Formal Opening Of USO To Be Held Thursday, Dec. 17

Thursday, December 17, will be the date for the formal opening of the USO Club, according to word received from the local club.

On this night, the club will be open to civilians from all parts of Texas, and opportunity will be given to all people of Gatesville and Coryell county to see the finished club room, which is provided for the establishment of soldiers.

Members of the Management Committee and their wives will be responsible for the Open Night ceremony and every effort is being made to have all citizens of Gatesville attend.

Saturday, 19th, a formal dance will be held, and girls who are former GSO members home from colleges will be the honor guests. Efforts are now being made to secure an orchestra for the occasion.

Much of the furniture for the new part has arrived, but it will not be placed in the USO club until a few days before the opening.

The Lions Club has made arrangements to secure terrace furniture to be used as long as the USO is in existence.

The proposed colored USO has been postponed until definite plans have been made by the Camp Hood officials to station negro troops in the Gatesville vicinity.

Six new card tables have been donated to the USO by the Officer's Wives Club.

Gatesville Boy Shakes "Duke" Of King George

In a recent letter from Lieut. Jimmie Hair of Gatesville written to Coach Puny Wilson, of SHSTC, "Sonny" writes: "I had quite an experience the other day. The King of England inspected my airplane and crew and as Captain of the ship I was introduced, shook hands, and showed him around the ship. He was quite impressed by the insignia on the Fortress and the little swastikas painted thereon. For each German fighter the crew shoots down we paint a small swastika on the hull.

"Newsreel cameramen were taking pictures so I suppose you will have seen all this before you receive this letter. Take note of the little swastika, and we intend to add plenty more. The King is really nice looking and I tried to answer his questions fairly intelligently but with some United States Generals there also, you can guess I was pretty excited".

Lieutenant Hair has received the accompanying citation which was given when he received the Air Medal. It reads: "For exceptionally meritorious achievement while serving as Pilot of a B-17 airplane on a combat mission over enemy occupied Continental Europe, 9 October, 1942. Cannon fire from enemy airplanes completely disabled two engines and damaged several controls and control cables. Lieutenant Hair, displaying exceptional skill and resourcefulness, kept his airplane in close proximity to the squadron throughout the remainder of the mission materially aiding in the defense of other airplanes as well as his own. The courage, coolness and skill displayed upon this occasion reflect highest credit upon this officer and the Armed Forces of the United States."

MATERIAL ARRIVING FOR START OF CONSTRUCTION ON NORTH CAMP HOOD

Fifty carloads of material was on the site of the new northern cantonment at Camp Hood, four miles south of Gatesville, Tuesday, as plans for starting work on the gigantic new $5,000,000 camp which will double the capacity of the Tank Destroyer Center, were speeding forward.

The construction has already been authorized by Washington as follows: "the construction of a military installation in Coryell county, Texas, to cost in excess of $5,000,000".

Plans for the new camp previously has been announced by Lt. Gen. Lesley J. McNair, chief of the Army Ground Forces, and Major General A. D. Bruce, TDC commanding officer.

Acquisition of land for the northern camp was reported going forward this week, although much of it still is in the appraisal stage. Lieut. Col. B. A. Dunnam, post billeting and construction officer, already had been moved from the area.

February 1st is the time limit set for all families to be moved off the land. Training will get under way there early in January.

Landowners are being given the first priority on retaining houses, barns, sheds, fences, (except perimeter fences) in the area. Fourteen homes are being left on the land to be used for field headquarters purposes.

If dwellings are not retained by the landowner, the piping and water facilities on the property are to be left intact, property owners have been advised.

Some other battalions of the Basic Unit Training Center under the command of Col. Harry Thompson have been moved to Camp Bowie pending the completion of the new northern cantonment.

Farmers Vote Again On Cotton For AAA Floor Prices

Cotton farmers will decide the floor price of cotton when they vote on cotton marketing quotas Saturday, December 12, N. Foote, chairman, Coryell county AAA committee announces.

OPA's ceiling price on finished cotton goods automatically places ceilings on raw cotton, but do not establish a floor. The bottom price is left up to the farmers because loans at 90 percent of parity are effective only when quotas are voted favorably.

Twenty seven ginning places have been announced and are the AAA office, Gatesville, Oglesby gym, Coryell City, Osage, Whitson, Mound, Flat, The Grove, Longview, White Hall, Liberty, Turnersville, Pancake, Jonesboro, Ater, Ireland, Purlmela, Evant, Arnett, Plainview, Pearl, Peabody, Slater, Harmon, Pidcoke, Topsey, and Copperas Cove.

COTTON GINNING TO NOVEMBER FIRST IS REPORTED, CORYELL

V. R. Lee, Special Agent for the Department of Commerce reports 10,386 bales of cotton were ginned in Coryell county from the 1942 crop prior to November first as compared to 8,914 bales for the crop of 1941. And, 10,000 plus bales means an equivalent in money of approximately twice the amount, if they were ginned last year.

NO G'MENT LOANS ON COTTON IF AAA VOTE FAILS SAT.

No government cotton loans can be offered on the 1943 cotton crop if marketing quotas are rejected in the referendum Saturday, according to N. Foote, chairman of the AAA committee.

This loan is the means the government uses to support the price of cotton, and the current loan rate in Coryell county is 17.57 cents per pound on 7/8 in middling cotton.

Last year's loan rate was 14.02 for the nation and the average price of cotton was 17.03.

FARMERS BEING ASKED TO PLANT CORK OAK TREES: 4,000 ACORNS

Growing cork for bottles, is being asked Central Texas farmers by the A&M Forest Service.

4,000 acorns will be sent free to farmers and ranchers who will set them out. Twenty-five acorns have been recommended for each test planting, and are to be planted 20x20 feet apart, requiring about a quarter acre.

Now, if we had the bottles to cork, we'd be O. K.

A SUMMARY OF WORLD, NATIONAL AND STATE NEWS

AIR POWER LACKING

London, Dec. 2 (UP).—John McVane, NBC correspondent reported from allied advanced headquarters in north Africa tonight that the "going is very tough" in Tunisia, with the axis using artillery and parachute troops to good advantage and holding air control over advancing allied troops.

BIZERT & TUNIS AT STAKE

London, Dec. 2 (AP).—Superbly equipped and desert toughened American streamlined armored forces spearheaded allied action today in hurling back the heaviest German counterattack of the tunisian campaign as allied troops pressed forward on Bizerte and Tunis under the protection of increasing aerial forays.

HAROLD, THE "IKE" UPPED

Washington, Dec. 2, (AP).—President Roosevelt gave Secretary Ickes sweeping new powers over the petroleum industry today, plus special authority to control oil and gasoline rationing in areas where there is a shortage of those supplies.

REDS PUNCH NAZIS

Moscow, Dec. 3 (AP).—The red army punched more holes in the German lines between Velikie and Rzhev on the central front yesterday and captured a strategic height southwest of Stalingrad in a continuing joint offensive that left more than 3800 dead nazis in its wake, the Russians announced today.

PUBLIC DEBT, 100 BILLION

Washington, Dec. 2. (AP).—For the first time in history the public debt has passed the $100,000,000,000 (100 billion) mark. Today's daily statement on the condition of the treasury revealed that the total gross public debt as of November 30 was $100,379,324,851. It went up $446,734,685.37 since the day before.

BUNA AIN'T A GONA, YET! HOPE, SOON

London, Dec. 2, (AP).—Benito Mussolini, coughing and pugging defiance in a long speech necessitated by the faltering of the will to war among his countrymen, admitted Wednesday that Italy had been bull-dozed into the conflict by pressure from belligerents, but declared it would not be bombed out of the hostilities as promised by Prime Minister Churchill. "Says, you, Musso!"

WE'LL MEET MEAT RATIONING NEXT

Washington, Dec. 2 (AP).—We will all have a new ration book early next year, filled with prettily colored red and blue coupons by which the OPA will guide and limit the kinds and quantities of meat that we eat. "We're going to have to get a little red wagon to carry all this 'vital' government paper!" My pocketbook's running over now, and it's not with greenbacks.

Delegates Report on Trip
Mrs. R. M. Studer, Purmela H. D. Club, and Mrs. Lee Smith, Eldcoke H. D. Club, made a report to the open meeting of the County H. D. Council last Saturday on the day of the Exhibit. Both delegates expressed their appreciation for the opportunity of representing Coryell County H. D. Clubs at Fort Worth on the occasion of the 17th Annual meeting of the H. D. Association. Mrs. Studer reported on the reception in the Blackstone Hotel with Tarrant County H. D. Council hostesses, the pageant depicting the year's accomplishments by the H. D. Club members in which Mrs. Smith had a part, the banquet at which the T.H.D.A. president's husband Mr. W. G. Kennedy was the speaker, and the numbers rendered by the Singing Cadets of A&M College. Mrs. Studer reported on the business transacted at the meeting and the recommendations for "an out-war for a just peace". She mentioned the rules for the meeting read by Mrs. Gus Rogers, Vice President of District 8. She reported that $199.62 was collected from the counties with each giving a dollar, to purchase canning equipment to send to Britain. The Convention advocated cooperative buying and keeping all equipment in good repair.

Kitchen Demonstrators Have Made Improvements
Mrs. Moore Graham of The Grove with the help of two small boys built a half-wall between her food storage, cooking, and clearing centers and her food serving centers which divided her large kitchen into a kitchen and dining room. The wall was finished with blow-torch scorching. Mrs. R. M. Studer of Purmela has a built-in kitchen cabinet complete with toe-space, correct working height, sink, storage shelves with doors, and storage space below the counter. This cabinet takes the place of a work table and storage shelves and make a very convenient working arrangement. Her husband did a good piece of carpenter work when he

The 5th Avenue store which advertises a dog soap as "Shampooch" . . . Toscanini getting a bow from the hips from a 57th Street record shop owner . . . The Broadway bright lights which go on during the day and off at night . . . The man leaning out of his 4th floor window at the Taft Hotel—focusing his binoculars on the Winter Garden undressing rooms . . . The "Queen of 47th Street"—an old gal, who strolls there after midnight, attired in Gay 90s garb . . . The Music Hall lounge, swankier than most high-priced joints . . . Stop and Go signs along Broadway, which pedestrians ignore like good advice . . . The well-behaved patrons in the Automat and the noisy drunks in the uppity places . . . Wall Street, the nation's cash register, crowded with some of the shabbiest buildings in town . . . Colyumists hearing a wit drop a pearl and tossing a coin to decide who gets it.

Sixth Avenue auctioneers exploding vocal Roman candles . . . Art-lovers in the museums—and their velvet whispers . . . Two lovers juggling their dreams in whispered nothings . . . The photo of a wrecked Jap plane in the window at Dempsey's . . . The hungry pigeons at 54th and 7th every sun-up waiting for the stationery store-keeper to feed them . . . The cop's horse that accepts cookies only from the Roxy show gals near the stage door . . . The slanty penmanship of rain editing the park's complexion . . . The man and woman evers that inspire so many of the Broadway songs and tragedies.

FBI men glad the "kidnap" scare in Westchester was solved so quickly . . . "Couldn't spare 100 agents on a kidnap case now—with all the other things to do" . . . That was the case of the nurse who allegedly confessed she did it . . . She will get away with a ten year sentence, perhaps . . . Because she didn't leave the state and didn't hold the child seven days . . . The inside is that she wanted to "even things" with the tot's grandmother . . . The thing that gave the nurse cold feet was the murder nearby of those two children by Haight.

Leon Henderson, the Man Who Rations Your Gasoline, etc., is one of Washington's hitch-hikers as a result of the ration rules . . . The other ayem the Administrator thumbed a ride and wasn't recognized by the motorist . . . "This darn old gas rationing," grumbled the driver, "gives me no bother whatever. I've fixed it so I get all I need! And nobody is going to stop me from getting gas, either!"

"I'm going to stop you," said Leon as he got out.

"Yeah?" was the parting shot. "You—and who else?"

The query by Mal Rutt . . . Wanted to know if Kate Smith joined the WAVES would they call her a Tidal? . . . The recollection of Ed Hurley—about Donald Day, war correspondent for Col. WOMEN AT WAR

Margaret turned off the humming vacuum cleaner, and straightened the slipcovers of the armchair and the daybed that she had pushed up to go over the rug. Then she stood quite still in the doorway and looked at the small bedroom with its southern exposure. It was as neat and impersonal as a pin. It might never have been lived in. The door stood open on the clean, bare closet. There was not a pennant, not a team picture, not even so much as an old Arithmetic book left to show whose room it had once been.

Margaret stared at the walls, the furniture, and deeply, slowly, she realized that no matter what lodgers with their own trinkets and pictures might occupy it, she would always see it the old way. It was the old way that she saw it now. A pair of hard-worn gray pants lay on the floor where they had been dropped. Three baseball bats were stacked with a fishing rod in the corner. A battered red cap with a letter on it lay on the bed. And through the bed, as though it were transparent, Margaret saw another bed, smaller, and with high slatted sides.

She put the vacuum cleaner away and went down to her desk in the sitting-room. She took the fifteen dollars rent that the new lodger had paid that morning in advance for the room, and added to it, from her purse, three dollars and seventy-five cents more. Then she drew out a sheet of paper and began to write on it, slowly, gravely.

"To buy a bond to help train a young man to replace Don, Jr.—killed on June 6th in the Battle of Midway."

FROM OUR CONGRESSMAN

W. R. POAGE

November 27, 1942

Dear Friends:

Democracy works slowly, but it always reflects the wishes of the majority of the people—if given long enough and if the people don't change their mind before the democratic processes have had time to operate. We are now observing the first governmental recognition of the public reaction against the unnecessary and arbitrary power of the bureaucrats. For many years the public has actually believed that the way to cure all economic and governmental ills was to create a bureau or "administration" to deal with the problem. Even before the war these alphabetical agencies had become so numerous that most people realized that we must strip them of their power. With the declaration of war the administrative agencies did, however stage a "Come Back" — and how they came back in the guise of war agencies. The second largest telephone exchange in the world is in Washington and is known as "National War Agencies".

Theoretically these agencies are composed to promote and speed up the war effort. Actually, they are in many instances hindering the war effort by destroying our civilian economy. I don't mean that any of these agencies are deliberately trying to aid the enemy, but these agencies are staffed by three types of employees: First, there are the impractical social reformers. They are in charge of many bureaus. They have never had any practical experience and they are generally primarily interested in "social gains". Second, there are the "dollar-a-year" men and other direct representatives of big business. They are generally in key positions. Their objectives are definitely not the same as the social reformers, but they are just as dangerous and generally a lot smarter. They are cold blooded and ruthless. They are willing to see our people go without meat if they can thereby keep the packing business in the hands of the Big Four. They are willing to see our people go without tires if they can thereby keep the tire business in the hands of the four large rubber companies and keep production of raw materials in the hands of the major oil companies. Third, there are the Civil Service employees who are generally honest but utterly without ability. They fill all of the minor positions and most of the junior executive positions, but as a whole, they are "clock watchers" and make no effort to control policy. Their presence, however, has protected most of the agencies from the full force of public and Congressional criticism.

I am convinced that the public long ago became conscious of the fact that much of this dead wood must be cut away. At last Congress is beginning to show signs of recognition of the problem. Today we passed a bill to prevent these agencies from requiring so many reports and questionnaires from the people and from business institutions. We realize that the mere physical work that is involved in preparing these reports adds materially to the manpower shortage. I feel very hopeful that after the first of the year that Congress may take positive action to stop the continual procession of registrations that consume so much of the citizens' time. I am encouraged to believe that we may materially reduce the funds available to these agencies. As long as the President believes in this multitude of agencies (and apparently he is still for them), they can only be destroyed by taking away their money because the President sets them up by Executive Order. Personally, I feel that our President has been so overwhelmed by direct war work that he has been compelled to accept the advice of others in regard to domestic affairs, and I think he has been getting bad advice.

Another evidence of growing Congressional dissatisfaction with the present policy of bureaucrats control was the action of the House Committee on Agriculture which has unanimously reported a bill which would specifically include farm labor costs in the parity formula. This is what many of us sought at the time of the passage of the second price fixing bill in September. It was defeated at that time through the opposition of the President and Mr. Leon Henderson. Frankly I do not expect that we will be able to get the Democratic Leader, Mr. McCormick, to let this bill come up before the end of this Session, but the fact that the Committee approved it without a dissenting vote is a very favorable sign and makes me hopeful of real substantial success in the new Congress.

Yours for Victory,
W. R. POAGE.

CHIROPRACTORS OF TEXAS ESSENTIAL TO GOOD HEALTH

Alleging that Texans who read and prefer chiropractic health service are being unjustly discriminated against as the result of Texas' failure, up to this time, to join 42 other states in recognition of the profession, Dr. Ernest W. Chaney, chairman, and Dr. Roy E. LeMond, co-chairman of the Texas Chiropractic Educational Committee, today announced a vigorous legislative and educational program to correct the situation. Dr. Hugh Warren of San Antonio is president of the State Chiropractic Association, and Dr. George Grupe, San Angelo, president of The Texas Chiropractic Research Society.

"The present United States governmental rationing program provides an excellent example of unfair treatment of our patients and members of our profession," said Dr. Chaney. "Federal O.P.A. rules specifically provide, that among others, chiropractors shall be allowed tires and gasoline for the purpose of answering calls of those unable to visit their offices. Yet certain O.P.A. officials have refused tires on the grounds that Texas does not recognize the chiropractic profession. We are now awaiting installation of gasoline rationing to find what action will be taken. But, even though we were allowed gasoline and had no tires for our automobiles, even that would do no good.

"This, we claim, in effect, is a denial of the rights of citizens as called for in the FOUR FREEDOMS as delineated by President Franklin Delano Roosevelt. Proposed legislation calls for a strict educational and training requirement of those who would practice chiropractic. It also calls for the appointment of a qualified and fair board of Chiropractic examiners since we cannot possibly hope for fair treatment from a board composed of members of other professions. We do not question the right of any citizen to choose one who practices a healing profession other than ours. We do, however, claim a right to practice and to insist that our profession be conducted on the high plane and standards we desire for it."

Housing soldiers Saturday nights is a big problem for USO. Mrs. Robert W. Brown is in charge of this, and those having rooms listed with USO are asked to call when they are rented to prevent soldiers from walking out, only to find the rooms rented.

Mrs. Charles Bauman is still tops in hospitality, housing some 25 soldiers and giving them breakfast each week end.

Hamilton visitors who have paid USO recent visits are Mesdames Charles C. Baker, Jr., Joe Edison, W. L. Bolding, A. J. Livingston, J. J. Taylor.

Movies featured every Friday night.

Cookies and other contributions are coming from Bee House, Pearl, Purnela, Oglesby, Turnersville, and various individuals, regularly.

Mrs. Foote of Turnersville is thanked for her hospitality by a recent soldier's mother after he visited in her home. The letter reads:

"I was delighted to receive your nice letter and I wish to express to you my sincere gratitude for your very motherly hospitality to my boy. He has written us about your kind and thoughtful entertainment of the boys from the training school, affording them such splendid well earned, and needed relaxation and I think it is really a wonderful and wholesome contribution to our great effort. I cannot remember Eddie's being quite so enthused over any outing as over those visits he writes about at your ranch.

Eddie, as he has likely told you, has had little opportunity to enjoy such country play so I can imagine the thrills he got on those week ends, the horse riding especially, and his lessons from your husband, saddling and bridling the horse.

And now I want to think you again for your friendly letter and for your kindness to my boy and please accept my best wishes for your health and for every happiness for you and your family.

Sincerely,
Mrs. E. F. Lampman,
Chicago, Ill.

SUSPENSION OF AAA IS DEMANDED

Washington, Dec. 2 (AP).— A threatened food shortage coupled with manpower problems on the farm brought from leaders of organized agriculture Wednesday a demand that the Government's AAA program be abolished at least for the duration of the war.

Officials of the National Association of State Commissioners, Secretaries and Directors of Agriculture, meeting here in a two-day convention, said they were drafting a resolution to that effect.

Declarations that the Government has been at fault in handling farm problems came at the agriculture association's dinner Tuesday night from Frank E. Gannett Rochester, N. Y., publisher, and Senator O'Daniel of Texas.

O'Daniel charged that "bureaucrats" had "taken the government away from the people" and the only way to restore it would be "to charge the members of congress just as they (the public) did last Nov. 3."

WOMAN OF WAAC

Now is the time for all ladies from the age of 21 to 45 to join the WAAC's, white or colored.

There are four parts to the WAAC. Motor Corp, Administrative, Communications, Cooks, and Bakers. The pay is the same as in the army, $50. to $138.

There are two training schools.

Keesler Field, Miss.

Dear Mat:

I received the Coryell County News today and sure was glad to get it sooner than I expected. It sure is lots of company to get the news from home and about the people you know.

I may not be here very long, but I will let you know my next address. You should be down here in these good old piney woods. I think you would make a good soldier.

Many thanks for the paper.
