We are informed that the telephone numbers for Dr. Lee Spring and Dr. Shackelford is 3081.

The old number, 2001, remains for Dr. Paul Spring and Dr. Smith. These numbers are not connected, so in calling for your doctor, be sure and call the correct number, is the word from the hospital this week.

Before you start those popular re-model or clean-up tasks you might think of some of the consequences, take it from ye editor.

For instance, we trimmed just one limb off the tree (or bush) in front of the office window so that we could see far enough across the street to get warning when Jake Lamb was approaching with a head full of new political propaganda, and then the wife says the tree is out of balance. So we trim some more, consequently we end up by cutting the entire tree down—which throws the entire front out of balance (some sidewalk observer put in) and we trim on the other brush pile. Just as we thought we were through, we saw that one remaining sprig kept the street view off the Shivers place in our window, so off comes another limb!—which exposes our unwashed windows. So we see nothing but meandering weeds and bushes, and washed which will put discredit on our soiled floors, etc., so we anticipate a week of clean-up, the Star being postponed until next week if all this keeps up.

(Yeah, we cleaned off the top of our desk, finding a few Dewey buttons and a ticket to the World's Fair. Proof we don't have to worry about the draft.)

Just give us a few more months, and we'll wager genial Bill Sheehan will be the busiest man in the county, what with his newly inherited job as secretary of the Parmer County Fair, his election as county attorney, duties as Friona city attorney, private law practice and his insurance work, and he's also active in church and civic affairs.

Pvt. Rule Excelled In Battery Carbine Firing

Pvt. Jackie Rule, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buford Rule, recently placed second among trainees in his battery firing the carbine for record at the Antiaircraft Artillery Replacement Training Center in Fort Bliss, Texas.

Because of his outstanding performance, Pvt. Rule received a cigarette lighter engraved with his name and organization. In addition to the bonus award, the Friona soldier qualified to wear the Army expert badge, symbolic of achievement in small arms firing.

Pvt. Rule won the honor in competition with over 125 men in his basic battery. He was honored during graduation ceremonies of D Battery, 5th Training Battalion, where he received a radar specialist's certificate in addition to the bonus prize.

The special awards were presented to the top four scorers in the battery.

Farm Bureau Report

By RAYMOND EULER

We think you will enjoy reading the following words written by Letha Turner upon returning from Farm Bureau Institute:

"One might think of the officers of Texas Farm Bureau to be 'stuffed shirts.' In meeting these men, they are entirely like you and L. The president, J. Walter Hammond, lives on a farm at Tye, Texas, a town of about 300 residents, as do many of the other officers.

It was encouraging to know what the Texas Farm Bureau is doing in the legislative field. You probably have heard of the Hammond Plan, and will be hearing more about it in the future. This plan supports diversified areas rather than the average allotment which we now have. Allotments can easily cause surpluses in some basic commodities. This plan seems to be suited for our part of the country.

"The Farm Bureau is principally interested in helping the farmers, and to do this they must band together and fight against those people who think the 'farmers are getting rich.' We are outnumbered, but together our voice can be heard.

The Farm Bureau is an organization for the farmers, for the farmers, of the farmers, to do what the farmers want done."

We wish every farmer could be exposed to the knowledge of Farm Bureau Principles that prompted Mrs. Turner to write those words.

Parmer County Farm Bureau is grateful to the Highway Department and the County Commissioners who are cooperating with farmers in their battle against bindweed. You farmers who have bindweed on county road rights-of-way should go to Parmer County Implement Company and get Atleide provided by your commission.

Yarborough Campaigned In Local Airborne Visit

EDITOR'S NOTE: Gubernatorial Candidate Ralph Yarborough made a brief stop Tuesday evening at the Friona airport, being met by a local delegation and one from Hereford. Though scheduled to speak at Hereford, Yarborough was forced by delay in plane flights to omit the Hereford visit. He granted an interview to Friona Star reporter Gay Cass who met him with a prepared set of questions, also discussing various points of his campaign with him. The candidate complimented Miss Cass on her interview and remarked on her being the youngest reporter with whom he had talked in the area. We agree on Gay's capabilities, and we present her findings, together with editorial comment by the editor.

Ralph Yarborough, candidate for governor in the hottest election of recent decades in Texas, paid Parmer County a short visit Tuesday evening, landing in a chartered plane at the local Benger Air Park. Stepping from the plane amidst a sizeable group of local and Hereford spectators, he at once set out through the crowd to shake hands and to put on his "campaign best" in friendliness and warm greetings.

He was neatly attired in a dark blue business suit, immaculate white shirt and dark blue tie.

In interview with this reporter, the candidate was quick and apt in his replies to the questions posed, questions most frequently asked on the streets here regarding the campaign.

When asked if he expected to gain support of more counties in the next election than before, he came back with "Yes, because 40,000 qualified voters didn't vote in the primary, thinking (according to Yarborough) that they would be unable to beat the present political machine in power." He continued, "Now that they find they can beat it, and will, the voters will turn out in full force."

Asked if Duval County carried any significance in the oncoming election, he answered evasively that the election only by its number of votes and was the only poll to have a standing guard of rangers." (Which did not answer the question.)

Further questions and answers follow:

"Are you in favor of either state sales tax or state income tax?"

"No, I am opposed to both and will veto either issue. But Shivers voted twice in one session of the senate for a general sales tax."

"Did you carry in your own county?"

"Yes, I carried in Henderson County where I was born, 55,000 to 1700, and I also carried in Mr. Shivers' county." (See comment at end of this article, Ed.)

"Is your campaign supported by the CIO?"

Laughing at this opportune time, Yarborough countered with, "We certainly haven't seen any of the money yet." He gave no direct answer to the actual question.

"What are your plans for water conservation in Texas?"

"I will follow the triple plan, which means building fifty large dams in the upper parts of rivers and smaller dams in the lower regions of these rivers, and follow the soil conservation plans pertaining to small ponds and lakes on farms. This being financed by bonds sold to private industries, selling water for irrigation, industrial and municipal purposes, thereby making all but the larger dams self-liquidating. I also plan to gain the aid of the Federal Government in this project. I do not consider the money tainted, for it was originally our own money. The other states acquire Federal aid and I think it is only fair that Texas should have her share."

Two striking statements made at the interview were that he professed himself for 100 per cent parity, and he was for racial segregation in Texas schools, believing that the negroes should have equal facilities for schooling, but definitely should be separated from the white scholastics.

To cap the interview, he was asked in what section of the state he expected to find the strongest vote in the run-off. Reply: "I expect to find the strongest vote in East, West, North and Central Texas." Well, what else would you expect a candidate to say?

When asked if he would like to make a statement concerning the outcome of the coming election, he confidently replied, (quote) "We are going to win."

Savings Bond Sale Urged for Area

District Chairman for Parmer County in the new stepped-up campaign for U. S. Savings Bonds throughout Texas, is J. W. Willson of Floydada. Other counties included in the eight-county district are Hale, Bailey, Castro, Lamb, Swisher, Briscoe, and Floyd.

Purchases of Savings Bonds must be substantially increased the remainder of the year in order to put the county quotas and the Texas goal over-the-top, Mr. Willson said. He emphasized the fact that times throughout the world are now, and for the next several years probably will be, as critical as an experienced during the past quarter of a century. He further stressed the point that it is, therefore, essential that everyone of us do everything we can to keep ourselves, our community, our state and our nation strong. Purchasing Savings Bonds is a way that everyone can help insure financial and economic strength.

The Hi-Point Home Demonstration Club members and their families enjoyed a picnic in the Friona Park, Friday evening, August 6.

The next business meeting will be September 10, at 2:30 p. m., in the home of Mrs. June Brummett.

Candidate Fails To Tell "All"

Mr. Yarborough, in his tenth inning foray into the corners of the state and to the forks of the creek, making it a point to see those people he previously had overlooked before the first election, turned on his personality Tuesday evening at the Friona airport. Little was lacking in promises and ready answers.

The Star reports news exactly as it occurs, to the best of our ability, and we carry at the left verbatim copy of Mr. Yarborough's answers to questions asked him. The comment we are making here is entirely editorial in nature and designed simply to point out some factors side-stepped or omitted by the candidate.

We have been asked on several occasions if it were true that Shivers beat Yarborough 3 to 1 in Yarborough's home box in Austin. Yes, that is true. Shivers also carried Hidalgo and Starr Counties, considered by many to be the actual home of the governor. He carried his home box at Woodville, but lost on a county-wide basis there. These figures were not emphasized by Mr. Yarborough, of course.

Negro vote was exceptionally high for Yarborough, too, to say nothing of labor votes.

Regarding the labor vote: In the recent primary, Gov. Shivers charged that the CIO-PAC had assessed its Texas members $1 to be used for political purposes. State CIO officials vigorously denied the Governor's statement, yet could not explain the photographic reproduction of a paper posted on bulletin boards in Dallas this week clearly stating where the PAC dollar goes, including allocation "for the purpose of aiding worthy candidates for city, state and national offices."

Much more could be said, but we will merely state the we shall support Shivers because of reasons before published, for attributes of which you already know, and because we are for a man with a constructive program, NOT A KNOCKER only, a man who stands on his own accomplishments and convictions whether we agree with him or not.

Weather

Temperatures persist in the 90's although some relief has been received from the scattered showers falling the latter part of last week. The rain refreshed parts of the country, producing a general coolness where it fell. Four miles south of Friona, thirty-hundredths inch was received while only fifteen-hundredths fell in town. Two miles southwest, one inch of rain fell; and 8 miles east, .75 was reported. Around Muleshoe and Farwell, as much as an inch was received.

Weather forecast predicts partly cloudy afternoons with little change in temperature and a possibility of widely scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Williamson and Mr. and Mrs. Sank Ramey, of Hereford visited Sunday in the Boyd Knox home.

"Do It Yourself" Now Applies to TV Field

This week, B. W. Turner of White Auto Store, saw the first built-in-do-it-yourself television receivers offered to the public by a major TV manufacturer. The units were featured at a Hoffman dealer meeting held by the Plains Distributing Company in Amarillo, Hoffman distributors for the Panhandle area.

The local dealer said that the "do-it-yourself" units consisted of a chassis, a framed picture tube and speaker—all designed to be built into a wall or cabinet in various ways. The hardwood moulding framing the tube is supplied in blonde, mahogany or unpainted finish, thereby making it possible for the buyer to achieve any desired tone to match the furniture or walls of the room.

In addition to the conventional line of new Hoffman receivers, units displayed is the super deluxe 21-inch model is equipped with Hoffman "Soundorama" three-speaker high fidelity sound system with the electrical crossover network and tone gate. The new set will be shown in Friona in a few days, the retuning dealer said.

DDT Treatment Given City Area

The odd smell drifting around Wednesday was the results of a general dusting that Friona received that morning.

According to Roy Wilson, secretary, 1500 pounds of DDT, consisting of a 400 base 500 DDT and 5 per cent DHC was used. The total cost to the city will be approximately $190 for the amount used, plus $55 for spraying, says Wilson.

Mrs. Howard Mayfield of Friona is attending the one-week school lunchroom workshop at Friona, August 4-13. Approximately 250 women from 70 to 100 cities are entered in the class which specialize in more efficient operation of school lunchrooms. The classes are divided into three groups. Under the guidance of Tech's foods and nutrition and institutional management staffs, the groups are studying menu planning and maintenance, and also operation of school lunchroom programs.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD

Texas Press Association AUSTIN, Texas.—Both candidates in the Texas gubernatorial second primary campaign are off and running.

Only 6,267 votes short of success in the first race, Governor Allan Shivers was encouraged by apparent control, gained at the county conventions, of the September 14 State Democratic Convention at Mineral Wells.

Shivers promised an "around-the-clock" fight for votes and spurred on his campaign forces over the state in a series of regional pep talks.

Opening the second primary race with a talk on drought and water problems, Shivers asked Texans to write him of their needs, their water problems, and their suggested solutions.

He also campaigned in some cities by shaking hands on street corners.

Yarborough Is Busy

Shivers' opponent, Ralph W. Yarborough of Austin, also planned to spend much time visiting various parts of the state in a search for votes.

Yarborough said in one speech that "this is the first time in five years that we're going to elect a Democratic governor."

He said he was receiving pledges every day from voters who either opposed him in the first primary or thought his cause was hopeless.

Yarborough scored what he called the "Republican press" for supporting Shivers and accused his opponent of a long list of misdeeds, including the circulation of false charges.

Wants Water Board

Yarborough has called for the creation of a Texas Water Board, patterned after the Railroad Commission, with members elected by the people.

He said that if elected Governor, he would recommend to the Legislature in January that such a board be established.

Continuing on the water and drought theme, Yarborough proposed the construction of 25 dams over the state, "comparable to those built by the Lower Colorado River Authority."

These dams, he said, should be planned and constructed under the supervision of the water board, and be financed like those built by the LCRA—by bonds which "in 30 to 40 years would pay themselves out by the sale of water alone."

It is Yarborough's contention that "industries are refusing to build in Texas, and some already here are pulling out because of the water shortage."

What's the Cost?

Shivers' supporters got out their scratch pads and tried to figure out what it would cost to carry out the campaign pledges made by Yarborough, including a veteran's bonus, an elaborate tracery of dams on Texas rivers, vastly expanded highways and huge increases in expenditures for public welfare.

Shivers' calculators contended that the cost amounted to something like $3.5 billion per year in state taxes.

They pointed out that the present total cost of state government is $0.5 billion per year, or one-seventh of the other figure.

Yarborough said he wanted the money to come from a tax on gas pipelines.

Shivers' backers point out that such a tax already has been declared unconstitutional.

Warning System Coming

Texas soon will have a modern storm warning system to spot danger miles away by radar, Governor Shivers announced.

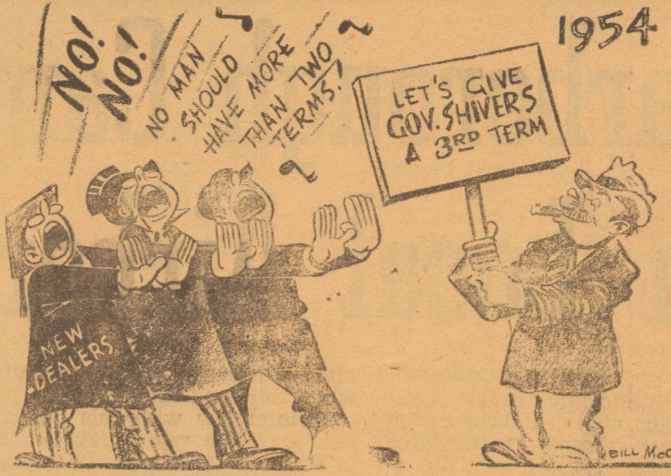

Shivers said that completion of the system, called the most up-to-date in the world, will come in the next six weeks.

Already functioning as part of the radar chain are units in 11 cities. The radar net ties into the Department of Public Safety system, giving it Weather Bureau radar reports within two minutes after a warning is issued.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Some Congressmen privately say one of the discouraging facets of their job is fact there is too little tendency for independent businessmen to stand on their own feet; too much dependence upon Congress acting on every situation.

It is impossible, they say, for Congress to legislate for every abuse that crops up. There should be more action along old maxim "The Lord helps those that help themselves."

Illustrative is present growth of discount sales clubs formed for use of employees of large companies whereby they can buy at near wholesale, eliminating legitimate retailer.

This involves weird facts. Corporations promoting cut rate clubs often refuse to stop practice on ground "they build morale and improve public relations."

And there is a fat paradox.

Because many of these corporations depend on retailers for distribution and sale of their own products. Yet, they will cut throats of retailers to "improve public relations."

In addition, manufacturers depending on retailers, are aggressively selling these discount clubs, wondering why their legitimate retail volume falls off.

"There's something wrong with the system," they say, ignoring fact they are actively wrecking the system.

Congress has also been asked to step into chaotic auto situation to stop "bootlegging" new cars as used cars.

Franchise dealers of Big Autos have little, or nothing to say, about how many cars they will take from the factory.

But major makers racing to drive others out of business are paying little attention to the needs of the market.

Result has been that new car dealers to avoid drowning in sea of cars forced on them, wholesale to used car dealers. This practice is not a remedy; merely postpones day of reckoning.

It is understood factories have made veiled threats to remove new car advertising from newspapers not making certain classified ads for used cars are bona fide used cars.

Yet it is not duty of a newspaper to police handling of products. And there is something smacking of Kremlin methods in threats of reprisals for not conforming.

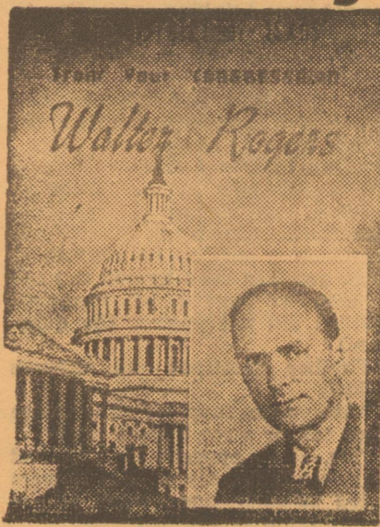

So many Congressmen would like to see both Federal Trade Commission and Justice Department snowed under with requests to enforce anti trust laws quickly, effectively.

In addition, many in Washington feel it is high time for some agency, against which reprisals cannot be launched, to give adequate publicity to the firms who depend on retailers, yet encourage employee discount club, and on firms who depend on retailers, yet sell discount houses. While the principle of the "blacklist" is not an American one, it has already been demonstrated that some neo-monopolistic corporations do not hesitate to employ tactics of Kremlin. This poses a moral question. "Is it better to slowly starve as gentlemen, or fight fire with fire?"

C.W. Harder

Washington Views

To the People of the 18th District:

WATER—No. 1 National Problem A new Special Sub-committee of the Interior Committee, has been appointed to study "the nation's water resources. I was honored to be included as one of the members of this Special Committee. I have long argued that too little attention was being paid to our water problems. In other words, it became the custom in this country to take water for granted, simply because we thought we had plentiful supplies. There are always quite a bit of talk about creating water reserves, but very little was done about it on a national scale. Great reservoirs were created in the seventeen western reclamation states, and it seemed to be the opinion of everyone that that would settle the problem. The people in the Middle West and the eastern section of the United States apparently did not feel that there was any need for them to be disturbed about possible water shortages. However, the water inventories in recent years have disclosed some very disturbing situations in all the 48 states. This, no doubt, had much to do with the appointment by President Eisenhower of a Cabinet-level group to work with the Hoover Commission and the Committee on Government Operations concerning the problems. However, until the appointment of the new Special Committee by Chairman Miller, of the Interior and Insular Affairs Committee, of the House of Representatives, there was no legislative committee in position to act legislatively on any recommendations made by the other groups. This new committee will work in close cooperation and coordination with the other groups in putting into legislative form the recommendations of the other groups and thereby formulating a national water policy, in keeping with President Eisenhower's program. Chairman Miller, in appointing the committee, called our attention to the old saying, which is quite appropriate at this time, to wit, "No one misses the water until the well runs dry." This reminds me of a story that was told to me when I was a little boy about the Indian who was asked what he considered the greatest benefit that had been developed by the white man's civilization. The Indian chief, without hesitancy, pointed to the water hydrant and said, "Running water."

It would astound some of the city folks to know just what a meager reserve they have in their water supplies. The problem is certainly a number one defense problem, because saboteurs would have little difficulty in creating absolute chaos in many of our large cities by contamination of the water facilities.

Adjournment

As most of you know, we have been adjourning for the last 30 days. To date, we have not closed shop and probably won't be closed when you receive this letter. However, I hope that the House will be able to go home by August 15 or 20 at the latest. If we don't hurry up and get out there is going to be some questionable legislation on the books. The closing days of the session are always to me the most dangerous insofar as the possibility of unwanted legislation is concerned. This leaves very little time for debate on the measures that are brought forward. This means that very little opportunity is afforded the members to study and understand just what the particular bill will do. In fact sometimes the author of the bill, who is, no doubt, very sincere in what he is trying to do, fails to anticipate something occasioned by his bill that he did not intend. I would much prefer to shut off the session for a month or two and afford the opportunity of studying these bills before they are passed. Today we have been considering a bill relating to labeling of packages containing foreign-produced trout sold in the United States, and requiring certain information to appear on the menus of public eating places serving such trout. It seems that a fish war has developed between the domestic trout producers and foreign trout. The battle seems to be taking place in the restaurants. The domestic trout producers complain that foreign trout is imported into this country and listed on menus as Rocky Mountain trout, eastern brook trout, Rocky Mountain rainbow trout, and various other descriptive names. They claim that this practice is unfair to the domestic producer and the consumer, and that the bill should be passed, requiring foreign trout to be labeled as such on the menus in the eating places throughout this country. They also claim that, unless this act is passed, it will mean the bankruptcy of many of the trout farms in this country and the resulting loss of a source of supply for the streams and lakes of this country and trout-fishing will soon be a thing of the past.

It would seem to me that this is a matter that should be handled primarily by the several states. Federal legislation of this type is a continuing trend toward centralized government. The present administration has repeatedly stated that it opposes centralized government and desires that the trend be toward a preservation of the rights, privileges, powers and immunities in the several states. I find some difficulty in understanding what Continued on Page 7

... INSURANCE REPAYS

THE COST OF INSURANCE TO COVER YOUR GRAIN OR COTTON CROP UNTIL IT CAN BE HARVESTED IN THE FALL IS JUST A DROP IN THE BUCKET COMPARED TO YOUR INVESTMENT IN THAT CROP.

MR. GRAIN PRODUCER :

Will You Have

Sufficient

Storage Space

For Your Crop ?

If you want to sell your grain (particularly grain sorghum) at the highest prices, you may need grain storage space. The nation has more grain and oil seed crops in storage now than ever before — Texas storage facilities are full in most areas, so YOU will have to be responsible for finding space for your 1954 crop.

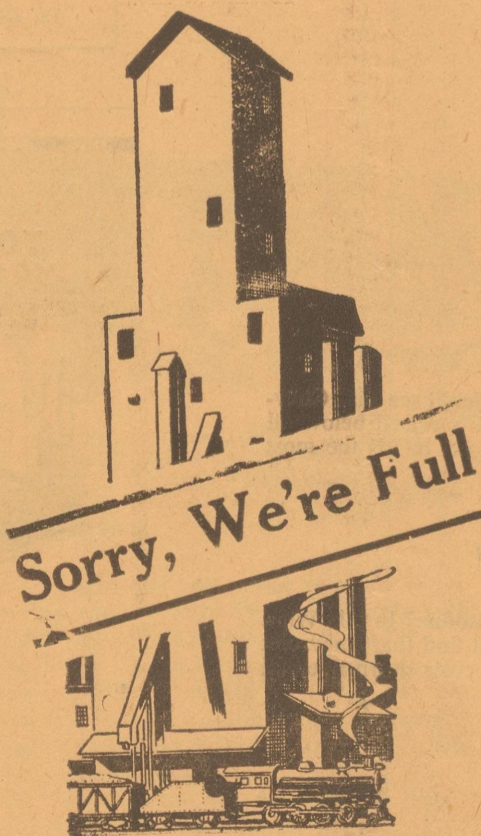

If you can't find commercial storage — and do not provide your own approved farm storage, you will have to sell the crop at harvest time when prices usually are lowest and lose the benefit of government support prices.

Conditions and price supports vary within the State by county. For instance, the support price on grain sorghum varies from $2.09 to $2.62 per 100 pounds.

You can store grain sorghum on your farm without loss of the grain if it is Dry Enough, Stored in Approved Structures.

DON'T SELL SHORT. Check for available space from your local commercial elevator. If space is not available from normal channels, check on cost and feasibility of providing your own "on-farm" storage.

Build the type storage that will be most suited to your long-time farming operation.
SEE US TODAY ABOUT YOUR STORAGE PROBLEM!

"What the USO has done with such conspicuous success is to make each and every individual serviceman or woman feel that he is remembered and that he is important—important to himself, important to his service, important to his country—to his community back home and to the community in which he is stationed.

"Every man in uniform is entitled to the assurance that though he is serving in the armed forces away from his own home, he is still an integral part of the community life of the nation. Do You Remember...

Twenty-six Years Ago:

An insane man, alleged deserter from the United States Army, escaped captors at depot, was recaptured by Marshal Jasper and Section Foreman Robert Sisk. He was located about a mile out of Friona.

Earl Drake, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Drake, made a very genial host to a number of his friends when he celebrated his eleventh birthday. The affair was a lovely lawn party and throughout the afternoon the lawn was a charming sight with the guests romping in gmes. Present were: Virginia Sharp, Bennah Burton, Dorothy Crawford, Buck Falwell, Douglas Short, Otho Donaldson, C. L. Lillard, Arlan Dilder, Ardeen Fallwell, Wilton Lillard, and Franklin Lillard.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. E. S. White at their home in Friona, a daughter, Eula May.

Boy Scouts spending the week in the mountains of New Mexico were Arthur Drake, Charles Reeve, Merle Harry, Nelson Welch, Merrill Farlong, Albert Conway, Wilbur Meads, Glenn Reeve, John Burton, Dayton Hanson, Marvin Key, Junior Conway, John Beattie, Weldon Whitefield.

Almost without exception, flowery, sheer, midsummer dresses were made with long flowing points that almost if not quite touched the ground at the back, curving up in front, to give the fashionable slanting line.

Coming to the Star Theatre soon: Dolores Del Rio in "Ramona." The mayor and board of city commissioners had been courteous impounded by many citizens of the town to pass a herd law or ordinance prohibiting domestic animals from running at large within the city limits. At a called meeting it was moved and passed by unanimous vote that such an ordinance be prepared and adopted for the city.

F. W. Reeve, who had school transportation contract that year, purchased 8 International trucks. Two were already on hand making a total of 10 trucks to transport school children.

Friona boosters were working hard on the 1928 Fair.

As a thought for the opening of school: A lady brought her little boy to school opening day and said to the teacher, "Little Bernie is so delicate. If he is bad—and he sometimes is—just whip to boy next to him and that will frighten him and make him behave."

A contest for the most beautiful lawns was going on. Judging was to take place at the end of the month.

C. W. Dixon was awarded a prize at the Trades Day Drawing.

A GOOD RESOLUTION . . .

BY LOCAL DEMOCRATS

(The Canadian Record)

Delegates to the Hemphill County Democratic Convention, Saturday, passed one resolution which is so unusual that we think it is worthy of special note.

They instructed the County Democratic Chairman-elect to set times and places and to give public notice at least ten days in advance of all future Precinct and County Democratic conventions.

Convention delegates, in a spirited discussion of party policies, made it clear that they believed there should be more public participation in the affairs of the Democratic party at the grass-roots level. We agree.

There was no spirit of censure for the present County Chairman and County Committeemen for failing to order the conventions this year. Delegates agreed that the blame, if any, should be shared by every local party member. With the exception of 1952, when the presidential campaign brought an awakening of interest in party affairs, there had never been any interest shown in party conventions here at the precinct and county levels . . . and there was little reason to expect that this year would be another exception.

But we believe that the awakening interest in party politics at the home-precinct level should be encouraged in every way. It is in these meetings . . . at the so-called "grass-roots level" . . . that the voice of the people can be heard most clearly. And it is in these local meetings . . . not at the polls . . . that the rank and file of voters can make themselves heard and can take a hand in shaping the policies of their political parties.

This is where Government should begin . . . and it is the only place where good government can begin. We hope that these good resolutions will not be forgotten in the short span of two years before the next elections are held.

says Mr. H. L. McMAHEN of Stratford, Texas

"It sure is nice to have some trout or a piece of bear meat around whenever that's just what I feel like eating. I can live last year's fishing and hunting trip over again, and enjoy a good meal to boot. I recommend a freezer to anyone who goes hunting or fishing."

A sportsman like Mr. McMahan gets a real pleasure out of sharing his catch with friends. And Mrs. McMahan finds it easy to prepare a fish dinner in a hurry. Right after the catch, she puts cracker meal on the fish, cooks and freezes them. When friends drop in, a fresh fish dinner is just a matter of warming an already prepared meal.

Keep the pleasure and good eating of your hunting and fishing trips all year round. Keep your fish and game in an electric home freezer.

Bureau of Business Research.
 Reported by the bureau was a predominance of commercial, industrial, highway, church, school, and government building.
 Building permits issued throughout the state during the first half of 1954 exceeded totals for the same period last year by six per cent, the reports showed.

Liquor Revenue Up
 Texas liquor revenue in June showed a $41,000 increase over the total for the same month last year, the monthly report of the Texas Liquor Control Board reveals.

June revenue this year was $1,425,179.13 with the largest part of the amount derived from beer and whiskey sales.

The board also noted an apparent increase of moonshining over the state, with seizure of 11 illicit stills and arrest of six on moonshining charges.

FBI Agent Speaks
 Two forms of crime are on the increase: Car thefts and swindling-bad check passing.

So said Vernon H. Bailey, special agent of the FBI in San Antonio, in an Austin speech.

Car thefts inconvenience more people and cause a greater loss of property than any other form of crime, the agent said.

Short Cuts
 Americans no longer believe that things are good only if they come from Europe, says Dr. Lewis U. Hanke, University of Texas professor. . . . Now you can break the law by driving too slow. The rule of 40 miles an hour minimum applies on a stretch of the Austin Expressway. . . . Heroes and heroines of Texas education will be selected by a panel, announced A. Garland Adair of Austin, director of the Texas Heritage Foundation. Selections will be announced on School Centennial Day at the State Fair of Texas.

The hit that's changing the sales standings puts you way ahead 3 ways

THIS year Buick has done what no other car has done in more than a generation.

This year Buick has moved into the lofty circle of America's three top sales leaders — a circle once dominated only by the so-called "low-price three." For today, Buick is outselling all other cars in the nation except two of these "low-price three." And each new month's sales figures strengthen Buick's new sales leadership.

You can't do better — if you want the best buy for your new-car money — than to look into the soaring success that is Buick today. You'll find this glamorous new-day beauty puts you way ahead in three important ways—that's for sure. So drop in on us—tomorrow at the latest—and see for yourself that Buick is the buy of the year, hands down.

1. More new car for your money

Buick prices start close to the lowest—just a few dollars above those of the traditional "low-price three." But those few more dollars for a Buick get you a lot more automobile — more room, more comfort, more V8 power, more ride steadiness, more solid durability—plus the advanced "tomorrow" styling that has taken the country by storm.

2. More money for your present car

With our great and growing sales volume, we can offer you a bigger trade-in allowance on your present car when you buy a new Buick. After all, the more new cars we sell, the better deal we can make with you. So you get the benefit of our great success in the form of a higher trade-in allowance.

3. More dollars when you trade

Because Buick's broad panoramic windshield has started a whole new styling trend, you can be sure that today's Buick will keep its modern look for years to come. So you are assured of a higher resale figure when you trade it in later on.

Come see for yourself why —
