Reeve returned Monday from a trip to Perryton, where they visited their son Hadley and wife; to Pampa, where they ate dinner with their daughter, Miss Mary; to Canyon, where they attended a piano recital by the pupils of their daughter in law, Mrs. Charles Reeve, and at Hereford, where they visited their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reeve.

Mrs. C. A. Wickard returned home Saturday from a visit of two weeks with her son, Ira Parker, and family, of Portales, N. M., and with other relatives at Floyd, N. M.

F. N. Welch, who harvested 100 acres of yellow soy beans last year, stated this week that he was planning to have 250 acres this year and that he considers the new crop to have fine possibilities for this section.

Because of its use in various types of oils and as a base in plastics, in addition to the use of the pulp for feeding, the soy bean is coming into increasing demand, Mr. Welch says, adding that there seems to be no possibility of over-production of the crop, at least for the duration of the war.

According to the Friona man, soy beans are easy to plant and can be harvested with the combines. One working with a god-devil and one with a sweep to roll the soil into the lister furrows in leveling the land is all the cultivation necessary; however Welch recommends one other working with the sweep or cultivator. Beans are planted at intervals of from three to four inches.

Welch's crop averaged 14 bushels per acre, thresher run, or 13 bushels cleaned, and he is getting $2.50 a bushel for the crop.

There are 100 varieties of soy beans, according to the Friona grower, and the main precaution is to plant the bean most in demand in American markets. The yellow bean is considered best for all purposes, Welch continues, since it yields a higher percentage of oil and of the materials used as plastic bases than do other varieties.

U. S. Wheat Bins Are Full

World War II finds the United States well supplied with wheat, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. As the chart indicates, the supply is double that of 1917 when America entered the first World War. It is estimated that on July 1, the Nation's supply will be nearly 1 1/2 billion bushels, enough for two years of domestic use. Instead of plowing up new land and expanding wheat acreage, farmers are able to use land, labor, and equipment in turning out other war commodities more vitally needed—such as dairy, poultry, and meat products, vegetables, and oil crops.

Returning from conferences with British army chiefs, Gen. George C. Marshall, Army chief of staff, has reported to President Roosevelt. His visit, many believe, presages plans for an allied offensive.

The Friona High School band received a rating of "second" after it had played three numbers—two of their own choice and one required number—and eight reading two pieces, at the music contest in Amarillo last week.

Five of the band members played solos, Thursday, and were given a second rating. The soloists were Wynona Hill, clarinet; June Maurer, flute; John Lee Weis, tuba; Roy Hart, cornet; Dale Treider, trombone and baritone.

This is the third year the band has taken part in this festival, and the members have worked from a class DD to a class C competition.

History of City And State Told In News Edition

The Friona Star has received a copy of the Dallas Morning News' 100th Anniversary edition, which presents an unusual feat in newspaper publication.

The issue might well be entitled "One Hundred Years Of Progress", since it contained not only a history of the News but also a history of the city and State.

It not only comprises this historical data, but kept up its record of presenting all the important news events of the State, the Nation and the World, and is in itself a brief encyclopedia of valuable information.

Jasper Now Stationed At Carolina Air Base

A card has been received by Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Jasper, from their son, Raymond, informing them of his change in address, from Jackson, Miss., to Columbia, S. C., and they have been kind enough to allow us to use it in the Star. It reads as follows: Columbia, S. C. April 25, 1942

Dear Folks:

Guess this will surprise you, but sure enough I am in Columbia, S. C. Left Jackson Wednesday night and got out here yesterday morning. Feel fine except for a cold. Hope everyone is doing fine there. My address is Columbia Air Base, 314th Bomb Squadron, Columbia, S. C. Tell all "Hello!" and write often. Please have the Star changed to this address. And now that I have to quit, I'll close with love, as ever, your son, Raymond.

Work Clothes Topic For Parmerton Club

As more men are inducted into the army, there will be more women doing defense work. With these jobs the need has arisen for new work clothes. The Bureau of Home Economics has designed fifteen new models for women along functional lines. Work clothes must have five characteristics, so said Miss Elsie Cunningham, county agent, in her demonstration.

They must be comfortable, simple, easy to launder, safe for tasks we have to do, and attractive. She showed garments and patterns for the new work clothes for women.

Club met with Mrs. G. H. Brock. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. C. A. Wickard, May 27.

The club house is used by the two clubs and also serves as center for many community events. O. F. Lange was the architect for the building.

Friona Pioneer Knew Buffalo Bill; Saw Ft. Worth As A Real 'Cowtown'

A varied and colorful career came to a peaceful end at ten o'clock p. m. on Tuesday, April 21, when George W. Taylor, one of Friona's real pioneers, died at the age of 90 years, two months and 18 days.

Mr. Taylor was born Feb. 3, 1852, in Floyd County, Ind. Both his parents passed away while he was very young, his father dying when he was but five years old, and his mother passed away when he was 12 years old. He then made his home with an older brother until he was 19, when he went to work as a locomotive fireman on a railroad out of Louisville, Ky., where he worked for about two years.

At that time he became filled with a desire to see more of the frontier and he and his brother, Sam Taylor, with whom he had made his home while a boy, migrated to Tarrant County, Tex., and settled on land now included in the city of Fort Worth.

While at that time Fort Worth was a very small place, it was fast becoming a great "cowtown". A miniature stockyards was already located at the present site, according to Mr. Taylor's recollections.

In 1875 he and his brother sold their holdings in Tarrant County, and Sam went back to Louisville, Ky. George worked his way north through Oklahoma, then known as "Indian Territory", and into Kansas, and during the winter of 1877 he worked for "Buffalo Bill" Cody, who, at that time had a contract to furnish the meat for a Santa Fe construction crew in western Kansas.

The winter of '78 found him in Des Moines, Ia., where he packed meat for the firm of Twille & Igo. Incidentally, on his way to Des Moines, he spent a night in Topeka, Kan., and had as his bedfellow that notorious character, Jesse James, who tried to persuade him to go with him to Western Kansas and steal a herd of horses. But Taylor and James took different trails the next morning.

From Des Moines he went to Watseka, Ill., to work on railroad construction in that vicinity, and Taylor estimated that the contractor still owed him $900 for that work. From there he worked down into Central, Ill., where in 1881 he was married to Lydia A. Shoop. They lived in Warren County, Ill., where all four of their children were born, until 1898, when they moved to Warren County, Ia., where he followed stock farming until 1910 when they moved to Parmer County, Texas, arriving here in Feb. 1910. Mr. Taylor had lived on the same farm in this county until the time of his death.

Mrs. Taylor predeceased her husband in death in March, 1933. He was of English descent, the only child of his parents born in the United States. He is survived by his four children, two sons, George C., of Friona, and Ward, of New Virginia, Ia., and two daughters, Mrs. Laura Shoop of Payette, Ia., and Mrs. A. M. Cade of Tahoka. He is also survived by ten grandchildren and 3 great-grandchildren. He became a Mason in 1882, and joined the Methodist Church in 1897.

Funeral services were held at the Friona Methodist Church on Thursday afternoon, conducted by the pastor, Rev. L. L. Hill, assisted by Rev. Joe Wilson, pastor of the Baptist Church. Interment was made in the Friona cemetery.

Lion Banquet Honors Friona's Six Star Mother

The Friona Lion's Club honored Mrs. George M. Baker, six star mother, Tuesday night, when she was special guest at a patriotic banquet given by the Friona service club, at the club house.

The program was also a "ladies night" and each Lion was accompanied by a guest.

Carrying out the patriotic theme, tables were arranged in a "V" shape and table decorations were in red, white and blue.

After opening the meeting by leading the group in singing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic", Boss Lion W. L. Edelman turned the program over to H. T. Magness, who was toastmaster for the evening. Making brief talks on the program to highlight the achievement of the Lions Club in sponsoring Mrs. Baker's appearance at the army day parade in Amarillo on April 6, were Rev. and Mrs. Joe Wilson, C. E. McLean, Rev. and Mrs. Paxton Smith and Miss Nila Jean Baker.

Mayor J. A. Blackwell presented Mrs. Baker with a beautiful American Victory Service Flag, donated by the United Veterans of the Republic. The flag is of red, white and blue, decorated with a "V" and with six stars in honor of Mrs. Baker's six sons in the service.

Mrs. Baker expressed her appreciation for the kindness and honors bestowed on her by her home town people.

Also on the program were vocal solos by Joyce Ann Miller, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller, and by Miss Nancy Shackelford.

Members of the Senior and Junior Woman's Clubs served the banquet.

Monday-Tuesday Date For Sugar Registration

Monday and Tuesday, May 4 and 5, have been set as the date for sugar rationing registration in Parmer County and Supt. W. L. Edelman this week announced complete plans for the registration, which will be held at the school in each school district.

FACTS FOR REGISTRANTS

Mr. Edelman has prepared the following important information for securing War Ration Book I:

- 1. One person from each family will register all members of the family. That person may be father, mother, or other member over 18 years of age, or the family member must be married if less than 18 years of age.
2. The family member registering must know the Age, Height, Weight, Color of Eyes and Color of Hair of each member of the family for whom he or she is registering. This is very important and absolutely necessary for the registration.
3. Total amount of white or brown sugar in any form which is owned by the family unit or its members. Judge Schroeter also points out that this includes natural syrup, which will be (Continued on Back Page)

NEWS IN THE WORLD OF RELIGION BY W.W. REID

Glenn V. Fuller of Claremont, Calif., newly-named treasurer of the Methodist Church for all China, Free China, after more than three months of precarious travel from America. He left in early January, against the advice of his friends, on a munitions-loaded freighter bound for Rangoon and the Burma Road. The Road was closed before he arrived. He landed in Capetown, South Africa, instead. After being "blacked out" to family and friends for weeks he was heard from in Karachi, India. Weeks more and the cable announced his arrival in Chungking. He had gone by train to northern India and flown across the mountains into Free China. As treasurer he will have charge of hospital and relief funds, and will be associated with General and Madame Chiang Kai-shek in their work for relief, rehabilitation, and orphanage care for the civilian population.

"Bumper crop," "five loaves of skillet bread," "tribal chiefs," and "brush arbor" are a few expressions appearing in the new rendition of "The Gospel According to Luke—a Translation into the Everyday Language of Midwestern United States from the Westcott and Hort Text of the Greek New Testament." This translation in "midwestern United States" is used to interpret the Bible to the Ponca Indians. It was prepared by the Rev. Don J. Klingensmith, superintendent of the Ponca Mission, Ponca City, Okla. He recognized the difficulties of the King James version for a people whose language background has been largely in an unwritten tongue. More than 2,500 copies have been printed. Mr. Klingensmith has heard from Presbyterian and Baptist missionaries in Alaska and Montana that they, too, find the translation helpful in teaching the Indians.

Edward Clark Riggs, M. D., of Denver, Colo., now on the staff of the Boston Dispensary, has been appointed a "career physician" under the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions (Congregational), and will go to China as a medical missionary as soon as passage can be secured. The young doctor comes from a famous family which has given the Near East and the Far East more than a score of missionaries through three generations. He has been planning a medical missionary career since the age of twelve. He worked his way through the University of Colorado and its School of Medicine to attain that goal.

"Christianity presupposes some material attainments, just as it presupposes some moral stabilities," said Bishop Francis J. McConnell, of New York City, recently. "If it is true that the majority of the human race have never since the beginning of history lain down to rest at night having known through the previous day the satisfaction of enough to eat, we have to conclude that the greatest failure in history up to the present has been that of inability so to master the resources of the earth as to make genuine human existence possible. . . . Surely it comes within the province of the church to insist upon society's right and duty to seek and maintain the material conditions which make the achievement of the higher human values possible."

The Catholic Foreign Mission Society of America, with headquarters at Maryknoll Seminary, Ossining, N. Y., is opening a new mission in the Republic of Bolivia with twenty priests. The Very Rev. Alonso Escalante, of New York City, who will be the superior of the missions, and two associates are already en route to Bolivia. The other members are seniors at Maryknoll Seminary and will leave following their ordination in June. This is the first mission from Maryknoll to go to South America.

The Rev. Clayton A. Pepper, pastor of the federated church at Westport, New York—a federation formed of local Methodist and Baptist churches, and the Rev. Charles Swindells, pastor for thirteen years of Baptist churches at Laporte, White Oak, Navy, and Badoura, Minnesota—covering a rural field of more than 1,000 square miles—have been selected by the Northern Baptist Convention to receive the "Rose O. Hall Certificate of Award" for meritorious service on rural fields in America. The awards will be made in connection with the annual meeting of the Convention in Cleveland, Ohio, May 26-31. Mr. Pepper was formerly pastor of a group of rural churches centering in Horicon in the Adirondacks, N. Y. Mr. Swindells is also chaplain to the Indian patients at the Walker State Hospital, Minn.

Mrs. Tandy Legg and Mrs. Laura Shaw urge that all who possibly can sign Sugar Ration Cards Monday and Tuesday, May 4 and 5, of next week, do so. There will be no school these two days; and although you can sign up on the other days you will be helping the teachers by looking after this on the first two days so that their school work will not be broken into.

the rain and muddy roads which kept others of the Young People's Sunday School Class away. The event was at the Clark home instead of at the Park in Hereford as had been planned.

Everett Storey visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Storey, over the week end. Everett is employed by a construction Company at Big Spring.

MATERIAL CONTROL TIGHTENED

A further step toward putting all American industry under the Production Requirements Plan by elimination of priority assistance on individual applications of manufacturers has been taken by the War Production Board. The WPB announced that no individual applications for manufacturers' materials to be used over a period of more than one month will be approved. Under the PRP plan, all materials required for a calendar quarter are covered in a single application, thus giving the WPB a tighter check on the volume and uses of materials, as well as full inventory information.

Uncle Sam asks us to Hoard Coal Now

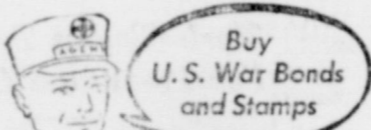

Coal is one thing the Government definitely wants us to hoard this spring and summer

- We are asked to buy coal now, if we are coal users, (1) to protect ourselves against a possible coal shortage next winter, and (2) to help make more freight cars available then for moving vital war material. Spreading coal shipments over a longer period than usual will do just that.
- Most folks wait until the last minute to order their winter's coal supply. Many millions of tons of coal must then be moved by rail in a very short time. Next winter's war needs and the tire shortage will put the greatest load on the railroads in their history. War freight must move first, and those who wait too long to order their coal may not be able to get prompt delivery when they need it.

● So we repeat Uncle Sam's friendly warning to us all. If you use coal, get in your winter coal supply now, in the off season, when transportation is available. You'll help yourself and also help win this war.

Carrots May Win Victory Over Common Head Cold

Los Angeles. —The common head cold, a baneful puzzle to doctors as long as the medical profession has existed, may join the list of conquered diseases, and through the agency of the humble carrot.

After seven years of research, a group of scientists believe—guardedly—that they have developed a specific remedy for the malady which annually takes a greater toll of man-hours in industry than any other ailment, which costs the American people millions of dollars each year, and which, incidentally, is a miserable thing to suffer from.

The answer, they believe, is carotene, a creamy white derivative of the common carrot. Or rather, it's a new substance, provitamin A, factor 3, extracted from carotene. And you don't swallow it, or have it injected into you—you just rub it on yourself.

The material was developed by the Llewellyn Biological Institute of West Los Angeles, of which Dr. R. L. Cunningham is director. Already it has been tried on 150 patients with what he describes as effective results.

"It is in the hands of a number of physicians at present," said Dr. Cunningham, "and as soon as we test it on 5,000 more patients we will know definitely what we have. Although I hesitate to say it, it looks as if it is a specific for the head cold." Using it is simplicity itself. The best method is to massage about 15 drops into the skin of each inner thigh. Or 30 drops can be rubbed into the abdomen. The main thing is to rub it into a 10-square inch area through which absorption can occur.

Of 150 patients in the early stages of colds, said Dr. Cunningham, 109 recovered quickly. Marked improvement was noted in 23 cases, while in only 18 instances did improvement fail to occur.

Wheat in this community looks better and shows better prospects for good crops than for several years. Green bugs are plentiful but do not seem to be doing much damage. The heavy rain last Thursday soaked the ground and the sunshine and warm days since are ideal for growing.

PRIORITIES AND REFRIGERATION

High preference ratings for repairs to air conditioning and refrigeration equipment have been granted by the WPB. The top rating, A-1a, is available in case of an actual breakdown of equipment used to process, transport or store food and dairy products for the armed services. Other 'A' ratings are provided to maintain existing equipment of all types, except domestic mechanical refrigerators.

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

Controlled hunting that will prevent the killing of so many large bucks, and maintenance of the food supply were advanced today as probably the main factors in building up the weight and size of white-tail deer in Gillespie, Kerr, Mason and other Hill Country counties, the executive secretary of Game, Fish and Oyster Commission said today.

That progress is being made in that direction was indicated in the quarterly report of the director of wildlife restoration, which indicated that the average dressed weight of a Hill Country deer during the 1941 hunting season was 79.44 pounds, compared to an average dressed weight of 73.55 pounds in 1938, or an increase since 1938 of 5.89 pounds on the average.

These figures, it was pointed out, are based on statistics obtained from game department biologists, who, from the hunting season of 1938 through Dec. 20, 1941, had weighed 2,093 deer killed by hunters in all of the banner deer hunting counties in the Hill Country.

Gillespie County deer showed the highest average dressed weight increase—6.82 pounds on

Let's Cook Something

No roll call of fine desserts would be complete without a delectable apricot sherbet recipe—and here is one that will fit right in with your wartime budget, rationed sugar and all, for you—from your family or guests—at the very first taste. It is Mrs. N. E. Milburn's favorite recipe and she recommends it because it will not get icy in the refrigerator.

APRICOT SHERBET

- 1 cup apricot juice
- 1 cup apricot pulp
- 1-2 cup water
- 1 cup Karo syrup
- 2 egg whites
- pinch of salt
- 1-2 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1-2 cup whipping cream

Cook juice, water and Karo slowly for ten minutes and set aside to cool. Force apricots through strainer and add lemon juice and strained apricot pulp to cooled syrup. Mix well and pour into refrigerator trays and freeze firm. Remove into mixing bowl and beat well until light. Add stiffly beaten egg whites and the cream which has been whipped stiff and return to trays and allow to finish freezing.

This is delightful all the year round.

the average for each deer. Kerr County was second with 5.85 pounds, while in Mason County the average increase based on available statistics was shown to be 1.06 pounds.

NOTES ON HUNTING SEASONS

Additional notes on the 1941 hunting seasons unearthed by Game Department biologists:

A doe found killed at Travis Peak in Travis County was found to have been tagged and released by Game Department trappers on a Robertson County deer restoration project in February of 1940. The doe had been trapped in Mason County, it was learned from the tag, and when killed was apparently making her way back home. In traveling the approximately 90 airline miles in 21 months, this doe had crossed the Brazos River and probably had followed the San Gabriel River through the blackland farming section to the vicinity of Georgetown.

Several deer released by the department on a Jack County deer restoration area have been found to have traveled about 20 miles after release.

Of 114 wild turkeys weighed in Kimble, Kerr, Gillespie, and Mason counties during the last open season, those killed by hunters in Kerr County were the heaviest. The average weight of 40 turkeys killed in that county was 12.3 pounds. Other Counties: Mason—21 turkeys averaged 11.71 pounds each. Kimble—29 turkeys averaged 10.93 pounds each. Gillespie—24 turkeys averaged 10.91 pounds each. The average weight of all the 114 turkeys was 11.46 pounds each.

Battle Of Home Front Will Enlist Help of Every Citizen To Win War

Everybody right here at home has been brought into the Battle of the Home Front and, if not before, he now knows it emphatically, with everyone urged to help lick the High Cost of Living and to cooperate in the many drastic restrictions necessary to conserve vital materials needed for the War Program.

This week's developments have shown the importance of Home Front problems affecting the oldest person to the youngest baby—problems that include equal sharing of commodities as well as what those commodities cost.

To solve the problems, the War Agencies moved rapidly with orders that were in keeping with the times. And as many of these problems sprang from shortages, consumer groups joined in the battle and urged that "if you don't need it, don't buy it."

Included among the important actions was the start of sugar rationing, beginning with the registration of all dealers and commercial users. The War Production Board delegated authority to the Office of Price Administration to ration sugar at all levels, from the refiner to the consumer, and laid the ground work for consumer rationing after registration May 4, 5, 6, or 7.

The OPA fixed the starting share-and-share-alike sugar ration at half a pound per person each week.

From rationing the consumer's problems embraced the necessity for car pooling to share available tires and cars so that they will last longer for all; the necessity for getting along with fewer deliveries from stores, so their equipment can last longer also, and the possibility that new telephone installations may be denied, except where service is essential.

Appeals were issued to vacationists to travel during mid-week this year where possible, to relieve weekend pressure on already over-taxed common carriers. In fact announcements of the Office of Defense Transportation, appealing to auto users to double up and to everyone to make their normal pursuits and pleasures secondary to the primary demands of war pointed to future possibilities for the necessity to ration travel. Along the Eastern Seaboard, travel rationing already has been ordered with the gasoline ration plan to start May 15.

On delivery service, the ODT issued a general order forbidding special deliveries and "Call Backs" and placed a limit on the number and mileage of local delivery services. More than one delivery a day to a person is forbidden, and special deliveries can be made only to hospitals and the armed services and where they are necessary to the public health, life and safety. The order is effective May 15. And it applies to any rubber-tired vehicle drawn by mechanical power or horses.

Installation of telephones was brought under strict control by a WPB order. It provides that new service may be denied except to persons or organizations engaged in direct war work, or in occupations essential to the public welfare. Others can't expect service unless it can be provided without disrupting essential service. The order was necessary to conserve large quantities of critical materials and is expected to result in an annual saving of 53,000 tons of lead, 34,000 tons of copper, 35,000 tons of iron and steel, and large amounts of other materials needed in the War Program.

Although with the economic moves of the week, steps also were taken to provide an increasing army of workers at bench, lathe and forge to speed up the battle on the Production Front about the time that WBP Chairman Donald M. Nelson was declaring in a speech in New York that "free men driven by their own loyalty and determination are better men than slaves driven by their master's lash."

The newly created man power commission, under chairmanship of Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt, was given the job of making sure that manpower needed to make weapons and planes and ships will be available when and where it is needed. Mr. McNutt emphasized that each citizen must be in some sense a soldier, and that "there is a place for everybody in this effort."

Considering that it takes the work of 18 men to keep a single soldier on the battle line, Mr. McNutt had first to weigh the problem that our war industry is going to need 10,500,000 new workers soon, farms are going to need more labor to harvest crops, and at the same time, selective service boards will be drawing at least 2,000,000 additional young men from farm and factory for military service.

Many of the millions who must take their places in war jobs are expected to come from those non-war industries that are now grinding to a stop, under orders from the WPM. Womanpower, too, will be a source of reserve workers.

Ray Johnson Receives Broken Leg When Horse Falls Tuesday Morning

Ray Johnson of the Summerfield Community received a broken left leg Tuesday morning when the horse he was riding slipped on marshy ground and fell.

Johnson was close enough to the house that Mrs. Johnson could hear his shouts. She got help at the Summerfield store and took her husband to Hereford to get the leg set.

The break was a serious one, with the bone broken between the ankle and knee. Johnson was taken home Tuesday afternoon and yesterday his condition was reported as satisfactory.

News of AAA Farm Program

By Kletz Garrison

At the time farm plan sheets were executed by producers in the county, the regulations did not permit cane or other crops grown on soil-conserving acreage (layout land) to be used for silage. This regulation has been amended, and any crops grown on layout land may be put in trench silos and may be used in any manner the producer desires with the single exception of threshing.

I have been informed by state officials that strips of sweet sorghum alternating with strips of grain sorghums on the contour, will not qualify as strip cropping unless the sweet sorghums are solid seeded, that is planted with a drill or broadcast. A number of farmers seem to still have the idea that they must strip crop in order to earn their maximum payment. This idea is not true since we now have additional practices which may be carried out and the maximum payment earned without strip cropping. The practice I have reference to is that of leaving a ten-inch stubble on all feed crops. If a farmer has his rows contoured and then leaves at least a ten-inch stubble he can earn his entire soil-building allowance without having any strip cropping. I do not mean to discourage farmers from carrying out the strip-cropping practice if they so desire; however, I do not want anyone to think it is mandatory that they carrying out the strip cropping practice in order to earn their maximum payment. An important change in the 1942 program over the 1941 program is that in case a farmer has seeded wheat which has been destroyed by worms, wind erosion, grasshoppers, or any other unavoidable hazard which he wishes to swap for acreage of volunteer wheat may do so and not have the acreage seeded to wheat count against him. Is YOUR PRESSURE COOKER SAFE?

By ELSIE CUNNINGHAM Home Demonstration Agent

This past Saturday Mrs. Edna P. Eims, FSA Home Supervisor, and I checked 25 cookers and talked with and advised some 25 or 30 people as to the care of their cookers in the "Repair Clinic" at Friona. We both were very well pleased with the response and interest. Our chief regret is that we do not have time to talk with everyone in Farmer County who owns a pressure cooker. However, this news item will be one means of helping you get ready for the canning season.

Many people will wipe the dust of years off their canning equipment and start processing food again this year. The pressure gauges should be checked before the canning season and after any hard jar the cooker may receive.

Be sure to remove the petcock and safety valves and clean them. This is important. Each time food has been cooked or open containers exhausted in the cooker, the petcock and safety valves should be well cleaned. To clean, unscrew, take apart, and wash in boiling, soapy water. Exercise care to see that the parts are not scarred. Use a toothpick or needle to check the openings in the bottom of the cover. Dry carefully and put back together again before storing. Many people we talked with at the clinic did not know that the petcock and safety valves should be removed, cleaned and dried; as a result many cookers were actually unsafe for use.

Be sure your cooker is safe. The only way you can really be sure of that is to have it checked regularly and to keep it clean and to replace defective parts. Several cookers that we handled at the clinic had huge holes or pits in the bottom. Some of these pits were big enough to put the end of the finger in. These cookers are not safe and should be replaced. There are still a few cookers in the local stores at reasonable prices. It is better not to take the risk of using defective equipment.

If the spring is weak, the ball-bearing scarred, the figures obliterated on the pressure gauge, or any other part is not up to par, REPLACE IT NOW. Parts are available now but no one can say for how long. Go to your local hardware dealer and have him order the parts you need.

Some of the homemakers reported that they had difficulty removing odors and stains in their pressure cookers. Try this. To remove stains and odors from pressure cookers, wash carefully with hot soapy water and rinse well. Cut up a lemon, put it in the cooker, add two cups of water, and hold the pressure at 5 pounds for 5 minutes. This will aid in cleaning as well as deodorizing. A double handful of potato peelings may be substituted for lemon to remove odors. Leave the cooker open when not in use.

It is not a good idea to use your cooker as a cream or milk vessel.

SCHOOLS CLOSED

School will be closed on Monday and Tuesday while the registration is in progress. Though May 6 and 7 have been scheduled for national registration, the local registrars hope to have the job finished on the first two days to avoid interference with regular school work. They urge all persons to get their ration books on the Monday and Tuesday date.

In announcing the registration, Kinard made the following statement which expresses the feelings of all registrars and of the teachers of the county who will carry out the job.

"It shall be our purpose to take care of this important government responsibility in a courteous and friendly manner. If some error occurs in your application or certificate, please be patient. We shall be eager to make correction for errors which occur. Remember, this is something entirely new to us, and we have had very little time to become acquainted with the instructions. We shall want to have the work properly done. We shall be grateful to the public for its assistance in this greatest consumer registration in the history of this country."
