By City: Starts 15th;
Confer With Engineers

—69—
Tuesday night, they met again —City Council— and named a new police officer for night duty — Ross Neill, who is an employee of SSB.

Mr. Neill is married and Mrs Neill is employed in County Clerk A. W. Ellis' office.

Other action at the Tuesday night meeting was a discussion with engineers and bonding company agents on the proposed sewage plant, and other items.

STILL A CHANCE. BUT IT'S GETTING NEARER, DAILY:
MIGHT FREEZE ANY MINIT

—69—
Them as has guessed the freeze as per the Guaranty Bank & Trust Compay between the hours of 8:30 a m and 6:00 p m, are safe. They MIGHT WIN!

Them as hasn't guessed, better start guessing. It's about the ONLY thing on Coryell County, Gatesville, Texas, USA and the Globe that don't cost you nothin' 'sept your time, and the way ours goes, that don't seem to be much.

Down below here's a list of prizes you might be interested in and if you ain't, then they'd make good Christmas Gifts, and that'd be something! Nobody else in Coryell County gives you nothin'. The NEWS does!

We get your guess, date and time it, and the one that hits the day on the head that's in our office first, is the winner. Last year, it was James A. Dixon. This year, it might be YOU!

So far, we've cleared these who will 'gift you' if you are THE winner: Sammy Lillibridge, 3 Legend Records; City Drug Store $1 merchandise, Lewis Shoe Store 1 pr. hose, Leonard's Department Store, 1 pair hose; Gatesville Drug Co. 1 lb. King's candy, Hollingsworth Food Market, 1 can cheli, White Auto Store, 1 gal. anti-freeze, Webb Studio, 1 portrait Round-Up Cafe, plate lunch, Jack Healer Humble Station, battery charge, Morgan's Gulf Station, grease job, Mrs. J. B. Graves, Florist, potted ivy, Jones boys mtd & sally maude, Venus pen, Coryell County News, 100 papers, Bennett's, 1 flannel shirt, Gatesville Bow-lanes, Inc., one game.

Those we've not contacted yet (at no commission) but who'll probably okah the deal (we haven't had one miss yet) are Yellow-Cab, which gave a 50c ride and Gatesville Chamber of Commerce, a 1 month membership.

Now, this isn't a 'closed corporation' and if any other merchants would like some free publicity until it "freezes" then just tell THE NEWS about your gift for the guesser of the first freeze on the Guaranty corner in 1961.

Conservation Requirements
Necessary in '62 Wheat
Price Support

Growers who want price-support protection for their '62 wheat crops must know the conservation requirements of the '62 wheat stabilization program.

In '62 the same compliance is required and also an intention-to-participate form must be filed and acreage diverted from the production of wheat must be devoted to an approved conservation use. Program payments will be made to producers for conserving the diverted acres.

There is a 10 percent reduction below what the allotment would have been under previous legislative authority.

Farmers should check with the ASC County Office about approved conservation practices to be carried out on diverted wheat acreage to comply for '62. Final signing date is Dec. 1, 1961.

HOW TO LIVE WITHOUT A BUDGET

We'd like to remind you that our lawmakers have just set a new peacetime spending record—approximately $95.8 billion, well over $11 billion more than the prevails peak.

The massive total staggers our imagination. We were never one for figuring out astronomical figures. But there is something we have discovered, to our dismay and distress. Of the $95.8 billion, more than $48 billion has been appropriated for non-military spending as against $47 billion plus for defense.

So we're goong to spend more money running things at the same old government stand than we spend for our global defense!

The government has lived within its six times in the last 30 years. It's more than $290 billion in debt—and that debt is an obligation against every man, woman

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"
By C. WILSON HARDER

The action of the Justice Dept. in securing a Grand Jury indictment against three big U.S. combines on charges of monopolizing and price fixing practices on the three major "wonder drugs" could well become a milestone in anti-trust enforcement.

It is manifestly not proper, not fair, to attempt to predict what the verdict of a court will be in a case like this. Trial by newspaper is not in the American tradition.

But regardless of what verdict is finally given, it is quite an encouraging note that not only has the Justice Dept. taken this action of inquiry, but that Sen. Estes Kefauver has for some time been investigating the drug situation, as well as the Federal Trade Commission.

There can be no question but what America has the best medical care system in the world. In addition, people have free choice of doctors, free choice of pharmacists, with no bureaucratic control.

Yet periodically, there crops up in public life those who would change this system for some fuzzy plan in which the government would become heavily involved. The excuse always is that medical costs are too high.

There is perhaps some justification that at times medical costs are expensive. But the unanswered question is "what makes them high?"

The most important people in medicine are the American doctors and druggists. And while there are perhaps some exceptions, taken by and large, there is no segment of the nation on the average, that gives more service per dollar shared than they do. And there are very few doctors or druggists who can, or do, work on a forty hour week, even though from an income tax standpoint many would be better off if they did knock off after forty hours.

In a major siege of illness, the doctor's fee is usually the smallest part of the cost the patient pays, yet there are always some politicians and bureaucrats who would have the public believe they can get more faithful and cheaper medical care through some grandiose governmental scheme.

Thus, the pending case against the three drug firms could go a long way toward establishing where responsibility lies for high medical costs.

This pending case has some very interesting aspects. It has always been the hue and cry that the modern drug costs so much because of the research costs in developing them.

Yet of the three firms charged by the Justice Dept. one is engaged primarily in industrial chemicals, one of the others is chiefly known as a proprietary drug house, yet they not only have apparently bought up control of these wonder drugs, but old line pharmaceutical houses, and druggists, are forced to buy from them.

Thus, this case could become a most vital one to all Americans.

You Can Build a $30 Fallout Shelter

YOU CAN SURVIVE ATOMIC ATTACK— 3

By Prof Willard F. Libby

My $30 fallout shelter consists of a hole in a backyard hill, bags of dirt, and some railroad ties.

Anyone with a basement is lucky—he could build a shelter more easily, and perhaps more cheaply.

My costs were:

Burlap bags	$11.00
Nylon string and needle to sew bags	1.00
Railroad ties	9.00
Trucking in the ties	7.00
Zinc to treat burlap bags	2.00
Total:	$30.00

I dug horizontally into the slope of the hill, and put the dirt in bags, using them to build walls 5 feet high on both sides to make an enclosure of about 4 by 6 feet.

Another wall in front, with an offset, provides a door. It's wide open. Radiation from fallout cannot go around corners—but people can get in or out.

Railroad ties are the roof beams with a two foot layer of dirt filled bags resting on top. That gives 28 inches thickness of dirt and wood.

A corner of your basement would provide two ready-made walls with a few feet of dirt or sandbags piled up outside. Then build walls consisting of sandbags or concrete blocks 1 1/2 to 2 feet thick, again with an offset entrance.

The roof and upper stories of a house would keep much fallout at a distance, but for sure safety the shelter needs a roof of beams and blocks of concrete or dirt.

Even Books May Help

There is no limit to provisions. Civil Defense offices can supply excellent plans.

The vital point is that lethal X-rays from intensive fallout are stopped by two feet of concrete, or anything with equal density or mass. Thus, it takes 10 feet of water or wood to do it, about two to three feet of dirt, but only two to three inches of lead. However, lead is very expensive.

A quick, life-saving emergency shelter could be fashioned by piling concrete blocks or even stacks of books—on top and around a heavy table, placed in a basement corner, and getting under the table.

An air filter for the shelter is a good idea, but not absolutely necessary. Some radioactive dust might seep in, but probably not in significant amounts through ordinary air circulation.

An essential item is a radiation meter. Unfortunately, effective ones still cost about $25. It is needed to tell you if seeping dust is reaching dangerous levels. If so sweep it out with a broom. Fallout eventually becomes ordinary dirt. But you must avoid or get rid of it while it is radioactive.

Try Sleeping Pills

The man with the expensive shelter could unwittingly track radioactive dust into his shelter on trips in and out, and so concentrate dangerous amounts, unless he knew about this hazard. So everyone needs a broom as well as a meter.

You should plan to stay inside your shelter at least 48 hours. Suppose fallout descends an hour after the burst. In seven more hours, it is only 10 per cent as intense as it was when it first landed. And 49 hours after the burst, or 48 hours after the landing, only one per cent of the initial radioactivity remains.

In the next 12 days, it declines to become only one-tenth of one per cent of the initial intensity. This is considered a safe level to permit moving about.

Forty-eight hours in a small, cramped shelter or hole is no picnic.

You might well take sleeping pills to help wait out the most critical period of fallout danger.
