MOVEMENT TO AID MAIMED SOLDIERS

Americans Will Aid in Teaching Them Useful Trades That They Can Follow

By Associated Press. New York, Feb. 28.—Thirty thousand maimed French soldiers are pleading for work, and the opportunity to be educated to make themselves useful in the labor world of their country.

"Build a bridge that will lead him from the hospital over into a normal life," Mrs. Baylies urges, in discussing the maimed soldier of the French Republic. "We have been owing France through a hundred years for that little matter of first aid in our American Revolution."

The American committee which has established headquarters at the Plaza Hotel in this city, regards its task in the light of "charity to do away with the need of charity." It requires from three to six months for one of these war dependants to pass through this period of instruction.

The committee in France knew of one soldier who, having lost an arm while fighting on the Marne, drifted from shop to shop in search of a chance to support himself, and turned away because he knew no trade which he could follow with his one arm.

J. W. CHESTNUT'S CONDITION CONTINUES FAVORABLE

The condition of Jerry W. Chestnut of Abilene, who sustained a broken leg in the automobile accident near Ballinger Friday in which J. E. Wild of the Producers Company was killed, continues favorable, according to reports received here.

The accident occurred when the men in the auto tried to cross the railroad just ahead of the Santa Fe passenger train which is due at Ballinger at 9:30 and according to eye witnesses who said the engine of the auto went dead, and the train was so close the parties did not have time to leave the car.

The auto, a brand new five passenger Dodge, bearing an Abilene number, was crushed by an Abilene street car, and carried for a distance of thirty-three yards. Pieces of the car were strewn along the track and no part of the car escaped damage, and it is a complete loss.

Wild's body was carried twenty-nine yards beyond the car, of some two yards from where the train struck the auto. The man's head was crushed beyond recognition, brains being scattered along the track.

The driver of the engine was killed, Chestnut was on the front seat of the auto with Wild, and was attempting to leave the car when the train struck it, and he escaped death by being knocked free from the wreckage.

Chestnut says that the engine of the auto did not go dead on the crossing, and that they did not know the train was coming until it was too late to stop the car.

SAYS PIPE LINES ARE IN CONTROL

The net earnings, before deducting interest of the companies which operate the five pipe line systems in the mid continent field have been 19.33 per cent on the net investment for the three year period, 1911 to 1913.

"The significance of pipe line rates has been appreciated by showing the rate of return on investment which would be obtained if all the oil shipped the interests owning the pipe lines were charged the tariff rates at which the pipe line offers to take the oil of other shippers. Taking all these pipe lines together, the net investment aggregated in 1913 $43,567,000; the cost of transportation pipe line, including depreciation on investment, $10,521,000; and the gross receipts which would have been obtained if tariff rates had been charged on all the oil carried, $28,837,000.

"The report goes into minimum quantity requirements of the pipe lines, which it charges, excludes smaller concerns. "Conditions made regarding the minimum quantity of oil which will be accepted for shipment, it says, are such that the small oil producer or refiner is virtually precluded from using this method of transportation."

"The really difficult problem for pipe lines acting as common carriers would appear to arise when the shipments offered exceed the capacity of the line and in that case some equitable rule would have to be determined for apportioning shipments. Furthermore, there is no opportunity to get cheaper transportation by other means, because the rail rates are higher still." The report concludes: "Urges Lower Rates."

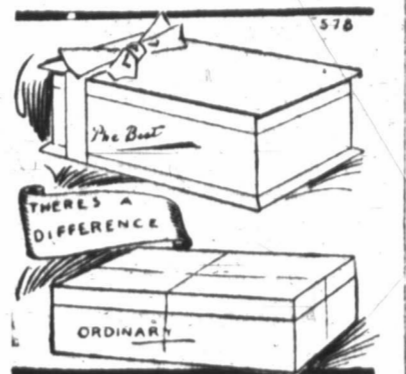

"The contention is evident that lower rates and equitable shipping requirements by pipe line are necessary in order to make pipe line carriers in fact as well as in law and that the prosperity and perhaps even the existence of many small concerns are dependent upon reasonable and equitable shipping conditions."

"Lower pipe line rates and reasonable pipe line shipping requirements would enable many small producers and refiners to transport crude oil from the mid continent field by pipe line which are now unable to do so, and would therefore, tend to equalize competition in the sale of crude oil by increasing it in some markets where it is slight or non-existent, and by reducing it in others where it is extraordinarily keen. While the natural disadvantage of location of the mid continent field with respect

Of the largest consuming markets cannot be removed, the artificial disadvantage due to high pipe line rates and shipping requirements can be eliminated.

"The removal of these artificial disadvantages would tend to a greater equality in the prices of mid continent and Appalachian crude oil and consequently the prices of the refined products which are made from them would tend to be more equal in different markets of the United States. Whether the general level of prices of refined products would be 5 per cent reduced or kept at a lower level would depend chiefly upon the movement of the prices of crude oil. Such prices, under conditions of free competition in purchase and sale would be determined by supply and demand. Competition would be uniform, however, and more equitable conditions established by the removal of these artificial disadvantages imposed on the mid continent field."

NORTHWEST TEXAS GRAIN IS DAMAGED

Cold Weather, Lack of Moisture and Green Bugs Mentioned in Report

Wheat in Northwest Texas has been damaged 20 per cent by cold weather, 20 per cent by lack of moisture and five per cent by green bugs, according to reports just given out by H. B. Dorsey, secretary of the Texas Grain Dealers' Association in the report, the Northwest Texas district extends from Fort Worth west to Abilene and northwest to Memphis. The per cent of damage in this section is estimated as follows: Damage from freezing, wheat 20 2/3, oats 59 per cent; Damage from lack of moisture, wheat 20; oats 23 1/2 per cent; Damage from green bugs, wheat 5, oats 19 per cent.

Reports from the Panhandle district were as follows (per cent): Damage from freezing, wheat 25; damage from lack of moisture, wheat 37, oats 33. Most of the damage from this section has been due to lack of moisture in many of the investigators learned that only had never sprouted and that spring oats could not be sown until rains fall soon.

Mr. Dorsey's report indicates that the yield of the wheat crop of Texas will be less than half as great as it was last year and oats will show a decrease of three-fourths of the crop of last year. These reports have been collected from all sections of the State and show that damage has been caused by freezing, lack of moisture, excessive moisture and ravages of the green bugs. By taking an average of the damage from the five sections into which the grain field is divided, the reports show that wheat has been damaged 55 per cent and that oats have suffered 72 per cent from all or a part of the four causes.

Secretary Dorsey says the reports have been made with the small-grain crops of last year as a basis for comparison and that he is firmly convinced the damages is fully as great as his averages indicate.

In some cases he was informed that the damage had been so destructive that farmers would plow up all small grains and sow spring oats, provided the proper season is possible. The reports came from the sections of the State that produce the entire grain crop. About 150 counties and localities are represented. The secretary thinks the reports are representative and believes that the loss of the Texas wheat and oats is probably in the papers now on file in his office.

Figures secured from counties of Northwest Texas are as follows (per cent): Wheat Oats Damage from freezing 41 73; Damage from lack of moisture 20 23 1/2; Damage from excessive moisture 10 10; Damage from green bugs 5 19. In this district are included the counties south of the Red River to the counties of Ellis and Johnson and as far west as a line north from Fort Worth to the Red river. The damage seems to have been greatest in Cooke, Collin, Denton and Grayson counties. Some of the reports are to the effect that the yield over large areas would not be one-tenth as great as that of last year. In the South Texas district is included that part of the State directly south of the North Texas section extending as far west as Blanco. Twenty-five reports from this section gave the following averages (per cent): Wheat Oats Damage from freezing 20 44; Damage from excessive moisture 20 10; Damage from green bugs 10 10. Later reports from this section are to the effect that green bugs have appeared with the present warm weather and that the damage from this source will probably be greater than the average.

MANY TANK STEAMERS BEING BUILT BY STANDARD

By Associated Press. New York, Feb. 28.—The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey has begun the construction of thirteen large tank steamers which will cost about $1,000,000 each, according to an announcement made by John B. Archbold, president of the company before his departure for Porto Rico. The other companies of the Standard Oil group are building 36 additional tankers, he said. All these new vessels will be completed as speedily as possible. "The demand for oil is tremendous," Mr. Archbold declared, "we could sell all the oil we produce if there were enough ships to carry it for us."

GREATER REGARD FOR LAW IS URGED

Judge P. A. Martin Speaks at the First Baptist Church Sunday Evening

A plea for greater regard for the law and a warning against the present day tendency to disrespect constituted authority, were voiced Sunday night at the First Baptist church, by Judge P. A. Martin. Judge Martin was the first of a series of lay speakers to be heard at this church, his subject being "The Dignity of the Law."

Judge Martin quoted the words of Christ, "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's." One of the first duties of religious people, he said, was to obey the law and to respect constituted authority.

Men who do their jury service were criticized by Judge Martin, who said that the practice was one of the leading causes for disregard of the law.

One of the greatest dangers of the day and one of the inherent weaknesses of the present civilization, said Judge Martin, was the growing spirit of disregard for constituted authority. There was no one, he contended, of the freedom of speech and of the press, and this abuse lay in the making of speeches and the dissemination of literature seeking to bring into disrepute the laws and those charged with enforcing them.

Discussing the duties of citizenship, Judge Martin pointed to jury-dodging and failure to exercise the right to vote as two tendencies that should be counteracted. There were too many men, he said, who gave flimsy excuses and disqualified themselves by improper means, when called to serve on juries.

Judge Martin spoke of the importance of beginning early in life to respect the laws of the country, and said children should be taught to respect not only the laws in which they live, but all laws. He said one potent factor in the development of the wonderful fighting machine of Germany, which had enabled that country so far to carry on the war almost entirely on enemy soil, was the fact that in Germany respect for authority began with the Kaiser and extending down to the family itself, was taught to every child.

"At the close of this great conflict," said Judge Martin, "even if this country is kept out of the struggle, as I hope and believe it will, the civilization of the world will depend largely upon America. The European countries at war will lose their standards of civilization to a large extent. Thousands of Europeans will emigrate to this country to escape the tremendous burdens of taxation, and they will bring with them different ideas of civilization and of government."

"It will behoove us then to hold rigidly to our American institutions and ideals and to inculcate a love for country not only among those who come to us, but among our own people as well."

In the course of his talk Judge Martin referred to the recent raid on the negro quarter of the city in which about 50 arrests were made. He did not criticize the officers who made the arrests, but suggested that had they desired they could have arrested an equal number of whites not very far away on as good grounds.

RAILROAD OFFICIAL SAVES YOUNG MAN

W. M. Langford Pulls Youth to Place of Safety From in Front of Train

W. M. Langford, general yard master for the Fort Worth & Denver probably saved the life of a young man Sunday afternoon when the southbound Denver pulled into the station. Mr. Langford was there to cut the train and the young man was about to cross the tracks on which the southbound was coming in, to catch another train. Not seeing the approaching train, the man walked directly in front of the engine and it was only the quickness of Mr. Langford that saved him from being run over. The engine was only a few inches from the man when Mr. Langford pulled him to safety.

COLDER WEATHER PREVAILING HERE

Temperature Near Freezing This Morning—Change is Generally Welcomed

Near freezing temperatures were recorded here this morning, the balmy weather giving way Sunday to climate more in keeping with the calendar. There was a brisk north wind Sunday, which grew more severe as the day progressed, while this morning the thermometer registered only slightly above the freezing mark.

The change is welcomed by fruit growers who had feared that continuance of the warm weather would cause buds to open and make serious damage to the crop almost certain by the event of a freeze in March. The cloudy skies this morning gave some promise of rain, which would be welcomed by wheat farmers and by those who have recently been planting oats.

Tomorrow To Keep Father Time From Getting Overdrawn

Tomorrow is February 29, the "odd" day that is slipped into the calendar every four years in order to square accounts with Father Time and keep him from getting overdrawn at the Bank of Eternity. While 365 days are supposed to constitute a year, marking the completion of the earth's circuit of its orbit, it really requires five hours and some minutes more than 365 days for the earth to make the round trip. In this way an extra day is accumulated about every four years, and were this accumulation allowed to pile up indefinitely, it would get to be so eventually that the day before yesterday was really the day after tomorrow.

An extra day every four years does not quite equalize matters, however, so three of them are omitted every four centuries, on the century years that are not divisible by 400. The year 1900 was divisible by four but not by 400 and consequently was not a leap year—and girls who asked young men to marry them in that year were guilty of a faux pas.

Tomorrow is therefore brought with various possibilities. If you should get married tomorrow, you wouldn't have to buy any anniversary presents for your wife for four years. If a child should be born tomorrow, it would be four years old before he had a birthday; think of celebrating your first birthday, when you were four years old. It would be much better to wait until Wednesday to be born, under the circumstances.

The calendar makers showed a rare sense of justice by tacking the extra day onto February, which needed it worse than any other month.

Chicago Grain. By Associated Press. Chicago, Feb. 28.—Business over the strained relations between Germany and the United States cut down the price of wheat today five cents a bushel. Selling out of holdings reached a big aggregate. After opening unchanged to 34-down with May at 1.12 7/8 to 1.13 1/2 and July at 1.14 to 1.15 5/8 prices here dropped all around to 2 1/2 cents under Saturday's finish. The last sales were at 1.09 a net decline of four and a half cents.

New York Cotton. By Associated Press. New York, Feb. 28.—Cotton showing renewed nervousness early today although Liverpool was better than due. Tuxedo

The combination of the best smoking-tobacco leaf in the world and the best method ever discovered for refining and mellowing tobacco puts Tuxedo in a class by itself.

Kentucky's ripest, mildest Burley leaf, when treated by the original "Tuxedo Process" loses every trace of bite—develops a wonderfully pleasing fragrance and flavor that are not found in any other tobacco.

No other manufacturer knows the "Tuxedo Process"; that's why no imitator ever equals Tuxedo!

of the camera which far surpasses in realism and interest the limitations of the stage that forced the use in the theater of a plot which permitted the appearance of only one of the characters on the stage at one time. Photography has rendered possible strict adherence to the original of the charming tale, and in the future it will be to the motion picture that the public will turn for the greatest enjoyment of the story which it has learned so to love and revere.

The Majestic.
Today's picture is a multiple reel feature, "The Passing of the Oklahoma Outlaw," which has been filmed under the direction of the United States Marshal Tilgham. For twenty-five years United States Marshal "Bill" Tilgham has been fighting outlaws. Fifty-two officers of the law who rode with him on campaigns against the bandits have been shot to death and scores of others were wounded in pitched battles. Mr. Tilgham has been shot six times, but "Bill" is still "on the job," and says he will never quit until he dies.

"Bill" Tilgham went to Oklahoma in 1889 and at once took up the warfare against the many bands of desperadoes that infested that country. In 1895, President Grover Cleveland sent Edward Nix to Oklahoma as United States marshal, with a special appropriation to "clean up Oklahoma." The first man, Marshal Nix met in the southwest was "Bill" Tilgham, and Tilgham became chief deputy. At once the war upon the outlaws began in earnest. During the four years that Nix remained in office the worst gangs were completely killed off. But Tilgham had a love for battle, and he has remained active to this day. Only last March he tracked down and captured Henry Starr, the notorious bank robber. He shot Starr and personally placed him under arrest.

A few months ago Edward Nix and "Bill" Tilgham formed a film company. They got together all the outlaws who were still alive and out of jail and all the men who had fought those outlaws as members of possees. They filmed those early adventures on the very ground where the bandit once lived and robbed and loved and battled, and every incident was given before the camera just as it originally occurred.

"PARISIAN ROMANCE" AT THE MAJESTIC TUESDAY.

"A Parisian Romance" is the Fox feature which is to be featured on the Tuesday program at the Majestic theater.

A cast of exceptional merit is seen in the William Fox production of the Richard Mansfield version of "A Parisian Romance," starring H. Cooper Cliffe and Dorothy Green. Mr. Cliffe is the well-known English actor and Miss Green is one of the greatest photoplay favorites.

Other well-known players include Margaret Shyrin, as Therese; Angelica Spier, as Marcelle; Isabel O'Madigan, as Mme. de Tarry; Clarence Herbage, as Monsieur Beauchamp; Harold Hartzel, as Monsieur de Tarry; Dion Fithersage, as Henri de Tarry; Adolph Monjon, as Julian; Mrs. Cecil Raleigh, as Mme. de Lavelle; Emile J. de Varney, as the valet.

The Lydia Margaret.
Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne, the two most popular stars on the screen, who are now appearing exclusively in Metro pictures produced by the Quality Pictures Corporation, will be seen here at the Lydia Margaret theater today in the five part feature picture, "Pennington's Choice." This production will be a decided treat for motion picture patrons for neither Mr. Bushman nor Miss Bayne ever appeared in any previous picture to better advantage. In the role of a wealthy young New York clubman, who must prove his worth among the woodsmen in Northern Canada, before the girl of his choice will consent to marry him, Mr. Bushman has the greatest opportunity of his career. Not only does he give a faithful portrayal of the debonair clubman, but because of his wonderful physique and marvelous muscular powers, he appears to great advantage in a difficult

"THE ETERNAL CITY"

HALL CAINE'S GREATEST NOVEL DRAMATIZED. THE PHOTO PLAY REVELATION OF THE AGE.

Produced amid the grandeur and beauty of modern Rome, under the direction of Edwin S. Porter and Hugh Ford. This amazing photo-spectacle marks a new era in dramatic picturization. For the first time in the history of motion pictures the Vatican Gardens, the Coliseum, St. Peter's, the Castle of St. Angelo's, and many other historic and impressive spots in the Imperial City have been used as settings for a screen production. No summary of bare facts can adequately describe the astounding power and charm of the subject. The pictorial version of Hall Caine's thrilling romance presents the stirring incidents and climaxes, the nobility and tragedy, the elements of love and betrayal and the beautiful ideals and humanities of the original plot, with a wider range, in truer colors and with bolder strokes than were possible in the novel or play and will therefore render the inspiring story its greatest measure of immortality.

AT THE THEATRES

The Empress.

Today's offering is the Paramount production, "The Prince and the Pauper," a filmization of Mark Twain's famous story.

Marguerite Clark, who is featured in the dual role of the "Prince and the Pauper" reaches the artistic climax of her career in her marvelous interpretation of these distinctly different, yet closely associated characters. Her exquisite artistry was never displayed to better advantage than in her spirited enacting of the charming prince and her sympathetic portrayal of the pathetic little beggar.

The Lydia Margaret.

The film has given unlimited opportunity for the display of directorial skill in the use of the double exposure in those scenes which show both of the youthful characters on the screen at the same time. Marvellous illusions have been created by the art of the camera which far surpasses in realism and interest the limitations of the stage that forced the use in the theater of a plot which permitted the appearance of only one of the characters on the stage at one time. Photography has rendered possible strict adherence to the original of the charming tale, and in the future it will be to the motion picture that the public will turn for the greatest enjoyment of the story which it has learned so to love and revere.

role in the woods. Miss Bayne is equally as well suited in her part, first shown in a New York drawing room and afterward as her "supposed" twin sister, "tramping wild in the Canadian woods." Never before have these two stars had such an opportunity to prove their versatility. A strong cast appears in support of Mr. Bushman and Miss Bayne, including Wellington Playter, Lester Cuneo, Helen Dunbar and William Farris.

The Gem.

L. C. Shumway and Adda Gleason are featured in a four part Lubin drama, "The Bond Within" on today's program at the Gem theater. The story has a military thread running throughout the strong plot and is one that will be of universal interest.

"FRECKLES" ATTRACTION AT WICHITA THEATRE TONIGHT

"Freckles" a dramatization of the pleasing novel of that name by Gene Stratton Porter, will be presented tonight at the Wichita Theatre. The play is declared to have all of the plot, adventure and comedy which made the book so popular, and the company which will present it tonight ranks as an excellent one. It is considered one of the season's best attractions at this theatre, and comes highly recommended by press and patrons at other places where it has appeared.

Chambers of the Chief Justice.
"To have the drama which it took years to enact in real life vividly and faithfully flashed before my eyes within the course of an hour or two proved to be an experience altogether novel, exciting, instructive and pleasurable. I cannot conceive how anything but good can result from public exhibition of your films."
MATTHEW J. KANE, Chief Justice.

ST. LOUIS REPUBLIC:

"Thus it was that a real outlaw movie was staged down in the Oklahoma country with a banker, judge and business men taking the parts that had been theirs in the early days. They were all men who had taken part in outlaw extermination."

FIFTY-THREE MEN MADE THE SACRIFICE, AND GAVE THEIR LIVES IN THE EARLY DAYS THAT LAW AND ORDER MIGHT PREVAIL AND JUSTICE MIGHT NOT PERISH. TO THE MEMORY OF THESE MEN, AND AS A RECORD OF THEIR SACRIFICES IS THIS PICTURE DEDICATED

Stranger than fiction is truth, and nothing more thrilling than history. The picture shows the outlaws in every act exactly as it happened, for those of the officers and outlaws who yet remain alive took part in its plans and portrayal. Throughout the whole runs the story that points a staid finger at the emblazoned words, "The way of the transgressor is hard."
So strong is the moral of the picture that ministers, evangelists,

DENVER POST.
"A private exhibition was given of a series of films telling the story of the Doolin-Dalton gang of highwaymen and train robbers of Oklahoma, and in those pictures romance sings once again its marvelous story of adventure and men stand up to death and worse than death, for the sake of their code of honor, and duty, and the smiling eyes of girl."

DAILY OKLAHOMAN:

People whom Oklahoma folk know well and who served under the banner of the law in the early days appear in this picture. "The Passing of the Oklahoma Outlaw" is actual history, more thrilling perhaps than any ever written, for the stirring scenes of the frontier are re-enacted before spectators' eyes."

bankers, congressmen and prominent business men have all acclaimed it at its worth. Ignorance is harmful, but the correctly informed man is forearmed. To know the inevitable result of wrong-doing is an armor of virtue, and stripping the outlaw of the halo of romance that has too long been cast about him this fascinating story of the early days clothes its spectators in that armor.
