Our Roads Are Fine In Fair Weather

When the weather is dry and fair, Parmer county has as good a system of dirt roads as perhaps any county in the state, or the United States, for that matter—when we have a spell of wet weather such as experienced a few weeks ago, everybody in the county knows that our roads are anything but good—in fact the bottom seems to drop out of them and they are reduced to a mass of deep ruts, high centers and bad holes.

Therefore Parmer county needs a hard surfaced road just the same as any other county, and since it is within the reach of our people they should have it. Especially is this true since it is already paid for and the money is at this time available for building the road. And the way is blocked only by individual interests and unfounded sectionalism prejudices.

It is a matter of interest as to whether the farmers and laborers of the county will sanction such unwarranted disregard of their interests, especially at a time when they are so sorely in need of the employment the building of the road will afford them.

While many of the farmers have a fair feed crop, very few of them have much grain and many of them claim to have none, and even though they have had a good crop they could get nothing for it, and it has been heard stated repeatedly by many farmers all over the county that unless something is done whereby they can secure employment during the winter they know not what is to become of them and their families. It is, as has been stated by one of the most prominent and worthy citizens of the county, who is not a resident of Friona, "Almost criminal to withhold this opportunity from our people at a time like the present."

Union Laymen Enjoy Best Program Yet

Sunday night was the regular date for the Union Laymen's meeting, and one of the best and most interesting programs the association has yet prepared was given. The program opened with community singing, led by Prof. Davis, with Miss Francis Lacy at the piano, and this was followed by the following numbers:

Vocal solo: Mr. Davis.
Cornet solo: Mr. Strain.
Relation of schools and church: Mr. Heath.
Character forming: Mr. Stuart.
Reading: Mr. Eubanks.

The talks by Profs. Heath and Stuart were well delivered and were the result of considerable thought and preparation, as the matter presented in each was practical and necessary for the greatest beneficial results from either institution, school or church.

Prof. Eubanks' reading was of a deeply religious nature and was a presentation of the circumstances surrounding the betrayal and arrest of Jesus Christ, and was delivered in the speaker's usual easy and free manner and strong, clear voice.

Many expressions of appreciation of each number of the program was heard from those who heard it. The next meeting of the Association will be held the third Sunday night in November at the Congregational church auditorium.

J. H. Key this week received full payment from an insurance company for the damage sustained from the fire that broke out in his store a few weeks ago.

Oklahoma Men Here Wednesday.

Eric Sherman and Mr. Anderson of the Sherman Machine & Iron Works of Oklahoma City, were business visitors in Friona Wednesday.

This company were contractors who installed the Friona water-works, and Mr. Sherman has been in Friona frequently and has a number of acquaintances here who are always pleased to have him return. It was Mr. Anderson's first visit to Friona.

Fair Weather Followed By Cold; Light Rain

During the past week, for the most part, Friona people have been enjoying ideal autumn weather, with clear skies and bright, warm sunshine.

Wednesday, however, the wind shifted to the northwest, and by nine o'clock in the evening a slight east of clouds drifted over from the southeast and the temperature continued to go lower.

By Thursday morning the sky was entirely overcast and the northeast wind was quite cool, but no ice was formed. It continued cloudy all day, with occasional sprinkles of rain, but not sufficient to wet the surface of the ground, but fire felt very comfortable all day.

Dr. J. A. Hill Delivers Appreciated Talk Here

The address given here Monday night by Dr. J. A. Hill of Canyon was listened to with close attention by an audience that practically filled the auditorium at the grade school building.

Dr. Hill has spoken here on former occasions and has always been well received by our people and this occasion, which was under the auspices of the local Parent-Teacher Association, was no exception. His address was preceded by a short business session of the Association and musical numbers.

Among other things mentioned by Dr. Hill was the fact that our entire system of government as a democracy is dependent for its success on the better education of the masses of the people governed. Take away or cripple our educational system and we have deprived our government of its mainstay of efficiency.

The speaker also referred to the fact that the American people usually buy what they want. That school taxes are high and that they cannot afford to pay them. He then gave statistics showing that there is more money spent for tobacco in the state of Texas each year than is spent for school purposes, all kinds of schools included. The tobacco bill runs to $74,000,000, while the school bill amounts to only $71,000,000. The per capita spent for snuff alone being 20 cents annually, while the per capita for school purposes is but a few cents over a dollar. He did not decry any man the use of tobacco, if he desired it, but he left this comparison with us—if we can afford to pay but one of two bills, that of tobacco or that of our schools, which of the two do we consider of the greatest value to ourselves, our children and our country—the tobacco or the school.

He advised his hearers not to allow themselves to become too slack in regard to their schools, but to strive for their efficiency at all times, for no one knows what damage to a young life may be caused by the lack of even one year in school.

Farmer Will Sell 120 Hogs From One Sow

The public sale of Lynn Powellson, 19 miles northeast of Hereford, brings to light an interesting item concerning one of the most important industries in Deaf Smith county. In his sale there are 120 pure bred Duroc hogs, every one of which is a direct descendant of one sow he has on the farm and which is still considered a valuable money-maker.

P.-T. A. Report.

The Friona P.-T. A. met in regular session October 17, with about 200 patrons and friends of the school in attendance.

After a short musical program consisting of a cornet trio, a piano solo, by Miss Frances Lacy, and a vocal solo by Mr. Davis, accompanied by the girl's Glee Club.

Superintendent Heath then introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the West Texas State Teachers College. Dr. Hill's address was on the subject of present day school problems, in which he stressed the importance of maintaining the standard of the schools at any cost. It was indeed a privilege to have Dr. Hill with us. He is a fluent and able speaker and held the undivided attention of the entire audience during his address.

At the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed, during which refreshments of sandwiches and coffee were served.

A Busy Man.

Clyde Seamans, one of Friona's leading stockmen and farmers, was in town last Thursday morning, deeply interested in getting repairs for his binders. He is a very busy man owing to the fact that he is shipping cattle, buying cattle and trying to get his crop harvested.

He last week shipped 500 head of cattle to a buyer in Monmouth, Illinois, and is on a deal for several hundred more, which he was expected to inspect and receive on that day.

In addition to his cattle business Mr. Seamans has 1400 acres of feed crop now ready for cutting and has five row binders busy every day in his fields, and they require a considerable part of his time in keeping them in running order.

He says he will cut and shock until the crop is caught by a heavy frost or freeze, and what is then uncut he will use for winter pasture, allowing his cattle to do the remainder of the harvesting. He also has a large amount of last year's feed crop on hand, which he will use before beginning on the new crop. While Mr. Seamans always grows an immense acreage of feed crops, he very seldom if ever sells any of the grain as he grows it entirely for feeding during the winter to his large droves of cattle.

Purchased New Dwelling.

Frank Bibbes, engineer at the Friona Gin has recently purchased from Truitt and Landrum the house formerly owned by T. W. Turner. Mr. Bibbes has moved the house from its former location to a lot just north of the gin and is repairing and remodeling it into a very neat and comfortable home into which he will move his family in the near future.

A Windy Day.

Tuesday was one of those occasional windy fall days which occur in this locality, and while the wind was not severe, it carried with it some real estate it dug up as it hurried on its way. The fact that an occasional tumbleweed was seen rapidly lumbering across the country in the face of the wind, and scattering its seed promiscuously as it tumbled, was an unmistakable evidence that autumn weather has arrived.

New Building Begun In Friona Wednesday

Work was begun Wednesday by M. H. Sylvester on his new building, which will house his garage and machine shop, taking the place of the one which burned down on the morning of July 18.

The new building will be 30 x 50 feet in dimensions and will be erected on the same lot where the old building stood. Mr. Sylvester proposes to equip it with machinery and other equipment of the most modern kind, which will make one of the most complete shops of its kind in the county. G. E. Taylor and H. A. Barnett will do the work on the building.

All of Us Pay Taxes In a Variety of Forms

It has been expressed by some officials that people who pay no taxes should have no say in the affairs of local government. That is not just nor right, but suppose it were, where will the official draw his line as to the non-taxpayer?

Every dollar used to support the national, state, county, city and school governments is secured from taxation, whether we pay it directly to the tax collector or not.

We pay a tax when we turn on an electric light, or light a gasoline lamp, or drive a car or truck; when we light a cigarette or buy a pack of cards, or attend a theatre, or cash a check or cook a meal, and so on down the line, and very few, if any, of us will find our selves exempt from some line of taxation, either direct or indirect and to say that no one but taxpayers should have any say in our local government amounts to about the same thing as saying we have no right to live in this old world.

It is said that direct taxation is the least important phase of the tax problem to perhaps a majority of our people while the indirect tax will amount to many times the amount of the direct tax.

An official who states that none but the direct taxpayer has any right to consideration from our government, and our officials, is surely looking upon the matter from an entirely personal or biased view, and could not therefore be a true representative of the people especially those of small means.

Halloween Carnival.

Plans for the annual Halloween carnival to be held at the school buildings Friday night, October 28, are progressing rapidly.

Each grade will have a booth with something to sell or some form of entertainment. The crowning of the King and Queen, followed by an excellent program under the direction of Mr. Eubanks, will be held in the auditorium at 8:00 p. m.

Watch for posters announcing the various attractions. Save your nickles and come and have a good time—Friday night, October 28.

Fire Department Gets In Some Fine Work

Though a comparatively small per cent of Friona's population seems to be aware of the fact, is a fact that members of our local fire department are continually working on the job of acquiring efficiency in the manner of their service should a fire break out in the city.

Principally by their own efforts, headed by Chief Ray Smith, they have secured and prepared housing for the truck and hose, have had it lighted and the door secured with a good lock, and have secured and attached a siren to the truck and hold regular tri-weekly drills.

Through the activities of these drills they are keeping the fire plugs of the city flushed and in easy operation should they at any time be needed.

These boys are working either at their own business or as employees of others, and have little chance to get away for these drills, so they deny themselves the usual six o'clock supper on the evenings of their drills and while neighbors are enjoying supper they are devoting the hour to preparation for a service that may some time mean the saving of the lives of some of our citizens, to say nothing of property to be saved by their efforts.

Are citizens of Friona appreciating the sacrifice and service of these young men in their behalf? If there are any who do, they seem to be afraid of letting any one, especially the fire boys, know about it.

Why not do a little chipping-in to help these boys secure some of the many things they need to protect themselves and to make their services more efficient.

Cotton Coming In At a Rapid Rate

During the past ten days or two weeks cotton has been rolling in to the Friona gin in a fairly steady stream, to the extent that at least 150 bales will have been ginned by the close of this week.

The gin has been kept running steadily all day for several days and toward the middle of the week it was necessary to run far into the night and perhaps a few nights all night.

Cotton is said to be opening nicely and of a good quality, but is still a little tough, thus making it a little difficult to gin. C. S. Waddell, manager of the gin, reports that the crop this season will make an average of half a bale or better to the acre. Cotton picking is affording employment to many Friona people who were unemployed.

Senior Hay Ride.

Friday evening, 27 members of the senior class and their sponsor, Mr. Eubanks, and three other faculty members met at the high school building to go on a hay ride. After all had gathered some of the boys brought a wagon filled with hay. After driving thru town and giving some yells, we drove to a nearby lake. Games were played and after a good appetite was worked up, refreshments of sandwiches, fruit, cookies, pickles, marshmallows and watermelon were served. Everyone enjoyed the evening and we especially enjoyed the watermelon. Our load was so large that when we started home we broke the wagon down. Some of the group walked back to town, while the rest remained with the wagon until it was repaired.

An Appreciation.

The school wishes in this way to show its appreciation and thanks to Harold Hanson for donating to the Friona school library "The Four Million," by O. Henry. This book is in good condition and contains 25 short stories. The author is a well known American writer. This book will be a great help to the freshmen and sophomores for their outside reading work. The school would appreciate very much any books that you have that will benefit the school. Our library is very small this year, and it is hard for the English students to find enough material, therefore all the books that the students can donate will certainly be appreciated.

Visitors.

Chapel days seem to be the only days when we have visitors. They are welcome at any time. Visit the class rooms and really find out what the students and teachers are doing.

The 0-0 Game.

The Friona and Amarillo game played on our home field last Friday was very interesting. The Chiefs and the Yannigans were very evenly matched. The two teams were very eager and showed plenty of spirit to win. The Yannigans seemed to have thought the game would be a very easy one but it looked as if they changed their minds before the game was over.

The Friona team was composed of the same boys who played the last game, Orville Whitesfield and Roy Johnson, ends; Charlie Bennett and Clifford Crow, tackles; Douglas Frost and Hines McFarland, guards; Charles Reeve, center; Conway Frost, quarter; Bud Barnett and Oliver Hamblen, half-backs, and Russell Lobin in the fullback position.

The back field men of both teams showed a good determination in carrying the ball. The line men did their part as the back fields did theirs. Just at the close of the first quarter of the game there was a substitution made on the Friona team, taking out Roy Johnson and replacing him with Hilton Lansdown, who did some fierce fighting the remainder of the game. These players played until the third quarter, and a substitution was made putting Cleveland Hamblen in his place. These players played until the first of the fourth quarter and Oliver took his place back. Before the fourth quarter was over there was a substitution made taking out Hines McFarland from the guard position and placing Edward Massey in his place.

This game enabled our boys to know and to learn more football for we have some players that have never played a game before. This taught them how to play ball against their equals.

Seventh Grade Girls' Music Club.

The seventh grade girls have organized a club in music, called the Treble club. The motto is "Progress is made by work alone." They have set aside Wednesday of each week for their club day. They hope to get class pins with the treble clef sign on them. The officers of the club are Edna Earl Curry, president; Stella Lansdown, vice president; Pearl Houlette, secretary and treasurer; Louise Euler, reporter; Frances Lacy, pianist.

Sixth Grade English.

The sixth grade English club was organized Friday, October 14, and these officers were elected: Marjorie Lacy, president; Fredia Johnson, vice president; Edith Mosley, secretary; Roberta Rushing, treasurer; Edith Mae Frost, reporter. The following program was given: "For he's a jolly good fellow," seven boys with harmonicas. Reading, Roberta Rushing; song, 11 girls; story, Mattie Cole. The class is well organized. Those who made 100 in spelling last week were William Lenaburg and Stanley Massey.

Third Grade.

The third grade has been especially interested in the study of Indian life. Pictures of Indian maidens and chiefs have been studied. The sand table has been used as an art project. On it you can see an Indian scene. There is a wigwam with a fur rug. In front of it is a group of Indians around a fire. The Indian dress is of brown with bright colors. Indian symbols are used on blankets, canoes, pottery and Indian rugs. Symbols for good luck, work, love and thunder-bird tract were used. Stories have been read to the class. The class played that they were Indian braves. They shouldn't crack a smile when they heard about an elk's horn as large as trees, and they shouldn't sigh when the Indian boy was changed to a wolf.

The Treble Club Program.

The program for this week was as follows:
Song: Group.
Business.
Life of Verdi: Louise Euler.
Story of the Opera of Aida: Stella Lansdown.
Celestia Aida: Mr. Davis.
REPORTER.

Third Grade Report.

The third grade, with Miss Mayers as teacher, has been studying about Indians for the past week. They have made some interesting posters in class. There were only two of the pupils who went to the football game from the third grade, Frances Massey and Howard Taylor.

Harmonica Club.

The boys of the 5th, 6th and 7th grades have organized a harmonica club, with Mr. Davis as director. A harmonica pin is offered to everyone who can play a certain number of tunes and the boys are working for the pins.

Mathematics.

This year there are six math classes, which are composed of 157 students, and they are under the instruction of Miss Handley. In each class there is plenty of good material to represent us in the county meet this year.

Friona Plays Hereford.

The Friona Chiefs are going to play the Hereford Whitefaces Friday, October 21. This is Friona's third game and we have not been beaten. The two games were with Kress and the Amarillo Yannigans. The score for the Kress game was 24-0 in favor of Friona and the Amarillo game was 0-0.

Hereford has played two games and lost one, winning from White Deer 20-0, losing to Clovis 20-7. This Friona game will be played on the Hereford field and we hope to win so we may remain in the league race. Every loyal person should be there and help Friona win.

Seventh Grade.

The seventh grade has elected the following officers: Ruth Reeve, president; Johnnie Lee Gore, vice president; Edna Earl Curry, secretary-treasurer; Stella Lansdown, reporter. The class has a business meeting and a short program every two weeks. Members of the seventh grade will collect more news items for the Friona Star each week.

Miss Holgate.

Miss Holgate comes to us from Canyon where she attended one year of high school and four years of work at W. T. S. T. C. She majored in Spanish and Commercial work. She worked her way through college by working one year at the college book store. She is very enthusiastic over athletics and has one gym class. The students are finding her very pleasant to work with and she is always willing to devote much of her time to helping them with their work. She has gained a number of good friends by her winning ways.

Sophomore Watermelon Cutting.

The Sophs met at 7:30 Friday night at the Heath home, 24 being present. In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Heath, Misses Handley and Lewis were there. We played games until disturbed by the senior class' yelling. We gave 15 rahs for the Sophs. At the end of these we discovered the seniors were swiping our melons, losing one or two, one of which was bad. We had plenty of melons. We are determined to have the best times of any class in school. We left at 9:30, after we bade our friends a most cordial good night and thanked our host and hostess for the nice time. We reached home in an excellent state of mind after an enjoyable time.

REPORTER.

Card of Thanks.

The senior class wishes to take this means to express our gratitude toward the sophomore class for the elegant watermelon feast afforded them Friday evening. To them we indeed warmly extend our thanks. The Senior Class.

WORLD NEWS

OF THE PAST WEEK

Work will soon start on a great suspension bridge to span the Mississippi River at New Orleans. Twice as long as the famous Brooklyn Bridge and high enough for a seagoing vessel to pass under, this structure will be a marvel of modern engineering skill, an example of man's ingenuity and indomitable will. Wonderful indeed are the advances this animal, man, has made in the principles of science; very sad that corresponding advances have not been made in the principles of living.

Experts now predict a "New York to Shanghai in six days" service by 1933. Thirty years ago skeptics said "no" emphatically to nit-wits who prophesied an automotive world with a large percentage of the people driving "horseless buggies". Railroad magnates, to their sorrow, failed to recognize potential competition in the motor truck. Why is it improbable to suppose that within the next decade, liners and freighters on the ocean will yield supremacy to liners and freighters in the air.

Jack Dempsey, ex-heavyweight boxing champion, owns a big ranch in California. This year he raised something near 1,000,000 pounds of peaches on his farm. But there was no market, so he could not move an ounce of them. Dempsey was willing to give them to the poor and needy, but none of them were carried away, so the peaches rotted on the trees.

The Star is in receipt of a very good news contribution from the Jesko community, which is highly appreciated and which we hope to have as a regular feature of the paper hereafter.

Letters from Our Friends.

The Star man has been in receipt of a few letters recently that go a long way toward keeping his courage up in trying to serve his people in the form of a local paper.

For the benefit of our other readers we are printing two of these letters.

Dear Friend John: Herein find check for subscription to the Star. No use talking, you put out a fine little paper and you have an opinion of your own. Then I am always glad to hear about the doings of our old home town, even if I rarely see you. With kindest personal esteem, I am,

Thine truly,
Massena, N. Y., Oct. 14, 1932

Dear Mr. White: For old times sake, I am writing you a few lines. We greatly enjoy the Star and we keep up with Friona quite well through it.

I was greatly interested in the Creed of the Hooverite, A. D., 1932 which you had in the Star. But I was wondering about it. Is it true that people do really take that view of Mr. Hoover? I think it is very unfair to Mr. Hoover and more unfair to the one that seems to believe that about him I was a Democrat, but that sort of dig makes me feel that the Democrats have nothing but digs to offer the country in these days when we need serious thinking.

So I am sending you a copy of Mr. Coolidge's speech which he delivered in New York this week. I feel that those who are given to making puns about Mr. Hoover will get some solid food for thought through this speech. I wished that every person in the country might hear or read it. Of course it would make a good deal of paper and ink to publish this speech, but I am sure it will be worth it.

Cordially yours,
We are grateful for the receipt of the copy of Mr. Coolidge's speech, which is a masterpiece, but owing to the diminutive size of the Star's pages and its non-political attitude, we are unable to publish it. We also highly appreciate the kindly expressions of the good will of both writers.—Editor

Do They?

I wonder if our citizens appreciate the fact that they will pay for a hard-surfaced road through Parmer county whether they get it or not? It is a fact, nevertheless. The money is now available, already in the treasury, for this work. If it is not used in Parmer county it will be used to construct roads in some other part of the state and we pay for that road just the same as if the road went across Parmer county. This is an undoubted fact.

And again, if we do not get this money that is now available we will never get it. This abundant supply of road money will soon be gone, and it will be a long time before any more is available.

Do the people of Parmer county see that the only question of getting this hard-surfaced road is simply the question whether certain interests will allow us to have it? It is a fact.

Let's have the road made through Parmer county.

DR. A. P. MELROY.

Buried Here Thursday.

Charles Roland Taylor, who died at the home of his sister in Clovis Tuesday afternoon, was laid to rest in the Friona cemetery Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Taylor, who was better known here as "Rollie", had spent the past several years of his life in this community and at Clovis, and was well known by a large number of Friona people. The Star hopes to be able to give a more detailed account of his life next week.

To Visit Father in Missouri.

L. F. Lillard departed by train Friday morning of Kearney, Missouri, where he will visit his father, J. F. Lillard, for a few days.

The elder Mr. Lillard at one time lived in Friona, during the pioneer days, but after a few years returned to his former home in Missouri, where he has since resided. He is therefore remembered by many of the original settlers of this town and locality. He has been in poor health for some time, and his son having completed the greater part of his farm work for the season, is taking advantage of the occasion to pay him a visit.

Congregational Church Notes.

The usual number was present at Sunday school, but owing to the absence of the teacher of the young people's class this class was combined with the high school class for the lesson discussion.

A larger number than usual was present in the adult class and the discussion was interesting to all. This class had as a guest of the day J. E. Wilson of Glenn Cove, who is here visiting his daughter, Mrs. B. T. Galloway and family.

At the worship service Rev. Annis was present and delivered to us another of his interesting and instructive sermons, for which he had a larger congregation than that which was present for the Sunday school. This was his second sermon as pastor of the church. He will preach again at the 11:00 o'clock hour on Sunday, October 30. The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

Lakeview Demonstration Club.

The Lakeview demonstration club met at the home of Mrs. J. M. Holley October 17, with 18 members and three visitors present.

Miss Rozelle McKinney met with the club and gave a demonstration on making sandwich and American cheese. Also gave a talk on the proper care of milk and milk pails. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Ennis Cummings on Monday afternoon, October 31, when a winter hot bed for the production of vegetables through the winter will be constructed. Visitors are always welcome.

Junior Woman's Club

The Junior Woman's Club met in regular session Tuesday evening, October 18, at the home of Miss Lola Goodwine, with Misses Goodwine and Wanda Walker as hostesses. The following program on "Handicraft" was given:

Response, My favorite line of poetry.

Patik and quilting: Mrs. A. C. Echols.

Musical reading, "Home": Miss Thelma Osborn.

Without Needle and Thread: Miss Alice Guyer.

An interesting feature of the program was a colorful display of handicraft made by the members present. The collection included quilts, baskets, pottery, pillows and embroidery work. The method of making each article was told by the owner.

After a short parliamentary drill conducted by Miss Estella Welch, delicious refreshments were served to fourteen members. The next meeting will be with Miss Orma White.

Called to Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Dilger received a message last Friday telling them of the death of Mrs. Dilger's brother, A. E. James, at Alva, Oklahoma.

They departed for Oklahoma early Saturday morning in a car to be present at the funeral, returning to Friona about the middle of the week.

The Star joins their other Friona friends in extending sympathy in their time of sorrow.
