More Parmer County Girls Taking A Part In 4-H Club Work Each Year

Mrs. Joe Jesko, Chairman of the Sponsors Committee of the County Home Demonstration Council, announced this week that enrollment in girls clubs shows an 11 per cent increase over last year. The enrollment at present is 150 members in the 7 clubs.

Mrs. Jesko pointed out that 4-H girls have produced and canned food, learned to make and care for their clothes, purchased war stamps and bonds, salvaged rubber, iron, steel and other metals, helped with farm labor shortage, learn first aid, and done many other things to aid in the war effort this past year.

W. B. Wright, who closed his blacksmith and machine shop here two weeks ago and went to California to seek employment at defense work in the ship yards there, returned home Tuesday.

Mr. Wright states that conditions there were not as he desired although there was an abundance of opportunity for work, so he decided to return to Friona and will again open his shop.

He is an experienced mechanic and blacksmith and welder, and deserves the patronage of the local public.

Dick Habbinga Back From Visit To Mayo's

A card from Mrs. D. E. (Dick) Habbinga, who is now at Abernathy, states that her husband received little encouragement concerning his health from his conference with the specialists at Mayo Brothers Clinic at Rochester, Minn. The card was received the latter part of last week at the Star office and reads as follows:

Dear Mr. White:
I am writing to let you know that Dick is back from Mayo's. He felt real good when he came back from there but they couldn't do anything for him there—just told him he would have to stay off the farm and out of weeds and dust and change climates and rest for three months not doing anything. He said he felt lots better up there than he does down this way. So we may have to move north where it is really cold. Would like for all our friends to know that he is some better. May see you soon.
Mrs. D. E. Habbinga.

It is the duty and responsibility of the boys elected to see that their club makes a go of the work during the year, and these boys consider it an honor to be elected as an official of their local club. The following is a list of the officials of each club in the county:

Midway:
Floyd Templar, president; Geo. Jesko, vice-president; Danny Koelzer, secretary.

Bovina:
Sam Johnson, president; Lawrence Rhodes, vice-president; Jimmie Charles, secretary.

Boys 4-H Clubs Make Good Record For Year

Alexander Writes From Missouri Home

The following letter was received at the Star office from J. M. W. Alexander, who with Mrs. Alexander and their three sons were for several years citizens of the Friona territory. Mr. Alexander asks that the Star be sent to their address and that we extend their best wishes to their many Friona friends. We quote his letter:

Seligman, Mo. Nov. 4, 1942
Mr. John White, Friona, Texas.
Dear Friend:

Have been thinking for some time would write you in regard to my paper (The Friona Star) but I neglected writing when my time expired, so you will find check inclosed and please put me on your mailing list as we are always anxious to get the Star. Well, Uncle John, it has been almost two years since we left Friona and came over here to Missouri, and we like our new home fine. This is a fine country to raise everything you want to eat, a fine fruit and dairy country. We have good neighbors here, and we have made quite a few friends here, but still they don't take the place of our old friends out at Friona. Mrs. Alexander often talks of the friends we left out in that country, and wish we could see them again. Two of our boys are in training—Lex in Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., and Milford is in Kansas City, Mo., attending a radio school. We will all be glad when this war is over and all of our boys can come home. Please give our best regards to all our friends and tell them if they will come over here we will give them all the black walnuts, peanuts and popcorn they can eat.

Your old friend,
J. M. W. Alexander.
We are truly glad to have the Alexanders on our list of readers again.—Ed.

Gold Star Girls To Be Selected Nov. 28

Saturday, Nov. 28, has been set as the date when the judging committee will visit the candidates for the 1942 Gold Star award, the most cherished of 4-H medals.

Up to this date three clubs have entered candidates and the race looks like a close one. The Friona 4-H Club selected its vice-president, Tomliou Turner, as candidate for the Gold Star award. Tomliou is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Turner and has been in 4-H Club work three years.

Barbara Foster was selected by the Oklahoma Lane Club as its candidate. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Foster and is entering her fourth year in 4-H work. Barbara is president of the Oklahoma Lane Club.

Laura Seaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Seaton, of the Lazbuddy community was selected by that club as candidate for the award. Laura is beginning her sixth year the Lazbuddy 4-H Club, and was honored this year by being elected president.

All three candidates have been clothing demonstrators for their respective clubs this past year.

Mother of Mrs. E. R. New Dies At Home In Okla.
Mrs. E. R. New of Friona received a message on Saturday of last week summoning her to the bedside of her mother, whose death seemed near at hand, at her home at Caddo, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. New started at once to drive to Caddo and arrived there a few minutes before her mother passed away. They remained there until after the funeral and returned to Friona Tuesday afternoon.

NO MIDWEEK SHOW AT REGAL
There have been no shows at the Regal Theatre on Tuesday nights for some time and Mrs. Ray Landrum announces that there will be no show on Wednesday and Thursday nights this week, and until further notice.

Sanford Harper Dies Sunday

Funeral services were conducted here at the Baptist Church for Sanford Harper, who died at his home southeast of Friona, Sunday, Nov. 8, after a long illness.

He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Harper of the Lakeview community and a brief obituary reads as follows:

Sanford Harper was born Oct. 16, 1902, in Stone County, Ark. He lived there until 1912, when the family moved to Oklahoma. While in Oklahoma Sanford became a member of the Missionary Baptist Church and his membership was still with that church.

The family moved to Parmer County in 1926. In 1927 Mr. Harper was married to Miss Marie Kleinhaus, and to this union were born five children, all of whom are living.

Mr. Harper had not been well for many months and during the past four months had been confined to his bed. He leaves to mourn his death his wife, the children, Clifton, B. C. Garcy, Sandra Marie and Nancy Carolyn. Also a son by a former marriage, and his aged parents, one brother, J. E. Harper, and a host of friends.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Joe Wilson, assisted by Rev. John W. Price, and burial was in Friona cemetery.

The deceased had lived an upright and industrious life by which he had won the esteem and respect of all who knew him. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved family.

No Clues Reported In Station Burglary

W. L. Edelson, local representative of the Magnolia Petroleum Co., reports no clues as to the perpetrator of the burglary of his filling station one night last week.

The plate glass in the front door of the Magnolia filling station on the highway was broken out and Mr. Edelson's cash register with all its contents was taken away.

Mr. Edelson stated however, that his real loss was small as there was only a small amount of cash in the register and several checks, all of which he can recover on. As the cash register company carries insurance on all its machines, the loss of the register will be replaced by the company.

O. K. Tire Shop Installs New Re-Capping Machine

O. K. Tire Shop, 313 N. Main Hereford, has this week completed installation of a new O. K. Recap Machine and announces that they can do re-cap work equal in quality to any available in this section.

The new high-pressure machine can operate on 15, 16, 17 or 18 inch tires and the high pressure method has a tendency to eliminate sidewall heat.

Ceiling prices prevail on all re-cap work and the management of The O. K. Tire shop urge customers in this area to bring in their re-cap jobs now, pointing out that experienced mechanics are now prepared to give the same good service on re-capping which they have been giving in all tire repair services.

The week of Nov. 7-14 has been designated as National 4-H Club Achievement Week. This naturally makes anyone who is closely connected with 4-H Club work wonder just what has been achieved by 4-H Club boys in Parmer County. Then when such a thinking process is set in motion we can find many worthwhile things which have been accomplished by these boys. However, before we begin to name some of these achievements let's think for just a while what 4-H Club work for boys is and what it will do when the organization works well.

The motto of the 4-H Club is, "To make the best better". That phrase pretty well covers the field. The 4-H Club is an organization of rural young people who are interested in learning more about how to improve living conditions, how to make better American Citizens, and how to make more money in agriculture as a profession. Now many times we fail to get all these aims and accomplishments across to all the boys we work with but you will find it very difficult to find a boy who has been in 4-H Club work who has not learned a part of one of these items from his 4-H Club work.

130 Boys Enrolled
Now for some of the accomplishments of these boys in Parmer County during 1942. First we had approximately 130 boys who were enrolled in the 4-H Club and who selected a special demonstration such as beef cattle, swine, dairy cattle, poultry, crops and so on. Each of these boys studied bulletins and discussed in their meetings better ways of producing these animals and other foods. They talked with their adult leaders and their county agricultural agent about their demonstrations and actually put into practice some of the better ways of handling their demonstration and improved on the manner in which their father had handled livestock and crops. Second, these boys learned to organize in a democratic manner with club officials elected by them and who served them. The boys learned a lot in this way about how to get up before an audience and talk. They earned a lot about putting everything they had into getting the group to accept their personal ideas and then learned to fall in line and accept the decision of the majority whether it was in line with their idea or not.

Individual Awards
Some of the more outstanding examples of what was done by individual 4-H Club boys during the year gives a clear picture of the work which is being attempted in the county. Two boys, Donald Watkins and Leon Grissom, prepared and demonstrated a talk on the production of clean milk. These boys entered a contest and placed first in the district and second in the State. From their demonstration they learned more about the job themselves as well as to tell others of the better ways of handling milk.

Donald Watkins completed six years of 4-H Club work and entered his records in a National Contest where he was awarded a trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago. Donald says that he has learned a lot and has made quite a bit of money from his livestock demonstrations but that this trip will be worth all the trouble he has had even if he had not been paid in any other manner. Other awards which were won by the boys in 1942 include a gold medal awarded to C. L. Calaway for Home Beautification work.

We thing our boys have had a very successful year but they aren't satisfied. But who could be completely satisfied with a motto like 4-H Club boys have. "To make the best better."

Officers Named by Parmer County 4-H Girls

In addition to developing desirable standards and ideas for homemaking and family life—the 4H Club girl learns citizenship and leadership thru participating in regular club work. She learns the meaning of the "rule of the majority" thru settling questions which arise in the organization. She learns to appraise individual abilities by helping to select club officers and has an opportunity to verify her judgment by watching them at their work. She learns parliamentary procedure. She learns cooperation by cooperating. She learns leadership and responsibility thru holding office and serving on club committees.

Each of the seven organized 4H clubs for girls in Parmer County met in October and elected officers. Each of the officers has already begun her training and has received some individual help from the County Home Demonstration Agent.

Farmer John SEES THINGS

Many people whose judgment should be good are predicting a serious food shortage in America. Under the great migration of farmers and farm laborers to better-paying jobs and shorter hours in industries, plus the draft, the prediction of the breakdown of farm commodity production does not look too unreal. And to the shortage of man power, the curtailment of farm machinery, the resentment growing toward government regulation, prospects of a scarcity including clothing supply is disturbing. With the announceced dictation that ceiling prices are "Real and no fooling", the signal is high that somebody had better use their heads. Hunger among people is more serious than foolish laws or military action.

With a hasty look at the situation the first thing in sight is the army of stalwart young people in every county seat of the land, trying to curtail production, raise the prices of farm commodities, be pleasing to the politicians and tolerated by the farmers. If these male employees could be dressed in overalls, given a hoe or a milk pail or, perhaps, a few lessons in machinery farming, the farm labor shortage would be relieved to the tune of—only the Secretary of Agriculture knows. No! No! They should not be drafted to the farm. They might prefer the Army. They would be better producers if they worked by their own free will and according to their best judgment. At present they are nice and agreeable young men, and generally speaking would be useful citizens if they had a productive job.

The young women of the AAA set-up are exceptionally nice looking young people and cultured. They still could be fitted in the old-fashioned and wholesome picture of young womanhood seen in some garden, dining room or nursing the baby out on the farm. After all SHE is the Queen Bee, the anchor, the mainstay of the successful farm homestead. If all these young people could be set free to find their niche of usefulness in the natural free economy found on the farm, who can doubt but that the country would feel a beneficial effect?

With the elimination of the AAA, the biggest surge toward production would be among the now regimented farmers. They

COGITATIONS and APHORISMS of Jodok

JODOK:
About a week or ten days ago I received a circular letter from the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which I perused with considerable interest largely induced, perhaps, by the fact that therein I saw the names of several of Friona's neighboring towns and cities, and I deliberately ran through the list of 55 of these Panhandle towns and cities to see if Friona's name was included therein, but to my chagrin and disappointment it was not there.

Now you will wonder just why I should express or feel chagrin and disappointment at not finding the name of my beloved little city included in that list. Well, in order to make my explanation of this fact a little more clear, I must mention the fact that some two or maybe three weeks ago, I received a letter from the above named organization and in that letter it was stated that, in order to conserve gasoline, tires and traveling space on the buses and trains, all of which are so badly needed in our "ALL OUT" war effort, the officials of that organization had decided that instead of holding its annual convention in some one of the cities within its regional jurisdiction, they would prepare a platform of 12 planks as a basis of its efforts of accomplishment for the year, and present this platform in typed or printed form to the several cities and towns within its region of operations, and this first letter that I received contained the twelve planks of that platform.

It was suggested that each of these cities or towns should hold a mass or town meeting that should be called by the president of the local Chamber of Commerce or the mayor of the city and that at this meeting, which should be composed of all interested citizens, these 12 planks should be discussed, and either accepted or rejected as a basis of effort and goals to be attained during the year. This action having been accomplished by a majority vote of all present, and the results forwarded to the Secretary of the WTCC. It was also provided that this platform could be accepted in whole or in part and other worthwhile attainments suggested. The list of names, which I mentioned above, included the names of the cities and towns that had acted upon the suggestion of the WTCC.

I do not know why Friona had not heeded the request or suggestion of the WTCC in regard to calling the "Town Meeting," but it is probably because it has been inactive for more than a year and the last president elected is now away from home engaged in defense work and probably did not receive the letter announcing the fact. The would arise from under the boss that measures their fields and orders them to forget their tires and come to the county seat. In disgust and relief, they would "thumb" the masters who can never successfully get the job done. The farmers would again be their own boss, and they would quickly do the job that they only know how to do. I doubt not that, if a fair poll could be taken, the whole AAA program would look about as popular as the New Deal Democrats after the election. Even the farmer tax-payer would look on the other side of his AAA check before he again voted for it.

It is not only supposedly farm legislation that is hurting agricultural production, but the labor legislation in the form of the Wagner Act is in direct conflict with getting things done on the farm. Senator O'Daniel is proposing to amend the law to lengthen the 40-hour week. Everybody grants that the nation's food and clothing cannot be produced with an eight-hour day and five-day week. Yet the recognized administration leaders are trying to scrap the Texas Senator for proposing such a reactionary measure. The President, a few nights ago, apparently shed great gobs of tears at the distressing thought of the poor workers toiling 80 hours a week but the people have begun to peep under the chip when it moves too vigorously. O'Daniel, Vandenberg and a host of other statesmen, regardless of party affiliation, see the value of man's work hours. They want equipment produced for the men doing the fighting; also they want food and clothing for all.

If American economics and agriculture should be turned loose, the surge forward would fairly rock the earth. Hitler couldn't even scream.

Mayor probably did not receive a copy of the platform, or if he did, felt that it was not his duty to call the meeting. Anyway, so far as I am able to learn, the meeting was not called. Thus, no response has been sent in.

At one time the local Chamber of Commerce was affiliated with the Regional Chamber of Commerce, and was in pretty close contact with its working, but the affiliation cost the local CC $25 a year as membership dues. But later, I am told that many of the members of the local CC thought this was $25 thrown away, and the custom was suspended. One local man, though, for several years kept up his individual membership in the regional organization but he told me recently that he had let that lapse, so Friona has no immediate connection with the larger organization.

Many of our members did not understand the many worthwhile things that were accomplished by the WTCC for the region which it served, and therefore did not know of its worth to the business interests in this part of the State. Others said that if these things were accomplished for the entire region, then Friona would share in these advantages just the same, whether it was a member or not, which is quite true; but such a position is like the "mistletoe," which draws its subsistence from the tree on which it grows without furnishing any part of the "root growth," which supplies its subsistence, and it occurs to me that such a position is not all complimentary to our city.

I may be mistaken, as I usually am in nearly everything else, but it occurs to me that no city or town can afford to be without an active chamber of commerce, and especially at this time do I think the Friona C. C. should be revived and an active interest taken in it by all our citizens and especially our business concerns. It is my honest opinion that none of us can look over our city and not realize that something is very badly needed to be done for our city along the line of chamber of commerce work.

I do not know why the above-mentioned literature from the WTCC was sent to me, unless it was because many years ago I was deeply interested in the local organization and did all I knew how to do to keep it alive and active and had considerable correspondence with the regional organization. But as I grew older and younger men came in and engaged in business here, it was suggested to me that the older men should step down and out and turn such work over to the younger men, and thinking so myself, I gladly relinquished the work I had been doing that younger men might take my place, and I was laid on the shelf with the city's other "antiques."

I have been told by some of those who later made courageous attempts to keep the work of the local chamber of commerce going, that too many of our business men could not be interested in any of the plans and efforts of the organization unless they could see a "Dollars and Cents" return from these projects flowing directly into the till of their individual business, not seeming to care for anything that was directed or attempted for the general good of the city. Again I may be wrong, but it occurs to me that such a position is harmful, even to those who hold it. Is personal gain so dear and individual satisfaction so sweet as to be purchased at the price of our city's prestige and progress?

The twelve-plank platform referred to above, I have destroyed, but I presume other copies of it can be obtained, if those whose business it is to attend to such matters care to take any action regarding it. These several planks were intended, not only as direct benefit to the cities and towns of the region served by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, but were also considered as direct help in each town's war efforts, and as I recollect were well worth the interest of our people in the matter; and it is, perhaps, NOT too late to take action in the matter. It occurs to me that there are entirely too many empty business rooms in Friona for the good of our people. Maybe NOT.

CHDA NOTES

STARRING KRAUT
By Elsie Cunningham
Home Demo, Agent
Extension Service
Texas A. & M.

Many requests have come in lately for instructions on how to make sauerkraut and sauerkraut. Sauerkraut, you know, is made from shredded cabbage fermented in its own brine, while sauerkraut is manufactured in the same way from shredded turnips.

I shall be as brief as possible on this matter and therefore, suggest that anyone having any special difficulty drop in my office to discuss the matter or write me for a bulletin.

How to Make Sauerkraut
Select only sound heads of cabbage. Remove all damaged or dirty leaves; wash, drain, and quarter heads and slice off the core portion. Shred the cabbage either with a knife or a slaw cutter with blades set to cut the shreds about the thickness of a dime.

Weigh out 5 pounds of cabbage and 2 ounces of pure salt. Shred this cabbage directly into the jar or keg without exposing it to the air, for exposing it at any time reduces the amount of vitamin C in the fermented product and causes loss of color texture and flavor. Sprinkle the cabbage with 2 ounces of salt.

Prepare another 5 pounds of cabbage, add another 2 ounces of salt, etc., until the desired amount in the container is reached. Place uneven pieces of cabbage and a few large leaves on top. Cover the kraut with a clean cloth, a plate and a heavy weight.

Making Sauerruben
Wash the turnips and rinse them in cold water. Remove all the green part from the top; do not peel them. Then shred as for cabbage sauerkraut; do not slice.

Shred 5 pounds of turnips, sprinkle with three scant table-spoons of pure salt. Shred another 5 pounds of turnips, add three scant table-spoons salt and continue forming these layers until the desired amount is reached. Cover with cloth, plate and weight down.

Care During Fermentation
Put the kraut container in a warm place and where fermentation may begin at once. A temperature of 70 to 75 F is usually used, in which case fermentation is completed in from 10 days to three weeks, depending on the temperature.

Fermentation will begin within a day after packing, as will be shown by the rise in the level of the brine and possibly by the formation of gas bubbles at the surface. A scum usually forms on the surface of the brine within a few days. Remove the scum every few days and wash and scald the cloth frequently, replacing it and the cover, and the weight on top of it. Cover container with another cloth to keep out dust. Do not permit the scum to accumulate unchecked, as it slows fermentation, endangers spoilage, and results in an inferior product.

When fermentation is complete, bubbles cease to rise to the top of the liquid and the liquid settles. The sauerkraut should then be canned. Canning is simple and assures a good supply throughout the year.

A Few Tips
Use a pure salt in making kraut. Cheese or dairy salt will do.

A tightly sealed glass jug or jar filled with water or wet sand makes a good weight to use to keep the shredded cabbage or turnips down in the brine. Never use irons or lime rocks for this purpose.

One pound of salt is required for 40 pounds of cabbage.

The late cabbage varieties, preferably flat dutch or ball head, are recommended for sauerkraut.

The shogoin and purple top turnip are good ones to use for sauerkraut.

Miss Ida Belle Davis Bride of Sgt. Chas. White

Friona friends of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. White of this city will be interested in the following account of the wedding of their son, Sgt. Charles A. White, which was clipped from an Oregon paper:

"The residence of Mrs. Achsah E. Davis, of 637 East Main St., was the scene of a pretty home wedding, Sunday, Oct. 25, at 3:30 o'clock, when Miss Ida Belle Davis, daughter of Mrs. Davis and the late Ottis L. Davis, became the bride of Sergeant Charles A. White, in the presence of relatives and close friends.

"Vows were exchanged before an impressive altar of greenery and pink and white roses and chrysanthemums, arranged in the living room. Candelabra holding seven white candles were on either side, and baskets of flowers and ferns were about the room. The ring service was read by Rev. Earl F. Downing of the Church of Christ.

"The attendants were Miss Hazel Stockstill and Sgt. Bertram E. Hall.

"The bride wore a white silk net dress over silk, floor length, fashioned on princess lines. Her finger-tip veil fell from a wreath of pom-pom chrysanthemums and rosebuds, and she carried a handkerchief which had been carried by her mother at the time of her marriage 23 years ago. Her bouquet was of Talisman roses.

"Traditional wedding music was played by Miss Maxine Dieckman. Just before the entrance of the wedding party Miss Dorothy Parr sang 'I'll Love You Always,' accompanied by Miss Dieckman at the piano.

"A reception followed the ceremony. The first piece of the wedding cake was cut by the bride and it was reserved to be sent to her brother in the U. S. Army. The second piece was cut by the bridegroom and will be sent to his brother, who is in the navy. The bridesmaid then took over the cutting of the cake. Assisting were three sisters of the bride, the Misses Mary Esther, Etna B., and Olive M. Davis, and a cousin, Miss Doris Hunsley.

"Mrs. White is a graduate of Ashland High School and has been attending the Southern Oregon College of Education. She is an active member of the Church of Christ, president of the Junior Christian Endeavor at the present time and until recently taught the Cradle Roll class in Sunday School and was one of the teachers in the Daily Vacation Bible School.

"Sgt. White will soon enter upon his fourth year of service in the United States Army. He is a member of the Service Battery, 348th Field Artillery and is stationed at Camp White. His home is Friona, Texas."

SONS In the Service

The Star regrets that it has only two soldiers to present to its readers for this week, as these letters are being highly appreciated not only by the boys in service but by local readers as well.

Dear Mr. White:
I received the Friona Star, and believe me, I was glad to get it. I will be stationed here for 13 weeks. I am taking "installation and repair of telephones and switchboards". I like it very well as it is in the same line of work I was doing before coming into the army. I am sorry I did not get to see you while I was home on furlough. I am looking forward to each day when the Star shall arrive.

Sincerely yours,
Pfc. John R. Silvertooth,

The following letter is from Pvt. Alva L. Pope, to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Pope, Alva is in Australia. Mr. and Mrs. Pope have kindly consented to its use in this column. His address will be found at the close of the letter.

Dear Mother and Dad:
Will write you a few more lines to let you know that I am getting along O. K. We are somewhere in Australia. How are Sis, Everett, Lillian, Billy and Eddie getting along? I will write them some of these days. Can only send one of these letters per day if I have time to write them, but you know me, I only take a nation to write about once a week. Thought I would tell you this is Sunday over here and just had supper. I suppose you are in town or maybe eating breakfast. I wonder how long it will take this letter to get there, and I suppose you got the first one I wrote. I wrote Coy the same day I did you, only sent it plane mail. Tell everyone Hello! for me, and Vivian, this is to you also. I must close with all my love to you all.

Fighting Waste In The Home

By Mary Elizabeth Stanford
County Nutrition Committee Member

One slice of bread molds, one carrot shrivels—small loss isn't it?

But multiply that loss by our nation's 34 million homes. 34 million slices of bread, 34 million fresh vegetables can help nourish many families and fighting men. Little everyday waste also makes big yearly losses in your own family funds.

Help America. Help yourself. By fighting food waste on the home kitchen front. Here are some suggestions for getting your money's worth:

1. Buy only perishable products which you can use in the next few days.

2. Prepare only enough food for your family to eat in one day. Too much re-heating of foods destroys food value.

3. Learn proper places to store food to prevent it from spoiling.

4. Meats—Keep fresh and cooked meat in coldest part of refrigerator. Keep clean, cool, and covered. Cured meat that is uncooked should be placed in dark, cool, dry, airy place. Leave wrappings on until ready to serve. Fish spoils in a few hours at room temperature. Cook immediately or keep very cold until ready for use.

5. Milk—Keep clean, cool and covered as you do meat. Put away first after each meal. Keep foods with strong odors away from milk. Use suds, sun and scald milk vessels often. Observe the same rules for milk products—cream pies, custards, cheese, etc. Use milk in quantities.

6. Eggs—Wipe soiled spots with dry cloth—do not wash. Keep in cool place. Washing destroys the protective coating over eggs which keeps out air and odors.

Of this community, arrived here Wednesday for a three-day visit with home folk. We of the Star were pleased to meet him while here. He is located in Tucson, Ariz.

Rev. Joe Wilson this week received a letter from Pvt. Parham Dobbs, who is now a member of the Military Police at Fort Sill, Okla.

Pvt. Dobbs is anxious to receive the Star, as he says he feels lost without hearing from his friends at Friona.

Pvt. P. L. New, of the 358th Inf. Co. F, at Camp Berkeley, arrived here Monday for a few days visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. New and his many other Friona friends

Pfc. John Blackburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Blackburn, spent a part of last week here with his parents and his many Friona friends. John is stationed at Chanute Field, Rantoul, Ill.

Highlights From The Grade School

Three of the first grade children were absent this week because of illness. We trust they will be with us soon. Every day a first grade child is absent from school he misses something he will need for the next days' work.

Mrs. Warden's second grade is studying how to tell time this week. Our discussion started by giving the different reasons that each person should be able to tell correct time. Eight members of the class can tell time but to 24 members this accomplishment will be something new.

We have been practicing for our part of the Armistice program. The entire group will sing "America", after which Gerald Hudson, D. O. Robason, Dale Showers, and Ralph Green will give a short piece explaining the meaning of our flag. Dean Lewellen will sing "The Sugar Cookie Soldiers" as a solo.

Two new pupils, Fred and Pete Aragon, were added to the fourth grade last week.

Kendall Schlenker, Pete Aragon, Ruby Mae Shaffer, and Betty Ann Stevick were absent last week because of illness.

James Todd, visited in Lubbock last week end.

The pupils in 5A met Friday afternoon, Nov. 6, and organized a Citizenship Club.

The officers elected were as follows: President—June Moody; Secretary—Paxton Smith.

Four pupils were selected as Chairmen of Committees and they in turn selected their helpers.

Safety-First Committee:

Chairman — Paxton Smith
Helpers — Fern Hand, Glen Mingus, Bailey Lee Reece, Tresa Pangman, and Marvin Massey.

Good Manners:

Chairman — Nell Price.
Helpers — Nelda Jo Collier, Bernice Lloyd, Jack London, Cherry Ann Smity, and Zada Carter.

Nutrition Study For Homemaking

Following are two themes written in the Home Economics III class on nutrition.

Iodine is a very important mineral that is needed by the body. Some persons need more than others because of the region they live in. The non-goiterous region is where the sea breezes blow over the land. The goitrous region is where the sea breezes do not blow. We receive most of our iodine from sea foods; and the foods that grow near the ocean. Also the air and water near the ocean is rich in iodine. Lack of iodine will cause simple goiter so those who live in goitrous regions

Seniors Take Carlsbad Trip

As has been the custom for many years, the Seniors of F. H. S. took a trip to Carlsbad Caverns last week-end. Although the custom has been to go in the spring, because of the coming gas rationing, the Seniors took their trip early.

They left Saturday morning and spent their first night in Carlsbad City enjoying the pleasures offered. Sunday was spent in seeing the Caverns, after which they returned to Roswell to spend the night. Monday morning the Seniors took in the city of Roswell until around noon, when they started home. Ten Seniors, the class sponsor, J. T. Gee, Mrs. Carl Maurer and Joe Hubb Collier made the trip and they all report that they had a "swell trip" and a "marvelous time."

New Books Added To Library List

The library has received a number of new books. Among them are 23 exciting novels of the west, two of which are biographies of western heroes. There are two other biographies.

The students of the Spanish Class will be especially interested in the poetry and picture book of Puerto Rico.

Look over the list found on the library counter and select one of these interesting books to read.

Several other new books have been ordered among which are several of the year's best sellers.

should try to get all of the required iodine. The use of iodized salt is one way to receive the iodine. They are experimenting by adding iodine to fertilizers used in growing plant foods and enriching the diet of the dairy cow and the egg laying hen. The iodine they added to these things are concentrated. The results show that such enrichment is possible. This will be a great help to those who live in the goitrous region. An explanation of goiter is that it is a growth on the thyroid gland.

The first thing to think about in studying Vitamin D is why do we need it. We need it to prevent rickets which is a disease of the bones. Lack of Vitamin D is often the cause of so many people being bow-legged. The reason that Vitamin D prevents rickets is because it helps the body to use calcium and phosphorus. We know calcium builds bones and teeth. If you lack Vitamin D, your body will not use the calcium and phosphorus to make bones and teeth. Vitamin D makes for proper heart action and it also causes the blood to clot. This is very important when you get cut. If you lack Vitamin D you are likely to lose more blood than you would if you had Vitamin D.

The next thing to consider is how do we get this important food stuff. The best source is sunshine. Doubtless you have heard people talk of Vitamin D as the sunshine vitamin. That is just what it is. However this is not the only source. Cod liver oil, egg yolks, beef liver, spinach, prunes, peanut butter, salmon, sardines, and herring are very good sources. One very

Service Club Holds Regular Meeting

The Girl's Service Club held their regular meeting Tuesday during the activity period. Most of the period was spent in planning entertainment and worthwhile programs for the next month.

As there was no other business, the remainder of the time was spent in the science room where the girls inspected and studied the microscope.

For their next meeting, Tuesday, Nov. 10, the girls plan to paint the flag stands and press the flags.

Freshmen Take Monday Holiday

Taking their well-earned vacation, the Freshman Class spent Monday in the Hereford Park hiking and picnicking.

They left early Monday morning and went to the park. After lunch the group played games and hiked. They returned to Friona in time for the boys and girls to return home on the bus.

good source is irradiated foods. Irradiation is an electrical process in which sunshine is put into foods. One important thing to remember in getting your Vitamin D from the sunshine is that the sun rays must come into direct contact with the body. The rays will not penetrate through glass.

It is very easy to get this valuable Vitamin and it is hard to destroy it in foods. If you get plenty of sunshine you will have a good strong body but you must have the other vitamins also.

Modern Girls Have Pictures Made

During activity period Thursday, Nov. 5, the Modern Girls of Today met in the study hall. Since there was no business, the president, Gertrude Short, turned the program over to Miss MacFarland.

It was such a sunny day that we went outside and had several pictures taken. The officer's pictures were taken and one of the entire group and their sponsor. Smaller group pictures were taken to get close-ups. The pictures will be placed on the bulletin board or passed around at the club meeting.

Miss MacFarland gave a short talk and asked the girls to bring pencil and paper to the next meeting.

WISE . . . AND OTHERWISE

Gertrude was reading "Marry in Haste". When asked if she was going to abide by it she said, "Not if it turns out like this one. She married him and then found out that he loved another man." "Man?" inquired the questioner. He wondered why she cared if her husband did love a man. "Oh! A woman then," said Gertrude.

How is it that one Co-Captain holds hands with the Football Queen and the other escorts her by the arm? Is it just a habit?

Friday it seemed as if all the news on Seniors was under the "Unfortunate" column. They had lost sanity but the Juniors have decided that they couldn't help it and will let it go at that.

The truth is like medicine— not always good to take.

Climate is the highlands and lowlands. (Taken from a science student's paper.)

The Senior girls report that there are really some and swell "gadgets" near Pecos who happened to be in the Cavern Sunday.

It seems that the Freshman picnic was the beginning of several new romances.

EXCHANGES

The Future Farmers at Wellington High School were initiated last Monday, Nov. 2.

Fond Father: "I can't understand it. While my son was going to school he always got hundreds. Now that he is in China he gets only 'Zeros'."

Marriage is not a word; it's a sentence.

The Skyrocket

Mrs. Grace Sloan Overton of New York City gave an address on "Normal Living During Abnormal Times" at Dalhart Saturday evening.

It's all right to call a man level-headed, but when you call him flat-headed it's different.

Mother: "Now Ralph, I don't want to see you going around with that wild girl any more."

Ralph: "Aw, heck, ma, she ain't wild. Anybody can pet her."

Seniors Ridiculed In Junior Program

To give the entire audience a laugh and to humiliate the Seniors, the junior class held a courtroom session in chapel Friday afternoon at the activity period and charged the Seniors with insanity. After the defending attorney was given ample time to defend his client, the jury (composed of juniors) found each Senior guilty. Webster Johnson was charged and found guilty of being a general nuisance. His sentence, as read by the judge, was to sweep the center aisle of the auditorium while singing "praise the Lord and pass the broom and dust mop." Eve Dean Hyde was convicted of forgery. Her punishment was to recite the first ten lines of the "Canterbury Tales", but because of ignorance and lack of money she was unable to recite it. June Maurer and Howard Lovelless were displayed in ridiculous costumes to prove the insanity of the Senior Class.

A skit, which supposedly takes place in the hall every morning was presented by several of the Juniors. A poem was given by Petrolia Scott, and Jean Crawford played a flute solo.

This is one of a series of chapel programs which are to be presented by the various classes this year.

ronation was held on the Chieftain field at the half of the Dalhart-Friona game. The ceremony began with the Friona High School band marching down the field to the throne where the queen was crowned. As the band played "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" the queen, Miss Loris Jean McFarland, a junior red-head, was escorted up to the stand by the football co-captains Bud Coffman and Vialo Weis. The football boys and the band members were formed in a semicircle around the queen and the program ended with the National Anthem.

Approximately 100 persons stood in the bleachers Friday night to see the last football game this season.
