"FUSTEST WITH

THE MOSTEST"

little 'g' gatesville, Texas

Sometimes you're a flat 'blank' when it comes to a place like this. This Monday morning it's true with us.

About the only thing we can wonder about is what the Republicans are going to do in Chicago that would influence voters in Texas.

Next to nothing, we think. In spite of the lincking Texas took in the Democratic Circus, the brass collar still works, and imagine most Texans will go to the pie counters with the rest of them. Expect the Repubs to have a fair employment plank, and the other objectionables the Demos came up with.

WWe hear from the sidelines, lots of disgusts with the Demo convention and imagine they'll be doubly disgust with with the republicans.

The big parade came off at N. Ft. Hood with the 49th puttinh onhe dog. The best part of the parade in this old man's eyes was the beautiful 'dolls', swwethearts of the various outfits. We thought the viewers liked it ooo.

The top of the beauties was Miss 49th Armored Division in the shape of Miss Sharon Tipton of Pasadena. Maj. Gens. John L. Thompson Jr. and K. L. Berry were principals of the reviewing stano and Gatesville's representative in the reviewing stand was Wm. Culbert.

It is said: "Good men will always follow good leaders." "Most of us are more certain of what we don't like than of what we do like."

"Why not try for a better job on this earth instead of reserving a seat in a proposed trip to the moon?"

"It's strange how outgo precisely balances income, even counting unexpected bonuses and windfalls."

NEWSPAPERS WANT FACTS ABOUT EVENTS

It's easy to get into print with your wedding announcement if you know what information your society editor wants, when she wants it and in what form.

The story should be typed (double spaced) on an 8 1/2 x 11 sheet of paper. On the top of the page, put your name, address and telephone number so you can be easily reached.

Also indicate when the story should be released, unless you want it to be printed immediately. Generally wedding stories are printed the day after the event if it is a daily newspaper. Give a daily newspaper six or seven days before the wedding and a Sunday edition at least two weeks.

Your story should include:
 1. Full names and addresses of bride, groom, both sets of parents attendants and important guests and relatives.

2. Where when and by whom the ceremony will be performed and the type of service.

3. Descriptions of your gown, flowers, headress and veil and those of the women in the bridal party.

4. Where the reception will be decorations, menu, number of guests.

5. General location of honeymoon, when you will return home and where you will live.

6. Bride's and groom's backgrounds: education, special honors, membership in clubs, organizations, occupations.

7. Unusual details about wedding or guests.

If you wish to enclose a wedding picture, make sure it is a glossy or shiny print 5 by 7 or 8 by 10 in size. Identify clearly, on a paper attached to the back of the photo with rubber cement all persons in it and their addresses. Protect the picture with cardboard stiffeners. Do not cover up photographers credits.

For the engagement announcement all that generally is required is the name and address of the bride, groom, and their parents, background material on the couple.

DENISON, TEX. PRESS: "After studying and working with juveniles for a period of over 50 years and having ourselves reared a family of nine we have come to the conclusion (long ago) that a great mother along with a fairly decent father can get the job done without any court action, club to fence them in, community houses or youth centers."

DANIELSON, CON. Transcript: "In the next ten years, 26 million youngsters will enter the labor forces for the first time. The outlook: Thirty per cent of them will not have a high school education. During their best years most will be averaging less than half the pay of those who have been trained in skills."

"Every effort must be made to encourage our young people to obtain the best education possible - for their sake and for the sake of our entire space-age society."

LISBON, N. D., GAZETTE: "If people don't make a proper arrangements for their mail, and otherwise pleasant vacation can be a mighty frustrating experience," says a note from the postoffice. "The careless preparation or handling of vacation mail can easily result in the traveler's having fewer friends when he returns than he had when he left."

"Ahere, that ought to explain something you've been wondering about."

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

THERE IS A SCIENCE IN FAITH

There is a science in faith. There is a definite way to approach it. Faith is not something you ask for, not something you try to get; it is something you already have.

In Romans 12:3 the Bible says, "... God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith." God deals to every individual a measure—a measure of faith. Everyone comes into this world with it. You have it; I have it. Some may not use their measure of faith; some may lose it; some may misuse it; some may learn how to use it well, but each of us starts life with a measure of faith.

However, the faith that is given us is deposited in seed form. It is planted within us. We have the innate capacity for faith—the potential power to believe. But, there is a difference in faith as such and faith as an act of positive believing.

When someone approaches me and says, "Brother Roberts, I have all the faith in the world," immediately a question comes into my mind: If you have, why has it taken so long for you to put it into practice? You can have all the faith in the world but until it becomes action, until it becomes a strong, positive, motivating attitude, your faith is powerless.

Jesus said to Thomas, who had doubted his Saviour's resurrection from the dead: "Thomas, see the evidence.

Look upon me and see my nail-pierced hands." And when Thomas saw that it was the real Christ, Jesus said, "Be not faithless, but believing."

Jesus made a difference between the word faith and the act of believing. He meant this: "You may have the capacity for faith, the power to believe, but I want you to start believing."

You may be seeking divine healing from God; you already have the faith (God gave each of us a measure of faith), but are you using the faith you have? Has your faith become a living, dynamic thing? Do you feel your faith? Are you aroused to action by it? Does it push outward, striking a blow for deliverance? Does your faith bring you to a point of decision? Do you act upon your faith?

When faith is alive in you, you feel it. It is something which causes you to believe in a stronger, more positive manner.

There is a science in faith. You must learn how to use it to get what you want from God.

Faith is the very heart of the Bible's teaching. Your faith can become a living force. When it does it becomes a weapon, an instrument of deliverance, a mighty power that brings you to God and what He has promised you.

Pop Believes in the old-fashioned way. You think he looks comical at the beach? You should see his business stationery. It's 10 years old—people laugh when they look at the letterhead.

Wood Floor Finishes

Several kinds of finishes may be applied to floors so as to preserve their natural appearance. These are wood sealers, shellac, varnish or lacquer. Each type of finish has properties peculiar to itself.

Shellac is made from a resin secreted by a tropical insect. The resin is refined and dissolved in alcohol. Shellac dries very rapidly and forms a hard glossy surface. Shellac will water-stain and turn whitish when exposed to too much water.

Varnish is a finish composed of natural or synthetic resins in some type of drying oil. After drying, the film is reasonably hard and tough, and impervious to moisture. Varnish coatings take longer to dry and tend to darken with age.

Lacquer coatings consist of cellulose nitrate or derivatives dissolved in a rapidly evaporating solvent. Resin is frequently added to the mixture. Lacquer dries quickly and is resistant to moisture. However it is difficult to apply and is generally more expensive than other finishes.

Wood sealers usually consist of waxes, resins and drying oils together with a water repellent. Essentially they do not coat the wood but shallowly penetrate into the material. When applied the excess sealer is removed and the wood buffed to provide a pleasing appearance.

Although floors may be beautified and protected with any of these finishes, care must be taken to select products made specifically for wooden floors and applied as directed.

SOPHISTICATED STRIPES—Sturdy cotton fabrics have gone sophisticated this spring. Cotton ticking in chamois and white stripes is featured here in a collarless jacket and slim skirt styled by Vogue Printed Pattern 9908.

An Essential Ingredient of Outdoor Meals...

PROPER OUTDOOR LIGHTING

Experienced backyard chefs agree that one of the necessary ingredients of a successful backyard barbecue is plenty of outdoor lighting. Outdoor floodlights, mounted on poles or attached to house or garage, turn your entire backyard into an outdoor living room, where you can rest and relax or enjoy activities in the cool of the evening. Convenient, too, for doing your yard work after the hot sun goes down.

See your lighting equipment dealer or visit our office for outdoor lighting suggestions.

STEADY GROWTH STOCKS OFFERING GOOD VALUE Possible Sleepers in Today's Market

A great deal of attention is being directed presently to growth stocks, especially the so-called glamor issues. Yet the investor intrigued by quick profits to be made in the sudden rise of the stocks, overlooks the attractiveness of a stock with a steady growth pattern. A continuing rise over a period of years in a company's earnings clearly indicates good management, a desirable product and a promising outlook for the future. Oddly enough many of the companies outlined here are not in the glamor field, but produce ordinary, run-of-the-mill items. As a consequence, they have not enjoyed the favor of the investor in our present market, but, on examination, they reveal that they offer unusually good values and could eventually gain recognition as their potential is uncovered. In some cases there are small capitalizations or floating supply of stock and therefore caution should be exercised in making any purchases. In making our selections we have chosen stocks selling at less than 20 times estimated 1960 earnings and companies which have shown a continual improvement in earnings every year for at least the last three or four.

Of our selections the stocks listed in order which offer the best statistical values are Akron Brass, Air Control Products, Drackett, H. W. Lay & Co. and Broadway-Hale Stores.

Those offering the best cash dividend yields in order are: Akron Brass, Scott & Fetzer, Drackett, Air Control Products and Witco Chemical.

Those whose earnings have increased the most percentage in the last five years are: Appel Corp., Scott & Fetzer, DeJure-Amsco, Air Control Products and H. W. Lay & Co.

On the basis of products manufactured when evaluated in terms of future potential growth, we find that the following companies are most promising: Broadway-Hale Stores, DeJure-Amsco, Diebold, First Charter Financial Corp., H. W. Lay & Co. and Thermo King.

It should be recognized that there is always a greater element of risk in investing in small, unknown companies but the record of these companies which we have mentioned have been sufficiently outstanding, especially in recent years and with excellent growth prospects indicated so that we feel these stocks are good media for capital appreciation for the investor willing to assume a businessman's risk.

UNDESERVED ADVANTAGE

Sheman R. Knapp, president of Connecticut Power and Light Co. was elected president of the Edison Electric Institute at its 28th annual convention held at Atlantic City in early June of this year.

Mr. Knapp, in a speech following his election told the 3800 in attendance: "The greatest threat to our industry continues to be subsidized competition from government power undertakings and the major handicap in meeting this threat is tax inequality."

He agreed with the idea that the electric bill is a reasonable and convenient device for collecting taxes to support local state and federal government. Said Mr. Knapp "We justifiably contend, however, that everyone who pays an electric bill should make a proportionate contribution to the support of government."

In this connection Mr. Knapp pays a electric pointed out that about 20 per cent of all users of electricity in the U S A use power subsidized by the government and contribute little or nothing to the general support of the government.

We agree with Mr. Knapp that users of the socialistic (our word, not his) power produced by the government enjoy an undeserved advantage in lower rates because they escape the taxes thereon which the users of privately produced power must and do pay.

Just one more argument for the enactment of the 233rd amendment which, among other things, would take the federal government out of the Power business.

AUSTIN—A "smoke-screen of misinformation" about the proposed $1.25 per hour minimum wage and extension of coverage of the federal wage-hour law is being laid down by big hotels, chain restaurants and multi-million dollar retail establishments, the Texas State AFL-CIO charged today.

"The propaganda smoke-screen, engineered by the hotel and restaurant associations, seeks to convince the owners and operators of small businesses—the so-called 'mom-and-pop corner grocery store' and small family-operated stores and restaurants—that they will be forced to pay the federal minimum wage of $1.25," Texas State AFL-CIO President Jerry Holleman declared in a statement.

"The truth of the matter is that even the widest possible extension of the wage-hour law would not cover such businesses, and the propagandizers know it. Under the proposed law, no retail or service establishment would be covered unless it does at least a half-million dollar business annually. None of the small business establishments, such as the 'mom and - pop corner grocery', does that volume of business.

"We believe—and we feel all the people of Texas who understand the benefits to the Texas economy which would result from passage of the bill believe—that any firm doing over half a million dollars worth of business in a year should pay the minimum wage. The propagandists are shedding tears for the small corner grocery store, but if you look carefully behind the smoke-screen of information, you will find it is the big hotels, chain restaurants and multi-million dollar retail establishments which are paying for the tears.

"The proposed $1.25 per hour minimum wage and extended coverage would mean an additional $210,000,000 per year going into the hands of the 500,000 lowest-paid workers in Texas. These are the people who need it most and who will spend it immediately, not only with the big businesses opposing the increase but also with mom and pop at the corner grocery store. The $210,000,000 would be multiplied as it flowed

SELECTION PROGRAM PAYS FOR BOB MELBERN

A systematic sheep selection program has helped Bob Melbern to make more profit in his sheep operation.

Melbern is a resident of Coryell County in Central Texas. Coryell County lies in the Grand Prairie soil region and is well situated for sheep production. In 1959 Coryell County ranked 25th in the production of wool.

Bob has been a leader in a selection program in Coryell County. He first started the work in 1955, working with his County Agent and sheep specialist Jim Gray. Since then he has shown hundreds of Central Texas producers what the program can do for them. He has personally assisted many ranchers with a selection program.

Bob entered the sheep business when he was attending high school in 1938. He purchased 10 registered Rambouillets, seven more in 1942, and from this he has grown to a total of about 500 commercial ewes today. This may not be considered a large operation but is typical of the size of flocks in Central Texas.

Upon starting the selection program, the ewes were divided into 3 groups and were designated, Blue, Red, and black. As the program is outlined, the best bucks were placed with the best ewes, etc. The three groups are kept separately under similar conditions. The selection is done prior to shearing each spring.

The following points are considered in his selection program:

1. Large, smooth ewes are desired
2. Wool staple length at least three inches ..
3. Wool fineness, grading 64's or better.

through the Texas economy, and everybody would benefit.

4. Complete covering, with open faces.

Bob raises his sheep to be rugged by furnishing the minimum amount of feeding, and he says "I do not pamper my lambs because if they can't live without my help they won't be hardy enough for commercial use." He takes advantage of his leadership of having some of the finest Rambouillet sheep in the county by selling bucks to producers of Central Texas. Bob said, "I now have about 300 rams in use over the county. The demand for rams has been great. I have orders on the books for two years in advance."

Accomplishments:

Melbern said "I have made more progress in the last five years than in the preceding seven years. I haven't worked any harder at it, either. In fact I probably bought more expensive ram in those first years."

Accomplishments include (1) a change in the type of ewe. Bob was raising big, upstanding, white-top ewes. Now he has a group medium size and less legginess, and less mature weight. (2) heavier fleece weight, more length and a more uniformly covered animal. (3) increased lamb crops. (4) Heavier lambs at weaning age. (5) Running more animals on the same acreage. (6) Receives a premium on wool clip.

"I am making $2.00 per head more than before I started the selection program. I have also increased my stocking rates, due to smaller ewes and better management," commented Mr. Melbern.

Bob doesn't worry too much about the grease fleece weight. He is more interested in the amount of clean wool he has to sell. He stated that his goal was to produce 5.5 lbs. of clean wool per ewe and 100 per cent lamb crop. The last two years he produced 4 - 4.5 lbs. per ewe average. His lamb crop has increased to over 100 per cent in his top group.

In line with his selection program, he takes great pains to market a top quality clip. He usually tags his sheep two times a year. The fleece at shearing time are carefully cared for to keep the fleece in top quality. On large warehouseman has stated that there is only one other man who brings in a comparable clip in preparation and quality. This kind of clip is usually sold at a good premium.

"The selection program did 2 things for me," commented Mr. Melbern. "Once I got started in it I had to give up sentiment. If a ewe didn't produce, she left the ranch. The other thing is that it has helped me to produce something I am proud of."

Bob's other operations include cattle and goat production and farming, including maize, oats and wheat. He is a leader in many activities in the county, being chairman of the A. S. C. County Committee, president of the Coryell County Sheep and Goat Raisers Association, member TS&GRA, past chairman of County Program Building Committee, to name a few. His family includes his wife, Sophie, and children, Bill and Paula.

Blaze New Trails

"The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight." — Luke 3:4

The above passage describes John The Baptist who prepared the way for Jesus who baptised Him, and who came to a violent end during Jesus' ministry.

Most people know this story, but so often they fail to realize that John the Baptist was a leader; he knew what he had to do and he made the path straight and followed it.

Not everyone, of course, can be a leader. But each of us has stumbled upon the fundamental truth or ideal, if you prefer, and that is when we should become a leader—even if in a very small way.

In our troubled society—in our modern world—it is important that anyone who finds the right ideals to work for them, to be the first to blaze the trail, no matter what other people are saying or doing.

Serve: Donations, Pee-Wees

Jaycees met at their new meeting place, the National Guard Armory recently, with the Gatesville Jaycee-Ettes served the meal, prepared and served by them. The Jaycees voted to make donations to the pee-wee baseball league for additional baseball equipment, and to the 4-H Club to be used at the annual boys-girls picnic held at Raby Park. Two films were shown, "The Jaycee Story," and the 2nd was of the Jaycee Rodeo Parade, Western Week Winner, Dyche's Cafe, and of the local teen-age golf match held at Gatesville Country Club.
