Of Those Registering 2017 Have Dependent Relatives and Total of 2,045 Claim Exemptions.

More men registered Tuesday for selective draft in Wichita Falls than ever voted in any election in the county. The total of the registrations according to official compilations made today was 3,383. The largest vote ever cast in the county was a little more than 3,200 in the local option election in 1915. The vote in the primaries and in general elections has never reached above 3,000.

Of the total 1804 were registered in the city precincts.

The registrations by precincts were as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Precinct Name and Number of Registrations. Includes Court House No. 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, Altondale, Ashburn, Borkburnett, Iowa Park, Denny, Electra, Weaver Creek, Clara.

After the close registration last night the registrars in each precinct were required to fill out summary blanks classifying the registrants by numbers according to color, ages whether legislative, judicial or executive officers, number of persons to which disabled, number having dependent relatives indicated, number of occupational exemptions indicated, alien enemies cards indicating exemptions, etc.

This morning the county board including County Judge Harvey Harris, County Clerk M. P. Kelly, County Sheriff G. A. Hawkins, Assistant County Clerk John Davenport, together with the chiefs of registration for each precinct returned a copy of the summary to be telegraphed to the adjutant general. They also began to separate the registration cards alphabetically. After this is done the names on the cards will be copied to additional cards and other data on them onto blank forms. These will be retained by the county board and the original cards will then be forwarded to the adjutant general. The newspapers of the county will be asked to publish the names without charge.

A summary of the registration for the entire county shows the following: Officers registering 6, Total disabled 6, Having dependents 2017, No exemptions 1130, Negroes 168, Alien enemies 47, Total claiming exemption 2045.

14,812 REGISTRATIONS IN CITY OF DALLAS

Dallas, Texas, June 6.—Registrations in the city of Dallas yesterday in compliance with the selective draft act reached a total of 14,812. Returns from all city registration places last night showed a record in the city of an unusually high, the actual estimated figures reaching the total of 8,512 for the city. Figures on registration in the county were available only in a few instances and reports do not have to be made until today, but it is expected that the total for the city and county will be more than 18,000. Exemption claims in the county are expected to run slightly higher than in the city.

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR CROPS TO FOLLOW WHEAT

College Station, June 6.—A committee composed of representatives of the Extension Service and the United States Department of Agriculture, after careful study and through deliberations have made the following recommendations on crops to follow grain stubble.

The crops suggested to follow small grain in the Panhandle and West Texas, include all that part of the state west of a line drawn north and south of Wichita county, are Sudan grass, red top sorghum for hay and feterita for grain.

For all territory east of the above line, June corn, sorghum, Sudan grass, blackeye and cow peas are recommended.

Moisture is the limiting factor in producing a crop anywhere, therefore, it is necessary to follow immediately behind the blinder in between the rows of shocks of grain, with a disc harrow, preferably double discing, and then plant the seed using a lister. If the stubble cannot be blinder before, the seed should be put in the ground at once behind the blinder. Either of these two ways of planting will add considerably in conserving the moisture.

It is the opinion of most of the successful farmers in the grain belt of Texas that the best yield of following crops on stubble, are made in rows not less than our feet wide. Where peas are to be planted in alternate rows, the rows should be seven feet apart. The width of rows and in better cultivation for the conservation of moisture.

The committee making the above recommendation was composed of Mr. Wm. Hamner, District Agent, Mr. G. M. Garren, Agronomist, and E. Gentry, District Agent, Extension Service and U. S. Department of Agriculture, and A. and M. College of Texas.

One More Chance Given Those Who Failed Duty

The provost marshal general also notified all governors that he had interpreted the law to permit any, who in good faith failed to register yesterday to do so today, and announced that a liberal policy would be pursued to make the registration complete.

RETURNS VERY SLOW

At Noon Only One County, Kieberg, Had Reported Its Complete Registration.

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, June 6.—Reports of registration held yesterday are rather slow in reaching the adjutant general's department. Up to noon today the department had only received the returns from one county and three cities. These were Houston, 18,514; Fort Worth, 12,577; Galveston, 7,553. The only county so far received is Kieberg, which shows a total registration of 1,915. General Hutchings said that the registrations have been far heavier than anticipated. While it is impossible to state the total over the state he believes it will reach nearly 500,000.

A. board, has been appointed secretary of the Southwestern District, consisting of Texas, Oklahoma, and Kansas. He has opened campaign headquarters in Dallas, and the campaign for the district will be conducted from here.

WAR SUMMARY

The Associated Press war summary says: British activities near Lens indicate General Haig has determined to attack the city and mining district around it so uncomfortable for the Germans that they will be forced to retire.

While the artillery was roaring away in Belgium giving promise of a British offensive movement there a sudden attack was made last night from the vicinity of Lens toward the Stappe. The thrust was full in helping make Lens untenable. The British not only progressed on the western slopes of Greenland Hill but pushed nearer Lens. On the French front General Peleain's forces have had to withstand two more heavy German attacks in the region northwest of Braye in the Aisne district. The Germans not only failed to gain their objective but lost heavily. The French line remained intact.

REVOLUTION IN RUSSIA WRECKS ALLIED WAR PLANS

London, June 6.—The military correspondent of the Times discussing the Russian situation says in effect that the Russian revolution has wrecked the plans of the entente allied campaign for 1917.

The correspondent tries to take a hopeful view that Russia may yet strike a decisive blow but he shows no great confidence. The writer says that the situation of the Russian armies before the outbreak of the revolution was exceptionally favorable. The gains of 1916 had been made good, a great number of new divisions created and guns and munitions were steadily increasing in quantity. This matter was not purely the result of increased output of Russian factories, but was also due to the fact that the allies had sent hundreds of guns and millions of rounds of ammunition in the firm belief that Russians were prepared to make good against the common enemy.

The correspondent continues: "Russia at least passably equipped and although internal difficulties of transport and supplies were far from overcome, the Russian military chiefs assured us that they could count this year on the strategic support of Russian armies both in Europe and Asia Minor."

MISSING MAN MAY CLEAR UP MYSTERY

Police Searching Over Three States For Man Last Seen With Murdered Girl.

Fort Worth, Texas, June 6.—Until a missing witness known as the slain girl's closest friend and known as the last to be seen with her Saturday night is located the police say they will be unable to solve the death mystery of Miss Zella Paul, 20-year-old girl who was found murdered Sunday morning.

Search for this witness is now being conducted in three states. He is supposed to be able to throw light on the girl's movements after 11 o'clock Saturday night, which are now clouded. Police found a witness today who said a man with an axe called the Paul girl away from him Saturday night. The witness stated he himself lost no time in disappearing from the scene when the man with the axe arrived and summoned Zella. Police are now looking for the man with the axe.

In the accompanying illustration are shown Red Cross doctors and nurses aboard the steam yacht Surf, to be used as an ambulance ship in the war. A distinguished gathering, including Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, whose husband once had the ship under charter, attended the ceremony, which began with the raising of the United States and Red Cross flags above the ship, moored at the foot of West Seventy-ninth street, to the accompaniment of "The Star Spangled Banner." There followed in rapid succession "God Save the King" and "The Marsellaise." Dr. E. M. Stiles, rector of St. Thomas church, delivered the prayer. Dr. Harris had received a certificate signed by President Wilson and by ex-President Taft, head of the Red Cross, attesting to the gift.

ACTUAL DRAFTING TALK IS HEARD OF TO BE NEXT STEP

PROVOST MARSHAL WILL UNDERTAKE TASK OF SELECTING MEN TO BEAR ARMS.

OPPOSITION SLIGHT CONFERENCE IS HELD

Only Four Arrests Throughout Country Reported—And Disturbances Fewer Than in Elections.

By Associated Press. Washington, June 6.—America's millions of the military age prescribed by Congress are registered for the war against Germany. Today reports from the polling places to which some ten millions of young men marched yesterday to record their names are being assembled today for sending to the war department.

The next step in the government's plan will be the selection of those who actually are to bear arms. This task will be undertaken as soon as complete returns from the registration have been tabulated and surveyed by the provost marshal.

Registration day passed with little display of opposition. Only four arrests were reported officially and it was pointed out today that even the sum of unofficial reports of trouble indicates that the day was more peaceful than most general elections.

NEW JERSEY FIRST TO ANOUNCE COMPLETE RETURNS

Washington, June 6.—Complete returns from New Jersey, the first to come in, show registration of 302,886. The estimate by the census bureau was 309,536. At noon no governor in any other state had made a complete report.

DEFINITE FIGURES UNAVAILABLE IN NEW YORK CITY

New York, June 6.—Registration officials saw little prospect today that anything like definite figures regarding yesterday's registration here could be prepared before late tonight or tomorrow. With eleven assembly districts, together with four election precincts in other assembly districts missing the count was 46,138 with the total indicated unofficially at 529,600.

Unless some means now unknown can be found to prevent it the doors of the University will be closed for the next two years.

UTE INDIANS REFUSED TO REGISTER YESTERDAY

Jeneca, Colo., June 6.—The Indians on their reservation near here refused to register under the selective draft act and spent most of the day dancing war and "beer" dances in native costume. A number of the younger men are said to be out in the hills near here and have obtained a quantity of liquor. It is reported here that the Indians have threatened to burn this settlement. Threats also have been made against the Indian agent at the reservation, it was said.

She then disappeared.

ALBANIA DECLARES ITS INDEPENDENCE

Washington, June 6.—Albania, following the majority of its chiefs, has declared its independence and has requested the protection of the Italian government until such time as the independence of the country can be effectively maintained. It is learned through official dispatches from Rome. An announcement to this effect probably will be made shortly by the American state department. Italy, after considering the Albanian proposal, it is reported, declared itself in agreement with the plan, which will hold formal acceptance because the minority of Albanian chiefs in the mountain regions of the northeast did not join in the declaration. In the Northeastern Albania adjoins Serbia, it is believed the minority was held by German influences to withhold its consent to the plans of the majority.

GERMAN AIRPLANES FAIL TO RETURN AFTER THEIR RAID

London, June 6.—Four of the German airplanes returning from yesterday's raid over England were destroyed by British pilots, it is officially announced. The total casualties in yesterday's raid were: Killed, twelve; injured, thirty-six. One British pilot was pursued by the Germans toward Dunkirk, brought down two of the raiders. Later ten British machines from Dunkirk engaged the returning Germans, destroying two of their machines and forcing down four.

Sixteen German airplanes took part in the raid over Essex, Kent, dropping bombs which killed two persons and injured 29. Two German airplanes were brought down by British anti-aircraft guns while the raid was in progress.

COLORADO LABOR LEADER IS GIVEN HIS FREEDOM

Denver, June 6.—John R. Lawson, formerly a labor leader, convicted on May 3, 1915, of murder in the first degree in connection with the death of John Nimmo, a deputy sheriff, in the Colorado strike disorders, is a free man, as a result of supreme court action in sustaining a confession of error filed by the attorney general's office. The court held that Lawson's petition for a change of judge in his trial, which began April 21, 1915, should have been granted, and that this was sufficient to set aside the result of the trial, without considering another error mentioned in the confession. It will not remand the case for retrial, and Lawson's prosecution is at an end. Lawson was indicted with a number of other for participation in the so-called "Battle of Ludlow," in which Nimmo was wounded, dying later. He asked a change of judge and Judge Granby Hillier succeeded Judge A. S. McIndree. Subsequently the indictment was dismissed, but the attorney general filed information against Lawson on the same charge. On this Lawson was brought to trial before Judge Hillier, who ruled that, having had one change of judge, he was not entitled to another, and then found him guilty and set his sentence at life imprisonment. Lawson appealed and was released on bond. Two months ago the attorney general's office filed confession of error.

DUTY OF CITIZENS TO YOUNG MEN OF COUNTRY

AT BIG MASS MEETING REGISTRATION NIGHT CITIZENS DISCUSS DUTY TO YOUNG MEN WHO HAD ENROLLED.

GLOWING TRIBUTES

Paid to Those Who Will Fight For Country and Humanity—Needs of Action for Red Cross and Liberty Loan Emphasized.

Glowing tributes were paid to the young men of the country who had just enrolled their names for the selective draft for the mighty army which the United States is to send against Germany, and the duty of the citizenship of the country to them was expressed at a big patriotic mass meeting at the Wichita Theater Tuesday night.

The meeting was a fitting culmination of a memorable day in the devotion of the men of the country to their duty was given its finest exhibition in history and those who attended went away exalted and inspired with a new sense of duty and patriotism.

The crowd was not large when the meeting opened, but as it progressed the theater was filled until at the close there was scarcely an empty seat in the house.

Addresses were made by Hon. John C. Kay, who presided; Miss Willie Mae Kell, Mayor A. H. Britain, B. F. Johnson, A. Zundelowitz and R. E. Huff.

About 8:30 the meeting opened with a selection by Taylor's Band. The audience then made a pathetically weak attempt to sing "America," but failed miserably. Judge Kay, presiding, kept the audience in high good humor by his grave drollery and pointed witticisms. He had to make his speech piece-meal, he said, or between meals.

He spoke of the ordinary conception that ordinary people had of the government as being something detached and apart from them—something to run things which they themselves knew nothing of; and of how, in times of stress and trouble, they looked to the government to solve immediately all the difficulties. Later on the Judge spoke of the recent trouble with the Farmers and Laborers' Protective Association, saying that he was in no way worried by it, and that he altogether refused to take it seriously. "I have joined too many lodges," he said, "and take too many paralyzing oaths. At first these oaths seem most desperately impressive, but after you have taken a number of them, you begin to realize that no man on earth could possibly live up to them, and then you cease to be impressed by any of them."

Mayor Britain commenced his speech by saying that all that could be said about the war had already been said many times, and that the time had come when words no longer availed. The lessons to be drawn from history, he said, were only worth while if from them could find something to apply to the present. These lessons would serve to steel the hearts of our boys, who had registered, and who did not think of any personal consequences to themselves, but only how they might best serve. Those of them who were chosen would gladly so, the mayor continued, glad of the opportunity to fight beside the boys of the other allies who had fought so long, not for themselves or their own selfish ends, otherwise they would have turned aside, but for humanity, and for freedom. "I glory in the boys who have given in their names today," he said, "and I know that you all feel as I do on the head. But glory will be vain unless we set our selves seriously to the task of providing for those who are left when the boys are called. The government may do something along these lines, and probably will; but we must."

"We have gone far along the road of freedom, and it has borne fruit—in some cases the fruit of treason, anarchy and rebellion. One blessing that will come to us out of this war is that it will make every man know where the government stands, and the government where he stands. We cannot read of all that has been lately going on without realizing that all are not Americans at heart, even though they may be legally citizens."

The mayor's speech was followed by a solo by Mrs. Wade Walker, "Teating on the Old Camp Ground," the chorus being sung by Mrs. N. M. Clifford, Mrs. Walker, and Messrs. Blocker and Bradley. These artists sang with much feeling and expression, and were warmly applauded.

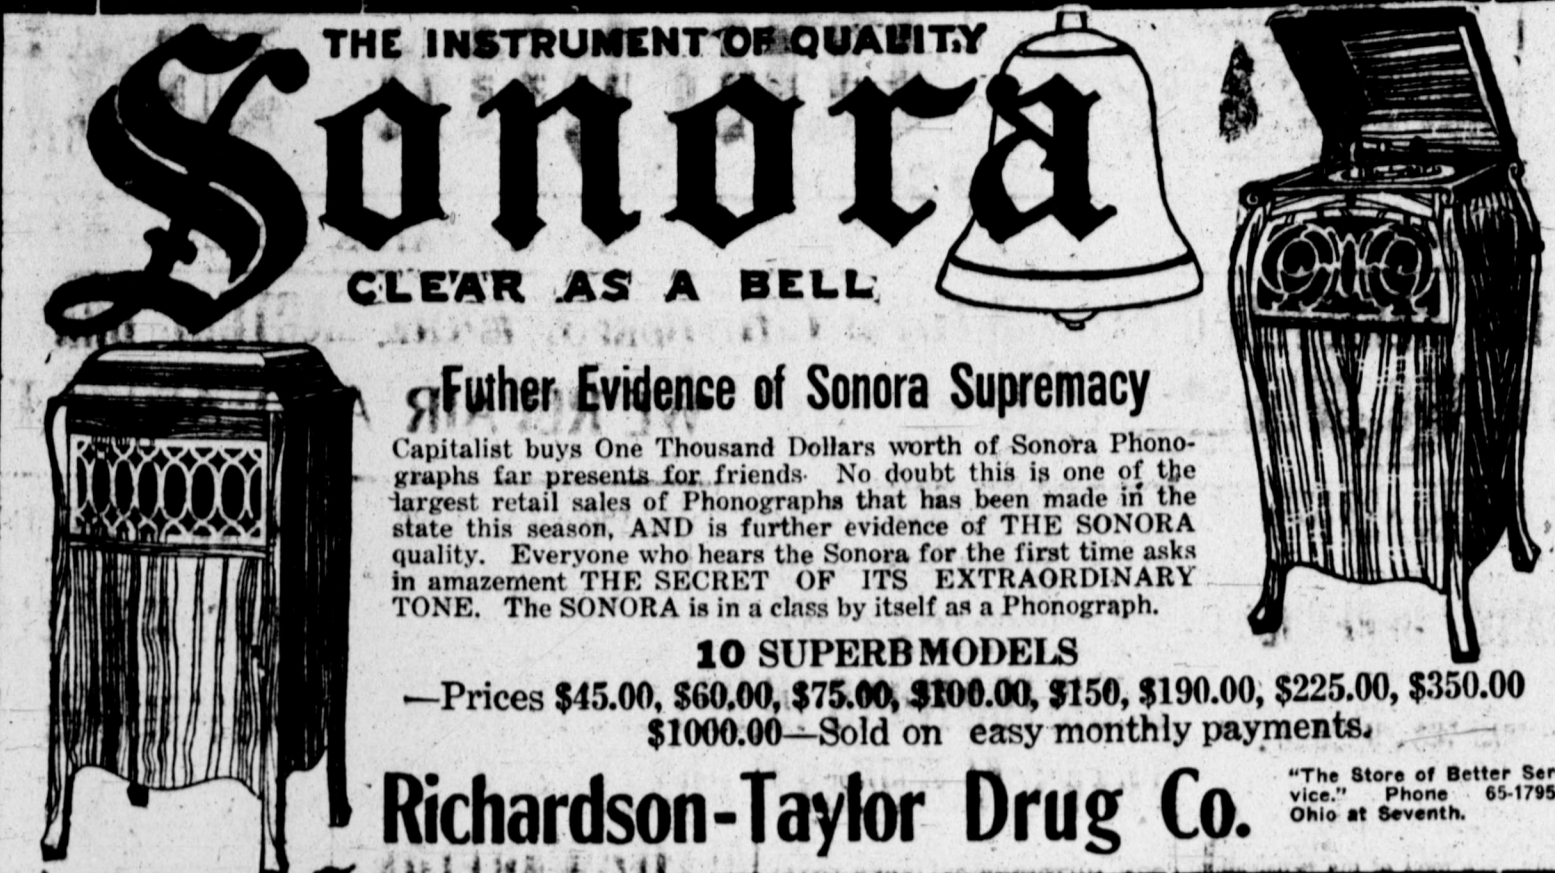

A Call to Duty. Miss Willie Mae Kell, then called upon to speak in the place of her father, who was unavoidably absent. Having no speech prepared, Miss Kell at first refused, but presently consented. It was her maiden effort, and was remarkable for containing no sentence that even the most egotistical could have construed as "stuffy." Miss Kell confined her talk to solid fact throughout. She spoke with great earnestness of the crying needs of the Red Cross, and of the distressing lack of interest that the ladies of the town had so far displayed. She said that they were not awake either to the needs, or to the appalling unpreparedness to meet those needs. In the East, she said, one hears of nothing else. Everyone knows of the Red Cross needs, and everyone is working. Miss Kell told of a letter received from a friend of hers living in a small town of twenty-five hundred, in which she was describing the work there. There were twelve sewing tables, all fully equipped and all the ladies were taking very active parts. She spoke of the blanks sent out by the Red Cross, and by the universities, for the purpose of registering all women who could and would work finding out what they were best fitted for, and allotting them the tasks they could best accomplish. In this war, she said, the only care our boys can have is what the Red Cross can give them. Supplies went through the Red Cross, she said, and the supplies in France and Russia were almost depleted. "It would be a very appalling thing," she said, "if we sit here comfortably at home and let our boys die for something we could give them. And we shall certainly do our share in killing them unless we do our share in this work now. Whatever is done must be done now. There is no time to lose. In all this work that has been going forward the men have done their part instantly, and without question. The women have stayed at home, or gone to parties, and have refused to be interested. A few cannot do this work. We must have all, and we must have them now."

Miss Kell's speech was given the Judge Huff closed the program, speaking chiefly on the Liberty Loan Bonds, and urging their purchase as one of the most patriotic things any of us could do, and almost the only thing some of us could do. BELITTLE OUR HELP TO ENTENTE ALLIES

The Hague, June 6.—The Frankfurter Zeitung, commenting on America's preparations, asks why she has found it necessary to advertise to the world at large the measure in which she has so far contributed to the work of the war, and suggests that the Entente Powers demanded this to cheer their peoples up. "America has already shown that she can help," says the Frankfurter editor, "but her most important move has been compulsory service." He then enlarges on the idea that the army is not intended for the present war and that President Wilson will not want to send an army across the Atlantic when the time comes for such action, and that at most there will be only a few regiments of engineers and a division of marines. "When these have avoided our submarines," he says, "there will be 200,000 Americans on French soil. It would be interesting to know how many are already in the ranks of our enemies." This paper makes the usual statements about what it terms America's loud-mouthed boasting, and says that before 3,500 American airplanes and 6,000 airmen cross the Atlantic months will have passed, and in the meantime the German air corps will have had time to prepare for them. Speaking of the submarine campaign the Zeitung says: "From the daily reports of our submarines we have not yet noticed the effect of the American Navy." It admits that America can increase the Allies' food supplies—so far as the German submarines don't interfere—and give them financial support, but questions how long Washington can continue to procure money cheaply. "Of the bombastically announced $2,000,000,000 only about half has been realized. Money will never be wanting in the United States, but will Americans be willing to part with it?" The editor agrees, however, that it is to Germany's interest that the Allies become more and more dependent on America, but says that the latter may some day regret having prolonged the war for the sake of greedy, material money-making. Dr. Albrecht, a Hamburg engineer, writing in the Tageblatt, says that it is difficult to believe that America can carry out her shipbuilding program of 2,400,000 tons yearly, when England, the shipbuilder of tradition, has achieved this figure only in peace time by the exertion of all her forces. Speaking of the thousand ships which it has been announced that America would build, mere mention of which invariably excites ridicule in the German press, Dr. Albrecht says: "Americans have always had great plans, as their naval program shows, but we must await the realization. America cannot save her friend, and before the 10,000 ships are ready England will have collapsed. The results of our submarine operations show this. It is hardly to be expected that England has any doubts on this question; but what do these plans mean? Perhaps America's last and desperate attempt to save her friend, but it is more likely that she is seizing the opportunity to build a big merchant fleet for use after the war."

IN THE SPHERE OF WOMANKIND

FARMERS.

Old Cadmus was a farmer,
Though born to spear and shield;
Arrayed in brazen armor,
He tilled a stubborn field.
With dragon's teeth he sowed it then,
And from Boeotian globes
There leaped the valiant fighting men
That crowned the walls of Thebes.

Old Cadmus was our brother;
A goodly crop he grew—
As we shall grow another
That plow the acres too.
Our garden beds and fertile farms
Shall yield the strength divine
That nerves the mighty man-at-arms
And bulks the battle line.

Then bravely to your labors,
My lads that dig the loam!
Your blades of wheat are sabers
That strike for flag and home.
And though ye gain but little thanks
That wield the spade and hoe,
Your hills of corn are stalwart ranks
That much against the foe!

NORWEGIANS BITTER OVER TORPEDOINGS

Outburst Against Exporting Syndicate Spy Danger Also Agitated in the Press.

Christiania, Norway, May 6 (Correspondence of The Associated Press). Several recent happenings have served to emphasize the anti-German feeling which manifests itself predominantly in the press and in public expressions in Norway. One of these was the widespread demand for the cancellation of the engagement of the Herin Philharmonic Orchestra (under Arthur Nikisch) to play here on May 11. Even the newspaper, Morgenbladet, which hitherto had been friendly in its attitude toward Germany, protested in a very satirical article against a German institution like this intruding upon Norwegian hospitality at a time when Norwegian ships were being torpedoed by the hundreds and Norwegian sailors were being killed by the Germans. Other newspapers and public men were even more caustic and energetic in their demand for the cancellation of the concert.

WHEN HER BACK ACHES A Woman Finds All Her Energy and Ambition Slipping Away.

Wichita Falls women know how the aches and pains that often come when the kidneys fail make life a burden. Backache, hip pains, headaches, dizzy spells, distressing bladder troubles, are frequent indications of weak kidneys and should be checked in time. Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only. They attack kidney diseases by striking at the cause. Here's proof of their merit in a Wichita Falls woman's words. Mrs. Lula Davis, 1304 Scott avenue, says: "The first symptom of kidney complaint I had was my back hurting me. I suffered this way, off and on, for about a year and was scarcely able to do anything. I felt worn-out and drowsy and severe headaches and dizzy spells annoyed me. I doctored, but got no relief. Doan's Kidney Pills removed the pain and weakness, two boxes curing me." Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that cured Mrs. Davis. Foster-Milburn Co. Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

ALAMOSCHOOL GIVEN CIVIC LEAGUE PRIZE

League Also Offers Prizes For Gardens in Districts Over City—Meeting Held Tuesday.

Gardens, vacant lot, school and children's gardens, formed the topic discussed by the Civic League in its June meeting Tuesday afternoon at the First Methodist Church. The $10 prize for local school gardens was won by the Alamo School, in Floral Heights. It was announced at the meeting and plans were made for an increased interest to be taken in the children's home gardens, prizes for $5 in each district to be awarded the last of June. In each district an effort will be made to stimulate interest among the children so that the showing will be a good one. The gardens will be judged by Mrs. T. B. Smock, the president of the League, a representative of the Rotary Club and a representative of the Chamber of Commerce. The prizes for attractive lawns, flower gardens and premises will not be awarded until fall. These prizes will also be $5 in each district.

TRIAL OF MRS. BARGER TRANSFERRED TO ELLIS COUNTY

By Associated Press.

Dallas, June 6.—Because of the wide publicity given the first trial of Mrs. Lotta Barger, charged with the murder of her husband, her second trial today was transferred from Dallas to Ellis county. The case was called before Judge R. B. Seay today, and the court sent it to Waxahatchee of its own volition. Last Labor Day Mrs. Barger walked into the office where her husband was a clerk and after a few minutes conversation, drawing her revolver, shot him down. Her first trial resulted in a hung jury. She testified the killing was the result of several years of ill-treatment at Barger's hands.

Why Does Texas Wait?

The Times has received the following telegram from the Federal Reserve Bank at Dallas:
In an interview given to the press last night, Secretary McAdoo said: "I regret to find that there is a disposition to stop the campaign for further subscriptions after a city has reached the tentative allotment. It is most important that there shall be no cessation of the work, even in those cities which have already responded so promptly and patriotically. It is imperative that the loan shall be largely over subscribed."

Why does Texas wait—surely her people intend to subscribe to the liberty loan, it is almost incredible that she will shift her responsibilities to others, yet this appears to be the case.
Recent German, French and English loans have been over-subscribed, notwithstanding the terrible drain on the finances of these countries. Surely Texas has more patriotism than a German province, but why does Texas wait?

Germany is watching us. The world is watching us. Why does Texas wait?

Populist, 104,483; Houston, Republican, 1,322; Prohibitionist, 1,703.
The vote for Governor in 1894 was as follows: Culberson, Democrat, 207,167; McCombs, Republican, 104,483; Schmitt, Prohibitionist, 1,703; Nugent, Populist, 152,341; Dunn, Prohibitionist, 2,196.

It will be noted that the combined opposition in 1894 was greater than the Democratic strength by 7,306 votes and we make the record to show that there was a chance back there to build up a competent political organization, which is the best assurance of good government yet devised.

How is it today? Why, everybody goes into the Democratic primary, and consequently we have only one party in the State, and that in name only.

A political party is a group of citizens who are agreed as to their public policies and fundamental principles.

But as matters stand in Texas, every shade of opinion is represented in the Democratic party, each candidate being a law to himself, and consequently there is neither definite purpose nor party responsibility.

The Democratic party in Texas confers its honors on prohibitionists and anti-prohibitionists; on free traders and protectionists; on fiscalists and gold standard advocates; on centralizers and decentralizers, and so it is all things to all men.

What has brought this about? Manifestly, as we see it, the Terrell election law, a law that takes from the people the initiative as to public policy and the choosing of public servants, vesting these prerogatives in a self-constituted body of professional politicians.

The esteemed Dallas News is old enough to recollect that there was a time in Texas when the people met in precinct conventions and voted their sentiments as to men and measures.

The esteemed Dallas News is old enough to recollect that there was a time in Texas when nominating committees acted in clearing houses for the people, passing on the merits and demerits of men, often having resort to the dark horse, which is not objectionable.

There was an excited interest in public affairs, so much so that the Populist organization offered healthy opposition; Wash Jones, the Greenbacker; and the Greenbacker, a Democratic nominee for Congress; the Galveston district for several terms held a Republican in the Congress at Washington—and this was the incumbent on the Democrats to be on their good behavior, not occasionally, but all the time.

This is not the case today. The people are absolutely shut out of all consideration in the conduct of public affairs. They can't hold political meetings in advance of results, and if they should undertake such a thing no good would result, for the reason that they have not the power to out-vote the party or to put a candidate in the field.

The Terrell election law is a device to shut the people away from their political rights and obligations. If we get anything like good government under its workings, the same is accidental and not by design.—Waco Times Herald.

Governor Ferguson has filed his veto of the appropriations for the State University for the ensuing two years. The University will be closed unless some means can be found for keeping it going by private contributions. Mass meetings are being called in all sections of the State looking toward common and united action in this matter.

Such a meeting ought to be called in Wichita County at an early date. Wichita County has never been backward in public movements and has never failed to do its share. It must not fail in this instance. Let a mass meeting be called. The people will rally to the support of the State's greatest institutions.

MUTINOUS CONVICTS KEPT IN THEIR CELLS

GERMANS DEMAND MONEY OF ALLIES FROM BELGIAN BANKS
Geneva, Switzerland.—The correspondent in Belgium of the "Lans Anne Gazette" writes that General von Falkenhayn, the new governor general of Belgium, has demanded all the scrip, titles and money deposited in the Belgian banks belonging to the Entente allies, and amounting to many millions of francs.

The Belgian banks and the Belgian firms who constructed the bank safes according to the correspondent, Gen. von Falkenhayn sent to Berlin for expert safe-breakers who went to Brussels but failed to open the safes.

The Gazette's correspondent suggested: "Why not give up all the roads as in North and South America there are plenty of German bonds and scrip to cover many times this loss to the allies in Belgium."

THE TERRELL ELECTION LAW.
With the inauguration of Richard Coke as governor in 1874, the Democratic party came into possession of the State government, a tenure it has held ever since. But not without stormy periods.

The vote for Governor in 1892 was as follows: Hoke, Democrat, 190,152; Clark, Democrat, 132,395; Nugent

Fokker, mortally hit, nose-dived steeply, throwing the dead observer out into mid-air. The pilot managed to regain control before his machine crashed and contrived to effect a landing of some sort. But our pilot was not finished with him. He circled overhead until the German had got clear of his machine, and then he descended further and sprayed the Fokker with machine-gun fire till it burst into flames. He then started to climb.

"Clouds of German anti-aircraft shells pursued him, but he managed to get right over the German firing line before a shell burst near enough to injure him." His machine stopped in its course, its nose fell, and down it went diving steeply to earth. A thousand feet, five hundred, two hundred. Everyone's heart pumped in expectation of the crash. Then the plane righted. Along the German line it sped, faster than a swallow, and its machine-gun spat venomously into the crowded trenches. It was only a ruse, just another flight of the genius which marked the pilot from the ordinary, and as he mounted heavenwards and flew towards the safety of his own lines, he leaned over from his seat and gallily waved his hand to the baffled foe.

AMERICAN COLLEGE MEN ENTERTAINED BY CHINA'S PRES.

Peking.—President Li Yuan-hung honored the American College Club of North China with a reception and a banquet at the Presidential Palace the day after the semi-annual dinner of the club. More than 400 college men and women, Chinese and American alike, who attended American institutions, were present by Dr. Paul S. Reinsch, the American minister, and received a cordial welcome from President Li Yuan-hung, who shook hands with every member of the party.

The reception was typical of the democratic change which has swept over China. It is unusual for high officials to receive women, and especially Chinese women, but President Li Yuan-hung insisted upon grasping the hand of every one of his guests.

The Chinese president delivered a brief address of welcome, in which he expressed great pleasure in meeting the American returned students. Addressing the Chinese returned students particularly, the president said: "China, at the beginning of a period of reconstruction, our education and our industries and our social and public works must be pushed forward with the greatest energy. You Chinese young men who have had the great privilege of a western education must shoulder a correspondingly great responsibility.

"China is taking America as her model for the conduct of her government. As you must have learned the spirit of American democracy during your sojourn in that country, I expect you to help our fellow-countrymen in the development of that spirit. I am foretold of the happy conclusion which the birth of this kind of democracy will bring to the friendship between the United States and China, and the growth of mutual cooperation between the two peoples. China and America are the two greatest powers on earth. America being the eldest and China being the youngest, China naturally looks up to America as a younger sister, would to the elder for guidance and inspiration. There is a great deal in common between them, both in their national aims and aspirations. America and China have always stood for justice and for fair play. With the two great republics working hand in hand, not only is the peace of the Pacific secure, but also will the world be safe for democracy."

The American minister thanked the president for the courtesy he had paid the American College Club and said: "My nation is particularly proud of the fact that numerous gifted Chinese have sought in our country the interpretation of scientific thought which would give them a thorough understanding of the motive forces of western civilization. Those in our two nations who thus come into intimate contact with one another have come to consider it the most natural thing that there should be a desire for cooperation between China and the United States. A desire not founded on the mere impulse of a moment, but on deep underlying causes."

The friendly sentiments of both President Li Yuan-hung and Dr. Reinsch were enthusiastically applauded by the American students.

Louisville, Ky.—General Manager M. J. Winn of the New Louisville Jockey Club, has written United States Senator Ollie A. James that the club is anxious to enter the war. He has decided to add to the food production of the country.

The beautiful centerfield of Churchill Downs with its four acres of virgin soil, upon which for nearly fifty years have reared many of the famous horses of Kentucky, will be ploughed and planted in potatoes, under the auspices of an association.

It is expected the soil will be ready for planting while the American meeting is in progress. It is believed that the disposal of the government without profit to the Jockey Club.

SPECULATIONS DEFENDED BY BANK

NATIONAL CITY BANK OF NEW YORK SAYS COMMODITY MARKETS HELP DISTRIBUTE.

AID TO FAIR PRICES

Trading, make it easier to enlist capital in carrying the crops, and thus broaden the market. The substantial houses in the business desire a normal market, with free play for all the price-making forces. A manipulative market is dangerous to everybody with the legitimate functions of the exchange.

The National City Bank points out that the difficulties attendant upon government restriction are very much greater than are commonly assumed by those who advocate the policy.

WORLD'S NEWEST DEMOCRACY, KHIVA

Special to The Times. Washington, June 4.—The newest trading under the sun is the democracy of Khiva, announced from Petrograd.

"The Khivites living in the towns and villages are chiefly engaged in the manufacture of silk. The whole oasis is planted in white mulberries and almost every hut is a miniature silk factory, where the whole process of spinning, dyeing and weaving is carried on by hand in the most primitive fashion imaginable.

"The capital of the country is Khiva, a walled city of 6,000 people. It is the commercial center of the khanate, and is situated on the banks of the Aral Sea. The chief part of the country is Yanki-Khan, a fertile oasis of 100,000 acres.

THE NATION UNITED

Declares Country Stands As One Man Ready to Vindicate Its Honor and Principles.

Washington, June 6.—"These are days of oblivion as well as memory," said President Wilson in his address at the confederate reunion yesterday.

"I esteem it a very great pleasure and real privilege to extend to the men who are attending this reunion, the very cordial greetings of the government of the United States.

"I suppose that as you mix with one another you chiefly find these to be days of memory when your thoughts go back and recall those days of struggle in which your hearts were strained in which the whole nation seemed in a quiver, and I dare say that you are thrilled as you remember the heroic things that were then done.

"These are days of oblivion as well as of memory for we are forgetting the things that once held us asunder. Not only that, but they are days of rejoicing, because we now at last see why this great nation was so united for we are beginning to see the great world purpose which it was meant to serve.

"Many men, I know, patricially of your own generation have wondered at some of the dealings of providence, but the wise heart never questions the dealings of providence, because the great plan as it unfolds has a majesty about it and a definiteness of purpose, an elevation of ideal which we were incapable of conserving as we tried to work things out with our own short sight and weak strength.

"On Thursday, June 14, Flag Day, the Elks will stage what is expected to be the biggest patriotic meeting held in Wichita Falls, according to the announcement of the committee in charge of affairs.

"The arrangements committee include: V. G. Skeen, chairman, A. E. Myles, J. A. Griffin, A. L. Huey, J. Tolsonna, Frank Katz and H. Martin. The program will be announced within a few days.

"As I came along the streets a few minutes ago, my heart was full of the thought that this is registration day. Will you not support me in feeling that there is some significance in this coincidence, that this day when I come to welcome you to the national capital, is a day when men and young as you were in those old days, when you gathered together to fight, are now registering their names as evidence of this great idea, that in a democracy the duty to serve and the privilege to serve falls upon all alike?

"There is something very fine, my fellow citizens, in the spirit of the volunteer, but deeper than the volunteer spirit is the spirit of obligation. There is not a man of us who must not show that we are ready to be summoned to the duty of supporting the great government under which we live. No really thoughtful and patriotic man is jealous of that obligation. No man who really understands the dignity of being an American citizen quarrels for a moment with the idea that the congress of the United States has the right to call upon whom it will to serve the nation.

"There are not many things that one desires about war, my fellow citizens, but you have come through war you know how you have been chastened by it, and there comes a time when it is good for a nation to know that it must sacrifice, if need be everything that it has to vindicate the principles which it professes. We have prospered with a sort of heedless and irresponsible prosperity. Now we are going to lay all our wealth, if necessary, and spend all our blood, if need be, to show that we were not accumulating that wealth selfishly but were accumulating it for the service of mankind.

"I am thankful for the privilege of a sacrifice, which is the only privilege that lends dignity to the human spirit. And so it seems to me that we may regard this as a very happy day, because a day of reunion, a day of noble memories, a day of dedication, a day of the renewal of the spirit which has made America great among the peoples of the world."

MORE APPLICATIONS FOR LIBERTY LOAN

Reports from the various local banks show an increase in the applications for Liberty Loan bonds. During the last few days the movement has been considerably more brisk than heretofore, and there is no doubt that interest in the loan is becoming wider. So far as can be gathered, there is every indication that the half-million mark will be reached by Wichita county. The final spurt of the campaign will take place next week, when several meetings will be held, with a view to bringing up the sale of the bonds to the prescribed amount, and possibly exceeding it.

LIEUT. GUYNEMER

Captain Georges Guynemer, France's most famous air fighter, has now achieved unquestioned supremacy over all other airmen of any nation. An official announcement brings the news that he has raised his total of German machines destroyed in single combat to 43, greater than has ever been claimed for any other pilot, allied or German.

Captain Boelcke, Germany's most famous air fighter, was killed after he had, according to the German official bulletins, shot down thirty-eight allied aviators. The German method of computation of "victories," however, is much more liberal than the French.

The German aviators claim as a victory every case in which the opposing machine is put out of action, whereas the French are not allowed to do so except in cases where the opposing machine was distinctly seen to fall by the eyes of at least two observers besides the aviator who shot it down and was distinctly seen to be destroyed by its fall.

In achieving this total, moreover, Captain Guynemer broke two more records, for he shot down four machines in a single day, two of them in a single engagement and within one minute of each other.

MARKET REPORT

Chicago Grain Futures. Chicago, June 6.—Wheat rushes to buy corn with prices soaring as much as nine and a half cents a bushel, resulted from the fixing of a maximum price greatly above the quotations, which had been ruling before the maximum was named. The established price was generally taken as formal recognition of bullish prediction that unless a limit was set the market was likely to reach $2.00. Wheat closed unsettled, at 1.2 to 1.2 cents advance. Corn closed from 5 cents to 10 cents net higher, with July at $1.57 to $1.58 1/2, and September at $1.44 to $1.44 1/2.

SNAPSHOT OF SLIM CASKEY AND LUCILLE MULHALL BULLDOGGING STEER

Wichita Falls is taking on a West-ern aspect, with the advent of so many cowboys, who are arriving for the Oil Celebration and Round-up. A large number of them are in town already, and more are coming. A bunch arrived yesterday from Garden City, Kan., which includes Orville Staples, roper and rider; Deibert Bludso, also roper and rider; Cy Perkins and Amson Anby, comedy riders of the hayseed variety. One of the bunch—it was not easy to tell which—claims to have won the blue ribbon in a beauty contest, though there was no ribbon of any kind visible. George Weir has shipped a herd of wild goats for the goat-roving, that are the fastest goats known. They will enter an ordinary horse, and to catch one, a man has to have a real horse under him. Hugh Strickland, the champion from Fort Worth, who won last year the saddle and $1,000 in the bucking horse contest, has sent in his name. Cliff King has shipped a carload of bucking horses.

that have proved their buckability in many contests. The silver cup to be given at the cutting horse contest is on exhibition at Halton and Friedley's store. It is a very handsome affair. There will be a special place at the grounds reserved for the parking of automobiles, from which the entire show can be seen. Sale of these reservations will begin in a few days at the Rexall Drug Store. There will be space for between three and four hundred cars. Work on the grounds is to start almost immediately, and there is a good deal to be done. Pens, corrals, sheds, stabling accommodation and so forth must be built. From the grand stand, the grounds will present the appearance of a miniature ranch complete. Nothing is being overlooked to make the affair a complete success, as Homer Wilson, who seems to be absolutely ubiquitous, believes in getting started in plenty of time.

GREAT RUSSIAN ROAD COMPLETED

STORY OF BUILDING OF LINE A FASCINATING ROMANCE OF ENGINEERING.

BUILT BY 3 RACES

Russians, Austrians and Mongols Constructed 930 Miles From Kola to Petrograd.

Petrograd.—One of the most fascinating romances of railroad engineering is the building of the great Murmansk Railway, from Petrograd to Kola Bay, Russia's ice-free port. Built by torchlight in the darkness of Arctic winter, parts of it were three times lost when warm winds turned the frozen tundras on which it was laid into bottomless morasses of mud and water. The railway is 930 miles long, from Kola to Petrograd, and part of it is a three-track line. The Russians learned from the paralysis of the Trans-Siberian line that a one-track road is almost useless, and called for express service. Two tracks are used for loaded cars going away from Kola. The third track is for empties coming back. Three races, Russians, Austrians and Mongols, helped build the line. Hundreds, if not thousands, died from cold, hunger, and disease, but now the line is through to stay, and its tracks are taking every day 200 carloads from the mountains of supplies that have accumulated while the road was in the process of construction. First, Russians were employed as railroad builders. They were the eastern part of the line to build, before it reached the tundras. Then they were all called away to the front and Austrian prisoners were sent to take their places. The prisoners were guarded by remnants of half-wild Tartars and Mongols. Neither the Austrians nor their guards knew anything about railway building, and there were so few experts in the region that it was impossible for them to overtake the work properly. The Austrians laid the ties on ice frozen ground, and one construction train got through to Kola Bay. Then a thaw came and the train could not get back. There was no track. Great stretches of rails had disappeared. The Austrians were set to work again, better supervised this time, and they had at least a semblance of roadbed when the rails met south of Kola, but the ballast had been laid again by torchlight, and when a thaw came much of it slumped beneath the tracks. After that the Russians took a leaf from the history of the great American transcontinental railroads. They herded the Austrians back to the prison camps and brought across the Trans-Siberian railway thousands of Chinese coolies and Mongols, to take their places. By this time so much indignation over the ghastly failures on the railway had arisen that the Russian officials were stirred out of their slough. They soon got down to hard pan and the railroad went through to stay.

SWISS HAVE TROUBLE IN SPELLING AMERICAN NAMES

Berne, Switzerland.—The difficulty of spelling American names is almost as great for the average Swiss paper as it is for an American paper to spell correctly a Russian name. When Brand Whitlock, the American minister to Belgium, came out recently on his way to Havre, the Journal de Geneve referred to him flatteringly as "Sir Brand Chitlock." The mistake was called to the attention of the "Gand" of Berne, which in its next issue rectified the "ridiculous misspelling of the name of the American Minister to Belgium, Whitlock Brand."

SPECIAL FEATURE AT PLAZA THEATRE TONIGHT

A notice says: American tourists have always rejoiced in the picturesqueness of London, which was their favorite Mecca until the war put an end to pleasure traveling in Europe. But if we can no longer go to London, London can come to us, and it will do so when the special attraction, "The Birth of a Nation," is shown in the Plaza Theatre tonight. The reproduction of the atmosphere of the English capital is perfect, and the spectator who has not been to London will get a better idea of the city than he could get by looking at the real thing. The interior of a typical small public house of the East End is shown, with the pretty barmaid who is its presiding genius. The recruiting sergeant at work trying to persuade the young men of the district to take the King's shilling, as recruiting is called; the shop of the butcher, Gus Hawkins, the favorite of the neighborhood; typical street groups, and many other characteristic London scenes go to make this five reel feature a real special attraction. The Empress. Today is the second and final showing of the William Fox Super Luxe production of "The Tale of Two Cities" at the Empress. One of the most dramatic and stirring scenes in the history of the new William Fox photoplay starring William Farnum. The enormous Bastille set, which has been the wonder of the world for the last two months, was torn down, block by block, to illustrate scenes of the French Revolution for the film production. The towering wall, 125 feet high, took five weeks to erect on the grounds of the Fox plant at Hollywood. It took about five hours to demolish, and the thousands of extras put their hands to it. At the end of a long, narrow Parisian street, the enormous building had been placed, surrounded by a slight wall and a deep moat. Across the ditch stretched a draw-bridge, which was lowered when the people of the city captured the fortress. Then they piled into the structure and began the work of demolition. The scene began taking about ten in the morning. It was almost dark a clock before Director Frank Lloyd would allow that enough of it had been torn down to give the desired effect of ruin to the photoplay. Even then he kept about fifty of the extras there to continue the work stone by stone, far into the night. For when the real Bastille was stormed, it required five days and five nights to complete the destruction.

Relieved After Taking Two Bottles Of Cardui, Says Tennessee Lady.

Whitwell, Tenn.—Mrs. G. P. Cartwright, of this place, writes: "About four years ago the dizzy spells got so bad that when I would start to walk I would just pretty near fall. I wasn't past doing my work, but was very much run-down. I told my husband I thought Cardui would help me, as a lady who lived next door to me had taken a great deal, and told me to try it. This was when we were living in Kentucky. My husband got me a bottle and I took it according to directions. It helped me so much that I had to take two more bottles. I feel a whole lot better and just quit taking it. I got over the dizzy spells. I took no other medicine at that time nor since for this trouble. No, I've never regretted taking Cardui. I felt just fine when I finished the second bottle. Purely vegetable, mild and gentle in its action, Cardui, the woman's tonic, may be the very medicine you need. If you suffer from symptoms of female troubles, give Cardui a trial. All druggists. NO-139"

SPECIAL FEATURE AT PLAZA THEATRE TONIGHT

A notice says: American tourists have always rejoiced in the picturesqueness of London, which was their favorite Mecca until the war put an end to pleasure traveling in Europe. But if we can no longer go to London, London can come to us, and it will do so when the special attraction, "The Birth of a Nation," is shown in the Plaza Theatre tonight. The reproduction of the atmosphere of the English capital is perfect, and the spectator who has not been to London will get a better idea of the city than he could get by looking at the real thing. The interior of a typical small public house of the East End is shown, with the pretty barmaid who is its presiding genius. The recruiting sergeant at work trying to persuade the young men of the district to take the King's shilling, as recruiting is called; the shop of the butcher, Gus Hawkins, the favorite of the neighborhood; typical street groups, and many other characteristic London scenes go to make this five reel feature a real special attraction. The Empress. Today is the second and final showing of the William Fox Super Luxe production of "The Tale of Two Cities" at the Empress. One of the most dramatic and stirring scenes in the history of the new William Fox photoplay starring William Farnum. The enormous Bastille set, which has been the wonder of the world for the last two months, was torn down, block by block, to illustrate scenes of the French Revolution for the film production. The towering wall, 125 feet high, took five weeks to erect on the grounds of the Fox plant at Hollywood. It took about five hours to demolish, and the thousands of extras put their hands to it. At the end of a long, narrow Parisian street, the enormous building had been placed, surrounded by a slight wall and a deep moat. Across the ditch stretched a draw-bridge, which was lowered when the people of the city captured the fortress. Then they piled into the structure and began the work of demolition. The scene began taking about ten in the morning. It was almost dark a clock before Director Frank Lloyd would allow that enough of it had been torn down to give the desired effect of ruin to the photoplay. Even then he kept about fifty of the extras there to continue the work stone by stone, far into the night. For when the real Bastille was stormed, it required five days and five nights to complete the destruction.

TORPEDO DODGING WILL BE DEMONSTRATED

Minneapolis, Minn.—Demonstrations of torpedo dodging by small submarine chasers will mark the Mississippi Power Boat Association regatta, July 4 and 5. The Navy Department, it was announced, will provide the non-explosive torpedoes, out of whose path the small craft will zigzag while driving ahead at great speed. Then the chasers will maneuver about the boat taking the submarine role and when at the proper angle, will open fire. A power boat belonging to Wian Wood of Cairo, Ill., will take part in the demonstration. Captain W. A. Moffett, commander of the Great Lakes training station, has been asked to oversee the demonstrations, according to association officials. The regatta will serve also to celebrate the formal opening of navigation on the Mississippi River to Minneapolis through completion of a government dam at Fort Snelling.

"The Tale of Two Cities" in a picturization of Charles Dickens' immortal work of the French Revolution. Strong scenes dominate this powerful photoplay, an unusual love story, abounding with pathos and thrills. A one hundred per cent picture. Mr. Farnum plays a dual role in this wonderful picture, his portrayal of the soft-spoken, aristocratic Charles Darnay and the devil-may-care, dissolute English baronet, Sidney Carton, is a screen classic. Never before has a masterpiece been filmed with so notable a cast of players as has been gathered together by Mr. Fox for this picture. Everyone is familiar with this stirring story of a man's created sacrifice for the woman he loved, and redemption of the French Revolution. Studio—12:30, 2:15, 4:00, 5:45, 7:30, 9:15.
