Why Be Handcuffed to a one telephone home?

when an extension provides so much convenience at so small a cost

If you live in a "one phone home" you know that when the telephone rings, you have to leave whatever you're doing. The painting in the basement, the children in the playpen and the dinner on the stove all must go untended while you run up and down to answer the phone. With convenient extensions, this problem is gone forever and you get more done too!

Monday, since the 19th was on Sunday.

Included in the festivities was a dance at the Colored Community Center with Cleo's Combo furnishing the music. The folks also enjoyed a barbecue and other festivities.

PHILIPS, WISC. BEE "Instead of individuals in the state contributing extra money to the federal government in order that the federal government may dole out educational handouts, wouldn't it be far better if the states themselves would collect that same money and hand it back to the individual districts in the state."

"To those who talk and talk
This adage doth appeal;
The steam that blows the whistle
Will never turn a wheel".

VACATION—

- which are 2 short
- it consists of 2 weeks
- after which you're 2 tired
- 2 return
- 2 work
- and 2 broke
- not 2!"

"No man is born into the world whose work is not born with him. There is always work, and tools to work with, for those who will, and blessed are the horny hands of toil. The busy world shoves angrily aside the man who stands with arms akimbo until occasion tells him what to do; and he who waits to have his task marked out shall die and leave his errand unfulfilled.—James Russell Lowell."

"An individual is young as long as he is a doer. When he is willing to sit back in the easy life of the spectator it is a sure sign of approaching old age, regardless of how many years he has spent on earth.

"Youth assumes continuous growing—growing after the body has matured and had its increase in mass-growing and developing in skill and experience. Maturity wrinkles the skin; but to give up activity wrinkles the soul. You are as young as your faith, confidence, enthusiasm and energy. You are as old as your doubt, fear, despair, and love for the easy chair.

"No man who continues to be a doer is old. It is only when he relapses into the onlooker class that he and the world may know that youth has deserted him."

"Did we do alright with these 'quotes'? Well, certainly, they're good."

Sam J. Powell Jr., Coryell County Disaster Relief Chairman, urges everyone to help in this drive making contributions to the Red Cross, Gatesville.

ONE MAN: 10,000 BIRDS!

Manager Johnny Pierson, son-in-law of Dr. and Mrs. K. R. Jones of Gatesville, operates the Pierson-Craddock Triple L Egg Farm near Hamilton.

It's a one-man operation and he has 10,000 chickens. The floor is slatted for cleanliness, and 24 fans with fogging nozzles are controlled by humidistats and thermostats.

Egg gathering is in roll-out wire baskets which are placed on a trolley cart. A conveyor belt for this task is being tested.

Electric controls turn on feeders for 45 minutes, and off for an hour, and an electric pit cleaner drags the manure from underneath the slatted floor, carrying by conveyor to a manure spreader for hauling to fields.

So says a story in the July '60 edition of the Farm & Ranch.

From Reynolds Metals Company says more. The building 38x240 has 8 automatic feed lines, 500 feet of watering space; 2 6-ton bulk bins and 4 500-lb. automatic feeder hoppers; the roof is Reynolds aluminum, which helps keep the building cool in summer. Installation was by the Fulton Company, Kitson Manufacturing Co. supplies the automated equipment. "It's the first time full automation has been achieved in a poultry house of such low initial cost."

T-PATCHERS

This is the "arm-band" of the nearly 10,000 Texans of its own 36th Infantry Division, who'll hit town, Ft. Hood, the snakes, chigger and ticks in the big lay-out south and east of Gatesville. They'll be here two weeks, sopping up sun, dust, military education and other information. A Cadre from Brownwood got in a hurry and came through town Wednesday, evidently, going out to "make ready" for the big push, and up the mimmeograph.

in 1954 and arrived overseas on this tour of duty in May 1959.

WINS DAY IN COURT

AUSTIN — A suit over construction on Highway 281 in Coryell County has won new life as the State Supreme Court Wednesday agreed to hear oral arguments on July 13.

The suit was brought by McNeil Griffin and his father, C. J. Griffin of Evant, against C. F. Hawn, Herbert Petry Jr., Hall Woodard and Dewitt C. Greer, the first three being the State Highway commissioners and Greer the highway engineer.

The case grew out of a condemnation suit filed against Mrs. P. J. McNeill by Coryell County in 1932. Mrs. McNeill was the owner of a right-of-way bordering the highway and also a building near the road. The judgement of this was for $900 paid to C. J. McNeill as the father of Mrs. Griffin, since Mrs. McNeill had since died.

The warrant was cashed on May 19, 1938. From 1932 until 1958, the state did not require the building to be moved, but asked for its removal in 1958. Mr. Griffin then filed for an injunction against a threatened trespass naming the state officials and some county officials as defendants. When the case was tried in Coryell County District Court, judgement was given for the state officials claiming that Mr. Griffin could not do so without permission from the legislature.

On appeal to the 10th Court of Civil Appeals at Waco, Justice Frank Wilson said the action should not have been dismissed without a hearing and that the state officials could be taken from the list of defendants.

The application for writ of error was granted on a point saying that the Appeals Court had erred in holding that a suit to restrain individual members and employees of the State Highway Department from trespassing without authority upon lands owned by Mr. Griffin is a suit against the state.

At least three of the justices on the Supreme Court felt that the question warranted hearing by the tribunal and set the hearing for July 13.

RECOGNITION OF A VITAL INDUSTRY

This is dairy month, the time of year when we pay tribute to what is perhaps our most vital farm industry because of its essential health-giving products. As the saying goes, milk is nature's most nearly perfect food. Here are some interesting facts about milk and milk products: There are more than 200 nutrients in milk. Considering its cost per pound, milk offers more food for the money than any other food material available. There is enough energy provided by one glass of milk to: play 9 holes of golf, clean house for 2 hours, walk one mile, sew for two hours, or climb 186 stairs. The record high of almost 60 billion quarts of milk produced in 1957 was enough to fill a river more than 3,000 miles long, 40 feet wide and 3 feet deep. The river would stretch from Boston to San Francisco. Square quart milk bottles filled with this amount of milk and placed side by side would form a band around the world 140 times and these same bottles, stacked one on top of the other, would reach to the moon thirty times. The fastest growing milk product in the U. S. today is cottage cheese. Here are some 400 cheeses recognized by name today. In spite of its widespread use, cheese was not prepared commercially until about 10 years ago. It takes 10 quarts of milk to make one pound of cheese. The finished cheese contains a large proportion of the milk proteins, the minerals, the fat, and the fat-soluble vitamins found in the milk from which it was made. Ice cream dates back to about the first century when Nero sent slaves to the mountain tops for the required snow and ice. Commercial production dates back to 1851 in Baltimore when the hand-cranked freezer invented in 1846 by a woman, Nancy Johnson. Butter has been churned for thousands of years as a home-made product. The first butter creamery established in the United States began its operation in 1848 at Goshen, New York. From that beginning, the butter industry spread across the nation to become a vital part of dairying. Today dairying is one of the greatest single sources of farm income in the nation. About 20 cents of each dollar of cash receipts from farm products comes from dairying. This means about one-fifth of the nation's agricultural income is from dairying.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

Out in Sacramento, California, a major retailing operation is trying a new plan, that of selling groceries on credit cards issued by a bank. *

In other words, customers merely show their bank credit card, and the bank bills and collects for them along the same lines that bank credit cards are used to many other purchases. C. W. Harder Of course, the customer pays the bank a service charge. *

In addition, the retailer pays the bank a charge which is currently running about 3%. But then comes the interesting part. *

This particular retailing operation has for some time given trading stamps with the goods purchased from their stores. They are continuing to do this, with this exception. When a customer buys on his credit card, he receives no stamps. *

The management of the stores compute that it costs 3% of the price of the goods they sell to support the trading stamp plan. With credit purchases costing them 3% bank charges, if they gave stamps with such credit purchases, it would total 6%. Hence, the customer can have credit, or stamps, but not both. *

Thus, there comes into sharp relief the fact that in cities where practically all grocery stores have some sort of a trading stamp plan, the consumers are paying a charge of at least 3% on their food purchases, or around $100 per year in the average family. *

At one time in the immediate postwar era, some independent stores started using trading stamps to compete against the heavy advertising of chains. For a while, many independent operations benefited, but with everybody getting into the act, nobody gains today, and the consumer loses. *

Yet, it is doubtful there will be any improvement until the Federal Trade Commission quits fooling around with trivia. *

A smartly run independent food retail establishment can sell for less, and can actually beat a competing chain outlet into the ground, if they all start from the same ground rules. *

And that hinges on the independent getting the same discounts, both over and under the counter. Given this fair break, a good independent operator doesn't need trading stamps or any other gimmick. *

That is why in a recent nationwide poll conducted by the National Federation of Independent Business, 65% of the nation's independent business favor a bill now before Congress to prohibit grocery retail chains from operating food processing plants. *

It is perhaps a long uphill fight to get trading stamps outlawed by legislation. But if the public relations men of the Dept. of Agriculture, and other governmental agencies supposedly concerned over the consumer's interests, were to widely publicize the fact, as established in Sacramento, that food costs 3% more when stamps are given, it would not be too long when throughout the land trading stamps would become museum curiosities. *

INVESTING IN THE DOW-JONES INDUSTRIAL AVERAGES Selected Leaders for the Summer Rise

June 22, 1960

The recent action of the stock market suggests that the Dow-Jones Industrial Averages will reach their old highs at 680 and possibly move into new high ground above the 700 level. Although the Dow Theory is a technical tool, much maligned by many followers of the stock market, it has from time to time had extremely valuable applications and at the present time when investment interest appears to be shifting from the glamor stocks to the blue chips we feel that this theory is truly valuable.

Statistics of market action over past presidential election years present a strong case for the market averages to reach new high ground after the middle of the year. For example, in 13 out of 15 presidential election years the Averages were higher late in the year than they were in January with exceptional years being those of 1932, depths of the depression and 1940, the year when France fell.

On the more cautionary side it should be pointed out that post-presidential years have not been particularly good either for the market or for business. Since World War II there has been a decline in stock prices and in business activity every post-presidential year. In 13 out of the last 15 post-presidential election years, the Dow-Jones Industrial Averages have declined 10% or more from their highs. The last two major bear markets and depressions of 1929 and 1937 both took place after a presidential election year.

If we feel the Dow-Jones Industrials are going to rise significantly, obviously the best procedure is to purchase some selected issues that make up these Averages. Stocks recently making new high are: Eastman Kodak, General Foods, International Nickel, Johns-Manville, Owens-Illinois Glass, Procter & Gamble, Sears-Roebuck, Westinghouse Electric, and Woolworth.

Other stocks that we feel have good possibilities for appreciation this year are: Allied Chemical, General Electric, Goodyear, International Paper, Union Carbide and U. S. Steel.

For those interested primarily in income and value and not concerned with capital appreciation we recommend: American Can, American Tobacco, Bethlehem Steel, Standard Oil of California, Standard Oil of Indiana and Standard Oil of N. J.

Main loser in Little League this week, is Roy Phillips Jr., manager of Gatesville Insurance Team. He very positively instructs the catchers to wear a mask. He umpired and didn't, and he's got a real shiner. Did Gatesville Insurance Insure the eye?

Gatesville dropped a heart-breaker to Killeen, believe Tuesday nite. It was 6-6 in the 5th (overtime, already), and the locals got up and the Killeen hurler threw 9 balls to retire the side—3 SO's, and then got up and slammed a 3-ply lick, followed by another, by another, and when it ended it was 9-6 Killeen. The clubs are getting better, and looks like the locals are going to have to, too.

This bowling is catching on. They've a men's team, a ball and chain outfit and now to be organized early next week is a Teen-Age League, mixed too, boys and girls.

Baseball scores: Meth. Men 9, DQ 3; Scotts 9, Nat'l Guard 6; Jackson Ins. 28, Cummings Ins. 5; Coca Cola 10, White's 6.

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORA BERTS

JESUS, THE MASTER

Jesus was a master. He saved Himself a master.

During the 33 1/2 years that Jesus spent upon this earth, He showed His mastery over all things, animate and inanimate. He always used this mastery for the good of mankind.

In the beginning of His ministry, Jesus changed the water into wine. During His ministry He subdued the elements, hushed the sea to sleep, healed the sick and conquered death and the grave.

Jesus is the master today. He is the master over sin and the sinner, over fear and the fearful, over sickness and the sick, over demons and the demon-possessed.

Jesus, the master over sin and the sinner, took Saul of Tarsus, the chief of sinners, and changed him into a chief apostle.

Jesus, the master over fear and the fearful, calmed the angry waves, when his disciples thought their ship was going down, by saying, "Peace, be still!"

Jesus, the master of sickness and the sick, proved his mastery in His own body. For He was never sick. He healed the sick. Two-thirds of His ministry was devoted to healing.

Many people feel that the most important healing in the Bible is the healing of the woman with the issue of blood. Her faith was so strong that, when she touched the hem of Christ's garment, she was made whole.

Her story is similar to the stories of millions of people today—believing strongly in medical science, taking advantage of all that good doctors have to offer, spending all that they have to get well and yet not achieving it. Finally, they realize that if they can touch the hem of His garment, they can be restored to health and strength.

This woman in the Bible had a "point of contact" through which she released her faith. She touched Christ's garment. She believed and was made whole.

Jesus mastered death itself when He arose from the grave! He stepped out of the tomb and looked over the silent cities of the dead. Then He proclaimed, "Because I live, ye shall live also." Jesus, the master of demons and the demon-possessed, changed the demoniac whose name was Legion by casting out the evil spirits. Christ set Legion free, made him whole.

And today, Jesus is still master. It matters not what your problem may be nor how great your need appears. Jesus is still the master. If you will believe in Him, release your faith to Him, Jesus Christ, the master, will help you conquer.
