

BOND ELECTION LABELED AS DECISIVE FACTOR IN GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT OF FRIONA

(An Editorial)

Monumental action will be taken by citizens of Friona this Saturday.

On this day every voter is duty-bound to register his or her desires regarding city improvements as pertaining to a paving program, waterworks improvement, and housing for the firefighting equipment and city offices.

The Star is supporting this civic improvement program for reasons set forth below, with apologies to no one. We will support passage of the bonds with all our resources. Upon establishing a home-owned, home-operated newspaper in Friona, we pledged ourselves that "A TOWN WORTH LIVING IN IS A TOWN WORTH WORKING FOR," and we will do just that. We are confident you will work with us, we know you will.

There are some who have doubted the advisability of paving, but the public hearing Tuesday night clarified practically every question, we believe, and we also believe the explanations given by qualified men at this meeting were sufficient to cause every straight thinking Friona citizen to pledge full support for progress and sound investment at the Saturday election.

But whatever your desire, NOTE! This is your town and mine. We are the town; our plans and desires are paramount here.

The public meeting was held Tuesday night with both schools of thought regarding the bonds being represented. Many questions were asked; many of the technical points clarified. A disinterested party, who incidentally was peculiarly qualified to advise and enlighten regarding paving projects, provided answers to every query. Ray Cowsert, attorney, represented the paving contractors on the Dimmitt paving job. Soon afterward he represented the city of Hereford during their paving program, thus knowing the problems and quirks peculiar to both sides of the fence. Also present at the meeting, assisting in answering every question, was the city commission, the mayor, the highly-qualified engineer, and neighboring hard-headed businessmen familiar with the problems of paving and waterworks improvement... and the undeniable fruits of such enterprise. Each question from the floor was given undivided attention and answered by qualified persons.

To this editor, every answer established more securely, more clearly, the necessity of taking the forward step of civic improvements, permanent improvements, mind you.

That this paper believes the present city administration absolutely sincere and qualified in its desire to work for the city's interest, to render an honest, working administration, is neither here nor there. Paving and waterworks will outlast scores of city commissions, will weather many storms. Temporary conditions, if any, working undue hardships on any citizen, should be assigned to the background or to personal effort for immediate relief, and the long-range interest of our city should be supported with our every endeavor, our every vote.

Some of the high points of the Tuesday night discussion might well be reviewed here, helping clarify the exact situation now existing and the conditions that will exist as a result of our own choosing by the Saturday ballots. We give you the following findings:

in conjunction with the paving. No person would wish paving ripped in later years for laying of pipes.

AND WATERWORKS IMPROVEMENT IS NECESSARY TO THE ECONOMY AND SAFETY OF FRIONA. Quoted herewith is a letter from Paul H. Brown, State Fire Insurance Commissioner:

"Since your distribution contains a considerable amount of small sized mains for which your rate is penalized heavily, we are going to suggest a general program of improvements looking forward to the installation of all 8-inch mains in your mercantile district and looped 6-inch mains in your residential areas. This is the only way whereby adequate volume of water will ever be available for fighting fires."

The popular accusation of many water consumers is "too high bills." Maybe in an isolated case this could be true. But, fellow citizens, in practically every case, instead of "too high" we would be more correct in saying "higher than they used to be." Why? Friona used to be known far and wide for its wells pumping sand. This was true when the first meters were installed. As late as one year ago, meters were being clogged with sand, IMPAIRING THEIR EFFICIENCY, and 90% OF THEM WOULD FUNCTION ONLY 5 TO 10 DAYS BEFORE THEY STOPPED REGISTERING! And consequently, as firms and individuals were charged only for meter readings, many, many consumers paid a negligible bill for even excessive amounts of water used in their business or home. And there are some who still expect to get by on this ridiculous assessment.

The sand-clogging has been corrected. The city storage tank adequately solved that situation. Now the meters are functioning, and the few that are "irregular" register less water than is actually consumed, the meters are guaranteed by the manufacturer not to register excessively, as it is a mechanical impossibility of their construction.

Have you seen the caution signs on Highway 60 located between the school buildings and football field in Friona?

The sign is a life-size profile of a man, and it is placed in the very center of the pavement during the day, urging careful driving in a zone heavily travelled by students walking to and from the football field and the schools.

Observers report that the through traffic, trucks in particular, has really "slowed up" as a noticeable result of the sign. But still there are local drivers who are heedless of the necessary caution, even knocking the sign down with their cars. This is all foolishness; you and I have more at stake in the Friona schools and the safety of our boys and girls than does any of the through-traffic tourists or truckers. So please, please give the kids a break; it may save a life.

V. C. Kruger, whose property is adjacent to the sign, has been kind enough to place this sign at the center of the pavement each day, returning it at night to the side of the road. Thanks, Mr. Kruger, we only hope your unselfish efforts are not in vain.

Two free theatre tickets to the Regal theatre are being mailed to both Artis Fallwell and Weldon Dickson this week. They were the first to reply to our screwball ad reading: "For Sale—New residence, 1 bathroom located 3 blocks from kitchen and 4 bedrooms. Large living highway 60." It pays to read the classifieds!

Frank Sharman is in town this week getting acquainted. Sharman is associated with Clyde Kilpatrick in the accounting firm recently established in the Buske-Magness office. Welcome to another newcomer to Friona.

Bill Cogdill, together with most every citizen of Friona is apprehensive about the burglaries, robberies, etc. rampant in our town and county. Bill suggests a concrete plan of day and night law protection in Friona, with the city paying for either a day or night man, with the merchants subscribing funds for employment of the other man. May we have more suggestions? Certainly something needs to be done.

Pep Rally Tonight Will Boost Chieftains In Friday Night Tilt With Olton Team

PTA Meeting Time Moved Forward to 7:30 O'clock

Interest in the Friday night home football tilt between the Friona Chiefs and the Olton Mustangs is mounting, with a giant pep rally scheduled for tonight, right after the P. T. A. meeting.

The P. T. A. meet has been moved up to 7:30 o'clock, enabling a pep rally to get underway at 8:30. The band will march through town, accompanied by students and boosters participating in a march, snake dance, etc., and a bonfire and rally will be staged at the football field.

The new bleachers will be used for the first time at this game, one of the three remaining games of the season, all to be played at Friona.

Probable straters for Friona will be Jack Redfeard, lg. J. Vonne Fulk, rg; Jay Cobb, 3b; Frank Reed, fb; Frank Allen, lc; Ross Miller, re; Max Cruise, c; W. L. Cleveland, qb; Darrell Robbins, tb; Doyce Barnett, it; and Walter Haws, rt.

A special half-time program has been announced by band director Glenn Cunningham, who has hinted a number of novelty stunts, a clown band, circus music and formations well worth seeing.

Looters Enter Two Friona Businesses

Burglars again struck Friona last Thursday night, taking property from the Friona Lumber Company and the Friona Consumers Cooperative. The same night, tools were taken from the A. L. Black farm southeast of Friona.

The lumber company safe was carried from the yard, later being found near the highway west of town, minus a small amount of cash, but still containing the books of the firm. Little was found missing at the Consumers although the thieves disarranged quite a bit of stock and papers, evidently searching for money.

Sheriff Lovelace reported this morning no new clues had been found, but that thieves were still rampant in near-by counties through the week.

WEATHER

Note: A weekly weather report with forecast will be run in the Star principally for the benefit of out-of-town subscribers owning interests here, and wishing to keep in contact with local conditions.

Warm and dry for the past week, enabling grain harvest to get underway. Much feed still too moist for storage, however.

Cloudy today, with forecast of warm days throughout the weekend.

Grass Seeder Now On Trial by Local Conservation Dist.

A Hancock grass seeder is now on trial by the local Soil Conservation district, and this seeder is available for a very nominal fee for local use.

With nine 10-inch spacings, it is equipped to handle any kind of grass seed; and it already has sowed over 130 acres in this vicinity.

The seeder is stationed at the Blanton Butane company with Mack Bainum being in charge of its rental. Any interested parties are asked to contact him there.

Study Club Votes Support of Bonds

Members of the Modern Study club voted at their Tuesday meeting to support the proposed bond issues now confronting Friona voters.

During the business session of the club, Carl Maurer and Nelson Welch outlined the program to those present, answering questions submitted.

Ethel Ruth Spring and Lola Goodwine presented a program on Ceramics, explaining the types of ceramics, stages in making them, and they gave a demonstration on how to make a leaf ash tray. Eufaula Ethridge and Sarah Ann Miller assisted with the demonstration. There was an unusual display of pieces that had been made by various people here.

Robbie Osborn sang "The Woodpecker Song" and "Spunks." Sally Osborn rendered a piano solo.

Rhea Foster and Moveida Fortenberry were hostesses to the thirty-three members and the two guests, Sally and Robbie Osborn.

This meeting is being primarily held for all veterans enrolled in the agriculture courses, but anyone interested is invited and welcomed.

Contract Awarded For Lazbuddie Road Improvement

Three and one-half miles of caliche surfacing in the Lazbuddie area was authorized Monday when the Parmer County Commissioners met in special session and awarded contract for the job. This work is designated as being on Farm-to-Market road No. 690, beginning at the east end of the present pavement and extending east to the Lazbuddie store.

Costing $3,750.00 per mile, the contract calls for 40-day completion of a 22-feet wide strip with all proper grading and drainage structures.

Purtell & Jones, Littlefield, are contractors.

Services Are Held For Mrs. Sherrieb, Friona Pioneer

Funeral services for Mrs. E. M. Sherrieb, pioneer Friona resident, were conducted Wednesday afternoon at the First Baptist church in Friona, with Rev. Joe Wilson Floydada, officiating, assisted by Rev. T. B. Allen.

Mrs. Sherrieb, 69 years of age, died at 3:45 o'clock Monday afternoon in the Deaf Smith county hospital at Hereford. She had been ill for a long time.

Vivian Gertrude Sherrieb was born October 7, 1880 in Van Wert county, Ohio. She was almost 70 years of age at the time of her death Oct. 16 in the Deaf Smith county hospital. Mrs. Sherrieb was the daughter of Samuel and Mary Jane Wentz.

She was married on April 12, 1899 to Ernie M. Sherrieb in Van Wert county, Ohio, where they lived until moving to Friona in 1910. They made their home on a farm four miles northeast of town until last year when they moved into Friona.

Mrs. Sherrieb became a Christian and joined the United Brethren church at the age of 14. She later united with the Baptist church of Friona and remained a faithful member until her death.

Surviving her are the husband, Mr. E. M. Sherrieb, two sons, Harry D. Darrowzett, Texas, and Gary Sherrieb, a grandson, Gary Sherrieb of Friona, and a sister, Mrs. W. D. Alspaugh of Elgin, Ohio. One niece, two nephews and many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Galloway of Plainview called on relatives and friends in Friona Sunday afternoon.

Miss Peggy Mayfield has been visiting in California the past two weeks.

Heavy Voting Anticipated At Saturday Polls, Deciding Action on Waterworks, Paving, Fire station and City Hall Bonds

New Officers Are Elected by Farm Bureau of County

Between 275 and 300 people attended the Parmer County Farm Bureau annual meeting at Bovina last Thursday night, at which Congressman Ben Guill was guest speaker.

Congressman Guill urged unity of farmers and ranchers and recommended membership in the farmer's organization to business men who depend upon farm income for their livelihood. In these times of labor and industry unionism, it is necessary that farmers engage in a program of unity if they expect to receive equitable compensation for their efforts in production of the basic raw products of the nation, said Guill.

At the same time, he said, it is important that farmers avoid the urge to become a high-powered pressure group through their organization, thus losing the respect of the consumer.

Farm Bureau's policy is to seek nothing for the producer that would be injurious to labor or industry, it was pointed out. Since farm income has for over 30 years been just one-seventh of the National income, good years an abad, it is deemed imperative that agriculture be kept at a par with general trends to avoid economic chaos.

At the same time, he said, it is important that farmers avoid the urge to become a high-powered pressure group through their organization, thus losing the respect of the consumer.

NEW OFFICERS

Proceeding Congressman Guill's talk, a business session was held, at which officers and directors for the new year were elected. Elected were Bruce Parr, Friona president; James Roach, Farwell, vice president; Ed Meeks, Farwell, director, replacing Alden Henderson, and Joe S. Menefee, Friona, director, replacing Ralph Smith. Retiring president is Roy V. Miller of Friona, and vice president Harold Carpenter of Farwell.

Dele gates selected to represent Parmer County at the State convention in Mineral Wells, November 20-23, are Bruce Parr, Ed Meeks, Billie Sudderth directors, and Raymond Euler, county service representative.

Polls will open Saturday morning at 8 o'clock at the city hall in Friona for voting on the three bond issues involving paving, waterworks, fire station and city hall. Polls close at 7 p. m.

Some three hundred persons have paid taxes locally; those eligible for participating in the bond election comprise residents owning taxable property—and otherwise a qualified voter. A heavy turnout of eligible voters is expected due to much discussion and public meetings during recent weeks.

Specifically the bonds are itemized as follows:

Issue bonds in the amount of $50,000.00 for the purpose of improving the streets.

Issue bonds in the amount of $15,000.00 for the purpose of constructing a City Hall.

Issue bonds in the amount of $35,000.00 for the purpose of improving and extending the city's waterworks system.

One-Minute Interviews

T. J. CRAWFORD: I will support the bond issues confronting us. I consider them an investment netting returns to myself and to the prosperity and well-being of the city.

SLOAN OSBORN: We've got to pave. A town either goes forward or backward. Let's get behind this improvement program to the man.

F. W. REEVE: I think the bonds will pass. For the good of our town I am supporting them, and I believe most voters will do the same.

City officials point out that the waterworks expansion and improvement bonds must be voted in order to enable paving, as the impracticability of paving on streets later to be dug up for pipe laying is evident.

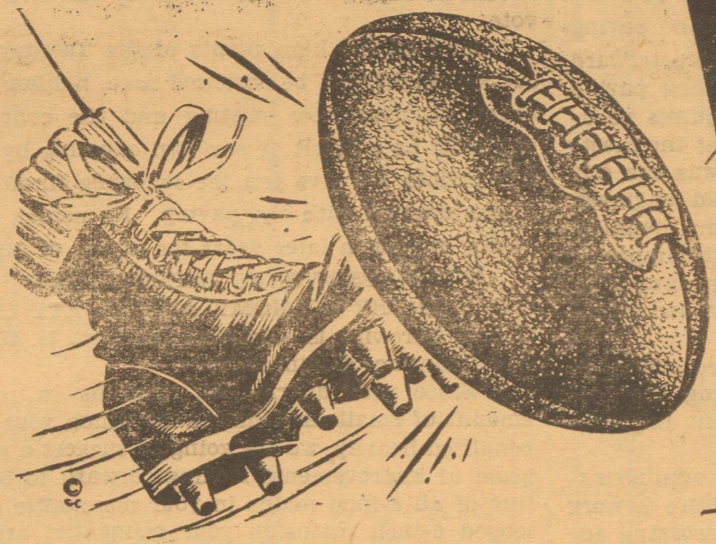

Baptist WMU Circles In Royal Service Study

The Baptist W. M. U. circles I and II met at the church Tuesday afternoon for a Royal Service program. Mrs. Leonard Coffee was leader of the mission program, "Behind the Iron Curtain."

"Always Keeping the Community's Interest Foremost"

Editorial—

 Also many people might consider the entire city utility bill as being for water service. That assumption is sometimes incorrect. Those on sewer connections pay a charge included in this statement.
 One hundred and fifteen new water meters have been installed in Friona since only two years ago. These meters, costing $30.00 apiece for the small ones, and more for the larger ones, are being paid for from water revenues. Fifteen hundred feet of 6-inch waterline has been laid in the last six months alone at a cost of $2.15 per foot for the pipe. Five thousand feet of 2-inch pipe have been laid since December, 1949, at a cost of 35c per foot for pipe alone. Can we do less than marvel at the city government holding our bills as low as they are? Certainly we cannot intelligently ask "Where has our money gone?" . . . it has unmistakably gone for long-overdue construction.
 AS TO PAVING . . . it is a necessity, to say the least.

Have you ever seen a city worth living in, worth establishing a business in, worth your support and labors, that has not in recent years paved its thoroughfares? Does a smart businessman select the isolated, unimproved location in a backward town? Does the realtor find easier sale of lots on unpaved streets in two-bit burghs? Please, let's agree that paving is a good thing, and go on from there.
 First and paramount item in most of our minds is the costs involved and the wise administration of funds allotted to paving. The Star has in recent weeks outlined costs to both property-owner and the city. We will merely reiterate our findings here.
 The property owner who wishes paving on a 40-ft. street will pay $250.00 stretched out over five years, in five payments. On a 60-ft. street, he will pay approximately $300.00 in the same manner. These are both the estimates of a qualified engineer who stakes his living on correct estimates. At any rate, the contract would be let to the lowest satisfactory bidder, and it is highly probable that low bid will be even lower than the above estimate. And won't the benefits out-balance the costs? I am definitely convinced that question of this item would be gross folly, foolish indeed.

 Paving will be here for years to come. Paving will first show its benefits in improved driving conditions; next it will show profits in saving of wear and tear on our vehicles and their tires, savings on wash and grease jobs. Let's go on and list more obvious benefits: Attractive streets are conducive to new homes, improved residences, pride in beautiful streets, lawns, etc. All this attracts more residents to our attractive town. New residents will mean new taxpayers, assuming their portion of the tax burden now shouldered by a few. Believe me we will profit! Then when the first rains and snows fall, we really will thank our voters for their foresight freeing us from the mud and slush. And next Spring when the sand blows, there will be little sand from hard pavement to blow into milady's cupboards.
 We conclude with a very "unfunny" pun and solicit your exercise of the right to vote in Free America on this Saturday, October 21.
 "Our streets are very good as a whole, but who wants a hole for a street?" WHICH WAY, FRIONA?

Has Old Glory Been Relegated to the Mothballs? Lack of Flag Display by Schools, Business, Seats of Government Might Indicate Such to the Passer-by; Let's Correct This

The United Nations has a flag. People the United States over have heard more about the United Nations flag during the past month than they have heard about the Star Spangled Banner in years. The discussions in neighboring publications and the nationwide campaign for recognition of the new banner are interesting, and in most cases well directed. But this editor cannot enthusiastically enter into discussion, or muster any excessive enthusiasm . . . simply because we have some other matters, some other flags, that first merit wholehearted support. We consider it foolish to enter into debate on positions of the two flags when flown together, when we seriously doubt if in all Farmer County there is even a Stars and Stripes being flown today! And that is bad. Is there a United States flag waving over the school grounds in Friona, Bovina, in Farwell, in Lazbuddie? Is the seat of our county government in the shadow of Old Glory? Let's do something about this situation. No one in the entire United Nations would be so presumptuous as to expect enthusiastic flag waving of a world banner without the prerequisite experience of complete loyalty to one's own flag and the cause for which it stands. The pledge of allegiance to our flag should be known by every school child in our county; it represents a way of life that should be instilled into every child of the rich American heritage. So, let's display our Stars and Stripes more, please. Every civic and school center should own one, certainly, together with every business firm. And they should be displayed day in day out by the schools and governmental agencies, we contend. May we expect action?

This modern world has reached the point where a switch regulates every thing but the children.

The tone of a bachelor's voice sounds good when it has a ring in it.

Driving with one arm around the girl friend is sure to end in a church ceremony either a wedding or a funeral.

Liquor may be a slow poison, but some fellows must think it's a good way to die in a hurry.

It may be a monologue when one woman is talkin'; but when two women converse it's a catalogue.

While we're ridding the country of radicalism, socialism, Bolshevism and Fascism, why not include rheumatism?

There are a lot of girls who maintain that the greatest contribution made to mankind by science wasn't the atomic bomb, but peroxide.

Zippers can never take the place of buttons—in the collection plate.

Research reveals that golfers who make the best scores don't swear. Why should they?

Conditions have changed. While the old-fashioned girl hesitated to hold a man's hand, the modern girl is afraid to let go.

Weekly Book Review

By Corinne Jennings

"Texas Tomboy," Story of Texas Ranch Life, Written for Enjoyment of "Eight to Eighty" Readers by Lois Lenski

If you are looking for a book for youngsters and one you intend to read to them, "Texas Tomboy" by Lois Lenski is one that both of you will enjoy. It is another in the class from "eight to eighty" for interest. Miss Lenski specializes in writing books for the small fry, but her book about a tomboy is based on facts collected from interviews with real Texas ranch people. Charlotte is one of three children in a ranch family and is the only one who loves the outdoor life in the saddle and about the ranch. Because of this fondness and her dislike for school she becomes known far and wide as a tomboy. She and her father are great pals and she goes about the ranch with him on his daily chores and often just for the fun of being with him. It is he who gives her the nickname of "Charlies." And only when he is unhappy with her or upset over something she has done does he ever call her Charlotte. She manages to get into a lot of mischief and seems to be afraid of nothing. Charlie's life is full of things from day to day such as finding doggie calves and bringing them home to care for until they can manage for themselves again. She slips them into the house to sleep in the bath tub in the winter, since it is too cold and water too scarce for the family to use. She takes the cream from the milk to feed them because she wants them to get strong and fat in a hurry. How she manages to earn a little pony of her own and on which she races about the ranch in fun or on duty with her father, will appeal to any boy or girl who has ever had or wanted a pony of their own. She and her small brother ride into a sheepherder's camp one day and eat all their supper but not without getting caught. They are treated as guests and learn that these people are not as bad as they have been painted. Then they are sorry that they had eaten all the food and the Mexican father and son had to cook more. Charlie had a run-in with the neighboring "nesters" too, with the beginning of the trouble at school when she and one of the boys about her age have a fist fight. She knocks out his front tooth and looks pretty dirty and

Raymondville Editor Salutes Small Towns of America, Towns Like Ours

From the Raymondville Chronicle

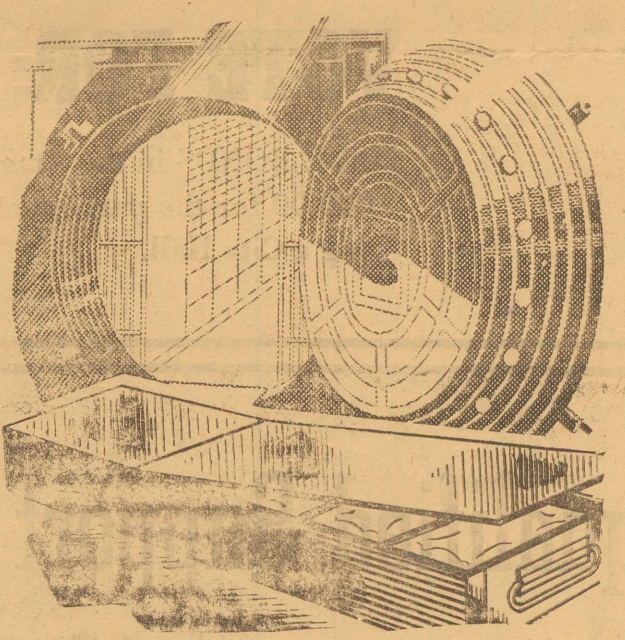

This is a typical American town. It is a town that is praised from the floors of Congress, written about in the better novels of the nation and loved by those who live in it. It is the most famous place of residence in the civilized world and the most nearly perfect. The whole world would like to live here. Living in this typical town are others like us. We are no better than they are, no worse than they are. We have homes and automobiles. We send our children to the school in the next block. And we work hard, play hard and enjoy living. We know we like to live in this town. We aren't sure why, perhaps, but we are not anxious to explore our reasons. This is not complacency; this is satisfaction. Not being a complete satisfaction, of course. There is something about being entirely satisfied that hints at decay, so we don't accept what we come in contact with as perfection. People being what they are, there is no perfection. We're people, too, we gripe, quarrel, get stubborn (maybe a trifle narrow at times), ignore some of the good things and make mistakes. In other words, we act normal. We also get tired of our typical town. We find life just a little bit dull, and maybe we find that we're getting bored. It happens. We want to see and do things which are not offered in a small town. We tire of movies and canasta parties and loafing on the front porch in the evenings, and we tire of the faces we meet every day of our lives. The sameness wears on us. So we take off—go somewhere else—do something different. We have different kinds of fun and make new discoveries. But the chances are we'll come back home. It's a funny thing but people are the same everywhere we go. They all gripe, quarrel, get stubborn and narrow, ignore some good things in life and make mistakes. But that doesn't mean the other places are exactly like the typical town. There would seem to be a limit to the amount of human failing an individual can absorb. There are fewer people in town than in a city, and that means we're not exposed to quite as many faults and blindneses. Maybe we're reaching for that reason, but it's a point. But besides that, the smaller town is more closely knit, the people have more time, there is not much emphasis on hurry-hurry-hurry. There seems to be a lot more friendship in a town, much more happiness and an unexplainable feeling of security. This may be only a state of mind, but it seems healthy. And, as we said, the typical town is more nearly perfect. It might be a good thing if the fear of the A-bomb and the H-bomb drove the city dwellers back to the smaller towns, like this one. It might give them a little time to rest, to think about their faults, to meet and understand their neighbors. It might be a partial solution to our troubles. What we want is all around us. If we look for it, we can find it and hold it and use it. We can find everything in the typical American town. Right here.

Star-Telegram Writer Quotes Auditor In Criticizing Fees Drawn by Walter Rogers, Congressional Candidate, In Capacity on State Plumbing Board

By SAM KINCH
Austin Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, Sept. 29—A highly critical auditor's report on the Texas State Board of Plumbing Examiners showed Friday that Walter E. Rogers of Pampa, Democratic nominee for Congress in the 18th district, drew $3,200 in per diem fees and $2,195 in expense money last year. Rogers also drew $1,500 during the first six months of this year on the basis of $50 per day when on board business—and $536 in expense money. Rogers was named by the board soon after its organization in 1947 to help the administrator, C. E. Belk. He drew $200 in the three and a half months of 1947 operations and $1,200 in 1948. At his stated per diem rate, Rogers worked 64 days in 1949 and had expense accounts averaging something over $33 per day. State Auditor C. H. Cavness was critical of the board's spending policies, which are not subject to state budget supervision. He also commented that the law authorizing creation of the board provided for license examination fees to be reduced if money on hand at the end of any year exceeds the expenses. One Fee Decrease The board has accumulated $217,780 during its 3 years of operation but has made only one decrease in fees. Master plumber license examination fees now are $40 instead of $50, and other fees show a corresponding decrease. Rogers' employment was authorized by the original board, which was composed of R. G. Hughes of Pampa, chairman, J. M. Odom, Austin, vice chairman; H. A. Watson, Dallas, secretary, and Frank White, Sweetwater, O. R. Walker, Lubbock and Allan C. Love, La Feria. His first job was consultant to Belk, but soon was changed to assistant to the administrator "for making investigations and conducting hearings and taking of testimony therein." His rate of pay runs higher than Belk's, who draws $7,875 per year. Rogers was not the only employe with large expense accounts. Belk showed $1,188 for 1949 travel expense. Field representative Charles S. Strawn drew $1,859 in that year, and Fred Wells drew $1,196. Board members themselves picked up $4,060 in travel expense in 1948 and $3,503 in 1949. Their per diem allowances totaled $2,300 in 1948 and $1,900 in 1949. Bought Four Autos Approval of expense accounts drew most of Cavness' criticism, although he pointed out the board bought four automobiles at $1,800 each, when the state purchasing office was getting cars for an average of $1,200 each. It was in reimbursements for expenses of board members and employes that he found most fault. One meeting of the Associated Plumbing Contractors in convention at Houston for four days, was attended by several board members and wives of some of them. Their expense account totaled $1,347. This included some rooms at $14-a-day rates. Cavness said, and one dinner check for 17 people at $137.70. "Other" expenses grouped together included Cavness' $240 several dollars in tips, a small doctor bill, $13.90, for "two fifths" and other items that would not have been reimbursable if the Legislature had appropriated for the board. Cavness also was critical of the fact the board buys gasoline on credit cards from a company which sells "colme tw" and a half cents higher than the state purchase contract. Employes get eight cents per mile for use of their own cars, whereas other state employes get six. Cavness found some expense vouchers were not signed, none were sworn to and some weren't on state forms.

Grain Harvest on Pete Buske Farm Gives Proof That Farming In Parmer County Excels in Production and In Profits

Five thousand tons of ensilage is a lot of cattle-stuffer by any man's measure! But that is the amount of hegar, atlas sorgo and corn ensilage that Friona farmer-rancher Pete Buske is storing in trench silos this week for use in this or future winters for livestock feeding. Some 300 acres of feed on the Buske farms is yielding in excess of fifteen tons per acre, and in hard dollars and cents, we might well estimate a total value of over $100,000.00 computed at a rate of $20.00 per ton taken from the silos. Farming in Parmer County can pay!

The Fred Thomas family has been visiting in the Will Thomas home in Friona. Red and his wife also visited her people in Hot Springs, Arkansas, the past week.

Shower Tendered Mrs. Ben Hillis
Mrs. Ben Hillis was honored with a pink and blue shower at the clubhouse in Friona October 6. Hostesses were Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Carr and Mrs. Benger.

Mrs. W. G. Kennedy of Grady acted the part of a black mammy washerwomen, and through clever monolog and songs she presented the many gifts to Mrs. Hillis.

The honoree was seated at a lace-covered table presided over by a stork and tiny dolls riding on a billow of clouds.

A color scheme of pink, blue and the honoree's chosen color of yellow was carried out in flower arrangements, candies, refreshments and favors. Refreshments consisted of spiced tea, nuts, and pink and blue cakes with the words "Boy" or "Girl" written in yellow.

Thirty-five guests registered with thirty-two more sending gifts.

SLEEP!

with an Electric Blanket

IT'S WONDERFUL,

There's no suffocating feeling from an overload of blankets, when you sleep (and folks, we mean SLEEP) under the soothing warmth of a light-in-weight electric blanket. It's the modern, healthful way to a restful solid eight hours. It's economical, too! First cost is not expensive and the operating cost? . . . about a penny a day. What else gives you so much comfort for so little? Electric blankets come with single or dual controls. Get yours and enjoy your sleeping hours. See your electric appliance dealer . . . he's a good man to know.

Of course — it's Electric

For Short Turns and Quick Stops these Ford Brakes are Tops

If we told you how fast the Ford Tractor can stop and turn, you wouldn't believe us. But when you see a demonstration, you'll agree that the Duo-Servo brakes on the Ford Tractor are the "stopping-est," "turning-est" brakes ever. Here's something else. Both brake pedals are on the right . . . leaves the left foot for the clutch. Stop straight, or turn, with one-foot braking. Easy to service these brakes, too . . . no need to pull the axle. When can we demonstrate? We also have parts and service and Dearborn Implements for all Ford Tractors.
