to a sensational success, because everyone working part. Committees have been appointed to engineer costumes, furniture and stage properties and various merchants have made offers to let what may be necessary for the staging of the bill. It has been most gratifying to the Musicians Club to note this mark of interest. It is a spirit which has always helped to make such clubs successful organizations in any city, and one is proud to see that Wichita Falls is not behind time in the cooperation of congenial and art. Any club being public work can do much better work, and with much more keenness and enthusiasm when they feel that their community is behind them and expect good things of them.

The thief who took 85 cents from the Fort Worth police chief's trousers while the later was enjoying his noonday swim at the Y. M. C. A. pool there was certainly no respecter of place or person.

Tomorrow we will celebrate George Washington's birthday. He will be lauded as president and statesman and as a general and also author. We ought not to forget that he was first and last a farmer and was one of the greatest and most successful farmers the country has ever produced.

A congressional commission has been created to study the problem of flood control, but the people can take no great hope of a solution of the problem from such a commission.

Here's the ticket we fancy would appear forcibly to the extreme leftists. For president—W. J. Bryan. For vice president—Ball Bat. La Follette.

Platform—Helplessness and Chloroform. Campaign committee—Editors of the Times-Delta, the New York Evening Post, the Colquhoun and the Fatherland.

Ed Howard, who was appointed postmaster at Wichita Falls in December, received his formal commission from President Wilson and began discharging his duties as postmaster Wednesday morning.

Howard has been connected with the Times Publishing Company for years and in assuming his duties as postmaster, retires from active connection with the Times.

Abraham's Sacrifice was the title of the motion picture shown last evening at the M. E. Church, South.

The church was packed to the galleries and a large number were people from Bowie who had come over in automobiles to attend the service.

Senator Root's criticism of the Democratic administration was made with all the force that able statesman commands and sounded plausible enough until it is remembered that he made it as a Republican and the record of the Republican party in the matters criticized is recalled. Senator Root directed criticism at the administration for making a threat toward Germany which we did not have the force to back up; he blamed the administration for our state of unpreparedness; and he criticized severely the policy of the administration in Mexican affairs.

John Jenkins and Lem Morgan, charged with robbery in connection with an alleged attempt to hold up Sheriff Hawkins several weeks ago, are on trial before a jury in the 7th district court today. This is their second trial, the jury disagreeing when the case was first tried.

D. H. Brock, an Oklahoma youth, was taken into custody on a charge of theft from person. He was indicted by the grand jury last week. C. H. Boyd, the negro under indictment for assault to murder in connection with the stabbing of a negro last week, will be tried in the 20th district court tomorrow.

Judge Honner in the 30th district court is preparing to take up the criminal cases in which indictments were returned by the grand jury last week so as to have them disposed of before the adjournment of his court here on March 4th.

London, Feb. 21—Young married men who have not enlisted are soon to receive the attention of a new office which is considering bringing pressure to bear upon them to induce them to join the army.

The suit had not been filed this afternoon and it was not known just what action would be taken, though the prospects are that the manliness will be asked.

Private advices from Young county are that charges may be brought against some officials there in connection with acts of the present administration. The nature of the respective charges has not been definitely ascertained.

Military preparedness to an extent sufficient to defend this nation's rights and protect her from foreign invasion was advocated Sunday morning at the First M. E. Church, in a sermon by the pastor, Rev. C. C. Brannon, who discussed the European war and the question of a world peace.

What we need, he said, is that our ports be guarded with great guns equal to those of any nation in the world; an army of trained soldiers, paid for by the great fortunes taxed for their support; roadways across the continent by which we could send our soldiers across the country at the rate of 25 miles an hour; and in building them increase our facilities for marketing our farm products; an army of 1000 or more airships well manned and ready to take care of that part of modern warfare.

When we were a little handful of folks and had no army and no navy, England then with a navy as much superior to ours as it is today, met with most ignominious failure. And today with her navy, proud mistress of the seas, she or any nation like her would find that while she has grown, we too have grown.

While advocating a measure of preparedness as a means to lasting peace and not as a means to war, he spoke at some length against war and its horrors. Discussing the recent issue between Secretary Garrison and President Wilson, he contended that Mr. Garrison was the more nearly right of the two.

From the very moment when war was declared in war-crazed Europe, we thought of the futility of armaments, the fearful economic burdens of this present day war craze among the nations; the horror of war as it is, not as the poets sing of it, and drum, and banners and commanders clad in gold braid, toasted with champagne and decorations, but mangled bodies writhing in the trenches, men who do not hate each other, bayoneting each other. It is shown that war cannot be any more necessary between civilized nations than it is between civilized men.

There never was a war that could not have been avoided. The war was the result of the nations of the world in the past and we know that every one of them was wrong that they could have been avoided and the nation that has been least at fault, that has from the other lands, even the result of their deeds of cruelty are unnumberable and unnameable and fill with indescribable horror those who read of such deeds in war.

And I think we are amply able to care for our coast lines in that respect. The life of those great sea guns of which we are so much afraid is only twenty shots. What great harm they can do in destroying the coast lines is very little in comparison to the great and costly navy which cannot touch. The combined battleships of the world cannot land more than three hundred and eighty thousand soldiers on our coast at one time. And that rate they never could land enough men to do us any material damage. England and Germany are fighting for the commerce of the world and for the food-stuff of the world. And Germany says to the neutrals, why do we force you to wear a yellow star? Because we are wearing power can come to our land and trail our flag in the dust, for it is the flag of a nation that believes in peace and not war, and that believes that Jesus Christ should rule and reign in the hearts of men and nations forever.

The failure of the English to take the Dardanelles, a colossal failure, showing its weakness as masters of the seas.

Conservation stands sentinel over the natural resources of our country, and forbids wanton destruction of forests, mines and animal life.

Conservation multiplies the by-products of industry, and changes waste into profit. It is conservation that turns rags into mildred's dainty note paper.

It is conservation that gathers together worn out garments, discarded sheets, carpets, and similar objects which have served their useful purposes. In the General's big roofing mills, these are macerated, saturated, sterilized and beaten into pulp, which finally comes out of the rollers in one continuous sheet of clean, strong roofing felt.

It is then thoroughly saturated with the General's own blend of soft asphalt and coated with a blend of harder asphalt, which keeps the inner saturation soft and prevents the drying-out process so destructive to the ordinary roofing. This explains why out-lasts other roofing; also why the General can safely guarantee it for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to ply. Experience has proved that CERTAIN-TEED will out last the period of guarantee.

The General makes one third of all the rolls of roofing made in America. Because of this enormous production, and the economies due to cheap power, modern machinery and favorably located mills, the General is able to make the best roofing at the lowest cost.

CERTAIN-TEED is made in rolls; also in slate-surfaced shingles. There is a type of CERTAIN-TEED for every kind of building, with flat or pitched roofs, from the largest skyscraper to the smallest residence or out-building.

CERTAIN-TEED is sold by responsible dealers all over the world, at reasonable prices. Investigate it before you decide on any type of roof.

FARM AGENTS IN SESSION TODAY

AGRICULTURAL WORKERS FROM OVER WEST TEXAS MEETING HERE

REMAIN THREE DAYS

Discussion of Methods and Reading of Reports at This Morning's Session

Government agricultural agents from about a score of Northwest Texas counties this morning began a three days' session here, the purpose of the meeting being to hear papers on agricultural subjects and to discuss methods, exchange experiences. The sessions are being held at the St. James hotel.

It is likely that an automobile trip through the oil fields, the demonstration plants and through the irrigated district, will be included in the entertainment features of the meeting.

W. M. Ganzer of Denton, district agent for North Texas, is presiding over the meeting and a number of members of the faculty of A. & M. College will be here before the meeting is over.

This morning's program included a paper by J. W. Campbell, agent for the Wichita-Archer district, on soil bed preparation and a paper by H. M. Means of Vernon, of "How to Interest Farmers in Growing Potatoes." Judge R. E. Huff, president of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, addressed the agents along general lines, discussing the importance of arousing the farmers to the need for better methods; he urged the work that has already been done and said it had meant much to the county.

This afternoon reports of the different agents are being received and features of each reported discussed by the others.

Those attending this morning's session included W. G. Arns of Mitchell, district agent for East Texas; W. M. Midkiff of Memphis; R. E. Math of Childress; S. F. Jones of Wellington; H. Denton of Amarillo; Sam Williams of Cleburne; J. T. Egan of Seymour; A. M. Lathan of Montague; J. L. Gable of Water; W. C. Calvert of Sweetwater; H. M. Means of Vernon; Tom Frank of Jackboro; W. A. Bill of Colorado City; S. A. Miner of Abilene; J. W. Campbell of Wichita Falls; W. M. Ganzer of Denton; Clarence Owsley of College Station; W. R. Ferguson, Judge R. E. Huff, J. L. Jackson and others. Messrs. Wilson were also present at the meeting.

Among those due to come in later for talks are Messrs. Jones, Seth Holman, Blodgett, C. C. French and H. H. Williamson of College Station.

Market Report

Fort Worth Livestock.
Fort Worth, Feb. 21.—Cattle receipts 1225, strong; heavy $6.50 to $7.45; hog receipts 1000, steady; bulk $7.75 to $8. Sheep receipts 600, steady; lambs $8.50 to $10.50.

Chicago Grain.
Chicago, Feb. 21.—Wheat—dropped in value today as a result of lower quotations from Liverpool and been more liberal receipts here and in the northwest. Opening prices which ranged from 5-8 and 3-4 to 2 and 1-8 down with May at 1.25 1/2 to 1.27 and July at 1.21 1/8 to 1.22 were followed by a slight additional decline. Corn and oats turned down gradually with wheat. Decided breaks ensued in wheat, the sequel to a lack of export buying. The close was unsettled 1 7/8 to 2 1/8 and 2 1/4 net lower with May at 1.24 5/8 to 3 1/4 and July at 1.20 1/2.

New York Cotton.
New York, Feb. 21.—There was a renewal of scattering local liquidation

Ready!—"Roll Your Own!"

A fresh, lively "roll your own" cigarette of "Bull" Durham is as quickening and inspiring as the roll of drums or the "get busy" notes of a bugle call. "Bull" Durham is the smoke of the red-blooded—the bright and breezy smoke that goes with youthful enthusiasm and energy.

GENUINE "BULL" DURHAM SMOKING TOBACCO

No other tobacco in the world has the unique, mellow-sweet mildness or the delightful aromatic fragrance of "Bull" Durham.

Made of rich, ripe Virginia-North Carolina leaf, "Bull" Durham has that distinctive, exclusive quality which has made it the favorite smoke of three generations.

AT THE THEATRES

The Lydia Margaret, Edward Connelley is featured in "Marse Covington," a five part special picture.

The Gem. Today's attraction at this Gem is a four part Kaleid. "The Glory of Youth," Inez Bauer and Robert Ellis are featured.

The Majestic. Today's program contains an extra special feature in "My Lady's Slipper" a Vitagraph Blue Ribbon with Earl Williams and Anita Stewart starred. The story is a recast of the courtier period of French history.

The Empress. Victor Moore is presented today at the Empress in "Chimmie Fadden Out West," a Paramount which follows the original production of "Chimmie Fadden," in which Mr. Moore created the title role.

Chimmie Fadden is a character of American literature likely to live as long as Tom Sawyer or other famous youths of fiction. Chimmie is city bred. He is a product of the bowery, with all the instincts and mannerisms of the city ruffian, whose vision of life is limited by sky scrapers and stone pavements.

What happens to Chimmie when he goes to the far West, becomes a mining prospector and tries the simple life is most interestingly told in "Chimmie Fadden Out West."

Mr. Cecil B. De Mille, Director General of the Lasky Feature Play Company is the producer of "Chimmie Fadden Out West."

ALL STAR CAST IN FOX "GREEN-EYED MONSTER"

Tuesday the Majestic theatre has on its program a Fox feature, "Green-eyed Monster," a Fox masterpiece with Genevieve Hamper and Robert Mantell in the leading roles. Stuart Holmes takes the part of the older brother whose consuming jealousy furnishes the theme of the story. The cast is an extensive one and contains a number of splendid actors, among them the child prodigy, Charles Williams, who is seen as Paul, the son of Raymond De Morney, played by Mr. Mantell.

TWO KILLED; KATY TRAIN IS DITCHED

boxes crashed against the side of the toppling coach. The hides prevented any of them striking his body, although a trunk struck his foot.

Passengers suffer little. The passengers so far as could be learned, were not at all the worse for their experience. Everything happened so quickly that it was over before anyone realized what happened, and there was little excitement. They were rather excitedly jolted and few were thrown from their seats, but considering the seriousness of the wreck, they suffered very little. The relief train took them back to Henrietta yesterday afternoon.

News of the accident was received here within a few minutes after the wreck and a relief train with physicians, work crews and a number of officials, left at once for the scene, arriving shortly after 3 o'clock. Division Engineer Montgomery, Chief Clerk H. E. Bragg, Trainmaster Moore and a number of others from the local offices and shops were on the scene. There was little for the local physicians to do when they arrived, medical attention having already been given by Henrietta doctors to the two injured. W. L. Kellogg, superintendent of motive power, was a passenger on the train as was P. A. Quinn, superintendent of the car department.

Wichitans Visited Scene. A hundred or more automobile loads of Wichitans went to the scene during Sunday afternoon and watched the efforts of the railroad men to extricate Alder's body, which was in plain sight in the cab. Shortly after 4 o'clock it was removed, and taken to Henrietta. A large force of men was put to work repairing the broken track and within less than six hours after the wreck it was in such shape that traffic could be resumed.

Both Cassidy and Alder had been in the service of the Katy for many years, and were trusted, capable employees. Though their homes were at Denison, they were often in Wichita Falls and were well known to members of the local railroad fraternity. Cassidy has a wife and six children and Alder is survived by his widow. The bodies of Cassidy and Alder were taken to Denison last night, No. 12 being made up and run through as soon as the track was clear. Fireman Calhoun and Express Messenger Gaskill also returned to Denison. Calhoun was taken to a Henrietta hotel following the accident and rested there until the train left.

Cassidy had been with the Katy more than 25 years and Alder had been in the service for about 20 years. The funerals will probably be held tomorrow afternoon at Denison.

Few Wichitans on Train. A. C. Plusche of 1665 Elizabeth street, this city, was mail clerk on the train, being on the second car, which left the track but did not fall down the embankment. He was severely shaken and jolted, but was not injured.

Few of the passengers on the train were from Wichita Falls. Among the Wichitans on board was Mrs. Al Hutchinson, wife of a local railroad man. Mr. Hutchinson learned of the wreck within a short time, and left V. S. Frazier, Al Hawkins and L. L. Loftin, local railroad men, made a quick trip to the scene in Mr. Frazier's automobile. He found Mrs. Hutchinson safe and sound and little the worse for her experience.

In line with the liberal policy of the Katy in such cases, every facility and assistance were afforded local newspaper men in obtaining the facts and details of the wreck.

Frank Kell on Train. Frank Kell of this city was a passenger on the train and was reading a newspaper on the rear coach. He was shaken up, but sustained no injuries.

Mr. Kell went forward to the engine immediately to see if he could be of any assistance and finding there was nothing he could do, he hailed a passing automobile and went to Ringgold, taking the Rock Island train there for Kansas City, where he had an engagement today.

The cause of the wreck will be ascertained by a board of inquiry. It may have been due to some defect in the equipment, to an obstruction on the track or to some fault in the operation of the train. No blame is being advanced by the officials as to just what was wrong.

The engine, No. 223 had come only recently from the Denison shops where it had undergone repairs. It had been in service for a dozen years or more. J. W. Williams of Denison was conductor of the train. He was in the rear coach when the crash came, going at once to the engine.

WHAT TEXAS CONGRESS OF MOTHERS HAS DONE AND IS TRYING TO DO TO BETTER CONDITIONS FOR CHILDREN OF THE STATE

The recent observance of "Child Welfare Day" has aroused interest in the Mothers' organizations and the of the Texas Congress of Mothers as set forth in each delivered by Mrs. J. W. Lee Thursday evening at the anniversary meeting will be timely.

The Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers' Association was organized in Dallas by Mrs. Ella Caruthers Porter in 1909. Its aims and purposes are:

To raise the standards of home and school and to bring parent and teacher into closer relation with each other.

To develop a wiser, better trained parenthood.

To increase the efficiency of schools and to extend their service into the life of the community.

To promote the establishment of kindergartens.

To arouse men and women to a sense of their responsibility for conditions which affect childhood.

To create a public sentiment for such legislation as will advance the educational, economic and social standards of Texas.

To enlist sympathy and enduring help for the blamelessly dependent and neglected children of the state.

Good homes, good schools, a wholesome community life are the objects of our concentrated effort, and these are the influences that guide parents in the selection of a new home.

What Has Been Accomplished

Established the first picture show censors.

Assisted in collecting funds for the Training School for Girls.

Inaugurated educational campaign for birth registration and for the prevention of blindness and the providing of county health officers and rural visiting nurses.

Introduced bills providing for physical examination in public schools.

Encouraged and held baby health conferences.

Work of Local Branches.

Twenty-five thousand dollars spent for the enrichment of school life and the general well being of Texas children last year.

They have striven for better school buildings, more attractive grounds and school rooms and playground apparatus.

Supplying domestic science and manual training equipment in schools. The use of school building as social centers.

Sanitary drinking fountains, pure water and wholesome school lunches.

Objects of a Child Welfare Campaign.

Save the babies.

Safeguard boys and girls.

Give youth high ideals of marriage and home-making.

Educate fathers and mothers in child nurture.

Ering home church, school and school (9170th) streets.

Some what after the national guard of the United States. The Mexican embassy announced today that the plan is to be put into execution as soon as details can be worked out. General Carranza and his party, the embassy has advised, have left Guadaluajara for Colima.

Have representation on a municipal board of public welfare and on executive boards of several state organizations furthering the educational and general social welfare advancement of Texas.

NATIONAL GUARD IS PLANNED IN MEXICO.

By Associated Press. Washington, Feb. 21—Carranza army estimated at 100,000 men is to be gradually reduced and supplemented by a national guard patterned somewhat after the national guard of the United States. The Mexican embassy announced today that the plan is to be put into execution as soon as details can be worked out. General Carranza and his party, the embassy has advised, have left Guadaluajara for Colima.

THE SIREN'S SONG

With Charles Trowbridge and Mlle. Diane

Mlle. Diane in "The Siren's Song"

is a song of death and so it almost proved for John Grey, who, enticed into bad company by Helen Granger's wiles, battles with his destroyer to the death on an ocean liner, to be hurled hundreds of feet to raging sea below.

He escaped by miracle and later paid his debt of hate to both Helen Granger and Blake—How? See the fighting chances against death that an actor takes in order to furnish realism for the lovers of thrilling scenes in moving pictures. Chas. Trowbridge who plays the hero role, took life in his hands when he was thrown overboard falling 75 feet into the sea.

The story is not confined to sensation but has a delightful love theme throughout. No advance in the price for this three-reel masterpiece.

Everybody Thinking About It

Corena Typewriter

Lightest and smallest of all Standard Typewriters; it not only the lightest type bar machine made, but it is also the most compact, visible writing, full width, universal keyboard, two color ribbon, ball bearing carriage and back spacer. These are only a few of its good points. It is an ideal typewriter for personal use, in the office, at home, or on the road. This little machine is a wonder. You can't realize their full value until you try one. They enable you to get your work up in much better shape; are light and can be carried anywhere, and you have all the advantages one has on larger machines. Price with travelling case $50.00. Terms may be had. For further particulars see us. See our window.

WE ARE KEPT PRETTY BUSY

Most of the time tending strictly to our own business—trying to give the public the very best goods and service.

BUT—It having been brought to our notice that a certain class of house to house coffee peddlers spend a good deal of their time and energy telling the housewife that we know nothing about the coffee business—we will stop the roaster long enough to remark that it is more than probable that we were experimenting with—testing, blending, buying and roasting coffee while our critics were pulling the bell cord over a mule—and some of them at least were wearing as their chief article of apparel a garment folded diagonally. We have spent twenty-five of the best years of our life in a careful, and painstaking study of the coffee berry and its best development in the cup and feel that we can without egotism claim some knowledge of the business. We realize that every knock's a boost and the true test is in the cup.
