Things must have been quite exciting or tumultuous over at the Republican Convention Saturday in the American Legion Hall—or at least circumstantial evidence would indicate so.

First indication of unusual activity was noted Sunday morning when a number of local citizens observed the venetian blinds practically torn off the windows at the offices there, and closer observation revealed the entire room in similar disarray.

In fact, the condition of the quarters was in such shape that some investigators were sure robbery or excessive vandalism had transpired.

Then comes the true story: Leo McLellan investigated early Sunday morning, and as he opened the door—out streaked a little black dog that had been locked within the office Saturday and had spent the night in futile efforts to get away from that Republican stronghold.

Evidently the dog had wandered unobserved into the office Saturday and had inadvertently been locked in for the night.

Can't you picture the bewilderment of the investigators who later in the day checked the damage—minus the dog of course and were trying to determine the cause? Bet they were even down taking dogprints!

A visitor to the county was much impressed last week with the climate, and he inquired of one of our old timers: "Say, what's the death rate around here?"

You've already guessed the answer—"Same as it is where you came from," came the reply, "one to a person."

Jack Anderson is back on the job this week spending considerable time at his barber shop after an absence of several weeks due to illness.

Doctor Paul Spring: (after checking the ailing man) "Frankly, Mrs. — I don't like the way your husband looks at all."

Wife whom we won't name: "I don't either, Doctor, but he's nice to the kids!"

Another one of our service stations putting out that "something extra" is Pete's 66 Service on the highway. Had you noticed the little park in the making just east of the station? And we must note that the swinging gates fashioned from large Phillips 66 shields are most unique.

Red Cross Blood Unit Will Come to Area

The Red Cross Blood Unit will be accessible to this area in early October, Mrs. O. F. Lange has announced; the mobile unit will be at Hereford on October 1st to serve blood donors wishing to contribute blood for the armed forces in Korea.

Pledge cards will be available from Mrs. Lange, local home service chairman of the American Red Cross, and anyone wishing to donate blood at the Hereford location should contact her before that time.

RHEA FARM BUREAU WILL MEET FRIDAY

There will be a meeting of the Rhea Farm Bureau at the Parish House in Rhea Friday night, August 1. A short business meeting will be held and movies will be shown.

Refreshments will be served out-doors.

Fourteen Boxcars Derailed Saturday East of Friona

Department of fourteen cars of an eastbound freight train near Summerfield Saturday afternoon halted traffic on the local Santa Fe line for some hours.

Though the track was a shambles for several hundred feet, and eleven of the cars were overturned and staked in some instances, no one was reported injured.

Many local residents drove to the accident scene which was no doubt quite a sight for the younger folks.

The overturned cars were loaded with potash being shipped from Carlsbad, N. M. to eastern points.

During the track clearing, trains were routed between Clovis and Amarillo via way of Lubbock.

West Texas New Mexico League Ball Game Scheduled for Saturday

Fred Phelps, Clovis Chamber of Commerce manager, has notified the Friona Chamber of Commerce that the West-Texas-New Mexico League All Stars ball game is to be played in Clovis, Saturday, August 2nd. Phelps stated that he hoped the event would be outstanding in every respect.

Game time is 8 o'clock p. m. There will be some additional entertainment starting at 6:45. Admission is $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Awards Given By Strickland Station

Climaxing the week-end formal opening program at the Strickland Shamrock Service Station in Friona, eight prizes were awarded Monday morning all going to residents of this area.

Sheryl Long won the cocker spaniel puppy, Mr. Shamrock; and Harold Taylor received the Silver King bicycle in the children's division.

Women receiving prizes were Mrs. Casey Adams who took the 18-qt. electric roaster oven; Mrs. Hardy May, receiving the Hamilton-Beach food mixer; and Mrs. Bob Evans, who was awarded the Universal Coffeematic.

Henry H. Lloyd topped the men's division with receipt of a $25 hat; Joe Brummett won the Sunbeam Shavemaster; and Glenn E. Taylor received the aluminum auto ice box.

Favors were given everyone Saturday and Sunday, and a large number of guests registered during the two days. The new Shamrock station will remain open day and night, and owner Paul Strickland has expressed appreciation for the many visits opening day and for the trade being accorded him.

Parmer Balloting Follows State Trends

Parmer County voters turned out at the Democratic Primary election Saturday to follow the voting trends of the entire state in most races.

Only three county offices were subject to races this year, those of the commissioners in the Farwell and Friona areas, and the write-in of two major candidates in the Friona Justice of the Peace nomination.

It is expected that both the local and statewide nominations will in most instances be tantamount to election to the respective offices inasmuch as Texas is considered a 'one-party' state, and the Democratic nomination seldom fails to merit election.

Forrest Osborn was selected as Commissioner, precinct 1, in his contest against incumbent E. R. Day. Osborn tallied a total of 324 votes against 261 for Day.

A run-off in the Farwell commissioner race has been necessitated between incumbent E. F. Billingsley and contender T. E. Levy. Votes here were 219 for Billingsley, 141 for Levy, and 99 for Billy B. Hughes.

With no names appearing on the ballot for justice of the peace, J. P. Precinct 2, Walter Loveless received 31 write-in votes to head the ticket, with incumbent J. D. Hamlin receiving 19 write-ins. Several individuals received write-ins of one or two votes in both this and county offices.

In area races, Jesse Osborn won a wide margin of votes over his opponent, Karl Lovelady for the State Representative post, 96th district.

A. J. (Andy) Rogers edged Harold LaFont out of the running for State Senator in the newly-formed 30th Senatorial district, though LaFont maintained a slight lead in Parmer County, votes being 759 for LaFont, and 509 for Rogers.

Unopposed county candidates include A. D. Smith, county judge; Sam Aldridge, county attorney; Chas. Lovelace, tax assessor-collector; Fred Brewer, county and district Clerk; Mrs. Mabel Reynolds, County treasurer; C. H. Jefferson, commissioner in precinct 2; H. L. Ivy, commissioner, precinct 4; and B. N. Graham, justice of the County Democratic chairman peace in j. p. precinct 1.

G. D. Anderson and all precinct committeemen were unopposed and re-elected.

Elsewhere on this page is a breakdown of votes in Parmer County by voting boxes which were not included in this tabulation; the few absentee votes cast did not affect the outcome of any election.

Swimming Planned Monday for Cubs

Cubs of Pack 56 will have opportunity to swim in the pool at Hereford next Monday, according to plans announced this week by the council.

Boys wishing to make the trip are asked to meet at the park in Friona Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock; from there they will go in a body to Hereford.

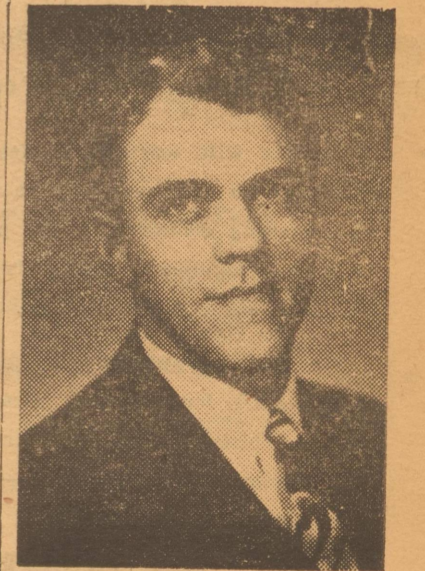

The trip will be supervised by adult leaders, and transportation will be furnished for those wishing it. Each boy should bring his own bathing etoin unum with him the 25c admission fee for the pool, and he should also bring his own bathing suit.

Transfer of Scholastics Must be Made by First

Transfer of scholastics in Parmer County must be arranged before August 1st, Judge A. D. Smith, county school superintendent, reminded this week. With this Thursday deadline leaving little more time, patrons wishing to transfer children are urged to contact Judge Smith immediately.

Mexican National Labor To Be Aired Tuesday At Littlefield Meeting

William S. Tyson, Solicitor of the Department of Labor, will speak, and answer questions when farmers and ranchers and other citizens gather in the Littlefield High School auditorium next Tuesday at 2 p. m. to discuss how legally to obtain and use Mexican national workers. The meeting is being sponsored by the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the Texas Cotton Ginners Association, the El Paso Valley Cotton Association, and the Trans-Pecos Cotton Association.

Rural Telephone Cooperative Contract Is Let; Easement Sign-up Incomplete

Now awaiting Washington acceptance of their low bid for construction of rural telephone lines for the West Texas Rural Telephone Cooperative to serve this area, the Thompson, Haight & Keister Construction Company of Oklahoma City will proceed with actual construction just as soon as materials become available.

The low bid submitted by the firm was for $558,149.86 for building of 943.6 miles, averaging $591.51 per mile, one of the lowest bids noted in the nation for similar work, manager, Leo Forrest of Hereford has stated.

Six firms bid on the job, with the highest bid being for $587,125.99, and the second lowest bid being for $561,698.02.

Though over sixty percent of the construction material already on the ground, no wire has yet been delivered, due in large measure to the lengthy steel strike, the cooperative reports. It is hoped that this material will be available in two or three months and that work can be launched at full speed at that time. The contractors have 150 working days to complete the job, and they estimate a 7 or 8-month job before completion. Right of way easements still are being secured in Parmer County, and Miss Mary Reeve has the proper forms for this and for initial membership of those wishing the service; she should be contacted at an early date.

Candidates Will Be Remembered By "How They Played The Game"

We submit for famous last words:
"After shaking hands with thousands of Texans I am convinced that I am the choice for their nominee."

This was a very popular phrase in many of the news releases sent us last week by candidates for the statewide positions, and in a few cases—exactly one for each position—the quotation proved true.

We like the interest of both the candidates and the voters before this Democratic Primary—we believe there is definite trend toward more conscientious consideration of our political structure by most citizens. And in thinking back over the many candidates announcing, and many running a good race though losing the total required votes, we must remark that we'll remember them in this light—it's not whether they won or lost, but how they played the game."

—MMM—

Burned Biscuits For Weapons!

So the wife was chosen Republican Precinct Chairman for the next two years. We'll refrain from making comment at the present time, but we'll be compelled to elaborate if she gives us too much static down the line.

In fact we already can guess the progress of this little feud—one of these morning she'll burn the biscuits, and yours truly will let slip some comment, and the wife—as usual—will come back with one better, and then politics will enter in! Now we can't hold our own with her at all, so it is probable that our Trumanite friend, Jake Lamb, will have to take it up from there.

—MMM—

Minimum Connection Between Friendship and Ballots!

We hope the candidates, both winners and losers, have been wise enough to recognize that the individual votes were not necessarily votes of undying friendship on one hand or enmity on the other. No, the ballot does not draw a line separating the friends and the enemies. The ballot is a voice of opinion, and thank goodness there are divergent opinions on politics as well as every other subject that can be mentioned. Most of our best friends differ with us—and we're probably much happier than if it were otherwise—why, if every Tom, Dick, and Harry had parallel likes and dislikes, they'd all want the same wife—and then there'd be more fireworks and more scandal than even deposed King Farouk could muster!

—MMM—

Eisenhower Seems To Be First; At Least in This Vicinity

Already a frequent comment on the street corner is, "Guess I'll have to vote for Eisenhower in November"—and a lot of mighty good Democrats are going to do just that, we predict. Actually, this turn was foreseen by this editor when even several weeks ago a number of friends would stop by and ask, "Can I vote Democratic in the Primary and Republican in November?"

—MMM—

Can Republicans Win?

from the

CULVER CITY (Calif.) STAR-NEWS

What the Republicans need to insure victory in the presidential election this year is three to five million new votes or a split among the Democrats. The Republican party has been lagging behind in popularity for 20 years.

The Republicans since 1932 have shown an increase in popular votes and the Democrats since 1936 have shown a decrease. The total, however, includes the solid South with heavy Democratic majorities that helped give the Democrats a margin of 3,364,000 votes in 1948.

In 16 states with 166 electoral votes the Republicans now hold the governorship plus a majority of Senate and House seats. These states are California, Oregon, Washington and Idaho in the West; North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Minnesota, Iowa and Wisconsin in the Middle West; and Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine in the East.

There are also 15 states with 190 electoral votes where Republicans hold either the governorship or a majority of Senate and House seats. These are Nevada, Arizona, Utah, Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico in the West; Illinois, Michigan, Indiana and Ohio in the Middle West, and New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Maryland and Delaware in the East.

If the Republicans can carry all these states in the presidential election they will have 356 electoral votes. They need only 266 votes to win. But why do the Republicans win so many state and congressional offices and lose in the presidential elections?

One reason is the influence of Washington bureaucracy propaganda on 18,000,000 persons who get federal treasury checks for services, relief and other handouts and 6,000,000 more who get money from federal contributions to state funds. Only 7,000,000 get checks drawn on funds from state and local government taxes.

The propaganda pressure of Washington bureaucracy on voters in states where the Republican majorities are small may be enough to keep the federal administration in office. In state elections this pressure may not be a factor.

Those receiving checks from federal funds directly and indirectly include over 2,000,000 civilian employees, over 5,000,000 under public assistance programs, over 4,000,000 under social security, over 5,000,000 getting veterans benefits and over 3,500,000 getting agricultural aid. If all these and others getting money from the federal government voted they would account for nearly half the number of votes cast in the 1948 presidential election.

Can the Republicans overcome this handicap in states where they have small majorities and win state elections? If they do they will have to make a real fight and show the high cost of government to the millions of voters who do not get money from the federal treasury and who did not take the trouble to vote in the last presidential election.

They cannot win with the kind of a "me-too" campaign they put on four years ago. The power of the entrenched Washington bureaucracy handing out propaganda to nearly 25,000,000 people who receive money from the federal treasury directly and indirectly is a handicap that will not easily be overcome.

Throwing Out The "Death"-Line

WASHINGTON AND "Small Business" —By C. WILSON HARDER

Despite the humid heat of summertime Washington, a chill wind blows off the Potomac into OPS, the Office of Price Stabilization, better known as the Office Plenty Screw.

In closing up business for the session, Congress handed the Office Plenty Screw a $43 million cut in its budget. $103 million was requested.

More than half of the 17,000 people employed, and it is to be noted, is the word "emp." C. W. Harder played" is used instead of "working" are in the process of dismissal, it is announced.

But apparently none of the geniuses that have sparked the Office Plenty Screw to the heights of ridiculousness will walk the plank.

A curious situation, but with a cut in funds of 40%, approximately 55% of the OPS employees will be dismissed.

Simple arithmetic indicates dismissals will be among the lower paid clerical workers, leaving intact in seats of upholstered leather chairs, the high paid brains of the Office Plenty Screw.

U. S. taxpayers will still pay plenty to keep over-stuffed chairs in top OPS offices filled.

Consider 95,000 American families with three children and annual incomes of $5,000 each. Each of those families have income for deductions of $632 per year. Thus all income tax paid by 95,000 families will just pay for the Office Plenty Screw.

In the meantime, MSA, Marshall Plan successors continues to shovel out American taxes at an unprecedented rate. In three consecutive days, covered by MSA Bulletin Nos. 123, 124 and 125, a total of $22,872,000 was given away, or an average of $7,624,000 per day, about the daily average so far this year.

Every day a whole year's income tax from 12,000 families with three children and incomes of $5,000 are given away.

The excuse given is defense.

Yet just one item was $500,000 worth of high priced coffee given to Greece.

The blue print of the job needed from individual citizens to prevent national bankruptcy was fairly well revealed in Chicago. The democratic party is committed to continuance of futile give-away programs, and the GOP platform also calls for the continuance of "foreign aid" which covers such items as coffee and tobacco.

Here is the crux of the entire situation. A large share of the billions given away are in the form of manufactured goods, produced by just a handful of huge U. S. corporations.

Their "sales" abroad are paid for by every independent businessman, and salaried person in the nation.

So far the only prominent voice heard condemning this waste of U. S. taxes is that of Herbert Hoover. Little, if any, heed is paid to his warnings, in either party.

Thus it becomes apparent that if the American people are to get out of the mire of waste and inflation, they must pull themselves up by the bootstraps.

It does not appear that the leaders of either political party are going to tackle the job.

Timely Tips
1. Fryers are on the plentiful food list. For economy serve them often.
 2. Poultry is a rich source of complete protein.
 3. The chick of chickens called YOUNG CHICKENS are approximately 9 to 12 weeks old weigh 1 2-3 to 2 1-2 pounds ready to cook.

- #### Fried Chicken
- 1 frying chicken (disjointed)
Fat for frying
Salt and pepper
Flour
- SAUCE:
2 tablespoons melted fat
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup chicken bouillon
1 1-2 teaspoons curry powder.
Roll chicken in seasoned flour. Melt fat in skillet—have melted fat about 1-4 inch deep. Fry chicken slowly until brown on all sides—add more fat if necessary. Cover skillet, cook chicken over low heat for about 20 minutes or until tender.
- To make sauce, melt fat, stir in flour. Slowly add chicken bouillon and curry powder. Cook, stirring constantly until sauce is smooth and thickened—about 10 minutes to blend the flavors. Season with salt to taste.
- Arrange chicken on platter with rice cooked with white raisins. Serve with curry sauce.

The Law and You

By Robt. (Bob) Kirk

Do you know how you can revoke your will? A will has no legal effect, until the death of the person making it. Thus once having made a will, the maker of the same may modify it, or revoke it as he desires.

The most general way of modifying or revoking a will is to make a new will, and state in the same that the maker is hereby revoking any and all previous wills. If a person wishes to change only a small portion of his will, he may make an amendment to the same called a codicil, which varies only one portion of the will.

Should a person completely revoke all former wills, they have no further force and effect.

Do You Remember...

16 Years Ago

Nearly one million Texans had voted in the primary on Saturday, Governor Allread had pushed his lead over the field in the gubernatorial race to 39,374 votes. Frank Morris of Dallas was in a run-off against Ernest O. Thompson in the election of a railroad commissioner. Rep. Maury Maverick, completing his first term in Congress won in the primary.

In the Parmer County election returns on that Saturday Walter Lander was elected County Judge A. D. Smith, county clerk; E. V. Rushing, county clerk; Earl Booth sheriff; J. M. Alexander, commissioner; J. W. Witherspoon, district attorney; J. D. Anderson, county chairman. In the campaign for state senator Clint Small won the race over Curtis Douglass by only 2,000 votes. This had been one of the hottest races in Texas politics.

Rev. J. O. Haymes, presiding elder of the Amarillo district, had occupied the Methodist pulpit in the absence of the local pastor, Rev. H. L. Thurston, who was holding meetings at Wilson Joy and Hereford.

The girl scouts had erected a booth at the election grounds at Friona high school. They had sold candy, pop corn and pop, and Mrs. R. B. Tedford.

Jack Tedford returned Monday from Fayetteville, Ark., where he visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Tedford.

Typical Comparison of Tagged and Untagged Seed.

State and Federal seed laws are intended to improve the quality of seeds offered for sale within the United States. The State laws vary somewhat because of local conditions but are mostly patterned after the Federal law. Working under these laws State enforcement officers have been reporting excellent progress in the improvement of the farmers' seed supply.

A measure of this progress is given in the 1951 Annual Report of the State Seed Commissioner of Indiana, which shows the percentage of the 2793 lots of seed offered for sale and sampled by the State inspectors which were classified as seriously misbranded. Both the federal and all State laws require that seed offered for sale be accurately labeled as to variety, purity, germination and weed seed content. In the first 3 years of record in Indiana, 1925, 1928 and 1929, the average misbranding was 33 per cent; in the years 1937-9, it was 15 per cent, and in the last 3 years (1949-51) it was only 4.1 per cent.

This report also shows that the average quality of tagged seed as offered for sale by seedsmen is far superior to the untagged seed offered by farmer-growers who, under certain conditions, are exempted from tagging seed not advertised for sale.

In summarizing the experiences of his department, the Commissioner says:

"Seedsmen perform services of great value to Indiana farmers in that they take country-run seed, clean it, refine it, test it, label it, and make it available to farmers in the quantity needed for seeding.

"Farmers have learned to expect seedsmen to furnish high quality seeds, completely and accurately labeled. The seedsmen cannot compete with country-run seed on price, but by skillful cleaning, testing, and merchandising they can and do contribute to a more prosperous agriculture. It is a pleasure to note that farmers are demanding and seedsmen are supplying higher quality seed each year.

"More and more emphasis on seed variety is being noticed each year. Farmers are very conscious of the desirability of getting the proper variety. Progressive seedsmen will keep up-to-date on the latest crop variety demonstrations and will strive to give their customers seeds of desirable germ plasm as well as seed of high mechanical purity and germination."

The one outstanding conclusion a farmer can come to as a result of this and similar reports from other States is that he can get the greatest protection against low quality seed by buying seed only from a reliable source, tagged to show the high quality seed he desires as to variety, purity, germination and freedom from weed seeds.

WEIGHTS & MEASURES

When the Texas housewife goes to the grocery store, she has every right to assume she will get an accurate measure of foodstuffs weighed on the grocery scales. In most cases she does, and her chances of getting the full amount of commodities from scales in good working order are increasing every year.

Protection of the public from inaccurate scale devices is just one of the functions of branch of the State Department of Agriculture which is little known by the average person—the Weights & Measure Division. This division is not only concerned with grocery store scales—its inspectors also guarantee you a fair measurement from pharmaceutical scales, hopper scales, livestock and motor truck scales and wholesale devices.

Filling station gasoline pumps are under its jurisdiction, as well as milk and cream testing units. And high on the list of important duties is the administration of the Texas Net Container Law which assures the purchaser of full value in all goods sold by weight, measure or numerical count. Hardly any field of commerce is exempt from the scrutiny of this division.

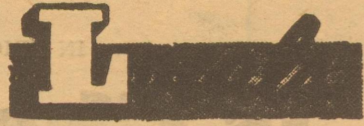

In order to maintain a high level of equality in all commercial weight and measure transactions, the Department of Agriculture is constantly making spot checks and blanket inspections of devices throughout the state. Full time inspectors are stationed at Houston, Encinal, Austin, Nacogdoches, Brownwood, Wylie and Stephenville. These men are assigned a territory and also participate in inspections in other areas when needed. If a report of suspicious scales reaches the department offices in Austin, an inspector is dispatched to the scene immediately.

Because the department's scope of activity is necessarily limited by the size of the state and over whelming number of scale devices, several cities have their own weights and measures division. These include Austin, Cleburne

Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, San Antonio and Tyler. The city bureaus work in close cooperation with the state and make monthly reports to the department.

The seal of the Texas Department of Agriculture on scales and gasoline pumps is your assurance that these devices were accurate when checked by inspectors. Until recently, these seals were oval shaped and dark green in color. A new rectangular white seal bordered in green is now being used which bears the date of the last inspection.

Watch for them! They are your guide to full measure.

In Appreciation

I wish to express my appreciation to those who supported me in my recent candidacy for Commissioner, Precinct 1, and I also wish to express my gratitude to all the residents of the precinct who have cooperated with me during the terms in which I have served.

It has been a genuine pleasure to work with you; I have fulfilled the duties of the office to the best of my ability, and I invite you to give the new commissioner the same considerations which I have enjoyed.

Very Sincerely

POWER TAKE-OFF WORK DONE BETTER!

...with the new Ford Tractor and
PROOF-METER

Everyone knows that implements driven by power take-off should be run at their recommended P.T.O. speed, for best results. But how can you tell what the P.T.O. speed is, in actual operation? Up to now, there's been no way to check it—without special equipment.

But NOW you can know! Now the Proof-Meter—standard equipment on every new Ford Tractor—shows the P.T.O. speed right before your eyes all the time—while the implement is moving, while it's under load! This exclusive Ford advantage eliminates costly "guess-work." It enables you to set the throttle to keep P.T.O.-operated implements always running at just the right speed for best work, greatest fuel economy, longest life! The Proof-Meter can increase profits on power take-off jobs, a lot. It's valuable in many other ways too...

5 Instruments in ONE! In addition to P.T.O. Speed, the Proof-Meter shows you Tractor Travel Speed, Engine Speed, Belt Pulley Speed, and indicates Hours Worked. Nothing else like it.

THE INSIDE STORY

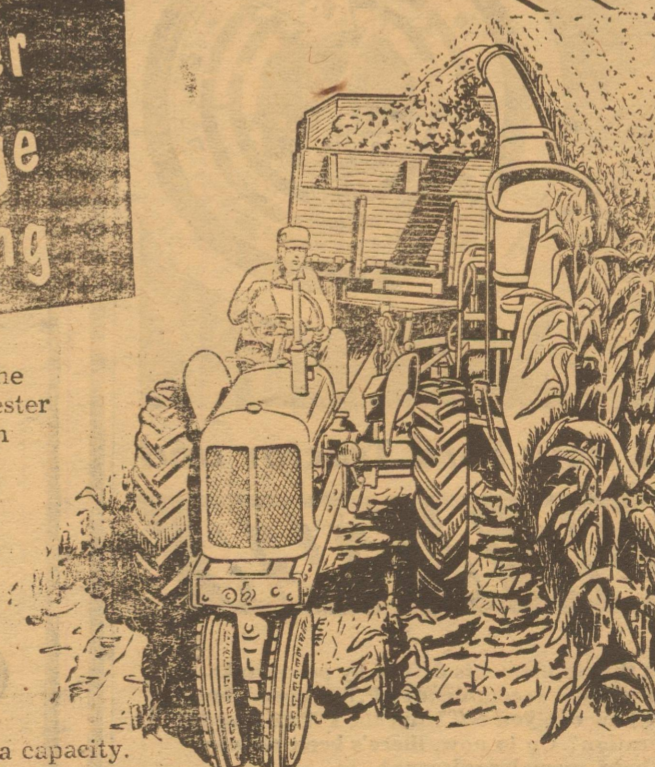

of easier forage handling

With row-crop attachment, the Allis-Chalmers Forage Harvester quickly turns a field of corn into a silo full of top-quality winter feed.

Stalks are cut by the heavy-duty sickle, then fed from the specially designed hopper straight into the chopping cylinder. Uniform length of cut is maintained and the wide cylinder gives extra capacity.

Curved and spiralled knives — power-sharpened right in the machine — cut cleanly and throw each knifeful into the trailed wagon.

Let us show you the inside story of a lower cost, time-saving harvest of all silage crops.

Attachments are also available for harvesting all standing grasses and legumes, and for windrowed crops.

Summer ROTC Camp

Cadet Charles E. Osborn an ROTC student at Texas A&M College, College Station, Tex., is now attending the 1952 Infantry ROTC Summer Camp at Fort Benning, Ga., the home of the United States Army Infantry Center.

Osborn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sloan H. Osborn of Friona, Texas.

The ROTC Camp will consist of six weeks of intensive training in courses ranging from bayonet training to radiological defense; however, most of the training will be concerned with learning the basic infantry techniques to include the firing of individual crew-served weapons and tactics. Thirty-four hours of instruction will be presented to the ROTC cadets by instructors from the famed Infantry School at Fort Benning.

In addition, recreational, social and religious activities will be a part of the camp program.

The ROTC summer camp training is an important part of the ROTC program, and it is designed to supplement the instruction which is given to ROTC students at educational institutions by additional applicatory training in the field and to prepare the cadet

The Return To Balanced Government

The people have been heard and heeded. This was overwhelming evidenced at the National Democratic Convention. The people want balance; they do not want extreme government, and they will not have it. America will not accept leftist or rightist control. They want sound, reasonable and honest government under the Constitution, and they intend to have it. The victories won by the South at the convention show the same trend that has been so obvious in Congressional halls this last year. As I have told you before, the battle is being won; we must not relax, and we will not. This I know because the people at this convention from all walks of life have told me so. Many of them are attending their first national convention. They tell me that they have learned more about politics in the last year than ever before. These people represent their neighbors. They do not represent their bosses, machines or organizations. They are not controlled, and they do not hesitate to say so. The individual delegates are making themselves heard in the caucuses and then repeating on the floor before the full convention. This has probably been the most free conven-

Lunches must provide their share of the day's needed nutrients, whether they are to be eaten at home, packed and carried, or eaten at the school cafeteria. The enriched bread sandwiches of ham and Swiss cheese are rich in proteins, vitamins and minerals, so needed in the school child's diet. With bakers' cupcakes, fruit and milk, a well-balanced diet is furnished, and one whose taste and eye appeal will make it popular eating with youngsters.

Hearty Ham-Swiss Cheese Club Sandwich
 12 slices enriched bread 4 slices Swiss cheese
 3/4 cup soft butter or margarine 4 slices boiled or baked ham

Spread bread with butter. Place 1 slice of cheese on each of 4 slices of buttered enriched bread and cover with a second slice of enriched bread. Top each sandwich with 1 slice of ham and another slice of enriched bread.
 Yield: 4 Hearty Ham-Swiss Cheese Club Sandwiches.

tion that has been held in many years. In this respect it was definitely different from the Republican Convention. The Republican convention was a battle of political steam rollers—the Taft machine on the one side, and the Dewey-Fine-Stassen machine on the other.

Many columnists and commentators called the delegates to the Democratic convention confused because they had no bell-cow to follow. These delegates did not need a bell-cow. They knew what they wanted when they came to Chicago and they did not intend to be bussed. They were not. In fact, when the South showed its strength, the chips were down. Much parliamentary maneuvering was necessary in order to bring into play this full strength. Texas played a major role in this battle, as did Mississippi. The South and Southwest are a potent force, and it is this force that will be the architect of the balanced constitutional government that we so badly need. It is the duty of every one of us to lend ourselves to the fulfillment of this task. We must not relax our interest in our government, and as I said before, I have full faith that we will enjoy final victory.

I will be home by the time you receive this letter and I am looking forward to seeing and visiting with you. This letter has been written from Chicago. I expect to come home from here. Since the adjournment things have been very quiet in Washington. Should the President call the Congress back into session, this quietness will not be long-lived.

Picnic Slated Sunday
 By Congregationalists

The annual picnic of the Congregational church and Sunday school is to be held Sunday afternoon August 10th. at the Floyd Schlenker home, according to announcement of the pastor Rev. Geo. E. Meyer, and the superintendent of the Sunday School, Otho Whitefield. The invitation goes out to all of the church families, members and friends all of the youngsters of the Sunday School and their families. Every family is to bring a picnic lunch.

Mrs. Pearl Kinsley and Mrs. Mary V. Heitzman her cousin of San Jose, California spent ten days at Hot Springs, N. M., White Sands and Ruidoso, N. M. They visited Carlsbad Caverns enroute home.

Mrs. Meyer To Conduct Sunday Morning Service

Due to the absence of the pastor, Reverend Mrs. Meyer will be in charge of the service Sunday August 3rd at the Congregational Church. Mrs. Meyer is an ordained minister of the Congregational Christian denomination and was the pastor of The First Congregational Church of Plevna, Mont. for ten years. Mrs. Meyer announces her sermon subject as A Song of The Psalmist.

Mrs. Wily Flippin and son, Clark, of Electra and Mrs. Lula Smith of Pampa were week-end visitors in the W. H. Flippin and Bill Flippin homes.

Visiting Sunday with Mrs. Mary Boggess, Mary Ann and Ranza B. Jr., were her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leighton Helm and daughter of Borger.

Miss Claudene Woolever of Clovis, New Mexico visited her sister Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schu-eler and son a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Burns of Des Moines, Iowa, visited Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schlenker and family Friday night. Saturday night they visited Mr. and Mrs.
Cordie Potts. Mr. Burns is a nephew of Floyd Schlenker and
Mrs. Helen Potts. Mr. and Mrs.
Burns have been living in California the past several months.
They are returning to their home in Des Moines, Iowa.

Mr. Floyd Schlenker attended a Board Meeting of the Rural Telephone last Tuesday at Hereford.
The contract was let to start work in about six weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Cordie Potts are driving a new car.

Herman Herzog and Bertha Schuessler of Memphis, Texas were married Sunday afternoon at four o'clock in the Lutheran Church. The pastor, Rev. E. W.
Lichtsinn performed the ceremony.

The church was decorated with yellow gladioli, dahlias, and mixed garden flowers.

The bride wore a dark blue suit. The brides-maid, which was Mr. Herzog's sister, Miss Herzog wore a light blue suit. Their corsages were made of white carnations.

The best man was Carl Hoffman.

Ringbearer was a nephew of the groom.

CONTINUES TRIP

Mrs. Mary V. Heitzman of San Jose, California who has been the guest of Mrs. Pearl Kinsley, her cousin of this city, for the past several weeks, left early this week for Upper Sandusky, Ohio, where she will visit her three brothers and a sister before returning to her home in early autumn.
