The Mother Up the Street observes that children, like canoes, are more easily controlled if paddled from the rear.

Nominations, for what they're worth:

Earliest risers in town: The Jennings boys and their crew, commencing their daily aerial dusting and spraying operations.

A good cotton farmer: Albert Rolan.

Best barber on the east side of the street: Jack Anderson. (Incidentally, Jack says its sure hard to keep up with the neighbors, especially those Lillards to the south. Seems the L's improved their lawn, Jack had to do likewise; then comes fence building, and Jack follows suit; then getting up into more money a new Chevy is purchased by the Lillards, and of course Jack now is driving a new one. Sure anxious to see what C. L. and LaVelle will spring next for Jack to follow through on.)

Man with a philosophy: Uncle John White.

Merchant on his toes: Allan Stewart.

Checker champion: (Wouldn't dare give the nod here, cause F. S. Truitt, George Baker, Billy Turner, and A. W. Wood haven't even settled on that question.)

Among our outstanding intellects: Mrs. Nelson Welch.

Best attorney in town: Bill Sheehan (Yes, Bill and family are arriving back early this month. Welcome home, Bill and Mary.)

Fisherman of the year: Insufficient qualifications being shown by anyone to date. And that includes Druggist-Fisherman Beene, the boys up at the Consumers, Jake Lamb, the Spring brothers and yours truly.

Don't know whether its because of the leadership of a president with deep convictions, a trend of the times, or recognition of man's weakness without God, but for some reason a number of religious movements are gaining ground in the core of American industry and civic enterprises.

Dedicated to serve "God and Country," the American Legion over the nation has made the "Back to God" movement a major activity for the year. The 17,200 posts have listed as objectives: regular attendance at religious services, daily family prayer and scripture reading, and the religious education of children.

Many industrial organizations have chapel services or meditation periods as a regular item in the week's schedule. Work of the Le-Tourneau organization in Louisiana has long been observed in this practice.

And many of you saw the recent comment in a popular columnist's writing wherein he told of business conferences beginning in a chapel pew rather than cocktail lounge. Let's trust these are real trends, not just isolated cases. We hazard an observation that a lot of people are talking to God for the first time in years.

Familiar scenes: New building still holding the spotlight, with the Joe Douglas home progressing rapidly, the finishing touches applied to the Bental Beene residence, talk of a new retail business along Main Street, poles being erected at the

Weather

Scattered heavy rain fell Sunday afternoon, increasing in amount from Friona southeastward in a belt extending over through Castro and Swisher counties. Damaging hail was reported in areas six to ten miles out from Friona.

A cool norther with gusty winds swept through the area early Wednesday morning.

Forecast is for little change in temperatures, with scattered thundershowers possible in the afternoons.

Bill McGlothlin drive-in site. New Chevrolets being driven by Preach Cranfill and Dillie Kelley. Marvin Lawson might enthusiastically about something new to be announced soon, probably in connection with his Chief Drive-In. Development and care of a "super" football field here with new fencing soon to be erected. A practice field is being prepared just north of the Chieftian gridiron.

Mary Sudderth driving a new Plymouth. Gaylord Maurer visiting old friends and familiar haunts. Understand he is off from school 'til May 20, then its full speed ahead with crowded schedule.

The park is more beautiful than ever. Yet benches are in need of care and repair, to say nothing of the playground equipment. Too bad a permanent playground program hasn't been worked out.

Regret to hear the Carmichael cotton southeast of town suffered the limit from the Sunday afternoon hail that streaked through that streaked through that vicinity. Lots of cotton is being replanted because of the late freeze and the hail damage. Believe cotton has moved in to stay, however. Latest gin in the area is being erected between Black and Summerfield.

Farmers Next For Social Security Plan?

Farm Bureau Report

By RAYMOND EULER

Les Bruns, director from Lazbuddy community, attended the meeting in Lubbock last Friday where farm legislation was discussed by Farm Bureau authorities. One of the things that apparently is going to become law in spite of farm opposition is the extension of Social Security to farmers and farm employees, Bruns reported. We are of the opinion that this should be a voluntary matter for each individual. Real security can hardly be a matter of legislation that compels participation in someone's pet program.

If you are one who favors tax reductions, look the situation over and see which benefits you receive that you would be willing to forego in favor of tax reductions. The two go hand in hand, either way.

Texas Farm Bureau President Walter Hammond is again working for availability of all possible grain storage, and extension of storage on the ground temporarily for loan grains. The latter provision was successfully championed by Hammond for Farm Bureau in 1949, saving Texas wheat growers 40 million dollars. Ironically, the shortage of storage became a myth as soon as such approval was gained.

Directors of Parmer County Farm Bureau will meet at Friona Legion Hall at 8:00 o'clock Monday night, June 7. This is the regular monthly meeting at which you, as a member, are very welcome if you wish to attend. This is the only board of directors we know of in the county that makes this continuous invitation. Members of the board are: Kenneth Neill, Clarence Meeks, T. L. Kent, Earl Stevenson, J. T. Jones, L. F. Bruns, Claude Miller, E. T. Ford, Ralph Smith, Raymond Schueler, T. E. Lovett and Aubrey Ellison. If you live near one of them, come with him, or come by yourself.

Texas Farm Bureau began a series of radio programs, broadcasting over some sixty stations, Saturday, May 22. We'll have the stations and time of these broadcasts soon. Such radio time, incidentally, is furnished free, as a public service feature of participating stations.

Consider this: "The just man walketh in his integrity; his children are blessed after him." Proverbs 20:7.

POPPY SALES SOARED LOCALLY

Small, red flowers, handmade by veterans, were sold Saturday, May 29, on Poppy Day. The results of the sale in Friona were $12,550, reports the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion.

It is surprising to find that in America, there are still a few people who do not know the meaning of Poppy Day, nor that the flowers are worn in memoriam of the nation's war dead, one woman stated. Proceeds from poppy sales go to help disabled war veterans and their needy children.

The poppy is a symbol, a symbol of those who have died not only that Americans might live but that they might live in freedom and abundance.

H.E. Girls Receive Summer Credits

Thirty-two homemaking girls signed for summer projects this year. A half credit may be earned by any student who has completed one year of homemaking with a passing grade.

To earn the one-half credit the girls must work at least 100 hours on an approved project, such as meal planning, preparation of meals, canning and freezing, gardening, home care of the sick, redecoration of part of the home, construction of new clothing, and poultry raising.

A written record will be kept of all work done and several group meetings will be held. The work must be completed by June 30. Mrs. Mary Kate Zeman, homemaking instructor, will make occasional visits to the students' homes to check on the progress that is being made on their project.

Cubs Will Visit Amarillo Base

The Friona Cub Scout group will leave June 5, for the Amarillo Air Base, says Judge Barker. They will spend the entire day, have their meals in the mess halls there, and be shown through the plant. The Cubs will tour the barracks and view the plane engines.

Sherrill Returns To Friona Church

Rev. Ural S. Sherrill has been re-assigned to pastorate of the Friona Methodist church, with appointments read Sunday afternoon at the close of the Northwest Texas Annual Conference of that church in Amarillo.

Rev. Walter G. White was sent to Bovina; Rev. Harold L. Morris to the Lazbuddy-Big Square charge, and Rev. Vernon Willard to Oklahoma Lane. Rev. S. M. Dunnam returned to First church, Hereford, with Rev. E. L. Naugle to the Wesley church there.

Highway Accidents Effect Costly Toll

Property damage of over $57,000 resulted during April from rural traffic accidents in the local Texas Highway Patrol District alone, according to report just released. This astounding figure does not include accidents in cities over 2,500 or those investigated by other police agencies.

Contributing causes of the accidents ranked as speeding, driving while intoxicated, failure to grant right-of-way, wrong side of road (not in passing) and following other vehicles too closely.

Captain J. W. Blackwell of the Amarillo division notes that in carrying out their basic duties, the 28 patrolmen of the Amarillo District performed the following number of activities during the month: Eighty accidents investigated. Traffic arrests totaling 412. Of these, 35 for DWI. Warnings were given in 1295 instances.

Friona Wheat Growers Annual Meet Tuesday

Stockholders are invited to attend the annual meeting of the Friona Wheat Growers, Inc., Tuesday, June 8, at the Friona school cafeteria and auditorium, according to announcement of Arthur Drake, manager.

The meeting will start at 6:30 p. m. with a barbecue, to be followed by a business session at which two directors will be elected. Attendance prizes will be given at the close of the meeting.

Street Markers Being Installed

Though the residents of Friona could go through the streets blindfolded, newcomers sometimes have a hard time following any directions that might be given them, and indeed it is sometimes hard to give directions. As one stranger stated, "The minute I asked where a certain place was, my informer started asking, 'Well, do you know where so-and-so lives?' Never having been in the town before, I had no idea. It had me going around in circles."

But the city has begun making the street markers that Friona so badly needed. The Progressive Study club is furnishing the materials with which the city is making the markers. The Lions club set up 64 Wednesday and still have 52 to place on the corners. The Boy Scouts will paint the markers and according to the city office, the project will be finished in approximately one month.

Train Derailment Was Spectacular

Thirty-four cars of a Santa Fe freight were derailed Sunday at the east switch at Summerfield (about five and one-half miles west of Hereford). The cars were filled with perishable goods. Five or six carloads of fruit were taken to Hereford to reload on other cars.

Cause of the derailment remains unknown. Extensive damage was incurred, 10 car lengths of track being torn up and several cars destroyed. Some of the cars were salvaged and can be put back in service, however.

Local mail suffered a delay of approximately 24 hours.

ing to announcement of Arthur Drake, manager.

The meeting will start at 6:30 p. m. with a barbecue, to be followed by a business session at which two directors will be elected. Attendance prizes will be given at the close of the meeting.

Two directors are to be elected, with the three-year terms of Sloan Osborn and Clyde Goodwine expiring. Osborn is vice-president of the corporation, and Goodwine is secretary-treasurer.

NEW PHARMACIST

Dick Larson arrived in Friona last week from Cheyenne, Oklahoma. Mr. Larson, a 1953 graduate of Oklahoma University, will be employed by the local hospital as a pharmacist.

Directories Ready For Rural Phones

A number of June, 1954, Parmer, Hub and Tharp Rural Exchange directories are available at the Star office. Those desiring a copy may pick one up at any time. The West Texas Rural Telephone Co-op of Hereford supplied them today.

The Cooperative warns subscribers to be good party line members and be sure to replace the receiver after completing a call. To report a telephone out of order or service difficulty, dial O and report to the Hereford operator. For other telephone business matters (when you wish to order a telephone, have your telephone moved, or discuss your bill), dial O for the Hereford operator and ask for number 167.

TOUR SIX STATES

Leaving May 19, on an extended trip that lasted 18 days, the Joe Colliers have returned from a trip that covered six states and travel of 3,000 miles.

Pierre, the capitol of South Dakota, was the first stop on the map to be visited. Several days were spent there visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Cruse. Mrs. Collier reported that while fishing in South Dakota they caught as many as 40 fish in a little over two hours. The vacationers traveled on through Miller, South Dakota, and into eastern Kansas, Nebraska, and Missouri.

Mrs. Collier said that fishing at the trout farm in Missouri was quite an experience. "They furnished the bait and charged for the pound of fish caught," and she continued, "we fished five dollars worth in the first 30 minutes."

According to the Colliers Ozark mountains in Arkansas one of the most beautiful they viewed while on their trip. Many of the mountains were sprinkled with varied flowers and depicted the colorful and abundant growth in Arkansas.

In Finley, Oklahoma, they visited relatives. And the last stops included a visit to Mrs. Collier's sister in Memphis and a brother in Clarendon.

Mrs. Mayme Adams is leaving Friday for Woodward, Oklahoma, to visit relatives and on to Kansas to visit friends. She plans to be gone about two weeks.

Smiley's Courts Being Remodeled Throughout

Owner V. J. (Smiley) Fulton is completely remodeling "Smiley's Courts in Friona. The floors have been laid with concrete and covered in asphalt tile. He states that the courts are ranch-style, with the outside in brick and the interior textured walls. The office living room will join the front of the building.

According to Smiley, the work is expected to be finished within the next two weeks.

Comments from Your Soil Conservation Men

By STEVE H. BAVOSETT

James Mabry finally found a way to handle his hi velvet and rye. He had waited a little bit too long to plow it under; however, he used a disc plow and did a good job. Now he plans to spread some ammonium sulphate and tandem it into the ground. He will use some disc openers to mark off the rows for irrigation. After irrigation, Mr. Mabry will plant the area to grain sorghums.

A. L. Black's cowpeas and grain sorghum are already up. He has planted New Era in both combine and silage sorghums. Brabham cowpeas, that are best suited for interplanting with silage crops, are available at the Empire Seed company in Temple, Texas. This is the only place that I know you can get them. The seed is $16.50 per hundred.

I was out on Joe Jesko's farm last Friday. He has some very good grass seedlings. He tells me that the reason he is planting the grass is to keep the land from blowing. Several years ago a non-resident farmer owned and operated the place. It kept blowing over on Mr. Jesko's until he decided to buy the place and turn it back to grass. Joe is using Crested Wheatgrass, Western Wheatgrass, Buffalo, and Blue Gamma for reseeding. He has tried several other kinds of grasses but has decided that these served his purpose the best. If you have an area that needs reseeding, go by and talk to Joe Jesko. Maybe he can help you.

Some of the members of the Board of Supervisors are going to attend the "Dust Bowl" conference in Amarillo, June 15 and 16. If you have any ideas that you would like to pass on to that conference, just talk to one of the supervisors. They are Joe Blair, A. L. Black, Matt Jesko, Henry Reynolds, and Clyde Sherrill. The conference is going to discuss the drought and what the Soil Conservation Districts and others can do to combat its effects.

Cass Named Chairman Methodist Stewards

New stewards have been appointed on the board for the coming fiscal year in the First Methodist church at Friona. They are: James Boyle, Hugh Nelson, Billy Sides, Dalton Caffey, Arthur Drake and Bill Hannold.

Keneth Cass was elected chairman of the board; vice-chairman, H. K. Kendrick; secretary, C. L. Vestal, Jr.; and treasurer, Arthur Hilton.

The sorriest, most despicable of petty crimes to our estimation is dog poisoning.

The city may require vaccinations as a safety precaution in the keeping of children's pets, the owner may tag and thoroughly identify the little canine companions, and the pets may be kept within bounds of their own homes.

Yet all this is no protection from the perverted mind of the dog poisoner.

The three Neelley boys are minus their beloved pet this week.

Then there is the man who reads so much recently about the bad effects of smoking that he has decided to give up reading.

Monday Morning Musings

Help! Someone please tell us the exact date when Friona should observe its 50th Anniversary.

That date is approaching, and without doubt it should be marked with the grandest, biggest, dog-gonest celebration yet.

Let's have some letters on the subject.

Rather believe that is ONE project that might create interest among every resident, businessman, and the Chamber of Commerce. Incidentally, we're not hearing much from the Commerce organization. Why? Probably because of lack of participation and cooperating in its enterprises and meetings. We personally still think much of the fault lies in having too few OPEN meetings, well advertised, with EVERYONE invited in. Five men just can't generate and maintain peak interest in any town, no matter how they try; it's everybody's job.

Senator Lyndon Johnson never fails to keep us well supplied with letters from the Capitol. See in his last one that he thanks all his Texas friends who made his recent trip here so enjoyable. Likely he also thanks those who plan to vote for him, and also thanks the "Franking Privilege" of mailing out this literature without postage!

Raymond Euler made this observation in writing from Baker, Oregon, a point visited on his and Charles Allen's recent jaunt:

"Farming mostly," is the answer we receive when we ask what the income vocation is around the smaller and middle-sized towns from Texas to this point. So many miles of the highways are lined by apparently useless land, but they always say the farming country is "down the river" somewhere. Anyway, we're glad tourists passing through Farmer County can see the productive farming lands right up to the highway."

We join with the Farm Bureau executive in recognizing the gold mine of land and water right here around us—placing us consistently in the better crop area of Texas year in and year out. Want to move near Friona? You won't go wrong.

Though the June 1 Santa Fe Railway crop report is somewhat pessimistic about the wheat prospects in this immediate area, we still look forward to some mighty good yields. Have you driven over the county this week? There's wheat to be seen, as pretty as ever.

From the Texas Tax Journal: There comes the time when a nation, as well as its people, must make the choice between tightening its belt or run the risk of losing its pants.

Just about the time we get thoroughly disgusted with the McCarthy-Army squabble, we run across the latest poll of Facts Forum indicating that Texans as a whole think there is basis for the investigation.

Following are some of the poll questions and the percentage of people answering "yes":

Do you feel that a thorough investigation of the Army is necessary?—77 per cent Yes.

Are the Senate and House Committees doing too much investigating?—18 per cent Yes.

Do you think Senator McCarthy has done more harm than good?—23 per cent Yes.

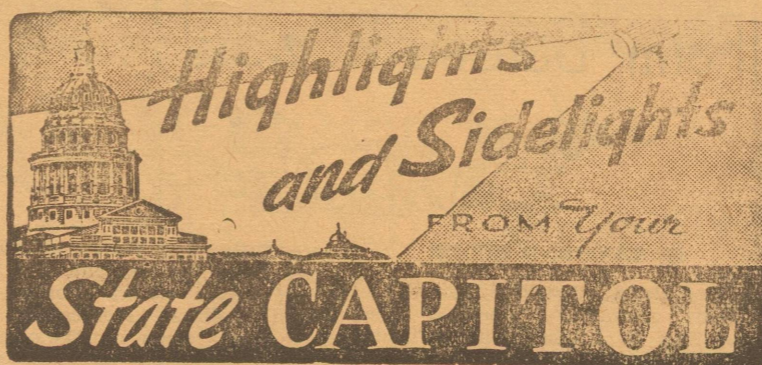

Ye editor still maintains that the senator should get back to his job, injected with a double dose of humility; the Army secretary should get back to running the Army; and the carnival should be called off. Not that there was no basis for investigation, but we think the purpose has been served, the people have been made aware, the government officials have been warned and scared and convicted in many cases, and its time for all to roll up their sleeves and get back to work.

You are financially "there" when the people who used to snub you now bore you! (Copied, naturally)

THE AMERICAN WAY

Hope He Got 'Im!

By VERN SANFORD Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Texas—Most discussed subject in Austin is the United States Supreme Court decision abolishing racial segregation in the public schools.

Not only are the people talking about this important ruling, but they are taking their pens and pencils in hand to let Governor Shivers know how they feel about it. There is no doubt about how Texans feel on the subject for the mail shows a 30 to 1 ratio in favor of maintaining segregation.

Governor Shivers pointed out that "the Supreme Court has indicated it will have more to say on this matter later this fall, and there is very little that can be done until we know its final opinion."

The Texas Education Agency has advised schools in Texas to plan for continued segregation in the term starting next September.

Roy M. Hall, executive director of the Texas Association of School Boards, said that the segregation problem will be mostly a local headache and that in most instances it will be at least several years before the reality of non-segregation becomes evident.

Insurance Company Probe Hottest news out of Austin is the insurance company probe.

Indicted by a Travis county grand jury were Leslie and Paul Lowry of Beaumont, D. H. O'Neil, Beaumont, and Spencer Trehanne of El Paso.

Nine indictments charged these four persons with criminal violations of Texas insurance laws. In addition to perjury counts charged the four, Paul Lowry was charged with submitting a false statement.

All the indictments concerned submission of alleged false reports to the State Board of Insurance Commissioners regarding funds of insurance firms at Beaumont, Ennis and El Paso.

Insurance firms concerned were the Texas Mutual Insurance Co. of Beaumont; Texas Fire Insurance Co. of Ennis, a subsidiary of Texas Mutual; and Texas Western Assurance Co. of Beaumont.

Investigations which have been going on since the first week Attorney General John Ben Shepperd took office in 1953 reveal that some insurance companies have been formed in Texas with borrowed capital which banks deposited to the credit of the insurance firm, but with the understanding that the money was not to be withdrawn. Once the insurance Commission and a charter granted, the bank's money was returned, the loan canceled and the insurance company was in business. Loser in the transaction was the policyholder who was dealing with an insufficiently financed firm.

Shepperd has been working closely with Travis County District Attorney Bob Long in connection with the grand jury's investigation. One of Shepperd's top assistants, Willis Gresham, has been appointed by the attorney general to handle the prosecution. Gresham played a big part in the attorney general's recent investigation in Duval county.

Island Development Delayed

A dispute over the amount of land to be given for highway purposes has snarled the proposed development of Padre Island as a big vacation spot. The obstacle arose when County Judge Oscar C. Dancy of Brownsville said that the 100 feet which developers want to give for the island's highway right-of-way is insufficient.

C. S. Eidman, Jr., of Brownsville and one of the island's landowners, said all the property owners had agreed that 100 feet was enough for the right-of-way. The squabble will be aired at a public hearing before the state highway commission.

- Butter or Margarine

- Coffee and Milk
- Dinner Rolled Rib Roast Baked Irish Potatoes and Fresh Green Beans Picked Apple

TIMELY TIPS

- To save time dip ripe tomatoes for salads in boiling water for about 1 minute, chill in the refrigerator and peel when you are ready to use them.
- Two cups of tomato juice contain enough ascorbic acid (Vitamin C) for one person's daily requirement for good health.
- When buying tomatoes, select those that are smooth, well rounded, plump, heavy for size, evenly colored, free from blemish, and not over-ripe. Puffy or watery tomatoes are poor flavored and wasteful.

SMALL BUSINESS

By C. WILSON HARDER

Along with all the other special weeks, there should be a "Write Kindly to Your Congressman Week" whether you vote for him or not. Just a friendly letter to bolster his morale.

Because despite all sneering directed at Congressmen's ability, practically every member strives to do a conscientious job. But cardinal strategy of communists and their ilk is to create disrespect for democratic legislative bodies.

Many Congressmen often feel frustration over circumvention of Congressional intentions.

For example, Congress passed the "Buy American Act," in which government agencies should buy American products. Lately a great deal of equipment has been imported. The House Small Business Committee headed by Rep. Wm. S. Hill of Colorado made inquiries.

A loud reply from the Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense for Supply frankly admitted intent of "Buy American Act."

However, it's official purport, under "current interpretations" this does not apply when there is a 25% price differential between foreign goods including duty and domestic goods. No mention is made of who made the "current interpretation."

Thus, if U. S. manufacturers, who pay heavy taxes, pay social security taxes and a labor rate four to ten times higher than foreign suppliers, are not within 25% of the foreign price, they lose out. The excuse for this is that it is in line with "the objectives of the Mutual Security Program and U. S. Foreign Policy."

Senator Smith (N.J.) reports a mutual defense assistance agreement was signed in Tokyo covering not only defense, but agreements on agricultural commodities, economic arrangements, and investment guarantees.

Senator Smith asked State Department if these agreements are not actually treaties subject to Congressional approval.

State Dept. replied agreements were made on the basis of foreign aid legislation and therefore did not require treaties. Congress has nothing to do with them except vote required money.

Congress presumably will be asked to financially back up agreements on grounds world will consider U. S. welters if it doesn't.

Senator Langer reports that during the last six months of 1953 the nation imported 11,512,000 bushels of Canadian rye, equaling half of domestic production. As result rye prices dropped nearly $1 per bushel and U. S. farmers have placed their rye under government loans. So reciprocal trade treaties in action again work against U. S. farmer.

Congress passed many acts to meet temporary situations. Foreign aid was to help the needy at war's end; reciprocal trade treaty legislation was passed with this goal in mind; the farm loan program was passed to help tide farmers over.

But net result is that government bureaus, have interpreted and used them as authority to carry on all sorts of worldwide boondoggling. So it is important for American people to let Congressmen know they support all action that will restore control of government to Congress.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Thinking back the other day, I recalled that a large portion of the Golden Spread was once owned by the English Syndicate. There was not much land sold before 1907, when different agencies procured a contract with the English Syndicate to sell the land in small tracts.

In a few years, large settlements sprang up which consisted mostly of people from east of the Missouri river. They were good, industrious people but had invested all they had in the land beneath their feet and for different reasons, their capital soon became exhausted. Emigrants coming in each year provided labor for the pioneers and thus they were able to stay another year until the next bunch of emigrants came along.

Bridal Shower Given Peggy Patterson Here

A bridal shower, honoring Miss Peggy Patterson, was given in the home of Mrs. M. B. McKinney, Tuesday, May 25. Miss Patterson's chosen colors, pink and white, were carried out in the decorations. Bouquets of pink and white snapdragons were placed in the room and the favors consisted of pink and white umbrellas. The hostesses, Mesdames Truitt Johnson, R. V. Houser, W. B. Holcomb, and M. B. McKinney, presented the bride-elect with a pink carnation corsage and a starter set of pottery.

Refreshments of punch and cake were served to nineteen with approximately forty additional people sending gifts.

Public Service Firm Chalks Up Safety Record of Million Casualty-Free Hours

One million consecutive man-hours worked without a lost-time accident is the safety record achieved by the 1850 employees of the Southwestern Public Service company. This is the longest continuous accident-free accomplishment in the company's history.

"This safety accomplishment, and we regard it as only our first goal, is of vital importance to our customers. It is safety which makes it possible for us to offer dependable, economical service to our customers. Accidents are expensive in time and money, and we are best serving our customers when we reduce them to the minimum. Our employees have continued to work for this goal in the face of several setbacks, and now that they have reached their mark, you can be sure they will continue their efforts to add another million," A. R. Watson, executive vice-president and general manager, said.

The accident-free period started on January 30 of this year, and remains uninterrupted at the moment, with, as Mr. Watson points out, 2,000,000 man-hours the next goal of the electric light and power company employees.

The 1,000,000 man-hour goal was first set in 1953. Last year the employees worked one 910,000 man-hour period without an accident. Time ran out on them before it was again possible to amass a million before the year's end.

The goal was re-established for 1954, and after a temporary setback on January 29, the string of consecutive accident-free days, it takes nearly 3 1/2 months for the 1850 employees to work a million hours, reached the mark this week.

To more dramatically portray the magnitude of this accomplishment it can be pointed out that it would take one man working 2000 hours a year—that's 50 forty-hour weeks—500 years without an accident to work one million accident-free hours.

Southwestern Public Service company's safety record is one of the most outstanding in the electric light and power industry. Last year the industry averaged 11.50 lost-time accidents for every million man-hours worked, while Southwestern's figure was 4.52 per million man-hours. The 1954 figure for the Public Service company is now down to 1.56 lost-time accidents for every million man-hours.

The seniors returned from Cowles about noon Saturday. According to their statements, they enjoyed every moment of the trip.

Visiting in the home of the C. L. Lillards over the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Brown and son, Jerry, of Del Rio.

Fred J. Smith from Converse, Louisiana, and Jimmy Ray Gore were in Friona for the week-end. They are stationed in Tuscon, Arizona.

drew up contracts with Texas farmers in the early spring to plow the Texas sod. A caty-did (the type of plow used), a man, and two horses tackled about fifteen acres at a time. Ten or twelve of these teams could plow a quarter of land in two weeks. After the plowing was over, they returned to their homesteads to raise what crop they could with just two horses. Yet, with these difficulties, they were still known to make a two-day trip to take 30 or 40 bushels of maize to anyone in need of it.

Now, back to the Texas suckers, as they were sometimes called. At that time it was said that the only green things in Texas was man and bear grass.

The next attempt to master what is now the Golden Spread was a large emigration from Oklahoma. The farmers prospered and a good many of those same farmers can still be found here today.

This is just a description of the settlers on the XIT Ranch. The land east of the ranch was homesteaded at an earlier date and seemed to prosper as they had enough acreage to combine cattle raising with farming.

Two pages is enough so will ring off.

Pink Beauty Makes Bride's Dessert

Strawberry-frosted white cake gives a glow to a shower for bride.

Refreshments at a bridal shower should be dainty and pretty. A heart-shaped cake iced with Fresh Strawberry Frosting meets these requirements beautifully. If no heart-shaped pans are on hand, bake the batter in round pans. Then decorate the top with heart-shaped designs.

A white cake makes the nicest foundation for this cake. Use your own favorite white cake recipe, or one of the excellent white cake mixes. Fresh Strawberry Frosting beautifully dresses up either one.

The flavor of this tempting frosting is due to the combination of margarine and berries with confectioners' sugar. The margarine also gives the frosting a rich body which makes it hold its shape when spread on in swirls. The crushed berries give a wonderful flavor at the same time that they tint the frosting a delicate pink.

When icing the cake, reserve about 1/2 cup of the frosting to use as garnish. After the whole cake is covered, make a wreath of "leaves," or arrange them in heart shape. Simply dip up some frosting on the edge of a teaspoon, filling the spoon almost half full. With a knife or spatula push the frosting off the edge of the spoon on to the cake. The frosting makes a sort of raised "leaf." Arrange these "leaves," spoonful after spoonful, overlapping them slightly to make a wreath or a crown. For further decoration, tuck quarters or halves of strawberries between the leaves. It's best to add the strawberries just before serving.

BRIDE'S SHOWER CAKE

(makes 2-layer 8-inch cake)
1 package white cake mix
1 Fresh Strawberry Frosting

1 pint strawberries
Mix cake according to directions on package. Bake batter in two greased heart-shaped pans, or in two 8-inch round pans. When cake is cool, fill and frost with Fresh Strawberry Frosting.

FRESH STRAWBERRY FROSTING

6 tablespoons margarine
1/4 teaspoon salt
4 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
1/2 cup crushed strawberries
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract

Stir margarine and salt until creamy. Add sugar gradually, alternating with crushed berries. Beat well after each addition. Stir in vanilla extract and beat until fluffy. Spread on cooled cake. If desired, garnish with strawberries cut in halves or quarters.

Ladino Enough to Plant on Million Farms in 1954

Knee-deep in Ladino clover pasture. A lot of milk, butter and cheese can come from a stand of Ladino like this.

For the first time since the introduction of Ladino clover, there is now enough seed available to meet the demand; in fact there was enough in 1952-53 to plant 10 acres of Ladino-grass pasture on each of 700,000 farms. No legume except alfalfa can compete with Ladino as a pasture crop. For many years its culture was confined to the irrigated lands of the West. During the past decade, however, Ladino has advanced in a lush green tide into other areas of the U. S. wherever adequate moisture, at the right time, and fertile soils are available—from Washington, Minnesota and New York on the North, to Georgia, Texas and California on the South. Like alfalfa and red clover, Ladino for pasture should always be sown with one or two compatible grasses such as Alta or Ky 31 fescue, orchardgrass, timothy or bromegrass at rates that will insure that half or more of the forage will be grass. Such combinations produce the best age, are utilized most efficiently by livestock and reduce the hazard of bloat which is always present with such vigorous legumes as alfalfa, Ladino and red clover when grown alone or when they dominate the stand. Where moisture conditions are favorable, the rates of seeding for pasture are about 2 to 3 pounds of Ladino to 10 to 15 pounds of grass seed. Good stands of Ladino clover properly managed on suitable soils will produce well for 4 to 8 years, though it is difficult to prevent encroachment of undesirable grasses as they grow older.

Mrs. Wesley Hardesty installed the following officers for a two-year term: Mrs. S. L. McLellan, president; Mrs. J. F. Miller, vice-president; Mrs. G. L. Hough, secretary; Mrs. H. C. Kendrick, treasurer; Mrs. C. W. Dixon, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Fred White, reporter. Outgoing officers are: Mrs. V. R. Jordan, president; Mrs. G. L. Hough, vice-president; Mrs. S. L. Draft Quota High

Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield has issued a draft call for 1,187 men for July. It is the largest quota in six months. The state director of Selective Service declared that calls for the next 12-month period will be on an increased level. Cause of the increase, General Wakefield asserted, is the fact that more men will be getting out of uniforms during the government's next fiscal year.

Coke Fights Congress

Coke Stevenson, Jr., Texas Liquor Administrator and newly elected president of the National Conference of State Liquor Administrators, is readying a blast against federal interference with state liquor laws. The national conference adopted a strong resolution to be presented to congressmen pointing out that the repeal amendment returned to the states the licensing and supervision of the liquor industry. There are bills now pending in Congress prohibiting beer and liquor advertising.

Need Industrial Safety Law

Elevators in Texas are not inspected for safety, says C. H. Cavness, state auditor. He advocates inspection laws similar to those in many other states. Cavness commented also on the need for an industrial safety law, with proper authority for enforcement. He noted that 247,371 accident claims were handled last year by the Industrial Accident Board. This compares with 179,152 cases eight years ago. Claims last year totaled $22,000,000 as compared with $10,581,000 eight years ago. Present laws do not require safety inspections in schools and courthouses. The Labor Department will ask the 1955 legislature to pass a law requiring such inspections.

Dairymen to Promote Industry

June is dairy month. Dairymen of Texas will contribute two cents per hundred weight of the milk and one-half a cent per pound butterfat in cream they sell this month to the state ADA headquarters in Austin.

Sam Von Rosenberg, state manager of the American Dairy Association of Texas says that it is a voluntary plan proposed to the 30,000 milk producers in the state, to provide $150,000 annually to promote an increase in the sale of milk, butter, ice cream, cheese and other dairy products through advertising.

More Wild Life

Wild animals seem to take a liking to the rugged area west of Austin. There has been a panther scare for several months. Latest report is the appearance of a 33-inch-long alligator—which walked out of Shoal Creek almost in the heart of this capitol city.

Speaking of PUBLIC SAFETY

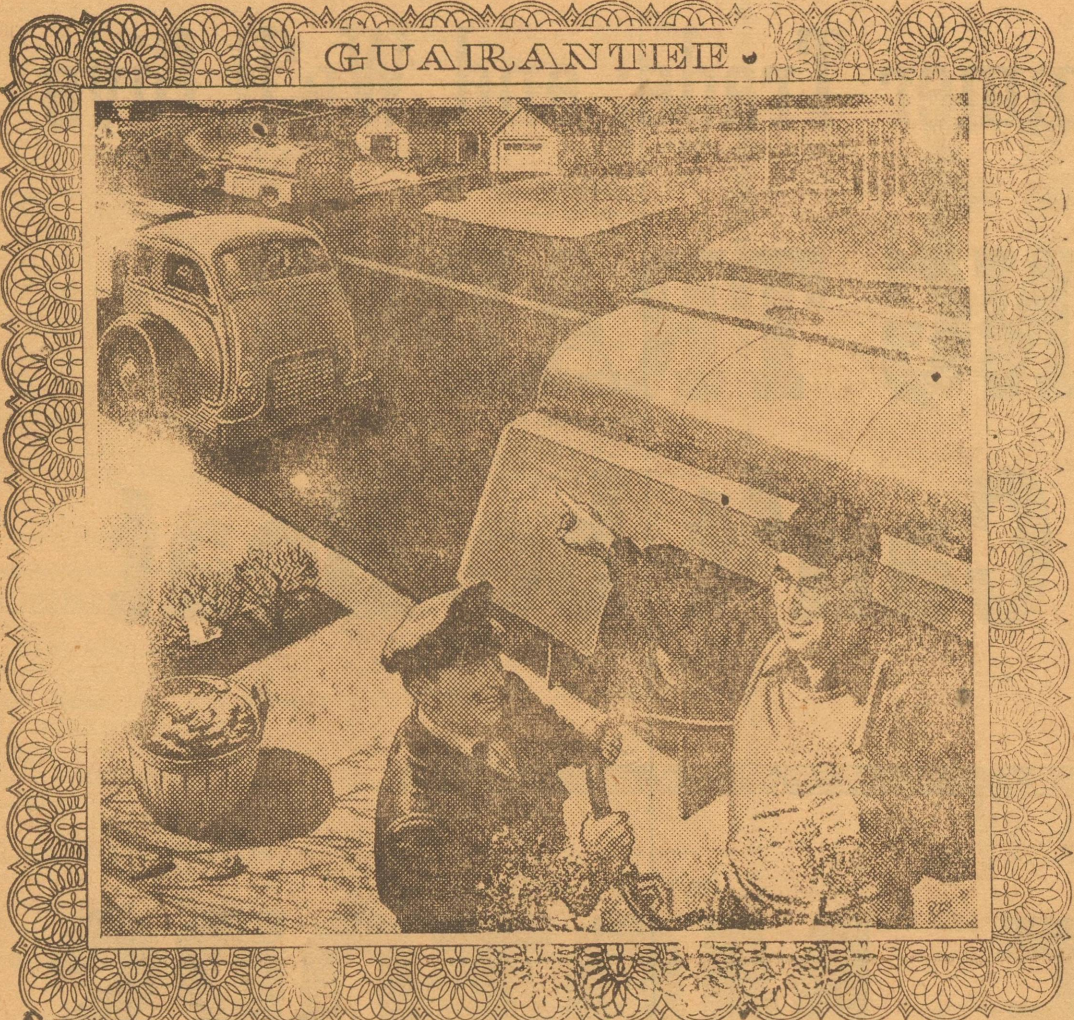

Edmond C. Powers, traffic accident and crime analyst of Cleveland, O., asserts that both accident tolls and street crimes continue to rise because of faulty illumination of streets and thoroughfares. The Cleveland analyst cites studies which show:

1. 55 percent of fatal traffic accidents occur at night when only 25 percent of the nation's vehicles are operating.
 2. 50 percent of night traffic accidents are chargeable to unsafe visibility for modern vehicle operating speeds on existing thoroughfares;
 3. 22 improvements in visibility by relighting brought a 68 percent reduction in night traffic fatalities;
 4. Applying a conservative 50 percent reduction to the nation's night accident experience indicates a possible yearly saving of 10,000 lives, 370,000 injuries and a billion dollars of economic loss;
 5. Safe visibility for modern traffic at night can be provided most economically by modern illuminating engineering. Costs would be less than one half of one year's accident toll; for cities the lighting cost would be $2.20 to $3.17 per capita per year; for expressways and critical areas of rural roads from $2822 to $5073 per mile, depending upon requirements.
- Reporting police chief comment from leading cities, Powers says anishing darkness by illumination protects the public, particularly women and children, from criminal attacks at night. Powers is a member of federal, state and local committees working to reduce traffic accidents and crime.

Will G. Harris Recounts More Events That Were Common in 1918; a R. Crusoe Story

By WILL G. HARRIS

GOAT HEAD PRAIRIE, Summerfield—Trixy, our sable and white Collie, had been mated with Real Lad and had whelped in the autumn of 1918.

Old Timers here in the Texas Panhandle still talk about how wet it was that fall, and what a severe winter followed. Here, at Goat Head Prairie, torrential rains came the latter part of October. Just before one of these rains, Trixy was out with her family to give them an airing and early instructions in the ways of dog life.

She was happy, and proud of them; we all were. The downpour came almost unannounced, and sent five, toddling balls of fur scampering under the front porch. It was a terrible rain. Water rose all over the yard till it inundated most everything, including the porch.

Trixy was so frantic she rushed into the house, and up on the madam's bed spread. We didn't scold much, for each of us felt almost as she did. With the aid of the garden rake, I fished out four bedraggled, sodden puppies. There was one on a small island, just a clod of dirt, yards beyond my reach.

He seemed doomed to a watery grave, for the water would soon be over his head. The two little girls and the little boy were pleading, "Please Daddy, you will just have to get him, you'll have to." I was down on my belly, almost immersed in that cold water trying to rescue him. He was intelligent, even at that early age but was afraid of the water. By coaxing, and cajoling, I finally got him to make the plunge, and struggle toward me.

Forced myself as far under the porch as I could and got the rake behind him and dragged him, half drowned, to safety. Never have I seen eyes that expressed such gratitude, as he licked my hands.

The children said his name was Robinson Crusoe Harris, for he had been rescued from an island. They also said he was the one we would keep for our very own. There was no argument along that score. I believe I would have fought anyone trying to take him. With the exception of the three sable spots, he was white like Lad, who was a large, pure white Collie, of royal breeding.

The rains turned to snow in November, with more and more snow that covered everything with huge drifts that didn't melt 'till spring. It is almost impossible to comprehend the suffering and death loss of cattle before the winter ended.

This was a range country at that time, a little feed was grown for the cattle, but the summer had been so dry very little was harvested, and there was none to buy. With very little feed and no dry place in which a cow could lie down for months, the cattle became so emaciated they could not stand the cold.

There was a windmill a few miles away and an estimated 900 cattle died there. It will put gray hair in one's head to be awakened, on a sub-zero night, by his starving cattle bawling for feed, or to hear his horses knawing the boards from the corral fence. Many a man lost his life's savings, some never recovered, and there were a few suicides.

I had come to the Panhandle in 1906, an ambitious stripling, full of vim and vision. I arrived just in time to witness a great transformation, the passing of a cattle empire.

I would take anything on a share basis, or buy anything on credit, that I thought would make money. When the winter, of which I write, came I had acquired a family, a small ranch of several hundred acres, and 75 eHreford cows. There was a deed of trust on the land, at 10 per cent interest, and a mortgage on the cattle, the family was mine.

I had convinced my banker that I was a good risk, but to speak in western vernacular "I was out on a limb." My feed supply was so scanty that it was necessary to ration it with extreme care, but I never missed a feeding. It looked as if there would never be an end to the frigid blasts.

I staggered to the house. I knew I had to get there, but I shudder to think what would have happened if it had been much farther away. My lungs were burning, and my brain barely functioning, as I stumbled, exhausted, against the door.

The little boy, and the two little girls, stood in silent awe. The madam cried, as she wiped the snow and ice from my face. A gangling, half-grown dog, licked my hands. Every one of those

There were 65 days of unbroken snow, dark, murky days, when the sun forgot to shine. By April my feed was exhausted. There should have been green grass, but I had to get more feed from somewhere. In desperation, I traded one of the work mules to a neighbor for a small stack of straw. This stack was about a third of a mile north-east of our house.

One evening I opened the corral gate and walked up to the stack to get the cattle in the shed for the night. They were so weak I didn't think it necessary to get a horse. I had just gotten them bunched, and away from the stack, when, without warning, the big, memorable blizzard of April 9th blew in with a bang.

I rushed around in front of the herd to turn them to the shed. There alone in that blinding, swirling snow I was fighting my heart out, running, yelling, cursing and praying, but it was useless. All the things for which I had toiled and dreamed, the little ranch, college for the children, my creditor's money, were drifting away in that maelstrom of snow.

And then, I was not alone. Crusoe was there at my side, barking, nipping, and slashing. The cattle turned, lowered their heads to the storm and ran for the shed. He had done what I never could have done, even with a horse.

I had given him very little training, but the blood of his ancestors, back in the Scottish Highlands, was in his veins. He was doing what he liked best to do, the most natural thing for those he loved.

I staggered to the house. I knew I had to get there, but I shudder to think what would have happened if it had been much farther away. My lungs were burning, and my brain barely functioning, as I stumbled, exhausted, against the door.

The little boy, and the two little girls, stood in silent awe. The madam cried, as she wiped the snow and ice from my face. A gangling, half-grown dog, licked my hands. Every one of those cows would have perished before the light of another day.

The spring and summer of 1919 were wonderful. The cattle grew fat and sleek on the luxuriant, green grass. There was a fine calf crop. Best of all, that was the year when our young men came home from fighting a terrible war. History was being made. We were just an average American family during the pioneer years that followed.

I wonder just where these years have gone. There were five of us, and a dog. Crusoe grew regal in stature and bearing, his coat almost white as snow. Dog lovers

A 'Fresh' Approach to Dieting; Get In Shape for Summer Now

Fresh fruits and vegetables are among a reducer's best friends! Now that bathing suit season is just around the corner, thoughts are turning to reduction of bulging waistlines. Luckily, it is also the season in which fresh fruits and vegetables are most available. Dieting usually isn't fun. In the final analysis it gets down to plain will power. You just have to want to lose weight enough to give up tempting high calorie foods.

SITTING PRETTY among fresh fruits and vegetables, model Joan Van Pelt illustrates "the shape of things to come."

But instead of dieting—just change your attitude toward food and stay eternally slim!

You can do this by substituting high nutrient-low calorie fresh fruits and vegetables for the high calorie foods you normally eat.

Taste is relative. If you like sweet foods, you will crave increasing sweetness in order to find satisfaction. If you decrease your need for sweetness, an apple or orange can taste as sweet as a gooey sundae. You can do this by deliberately substituting a nutritious fresh fruit when you get a yen for a high-calorie block buster.

If you are very much overweight, you should consult a doctor before dieting. If, like most of us, you are just suffering from a little winter puffiness, you ought to be able to fit into those summer suits or dresses by starting proper eating now. Simply increase your consumption of fresh fruits and vegetables, and cut down on the notorious weight-building foods.

Q—I'm a World War I veteran, drawing a pension from the VA. My wife has just gone to work part-time. In figuring my annual income, will I have to count the money she earns to see whether I come within the limits of the law?

A—You will not have to count your wife's separate earnings in computing your annual income for pension purposes.

Q—A veteran friend of mine forgot to pay his GI term insurance premium when it was due. He died during his 31-day grace period. Will his beneficiaries receive his insurance proceeds, or are they out of luck?

A—His beneficiaries will receive the insurance proceeds, minus the unpaid premium.

Q—Are all post-Korea veterans affected by the August 20, 1954, deadline date for starting Korea GI Bill training?

A—No. The only post-Korea veterans who must be in training by that date, in order to continue afterwards, are those who were separated from service before August 20, 1954. Veterans separated afterwards have two years from their separation date in which to begin Korea GI training.

Q—If a veteran dies without naming a beneficiary for his GI insurance what happens to the proceeds?

A—The insurance will be paid to his estate in a lump sum.
