"Mama, where does newspapers come from?"

Co-sufferer John Rutherford of The Franklin Favorite, according to The DMN has a story about it.

Rutherford says: "Even God does not know how newspapers got into the world, for He never mentions them in the Bible."

The DMN answers this for John, and says: 'an publish it not in the streets of Askelon.' If that referenc... to II Samuel 1:20 does not convince, you consider Luke 19:3: "And he sought to see Jesus and could not for the press."

And, again, turn to the 68th Psalm, verse 11, where it reads: 'he Lord gave the word; great was the company of those that publish it.'

Now, not being a Bible student, unfortunately, we wouldn't know. There ARE a lot of very good Bible students in these parts, and they might be able to help us along this line.

Fact of the matter is, we don't know where newspapers CAME FROM, but we know where a lot of them is going—broke. Now, Guttenberg, Mergenthaler and Jones (inventor of the "X") have done their dead level best for the newspaper racket, but the 'deducts' are eating up the so-called historical profits until there isn't much reason for a newspaper in 1959.

Maybe history can repeat itself, and we can hire some 'letterers' and chisel our news on some of these white Coryell County rocks, of which they is jillions, and that will cut out the cost of newspaper print, and Coryell County has enough 'chislers' so's it wont be much trouble to replace linotype operators and printers with 'chislers'. Maybe Fuzzy Chamlee could saw us some limestone slabs, and we could use them, thin, you know, but, then there's the od P.O., which weighs the papers on us so we wouldn't gain anything on account of the postal rate.

Looks like we'll just have to keep on 'goin' for broke' and see what we can do with the 'status quo'. That's lawyer for "the down remains the same".

Just to prove that the good has to come with the bad, the rain last week brough wind — concentrated — and it blew down a lot of tents at NFH where the 45th Oklahoma Infantry Division will begin operations this week end, and somebody's going, or already have had, a job putting the tents back up again to be blown down again. Enough good $$ have been spent on 'tenting' at NFH to have barracks with hot and cold running water, etc., and etc. and so far, they's nothing. But, that is the Army!

A man handed a cigar stand man $5 for 2 cartons of cigarettes. The cash register clanged, and showed 21.60. "How come," the man asked, "thought you said $4.60". The stand had on that date had paid the $1.60 registration with a $3 ring, 3 bucks being the top registration of the machine, and he said the machine was over 50 years old, which gives you an idea of the current inflation over 50 years ago. They even have to buy new cash registers. The old ones won't take it.

"What makes us all humble is the necessity of signing off, if you know what we mean."

A daughter of X E. H. Splits of Ft. Worth, Sally to be exact, was a visitor with her grandparents, X Jim Martin, and other relatives last week.

SHE SHOULD BE PROUD — The pups weighted a total of 13 1/4 pounds at birth and when the picture was taken tipped the scale at an even 3 pounds with their stomachs full of milk. They are being bottle fed to supplement the mother's milk. "Just too many of 'em for me to feed" says Ma. (AP)

Director Kendrick Accepts

Somebody entered Palmer's Store at Flat on State Highway 36, sometime during the week end, and $5.60 is missing. Entrance was gained by knocking out a large window thru which the burglar or burglars cawled. The Palmes think it was Saturday nite.

David Ruiz who's been held in an Austin jail, was brought back to Gatesville and given 2 years in the penitentiary on a charge of theft by force. Austin had him first and he served his time there. Sheriff Winfred Cummings got him Saturday.

About 12 p.m., Sunday evening, a pickup caught fire in the seat, and Raymond Ward of the GBFD answered the call. It happened in front of Chief of Police Charlie Walsh's home on Hwy. 36, just north of Gatesville. Owner was not identified.

Since the 'above' was written, 3 SSBs got out of SSB and took a Mr. Grubb's car, who works there, but were taken by officers including Jim Searcy at Oglesby, and are back doing more time at TSSB. They got out about 10 a.m., and hck by 3 p.m. Short lelave, boys. Those few hours, will get 'em months. All looked to be under the 'penitentiary age'.

Andrew Kendrick, of Coryell County United Fund, and Director of the Texas United Fund, is shown in a picture received by THE NEWS, receiving appreciation awards presented by The Texas United Fund for Hal Anderson and O. D. Bates. Presentation was made by Maurice Acers, president of Texas United Fund.

The awards were given for "out-standing service as a volunteer campaign leader in the 1958 United Community Campaign", and were presented at the Texas United Fund Regional Campaign Institute held in Waco.

The Institute was to discuss mutual problems of the multiplicity campaigns, organization, budgeting, techniques and public relations, and the UF was organized to bring sense, efficiency and equity in volunteer efforts to meet the needs of people and communities.

CORYELL COUNTY IS FAMOUS FOR:

Forked-Tailed Lizards

Yep, John D. Cole brought us one in. Said it came from Ft. Hood which is Coryell County, whether they want to admit it or not. The land was ourn'!

But, that's another story.

This lizzard, gray in color, while in here (sometimes) they change according to the background. Lizzardists say) and was about 4 inches long and looked ordinary until you got down to his tail, and there it was, forked similar to a "Y" only one part of the "Y" slanted off, like as if you made a "Y" with a pencil and didn't do it just exactly right.

Gosh, what else they going to dig up in Ft. Hood — just ain't no tellin'!

THE SILENT GENERATION

There is much talk these days about "The Silent Generation," that growing contingent of young adults living in jerry-built suburbs and busily conforming to corporation, community, and church patterns as aids to climbing the economic ladder.

To explain their "silence," suggestions vary: they are too satisfied with things as they are to complain; they are too concerned to "get along" with both their ambitions and other people to become controversial; or they are silent about deeper issues because they have nothing to say.

Whatever the explanation, the picture is of complacent, covering people huddled together for mutual justification, reluctant to take the risks of independent decision and action, and avoiding pursuits more significant than canasta and barbecue parties.

I can't vouch for the accuracy of the picture, but I know people who are like that, and the generation they belong to has little to do with it. It's anyone who shudders at certain words: "dedication," "positive conviction," not being afraid to "stand for something," and having the courage to "speak out and stick your neck out."

If these make you cringe, you belong to "The Silent Generation." You have joined the deadly countdown from what was once "the land of the free and the home of the brave!"

Watch your notice, Otis—

PORT HURON, MICH., TIMES-HERALD: "We realize that a big country cannot be run by a small government — you can't operate an automobile factory with a sewing machine motor — But bigness is not, and never was, an excuse for inefficient, wasteful spending— YOU have a right to demand that every dollar of the money of the taxpayers be well spent and accounted for accurately and to demand that dollars intended to be spent unnecessarily be left in the pockets of you and me and the rest of us. . ."

PALATKA, FLORIDA, DAILY NEWS: "Everytime an incident such as the plastic bag deaths happen the public becomes a raving for legislation to end the 'killers'. It never occurs to us that it couldn't happen if some parent had been on the ball. We can't expect legislation to cover for our individual neglect."

If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mousetrap than his neighbor, tho' he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door.

What's new in the animal kingdom? Animal air conditioning, that's what!

Researchers have taken one of mankind's greatest boons to comfort and have begun cooling plants and animals for greater profit.

It has been a known fact for many years that the hot Texas summers slow growth and production rates of farm animals. But the difference in just a few degrees of temperature will mean a more rapid growth rate which increases farm income.

According to preliminary research studies, hens kept in cool chicken houses not only lay larger, tougher eggs but they also produce up to twice as many. In addition, a "heat struck" hen may consume up to 4 pounds of feed in her efforts to produce a dozen eggs. But when kept cool and comfortable, the hen needs only about 2.66 lbs.

The air conditioned chicken house also increases flock production. Eight per cent more of the setting hens' eggs hatch in a cool house. Chick mortality falls and the house itself can accommodate 15 percent more chickens comfortably, reports show.

Pigs and cattle respond equally well to cooler quarters in the summertime. If pigs are kept at 70 degrees, they reach a marketable weight in one-fourth the time needed at 90 degrees. And they consume a total of only one-third as much food.

When cattle are kept cool, they gain up to half-pound more per day and give more milk, according to research tests.

Air conditioning trials in greenhouses reveal that plants respond equally well. Plants need light, air, water and heat for growth — but in correct proportion. The blazing Texas heat often retards plants in the hottest months.

Cooling green houses thus can double the growing rates of marketable flowers and vegetables, researchers claim.

The experiments have been conducted by the American Society of Heating and Air Conditioning Engineers. The organization is developing systems for cooling farm buildings for an operating cost of under $5 per month which would require investments of under $500.

TODAY'S 2-MINUTE MYSTERY

by Donald J. Sobol

"Doc Everette is down with the flu," said Sheriff Kimball. "I hated to call you on such a hot day, but I need someone to sign the death certificate."

"Any reason to suspect foul play?" inquired Dr. Haledjian, kneeling beside the body of the wizened old recluse.

"None whatever. Old Carl lived up here alone with his cats. Sort of a character, you know, but harmless. He used to drive to town in a flivver once a week. Since he got the deep freeze installed last year, he came in every other month."

"When was his last trip?"

"Oh, maybe seven-eight weeks ago."

"I suppose the old man disliked banks as well as people?"

"There was that story. Life savings hidden under the floorboards somewhere. The usual stuff. Some folks in town believed it."

"Judging by the body temperature, he's been dead about 12 hours," said Haledjian. "In lay terms, he died of plain old age. Incidentally, who found the body?"

"Jim Casey, when he delivered the mail half an hour ago."

Haledjian stepped to the table where the sheriff had laid out the articles found in the dead man's pockets. There were two small fish for the cats, an antique pocket watch, and $1.10 in coins.

Haledjian picked up the fish, sniffed, and swiftly passed them a foot under the sheriff's nose.

"Smell anything extraordinary?"

"No—just a faint fishy odor."

"That's what is extraordinary," replied Haledjian. "I'll have to request an autopsy, sheriff. Old Carl's death is not what it appears."

Install an AUTOMATIC Electric Heat Pump

Regardless of outside weather, it's always spring in a home equipped with a Heat Pump. In summer, it pumps heat out of your home.

In winter, it automatically reverses itself and pumps heat into your home. And during changeable weather, it switches automatically from cooling to heating or back again, as needed, to maintain the indoor climate you like best. There's no seasonal start-up or shut-down of cooling or heating equipment . . . nothing to remember or forget.

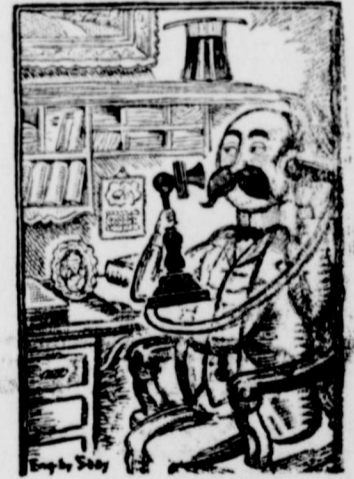

You just set the thermostatic controls once and the Heat Pump does the rest.

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from HENRY A. HOLLE, M. D. Commissioner of Health

We don't know how you feel about it, but we're watching out this year for those nasty Megalopye opercularis. For those of you who don't have an entomology textbook handy — that's a moth, commonly called "asp" or "puss caterpillar", in the larval stage.

These brown or grey, semi-cesent larvae may become extremely abundant, feeding on the foliage of a variety of trees and shrubs.

Schools have experienced difficulty in the past as a result of the prevalence of the insects on school stinging caterpillars. Children in particular, should be warned to avoid them.

Individual reaction to the stings varies greatly, dependent upon many factors such as age, sensiyard trees. They represent a very real problem to householders during warmer months.

The large number of requests for information concerning the "puss caterpillars" now being received by Texas State Department of Health entomologists indicates a population peak of these insects.

Everyone should familiarize themselves with the appearance and medical importance of these tiny status, size of caterpillar, area of skin involved and the amount of pressure on contact.

A mature larva dropping from a tree into a person's shirt or blouse and mashes against the skin in several places before being retrieved would likely cause a much more painful condition than

HERE'S HOW...

MAKE A COMBINATION DESK AND BOOKSHELF

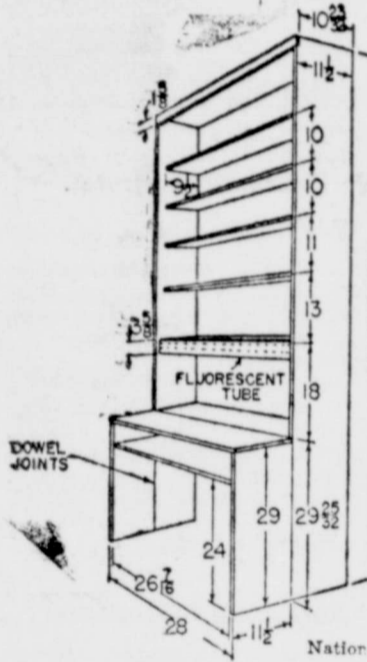

A floor to ceiling desk and bookshelf ensemble can be made with 1-inch lumber.

The sides, desk, top and lower shelf of the bookcase are made of 1 by 12-inch lumber. The interior shelves are made of 1 by 10-inch lumber. The trim is made of 1 by 4, and 1 by 2-inch lumber.

Cut out the top edge of the sides for the top trim. Drill four 3/8-inch holes 2 inches deep in the bottom part of the sides for dowel jointing the desk to the sides. Corresponding holes are drilled in the desk side panels.

Assemble the project and attach the light fixture. Attach to the wall studs or ceiling joists.

Suspicion Confirmed

the simple act of brushing an exposed arm or leg against a small specimen.

A burning pain is felt almost immediately on contact. Small raised whitish spots appear later becoming red. The inflamed area may spread for several inches accompanied by swelling.

The resulting skin reaction frequently lasts for several days. Further systemic symptoms may arise of an allergic nature.

If illness develops a physician should be promptly consulted. For localized reactions a sodium bicarbonate soak or one of the many soothing lotions and ointments may help to relieve the itching.

If you need to kill them out a spray made up of lead arsenate (two tablespoons per gallon of water) or 50 percent wettable DDT (two teaspoons per gallon of water) will probably prove successful.

MISS DOLORES ANN NAUERT IS BRIDE OF BILLY JACK AYRES AT COVE

Miss Dolores Ann Nauert became the bride of Mr. Billy Jack Ayres in a double ring ceremony Saturday evening, July 18 in the Immanuel Lutheran Church, Copperas Cove.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nauert. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ayres of The Grove, Texas.

Rev. Marvin Koch performed the double ring ceremony in front of an altar with white tapers in white wrought iron candelabra, palms, and pedestals holding urns of white gradioli.

Miss Joan Krause was organist and Misses Carolyn and Margaret Meissner cousins of the bride sang "O Perfect Love" and the "Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white chantilly lace and net over taffeta. The bodice featured a scalloped neckline beaded with seed pearls and sequins buttoned down the back with tiny covered buttons, and long sleeves coming to points over her hands.

The voluminous skirt was worn over hoops and bridal petticoats.

The bride's lace edged veil was caught to a half cap shaped coronet of pearl and iridescent sequins.

She carried a Phalaenopsis Orchid cascaded bouquet with markers of Satin, and pearl leaves atop a white pearl encrusted Bible.

Her jewelry was a strand of pearls and matching earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

The maid of honor was Miss Myrtle Rose cousin of the bride, other bridesmaids were Mrs. Alton Heiner of Killeen, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Edna Earl Hughes.

Their identical gowns were of pink embossed sheer over taffeta with fitted bodices and full skirts with organda cummerbunds floating in a back panel. Their tin headdress was pink flowers and net and their pink mitts were of lace and net. They carried pink carnations on white Acelon lace fans with white Satin streamers.

Rhonda Meisner, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and her dress was identical of the bride. She wore white and lace mitts and carried a white lace over net basket with pink flowers.

Master Billy Joe Brooks was ring bearer and carried the rings on a lace over satin heart shaped pillow. He wore a white coat and blue trousers.

The bridegroom; the best man, Mr. Graham Ayres, brother of the bridegroom and the ushers, Jerry Wall of Austin, and David Nauert, brother of the bride all wore navy blue suits with carnation boutonnieres.

The bride's mother wore a dress of dusty-rose lace taffeta with white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. The mother of the bridegroom wore a dress of pink lace with pink hat. She wore a white carnation corsage.

A reception was held in the parish hall of the church. The bride's table laid with a pink lace over cloth and centered with the bride's attendants bouquets. The three tiered wedding cake on a mirror topped with a miniature bride and groom figurine and decorated with pink and white flowers was served by Miss Edna Hughes assisted by Mrs. Alton Heiner, and Miss Myrtle Rose presided at the punch bowl.

Miss Carolyn Meissner registered the guests with Margaret Meissner and Linda Duncan assisting with the gifts.

The bride's going-away ensemble consisted of a cocoa brown sheath dress with a large rolled collared jacket, brown velvet hat, brown shoes and bag, and white gloves. Her corsage was a white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

After a wedding trip to Old Mexico, Carlsbad Caverns, and points of interest in Colorado, the couple will be at home in Copperas Cove, Texas.

Dear Friends:

During the week the House passed and I voted for another bill to try to overcome the disruptive effects of the Supreme Court decisions. This time the bill was to affirmatively re-establish the rule of reason in regard to holding a suspect who has been arrested in connection with an alleged crime. In the Mallory case the Court had thrown out a confession obtained from a defendant because he had been held from about 2:00 A.M. until morning hours without charges. It seems that the present Court is determined to make it impossible to prevent or to punish crime in this country. Their latest decision is to the effect that it is perfectly legal to approve acts of immorality, even though they be a violation of State law.

Our Committee has spent the entire week hearing suggestions for general farm legislation. The heads of all of the large farm organizations appeared last week. This week we heard the Secretary of Agriculture, representatives of the Labor Unions and of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, along with Co-op and business organizations.

Secretary Benson made two important statements:

First: he stated that he wanted farm price supports to be lower than the market price (except in cases of extreme emergency). This, of course, means that he does not want the supports to be used as they are now used to hold up the market.

Second: he stated that he would not approve any wheat bill, no matter how much it cut production which raised the support level by "one cent or one parity point." This means that in spite of his talk of "compromise" that he will never agree to legislation except on his terms. If I understand the term "compromise" it means that each side should make some concession. Mr. Benson refuses to make any concession whatsoever.

Today he indicated in a press conference that he would be willing to let the farmers decide whether they wanted rigid controls and high support or no controls and low supports. Obviously, this is just "talk" as he previously asked the President to veto the bill we sent him last month. That bill offered 90% supports and rigid controls only if 2/3 of the wheat producers voted for such controls — if as many as 1/3 of the producers voted against marketing quotas there would have been no quotas and supports would have been only 50% of parity. — Evidently Mrs. Benson is afraid that not even 1/3 of the farmers agree with him, and his talk about agreeing to a farmer referendum is intended only for publicity, not for action purposes.

No one gets paid to look at advertising — it is entirely a voluntary action on the part of the people. They (the people) read only what they find interesting.

The City has finally got an Equalization Board — Ernest Cummings, R. W. Ward and Eric Sharp. The county, evidently couldn't, so they're using the Commissioners Court, which is about as good as any.

Senator YARBOROUGH'S REPORT

The Senate has passed and sent to the House for action a bill which can mean additional millions of dollars of income to our farmers each year.

This additional income from the farmer would come from finding and developing new uses for farm products.

It was my privilege to co-sponsor this bill with Senator Olin Johnston of South Carolina. It passed the Sente last session, but died for lack of House action.

Under this proposal an Agricultural Research and Industrial Administration would be established under the Department of Agriculture.

The Administration is charged with conducting basic research to find new industrial uses for our farm products, particularly those products which are in heavy surplus.

The proposal takes a realistic and scientific approach to helping solve some of our most pressing agricultural problems. With the hard times we have had on the farms in many areas, we are overdue in starting concerted scientific research programs to develop methods to develop uses for farm products.

There is strong indication here that the House will go ahead with passage of the measure during the current session.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

As of now, there are an estimated 2,400,000 Federal civilian employees, of which in round numbers 70,000 are in the territories and possessions, and 130,000 in foreign lands.

Altogether, all government civilian employment is estimated as now running well in excess of 7,500,000. Thus of the present employed ranks, about one out of every nine people taking home pay checks are deriving them from government.

This explains why the Federal government and the many state governments are in serious financial difficulties.

The Federal government is employing alone three times as many people in civilian jobs as the nation's entire mining industry, almost twice as many as are employed on the nation's farms, slightly more than are employed by all the nation's financial houses, banks, insurance companies and real estate firms, and almost as many as the total employees of all the construction contractors.

Not only is this vast army of government employees sopping up huge chunks of tax money, but they are so numerous they constantly get in hair of those trying to make a dollar out of private enterprise.

This fact was brought out quite succinctly in a recent subcommittee hearing of the Senate Small Business committee on the logging industry which was presided over by Sen. Russell Long.

Testimony established that the lumber industry, especially in the eastern United States, is made up of small enterprisers producing a million or less board feet of lumber per year. Some 85 to 90% of all sawmills are in this category.

Testimony stated "Big government is one of the greatest problems of small business... the small operator who asks how in the world he can be expected to make a living with so many government people continually trying to find something wrong or information."

A partial list of the government agencies a small sawmill operator has to contend with was entered into the testimony.

This partial list includes Internal Revenue Service, Social Security Administration, Housing and Home Finance Agency, Federal Housing Administration, Army, Navy and Air Force, Farmers Home Administration, General Services Administration, Corps of Engineers, Bureau of Reclamation, Public Health Service, Fish and Wildlife Service, Federal Power Commission, Forest Service, Wage and Hour and Public Contract Division of the Department of Labor, Interstate Commerce Commission, Federal Communications Commission, Civil Aeronautics Commission, Federal Trade Commission, Bureau of Labor Statistics, Federal Reserve Board, Department of Agriculture, Office of Defense Mobilization.

As already stated, this is just a partial list of the Federal agencies that swarm around the small sawmill operator.

It is probably little wonder that one of the most rapidly growing professions in these United States is that of the psychiatrist.
