"FUSTEST WITH

THE MOSTEST"

Little 'g' gatesville, Texas

News in this territory is a scarcity: No births, no marriages, no real estate transfers, no more of no mores.

Here's a little quotation from the St. Louis Daily Livestock Reporter you might have missed: fare asked his class of fire fighters

"The instructor in atomic war- 'radiation' and 'contamination'?"

"The neophyte, fresh from the farm, thought for a moment and then came up with his answer:

"Radiation', he drawled, 'is when you smell manure. Contamination is where you step in it.' " That's copied!

George Washington's going to have a birthday right away. Must be about Monday. Lots of things have been written about George, about the cherry tree, the dollar, the Delaware, Valley Forge, the Revolutionary War and many other things, and if we wrote a 'little piece' you would erad it probably, or you'd just say 'bull' and let it go at that and that's probably what it'd be, anyway. Anyway George was quite a guy.

He did advise the country to stay out of 'entangling alliances' which they've done everything but, and we ought not to get started on that. In fact, we're so 'entangled with alliances' not for free, mind you, that the sum total of all the brains (?) in Washington don't know rightly just what 'entangling alliances' we are in, why, for, and for how much. A close estimate, and a big squawk right now by our beloved (?) Congress is just why and what 'entangling alliances' we're really in and if we are going to get out or get further in. It even confuses the confusers.

It's nice to know the heads of the C-C are going to let us in on how it operates with an 'open' 3-D meeting and take suggestions from 'the floor' and they term them 'constructive criticism' which is a high-sounding term that really means we don't want nobody to upset our apple cart. Well, that's the way things go now, have gone, and will go. The status quo is what we know and what we know nobody wants to upset.

"The best way to get a bad aw repealed is to enforce it strictly.— Abraham Lincoln."

Mrs. B. W. Lee left early this week for Ft. Scott, Kansas to be with her father S. C. McBride, who is seriously ill.

It might be black, Zack!

GATESVILLE'S EVEN ON FIRE RATE APRIL 1: GATESVILLE'S IS PLAIN NOTHING!

Gatesville, with a 5c fire credit rating, has lost that five, and it's straight across the board. None! It's effective April 1.

It's all due to fires. Five years ago, Gatesville had a 25 credit. Makes insurance go up!

2 SSBs OUT, OR WERE ONE ACCIDENT INVOLVING 4 VEHICLES:

Stopping for a school bus, which is the right thing to do, caused an accident involving 4 vehicles — the school bus, which was not hit, a car driven by Carmon Keele Elliott, another by Jewel McFerren Cole, both of Gatesville, and the third, Kenneth Cecil Weir. Total damage to all was $800.

The school bus was stopped, first one car stopped, then another, but Weir's car didn't stop, and plowed into one and it hit another one at 8 mile south of Gatesville on St. Hwy. 36, south at 10 p. m., Feb. 4. Weir was filed on for following too close.

Two SSBs were ut, maybe in, now.

John Earl Hickey of Centralia, Illinois, a resident of Gatesville, is visiting his mother, Mrs. A. H. Meadows, of Gatesville and other relatives.

LEROY HOERMAN

The Coryell County Fair was a success last Friday and Saturday because of the cooperation and interest of people all over the county. The Gatesville Chamber of Commerce is to be commended for sponsoring this fine event.

We thank the many men and women who gave their time, effort and money to insure the success. Thanks go to men, women and organizations such as Dawson Cooper, Eddie Winfield, Leta Bennett, Nancy Weathers, Otha Johnson, Bob Foster, Jr., J. R. Sanders, M. J. Hanna, B. W. Lee, Bob Melbern, Clovis King, and George Jageler who were a part of the show committee: The Four County Press, Coryell County News, Gatesville Messenger, Copperas Cove Courier, and KCLW Radio for publicity; Horace Gallo-way, R. L. Homan, Troy Lee Hunt, Gatesville Firemen's Association, Rhodes Department Store, and Gatesville Jaycees, who furnished equipment and service.

A large part was played by Vocational Agriculture teachers over the county who encouraged their boys to exhibit some of the finest stock to be seen in a show of this size. These teachers that worked to make the show what it was were J. O. Winslar and Sam Adams of Gatesville, R. D. Mitchell of Copperas Cove, Elbert Hough of Ogleby, Leslie Sheldon of Evant, Raby Smalley of Jonesboro and Robert Hopson of Flat.

The FFA Boys in Gatesville under the direction of J. O. Winslar spent many hours in setting up the facilities for the show.

To boil it all down, it took a County effort to make such a show. Many people have expressed a desire to make it an annual affair and make the next one bigger and better. Let the Gatesville Chamber of Commerce know how you feel about it.

Boys that had calves, lambs and hogs that they wanted to sell, took them to the local Auction for sale Saturday. Mr. Troy Lee Hunt and other buyers paid premiums on their animals. Thanks to Mr. Hunt for this fine service to these boys.

ALERT SET FOR CO. D,
949th ORDNANCE BAT'N:
DUE 14th TO 25th

Efficiency of Co. D, 949th Ordnance Battalion will be tested sometime between Feb. 14 and 28 in a state-wide practice alert of the 41th Armored Division, Capt. Frank K. Courtney has announced. Nicknamed "Lone Star," it is part of a nation-wide test of National Guard units who are part of the country's first line of defense in event of manmade or natural disasters.

The time is known only by a few key officers in the division headquarters in Dallas.

The alert is designed as a practice test of the unit's speed and precision in readying for action, and time is one of the important items. Getting the "word" to the division's 10,000 citizen-soldiers in 78 Texas cities is a job in itself. Phone, radio and messengers will be used in rounding them up, and on assembly at the armory, equipment and weapons will be issued, and timing checked.

"We are looking forward to the alert," said Capt. Courtney. "Our unit wants to show the people of Gatesville that we are ready for any emergency."

This is the first of its kind for the 41th Armored Division since it took part in a nation-wide exercise "Operation Minuteman" in 1955. Annual local practice alerts have been held.

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

JESUS BELONGS TO ALL MANKIND

A sober group of men stood around a bed and watched the "great liberator" as he breathed his last. An assassin's bullet had done its work, and at 7:22 a.m., April 15, 1865, Secretary of War Stanton turned from the body of Lincoln and proclaimed, "Now he belongs to the ages."

This incident reminds me of a similar happening almost two thousand years ago. The greatest Liberator of all times had been crucified, His body sealed in a stone tomb. But on the third day the stone rolled away, life flowed into the body of Jesus, and the world proclaimed, "Now He belongs to eternity—to all mankind—to whosoever will."

Lincoln is still remembered as a great man, honored and revered. But Jesus has been real, alive and active for almost two thousand years. And because He is alive, He has given us abundant life and taught us that God is a good God.

Every week I receive many letters from people who have found the secret of health and happiness of God's abundant life. Mrs. A. S. Spears, who lives in central Oklahoma, recently wrote, "I prayed to die! I thought that anything would be better than the torturous existence I had known all my life. A large internal growth about the size of my fist was fastened to the very center of my nervous system and could not be removed. Huge knots covered my spine and shoulders. I was totally crippled; my entire right side was paralyzed; I was blind and deaf in my right eye and ear. Also, my mouth was drawn down and my vocal chords were paralyzed.

"One day, after I had tried every specialist who could possibly help, my faintest hopes collapsed. The doctor who had helped me most told me, 'I can't do any more for you! You are wasting your time and mine.'

"Dejection closed in about me like darkness—I wished I had never been born.

"But he continued, 'Mrs. Spears, you can be well. God can heal you! He is just as big as you will let Him be. He can do anything. Now, go home and ask God to heal you and He will. I will call your name in my prayers every morning and night.'

"It was then I realized that my only hope was God."

Sometime later, the woman came to one of the crusades and was completely healed in answer to prayer. Today she is perfectly, completely well; she recently passed a rigid physical examination to adopt a child. She discovered the secret of abundant life. She believed that God was good, that He was able, and that He wanted to help her. And He did.

We must always remember that Jesus is not a memory, but a live, vigorous Spirit that belongs to all mankind for eternity.

HERE'S HOW . . .

MAKE AN OUTDOOR STORAGE CABINET FOR GARDEN EQUIPMENT

An outdoor storage cabinet for ready accessibility of garden equipment makes gardening more pleasant. Hooks and hangers may be added to the doors or to the underside of the top board.

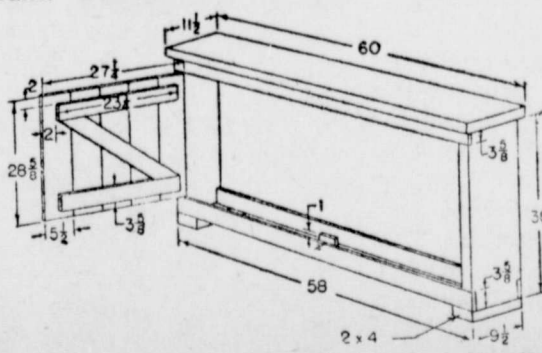

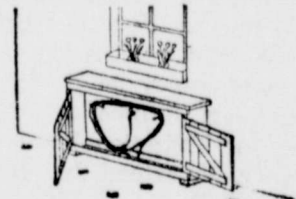

The sides are made of 2 by 10-inch lumber, 36 inches long. Cut outs are made where shown in the diagram to provide a flush fit for the rails. Make the rails of 1 by 4-inch lumber. The top is made of 2 by 12-inch lumber. The footings are two pieces of 2 by 4-inch lumber, 9 1/2 inches long.

To assemble the cabinet, fasten the footings to the sides. Join the sides by attaching the rails. Position the top and fasten it in place. Use glue and 8-penny rustproof nails. Attach the door stop.

Make the doors to the dimensions shown. Plane 1/4 inch from the edge of one panel for clearance for the door. Hang the doors with 1-inch butt hinges.

If desired, attach the cabinet to the building with cut nails.

TODAY'S 2-MINUTE MYSTERY

THE CASE OF
THE ANXIOUS NEPHEW

By Donald J. Sobol

"I'm worried about my Uncle Phil." Stephen Bates' voice was anxious over the telephone. "He failed to keep a dinner engagement with me tonight. Do you mind meeting me at his place—say, in half an hour?"

Dr. Haledjian gareed and he was waiting in the lobby of Philip Bates' apartment building when Stephen arrived by cab.

"My uncle thought he was being followed the last couple of days," said Stephen. "He keeps a great deal of cash in a wall safe in his den. Unfortunately, he isn't exactly secretive about it."

"Did you try to reach him tonight?" asked Haledjian.

"When he didn't show up for dinner, I telephoned his home. I got no answer."

Leaving the elevator on the 14th floor, the two men walked rapidly to the door of Philip Bates' bachelor apartment. It was unlocked. In the entrance hall burned the only light.

"Better have a look in the den," suggested Haledjian.

Stephen nodded and led the way. He paused at the door to the darkened room. "There's a floor lamp in the corner," he said, and disappeared into the darkness. An instant later the room was bathed in light. Directly behind the desk a small oval safe door was open. Sephen stood in a corner, one hand on the lamp, an expression of alarm twisting his face. He stepped back over the in-moving form of his uncle, who lay at his feet. "Is he dead?"

Haledjian knelt beside Philip Bates. "No, a nasty blow on the head, but not fatal — lucky for tripping over him in the darkness. The floor could have avoided forward that Philip Bates lay on. But only a man who knew he step over the uncle, which he did. going to the lamp, he'd had to back over his uncle. Thus, in the corner, Stephen had stepped in leaving the lamp lit."

Lone Star AGRICULTURE

Released by State Department of Agriculture

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES WEEK

The average family of four in Texas is estimated to have a financial stake of at least $100 a year in accurate weights and measures enforcement.

This is one of the vital functions of the Texas Department of Agriculture, and the week of March 3 through March 7 has been officially designated in Texas and the nation as weights and measures week.

Since practically every thing purchased in connection with daily living needs is bought in terms of a fixed amount for a fixed price, carefully supervised regulation is essential to make certain that the specified amount is delivered for the specified price.

The division of weights and measures of the Texas Department of Agriculture has the responsibility of checking all such weighing and measures devices in the State, ranging from intricate pharmaceutical scales to huge commercial scales such as those used at public weighing stations and cattle auction markets. Thousands of inspections are made each year, including spot checking of gasoline pumps throughout the State.

It was 161 years ago, on March 2, 1799, that Congress passed the first Federal weights and measures law in the U.S. It was pointed out then that "weights and measures may be ranked among the necessities of life to every individual of human society. They enter into the economic arrangements and daily concerns of every family."

Texas businessmen, it has been pointed out, have even greater financial stakes than family consumer units in making sure that their scales and measuring devices are completely accurate. Where large volume business is transacted, it is possible to give away thousands and tens of thousands of dollars worth of goods by means of scales that are inaccurate on the side of the purchaser.

It is also emphasized that it is almost impossible to name anything the American consumer uses or eats that has not been weighed or measured once or many times in its production and distribution.

Dear Friends:

Appropriations and taxes are normally the two items which control the length of legislative sessions. The appropriation bills are coming from the Committee earlier this year than I have ever known. At the same time, the Ways and Means (Taxation) Committee is working steadily, but there seems to be considerable feeling that there will be no far-reaching tax legislation this session. This leads members to look forward to a relatively short session, with adjournment just before the political conventions in July.

As I see it, we desperately need to pass a farm bill before adjournment. Farmers need it; and, politically, the President's Agricultural Message was interpreted by most of the nation's press as a challenge to the Democrats. The catch is that he still threatens a veto of anything except his own plans.

The only positive action he recommended was to remove all production controls from wheat with price supports "set at a percentage of the average price . . ." He did not say what percentage. He has, in the past, always advocated a very low percentage. The Agriculture Advisory Committee has just officially estimated that were we to abandon all control and support programs, net farm income would drop 40 per cent. Of course, we can't stand that kind of drop. The only other recommendation the President makes is to rely on the "Food for Peace Program"—how, he does not say—"Spend more money on Research"—he promises to appoint a "Coordinator for Utilization Research" and, finally, to extend the "Rural Development Program" These are laudable objectives but they do not pay any current bills.

Along with a number of other Democrats, I have introduced a Farm Program which allows the producer of each commodity which is expected to be in surplus to work out a program with the Secretary of Agriculture. That program can include any machinery which does not involve further government expense. It will stop the Bureau from . . . Next the pr quired to bring about a balance between demand and supply. If we will quit growing, accumulating and storing surpluses, we will have gone a long way toward solving our problems.

This bill provides the largest possible degree of self determination on the part of farmers. It provides a large degree of self help, both by controlling surpluses and by using surplus to pay for further land retirement. It is far from perfect; it will be gone over in detail; it will be changed; it should be; but it provides a real constructive program which I hope we can offer to the President and to the nation.

LIQUIFIED PETROLEUM GAS

The growth in usage of Liquefied Petroleum Gas in the post-war era has been one of the most dynamic of all the hydrocarbons and has far exceeded the annual increase in demand for such other refined products as gasoline and heating oils. Sales in 1945 amounted to 1,277,090 gallons, reached 3,483,909 gallons in 1950, and last year attained a record 8,693,000, gaining over 16% in 1959 over 1958. Even in the recession year of 1958 gallonage sold increased by 7 1/2%. There is reason to believe that the future will be as dynamic as the past in view of the new uses being aggressively developed and the technological advances being made which will further increase its appeal to the consumer.

Liquefied Petroleum Gas (or LPG as it is called) is a gaseous hydrocarbon substance, commonly found in natural gas and also produced in the process of refining crude oil. It is compressed to a liquid state to facilitate distribution and storage, but resumes a gaseous state at normal temperatures when released from compression for use. The primary uses for LPG are as a fuel for cooking, waterheating, refrigeration, clothes drying, and space and central heating in homes and commercial establishments. It also fuels tractors, trucks, fork-lift trucks, busses and other vehicles with combustion engines.

In recent years new techniques have been developed in the transportation and storage. It was previously carried and stored in small metal containers at considerable expense. As a result of high rates of production and consumption, the gas can now be carried in pipelines. For storage large underground caverns are being developed.

With regard to specific investments, the independent distributing companies present the best media. Texas Natural Gasoline is completely integrated and is the most prominent company. Suburban Gas Service, Petrolane Gas and California Liquid Gas have excellent growth records and justify their present market valuation. National Propane and Suburban Propane present good values based on recovery in earning power. Tropical Gas, Canadian Hydrocarbon and Superior Propane are special situations which could be very rewarding over a period of time.
