BIDS TOO HIGH FOR OGLESBY WATER SYSTEM

Plans for a new water and sewer system in Oglesby are being tailored down by engineers after bids on the project ran over the amount of money available.

Oglesby plans to build the system with a $220,000 Farmers Home Administration loan, of which about $175,000 is for construction costs. Bids were opened by the city council last Friday night and low bids for both the water and sewer totaled $179,302.50.

The low bidder was Glyn Mathias of Gatesville.

Also asked were bids on the drilling of a new water well. The low bid, entered by Key Drilling Co., was $27,800.

Vance Stephens, FFA County supervisor who is assisting Oglesby officials with the project, said that engineers have already begun revising the plans and specifications to make the project less costly. He also said it is probable that no new well will be drilled, but that the present well will be re-worked and improved to provide water for the new system.

Once the plan revision is completed, negotiations will be held with Mathis to see if the systems can be built with the money available.

Stephens also disclosed that final plans are being drawn for a community water system at Levita and that construction on this system may start before the first of the year. Levita has been tentatively approved for a $26,500 FHA loan for the system, which will serve 27 families.

Stephens met recently with a group of Pearl and Purnela citizens interested in obtaining a community water system for that area. A steering committee is being formed to sign up potential customers for the proposed system there.

2 BOYS ARRESTED AFTER ESCAPING FROM GSSB

Two 14 year old boys from the State Training School for Boys at Gatesville were arrested Tuesday morning near Hubbard and later returned to Gatesville.

The pair was first missed at the school about 4 a. m. They had apparently taken a car belonging to a man who lives north of Gatesville. Waco police patrolman Floyd Kelinske spotted the stolen car about 3:45 a. m. Tuesday in the 1000 block of East Waco Drive. When the occupants of the car saw Kelinske, they stopped the car and fled on foot.

When Hwy. Patrolman Fred Beall arrested the pair later Tuesday morning near Hubbard, they were in a car reported missing from a parking lot in the 1300 block of North Loop Drive.

FREEDOMS COUNCIL SPEAKS OUT

Responsibilities of Freedom
by Janis Daniel

In our times we hear much about equal rights and freedom for all. But, does this mean that everyone has equal freedom to do exactly as he pleases? To infringe upon the rights of others in order to do and get what he wants? To lie, to cheat and to steal at the expense of others just for his own good? Our freedom today comes with a great responsibility to achieve equal freedom for all without interfering with someone else's creative activity. One could combine self-discipline and freedom of choice with that responsibility.

Self-discipline is an admirable quality in anyone. As free citizens we must self-discipline ourselves. We must ourselves put limits on our freedoms. It is up to us to fulfill our obligations as citizens of our own free accord and to abide by the laws of the government of our own free choice.

It was once said, "Freedom lives in the hearts of men". We must love and care enough for our freedom to preserve it now by fulfilling our responsibilities as citizens. For if it does not exist in our hearts, how can it exist in our great country? Our love of freedom and liberty must begin in our hearts and spread through the land from there. If we intend to keep our freedom, we must set our individual goals and aims high and plan them to be for the "common good."

SPEECHES PROVE ENTERTAINING

by Kathy Blanchard

What do students talk about these days? What do they do? Mrs. Jane Dowell, GHS speech teacher, would know because she hears and sees students perform in her classes every day. Recently, the students were assigned pantomimes, with partners and by themselves. For instance, if you should walk in speech class one day and see Anita Williams crawling, it would be because she's a fish and Sue Byrom, the fisherman, is trying to catch her. Barbara Bennett might also be floating around, because one time, while she was wading in space, the ether broke and her spaceship went off and left her.

One time the students were assigned two-minute speaker's choice speeches. Some popular topics were football games, "What I Did Last Summer" and other things that concerned themselves.

Another assignment was a two-minute speech on a subject Mrs. Dowell assigned. Some of the speeches given were "Ways To Get Husbands," "Learning to Live With Girls," "Joys of Being 90," "Life In A Salt Mine", and "The Lonely Bicycle."

Then, the students had to give a demonstration of something mechanical. These ranged from eye lash curlers rods and reels to cameras. One boy even brought a clipper to de-horn a cow. Since there was no cow, however, a board as "de-horned". It seems one boy forgot to bring his object, so he demonstrated the pencil sharpener.

Once the students gave speeches on pet peeves. One of the most mentioned pet peeves was brothers and sisters. It seems Linda Lam's little brother holds a countdown on time for her every morning: "5 after 7 and all is well"

This evidently upsets Linda very much.

Soon after these speeches, the students gave the biography of some person in high school. One boy wanted to give Coach Gunlock's biography, but Mr. Gunlock refused to give information about himself until Mrs. Dowell consented to tell her age to the class. Classes did find out, however, how much Mark Reeve and Doyce Wright like to insult each other. Also Sharon Brown gave her speech about Billy Palmer, only to find out afterwards that Billy told her all lies about himself.

When the students were assigned to give a famous person's biography, their speech subjects ranged from Dean Martin to Leslie Gore to President Johnson.
