DISPLAYS 'SATURDAY NIGHT SPECIAL' — Carl R. Booth, supervisor in charge of the Internal Revenue Service' alcohol and tobacco enforcement branch in Dallas, holds what he called the "Saturday night liquor store special," a shotgun with a 14-inch barrel. What surprises a lot of people he said in an interview, is that possession of virtually any type of gun is legal, as long as it's properly registered. (AP Wirephoto).

THOMAS E. TURNER, 45 IS

NOW ASSISTANT TO BU PRESIDENT

BAYLOR ASSISTANT — Thomas E. Turner, 45, of Waco, a veteran Texas newspaperman who has probably written as much about Texas Baptists and Baylor University as any other person, has been named assistant to the president of Baylor University, effective Friday. Turner has been a Dallas Morning News staff member since 1945 and has operated the Central Texas Bureau of the News since 1947. In 1964 he was awarded an Honorary Doctor of Letters degree by Mary Hardin-Baylor College in Belton, becoming only the third man to receive such a degree. Even though Turner is a Methodist, he has been honored several times by Texas Baptists for his continuous and comprehensive coverage of their activities.

45 WILL DIE OVER HOLIDAY WEEK END, ESTIMATE SAYS

The Texas Department of Public Safety has said that an estimated 45 persons will lose their lives in traffic mishaps during the Labor Day holiday week end.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., DPS Director, pointed out that this is the last holiday of the summer and thousands of motorists will be crisscrossing the state in their travels.

"This increased travel increases the chances of an individual being involved in an accident", Garrison said.

"We urge every motorist to exercise caution and to stay alert.

"There is always the possibility that the estimate of 45 deaths for this period can be proved too high, but only if all drivers put forth every effort toward avoiding traffic accidents

"The Department of Public Safety will continue its all out effort to curb traffic accidents and to stop reckless and illegal driving on the highways," Garrison said. About 150 uniformed officers from other DPS services will be on the road to supplement the highway patrol enforcement action.

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

According to recent survey figures from the computers of the National Federation of Independent Business small and independent proprietors in the East South Central states, those bordered on one side by Texas and on the East by states along the Atlantic, are spending an average of $21,300 on new equipment.

Heavy investment in Southern regions appears due largely to the impact of new minimum wage law imposition, since this area dismissed the largest number of workers after passage of the wage law.

C. W. Harder

Although small business in these areas is creating new jobs at almost three times the national average, individual employment per firm has dropped from 17 to 15 persons. Federation researchers believe this transition illustrates the rapid replacement by Southern firms from unskilled, low-calibre labor to modern machinery.

The Chicago Daily News recently syndicated a story concerning the effects of the new minimum wage law upon Mississippi Delta cotton pickers. The story told of a weather-beaten 60-year old sharecropper who had spent most of his life tilling the rich black soil of the Delta, but who was recently given the sad news that there wouldn't be enough work available for him next year.

The new wage law which on Feb. 1st was extended to farm labor has caused alarm in such areas. According to the Daily News, Delta cotton planters state flatly that they are unable to pay the new $1.00 an hour minimum to day laborers who chop cotton—mostly women, children, and the elderly. Most planters intended to replace human labor with chemical weed controls and mechanical cotton pickers. "We picked 90 per cent by machine last year," a spokesman for the Delta Council of Planters announced, "and can easily pick it all by machines." Calvin Beale, noted U.S. Agriculture Dept. researcher estimates that at least 50,000 persons will be affected by layoffs in the Delta counties of Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Missouri. Again, additional examples of how the minimum wage law, intended to help low income workers is in actuality causing work loss.

Tractor drivers will be least affected by the minimum wage boost, and, in fact, will now receive a two dollar per day increase, or more.

But farmers and planters who previously furnished rent and utilities to sharecroppers will now charge for these services. Income loss from layoffs of wives and children will further hurt the tenant farmer.

Delta Council executive B. F. Smith sums up the situation: "The very people most in need of help will be hurt the most."

It's Body Shaped

New Tub Made For People

From the hand-made bathtub of the western frontier (1) where men took baths once a month whether they needed them or not, 'til today, tubs were made for one purpose, to hold a lot of water. True, the first manufactured tubs were larger, like the "boat-with-feet" models of the 1800's (2). And later ones, like the side-wall types that came in during the '20's (3), offered "modern" design, but they were still made primarily just to hold water. Now bathtub manufacturers such as Crane Co. are going well beyond the original concept and considering the people using them, their safety in use and how they harmonize with the decor of the rest of the room. The Empress (4), for instance, is the first "body-shaped" tub. It's tapered to allow extra hip and elbow room, and has a contoured backrest and bottom. Built-in innovations include a sturdy grab bar, an integral, easy-to-clean soap dish and a wide ledge for toilet articles. An optional slip-resistant bottom helps prevent injuries, while the tub's sculptured lines match modern design motifs.

Hawaii at the Founders Day Dinner. Orchid leaves were presented by each person at the head table. A much larger scholarship fund is being appropriated for all types of scholarships and especially on the graduate level. New members were welcomed, including Sara Lane Dyche and Etta Carroll. Dorothy Sellers is also a new member, but was unable to attend. Three guests were also present. Next meeting will be on Monday September 25 at 6:30 p. m. in Gatesville and Lea Ledger of Copperas Cofe will be guest speaker. Catherine Koerth gave the inspirational thought and the meeting adjourned at about 9:45 p. m.

Mrs. Gene Chitwood, Secretary of County Judge Norman Storm presented the ribbons to the 4-H boys and girl.

Labor saving devices have done a wonderful job for the housewives of America over the years, and industry is constantly working to improve the lot of the homemaker. New devices utilizing space age techniques are in offing. Mrs. America can look forward to amazing solutions to her age-old household problems.

Sonic cleaning is going to be one answer, evidently. That and air-filtering systems really will banish dirt right out of the air and off surfaces. And for the kitchen an electronics firm has already designed a dish molding machine of all things. The company says disposable plates, bowls and cups for everyday use could be made for a few pennies a meal. It takes only a few minutes to get used to that idea. No dishwashing at all, by man, woman or machine. But if you insist on serving company with that old-time fine bone china, hear this: appliance makers are even now toying with the idea of dishwashers with ultrasonic waves that would "shake" the dirt off dishes. And garbage will be vaporized by beams of searing light.

One of America's leading beauty planners gives us the answer to why so many of us never seem to arrive at "beauty confidence" about ourselves. She says we try this and that in makeup, and waste much money on experimenting when there is a sure way to know what are best color tones for ourselves. Says she: start with your hair color, know that you must change everything else, lipstick shades, powder, eye make-up, clothes colors, everything. Never, she says, start from anything but your hair color.

DAMAGE SUIT ON POULTRY SETTLED

A damage suit filed more than a year ago by Jonesboro poultrymen G. A. Campbell and R. L. Campbell against B. W. Petty of Nacogdoches was compromised and settled by agreement in 52nd District Court this week. Terms of the compromise were not disclosed.

The Campbells had entered suit for $11,704 in April of 1966 against Petty, contending that 5,400 pullets they purchased from Petty were infected with a disease that rendered them unfit for egg production and that 547 of the chickens died.

GLASS CLEANING DISCUSSED

Grace Chandler

County Home Dem. Agent

Cleaning and stain removal are often major problems for home owners of antique glassware, but the problem can arise even with everyday glass articles.

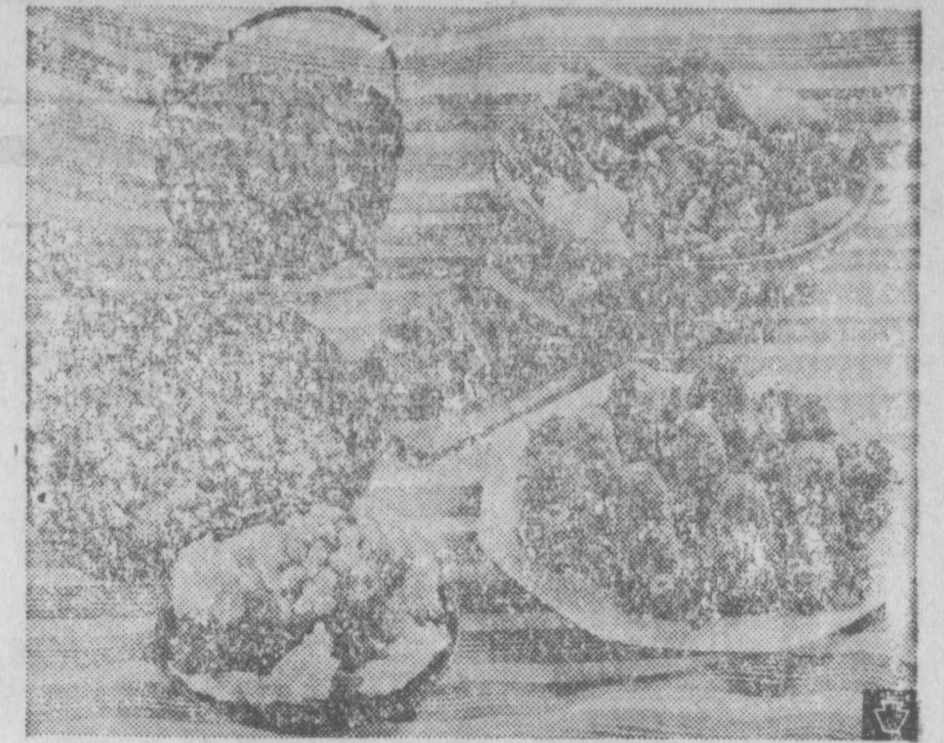

Here are solutions to common cleaning problems in glassware.

Minerals in water often result in such cleaning problems as lime deposits and surface discolorations. To remove the lime deposits from the bottom of pitchers, bottles, or decanters, put tea leaves on the stained surface and fill the container with a vinegar solution. For surface discoloration on decanters, rub the glass with half a lemon, or wash it with vinegar, or partially fill with uncooked rice and vinegar and shake vigorously.

A well-known research laboratory offers this method of removing hard water deposits which have dried in designs and etchings. Soak glassware in a solution of one part muratic acid and four parts water. This acid, available at drug or hardware stores, should be handled with rubber gloves. After soaking in the solution, rinse the glass thoroughly and dry.

Vinegar cruets often become stained and should be rinsed with diluted ammonia before washing. Stains in flower bases can be cleaned with chlorine bleach solution. To brighten glass coffee

Enjoy Outdoor Dining Without Outdoor Cooking

An elegant patio party, whether in summer formals or Bermuda shorts, doesn't necessarily require the host or hostess to stand over a smoky brazier while guests remain politely — or protectively — upwind.

Just a little pre-planning will produce an outdoor menu that can be prepared easily right in the kitchen, kept at serving temperature and served when the guests are ready.

Recipes here for Herbed Meat Loaf and Noodles Elise are a good example of a tempting, hearty meal that comes from just two dishes made in three cooking utensils — a baking pan, a saucepan and casserole. The casserole, in attractive color enameled aluminum, comes right to the table and doubles as a serving dish.

After-dinner cleanup is easy, too, if non-stick coated aluminum utensils are selected for the cooking job. Available in all types of top-of-the-range and baking ware, these utensils come clean in a snap with just a swish of hot soapy water and a rinse.

Next time you're having a patio party, make a change of pace by keeping the cooking indoors and the fun outdoors.

HERBED MEAT LOAF

- 3 slices bread, crusts removed
- 1/2 cup milk
- 2 pounds ground beef
- 3 slices raw bacon, minced
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon basil
- 1/8 teaspoon thyme
- 1/4 cup minced parsley
- Orange slices or wedges
- Stuffed green olives

Crumble bread into crumbs. Add milk and soak for 10 minutes. Combine with beef, bacon, egg, onion, seasonings and parsley. Place in a non-stick coated 9 x 5 x 3-inch aluminum loaf pan. Bake at 350°F. for 1 hour and 10 minutes or until meat is done. When ready to serve, garnish loaf with orange slices and stuffed green olives if desired. Makes 8 servings.

NOODLES ELISE

- 1 package (8-ounces) medium-sized noodles
- 1 pound cottage cheese
- 1 small onion, grated
- 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 teaspoon garlic salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 pint dairy sour cream
- 1/2 cup grated Cheddar cheese
- 3 tablespoons dry bread crumbs
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Cook noodles according to package directions. Drain. Combine cottage cheese, onion, seasonings, and sour cream. Stir gently but thoroughly into the noodles. Turn mixture into a greased 2-quart non-stick aluminum casserole. Sprinkle with Cheddar cheese and bread crumbs that have been combined. Dot with butter. Bake at 350°F. for 30 to 45 minutes or until top is slightly crusty and golden brown. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Sweet Sultans

Sweet sultans have fringed flowers in pastel shades, are easy to grow, handsome to see.

Close relatives of the cornflower or bachelor's button so familiar to gardeners, sweet sultans are relatively unknown. They are as easy to grow as cornflowers, which means they will grow in any soil, in sun or semi-shade and will give continuous bloom all summer if only faded blossoms are cut.

Exquisitely fringed flowers in pastel shades of lavender and yellow as well as white have a delicate fragrance that endears them to both the gardener and the flower arranger. The blooms are borne on 2 1/2-foot-tall stems so are well displayed in the garden.

For best results plant seeds early where the flowers are to bloom. Cover with 1/4 inch of fine soil and firm it over the seeds to make good contact. Sprouting will occur in just 8 days.

When plants are 3 inches high, thin them so the remaining ones are 6 inches apart. Water well when weather is dry and cut the blossoms early and often.

A prominent medical researcher this week warned older people that their feet require extra care in the summer. "There are nearly 20 million Americans who are 65 years of age or older," said William O. Elson, medical research director for the Kendall Company, manufacturers of Blue-Jay foot products.

"Everyone tends to walk a good deal more in the summertime," Elson pointed out. "But many older persons who suffer from poor circulation, or from stiffening of the joints in the bones of the feet, should take certain precautions before doing too much walking."

"About 80% of all of us have some sort of problem with our feet, and that includes nearly all of the older segment of the population," Elson said.

Before your visit to the county or state fair, or before you take a trip to Montreal to see Expo '67, with the miles and miles of walking that could entail, here are some good rules of foot care which scientist Elson suggests you follow:

1. Be certain that your shoes fit you properly — and keep feet meticulously clean.
2. For dry skin on your feet, rub gently with baby oil or lanolin.

3. New Blue-Jay aerosol foot powders and foot deodorant will keep feet both hygienic and comfortable.

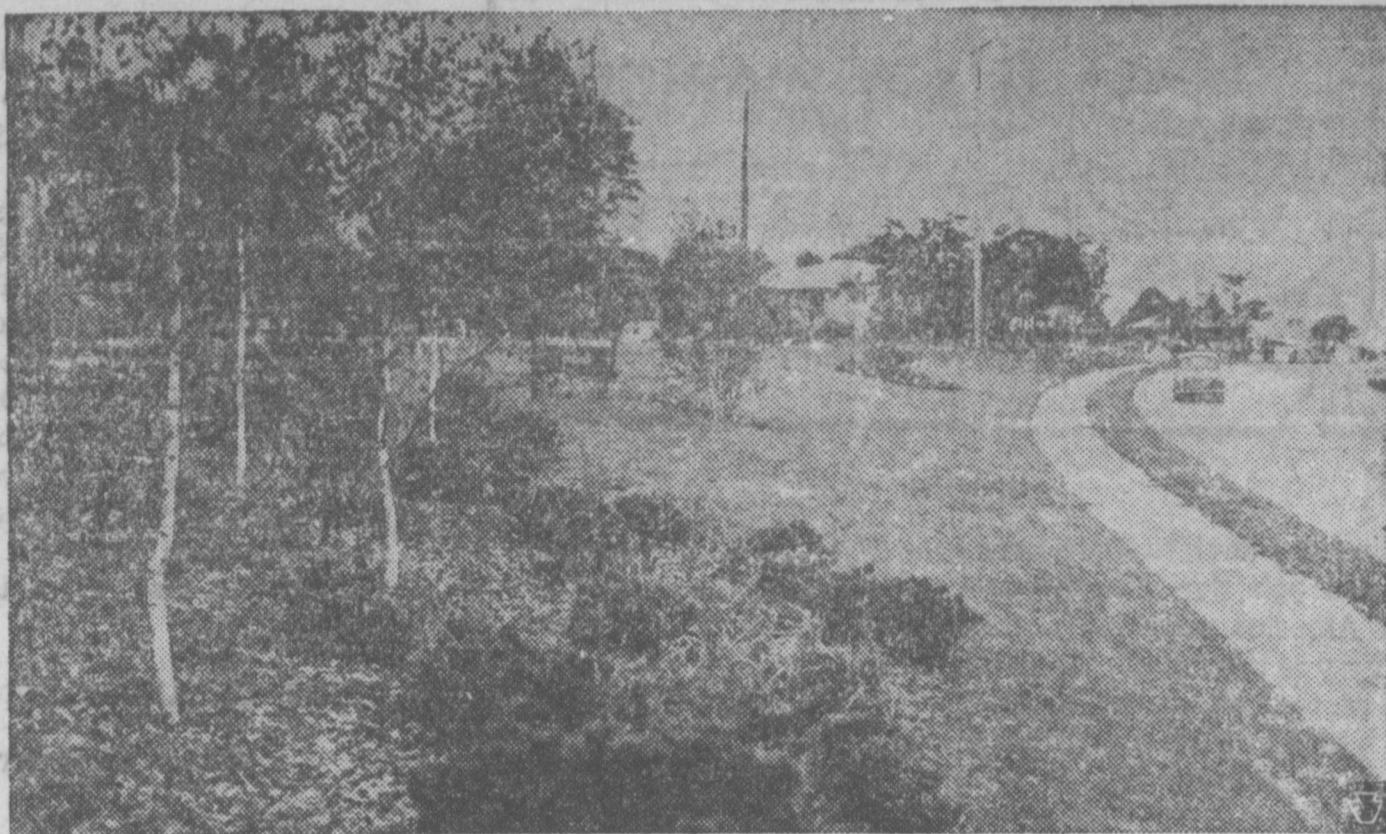

4. Irritation may be eased with moleskin or foam rubber from your drug store.

5. Use safe home remedies to get rid of corns, callouses, and bunions. Corn removers which employ the new drug, "phenylum," will effectively push the corn out, rather than attack it directly.

6. If you are a diabetic, consult your doctor immediately when any cut, bruise, or blister develops.

7. Newly designed arch-supports, which contain their own foam rubber insoles, are now available at drug and department stores, and are most helpful in cases where your feet need added support.

8. Most important, if foot disorders persist, see your foot doctor right away.

This new park on the southern approach to Manistee, Michigan is but part of the work of the Tuesday Committee, composed of hundreds of citizens interested in rejuvenating their city.

It was Tuesday and a group of friends who met every Tuesday to lunch together were gathered around a restaurant table. The conversation turned to the appalling appearance of their town, Manistee, Mich. and, as the men discussed, they also resolved to do something about it. Forthwith they formed a committee, calling it for the day of the week — the Tuesday Committee.

Eyesores included rundown buildings around town, especially along the waterfront on the Manistee River, just 2 blocks from where it meets Lake Michigan and an inhospitable approach to the city from the south. There was also a general lack of "caring" by property owners.

To arouse public interest, the help of the local newspaper, the "News-Advocate," was solicited. Every Tuesday the paper published (and still publishes) a picture of one or another sub-standard buildings, with no text beneath, but always with the heading, "Today is Tuesday."

After 6 months of these weekly pictures with no explanation, members of the Tuesday Committee called a public meeting at which they explained their ideas and asked that each resident present join the committee in its efforts. After the meeting one resident asked, "You mean that even if I just mow my lawn I'm a member of the Tuesday Committee?" and was told that he was correct.

Results were amazing. Owners of eyesores pictured in the newspaper rebuilt and painted the structures. Then they planted flowers around them to beautify them. Even absentee landlords, contacted by mail and sent pictures of their holdings, spruced up their properties or, if they were beyond repair, tore down the buildings.

The 5 original members of the Tuesday Committee borrowed funds, bought 2 blocks of buildings along the waterfront, paid for their removal and then deeded the frontage along the river to the town for $1. Plans for a marina are being completed and the marina will be constructed this year.

The approach to the city was cleared of trash and members of the high school senior class, inspired by the actions of their elders, gave up their usual senior trip to Washington, D. C. Instead, they used the time to plant beds of petunias along the highway.

Last year half a cent was offered for each bottle or can picked up along the roads. This offer was broadcast by the radio station, featured by the newspaper and advertised by a 12-foot sign. On the appointed day, when all debris was dumped on the former site of the city hall, the Jaycees, who received it, paid out over $700! This event will be repeated this year.

Property adjoining the city at the southern approach has been acquired, a landscape architect was retained to draw plans, and a park constructed. Maintained by the city, this park will serve as a lasting monument to the work of a dedicated group of men — the founders of the Tuesday Committee.

Maid O' Mist

This "maid of the mist" is enjoying a complexion treatment with the new Saunda beauty machine especially designed to help clear up unsightly blemishes, deep cleanse the pores and bring a rosy, healthy glow to the face.

The warm, moist mist generated by the beauty machine works its wonders by stimulating a flow of perspiration which in turn stimulates the skin and facial tissues. It also, importantly, helps make the skin more receptive to soothing beauty preparations.

The perspiration loosens old makeup as well as deep-seated grime. The at-home facial with the Saunda appliance continues with the use of Saunda facial scrub, a mildly abrasive preparation, which digs down deep to remove any matter not dislodged by the perspiration. To complete the facial, Saunda freshener and moisturizer are next used. Saunda beauty machines retail from $29.50 to $99.50 and come complete with the described beauty preparations, which have been formulated by a leading Chicago cosmetologist. Saunda is available in leading department stores, drugstores and beauty salons.

NON-CROP WEED CONTROL CUTS ANNUAL WEED TAX

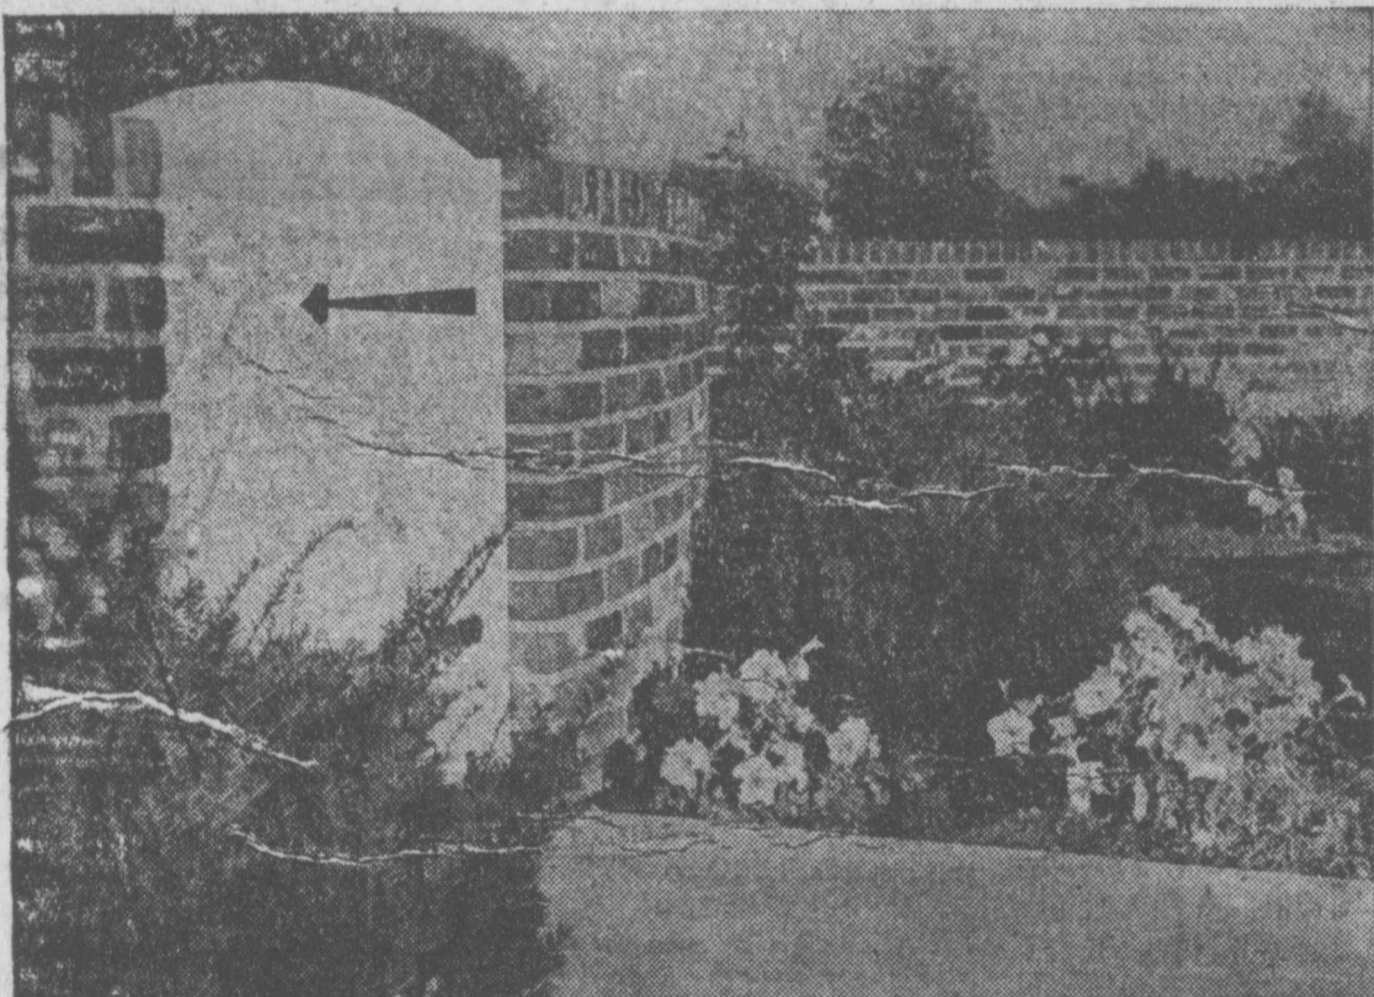

Any way you look at it, weeds cost money. Figures show weeds cost each grower in the United States an average of $500 annually by decreasing yields, lowering crop quality, and causing extra cultivations, excessive wear on machinery and added expense for seed cleaning. While farmers are turning more and more to herbicides to beat the weed bite in croplands, many do not stop to think about the price they pay for weeds in non-crop areas. Weeds in field borders, along roadways or near storage areas may look harmless enough, but they can be the source of all kinds of expensive problems. The seeds they produce can move right out to infest cropland. The weeds, themselves, provide cover for destructive insects and rodents. And, tinder-dry summer or fall weeds are a dangerous fire hazard anywhere around the farm. Over the years, a common practice has been to handle these problems by mowing along roadsides and fence rows, or even hand work in hard-to-get-at areas. However, with labor at a premium, this is a time consuming and expensive practice. Modern growers are turning to herbicides to beat the weed problem on non-crop land. Their experience has shown that now...when planting is finished and application equipment is still geared up...is the best time to go after these troublemakers with an effective weed control agent. One herbicide that is particularly effective at this time of year is Pramitol. This weed-killer comes in liquid or pellet form for application by hand, spreader or sprayer. It can be used effectively in both high and low rainfall areas. A single application will kill weeds and grasses that are up and growing, and will get future weeds as they germinate through the season. Control usually lasts for many months. Using an effective herbicide now to clean out weeds along fence rows and roadways, and around farm buildings and storage areas is the best way to help cut down the annual bill run up by weeds.

Where There's A Wall There's A Way

Wherever a garden boasts a wall, there's a way to enhance it with colorful plantings on top, at the bottom or in both places. Walls, being massive, need masses of color to brighten them. In the picture above, green yews provide mass, pale pink petunias give color and accent.

This wall is less formal than that shown on page 10. It is planted with a lavish hand both above and below the wall. Petunias are used on both sides to give a soft, feminine touch.
