HERE and THERE

By Joe Quinn

TOO MUCH cannot be said in behalf of the judgment of the courts in the Vasco case in New York. Probably the reason this particular case has drawn such widespread interest is due to the fact that never before has such an incident been a case for the courts.

Under normal conditions it is generally known that the greatest human defender of a child should be and usually is, that child's own mother. Yet, when it comes to the point when the whims and superstitious fancies of a mother endanger the life of her own child, it is time for the courts to intervene.

It is almost unbelievable to think that a small defenseless child, suffering a particular infirmity cannot enjoy the protection of its own parents when a question of life and death is at hand. Reliable medical authorities have warned Mrs. Vasco that her little daughter, Helen, has no chance to live unless an early operation is performed. Mrs. Vasco has repeatedly denied authorities the right to perform the operation on the child, and the case has gone to court, sanctioned by the health authorities of the state of New York. The appellate division of the Supreme Court has sustained the right of an operation, and for the sake of humanity little Helen Vasco will soon be assured the right to live.

IN CASE she is guided by her womanly instincts, Francis Perkins, new Secretary of Labor, should serve this country in the capacity to which she has been appointed, sufficiently to bring great credit to herself and to the Department of Labor. By speaking of her womanly instincts, we mean of course, that she should be firm in her convictions and fair in her administration. Although it is quite natural for a woman to be challenged in her nation, for, after all, that is a woman's privilege, but with justice to Secretary Perkins we will treat this naturally tendency lightly.

The first of her sex yet to occupy a seat in the Chief Executive's Cabinet, F. Perkins will possibly be the means of introducing the rights of American women to fill some of the highest governmental offices that this country affords.

"BARE faced liar" was the affectionate name bestowed upon a fellow member of the House of Representatives by another honorable member of that body during a recent discussion in the House.

We sometimes become quite amused when old incidents that occurred in the government of our state during its infancy are brought to mind. The fact that some of our state's executives wore "six-shooters" on their hips during the formal meetings seems rather ridiculous to us now. Today when the law makers of our state lambast each other with water pitchers and balmshamous names, we consider it a matter of course; a natural tendency perhaps. Yet, we pride ourselves upon the cultural development of our country and the remarkable intelligence of our legislative bodies.

The "30 hour week" for industrial institutions has drawn quite a bit of interest in the form of discussions both pro and con. Would it be an arbitrary measure imposed upon the institutions? Would it be an imposition upon the employees? These are only a few questions that arise from the passage of such a measure. The 30-hour-week for employees would, of course, provide more employment, but it is almost certain that the buying power of present employees would decrease in keeping with the number of hours in which they worked.

It appears to this writer that such a measure would be unconstitutional as a national law, though it might be valid as a statutory law. Undoubtedly the passage of such a measure in our own state or elsewhere would greatly benefit the general health of the factory employees, but we doubt seriously that such a measure would help living conditions materially. If the buying power of the employee is reduced, commodity prices cannot increase, and without the increase of commodity prices we cannot experience the return of "better days."

Dr. Clyde Bailey Talks Before Club on Archeological Discoveries

Dr. Clyde R. Bailey addressed the Roundtable Club last Monday evening on archeological discoveries in this part of Texas.

During the course of his remarks, Dr. Bailey advanced the theory, with proofs, that this country was inhabited by the Heidelberg race of man which is the oldest known evidence of the race of man. He also advanced the opinion that the arrow heads which we so often see were not made by the American Indian, but by an earlier race.

Dr. Bailey has discovered a mammoth tooth in Coryell county as well as dinosaur tracks in the northern part of this county and in Hamilton county.

He exhibited a number of specimens, including arrowheads and an Indian skull, all of which were discovered in this county.

Dr. Bailey is connected with the research department of the Smithsonian Institute, the University of Texas, Tulane University, Baylor University, and the University of Chicago, each of which have sent specialists in this line of research to interview him and see his specimens.

Dr. Bailey is known throughout the United States as a student of early American archeology, and he has made several important discoveries.

Merchants Bargain Shows Great Success

Through the cooperation and courtesy of Gatesville merchants and the Regal Theatre, large crowds are enjoying some good shows at the Regal the past few Wednesday and Thursday nights, since this plan has been in operation.

Mr. Brown is making every effort to book exceptionally good pictures on these nights. They are pictures that will please the whole family.

His adv. on the last page in The News tells you where to get your tickets. Don't miss this opportunity to enjoy some good shows, practically free—merchants' ticket and only 10 cents.

Plate Glass Maliciously Cut Sunday Night

Local vandals did a great deal of damage to the plate glass fronts in the business section of Gatesville last Sunday night. They scratched across the front of nearly all the glass fronts in town.

Some believe the scratch or cut in the glass was made by a diamond probably the set of a ring, and others believe a regular glass cutter was used. The damage amounts to considerable, for by the least pressure many of the glass will break instantly.

Officers have been working on the case, but so far no arrests have been made.

Jack Reesing Winner At District Meet

We failed to make mention last week of one our own boys who won first place in the District Interscholastic Meet that was held in Waco recently.

Jack Reesing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. P. Reesing, won first place in Junior Essay writing. We congratulate Jack on his ability to win in such a contest. This is not his only accomplishment; he is a splendid musician and promises one day to make his mark in the world of music.

Flame in Auto Brings Fireboys on the Run

The Gatesville Volunteer Fire Department answered an alarm to east Leon street Monday afternoon.

The fire which occasioned the call was a blaze in the delivery car of Horne's Bakery. The extent of damages was burning insulation off the wiring.

Gas Company Redecorating Office Interior

The Community Natural Gas Co. is having the interior of their office building redecorated. The walls are being redone in plastic paint, which is similar to texture.

Louis Newman and Ned Chapman, local artists, are doing the work.

P.-T. A. to Hold Last Meeting of the Year

The last meeting of the Gatesville Parent-Teacher Association for this year will be held next Tuesday evening, May 2, in the auditorium of the High School, beginning at 7:30. Since this is the final meeting, patrons are especially urged to come.

Mr. Joe Hanna, the president, is especially anxious to have all the officers present and wishes to urge that each member of the executive committee be on hand for this meeting.

The report of the nominating committee, composed of Rev. W. W. Ward, Mr. E. D. Shelton, and Mrs. M. W. Lowrey, will be heard and officers for the coming year will be elected.

The program will be rendered by the Gatesville Colored School, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Jermany. An excellent program was rendered by this school last year and it is expected that Tuesday evening's will be even better.

In addition to the regular program, awards will be given to the eight pupils of the High School who were winners in the recent trade-at-home campaign sponsored by the Messenger and business men of Gatesville. Each High School student wrote a theme on "Why Trade at Home." The best one from each of the eight English classes was selected and the winners who are to receive one dollar each are as follows: Ray Byrom, Brack Curry, Elwood Young, Thomas Bone, Mary Bigham, Lucyle Sasse, Hazel Scott, and J. R. Saunders.

More Rural Schools Are Closing This Week

The public schools at Mountain, Jonesboro, Mound, and The Grove are closing this week with appropriate programs and plays at most places, and with picnics also.

District Meeting of W. M. S. Held Tuesday

Women's District Missionary Society, Methodist Church, met Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Methodist church auditorium. A report was given by Mrs. H. T. Johnson, newly elected district secretary, which included plans for the future work of the Missionary Society.

The auxiliary presented Mrs. W. C. Guggolz with a bouquet of roses, in appreciation of her past work as district secretary and congratulations on her election as conference secretary. Mrs. Guggolz repeated the report she gave at the conference meet in Georgetown, which was illustrated by women of various zones.

Mrs. Landrum to Speak Before Society Sunday

Mrs. W. B. Landrum, former district president of the Methodist Women's Missionary Society, will speak at the Methodist Church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Mrs. Landrum is well known and loved by many people in Gatesville. Since the meeting of the W. M. S. district meet at Georgetown, April 18 and 19, Mrs. Landrum has been visiting in the W. C. Guggolz home in this city.

Methodist Pastors of District to Meet Here Monday Morning, May 1

Presiding Elder Roy A. Langston has called a meeting of all the pastors of Methodist churches in the Gatesville District to meet at the Methodist Church in this city, next Monday morning, May 1st, at 10 o'clock.

There will be reports at this meeting concerning the year's work, including additions to the churches, new subscriptions to the Texas Christian Advocate, money raised for kingdom extension, and money raised for the Methodist Orphans' Home in Waco.

Full announcements of the District Conference which meets with the Clifton Methodist Church, May 24 and 25, will be made at the meeting next Monday.

Revival at the First Baptist Church Will Close Sunday Night

The revival at the First Baptist Church, which has been in progress for almost two weeks, will close next Sunday at the night service.

There will be services both to-night and Saturday night, but there will be none Saturday morning. Services to be held at both morning and night Sunday. The music is being furnished by the choir and orchestra, with Mrs. Ed Schloeman at the piano, and Bro. Joe Trussell leading. Bro. Trussell promises to bring his best solos during the remainder of the revival.

Rev. C. A. Morton, who is doing the preaching in a very forceful way, has asked the people to read the Gospel of John during the revival, one chapter each week day and three chapters on each Sunday. The reading for today, Friday, is the 17th chapter and for Saturday is the 18th, then for Sunday the remaining chapters of the book.

This revival will be known in First Baptist history as the "Red Trail" revival. The pastor has preached every night on "The Blood of Jesus." His text for next Sunday night, according to announcement, will be, "Heaven Gained by the Blood."

In the course of this sermon, the pastor will answer the questions: Where is Heaven? When do we go to Heaven? What is Heaven like? Do loved ones in Heaven know what is going on here on earth now? Will we know each other there? Up to and including the services Thursday night, there had been 50 additions. The baptizing is to be done Wednesday night, next week. Everybody is invited to attend the remaining services of this meeting.

Some Schools Are Now Electing Teachers

Miss Lois Grantham, who has been teaching in Cisco ward school, has been elected to the principalship in the Pidcocke school.

Miss Christine Carpenter, who taught the primary room at Stampede last year, is to fill the same position in the school at Pidcocke next year.

Earl Culp, who was principal at Pidcocke the past term, has been elected by the trustees of Turnover school to fill the principalship there next year.

Miss Lila Dean McBride, who is now in school at Denton, has been elected to teach the intermediate grades at Ewing next year.

Charles Earl Ward Died at Port Arthur

Funeral services for Charles Earl Ward, 19 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Ward of Navasota, were held at the J. B. Wiggins home last Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with Rev. E. D. Shelton officiating. Interment was in the City Cemetery.

The child died in Port Arthur while visiting his grandparents. He is a nephew of Mr. J. B. Wiggins of this city.

Legislature Should Adjourn May 9

I am of the opinion that the people of Texas would be best served if the present Legislature would speed up work and adjourn sine die, May 9th. I am opposed to the proposal of recessing, and thereby give the Speaker of the House and the majority of the members of the Legislature authority to call the Legislature in session when a majority of said body sees fit. I contend that the Governor of our State, who is elected by the sovereign voters of Texas, should have the right to convene the Legislature, as has been the custom during the past few years.

I shall, as a member of the Legislature, do all I can to prevent such scheme being inaugurated in Texas which, in my opinion, would cost the tax payers of Texas a great sum of money; and for the further reason, that I believe it would force on the people something which they do not desire.

Let the people write their Representatives and tell them their views on this subject, stating as to whether or not they want all year sessions of the Legislature. As for me, I am opposed to such a plan.

EARL HUDDLESTON,
Representative, Coryell and Hamilton Counties.

Nearly Three Hundred Pupils to Take Part in Colorful Pageant

A May Fete is being sponsored by the Gatesville public schools, and will be given Monday in front of the elementary school building at five thirty o'clock.

More than two hundred fifty pupils of the two schools will take part in the pageant, which is entitled "Texas Under Six Flags."

Music will be furnished by the High School Band, and a choral club composed of pupils from both schools. This program, under the direction of Misses Mayme Sue Halbrook and Doris Jones, is one of the leading events of this year's school program.

No charge will be made for admission and the public is invited to attend.

Senior Annual Banquet Be Given Thursday

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church will entertain the graduating class of G. H. S. at a banquet at 8:00 p. m. on May 4th. This is an annual affair which this society has been carrying on many years.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by Mrs. Ola Mae Parks. Rev. C. A. Morton is to preside as toastmaster.

Dr. J. C. Hardy, president of Baylor College, Belton, will be the speaker of the occasion.

Rains Fall Over the County During Week

Practically every locality throughout the county has been refreshed by rains, in some degree, during this week. Gatesville has had several nice showers which were of great benefit to the spring gardens and growing crops near by.

Formers over the county report that rains have greatly benefited the wheat and oat crops. Fall fell in scattered areas from White Hall community to Turnersville on Wednesday night, resulting in some damage to corn.

MEETING OF MORRIS FEDERATION POSTPONED

The regular meeting of the Morris Federation has been postponed until Saturday, May 6th.

Pioneer Woman of County Passes Away

Funeral services for Mrs. Lydia Wood, 69, who died Tuesday afternoon at 6:15 o'clock, after an illness of four days, was held at Coryell Church, at 5 o'clock Wednesday. Interment was made in the Coryell Church cemetery, Rev. Lynn Dalton, pastor of the Oglesby Primitive Baptist church, officiating.

Mrs. Wood was born in Caldwell Parish, La., Feb. 5, 1863. Moved with her parents to Coryell in 1868, settling on the farm where she lived the remainder of her life.

She was married to J. M. Wood about 1895, who preceded her in death Sept. 6, 1925. Mrs. Wood united with the Primitive Baptist Church when about 35 years old and was a very devout church worker. Her father was the donor of the ground upon which the Primitive Church edifice at Oglesby was erected.

She is survived by an adopted daughter, Mrs. Gordon Davis, who lived with her in the Cornwell Church community, two brothers, G. A. Hall of Crawford, H. G. Hall of McGregor, one sister, Mrs. Lucy Burleson of Lubbock. Dr. T. M. Hall, prominent physician of Gatesville, is a nephew of the deceased.

TURNERSVILLE

C. M. Wallace and family have recently moved to Seymour.

Tommy Humes and wife will move to their place soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Prince of Ballinger were week end visitors in the home of her sister, Mrs. J. T. Garren.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Knowles of Mosheim were Sunday visitors in the T. H. Burkett home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Harrell were visitors to Waco Wednesday.

Mr. R. M. Holder and family were Sunday visitors in the home his father at Mart.

Thursday night Miss Lena Campbell entertained the seventh grade pupils with a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Holder.

Mrs. Emma Jones spent last week end in Gatesville in the home of her brother, Frank Jones, and while there attended Presbytery.

Rev. Kidd and Andrew Byer who are conducting a revival at Clifton, were visitors in home of B. B. Basham Wednesday.

Mrs. Wylie Hardy is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Smith at Jonesboro.

Mrs. Rice entertained the ninth grade pupils with a slumber party Tuesday night. On Wednesday night Mr. Jones carried the eighth grade out for a picnic where they enjoyed swimming and a beautiful supper.

Rev. Gaertner Attended Conference at Riesel

The Rev. C. A. Gaertner, local pastor of the Lutheran Church, attended the North Texas Lutheran Conference held at Riesel, Texas, from April 29th to the 24th. Pastor Gaertner returned Sunday evening to conduct services. The Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Gaertner of Malone, Pastor Gaertner's parents, and the Rev. J. P. Gaertner of Texarkana, a brother, took this occasion to visit Gatesville.

The conference at Riesel was attended by approximately seventy-five preachers and Lutheran Parish school teachers. Prof. H. Studdman, president of Concordia Lutheran College at Austin, was elected chairman of the conference and the Rev. E. A. Heckman of Riesel served as secretary. The Rev. L. J. Werner of Copperton presented a doctrinal paper on "Church Discipline and Excommunication." This paper was based on Matt. 18:15-18. Each division of the paper was thoroughly discussed. The discussion showed that the Lutheran Church still strictly adheres to the Office of the Keys which God has entrusted to the Church. Mr. E. F. Wilkening, principle of the Lutheran School at Austin, presented a paper in which he brought out the purpose of the Lutheran Parish Schools; The Rev. C. M. Beyer, president of the Texas District, of Wichita Falls, reported on the issues confronting the Church at large. All of the ten sessions were filled with business. Four divine services were held in connection with the conference.

The most unusual report made on the floor of conference was that of the Rev. H. Hartenberger of Perryton, who traveled over 600 miles to attend the conference. He stated that the people living in upper part of the Panhandle were in deep distress. Last year they suffered a crop failure, harvesting only about two to three bushels of wheat to the acre. This year all the wheat has been ruined and blown away by the severe windstorms of the past few weeks. They have had no good rain or moisture since last July. Pastor Hartenberger mentioned that there were families in that territory which really lack the necessities of life. The conference cheerfully offered to help those poverty stricken and to present the plea for aid before their respective congregations. This plea will also be made to the Lutherans in Gatesville.

Pastor also met with the Board of Missions of the Texas District, and was encouraged to continue his work in Gatesville.

FAVORS ADJOURNING LEGISLATURE MAY 9

Hon. Earl Huddleston, State Representative from this district comes out in a letter to The News stating his position on the question of the Legislature holding an extended, prolonged session.

The regular session, which is constitutionally limited to four months, will end May 9. If the session is prolonged after that date the pay of the members will be reduced from $10.00 per day to $5.00. But if they adjourn and are later called in special session by the Governor, the pay is $10 a day for the number of days for which the session is called.

It has long been the habit of that body to spend excessive time in the consideration of measures during the first three quarters of the session and during the last few weeks or days it would rush through to a vote important bills without proper consideration. Time is fooled away in the early part of the regular session and in the late rush bills are passed or killed without time to investigate the merits of the measures.

No doubt, Mr. Huddleston has the support of a great majority of his constituents in wanting to close the regular session promptly May 9th. The present Legislature, due to a lack of cooperation in the various State departments, has done very little, nor does it have much hope of accomplishing anything of material benefit to the suffering tax payer.

If they will adjourn, it will at least stop a heavy expense to the people.

A CLOSER COOPERATION IS NEEDED

It has been said of Gatesville and Coryell County, as it has of many localities, that a closer cooperation between the towns of the county would result in greater good to all. The lack of cooperation is seldom due to other than an unconcerned attitude toward the other fellow's interest and welfare.

The business men of Gatesville have always shown great interest in the welfare of the entire county, and have proven themselves ready to cooperate with every other community of the county. The News is going into every home and business house in Oglesby and to a great majority of the rural homes in that vicinity. The people of Oglesby have shown their interest and appreciation of this move in many ways. A greater number of those people than ever before are keeping in contact with their county seat town and naturally will know more of what is going on in the county.

The old adage "If you don't blow your own horn, no body's going to blow it for you," is just as true today as it ever was. Communities, individuals, firms and interests of all kinds need more boosting today than ever before. This truth does not apply only to boosting, or talk, but to practice—practice the things you preach. While we boost we must not lose sight of the fact that by boosting and helping our neighbors we best serve our own interests. Communities and neighbors must work together. The Coryell County News will always be found ready to cooperate with any section of the county on any proposition that will work to the best interest of all concerned.

BEWARE OF THE "HOME RACKETEER"

An exchange warns of a "home racket" which is now being worked in various parts of the country.

This year a great many patriotic citizens are preparing to do new building, and make improvements on existing property, in order to provide employment and put money to work. The home racketeer is taking advantage of this. He is always, of course, a perfect stranger and his method of operation is to get a home owner to sign what he believes to be an improvement contract, under the guise of providing much needed employment. In most instances, doubtless, the owner signs it without a careful reading. In reality, the document he signs is a lien on his property which is at once transferred to a third party, who then forces the home owner to pay, whether the stipulated improvements are made or not.

It is said this racket has been worked in some of the northern states. If some stranger should succeed in getting a thing like that pulled on one of our square-shooting Texans, we predict there would be a reckoning to take place—and the Texan would proceed forthwith to take care of his own rights without consulting a court or judge before acting.

But the moral is, don't do business with strangers. Do it with a concern that is known to you, and preferably one in your home town. The home concern will do the work as agreed, and at an honest price. It will give local workmen labor. The money you spend with it will go to its employees, and to the employes of numerous other industries which sell the local concern supplies. Yes, it's time for a national property-renovation campaign but there's no room for fraud. Do all the improving you can, but go to your local dealers and workmen. Remember that the cost of improvements of all kinds now is the lowest in years—and remember, too, that jobs are better and cheaper than charity.

TOO CRAZY

In a recent noted murder case the murderer had been convicted, and was scheduled to hang within a few days, but became so unbalanced in mind that a jury was called to sit and hear evidence as to her sanity. She played her part so well that the jury pronounced her surely insane. Some say that she was crazy at the time she committed the crime. She was so crazy then that she covered her evidence of her crime so well that it was a mere accident that it was ever discovered. And during the trial and after conviction was crazy enough to throw such fits as to fool the judge, jury and physicians—and many people. But after she was pronounced insane, her hysterics ceased, she calmed, and played with her kittens.

Some day, just as it has happened in thousands of other cases, a governor will feel so sorry for her that she will be turned out of prison. Then the chances are that she will again go crazy enough, as others have, to commit the same crime again. There are lots of criminals in this country that are simply too crazy to make it safe for their neighbors.

Representative Earl Huddleston invites his constituents to write him how they feel about the Legislature continuing in an extended session after the expiration of the four months' regular term. He claims to be a servant of the people, and wants to do their bidding. He will appreciate knowing your views.

Editorial

As the school term draws to a close, you are probably looking back over your year's work and as you check up probably you feel elated and happy, for there is no greater satisfaction than that self-satisfied, contented feeling of work well done, but what about the feeling of uneasiness and realization that it's very doubtful if you make your grade? Suddenly you are aware of the fact that you haven't "put out" as much as you are capable. Gradually you begin to call to mind times when you schemed to get by on that difficult English assignment, or allowed some one else to solve that stiff algebra problem for you. All the while deep down in your heart you knew that you were just as capable as the fellow students whose time and assistance you monopolized. What if you fail to make the grade, are you going to whine and offer excuses or will you take your medicine like a man? Then resolve to meet the issues fairly and squarely next term by putting out your very best in both work and play.

Primary

We forgot to give our honor roll in this report last month. It is as follows:

Second grade: Aubrey Meyers, Ralph Bailey Medart, Ethelene Andrew, Oma Lee Medart, Leota Freeman, Clara Mae Wright.

First Grade: Lendal Bynum, Erwin Davis, S. W. Hampton, Ervin Davis, Katherine Andrew, Winifred Andrew, Vestie Mae Ballard, Doris Preston, Sibyle Cox.

The second grade has finished "Building My House of Health," and have made six new posters on that subject.

I suppose all the little girls are getting better as they all have a new pair of paper wings.

3rd, 4th, and 5th Grade

The fourth graders are having a story telling hour. We have learned what it takes to be a good story teller, as well as a good listener. We are busy taking tests, especially the fifth grade. We have finished our history, reviewed the most important chapters, and have taken our final test.

We are having the play "Cinderella and Deaf Grandma" for our part of the program next Thursday night. Mary Jo Russell plays the part of Cinderella, and Pauline Smith is the Deaf Grandma. Everyone is invited to see our program, to be given on Tuesday night, May second.

6th and 7th Grade News

The 7th grade are working hard on their final examinations. We have been studying board feet in arithmetic. We are studying hard in civics. The 6th grade will finish their arithmetic in a few more lessons. The geography class drew a map of the North Central States.

The Boy Scouts have been progressing fine. We have been on several short hikes. We now have 14 members in our troop and are hoping to get some more to join soon. Last Friday night we met at Sand Springs and three joined. Most all of us are ready to get our badges.

Freshmen

The Freshmen class are still digging away. We are determined to pass the final exams. We accompanied the sophomores on a picnic last Thursday night, which we all enjoyed very much. We have almost completed the reading of The Merchant of Venice in English, which we all enjoyed. In history we have been reporting on the World War.

Sophomores

The Sophomores have been studying voice in English. There has been some slight misunderstanding among the students as to what voice really means. But I think in the near future we will work it out, so it will be plain to us. The Sophomores took their annual picnic the 29th of April. The occasion was directed by the sponsor of the class, Miss Hargis. An invitation was given the freshman class and its sponsor, Miss Sharp, and Miss Winters. Games were enjoyed. Jack Elam, Tinsy Perry and Basil Whatley was the committee appointed to choose the picnic ground and also plan the games.

I believe we can truthfully report that the soph's annual picnic for 1933 was enjoyed by all.

Junior Class News

The Junior class is a very industrious class. We feel certain that next year senior class will be a very dependable class, since the Junior class has been such a success. One of the most intelligent members of this class is Jack Ford.

The Juniors entertained the Senior class last Tuesday night. We met at the school building then went to the Cow House river. The lunch consisted of bread cookies, wieners, candy, potato chips, grape juice and lemonade. This was enjoyed by the following: Theo Whatley, Dawson Preston, Orveta Medart, Edith Dyson, Erma Lee Brown Buster Dyson, Laveall Ballard, Erna Mae Bynum, Grace Barrington, Arvil Chandler, Doyle Preston, Arthur Sims, Norman Bynum, Ola Pearl Dyson, James Preston, Jack Ford, Vada Ballard, Irma Doyle, Miss Hargis, Miss Sharp, Miss Winters, Pete Bynum, and our sponsor, Mr. Sharp.

joyed by the following: Theo Whatley, Dawson Preston, Orveta Medart, Edith Dyson, Erma Lee Brown Buster Dyson, Laveall Ballard, Erna Mae Bynum, Grace Barrington, Arvil Chandler, Doyle Preston, Arthur Sims, Norman Bynum, Ola Pearl Dyson, James Preston, Jack Ford, Vada Ballard, Irma Doyle, Miss Hargis, Miss Sharp, Miss Winters, Pete Bynum, and our sponsor, Mr. Sharp.

Senior News

A Senior with a book in every corner and nook seems to be the popular thing these days, especially since final examinations have started, and after you have been in Mr. Sharp's classes as long as we have you will decide a little honest to goodness studying won't hurt, not before finals, anyway.

The Junior class under the supervision of Mr. Sharp entertained the Senior class with a picnic on the river Tuesday night. All reported a fine time.

Jokes

Iris Culp, coming up to a group of girls the morning after the report cards were given out, remarked wearily: "Oh, girls I got so many C's on my report card that I am positively C-sick."

Miss Hargis, in English 9: "What is the matter today, Merle? Can't you speak any louder? Be more enthusiastic; open your mouth and throw yourself into it."

Miss Hargis: "Jack, correct this sentence: 'Our teacher is in sight.'"

Vada (demonstrating a geometrical problem): "The triangle abc and a'b'c' are equal."

Mr. Sharp: "Why?"

Vada rolled her eyes wildly for a minute, then made a dive for her seat saying as she went, "You've got me there."

Lavall: "What part of speech is 'woman,' Dawson?"

Dawson: "Woman' is not a part of speech, she's the whole speech."

Cleburne: "Where do fleas go in winter time, Si?"

Si: "Search me."

A woodpecker sat on a Freshman's head.

And bored till he was nearly dead. Then mournfully began to scream "Everything's not good, though 'tis green."

Sports

The Pearl club baseball team played Evans last Saturday, Pearl winning by 10 to 9.

The High School classes chose up and played playground ball last week. Theo Whatley won first place. It was very interesting to both pupils and teachers.

Personals

We were happy to have with us last Friday, one of our ex-students, Zoma Doyle, who is in Tarleton College this year. Zoma told us many interesting things concerning her work and experiences in college. Clyde Perry was on the campus Friday.

The Boy Scouts enjoyed a picnic last Friday night. The Scouts are working hard and enjoying their work very much. Their Scout Master, Byron Freeman, was at school one day last week in interest of the scout organization.

Word comes to us that Pawnee Cox, an ex-student who is in San Antonio, will be with us for the closing of school. A card from Besie Earl Whitt, who is Port Arthur, states that she will be with us also.

Miss Alva Lee Jones, who taught typing here last year, visited school the past week. We are always delighted to have Miss Jones back to visit with us.

U. S. Casts off Europe's Customs to Celebrate Child Health May-Day

May 1st Brings Food To Tickle Fancy of Children

The Tenth Annual Celebration of Child Health Day, on May 1st, reminds us that the United States now has her own May Day tradition and need no longer borrow her customs from other countries. May Day once went down in the annals of history as a day fraught with uprisings, revolutions and wars. Before that it was a pagan holiday with all manner of strange rites.

Now, through the efforts of the American Child Health Association, May Day is a day dedicated to our children, a day which emphasizes the importance of healthful living and healthful eating to Young America. We keep our prettiest borrowed customs—the gay May basket, and the herbiboned pole—but we have made the day mean something.

What Every Mother Knows

Naturally, no mother waits for May Day to feed her children properly, or to consider the well-being of children less fortunate than her own. But Child Health Day and the Health Week following, provides a special time for every youngster's mother of us to concentrate on mastering new recipes for foods that tickle childish fancies.

Every mother knows that children are even more susceptible to flavors, colors, and textures than adults, and that the best food in the world does no good if left to languish on the plate. Wise mothers have long ago discovered ways to serve the plain and the wholesome so that they would taste good while doing good. They found that milk goes down easier if flavored with syrup or served with a cookie; that spinach is more inviting served with eggs or grapefruit sections; that coconut will dress up fruit cups; and especially that pasteurized dates, the vitamin-rich sweet, will make even the disliked foods popular with the youngest generation.

Pirate Bars

14 graham crackers
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 package dates
1 cup chopped nutmeats
3 eggs
1 cup brown sugar
1 1/2 teaspoon baking powder

Crumble graham crackers fine (you need 1 1/2 cups cracker crumbs) mix with salt and baking powder. Add chopped pitted dates and nuts. Beat the eggs and sugar together and combine the two mixtures, mixing thoroughly. Turn into well buttered shallow pan. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 20-25 minutes. Cut in bars while warm.

May Day Ambrosia

6 seedless oranges
6 slices canned pineapple
1/2 cup shredded coconut
6 cherries

Remove orange rind and white membrane beneath by paring with a circular motion. Cut a thin slice from the peeled orange so that it will nest securely on the pineapple. Holding the fruit with the left hand, cut into five or six slices without altering the shape of the whole orange. Arrange slices of canned pineapple on individual serving plates. On each slice place a whole orange. Sprinkle with the coconut and on the rounded top of the orange, place a maraschino cherry which has been cut with scissors and opened to resemble the petals of a flower. Cookies may accompany this dish, the English-style assortment being especially attractive.

Date Caramel Cream

1 1/2 cups scalded milk
1/2 package dates
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/2 cup cold milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup nutmeats

Scald milk in the top part of a double boiler. Add the 1-2 cup dates, which have been sliced. Mix the cornstarch and salt with cold milk; stir the paste into scalded milk; continue to stir until the mixture has thickened. Cover tightly and cook ten minutes. Beat the egg yolks (or 1 whole egg) slightly, add the sugar; stir into the cornstarch mixture one minute before removing from the stove. Add the vanilla and nuts. Cool slightly. Pour into individual serving dishes. Chill thoroughly. Serve with whipped or plain cream.

L. P. Neely Buried at Osage April 17th

Funeral services for Mr. L. P. Neely, who died at his home at Cave Creek, April 16, were held, with interment at Osage cemetery, on Monday following.

Mr. Neely was born in Waco on Sept. 11, 1851. He returned with his parents to Mississippi later, where he lived until he was grown. He united with the Missionary Baptist church when about seventeen years old. He was married to Miss Sarah Tucker, June 22, 1873, and to this union seven children were born.

Surviving him are his widow, two daughters and two sons, Effie Bertha, Jim and Edd Neely.

CARD OF THANKS

We thank our good friends and neighbors for being so good to us during the illness and death of our darling husband and father. We also thank Dr. Hall for being so good to come and do what he could. May God bless each one of you, is our prayer.

Mrs. L. P. Neely, and Children.

Greeting In a Spirit of CO-OPERATION AND GOOD WILL

The business institutions, firms, and citizens of Gatesville greet the people of Oglesby in a spirit of true cooperation and good will, and we want you to know that we always count you as one of the leading community centers of Coryell County. The County as a unit is made up of the numerous towns and communities, and whatever impairs the progress of one of these proves a detriment to the whole, and whatever prosperity one may enjoy will help the entire county

We congratulate you on your many years of progress and achievement. We admire the spirit of thrift and optimism Oglesby people have always shown. We want to say that Gatesville is always ready to cooperate with you and all other towns and communities in the County in every move that will work to the best interest of the entire county.

Let's work together toward the building up of a better and more prosperous Coryell County, a better Central Texas, and a better State. Come to see us often and use us when you can.

Primitive Baptist of Oglesby Organized Church in 1869

BY M. V. DALTON

The Salem Primitive Baptist Church of Oglesby was constituted July 31, 1869, about ten miles southeast of Oglesby, Coryell county, Texas.

Following are the charter members: Henry Hall, Henry M. Smith, P. N. Helm, and sisters Jane Hall, Arcadia Hall, and Sarah E. Smith.

The church was legally constituted by Elders G. W. McDonald and Williams Thomas. Elder McDonald was called to the pastoral care of the church at the time of its constitution, and served in this capacity until the year 1874, when Elder William Thomas was called, who served until December 1877, at which time Elder J. W. Norton was called. Elder Norton served as pastor from 1877 to 1909, when he was released for one year at his request, and Elder J. M. Stewart served one year. Elder J. W. Norton died in 1899, then the church called Elder J. B. Denton, now of Cone, Texas, to its care. Elder Denton served the church in an efficient way until 1921 when he removed to west Texas. Elder R. E. Wilson was then called and served as pastor until 1923. Elder J. A. Goodwin, now of Silverton, Texas, was called to the pastoral care of the church in 1923 and served for four years, to 1927.

Elder Len Dalton was called to the care of this church in 1927 and is at this time still the pastor. As mentioned above, Jane Hall and Arcadia Hall were charter members of this church. The Hall family were of the earliest settlers of Coryell county, and have always been warm supporters of this old church. I have not the time to look up the records as to how many of this family have had membership in this church, but I have known a number of them. Of the children of Uncle Henry and Aunt Jane there are only two that now hold their membership here. Prof. H. T. Hall of McGregor is at this time the eldest member of the church, that is he has held membership with this church longer than any living person. Mrs. J. M. Wood, a sister of Prof. Hall, also has her membership in this church. Also Miss Myrtle Gryce, a niece of theirs, is a member at this time. There are a number of the connections that were members but have died or moved away.

The church held her meetings at the place of her beginning until about the year 1877 when it moved to Old Rock Spring school house, one mile southwest of Oglesby. It remained there until 1893 when the church moved to Oglesby. It would be of interest to mention the names of every minister that has had membership in this church, but time and space forbid. I would also love to mention each faithful Deacon of the great number since I united with this church. It is a great inspiration to meditate over the past with all its joys and conflicts. It has never been the purpose of these as people to help the Lord, as we so often hear it expressed, but rather we praise His blessed name for what He has, and is continually, doing for us.

We that remain are trying to live as becometh His saints on this earth, with no fear of His being slack or falling in His work or rewards. In the language of the poet, we continually say, "The Lord has promised good to me His words my hope secure, He will my shield and portion be As long as life endures. I am very thankful for the opportunity of contributing this little mite for the information of the readers, although I have had little time to do the subject justice. Poor, weak and worthless though I am, I have a rich Almighty Friend, Jesus, the Savior, is His name. He freely loves, and without end."

Nine Teachers Employed in the Public Schools

The first school in Oglesby was started in 1892. It was on the present site and was a three-room frame structure. Prior to this there had been a small school at Rock Springs about one mile southeast of town. The land for our school was donated by Mr. C. A. Wofford. The first principal of the school was Prof. Pollard. At that time there were but two teachers.

By 1898, a third had been added. In 1900 Oglesby was made an independent school district.

In the year 1901 a rock building of four rooms and a laboratory was erected in place of the other house, and another teacher was employed.

The school continued to grow until more teachers and more rooms were needed. In 1916 a brick building of four rooms and an auditorium was erected. The faculty was increased to seven members, and a few years later it reached its present number of nine teachers.

Two districts have been joined to the Oglesby school. The Alexander district was merged with ours in 1917, and the Hackberry district in 1925.

Our campus covers about three or four acres of ground. During the last five years the buildings have been remodeled and fully equipped. New blackboards, shades, maps, and charts have been bought. Gas heating systems have been installed, and several rooms have been given new seats. All these improvements, the tenure of teachers and the faithful efforts of our superintendent and school board resulted in the awarding of a certificate of Standardization by the State Board of Education. This is the first year the school has attained this high standard.

Besides the regular faculty, there is connected with the school teachers in the fine arts of music and expression. The music studio was built in 1910. We are proud of our school board, and the progress our school has made. Especially would we compliment our present board that has served us so efficiently and so long. Some of the members have been on the board for more than twenty years.

The local Parent-Teacher Association has assisted us by building sidewalks, erecting fire escapes, placing drinking fountains in the halls, and in many other ways. Although our high school is not affiliated, the standard of work done is very high. Students leaving our school make the honor rolls in larger schools, and graduates enter immediately into the best colleges and universities. It has been estimated that more than one hundred teachers have gone from the Oglesby public schools.

Senior Play

Characters have been selected and practice is well underway on the Senior play for this year, "The Road to the City." This play promises to be both interesting and entertaining. The characters are all very capable and well fitted for their parts. They consist of the senior class: Duane Pollard, Margaret Moonkey, Besse Lee Sullins, La Verne McCauley, Loyce Fowler, and Wanda Humphries. They are assisted by Sammie Powell, Nathan Fezette, Sam Gibson, and J. Clifford Williams.

Let's all keep the date of this play, Friday night, May 5th, in mind and come out to enjoy good entertainment and help the Seniors. Admission will be reasonable, ten and fifteen cents.

Methodist Have Strong, Active Organization

BY SAM G. REID

In 1890 Mr. Kinsolving offered as much land as was wanted for a plot for the Methodist Church in Oglesby. The leaders accepted only one acre, to their later regret, and in 1891 Rev. David Crockett, relative of the David Crockett of Alamo fame, organized the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, of Oglesby. Rev. Crockett, though past 80, is still preaching in West Texas.

The church has always maintained a Sunday School, among the superintendents of which have been B. L. Smith, Sam G. Reid, W. N. Graham, C. H. Graham, and the present Superintendent C. F. Everett.

Among those who have transferred their membership and later crossed the "Great Divide" are Frank McClure, J. R. Mize, Molly Mize, Sam Jones, M. A. Jones, W. A. Hubbard, A. P. Hubbard, Sallie (Hubbard-Langston) Harris, R. F. Wright, and the present Elder Roy Moore, W. E. Pennington, Maud Smith, Lula Smith, M. C. Arrowood, J. F. Tate, Mrs. Henry Boyd, Thomas Porter, Willie Ward, Rosalee Jeans, J. A. Rishonover, J. M. Watson, J. G. Halbrook, Ed F. Casey, Sam T. Cherry, Lizzie Cherry, Jennie (Langston) Crouch, W. J. Witte, and Sarah Blount.

Out of the original membership that joined under Rev. Crockett, only eight are still living. They are C. B. Graham, Fannie Graham, Maggie Searey, Sallie Mooney, Lucinda Mooney, Alice Homan, Mrs. W. C. (Hitt) Hoag and Leota Crouch.

At present there are 200 members in the church. Preaching services are held six times a month; Prayer meeting every Wednesday night; Sunday School each Sunday morning. Our house is supplied with electric lights and heated with gas. Sometimes we flatter ourselves that we are doing our best but really we know we are not.

Rev. Samuel Morris is the only preacher who ever went directly to the superannuated relation from this church.

In 1891 the membership of this church was only 56, but in 1893 its membership had risen to almost one hundred. In 1894-95 there were 96 additions to the church, many of which were the result of a meeting held by Rev. Deets. Up to and through 1909 there were 423 added to the church.

The first building for the organization was erected in 1891, and it was destroyed by a cyclone in 1893. A better house was immediately erected, which served until 1912. In that year, under the leadership of Rev. A. C. Lackey, the church erected the present house of worship and a few years ago it became necessary to add eight Sunday School rooms, and Bro. Lackey was called here to dedicate the new addition. Bro. Lackey passed on to his reward last winter and was buried in Hamilton county.

The church has always maintained a Sunday School, among the superintendents of which have been B. L. Smith, Sam G. Reid, W. N. Graham, C. H. Graham, and the present Superintendent C. F. Everett.

Oglesby Has 23 Prosperous Business Concerns

We think Oglesby is larger than Gatesville, Waco, or Dallas, because they are corporate cities and have "city limits." We do not—thus our boundaries take in the whole world.

Oglesby is in just about the same spot she originally occupied 55 years ago, when the Cotton Belt Railroad penetrated this country. Oglesby has never had a boom, her growth has been a steady, gradual growth which is substantial and does not fade away.

Through the Chamber of Commerce a trades day, a "Second Monday," has been established, which is proving a help to both the people who attend and to the business men of the town.

There are 7 grocers, 1 lumber yard, 1 hardware store and undertaker, a telephone exchange, 1 auto dealer, 1 drug store, 2 meat markets, 1 bank, 5 filling stations, two physicians, 3 dry goods stores, the Cotton Belt Railroad, Western Union Telegraph Company, one Bus line, two truck lines, a lime plant near the city, 1 blacksmith shop, 3 garages, 2 cafes, 3 barber shops, 1 tailor shop, and ice house, two gins, one roller mill, a water system, several grain and cotton buyers. The town is served by both electric lights and natural gas.

Oglesby has a chamber of commerce that looks after and upholds the interest of the community in every way needed and when the occasion demands attention and action. A regular night watchman is employed which has proven a benefit to the town in keeping an eye on the welfare of its citizens while they sleep.

Under usual range of farm prices paid the people of this territory are prosperous and happy. The town bears the reputation of having one of the best small town markets in this part of Texas.

A Happy, Contented People Though not so great in material ways, Oglesby has a contented and prosperous citizenship. Our public schools and our active churches are important factors in the making of Oglesby a good place in which to live. We have every promise of a splendid development in the future.

One who has long served the public in an unpretentious, matter-of-fact, doing his duty capacity, can see the truth in the following lines and heartily endorse the sentiment expressed: "Messenger of sympathy and love; Servant of parted friends; Consoler of the lonely; Bond of the scattered family; Enlarger of the common life; Carrier of news and knowledge; Instrument of trade and industry; Promoter of mutual acquaintance, of peace and Good Will among men and nations."

Oglesby is situated in one of the finest black land farming sections to be found anywhere in the State.

W. W. Ward, Pastor.

Mrs. Elizabeth De Montmollen nee Elizabeth Hall, who is now with her father, Mr. Davis R. Hall at Abilene, has been unanimously elected to teach History and Spanish in the schools of Putnam next year. Mrs. Montmollen has a host of friends in Gatesville who wish her every good fortune.

Martin P. Brooks of Mount Vernon was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Franks several days the past week.

Now is the Time

If you were going to invest in the stock market you would, of course, watch the substantial stocks and buy at the lowest price quoted, expecting to profit by the rising market.

So it is with young people in making their plans for their future. Now while we are, as the economists say, at the bottom of this depression, there is only one logical direction to go and that is upward. Wouldn't it be the sensible thing to prepare so that when the wheels of industry do start humming you will be ready to take advantage of the opportunity that seems to face you?

With good high school training supplemented by good business training, you will have something readily marketable that will place you far in the lead of the unprepared or the ones with only a general education. Surely this is the day of specialization and business offers quicker rewards than almost anything at this time. President Roosevelt is inaugurating some sound legislation which will, no doubt, stimulate business and make far better times.

Why not write Tyler Commercial College and School of Business Administration, Tyler, Texas, for their catalog and find out how easily you can get a business training and what it will mean to you?

Senior Play

The Senior classes of this district have been invited by Baylor University of Waco to spend the day there Saturday, May 6. In the morning, the chief attraction will be an address, to be delivered by Hon. Pat M. Neff, president of Baylor, in Waco Hall. At the noon hour a barbecue dinner will be served and in the afternoon the students will be guests at a baseball game between Baylor University and University of Texas.

The Senior Class of Gatesville High has accepted with pleasure, this kind invitation extended by Baylor University.

Play Day at Baylor Belton

On Saturday, May 6, the girls of Gatesville High School, under the direction of Miss Gladys Blankenship, will participate in a state-wide play day at Baylor College in Belton. The girls will be guests of the college on Friday evening and night, and on Saturday will take part in the various athletic contests being sponsored. Try-outs were held to determine which girls would represent the school and the following girls, by virtue of their high scores in this competition, will make the trip: Dorothy Culbertson, Jacqueline West, Ruth Raby Franks, Margaret Gilder, Fay Hamilton, Louise Harris, Pauline Haney, Carolyn Hampton, Louise Apel, and Winnie Belle Whigham.

Pay Chapel

Monday morning, April 24, at the chapel period, Gatesville High School was indeed fortunate in having Mr. Joe Melvin, a nationally known juggler, appear and give some of his famous juggling acts. He showed much skill in handling his work and although he has received high salaries for his exhibitions, we were fortunate enough to see his tricks for only five cents.

Wednesday Chapel

Wednesday morning the chapel time was changed to 11:30, so that those in charge of the revival at the Conrad Powell returned to the Teachers College, Denton, after a several days' visit with his mother, Mrs. W. S. Powell recently.

ITEMS DID NOT REACH US

We are sorry that two important items intended for the Oglesby special write-up failed to reach us, for some reason over which we had no control.

New Frigidaire Is Sure Economical Refrigeration

The new Frigidaire which is handled in Gatesville by I. O. Scott is operated by the smallest motor that has yet been used for refrigeration purposes. Its power is applied scientifically that it easily produces constant and dependable refrigeration at the lowest operating cost.

Frigidaire and General Motors research scientists and engineers worked for many years to create this amazing refrigerator. They started from the ground up, used all the data they had assembled in the seventeen years of Frigidaire manufacturing activity and followed a new line of thinking that resulted in the establishment of exceptional standards of refrigeration economy.

The standard model, together with a complete line of super models boasting every possible deluxe feature for kitchen efficiency and economy, is carried by Mr. I. O. Scott who will be glad to show them to you and tell you more about them.

The new models are finished in hard and durable duxal that is easily cleaned. It has a number of new features, such as automatic defrosting, automatic ice tray removal, unusually light weight and a food storage compartment with exceptionally large capacity in proportion to the outside dimensions of the cabinet, according to the announcement.

They freeze from twenty-five to 100 per cent more ice than almost any other refrigerator of comparable size on the market and do it more quickly. They, too, operate at less cost than the all-porcelain line of last year and sell for considerably less. Those who want all deluxe features of household refrigeration will find them in this super-series. These models have automatic defrosters, automatic ice tray removal, semi-concealed hardware, chromium plated freezers, adjustable shelves, interior lighting, twin cylinder superpower compressors, new giant hydrators and numerous other features and refinements. Some of the models have two hydrators for vegetables and fruit.

Baptist Church might speak to the student body. We were very glad to have Reverend Clarence Allen Morton, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and the singer, Mr. Joe Trussell, with us for this chapel exercise.
