

RAINY EHS HOMECOMING WARMED BY ELKS VICTORY OVER COMANCHE BTEAM

KYLE ARNOLD FOOTBALL HERO MARY DOYLE FOOTBALL SWEETHEART

The Evant Homecoming was dampened somewhat by the heavy rains Friday night, but a crowd of 150 to 200 attended the Homecoming ball following the football victory over Comanche.

The ball had as a theme, "Love is Blue," the song title of a recent popular instrumental by Paul Marriot.

The 1969 football Sweetheart and Hero were announced during the ball held at the EHS Gym. Mary Doyle and Kyle Arnold, both EHS seniors, were honored this year with the annual Homecoming honors.

Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Doyle, has been active in many school activities at EHS. She was on the Drill team as a sophomore; voted outstanding member of the pep squad, member of the basketball and volleyball teams, nominee for Duchess of the Harvest Festival, and member of FHA. As a junior, she was captain of the Drill Team, nominee for FFA Sweetheart, member of the Choral Club and an officer in FHA.

Kyle Arnold has been active in Evant sports all four years of high school. From 1967-69, Kyle has been captain of the football team; he made honorable mention for all-district in 1967; he was all-district offense and defense in 1968 and All-West Texas State defense in 1968. Kyle has been an officer of the FFA and Annual Staff, and he is a member of the Choral Club.

Other nominees for football Sweetheart and Hero were Sandra Conner and Jerry Horton, juniors; Debra Conner and Darrell Forrest, sophomores; and Darline Sheldon and Doug Freeman, freshmen.

The EHS exes sponsored the Homecoming ball in the gym. The gym was decorated with a canopy of blue and white streamers over the dance floor with colorfully decorated tables at the north end of the gym. The exes and student body were entertained by the music of a Fort Hood trio.

POWERFUL FULLBACK

KILLEEN MAN DEAD AFTER MAN HUNT

A former Gatesville resident, Al Spevey, killed himself near Killeen Sunday morning as law enforcement officers from Bell, Coryell, and Lampasas Counties closed in on him.

Spevey was being chased in connection with an aggravated assault charge in Killeen, filed by his wife.

Sheriff Winfred Cummings noted that Police Chief Buck Ray of Copperas Cove, D. P. S. Patrolman Guss Patton of Copperas Cove; Charlie Walsh; D. P. S. Patrolman J. K. Hamilton; Justice of the Peace Stony Hamack and other Central Texas officers were involved in the one and one-half hour chase. Cummings reported that Spevey stopped as officers caught up to him. He reportedly got out of his pickup momentarily and then returned to the truck and placed a 12 gauge shotgun to his head and discharged the gun.

Justice of the Peace, Hammack, pronounced Spevey dead from "a self-inflicted gunshot wound."

Spevey reportedly had been wounded in the leg during a disturbance in Killeen.

Over the weekend Sheriff Cummings arrested three men in connection with the theft of eleven cases of dynamite from a construction site near The Grove Saturday.

Cummings picked up the three men at Round Mountain late Saturday night with the 1100 sticks of dynamite in their possession. The dynamite was returned to the construction company. Cummings estimated the dynamite value at approximately $225.

METHODIST "PARTNERS FOR CHRIST CRUSADE" UNDERWAY

The First United Methodist Church began their "Partners for Christ Crusade" fund raising campaign Sunday night with a supper at the Church.

The fund raising is the first key step in the Church's building program which will provide the 696 members with an all new 17,600 square feet facility at Main and 26 Street.

Director of the Crusade, Dr. E. S. Morford of the Department of Finance and Field Services, Division of the National Missions, Board of Missions of the Methodist Church is on hand this week for the fund raising campaign.

Dr. Morford explained that Tuesday and Wednesday an instructional meeting will be held for members involved in the visitation program. A 24-hour prayer vigil is set for later this week with the visitation set for Sunday October 12.

Dr. Morford said "There is a very wonderful spirit here concerning the Crusade." He estimated that the $90,000 goal would probably be reached in cash and three year pledges by the end of the week.

The new facility at Main and 26 will include a sanctuary, pastor's study, church office, fellowship hall, kitchen, and 14 classrooms, all at ground level.

Presently the First Methodist Church building fund contains $45,000. The Church plans to sell the present site at Main and Lutterloh to help finance the new construction.

The building project has as its General Chairman of the Executive Crusade Committee, Ollie Little, pictured at right, is Director of the "Partners for Christ Crusade" now in progress.

HOMECOMING

CROWD

The EHS Homecoming crowd did not sit in the stadium Friday night during the estimated three inch rain. Cars surrounded the stadium as though at a drive-in theater. Some determined Elk supporters did overlook the rain and watch the Elks in their "wade" to victory.

W.R. POAGE DEFENDS FARMERS-RANCHERS

WASHINGTON - Chairman W. R. (Bob) Poage, D-Tex., of the House Committee on Agriculture, declared today current beef prices at the retail market level should be 18 percent below what they were 18 years ago if based on what cattlemen received for their livestock then and now.

He made this observation in remarks on the House Floor, saying:

"Retail meat prices are always a matter of concern to the housewife, so I think some information recently developed by our Committee on Agriculture would be of interest to those who prepare the family menu and handle the family budget.

"During the past year the price of live cattle of choice grade moved up from approximately $29 a hundred pounds last January to a high of $35.14 the last week of June. Every housewife is aware of this and most of them attribute the rise in the retail meat market prices to this move. Actually, the retail price of meat in the nation as a whole, figuring a combined average of all cuts, rose from 90¢ a pound in January to a July high of $1.01 and there has been little decline since that time. The Department's estimate for September is 99.4¢ a decline of approximately 2%.

"The consumer naturally is more conscious of any rise in the price of food than of any drop which might occur, and certainly of any decline in the price paid to the producer. Therefore, what has been happening in the price of cattle in recent weeks may well have escaped the attention of the public generally.

"A number of members of the House Committee on Agriculture returned from an observation tour of livestock centers in the Southwest, visiting operations on the farms and ranches, through the cattle auctions and feed lots, to the slaughter houses and packing plants. We saw cattle selling at appreciably lower prices than the same kind of cattle were bringing a few months ago, notwithstanding the fact that the production costs had continued to go up, just as other costs in our economy.

"As a matter of fact, on the first of this month livestock growers were receiving just about the same price for choice steers that they had received on the first of January, and about 18% less than they received in June. In short, as far as the producers' price for his cattle is concerned, there is no justification whatever for existing higher retail prices than existed a year ago. And if measured by the price of cattle, beef should today actually retail for about 18% less than it did 18 years ago, inasmuch as the cowman is today taking approximately 6 1/2% per pound less for his live animals than he received in 1951. (Steers brought $35.96 a hundred in Chicago that year.)

"Unfortunately, the retail price of food items always very quickly reflects and generally greatly magnifies any upward movement of farm prices, while any downward movement of retail prices always lags far behind a drop in the farmers' prices, and very seldom, if ever, reflects the entire drop which has occurred in the farm products.

"Let me therefore suggest that when the housewife goes to look for a scapegoat for the high price of retail meat that she look somewhere other than on the farm and ranch."

The big fight in the House this week was over the Military Procurement Bill, which will undoubtedly pass in a few minutes. (I have waited all day to vote). While there were many amendments proposed, the major one was an effort to strike out the authorization for the Anti-Ballistic Missile Program. All of those who feel that we can have peace simply by wanting peace opposed the building of this defense against ballistic missiles, as they have opposed most other defense expenditures. This seems to me to be a completely unrealistic attitude. If the Communists are going to attack the United States, they will certainly be more likely to do so if we do not have any defense against their missiles. I know that this is an expensive program. I know that no one can give any assurance that it will be 100% effective, but certainly if we refuse to provide the defense we could make available, we make an attack more probable and we make the loss of many millions of lives the more likely. I voted for the Defensive Missile Program yesterday. I hope I have an opportunity to vote for the bill.

I just learned yesterday afternoon that our Committee and the agricultural interests of the United States are going to suffer severely in that we are going to lose our General Counsel, Judge William C. Black, who is returning to Texas to become County Judge of Bell County, to which position he was unanimously elected by the Commissioners yesterday. We had come to depend heavily on Judge Black. I regret very much to see him go, but he feels that he is needed at home, and since both the responsibilities and the remuneration of the position have been increased substantially in the past two years, it seemed a logical decision, even though I recognize that it will be most difficult for us to replace him. I am happy to know that the people in Bell County are going to have Judge Black's splendid leadership. All of our counties are finding that they have more and more contacts with Federal programs and that it is most important for local officials to work with various Federal agencies.

In a few minutes I will be flying out to Madison, Wisconsin, where I will speak, along with the Secretary of Agriculture, at the World Dairy Exposition. I plan to take advantage of this opportunity to again tell the people of the entire country and such other countries as may be represented that if we are to continue to enjoy our abundant agricultural production, we are going to have to provide enough return for our farmers and ranchers to enable them to pay for the modern techniques which have made this production possible.

BUT IT'S A LONG, LONG RAINBOW!

WHAT PRICE AMERICA THE BEAUTIFUL?

It has been almost four years since Congress passed the Water Quality Act and two years since the Air Quality Act was adopted. Has anybody noticed any improvement in our streams, or in the air over our cities?

Yes, we are on our way to winning our fight against pollution. Voters in many states have voted higher taxes to modernize municipal sewage treatment facilities which in many cases were obsolete half a century ago. Industry is stepping up its pollution control activities and is making important strides. Many companies voluntarily started the anti-pollution crusade back in the 'thirties' and hundreds of millions of dollars have been spent to provide industrial air and water pollution control.

Petroleum companies alone are now spending a million dollars a day to eliminate pollution from their plants. The iron and steel industry has invested over one billion dollars for clean air and water.

Such expenditures do not necessarily mean instant improvement. Air and water pollution control facilities must be designed, built, installed.

Pollution control equipment is usually expensive. Pollution controls at one foundry added $4.5 million to the original cost of $20 million. Few companies can afford to do the entire job in one year. So they install as much equipment as their resources permit, and plan future improvements.

These investments normally bring no return of income but do achieve a broad social benefit. One way of improving industry's performance is to provide some form of tax assistance to companies in meeting the costs of pollution abatement.

But industry's efforts alone will not bring about clean air and water, for 80 per cent of the pollution in this country is from other sources. Human sewage dumped into our streams after inadequate treatment is our worst source of water pollution. There are a myriad of sources of air pollution, including home heating equipment, incinerators and autos.

We will have clean air and water. But this will not happen overnight and it will cost us money. We will be paying higher taxes and higher prices before we are able to see again "Our alabaster cities gleam above the fruited plain."

TOWER NOTES CONCERN OVER SEARCH FOR PEACE IN SOUTHEAST ASIA

I believe all Americans are in full agreement that the Vietnam war should be brought to an honorable end at the earliest possible date. We are all seeking peace in Vietnam just as we seek peace worldwide.

I am concerned that in our search for peace we may become so frustrated that we grasp blindly towards our goal without considering an alternative which I believe is available and should be fully considered by the administration and by each of us as individual citizens.

We have tried many avenues toward peace. Each time we have found the way blocked by an attitude of intransigence on the part of the North Vietnamese government.

We have observed an extended moratorium on all bombing of North Vietnam. We have exhibited a great deal of patience with the negotiations in Paris. We have even withdrawn a number of our military forces in the hope that the Hanoi government would reciprocate.

I am fearful that we may grasp at continued withdrawal of our troops as a panacea. Some of my colleagues in the Senate have recently advocated passage of a resolution calling for complete and unilateral withdrawal of U. S. forces from Vietnam according to a specific timetable. Such a resolution would not have the force of law, but it would express the sentiment of a majority of members if passed. I do not believe such a resolution will pass but I am concerned that responsible legislators are considering this possibility.

I am unalterably opposed to any such resolution because I believe our government should be free to use any appropriate method which will actually attain peace. I do not want our administration to feel the only road to peace is unilateral withdrawal.

Any suggestion of complete unilateral withdrawal of our forces from Vietnam serves to fuel war, not promote peace. Should we set a time certain for withdrawal from South Vietnam, we would completely sabotage the negotiation which is currently going on in Paris. The enemy would be encouraged to continue the war beyond a point at which he might otherwise opt for peace.

Adoption of a policy of unilateral withdrawal in accordance with a firmly established timetable would, in reality amount to capitulation. The credibility of the United States as a world leader would be destroyed and, ultimately, a power vacuum would develop which alien forces would rush to fill.

This would be tragic in light of the fact that with the advent of a new policy by a new administration, there has been little complaint over the world about American posture on Vietnam. Privately, many heads of state encourage us to remain until we can get a satisfactory settlement which results in the arrest of Communist aggression in Southeast Asia.

All of our conciliatory gestures and initiatives have not produced a favorable response from Hanoi. Their strategy is to continue fighting until the United States wearies of the war and surrenders its goal of self-determination for the South Vietnamese people.

All of our conciliatory gestures and initiatives have not produced a favorable response. The intransigence of the Hanoi government is exhibited by that regime's unwillingness to identify American servicemen now being held in their prisoner-of-war camps.

Recently, four Texas women traveled all the way to Paris simply to ask the Hanoi representatives there whether they were wives or widows. Finally, a Hanoi spokesman told them they would be informed later by mail whether their husbands were being held prisoner. Further, he said that other family members could make similar inquiries if they would travel to Paris as individuals.

Now such a policy could only have been calculated to increase the anguish being suffered here at home by the mothers, fathers, wives and children of men who are known only to be "missing in action".

I think the time is fast approaching when, in the light of North Vietnamese intransigence, we must consider the exercise of additional military options which are available to us. Among these options are resumption of our bombing activities in the North, interdiction of enemy lines of communication and supply on a saturation basis and the closing of the port at Haiphong.

It becomes increasingly apparent to me that the intensification of military pressure on our enemies is the only thing that will bring them to terms and bring us to peace. I don't believe that we should regard victory as either an evil word or an unattainable goal. I believe that we can achieve military victory with no more of our resources than is already presently available. The policy of restraint, though honestly motivated and worthy of trial, has thus far been unsuccessful.

We should convince Hanoi of our resolve. They are not now convinced and the words of those who advocate unilateral withdrawal only gives them encouragement to keep on fighting.

Smith Committed To Industrial Development

Gov. Preston Smith has announced his total commitment to a detailed plan for industrial development in Texas, and called for support of all Texas citizens to carry it out. Gov. Smith told Texas industrial leaders that the state has what it takes to attract new industry from throughout the nation for both large and small areas, but must have goals and direction.

"We have the foresight," Smith said. "We have the knowledge. We have the desire. All that we require is a soundly based plan of action to meet the challenge of the seventies. We cannot afford to leave to chance the expansion of industry in Texas. We must seize the initiative and pursue new industry aggressively," the governor said.

The Texas Industrial Commission reported that although industrial growth has been spectacular across the state in recent years, it still falls far short of what could be accomplished through an intensified program of action.

Gov. Smith called all industrial development leaders and chambers of commerce to join him in creating "A Comprehensive Plan for Texas Industrial Development" to bring about this needed program.

"The Texas Industrial Commission has recommended to me that the state be divided into 21 regions and each region be studied by qualified professional consultants in terms of industrial development potential in the seventies," Gov. Smith explained.

He said the consultants will work with local leaders and the Industrial Commission in creating a practical, 10-year plan for attracting industrial expansion in Texas communities.

"As our communities have varying objectives, the consultant's first step will be to determine the local goals for industrial development that would best complement the local economic base," the governor said.

"The next step will be to study in depth the feasibility of attracting selected industries. Some will be feasible for short-term location and should be approached immediately. Others will be feasible for location only if certain barriers are eliminated.

"Here we will seek alternative means of eliminating these barriers," Gov. Smith added. "Other types of industry will, of course, not be feasible for location. But even this category is important, for it tells us where not to exhaust our efforts."

He warned Texans to be prepared to deal with the situation as it truly exists and meet the competition of other states squarely.

"Although we anticipate that these studies will require at least a year, the final product of our effort will be a series of reports--more extensive in their identification of potential and specific methods of attracting industrial growth than any ever accomplished in the United States."

Gov. Smith said he will appoint a Governor's Task Force of citizens from throughout the state to implement action programs based on the report recommendations. The Task Force will report directly to the Governor and the people of Texas, he added.

"In the final analysis, the results of our studies will merely be a stack of reports," he said. "And we all know reports frequently gather dust on some lonely shelf. It will take people to create this plan."

"It will take people to make it work. And it will take the concerted effort of citizens at every level, of leaders in business and industry, and the Texas Industrial Commission."

KAFERS HAVE VISITORS...Isn't it fun when relatives and friends can stop by, stay awhile and catch up on the latest news from the family and friends? That's how Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kafer of Sun Valley addition, Gatesville, feel.

Visitors in the Kafer home included Mr. Kafer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Kafer of Abilene and Mr. and Mrs. George Goettman of Spokane, Washington. Mrs. Karl Kafer is a sister of Mrs. Goettman. They were born in Coryell City in 1894 and 1896 respectively.

The pair only remembered that their family moved from Coryell City to Denton in their youth. Two of the twelve children in the Nicholas Goettman family were buried at Coryell City in the late 1890's.

This visit was the first time George had returned to Coryell County since his youth. The group spent last week touring the Coryell City area with hopes of seeing a familiar farm home or church to relate to their past. The two former Coryellites were unable to recognize any landmarks and said all the roads had changed and new homes have sprung up where the old ones were.

The brother and sister were impressed with the modern farming methods employed now in the area as compared to their recollection of Coryell County agricultural methods. They were also glad to see the general prosperity of the area.

It's good to hear from former residents of our county and area who come "home" to Coryell and find their childhood home still moving forward, still more prosperous.

NEW POLICE IMAGE...Waco claims a new image on their police force--two female cops; and Gatesville can be proud to claim one of them! Mrs. Edwin Horne, formerly Miss B. K. Galey of Gatesville, is now employed as a policewoman in the Waco department.

B. K., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Galey of Gatesville is a recent Baylor graduate and the mother of one son, Joe Daniel, who is ten months old.

The Waco Police Department's policewomen entered the same training as regular male recruits with a limited degree of variation. B. K. will be involved in the Juvenile Division of the Waco Department. She will be working with both female victims and offenders and with small children, a spokesman reported.

B.K. is 1965 graduate of Gatesville High School. Her husband is former Baylor basketball player Ed Horne. He is serving in the Army at this time.

ANTIQUING AGAIN...It's good to hear that Nita Anderson is returning to the antique, crafts and hobbies business. I heard today that she's opening a new shop at 1212 Main Street in the near future.

Mrs. Anderson formerly owned and operated Anderson's Gifts, Crafts and Antiques in Gatesville.

OES Groups Meet In Hamiton

Past Matrons and Past Patrons Club of District 3 - Section 7 met on September 29 at 8 p.m. in the First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall in Hamilton, Texas. There were 25 members present with Mr. Arthur Corley, President, presiding.

During the business session a chairman from each chapter present was appointed to select two from his chapter to serve on a Help-the-Needy Committee. Each was given his instructions on how to function and is to report on December 29 at the Christmas meeting in Gatesville.

Also, during the business session a nominating committee composed of Fannie Gent, Emma McDonald, Gracie Stovall were appointed and instructed to report also at the December meeting.

After a most impressive program on "What Our Eastern Star Means," delightful refreshments were served. Chapters represented were Hamilton #215, Gatesville #1005, Walnut Springs #401, Evant #392, Regina #283, Copperas Cove #1070, with Walnut Springs carrying home the attendance banner.

residence in Flat. The vine, planted by young Tammie McFarlin last May extends approximately six feet in front (and the same distance in back) of the picket fence surrounding the McFarlin home. Tammie, 11, grew the sweet potato in water in a jar until the planting last spring. The potato was an experiment that little Tammie had studied in her fourth grade class in Gatesville Elementary School.

Perhaps the most beautiful part of the huge green plant is the cone-shaped blooms scattered around the plant. We saw only two when we visited the McFarlin home this weekend, but what a beautiful blue-orchid color they were.

A rarity to even bloom, the sweet potato vine has sported as many as ten blooms at one time!

On hand to greet us at the McFarlin home were Mrs. McFarlin, and three McFarlin children: Tammie, an 11 year-old fifth grader, Ellen, an 11 year-old sixth grader, and Jamie, a 7 year-old second grader.

Ellen McFarlin was visiting with her niece Tammie and nephew Jamie.

MONSTER VINE...Here is Tammie McFarlin, II, with her giant sweet potato vine. She planted the vine last spring from one sweet potato which is only half-buried in the soil.

SAD TO LEAVE...I think that would best describe the feelings of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Adams of Gatesville this week.

Mrs. Adams was by Monday and reported that she and Mr. Adams would move to Temple today. The Adamses are long-time residents of Coryell County. They have lived in Gatesville for the past seven and one-half years.

Before living in Gatesville, the family lived in the Turnersville area, and Mrs. Adams expressed sadness in leaving all of her Temple and Gatesville friends when they moved to Temple.

The Adamses will live at 3109 Glenwood Drive in Temple. Mr. Adams is employed with the Gulf Oil Corporation there.

We are sad, too, to see the Adamses leave Gatesville, and at the same time we wish them good luck and extend a welcome for visits back home to Gatesville.

NEW BABY...Big smiles are all over the Edwards and Loving homes this week because of 7 pounds and 13 ounces of boy-type joy!

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Edwards are the proud parents of a bouncing boy, Stephen Brett Edwards, born Saturday at 1:45 p.m. at Hillcrest Hospital in Waco.

The new baby, measuring 20 inches in length, has two sets of proud grandparents: Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Edwards of Gatesville and Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Loving of Fort Worth. Stephen Brett also has great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Willis of Fort Worth.

Congratulations on the new arrival--Bob and Barbara!

Xi Iota Holds Fall Fashion Show

The latest in fall fashion, full of new styles and newer colors were previewed Thursday night at the Xi Iota Epsilon "Fall Fantasy" fashion show, held at the city's new Community Center.

Commentator for the showing was Joy Cummings, former model and member of the Xi Iota Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. Assisting Mrs. Cummings was Katherine Healer, president of the social club.

The moderators gave a detailed description of the latest outfits for the fashion conscious woman or girl. Mrs. Healer told the seventy persons in attendance a bit about the background of Xi Iota.

Approximately 54 colorful, stylish garments were modeled in the 45 minute show. Clothing for the style show was furnished by local merchants: Leaird's Department Store, Bennett's Department Store, Thompson and Tippitt Department Store, and Elsie's Pant and Top Shop.

A total of 18 lovely poised models participated in the show. Stores and representing models included Thompson and Tippitt; Carolyn Clark, Frances Saunders, Mrs. Price Neeley, Terrie Tippitt and Debbitt Tippitt; Leaird's: Joann Poston, Linda Graham, Joy Cummings, Barbara Brown, and Katherine Healer; Bennett's: Elizabeth Bennett, Martha Ann Stevens, Carol Brim and Jan Jackson; Elsie's Pant and Top Shop: Mary Jo Arnold, Corinne Erwin, Barbara Brown and Joy Cummings.

SCARF-SKIRT COMBINATION...Martha Ann Stevens is pictured in a luscious burgandy plaid outfit perfect for those brisk fall days. The skirt, burgandy and white plaid with a single front pleat, is matched by a fringed scarf that can be worn at the waist and at the neck. The top is solid burgandy.

POCO PURPLE...Joann Poston selected a poco purple (one of this year's biggest colors) dress with long slender sleeves. The dropped A-line skirt is characterized by a knife pleat edged with three large buttons. The neckline of this lovely garment is accented by a self-scarf of poco purple edged with matching fringe.

icates awarded at the show were Mrs. Homer Baize, Dorothy Hunt and Dora Ament.

In charge of decorations for the extravaganza were Linda Graham and Miita McDonald. Props were distributed by Mary Jo Arnold and Byrd Ann Bromser. Mildred Skelton and Ella Hollingsworth directed the public address and lighting.

Dressing room coordination was handled by Billy Voss.

Music for the show was provided by Betty Thrasher and Annette Bruce.

Running back, Keith Suggs, No. 22, plows through a wide hole opened by John Conner, No. 66, and Jimmy Pruden, No. 50. Suggs scored the second touchdown of the game on this play, giving the Elks a 14 to 0 lead midway through the first quarter.

ELKS POWER PAST COMMANCHE B TEAM

The Evant Elks held on to an undefeated season and played a Homecoming crowd despite over three inches of rain Friday night.

The Elks "washed out" the Commanche B team in a hard hitting 26 to 6 victory.

The scoring started almost immediately as Kyle Arnold returned the opening kick-off to the Indian 12 yard line. Arnold then took two plays to get to the one yard line. The next play found Stanly Stanford carrying over on what Coach Bruce Jones describes as a "busted play." Stanford was supposed to hand off the football, but no one took the ball. He ended up carrying it himself.

The Elks pushed through the mud a second time in the first quarter on a 60 yard drive which ended with Keith Suggs crashing over from the three yard line.

The Elks and Indians traded punts and fumbles early in the second period. Then, with nine minutes to play in the first half, the Elks took over at their ten yard line. Arnold started the ball rolling by "wading" 23 yards to the Elk 33 yard line. The drive featured up-the-middle power by Arnold Suggs and David Pruden.

A key play in the drive came on fourth and one with 4:30 minutes to play. Stanford relied on his powerful fullback Arnold to pick up the needed yard.

Shortly after the fourth down play, the Elks met the Indians again on fourth down. This time with fourth and nine yards, Arnold went outside and picked up the first down on a sheer determination, effort and raw power. Indians just bounced off as Arnold eyed the chain marker.

With less than a minute remaining in the half, Arnold crashed over from the five yard line making the half time score 20 to 0.

Half time activities were cancelled and rescheduled for the Elk gym after the game. Heavy showers fell throughout the game. Rain gauges in the area measured from 3 1/2 inches to over 6 inches.

The second half slushed along at a slow pace with neither team threatening until 4:20 of the third quarter when the Elks began another long drive featuring two fourth down plays by Arnold. First came a fourth down and eight yards to go with 2:20 seconds remaining in the third quarter. Arnold drove up the middle for the necessary yardage despite a "war party of Indians."

The Elks almost stalled at the goal line when in three plays they failed to score from the 13 yard line. On fourth and five at the 8 yard line, Arnold again pushed his way to the two yard line in a clutch performance.

The quarter ended before the Elks could score, and David Pruden pushed across for the score on the second play of the fourth quarter. This made the score 26 to 0.

The Indians got on the scoreboard late in the game to end the scoring. The last three minutes of the play featured a heavy down pour.

Oglesby Crushes Venus In First Half 47 To 0

The Oglesby Tigers have picked up a winning habit after dropping the season opener to Star. This week Venus entered the line of victories for the Tigers 47-0.

Coach Gary Fox's talented sextet shut out Venus in the first half. Scoring started after the Tiger defense forces Venus to punt on their first possession. Willie Leos scored to climax the drive on an 18 yard run for six points.

Quarterback Richard West then teamed up with Joe Pitts for a 30 yard pass play and the Tigers' second touchdown. Leos kicked a two point conversion.

Larry Ross added his six points on a 50-yard run in the first quarter to make the score 20 to 0 in favor of the Tigers.

More came in the first quarter when Joe Guerrero returned a Venus punt to the Venus five yard line and then fumbled the ball, and Mike Robinson picked up the bouncing ball and went into the end zone for the score.

Manuel Marchez put six points on the score board early in the second quarter on a 10-yard run. The extra point pass was complete from West to Ross and the scoreboard read 33-0.

Another touchdown came when West launched a bomb to Stanly Everett, freshman end, who gathered in the ball in the end zone. Everett scored again on an 11-yard run for the last score of the night. Leos kicked the extra point and Oglesby shut out Venus 47 to 0 in the first half.

Coach Fox had a chance to look at his freshmen this week, and Everett looked good on both defense and offense. West has proved himself in two weeks as a quarterback. Fox noted, "West has a strong passing arm."

The Tigers piled up over 260 yards in total offense in the half game.

Howard McDonald, Sr. and Junior caught a nice 14-pound catfish on the Leon River over the weekend. "Howard, Jr." hooked the big fish on a rod and reel and called for assistance as the battle began. This makes two weekends in a row that young Howard has topped his father at fishing. He caught a nine pounder the week of September 29.
