"FUSTEST WITH

THE MOSTEST"

Little 'g' gatesville, Texas

Some of you may wish it was Mar. 11, 1935. That was the day before we took over in the publication of the Coryell County News from Ayres Compton, original owner and publisher, and we are not alone in the treacherous undertaking. We had Sybil F. Beth I, one of the best guys we ever knew, who put up his 'experience' and we put up 1 grand, $750 from an insurance loan, and $250 we borrowed from another source.

That's 25 years, and we didn't have the 25 candles, much less the cake to celebrate, and we didn't attempt to sell any 'congratulatory' advertisements for this newspaper on its 25th anniversary, mainly, for obvious reasons.

That's one time "They said it couldn't be done," and before, it hadn't, altho some tried. We practically ain't made 'first base' yet, but, we ain't got sense enough to quit. However, "L & M has done it again" but, right here, let us make this statement "Little Mat" has a lot of fun and unfun trying-trying a lot of things that were and are unappreciated, but, which we thought and think, were good for the town and county. Y'know, if you DO anything, have any opinion (locally) and speak it, especially in writin' it just ain't usually appreciated, especially if some big wheel hadn't thought of it before.

different. "Think we was 'rushin' the season a little, just a little ahead, and that's fatale in these parts.

--They've been a lot of folks, mighty, mighty nice to us in our first quarter of a century, and we don't know what we'd have done without them. There are those 'first subscribers' who've been with us since the first edition of this newspaper -- even before we got with it --, and there are some advertisers, who have done likewise. Gratitude is a measly way to say thanks, for these.

During these 25, we've seen lots of businesses, people, buildings, places, neighboring towns, schools, land, and what-not come and go, but some folks say, "Nothing ever changes in Coryell County and Gatesville!" They should only look at Volume 1, Number 1 of the Coryell County News!

If we can 'take it' we're looking forward to the next 25, and to the chance to welcome the 50th NEWS - MERCHANT'S STORK DERBY WINNER. This time, in '61 will be the TWENTY-FIFTH.

PURMELA SCHOOL PLANS TO CONSOLIDATE WITH EVANT INDEPENDENT SCHOOLS

Plans are in the making for the consolidation of Purmela School District with Evant School District, at the recent joint meeting of the two school boards. Purmela has been a 'contract' school with Evant the past two years. A few of the Purmela students have been coming to Gatesville.

The proposals by the schools were:

1. The school building is to be given to the Purmela Community Center to be used for a community center as long as it is used for a community center.

2. The money in the Purmela trustee school fund is to be used on and for Community Center use provided it is legal by law to be kept for community center use.

3. The students of Purmela that are now going to Gatesville I. S. D. now, shall continue to go there and Evant School District will not protest a transfer of those students now or in the future. The school bus that is now running through Purmela school district will not be asked not to run in said district, provided it picks up only those students who are now attending Gatesville School.

4. A school board member from Evant will resign provided Purmela consolidates with Evant and a member from the Purmela School District will be recommended by Purmela School Board and will be appointed as trustee in the Evant Independent School District.

5. The above mentioned transfer of propertys will be done within ten days after consolidation provided a community center is organized.

It is said, that even if Purmela School people wanted to consolidate with GISD, it would be impossible because they would have to 'jump' another school district to get here. This was set up when Pearl contracted with Evant.

GRASSERS, FIFTH: LARRY HENSON GETS CALF IN HOUSTON SCRAMBLE

PROTEST SEGREGATION

Shown here is a portion of about 20 Negro and white students at the University of Texas as they demonstrated in protest against the segregation policies of the school.

Roby Hilliard, Negro student from Houston, said "We have no organization and no connection with any organization." The group carried placards and passed out leaflets near two central campus entrances. (AP Wirephoto)

TEXAS EGG LAW WORKS

March is National Egg Month, and is as good a time as any to make note of the outstanding success achieved in the operation and enforcement of the Texas Egg Law.

Within the short span of a little more than two years since it became effective, the Texas Egg Law has come to be accepted as one of the bulwarks of their business by producers, wholesalers, dealers and retailers alike. As the licensing and enforcement agency, the Texas Department of Agriculture was able to develop a program of education and explanation which was credited largely with bringing about this acceptance.

As enacted by the 55th Legislature in 1957, the Texas Egg Law was aimed at preventing eggs of poor quality or unfit for human consumption from reaching consumers. For many years Texas had been a dumping ground for poor quality eggs which failed to meet prescribed standards and could not be sold in the states where they were produced. This not only brought poor quality eggs from other states into the homes of Texas consumers but also acted to depress the price of premium eggs produced in Texas.

Rules and regulations promulgated by the Texas Commissioner of Agriculture under authority of the Texas Egg Law prescribe the standards of weight and grade, along with our pledge to do everything the quality of eggs offered for sale, and these various grades must be plainly marked on each package of eggs offered for sale.

Widespread physical inspection is accomplished through field inspectors who work out of the six District field offices of the Texas Department of Agriculture. Weekly reports are filed by each inspector as to the number of lots of eggs inspected, along with the results of the inspection.

The general acceptance of the new law is reflected in the reports covering the last fiscal year of its operation. In that year, 19,444 lots of eggs were inspected, amounting to 1,346,311 dozen eggs. Out of this huge quantity, only 610 lots were found to be in violation of the Texas Egg Law, 89 by retailers offering the eggs for sale and 521 by the wholesaler or dealer who had graded and cartoned the eggs. This was a ratio of violations amounting to only three per cent of the eggs inspected.

What is Hypocrisy?

Religion... ITS LESSONS
FOR MODERN LIVING

"But woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites!"

St. Mathew 23

Jesus repeatedly used this phrase, as related in the twenty-third chapter of St. Mathew, to expose the scribes and Pharisees as hypocrites, men who were supposed to be the religious leaders of the Jewish community.

They were in truth sanctimonious, pious prigs who knew they were always right and who would not accept the truth because it was new.

What is hypocrisy. It is lying. It may be lying to yourself, but it is still lying. Jesus had no sympathy for this type of person and he exposed them.

There is a lesson in this for modern living, because our world is filled with hypocrisy. It begins with each individual, his fears and hates and weaknesses, and spreads to institutions, ideologies and nations.

To stop it each individual must examine himself and stop lying to himself.

SECURITY A "RIGHT"?

The ADA "liberals" say that, along with the rights of free speech, free press, freedom of worship, etc., every citizen has the "right" to public protection from personal catastrophe resulting from disability, sickness, unemployment, and old age. For good measure, they add proper housing. They mean, of course, that if I can't take care of these needs myself, you should be required to help — "from each" according to ability, to each according to need.

Sounds fair enough, but suppose that, along with me, a million others decide to climb aboard the same gravy train? You keep working and paying taxes, and if I and my fellow sufferers enjoy a free ride, we are only claiming our "rights," aren't we?

But after awhile, you get tired of paying for "protection" of our "rights," and decide to get on the gravy train, too. Why shouldn't you? Don't you have the same "rights"? Just conveniently get sick, grow old, decide not to work, and move into a "substandard" house!

And so, finally, everybody gets on the gravy train. And who will pay the bill? Why, the "liberals," I suppose. Aren't they the ones who insist we all have the "right"
