For the children, this week commences the back-to-school routine — attention turned to books, football, classmates not seen for weeks, walks home with other little tots, discussions of "My teacher's best because..." and lunchtime sprints to town for that pencil or that paste earlier forgotten.

But to parents the nation over school activity imposes added responsibilities and obligations... TO EVERYONE WHO DRIVES A CAR.

Safety associations, local humanitarian-minded merchants, church, schools, and individuals time and time again repeat the admonition for careful driving, lest YOUR child and MY child be the victim of auto-pedestrian casualty.

Americans are quite generous in providing ample play facilities for their children; they are farsighted enough to provide the best of academic accommodations, they dish out the needed taxes and the hours of time wherever and whenever necessary to provide a better education for the new generation. But... one moment behind the wheel with a heavy foot, upon the accelerator and thoughts of a late appointment or an urgent business deal, or chicken in the oven at home... any of these factors can spell tragedy in the twinkling of an eye.

Little tots so often are careless, so engrossed in their thoughts of activity at hand, that they are heedless of safety precautions.

So... fellow parent, watch out for the kid chasing that ball, or that child running from behind the parked car after his little dog; let's keep Friona safe for little fellows.

Hats off to the Friona merchants and farmers who met Tuesday night to discuss a working agriculture and commerce organization. We believe every one present meant business; and even more progress is anticipated at the similar meeting called for tomorrow (Friday) night. Be there! You're missing some good sound planning and thinking if you don't show up! A few more meetings like the last one, and we'll well understand why we have the "Biggest Little Town in the Panhandle."

S. T. Thornton at one time was my right-hand weather prophet. But he slipped. He neglected to forecast this rain for the Star readers. So from now on I'll just rely on BOTH weather and political forecasting from Wilkes (J. O. Wilkison) down by the tracks; we do this mainly because it is rumored Wilkes gets the dope straight from the horse's mouth—right from Ed Massey he has admitted. Now, don't I have a good retinue of advisors?

Oscar Lange is another who helps keep CL on the line. Os advanced an idea recently that sure "took" with me. He challenged me to think of the benefits, the goodwill, and the fun by all, if every merchant of Friona, upon meeting a new customer in his place of business, would take time out to really get acquainted, then take this new friend next door or across the street and introduce him to another business man.

Sure, that's Friendly Friona for you!

The Ed White family, John White, Fred White, and relatives recently had kin from California visit overnight, and it was noticed that four "Ed's" were present. I suggest they organize within the family an "Ed's Club." I once lived where so many fellows were named Bill that a "Bill's Club" was formed, with annual pow-wows honored with the presence of such famous Bills as Alfalfa Bill Murray and Bill McCraw, etc. Of course the secretary of the club happened to be named Ed, but he claimed that his first of the month Bills fully qualified his membership, besides his being bilious. Pardon.

Farm Bureau Directors
Plan Membership Drive

Parmer County's Farm Bureau directors met for their regular monthly planning session Monday night.

Plans were outlined for the membership drive scheduled for October 7-14. Vice president, Harold Carpenter, as chairman of the membership committee, will make detail preparations for the drive, which is expected to net two hundred or more new county members.

Friona Teen Agers
Entertain Veterans
With Square Dance

Two sets of the Friona "teen-age" square dancers entertained the veterans at the Veterans hospital in Amarillo last Thursday evening.

There are approximately one hundred twenty men in the hospital and about forty of them were able to come to the recreational hall to watch the dancers perform.

The two sets, "4 D's and Their Lassies" and "The Red Birds," performed skillfully as individual sets and also the two sets performed together.

After entertaining the men the "teen-agers" helped in serving cake and punch. While enjoying the refreshment hour, autographs and addresses were secured and the "teen-agers" plan to write these men who are hospitalized.

In the very near future, boxes will be placed in the Friona business firms for individuals to contribute their gifts for these men's Christmas Gift Shop. There will be a list of suggested items published in the Star stating what the disabled veterans like to select for the members of their families.

Those from Friona going to Amarillo were Danny Mac Bainum, Dudley Bainum, Don Lewis, Don Reeve, Sally Osborn, Doris Jance McFarland, Phyllis Trieder, Sue Cranfill, Gerald Barnett, Glenn Reeve Jr., Gaylord Maurer, Kenneth McClellan, Frankie Franklin, Mary Belle McGlofien, Gay Ann McFarland, Eugenia Ray Landrum, Mesdames Roy Wilson, John Blackburn, S. Coach Clovis Ratliff and Superintendent Willoughby hesitate to predict standings for the season, but it is noted that a number of last year's players are still in school; Bovina led the district in 6-man competition in 1949, it is remembered.

Finance and Nomination
Committees Appointed

The Friona area will have a re-activated Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture. That was the decision reached at the public meeting held Tuesday evening, and attended by some thirty Friona businessmen and farmers.

W. O. Green, Clovis businessman and president of the Clovis commerce organization, spoke to the group, emphasizing the necessity and feasibility of a central organization in a community the size of Friona. Green spoke from experience in citing benefits of an active organization. At the same time he pointed out many of the problems and warned against setting unobtainable goals, outlining the practical jobs that could be accomplished, including roads, trade relations, civic and rural improvements, etc. Green stated preference for a paid manager of such organization, saying that a good man was well worth the cost, and a poor man worth nothing at all.

MEET FRIDAY

A second public meeting has been called for this Friday night at the Methodist church annex in Friona.

Reports of committees will be received and formal organization set up.

The public is especially urged to attend this session, as actually it will be the kick-off meeting for a program of action under the new organization.

President of the present organization, W. L. Edelman, presided at the meeting, conducting a round table discussion after the formal talk by Mr. Green.

After motion was carried that the organization be re-activated, Edelman appointed two committees to begin work immediately, reporting back to another public meeting, called for this Friday night.

A finance committee was appointed to study the financial structure of a new organization, determining a proposed budget with recommendations as to subscription of funds. Chairman of this committee is J. O. Wilkison, with members Sloan Osborn, Pete Buske Frank Spring and Nelson Welch.

A nominating committee was appointed to make nominations for directors of the organization, with the chosen directors to select officers. Bert Neelley was named chairman of this group, with members John Blackburn and Wesley Foster.

Leon Cantrell, Clovis businessman, attended Tuesday night's meeting, and placed his bid for the secretary-manager position, should such opening be declared. Contingent upon the report of the finance committee, a nominating committee will be appointed to interview and make recommendations regarding a paid employee to head the program.

Informal Reception Is Given Teachers by PTA

Parents and teachers of the Friona schools met together at an informal reception in the high school Monday night, as the previously planned get-together at the football field was rained out. A limited number attended due to the inclement weather.

Beautiful fall flowers decorated the serving table, presided over by the hospitality committee composed of Mesdames Bruce Parr, Mack Bainum, Weldon Dickson, Fern Barnett and Steve Struve.

Mrs. Roy Miller is PTA president.

EDITORIAL

Will Our County Fair Guests Find Clean Streets, Attractive Store Displays, Better Merchandise And Inviting Prices in a Big "Welcome" to Friona?

Could Some Housecleaning be in Order?

Friona will play the role of host next week end to the Parmer County Fair.

The privilege to us is not a light one to be overlooked.

We will be privileged to renew many acquaintances, make new friends, and talk over mutual items that fashion the well-being of Parmer County—our crops, our fairs, our churches, our farm organizations, our schools, our roads, our markets.

There is rare opportunity for us to be even a better neighbor as we act as hosts to this large group of our friends. Let us unmistakably show every visitor, every participant, every neighbor that he is WELCOME in Friona any time, welcome to visit and welcome to trade with merchants who work for his interests and the interests of more unified thinking and acting throughout the county.

There are big signs at the approaches to Friona, extolling our little city as "The Biggest Little Town in the Panhandle." Well, and good. But let us make sure this word "Biggest" that we refer to means big in FRIENDLINESS, SER-VICE and APPRECIATION. If we genuinely practice these qualities on Fair day and EVERY DAY, there will be little need of signboards to tell our Parmer County friends of the values of Friona . . . there will be a great big "Welcome" imprinted in each of their minds just any time they think of Friendly Friona.

A good host naturally puts his best foot forward for its honored guests, and I expect Friona to do just that. A clean-swept pavement will help tidy up the town; clean sidewalks will invite better, not bitter, comments! We hope all the side streets will be bladed smooth for our visitors, even though left in pretty much of a mess much of the time for us. We hope every merchant makes special point of getting acquainted with every visitor, customer or not, learning that person's name—well enough to remember it, knowing him and greeting him by name on this and future occasions.

Yes, there's lot more to being a good Fair host than merely posting the prizes and applauding the parade!

Recipe For Real Religion

Get religion like a Methodist. Experience it like a Baptist. Stick to it like a Congregationalist. Be proud of it like an Episcopalian. Simplify it like a Quaker. Glorify it like a Jew. Pay for it like a Presbyterian. Practice it like a Christian Scientist. Work at it like a Roman Catholic. Enjoy it like a Negro.—Unknown.

The Editor's Dilemma

Getting out a publication is fun, but it's no picnic. If we print jokes, people say we are silly. If we don't, they say we are too serious. If we clip things from other publications, we are too lazy to write them ourselves. If we don't, we are too fond of our own stuff. If we don't print contributions, we don't appreciate genius. If we do print them, the page is filled with junk. Now, like as not, some will say we swiped this from some other publication—we did.

Other Editors Say:

Home Guidance Still Paramount

From the Altus (Okla.) Times-Democrat

When boys 10 and older start running in packs and have little or no effective restraint at home, their "larks" often degenerate into downright delinquency and it often takes more than a slap on the wrist to curb the activity.

Yanking a boy up and hustling him off to a training school certainly isn't the wise answer in dealing with ordinary cases. That's the last thing to be done.

But there's going to be a big blow up some of these days unless parents become more interested in and alert to the night-time prowlings of youngsters. Several youths who got off on the wrong foot some months back are treading the straight and narrow now because their parents are seeing to it through diligent guidance, sparked mostly by a good-old-fashioned father and son association.

There are some youngsters however, who apparently will not be fortunate to receive that type of guidance at home. They are still prowling and still stealing. It can't go on forever because victims are rapidly tiring of arising to find articles around the premises—even inside the garage and on the clothes line—missing.

If the parents refuse to cooperate, then sterner action will have to rest with the law enforcement authorities alone. The ideal solution, of course, is for stern reprimands by officials and then a pledge by parents to grab their boys by the hand and lead them into the proper path. Such a two-way plan can accomplish miracles. But the parents are the key to the plan of remedy. Either they cooperate or law enforcement must soon crack that horrible whip that brands a lad an incorrigible and lands him in a training school, where he might be corrected or might harbor a resentment that grows into a criminal train of thought.

Personal Responsibility Cannot Be Evaded, Here Or Hereafter

From The Canadian Record

How many un-Christian acts in this world are committed daily in the name of some government, some union, or some impersonal organization? The following story is taken from a sermon by Rev. Ernest H. Sommersfield, minister of a Springfield, Mass., church, and is reproduced here without further comment:

We are asked to imagine the following parable: Joe Doakes passed away and floated up to the Pearly Gates. He pounded on the gates and St. Peter appeared.

"My name is Joe Doaks, sir."
"Where are you from?"
"I am from Uppdale, U. S. A."
"Why are you here?"
"I plead admittance, Mr. St. Peter."

St. Peter scanned his scroll and said, "Yes Joe, you are on my list. Sorry I can't let you in. You stole money from others, including widows and orphans."

Mr. St. Peter, I had the reputation of being an honorable man. What do you mean, I stole money from widows and orphans?"

"Joe, you were a member, a financial supporter, and officer on the Board of Directors of the Uppdale Do-Good Association. It advocated a municipal golf course in Uppdale which took money from widows and orphans in order to benefit you and a hundred other golfers."

"Mr. St. Peter, that was the Uppdale Do-Good Association that took that action, not your humble applicant, Joe Doaks." St. Peter scanned his scroll again, slowly raised his head, and said somewhat sadly, "Joe, the Uppdale Do-Good Association is not on my list nor any foundation, nor any corporation, nor any trade association, nor any labor union, nor any government, nor any other organization. All I have listed here are persons, just persons."

The above quotation is a rather remarkable parable.

Can't you just hear someone else arguing with St. Peter:

"But Mr. St. Peter, I had orders from my government to put those Jews in the gas chamber."

"But Mr. St. Peter, it was the policy of the church to persecute others. I was only a humble servant of the church."

"But Mr. St. Peter, I was only one of mob . . . how do you know that my rock killed the Negro?"

"But Mr. St. Peter, when I killed all those women and children, I was in the service of my country."

And always the inexorable answer: "All I have listed here all persons, just persons."

Birthday Calendar Is Being Compiled By Congregational Ladies

The Ladies Aid of the Congregational church is sponsoring a community wide birth-dated calendar. The names of those desiring their names on the calendar and who have not been seen may call any of the ladies of the church.

The names of those having a part in the venture will appear under the month and day of the month on the calendar.

Water Engineers Call For Data

The State Board of Water Engineers is seeking maps and written data giving evidence of the geographical area and extent of the underground water reservoir in a 21-county Panhandle and South Plains area.

The board made the request for written material following a recent 21-county hearing in Plainview at which it received oral testimony on the ground water supply.

They are chiefly interested in receiving information about areas which will, or will not, support irrigation wells producing at least 107 gallons per minute (or 150,000 gallons per day).

The dry areas, together with 160-acre tracts of grazing land not irrigated, and areas where water is not suitable for commercial irrigation purposes, will be excluded from a proposed underground water conservation district.

The High Plains Water Conservation and Users Association, with offices in Littlefield, has members in 14 counties who are cooperating by submitting written data on the ground water supply.

Any individual who has information on the extent of the reservoir should communicate with the State Board of Water engineers, H. A. Beckwith, chairman, Austin, Texas.

Information is sought from the following counties: Armstrong, Bailey, Briscoe, Castro,

Valorie Dial - A. C. Henneman Vows Were Read Sunday In Farwell Ceremony

In an impressive ceremony Sunday afternoon, September 3, 1950, Valorie Dial, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Dial of Farwell, became the bride of A. C. Henneman of Farwell, son of Mrs. Bess Henneman of Hereford. Rev. Murphy Duncan read the double-ring ceremony in the Hamlin Memorial Methodist church.

Mrs. Erma Jobs played before and during the ceremony. She wore a red satin dress and had a white gladioli. As guests assembled she played "Claire de Lune," "Andante" and "Sarabande."

Miss Rohemond Booth of Farwell sang "Oh Promise Me" and "Thru the Years." She wore an aqua floor length satin dress styled with a tight bodice, full skirt, and with a double collar coming to a point in the front and back. She had an orange gladioli corsage. As the bridal party entered the church Mrs. Jobs played "Chante de'Amour." She played Men Wedding March for the procession and recession.

Vows were exchanged before an arch made of white mums, satin bows and greenery. Two stands of candelabra stood on either side of the arch one behind the other. A basket of white gladioli, white mums, satin bows and greenery stood on either side of the first candelabra. A background of palms was used. The kneeling bench was used in the arch.

Mrs. Herman Gerles of Farwell was matron of honor. She wore orchid taffeta styled with a bertha collar trimmed with hat, tight bodice with a bustle effect at the back. Her bouquet was of orchid leelon, yellow fungi, and yellow pon pum mums.

Miss Joan Allison and Miss Hettie Nan Randol of Farwell were bridesmaids. Miss Allison wore light green and carried pink gladioli with pink laceron. Their dresses were styled similar to that worn by the maid of honor.

Candlelighters were Gloria Dial and Dorothy Pullman. They wore dresses alike of blue taffeta, styled with a bertha collar, tight bodice, full skirt, with a wire sash. They had wrist corsages of light pink sweetheart roses.

Herman Gerles was best man. Ushers and groomsmen were Sonny Graham and Billy Don Crume.

The bride was attired in an ivory satin dress styled with off the shoulder bertha collar trimmed in old English lace. It had a fitted bodice which came to a point in the front and pleated in the back which fell into an 8' train. Veil was fingertip length trimmed with nylon lace which was attached to a half crown of ivory satin, embroidered with seed pearls and small hearts. She wore ivory nylon mits trimmed in lace. Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of ivory gladioli, yellow rosebuds and ivory ribbon.

Mrs. Dial wore grey nylon with black velvet accessories. She had a corsage of deep pink sweetheart roses. Mrs. Henneman wore brown crepe with brown accessories. Her flowers were orange gladioli.

RECEPTION
A reception following the ceremony was at the O. C. Pullman home at Farwell. The table was laid with a lace tablecloth. The cake was two-tiered with a miniature bride and groom on top and decorated with pink rosebuds. The bride's bouquet served as a centerpiece. Something old — lace handkerchief belonging to Mrs. Henneman. Imported from France in 1918.

Something borrowed — single strand of pearls with diamond clip belonging to Miss Alene Cunningham of Lakeview, aunt of the bride.

Something blue — blue garters.

Something new — For her going away attire the bride wore roes crepe styled with a side drape, navy shoes, purse, gloves and pink hat.

Better Sight
BY THE CARTON

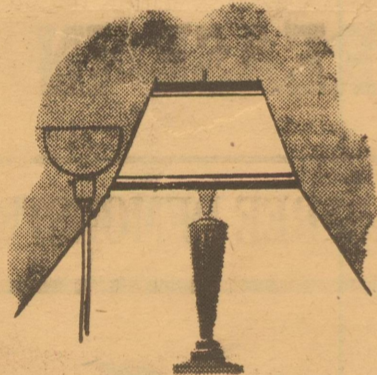

Lamps with empty sockets are about as handy as a ship without a sail! No matter how efficient... or how many lamps you have around the house... they're so much excess baggage if your supply of lamp-bulbs is down to the bottom of the carton.

Good light is so necessary to good sight. And a carton of bulbs always on hand is insurance against "bulb snatching"... being without... or inconvenient rushing to the store.

Yes, BULBS ARE MIGHTY IMPORTANT... cleanliness is, too! Your lamps and fixtures should be kept clean. Dust and dirt rob you of half the light you pay for. Reflector bowls can be washed with soap and water... bulbs wiped clean with a damp cloth. Shades may be dusted, washed or dry-cleaned... depending on the type fabric. Light-conditioning your home is economical, too... low cost, dependable electric service makes it so!

THERE'S A BULB FOR EVERY JOB...
40-60 watt—Strictly decorative... such as boudoir lamps, brackets, etc.
75-100 watt—Decorative and functional where the ceiling task isn't too demanding.
150-300 watt—Reading, sewing... where good, strong light is needed for proper "see-ability."

The Rains Came!

Rainfall in amount varying from 1 1-2 to near 4 inches has fallen since Sunday over Parmer County, bringing crop-saving moisture to badly suffering fields. Some of the dry land grain crop was near gone at the time of the rain.

Though the amounts varied considerably, every section of the county has reported some fall in amounts sufficient to save the row crop and put ample moisture underfoot for wheat sowing.
