THE DEMOCRATIC REPRESENTATIVE CONVENTION.

The Democratic Representative Convention of the 107 district composed of Callahan, Shackelford, Jones and Taylor counties, met at the Court House in Baird at 1 o'clock Saturday September 1st, 1894. The following delegates were present.

Taylor county—T. W. Daugherty, Max Andrews, D. L. Middleton, John Bowyer, John Honey, C. W. Merchant, Ed Seay—Brown.

Jones county—E. E. Solomon, proxy Callahan county—J. N. Rushing, Arthur Yonge, E. E. Solomon, I. N. Jackson, Hugh Moore, Otis Bower, and H. F. Foy.

Shackelford county—Judge J. C. Lynch.

The convention was called to order by Hon. T. W. Daugherty of Abilene chairman of the district. Mr. Daugherty made a short and sensible talk on the objects and intentions of the Democratic party and announced that the convention was open.

Mr. Daugherty was elected chairman and John Hoeny Jr., of Abilene secretary.

On motion the delegates from Taylor, Shackelford and Callahan counties were seated without the formalities of a committee on credentials.

Judge E. E. Solomon presented credentials from the Jones county delegates naming his as their proxy to cast the vote of Jones county in the convention. On motion Judge Solomon was seated as a delegate from Jones county.

The chairman announced that the next thing in order was the nomination of a candidate to represent this district in the next legislature. Otis Bowyer in a few well chosen remarks nominated W. E. Gilliland of Baird as a candidate for representative, seconded by John Hoeny Jr., John Bowyer of Taylor county, Judge J. C. Lynch of Shackelford and J. N. Rushing of Callahan. No other nomination being made, on motion W. E. Gilliland was nominated by acclamation. The nominee was called for and thanked the convention for the honor conferred and promised to lead the democrat hosts in this district to victory or break a trace chain in the effort, or words to that effect.

Judge Solomon then in obedience to instruction as a proxy for Jones county offered a resolution that the nominee of this convention be instructed to vote for Horace Chilton for United States Senator. Hon. J. N. Rushing moved to amend by adding "provided Horace Chilton was in harmony with the Democratic party when the legislature convened, claiming he was not in harmony with the Dallas State platform. Motion seconded by John Bowyer of Abilene in a strong speech.

Judge Solomon responded in a rattling good speech in which he warmly championed the cause of Chilton, not only he said, because he was so instructed to vote by the democrats of Jones county whose proxy he was, but on personal grounds. Judge Lynch of Shackelford also championed the cause of Chilton and opposed the amendment.

A motion was then made to table the amendment and a vote was called for by counties. Amendment tabled by vote of 43-7 to 3-4-7.

For Amendment Taylor	3	votes.
" " Callahan	2-7	"
" " Total	3-2-7	"
Against Amend't Jones	2	"
" " Shackelford	1	"
" " Callahan	1-3-7	"
" " Total	4-2-7	"

The motion then to instruct for Chilton was carried.

The county convention of Callahan, Jones and Shackelford instructed their delegates to vote for Chilton. The delegates from Taylor were uninstructed and voted against instructing for Chilton without the proviso offered in amendment. The Callahan county vote it will be noticed was divided on the first ballot. Mr. Rushing claiming and not without some show of reason on his side, that the convention should not endorse Mr. Chilton without evidence that he was in harmony with the platform. Mr. Otis Bowyer and others of the Callahan county delegation contended that the delegates were instructed to vote for Chilton without any proviso in it. Callahan voted solid to endorse Chilton after the amendment was voted down.

The next thing in order was the election of a chairman of the district for two years. On motion Judge J. C. Lynch of Shackelford county was unanimously elected, and the convention adjourned not being in session quite one hour.

Deep Creek Dots.

Sept. 4.—Let me correct first my remarks about the school-money. Comptroller McCall urged before the committee to cut the appropriation down to $2.50 per head, as the school fund was already in debt. But Gov. Hogg insisted on $3.50 per head although he had to acknowledge the financial embarrassment, amounting to a deficit of $1,200,000 for the ensuing year, of course Mr. Hogg will not have to face the next legislature with increased taxes to meet the different deficits and can afford to act generous. The redeeming feature is, that the children will have at least three months school and if the parents would do something we could extend the term easily. I for my part am willing to sign $10 toward an extended school term, and I understand that several gentlemen in this community will follow.

D. Maltby left for Edwards county last week to assist Tom Wise who is buying cattle down there.

Our efficient county-attorney Arthur Yonge Esq. passed through here last Saturday with the dawn of the day, on his way to Cross Plains to attend the Justice court. Woe to the sinners and transgressor!

An aged gentleman, Mr. Gist father of Messrs. N. & C. Gist completed his earthly days last Saturday at the home of his son, Corbett, after a lingering sickness. Again; a fine rain last week. It will delay a little, the beginning of cotton-picking but it helped the fall gardening very much, and above all the second crop of the forage plants. Sorghum and millet look splendidly. There will be an abundance of rough fodder and enough cottonseed in this country. Why not every farmer put up a few steers and fatten them for the spring market? At that time is always a live demand for prime cattle and will be especially so next year, as the northern feeders, owing to the partial failure of the corn crop and the high price of corn, will not fatten on the same scale like other years. Here is a good chance for Texas and especially Callahan county; with plenty of grass, rough fodder and cottonseed we can make prime beef with less cost than anywhere else.

Now a few words about the cotton-crop. No doubt six weeks ago we had the finest prospect for an extraordinary good crop. As it goes with human nature we began to speculate on our chickens before they were hatched. Although many people and especially the business men think that the farmer has no risks, this season has proved it again that agricultural life is just as full of risks from the planting of the seed up to harvesting time than any other business. A bad spell of weather a hailstorm an inroad of insects can change the whole situation very materially. We had too much rain for cotton and the plants grew too much to wood to the damage the fruitage, and above all the boll-worm has begun its pernicious work. The estimates of the extent of damage done already differ widely. But it is my own individual opinion gained after hearing the expressions of several people that the nine millions of bales estimate is entirely too high that 7-1-2 million will cover the whole crop and that this reduction will effect our county also in proportion. It is the duty of the press to spread these news that correspond with the facts with all vigor and speed. The natural consequence will be that the price of the staple will go up soon—the tendency is already here—and in this way the deficiency will be squared for the farmer. But stop telling to the merchants especially when you want credit that you are going to reap a bale per acre.

Clark Smith assisted by James Price is gathering a bunch of yearlings for J. W. Jones and they are fine and fat.

Our worthy commissioner Cummings informed me that the Hon. Court allowed a bridge over Deep Creek and the work to be done inside of thirty days. That is prompt action suiting the situation. We need it immediately and therefore we accept even a wooden bridge although we are in principle and from a view of economy for iron bridges. There are some fellows even in this neighborhood who object to all and every expense in that direction. I am indeed sorry for this kind of moss backs who would grace the past century but are too late for the nineteenth. Let our county make an earnest effort to have good schools, good roads including good bridges and it will attract the eyes of every industrious and progressive settler and will develop faster than any other county. As for personal motives my little store would do even better without a bridge over Deep Creek. Repeatedly wagons had to wait for hours until the creek was fordable and of course patronized my store while with a bridge they would have proceeded on their journey.

Mr. W. Riley delivered already two bales of cotton at J. Matthews gin and is entitled to the free ginning of the first bale that Mr. M is offering with his usual liberality. Mr. Riley's cotton is of superior quality and the cotton buyers of Baird who have made Baird the leading cotton market in former years will have an opportunity to show what they will do this year. The price paid for the first bale was not very encouraging nor the premium but I learn that the quality was inferior.

Mr. Todd deputy sheriff of Milam Co. who owns a ranch in the edge of this and Shackelford Co. was here last week to look after his stock and returned home yesterday with a bunch of about 100 horses which will show what Callahan Co. can do in the horse raising line.

Immediately after the last rain my esteemed friend and neighbor R. J. Har- is took scraper and plow and went to working the road alongside his place. He cleaned out the ditches and repaired the road bed wherever it was needed. Now if every body would do the same thing it would be a big step toward the solution of the road problem. In certain European countries, like Sweeden, Norway, etc., all the country roads are kept up on the same principal.

The citizens of this neighborhood petition the authorities for the erecting of a bridge over Deep Creek, the matter is a necessity and urgent necessity. Wagons loaded with seed cotton run the greatest risks in crossing the steep and washed out banks, and as soon as we get the heavy fall rains, traffic will be obstructed entirely for days. The road is one of the main-entries leading to Baird and ought to be attended to immediately. Don't delay and don't experiment again with light wooden bridges. The experiences we have made on the wooden bridges that we have in Callahan county, and that must be repaired in less than no time, should teach us a lesson. If we build at all, let us build something solid; something that will last. The same should be the rule for all road-work. What is the use to spend every year several hundred dollars over miles and miles of road and do some repairing that the next rain will annihilate again? If we want to solve the road question, then it is time to begin in earnest with some solid work. Let us build only one mile, but let us build it so that it fills the bill. There must be ditches on both sides to regulate the waterflow perfectly; there must be a solid elevated roadbed, made up by crushed rocks and bedded down with a heavy roller. Such roads last for centuries while the present system being extended over too much territory, with no adequate means does no good at all except very temporarily. These are my ideas and I wish to remark expressly that I do not intend to lay even the least blame against the work of Mr. Usher and his working force. He has done all that he can do with the means at his command.

BAIRD, FRIDAY, SEPT. 7, 1894.

We have too many laws.
Fewer elections would kill off most of the politicians.

Government ownership of railroads is the entering wedge to socialism.

Keep the government's nose out of your private business as much as possible.

From reading the populist papers we are convinced that the populist in Texas do not like the democratic state platform nor any of the nominees, too bad aint it?

What a pity the democrats did consult Harry Tracy, Jim Davis, Evan Jones, Dr. Macune and a few others of populist note when they adopted a state platform.

One thing about it; the democrats adopted their platform in open convention, and did leave it to a committee to revise and correct after the convention had adjourned, as the Pops did at Waco.

It is irrigate or emigrate with west Texas people, and they are preparing to irrigate. Thats the ticket that will win, and make this the grandest country on the globe. Dam the streams and canyons of the west and store up the water. With proper irrigation facilities we would have the finest kind of a fruit and vegetable country. Immense lakes of water over the country would no doubt increase the rainfall and if it did not the water so stored up could be used to produce the best of crops in dry years.

The populist agitators can be relied upon to fight to the death any proposition that would tend to lengthen the term of state and county offices and relieve the people of one half the trouble and expense in holding elections under present conditions. A long term of office say four years would cut off the clabber of the political wind jammers to such an extent that they would have to seek some other means than politics for a livelihood. The people, however would under a four years term of office get three years of rest from politics which would be welcome relief, and they could very well dispense with politics and politicians during the time.

Texas long ago had a four years term of office for all state and county offices. We ought to go back to the old law or go beyond it and have an election once in six years. Holy horrorsayeth the pop, does this Phillistine wish to squelch a few politicians and let the people have a rest from politics. Every state election costs the people of Texas about $100,000 for holding the election alone to say nothing of the money spent by candidates and others for the good (?) of the country and the time lost in going to hear campaign speeches. It is pretty safe to say a round million dollars would be saved to the people by having only one election in six years in place of three as at present. Think of it!

THE STAR has had to eat a little bit of crow in the last democratic platform but down she goes. All loyal democrats know how the old bird tastes; and the Hogg wing did not get all the crow by any means.—Baird Star.

Will THE STAR explain what is meant by eating crow? Does it mean that you own up having been in error and now turn to be with the majority? Or does it mean you have to eat your past utterances? Or as the boys say, "Take her back," and acknowledged you lied?—Cisco (Pop) Pilot.

THE STAR was talking to the democrats. We know it is useless to try to explain to populists what eating means, for the reason that they let a half dozen men do the thinking for the whole in the state, hence they never eat crow, as the little fellows wait until the big fellows speak then the little fellows shout as with one voice, amen! That is right you bet! When the Pilot gets independent enough to have opinions of its own it will learn what eating crow means without being told. For the present propose to leave you in "Heathens dress."

The Snyder Coming West has suspended for want of support. After returning thanks to the few friends of the paper Dick Lively the editor says. To those who have inaugurated and ceaselessly kept up a ten-cent personal boycott against the paper, on account of its free thought and independent expression on questions of public import, we say that richly deserved contempt has melted into a natural and logical pity—the legitimate sequel—the heritage that falls by birthright to the stop-my-paper dampshools.

Dick Lively has made a heroic effort to publish a good paper in an unappreciative town. Like thousands of others, he has tried to publish a nonpareil paper in a two line pica town, with the inevitable result. Dick Lively is a good newspaper man and THE STAR while bidding him adieu with regret, confidently that he will turn up in some lucrative field where his talents will be appreciated as they deserve.

The democrats made a strong run in Alabama. In Dallas county, where there are less than 2,000 voters, the democratic ticket received a majority of 5000 votes. That is a good showing; better even than the republican repeating system made in Oregon. There is nothing like having able leaders and managers in a campaign, shrewdness and foresight are valuable qualities in election manipulators, especially when morality is eliminated from politics as in this country. How long will the men of this republic (?) submit to such crimes against the ballot—their only defense?—Boise City Sentinel.

The above is clipped from the Abilene Sentinel. It is generally supposed that when one journal reproduces an article of another without comment to the contrary it endorses the article—so we are to conclude that the Sentinel endorses the above clipping in toto. Well to use English, its a lie from start to finish. The census of 1890 shows Dallas county to contain 49,350 souls. According to the World's Almanac of 1893, in the election of 1892 Dallas county polled 9,314 votes of this Cleveland received 7,339 votes, Harrison 1,028 and Weaver 947. What do the pops hope to gain by publishing such lies as this? It is through ignorance or are trying to blind their following, which? This is what we call hard down lying without cause. This, however, is a very small lie compared with others issued out to the "brethering."

The above is copied from the last issue of the Merkel Mail. In a conversation last Saturday with Mr. Andrews editor of the Mail, he assured us that the figures given in reply to the Sentinel article were correct as shown in the World's Almanac. Knowing Mr. Andrews as we do, we believe he tells the truth.

A party is certainly hard up when it has to resort to willful misrepresentation in order to win votes or create sympathy. Here the populist boldly assert and publish it to the world that the democrats in Dallas county Ala, received a majority of 5030 votes, when there were actually only 2000 votes, which if true would show the grossest frauds, of course that is the object intended by such willful and malicious false publications. According to the populist papers there were only 9000 votes polled in Dallas county at the election in August, 314 short of the vote polled in 1892 according to the World's Almanac (a non partisan) publication. Does this look like fraud upon the part of the democrats? No reasonable or sane man can say that it does. This completely knocks the stuffin out of the populist fraud reports from Alabama, because all the others are doubtless of the same character.

Can any sensible man support a party whose leaders will resort to such base methods as this to deceive the people? We believe not; because no man who is honestly seeking reform can expect anything from a party that resort to such willful misrepresentation as this to win.

Some of our populist friends are so sanguine of Nugent carrying Callahan county that they say he will have a walk over. Let us see how much grounds they have for such extravagant claims: In 1892 the tax rolls of Callahan county showed 1,093 persons assessed for poll tax. That year the democrats polled 512 votes in their primary election, and at the general election Hogg (Dem.) received 451 votes, Clark (Dem) 300 votes total 751 democratic votes, Nugent (Pop) received 505, a majority of 246 democratic votes over Nugent, though Nugent by reason of a division of the democrats on the state ticket, had a plurality of 54 votes over Hogg in the county. President Cleveland received 707 votes Weaver 479 Harrison 62 votes, giving the democrats on the national ticket a majority of 228 votes over Weaver and a clear majority of 166 over the Republican and Populist ticket combined. The average majority of the county democratic ticket was 226 over the Populist ticket.

Now listen; the tax rolls just completed show 1,085 persons assessed for poll tax, 7 less than in '92. At the democratic primary election July 7, the democrats polled 729 votes, an increase of 217 over the primary vote of '92. Now where is your populist majority? Oh says one, lots of the populist voted in the primary who will not vote the democratic ticket, the leaders claim that at least 75 populist voted in the democratic primary who will not vote the democratic ticket in November. We do not believe any such a thing because we do not believe any such a number of men of any party in the county would do this dishonorable thing, but for argument's sake say 100 populist so voted, this would leave the democrats 629 votes in the primary and at the same ratio of increase at the general election compared with 92 the democrats would poll 900 votes in November but if the increase of the democratic vote is only one half of what it was in '92 over the primary vote, the pops are gone by over 200 majority as certain as the sun shines. While some few populist may have voted in the democratic primary, though we hate to think that any one would do so unless they really intended to support the ticket, lots of democrats did not vote in the primary. The democrats of Callahan county, if they will work as they should, are as certain to defeat the populist in this county by a larger majority than ever just as sure as election day rolls around. Work Democrats we have them on the run and will bury the populist so deep in November that we wont be bothered with them again soon.

The total value of all property rendered for taxes in Callahan county in 93 and 94 is as follows.
1893.....$2,813,791.00.
1894.....$2,780,221.00.
Decrease in '94.....$33,570.00.
This is not very flattering, but then its the truth and it cannot be helped. The hard times has no doubt caused the tax payer to lay off as much as possible in making renditions. Callahan county is all right notwithstanding the unfavorable snowing in the tax renditions, our people are gradually going forward and no county in Texas stood the panecky times better than old Callahan. With a revival of business we expect to see a large increase of taxable values in '95 over '93 and '94.

It was reported here this week that Miss Gertie Burrill who formerly lived here had died at her home at Oxford, Ohio. The report that THE STAR had received the news direct from the family was a mistake and we have no idea how the rumor started.

John Bowyer of Abilene in seconding the nomination of W. E. Gilliland said, alluding to his brother Otis Bowyer's nominating speech, that it was all right for him (Gilliland) to be a native Texan but he wanted him to explain why in the duce it was that he was born so ugly. This was the most unkindest cut of all. The prospective nominee refused to explain, fearing perhaps, that to get up before the convention before the vote was taken might endanger his chances for the nomination.

Don't do anything of the kind boys, because Mr. Ogle would certainly remain a widower, if not for all time, at least until his beard grows out again.

Judge J. C. Lynch one of the old time land marks of the early frontier was a conspicuous figure in the convention. The Judge had that inseparable pipe with him but he threatened to lick THE STAR man if he said anything about it. By the way, Judge Lynch is the democratic nominee for commissioner from his precinct in Shackelford county as well as the democrats chairman for the representative district. He is an all-round whole souled gentleman, a true democrat and as true as steel to his friends. THE STAR hopes he will be elected commissioner by an overwhelming majority.

BASE BALL.

Last Monday the Baird base ball team went to Abilene and played a matched game of ball. The weather was fine and excepting a brisk wind from the south, was all that could be expected. The game was called at 2:30 p. m. and lasted about three hours, resulting in a score of 21 to 30 in favor of the Baird boys. There was some good playing, Jinks McGee, of Abilene, and G. A. Jameson, of Baird, making home runs. Tom Martin, of Abilene, umpired the game and his judgment was never disputed. All our boys say they were entertained royally. The same teams will cross bats here next Monday, Sept. 10, at the ball grounds south of the depot. The game will be called about 3:30. Baird's second nine have matched a game with the second nine of Abilene which will be played here next Monday, also. This game will be called at 1:30 p. m., and promises to be very interesting.

The Cream of Current Thought.
Public Opinion, published at Washington, D. C., is a weekly journal devoted to the reproduction, in condensed form, of carefully selected magazine articles and of editorial comment from the representative daily and weekly press of all political parties, and from all parts of the country. The readers of Public Opinion get all sides of every question. It is just the paper that the farmer and villager need for general reading. It keeps its readers fully abreast of the times and supplies them with the best thought of the day in the fields of American Affairs, Foreign Affairs, Sociology, Commerce, Finance, Religion, Science, Education, Art and New Books. Public Opinion and the rural weekly supplement each other admirably. Together they give the farmer or villager and his family more of current news, editorial comment, and magazine literature than can be had in any other way for five times their cost. The price of Public Opinion has been reduced from $3.00 to $2.50 per year. We have just completed arrangements by which we can offer Public Opinion and THE STAR for $3.00 cash per year.

THE SAME OLD OLD STORY.

Arkansas went democratic last Monday by 15000 to 20000 majority. The pop candidates snowed under all over the state. Let us get ready to sing the long metre doxology in Texas in December. Our populist friends seem to be loosing all over the country notwithstanding their loud boast of gains.

WANTED.

Chicago's Sham-Rock.

There is in the Irish village at Chicago a stone which Lady Aberdeen said was a genuine and historical article from Blarney. In this belief it has been kissed by tens of thousands of visitors, but it now turns out that the Countess of Aberdeen was mistaken. Sir George Colthurst, on whose estate the Blarney stone lies, threatened Lady Aberdeen with an action for libel for asserting that the stone at Chicago was the genuine article.

Whether there was any ground for a libel action may be doubted, but Lady Aberdeen had, of course, no desire to maintain in the face of a positive statement to the contrary that the stone at Chicago was the genuine article. She has accordingly agreed to withdraw the statement and publicly intimate this in the United States.

The truth is that though the Blarney stone is not at Chicago there is a stone from Blarney in the Irish village at the exhibition. The real Blarney stone would not bear transportation to America, but in this case probably one stone from Blarney is as good as another.—Bradford Observer.

A Ten Cent Show.

A tramp walked into a down town business office the other morning and very glibly asked for a dime.

"You have about as much nerve as any tramp I ever witnessed," responded the head of the firm.

"Come off," said the visitor, "I'm no tramp. I'm an actor."

"Oh, you are? Well, in what line are you?"

"In summer, when there's plenty to eat and I can sleep out of doors it's comedy, but in winter when I'm freezing and starving it's tragedy," and on that he got a dime.—Detroit Free Press.
