ROLAND BOYD of McKinney, a member of the Texas Democratic State Executive Committee, this week accepted the chairmanship of the recently organized Committee Against Legislative Pay Increases and Annual Sessions. A state-wide group, the Committee is opposing Constitutional Amendment 2 in the Nov. 8 election claiming its passage would result in a greatly increased tax burden without improving the efficiency of the Legislature. Amendment 2, by raising legislators' pay and providing for annual sessions, would increase state taxes more than $2,500,000 biannually, the Committee says.

Election For Supervisor Sub-Dist. 1, Ham-Co. SCS District Due October 4

October 4 is the date for the election of a supervisor for Sub-District No. 1 of the Hamilton-Coryell Soil Conservation District and is slated for 2 p. m.

Sam Powell Sr. is the present supervisor, which includes all land owners living north of the Leon River from the Bell County line to Gatesville and all other land owners living north of Highway 84 from Gatesville to Evant, and they are eligible to vote.

Since the election will be of the convention type, with a presiding chairman accepting nominations from the floor, the election of this supervisor should not require more than 30 minutes.

W. P. Graham, County Agent says: "Mr Powell has done outstanding work during his years of service, and I feel sure the land owners want to continue him in office for the next five years. The District has acquired a building and other equipment for the promotion of Soil Conservation and has a balance of $5,000 in the bank. This reflects good business management on the part of the board of Supervisors. The last session of the State Legislature voted $5,000 000 for Soil Conservation in Texas. The Hamilton-Coryell District will receive its proportional part of this fund".

Socialism and Taxes

Can high taxes take us down the road to socialism? Yes, a whole lot farther than most people think. Top economists are pointing right now to danger signs that affect you and your job. With taxes having long ago neared the "breaking point," it is just possible that unwise legislation for more spending and more taxes could upset the nation.

The plight our nation is in right now, because of a tax load that requires more than a quarter of every dollar of national income, was apparent in the President's recent message. Mr. Truman stressed the need for high steel production and for expanded facilities. (Steel output is hitting new all-time peaks—even better than war-time highs.) It would be the part of the federal government to build plants and produce steel, if private industry did not, Mr. Truman said. For this, who would put up the capital?

Contradiction?

Obviously, you would. By paying taxes. When government goes into business, the effect is to spend money, not make it. That has been proved too many times. But on the face of it, Mr. Truman's proposition—that the government get into the steel business—is nothing more nor less than socialism pure and simple. Continuing, Mr. Truman said there must be $4 billion in new taxes, mostly from corporations. The contradiction of it all makes food for serious thought.

With one breath the government thus orders business to "plan for steady, vigorous expansion," and with the next proposes taxing policies that will make it impossible for industry to have funds for expansion. Despite already high taxes that make capital timid, the steel industry has somehow reached enormous production levels. But more taxes remain a dangerous threat. What Congress does about taxes this year may have great influence on the production of the future.

Incentive Destroyer

Heavy taxes are a certain hindrance to production, and hence to prosperity and national well-being. More than any other one factor, taxes can smother initiative. They destroy incentives to get ahead, to save, and to invest. Taxes take at least half the total income of all persons with incomes of $5,000 a year or more. This group represents only one-tenth of America's families, but it is from this group that the bulk of risk capital must continually flow into new enterprises.

A Plague of Taxes
That high taxes are now keeping funds away from business enterprise is a sobering fact. Figures will show that in the eight-year period from 1940 through 1947, individuals cut back their holdings of corporate investments by nearly a billion and one-third dollars! Taxes do prevent savings for investment. Be assured that if the federal budget takes $42 billion from the people, the price of everything from bread to shoestrings will contain its share of that multi-billion dollar figure. That is why government spending must interest you. The more government spends, the more it must collect. And government has nothing, except what it gets from the people. Then when people pay, incentive is in grave danger. The Gargantua that can overthrow America is "Big Government." This destroyer feeds on taxes.

YOU know this man. He may live on your street. If it weren't for him, our streets would be seas of mud after every good rain. Our houses would be less comfortable. They would cost more money.

He is the man who wields the paint brush, swings the hammer, drops the plumb line, levels the transit. He plans. He designs. He builds. He finances.

But you—the buyer—are the man who sets the pace for construction today. Tomorrow, you step it up.

Your imagination, your individual initiative creates the need and the opportunity. American industry matches you, stride for stride.

RED CROSS FIELD DIRECTORS SOLVE SERVICEMEN'S PROBLEMS

Red Cross services to the armed forces are available wherever U. S. servicemen are stationed. Here a Red Cross field director goes right to a young sailor at work on his ship for the facts he needs to help solve a problem.

The sailor was young. He had finished his home leave in a southern coastal city and was heading back to his California base.

He said goodbye to his parents and to an older brother, a marine veteran just returned from service. Then he left by bus.

A few hours later the older brother was killed in an automobile accident. The family appealed to the Red Cross to locate the younger son so he could return home.

Within a short while a Red Cross chapter secretary along the route intercepted the bus, broke the news, and helped the lad get started back home. There the chapter got in touch with the field director at the west coast base and verified the facts for the commanding officer who was being asked to extend the sailor's leave.

Once or more every minute, around the clock last year, the Red Cross performed some service for members of the military forces and their families. Among the nearly three quarters of a million cases handled, a large percentage involved supplying verified information concerning home conditions requiring emergency leave or extension of leave. While the Red Cross cannot grant leave to a serviceman, military authorities depend upon its post field directors and the network of chapters for reports of conditions underlying such leave requests.

Field directors in 364 military installations and hospitals and 1,059 itinerant- and sub-stations in this country and abroad aid servicemen with personal problems that range from babies and budgets to helping straighten out delays that hold up pay or family allowances.

The serviceman has his family problems, marital difficulties, financial strains, and family illnesses—all disturbing to morale.

Field directors, providing 24-hour service at military installations, are pretty much in the same situation as the family doctor. They are routed out of bed at all hours to face any one of a hundred complicated problems. Sometimes it may be to get a report on the condition of a critically ill member of a soldier's family, or to lend him money for an emergency trip home, or to find housing for a family unexpectedly arriving at the post.

Whatever the problem, the serviceman feels free to turn to the Red Cross for help, knowing that he will find a sympathetic friend in the man wearing the Red Cross uniform.

"Pull it up easy", says W. G. McCelian as he, Troy Sullivan, and Bill Cooper, Jr., North Texas State College biology students, inspect gill nets they have just set out. Weighted at the bottom, and with floats at the top, the nets will stand vertically in any depth water. These students have been assisting Dr. J. K. G. Silvey, professor of biology, study the habits of fish in small Texas lakes.

Dr. Silvey says bass catches in depleted Texas lakes can be increased 200 to 300 per cent. "In a lake, you weed out as many of the undesirable fish as possible so you'll have a good harvest of Texas' best game fish—the bass."

Purmela-Evant Battle For County League Title Tonite At 8

IT'S DOWN TO TWO:
PURMELA SHUTS OUT
CORYELL CITY 9-0

Purmela, which ended the season with an unofficial .739 plays Evant, a .609 club for the top spot and their name on the News Coryell County Baseball League Cup, which already carries the names, Jonesboro '38; Pidcoke '39 and '40; then the war, and in '47 and '43 it was Coryell City.

Play for Evant, Purmela for the championship, starts tonight, Tuesday night at Vet Memorial Park, and these two top clubs ought to pull a sell-out. The chiu are down, and they are two well improved clubs, with nothing lacking in any position. Good pitching, hitting and fielding, and plenty of that old game winning hustle on both clubs.

Reviewing the season, late as it is, it's been a good one, with little for Commissioners Bob Arnold, John F. Post, Jr., and Mat Jones to look over. That makes for good baseball.

In the playoff between Evant and Gatesville, Evant won the first 4-1. Second game, Purmela 5, Coryell City 3; 3rd game, Evant 2, Gatesville 3; 4th game, Coryell City 5, Purmela 1.

Then, in the final of these series, 2 out of 3, Evant beat Gatesville Thursday night for a place in the finals, 10-4, and Saturday night Purmela stopped Coryell City 9-0.

Play-off Standing

Second game of the championship playoff will be Thursday evening of this week, and if a third is necessary, this will be played Sunday afternoon, October 2.

Purmela Cinches Spot In Playoff 9-0 Over '48 Champs

In 1949, Champions, yes, champions for the past two years, Coryell City didn't repeat. Pitching seems to be the trouble, and a little team dissention.

Purmela turned the trick Saturday night with a 9-0 shut-out, with 17-year-old Bobby Wright emerging as the winning hurler.

Here's how it happened.
