

"Texas Champion Trees" In "The Texas Parade" Include Mesquite

—69—

Nate: Fame of Coryell County's "Biggest Mesquite Tree in the World" is spreading, and the latest spread is in the July edition of "The Texas Parade". Coryell County SHOULD feature this tree; it's featuring Coryell County. We quote the story, and at the same time, thank The Texas Parade for 'giving' us this break, also, the American Forestry Association).

"Four Texas Giants are largest of their species in national Big Tree competition.

"The search has been on for about 20 years to find the best tree of every species that grows in America. The American Forestry Association, final official arbiter of claims, finds it necessary now and then to de-throne an old champion and crown another. The change in title may come from a new discovery, or an old champion may succumb to the ravages of disease, fire or commercialism.

"Currently Texas has the champion in four categories—mesquite as would be expected, but also, surprisingly, water oak, holly and red bay. It is indeed painful to note that none of the famous trees under which treaties were signed and outlaws were hanged measure up in size to some of their species that have been found in other states.

"Texas can't even lay claim to the largest pecan, the official state tree. But of perhaps more practical significance is the fact that Texas leads all other states in the production of pecans—in a good year up to $12 million worth at wholesale. Shelled or whipped into pralines and fudge, the figure is a lot more. It was at least in part because of the economic potential that Governor James Stephen Hogg led the movement which culminated in the 1919 act of the legislature declaring the pecan to be the official state tree of Texas.

"Here are the vital statistics of the Texas champions:

"The biggest mesquite is on the "Old Smith Place" near the community of Flat south of Gatesville in Coryell County. It measures 10 feet 9.5 inches in circumference, 65 feet in crown spread, and 60 feet in total height.

"The champion red bay is 10 miles east of Shepherd on the Coley Creek Road in Liberty County. Its circumference is 84.5 inches, height is 45 feet and crown spread is 58 feet.

"Also in Liberty County, growing 3 miles west of Hardin, is the nation's largest holly. It measures 13.5 feet in circumference, 53 feet in height and has a crown spread diameter of 61 feet.

"The reigning water oak is in Shelby County 9 miles north of Center, on the old Center-Logansport road. It has a circumference of 20 feet 3 inches, height of 70 feet and a crown spread of 100 feet.

"If Texas is to lay claim to the biggest tree, someone must find one bigger than the 3500-year-old General Sherman, California giant sequoia who's girth is over 101 feet. A new record for the

Donald Flentge Buys John Reesing's Part Of Gatesville Drug

This morning, there is a new owner of Gatesville Drug Company.

Donald Flentge, former Gatesville boy, and son of X Ed Flentge of Gatesville has bought the interest of John P. Reesing in the Gatesville Drug Company and will be the new partner of Bert Floyd.

Mr. Flentge has been a Dallas pharmacist in one of the chain drug stores there, and is a graduate pharmacist with a number of years of experience in the drug business.

Mr. Reesing, who has been owner of the business for, well, years and years, has been in semi-retirement for some time since Mr. Floyd bought half interest in the enterprise a few years ago.

It is reported there will be no appreciable change in the operation of the business.

Mr. Flentge's wife is a native of Hickman, Ky. and they have a daughter, and will be moving to Gatesville some time this month. Mr. Flentge plans to begin his duties about the 10th.

tallest tree must top the 368 feet redwood in Humboldt County, California. As for the age, the championship is among the bristlecone pines of the West where at least one has been proven to be over 4600 years old.

"These will be hard to top. But there is one thing Texans can do. That is to preserve the champions they have. According to the Texas Forest Service, there is no plan or organization to preserve and publicize the four Texas trees that now wear national crowns. These and future discoveries are inherent points of interest that could be promoted into major tourist attractions. They deserve a place in guidebooks, travel folders and in published stories telling of Texas' wonders. But first must come an organized plan to assure the care and adulation that benefits champions."

See what the man says! We've tried, and failed.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

The unfairness of expecting tax-paying business enterprises to compete against non-tax paying operations is becoming more and more apparent to the people of the nation.

Appearing before the House Ways and Means Committee, in deliberations on tax reforms, George Burger, vice president in charge of the Washington office of the National Federation of Independent Business presented the constantly rising tide of feeling on permitting cooperatives to escape payment of income taxes required from independent enterprises with which they compete.

He pointed out that in September of 1939 in a nationwide poll of independent businessmen, 72% requested that this favoritism be ended. In a poll on the same question taken in March of this year, the vote for this relief had grown to 84%.

Mr. Burger then further testified as an adjunct to the widespread nationwide polls, the Federation's field staffs this year also made spot check polls throughout the country on which problems of small business loomed largest.

Next to the need for an overhaul of tax laws, the problem of unfair competition from cooperatives ranked as the major problem, even outranking unfair labor practices.

And while ruinous price competition from imports ranked high as a major problem, only in North and South Carolina, and Connecticut, out of all the 50 states and the District of Columbia, did this problem

Columbia, did this problem outweigh in gravity the problem of independent business paying taxes and seeking to compete with cooperatives enjoying a most favorable tax status.

Spontaneous comments volunteered by businessmen were most interesting. In Kansas it was said "Put the co-ops on an equal tax basis with private enterprise. The taxes that they dodge is becoming an almost unbearable burden on our private enterprise sector."

A businessman in the state of Washington said "Unfair competition by co-ops is our big gripe. We have two of them in our town. I will be a bright day for independent stores when our Congress has the courage to change its law." From Wisconsin "If co-ops were taxed like any other private business they would not be able to undersell." From West Virginia "Let's get the co-op taxed as everyone else is taxed. They deserve no more than I deserve. Thousands of small businesses are going to be forced out unless we tax everyone the same."

And as Mr. Burger pointed out, it is not only independent businessmen who are protesting this injustice.

Last year, the National Federation of Independent Business testified before Congress that cooperatives should bear their fair share of the income tax burden. There is no attack on cooperatives as such. But the overwhelming sentiment seems to be there is no more reason for exempting business enterprises from taxes merely because they operate under the term of co-ops than there is to exempt from personal income taxes all mixed blends. This latter, of course, would do wonders for the sales volume of the pesticide industry.

By BILL McVEY
The Christian Herald Singer
"I want to sing, Daddy." These words were spoken by my three-and-a-half year old daughter and were her greeting to me when I called home one day from out of town.

She was happy, so she wanted to sing. I listened to at least four unrecognizable verses after which she stopped, caught her breath and said, "I'm happy now!"
My little daughter has discovered something that most of us have forgotten - everyone can be happier by singing.
Today's inhibition's, unknown by us as children, deter most of us from bursting out in song when in the company of others.
Singing is as natural to a human being as crying or laughing. Secretly many of us, as untutored as we may be, love to sing. No one knows how many secret songsters applaud their efforts in the privacy of their bathrooms or while driving alone.
The best music to get the bathroom artists singing in public, at a family get-together, or group singing to inspire everyone is hymns.

Singing hymns leads us to a higher plateau of devotion - of understanding God's love and our fellow man.
For instance a stranger in Bermuda got on a public bus filled with children returning from a Sunday School. They were singing hymns and he recognized "In the Garden." He sang with the young choristers and found he was no longer a stranger.
"Something happened. I don't know what it was," he later told me. "A bond seemed to unite all spirit.

The man, the choir girls on the bus, the seventeen teenagers, the crowd - all were caught up in a great experience. This is what my friend who visited Bermuda tried to explain.
Singing hymns creates an atmosphere of brotherhood - a feeling of unity. A divine bond blends

NOTE: THIS GIFT. "Hymn Thoughts for the Day," will be mailed by Christian Herald magazine to readers who respond to the National Newspapers all the uplifted voices together as one voice. As we sing a hymn we may forget our problems, our worries, even our fears, but more important, we find new strength through each hymn we sing, strength to face the adversities of life.

Great experiences seldom happen to most of us, but you can turn any Sunday morning, any family gathering, any social get-together into a great experience, really singing those hymns.

Perhaps a revival of hymn singing will re-echo around the world and serve as notice behind the Iron Curtain of our greatest strength - our Christian unity and brotherhood reaffirming our determination that all men shall be as free as we are to sing the hymns they choose to sing.

I think I can explain that "feeling" of our visitor to Bermuda. When it occurs there's no mistaking it.

I've sung hymns with skeptical teenagers who've started off thinking that this is just about as "square" as you can get. But something happens. When it does you no longer hear yourself. All you know is that seventeen youngsters sound like a hundred voices.

Watch thousands entering a stadium, or a few hundred gathering in a church for a humu sing. At the beginning of the program you see them as individuals wrapped up in their own lives, their own problems.

Many have come just to listen, to be in the audience, but the moment comes when they cannot be passive. Everyone seems to be singing and suddenly those who have come to listen are singing, too.

I've walked down the aisle urging people to sing. I've stood next to a man who was shouting the words. He couldn't carry a tune, but there was a melody in his heart and he was singing with

FOR and AGAINST

FOR CHRIST against COMMUNISM

BY BILLY JAMES HARGIS, D.D.
FOUNDER CHRISTIAN CRUSADE

WALKS FOR "PEACE"

On January 20, 1961 Gus Hall, general secretary of the Communist Party in the United States, made an important report to the National Committee of the Party in New York City. Among other things, he directed the communists to work for the "creation of a mass grass-roots movement for peace and disarmament, involving literally millions of Americans." The Communists were ordered to bring "even children" into this struggle to disarm the United States and leave our nation helpless at the mercy of a cruel, fully armed communist tyranny.

In this drive to disarm and defeat the United States the communists already have the enthusiastic support of various pacifist-type groups which flatly refuse to consider the nature of the international communist enemy. One of the groups fighting for the disarmament of the United States is an organization known as the Committee For Non-Violent Action. They are sponsoring a so-called "walk for peace" from San Francisco to Moscow. The walkers left San Francisco on December 1—or were scheduled to leave on that date—and are scheduled to arrive in New York City on May 29, 1961.

The literature of this Committee For Non-Violent Action leaves no question as to the goal of their "walk for peace." For example, they call for our nation to "take the initiative in disarmament and continue to disarm regardless of what other nations do." Stop and think of the shocking implications of this stupid demand. These people want our nation to disarm and put the American people completely helpless at the hands of the international communist conspiracy. Of course, they call for other governments to do the same thing but their goal is our government. In one piece of their literature they say: "...the walk must have a single, unified impact on the American public..."

One of the qualifications required for participation in this so-called walk for peace is "civil disobedience in America." The Committee explains that this means the person should have committed "civil disobedience" in opposition to military policies and programs in missile base or anti-civil defense demonstrations, in non-registration, or other non-cooperation with the draft. In fact, this committee listed a record of having engaged in "civil disobedience" in the United States as "one of the major factors" which is considered in selecting members for the walking team. There were other walks or marches for Peace around the nation which were highly commended in the April 2, 1961 communist Worker, a special "Peace" issue.

Address your questions to Dr. Hargis, Christian Crusade, Tulsa 2, Oklahoma.

VIEWS and NEWS

from our Congressman BOB POAGE
July 21, 1961

Dear Friends

This morning I watched, as many of you did, the launching of the second American into space. It was a brief and fleeting voyage but it establishes beyond doubt that man CAN go into space and CAN re-enter the earth's atmosphere. To me, it proves, if any proof were necessary, that man will within the next few years go to the moon and return. The real question is: who will be first? the USA or the USSR?

I know that there are many who ask "why do we bother to go to the moon?" I would ask "why did Queen Isabella sell her jewels to finance Columbus' voyage to America?" Columbus discovered nothing on that voyage but some sand bars in the Caribbean. The first man to the moon will probably bring back nothing more spectacular than a jar of dust, but who can believe that the moon and the planets will not in the rather near future contribute metals and possibly other elements which will give us a higher standard of living just as the discovery of the western hemisphere raised the standards of the old world? Who can doubt but that the research and development of instruments involved in the first trip to the moon will give the nation which makes it a dominance in space which may well mean the complete ability to thwart any type of attack? Although we do not want to launch any attack, we cannot allow the Soviets to establish space stations from which they might destroy us.

Surely the by-products of such research and effort will include a complete revolution of our present known means of communication. Witness satellites, Echo, transit and a whole host of others that are bound to come. These efforts will surely mean, if not control over the weather, an entirely new understanding of the weather. That there is something far more substantial than mere dreams, witness the proposal of the largest corporation in the world (the A. T. & T.) to finance a whole family of satellites for commercial use. No, America cannot and will not be counted out of the space race. Congress and the President have recognized its importance. Just yesterday I was glad to join with a majority of both houses in passing the Conference Report on the bills authorizing $1,800,000,000 for the beginning of this work as requested by President

THE PEACEFUL YEARS

When Mrs. Blank went shopping in those years, she dressed completely, and tripped along the street, usually, no paving, and chug holes from wagons and buggies.

She went by Foster's Apothecary, for a few pills, salves, liniments and tonics; mostly Patent Medicines.

She also brought by her doctor's prescription, and it was filled quickly and expetly, with quality drugs, then, just the same as now.

Now thru these years, she's been coming back to FOSTER'S. Medical supplies have changed, but FOSTER'S expert mixing, quality drugs, and convenience have not changed—no, improved. Try
