CORYELL COUNTY TAKES PRIZES AT STATE FAIR: ANIMALS SHOWN BY CLUB BOYS

Coryell County boys, as usual, took their part of the "ribbons" which were given this year at the State Fair of Texas Stock Show, and particularly in the hog and sheep divisions.

The winnings were among the highest in Texas in the strongest hog show ever held in Texas. Show herds from the northern show circuits concentrated at Dallas and by this, Coryell maintained its reputation and prestige for top quality hogs and sheep.

Coryell's winnings were: Hampshire breed lambs; 1st, 2nd and 3rd places; Delaine breed lambs, 2—1st prizes: Rambouillet-Rams; 2nd prize; Mutton lambs, County car lot; 2nd prize.

Hogs: 2nd County car lot; 2nd litter of 5; 2nd litter of 6; 2nd futurity litter; 4th produce of dam;

4th get of sire; 4th breeders young herd.

Hogs from this county were shown by 4-H and FFA boys of the county; along with A. T. Quicksall and son; Poland-China and also the Poland China hogs of Ted and Madelyn Copeland. The 1st place Poland China gilt shown by Buddy Merrit of Oglesby was defeated only by the hog that was made Grand Champion.

Lambs were sold at auction Saturday for 10 1-2c a pound, whereas the hogs were sold early in the week at a price ranging from 6c to 7c per pound.

This week, the entries will be made in the Brazos Valley Fair at Waco.

The H. D. Clubs of the county entered needle work on which no prizes were offered.

Taxes Curtailed In Many Texas Locals: More Drops Due

According to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, in 47 political subdivisions, 29 counties and 18 cities, reductions in tax budgets for 1940-41 are shown in 36.

Lampasas county, among them has cut their budget $25,000, Hardman county, valuations and tax rate unchanged has cut 23 per cent or $28,400. Yoakum county, $8,144 cut after providing an increase of $1,500 for courthouse and jail improvements.

In its long time program the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is announcing a four-point plan for submission to the people of Texas for (1) providing centralized control and up-to-date budget procedure or state receipts and disbursements, (2) giving greater standardization to and mandatory requirements for budget making in local political subdivisions, (3) setting up adequate provisions for the collection of delinquent taxes and basing of local budgets upon 100 per cent collections, and (4) modernizing and improving for local governments the debt-incurring and debt-paying practices, all for the benefit of taxpayers.

Already drawn and approved by officials of the WTCC is the plan submitted by Dr. Geo. C. Hester, counsellor of the Public Expenditure commission and D. A. Barden, manager of the organization for, reorganizing the financial management functions of the state. Complete breakdown of the plan will be pamphletized, and a bill is being drafted, for submission to the legislature.

REGISTRATION DAY WILL PROBABLY TAKE 2,250 TO 3,000 MEN BETWEEN AGES OF 21 AND 36: WEDNESDAY'S THE DAY

Wednesday, beginning at 7:00 o'clock and continuing until 9:00 in the evening, every man between the ages of 21 and 36 will register at one of the thirty three precinct voting boxes, according to the Selective Service Bill.

Already, Chief Registrars for every precinct in Coryell county have been sworn in and have the necessary form which the men will sign, and the card below is a sample of the card that will be given each of the men with admonition "CARRY THIS CARD WITH YOU AT ALL TIMES".

Charlie Mounce, who has charge of the swearing in, the school of instruction, and the counting out, and in, of all the forms has practically completed his part of this work, with the exception of receiving the signed forms back and making his report to Austin. He has already wired Austin officials to this effect.

Wednesday night, after 9:00 o'clock, the Chief Registrars of each precinct are required to bring their reports, forms, etc., back to the County Clerk's office, as it will be necessary for Mr. Mounce to wire his report to Austin that night, to facilitate the "selection" which will come shortly.

Here is the card each registrant will carry with him.

Roger Miller, of the Local Draft Board stated yesterday that he hoped it would be possible to give the newspapers of the county by Friday, the names, or other legal information concerning the entire registration for this county. This will be a tremendous job, and the News will carry this pertinent information just as soon as it can be tabulated.

For Ward 2, Gatesville, registrants will first go to the County Court room on the first floor of the courthouse, and they will be sent from there to the second or third floor of the courthouse where a large number of registrars will be waiting to handle the crowds. The second and third floors will be vacated by those who have offices there so that the registrars will have room. A large number of helpers will be required in each precinct and these folks have been arranged for and have volunteered their services, the same as have the Chief Registrars and their immediate assistants.

Ward 1 will be registered in the City Hall auditorium and any other parts of the City Hall that are needed. Of course, there will be plenty of registrars on hand to handle the registrants.

There'll be more in our next issue about this registration, and as we said before, if possible, the names of those who have registered.

Four-County Press Celebrates Second Anniversary

In the Friday issue of The Four County Press, one of Coryell County's well known newspapers, the announcement is that it is celebrating its Second Anniversary under the present management, with James L. Power and James E. Hudgins as Owner and Publishers.

The Four County Press has a distinct place in this history of Coryell county, and is doing a great part in the developing of the city of Evant and the surrounding community, both in Coryell, Mills, Hamilton and Lampasas. Mr. Powers and his partner, Mr. Hudgins get out a very creditable newspaper, and have the best wishes of every member of the News staff, who join in wishing them many more happy, and not to omit, profitable anniversaries.

The Four County Press, however has been operating some four or more years under other publishers and owner, and has favorably withstood many of the hard knocks of the new newspaper in any vicinity, and, incidentally, has enjoyed, many of the good breaks.

FDR Continues To Lead In News Poll

A count of the votes late Monday was made and Roosevelt was still leading Willkie with 11 out of 15 votes, which had been cast during the wee kend.

Willkie only received three of the fifteen, and "Washington", whoever he might be, received one. We supposed the person who cast this vote was a Democrat and voted for Washington because he or she did not believe in a third term. That is our idea of the "joke".

Here are the totals:
Roosevelt 119
Willkie 23

OGLESBY TIGERS COAST TO EASY VICTORY OVER HUSTLING PEARL CREW

Flashing a sparking ariel attack that clicked almost to perfection, the Oglesby High School Tigers beat out a decisive victory over the Pearl Dragons Friday afternoon at Pearl, the final score reading 62-8 in the Tigers favor.

With Mosley and Fetner forming the spearhead of the Dragon's attack, they were able to throttle the ground-gaining Oglesby crew to a certain extent in the early part of the game and the first quarter ended with Oglesby leading by only 6 points.

In the second quarter Griffin, McKelvain and Terry started the fireworks and the Dragons were helplessly outclassed by the towering Tigers who pulled touchdown after touchdown out of the sky to pave the way to a lop-sided victory.

The Dragons' chances were also cut short when Mosley, brilliant Pearl fullback suffered a leg injury and was forced to retire to the sideline in the second quarter of the game. He returned a short time later, however, and played the remainder of the game.

Judging from the easy method in which the Tigers took the Dragons into camp, makes the Oglesby team one of the top-most contenders for the six-man crown. Backed by a year or more of experience, together with weight, speed and accuracy, the Tigers are indeed a splendid football machine and one that will prove plenty hard to stop.

The Dragon's talley came in the twilight of the game when Mosley streaked down the field in a 50 yard run to cross pay-dirt in Pearl's first score of the season on the home field. Fetner kicked the extra points.

Both teams received active support from their respective communities and pep squads of high school girls from both schools lined the field to boast their home team.

Jr. High Gridders Lose to Bulldogs

The Hamilton Jr. High Bulldogs roved up and down the local gridiron in a smashing pigskin parade to take a 12-0 victory from a fighting team of Gatesville Juniors here Thursday night. The Bulldogs led by Thompson, Carlton, and Stevens and the Jr. Hornets, sparred by Ashby, Puckett and Boynton, put on a regular plunging and passing duel that never let up from the first to the last whistle.

Outclassed in speed and weight the Hornets played a jam-up game and at times had the Bulldogs on the run but the visitors finally hammered over two touchdowns to win the game.

TOUCH-DOWN TACTICS

MICHIGAN
by
H. O. (Fritz) Crisler
Head Football Coach

This is the last of a series of six outstanding diagram plays by leading college coaches from Grantland Rice's new Cities Service Football Guide.

THE above diagram shows a fake pass and run that has proved to be successful for us here at Michigan. It is important, however, to link this play with a few good passes. The right end goes down and fakes receiving a pass, then continues on and becomes a blocker. The No. 1 back (Trosko) blocks in on the defensive tackle. The No. 2 back (Evashevski) goes down to block out the halfback. The No. 3 back (Westfall) blocks out the end. The end will be coming in to rush the pass No. 4 back (Harmon), getting a good fake of a pass, then heads up between the defensive end and tackle. The left end blocks out on the end; the left tackle blocks out on the left tackle. The center closes the hole and blocks the guard. The inside guard pulls and leads the ball carrier up through the hole. The right guard and tackle will block in the line. This fake pass and run is a successful play and has gained a lot of yardage for us at Michigan. Harmon, No. 4 back, is a passer and a runner, therefore making it impossible for the opponent to know whether he will pass or run. This play has been most efficient for us.

Pidcoke Wins From Purmela Half-Dozen

Last Thursday afternoon the Pidcoke six-man football squad went to Purmela and came home victorious over the Purmela half-dozen by a score of 12-0. This was the first six-man game in the county in the 9th Grade School division and is said to have created quite a bit of interest. No highlights of the game were reported. Next Friday, October 18, the Purmela team will go to Pidcoke to play the return game and a large crowd is expected to be present.

Leon Junction

Everyone in this community and surrounding communities seemed to have enjoyed themselves at the singing.

Mrs. Witt Hodge of near McGregor spent Saturday night with her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Van, and attended the singing Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hancock spent Sunday with his parents, of the Royalty Farm.

Jack Whittenberg of Winters is visiting his cousin, Sidney Evans. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sutton and son are spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hinsley of Gatesville.

Mr. John Phillips of Lime City spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. George Ashby.

Buffaloes Lose to Flat Jackets 62-0

Manned by three hustling pigskin packers, Thomas, Williams, and Whigham, the Flat Yellow-jackets stampeded a herd of Turnersville Buffaloes 62-0 at Turnersville Friday afternoon. The Jackets led by Thomas who crossed the goal four time, rolled to an easy victory over the Turnersville lads and were never given a serious threat during the fray. Whigham contributed 4 points to the Jacket's score after touchdowns.

Clary stood out for Turnersville and played headsup football all the way. Inexperience has cost the Turnersville team heavily this year almost all of their regulars were lost through graduation.

HINTS TO HOMEBUILDERS

MRS. DURLIN BRAYTON OF LAGUNA BEACH, CALIF., DECORATED HER KITCHEN WITH SWEDISH VERSES AND COLORED DESIGNS. EVEN THE GAS REFRIGERATOR IS PAINTED WITH "CALICO HORSES"

EXPERIMENTS ARE BEING MADE TO CAMOUFLAGE OUR MILITARY CARRIER PIGEONS!

The Knickerbocker Club in New York, founded in 1845, was the first organization to promote baseball in the United States. Rules were far different then—a batter was out if the ball was caught on the fly or first bounce; or by being hit with the ball on his way to base.

The modern lines of the gas refrigerator cabinet, help carry out the "Swedish motif" in the beach home of Mrs. Durlin Brayton. Dubonnet, delft blue, green and yellow colorings dominate the kitchen cabinets, curtains and floor, while the cabinet fronts carry scrolls with messages of welcome written in Swedish also.

Will Rogers' Humorous Story

By WILL ROGERS
WHEN his son came back from college, a California capitalist started to worry. The young man had been learning all about forward passes, but he hadn't passed forward very much anyhow. He could talk fast, and never had to stop to think of anything to say. If he stopped to think maybe he wouldn't of said any of the things he said.

So the dad advised the boy to read the Bible every day. He offered him a new sport model car if he'd read the New Testament through. So the boy spent a half day at the job.
"Ain't that a great book?" says his dad to him that night.
"Well, maybe you think so. After you've been to college like I have you don't think it's so hot. Why, the guy that wrote it had no originality at all. The thing is pretty near made up of quotations and famous sayings."

Cranfills Gap Has Traveling Movie: It's a New Idea

At Cranfills Gap, people of that vicinity have been treated during the past week with the Wide World Tent Theatre, a former business man of Wichita, Kansas, who, following a "hobby" of his for many years, has not entered the motion picture "presenting" business.

Mr. Conklin moves his tent theatre into the smaller towns and presents a selected bill of movies, which include a new picture "Battle For France" which shows what modern warfare really is, with scenes taken in the trenches under heavy fire, with German planes dropping bombs on Paris and France's heroic armies retreating over the devastated country side.

Interviewed by our Cranfills Gap Correspondent, Mrs. M. C. Terry, Mr. Conklin stated he enjoyed studying and talking with the people of the various types of communities thru which the show travels and is always delighted to show them thru his modern house car.

Mrs. Conklin, according to Mrs. Terry, is somewhat of an idealist, and believes that the people of the smaller towns and rural communities appreciate the outstanding moving pictures, and appreciate the opportunity which the Tent Theatre gives them. The Conklins have created many warm and lasting friendships on their tours of the country with their show. The show opened in Fairy Monday, where it moved from Cranfills Gap.

Hornets Defeat Valley Mills Eagles 6-0 In Second Conf. Tilt

FRY SCORES IN LAST MINUTES OF PLAY TO WIN FOR HORNETS

By WILSON BRAZZIL
News Sports Editor

The Gatesville High School Hornets who heretofore haven't cut much ice in Class-A football circles, pulled a big surprise out of the bag Friday night by handing the highly touted Valley Mills Eagles a 6-0 defeat before a frenzied mob of football fans.

The Hornets, packing a ton of TNT in every drive, battled their crafty opponents 0-0 until the waning minutes of the game when a perfectly executed play sent Fry, a nimble-legged Hornet flying around right end for the only touchdown of the game.

With the exception of Fry there was no really outstanding star in the Hornet lineup as each man filled his slot almost to perfection. Gribble, White, Oldham, and Sydow were demons on the defense, making ox-cart holes in the Eagles line that sent Crow, Fry and King plunging thru with substantial gains. Manning who was getting his first taste of football glory was so excited that he had to have his head gear screwed on, played like a veteran and literally climbed the Eagle linemen. Sexton, Walker, in fact every player that sported the black and gold, did himself proud and aided in carrying the oHrnet banner victoriously from the field.

In Mentioning the stars we could not rightfully overlook the Eagles' backfield as it consisted of some of the best football brains that the Hornets are likely to bump into. Bray, 160 pound back gave the local fans chills with his spectacular running while Lawrence, Harris and Barnett hurled pass after pass that fell short only by inches. Smith, a star guard, dealt the Hornets no end of misery and was playing with a broken hand.

All in all it was a great game. A game that brought out the best in both teams and a game that either would have been proud to win.

Here the play by play:

Valley Mills receives, and Gribble kicks off to Bray who takes the ball on the 25 yard line and returns 8 before he is pulled down by Sydow and Gribble. Bray fails to gain through center. Barnett drives over RT for 2 yards. Barnett plows thru center for 3 yards, stopped by Manning. Bray gets off a long sprial kick, ball going back of goal line.

Fry makes 3 through center. Walker gains 2 thru center. Crow quick kicks to Bray who receives ball on about the 50 yard line but is downed in his tracks by Manning and Anderson. Barnett is stopped at center. Barnett on reverse skirts left end for five yards, hit by Gribble. Barnett stopped at RG for no gain on the play. Barnett fakes pass and is stopped by White who breaks through Eagle's line of defense. Pass, Lawrence to Harris is complete and almost good for a touchdown. Pass, Lawrence to Harris almost complete. Pass, Lawrence to Warren is complete, play called back, both sides off side. Pass, Lawrence to Barnett is incomplete. Pass, Lawrence to Barnett back of goal line is almost complete but Sydow interferes. Hornets receive possession of the ball on downs.

Crow drives over center for 4 yards, perfect blocking by Hornet line. Crow fails to gain at center, hit by Smith. Davis plows over RT for 6 yards and first down. Davis over center for three. Crow gains 2 at center. Davis stopped at LT by Vannatta. Crow rolls over center for 2 yards, as first quarter ends. Score, Gatesville 0, Valley Mills 0.

SECOND QUARTER

Crow kicks to Harris on the 40 yard stripe who is halted by Sydow and Gribble after a five yard return. Barnett fails to gain thru center. Barnett around RE makes 10 yards and first down. Harris fails at RE stopped by Crow. Lawrence through center for 2 yards stopped by King, Lawrence gets off beautiful long kick ball going to Hornets' 10 yard line. Crow over center makes 4. Fry crashes thru LT for 5 yards. Fry makes 4 and first down. Crow drives over LT for 2. Fry at RE picks up 7. Sydow at RT makes 2 yards and first down. Anderson on reverse makes 3 yards thru center. Pass Fry to Gribble almost complete. Hornets make hole and King runs 8 yards untouched through center of Eagles' line, finally pulled down by Freedman.

Valley Mills penalized 5 yards for clipping on the next play. King on reverse gets five. Eagles intercept Hornet pass. Gatesville recovers on fumble. On the next play Hornets again lose possession by fumble and Valley Mills takes over on their own 30 yard line. Bray stopped at line of scrimmage. Harris goes around RE for 6 as half ends. Score, Gatesville 0, Valley Mills 0.

Notes of a Bystander

The First Nights: Nothing happened in the theater last week, which is another way of saying that Wm. Saroyan's "Time of Your Life" was revived. This is the item that copped both prizes last season, Critics' and Pulitzer, and proves that the critics needed only four years to start thinking like the Pulitzer committeemen. The notices on the revival were boosty, the boys simply ratifying their spring vote. Mr. Atkinson found it "a boozy escapade"; John Anderson smelled in it "the rankest sort of hokum"; John Mason Brown's tribute was that "Saroyan knows the value of clap-trap"; Mr. Mantle settled for "Saroyan hysteria"; and Mr. Kronenberger found out it was "mawkish . . . alcoholic escapism." One thing about the N. Y. reviewers—when they like something they come right out and say so . . . Eddie Cantor, envying Jolson and Wynn their B'way duties, confided to an interviewer that he is suffering a little from the "eight-thirty itch," which is a gem of an expression for First-Night applause hunger.

The Magic Lanterns: The new flickers glorify the peasants. New Yorkers are sure to hug "City for Conquest," because the town plays the leading role. The film shows how N. Y. can hurt you or yes you, depending on the breaks. J. Cagney is ace as the fistcuffer licked in the ring and by the town, with A. Sheridan making the agonies easier to take . . . "Wyoming" is more shirt sleeves stuff, with W. Beery and L. Carrillo better than this routine Western deserves . . . "Beyond Tomorrow" is pretty taejus going, putting Harry Carey up against it plenty . . . "The Howards of Virginia" is good cinema but terrible timing. The players wear lace in this one, and lose their tempers at Britain . . . "I Married Adventure" shows Mrs. Martin Johnson versus the wart-hogs and henas—jungle jitters . . . "Comin' Round the Mountain" is the kind of picture which shows all the comics with adenoids.

In the Tavern one night this one convulsed some of us . . . An elderly man had a dog named Rover, which he loved dearly. He also had a son at college. The son got into trouble gambling and needed $500 to cover his debts. He wrote his Pop saying he'd found a professor who would teach the dog to talk, for five C-notes . . . The fellow sent on the $500 and Rover.

A few weeks later the wayward lad's indiscretions had him writing father for another $500 as "Rover is getting on fine, he's learning to talk, but the prof says he can teach him to read for $500 more" . . . The check was sent at once . . . Then papa decided to pay the boy and Rover a visit by surprise. When he arrived he phoned his son, inviting him to bring Rover to the hotel.

"Oh," said the wicked one, "Rover's not so good today, Pop. You know that long razor you gave me for my birthday? Well, I was shaving with it and Rover was sitting alongside me reading Winchell's column. I said: 'Rover, I wonder if you miss Daddy as much as I do,' and Rover said: 'Yes, but I was just wondering if your old man is still making love to that French maid at home?' Well, Dad, when I heard Rover say that about you I took the razor and slashed him, and do you know—I think I killed him!" "Fergossakes!" screamed the old boy, "aren't you sure?"

In recent years public lethargy toward affairs of state has been one of the most vexing problems confronting democracies. Historical precedents reveal that only

The 21-year-old lad, giving a light once-over to the perilous job of bombing Germany, wound up: "That's all there is to a raid on Berlin." All he had to lose was his life . . . Wythe Williams predicted unhappy surprises in the Axis capitals within a short time, and claimed information that Stalin is yelling to Adolf to stop treating him like a pal—that is, somebody to clip . . . Mr. Bergen slipped through a blue one confabbing with Vera Vague, but the deadheads in the hall let it die. Incidentally, that program made J. Barrymore dull, which takes a genius . . . Eddie Cantor resumes Wednesday evening at 9 via WEAF after a 15-month absence—too long. Dinah Shore is his gal star . . . Frances Langford and Kenny Baker's kiss-off, making way for Fred Allen, was a passel of swell songs.

The Headliners: Said Bob Taylor: "I go to sleep on everyone's hands after a big dinner" . . . On everyone's huh? . . . Frances Farmer revealed: "Press agents make things up" . . . How else could they find so many nice things to say about most Hollywooders? . . . Said Ann Sothorn: "I hate exhibitionists" . . . I dunno. Clowns have made this world a happier place . . . Joan Crawford's remarkable remark: "I love to eat" . . . Imagine that! . . . Marlene Dietrich's confession: "I think knitting is silly."

acute crises, affecting the external security or the internal stability of a state, provoke the people of a democracy to accept changes which alter their established way of life and prepare them to cope with extraordinary conditions.

A somnolent public, lulled into a sense of false security by inept leaders, failed in Britain to realize the bold challenge to British interests embodied in the rising star of Nazism from 1933 to 1939.

Intent upon the League of Nations as a preserver of the status quo, and incidentally of British naval and colonial supremacy, the British people were content to appropriate a few billions for defense during 1937 and 1938 and then to relapse into a sense of false security.

The results: destruction of Austria, Czechoslovakia, Poland; and World War II with its further attendant casualties among the democracies, including France.

France was lured to disaster thru the torpor of her people. Jealous, vena, dishonest politicians vitiated her strength, unconcernedly guiding the proud French empire along the path to defeat and impotence.

The French, too, were sleeping during the last decade, as their leaders were unbeset by the objections which should have been forthcoming from an alert public against the unrealistic domestic and foreign policies of the politicians.

This country is no exception to this public state of mind among the democracies, although our geographical position has to date spared us the calamities which have descended upon the British and the French.

Time again unscrupulous political bosses have stripped the public coffers of our cities and states without molestation; gangsters have preyed upon a helpless public in our metropolitan areas, where the police and public authorities were unable or unwilling to intervene; business leaders have led us into a sense of false prosperity which was but a step from a morass of economic bankruptcy; diplomats have carried us to the brink of war.

Witness Huey Long in Louisiana; Al Capone in Chicago; Boss Penningast in Kansas City; bankers and industrialists in the lush years preceding the catastrophe of '29; our near-war with Japan in 1932 arising from Secretary Stimson's foolish idealism.

How can democracy survive, one might reasonably ask, when the task of governing democracies is left to political leaders who reign virtually unchecked by public consciousness until a crisis arises?

The answer is patent: democracy is not surviving in the world. In Europe, democracy still prevails only on the tiny island of Britain in Switzerland and perhaps Sweden. Unknown to many in the "democratic" Western Hemisphere dictatorship and oppression flourish.

Perhaps this war, this holocaust of flame and famine, will effect a change in the public mind of the democracies. Perhaps, if Britain survives, if the independence of the free states of Europe is eventually restored, if men once again are permitted to guide their individual and collective destinies, unhampered by the imminent peril of aggression, democracy will be bulwarked by an alert public which will impel and inspire democratic leaders to new heights of endeavor toward the erection of republican forms of government based upon the free, alert and united minds of individuals.

Today, in Britain and in the United States, men and women are thinking more about public affairs than at any time in the history of the world, I believe. Hardy Britons who a few years ago did not know the Transvaal from Afghanistan now are following every aspect of this war and are acquainted with its related economic, social, political and sociological factors.

In this country, politics and international affairs no longer are solely the concern of a professional group of government experts, or of college professors or of barber shop jingoists. People of every kind and age and interest are reading, listening and talking world problems, the war, our domestic economic condition, politics and related questions.

It is this new public attitude, this consciousness of the role of the people in preserving the process of free government, which will eventually destroy those agents of graft, oppression, demagoguery, and disguised dictatorship which have destroyed and weakened democracy in every part of the world.

An alert public is the surest guarantee of the proper functioning of democracy. We know that public in this country and in Britain. If peace can be achieved—as laborious as that task will be—the democratic peoples of the world can begin to build a better world for the future.

CCC Enlistment Is Still Open: More Boys Needed

On October 17 Coryell County is asked to send forty-two boys to CCC Camps. To date there are only thirty-five boys who have been accepted by the Welfare Office. This leaves an opening for possibly ten boys as some of those accepted may not pass the physical examination.

Under present regulations boys from families who are not in need can be accepted. If a boy is unemployed and in need of employment, of good character not in school and between the ages of seventeen and twenty-three years he is eligible for enrollment.

Any boy wishing to enroll may call at the County Welfare Office in the City Hall on Tuesday October 15 and his application will be taken. He must be accompanied by one or both of his parents.

Wheat Farmers Are Urged To Check Wheat Acreage

Farmers who plant wheat for harvest in 1941 should carefully check the seeded acreage at the time of seeding as the State AA office has advised that farmers will not be permitted to destroy excess wheat acreage in 1941 by seeding a mixture of 50 per cent by weight of barley or oats into excess wheat acreage, unless the other crop in the mixture is seeded at approximately the same time the wheat is seeded.

For a mixture of small grain containing wheat to be classified as a general allotment crop and not a wheat crop, the mixture must contain not more than 50 per cent by weight of wheat and all the grain must be seeded at the same time or at approximately the same time so that all the grain in the mixture will have an equal chance to product. Otherwise, the acreage seeded to the mixture will be classified as wheat.

Jimmie Allen

"The SKY PARADE"

Serialized by Wallace West from the Paramount Picture of the same name

SYNOPSIS

After the war, Scotty Allen, Speed Robertson, and Casey Cameron, flying pals in France, form an air circus to barnstorm the country fairs. Jerry Croft, pretty parachute jumper, and Flash Lewis, mechanic, attach themselves to the troupe. Casey deserts the circus to fly for Gat Billings, gangster. The others, booked by Tommy Wade, a friend, form an air line, which grows into the huge Continental Airways, Inc. Scotty is killed in an attempted transatlantic flight and Jerry takes care of Scotty's youngster, Jimmie, until he grows to manhood. Jimmie comes to visit Speed and to learn to fly. Meanwhile Billings is anxious to get hold of an automatic pilot invention, developed by Speed and Flash, and Casey is ordered to get it. Wade is counting on the device to save Continental from bankruptcy.

CHAPTER VIII

IN their campaign to save Continental from bankruptcy Tommy Wade decided that they would infies to Las Vegas. Another Continental plane in which Scarface will be a passenger, is to leave here ahead of the NCX-9 in order that the mechanics can give the test plane a final going over before she heads East. We'll meet both planes at Las Vegas. The field there is a lonely one. . . .

"May I have the pleasure of seeing those plans of the automatic pilot?" inquired the Baron politely. "Not until you kick in with a check for $50,000."

"But I told you I would give you $100,000 when you deliver the plane to my men." The nobleman was hurt.

"I don't know you well enough to trust you," answered Casey.

"Very well," grumbled the Baron. "You shall have the money before we leave for Las Vegas. And since Vegas, will you?" pleaded Jimmie. "You know we're making history and I want to be in on it."

"Okay, Jimmie." Speed had forgotten his earlier ruling.

"You can't ditch me, either," laughed Jerry as she hurried up, clad in flying togs.

"You're entitled to a free ride," grinned the pilot. "Flash and I will hop over to Las Vegas in my ship. We'll be waiting there to bring you back."

Soon the NCX-9 was loaded, its passengers including Jimmie, Jerry, two reporters and a newspaper cameraman, and, of course, the pilot. It made a beautiful take-off and headed East.

"We'll be back here around six o'clock," Speed told a mechanic as he and Flash climbed into the fast plane in which they planned to beat the NCX-9 to Las Vegas. "Have the operator call Tommy in Washington and tell him we're all off the field and that I'll call him from Las Vegas as soon as we have checked the ship. Ta Ta. We're off." He gave the tiny ship the gun and almost jumped off the field.

In an old shack which sat at one corner of the lonely emergency landing field at Las Vegas, Mac and Scarface, Continental mechanics, were playing cribbage while they awaited the arrival of the two planes.

"Fifteen-two and three of a kind is eight—and out," laughed Scarface. "Say, that's the third time I've pegged out on you. What's the matter?"

"Guess I've got the test ship on my mind."

"You act like you owned part of the line," sneered his partner.

"They've been darned decent to . . ." He stopped as the drone of an airplane motor penetrated the shack. "There they come." He started toward the door. Scarface dropped in behind him and without warning, landed a terrific wallop on Mac's right ear. The mechanic fell without a sound. In a moment Scarface had bound and gagged him and rolled his helpless body into a corner. Then he ran out on the field to welcome Gat, Casey and the Baron, who had occupied that first plane.

The newcomers leaped to the ground with automatics in their hands but Scarface waved them aside airily.

"You can put up the artillery," he called. "There's no one to shoot."

"Nice going," beamed Gat. Then, as the distant sound of another plane caught his ear: "Here they come. Hurry!"

The four men dashed for the shack and were hidden in a jiffy, while their plane took off with a roar and was lost to sight before the Continental ship made its appearance.

stall the new automatic pilot in the NCX-9, a plane constructed especially to use it, and would fly to Washington as a test. If this proved successful they would present the new invention to the United States government.

Official approval of the device, he was convinced, would result in widespread favorable publicity and cause many thousands of people who previously had traveled by rail to trust their lives to the air lines. If this happened, Continental might be able to survive the loss of its mail contract.

In Casey's hotel room, however, a set of entirely different plans were being made. Gat had arrived from the East and was introducing Baron Ankevitch, a dignified gentleman of nondescript nationality.

"It's all in the bag. They hired a new mechanic—Scarface, he's called—who happened to be a friend of mine. I know every move Continental's going to make. The NCX-9 leaves this field at one o'clock and you think I might give what you call the double cross I shall deliver the $50,000 in cash. How is that? But don't let anything stop you from taking the plane."

"There won't be any slip-up. I've got a man at the field down there."

"You needn't worry, Baron," Gat beamed his beefiest. "We'll get the ship to you no matter what happens."

"Suppose they put up a fight?" Casey asked suddenly.

"I'll handle that part of it," returned the gangster.

"But we don't want anybody killed."

"That's immaterial to me," purred the Baron as he twirled his neat moustache. "It is only essential that my government obtain the automatic pilot installed in that plane."

"Well, she'll be heading toward Washington in a few minutes," Speed looked at his wristwatch impatiently.

"Let me go along as far as Las

F.F.A. MAKES TRIP TO DALLAS TO ATTEND FAIR

At five o'clock Saturday morning, October 5, thirty-four boys and several fathers boarded a bus at the Gatesville square and left for a big day at the Dallas Fair. The boys were very jubilant and full of noise on the trip to Dallas but for some reason they were unusually quiet on the trip home. Could it be they were tired and sleepy?

The group arrived at the Fair Ground at 9 o'clock and were given free tickets at the entrance, Saturday being FFA day, with some 2,000 boys attending from vocational departments in Texas high schools.

Highlights of the day included the livestock exhibits, county agriculture exhibits along with FFA and 4-H Club exhibits depicting many new and improved farm practices, automobile displays, farm equipment, and many other educational features.

The group making the trip included: Mann Yows, Trent Yows, Sam Powell, Tommy Thompson, Dannie Taylor, Anson Betrand, Albert Edwards, Sam Pendleton, Raymond Turner, Edwin Turner, Dickie Harman, Loyd Brown, Bill Tom Alford, Joe Hanna Jr., Carl Goodwin, Kenneth Malore, Lary Curry, Robert Routh, Milroy Powell, Travis Lary, Milton Wiegand, Mike Braziel, James Paxton, Donald Daniels, Virgil Curry, Edward Schoenewolf, Glenn White, Jack Holman, John Holman, Johnnie Ward. The adults were Mr. J. D. Brown, Mr. Betrand and Mr. Ernest Pendleton, and Mr. C. S. Russell the advisor, and Lovejoy the bus driver.
