Note to Texas Youth Council. Two of Perry's Punks, 16-year-old SSB goodboys, got out Friday — that's usual.

But the unusual part, is they gave State Highway Patrolmen Harvey Lane and Lawton Crain an introduction to Heaven, or worse. The patrolmen wrapped a State Highway Patrol car around a utility pole, dodging a motorist. The car was total, and they would have been if it had not been for safety belts. They were not hurt, no fault of the boys, who were driving a '105 to 110 mph in a 'private automobile' they'd purloined in Gatesville.

Youth Council, how much more does it take before the guards at SSB can 'carry the difference'. You're not going to control any 11-17 year-old that's been tried in his home, his home town, his home courts, and then sent to Mr. Perry to be controlled with 'no difference'. You just can't tell a kid like that 'no something' without the difference.

Now, if when the Texas Youth Council visits this here institution, if some of the 'good little boys' could just get far enough to get one of their cars and 'take off in it' at about 90 to 115, wrap it around a telephone pole, ditch, burn it up or out, maybe the YC would wake up to the fact that the personnel at SSB is not fooling with sweet little boys. They're angels, but not the kind usually associated with the higher things of life. Of course, the YC could use 'state mileage' to go after their car if there was enough left to get, but a private citizen digs down in his OWN pocket and goes after his car (if any) and pays for repairs, or buys a new one out of his OWN pocket book. There's a difference.

Where Coryell County and Gatesville people furnish 'free transportation' for these homesick boys certain the state ought to provide mileage, car repairs, or new cars if they are wrecked. We think if the state did this, they'd find some way to cut this state expenditure.

Now, when you lay it on the line like this, you're supposed to have a remedy. Being a 'hick-town' person, especially a Gatesvillian, we KNOW what happens when something like this is presented in the 'high places'. We, with other Gatesville people, went thru this in Austin once, and, once was enough.

So, we WON'T make any suggestions — they wouldn't be taken anyway, and we'd get the 'bum's rush' the high-place haw-haw, or something similar. Anyway, as the saying goes, we ain't paid to figure these things out — that's the 'brains' business.

It DOES look like it's high time somebody was doin' some fast figurin' and had better use a slide-rule, or an IBM calculator and DO something about this 'Huntsville Junior College'.

The appropriation is nearly 2 million bucks to put up buildings but, as far as we can see, no appropriation for keeping the buildings occupied.

Frankly, it's no joke son. The situation needs something more than talk, case-working, psychologists, and 'big talk'. And NOW!

The Sidney Pruitts, Donine and Earl Hite and daughter are spending their vacation in the hills of Arkansas and other points in that direction.

EDWARD R. COX GETS JOB SANDBLASTING BOSQUE COUNTY COURTHOUSE

"A man is without honor in his own home town" was never more forcefully shown than by recent news.

The Gatesville Post Office, a 'federal installation' has been sandblasted by outside contractors — all of which is very nice, and must have been a 'contract job' with the GSA or some other alphabetical federal agency.

Yet, in private business, Edward R. Cox of Gatesville, a LOCAL sandblaster, was busily engaged in sandblasting Bosque County Court house at Meridian and that county is spending $7,454 to get their courthouse sandblasted and repaired.

This just goes to show that when you get something 'federal' there's nothing in it for the local citizens.

Federal money is spent 'federal ways' no matter where! Remember that!

SSBs Give Hwy. Patrol 100 mph Chase

Two SSBs, 11 and 14, ran about 6 p.m., Thursday to Tom Easley's home near Moccasin Bend. They asked Mrs. Easley for some water and while in the house, got Tom's double-barreled hammerless shotgun, and held it on Mrs. Easley. She slammed the door, and a Mr. Smith happened to be passing and she hollered to him for help. They tore Mrs. Easley's telephone off the wall so she couldn't telephone for help.

Mr. Smith started to stop, and they pointed the gun on him and told him to keep moving, which he did.

The SSB dogs were called and chased them from the Easley's to east of the auction barn. Here they stole a '49 Mercury belonging to Preacher Burt, and headed up the Levita FM road, throwing the shotgun in the weeds and abandoned the Mercury when it went dead. Arriving at Rev. M. E. Fairchild's house, they took a .22 target pistol, watch and two knives, and Rev. Fairchild's '50 Chevy pickup, and headed for Goldthwaite, stopping at Star and broke into a store there and were caught by the owner who phoned the Mills County Sheriff and he came after them, and phoned Sheriff Winfred Cummings and he took Rev. Fairchild to get his pickup and the Sheriff got the boys and they're back at the SSB.

Two others got out Friday afternoon about 3:30 and took a car from Charles C. Lary Jr., of Houston, a '56 Ford, who was visiting the Dick Forersts, A State Highway Patrolman spotted them near McGregor and chased them at speeds of 105 to 110 mph, and finally hearded them near Waco. They were Earl Bruce Thomas, 15, and Roger Keith Morgan, 16, both from Harris County. They were returned to SSB. Larry this week registered a '59 Ford and was using the '56 while they were undercoating his new car. Lucky boy!

Charles Steward is in the Midland hoosegow, or was, charged with passing a check for $26.55 on Cecil Pearce's Service Station. No other action was taken as of Friday.

Monday morning, a Flat-Leon Junction vicinity citizen was charged with aggravated assault, pleaded guilty and paid $50 and costs. He beat up his wife with his fists, and a knife was in one of them. She was treated at the local hospital and released.

An Austin lady charged with DWI, and paid off $50 and costs, a drunk was arraigned, and an ex-SSB was picked up with no drivers license paying $20.50 and costs, and released, Chief of Police Charlie Walsh picked him up.

Fire Burns 400 Acres Of Pasture Land For Mrs. Jim Saunders

Fire, which was said to have started Saturday evening, and which didn't seem much, caught on, and consumed grass, trees, etc. on about 400 acres of the Jim Saunders Ranch in the Harmon-Pidcock-King vicinity. There was some damage to other nearby ranches.

Fighting equipment was called Sunday afternoon from Gatesville, Lampasas, Killeen and Ft. Hood, ad a maintainer was furnished either by Coryell County Commissioners or the Texas State Highway Department. The worst part of the fire was Sunday afternoon.

The fire was finally brought under control, and the 100 or so men fighting the blaze were exhausted, due to the fact that grass had grown up between fallen bulldozed trees making a terrifically hot fire, in addition to the 90 plus temperature.

With EDWARD W. GREENFIELD
REDISCOVERING FREEDOM

Some weeks ago I cited works of futuristic fiction that carry us in fancy into atomic annihilation or regimented tyranny — and asked, "How about fancying some peace and freedom for a change?"
Felix Morley's "Gumption Island" (Caxton Printers, Caldwell, Idaho, 1956) does it. To be sure, the novel begins with an explosion and, science fiction-wise, hurls a Chesapeake island and its people 50 million years into pre-history. There the story thoughtfully pursues the question: If we could start over, as Morley's Americans had to, what kind of government would we discover to be best?

Watch the Gumption Islanders wrestle with survival, social and racial cleavages, production, distribution, love, justice, power, the meaning of life. Both intelligent and ignorant, virtuous and venal, no different from most of us, they talk out and act out their salvation.

And before destiny restores their experimental world to our own, what do they come to? Pretty much what our Founding Fathers came to — constitutional, limited government, bent only on keeping the peace; free, private enterprise, with reward according to achievement; equal justice under law and equal freedom under God.

We ourselves could do with rediscovering the meaning of freedom!

Star-Tele. Features Industries Here

E. D. Alexander, Star-Telegram Real Estate Editor was in Gatesville the last week of July preparing an article and taking the above pictures of Gatesville people and its attractions, industries, and accomplishments.

Principally featured, was Medical Plastics Laboratory, Inc., one of Gatesville's prime industries, which was originated by Drs. E. E. and O. W. Lowrey, who with Dr. T. F. Williams, Price Neeley, and others, have developed the business of making plastic skeletons since about 1952.

The business developed from an experimental hobby to a business and Gatesville 'plastic bones' are known throughout the world, and are sold in 14 foreign countries in addition to all the states. The company is anticipating a $1,000,000 business in the next few years, and they have offices in Jacksonville, Fla., San Francisco, Chicago and New York City.

All the profits stay in Gatesville except for the materials, and the company employs some 15 people full time.

F. F. (Fuzzy) Chamlee, and his Mid-Tex Stone Company, manufacturers of limestone builders materials and is turning out 300,000 pounds of limestone blocks a year, and quarries them 13 miles south of Gatesville, trucking the big blocks to his downtown plant where he cuts and finishes them for buildings, homes, churches, business buildings, decorative structures and other uses. Mr. Chamlee estimated there is $20 million worth of the cream-colored limestone in his quarry and the finished product is distributed throughout Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Louisiana and other states.

Wolf Manufacturing Co.

Also, featured was the branch of Wolf Manufacturing Company of Waco, managed by Richard R. Grooms, bringing a payroll of $125,000 a year to Gatesville, and employing 50 to 65 women. The plant makes western trousers and pictured, but who has presided shirts for children.

District Judge R. B. Cross, not over the 52nd Judicial District the past 26 years, said: "Gatesville is one of the finest little cities I know of. It's a city of homes, churches, schools, and law abiding citizens." He was admitted by escapers from the training school."

Heading up the industrial program are George B. Painter, president of the C-C, and Gatesville's only realtor, Byron Leaird Jr., chairman of the industrial committee, and B. W. Lee, chairman of the public relations committee, according to Alexander.

Fred G. Prewitt, former city secretary and C-C secretary, and of the Fair Association, as well as relief administrator during the depression, was with Mr. Alexander during his visit.

The story mentioned the city school system which has a $1,000,000, high school under construction, and growing pains of the town has resulted in 100 acres being annexed to the city since 1954.

The tour was sponsored by the Ft. Worth Star-Telegram and the Small Business Administration.

Col. Al G. Hopkins, current C-C manager who helps co-ordinate the industrial expansion, is a native of Oregon, and was stationed at Ft. Hood from '52 to '55 and retired from the Army with 31 years of service. He turned down opportunities on the West Coast to cast his lot with Gatesville and Coryell County.

This hot-dry weather is permitting the farmers to save their feed crops and do a lot of weed and grass killing, and a lot of summer following is being done.

Everyone is complaining about the scourge of grasshoppers. Mrs. J. B. Jones states that they have completely destroyed her fine orchard. They ate the fruit, leaves, twigs and they are now stripping the bark from the trees. Most of the corn crops are completely stripped of the corn leaves and husks. The corn is now being harvested, then the kernels are being shelled and the cobs are being used for fuel. They are working on the bare stalks. P.

REVIVAL OF THE CAPITAL GOODS INDUSTRY

Since World War II there have been three important business booms—1946-48; 1949-52 and 1953-57. We're now entering a fourth wave of prosperity. It is interesting to note that the three previous booms plant and equipment expenditures were in a large way responsible for their creation. Many economists believing that adequate production capacity has been created in many industries did not feel that the current boom would be as great as it has been to date. It is interesting to note that this boom has not been generated by plant and equipment expenditures but more by a sharp upturn in automobile and steel production along with much higher consumer spending for non-durable goods.

The National Industrial Conference Board recently completed a survey (sponsored by NEWSWEEK) the findings of which indicate that a strong upturn in capital goods (plant and equipment expenditures) is about to take place. This upturn is probably attributable to two factors: First, that the unexpected high level of consumer spending has prompted the companies to step up their expansion plans and, secondly, that more money is being appropriated in modernizing plant and equipment and expanding automation processes to reduce labor costs and maintain adequate profit margins.

The National Industrial Conference Board conducts its survey by polling approximately thousand large companies to out their capital appropriations for the previous quarter. The survey has been very accurate in the past in forecasting trends for the capital goods industry. It is interesting to note that in the first quarter of new appropriations by representative companies were the highest the first quarter of 1957. The findings prompt us to believe a significant upturn in expenditures for capital goods is under way.

Barring an extended steel market or some other unforeseen event it seems likely that the new wave of capital spending will continue to extend the boom.

Companies which we believe benefit particularly are:

Equipment for the Iron & Steel Industry

Equipment for the Textile Industry

Packaging Equipment for the Food Industry

Labor-Saving Devices

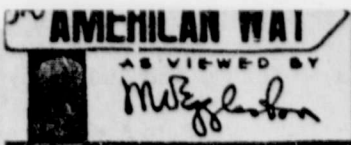

Cincinnati Milling, Cross International Acme, Sundstrand and Swasey

Electricity a Real Bargain

From the Edison Electric Institute we have just received some statistics regarding the electrical industry. What particularly interested us in mulling through these figures is the very small percentage of disposable income that we Americans spend for electricity.

...percent above the 1941-1942 base of 100, the electricity index, covering certain fixed quantities of electricity used, has shown a gain of only 8.2 percent. In 1958, while the cost-of-living index advanced 3.3 percent, the electricity index increased only 1.3 percent.

The cost of electricity in the family budget is very small, despite the many services it performs, and the steadily increasing quantities being used. In 1957, Americans spent 21.8 percent of their disposable personal income (income after taxes) for food; 8.1 percent for shoes and clothing; 3 most certainly indicate that Electricity is definitely a real bargain.

America's New Liners

The Argentina

December 8, 1958, marked the establishment of a postwar record for American-flag shipping and shipbuilding. On that day the Moore-McCormack liner Argentina steamed into New York from the Mississippi yard of the Ingalls Shipbuilding Corporation, her delivery brought to five the number of new passenger ships added to the American Merchant Marine in 1958.

The name Argentina has been a proud and famous one on the shipping lanes between New York and Buenos Aires since 1933, when Mooremack's first "Good Neighbor Liner" of that name entered the intercontinental run, which she was to serve until 1958. Completing the close link between herself and her namesake, when the new Argentina made her maiden sailing for South America December 12, she was under command of Commodore Thomas Simmons, who had been master of her predecessor for two decades.

The new Argentina, 617 feet long with a speed of 23 knots, a luxury hotel afloat for her 553 passengers, all of whom travel in first class. She and her sister Brasil follow the modern trend of lifting ships' engines toward the stern, leaving the comfortable deck areas available for spacious cabins and public rooms, and permitting what appears to be a funnel to be utilized as a service lounge and solarium. TODAY'S 2-MINUTE MYSTERY

THE CASE OF DEATH ON THE VIADUCT

Twelfth of a series

by Donald J. Sobel

Dr. Haledjian was driving toward the Metropolitan Golf Club and an early round of golf. He had reached the Tamis viaduct when he spied an empty patrol car parked to one side.

He stopped his station wagon immediately and descended 200 feet to the bottom of the gorge. There an officer stood beside the broken body of a young woman.

The policeman, recognizing the criminologist, accepted his offer of help, but added, "Not much mystery to this. She must have jumped, hit those boulders first, and bounced off. I found her left shoe six feet away, the contents of her pocketbook strewn around for yards."

Two sticks of lipstick, a black address book, a small amount of money, a handkerchief, and a packet of hair pins were collected neatly on top of the empty bag.

Examination of the body disclosed the spine broken and the skull smashed fearfully.

"She was a pretty girl," muttered the officer.

"You knew her?"

"Name's Alice Divine. I passed her regularly. She walked across the viaduct every morning on the way to the factory. She always had a smile. I can't understand why, but it's suicide plain enough."

Before you commit yourself in a report, would you hunt something for me?" inquired Haledjian.

The officer listened, and then climbed back to the viaduct. In a few minutes he returned.

"I guess you were right. It looks like murder now," he said, opening his palm to show the object for which Haledjian had asked him to search.

WHAT HAD THE OFFICER FOUND ON THE VIADUCT THAT POINTED TO MURDER?

An officer stood by the broken body of a young woman.

A compact, it was not in the gorge with her other articles. Haledjian deduced she had removed it from her pocketbook on the viaduct. It seemed a safe conclusion that she had been pushed while powdering her nose. "I guess you were right. It looks like murder now," he said, opening his palm to show the object for which Haledjian had asked him to search.

WASHINGTON AND

ad Rep. Dingell to levy a 3% x on salaries and wages to rovide government health inurance. While the returns are ot in on this vote, it seems logal nation's independent businessmen will be no more in ivor of this proposal than one ey have already voted upon.

Of course, the argument for overnment health insurance is at many people cannot afford iness at today's costs.

It is known, however, that un-er a free enterprise system the majority of the nation's people ave some type of private health insurance, and there are such ans open to most of the rest, nely by paying the premiums.
However, that fact does not seem o be so germane at this time, here is a more serious aspect o this desire for government to e all things to all men.

It is quite possible that a case ould be made for the thesis that many people in the country today cannot actually afford to eat.

Thus, if the sole measure of what the government shall do, or not do, is the criteria for compulsory government medical

Beat Temple 2-1

Gatesville's Nationals stopped a favored Temple, winning the District 7 title Friday night in a 2-1 game at Katy Park, Waco.

They play W. A. Holt Sporting Goods team, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in Katy Park. There are 8 teams in the Senior Teen-Age Championship Tournament. The teams have been filtered down from 32 leagues involving 7,500 boys across Texas. San Angelo is a strong contender. Temple had beaten Killeen 3-2, and Charles Eaty of Coppreas Cove played with them.

In the Friday evening game,
Wendell Byrom and Jack (Sonny) King, both were in the box, and hearsay has it that King scored the winning run.

Here's the box:

nighttime safety

Unlighted steps and walks invite accidents like a slip or a fall. Modern outdoor lighting minimizes this hazard and at the same time adds to the charm and beauty of your home. A well-lighted yard is a protection against proglers, too, and it permits you to perform nighttime chores with daytime ease. Your dealer or electrician will be glad to show you how economically you can light your yard for safety and convenience.
