Urban Renewal. That's a stranger in these parts.

Any number of houses have been 'taken down,' and more are being 'taken down' in town, proper.

Who owns these vacant properties, or what they're going to do with, is a probability. There are other houses, so old, now—that they won't rent for much, and are getting older each day.

These old lots, most of them are close in to the downtown section of town, and the newest developments have been on the edges, north, south, east and west, but, so far, not many business interests have moved out.

Seems to us (and, of course, it isn't any of our business except to keep the folks hunting houses as close in as possible, for our own business reasons) that it'd be a good idea if the property owners either developed these very desirable lots with new homes, or new rent houses, or sold the properties and let someone else do it.

If new homes were put on these properties, close to the downtown area, it seems that it would concentrate the 'living' in the close-in sections, instead of scattering it in a wide area, which it seems, don't have enough residents to make a modern shopping village possible, or feasible.

Another thing we've thought about for Gatesville, Coryell County, Texas and the USA: If they sell enough of these 'compacts' or foreign cars, we won't need to build so many highways. We can simply measure the width of the 'compacts' and make two lanes down a currently 2-lane highway and have a 3-lane. A 4-lane could probably be stretched to a 6-lane, and so on. Gosh, would that save highway construction and taxes. All FM roads could be constructed on this basis. Attention: State Highway Department.

"If you aspire to the highest place, it is no disgrace to stop at the second, or even the third.—Cicero." Now, Old 'Cie' predicted baseball way back then, or, how'd he know about 2nd and 3rd?

Press agency for a President: "In Ankara, 15 extra telephone circuits were opened to New York. In Athens, 3 grandstands were erected at the airport so photographers could shoot Ike from every angle. In Athens, thoughtful Greeks figured that some time would be needed to let newsmen get their hand-baggage off the plane, so Ike was kept at the airport for 10 minutes getting refreshments. Cable facilities are so crowded at Karachi, each newsman is rationed to 75 words on his first take of copy; then he can file more."

They think a lot of the 'press'.

The Maypole celebration originate in English villages of the Middle Ages.

DIABETICS, YOU CAN EAT CANDY FOR XMAS MADE THIS WAY

Mrs. A. D. Gartman gives us a recipe for candy which she says can be eaten by diabetics, and not have to take insulin shots. Being no authority on this, we wouldn't say, but you can consult your doctor. We're certain Mrs. Gartman wouldn't pass this on, unless it was 'on the ball.'

Here it is:
2 eggs, white, beaten stiff, and add: 1 tablespoon corn starch; 1 tablespoon sugar (or artificial sweetener), 1 teaspoon vanilla, 6 small pecans. Beat until holds peak and drop spoonful on cookie sheet, bake about 10 minutes in 350 degree temperature. Makes 12 pieces.

FOREST WAYNE YOUNG IS DRAFTEE OR DECEMBER: SIX FOR PHYSICALS

JOHNSON FOR PRESIDENT FORCES MAKE TEMPORARY ORGANIZATION HERE

Proponents of Senator Lyndon B. Johnson met Thursday in the offices of Thomson and Ms. Clellan Insurance Agency and perfected a temporary organization for a "Johnson for President Club of Coryell County."

Rufus Holder of Turnersville was named temporary chairman or president and John P. Reising was named temporary secretary.

The body voted to hold a county-wide organizational meeting at 3:00 o'clock December 15 in the County Court Room, and in the meantime special invitations will be sent to key citizens in every precinct, but, all in all, it's a wide-open affair and everyone interested in Senator Johnson is urged to be present.

At the meeting were Luke Walker, Pat Holt, Louis Thomson, H. K. Jackson Sr., R. W. Ward, former County Judge C. E. Gandy, J. Post, Mat Jones, besides those above.

Foster Drug Clipped For $400 Total: Round Up Cafe Loses In Other Burglary

Two sets of burglars hit Gatesville Wednesday night. The Round Up Cafe was entered by SSBS and they got cigars, cigarette lighters, cigarettes, and chewing gum. They also swiped a '49 Plymouth from Sandy Roads Auto Shop, and one boy and the car was found on the Turnersville FM road in the middle of it, and brought in. The other is still out. Five more got out Thursday morning.

Same night, burglars jimmied the front door of Foster Drug, jimmied the front door back shut, peeled the safe, and took $25 in drugs, $375 in drug store cash and $47.50 in D.R. Jones' cash in Foster's safe.

They then ammed the back door and went out peacefully. Texas Ranger John Krumnow was working with Sheriff Winfred Cummings on the case. Foster Drug got 'similar treatment' about a year ago.

This is not crime, but an accident. Floyd A. Federick, enroute from Odessa to Florida driving a '58 Ford and pulling a house car, at Smith Creek Hwy. 36 South of Gatesville, lost control of his car when a drift of wind hit his house car, and hit the bar ditch. Loss was set at about $800 and it happened at 3:40 Monday.

A drunk paid $23.50 for the privilege.

Early As It Is It's Again Askin' Time: So Far, Here Are The Boys

Since somebody moved up election dates of the First Primary, thinking nothing about the dogwood blooming or of the other election signs as we've always had, the date now is May 7, 1960, so the 'boys' are jumping in their respective races earlier this year.

So far, except in one instance, the Commissioner's Beat 1 (Precinct 1) it's only the 'old regulars', but in this race, Curtis Smith, incumbent announces, and so does E. H. (Ed) Spradley. There's one race already snapping up.

And, oo, we have Sheriff Winfred (Windy) Cummings for Sheriff and Creston Brazzil, County Tax Assessor-Collector—both up for re-election.

The Coryell County News is authorized to make the following political announcements subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held May 7, 1960.

For Sheriff:

WINFRED (Windy) CUMMINGS (Re-election)

For Tax Assessor-Collector:

CRESTON BRAZZIL (Re-election)

For Commissioner, Beat 1:

CURTIS SMITH (Re-election)
E. H. (Ed) SPRADLEY

Now, you other boys that's got 'ambition' we'll be pleased to give you publicity on your aspirations—for a payola.

COPPERAS COVE WHIPS LOMETA

COPPERAS COVE — Copperas Cove beat Lometa here Tuesday night in a basketball game, 51-44. Lometa took the girls game, 44-38.

In the boys game, Horst Paul of Copperas Cove led all scorers with 19 points. High point man for Lometa was Larry Morrison with 18.

In the girls game, Donna Johnson had 27 points for Lometa and Marline Mixon had 19 for Copperas Cove.

HERE'S HOW...

MAKE A SCREENED OUTDOOR ROOM

Summer outdoors is more enjoyable with a screened enclosure. The enclosure can be used for picnics or a cool place for the youngsters to play or sleep.

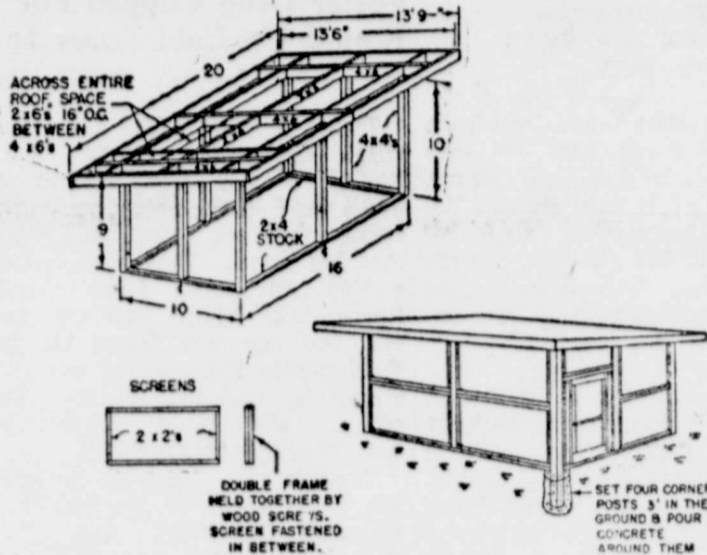

The enclosure shown provides a 16 by 10 foot 'floor' space. If the dimensions are varied, span lengths should not exceed 8 feet.

The posts are made of 4 by 4-inch lumber; the front ones 13 feet long; the centers 12 1/2; the rear posts, 12. The footings are of 2 by 4-inch lumber. Use naturally durable or treated wood for the corner posts and footings.

The rafters are made of 2 by 6 and 4 by 6-inch lumber. The roof is of 1 by 6-inch lumber topped with building paper and coated rolled roofing. Assemble the framework and roof.

Make the screens and door. Install the screens with No. 8 flathead wood screws 2 1/2 inches long. Frame the space for the door.

lighted area in El Paso where mixed drinks are sold across the bar-illegal in Texas but legal in New Mexico.

This unique situation developed in 1913 when the US Supreme Court was asked to settle a conflict between New Mexico and Texas concerning the location of their common boundary in El Paso county.

This line ran along the Rio Grande 15 miles as the crow flies, roughly from near Anthony, Texas to El Paso.

Attorney General Wilson says that the chunk of territory they scraped over was four miles wide and over 15 miles long.

Each state agreed that the true boundary line was the middle of the river channel as it existed on the date the Compromise of 1850 became effective.

While Spain had all of this territory she established El Paso del Norte where Camino Real route between Chihuahua and Santa Fe crossed the Rio Grande. There was no clear cut and fixed boundary between Chihuahua and New Mexico.

In 1824 the Mexican government settled this by a line drawn from east to west from the town of El Paso del Norte.

After the United States defeated Mexico in 1848 came the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo ceding the western one-third of the present United States.

The line fixed in this treaty was based on an incorrect map location of El Paso. This led to much confusion in land grants since lands in Texas were handled through Texas state government and lands in New Mexico through the federal government.

To make matters worse the Rio Grande changed its course.

A compromise was reached by making the boundary the river bed as it was in 1850.

But where was the river in 1850?

New Mexico said the Rio Grande ran on the eastern side of the valley while Texas insisted it ran mainly on the western side.

Private land suits followed and eventually came a suit in the U. S. Supreme Court between New Mexico and Texas.

New Mexico relied chiefly on some old Indian and Mexican witnesses who testified from personal observations. The court cooked a judicial eye at these ancients when Texas pointed out that the witnesses traveled mostly at night because the country was wild and hot.

New Mexico won and established a beachhead in El Paso. Hence, the man who orders a martini thinking he is slipping one by the law finds he is drinking a perfectly legal New Mexico martini. Only the highway signs note the difference.

Next week the boundary dispute will be centered around the strange "bancos" on the Rio Grande.

WORLD'S MOST POPULAR CHRISTMAS FILM

The world's most popular Christmas film is "The Littlest Angel," the greatest 16 mm. film classic of all time.

"The Littlest Angel," produced in 1950, will be shown more than 20,000 times during this Christmas season according to estimates of the producer, Coronet Films, world's largest producer of educational films. More than 12 million viewers will see it on television, alone.

The story was originally written by Charles Tazewell for radio narration by Helen Hayes and was published in book form in 1946 by Children's Press, Inc.

More than 100 million people in the United States have seen the 14-minute color Coronet film, approximately one half on television, and the other half on projection screens. It also has been seen in Australia, England, India, Japan, the Netherlands and the Philippines and by U.S. servicemen at military installations around the world.

The film tells the story of a small and very lonely little angel who couldn't seem to stay out of trouble in Heaven. Through the kindness of the Understanding Angel he becomes a proper angel and his gift to Jesus on the first Christmas becomes a symbolic part of the Yuletide celebration. (The film is available through film rental libraries across the country.)

2-MINUTE MYSTERY THE CASE OF THE UNKNOWN BLONDE

By Donald J. Sobol

"Pniwy Kempton's story about a blonde in a plaid skirt and tight gray sweater is pretty weak," said Inspector Winters. "But unless we break it, we'll never find the gang who tried to hold up the National City Bank yesterday."

"You're convinced Kempton is involved?" asked Haledjian.

"He's been used as a lookout before," replied the inspector. "About the time of the holdup, two police officers noticed him loitering on the corner half a block from the banw.

"The way it figures is this," continued the inspector. "When things suddely went wrong in the bak, the three masked bandits sprinted for their car. They didn't have time to haul in Kempto, so they left him on the corer.

"We picked him up this morning for questionio. He says he was out walking and had stopped to watch a blonde woman nobody else on the block remembers seeing.

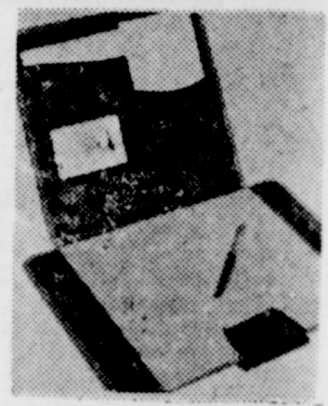

"This mysterious blonde, according to Kempton, was strolling on the opposite side of the street, looking oher her left shoulder and primping herself in the reflection of the store windows.

"When she got to the Beford Shoe Store window, she stopped an sdlowl did an about face. Watching her window image, she adjusted her skirt zipper and smoothened her sweater at the waist. She opend her purse, but noticing Kempton staring at her, hastened down he street.

"As she turned the corner, Kempton sas three masked men dashe out of the bank into a waiting sedan. He didn't get the license plate umber, of course."

Haledjian pursed his lips thoughtfully, "Kempton's story has one slight flaw, inspector.

GREEKS REFUSE GIFTS

Let's delve into a bit of ancient history—back to the years 483-490 B.C.

Xerxes, King of Persia, was waging war on the Greeks and for a time doing right well. His army was ready to launch an attack on Athens. Before doing so, Xerxes' general sent an envoy to the defenders with an offer of every boon, if they would surrender—that is, every boon but Freedom.

The envoy returned to the general with the following message: "We Athenians, as long as the sun continues on its course, will never come to terms with Xerxes." When the inevitable battle ensued the Athenian leaders rallied their troops with the cry, "REMEMBER—ABOVE ALL—FREEDOM."

History records that after initial losses, the Greeks finally prevailed and Xerxes' armies were beaten back.

Now, some 25 centuries later, we the American people have been fighting a losing battle against "creeping Socialism." In exchange for Federal Government largesse, we've been giving up some of our freedom. We still have considerable freedom left. We can save what remains and regain the freedom lost if we so desire. We can adopt the slogan of the ancient Athenians — "REMEMBER—ABOVE ALL, FREEDOM!"

And the way to carry out this slogan will be to stop reaching to Washington for federal handouts—for with Federal handouts go Federal domination and loss of freedom.
