They're All To Be "Shut" On Thanksgiving!

Hang crepe on Gatesville, Thursday!

It's the old and original Thanksgiving Day, and celebrated on this day by Texans, at least this part of them.

Practically everything'll be closed, even the agency offices, banks—everything but service stations and cafes. Busses and telegraph offices will probably be open just at certain times.

As for the News, we will too, and our Friday issue of the News will be mailed Wednesday night, but since no one will be working for Uncle Sam that day, you won't get your paper until Friday.

Let's eat dinner at home, and then, the GHS Hornets, as you may have heard, meet the McGregor Bulldogs in the "Little Texas Classic" at that city.

Jim Miller has accepted a position with the A & P Store here. Jim was formerly with Murray Grocery & Market.

Mrs. Frank Brooks of Waco was a guest of Miss Olga Neuman and other friends here Sunday.

Dick Hinson, who had been here the past week, returned to San Antonio Sunday. He was accompanied by his wife.

CCC PICK-UP IS LOCATED IN FT. WORTH SUNDAY

The missing CCC pick-up which was stolen from the local CCC camp last week was located in Ft. Worth, according to Sheriff J. H. Brown.

Sheriff Brown stated he was not advised as to whether the Gatesville State Training School Boys who were missing at the same time were caught, or, were being held.

Spurgeon Bell, Austin attorney, was a Gatesville visitor Saturday.

THANKSGIVING "ANNUAL" IN MCGREGOR CLIMAXES GRIDIRON EFFORTS OF GATESVILLE HORNETS AND MCGREGOR BULLDOGS

What the Army-Navy game is to the "service"; what the Texas-A&M game is to Texas, as a whole, that's exactly what the Gatesville-McGregor Football game on Thanksgiving Day is to Coryell County, Gatesville, McGregor and McLennan county.

We don't know whether any local statistician has the results of the various games thruout the many years these two neighboring cities have been playing, but here's as far as the News goes back, and even farther. As for them being absolutely, that's a moot question, and we wouldn't guarantee them all, but, here they are:

| Year | Bulldogs | Hornets |
| 1924 | 0        | 27      |
| 1925 | 0        | 27      |
| 1926 | 9        | 7       |
| 1927 | 27       | 6       |
| 1928 | 6        | 6       |
| 1929 | 14       | 19      |
| 1930 | 33       | 6       |
| 1931 | 7        | 21      |
| 1932 | 28       | 0       |
| 1933 | ?        | ?       |
| 1934 | 66       | 0       |
| 1935 | 0        | 6       |

|      |    |    |
|------|----|----|
| 1936 | 7  | 12 |
| 1937 | 0  | 6  |
| 1938 | 14 | 6  |
| 1939 | 25 | 0  |
| 1940 | 13 | 6  |

Now, this series of home and home games has been going on already 24 years, and this is the 25th meeting of these two Central Texas football teams, and, here's the 1941 records of the two clubs, which makes them look just about equal for the coming Thanksgiving game, at least, on paper.

Also, it was announced that the chairman will later appoint a number of committees and their members. At the meeting, all committee heads reported the work done by their respective committees during the past year.

At their next meeting, the ladies will meet with Miss Sidney Gibson, Coryell County H-D Agent for a business and recreational session.

COPPERAS COVE BOY GETS RATTLESNAKE BITE HUNTING

The 12-year old son of Claud Whitis of Copperas Cove reached in a hole after a possum and was bitten by a rattlesnake on the ring finger of his right hand Saturday while he was visiting on the farm of his uncle, W. R. Parker, at Wilkerson Valley.

Boys he was hunting with did a good job of administering first aid and he was taken to Belton to receive the rattlesnake serum from Dr. J. W. Pittman, who stated the bite seemed light and his condition was not serious.

Pearl Main School Building Burns: Others Saved

Thursday night about 10:30, during a meeting of the Pearl School Trustees in the main building there, fire broke out in the southwest corner in the ceiling of the building and destroyed it and its contents.

Only three typewriters and the records from the Superintendent's office were saved. Reports are that there was very little insurance.

The wooden gymnasium only a few feet west was saved, and it is thought the fact that the wall on that side of the destroyed building being of rock, with no windows, and the fact that the gym has a metal roof saved it. Sparks from the fire caught a pasture nearby, and burned the grass on it.

Gatesville's fire truck made a trip out there, but the fire had gained so much headway that nothing could be done to stop the damage.

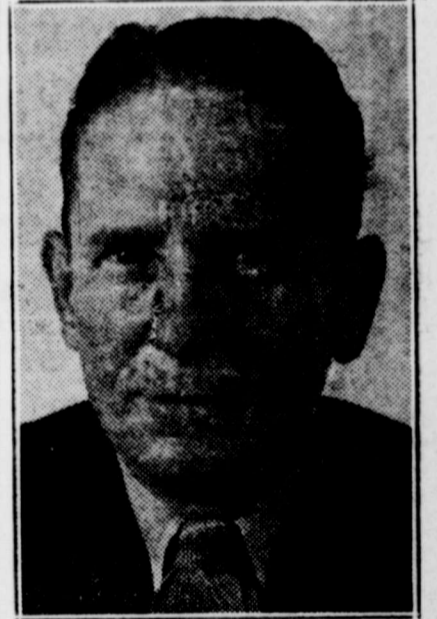

A trustees meeting was held at Pearl yesterday morning with Superintendent Ollie Little, regarding the replacement, but no announcement has been made as to what was decided at the meeting.

Coryell 4-H Boys Sell Fine Hogs To Crockett 4-H Boys

There's nothing unusual about that, with the exception that the Crockett 4-H Boys happen to be Negro boys. They have a colored county agent, and six of the boys better pigs in Coryell county were sold to these boys. Reports from County Agent Guy Powell's office are that this is the first instance of a colored 4-H Club putting on pig feeding contest.

What the Coryell county boys are worrying about now is that these colored Crocketeers might take these same pigs and beat them at the State Fair of Texas.

Sales Supervisor

H. C. DAVIS

The appointment of H. C. Davis as sales supervisor for the forty towns in the Waco division of Community Natural Gas Company, which includes Gatesville, has been announced by A. P. Rowland, division superintendent. Mr. Davis' appointment was effective November 10.

With all costs mounting and gas rates remaining the same, Mr. Davis' job will be to assist customers to obtain the best types of appliances at the lowest cost and to get the most economical use out of their appliances, Mr. Rowland pointed out.

MISS SAMMIE MARTIN AND J. R. SAUNDERS WED IN MCGREGOR

The First Baptist Church in McGregor was the scene of the wedding of Miss Sammie Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Martin of McGregor, and James Reid Saunders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Saunders of Gatesville, which took place Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The chancel was banked with palms and southern smilax interspersed with baskets of purple and gold chrysanthemums. The church was lighted by the cathedral tapers in candelabra.

Nuptial music was given by Mrs. Howard Grantham of Lockhart, sister of the bride, who sang "At Dawning." She was accompanied by Miss Imogene Alsop of Temple, who also played the wedding prelude.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in an aqua jersey with silver nailhead trim. Her matching turban of illusion featured a short veil, and she carried a cascade bouquet of talisman roses tied with bits of tulle.

Miss Marietta Martin, sister of the bride and maid-of-honor, wore a gold crepe gown and carried a cascade bouquet of orchid chrysanthemums. The same flowers formed her headdress.

Nelse Alexander of Port Arthur attended the bridegroom as best man, and ushers were, Buddy Grantham of McGregor, Bill Cook of Temple, Charles Crouch of Madisonville, and Sherrill Kendrick of Gatesville.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the Martin home. An all-white theme was carried out in the dining room, where Mrs. Jeff Murphy of Waco presided at the refreshment table. The table was centered with the wedding ring cake, at either side of which were white tapers.

Mr. and Mrs. Saunders departed on a wedding trip to New Orleans, and for traveling the bride chose a blue wool frock topped with a beige coat trimmed with fox fur and a corsage of talisman roses.

Mrs. Saunders is a graduate of Baylor university, and for the past year she has been teaching in the public schools at McGregor. Mr. Saunders has been in military service the past year, and at present is stationed at Fort Ringgold, Texas. He was graduated from Gatesville High School and attended Howard Payne College in Brownwood.

The couple plan to return the latter part of the week. Mrs. Saunders will continue teaching, and Mr. Saunders will return to Fort Ringgold.

Miss Byrom's Troth Revealed At Dinner Party Friday

Announcing the approaching marriage of her daughter, Miss Winifred Byrom, Mrs. G. W. Byrom entertained with a dinner party in her home on East Saunders street Friday evening of last week. Miss Byrom will be married to Joe Hal English of Houston Sunday morning, December 7, at 9 o'clock in the First Baptist Church of this city. The table in the dining room was laid with a linen cut-work cloth, which was made by the bride-elect's aunt, Mrs. C. L. Bellamy, and was centered with a large bouquet of ranunculi, white chrysanthemums, and Easter lilies in a modernistic container placed on a large reflector. Three small wedding bells, with the names of the betrothed couple and the wedding date inscribed in yellow letters, hung from the flowers. Decorating the reception suite were bouquets of yellow and white chrysanthemums, and the individual tables were centered with bubble bowls of yellow mums.

On each plate were small scrolls with the announcement. The menu consisted of tomato juice cocktail, turkey, dressing, gravy, asparagus green beans, Waldrop salad, cranberry sauce, hot rolls, olives, minced meat pie, and coffee. Mrs. C. P. Liljeblad, Mrs. Luke Walker, Mrs. W. A. Lengefeld of Huntsville, sisters of the bride-elect, and Mrs. C. R. Byrom assisted the hostess in serving.

Places were marked for the following: Misses Lula Belle McEntire of McGregor, Charlene Chandler of Hamilton, Nell Routh, Betty Jo Stewart, Gladys Marie Phillips, and Mesdames Louis Woodall of Hamilton, Joe Ricketts, Pete McIver, J. D. English, C. L. Bellamy, Ola Mae Parks, C. M. Spalding, Lee Colwick, Earl Heath, E. W. Jones Jr., Francis Powell, Bill Nesbitt, Sam Robinson, and Pete Breithaupt, and the honoree.

Miss Byrom was graduated from Gatesville High School and attended Mary Hardin-Baylor College in Belton and Sam Houston State Teachers College in Huntsville. She has been employed in the Community Natural Gas Company office in this city over a year.

The groom-to-be, the son of Mr.

and Mrs. J. D. English of Gatesville, was graduated from Gatesville High School and Texas A. and M. College. At the present he is employed by the Houston Shipbuilding Corporation in Houston.

H. C. Floyd of Monahans spent the latter part of the week with his wife and children in this city.

While the Senate debate on the Armed Ship Bill continues to hold the center of interest in Washington, I feel that much more important decisions are taking shape in regard to domestic production and domestic prices. The ship bill is almost certain to pass. The debate is but a hollow shell—an unimportant formality. Senator Wheeler has used most of the last two days.

Not more than a dozen Senators have listened to him. If the isolationists were not also obstructionists they would have closed this debate a week or ten days ago. I think our foreign policy has been clearly and correctly outlined as one of all possible aid to the democracies. The armed ship bill outlines the only sensible course we can follow in view of our definitely established foreign policy. To me, our proper domestic policy is just as clear as our proper foreign policy—It should be to produce everything possible which will aid the foes of totalitarianism. It should be to tolerate nothing that stand in the way of that vitally needed production. It should eliminate all strikes in defense industries and it should protect our citizenship as far as possible from the effect of inflation. The hesitancy of our government to put these policies in effect has doubtless been due in part to the opposition of certain selfish groups but particularly in the case of inflation or price control, the delay has been more largely due to the difficulty of working out a remedy. I fear that there is no sound grounds to hope for any far reaching or definite action on this subject unless the President should make a clear-cut statement reversing his previous attitude that he has all the power he needs. Congress would jump at the chance to give him more power if he would suggest that it was needed, but the representatives from CIO controlled districts ( a large percent of the House) are not going to vote for any effective legislation so long as the President says he doesn't need it. As I see it, the best chance to get legislation controlling strikes in defense industries will be when the Senate acts on the price control bill. Such an amendment could not be offered in the House because our rules require all amendments to relate directly to the specific subject before the House. The Senate has no such rule. Anything may be added there if there are enough votes, and I believe there are enough in the Senate where the members are elected by States—not districts as in the House.

in Congress were seeking to secure an unfair advantage for farmers at the expense of the rest of our citizens. This is unfair and untrue. Farmers are not asking for more than their share. They only ask that they be given an equal break. They will not have this unless they are assured of a (Continued on next page)

The day you read this the House will probably be debating a bill to control prices. No one knows just how far this bill will go. Everyone admits we should take every possible step to prevent unnecessary inflation. Inflation, if left unchecked, will destroy all increase in buying power that higher farm prices have brought the farmer, or that increased wages have brought the laborer. If an increase in income is to be effective, each dollar must continue to buy approximately as much as previously. Prices are already rising. We know that increased employment and decreased production of civilian goods will lead to still further increases in price. To stop this tendency, which becomes progressively more and more serious, Congress is trying to put a ceiling on prices. The Administration feels that this ceiling should not include wages, but should include agricultural prices (which are simply the measure of agricultural wages). I think that if we are to successfully control prices we must control the factors that determine prices, including both wages and agricultural prices. But if industrial wages are to be exempted then I want to see agricultural wages (farm prices) protected. I think the pending bill provides adequate protection, but I doubt its effectiveness as a real price control measure, and it has resulted in lots of unjust criticism being heaped upon our farmers. The eastern press and many radio commentators have recently charged that the friends of the farmers very good this year. Our enrollment has reached a higher mark than in the past two years. The Janitor has been having trouble finding enough seats to seat them. The High School students went on a theatre party recently. Our music program is well underway and the pupils are learning to read music. The first six weeks tests proved that the school work is a good average.

Friday night the 21st the Grammar school presented a Thanksgiving program. On Wednesday night the 26th the Herrington Sisters with Bill and Joe the Dr. Pepper Boys will be in person at the Levita School Auditorium, this promises to be a feature program and you are invited to be present, don't miss it.—School reporter.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED
Princess Elizabeth, or Cissy, as her father, Duke Max, nicknamed her, goes to Hellbrunn, seat of Emperor Francis Joseph's summer palace, to rescue her sister Helena from the fate of having to marry the young ruler. She and the Duke go incognito, as they are afraid of what the Duchess and the Dowager Empress, who arranged the match between them, might do if they found them meddling. Cissy, in the guise of a dressmaker, meets Francis, who falls in love with her. In answer to her taunts that he's a "mama's boy", the Emperor disguises himself as a lieutenant and takes Cissy to the town carnival in honor of his birthday the following day, which is also to be the occasion to announce his betrothal to Helena, whom he doesn't care for. He returns to the palace the morning after the carnival; the Dowager Empress spies him returning home, and is outraged.

the Palace with her sister Helena's dress in a further effort to see her. The Captain of the Guards, fresh from Sofia's tongue-lashing, sternly questioned the pass, and detained her for Baron Herlicka.

When Cissy flashed a pass from the Emperor himself, Herlicka could do nothing more than allow her to proceed to Helena's room with the dress. There she was due for a surprise. She told Helena, with much gaiety, that the Emperor would probably not force her to marry him now, as he would want to marry Cissy.

"And so you saw a chance to be Empress yourself," said Helena jealously.

Cissy was puzzled at this sudden attitude. "No, Helena. Why do you say that?"

"You're lying," cried Helena. "Your envious! You couldn't bear the idea of my becoming Empress!"

"No, Helena!" said Cissy frantically. "I only thought of you and Poldi!"

Duchess Louise, the girls' mother, came in at this point, and was astonished to find Cissy. She had no time to question Cissy as to details before Sofia and Herlicka burst into the room.

The Dowager Empress looked at Cissy poisonously. "So this is the creature who nearly upset all my plans by spending the night with the Emperor!"

Cissy bewildered, hurt at Helena's distrust, said not a word in

LEAGUE OF ECONOMIC CLUBS MEET AT PURMELA SCHOOL

The League of Economic Clubs met in their fall meeting at the Purmela school building with the Purmela Demonstration Club as hostess. Mrs. J. B. Walkins welcomed the visitors and urged upon every woman to be willing to stand for the true principles upon which our nation was built. Mrs. W. B. Duncan responded and aroused in everyone's heart the desire to do everything possible to help our soldier boys.

After a short business meeting, presided over by the League President, Mrs. Weldon Hodo, Miss Sidney Gibson gave an inspiring talk on how to brighten our lives. Miss Helen Francis Grubb favored the guests with a vocal solo.

After a picnic lunch, the Purmela Choral Club rendered some well-prepared vocal selections. Mrs. E. N. Rea, District Demonstrator, gave some interesting details about Home Demonstration work. Mrs. Rea introduced Mrs. James R. Sparks of Hamilton, who read one of her poems in a very interesting way. Mrs. Sparks, whose pen name is Peneope Penley, writes poems which appear in the Hamilton Record under the heading "Between Neighbors". Little Miss Janice Drake read a poem, after which Charlie Mounce of Gatesville explained some interesting advantages of the freezing and storing of food in the cold storage lockers. As a closing number the Purmela ladies rendered a one-act play, "The Anti-Gossip Club".

The League adjourned until their next regular meeting in April with the Topsey Club. Visitors are always welcomed.—Reporter, Mrs. W. E. Hayes.

Poage Letter—

parity income. If they could be guaranteed their fair share in the national income they would be willing to take just as low prices as anybody, but it is not all fair to say that the cotton farmer is profiteering because his cotton price has nearly doubled when it started at one-half of parity. I expect to continue to fight for some guarantee that the farmer will get his fair share of national income, and I know that he will not want me to ask for any unfair advantage in his behalf. All good Americans must be willing to accept controls and restrictions and make sacrifices in order that we may all pull through this crisis together.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

Chapter Five

The Dowager Empress Sofia instantly summoned the Captain of the Guard and the Chief of the Secret Police, and let them know in no uncertain terms exactly what she thought of them and everything remotely connected with them. All the harassed Captain of the Guards knew was that the Emperor, in the uniform of an infantry lieutenant, had ordered the guard to remain silent as to his whereabouts.

Wary and disheveled, the Chief of the Secret Police at least had some information for Sofia, which probably saved the entire Court from a horrible fate. The story, as far as the secret service men knew it, was that the Emperor had called for a very pretty young girl at the Golden Ox Inn and had taken her to the carnival. At two in the morning, the Police Chief admitted regretfully, the Emperor and the girl managed to shake the police.

Sofia, furious, ordered that the sixty ballet girls at the inn be cross-examined in an effort to find out which one was "guilty." Of course, Cissy had nothing to do with the girls from Vienna, though she had promoted one of their passes to the Palace grounds.

Cissy, suspecting nothing of the furore she had caused, returned to her own defense; while Helena and Louise could not admit they were related to her. So Cissy, at Sofia's orders, was taken off to prison.

There she remained, dejected. Poldi, Helena's former fiance, came to visit her, and they talked over the strange change that had come over Helena. Cissy seemed beaten, disinterested in whether or not she remained in prison.

Poldi, feeling that he was responsible for Cissy's unhappiness, went to Duke Max and told him of the girl's predicament. Max was outraged. His favorite daughter, Princess Elizabeth of Bavaria, in prison by the Dowager Empress' orders! Immediately, Max forgot his fear of the Emperor's mother, and stormed down to the prison to free Cissy.

Cissy, heartbroken, told her father that she was going home in the donkey cart right away. Max, boiling mad, told her to go ahead, if she wanted to; as for himself, he had important business with the Dowager Empress!

Coryell County's football activity this past week end was nihil.

A Coryell county team did figure in a game, however, Flat dropped the Championship Six-Man contest at Pottsville, 21-7. Flat to us, didn't look so good in this loss, the blocking was bad, and the quarterbacking was nothing to write home about.

The first quarter, on the 30 yd. line, they ran with the ball instead of kicking, and then in the next, on the 9, they took a terrible chance passed and lost the ball. Two possible markers might have been made.

That, however is no reflection, but the boys have played much better ball—they must have, or they wouldn't have gone as far as they did.

Right here, you fans that are missing 6-man. Its your own fault. Those who know 11 and 6, say 6 is more of a thriller than 11. That's only opinion. You should, all of you, patronize these games, you are missing something, and then, there's no more appreciative teams, schools or patrons than those playing 6-man.

Flat wins the runner-up, that is unless they are required to play the Cove for this coveted cup. We don't know about this.

Between halves, and after the Pottsville game, Flat andl Pearl pep squads put on shows for the crowd. Both have natty uniforms, and were very neat in their performances.

Here's J. A. Nalor, who will be better known to the GHS Hornets after Thursday of this week. He's McGregor's Senior tailback, who will be "armed" by Hornet tacklers, or better be. Too, Jimmie Mize, a Sophomore of 170 lbs. who'll be in the tackle spot, and will be something to tackle. Somebody's going to have a man on their hands with this boy.
