Boys To Exhibit Calves Monday: Prizes Given

Calves which have been fed since November will be brought together Monday, April 21st, when each will be judged at 11 o'clock. The calves will be oaded on trucks and will be taken to Fort Worth market Monday afternoon accompanied by the boys and their dads. The Stock Yards Company at Fort Worth is cooperating and has planned an educational tour for the group through the yards and the packing house.

The show will be judged by W. I. Ross, County Agent of Falls County, who has supervised many such projects in his county. Somewhere around thirty-two calves are due in this show, and will represent commercial of calves and should present a most forceful demonstration of calf feeding in this section.

The Gatesville Chamber of Commerce, through their livestock committee, has shown great interest in this work, and is offering cash prizes to the winners at the various events.

Special showmanship awards are being offered by the National Bank for the best showman in the group, credit give to the boys' effort as well as the calf.

Those feeding calves are: Joe Hanna, Milton Wiegand, Dannie Lee Taylor, Dickie Harmon, J. D. Wolf, Gaines Franks, Edwin Turner, Tommy Thomson, Bernie Winkler, Wayne Curry, Harold Loesch, Cecil Turner, Harold Koch, B. A. Hering Jr., Wesley Chaney, Paul Guggolz, Lloyd Brown, T. Yows, Troy Mashburn, Jim Voss, S. Dyer, D. Harmon, R. Gohlke, W. Curry and E. Turner.

Calves being fed by local farmers are also being shipped. 32 calves are being shipped by Sam Henson, and approximately 44 by others.

It will be remembered that last year, Bill Deorsam exhibited a very good Angus Bull which he states is in much better condition now. Mr. Deorsam is bringing his bull to Gatesville on Monday and challenges others to bring their bulls in for a bull show in conjunction with the fat calf show.

Fishing this week at San Carlos in Old Mexico were Leonard Meeks, L. B. Brown, and Sid Gregory, Sr.

Selective Board Announces The Army Quota

General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director, announced today the quotas of men that each of Texas' 351 local boards will furnish to fill the United States Army requisition for 1,000 trainees under the Selective Service Act.

The trainees, all white, will be inducted May 5th, 7th and 8th.

This is the Army's twelfth call on Texas to supply men for military training. The first trainees were inducted last November, and the total number already inducted is 23,585. According to the War department plans, approximately 8,600 additional men will be inducted before July 1 to complete the State's quota for the first year of the program.

REVIVAL MEETING OPENS AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH SUNDAY: REV. EVANS

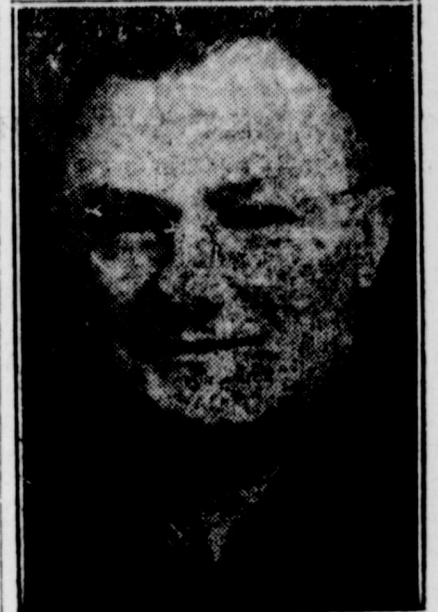

REV. PERRY F. EVANS

Sunday morning will mark the beginning of a two weeks revival meeting to be held at the First Baptist Church. Preaching will be by Rev. Perry F. Evans of Fort Worth, and the singing will be under the direction of Singer John C. Cohen of Palestine.

Rev. Evans is well known over Texas and to a number of Gatesville people. It will be remembered by many that he led the church in a revival meeting a number of years ago at which time 100 additions were made to the church. Since that time he has held meetings in many places, being at one time on the Baptist State Evangelistic staff. Recently, however, he has served as Field Representative for Buckner Orphans Home of Dallas in addition to some pastoral work.

Mr. Cohen is well known in Texas too, in point of years of service, as one of the oldest evangelistic singers in the state. For some time he has been employed by the First Baptist Church of Palestine as assistant pastor and choir director.

SINGER JOHN C. COHEN SUNDAY SCHOOL WILL FOSTER EVENING SERVICES

Evening services will be fostered by the entire Sunday School. The School will assemble at 7:30 each evening just as it does Sunday mornings. The Department Superintendents will lead their departments in a brief devotional service and then classes will retire to their rooms for scripture and prayer and personal work. Every teacher will be careful to meet his or her class and call on all absentees during the visitation periods in the afternoons and make every effort to insure a full attendance in the evening service. Every teacher is asked to accompany the class into the auditorium for the evening service. The assembly will take place at 7:55 and the evening service will begin at 8 o'clock. Morning services will be from 10 until 11 a. m.

The public is cordially invited to attend one and all of the services.

Various Circle chairmen of the WMU will direct the visitation during the afternoons, among the women of their circles.

COLBORN'S WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP STOCK TO BE FEATURED IN 1941 RODEO HERE

Contracts have already been signed and plans are well underway for Gatesville's 1941 Rodeo and Frontier Celebration. Mr. Colborn needs no introduction to Gatesville and to the rodeo fans, he has collected the most celebrated string of Rodeo Stock in the world and the past year has added some of the top bucking horses from the Mid and Far West to his string of stock that have made themselves "celebrities" in the Rodeo World on the easter circuit last fall.

Among the new ones you will see this year are: Hell-To-Set, Crying Jew (famous California Bucking Horse), Chuck-a-Luck, Panzer, Short Cut, C. Y. Jones, Gold Dollar, Tragedy, Jackpot, and Paul Whiteman. These horses represent many thousands of dollars as they are the tops out of several other famous strings of Rodeo Stock.

The Purse for the cowboys has been increased which will bring the top ranking boys, also a nice cash purse will be offered to cowgirls in a Flag Race, and many other new and added features.

From all indications Gatesville's 1941 Rodeo will be the biggest and the best in its five year history. So make your plans to see all of the shows as you are being offered the best show for your money in the country.

J. M. PANCAKE IS NOW MANAGER OF "COVE" YARD

J. M. Pancake, formerly with W. F. & J. F. Barnes Lumber Company of Gatesville, as bookkeeper, has been transferred to Copperas Cove as manager there. W. G. Allen, Jr., formerly manager there has been called for army duty.

Mr. Pancake has only been with the Barnes organization for a short time, and this is an indication of the kind of an employee he has made during this time. Mrs. Pancake will join him in Copperas Cove.

Truck Runs Wild On "Down Grade" Into Gatesville: Wrecks

Monday night about 9:30 a man named Hughes from Lubbock was "blowing" for Gatesville about a mile out of town, and some way his six-wheel truck got out of control and crashed thru the R. E. Powell fence on the left side of the highway, knocking down six or eight posts in the grain field before it stopped.

The driver was only slightly injured and J. W. Thomson's wreck brought in the truck. The front axle was bent, the radiator, one gas drum smashed and the glass and cab damaged. Another truck accompanying Hughes was another driver, and the front of the truck was loaded on his truck for Lubbock, and repairs.

U.S. NAVY BOMBER FALLS

DIES TO RUN FOR SENATOR

Orange, Texas, April 16 (AP)—Representative Martin Dies asked Texans to elect him to the Senate to press legislation "to safeguard our future against enemies that threaten from within and from without." He predicted his candidacy would encounter the bitter opposition of all the Un-American elements, not only in Texas, but throughout the United States.

GERMANS PENETRATE DEEP INTO GREEK FRONT

Athens, Greece, April 17, (AP)—A Greek high command communique early today disclosed a German penetration deep into the Greek-British central front, declaring the Nazis are in action in the Grevena region and trying to advance toward Kalabaka.

Grevena is sixty miles south of the Yugoslav frontier and about twenty-five miles southeast of Kozane, which the Germans already have occupied. Kalabaka is another thirty miles south from Grevena.

STEELE PRICES FROZEN

Washington, April 16 (AP)—Leon Anderson, price administrator, Wednesday ordered steele prices frozen at the levels which prevailed the first quarter of this year. The action was precipitated by recent wage increases in the industry, Henderson said. He added that a steel price increase now might touch off a general increase in the cost of living and start the country off on the road to price inflation.

BRITISH SINK SHIPS

London, April 16 (AP)—An entire convoy of three Axis destroyers and five cargo ships bound for Africa with troops, munitions and mechanized equipment was blown up and sunk between Sicily and Tripoli by a British Mediterranean squadron Tuesday night at cost of one British destroyer, the Admiralty announced Wednesday.

Disclosure of the annihilation—so described—followed announcement that the Mediterranean fleet is continually bombarding the German and Italian troops, airports and forts along the Libyan shore in support of the hard-fighting imperial desert armies.

IRELAND BLASTED

Belfast, Northern Ireland, April 16 (AP)—Between 200 and 300 German bombers blasted a path of havoc across Loyalist North Ireland Tuesday night in a raid described as intense as any suffered by British midland ports. Hundreds of homes in the working class area of this city of 400,000 were destroyed and considerable loss of life here and in surrounding smaller towns was reported.

NAZIS CLAIM SURRENDER OF SERB SECOND ARMY

Berlin, April 16 (AP)—The German high command announced Wednesday night that the entire Serbian second army had laid down its arms in Sarajevo, birthplace of the World War. Capitulation of this Yugoslav force, of unestimated number, gave rise to new speculation as to whether an armistice might now be expected with Yugoslavia, but informed Germans said this was extremely unlikely.

Look at the FORD TRUCKS ON MAIN STREET!

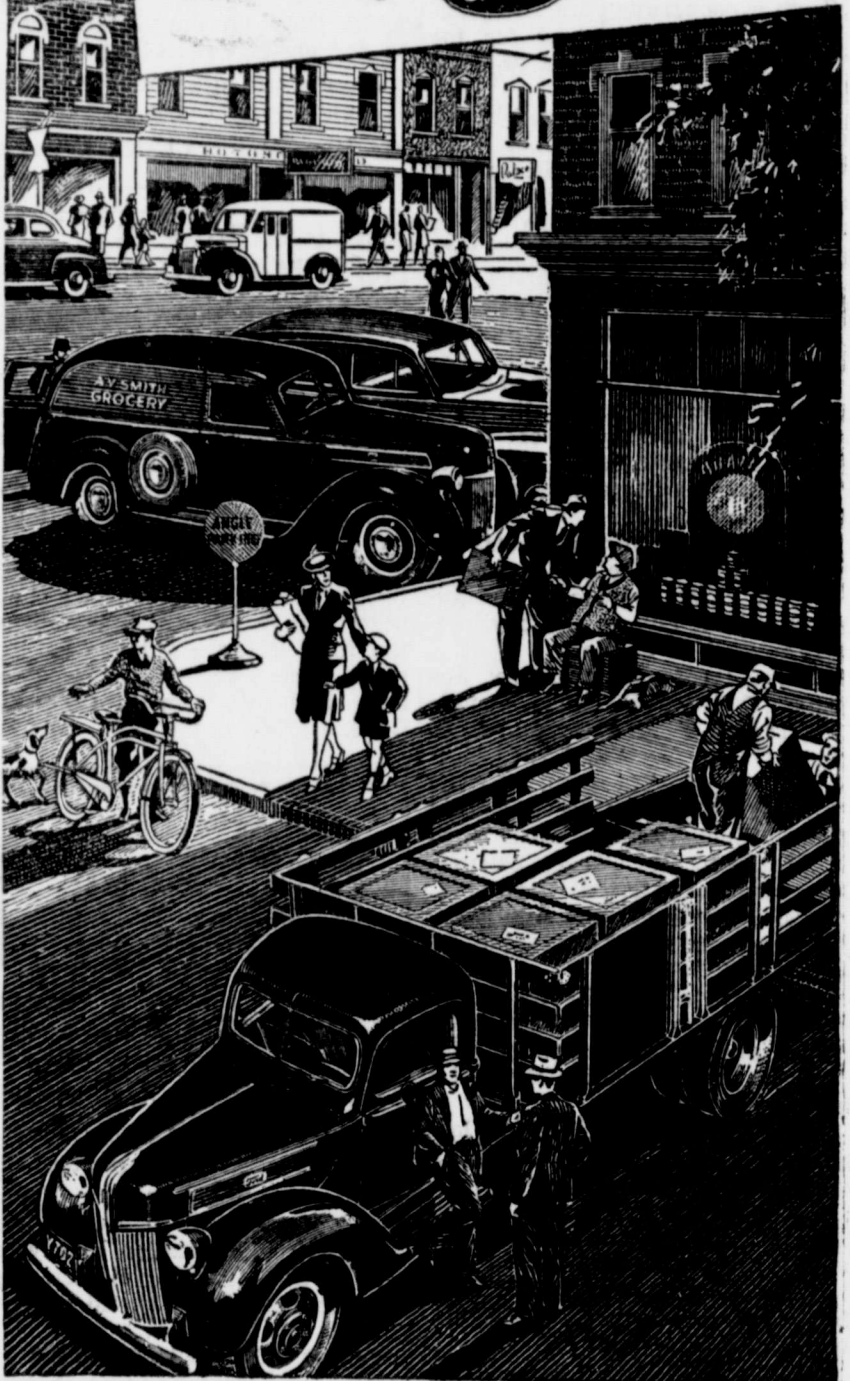

IN VILLAGE, town, and big city—on farms and on the highways . . . wherever you look, you see Ford Trucks at work. There are more Ford Trucks at work on the nation's hauling jobs than trucks of any other make!

There are definite reasons why. Truck owners want a truck with the power, performance and dependability that Ford Trucks deliver. They want economy that starts with low first cost and continues with low operating and low maintenance cost. In Ford Trucks they get what they want!

It's no wonder Ford Trucks are as popular on Main Street as on Broadway! And they'll add to their popularity once you try them on your job. See your Ford Dealer today.

She Didn't Sign Her Name, But It's A Good Letter

We're breaking a rule of most newspapers, including our own, but here's a letter from "A Troubled Mother" which we think will be of interest, and deserves consideration. This, is an unusual case.

"Mr. Mat Jones,
Gatesville, Texas.

Dear Mr. Jones:

"This letter is not written either to defend or denounce the location of any army camp at Gatesville, but 't comes straight from the troubled heart of a woman. I know that there are other women in Coryell County that feel just like I do today, so I am writing to you and Mr. Holt and I thought that you might give us some information that would help us.

"During the past few months a lot of boys have gone from Coryell County into the army. As they went, their mothers have stood by sometimes with a tear in their eye, but always with a proud feeling that they had a son who could do his bit to help human freedom. This was a lofty ideal and a lofty feeling, but during the last few days the exhausted feeling has turned into cold fear. They have been discussing the location of an army camp at Gatesville, and time after time we mothers have heard others say, "We don't want that thing here, because it will ruin the morals of our town. We don't want to raise our children where there is an army camp."

"Now, Mr. Jones, will you please explain this. Is this the voice of the fifth column that is trying to delay our preparedness program, or is it unthinking people, who have not stopped to reason that the boys who will come here are like my boy and my neighbor's boy, and without thinking the thing thru are willing to make any sacrifice to preserve Christianity and human freedom? Or have I sent my boy into hell like that? Will he come home to me filthy in mind, body and soul?

Is Decency the Price of Human Freedom?

From A Troubled Mother."

Our Comment: This good lady has asked us, both Mr. Holt and myself, something, of course, we cannot answer. My opinion is in the whole matter that War is everything Sherman said it was: Just plain Hell. Only, today, it's worse, but, what we'd have if the Nazis way of life came over here, would be a thousand times worse than all that.

My recollection is only of the World War, and its results. I think there was a considerable "general" lowering of morals as a result of that debacle, and it will be furthered in this one. That's war. And, that's war, I believe, whether we get into actual combat or not. Too, the arms bearing man or boy, is no worse off, nor is any more susceptible to this lowering of morals than is the civilian who stays at home. It is a "general" condition of the world.

As for the "fifth column" suggestion, my personal view is that there is none of that. It is just the uncertainty of the future of every thinking person, and that's what Frank Baldwin of the Waco News Tribune told the Lions club at a recent Wednesday meeting. No one knows what's coming!

Already, before this thing even started, there were "skeletons in closets" in little old Gatesville and Coryell county, just like there are everywhere. Lots of people know about them, but rarely mention them. Where there's human nature, with all its faults, some of these weaknesses are going to "show" and be known. I don't believe generally we are to "go to the dogs" much faster with, as without war, army camps, or any other disturbing influence.

Pearl
Mrs. Leo Brown, Cors.
Our community is deeply grieved over the tragic death of Little Sybil Carswell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Carswell. Sybil was struck by a car and killed Saturday, April 12th, about 7:45 o'clock while crossing the street in Pearl. She was six years of age. Her small body was laid to rest Sunday in the Pleasant Grove cemetery, near Goldthwaite. Funeral services were held by Rev. O. L. Bryant of Pearl and her little classmates in school were the flower girls. Sybil was well-known throughout the community, and to know her was to love her. She was very dear to a number of us, and words fail us when we do want to express our grief and sympathy to her deeply grieved parents and brother, also a host of relatives she leaves behind to mourn her death. A large crowd from Pearl attended the last rites.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Carswell and son did not return to Pearl until Monday afternoon staying with Mrs. Carswell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Featherston, of Goldthwaite. James Inabnet of Evant took charge of Mr. Carswell's grocery store during his absence.

Mrs. C. E. Bynum was carried to the Kings' Daughters hospital in Temple Wednesday, April 9th, for an operation. Last reports were that she was doing very well.

Henry Cook, Jack and Otha Medart left for New Mexico on Friday where they expect to work.

Those representing the Pleasure and Profit Club of Pearl, who attended the Club Rally at the Priscilla Club house near Gatesville, Wednesday, were, Mrs. Charlie Elam, Mrs. Toral Oney, Mrs. Emmitt Cox, Miss Nona Jane Franks, Mrs. Weldon Hodo, Mrs. John Lacy and Mrs. Leo Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bynum went to Temple Sunday to visit Mrs. C. E. Bynum in the hospital there.

Mrs. Emmitt Cox is in Brady with her sister, Mrs. Jim Robertson, who was in a car accident on Sunday night, April 6th.

Bessie Earl Whitt has returned home after a week of visiting in San Saba county.

Scott Wayne Cooper has been on the sick list for several days.

Last report from Ira Walker in the King's Daughters hospital was that he was doing very well, but wasn't getting relief as quickly as he was expecting after having his leg removed.

Leo Brown and family were called to Lampasas Tuesday on account of the serious illness of their brother-in-law, Mr. Fred Pitts, in the hospital there.

 FRIDAY, APRIL 18, 1941 NUMBER 35

New York Heartbeat:
The Big Parade: Quentin Reynolds telling chums the first thing he thought of when he saw the Hall of Mirrors (in the Palace of Versailles) was the opulent Broadway namburger joints . . . Judy Garland surrounded by fellers. We can remember all the way back to 1940 when she thought a beau was something a girl wore in her hair . . . Noel Coward before Clipping to London—the Humoristocrat . . . Gertrude Lawrence putting aside her dignity and struggling with a plateful of spaghetti.

Sallies in Our Alley: William Saroyan, Artie Shaw and another One of Those Guys were doing the town the other bitter cold night without hats . . . "I wonder," wondered a wonderer, "why those birds never wear hats?" . . . "That's obvious," explained One Who Knows Them. "Hat-makers can't make them that size!" . . . Over at Ruby Foo's Den they were panning a certain swishy actor. "He speaks every line," someone meow'd, "as though it were carrying a wand" . . . Another was auditioning before Vick Knight at NBC and was cautioned not to enunciate so severely . . . "How dare you!" screamed the Ham. "Ahfter ahl—I didn't take diction lessons for nothing!" . . . To which Vick cooed: "Are you sure?"

New York Novelette: Her face, they said in Hollywood, was that of an angel—and her honey hair was her halo . . . A talent scout signed her up when she was elected Ski Queen of the Northwest . . . Her only stage experience was semi-pro stuff—and when Hollywood learned that—she got minor roles in B-minus flickers . . . She decided to chuck it and come to Broadway . . . After a long wait she met Marc Connelly. He introduced her to agent S. Lyons, who referred her to Max Gordon. Gordon was having trouble casting a leading role. "You're the type," he told her . . . "But I have very little experience," she said . . . "Well," he said, "you look good, and anyone who looks that good can act" . . . Her reading of the part clinched it . . . Now that she is such a hit in "My Sister Eileen," Hollywood wants her back . . . But Jo Ann Sayers is a gal who likes to put a new twist to old routines. "No go."

Sounds in the Night: In the Stork "cub": "She wears clothes as though she doesn't care who's looking" . . . In Club 18: "Is that a fur neck-piece she's wearing—or a litter of pups?" . . . In H. Johnson's: "You're looking well tonight. Who's your embalmer?" . . . In the Waldorf's Empire Room: "Wotta pair! A hat-check girl and a rubber-check guy!" . . . At the Montparnasse: "Her face might not stop a clock, but it certainly keeps her phone from ringing."

Innocent Bystander:
 The detention by the Gestapo in Berlin of the young United Press reporter, Richard Hottel, is only the newest in a long series of indignities to which American newspaper men have been subjected by the Axis powers within the past two years . . . John Whitaker of Chicago was booted out of Rome—not because he wrote anything the censors didn't approve—but because Mussolini's propaganda bureau wished to cripple his Chicago paper in any way it could . . . In Whitaker's case, booting him out of Rome not only hurt his paper's coverage, but it helped American papers that meet the requirements of the Nazi and Fascist party line . . . Eventually they will permit only those newspaper men they like and who "play ball."

Why don't the associations of American reporters act? Such groups as the White House Correspondents' Ass'n, the boys who cover the State Dep't, and the senate and house press groups could retaliate by easing out from membership some Nazi or Fascist representative in Washington—every time an American reporter is tossed out of Rome or Berlin . . . That would discourage Goebbels and Gayda—since it is a known fact that German and Italian news agencies need representation over here—more than we need it there . . . Most of them are wire-spy services, anyhow . . . Incidentally, Manfred Zapp, although indicted as a proven unregistered propagandist from a foreign government, is still a member of the senate and house press galleries, in good standing . . . The boys covering Washington some time ago considered kicking him out, but were discouraged by the State Dep't.

Memos of a Midnighter: The Greek Benefit at the Music Hall made $38,000 . . . I. Hoffman's form of criticism for Irv Cobb's book: "Tripe-writing" . . . Has he ever been nicknamed "Fire-ello" LaGuardia? . . . Oh, all righttttttt! . . . The wealthy backer of Golf mag is planning a super-slick men's mag to out-Esquire ditto.

Mr. Broadway Observes: "A chorus girl is a gal who's clever enough to be dumb so she can make a sap out of some wiseguy."

 Dear Wardie:

I ain't seen no baseball this year but I think I'm a goin' to come in a Wednesday fer the openin' game. I got a invite from Mayor Roger Moore of Seguin to set in his box. I seen a lot in the papers about these lie detectors, but what I'd like to get in touch with is a truth detector.

Everybody gets excited now about a auto crash or a airplane flop. It used to be a runaway hoss and a dog fight drawed peak crowds.

A lady from the Circle X Rancho wanted to borrow my rug beater this week, but I told he he had gone to San Antonio to appear before the draft board.

I always heard that music could make a man go to war but I didn't believe it until I hear some of these operys.

Old Lem Hawkins has found a way to keep the boys on the far. Get 'em a airplane to dust the crops with and step up the speed of the tractor to about 60 miles per hour.

I heard from Beefy Backslider yesterday but he ain't got that Captain's Commission yet. Maybe it will take him longer to work up from the ranks than it did Jimmy.

Well Chum, I got to take off. Me and the boy friend is a goin' down to the Widder Slocum's to a benefit box supper and a taffy pull. Stay on the beam Pal, and I'll be a seein' you.

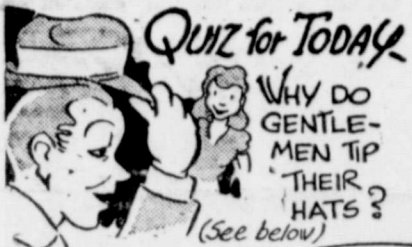

Yourn,
 LOONY LUCY.

1940's SNAPPY FOOTBALL UNIFORMS

—ARE REALLY VERY DRAB WHEN COMPARED TO FOOTBALL UNIFORMS OF 200 YEARS AGO. SUITS THEN WERE OF SILK AND SATIN, EMBROIDERED WITH SILVER AND GOLD!

In the Age of Chivalry, knights in armor removed their helmets when among friends. Thus originated the custom of tipping the hat.

The "Ginoco del Calcio", the forerunner of modern football, is said to have originated in Florence in the Middle Ages. There were 27 players on a side, and their uniforms were gaudy and theatrical.

The old water-type meter is a thing of the past. The modern gas meter for both manufactured and natural gas needs no such anti-freeze aid as alcohol and is one of the most accurate measuring devices known.

CHAPTER SIX SYNOPSIS

When General Ling disappears in Singapore with $500,000, Kim Ling, his beautiful daughter, suspects Gregory Prin, a crafty Eurasian. She wins Prin's confidence and he takes her to his jungle hide-out where she is surprised to find her lover, Captain Chang Tai, on the same mission. The latter finds her father while Kim uncovers the money in Prin's room. Complications set in, however, when Tex Ballister, an American gangster, arrives from Singapore and unknown to Kim and Chang Tai, informs Prin of their real identities. Prin locks Ballister up in an ingenious water trap where he will slowly drown as the tide rises in the river.

the monkey away from the trap door. "Let him loose," Sen suggested. Again Duke tried to raise the trap door.

"Whatever it is, it's down there," Sen agreed. He bent over and raised the trap. Ballister was keeping himself afloat with difficulty.

"Ballister!" Sen said softly.

"So it is!" Herbert agreed as he stared down.

"Ballister apparently has become annoying to the Clown Quince," Sen said. His voice became grim. "It's a shame that I don't like Ballister. If I did, I could get a kick out of saving his life."

"You ain't goin' to let 'im drown, are you, professor?"

"And pass up a chance to put one over on Prin?" Sen smiled sardon-now," she said at last. Unseen by Prin, she drew a knife from her blouse and placed the point over her heart. "You are on your way to Tanwack," she continued, "but you do not intend to have me with you when you arrive there."

Prin shrugged. "Believe me, I deplore the necessity that drives me to such unpleasant things as this," the half-caste said coldly.

Faintly the throb of a motor boat came to their ears. Prin started and stared back down the river. Kim Ling continued to hold the knife ready at her breast.

Suddenly the canoe was bathed in bright light as a search light picked them up. From behind the light came Ballister's voice:

"Heave to, Prin, or I'll run you down!"

By the light of the torch both Prin and Kim could see Ballister behind the motor boat's machine gun. Beside him stood Professor Sen, rifle in hand.

"Heave to, Prin," Ballister shouted again, "or I'll give you a blast of this tommy-gun!"

Prin cursed softly under his breath but ordered the native to stop paddling. The canoe drifted alongside the motor boat. Ballister ceremoniously assisted Kim and Prin aboard the motor boat.

The return trip was made in silence. Ballister, rifle in hand, kept his eyes on Prin. He had learned what it meant to relax his vigilance in dealing with the half-caste. In the stern, Professor Sen lounged and smoked, rifle across his lap.

The motor boat reached the float and Ballister, with a gesture of his rifle, ordered Prin to precede him ashore. Professor Sen assisted Kim.

In the living room of the bungalow Ballister faced Prin.

"Well, come on, Prin. Use your noodle," Ballister snapped. "Pay me off and I start down for Singapore, pronto. That leaves you to run the show here alone."

Prin had been thinking industriously on the return trip. He had evolved his own plan. "A wise general knows when to sue for peace," he admitted. "Very well, Ballister. But after I pay you, you leave immediately."

"With pleasure," Ballister agreed.

Prin arose. "I'll get the money." Ballister followed him into the other room. "You must let me help you," Ballister sneered and he kept Prin covered with the rifle.

Kim watched the two men leave the room. Her face was calm but within she was in a complete panic.

In Prin's room, Prin attempted to stall for time. "Tell me one thing, Ballister," he asked, "how did Sen know you were in the water cell?"

Ballister laughed. "Herbert's monkey made a bigger monkey out of you."

Prin scowled and crossed to the chest in which Kim had located the stolen money. He raised the cover and drew aside the covering layer of clothes. His face blanched and he began to paw frantically through the other contents of the chest.

Prin whirled and faced Ballister. "The money is gone!" he croaked.

CHAPTER VII

ALONE on the porch, Duke, the monkey was attracted to the trap door by the thud of stones which Ballister dredged from the river bottom and hurled at the door in the hope of attracting attention.

Kim was startled. So Prin knew who she was! But she maintained her surface calm.

Duke cautiously approached and listened. He tugged at the door. It raised an inch or two. Ballister was standing waist-deep in water. The tide was running south, as Prin had said!

As Herbert came out on the veranda, Duke grabbed his master's leg and tugged with all of his strength.

"Ello, there, nipper," Herbert greeted his pet. "Let's go for a walk." He took the monkey's paw and walked down the porch. As they reached the trap door, Duke stopped and tugged again.

"What's the idea, Duke?" Herbert asked. Professor Sen came up the steps and watched the by-play. "Duke's tryin' to tell me something," the Cockney explained.

"The latest scandal from monkeyland, no doubt," Sen said.

"Come on, Duke," Herbert started away. The monkey wrenched himself free and scampered back to the trap door. He struggled to lift it. Beneath it, Ballister stared upward, the water already at his chin.

"You keep out of there, Duke—that's a bad place," Herbert admonished his pet.

"Maybe he's trying to tell you something," Professor Sen suggested, as Herbert vainly tried to lead ically. "Not me! Get a rope. Hurry!"

In the half-light from a torch in the bow of the canoe, Kim Ling faced Prin. Kim's eyes were half-closed.

Prin watched her. "You like it, eh?" he said at last.

"It's peaceful," Kim admitted, "and there are few places today in the world where it's peaceful."

"Peaceful. . . . Yes. . . . As if you were hardly moving," Prin agreed. "The river surrounds you like a soft pillow. It whispers: 'Sleep.' He leaned toward her. "It makes one almost drowsy, doesn't it?" Quietly he drew a knife from his belt. "When I die, I want to be out here, like this, gliding quietly," Prin went on softly. "Tonight you are very beautiful, Miss Kim Ling!"

Kim was startled. So Prin knew who she was. But she maintained her surface calm.

"Now that you know who I am, you know why I am here. Where is my father?"

"I don't know," Prin's voice was suave.

"Is he at Tanwack?"

"Perhaps Mr. Ohang Tai, secret service agent, can tell us that?"

Kim fought to control herself. So Prin knew about Chang, too!

"I think I understand everything

KEEPS WHITE HOUSES WHITER

Painters, home owners praise this new Du Pont House Paint

IT'S the whitest white you ever saw! Tough and durable, Du Pont House Paint keeps houses beautiful because it stays cleaner! Here's why:—

Du Pont Prepared Paint forms a tough, durable film which protects the surface from rust, rot or decay. Like all paints, it collects dirt on exposure to the elements. As time goes on, however, a fine white powder forms on the surface of this new paint. This powder is washed away by heavy rains, carrying the dirt with it, and exposing a fresh white surface. This "self-cleaning" process starts after a few months of exposure under normal conditions of weather, but may be delayed under unusual climatic or dirt-collecting conditions. Because the "self-cleaning" process is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected.

Its economy lies in the fact that it stretches the time between paintings. Remember — Du Pont House Paint costs no more than other good paints. Ask your painting contractor to use it!
