PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cox and children, Patsy and Sammy, of Dimmitt, visited in the home of Mrs. Cox's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson, Tuesday.

Walter Loveless, who is in Oklahoma City undergoing a surgical operation on his leg, is reported as greatly improved and is expected home this week.

Judge J. C. Temple of Farwell, was a business visitor here Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Flippin were business visitors at Amarillo, Tuesday.

R. O. Aubrey, of Muleshoe, visited in Friona, Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Williams have purchased the R. H. Belew residence and have moved it from the L. F. Lillard property on Main Street.

Mrs. Wright Williams, who formerly occupied a portion of the L. F. Lillard house, has taken rooms in the James P. Wilson home.

MISS KOELTZOW VISITOR

Miss Dorothy Koeltzow has been visiting relatives and friends in the Rhea community during the past week.

Miss Koeltzow has been working in the Lutheran Sanitarium at Denver, Colo., for several years and is now on vacation visiting her brother, Paul Koeltzow and family.

Dilger's Modern Cleaners moved last week from the W. H. Warren building to a vacant main street building usually known as the "hatchery" building.

Dilger's Cleaners is the only dry cleaning business now operating in Friona. It was established by Arlin Dilger and operated by him until he enlisted in the army, when the business was taken over by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Dilger.

VISITING AT VERNON

Mrs. Minnie Goodwine and daughters, Misses Lola and Floy left Monday morning for a visit at Vernon with Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Price.

Mrs. Price is the former Miss Margaret Goodwine, is their daughter and sister. She has been teaching in the Vernon schools for several years.

Before leaving for Vernon they received word that R. G. Clinin of Tulsa had suffered an injury to one of his eyes by being struck in it by a piece of steel, and they planned a stop of a few hours at the Clinin home on their way to Vernon.

Nature's Poem

Stones and grass and sunlight and a tree and a barefoot boy—all blend into one of nature's unconscious poems. This year, more than ever, stay-at-home vacationers are learning the beauties of nature.

Kept in Shape

Increasing importance of keeping farm equipment in shape has been emphasized by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, as production facilities are turned over to vital war demands. Edwin Fry, Laytonville, Md., goes to work on his tractor.

Word has been received by Mrs. Wright Williams that Wright has been transferred from New Orleans to Sullivan Island, near Moultrieville, S. C.

In a letter to his father, Pvt. Raymond Jasper stated that he has been transferred from Columbus, S. C., to Tampa, Fla.

C. E. McLean is now on board a vessel somewhere along the New England coast, and should be addressed in care of Post Master, New York City, according to the last news received by Mrs. McLean.

Pvt. Virgil H. Weis gives his address as U. S. Army, 55th Inf. Bn., O. D., 4th Ptn., Camp Wolters, Texas.

Dr. G. C. Taylor of the Navy, has been transferred to the U. S. Naval Hospital at San Diego, Calif.

Ralph W. Thomas, of the U. S. Coast Guard, gives his new address as U. S. C. G., Engine School, Berkley Base, Norfolk, Va.

The Star has not received any letters from the boys in the service during the past week, but has had many from our readers concerning the letters that have been printed in this column. We will be pleased to receive letters from any of our boys who are now in any branch of the service.

Corp. Arlin Dilger, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Dilger, arrived here on Thursday of last week for a two week's visit with his parents. He has been stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., but on leaving here for the army again will go direct to Camp Atterbury, Ind., where he is to report not later than July 16.

CHAPLAIN HILL IS BUSY

The following letter was received at the Star office from Rev. L. L. Hill, or rather Chaplain L. L. Hill of Fort Bragg, N. C.:
Fort Bragg, N. C.
11th Bn., 4th Reg.,
F. A. R. C.

Editor John White:
Friona, Texas.

Dear Mr. White:
I enjoyed the Star a lot which you and Mr. Folster Rector had sent to me. Thanks a lot to both of you. I am very busy and happy in my new work. I am located at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, which is the largest Field Artillery Camp in the world. We have about 85,000 men here. Fort Bragg is located about fifty miles south of Raleigh and about eighty miles from the coast.

My works consist of holding religious services on Sunday, visiting in three large hospitals three afternoons per week, supervising a large recreation hall, counseling with a group of men each evening, overseeing a library, and for this month attending a Chaplain's School three mornings per week. You see I don't have much to do. But I enjoy the work and find that (Continued on Back Page)

Post Office Bench Draws Ire Of Ladies

Some time last Tuesday a long and fairly comfortable bench was placed by some one in front of the Friona Post Office, for the convenience of those who have the spare time to loiter there.

The ladies of Friona and surrounding communities are protesting the presence of the bench at the post office, as during the busy harvest season many of the wives or daughters come for the mail and they claim that there are already too many men loafing there to stare at them. The bench, they feel, invites more loafers.

There are other benches in front of some of the stores, which are always occupied by the men, but the ladies do not need to enter these stores if they do not wish to do so; however, the post office is a public institution, rendering service of a unique nature to the entire public and has no competing institution so all must patronize it regardless of who and how many may be loitering there. The ladies have no time to use this bench, even if they cared to, which they do not.

Kansas City Man Here For Harvest

T. Mulvihill of Kansas City, Mo., arrived here last week and is remaining for the harvest season.

Mr. Mulvihill owns a half section of fine wheat land a few miles west of town and he is attending to the harvesting and marketing of his wheat.

Funeral Rites In California For Pioneer of Friona

Funeral services were held in California this week for Fred Clinin, 76 years old, who died Saturday at his home in Palo Alto. Mr. Clinin was a pioneer of Friona, having lived here from about 1909 to 1917.

Two children, R. G. Clinin of Tulsa and Mrs. Homer Fox of Hereford, are in California this week to attend the funeral rites.

Family Reunion At Houlette Home Sunday

A happy affair for the entire family of Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Houlette was the family reunion and dinner held at their home last Sunday.

All the children of the family, including the two married children, Kenneth Houlette and Mrs. W. C. Hutchins, were present for the dinner. In addition there were Mrs. Kenneth Houlette and their small daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. George McLean.

With the presence of Mr. McLean, there were four generations of the McLean family present, he being the father of Mrs. E. E. Houlette, the grandfather of Kenneth Houlette and the great grandfather of the Kenneth Houlette's small daughter.

For two years Mr. Golden was principal of the White Deer high school, and for three years was superintendent of public schools at Miami, Texas.

He came to Portales as superintendent of schools in 1928 and served for seven years. In 1934 he was made Dean of the Eastern New Mexico College and served in that capacity until last year when he was made Acting President.

Mr. Golden is a member of the Alpha Chi Honorary Scholarship Society. He is a veteran of World War I and is active in American Legion affairs. He is secretary of the Roosevelt County Selective Service Board.

Doctors are instructing civilians in proper care of the wounded should air raids come. For jaw fracture, resulting from a fall or sharp blow, bandage should be placed firmly about head and jaw until medical treatment is available.

FLOYD D. GOLDEN
Remembered by many Friona people is Floyd D. Golden, new president of Eastern New Mexico College, who began his teaching career in 1920 at Friona High School.

Former Friona School Man ENMC Prexy

Floyd Dewey Golden, who began his teaching career in 1920 at Friona, was elected President of the Eastern New Mexico College at a meeting of the Board of Regents Tuesday, July 1. Golden had served as Acting President since the resignation of Donald MacKay in the spring of 1941.

Born in Snyder, Texas, Floyd Dewey Golden was the fourth child, and the oldest boy, of a family of eight children. His elementary education was received in the rural schools of Severy County, and his high school education was completed at the high school division of the West Texas State College, Canyon, Texas.

In 1925, President Golden received his Bachelor's Degree from West Texas State, where he was prominent in the student life of the college. In addition to maintaining a high scholastic standing, he lettered four years in football, four years in basketball, three years in baseball, and two years in tennis. One year he was business manager of the college paper and for four years he was an active member of a prominent literary society. At one time he was voted the most popular man on the campus, and on another occasion named the most handsome man. He earned all of his college expenses by working at various jobs.

Mr. Golden received his Master's Degree from the University of Colorado and has done work toward his Ph. D. at Columbia and Colorado State College. While at Friona, he married Miss Elsie Arline Pool, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Pool of Canyon, Texas. Mrs. Golden is a graduate of the West Texas State College and has done graduate work at the University of Colorado in home economics and art. She taught with her husband seven years.

July Court Term Starts Monday In Farwell

Here's How Onions Grow

Maybe agricultural chemist Roy Beets, Long Beach, Calif., has something in his claim that pulverized rock of the archeozoic era is responsible for the prodigious growth of his plants. He says two ounces will soil condition two acres of ground. His victory garden neighbors are astounded by his 4 1/2-pound tomatoes and 8-pound onions like this one. Pretty Jean Lilley samples a bite.

L. D. Cummings To Speak At Ch. Of Christ Sunday

Minister L. D. Cummings of Panhandle will preach here Sunday at both morning and evening worship hours at the Sixth Street Church of Christ.

Brother Cummings was formerly minister of this church and has many friends in Friona and community who will be pleased to meet him and hear him preach again.

B. B. Harding resigned as minister of this church on May 24, and the church is temporarily without a minister.

Walther League Meets With Koeltzows

The Immanuel Lutheran Walther League of Rhea met Sunday, July 5, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Koeltzow for a short business meeting and social.

Two new members, Dorothy Schuler and Eleanor Schuler, joined at this meeting. It was also decided at the meeting that a social be held at the church for the entire congregation, on July 19.

Delicious refreshments were served to Andries, Richard and Louise Drager, Frieda Gallmeier, Carl Hoffman, Melvin Sachs, Raymond Norbert, Elenora, Gilbert, Velma, Walter and Dorothy Schuler, a guest, Dorothy Koeltzow, and the host and hostess.

UNION CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The pastor hopes for the utmost co-operation with Rev. Chester C. Brown who arrives in Friona this week to become acting pastor, while we are attending the Sylvan Dale pastor's conference.

Rev. Mr. Brown is a young man, a student in seminary, and will be part of the faculty at the Young People's Camp at Lake Murray, Okla., next month. He has attended previous camps and is already acquainted with some of our young people.

While we realize this is our busiest season, wherever possible we should attend church and not neglect its ministry. Your presence will encourage the acting pastor.

Our address is Sylvan Dale Ranch, Loveland, Colo., until August 6. We are not attending this school primarily for the recreational feature, but that we may be a better minister of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Oneal of Amarillo were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hinds, Saturday. Mrs. Hinds and Mrs. Oneal are cousins.

Still, if a woman doesn't have a strong sense of intuition, how is it that she knows long before a man does what he's going to do?

Mrs. E. R. Day was a business visitor at Hereford, Tuesday.

Wheat Harvest Helped By Good Weather

A week of good weather has seen the Friona wheat harvest well underway with many farmers reporting unusually high yields.

Twenty bushels per acre seems to be a low yield for the season, while some crops are reported as going well up in the 30-bushel class. J. B. McFarland, northwest of Friona, reports on fields as yielding 37 bushels per acre with a margin of nine bushels over.

Miss Ferguson Guest of Miss Floy Goodwine

Miss Frances Ferguson of Houston, spent last Saturday here as the guest of Miss Floy Goodwine. Miss Ferguson had been on a vacation to Colorado and stopped here on her way home.

The young lady had never before visited the great Texas Plains country, nor had she ever seen a combine nor fields or ripened wheat, and she pronounced the scene the most beautiful she had ever seen.

Miss Ferguson made many friends during her brief visit.

American bank deposits are now around $36,000,000,000—probably some of which isn't yours.

An unusually light docket, just 15 suits in all, will come before the next term of District Court which begins at the county court house Monday, July 13, with Judge James W. Witherspoon of Hereford presiding.

The grand jury has been summoned for July 13, but a petit jury will not be called until the second week of court, according to County Clerk D. K. Roberts.

The court docket includes the following cases:

Oscar Pope vs. Homer McKenzie, damages.

C. C. Jennings vs. E. J. Reiser, damages.

The Shamrock Oil and Gas Corporation vs. G. Obie Sheets et al. debt.

C. C. Burgess vs. Ben Reisinger, foreclosure.

Marion Doud Rumsey et vir, vs. Clarence Churchman, et al, trespass to try title.

Roy Birchfield vs. Lucille Birchfield, divorce.

Pitt K. Babcock vs. Clyde Seamounts, damages.

Agnes Hart Pickart et al, vs. Geo. W. Hart, trespass to try title.

J. D. Hamlin vs. J. F. Foster, foreclosure.

J. J. Williams vs. James Evans, et al, trespass to try title.

In re Rosamond Baucus, adoption and change of name.

Geo. W. Hart, et al, vs. Agnes Hart Pickart, et al, trespass to try title.

Tax Suits: Friona Ind. School Dist. vs. O. E. Stevick.

Bovina Ind. School Dist. vs. Pedro Vigil.

Grand Jury List

The following grand jurors will meet at the court room Monday morning at 10 o'clock. County Clerk Roberts said.

L. D. Cannon Wilbur Charles J. I. Guber G. D. Anderson W. O. Cherry Clyde Seamounts P. D. Barron M. B. Buchanan C. C. Christian O. W. Rhinehart R. H. Belew Aubrey Brock Glenn Dunn Bill Massie Jim Black A. H. Boatman

While the librarian will be at the high school library, grade school books will be available also.

Library To Be Open Under PTA Sponsorship

The ladies of the Friona Parent-Teachers Association have made arrangements for the Friona High School library to be open to the public for the rest of the summer.

Mrs. Grace Hart will be librarian and the library will be open at the High School building on Tuesday and Saturday afternoons from 2:30 until 7:30 until school begins.

New Cartoon Sells War Bonds

The above cartoon poster, especially drawn to promote the sale of War Bonds and Stamps, will soon be seen throughout the United States. It is one of four new posters stressing new themes in the War Bond campaign. U. S. Treasury Dept.

COGITATIONS and APHORISMS of Jodok

"Many birds of many kinds, Many men of many minds." It occurs to me that there are few, if any, truer sayings than the little couplet quoted above. Some birds are so small and so swift of wing that they look like mere blue dots in the air as they flit by us. Some are so large and cumbersome that they seem in danger of falling down and stepping on themselves as they walk. Most birds are clothed with feathers—some of them most beautiful, so much so that their plumage becomes a danger to their lives. Some have their bodies covered with hair instead of feathers and are not at all comely. Some have legs so short that they can walk only with difficulty, while others have legs so long that they are obliged to make holes in their nests for legs to go through and dangle in the water under the nest as they sit on their eggs to produce incubation. Some can sing sweetly while others can utter only a sort of hideous squawk or a screech. Some birds have flesh fit for food, while others use the flesh of other birds or animal as their food.

And so I might go on almost indefinitely naming these varied characteristics to prove the truth of the assertion made in the first line of the couplet, and now I am going to try to prove the truth of the assertion made in the second line or verse of the couplet.

For instance, we have men who are possessed, in reality of what might be termed the "superlative mind" in many respects, the keenest mind, the most discerning mind, the deepest mind; while as a comparison there are others who have a mind, but never seem to use it—always depending on someone else to do their thinking for them. Then there are others who have a superlative mind only so far as their own conception is concerned, but purely imagination as others see it. They seem to have what might be termed a "superiority complex," though I do not find that term in the dictionary. They seem to have the idea that they possess a "corner" on all the active "gray matter" in the universe. They admit that others may be possessed of a normal amount of that substance, but it is inactive and all REAL thinking must be done by them.

Then there is the other fellow whose arrogance and pomposity, make him almost an object of disgust to his fellows, while on the other hand we have those who have such a severe case of humility or sense of inferiority as to make them an object of mingled pity and mild disgust among their fellows. But such persons are—luckily or otherwise—for the rest of humanity—in an insignificant minority.

Then we have the man with the broad, honest and well-balanced mind, who gives all matters a thorough and unprejudiced consideration before taking action or before forming an opinion. He is the man who can see some virtue in all his fellow men, who is willing to admit to them the right to their own opinions though they may be opposed to his own, and is willing to accord justice, the privilege of living, and fair treatment to all men, including himself. He is willing to treat his neighbor as he, himself, would like to be treated. The good book says, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself;" but it does not say thou shalt love him any better than thyself, and the man with this sort of a mind is willing to do just that.

Then there is the man with the "top-heavy" mind, who, when given a little authority or wealth or honor or fame, allows it all to go to his head, and there being little else in his cranium to counter-act it, he becomes "top-heavy" over-bearing, unscrupulously aggressive and without respect for the rights and opinions of others, whom he relegates to a position of inferiority. He also has his opposite in the mind that is given authority and personal importance, and uses it to the extent it is necessary, but does not express it by either word or act toward his fellowmen. It is another mind worthy of emulation.

Then there is the mind that is always mindful of its dignity and always afraid this dignity may be offended in some manner. It occurs to me that the man who is always so careful of his dignity has not enough dignity to be worth worrying about.

And so it is with men and minds the same as with birds and kinds, we might go on citing similitudes and disparities almost without end, but—

As one travels 'round about, (It may not be the plan) There's oft a Fifty Dollar hat Upon a ten-cent man.

I don't know why it is, But often you will see, The littlest kind of possum Up the biggest kind of tree.

Another thing that don't seem right, But one oft runs across A hundred-dollar saddle On a twenty-dollar hoss.

You may not think it proper, But sometimes you will find A fifty thousand-dollar man With a twenty-five-cent mind. —Homade & Boughten.

And some men have a political mind, that is a mind that is always interested in politics and politicians and always keeping tab on the doing of the men we elect to office—whether they be good or bad, and that is the case with my friend John Silvertooth.

During the past two years, at least, John has kept a record on the leanings and the voting of the members of our State Legislature, and especially has this been true of the officials from our own district, the Hon. Grady Hazlewood of the State Senate, and the Hon. Tom Bean, of the House.

John says it is absolutely correct that Mr. Bean has voted each and every time in favor of the "common" people as against the richer or higher privileged class, and has always lent his influence in that direction. In the case of Senator Hazlewood, John says he has mostly voted favorably for the common people; but on several occasions when an important measure was to be voted on, Senator Hazlewood was absent and did not vote at all, so, on those measures he did not know how he would have voted had he been there. And John says he will vouch for this statement.

Personally, I do not know how either of them voted, for I do not remember ever having heard anything of either of them after the election, but I personally supposed they were there and on the job. The fact of the matter is, so far as I am able to discern, I would have been just as well off if there had been no State Legislature at all. And I say this without malice or prejudice, and not intending any discredit to the honorable men who compose that body. I just cannot tell that it has made any difference so far as I am personally concerned.

Friendship is a chain of gold Shaped in God's all perfect mold. Each link a smile, a laugh, a tear, A grip of the hand, a word of cheer.

As steadfast as the ages roll Binding closer soul 'o soul; No matter how far, or heavy the load Sweet is the journey on Friendship's road.

—J. B. Downie.

Miss Baxter Bride of Mr. Galloway In Quiet Home Ceremony in Friona

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized Sunday night, when Miss Florine Gayle Baxter became the bride of Sgt. Ira Galloway.

The rites were spoken by B. B. Harding, Minister of the Sixth Street Church of Christ, and the ceremony was attended by members of the families and a few intimate friends.

Mrs. Galloway is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Baxter of Friona, and is a graduate of the Friona High School.

The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Galloway and a nephew of B. T. Galloway of this city. He is a radio operator in the Army Air Force and is stationed at Victorville, Calif.

The young people left Tuesday afternoon for Victorville, where they will make their home.

Eugene Combs is spending two weeks in Plainview with his grandmother, Mrs. W. E. Combs.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Combs and W. E. Combs of Plainview, are here harvesting and visiting in the Elmer Combs home.

Mrs. Richard Connally and children of Abilene, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Skypala and other relatives and friends.

KILL RATS WITH POISON AND 'DETERMINATION'

Successful control of rats is a mixture of determination to get rid of them and observation of their feeding and nesting habits, according to R. B. Hickerson, district field assistant of the rodent control service.

From this position the next step is to choose bait rats will take readily, because no poison however destructive will be effective unless the rats eat it. On that account, Hickerson says, at least three types of fresh, attractive poisoned bait should be exposed at the same time. Small pieces should be placed in rat runways, and around the wall line of buildings, and in attics and basements. Baits may be laid on squares of paper to make removal easier, and to check results.

Extreme care should be taken to keep poisoned bait out of the reach of children and livestock.

Similar care should be taken in choosing bait for traps. When common snap traps are used, baits should be tied securely to the trigger and the baited end set to the wall, in runways, near holes, and where rats feed. Nut meats, sliced apple, breadcrust, salt pork, or bacon rind make good bait.

"Plenty of traps should be used. Rather 50 traps to catch one rat than one trap to catch 50 rats," Hickerson advises.

Inexpensive measures which may be adopted to stop rats from entering buildings are: Use of tin for flashing around service pipes or fixtures; stopping holes in masonry with concrete, or in wood floors with tin; and removal of rubbish, scrap lumber, or other waste material from beneath buildings.

TRY A WANT AD

By GARLON A. HARPER

The one job which is foremost in the mind of every American farmer today is that of winning the war. After that comes the winning of the peace. In these two jobs the farmers of Parmer County have a very definite job to do and a real responsibility, for without the work of the farmer the war cannot be won.

Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard has said, "Food will win the war and write the peace." There is no doubt but that when Secretary Wickard made this statement that he was thinking of the ability of the American farmer to produce food in abundance and variety to feed our armies, keep our people at home in excellent physical condition, feed our allies during the war, and have a supply of food which will "talk" to the starved people of the invaded countries at the peace table.

In order to make such an idea become a reality it is very important that farmers plan now to produce those foods which are needed and which can be produced on their own farms. Many may wonder just what foods are needed to win this war. Farmers of Parmer County think in terms of wheat, grain sorghums, cotton, and a few other miscellaneous crops. Wheat, of course, is one of the basic food crops. Even though we do have something of a surplus of wheat now we must remember that with a crop as important as this a surplus is desirable in times like these. What about our grain crops? Here is a place where farmers of Parmer County can probably make the greatest contribution to the war effort. Grain will produce milk, poultry, and meats. Farmers must not think of grain production for sale alone. High protein and energy producing foods must be produced which will take the least possible space when shipped in our none-too-many ships. Milk may be transported in the form of dried or condensed milk or cheese. Eggs may be shipped dried or frozen. Pork may be shipped cured and not require the refrigeration necessary for many meat products. These, then, are the foods which we must concentrate on producing. These are also the foods which Parmer County farmers can produce under almost ideal conditions.

Let's plan now not to attempt to sell our grain sorghums at a price which will barely pay the production costs. Let's market them through livestock and poultry which will pay increased dividends and will also help in a material way to win this war. Parmer County has possibilities as a permanent livestock county which can be surpassed by very few areas. Why not make the most of these possibilities now?

Our job as farmers cannot end with food production. We must invest every spare cent in war bonds and stamps; we must conserve vital materials which are needed in the war effort; we must work longer and harder to take the place of those who have gone into the armed forces; and we must keep up the spirit at home.

The Parmer County farmer has a big job to do. Let's plan in an intelligent way to do that job now.

causing a lot of grief at the Henry Allmon home, so last week Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Allmon thought that perhaps they could save the garden in the field if they took a number of chickens there to catch the grasshoppers. So the chicks were taken to the garden one night and left so they could start catching hoppers with the coming of dawn.

It was still early when Mr. and Mrs. Allmon went to see how the chickens were getting along and there scattered over the ground they found 15 chickens which had been killed by a swift fox. Immediately they started taking the chicks back to the house and before they could return for the last group "Mr. Swift" had taken toll of 5 more. The Allmons feel that the grasshoppers now have the situation well in hand.

A number of men rushed to the Joe Evans farm Saturday afternoon when they saw fire in a wheat field there. A combine was being filled with gasoline and although the motor had been shut off the gasoline ignited and at once spread over the machine and to the field. Luckily just stubble was burned off, the men present being able to prevent the fire reaching the wheat. The boy who was servicing the combine was badly burned on the chest and will be in the hospital for two weeks at least. Damage to the combine amounted to nearly $175.

What Can I Do to Help?

Every American who loves liberty desires to see our foes' weapons silenced forever. Every American who loves liberty should help crush the menace to our privilege of self rule that is being projected by the Axis warlords.

To that end, then, all of us must devote our resources, thought and energy with profound earnestness, for the defeat of our enemies is a job which calls for the co-operation of everyone — make no mistake about it! The housewife, the business woman, the farmer, the industrial worker, the business man — all have clear-cut duties.

Whether might alone makes right will be decided on the battle field in this war. And you, whether you employ, or are employed hold the answer to whether innocent, peace-loving, God-fearing peoples may be free in generations to come to work and worship as they please. This war has placed great responsibilities on you.

You should avoid waste. You should follow peacetime buying practices, as nearly as you can, refraining from making purchases to store away, keeping in mind the importance of conserving, especially those things vital to the armament program. You should carry on as normally as possible, considering that we are at war, for it takes physically vigorous and mentally balanced men and women on the home front to produce the things required to keep our fighting forces armed, and fed and clothed adequately.

You should accept war news—the bad with fortitude, the good with re-affirmed resolution to not slacken your efforts in doing your part to see this war through to a victorious end. You should be careful not to disclose news about our armed forces. If you hear that a unit is leaving a post or camp at a specified time, keep quiet about it. If you see trains bearing troops, divulge no information as to the direction of travel. While traveling, if you pass a convoy, do not spread the news. The safe way to treat news of a military nature is to believe that the enemy has spies everywhere, and act prudently to avoid being the medium through which the slightest harm could come to a single one of our men in uniform.

(Listed Below) of this message, carrying out the wishes of Uncle Sam, pledge their patrons the most efficient and the most complete service possible to provide, considering that our nation is at war:

Our Duty:
To Fit
Them To Fight

Our Boys — your sons, your husbands, your brothers, your grandsons—are going to the front to do your fighting for you. You want them fitted to fight, don't you? We cannot do for them what they will do for us. To them we will owe our liberty and all of the fine things that go with living in free America. The least that we can do is to make certain that they are fully armed, well fed, and adequately clothed. It is our duty to bend our efforts and our resources to help supply them in such quantity that they will not want for a single thing. Let's get busy — work harder, buy all of the War Bonds and Stamps that we possibly can buy.

Work hard for Uncle Sam today that you will be free to work for yourself tomorrow

There was no preaching here Sunday morning as Rev. Hardy Stephens had gone to Phoenix, Ariz., to get his family. Mrs. Stephens and the children have been visiting relatives there the past month. They arrived here in time for services Sunday night. E. H. Little, accompanied Rev. Stephens and visited his brother, Wayne, who is in the Air Corps at Chandler, Ariz.

Mrs. Mattie Strickland, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wright and W. A. and Jimmie Hendricks, all of Dallas, were guests last Sunday in the W. S. Rice home. Mrs. Strickland remained to spend the summer in the Rice home.

Doris and Florence Goldson were guests Saturday night of Ruth and Helen Marie Tucker, at Hereford.

William Ponder is building a granary at his farm this week.

Dorothy Lee of Summerfield, was a guest last week of her cousin, Rose Stephan.

Miss Nadine Shirley is assisting Mrs. Maurice Tannahill with her work during harvest.

Dr. Greer and Alex Norris, a carpenter, came Wednesday from Lockney, where they made the old house on Dr. Greer's place into a granary. T. B. Cox, who farms the Greer place, had 40 to 45 bushel crop there this year.

W. D. McKinney returned last week from Carlsbad, N. M., where he has been visiting. His daughter, Mrs. Callie Lindsey, returned home with him and is visiting her relatives this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Huntzinger, Mrs. Guy Lawrence, Nelda Guy and Melba Gay of Hereford, were dinner guests Sunday in the R. M. Gunn home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wilson left Sunday to return to their home at Abilene. They have been living in the trailer house here and Lester has been working for his brother, Vernon Wilson.

Mrs. Johnny Price of Floydada, called on Mrs. W. R. Allmon Wednesday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Price were on their vacation and Mr. Price spent part of the time trucking wheat to Hereford for Mr. Godwin.

CHDA NOTES

Texas A. & M. College Extension Service

WHEAT . . . GALORE!
We have an abundance of wheat in the county right now. The big problem is where to store it.

Secretary of Agriculture Wickard recently offered this solution and I am passing it on to you: "There's one way in which the women of the family might help the wheat storage situation. DO MORE HOME BAKING OR USE MORE BAKER'S PRODUCTS. You homemakers can use all the flour you want because we have plenty of it. Try some of the new enriched flours or some of the whole wheat flours. They are health giving and nourishing and things made with them taste good, too."

It's a long time since homemakers have baked bread at home. Remember how good it was? And how the aroma of bread in the oven penetrated the house?

Well, why not help out the wheat growers by using up some of that surplus wheat—and give the family a treat. Homemade rolls are a welcome addition to any meal in any season.

In event you have misplaced your favorite recipe just substitute this one worked out by the Bureau of Home Economics—Make the rolls while you have the inspiration and look for your recipe later.

Refrigerator Rolls
1 cup yeast
1/2 cup lukewarm water
1/2 cup fat
1/2 cup sugar
2 cups scalded milk
1 1/2 teaspoon salt
About 8 cups "enriched" sifted soft-wheat flour.

Soften the yeast in lukewarm water. Add the fat and sugar to the hot milk. Cool to lukewarm, add a beaten egg (if desired) and combine with the yeast and water. Stir in the sifted flour and salt until the dough is stiff enough to knead. Knead thoroughly; form into a ball, and put in a greased bowl to rise. Cover the bowl and set in a pan of warm water to keep it at a temperature of 80 to 85 degrees F. When the dough is double in bulk, punch the center, pull the sides over and press them into the center. Then turn the ball so the smooth side is up and let the dough rise to the same volume as before. Knead again.

At the end of the second kneading, cut off as much as needed, shape as desired, and put in a warm place to double in bulk. Then bake in a hot oven (400 F) for 15 to 20 minutes. Grease the surface of the remaining dough, cover, and put in the refrigerator.

Of course, the Secretary suggests buying baker's bread, if that's the most convenient way to provide the "staff of life". In event that is your choice be sure to ask for the "Enriched" loaf. The minimum requirements for a 1-pound loaf of "enriched" bread are 333 international units Thiamin (Vitamin B), 4 mg of niacin, and 4 mg of iron. Much baker's bread does not come up to standards. So it pays the shopper to read labels before investing her money.

Chants of the Chanticleer . . .

The Star editor is responsible for this "chant". Judge J. C. Temple, of Farwell, was in Friona Wednesday morning and stopped in to the Star office and asked "Uncle John" is he knew of any man with a weak mind and a strong back, whom he could get to shovel some grain for him. The editor told him he could supply the weak mind, but not the strong back. Judge then took some money from his pocket and asked if he would go and get drunk if he gave it to him. Uncle John replied that there was not supposed to be enough liquor in Friona to make a man intoxicated. The Judge gave him a piece of soft money and a piece of hard money, saying that the soft money was to buy hard liquor, and the hard money was for beer. Uncle John told him there is absolutely no beer to be bought in Friona, for those who have it will not sell it, and he handed the hard money back to the Judge.

There are three candidates for County Commissioner in Friona precinct, and they are each showing quite a bit of activity during the past ten days or two weeks, and this activity will probably continue until the primary. But there seems to be not a great deal of interest on the part of the voters. It seems to be taken for granted that they are all good men, and that the interests of the precinct will be adequately taken care of regardless of who may be elected.

Our farmers have not been coming to town in very large numbers for the past several days because they are in the midst of wheat harvest. Many of them have very large acreages of wheat and report a fair yield, ranging from 20 to 30 bushels per acre, but apparently, none of them have become pompous about their large yield or large acreage. They just express gratitude at having so much and let it go at that.

A man was heard to say Monday morning that Sloan Osborn was only about half done combining his crop at that time; but he had a large storage capacity already on his farm, and that it was all full. He had purchased 6 bins from the Commodity Credit Corporation and had begun filling them. These bins hold from 1500 to 1800 bushels of grain.

Ray Landrum, proprietor of the Regal Theatre, reports a 22-bushel yield from his 80-acre crop, out in the Rhea community. Ray almost always greets his friends with a cheerful smile, and he seems just a little more cheerful since he has harvested this nice crop.

Roy Slagle was in town Tuesday afternoon having some lights fixed on his tractor, so he could run the combine at night. He stated that his wheat was making what might be called an average yield, of somewhere around 20 bushels. He said there were places in his field where it would probably make 25 bushels, but there were bad spots which were bringing the average down. He said this would apply to all of his crops of barley, oats and wheat. He was he was getting along very satisfactorily with harvesting and with very little trouble, although cutting 700 acres with one combine did seem a little slow.

Mrs. C. A. Guinn from the Lakeview community was in town Tuesday afternoon. She stated that she had not had any harvest cooking to do, as most of their wheat was harvested by the hail and she did not have to cook for the storm. Hard luck? Sure it was; but there was not a more cheerful countenance in Friona than that of Mrs. Guinn.

George McLean, in preparing to plant his third crop of garden, began digging in a corner that he had not heretofore spaded up, and found some plants growing there that reminded him of wild Irish potatoes that grow in great abundance in some parts of New Mexico. He spaded into them and found that to be the case. He showed the Chanticleer one of the small potatoes, the first of the kind he had ever seen. This is the original stock from which our much prized Irish potatoes were produced.

The local elevators became filled up with grain and had to call a halt on storage for a while. One of the elevators, however, arranged for enough storage space to accommodate about 2500 bushels, and some of the farmers were in line for unloading on Tuesday evening, and it is stated that some of them spent the night there in line awaiting their turn to unload. Early Wednesday morning there was a line of trucks reaching from the elevator east to the railroad crossing, and south nearly the length of the concrete slab, and north up Main Street nearly to the Friona Bank.

The local machine shops seem to be the next busiest places in town, and some of them have so much on hand that they can not promise others before some time next week. Harvest machinery is given the preference, as it is up to all to get this wheat crop harvested. It will be needed for defense consumption.

Rev. Paxton Smith said last Saturday that he had to move to Friona to see two things he had never seen before. They were the local bank and post office both open on the Fourth of July and "doing business as usual".

Summerfield

MRS. JIM CLARK

The end of this week will bring the wheat harvest near the finish. Several are already through except for combining barley and oats.

Wheat averages in this community as in many others, are higher than expected. Storage problems are being gradually worked out. Many farmers have received and erected the government storage bins while still others are building temporary bins of rough lumber. Some are selling their wheat and taking the 20-cent loss rather than pile it on the ground until storage can be prepared.

Miss Frances Hardesty of Portales is visiting her sister, Mrs. Frank Huckert, Mr. Huckert and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanford Harper have returned from Rochester, Minn., where he went through the Mayo Brothers clinic.

Mr. and Mrs. Oren Neill and family of Lubbock, and Miss Edith Neill student in the WTSC at Canyon, spent the week end in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Neill of Black. They also visited a sister, Mrs. B. E. Roberson and a brother, Kenneth Neill of this community.

Walter Ray Hawkins of Lamesa is here assisting his grandfather, B. A. Atchley in the harvest.

Sunday afternoon visitors in the Earl Lance home were Mrs. Joe Kendall and daughters, Betty Jo and Geraldine, Mrs. J. C. Lance and Mrs. S. L. Waiser, all of Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendal Green of Plainview, spent Saturday night with her brother, Rev. M. D. Rexrode, Mrs. Rexrode and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Staats and family of Tullia, visited the B. A. Atchley home last week. Margaret Staats remained with her grandparents for a longer visit.

Mrs. C. H. Carl, Mrs. Wood Vaughn and Mr. and Mrs. Manly Finch of Hereford, were welcome guests in the Earl Lance home recently when they brought a letter from Earl Lance Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lance, who is in the Marines. They had not heard from their son in three weeks and believed him to have been shipped to the war zone. But he had been on guard duty off the coast. He remained in harbor at San Diego until the last of the week when another letter informed his parents he was being sent out on the waters again. He did not know of course, for how long.

Sunday School attendance Sunday was 86. Monthly reports were made by the officers and teachers. Average S-S attendance the past month was 84 and an increase of 23 was reported in the enrollment.

Mrs. C. H. Carl of Hereford, visited Thursday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Earl Lance. She and her granddaughter, Billie Louise made further plans for a trip to Decatur, where they will visit relatives. They plan to leave Sunday night or Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Manly Finch of Hereford, who will visit in East Texas points.

R. D. Lance Jr., underwent an appendicitis operation last Wednesday at the Camp Hospital in Lincoln, Neb., where he is enrolled in a mechanic school. Word received by relatives here Monday was that his condition was excellent. He will be in the hospital about 20 days. Friends caring to write him may address the letters to Private R. D. Lance Jr., 38015443 Class 42-42, YMCA, Lincoln, Neb.
