FRIONA WEATHER

The weather at Friona during the past ten days has been variable, ranging from calm balmy weather for most of the time to the strongest wind that has been recorded since 1895, which occurred on Thursday of last week.

The severe wind of Thursday followed the destructive cyclones which visited East Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas during the first half of last week. However, there was little damage done to property in this locality. Saturday was also windy, but not severe.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday were, for the most part, clear and balmy, with a decided lowering of the temperature which reached us some time during Tuesday night, and Wednesday was almost uncomfortably cool, with some indication of frost during Wednesday night. Partly cloudy during the day, but no precipitation locally.

FSA Loan Funds Exhausted For Time Being Administrator Says

The heaviest demands in the history of the Farm Security Administration by low-income farm families and small operators for loans with which to produce increased war foods has exhausted this agency's current loan funds, according to word received here this week by Earl L. Fine, rehabilitation supervisor of Parmer County.

"Although all-out Food for Victory cooperation of Parmer County farm families unable to secure other production credit has been extensive, the need for assistance was far greater than Farm Security's loan budget," said Mr. Fine. "As a result," he continued, "new Farm Security loans cannot be made until congressional action has been completed on appropriation for the new fiscal year beginning July 1."

To assist the nation's war effort, the FSA had introduced a new loan program known as the Food for Victory loan program. This was handled in addition to the regular rehabilitation program. Food for Victory loans were available to low-income and part-time farmers who were not immediately eligible for the agency's regular loans.

Approximately 1500 of the special Food for Victory loans have been made in the West Texas and New Mexico area served by the Amarillo FSA office. The regular FSA rehabilitation loans are serving thousands of other low-income farmers in the same area.

Farm Security cooperatives for joint use of farm machinery and equipment, and other cooperative facilities that save vital materials for the war effort are serving a large number of farm families in Parmer County.

"Although additional FSA funds are not expected to be available prior to July 1, loan applications can still be accepted for immediate action when appropriations are completed," said Mr. Fine. "In the meantime, every effort will be made to aid FSA borrowers in their Food for Victory plans in actual production in cooperation with the County War Board.

"Moreover," he concluded, "we will do all we can to assist needy farm families in obtaining credit from other federal or private lending agencies in order that these people may produce a maximum amount of food this season."

Friona Group Attends Church Conference

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Reeve, Mrs. Floyd Schlenker and Rev. Paxton Smith returned late Friday night from Oklahoma City, where they had attended a two-day session of the Oklahoma State Conference of the Congregational-Christian Churches.

They report an enjoyable trip, an instructive program and attractive features of entertainment. However, they passed through Clinton, Okla., just about 30 minutes before the tornado struck that locality.

Complete Scrap Campaign May 11

The Parmer County United States Department of Agriculture War Board has designated the week of May 11 as scrap iron week in Parmer County and are urging that every farmer make a special effort during next week to see that all of the available scrap iron on his farm is taken to some centrally located point in order that it might be used in our war efforts.

According to Olan N. Schlueter chairman of the War Board there are a number of smelters which have been forced to close down on account of not having material, such as scrap iron, to keep them going. "By gathering your scrap iron and taking it to a centrally located place in order that the production of vitally needed equipment will not be hampered, farmers may assist in bringing the war to a close faster," Schlueter said in making his appeal that farmers seriously consider the help they would be rendering in seeing that scrap iron on their farm is put where it will do the most good.

Scrap iron depots will be provided in Friona, Bovina, and Texico and it is possible that there will be points in other parts of the county where the scrap iron will be collected. Farmers living in localities where it will be inconvenient for them to deliver this scrap iron to one of the above places, should contact their local AAA community committee man and it is possible that depots may be established at other points. The main thing to keep in mind is that sometime during the week from May 11 to May 16 every farmer should make every effort possible to see that his scrap iron is put in circulation. Members of the War Board voiced the opinion that after May 16 farmers would be busy planting and it would possibly be impractical to promote another drive after May 16.

In view of this situation, farmers should do their utmost to gather their scrap iron on the week which has been designated. Full cooperation of all farmers in the county is requested in this drive.

Sloan Osborn of Friona, is a member of the U. S. D. A. War Board, and local farmers and others having scrap metal to dispose of should contact Mr. Osborn for any further information relative to the disposition of their "scrap."

Save Lard For Fall, Summer Use

A number of Parmer County farm families have large quantities of sweet, high quality lard on hand, and with a little extra work and ingenuity they can save it for use during the summer and fall.

That is the opinion of Miss Elsie Cunningham, county home demonstration agent, who this week gave the following tips for storing lard with maximum safety.

Lard stored in big containers (five or ten gallon vats) may become rancid. The solution is to pack the lard tight in small containers so full that they will be air tight when sealed.

Friona Men to Leave For Armed Service

C. E. McLean, cashier of the Friona State Bank, will leave Monday for induction into the U. S. Coast Guard, it was announced this week.

Frank Truitt has also enlisted in the Coast Guard and it waiting his call to active service. Wright Williams expects to be inducted into the Coast Guard on June 1.

Harold Lillard is expecting to be called soon to start his training as an air cadet and W. H. (Bill) Flippin and Ralph Taylor will start training in the construction branch of the Navy within the next 60 days.

Edelmon Takes Over Magnolia Dealership Here

W. L. Edelmon this week purchased the Magnolia Petroleum agency for the Friona territory from Wright Williams and took over active management of the business on Tuesday.

Mr. Williams has enlisted in the Coast Guard and expects to be called to active duty soon. During the time he has been in business in Friona he has made many friends and built up much good will for his business.

Mr. Edelmon has been superintendent of schools in Friona for the past four terms and resigned his position several weeks ago. He invites friends to visit him in his new business location and states that he will continue to give the kind of service which has made a reputation for the local Magnolia agency.

Mothers Of Sons In Service Will Be Legion Guests

The Post Commander of the local Legion Post is expecting a large delegation to go from here Saturday to the 18th District and the Panhandle Plains Ass'n. of Legion Posts conventions, to Borger, Texas. This will be a five-state convention and Legionnaires will attend from Colorado, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Kansas and Texas.

The theme of the convention will be exemplified in a parade starting at 2 o'clock Saturday honoring the mothers who have sons in service in the present war. The boys of '17 and '18 who will attend this convention are saluting the mothers of the sons who are now fighting our battles, in this manner.

The parade of honor for mothers will also have in attendance Andrew Dilworth, State Commander of Texas; Max Fife, State Commander of Oklahoma; Bolton Hyde, Grand Chief of the 40 & 8 of Texas; Dr. W. J. Danforth, National Executive Committee man, Texas, and many other Legion officials who will come to Borger to pay tribute to these mothers.

Saturday night will be given over to fun by the 40 & 8 and will conclude with a dance to "Mellow Music."

The business sessions will be held Sunday morning at the Post Service Officers school. A chicken dinner is promised at noon. The joint session of the Legion and Auxiliary with the public invited will be Sunday afternoon.

"In times like these this is our opportunity to learn the part that our Legion will play in the present war. It is our duty to attend this convention and find out our places," say the local Legion commander.

Legion Adjutant Urges Attention To Child Welfare Program Of Group

Sugar Stamp Numbers Must Correspond To Ration Period Numbers

According to W. L. Edelmon, administrator of the sugar rationing program for Friona and vicinity, the rationing program is divided into three schedules, A, B, and C, but schedule "C" is the only one which directly concerns domestic sugar users.

Schedule "C" shows the designation of ration periods and weight value of stamps valid therein. The ration periods are as follows: No. 1, May 5 to May 16, 1942; No. 2, May 17 to May 30, 1942; No. 3, May 31 to June 13, 1942; No. 4, June 14 to June 27, 1942.

The stamp number and weight value of each stamp that is valid during the above named periods are quoted here:

Stamp No. 1, 1 pound; No. 2, 1 pound; No. 3, 1 pound; No. 4, 1 pound.

By observing the above tables persons can determine on just what dates they can secure sugar, the number of the stamp that is valid for that date and the amount of sugar which can be purchased on that stamp.

It will be wise for all persons to realize that Schedule "C" cannot be used to suit their own convenience, but must be used as the government regulations specify. For example: if you do not use your stamp No. 1 for securing sugar during period No. 1, the stamp then becomes invalid and is of no use to you and you have forfeited yourself or your family the use of the amount of sugar allotted to that particular stamp. Each stamp is valid only for the period of the corresponding number.

Guyer and Jones Drive To Storm-Hit Pryor, Okla.

Charley Jones and Reeve Guyer drove to Pryor, Okla., last Tuesday to determine the safety of Mr. and Mrs. William Guyer and family, who live in the storm damaged Oklahoma boom town.

The Friona men found that the path of the storm had missed the home of the William Guyers by about 20 yards and that the family was uninjured.

Telephone and telegraph communications with the Oklahoma town were completely destroyed by the tornado which hit Monday afternoon.

Longes Visit Charles Coneway In Amarillo

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Lange and daughters, Carolyn and Doris Ann, were in Amarillo Sunday to visit their son and brother, Charles Coneway, who was in Amarillo in connection with the U. S. O. organization for this territory.

Coneway is assistant to the vice-president of the Humble Oil and Refining Company of Houston and the oil company executive is state chairman of the U. S. O. drive.

He swore, "If you refuse me, I shall die." So, she refused him and he died—just 60 years later.

Miller Store Navy Relief Headquarters

Mrs. Ralph Miller of Miller's Jr. Department Store announces that the Miller Store has been named headquarters in Friona for the Navy Relief Drive and urges Friona citizens to make contributions now to this worthy cause.

Money collected in the navy drive will go to help the wives and children of men in the Navy and Marines who are injured in the war. This is the first time that the Navy has made a public appeal for funds, but vastly increased Navy and Marine Corps personnel have caused increased needs for relief funds which cannot be met in the old way. A small glass bank has been provided at the Miller Store, and it is hoped that Friona will give more than the $10 quota set by the society on all banks put up in stores.

Volunteer Wheat Restrictions Set By State Office

Official information from the state office has set rules for the disposition of volunteer wheat. Keltz Garrison, county ACA secretary announced this week, explaining that the final ruling is in line with the ever-normal granary plan.

"Either the actual production or the normal production—whichever is smaller—for the volunteer acreage must be stored," Mr. Garrison says.

Normal production is an average figure set up for the farm as a whole. The actual production is figured as the average production for the entire wheat acreage, allotted and volunteer, for this year.

"However," Mr. Garrison points out, "wheat must be stored under bond to be eligible for 50 per cent loan."

The ACA secretary also states that the wheat cannot be used for feed.

"If there is any doubt about these restrictions on the marketing of volunteer wheat, come by the county office and we will be glad to explain these regulations to you," the county secretary states.

Buchanan and Morris Build New Granaries

J. D. Buchanan and H. G. Morris are among the farmers of the Friona territory who are starting construction on wheat storage bins. Buchanan and Morris are building large granaries in the west part of town.

Because of the expected bumper wheat crop and the probable transportation shortage, together with the fact that much wheat is already in storage, agricultural experts are predicting a serious shortage of storage facilities when the new crop begins to roll, and many farmers of this territory are building and remodeling to provide adequate farm storage space.

Then there's the fellow who went on a four weeks' bender and didn't show up for work. At the end of the time, he wired his boss: "I'm still with you, am I?"

Use White Karo For Coffee Sweetening

How to observe a sugar ration and still pamper the great American sweet tooth is fast becoming a national pre-occupation and John Silvertooth this week gave his own recipe for coffee sweetening.

Says Mr. Silvertooth: Just use one teaspoonful of white Karo syrup to each cup of coffee; stir until thoroughly mixed and you will have your coffee of the desired sweetness.

The same sweetening will work equally well on fruits, cereals or in other beverages besides coffee, Silvertooth says.

COGITATIONS and APHORISMS of Jodok

I wish to express my sincere thanks to my good friend, Ed McLellan, of Hot Spring, N. M., for the fine mess of fish which he sent to me about three weeks ago, by Floyd Reeve, who was then visiting in that city. That fish was unusually good, Ed, and I sure do thank you for it, although my thanks were rather tardy in getting to you. These little acts of remembrance and kindness on the part of my friends always do make me feel good, all over and all through.

I heard one of the finest sermons Sunday morning on the theme of the "Christian Family," that I have ever heard. There was nothing sensational or emotional about it; it was just pure, unadulterated, profound "common sense." Probably the chief reason that it appealed to me was that it was right along the line of my own personal thinking. It was not only one of the strongest arguments in favor of the Christian home, and Christianity as a whole, but it exalted and advised the spirit of patriotism as well.

It occurs to me that the sooner the ministry as a whole gets to devoting its time to exalting the common-sense side or view of the Christian religion, the sooner this and all other wars will become a thing of the past. Such preaching is so much better than hearing a minister of one denomination stand in the pulpit, criticize and ridicule the doctrine and teachings of any or all other beliefs.

We hear so much of that sort of ranting over the radio, usually filled with emotionalism and criticism and expressed with considerable stress of voice, and it occurs to me that if such speakers can find nothing better in Christianity to talk about, they must have misread the "P-C" they saw in their vision, and instead of meaning "Preach Christ," it evidently means "pick cotton," or "pour cement" or "pickle cucumbers" or some other such meaning; and it is high time they get away from the pulpit and get at one of these callings for which they are far better fitted.

We have a mighty fine group of ministers here at Friona, and I like each one of them, and I am glad they can find something better to say than ranting about their fellow ministers.

Then, my good friend Floyd Reeve told me about a little poem he heard read at Oklahoma City last week. I believe he stated that the title was "Good Bye, Jesus." Floyd couldn't recite the poem, but as I understood his interpretation of it, it meant that all Christians know that this world-wide war spirit is wrong and in direct opposition of the teaching of Jesus; but nevertheless we are going to get our share of it and fight it out to the bitter end" and to do that with a good Christian grace, we will accept the title of the poem as our motto.

Well, I am just like the rest of us, we just MUST beat "hell" out of the Japs and the Hitlerites first, and therefore, during the duration we will say: "Good Bye, Jesus."

But, Pshaw! This is not what I started out to say. I got a big long letter from Uncle Sam last Saturday, and he intimated that he will be pleased if I will use it in this or some other column for the benefit and enlightenment of our people.

It is too long a letter for me to get it all in one week's issue, so I will quote only a part this week and some more each week until I have used the entire article. But I will keep the original letter and if any of my readers want to get its entirety before I have had time to use it all, they may come to me and I will let them read it. If you do not locate me out on the street corner, almost any of my friends can tell you where to find me.

Fidelity Bldg., Dallas, Texas.
FOR RELEASE AT 8 P. M. CWT.
TUESDAY, APRIL 28 AND
THEREAFTER:

Washington, April 28—Rigid government controls for the War's duration over retail and wholesale prices and rents were announced today by Price Administrator, Leon Henderson following President Roosevelt's call for decisive action to halt the swiftly mounting cost of living.

In a single, sweeping order—the general maximum price regulation—the administrator set the highest prices charged in March, 1942, as an absolute ceiling over virtually everything that Americans eat, wear and use.

The only exemptions are food commodities on a limited list.

Companion orders paved the way for federal control of rents in 302 defense areas in 46 states and Puerto Rico, housing more than 76,000,000 persons, and set separate ceilings for broad range of commodities and products.

By its terms the general maximum price regulations require that:

1. Beginning May 18, retail prices with a few exceptions must not exceed the highest levels which each individual seller charged during March, 1942.
2. Beginning May 11, manufacturer and wholesale prices and the prices for wholesale and industrial services must not exceed the highest price levels for each seller.
3. Beginning July 1, no one may charge more for services sold at retail in connection with a commodity than he charged during March.
4. Effective immediately, all retailers, wholesalers, manufacturers and sellers of service must preserve existing records of sales made during March for maximum price purposes when the ceiling goes into effect.

Other highlights of the order are:

The requirement that every retail store must publicly display its ceiling prices for selected "cost of living" commodities on and after May 18.

This is all I will have time to give you this week, but there will be more next week. But I must take time and space to quote here another little poem about "Friendship" or "Friends."

Friends are like diamonds,
Precious and rare;
Always the same,
Be it cloudy or fair.

Friendship is golden,
Refreshingly like dew;
Whenever forgotten,
Tis sweet to renew.

M. J. M.

Farmer John SEES THINGS

Managed economy in agriculture has again been sanctioned by the farmers who voted in the recent wheat referendum. Although on a more doubtful vote than ever before, the ordered quota carried by a substantial margin.

On every hand as from the wilderness, an unorganized wall and cry from individual farmers were—"I don't believe in government control, regimentation nor anything that tends to communism." The equally distressing fear expressed among the agricultural populace, was "I am afraid not to vote for the control because, under government farm regulation there has accumulated a staggering supply of wheat. Even if there should develop an urgent demand for all this wheat, the AAA propaganda is all—depressing to a real competitive market price. Another staggering bugger displayed in the AAA information was that unless farmers took the cue and trotted down the line with the planners, the planners' congress would refuse to provide a marketing wheat loan. All-in-all it was a scary picture.

It reminds one of the story of the city lawyer, who went out to his country cousin's to pick wild blackberries. The lawyer was either a Jew or a Scotchman as the story goes. Anyway he was not an old-time farmer. He had been picking of the bounteous fruit in the briar thicket, but a short time when the country cousin heard him running with much ado, down the footpath. When he arrived in the farm back-yard, all out of breath, red faced and excited, he cried out among wild hand gesticulations and nervous prancing, telling his country cousin "There is a big blacksnake lying asleep in the path by the briar patch where I want to go. This snake is as long as a rail and, I believe, to my soul, he would like to swallow me up."

The country boy calmly told his city friend to "Go on back down the path and mash the snake's head with his heel, then fill his basket with the choicest berries." But the poor ignorant lawyer, still with his eyes bug-ging, his neck veins swelling and his muscles twitching in deep concentrated study, commented to his ordinarily trusted and common-sense, farm cousin—"If I go to jump on that snake's head, and jump on his tail, than I'd be gone. I would rather do without the berries than to disturb the thing."

Americans, including the hard-headed common-sense farmers, are bitterly opposed to and terribly afraid of "managed economy." To them, anything in the nature of socialism or communism is a fiendish and devouring "snake in the grass."

But the question is—How to get rid of the growing monster, while the New Deal is feeding it

Marines Practice Rubber Boat Landings

Training for eventual use of landing boats in actual warfare, Marines have made highly technical and specialized studies of the use of new collapsible rubber boats. The boats are carried aboard transports, and are inflated either by hand pumps or large machines. Depending upon the type of operation, boats proceed by paddle, are towed, or use outboard motors. Here Marines leave their camouflaged transport.

News of AAA Farm Program

By Kletz Garrison

I have just received the following telegram from Mr. B. F. Vance, Administrative Officer at College Station Texas:

YOU ARE AUTHORIZED TO ANNOUNCE REVISED 1942 ACP WHEAT RATE OF 9.9c PER BUSHEL AND 1942 WHEAT PARITY RATE OF 13.5c PER BUSHEL.

According to this telegram, we will have a wheat parity; however as yet I have not received any information with respect to a cotton parity. The ACP rate has been reduced from 10.5c per bushel to 9.9c per bushel, a reduction of 6c over the originally announced rate.

There still seems to be quite a bit of misunderstanding over the county concerning strip cropping. For the information of those who do not understand this practice I am again outlining briefly the ways by which a person may qualify for the strip cropping practice. To begin with, no producer can draw a strip cropping practice unless his rows are contoured. In order for an acreage to be classified as having earned the strip cropping practice, a producer must have strips of cotton, soy beans, corn or broadcast cane seeded with a grain drill alternating with strips of grain sorghums, wheat, barley, oats, rye, or other small grains. Strips of sudan or cane in rows alternating with strips of grain sorghums in rows will NOT qualify under the strip cropping practice. This strip cropping practice has nothing to do whatever with your "layout" land. It is simply another practice which a farmer may do in earning his soil-building allowance, the same as he does contouring, summer-fallowing, etc. At person may strip crop any amount of acreage he desires, his entire farm does not have to be strip cropped.

Since the state office has approved the practice of leaving a ten inch stubble of grain sorghums, or sudan, at the rate of 35c an acre, it will not be necessary for any farmer in Parmer county to strip crop in order to earn his full soil-building allowance; however, if he does not leave a ten inch stubble, there are numerous other practices which he may carry out in earning this allowance but strip cropping is probably the easiest of the practices for him to carry out. A farmer may earn 35c per acre by leaving a ten inch stubble regardless of whether his rows are contoured or not, also he will earn this 35c an acre in addition to his 45c an acre for having his rows contoured.

There is a rumor in the county that the regulations have been changed whereby cane and sudan grass grown on "layout" land may now be threshed. This is not the truth for the regulations have not been changed and I am of the opinion that they will not be changed. If and when they are changed this office will mail this information directly to every farmer in Parmer county, and it will not be spread by grapevine gossip.

Let's Cook Something

MERINGUE CAKE

4 egg whites
1 cup sugar
pinch of salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon vinegar

Beat egg whites stiff, add sugar gradually and add salt, vanilla and vinegar. Pour in two square cake tins that have been lined with oiled paper and bake in 300 degree oven until dry on top or light brown. Make a filling of 1-2 pint cream whipped stiff, juice of one small bottle of maraschino cherries and the maraschino cherries chopped fine, and stack between and on top of layers. Let stand over night in refrigerator. This is much easier to make than it sounds and it looks quite professional when served.

Lakeview Club Meets With Mrs. O'Brian

The Lakeview Home Demonstration Club met April 28 at the home of Mrs. Kenneth O'Brian for a demonstration on suitable work clothes for women.

Miss Cunningham was present and stressed the importance of selecting safe, sensible dresses, aprons, slacks and coats for work in office, home or field, showing several neat tailored garments anyone of us could wear comfortably and practically about our work and also advising against the unwise use of "dress-up" clothes for work.

She said, "Choose patterns and materials that are simple, practical, neat and easy to launder." She showed attractive dresses, aprons, sunbonnets and paper patterns and ended her demonstration with this urge to club women, "Keep high our morale—and be a good neighbor."

Walther League Has Two Meetings

The Walther League met April 28 at the home of Mrs. L. H. Hoffman. A short business meeting was held during which the following new officers were elected: President, Raymond Schuler; vice-president, Richard Drager; Secretary, Velma Schuler; treasurer, Melvin Sachs; member at large Frieda Gallmeier.

After the business meeting the topic, "Your Business," was led by Richard Drager.

Delicious refreshments were served to 12 members and two visitors by the hostess.

The League again met May 3, at the home of Miss Wana Vestal and Mrs. H. T. Reynolds.

A short business meeting was held during which it was decided to hold another "skating party" on May 12. The leaguers also resolved to pay a minimum fee of ten cents each month to buy defense stamps.

The Executive Board reported the selection of Gilbert Schuler as chairman of Christian Knowledge, and Carl Hoffman as chairman of Christian Service, at their last meeting Sunday afternoon.

After a Bible baseball game over Luke, Chapters 7 and 8, a few other games were played.

Delicious refreshments of punch, cookies and mints, were served to 11 members, seven visitors and the hostesses.

UNION CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The four representatives of the Friona congregation to the Oklahoma state conference of Congregational Christian Churches meeting at Oklahoma City last week were royally entertained and an interesting time enjoyed by all. Superintendent H. H. Lindeman has tentatively set May 24, Pentecost Sunday, as the time for the public recognition of the local pastor. Visiting preachers from Oklahoma and Texas will participate.

The attendance at both Sunday school and church services is continuing to hold up good, and thirty-five young people were present at the Pilgrim Youth fellowship and junior Christian Endeavor meetings last Sunday evening. The latter group had a party at the parsonage last Friday.

Mother's Day is observed in every state of the Union. It is a distinctive national event and wherever any considerable number of Americans are assembled Mother's Day is observed with some form of celebration. This year wherever our American boys are gathered beneath the folds of the Stars and Stripes, the day will take on a new meaning for it is "Victory Mothers" they will be thinking about.

Mother's Day in 1942 not only means loving remembrance of her who guided and guarded our infancy, but it means honoring the millions of mothers who are making a positive contribution to victory, as important as a fleet of battleships or a company of fighter-bombers.

Our grandmothers were satisfied to minister to their husbands and to bring up their children in the fear of God, but if the American mothers of today should take inventory of their interests and responsibilities, it would make a dramatic, connected, unending serial story almost unbelievable in its scope.

VICTORY MOTHERS—They achieved a victory each time a child was born. Sometimes they had to fight hard to pull through—because they were needed, but mothers aren't given credit for that, they have been doing that since the dawn of time.

The life story of many a man would not sound so thrilling nor be so successful were it not for the influence of his wife and mother. But mothers get no credit for any of these things. It is what they are put on earth to do.

Today it is time to think about all these things. It's time to think about our physical, moral and spiritual victories in life. Who held you to your job when you were discouraged and ready to quit? Who gave you the strength to fight on and make something of yourself? Who has pushed you forward when you were about to fall behind? It's time to think about those American boys in Australia, in the Philippines, in England, Ireland, Iceland and Alaska. Who taught them loyalty and love of their country, and gave them fortitude and courage; who filled their hearts with cheer and comfort when they were called to fight for the freedom that will make other mothers safe?

Just once each year we set aside a special day to pay tribute to our mothers. A year is almost too long a time to intervene between those special days, so let's get together a double portion of love and esteem and pass it on to those "Victory Mothers" who are busy right now in a multitude of volunteer jobs connected with the national defense program. These jobs demand patience, cheerfulness and resourcefulness rather than the high derring-do shown by their sons, but American women have always been equal to any task—large or small—and so they have formed a sort of flying squadron of assistants on the home front, going from post to post, desiring to do their duty and doing it. These same mothers will be in the vanguard of the armies of reconstruction. Thousands of American women are being trained now in first aid, disaster relief, ambulance and hospital service, scientific nutrition, home nursing, care of children, communications and transport work.

It's the mothers of the world that we honor today. Victory Mothers—in every home—and who can doubt that the world needs "mothering" as never before?

COGITATIONS and APHORISMS of Jodok

I wish to express my sincere thanks to my good friend, Ed McLellan, of Hot Spring, N. M., for the fine mess of fish which he sent to me about three weeks ago, by Floyd Reeve, who was then visiting in that city. That fish was unusually good, Ed, and I sure do thank you for it, although my thanks were rather tardy in getting to you. These little acts of remembrance and kindness on the part of my friends always do make me feel good, all over and all through.

I heard one of the finest sermons Sunday morning on the theme of the "Christian Family," that I have ever heard. There was nothing sensational or emotional about it; it was just pure, unadulterated, profound "common sense." Probably the chief reason that it appealed to me was that it was right along the line of my own personal thinking. It was not only one of the strongest arguments in favor of the Christian home, and Christianity as a whole, but it exalted and advised the spirit of patriotism as well.

It occurs to me that the sooner the ministry as a whole gets to devoting its time to exalting the common-sense side or view of the Christian religion, the sooner this and all other wars will become a thing of the past. Such preaching is so much better than hearing a minister of one denomination stand in the pulpit, criticize and ridicule the doctrine and teachings of any or all other beliefs.

We hear so much of that sort of ranting over the radio, usually filled with emotionalism and criticism and expressed with considerable stress of voice, and it occurs to me that if such speakers can find nothing better in Christianity to talk about, they must have misread the "P-C" they saw in their vision, and instead of meaning "Preach Christ," it evidently meant "pick cotton," or "pour cement" or "pickle cucumbers" or some other such meaning; and it is high time they get away from the pulpit and get at one of these callings for which they are far better fitted.

We have a mighty fine group of ministers here at Friona, and I like each one of them, and I am glad they can find something better to say than ranting about their fellow ministers.

Then, my good friend Floyd Reeve told me about a little poem he heard read at Oklahoma City last week. I believe he stated that the title was "Good Bye, Jesus." Floyd couldn't recite the poem, but as I understood his interpretation of it, it meant that all Christians know that this world-wide war spirit is wrong and in direct opposition of the teaching of Jesus; but nevertheless we are going to get our share of it and fight it out to the bitter end" and to do that with a good Christian grace, we will accept the title of the poem as our motto.

Well, I am just like the rest of us, we just MUST beat "hell" out of the Japs and the Hitlerites first, and therefore, during the duration we will say: "Good Bye, Jesus."

But, Pshaw! This is not what I started out to say. I got a big long letter from Uncle Sam last Saturday, and he intimated that he will be pleased if I will use it in this or some other column for the benefit and enlightenment of our people.

It is too long a letter for me to get it all in one week's issue, so I will quote only a part this week and some more each week until I have used the entire article. But I will keep the original letter and if any of my readers want to get its entirety before I have had time to use it all, they may come to me and I will let them read it. If you do not locate me out on the street corner, almost any of my friends can tell you where to find me.

Fidelity Bldg., Dallas, Texas.
FOR RELEASE AT 8 P. M. CWT.
TUESDAY, APRIL 28 AND
THEREAFTER:

Washington, April 28—Rigid government controls for the War's duration over retail and wholesale prices and rents were announced today by Price Administrator, Leon Henderson following President Roosevelt's call for decisive action to halt the swiftly mounting cost of living.

In a single, sweeping order—the general maximum price regulation—the administrator set the highest prices charged in March, 1942, as an absolute ceiling over virtually everything that Americans eat, wear and use. The only exemptions are food commodities on a limited list.

Companion orders paved the way for federal control of rents in 302 defense areas in 46 states and Puerto Rico, housing more than 76,000,000 persons, and set separate ceilings for broad range of commodities and products.

By its terms the general maximum price regulations require that:

1. Beginning May 18, retail prices with a few exceptions must not exceed the highest levels which each individual seller charged during March, 1942.
2. Beginning May 11, manufacturer and wholesale prices and the prices for wholesale and industrial services must not exceed the highest price levels for each seller.
3. Beginning July 1, no one may charge more for services sold at retail in connection with a commodity than he charged during March.
4. Effective immediately, all retailers, wholesalers, manufacturers and sellers of service must preserve existing records of sales made during March for maximum price purposes when the ceiling goes into effect.

Other highlights of the order are:

The requirement that every retail store must publicly display the ceiling prices for selected "cost of living" commodities on and after May 18.

This is all I will have time to give you this week, but there will be more next week. But I must take time and space to quote here another little poem about "Friendship" or "Friends."

Friends are like diamonds,
Precious and rare,
Always the same,
Be it cloudy or fair.

Friendship is golden,
Refreshment-like dew,
Whenever forgotten,
'Tis sweet to renew.

Farmer John SEES THINGS

Managed economy in agriculture has again been sanctioned by the farmers who voted in the recent wheat referendum. Although on a more doubtful vote than ever before, the ordered quota carried by a substantial margin.

On every hand as from the wilderness, an unorganized wall and cry from individual farmers were—"I don't believe in government control, regimentation nor anything that tends to communism." The equally distressing fear expressed among the agricultural populace, was "I am afraid not to vote for the control because, under government farm regulation there has accumulated a staggering supply of wheat. Even if there should develop an urgent demand for all this wheat, the AAA propaganda is all—depressing to a real competitive market price. Another staggering bugger displayed in the AAA information was that unless farmers took the cue and trotted down the line with the planners, the planners' congress would refuse to provide a marketing wheat loan. All-in-all it was a scary picture.

It remains one of the story of the city lawyer, who went out to his country cousin's to pick wild blackberries. The lawyer was either a Jew or a Scotchman as the story goes. Anyway he was not an old-time farmer. He had been picking of the bounteous fruit in the briar thicket, but a short time when the country cousin heard him running with much ado, down the footpath. When he arrived in the farm back-yard, all out of breath, red faced and excited, he cried out among wild hand gesticulations and nervous prancing, telling his country cousin "There is a big blacksnake lying asleep in the path by the briar patch where I want to go. This snake is as long as a rail and, I believe, to my soul, he would like to swallow me up."

The country boy calmly told his city friend to "Go on back down the path and mash the snake's head with his heel, then fill his basket with the choicest berries." But the poor ignorant lawyer, still with his eyes bug-ging, his neck veins swelling and his muscles twitching in deep concentrated study, commented to his ordinarily trusted, and common-sense, farm cousin—"If I go to jump on that snake's head, and jump on his tail, than I'd be gone. I would rather do without the berries than to disturb the thing."

Americans, including the hard-headed common-sense farmers, are bitterly opposed to and terribly afraid of "managed economy". To them, anything in the nature of socialism or communism is a fiendish and devouring "snake in the grass".

County Favors Quota

On Tuesday it was estimated that approximately 75 per cent of the farmers in 40 wheat producing states had voted in favor of the program to continue government control of wheat marketing. The law requires a two-thirds margin for the continuance of the program, the Department of Agriculture estimates that the vote will carry by more than 75 per cent when all votes are counted. An early count was made on all votes in states where opposition to the government farm program had been local.

Advocates of the program point out that a two year stock of wheat is now on hand, that the export market has virtually vanished and that transportation and storage difficulties make large production of wheat unnecessary and even dangerous to the war effort.

It is hoped also that a reduced acreage will result in greater production of meat, dairy, poultry products and vegetables needed for the war.

By Kletz Garrison

I have just received the following telegram from Mr. B. F. Vance, Administrative Officer at College Station Texas:

YOU ARE AUTHORIZED TO ANNOUNCE REVISED 1942 ACP WHEAT RATE OF 9.9c PER BUSHEL AND 1942 WHEAT PARITY RATE OF 13.5c PER BUSHEL.

According to this telegram, we will have a wheat parity, however as yet I have not received any information with respect to a cotton parity. The ACP rate has been reduced from 10.5c per bushel to 9.9c per bushel, a reduction of .6c over the originally announced rate.

There still seems to be quite a bit of misunderstanding over the county concerning strip cropping. For the information of those who do not understand this practice I am again outlining briefly the ways by which a person may qualify for the strip cropping practice. To begin with, no producer can draw a strip cropping practice unless his rows are contoured. In order for an acreage to be classified as having earned the strip cropping practice, a producer must have strips of cotton, soy beans, corn or broadcast cast seeded with a grain drill alternating with strips of grain sorghums, wheat, barley, oats, rye, or other small grains. Strips of sudan or cane in rows alternating with strips of grain sorghums in rows will NOT qualify under the strip cropping practice. This strip cropping practice has nothing to do whatever with your "layout" land. It is simply another practice which a farmer may do in earning his soil-building allowance, the same as he does contouring, summer-fallowing, etc. At person may strip crop any amount of acre acreage he desires, his entire farm does not have to be strip cropped.

Since the state office has approved the practice of leaving a ten inch stubble of grain sorghums, or sudan, at the rate of 35c an acre, it will not be necessary for any farmer in Parmer county to strip crop in order to earn his full soil-building allowance; however, if he does not leave a ten inch stubble, there are numerous other practices which he may carry out in earning this allowance but strip cropping is probably the easiest of the practices for him to carry out. A farmer may earn 35c per acre by leaving a ten inch stubble regardless of whether his rows are contoured or not, also he will earn this 35c an acre in addition to his 45c an acre for having his rows contoured.

There is a rumor in the county that the regulations have been changed whereby cane and sudan grass grown on "layout" land may now be threshed. This is not the truth for the regulations have not been changed and I am of the opinion that they will not be changed. If and when they are changed this office will mail this information directly to every farmer in Parmer county, and it will not be spread by grapevine gossip.

Let's Cook Something

MERINGUE CAKE

- 1 cup sugar
- pinch of salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 teaspoon vinegar

Beat egg whites stiff, add sugar gradually and add salt, vanilla and vinegar. Pour in two square cake tins that have been lined with oiled paper and bake in 300 degree oven until dry on top or light brown. Make a filling of 1-2 pint cream whipped stiff, juice of one small bottle of maraschino cherries and the maraschino cherries chopped fine, and stack between and on top of layers. Let stand over night in refrigerator. This is much easier to make than it sounds and it looks quite professional when served.

Walther League Has Two Meetings

The Walther League met April 28 at the home of Mrs. L. H. Hoffman. A short business meeting was held during which the following new officers were elected: President, Raymond Schuler; vice-president, Richard Drager; Secretary, Velma Schuler; treasurer, Melvin Sachs; member at large Frieda Gallmeier.

After the business meeting the topic, "Your Business," was led by Richard Drager.

Delicious refreshments were served to 12 members and two visitors by the hostess.

The League again met May 3, at the home of Miss Wana Vestal and Mrs. H. T. Reynolds.

A short business meeting was held during which it was decided to hold another "skating party" on May 12. The leaguers also resolved to pay a minimum fee of ten cents each month to buy defense stamps.

The Executive Board reported the selection of Gilbert Schuler as chairman of Christian Knowledge, and Carl Hoffman as chairman of Christian Service, at their last meeting Sunday afternoon.

After a Bible baseball game over Luke, Chapters 7 and 8, a few other games were played.

Delicious refreshments of punch, cookies and mints, were served to 11 members, seven visitors and the hostesses.

UNION CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The four representatives of the Friona congregation to the Oklahoma state conference of Congregational Christian Churches meeting at Oklahoma City last week were royally entertained and an interesting time enjoyed by all. Superintendent H. H. Lindeman has tentatively set May 24, Pentecost Sunday, as the time for the public recognition of the local pastor. Visiting preachers from Oklahoma and Texas will participate.

The attendance at both Sunday school and church services is continuing to hold up good, and thirty-five young people were present at the Pilgrim Youth fellowship and Junior Christian Endeavor meetings last Sunday evening. The latter group had a party at the parsonage last Friday.

The pastor and family are grateful for the "surprise party" given them Monday night, and while the material gifts were deeply appreciated and useful, the spirit that prompted it and the large number in attendance was the finest feature of it.

Go to church and fittingly observe Mother's Day next Sunday.

of this nature through our organization many of these are available almost over night. The State Department of Health is anxious about this. It means a whole lot to have an epidemic of small pox or diphtheria or other diseases that have been known many times to cause paralysis, heart trouble, rheumatism, blindness and dozens of other disabilities.

Buddies and parents, we do not have to wait until April each year to begin a child welfare program which will be allowed to die down in a few weeks to wait until next year. We need an all-year job. Simply talking won't get this done. It takes work and more of it. These are our problems, and you, individually are being charged with the health of your children, and the responsibility rests on us to see that it is done. No one can do this alone.

Our next regular meeting will be on May 12. You should attend as often as possible and assist all organizations in community work. Contact the Service Committee as often as you wish. They will serve with pleasure in all your problems.

Hoping to see you at our next meeting.

By MRS. MERLIN KAUL

The wind which struck here Thursday carried little dust in comparison to like winds in past years. Old timers here say it was the worst wind in 50 years. Several fences were blown down, windmills were damaged at the schoolhouse, the W. S. Rice home, and the mill at the Steve Williams place was blown down and both mill and tower ruined. The top of a porch was blown off at the Buren Sowell home. A shed at Merlin Kaul's was blown down. Mrs. A. C. Pierce reports that they noticed the top of their chicken house lifting with the gusts but saw it in time to prevent its blowing off. Those with flower gardens are bawling the fact that blooms and buds were bruised and blown off and the leaves look like they had been burned in places.

The Volunteer Band from Wayland College at Plainview spent the week end here. The band conducted services Saturday night, Sunday morning and Sunday afternoon. Each service was composed of three sermons, and Miss Pauline Caviness and Mrs. Hardy Stephens sang solos. Merle Grigsby drove the bus. He has been here a number of times and everyone enjoyed his message on Sunday morning. He was a guest Saturday night of his cousin, Jack Earp, and his aunt, Mrs. S. J. Earp. Misses Mildred Crabtree and Frances Patterson were guests in the T. B. Cox home. Miss Pauline Caviness was a guest of Vesta Mae

NEWS IN THE WORLD OF RELIGION BY W. W. REID

"Our nation not only needs armed forces and defense workers, but it must also have trained Christian leaders capable of restoring order in a wrecked world," says Dr. John O. Gross of the Board of Education of the Methodist Church, in a plea that youth be made to understand that preparing themselves for leadership in the future nation is a patriotic duty. "It would be unfortunate for the nation and church if youth with high aptitudes for scholarship and spiritual leadership cannot complete plans to attend college. It is these years of college that lay the foundation for the later achievements in the arts, the humanities, and the sciences."

At Princeton Seminary, at Western Seminary in Pittsburgh, at the Presbyterian Seminary in Chicago, and within the synods of Ohio, Illinois and Michigan, the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. is holding a series of studies on the Christian bases for a peace that will be effective and for post war reconstruction. The studies will be conducted under the auspices of the denomination's Department of Social Education and Action of which the Rev. Cameron P. Hall is chairman. It is planned later to take such studies to the campuses of Presbyterian colleges and universities throughout the country.

Since the outbreak of the present world war, more than 600 camps of prisoners of war, civilian internees, and other victims of war, in 28 countries and on five continents, have been served through the War Prisoners' Aid of the Y. M. C. A. which has its headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland.

The Roman Catholic Church has in India, Seylon and Burma, three archdioceses and thirteen dioceses entrusted to the care of Indian bishops, and more than 3,000 Indian priests are serving the churches and people. Most of the Indian bishops and priests have been trained at the Catholic general seminary at Kandy on the island of Ceylon.

According to the Rev. William Paton, of London, Eng., secretary of the World Council of Churches and of the British Council of Churches, now on a visit to the United States, a group of "Christian fellowships" have been formed in London between British church leaders and refugees from European countries now residing in England. These include the British-Russian Christian Fellowship, Anglo-Scandinavian Anglo-Norwegian, Anglo-French, Anglo-Netherlands, and Anglo-German Christian Fellowships and there is a joint fellowship including representatives of all these groups. Dr. Paton says these fellowships are contributing much to international Christian understanding and will have considerable influence on post-war peace and post-war church activities.

"Should Congressional action be taken making compulsory the registration of women for service either with the armed forces or with war industries, let me urge the necessity for providing civilian service for those women whose consciences do not permit their participation in war," Miss Georgia Harkness, professor of applied theology at Garrett Biblical Institute, Evanston, Ill.,—and said to be the only woman teaching theology in a graduate seminary in the United States—has written to President Roosevelt. "The primary reason why church women are impelled to make this request," says Dr. Harkness, "is the supremacy of the Christian conscience. Loyalty to God must be placed before all earthly claims, and without a recognition of this fact there can be no true freedom of worship."

The Church Committee for China Relief, which is sponsored by most of the major Protestant denominations in the United States, is using some of its funds for two important relief projects connected with hospitals in China. Its "Quinine Fund" is purchasing elsewhere in the Orient large quantities of quinine that is distributed to mission hospitals to fight malaria that has arisen in epidemic proportions in many parts of China due to the war; and through the International Red Cross for Central China it is distributing drugs and medical supplies to some 96 civilian hospitals in Free (West) China, as well as to dispensaries, refugee camps, and orphanages.

in syrup buckets. The friction lids may be completely sealed with paraffin or sealing wax. No larger than gallon buckets are recommended, and No. 3 cans or quart jars are even better. Lard packed in jars should be kept in a dark place.

Since lard containers do not have to be processed in pressure cookers, it is possible to re-flange tin containers for this purpose. In fact, it is safer to put lard in used tin than it is to put fruits, meats, vegetables or other products which must be processed for safe storage.

Oil or beer cans may be used as lard containers if they are of a size which can be sealed with home owned equipment. Their salvage can be of value to the family, since oil or beer cans cannot be used for preserving foods which must be processed.
