

SUBMISSION IS ONLY 952 VOTES AHEAD

MARGIN IS REDUCED STILL FURTHER BY TODAY'S FIGURES AND IS LESS THAN 1000 VOTES EARLY THIS AFTERNOON.

CULBERSON GAINS

Now Has Lead of 7,000 Over Brooks and Total of Over 360,000 Votes in Primary Counted—Last Figures Till Saturday.

The Texas Election Bureau this afternoon gave out the following figures on Saturday's primary:

For submission, 153,479; against submission, 151,527. Present majority, 952. For Senator—Colquitt, 107,050; Culberson, 80,233; Brooks, 72,800; Campbell, 59,791; Henry, 32,853; Davis, 9911.

For Governor—Ferguson, 213,618; Morris, 148,334; Marshall, 15,910. These are the last figures to be given out until Saturday when the county committees will meet and when returns from the many small boxes yet unreported will be available.

Today's totals seem to make it fairly certain that Culberson will be ahead of Brooks when the total vote is known, as the total for all candidates now is over 360,000.

Submission's lead grows steadily smaller, being now less than 1000 votes. With such a narrow margin, the official count will probably be necessary.

It is claimed that to strictly enforce these laws it would result in driving many established fire insurance companies from Texas. The commissioner does not propose to touch on the Robertson insurance law. He will also urge the passage of a law providing a contingent commission for local fire insurance agents.

Acting Secretary Polk discussed the question with President Wilson today and they returned to the state department to complete work on the document.

Ambassador Page at London advised the state department of an informal discussion he had with the British foreign office regarding the British black list of American firms. Department officials intimated that the scope and effect of the black list order were gone over in detail at the conference and one ambassador learned that the British authorities hold that the order will not affect American interests so seriously as believed here. The United States government officials stated, is not yet in a position to proceed directly and formally in negotiations with Great Britain. At the same time department officials declared that some of the American firms on the list are free from the least suspicion of German commercial or other connections.

MANY RELEASES FOR GUARDSMEN

APPLICATIONS REACH HEADQUARTERS AT RATE OF 1500 PER WEEK.

ASKED BY RELATIVES

Comparatively Few Come From Soldiers Themselves—All Requests Investigated.

San Antonio, Texas, July 26.—Application for relief from service of guardsmen with persons dependent upon them now are pouring into army headquarters at Fort Sam Houston at the rate of 1500 a week it was announced today. Several hundred already have been released.

The vast majority of the applications do not come from the guardsmen themselves, but from wives, mothers and sisters and from senators or congressmen interested in their cases.

In each case an investigation must be made with the result that headquarters has an immense amount of additional clerical work to perform; 25 releases were signed this morning. Military authorities say that because of the release of guardsmen with dependent relatives and the prospect that many other guardsmen will be freed from service so they may return to college the military situation in one respect soon will be changed. The release of the national guardsmen began, they say, there many men without equipment whereas the future will see much equipment without men to utilize it.

BRITISH FORCES TAKE POZIERRE FROM GERMANS

CAPTURE IMPORTANT STRATEGIC POINT OVERLOOKING PLATEAU TO EASTWARD—OTHER GAINS ARE REPORTED TODAY.

ERZINGAN CAPTURED

Important Fortress in Turkish Armenia Is Captured By Russians, Turks Withdrawing Before Advancing Czar's Troops.

London, July 26.—The capture of Pozieres in the Somme River region reported today by Field Marshal Douglas Haig, the British commander in chief in France, gives the British troops domination of the highest point overlooking the plateau over which the German troops extend to the eastward.

Some of the most stubborn fighting in the recent British offensive which retook nearly a month ago, occurred in the streets of this village, which the Germans had fortified until it became one of the strongest points of their line. Every house had to be fought for and taken separately and the British after obtaining possession of a considerable portion of the village were subjected to severe counter attacks which they withstood successfully for several days and then in turn took the initiative, until the whole place was in their hands.

The German general staff regarded the possession of Pozieres of such importance that they even brought reinforcements of troops which had been fighting in the Verdun sector and these held tenaciously to parts of the village until driven out or captured in hand-to-hand fighting.

The British advance, being pushed also on either side of the village and the official statement records the capture from the Germans of two strong trenches to the west.

The impetuous Russian drive in Turkish Armenia has resulted in the evacuation of the fortress of Erzincan by the Turks, according to official dispatches from Petrograd. The Turks are retiring in disorder, leaving quantities of guns and munitions in their tracks. Sivass, 130 miles west of Erzincan will be their new base, it is assumed by military observers.

AMERICAN NAVAL CRAFT WATCHING OFF BALTIMORE

ARMORED CRUISER AND TWO DESTROYERS ON DUTY OUTSIDE VIRGINIA CAPE UNTIL FURTHER ORDERS COME.

ON NEUTRALITY DUTY

Action Follows Visit of Unknown British Cruiser to American Waters in That Vicinity Late Tuesday Evening on Mysterious Mission.

By Associated Press. Norfolk, Va., July 25.—Secretary Daniels announced today that the armored cruiser North Carolina would on neutrality duty for the present outside the Virginia capes.

The navy department would make no comment which could connect the order of the cruiser with the recent dash of a British cruiser into American waters.

BRITISH CRUISER'S VISIT CAUSES MUCH DISCUSSION

Norfolk, Va., July 26.—The armored cruiser North Carolina weighed anchor at Old Point at 1:30 p. m. and headed for the capes. Two torpedo boat destroyers preceded the cruiser. It was stated that three ships were under orders to lay off the capes until further instructions.

Naval orders summed today with the unexpected visit of the unidentified British cruiser in the lower part of Chesapeake Bay today news of which became known last night after the warship had returned to patrol duty outside the three mile limit where she awaits the German submarines of Deutschland and Bremen.

Opinion differs as to the purpose of the visit; the most generally accepted version was that the cruiser's commander believed the Deutschland was moving down the bay and hoped that by entering American waters he would be able to follow her out to sea.

London, July 26.—The British government, it is learned today, will consent to the plan for provisioning the civilian population in the areas occupied by German and Austrian armies under supervision of a neutral commission appointed by President Wilson, if the central powers will consent to move native food supplies. Details of the plan will be given Ambassador Page in a later letter from the foreign office this week.

TEXAS WILL GET ABOUT $291,000 TO BULD ROADS

THAT SUM APPORTIONED IN FEDERAL BILL FOR THIS YEAR PROVIDED STATE APPROPRIATES EQUAL SUM FOR WORK.

DETAILS OF MEASURE

Additional Sums to Be Allowed Each Successing Year Until 1922—Texas to Get More Than Any Other State in Union.

Washington, July 26.—Southern states have been allotted a total of the $5,000,000 federal road fund available for this fiscal year under the new federal aid road law, the department of agriculture announced today. Texas was given $291,000, the largest sum that went to any state. Oklahoma received $110,130; Arkansas $72,889 and Louisiana $67,474.

The apportionment was made by state, as required by law, one-third in the ratio of area, one-third in the ratio of population and one-third in the ratio of mileage. The total sum is $75,000,000 and in future years will be divided as follows: 1918 $10,000,000; 1919 $15,000,000; 1920 $20,000,000 and 1921 $25,000,000. The act requires that the apportionment of each year shall be made in the same manner.

As the first step in the federal government's part of spending $150,000,000 on good roads during the next five years in co-operation with the states, Secretary Houston will soon announce preliminary plans for organizing and some time before September 11 will notify the governors of states of the apportionment of federal funds for this year. A circuit will also be sent to all the governors and state highway authorities outlining a tentative plan of procedure.

The $150,000,000 is to be paid half by the government and half by the several states, apportioned among the latter according to their respective area, population and rural mail route mileage.

The expenditures are authorized by the Shackleford-Blankenship good roads law, the first granting federal aid to states in road building. It was signed July 11 by President Wilson and government officials are preparing to put its provisions into early operation.

Actual construction of some of the roads may begin this fall and extensive construction next spring is planned. The law provides that no government money shall be available unless the states agree to contribute, matching the government contributions dollar for dollar.

Every cent of the federal and state funds, the act provides, shall be spent to build new roads, and no money thereafter must be borne by the states alone.

Rules and regulations to put the federal law as its popularity grows, into prompt operation are now being drafted by the Secretary of Agriculture, upon whom devolves practically the entire work of supervising the government expenditures. In supervising supervision will be by the officer of public roads and rural engineering, which Logan Waller Page is director.

A conference of state highway representatives of all states and, possibly, of organizations interested in the good roads movement, engineering experts and others, to discuss measures for organizing the new federal effort, was held by Secretary Houston.

Apportionment among the several states of the $5,000,000 for the first year's work will soon be announced by Secretary Houston. States who are required to annually certify apportionments because of changes in rural route mileage and population.

The allotment of federal appropriations will be made by the secretary of agriculture, one-third being based on the ratio which the population of each state bears to the total United States population, according to the latest census, one-third in the ratio which the mileage of rural post roads in each state bears to the total national mileage, and one-third in the ratio which the area of each state bears to the total area.

Routes and construction materials of the new roads are to be finally determined by the secretary of agriculture. No public road can be built under the law until its location, cost and character are approved by him. Every road project with plans, specifications and cost estimates must be given his approval before any of the federal money shall be available. There is no specific requirement that such roads shall be permanent, but the act declares they shall be "substantial in character," the secretary being given discretion to construe the question of substantiality in each separate case. A limit of $10,000 per mile, however, is the maximum fixed by the law to prevent use of the government funds in building costly boulevards which would not assist in rural development.

Whether the new roads built under the law shall be main-traveled trunk lines, connecting inter-state highways or merely small sections scattered throughout the states is also left to the discretion of the secretary of agriculture. Construction of both is expected. At the proposed conference of state highway representatives here, it is believed that proposals for a comprehensive correlative road-building scheme will be reached. The American Highway Association, the American Automobile Association and other good roads organizations are interested in such co-ordination and correlation of the public roads throughout the entire nation. Development of the national road system as a whole is the broad scheme and aim of government officials, with the aid of state authorities.

DAVIS SAYS BOOZE CAUSED HIS DEFEAT

Omission of Name "Cyclone" Also Blame—Surprise Over Defeat of Stephens

(Washington Special to Dallas News.)—Washington—Cyclone Davis who was defeated for Congressman at large in the Texas primary election Saturday, said tonight that he would go to Texas to campaign for the candidate against former Governor Colquitt in the second senatorial primary election. The Texas is promising a statement touching on the Texas political situation, and says that he does not believe that a "bunch of foreigners in New York" ought to be permitted to dictate the senatorship in Texas.

The National Democratic Committee and Senator Arthur of Arizona have asked Davis to spend the last two weeks of August in that State campaigning for the Democratic ticket, which he has agreed to do, and contemplates going to Texas on route to resist the final nomination of Colquitt. Senator Culberson received telegrams today indicating that he will be in the second primary with Colquitt, Brooks, according to the State campaign. Tonight Senator Culberson said he would not make a statement until he had been informed as to the outcome of the election.

To a party of newspaper correspondents this afternoon Cyclone Davis exhibited a telegram showing he was 17,000 votes behind the second man in the race for Representative at large, with about half the state to be heard from if defeated. Davis said he will be due to the forces of "booze, booze and big business," which he alleges combined against him, in addition he claims that he was told to use the word "Cyclone" in connection with his name cost him thousands of votes, since no one in Texas knows him as H. I. Davis and there were two other Davines candidates in the same election. Davis said he guessed he was through running for office in Texas.

"Liquor interest fought me hard," he explained, "I have fought them hard for twenty-five years and assisted in running liquor out of county after county in Texas. Big business combined with the liquor interest. I suppose I won't run again. Texas is a big State and it costs a lot of money to stay in politics. I cost me $750 to serve a term in Congress, because my expenses have been heavier than my salary."

Davis said, however, that his efforts had not been in vain, because he had lived to see enacted into law the principles of the Populist platform which he helped to write at Ocala, Fla., years ago.

"I was called an anarchist then," explained Davis, "but much of it has been written into law, and four years ago Roosevelt ran on a platform declaring for initiative, referendum and recall and social justice. I am glad to have served one term, but the interests have defeated me, if I am defeated and I don't know if I will try it again."

A portion of the opposition to him, Davis said, was on account of the Jeff Davis-Lacey-Thomas speech last winter, which he says was generally misunderstood by the Confederate veterans of Texas.

Surprise was expressed around the capital today over the fact that on the sensitive John H. Stephens, who is serving his twentieth consecutive year in the House of Representatives, and far from being identified with the House Indian Committee, the last four years as its chairman, the defeat of Mr. Stephens, who has been ill for a week, is admitted as a possibility. Mr. Stephens is expected to be reaching his office this afternoon from Texas.

Personal advice to Representative McLennan told his success in the primary. He is receiving telegrams of congratulation from all sections of the State.

Members of the administration were interested in news telling of the defeat of Oscar Calloway, who has been out of the administration's opponents in the preparation of legislation and served as one of the "little" members of the House Naval Committee.

SOLID VOTE CAST IN DUVAL COUNTY

Sentiment Apparently Unanimous For Various State Officers and Issues.

(Special to The Times.)—Brownsville Texas, July 25.—Duval county on the Rio Grande, believes in playing favorites, and playing them to the limit, when it comes to matters electoral. The vote of that county in Saturday's primaries was recorded in the most remarkable manner of any in the state. Whatever candidate or issue was favored, the entire recorded vote of the county was given that candidate or issue. In other words Duval county did not split its vote on a single candidate or issue.

Here is the way the vote of the county was recorded. Against submission, 993; for United States Senator, no preference indicated; for chief justice supreme court, Phillips, 993; for associate justice, Yantis, 993; for governor, Ferguson, 993; for attorney general, Conroy, 993; for railroad commissioner, Mayfield, 993; for state treasurer, Edward, 993; for judge of the court of criminal appeals, Hill, 993; for comptroller, Terrell, 993; against the Robertson law, 993.

These figures, which heretofore have been the record, cast a solid vote, in 993 as he heard from.

MAY TEACH SALESMANSHIP IN SCHOOLS OF DALLAS

(Dallas Special to Dallas News.)—Dallas, July 25.—Salesmanship will be taught in the Dallas public schools, if the local school board gives heed to and takes favorable action on the plan to be presented shortly to them by the Dallas Sales Managers' Association. The project will be carried to the school board through the educational committee of the Sales Managers' Association.

The first step the salesmen will propose will be the securing of a director of salesmanship who will instruct the present teachers in the high school science department on how to teach salesmanship. From that it is hoped that an established course in the science of salesmanship will be added to the high school curriculum.

VON WEDEL HEADS COMMITTEE "FOR HONORABLE GERMAN PEACE"

The German national committee for the peace advocates has drafted an address which will be published in a few days calling for support of Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg and the influence of public opinion toward moderate peace aims. The signatures to the address indicate the importance of the movement, which will begin its work on August 1. They include Count von Wedel general adjutant to the emperor and head of the movement, Paul Henselmann, director of the North German Lloyd; Paul von Schwanack, director of the Reichsbank; Professor Adolph Harnack and many important manufacturers, merchants, professors and others. The address outlines the aims of the committee, steering a course between the pacifists and the anti-Germans. The latter it characterizes as "annexation lunatics." It emphasizes the fact that

How Great Britain Enforces Blockade; Every Vessel Is Stopped and Visited

(Associated Press Mail Correspondence.)—London.—The most detailed description of the British blockade system, which has been framed and presented to the members of the American Luncheon Club by Sir Frank Newnes, in an address delivered at the meeting of the club, Sir Frank is the head of a great publishing firm founded by his father. He is a member of the Admiralty, and is acting as Assistant Secretary of the Committee on Detention of Neutral Ships presided over by Lord

Sir Frank called attention to the fact that the blockade was not established until the Order of Council of March 11, 1915, was issued, and that the total amount of goods, which are unloaded from any ship they are at once put into "prize," and the owners are allowed to make claim for their restitution, and must bring an action for their recovery. Such actions are tried in the Admiralty Court, which is presided over by Sir Samuel Evans, and the goods are released, condemned, or dealt with as the Court may deem just.

"I have already told you that the desire of the British government is to carry out this blockade with as little delay or inconvenience to neutrals as is possible, and I will now give you a few of the arrangements made to ensure this:

(1) Guarantee by Importers. "Agreements have been made with representative associations of importers in neutral countries under which they undertake that goods consigned to them will not be exported to Germany, nor be used in the manufacture of goods which are for export to Germany.

"The first of these was the Netherlands Dredge Trust, which was successful in neutral countries; were formed in other countries: "In Denmark, the Danish Merchants Guild; "In Switzerland, the Societe Surveillance Suisse.

"Goods can now be exported from this country practically under license only, and such license are usually granted if the goods are consigned to these associations.

(2) Agreements with Shipping Lines. "Agreements have been made with many Shipping Lines under which their ships are allowed to go forward even if they have consigned on board or are carrying goods which our authorities suspect are for the enemy, on their undertaking to return such goods to this country for the Prize Court or to retain them in a neutral country until after the war.

"And in addition to this: "1) Bunker coal from any port in the British Empire is refused to neutral ships unless they comply with certain conditions which ensure that the goods they carry do not go to the enemy.

"Both these classes of ships are called 'White Ships'; and they are in large and increasing number, and most of the leading lines have made such arrangements.

"I would strongly advise any of you when shipping goods to see that the ship is a 'White Ship'.

"If a ship is not a 'White Ship' there is of course a presumption that it is or may be carrying suspected goods, and thus it may be delayed and you suffer the suspicion attaching to other peoples goods.

(3) Skimmer Scheme. "This is a scheme which was suggested by Mr. Skinner, the American Consul-General in London. "It is this: A department has been opened in the British Embassy at

BOX BRINGS MUCH JOY TO SOLDIERS

Soldiers at Columbus Express Appreciation of Candy and Cigarettes

High carnival reigned in the Wichita Falls camp at Columbus when the box of candy and cigarettes reached there last week. The Times has received the following: "To the Dear Times: On last Tuesday at 7 o'clock p. m., a thunderclap of joy struck this camp and Company M street reminded me of a carnival ground when the big box of presents arrived from Wichita Falls. I called all the boys up in front of my tent and had them to assist me in opening the presents and I gave each one the boxes that were addressed to them. The boys all shared their presents with the other members of Company M and it was one big family picnic. All the boys had plenty of candy and tobacco for which I want to thank every giver. I know every giver would have enjoyed seeing and hearing the jubilee. We all enjoy reading The Times every evening even if it is two days old when we read it. Am sorry to report Lawrence Burwell had his leg hurt while returning from rifle range on army trucks and he has been sent to Fort Bliss Hospital, El Paso, Texas. We expect him back soon. All the other boys are well. Thanking the givers of Wichita Falls and The Times for their trouble in getting this box of presents for us, I am, respectfully yours, "LIEUT. T. W. NOE."

Society For the printers from Soc of KNOCKING.

Do you knock because you like it or because you think you must? Do you knock to some good purpose or to raise a bit of dust? Do you knock to do a duty? Or to break some dreamer's heart? Do you knock to spoil life's beauty or to play a courtesan's part? There is lots of knocking daily, lots of good and lots of bad; But the only knock worth knocking in is the knock that makes men glad, is the knock that keeps things moving. That makes better life for all. Do you knock to keep men climbing Or just to make them fall? Some that knock the most used knocking, can it be your own of these? Do you only knock with men, and to help the world, and please? For it's often made much sweeter By the knocking some men do; Do you knock to give us trouble, Or to help us have more trouble? —Folger McKinstry.

The members present were: Mrs. James Bland, Studer, Deaton, Randall, Zeitsche and Delane.

MRS. ROSS COLLETT HOSTESS FOR HOUSE PARTY GUESTS

In compliment to the gift of Mrs. Rubie Bachman's house party, her sister, Mrs. Ross Collett entertained Tuesday morning with a pretty surprise party. The long library was literally ablaze with the gorgeous midsummer flowers as was the dining room and entire reception suite. And the golden and green motif furnished by the flowers was featured in the score cards and in the game accessories and the refreshment course as well. The spruce ice was served with superfood cake and green mint punch, sprays of asterisks forming, plate favors while vases of the same flowers centered the tables when the luncheon covers were spread. Forty-two was the name of the morning, the series being of the usual length. Mrs. Corlett's guest list included: the honorees, Misses Allie Mae Marberry of Henrietta, Texas, Juanita Long of Nashville, Tenn., and Ole Mae Sharver of Madisonville, Ky.; Misses Ruby Bachman, Lillian Bell, Celia Staxton, Daisy Stewart, Alice Frasier, Core Lee Waggoner, Katherine Johnson, Caro Belle Hall, Pearl Sewers, Potter, Meadamer, William Huff, W. W. Gardner, Roy Marquand, T. B. Hoffer, Jason Walker, Elmer Filko, and Glen Berry.

FINDS GOLD IN PLACE BY DREAM

William Hill of Brickerville, Pa. asserts that a dream revealed to him the hiding place of a can of gold, the property of John Belleman, his predecessor on the farm. Belleman did not believe in banks and secreted his money. He died suddenly and did not reveal even to his wife where he had it secreted. Hill's story is that he had a dream that he was digging for Belleman's money in the hay mow of the barn. He was about to give up the task when the spirit of Belleman appeared and commanded him to dig on. The next morning he went to the hay mow, dug under the hay and found a tin box. He took it to the home of Mrs. Belleman, who counted the contents, $5000 in gold and Hill was handsomely rewarded.

Sport Costumes and Lingerie Serve to Make Midsummer Days Bearable

Special to The Times—New York, July 26.—July lived up to tradition this year, affording us an opportunity to wear out sheers, lingerie frocks and our smartest sport costumes during the holidays. The nearby resorts were crowded on the Fourth, which chanced to be an ideal day, with well dressed men and women. A tiny flag, or a bit of red, white and blue, was a detail of most costumes; the men wore it on coat lapel, in hat band, or protruding from a pocket; the women pinned it daintily to the underbodice of the sheer blouse or frock, from where its colors shone out softly and effectively; or tucked a small silk flag into the skirt of the white frock, or into the pocket of the sports coat. Our patriotism was just a little more pronounced than usual this year, owing no doubt to the memory of war which have been coming to us lately, and the military preparations going on about us. Summer Costumes Combine Comfort and Charm. There were not many among the holiday crowds, however, who looked uncomfortably "dressed up." Fashion has at last managed to combine comfort with grace and charm. The sports costume predominated; various styles of middie and Russian blouses were worn with trim fitting skirts; chic suits of striped and plain

DEPARTMENT STORE "ABSOLUTELY ONE PRICE ALWAYS" mohair, pongee or linen, with Norwegian coats and sweaters, were favored; and sweater coats, with self or contrasting skirts, were also popular. The middie blouse costumes were developed in the regulation white lines, duck or galates, with collar and cuffs of blue and skirts of the new striped cotton novelties, moiré or plain white linen. The modified Russian and alpaca blouses favored the white and colored Japanese silks, pongee, plain or figured, shantung or Georgette, and were usually combined with skirts of this light or dark silks. One especially pretty costume developed in plain natural colored pongee trimmed and combined with a skirt of dark blue foulard dotted with bright green, is illustrated here. It is a slip-on model with cool, becoming sleeves, and an effective collar. The skirt is a simple gathered design, short and full, but unusually graceful. The plain white Russian blouse costume of Georgette crepe is particularly effective and cool for these hot summer days, and perfectly appropriate for summer evening wear. Any garden, or summer show, the simi, volles, too, are being developed in charming models with a touch of black, or a bright color of tulle or tulle. The new volles are washable in most mixtures and generally satisfactory. Cool Frocks for Street Wear. Dark blue in taffeta, Georgette, serge and satin is the leading color for city street wear, in spite of its apparent warmth. As most of these frocks, however, are made with white or self colored transparent sleeves passed until 8 o'clock tomorrow. Three were arraigned on a charge of drunkenness, one case being passed and a fine of $5 being assessed in each of the others. Three were charged with an affray, but all the cases were passed, while another defendant charged with running his car with open muffler and with speeding was given until tomorrow morning to answer the charge in court. A case that has been pending since Monday in which the defendant is charged with driving his automobile by a street car that was standing, was again passed and will probably be taken up in the morning. The session of court this morning was a short one, due to the fact that Judge Whitlaw has a very sick child, and he was anxious to return to his home. His little ten-year-old boy's condition is such as to cause uneasiness, his fever registering 105 1/2 yesterday. However, the little fellow was thought to be some better this morning.

Club of Wichita Falls, will be presented to the Woodmen. The car contains about 900 melons, which it is thought will be sufficient for all.

The feature of tonight's entertainment will be the widely heralded illuminated drill put on by the Oak Cliff drill team under the command of Captain George W. Hillpot. In this drill each man wears a miniature electric light on his cap, elbow, wrist, knee, and ankle, and the commanding officer wears one on the point of his sword. Wherever this drill has been exhibited it has provoked the most enthusiastic praise. Company A has won the drill prize at the last three encampments of the Woodmen and are expected to do it again here, although a number of other companies have their followings among the men in camp who pick them to win. Company A has, however, the reputation of being the champion drill team in the entire Woodman order and the drill is certain to be interesting. The light at the park will be switched off during the drill and the various movements will make the lights resemble a dance of fireflies. The drill is scheduled to take place in front of the grand stand at 8:30. It will be preceded by a battle royal with twenty dusky combatants in the arena.

Sickness to a considerable extent has broken out in the camp, all of which is blamed on the water supply. The alum which was so strong in the water could hardly be drunk by the men upon the stomachs of a number of the men and also is blamed by the physicians for the outbreak of a number of cases of bowel trouble. General McMillan is one of the victims of the prevalent sickness, being a sufferer from a case of malaria. According to Major Barnham, surgeon in charge of the hospital, the general was in a malarial condition before coming to the encampment and the unaccustomed exposure to the hot sun, the poor drinking water and incidental worries of the camp brought out the malaria that was in his system. He was taken to the Lake Hotel where he is reported to be resting well. His condition is not such as to give the surgeon in charge serious concern, but is sufficient to keep him from actively directing the affairs of the encampment. Col. C. L. Mather of Omaha, assistant adjutant general of the W. O. W., who has been attending the encampment has assumed command of the camp and the daily program went on as usual today.

Another patient in charge of the surgeon is Captain D. Eskew who is suffering from malaria and a nervous condition. Captain Eskew had charge of the feeding of the hungry thousands at the encampment and it simply proved more than one man's job. A rush order has gone out for more tools and it is expected that six additional cooks will report for duty before night. Major D. Bates has taken command of the kitchen.

Two other patients in the hospital are J. Chandler, Wolfe City, both of whom are quite sick with malaria. The condition of these two men and that of the others who are in the hospital is such that they will be moved to the general hospital at night. A few days of improvement before night. All of the malaria patients were in a malarial condition before coming to the encampment but exposure to the sun and the poor drinking water, together with its scarcity at times had much to do with developing the cases.

erected the "crack" outfits as they passed in review. General McMillan and staff, accompanied by Col. Mather, assistant adjutant general, rode at the head of the procession. Reaching the reviewing stand at the corner of Eighth and Ohio they dismounted and reviewed the column as it marched by the stand. Col. Jerome G. Cockran and escort followed the general's parade. Reaching the reviewing stand Col. Cockran also dismounted and took his position on the reviewing stand. The six provisional regiments then marched past in order, the first four headed by military bands. Although at first it was planned to form only five provisional regiments, on account of the large number of men in attendance it was found necessary to organize an additional regiment.

The first provisional regiment, Col. Clarke M. Mulligan, was headed by the 34th regimental band of Dallas, which with the bugle and drum corps numbered five men. The band carried miniature electric lights on their caps which made quite an effective display. Company A of this regiment which will drill on the illuminated drill at the ball park tonight also attracted much attention from the sightseers that lined the route.

The second regiment, Col. George Collar, was headed by the 56th regimental band from Tyler whose white uniforms stood out in bold relief against the solid background of khaki-clad figures and drew attention sharply to them, the other prominent contender with the Dallas band for the prize for the best band at the encampment.

The other regiments followed in the following order: Third, Col. Horace R. Porter. This regiment was led by a band from Tyler, the second band belonging to the 56th regiment at that place. Next came the Fourth, Col. W. Russell, led by the Depot band. The fifth and sixth regiments, Colonels D. W. Padgett and F. O. Post brought up in the rear of the line of regiments.

The program will open with a battle royal, in which twenty negroes are to participate and they have promised to fight to the finish. The illuminated drill will be in charge of Captain G. W. Hillpot and the company will be the same as that appearing at the encampment at Galveston last year, and which attracted so much favorable comment for a splendid performance that was given. Since that time, it is announced, the drill has been much improved, both in the nature of the display and in the work of the company. Those who are acquainted with the reputation of the organization are looking forward with pleasant anticipation to the exhibition tonight.

In this drill each man is characterized as a walking light plant and so complete is the electrical arrangement and display that every movement of the men can be accurately noted. Lights are arranged on their caps and at different places on the uniforms, and even the axes used in the drill are illuminated by tiny light globes. It is said to be one of the most spectacular drills ever shown, and this is the only company in the United States that has perfected such an attractive display. This company is represented in one of the picture scenes being shown at Lake Wichita and the display reproduced on the screen, while not bringing out the electrical effects in connection with the work, has already attracted considerable attention. The musical program promises to add largely to the evening's entertainment, as the bands with the company are high-class musical organizations, as demonstrated by their work in the parade last evening.

The drill is expected to consume about one hour, including a short intermission and the presentation of the company to the inspection. Officers of the company announced today that provision would be made for parking cars within view as far as possible and that the arrangement had been made for the accommodation of the large crowd that is expected to witness the program.

The gates will be opened at 7:30 and the drill will begin at 8:30. The small admission fee of 25c will be charged, the money to be used in defraying the heavy expense involved in providing the entertainment.

WAR THREATENS LUMBER SUPPLY OF GREAT BRITAIN Associated Press Staff Correspondence. London.—So much timber is being used for the war it is said by advocates of a government scheme for re-forestation that if the war lasts another three years the British Isles will be entirely denuded of timber.

One feature of the situation is that some pre-war sources of supply are no longer available. Fifty-five per cent of timber imported in normal times came from Russia, Sweden and Germany, four per cent from Norway.

men denied their guilt, but a search of the store proved that the gown was missing. Store officials declared it had not been sold. A canvass of all other stores in the city handling goods of a similar class was made, and the detectives satisfied themselves there had been only one such gown in Minneapolis. The next morning the police were notified the gown had been found in the same spot from which it disappeared. It was not there the previous night, the store manager positively asserts.

YOUNG WOMAN'S OBSESSION FOR STARTING FIRES (Boston Post.) A young lady from near Van Wert, Ohio, has just been sent to the Girls' Industrial Home, Delaware, because within a period of a few weeks she has tried twelve times to set fire to the house where she was employed.

At first the origin of these fires was a mystery. The girl was suspected, however, and when the authorities questioned her she admitted that she had started all the fires. Asked why she had done so, she said frankly that she could not resist the impulse to start a fire—that it was an obsession which she could not overcome.

Well, all we have to say is this young lady ought to make some man a good wife. There would be no argument between herself and the man she married in the morning. While he remained asleep snoring blissfully she would dutifully rise in the dim, gray dawn and start a fire. Under proper direction and encouragement this fire-starting habit on the part of the young lady in question ought to make her a desirable helpmeet to any man who likes his morning nap.
