"FUSTEST WITH

THE MOSTEST"

Little 'g' Gatesville, Texas

This is addressed to high school students.

Quoting in part an editorial in the Ft. Worth Star-Telegram: Many Texas young people of school age are facing one of the most important decisions of their lives, though many fail to realize it. The decision is whether to go back to school next month or to forego an education and stick with the job they acquired during the summer.

The editorial continues, advising them to stay in school, and we do too.

Evidence is that those who continued to work, afterward after finding out the hard way, have gone back to get it the hard way and are resuming their education with a family, a full time job and an accumulation of financial obligations.

A high school diploma has become a minimum requirement for many jobs, and the trend is toward higher and higher educational qualifications as technology in business and industry advances. Low wages and uncertain employment will become increasing hazards for the poorly educated in the future. Even the federal government is conducting a nationwide stay-in school program.

Now that's all well and good but leaves public schools, ours and all others with a challenge if not a demand to improve their instruction from all angles, teachers equipment, curriculum and most probably, efficiency.

For the going to college students, there must be courses designed for their benefit, and for the students not going to college, equally important are courses designed to give them something to do when they are graduated.

We believe the schools have a greater responsibility in this respect than the students, for the students cannot if it is not given to them.

Creation of a survey to more nearly make the schools school for the students purposes than schools for curriculum or other forces should be immediate and effective.

This here school business, as the students themselves say, is the mostest.

SPARROW LIVES HIGH — Leon McMillan of La Marque feeds pet sparrow Heckle milk from a spoon. The McMillan's boys found the bird after it was orphaned by hurricane Audrey in 1957. Heckle escaped his happy home and everyone thought he would never be seen again, but a few days later the bird returned and pecked on the screen door in an effort to gain entrance. Since then Heckle has been living with the McMillans in their air-conditioned home for three years. (AP Wirephoto.)

SAND-WICH, ANYONE?—Suzanne Hill, 7-months-old, liked her day at South Beach in Corpus Christi so well that she thought she's sample a little of the sand.

Most people are, at heart, collectors and nature abundantly provides us with many things of interest to collect. To mention a few, here are rocks, types of soil, leaves, insects, and kinds of wood. Wood collecting is a universal hobby. There is an International Wood Collector's Society through which information and samples can be exchanged.

samples about 4" long, 2 1-2 wide and 3-4" thick. They are placed on all surfaces so that the natural grain can be observed. General identification of wood is usually accomplished with a small hand lens which magnifies the minute wood structure to 10 or more times its normal size. For very precise work a microscope and other sensitive instrument are frequently employed.

The hobby of wood collecting, while being inexpensive, is also very rewarding. Collectors exchange wood samples from their localities for samples from other areas and even other lands. This not only enlarges one's collection and knowledge of wood, but also

TWO MINUTE MYSTERY

THE CASE OF
THE MODEL UNIVERSE

By DONALD J. SOBOL

"What's it now?" asked Dr. Haledjian. "A uranium mine, sunken bullion, or a pill that converts dishwasher into high octane gasoline?"

"Nothing paltry as that, old chap," answered Bertie Tilford, a young Englishman with more get-rich-quick ideas than fleas on a monkey. "I'm investing in the universe."

Bertie paused to observe the effect of his words. Then he qualified, "Or at least as much of the universe as can be seen by our most powerful telescopes."

Haledjian merely registered skepticism.

"It's the coming thing, the universe," said Bertie. "Five centuries ago man stood on the threshold of vast discoveries. Columbus brought back reports of a new world. Today, man stands on the threshold of thousands of new worlds!"

"You're planning to buy stock," guessed Haledjian. "On Mars or Venus?"

"On this!" exclaimed Bertie. With a regal gesture he produced a tiny ball. It proved a beautifully wrought one-half inch model of the earth.

"Professor Standford T. Platt is going to build a model of the universe, as accurate as modern science allows. We'll show it in stadiums and indoor arenas, like Madison Square Garden. It'll be educational!"

"And costly," muttered Haledjian. "You've got to spend to make," returned Bertie. "Prof. Platt is trying to raise a million dollars. He'll need to manufacture thousands of stars and planets and moons and what not. But it'll be a sensation. Every

MYRTLE CREEK, ORE., MAIL:
 "Just what, in the long run, have we solved by our enormous and expensive farm subsidy program? You can still go broke, or get rich, in the marketing business—just as in any other type of independent business—depending upon how hard you work, how shrewdly you operate, how timely you buy and sell, and how happily many elements over which you have little if any control contrive to deal with you. You can not expect to push a button on the enormous machine that is government and expect it to provide suitable solutions for everybody."

NORWALK, CONN. HOUR:
 "Nothing reveals the absurdity of the drive for all-out federalization of everything as clearly as the proposal to establish a new cabinet position. The proposed post is a 'department of urban affairs.'
 "If it is ever formed it ought to be called a monument to the dead spirit of America. It would mark the end of local responsibility which is the motivating power of good government in the United States."
 "Proposing a new bureau to remedy the shameful neglect of local government is a manifestation of the decay of democracy."

A Theologian's View

"Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!" — Psalm 133:1

What do some of the world's most famous theologians think about disunity among Christians?

One says: "I can't believe that Christ wanted to establish 250 sects. In the mind of God there must be one church."

If we want to get out of this dead end, we must look back to the origins of the church. We must become disciples. Let us start there and leave aside the discussions of dogma, hierarchy and so on," says another.

All agree that there must be greater unity of Christianity if we are to solve any of the world's problems and survive. It must begin in our own hearts, in our own community among neighbors or we have missed one of the great lessons repeated again and again in the Bible.

Weekly Stock Market Round-Up

Prepared by the Investment Research Department of Hemphill, Noyes & Co., 15 Broad Street, New York 5, N. Y. Members of the New York Stock Exchange

August 17, 1960

Until such time as some encouraging news and earnings are reported, it would seem to be reasonable not to expect any substantial reversal in the trend which has appeared, namely one of gradual erosion of stock prices.

In 1960, the six best acting major groups, in this order, have been: Office Equipments, Tobaccos, Public Utility Holding Companies, Telephone & Telegraphs, Public Utilities, Dept. Stores.

The six worst acting groups, respectively, have been: Rubbers, Airlines, Autos, Aluminums, Chemicals, Coppers.

In our opinion, the market is displaying erosive weakness due to the many uncertain factors which are now making themselves increasingly apparent. Surely, the international situation has become even more unsettled than it was four months ago.

Certainly, the coming elections make it even more difficult to assess the actual economic condition of our country. One party would have us believe we are in one of the most healthy and expansionary economic periods; the other finds it expedient to paint as black a picture as feasible. Also the ratio of loans to deposits appears unhealthily high, over 70%, at present.

On balance, we are not particularly enthusiastic about the outlook for the stock market in general for the next several months.

We are lowering Department Stores and Food from buy to hold. Our reasons for this are that in the case of Department Stores, earnings are not measuring up to previous expectations and consumer credit could be overly high. The Food stocks have performed exceedingly well in the past four months and are currently at levels that seem to discount at least to some extent, their favorable long term outlook. We have added the tobacco stocks to the buy category on the basis of good yields and improving earnings. Both Electrical Equipment, Chemicals and Paper have been downgraded to hold due to shrinking profit margins. At current levels, high grade oil equities could be attractive for those seeking a good current income plus a better than average opportunity for longer range appreciation. In our opinion...

CAMPAIGN ENSEMBLES — Women supporters of either political candidate Richard Nixon or John Kennedy will be campaigning this fall in these two ensembles designed by Neiman-Marcus and selected by the executive staffs of both candidates for their women's groups. Kennedy campaigners will wear a skirt of flag blue, a true blazer jacket of white lightweight flannel, piped in flag blue, with Navy brass buttons. Nixon supporters will campaign in a white pleated or straight skirt of Delgado fabric, topped by a flag blue, double-breasted yachtman's jacket with giant pearl buttons and three-quarter length sleeves. The Dallas and Houston stores will be exclusive outlets for the ensembles. (AP Wirephoto).

ANSWER TO 'LITTLE G' OF APRIL 26 PRINTED IN AUG. SHEEP & GOAT RAISER

Apr. 26 edition of the NEWS we carried a 'little g' column on sheep and goat raisers wearing and eating sheep and goat products. Theirs, the Sheep & Goat Raiser answered it and a letter to hem, thusly, in all of which we concur, and agree in every way. It saysh:

"Ed's note: "Mr. Jones, you're right! Ranch people should wear more of their products, and eat them, oo. It would heup.

"Two pins, wool and wool-mohai combinations, unfortunately, are a little expensive for work wear. And if every grower wore nothing but wool all year around, it would not obviate the advertising and promoting wool, for the grower consumption, even then would be only a drop in the bucket in the overall picture.

It is not the failure on the part of some of the growers to wear wool all the time that is of deeper concern to the industry. It is the reluctance of so many growers in Coryell and other counties to support the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers Association which plays a primary part in making the Incentive Payment Program possible. This program provides for advertising and promotion throughout the United States to all people involving consumption of millions of pounds of wool.

How about pointing this out in your editorials?

The significance of the signs on the growers pickups is not so much that the growers are advertising their products as they are most likely members of the Tex. Sheep & Goat Raisers which is fighting for them in all matters, including wool-mohair advertising. We hope to see more such signs on pickups and automobiles."

This Ed's note: We're with you Mr. Ed all the way, but unfortunately, ne neither own a goat or a sheep and we can't qualify for the windshield sticker. We do agree that more of our own Coryell County folk should be a member of your association, and proudly display the windshield sticker.

Note to sheep and goat men in Coryell County. This is good advice from Sheep and Goat Raiser, sanctioned (if it makes any difference) by us, and we urge you to

Yes, indeed it's a pleasant twist to know that yankees have been welcome squatters at one spot in the world where they made a heap of friends that their leaving has engendered sincere regret.

An interesting sidelight is that during the Yankee sojourn at Pepperell, 2500 Newfoundland girls married Americans and, still more interesting, only one of this great number of marriages has busted up in divorce.

Leaverton Will Support Turman In Speaker Race

State Representative H. A. Leaverton today announced his support of James A. Turman for Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives. In making the announcement, Leaverton said:

Mr. Spilman is a high class gentleman and my friend, but in my opinion, Mr. Turman's philosophy of government serves the interest of my district and the State better than does the philosophy of Mr. Spilman.

Mr. Turman is a moderate in all that he does. Some of his critics have attempted to tag him as an extreme liberal, claiming that he supported organized labor. The facts are that the record of Mr. Turman on labor and wage issues in the House was 5 to 1 against and that of Mr. Spilman was 6 to 1 against. Turman's "AYE" vote was for graduated maximum hours for firemen and for hours for policemen that would not be longer than the hours for other city employees. The "AYE" vote of Mr. Spilman was to increase the pay of State employees up to 15 per cent.

But why deal in generalities? Let's examine the records as applicable to us in District 62.

Our Tarleton four year college district especially Erath County. Spilman voted against us; Turman not only voted for us, but he was a member of the State Affairs Committee which considered our bill and helped us get the bill out of the committee and then helped us pass it on the floor.

Our farming industry is of utmost importance. Turman supported most farm bills and Spilman opposed almost all of the major agricultural bills. To be specific as to a few: The milk inspection bill for out of state hipers was vital to our great milk producing industry. Turman voted for the bill and Spilman against it. Turman voted for improvement in our farm extension service; Spilman voted against it. A bill was introduced to eliminate our farm to market money. Turman opposed that bill and Spilman voted for it.

One big issue in the last session was Sales Tax vs. Pipeline Tax. The big prosperous pipelines are taking our gas out of the state fast at extremely low prices and paying comparatively little tax. Turman thought they should pay a reasonable tax. Spilman voted against such a tax. Instead he voted for a general sales tax. My district

Electricity is your better way to cook...because it's AUTOMATIC

Go ahead . . . take time out for a telephone chat or a coffee break with the neighbors . . . your electric range will watch over your cooking for you. Thermostat-equipped electric surface units maintain any selected cooking temperature automatically, preventing boil-overs and burned foods. The clock-controlled oven turns itself on and off at pre-set times, cooks a complete meal unattended. You'll spend less time in the kitchen, have more time for other things, when you cook the automatic electric way. See your electric range dealer soon.

H. A. (Buddy) BIFFLE District Manager

has indicated it is against the general sales tax at this time. I don't think a 2 per cent tax on our farmers—the heart of our industrial life—on their tractors, trucks, autos, trailers, plows, cultivators, drills, balers, combines, seed, feed, building material and many other items would be best for our district at this time. Turman voted for the gas pipeline tax and against the general sales tax; Spilman voted exactly opposite.

In 1958 the people of Texas voted overwhelmingly for a Constitutional Amendment that fixed a new limit on payment to our aged and needy. Several bills were introduced trying to implement this Amendment. Turman's votes were for the bills; Spilman's votes were against them.

Turman was reared on a farm and worked his way through college to a Doctorate of Education. He is a man of dignity, broad learning and unimpeachable character. On moral issues Jimmy Turman has consistently followed the high road of moral responsibility. The trend of thinking may be indicated by the following: Turman introduced a bill to outlaw "Nudist Camps" in Texas; Spilman by his vote helped kill the bill.

These are a few of the many reasons that induced me to support Dr. Turman for Speaker of the House of Representatives.

WYNNE CHESTER SAYS:

If You're Married to a Daniel Boone... Relax!

"D. Boone killed a BAR on this tree year 1760."

What if Daniel Boone couldn't spell when he carved those words on a tree in Tennessee? He could sure shoot. To him, hunting wasn't a sport. It was an occupation.

If your husband's a modern Daniel Boone, it might be a good idea for you to learn to shoot, too.

You don't have to "kill a BAR" to join the fun. A clay pigeon at your local trap and skeet club will do.

Of course, the first thing you need is a gun . . . and some good instruction. You'll enjoy learning to shoot from the very first. Next you'll want some of the exciting new trap and skeet shooting clothes. They're gay, colorful and comfortable, and you'll feel as attractive as you look. You'll love the roomy pockets where you can keep your powder dry . . . and your lipstick, rouge, powder puff and paper tissues dry, too.

Clothes don't make the sharpshooter, I'll admit. But an eye-catching outfit never caused a woman to miss a target. The same thing, fortunately, can't be said of a man. Praise the Lord and pass the ammunition!

Indications are for a glorious football season. Comanche and Belton schimmaged the Hornets last week and they wen to Taylor Saturday night. Critics seem to think the Hornets are 'the stuff' this year. We agree they seem to have it, but, let's not get over ambitious—we've seen a lot of big ones fall. We can't get over confident, or can we. A few injuries might even stop the Hornets:

The fans indicated, also they were 'on the ball' because with little publicity they were out at the scrimmage more than we've seen here at some regular football games.

Since it was only practice, there is no story, but the A squad looks potent, but needs some more pass defense, and, well, the season's not even nearly started, and the coaches all know they've got a lot to do before even thinking about a district title, which experts say should be ours.

Band's been working —maybe you didn't know that—and the cheer leaders, Ladell Bartlett, Nancy Brown, Martha Parker, Carolyn McClellan and Fonda Chambers attended a cheer leader school at SMU and since have had a regular workout routine.

The juniorh started and the Bs have been giving the varsity a little competition, tnd everything shapes up for a big season. The Boosers Club has 160 members at $5 a throw and are looking for more.

More golf this week end, and maybe some matches were played this week but we didn't hear.

Games this week: Hornets-Badgers, there; G'town-McGregor, Rochelle-Evant; C. Cove-Academy, Roosebud-Marlin, Cameron-West, Taylor-Gonzales, Mexia-Reicher, Hillsboro-Climton, Teague-Mart, Hamilton-Goldthwaite, Valley Mills-Midway, Crawford-Lorena.

PAINT

Printed advertising is far better because it lets you select the people to whom you're going to advertise and reach each one at low, low cost. Let us help you develop a printed mail advertising campaign at low cost to you.
