KOEN-FOSTER BUY OUT BROWN & GORDON HERE

Messrs. R. D. Fister and J. D. Koen, the firm of Koen-Foster Drug Company of Hamilton Saturday closed a deal with Jim Brown of Gatesville and his associates, selling Brown & Gordon No. 2, the former R. M. Mr. Foster invites all Coryell County and Gatesville to visit them at their new location, "The Rexall Store," and get acquainted. Practically the entire personnel of the store has been retained, including Okey Mayes who is also a registered pharmacist.

Is the Steam Gauge on your Cocker Accurate? For the best canning results the most important part of the steam pressure must be accurate. If there is a doubt that it may not be working satisfactorily, it can be tested for accuracy by the company which made it. To obtain such a test, detach the gauge and mail it to the maker of the cocker. Besides having better canned products it is a safe measure to do this.

ARE CHICKENS HIGH? WE'D SAY SO! LISTEN!

Once upon a time there was an old red hen. She was a R. I. Red hen.

Now, this old hen was high minded, and high-bogied, for that matter.

She was a King's old hen, so the tale in part lies here.

Mrs. George King, with housewife caution for young things, heard the plaintive "peep, peep" of some small chickens some place near her house. The sound seemed to be coming from the hollow stump of a broken limb about twenty feet from the ground.

Inquisitive like, Mrs. K. investigated, and Dear Readers, and Mr. Ripley, Mrs. King found a big Rhode Island Red hen and a nest full of baby chicks!

"True! Mrs. King says if you don't believe it, she'll show you the nest!"

BAPTIST AND FRIENDS HONOR MORTONS WED. EVE

Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Adult Auditorium of the Baptist Church, the Mortons will be honored with a social, and a special program is also scheduled for the occasion, according to Mrs. Pearl Brown, chairman of the committee on arrangements. Mr. Brown did not state the nature of the program or entertainment other than it was in honor of the departing pastor of the First Baptist Church, Rev. C. A. Morton, and his family.

Needless to say, hundreds will be present to pay their respect to Bro. and Mrs. Morton, and wish them well in their new field, Ballinger.

Will Rogers' Humorous Story

By WILL ROGERS

THE doctors often have very weird tales to tell about the guys that come in to see them. Also they sometimes have very funny ones to tell about the patients that they have or heard about. Old Doc Sawbones up in New York State was the friend of the entire community and people always came to him for advice as well as treatment.

One day Hiram Jones came slowly sauntering up to his office and sitting in the easy chair started to stretch and yawn.

"The Doc spied him and said, 'Well, HI, what can I do for you?'"

"Oh, not much," said HI, "but I was wondering if you would do me a favor."

"Sure thing, HI. Just tell me what's on your mind."

"Well, you see, my wife fell down last night and broke her jaw, and if it ain't too much trouble, I wish you'd drop around some time next week and look her over."

REV. MORTON PREACHES FIRST IN BALLINGER NEXT SUNDAY

Sunday brought to a close the seven year pastorate of Rev. C. A. Morton at the First Baptist Church of this city as Bro. Morton accepted the unanimous call of the Ballinger Baptist Church.

Last Sunday's services were in keeping with the desires of the Pastor who requested that there be no formal program or address; resses either by the Church or any organizations in the city, but that the day follow the usual Sunday services.

At both hours, the building was filled. The Sunday night crowd filled the aisles with chairs and overflowed into the balcony. There were 435 in Sunday school, and 87 in the Baptist Training Union. In the closing services, there was one addition by Baptism and three by letter.

The Methodist church and Pastor M. M. Chunn gave way their night services and attended with many others from the city and county.

In his closing sermon, Rev. Morton preached on the text, "Look to Yourselves, that we lose those things which we have wrought, but that we receive a full reward." He expressed his appreciation of the officers and members of the Church and friends, and urged them to go forward in a greater way.

During Rev. Morton's Ministry over $50,000 has been raised for local and denominational purposes, the success of which is largely due to the faithful work of Mrs. C. P. Bellamy as Financial Secretary of the Church. The present church plant cost $50,000 also marks one of the achievements of the First Baptist Church.

Rev. Morton has performed 161 weddings and conducted 305 funerals.

Eight hundred and twenty two members have been received into the Church, 361 by Baptism and 461 by letter.

He has served as Moderator of The Leon River Baptist Association and is now a member of The State Executive Board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Mrs. Morton has served as director of The Baptist Training Union, and is succeeded by Miss Lois Welch. She was also President of the County W. M. U. and Secretary of The District Woman's Work.

The church is in a splendid condition in every way. Edgar Franks, Chairman of the Board of Deacons announces the Deacons will be in charge of the services Wednesday night, and also that short religious services will be held Sunday.

Bro. and Mrs. Morton leave for Ballinger this week to place their daughter, Margaret Ann in school.

Grateful appreciation is expressed on the part of the retiring Pastor for the courtesies shown him by his church and the general public, and to his family.

HORNETS TRIM MOODY 59-0 IN OPENING TILT

Featuring a driving, running passing attack. The Gatesville Hornets ran Rough-Shod over the Moody Bearcats Friday night before an estimated crowd of 1800 rousing, cheering fans.

Never before has a game been played that was any cleaner than this one. Not one single penalty was called for roughing or holding. Most all of the penalties were called for off side. Only one injury occurred throughout the game. Hargett, right guard for Moody was knocked out for a few seconds in the second quarter.

Fore, Hinsley, Weaver and Voss led most of the Hornet attacks gaining yard after yard thru the line and with sweeping end runs and long passes. The line held at all times, the Cats making few gains thru it during the entire game. Blankenship looked swell at the right Guard position and succeeded in blocking nearly all of Collins punts.

In fact the entire Hornet crew looked swell.

The Moody boys were in there fighting all the way but they didn't have what it took to stop the well coached Hornets. Collins and Smith led most of the Moody attacks and gained most all the yardage for the Cats. Fields and Hargett shone out for the Moody line and were in every play but most of the time were just to late.

The outstanding player of the evening was Zack Fore, left half for the Hornets. Fore just couldn't be stopped. Time after time he gained from ten to sixty yards around left end, side-stepping, weaving, and jumping. It can truly be said that out of the several beautiful plays during the game, the sixty yard run by that boy Fore was the most thrilling of the evening. Coach Worley played about thirty-five of his men and out of that thirty-five there were thirty-five stars. Every man who went in, went in fighting.

The GHS band and pep squad added a lot of color and pep during the game. The Moody pep squad also gave several ripping yells, adding much color throughout the game.

Play by play: Moody received, Fore kicking to Wallace, returning 10 yards to 28 yd. line. Smith made 1 yd. thru line. Pass by Collins, incomplete. Colling then punted to Fore, who was tackled by Baggett, the Hornets receiving a 5 yd penalty for off side. Smith lost 2 when tackled by Adams; Collins then passed over the line incomplete. Collins kicked, ball blocked by Blankenship, covered by Hornets.

Brown made 6 yds. around end. Voss made first down and Weaver netted 6 yards thru line. Voss again made first down thru center; Voss picked up 1 yd thru center; Brown took ball over for touchdown. Voss converted on thru line play. Gatesville 7, Moody 0.

Fore kicked to Wallace who was downed on the 10 yd. stripe; Smith made a yard around end. Collins punted to Weaver, who ran 55 yards down side of field for second marker, Hornets in general taking out would be interferers. Gv. 14, Moody 0.

Moody receives, Smith getting the ball, returned 5 yards, smothered by tacklers; Collins made long end run picking up 8 yards. On a fumble, Jones for Hornets, recovered. Voss got 4 yds thru center. Voss went over for third marker, adding extra point. Gv. 21, Moody 0.

Fore kicks to Collins who gets to 26 yard line. Moody fails to gain on pass, Collins to McGregor. Collins smothered attempting to find receiver for pass, losing 4 yards. Collins completed 15 yd. pass to McGregor; pass, Collins to Baggett, incomplete. Collins passes, Brown intercepts, downed by Fields; Gateville off-side, penalty 5 yds. Collins passes incomplete to finish end of quarter.

On a lateral, Moody lost a yd; Collins passed to McKamie for a first down; Collins made two yds and was tackled by Poston; Smith picked up 1 yard on off tackle. Hornets penalized 5 yards for off side; Smith fumbled, Post recovered; Fore made 2 around end; Voss at center failed on first down by inches; Brown made 1st down thru center; Lateral, Voss to Fore netted nine yards, tackle by Baggett, Brown made first down.

Hinsley, pass incomplete; Hinsley passes to Lester, who dropped the ball, Fore gains 4 yards. Hinsley kicks, ball killed by Post; Gatesville penalized five yards, too much time out.

Collins kicked to Brown, who makes 4 over tackle; lateral, Hinsley, Gilbreath enables Voss to make first down on next play thru line; Brown fails to gain; Voss makes three off tackle; Hinsley passes over goal to Jones for marker; Place kick by Hinsley falls. Gatesville 27, Moody 0.

Fore kicks to Collins who made a 25-yard return; Collins passes to McGregor, incomplete; Collins failed to gain thru line; Collins passes over McKamie, incomplete; Collins kicks to Fore who is stopped by Moody's ends with no gain; Fore in one of the moments of the game, with fast forming interference ran 70 yards for a touchdown. Play thru line failed to add extra point. Gville 33, Moody 0.

Brown kicked to Collins, who returns 8 yds, the play called off, the Hornets taking another 5 yd. penalty for off side; Fore re-kicked to Wallace who returned 20 yards; Collins lateraled to McGregor who was tackled by Voss after 7 yard gain; Collins downed in tracks, but play off side; Gatesville taking penalty; Wallace blocks kick, Post recovered, but Hornets offside, and Moody gets 5 yards; Baggett was knocked out on play and replaced by Jackson; Fore makes 20 yards end run to close half. 20 yard end run to close half. Gatesville 33, Moody 0.

Last Half

Moody kicks to Voss who returns three after fumbling; Weaver loses, tackled by Baggett; Gregory passes, intercepted by McKamie.

Collins attempting to pass is smothered losing 4 yards; Smith covered by Voss loses 3. Collins passes wide to McKamie, then Collins kicked which was killed by Moody.

Hearne gains 2; Voss gets in clear making first down on 12 yard line. Voss makes 3 thru line; Weaver on right end regains 3 yards; Gregory makes first down on left end run; Hearne downed by Taylor for 2 yard loss; Voss stopped at line and Gregory passes 35 yards to Weaver who trotted over for touchdown. Voss goes thru center for extra point. Gatesville 40, Moody 0.

Gregory kicks poorly to McKamie with no return; Collins on next play smothered by Hornets, loses 5 yards; Collins gains 4 thru line; Collins kicks to Weaver who returns 20 yds. to Hornets own 45 yard line; Weaver gains 3 yards on end run; Weaver goes around left end for one yard; Gregory passes but incomplete; Gregory punts, Collins downed in tracks, and Collins' kick is apparently blocked, recovered by Hearne on Moody 25 yard line. Substitutions.

Fore passes to Jones 30 yds. for a touchdown; Gregory fails to make extra point. Gatesville 46, Moody 0.

Fore kicks to Collins, who fumbles but recovers on 18 yd. stripe; Collins passes in open; Collins punts, partially blocked, Leon Anderson Claims Society Editor As Bride Sun.

Miss Beulah Irene Gamblin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Gamblin of this city, and Leon A. Anderson of Humble, son of Mr. O. J. Anderson, were united in marriage Sunday morning at 8:30 o'clock, with Rev. Marcus M. Chan performing the ceremony at the First Methodist Church of this city, in one of the prettiest and largest weddings of the summer and fall social season.

After space and choir pews were decorated with palms and ferns and tall pedestal baskets held pink gladioli and yellow chrysanthemums. Reserved pews were ornamented with white satin bows. Tall white, tapers, burned in cathedral candleabra.

The bride, entering on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage, wore a smart costume fashioned from Wally Blue nubby wool carrying a very chic trim of silver fur. The under frock was simple in styling, but very smart in cut. Her accessories were navy blue, and her corsage was of lovely butterfly roses and stephanatis.

Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Bernice Gamblin. She was attired in a very becoming suit which corresponded with that of the bride's in fashion. A model steela gray alpaca crepe worn with windsor green accessories. A corsage of better times red roses was worn.

G. Victor Anderson of Humble attended his brother as best man; J. B. Martin and W. T. Hix of this city served as ushers.

Preceding the ceremony, pre-nuptial music was rendered at the pipe organ by Miss Orpa Mayo, who played, "O, Promise Me," by De Kouron and accompanied Mrs. Byron Leaird Jr. who sang "At Dawning," and "I Love You Truly." Other wedding music included "The Bridal Chorus," from Lohengrin for the processional; "Liebstrraum" by Listz was played softly during the ceremony and the traditional "Wedding March" by Mendelsshon was the recessional.

Miss Mayo wore a tailored frock of rust crepe and chose black accessories. Her corsage was of yellow rosebuds.

Mrs. Leaird was attired in a smart dress of green alpaca crepe. Her accessories were black and she wore a shoulder corsage of talisman rosebuds.

Mrs. Anderson is a graduate of the local high school and an advanced pupil in the study of piano, having taught piano in several communities in the county. For the past sixteen months she has been employed as society editor of the Coryell County News. She has been very active in the Methodist Church, having been superintendent of the young people's division; president of the East Side Gatesville District Union; a member of the choir and for the past two years held a place on the official staff as pianist and organist of the Central Texas Young People's Conference. She was active in civic affairs, having been a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club and pianist and Sweetheart of the Lions Club for the past year and a half.

Mr. Anderson is a graduate of the Donna High School and is employed as timekeeper for Texas Pipe Line Co. at Humble, where the couple will make their home, following a wedding trip.

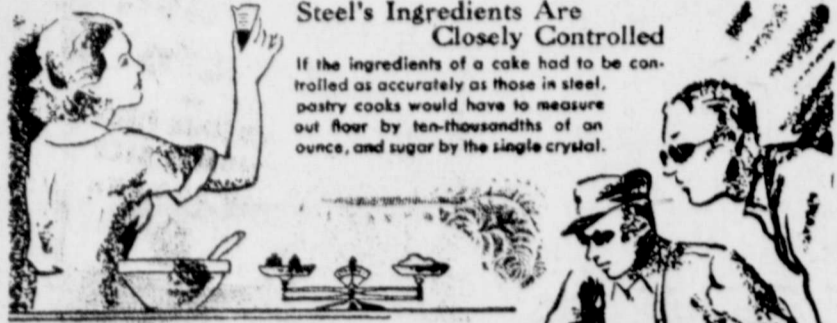

Among the out of town guests attending were Mrs. Marvin Rucker, Oglesby; Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Ingram and family of Copperas Cove; Clifford and Miss Joe Marie Tubbs of Coryell City; Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Taylor and son of Oglesby; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Powell and family, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Ward, both of Waco; Mrs. Mozelle Bettge of Flat; Mrs. Joyce Touchstone, Bustar; Miss Lowrey Burleson of Georgetown; and Mr. and Mrs. E. 4 STEEL FACTS in one minute

Steel's Ingredients Are Closely Controlled

If the ingredients of a cake had to be controlled as accurately as those in steel, pastry cooks would have to measure out flour by ten-thousandths of an ounce, and sugar by the single crystal.

First Steel Pipe Was a Gun Barrel

The first steel pipe was made in 1815 by screwing together old musket barrels. Today 85 million tons of pipe can be made in the U. S. in one year.

Steel-making Needs Skill

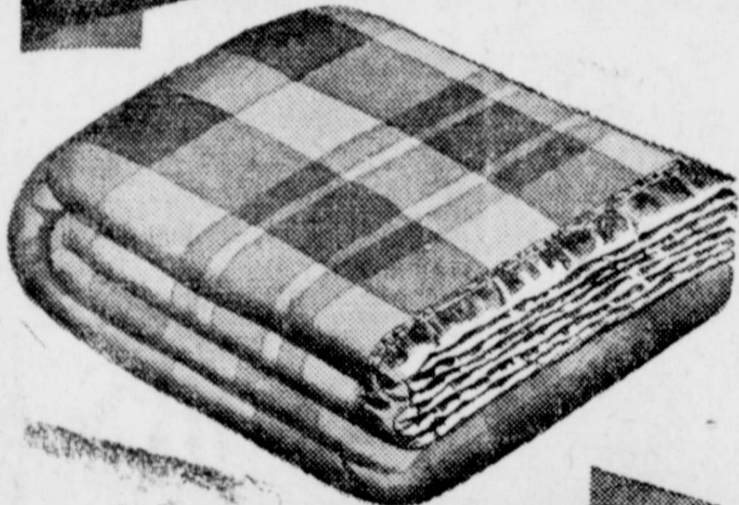

It takes skill to make steel. More than 93 per cent of all steel workers are paid more than the minimum rates of pay.

Steel Is 80% of Automobile's Weight

Although about 10 per cent of the weight of the average passenger automobile is steel, the actual cost of the steel is probably not over 10 per cent of the cost of the car.

Timely SALAD TIPS

By BETTY BARCLAY

The salad is a very important part of the meal. This fact is appreciated by more women each year. Furthermore, most men who formerly scorned "rabbit food" now realize that many modern salads are mighty hearty, very tasty and extremely healthful dishes — filled with the minerals, salts and vitamins needed in a balanced meal. The salad has come into its own.

A grave error made by many hostesses is the serving of the same simple salad regularly. Sliced tomatoes on crisp lettuce leaves makes a good salad, but this dish should not appear regularly like bread and potatoes. Salads should be varied as new fruits and vegetables are in season.

Right now we have the Bartlett pear and the Tokay grape — both delicious salad foods that should be featured as long as possible. The Bartlett pear is a yellow, sweet, juicy fruit that should be used immediately if bought ripe. If bought green, it will soon develop its natural fine flavor if left in a cool place to ripen. When sound and ripe from skin to core, the Bartlett is really delicious. The Tokay is a red grape from California and the bunches are large, with sound well-formed berries. Straggly bunches, with damaged berries are obviously inferior. Select Tokays — and Bartletts too — are assured by purchasing those bearing a popular brand name, such as the well-known Blue Goose brand.

With the right kind of grapes and pears on hand, try the following recipes on your family and guests. You will never regret the slight effort necessary to prepare these unusual and seasonable salads.

Coronado Salad
 2 tablespoons gelatin
 1/2 cup cold water
 2 cups boiling water
 1/2 cup sugar
 Juice 2 lemons
 3 oranges
 1/2 cup Tokay grapes
 1/2 cup walnuts
 Mayonnaise
 Lettuce

Soak gelatin in cold water, add boiling water, sugar and lemon juice, stir until sugar and gelatin dissolve and set aside to thicken. Peel oranges, discard white skin and cut into pieces; wash Blue Goose Tokay grapes and cut in halves, removing seeds; cut nuts in small pieces. When mixture begins to thicken add fruit and nuts, pour into a mold which has been dipped in cold water and set in a cool place until firm. Serve on lettuce and mayonnaise.

Bartlett Pear Salad
 Core Blue Goose Bartlett pears, all with cream cheese mixed with cream and shredded almonds. Serve on lettuce, round side up, covered with French dressing made with lemon and then with whipped cream or with cream mayonnaise.

Chapter One

An operator from the wireless room of the British Foreign Office rushed excitedly into the office of the assistant to the Foreign Secretary.

"Of all the luck!" he cried. "They've found Conway."

"They what?" The assistant was unbelieving.

"Here. Read this Conway's alive! Lord Gainsford's bringing him home."

The assistant read the message quickly and hurried into the office of the Foreign Secretary. "Here's the most exciting news, sir. Conway's been found! A wireless just came in."

The Foreign Secretary read the cable. "FOUND CONWAY IN SMALL CHINESE MISSION. LEAVING IMMEDIATELY S.S. MANCHURIA FOR LONDON. GAINSFORD."

"I can scarcely believe it," the Foreign Secretary said. "After being missing for a year! Determine the exact location of the 'Manchuria' at once. I'll send a convoy to pick him up. I must transmit this news to the Prime Minister."

Abroad the "Manchuria" en route to England Lord Gainsford was the center of a group of interested passengers in the ship's smoking room.

"Look here, Gainsford," one of them asked, "doesn't he remember anything at all?"

"Not a thing. He just wandered into this mission, they tell me. Had no idea where he came from — or how he got there. His memory was gone when he arrived."

"How awful! Those things are usually caused by shock. Must have had some ghastly experience."

"Very likely," Lord Gainsford agreed, "but what is only Conway can tell us — that is, if he ever regains his memory."

At that moment Conway, well set up and extremely good looking despite his obviously makeshift dress kit, joined the group Gainsford, who was the first to see him, suddenly remembered a description that his son, a schoolmate of Conway's, had once given of him.

"There's something Elizabethan about Conway — his casual versatility, his good looks, that effervescent combination of mental and physical activities. Our civilization doesn't often breed people like that nowadays."

Gainsford rose to greet him. "Hello, Bob," he said. "Know any of these men?"

Conway's smiling eyes rapidly scanned the group at the table. "Should I?" he asked lightly.

"Well, as a matter of social prestige I doubt whether you should," was Lord Gainsford's jocular reply. "But somewhere in your lurid past you knew them all. This is Robertson — Henry Carstairs — Wynant — and Tom Meeker."

The men shook hands rather self-consciously while Conway smiled and said "Must seem strange to be introduced to someone you've known all your lives." The men agreed glumly and, after ordering a brandy from the steward, Conway turned to Gainsford. "Did you say these were friends of mine — or my pall-bearers?" he asked. That helped to dispel some of the awkwardness of the meeting.

"I hope you're not feeling sorry for me," Conway said.

"Well, after all, it's not very pleasant —"

"Save your sympathy," Conway interrupted. "I'm enjoying it tremendously. Not remembering is perfect — no disagreeable memories to haunt me — not a thing on my conscience. I'm just beginning to live. It's delightful."

"That's right," one of the group agreed. "Sometimes I wish I could shut my memory off."

"Besides," Conway added. "Gainsford has been telling me all about myself and I've come to the conclusion that I was quite a fellow."

They all laughed. "Oh, I really mean it," Conway continued with a smile. "He's been flattering me no end. Listen to this: 'Celebrated soldier and diplomat who has accomplished more than any other individual in effecting and maintaining peace and goodwill in our Colonies in the East.' Stout fellow, what?"

Again they laughed and one of the men said, "I could tell you a few things about yourself, too."

"Please don't," Conway urged in mock seriousness. "I might be disillusioned. Gainsford's only been telling me the nice things and I—" Conway's sentence was unfinished as he paused to listen to the piano music that floated in from the ship's music room. "What's that?" he asked.

"Sieveking, the famous pianist. He's giving a concert," Gainsford explained. "It's about finished. Want to hear the rest of it?" Conway rose without a word and walked to the music room. The others, surprised, followed him.

In the music room Sieveking finished and bowed graciously acknowledgement to the applause. Some of his friends in the audience engaged the maestro in conversation and Conway, absorbed in profound thought, walked over to the piano. He sat down and began to play. Sieveking, attracted by the music, turned and listened.

When Conway was done Sieveking walked over to the piano. "That's beautiful," he said. "What is it?"

Conway turned puzzled eyes to the artist. "I — don't know," he said hesitantly. "Yes I do. I remember now. It's a Chopin study."

"Chopin!" Sieveking smiled and shook his head. "Oh no, my dear boy. I know everything of Chopin's that exists — and I can assure you that he never wrote that."

"It is Chopin," Conway insisted. "I must admit it is amazingly in his style," Sieveking conceded. "He might well have written it, but I just know he didn't. Can you show me the score in any of the editions?"

Conway stared at him vaguely. "Oh yes, I remember," he said. "It was never published. I learned it from a man who was one of Chopin's pupils."

Sieveking showed his incredulity. "Why, that's impossible," he said. "If a pupil of Chopin were alive today he'd have to be more than a hundred and twenty years old."

Conway looked up at him quickly. "What of it?" he asked sharply. Gainsford joined them and put an arm around Conway's shoulder.

"What is it, Bob?" he asked softly. "I remember now — it's coming back to me. I'm beginning to remember!" Suddenly he jumped to his feet and grasped Gainsford's arms. "I've got to get off! I've got to leave this ship!" he cried and he rushed from the room.

Lord Gainsford found Conway in his stateroom feverishly packing his bag. "You must calm yourself, Bob," he urged. "What has happened?"

"The steward tells me we stop at Chiang-Chow within the hour. I must leave you then. It has all come back to me — Shangri-la — Shangri-la —"

"What?"

"Nothing. You won't believe it, Gainsford — nobody will believe it. It's the weirdest story. Funny how that music brought it back to me."

"You'll probably think I've gone mad when you've heard the story. Do you remember the bandit uprising in Baskul?"

"Yes, yes — of course. That was when you disappeared."

"Right. I was the British Consul. Yes, that was it — that's where the whole thing started. My young brother, George, was with me. Remember him? The one I used to call the 'Freshman'?" Conway stopped and a look of pain darted across his face. "Oh my God!" he cried. "Poor George!"

"Perhaps you'd better not try to talk tonight," Gainsford suggested.

"Oh no, no. I've got to tell it. It may leave me again. Besides, I must leave you at Chiang-Chow and I must tell you the story before we get there." Conway lit a cigarette and began his story again. Gainsford settled back and listened intently.

"The bandits were practically at our front door. Refugees were running around wildly. I got orders to evacuate all the white people from the town immediately. There was no ground transportation so I had to call for planes —" mother's head in the family album, are again gracing evening hat-dresses. The bases of these are often of metal studded with brilliant stones.

In the "Pavillon des Joailliers" or Jeweler's Row at the Paris Exposition are shown the type of jewels which will probably be copied all over the world during this next season. The rather heavy, chunky ornaments of the last few years are gone, and in their place are delicately graceful creations designed to contribute to the 1937-38 luxury mode.

Girls at Texas State College for Women welcome leaves and flowers as the newest notes in costumes jewelry, this motif being carried out in many lovely brooches and pins. For solid black dresses which are so right this year these pins are the perfect accent.

Deep cuff bracelets will also embellish the flatteringly draped evening costumes. Most of them are tight at the wrist and flare slightly at the outer edge. More modernistic ones are smooth metal edged stones. All types of jewelry are designed to be a definite part of the costume with which they are worn.

Junior Hornets to Play West Jr. Hi, of Waco Thur. Nite

Gatesville's new Junior high school team will play the West Jr. Hi team of Waco on the local field next Thursday nite at 7:30 o'clock. Coach Schwarz has been running the boys thru some fairly difficult scrimmages the past week and has them in tiptop shape for the tilt. Starting Monday they will brush up on some real tastics with which they will use to whim-wham the Waco boys. Coach Schwarz states that if his backfield was as good as his line, he would have nothing to worry about. However, he is depending mostly on Kirkpatrick and Bill and Tom Lasseter to pull him through.

There probably will be many substitutions during the game, because he has so many good linemen that he will want to try out.

Schwarz says his starting lineup will read something like this.

- White and Anderson, tackles.
- Crow and Liljabadiad, ends
- Cross and Oldham, guards,
- Hinson, center
- Kirkpatrick and Bill Lasseter, halves
- Clemons, quarter
- Williams, fullback.

We have just received word from Independence, Kansas, that the Independence Junior College played Arkansas City College last Friday, beating them 6 to 0. We were unable to get the regular lineup of the game, but we know that Truman Blanton and James (Sonny) Hair were in the game during the last half. Boys from Gatesville who are out for football in the Kansas school are Chas. Baker, Jesse L. Wiggins, Jack Wiggins, Truman Blanton, Woodrow Wilson and James Hair. We hope to give you the entire lineup of the game in the next issue.

Gone but not forgotten
Our little son so dear
How we do miss you
But we cannot wish you back here.

Amidst the toils and cares of life
That are filled with grief and strife

Through memories of your short life are sad

To know that you rest in Heaven makes our hearts glad.

From the cares of life you are free.

And we know you shall forever be at rest in that home so bright and fair.

We hope someday to meet you over there

Where no family circles are broken

And no farewells ever spoken
Though you were with us
Only a few short hours

We know you are now blooming
In Heaven with other beautiful flowers.

KNOW TEXAS

Mr. Average Farmer
DENTON, Sept. 28. —Any man owning 275 acres of land worth about $18.70 an acre can consider himself an average Texas farmer. The 137,600,000 acres devoted to farming in this state are divided into over 501,000 farms, which range in size from tiny patches to tracts covering thousands of acres. The average farm, valued by the 1935 census at $5,137, is worth almost exactly the same amount as in 1910. Between that time and the present the highest value was in 1920 when the average farmer was worth $8,486.

Texas Middletowns
Although Texas has not worked out a sociological Middletown, it has several geographical ones. Fort Worth is located almost exactly midway between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. The actual population is about four counties east of there near McGregor.

Earrings to Spare
Texas beauties could deck themselves sumptuously with precious gems, even if all imports off jewelry into the state were suddenly discontinued. Although only about 20 per cent of the known metals in Texas are commercially exploited, jewels and ornamental stones which are available include agate, amethyst, onyx, jasper, opal, serpentine, topaz and turquoise. Pearls have also been discovered in the San Saba river. The raw materials, combined with the 1937 jewelry factories now operating in Texas and valued at nearly twelve million dollars, could be turned into a considerable supply on their own.

WHEN you have those awful cramps; when your nerves are all on edge—don't take it out on the man you love.

Your husband can't possibly know how you feel for the simple reason that he is a man.

A three-quarter wife may be no wife at all if she nags her husband seven days out of every month.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

WORLD COMMENT

Joe Burns

TITLE CASE OF JUSTICE BLACK

The furor arising from the alleged Ku Klux Klan membership of Supreme Court Justice Hugo L. Black has added another mark to the Roosevelt demand for reorganization of the federal judiciary. If there is any argument against increasing the number of justices of the Supreme Court by six or two or any other number, the appointment of the former Alabama Senator to the vacancy created by the retirement of Justice Willis Van Devanter is that one.

By appointing Hugo Black, President Roosevelt demonstrated that he is utterly incapable of placing on the highest tribunal of the land who will command the respect of the American people. This writer does not know whether or not Mr. Black was or is a member of the hooded order. But the fact remains that the chief executive appointed him without a thorough investigation of his background which would have disclosed any unfavorable circumstances which might have forbidden the Alabamian taking his seat. In addition, the Justice Department did not investigate Mr. Black and his record before or after he entered the Senate. Mr. Black was appointed solely because he was liked personally by the President and because he agreed with the new deal political philosophy.

As much blame must be placed upon the Senate, however, as upon the President. When Black's confirmation was pending, Senator Copeland of New York and others charged openly that the President's choice was ineligible for the court post because he was a member of the Klan. When the emoluments of the office were increased, the New Yorker attacked Black as being a former Kluxer, but the Administration forces swamped the independent Democrats and Republicans who wanted to delay confirmation until the nominee was thoroughly investigated.

Now many Senators have the effrontery to tell the American people that they would not have voted for confirming Black if they had known that he was a Kluxer.

If the Senate refuses to abandon its silly courtesy rule which forbids investigation of nominees to the Supreme Court which come from the Senate, the electorate will demand that no more Senators be named to the Court.

The President, the Senate, and Justice Black would have been spared quite a bit of embarrassment and in the case of the former, lost votes, if the Senate had investigated the Klan connections of Black and also studied the question of whether he could constitutionally accept the Court position.

This writer does not know whether Hugo Black has ever had any connections with the Klan, but regardless of any of his past connections or misdeeds, he is now immune of attack by any source, either the President or the Senate.

Justice Black is now a signed, sealed and sworn member of the United States Supreme Court. Until he violates the oath of office, or until the House of Representatives brings impeachment proceedings against him, he shall remain a member of the Court.

Press reports from the Senate have hinted that the President might ask Black to resign or that the Senate might reconsider his confirmation. The Chief executive can no more ask Justice Black to resign from the Supreme Court than he can ask Justice Hughes or Justice Sutherland or any of the other Justices. Nor can the Senate reconsider the confirmation of Black, as he has taken the oath of office.

Perhaps the responsibilities of a Supreme Court Justice will soften the impetuous Black, who in his senatorial investigations (inquisitions?) evinced little regard for civil or constitutional rights, sequestering at one time 14,000 personal telegams. Thirty nine million Americans, Jews, Negroes, Catholics, all objects of hatred by the dreaded Ku Klux Klan, will closely follow the conclusions of Justice Black on constitutional issues which comes before the Supreme Court.

We Americans will have to tolerate Hugo Black as a Supreme Court Justice for 20 odd years, barring unforeseen circumstances. And tolerate him only we will do for we can not respect him, at least until he has repudiated publicly the charges now being made against him or, if he is unable to conscientiously do so, resign from his justiceship.

One thing the voters of this nation can do, however, to insure a repetition of the Black incident. That is to refuse to permit tampering with the courts of the land and, whenever a vacancy is created, to demand that the Senate investigate the nominee, whatever he may be, before final confirmation.

BILL'S CARDINAL CHIRPS

With the new gym under construction, prospects are bright for a successful basketball season at Ireland High School. With new faces and a new spirit running high, basketball has passed the dormant stage here. The Cardinals under the direction of coach S. V. Dickenson who has produced several championship teams, are destined to travel far in the State High School race. Coach Dickenson is depending on a squad of net scorers from Levita High School to form the nucleus of the team. This writer thinks the team will be built around Raymond Glass, scoring ace of the Levita team. Glass is the lad that tosses those high spirals that knock dust off the stars and creep through the net with a loud swish. Raymond is as graceful on the basketball floor as the widow Roxford's daughter is on the dance floor. Another bright prospect from Levita is Paul Russell. Paul better known as "Big Sandy" held down the center position for the Levita team last season. Russell a big tough boy and very fast for his size, some one hundred and eighty odd pounds, can mix it with the best the district has to offer. Also from Levita comes Thomas Lee, captain of the Levita team last season. Thomas is small and very fast and can really handle a basketball. Being handicapped as to size he out fought any man that faced him on the Cardinal squad. Other outstanding players from Levita are Elvin Roberts better known as "preacher" guards his men like a lioness guards her cubs from wild captors. Dalton "Doc" Moran a sub on the team last year should be ready for plenty of action this season. Raymond Waddill, David Lee, William Collins, Chesley Benjamin, and Jesse Haynes have not yet enrolled. From Aleman High School comes Jim, Jack and Raymond Limmer, three outstanding stars of the Aleman "HI" team. These boys are all six feet tall or better, and will be strong contenders for a berth on the starting line up. All three were letter men on the Aleman team last season. To the above list of stars can be added a squad of tough basket-keepers from Ireland. Such artists of the hard wood floor as Burl, "Rattle Snake" Pierson who is plenty poison at all times Y. Z. "Salty" Squires, who has more fighting spirit than a squad of Uncle Sams Marines, John "Lefty" Orvig who can take that apple in the net with that left hand. Other Potential Stars are Randolph Waddill, Cleice Huekabee, Dan Huckabee, Noel

Neyland and a lad who answers to the name of Gerald Clayton. Clayton played with Hamilton High, last year. From this group of stars Coach Dickenson can select a quint endowed with that old fighting spirit that will carry them to the top in anybody's league. So all ye faithful fans get behind Coach Dickenson and the boys and give them a pat on the back. It's a wise chicken who knows when she's had enough corn. check MALARIA in 3 days

Don't Neglect Them!
Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out. Frequent, scanty or burning passages may be further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. The only time a husband and wife should come to bids at the dinner table is when the soup is too hot.

Cotton Loans—

York and New Orleans Cotton Exchanges. Loans at the rate of 8 cents per pound will be made on cotton classed thirteen sixteenths inch as to staple, and middling or better in grade. Thirteenth-sixteenths inch staple cotton under middling in grade is not eligible for a loan.

Landlords cannot borrow on tenant's cotton but the tenant may borrow separately on his share.

Any bank, cooperative marketing association or other corporation may make loans and the Commodity Credit Corporation will take up notes.

Warehouses—Commodity Credit Corporation will accept only insured warehouse receipts covering cotton pledged as collateral to notes on 1937-38 C. C. C. Cotton Form A issued by any warehouse approved by the Loan Agency of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation concerning approval. When warehouses are approved, notification will be given either by letter or published lists. All cotton pledged as security for a note must be in the same warehouse.

The warehouseman guarantee in the certificate and waiver, provided in paragraph 1. of the loan agreement, that the cotton falls within the proper grade and staple classifications for the loan made and is responsible to Commodity Credit Corporation for any loss occasioned by reason of misrepresentation of the class whether intentional or otherwise.

Liability of producer—If the producer complies with the terms of the loan agreement, he will not be personally liable for any deficiency upon the sale of the pledged cotton. The note and loan agreement governs the liability of the producer and should be read carefully.

The producer will not be liable for the loan unless he fails to participate in the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program or any cotton program offered to cotton producers pursuant to Senate Joint Resolution 207, Seventy-Fifth Congress.
