"Beats Anything I Have Ever Heard of" Declares Shipping Clerk

"When it comes to getting rid of bad stomach and liver troubles, Orgatone beats anything I have ever heard of," said A. R. Nichols, who lives at 1021 East Hattie street, Fort Worth, Tex., and is shipping clerk at Swift & Co's packing house, North Fort Worth. "If there is anything that will make me miserable for me," he continued, "it is a bad case of stomach trouble. More than six years ago my stomach went back on me, and I have had a mighty tough time of it ever since. I lost my appetite to start with, and hardly ate enough to keep my strength up so I could work. I also suffered from loss of weight and energy as well as nervousness all the time. "I had heard much about Orgatone and the good it seemed to be doing so many people, I decided to try it and see what it would do for me. Well, sir, I honestly feel like a brand new man today and I have taken only four bottles of Orgatone. I am hungry all the time now and eat three big meals every day and I never suffer from it one bit, and I know from that, my stomach is in good condition. In fact, I am feeling better in every way than I have felt in six years. There is no doubt about it—Orgatone is the best treatment going, and I am glad to recommend it to everybody. Orgatone is sold in Wichita Falls by the Young Drug company.

WEEK EXPECTED TO BE VERY BURY ONE AT COURT HOUSE

The motor equipment of O. W. Hines, undertaker, was increased Saturday by the arrival of a new "Saco" six-cylinder, 60-horse power ambulance which was driven in from Dallas. The ambulance is one of the latest on the market and is strictly up to date in every respect, equipped with a lamp motor and other first-aid apparatus. The new machine is capable of traveling a speed of 75 miles an hour if necessary but the owner is of the opinion that such a speed will be rare with the roads of this vicinity. This acquisition brings the number of motor vehicles used by Mr. Hines up to four, he having previously in service one hearse, one ambulance and one touring car. "We wish you would notify the public," Mr. Hines said, "that when they hear the ambulance siren they should give it the road, for in many cases a person's life depends upon the quickness in arriving at a hospital."

This week will be a very busy period at the court house. Both district courts will be in session together with the county court and both justice courts. Criminal procedure will be taken up before Judge William N. Honner of the 20th district court while the civil docket will be taken up before Judge Edgar Seay in the 78th district court. Judge J. Jones announced Saturday that several criminal cases are docketed in his court for next week. It is understood that several persons now held in the county jail will enter pleas of guilty next week. At least two cases alleging the carrying of concealed weapons will come before Judge Jones in county criminal court.

FLORAL HEIGHTS METHODISTS FEATURING AN OWL SERVICE

Something strictly novel is promised those who go to the high school building this morning. Rev. W. L. Little and his Methodist congregation are to have what they call an "owl" service. The "who's who" features of the service are responsible for the name. The program will consist of readings, questions asked, short speeches and the singing of old time religious songs. The pastor says this service grows out of the curiosity of the people to know just who the Floral Heights Methodists are, what they are doing and what response is being made by their friends in the city. It is promised that those in charge that there will not be a dull moment, and that the service is also to be religious and helpful.

DANCES TO BE HELD AS INVITATION AFFAIRS

"I believe that the Carl Hack Dance Academy, run on the lines which are apparently intended, will be a distinct asset to Wichita Falls, and fill a need which has so far gone unfilled," said Hubert Harrison, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Saturday morning. "I have been through their place on an inspection, and I am sure that there is nothing in the state which approaches it in the elegance of its appointments, and the high class manner in which it is to be handled. The dances are to be handled as invitation affairs exclusively. I understand, which will obviate most of the difficulties which such affairs have encountered in the past."

A Year of Service

It is a great thing to have been alive during this passing year of 1919. It has been a year of trouble and suspense for many; but that work of reconstruction had to be done, and many troubles are now behind us—bidding us remember that troubles are now behind us—bidding us remember that troubles fairly faced and met will all go behind us and disappear into yesterday's and yester-years.

So we are looking forward into 1920 with hope and enthusiasm, and with a new determination to make this store better than ever as an institution of service for our community.

When we all get back our old American spirit of service and accomplishment—our healthy desire to make our place in the world and make the most of it for ourselves and others, the happy days and prosperous times will be here again.

Let's all set a high mark for ourselves in 1920—and then climb up to it!

Manager Gas Company Before Court of Inquiry; Overcharges Are Alleged

District Attorney Fletcher Jones and County Attorney John Davenport declared open season on the North Texas Gas Company Saturday afternoon. Following a strenuous morning session of the city council in the course of which the gas company was openly accused of attempting to "cheat, defraud and swindle" its patrons, Jones and Fletcher summoned F. M. Kenny, local manager of the company, before a court of inquiry conducted by Justice Arrington and demanded an explanation of the wide margin of difference between the alleged promises made by the company when its franchise was obtained and the service it is now said to be rendering; stressing at the same time the startling difference between the December bills rendered to the company's patrons and the bills for November.

It was necessary, according to District Attorney Jones, to issue a legal summons because of the refusal to appear and be examined. Soon afterward, however, Secretary McCabe of the gas company, and J. T. Montgomery, local attorney representing the company, voluntarily appeared before the court at the county court house.

Kenny admitted that "so far as he knew" the North Texas Gas Co. was not the habit of testing its gas to determine whether it contained the required heat units. When it was called to his attention that a bill for $78.50 had been rendered for gas consumed in the city during December, as compared to a November bill of $22.95, and that investigation had shown that the meter had at no time been in operation during December, Kenny admitted that in some instances where meters had not been working, estimates were made.

The representatives of the gas company were unable to answer many of the questions asked, and when they declined to answer, the inquiry will be continued Monday.

Charges that the gas company not only maintained an unfair rate, but that "patrons were charged for far more gas than was actually consumed" and that the gas delivered had been of an inferior quality made by the city council at a called session Saturday morning. Through-out the day complaints were received by City Clerk George Thompson from patrons who had their December gas bills decidedly unjust.

Miss Knickerbocker Delighted With City; to Make Home Here

"I don't see why Wichita permits the stories that one hears about the town and its 'wild' and 'wanton' to get abroad," says Miss Alena Knickerbocker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Knickerbocker, who has just followed her family to Wichita Falls. "I had read much about Wichita Falls, and heard much about it, and away the wildness had been accentuated until I expected anything but what I did find here, some of the most delightful cultured and refined people I have ever seen. I suppose I stopped to think one would know that such a place could be true, but now it was just as expected to find men and women alike wearing hats and shoes, and a city that had sprung up overnight."

And Miss Knickerbocker, who is as much an individualist as is her father, admitted that she had succumbed to the lure of Wichita Falls, and had completely reversed her plans of "resting up a bit" with her family and then going back to Houston to resume her studio, which she has maintained for the past four years with the exception of intervals spent studying in New York and Chicago, just as much an individualist as her home for so long as they first M. E. church, south, has as pastor Dr. H. D. Knickerbocker.

Many Wichitans who are acquainted in Houston know of Miss Knickerbocker's work as a teacher of expression, and as a director of programs and exhibits of all kinds, as well as an entertainer, and these feel that she is indeed a distinct acquisition. She has given only one public reading since she reached Wichita, this being the telling of the Christmas story at the night service at the First M. E. church, south, last Sunday night, but she has been making a recital some time in January. She will open a studio on February 1, she states, and has already begun to take enrollees. Her Houston work was featured by the work with children, her specialty, and with her assistants she conducted several large classes of children, as well as junior and adult classes.

MAYOR DISCUSSES PROPOSED PURCHASE OF WATER SYSTEM

BEHAVES CONTROVERSY WITH GAS COMPANY WILL ENCOURAGE SENTIMENT SAYS PRICE IS REASONABLE

Consider Matter One of Vital Importance to the City at the Present Time

"I believe that the trouble which the city is having with the gas company at this time will create a noticeably stronger interest in favor of acquisition of the local water works plant, although I always have considered the success of the water works to be voted on for this purpose."

"The success of the bond issue for the purchase of the water works is, as I just said, and believe, assured. So far practically none, if any opposition to this move has been developed."

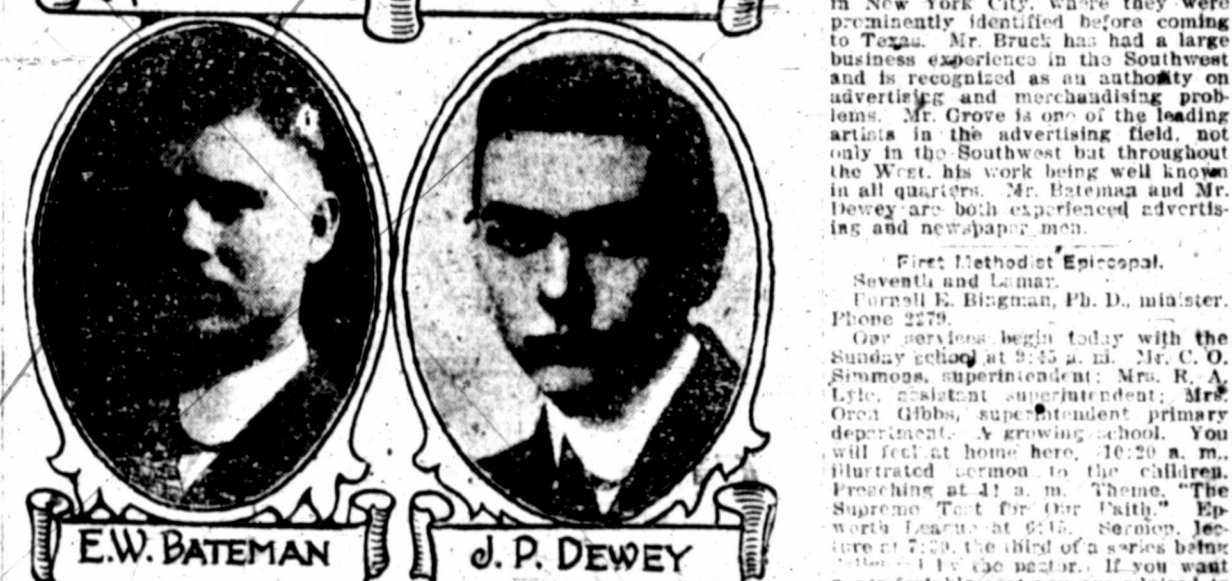

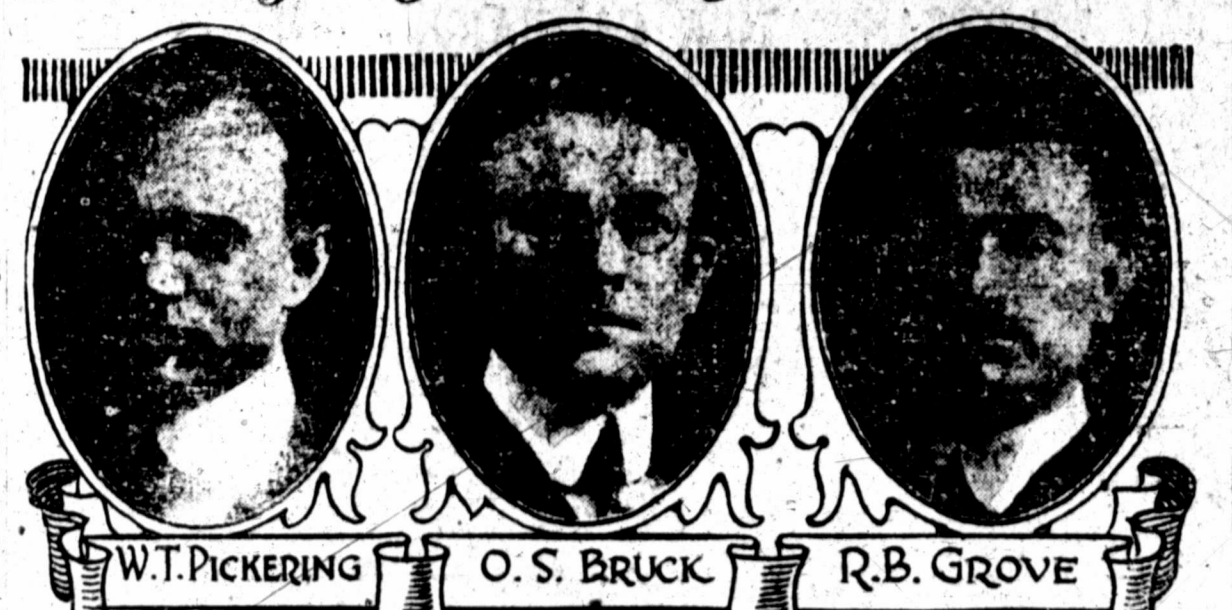

"I believe that the people of Wichita Falls know that it is to their interest to own this waterworks system, and realize that in the price the company set on the system, $478,000, they have an opportunity for securing it which will hardly be duplicated in the future."

"The officials of the company in making their proposition to the council were perfectly frank as to their reason for selling—the increase in the use of electricity here makes it practically imperative that their local electrical plant be practically doubled in capacity, electrical power being their main line, and to get the money to do this they decided to sell out the water works, which is a side line. Another angle to this—if they retain the water works they will be required to make a great many extensions and they don't know where the money is coming from."

"The purchase and proper extension of the water works is a matter which everyone knows is of vital importance to the city. People are not going to build homes, or stay where they can't get water. That is the first thing they look for. And the sure way to get this done is for the city, which is the party most vitally interested, to buy it and make the proper extensions right away."

"The $400,000 worth of bonds we are voting on will be sufficient to buy the plant and make the necessary extensions. I hope and believe that every one who has the good of Wichita Falls at heart will support this issue."

IOWA PARK WOMEN SET JANUARY 14 AS PAY POLL TAX DAY

Iowa Park women have set January 14 as their Pay Your Poll Tax Day, and at the meeting of the Parents Teachers association held Friday afternoon plans were made for taking every woman in Iowa Park to pay their poll tax on that date.

The Iowa Park organization is one of the most active of the sort in the county. Miss Florence Jackson, the county home demonstrator, who attends the meetings of similar organizations, reports that at present the association is planning the most vigorous cleanup campaign that has ever been undertaken in Iowa Park to take place early in the spring, and has undertaken to supply the school with modern playground equipment; to sponsor a health and sanitation survey; under the direction of the state health department, and by experts; and a better babies conference. This latter is the first movement of the sort in Wichita county.

Mrs. Klidde is president of the Iowa Park Parent Teachers association; Mrs. Bennett is chairman of the Welfare work; Mrs. Henson chairman of the work, and Mrs. Eaton chairman of the recent teachers' division. These three divisions represent the different activities of the association.

A big box supper, to which every one is invited, will be held Friday night. The proceeds will go to the playground equipment fund. Program Epworth League, First M. E. COME ON MEN; LET'S PLAY FOR BIG MONEY

Here is One that Has All the Earmarks of Another Hogg Creek. If we have only average luck we will make the Burk-Waggoner with her little $2,000,000.00 sale look sick. Motion Picture Girls Not So Frivolous as They Seem

One Must Get Up Early in the Morning If He Wishes to See These Little Nymphs Who Inhabit the Western Beaches for They Are Off to Work at the Studio by Nine

ONE must be stirring early to see the little water nymphs who inhabit the beaches in the vicinity of Los Angeles, Cal.; for by 9 o'clock every one of them has disappeared and is busily at work in the comedy studios. When the charming water nymphs who skip blithely through the reels and reels of comedy are at work they are very difficult young persons to approach. They take their art seriously. As a result, if one really wishes to see them he must deny Morpheus a couple of hours of companionship and be off to the beach long before his usual rising time.

The photoplay has done so much to upset all the dear old stage traditions. Time was when one's most treasured jewel was an actress who was a delightful languid person who never rose before 12, and then only after a white-capped maid had served her chocolate and rolls in bed. However, the daughter of the screen! Even the most formidable of stars play character parts. I really can and the artist was the sweetest and prettiest Sunshine girl of the lot. Even more remarkable than the drawing itself was the conversation which accompanied the task. It was quite incredible.

"Yes, indeed," was she saying. "Architecture is the particular star to which I have hitched my wagon. That is the reason I am playing in pictures right now. You see, I have plenty of time to pursue my studies in the evening, and, what is even more important, I make enough money to take lessons from the best instructors. In about two years I will be a full-

Girl Lectured for Taking Daring Dive.

"Now, I told you you would get hurt trying to do all those wild stunts you are so fond of. Just because you are dreaming of being a serial queen and a second Pearl White some day, is no reason why you should be risking your life jumping off the bow of a yacht and striking your head on a raft. It's a good thing I studied medicine and haven't given up all aspira-laughs in the projecting theater. As a rule, the producers of funny pictures are not cutups. They enjoy a good story and the companionship of good fellows. When it comes to their turn to tell a story they usually tell it with the art of a professional, for that's their profession, telling stories. The only difference is they tell their funny stories on the screen in addition to telling it in words. To meet these makers of laughs is like ways be called into use; they will be too obvious. Among them are the mortgage on the old home, the lamp in the window for the erring son, etc.

Surprise Is Main Element of Humor.

"The instinct to laugh is what distinguishes the human animal from all others. Not only is man alone in his capacity to laugh, but it is his strongest impulse. Therefore it is an easy read to his favor if you can play upon

"This is rehearsal," said the heroine, "when we shoot the scene I'll really fight."

With the call of "camera" the fight began. And it was some fight. The villain's eye was blacked. The villain's nose dropped blood. A hunk was realizes that the early morning hours are valuable and is at the studio, ready to start work, by 9 at the latest. Consequently when the photoplay girl wants to disport herself it must be in the small hours of thereabouts.

Right here I am going to tell some plain truths about the comedy girl. Furthermore I do not believe it will hurt her popularity. She is not an empty-headed beauty. No, indeed! She has brains plus. She has the courage of her convictions. She has persistence. What is more she has ambition.

Truths About the Comedy Girl.

And the avestruck fan hits back in amazement and inquiries. "Can this be possible? It seems incredible!"

"If I thought the comedy girl is a frivolous little butterfly creature, with no thought in her pretty head beyond abbreviated bathing suits, I changed my mind very soon after a chance meeting with her and some of her sisters. They were playing leap frog on the beach with the gay abandon of a group of small boys. Others of her kindred were braving the waves on surf boards. The comedy girl did seem a happy, inconsequential sort of individual.

But right here a protest was voiced. She was just a little pink and white curly-haired girl—with dark blue eyes that belied the rest of her appearance because they were set rather deeply, showing an inclination for thought. "Do you know," she was saying to her make the nicest old lady when I make up for one. Just the sort of grandmother everybody dreams of, and many have had."

Vassar Graduate Tells Her Story.

"When I was graduated from Vassar," said the other, "I wanted to write. Somebody suggested the movies, and I wrote a scenario. It was a drama—a dark, blood-curdling melodrama—and I can see now how it would make the peachiest comedy; but the scenario editor to whom I submitted it couldn't see it at all. But he did introduce me to the casting editor; and here I am. Some day, though, I am going to write."

"Fiction!" inquired the would-be grandmother; and the college graduate answered. "No, indeed. I never had aspired to such light stuff. I am a thorough admirer of Nietzsche and his pessimistic philosophy, and my writing will be patterned after his."

"Who likes Nietzsche?" inquired a third girl, fopping down on the sand. "I hate him. He doesn't give our sex credit for anything, and some day—why, you just wait. Woman's day has dawned already; but just wait; we are going to perform even greater wonders. I'd love to be a politician—and I'm going to be one some day. You just wait!"

I was quite willing to wait. The scenery was certainly beautiful and the Fox comedy girls—well, words fail to describe them! But even as we were gaily discussing things an accident was happening further down

The Art of Making People Laugh

MAKING people laugh is one of the hardest tasks before the producer of films. Millions of dollars have been lost on productions intended to bring forth the elusively laugh and millions have likewise been spent and produced the much-sought after giggle. It has been proved that the success or failure of a picture intended to produce laughter depends alone with the public. What looks good in the studio oftentimes proves a complete failure when put before an audience for a tryout.

If you have ever looked over the sorrowful faces of any crowd in any street car, it would seem to be a precarious job to try to make a living by making them laugh, for the faces of the average American crowd are not the merry faces, the happy-go-lucky faces.

Three Biggest Laugh Producers.

Mack Sennett, Fatty Arbuckle and Charlie Chaplin have probably succeeded in bringing more grins and snickers to these faces than any other men living or dead. The famous wits and jesters of the past only had to seem to have a sixth sense which tells them what is funny. Nearly every comedy is made about five to ten times as long as it is run in the theater. It is generally the custom to take the comedy into the studio theater, and the film runs perhaps 18,000 to 20,000 feet long, then cut it down to perhaps 1,800 feet. Here is where the producer and his advisers take a chance. Sometimes the public laughs at the same things these moving-picture men do. In that case the picture is a success, as a laugh producer. Sometimes the public refuses to see the joke and—well, it don't take long to tell what happens to the picture:

Actors View Finished Film First.

Every comedy is always shown to all the people on the "lot"—actors, carpenters, property men, bathing girls, etc. But the producer doesn't always depend upon their laughs. Actors are too close to things to make good judges. The producer must depend on his own queer instinct for knowing what is funny. Very often he will ruthlessly chop out the film jokes which have earned the loudest meeting a successful dignified man of big affairs.

Like most such men they are simple, unaffected and with a rather attractive bashfulness. Strange to say, most of them have a horror of having their pictures taken. Like most successful business men they give special care to their physical fitness. It is a curious fact, that with these laugh producers, like nearly every prominent public man whose life is a storm of terrific effort, they turn to sleuth stories for relaxation.

Hard Work to Make People Laugh.

"All through the motion-picture industry—or art, if you prefer, the men who make the audiences giggle are known as "sure fire directors." Their percentage of success is so high as to be a topic of talk among the men of the film vocation.

Lloyd Ingraham, another laugh producing director, was asked the other day what was the prime requisite for success in the writing of funny stories and the making of laughing films?

"A sense of humor," he responded without a moment's hesitation, "assuming, of course, that the technical ability is not lacking. Perhaps I should not say a sense of humor, but rather the ability to impart it to one's work. There are certain situations that, among playmakers, are proverbially successful in gaining the audiences' favor. They are called hoakum in stage patter. But these can not al-his mental pleasure. Surprise is the main element in humor; you don't laugh at a joke if you see it coming—only if it overtakes you unawares, and surprise being obviously a strong factor in gripping drama, it is logical to expect humor-surprise to give a double strength and appeal to a play.

"It has come to be a maxim of play-making that you must have 'comedy relief.' That's only another way of saying that audiences will only take so much of the serious as the comical will make palatable.

"It is only trite to observe that comedy is the hardest thing to impart. It's the most difficult form of drama to write and the hardest to act. Therefore the slothful actor or director will avoid effort along that line; he will follow the line of least resistance and try to make up for a deficiency in humor with slam-bang melodrama, as if he were trying to throw up a smoke screen to hide him from the disfavor of audiences.

Humorous Drama Has Great Pulling Power.

"The great war, with its load of tragic thoughts on the mind of humanity, brought these truths to the front as never before. A distraught world craved the relief of fun, and soon exhibitors found that drama with humor in it, or out-and-out comedy, had greater pulling power than anything else. So now we are trying to meet this demand and, my advice to directors and producers who are young in the game is to cultivate their sense of humor and the ability to weave it into the fabric of their work for the screen."

Physical torture is, oftentimes necessary during the construction of a comedy which is expected to produce one, or more laughs. Family rows are good mirth producers, especially when the situation is out of the ordinary. Recently the writer was witnessing a rehearsal being staged just before the final filming of a scene, and here is what he heard:

"Please really fight me," implored the villain.

"Life is just one picture after another,"—Lola Wilson.

PROPOSED SCHEDULE TO BE SUBMITTED TO THE ADMINISTRATION

Officials of the Fort Worth & Denver railroad, it was stated Saturday, have agreed that the changes proposed by the traffic committee of the Chamber of Commerce to be applied to the passenger schedule between this city and Fort Worth are practical and necessary.

W. Chatham, head of the traffic department of the chamber, laid the proposed schedule, which would provide five trains daily to and from Fort Worth, before officials of the road Friday. After spending the morning examining the schedule, these officials expressed the opinion that the changes would be of material assistance in reducing congestion here. The new schedule will be referred at once to the railroad administration, and it is believed favorable action on its adoption will follow.

Chatham also is hopeful that the next fortnight will see the freight embargo on Wichita Falls lifted. It is possible even now to get almost any shipment through unless it has to be accepted first from a railroad not entering this city.

STELLIK AND BABER BUY FIFTY-ONE LOTS HIGHLAND ADDITION

Stellick & Baber have closed a deal for the purchase of 51 lots in the Highland Heights addition from the Highland Irrigation Company. The lots are situated near the school building in this addition. The consideration was $25,000.

It is the plan of Stellick & Baber to place these lots on the market at once, selling them for small cash payments and deferred payments in installments.

The purchase makes this firm the owners of 125 lots in the city.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

In some of the states of Mexico, women vote on all matters except the election of president.

The first woman to be in the German cabinet is Frau Meta Kraus-Fassel, minister of the people's welfare.

Orangetown, New York, has a new Republican town clerk, Mrs. Helen Essex.

A petition asking that the peace treaty be ratified at once has been sent to President Wilson and the Senate by the Philadelphia chapter of the War Mothers of America.

Because of the demand for pelts for women's garments, fox farms for the cultivation of the blue fox are maintained on islands along the coast of Alaska.

The total number of women employed on railroads under federal control was $24 at the last census, July 1, since which time there has been a decrease in the number owing to their places being filled by returned service men.

Many women are now holding important public positions in Switzerland among them being two judges, nine barristers, three engineers and a number of university professors and doctors.

The queen of Spain is said to be proud of her reputation as the "best dressed queen in Europe" and added to it while in London by purchasing nearly $100,000 worth of fur garments.

The Rosine home, in Philadelphia, for 73 years an asylum for unfortunate girls, has been obliged to close its doors for lack of financial help. It was founded in 1846 by Mira Townsend, a Quakeress.

A new department is being instituted at the Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania to be known as the department of preventive medicine. Its aim is to train young women as health doctors and health educators.

The Women's Service Section of the railroads under federal control has outstanding instructions that, because of the heavy character of the work, women shall not be employed in station parcel rooms, as section laborers or truckers.

A post-graduate school in domestic science, offering a four months' course in lunch and tearoom management and medical dietetics, has been opened in Philadelphia. Home-cooked luncheon and dinner will be served to the public at reasonable prices as part of the training under the direction of Miss Helen M. Weaver.

One result of the eight years of revolution in Mexico has been the emancipation of women along certain unusual lines. Thousands of women are serving as armed, fighting soldiers in both federal and rebel armies and at least one woman, Margarita Neri, has maintained herself as the head of a considerable force of revolutionists in Southern Mexico since 1911.

Princess Louise, daughter of the late King Leopold II of Belgium, is reputed to be the richest woman in Austria for the 5,000,000 francs which she inherited after many difficulties have more than doubled because of the rapidly falling value of Austrian coin.

The Catholic Party in Italy, which has been opposed to granting suffrage to women has announced a new policy and will hereafter vote in favor of franchise for women. The party now says 12,000,000 women are fit for the vote in Italy, their political education having been developed during the war.

Word has come to Washington that the Japanese government has decided to cease issuing passports to these "picture brides."

Japanese children begin to study jiu-jitsu in their earliest years, for it is a system of physical culture, hygiene and ethics, besides being a form of self-defense and offense. A series of exercises to give strength and flexibility to the limbs are first taught; later the pupil is shown the fine art of using an adversary's strength against himself, which is the real principle of jiu-jitsu.

VERNON PARTIES BRING BACK EVIDENCE OF MEMPHIS STRIKE

By A. C. McCONNELL.
 VERNON, TEN., Jan. 3. — Vernon parties returning from Memphis brought back barrels of black crude oil extracted from the well of the Home People's company on the Barnett tract in Hall county. These parties vouch for the report that the well is standing in 100 feet of oil and considered authentic. The well is 1,500 feet and seepage of oil into the hole is credited for the find. It is said the drill penetrated no sand of paying qualities. No estimate has been made yet as to the extent of the find, as a test yet will have to be made. The bit was broken off in the shaft, which will have to be extracted before the outcome of the well can be determined. A 10-inch bit was being used. For many years oil seepage has been noticed in many parts of the Panhandle, especially along the banks of the Red and Pease rivers, and quite often gas bubbles are prominent. Oil being dipped from this well is no doubt seepage being fed from pools along the river. Great excitement exists at Memphis and oil men from all parts are flocking to the town. The Home People's company is backed by prominent Memphis citizens. The Coble well on their holdings of 15,000 acres south of Memphis is attracting the interest of the fraternity, interest being heightened on account of discovery of oil in the Home People's test. An excellent red shale was penetrated at the 1,000-foot mark on the Coble test, and E. J. Young, the field manager, a driller of experience, states he never before received as much encouragement as is promised by the Coble test. Samples of oil from the Home well were brought to Vernon by R. S. Darius and is on exhibition at the Vernon Oil exchange. The Liberty Test. The test of the Liberty Oil and development company, within only a few hundred feet of the big well on the Piper tract, was not successful in picking up the prolific Piper sand and has been abandoned at a depth of 2,250 feet as dry. This news was disappointing to the fraternity as they anticipated highly that the Liberty would find the Piper sand, as it was seen up against the Piper big well. The hole had been worked very industriously, going through two small paying sands in the hope of making a big producer, but the bit only went through small sands into salt water. Manager P. H. Robinson states the test is thorough and he is satisfied this particular spot is not oil bearing. Being section 25, block 13, on the Smith farm. The Home Oil Refining company lays rigs on the ground for three additional tests on the Waggoner ranch, south of Vernon. Three tests are going down, and rigs and locations being made for 12 in all. The Home company has leased a portion of their holdings to foreign operators, who will commence drilling on the lease. Considerable of this acreage being subleased carries a drilling contract. The Big Waggoner Oil company has topped their test on the Katherine Waggoner farm in the forks of the Red and Pease rivers. W. B. Beck's of the Home Oil Refining company is superintending drilling operations. The Neal-Hamilton test on Red river near Down, continues to hold the attention of the fraternity. Following a showing a two weeks ago, they again had an excellent showing at a depth of 1,200 feet, which has made the test popular. The latest showing included both oil and gas, though in small quantities. However, the gas showing was sufficient to throw bits of mud out of the top of the boiler when it arrived at the top of the hole. The company is still drilling, hoping to make an extension of the Burk-Waggoner field. All tests shut down for the holidays have resumed operations with bright hopes of opening a field in two different places in the county. Two dry holes out of over 100 drilling has not in the least caused enthusiasm to lay, and leasing activity is brisk as ever, with new companies entering the field. Put yourself in their place!

YOU may think you read about other people when you read fiction—but really important, really great writers simply hold the mirror up to nature. They show you the man or woman you are—that you think you are—that you'd like to be—or that you're glad you are not. Look through these little glimpses of Cosmopolitan stories; then get the December number and—put yourself in the place of these people.

Do you love power more than honor?

Of course you don't. But put yourself in the place of the man who could be forfeiting honor, have founded a kingdom, gained the love of the most beautiful woman in Kashmir and lived happily thereafter "forgetful of the world and by the world forgot." This is the theme of the vibrant, colorful story by William Ashley Anderson in December Cosmopolitan.

If your son wanted to marry Nan?

The father was called The Laird of Tye. He loved his son more than he loved anyone else in the world. Donald loved his father and he loved Nan of The Sawdust Pile, too. An interesting triangle. Put yourself in the place of Hector McKaye, Donald or Nan. You can learn much about yourself and them in Peter B. Kyne's great novel appearing in Cosmopolitan.

After the ceremony

Alone at last in a rural retreat he left his young bride for a moment. Then the other woman appeared on the scene with a diabolical scheme worthy of a woman scorned. She met the bride, told her everything and then—the scene between husband and wife and—the other woman. Bride—husband—other woman; if you were either of the three, how would you have handled the situation? The story is by Albert Payson Terhune and it's in December Cosmopolitan.

Suppose you were this doctor?

You are an aristocratic doctor. Your daughter is a sweet, charming girl for whom you have great hopes. Jim is your chauffeur. The only things in Jim's favor are good character, industry, talent, personality and presence. But he's poor. Sort of a modern setting for an old-fashioned situation. What would YOU have done about it if you'd been the doctor? Probably the same as Dr. Berrian did in Josephine Daskam Bacon's story in December Cosmopolitan.

Anetta the Third was not a queen

Queens don't work in shoe shops and yearn to be cabaret dancers. In fact, Anetta was of extremely lowly parentage, but she was pretty and wilful, as girls sometimes are, so she became a dancer. Then, later, she had to make a decision of some moment—she made it—but what would YOU have done in her place? Interesting speculation will follow a reading of Ida M. Evans' story in December Cosmopolitan.

Would you have been afraid?

Where? Oh, anywhere there's anything to be afraid of. Probably you would, and you wouldn't know why. That's for science to find out and explain to you. Science has found it and in "Fear Devils" Harvey O'Higgins tells you all about it. He also tells how anger causes hay fever and a lot of other interesting and important things that may cause you to change your ways of thinking. Read his remarkable article in December Cosmopolitan.

REDUCTION IN WHEAT ACREAGE

What with the excessive and continued rains through the summer and fall, preventing first the breaking of the sod and then the sowing of the seed, the winter wheat crop of Texas next summer will fall far short of what it was the last.

The main factor in bringing about this reduction has been, of course, the untoward weather conditions, as the bureau suggests. But there are other factors that are not negligible—the dissatisfaction with the guaranteed price, the spectacle of unusually high-priced cotton and the heavy losses endured by many in crop damage after it had been cut and shocked, to mention some of them.

The greatest reduction in the acreage has been in the North and Central Texas black land belt, where only 23 per cent of the area sown in wheat last year is in that crop this. In the Panhandle and upper plains sections, where weather conditions have been more favorable and where climatic and other conditions are unusually favorable to wheat, the reduction has not been so marked, with 65 per cent of the acreage of last year, and this has helped bolster up the showing of the whole state. Weather conditions have caused a general reduction in wheat acreage over the United States, for the total in 1919 was 50,489,000 acres against 57,770,000 for 1918.

The possibility of a bumper wheat crop in 1920 is remote, although weather conditions and insects are factors which often unset calculations based solely on total acreage.

A department of agriculture bulletin notes that when the Hereford bull Point Comfort No. 17, from the South, won the grand championship of that breed at the International Livestock Exposition in 1913, "many Northern people felt that the occurrence was a fluke. Often it was not likely to be repeated often."

Victor Berger's denunciation of the American Legion is one of the highest compliments that organization has received. The ideas and ideals of Berger and the Legion are antithetical; it is the Legion's sturdy Americanism, its demand that none but real Americans be entrusted with power in the affairs of the country, that has aroused Berger's antagonism, for carrying out of that demand means the ostracism of Berger and his kind, their ouster from places of influence.

A newspaper man over at Denton, the "Events and Comments" editor of the Record-Chronicle, is in trouble in deep. He was critically commented on a New York World classified advertisement which read: "Wanted, a girl who is bowlegged, and understood to say that they might get replies to an ad like that in New York, but there is none such in Denton."

The Dallas city commission has granted an extension of time for the announcement of the two interurban routes to be built out of that city under the franchise agreement of three years ago. The extension was given because it was believed by May 1 it would be possible to have the Dallas-Wichita Falls interurban route definitely located and financed, so the commission might determine whether it preferred two thirty-mile interurban or one 130-mile line to Wichita Falls, the latter being accepted in fulfillment of the traction company's contract to build the two-thirty-mile roads.

The steers have been driven into the corral, the branding irons, which were to replace the girl's brand with their own, were in the fire, the first steer had been thrown, one of the gang sitting on his head, another holds his hind legs, while a third prepares to apply the iron.

Into this scene "High Pockets" comes with drawn gun, compels the steers to release the animals, put out the fire and march ahead of him to the cowboy judge's home. Here they are forced to purchase for a handsome figure what they desired to steal.

Although the hero in the story did not accomplish any physical danger in the filming of this scene, the impression of the danger he is supposed to run, registers strongly on the screen; and the courage which we associate with our ideals of heroes is conveyed through Louis Benetton's acting.

When that is conveyed on the screen, the appeal to man's nobler qualities is indubitably registered, and the motion picture finds its justification.

Automobile News

Car Owner Should Know Organization Behind His Auto

The character of the organization behind his car is of great importance to the automobile owner, says Mr. Cochran, local dealer in Chevrolet passenger and commercial.

Everyone knows that an automobile should be regarded as an investment—that it should be bought with a view to the return the purchaser will receive on his money. But that is not enough.

In order to make a really intelligent investment, the investor should know not only the representative through whom he buys his securities, but he should investigate thoroughly the enterprise in which he invests his money.

He should find out, first, how that enterprise regards its obligations to the buying public, and, second, how it is equipped to carry out these obligations.

All this is as true of automobiles as it is of securities. In order to obtain the greatest satisfaction from an automobile, the purchaser should investigate the record of progress made by the leading automobile companies.

The increase in sales will show him the satisfaction the product is giving to other purchasers. The manufacturing facilities and the financial resources of the manufacturer indicate ability to continue this sort of satisfaction and to increase it.

The money which the manufacturer is spending to improve facilities of his business for insuring satisfaction is a sure sign of the kind of service that is included with each car sold.

The greater the organization behind a car, the bigger its reputation, the less it can afford to take the slightest risk with the satisfaction of its customers, and the more its every effort will be devoted to fulfilling a high ideal of service to them.

CLARENCE K. DODGE WITH McFALL BROS.

McFalls Brothers, dealers in Dodge Brothers motor vehicles, announce the appointment of Clarence K. Dodge to the position of assistant sales manager. Mr. Dodge is a native of this city and has a host of friends who are confident he will have a remarkable sales campaign during 1926. He was recently mustered out of military service, having served in the motor transport service overseas.

Haynes Automobile as a Prize Winner Attracts Attention

The fact that the Haynes automobile won two first prizes in the Dallas Automobile show, which was held with remarkable success a couple of weeks ago, is considered by C. W. Nolen of Nolen-Stringer company, local Haynes dealer, one of the best indications of the attention the models of "the first car in America" is attracting in competition with the highest priced cars in the country.

The judges' decision gave first honors to the Haynes four-passenger model in the class of open cars of from $3,000 to 5,000 and to the Haynes sedan in the $4,000 to $10,000 class.

The show at Dallas, which was attended by Mr. Nolen met with very enthusiastic approval of the dealer and the general public, he says, and the opportunity of seeing all of the latest models of every make and price was widely recognized.

The cars in the prize contests were driven by charming and beautiful debutantes of the social season in Dallas and the creations of the master automobile designers were very strikingly rivaled by the beauties of nature and enhanced by the latest styling.

Just in passing it might not be a bad idea for Wichita Falls to put on a similar show—for goodness knows, this city does not lack "the beauties" to Dallas or any other place in either fine cars or keen looking girls. Am I right?

Goes to Dallas to Accept a Position As Auto Salesman

L. M. Cregor, sales manager of McFalls Brothers, dealers in Dodge Brothers motor vehicles, is leaving Wichita Falls to accept a responsible position with the Keith Pittman Motor company of Dallas, dealers for Lexington and Winton automobiles, and Republic trucks. Mr. Cregor has been connected with the automobile sales for several years, he having sold the first Dodge Brothers car in El Paso while acting as sales manager of the Lone Star Motor company, and although he has only been in this city for six months he has made many firm friends both in a social and business way, who will hate to see him leave.

Mr. Cregor was among the first of the fraternity to answer the call for volunteers when this country entered the war and was assigned to the staff of the Seventy-ninth division. He was later moved to the divisional motor transport corps and witnessed some of the heaviest fighting in the St. Mihiel and Argonne-Meuse drives. While in the service his rise was rapid and when he was mustered out of the army he held the rank of major.

A host of good wishes will follow Mr. Cregor to his new position and all of the local people with whom he came in contact are confident he will achieve success in the new field.

CHARLES GREENBERG HAS "ANNIVERSARY MODEL" OF APPERSON MANUFACTURE

The Apperson Sales company announce the sale of a seven-passenger "anniversary model" Apperson Eight to Charles Greenberg of this city. This agency has several of the class cars both in the "tourabout" and the seven-passenger models for immediate delivery and are anxious to demonstrate the qualities of this car. It is believed the difficulty the agency has experienced in the past year in securing sufficient cars to supply the trade will be dissipated early this year, as the big company has greatly increased their capacity in the past few months.

The great selling point, Mr. Reece of this firm declared, of the Apperson is the good reputation of Apperson Brothers and the reliability of the financial structure of this industry. "You buy more than a mere automobile when you get an Apperson," Mr. Reece said, "for with the car goes the personal guarantee of the manufacturer, backed up by a lifelong reputation."

And in the Apperson," he further remarked, "you have a car that not only is beautiful in design but that stands the gaff," as they say, and gives a man real service.

If your tank should become slightly dented, it is not necessary to send the car to the repair shop. The dent in the tank can be removed by soldering a tire valve to the filler cap and then pump air into the tank, mean while tapping lightly around the edges of the dent with a leather mallet. The pressure of the air in the tank will push the dent out, even with the rest of the surface with the help of the mallet taps.

Drivers who persist day in and day out running their cars along at a 25-mile clip, over small ruts, stones, etc., probably do not realize that it causes the car to suffer untold punishment and that every vital and moving part of the motor and mechanism receives the impact of a blow of from nine to 10 tons in force. If more care were taken in motor car driving, cars would stand up longer and repair bills would be brought down to a minimum.

Every lost grease cup means that some part of the mechanism about the car is in danger. A preventative against such danger is the use of cups with locked cups.

A pound of India rubber scraps heated and mixed with a half pound of grease and a half pound of graphite is an excellent anti-rust lubricant for the leaves of springs.

In crowded traffic do not apply the brakes suddenly unless it is absolutely necessary. It may be that the vehicle in the rear cannot stop as quickly as you can.

Automobile tires wear better and longer in the cold winter months than they do in the warm days of summer. In this one particular, at least, the cost of keeping up a car is less in winter than in summer.

Seventy-five per cent of the results bills paid by motorists are necessitated by the lack of proper lubrication of cars. Inefficient lubrication is owing to two main causes—imattention and the use of inferior lubricants.

Great care should be taken in re-wiring a motor from a stranded wire as there is a danger of cutting away the fine strands. These are so small that it is an easy matter to slice five or six inches off with insulation. Each of these strands does its share in carrying the current to the lamp.

Noise in the driving levels of the rear axle is commonly caused by poor adjustment, allowing too little or too much backlash. Bevel gears in use today have a method of adjusting the depth of the mesh obtained either by moving the whole differential unit sideways or by moving of the driving piston.

In descending long, steep hills, if the brakes are applied so that the wheels cannot turn, the car is apt to slide in a most precarious manner. Under such conditions tire chains with cross chains on every link and a transmission brake form the best method of descent.

To prevent the hardening of inner tubes when they are stored for the winter, place them in hot water once a month or six weeks. They should be immersed for at least two minutes and then should be carefully dried and partly inflated before being hung up again. This treatment serves to keep the rubber pliable and soft.

It is a very good plan to shift the cross links of the tire chains from time to time. That is, move them so that they do not depend on the same link of the main chain all the time. The wear and tear on the tire chain centers at the links to which the cross chains are attached, and for this reason moving them from time to time spreads the wear.

If the gasoline level is too high the carburetor will be flooded, while if it is too low there will be a tendency toward lean mixture and difficulty starting. For satisfactory operation it is important that the carburetor float be adjusted so that the gasoline level is about one thirty-second of an inch below the outlet of the lowest nozzle.

Avoid running in the car tracks on rainy days. In wet weather a car in the tracks is liable to skid when an attempt is made to turn out from the tracks and there is danger of striking another vehicle that might be standing between the tracks and the curb on the opposite side from which you intend to go. An inexperienced driver usually puts on more gas when he tries to turn from the tracks which is dangerous. Always slow down your motor before turning out.

The distributor head of the electrical system needs careful attention when not in use. It should be cleaned and the current to pass across from one terminal to another, with precipitation as a result. The track of the distributor head should always be kept clean and touched up from time to time with a kerosene soaked rag. This will prevent it becoming dirty and will keep the motor button from sticking and cutting.

RAISES QUESTION OF AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE AS NOW CALCULATED

In an interview with C. H. Hardeman of the Locomobile-Cole company, he brought out the very interesting fact that the basis by which automobile insurance premiums are figured on is obviously wrong, and he believes that the Underwriters Laboratory is now working to correct this.

At present, the Underwriters Laboratory is based on the list price of the car, and have to pay a higher premium than the cheaper cars, and the higher priced cars, such as the Locomobile, Packard and Pierce Arrow, whereas a thief will not steal a high priced car readily as one of the very cheap makes as he has no means of a quick turnover for his theft. The locking device on the Locomobile is also an additional protection against a thief.

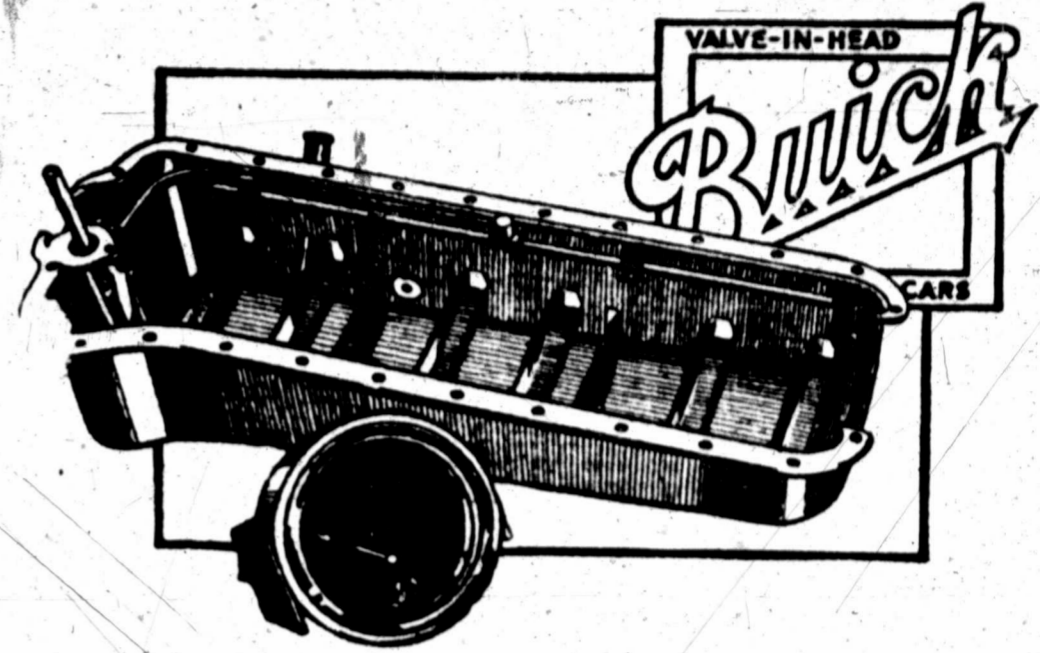

Only one Locomobile has been stolen to his knowledge in the past eight years, and that was easily recovered. The majority of stolen cars are Ford's, yet the premium on the Locomobile based on the list price is just about 20 times the basis of the premium on the theft of a Ford.

Mr. Hardeman further stated that: "I believe the Underwriters' laboratories will soon go very thoroughly into this, and have a separate rate on each make of car which will be fair to the policy holder."

There are some 5,000 points in the automobile which should be taken into consideration and credits given or rejected, just as a life insurance company examines its risks individually. The collision hazards in the Locomobile is obviously very slight, on account of the excellent brakes of this car, which our company spends a very large amount of money on that other concerns might think unnecessary. The mounting of these brakes on distance rods gives the car a greater traction, and the owners the best control possible, to prevent collision. The use of distance rods on the Locomobile cars secures great protection on rainy days and prevents cars from skidding as much as they would ordinarily, and as this is an expensive protection, the makers should enjoy a deduction in the premium for this expenditure. The double brake drum on the Locomobile gives an added factor of safety by air cooling the brake and insuring a quick stop. The benefit derived by the customer by this system of drive and brakes is that his car responds instantly and does not crash into the car in front of him. The insurance company will take this hazard into consideration.

The material which the gasoline tank is made-out of obviously reduces hazard as a steel tank will rust, spilling the gasoline, whereas lead coated,terne plate, such as the Locomobile company use, will not rust, and the excellent protection offered by this being carried at the rear prevents other cars from running into the tank, and spilling the very inflammable gasoline, very often causing fire.

The Buick Oiling System

The Buick Valve-in-Head Motor is Automatically Lubricated Thruout

The lubrication of the main bearings, wrist pin connecting rod bearings and pistons is a combination splash and pump system, with an oil pressure gauge on the dash and a gauge on the crank case.

The oil pump is self-thawing and so constructed that should there be any water in the oil in cold weather causing the pump to freeze up, the self-thawing apparatus of the Buick oil pump will automatically thaw it out quickly, eliminating the possibility of injury to the pump.

The Ease of the Chalmers Engine Has a Story

WHEN you sit behind the wheel of a present day Chalmers you will long remember the rare ease of its engine.

It responds to the slightest call without effort. At high speed you are conscious of no great activity under the bonnet. But you roll along with a certain comfort of mind that is comparable only when you lag along at slow speed and note no "breaking," no "missing," no jerky action—but a quickness, a silence that is smooth and expressive of high efficiency.

There's a story back of this. Most troubles in a car come from vibration. In a Chalmers there is so little vibration as to be negligible.

Its crank shaft and reciprocating parts are balanced to a fraction of an ounce, both static and in motion.

More than this, Hot Spot vaporizes the raw gasoline into a "fog," and Ram's-horn supplies each cylinder with an even "charge."

This provides double insurance against vibration, and generates an ease of action not often found in a motor car.

Once you experience this you, too, will say Chalmers is one of the few great cars of the world.

INTEREST IN DEVELOPMENTS LARGELY CONFINED TO SECTION ALONG TEXAS SIDE RIVER BED

Operations along the Texas side of the Red River bed, both in semi-proven and wildcat territory, stretching from the section opened up by the General well, and the Burk-Senator and Burk-let locations close to the Wilbarger county line, featured the Wichita county operations during the week just closed. While the report that the Hightower Oil Company had finished setting casing in their No. 1 Roberts, three quarters of a mile northwest of the General well, and were preparing to drill in as soon as pipe line connections and tanks were available, was the most interesting development of the week in this section, the reports of several other wells in this section on the sand and preparing to set casing, together with the list of drilling activities, rises up and new locations made both in the General territory and in wildcat territory further northeast conclusively show the interest of the operators in this section of the county, and indicate that the section will get a thorough test.

As for the Hightower well, latest reports were as to the bailing of the hole clean, and to the effect that the bailing had brought to 10 feet of oil into the hole.

In the General neighborhood of the McDowell and Cline No. 1 Roberts, located on a bluff about 1,000 feet from the General well, it is reported on the sand and ready to set casing. The depth of the well has not been given.

The Roberts and Hill and Crude Oil Marketing Co. Roberts, north of the Hightower well in lot 4, block 820, is also reported about to set casing.

The Burk-Senator river bed well, which has been down for many weeks on account of the Texas-Oklahoma receivership controversy, and the accompanying legal difficulties, is reported rigging up to swab, it being the reported intention of the Texas receiver, who is in possession, to put both this and the Burk-let into the producing cause as soon as possible. The Burk-let Oil Co. No. 1 State lands, north of block 820, is reported drilling around 1400 feet, and the No. 2 of this concern is rigging up.

The Burknett Vanclaire Oil Co. No. 1 Roberts in block 820, was rigging up early in the week, and is probably now down two or three hundred feet if all favorable operating conditions have been met with Porter and Watson, in their No. 1 Allen, Block 821, are reported drilling below 200 feet.

The Utah Colorado Oil Co. has the derrick up for its No. 1 Roberts in block 820. The General Oil Co. has made a location for its No. 3 Sparks. The No. 2 is still a derrick, weather and the holidays having delayed operations here.

Wood & Cunningham's No. 1 T. P. Roberts in lot 7, block 820, is reported a derrick.

In the south part of block 821, Cooper and Lipscomb's No. 1 Allen 2,600 feet. The Howe Drilling Co. No. 1 Allen, in block 821, lot 13 of the Specht Colony subdivision, is reported to have a rotary rigged up. In lot 18, Smecht colony, block 822, the Rice Oil Co., which started its operations some time ago, is reported down below 880 feet in its No. 1 Allen.

Lewis & Milton, No. 1 Allen, lot 21, Specht colony subdivision, block 822, south and west of the General well, is drilling around 850 feet, with the No. 2 rigged up.

East of these blocks, which have come into more prominence due to the recent developments, in block 819, the White Oil and Gas Co.'s No. 1 Holtzen, which is in the same block with the Skyline test, which has to this time failed to come up to early expectations as to becoming a producer, is reported shut down for fuel around 1650 feet.

East and north, beyond the bend of the Red River, two more state lands wells are reported. The O. C. Graves No. 1 State lands, north of block 98, being reported drilling just above 1600 feet, after having come through a dry sand at 1550, and the Gilbert True, No. 1 State lands, also north of block 98, as having set its 6 1/2 casing.

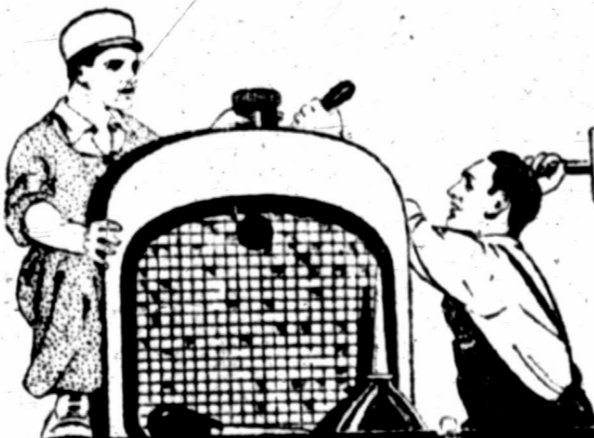

West along the river, from the General section to the Wilbarger county line, there are a number of wildcat wells which are coming in for close attention. Chief among these is the Lesk & McClain, No. 1 D. J. Bonham, in block 578 Waggoner colony lands, five and a half miles north of the Rywaters lease at Electra, which had a small gas showing at 1500 feet. This circumstance has drawn especially close attention to this test

BOYS

Are you desirous of earning money while attending school? Do you not think it pretty nice to have a pay envelope passed around to you on every Monday afternoon? And also, did you know that it only requires an hour or so of work each afternoon after school to draw this pay envelope?

Now boys we have the finest proposition out, and it is this: We have openings all along for route carriers. You can either take over the route on the independent system, which would net you a good income every month, or draw a weekly salary on same. If you are not a hustler and don't mean business we do not want you, but if you are willing to work what little time you have to put in and willing to do your best for your own good and for our good, you are the boy we want and the one to whom we are going to exert our every effort to help succeed. This work is all easy and very helpful in securing a business training.

Think it over boys and then come right down to the Times office and let me further explain this proposition to you.

PREPARING DATA TO SUBMIT TO CONGRESS URGING NEW BUILDING

Data is being prepared by the Chamber of Commerce in connection with the campaign to obtain an appropriation of $1,000,000 for the construction of a federal building in Wichita Falls. The matter will come up for hearing in Washington on January 15, at which time a number of influential citizens will represent this city before the House committee.

The data being collected by the Chamber includes a great many photographs of interior scenes in the local business with the present limited working space.

Congressman Lucien Parrish has written several letters to prominent business men here stating his belief that a new federal building will be given to Wichita Falls, and urging this city to be well represented when the matter comes up for hearing.

HOUSTON REPORT ON GULF COAST WEATHER

HOUSTON, TEX., Jan. 2.—Winds on the Texas coast: Light to moderate easterly.

Highway bulletin: Automobiles will have fair weather with nearly normal temperatures today and warmer than normal Sunday. Groesbeck and Bellville report highways passable in their sections, but rough and through journeys may not be made in all directions, except that heavy cars should avoid Magnolia road and bridge at Spring Creek, which is in dangerous condition.

OVER 3000 PICTURES ARE SUBMITTED IN THE MAXWELL CONTEST

"It looks like the old colonel took in too much territory," remarked S. Howard, local Maxwell dealer, after reading a long telegram from the judges committee yesterday.

In rendering their decision, he continued, "a difficult one, that was duly agreed upon after six hours of serious and, at times, heated deliberation, the judges not only salute the little western girl from the Smelter city of Hefle but unanimously agree that Colonel Stanley's judgment is seriously to be reckoned with."

Had he been content to claim the honor for his favorite, limiting his romantic empire to the Pacific slope, indeed, as far east as the Mississippi, the colonel, as the final ballot showed, would have received the endorsement of the committee. But his ambitions were sweeping, and when he said "twenty thousand miles," which included 27 states, his challenge produced a tangle of competition.

Over 3,000 pictures were received up to the closing hour from Hawaii, the District of Columbia, and every state in the Union. To keep the contest thoroughly within the limits of the motor world, the judges were from four of the leading automotive magazines, as follows: Frank Roche, publisher, "Automobile Topics"; L. P. Tartanous, editor, "Motor"; P. M. Jopp, automotive editor, "Popular Motor"; and E. L. Hodges, art director, "Motor Life."

Each of the foregoing carefully considered the great display of photographs, until finally 15 pictures were laid upon a table for special consideration. All but four were gradually eliminated, each one of which was stoutly supported by a respective member of the committee. An hour passed, and the same four remained on even terms. At length a genuine deadlock prevailed and at the end of the fourth hour it was agreed to call in a qualified critic whose decision would be without appeal.

"Clea Phillips, the eminent artist, whose American girl types age so strikingly handsome and wholesome, was extended an invitation and accepted. Before him were laid pictures of these four pretty candidates: Miss Elizabeth Hawkins, Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Ellen Anderson, St. Louis, Mo.; Miss Anna Altman, Syracuse, N. Y.; and Miss Hilda Ketterer, East Orange, N. J., from whom the judges refused to proclaim one superior to the other.

Falling to win over any of the four individual judges to a compromise, Mr. Phillips eventually gave the singular honor to Miss Anna Altman of Syracuse, a brunette type, whose features, according to the artist-judge, were beautifully regular and the nearest to a perfect picture of all submitted.

Following the verdict, the first statement of the committee was that not only comely features, but effective photography had to be considered in the deliberation. In many cases the girl herself, if present, may have by her charms, intelligence and personality, overwhelmed the men at the table. But in such a great national contest as this, where photographs are the only evidence available or possible, it was to be expected that the judges may have overlooked many beautiful girls who had been poorly represented by the camera.

"Every picture in this contest came through a Maxwell dealer. It has attracted widespread attention throughout the United States. To each photograph was given the same individual attention and while there is never a unanimous concurrence on a subject where so much friendly partisanship prevails, the judges were capacious, representative and eminently fair, making their decision the final word."

"Personally," concluded Mr. Bennett, "I concur with the judges, but still believe that Wichita Falls has the most beautiful girls in America."

The first aim of the National Bank of Commerce is to facilitate the business transactions of its customers, to be conservative as well as progressive, and to keep pace with the growing requirements of its community.

Do You Know Hudson

But Through Sheer Merit Alone Essex Made Its Thirty Million Dollar Sales Record

Builds the Essex?

Essex success has not been accidental. No one doubts its right to the position it holds.

On the Cincinnati Speedway, a stock chassis Essex set the world 50-hour endurance mark, of 3037 miles, under American Automobile Association supervision. Another stock Essex holds the unequalled 24-hour road mark of 1061 miles.

But how many know why Essex in its first year revealed qualities more mature, more evident of the influence of long experience, than is commonly found in cars even in their third and fourth year.

You will recall the Essex was announced one year ago without one word as to the identity of its builders. Not a claim was made for its performance.

You were asked to go look at it, take a ride and form your own opinion. The Essex was required to speak for itself.

Now that it has established itself, it is revealed why Essex has all the qualities of cars of long development.

Was Designed by Hudson Engineers

They conceived it as they developed the Super-Six. All they learned about endurance, they incorporated in the Essex.

They gave to the Essex the power that has made it famous in all quarters. Its speed is the result of what had been learned in making the Super-Six winner of all worth while speed records.

The Essex can never be all that the Super-Six is for they are totally different types.

But the Essex does bring quality and performance to a class field that was unknown.

The former owners of large costly cars that have adopted the Essex have not been Hudson users. They have come from other cars, cars that fall short of the Super-Six in all particulars save size and cost.

The Essex appeals to such users because of its nimbleness. They like the way its performance compares with that of the Super-Six. You can see this on every hand. The two cars in any community that are most prominent because of their performance ability are the Hudson Super-Six and the Essex.

Essex Did Not Need Hudson's Endorsement

Think of the advantages Essex has had. What ordinarily would have required years to perfect was made possible in the very first model.

That is why 20,000 are now running, why more than $30,000,000 was paid for Essex cars in ten months.

You have not needed the Hudson endorsement to understand Essex performance.

Essex has won its own way. Hudson gave it full benefit of the experience of its engineers and the ability of its manufacturing organization. Its name was not needed.

Now Hudson takes the same pride in acknowledging its kinship to Essex that a father might in speaking of his son who on his own account had made good.

The Two-Power Ranger of Today—The Product of Two Decades

Eighteen years as a manufacturer of motor vehicles have established the reputation of the Peerless Motor Car Company for producing the best that engineering design and mechanical accuracy can accomplish.

A decade ago the Big Peerless cars, selling as one of the highest priced makes on the market, were masterpieces of the coach-builders art and were equipped with motor power-plants which easily kept the Peerless in the lead.

The Peerless Eight of today is the result of nearly five years concentrated on the perfection of this eight cylinder model. It combines light weight, within the limits of safety, with roominess and distinctive appearance.

Its eight cylinder motor permits of a flexibility and lack of torsional vibration which are essential to great power and high speed.

The "Sporting" and "Loadling" ranges of the Two-Power Ranger have made the Peerless justly famous. A demonstration is a revelation.

K. M. A. EXTENSION WELL HAS REACHED A DEPTH OF 600 TWO GOOD WELLS ARE REPORTED IN FRANKELL VICINITY

The well being drilled by the K. M. A. Extension Oil Company south-west of the Kamp-Munger-Allen well has reached a depth of 600 feet. A good shallow showing of both oil and gas has been encountered but the well is to be finished as a deep test of this new territory before any effort is made to develop the shallow field which seems to exist in this locality.

The formations are running true to the predictions of the geologists who have examined this part of the field. With a continuation of good luck it is expected that the first well will be finished within two weeks.

Great interest is being shown in the test as evidenced by the large number of oil men who visit the well daily.

FRANKELL, TEX., Jan. 3.—Two more big oil wells have come in this week in the immediate vicinity of Frankell. The No. 1 Fletcher of the Vulcan Oil Company, two miles north-east of Frankell in section 28, block 6, is making 2,100 barrel a day after a heavy shut from a sand at 3,514 feet. The Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Company's Langford No. 1 made several flows over the derrick today from the top of the sand. This well is one mile southwest of Frankell in section 22 block 6. The Gulf Production Company's Crowley No. 1 in section 16 block 6 is making 4,500 barrels. It came in last week. This well is four miles northwest of Frankell.

These good wells in all directions from the new townsite have attracted a great deal of attention to the town and to the Wichita Falls, Ranger & Fort Worth Railroad. Now building through Stephens county and there is a clamor for completion of the track to Frankell. The contractors have promised to have the road in operation to this place by the first of February.

There are many drilling wells in the vicinity of Frankell and the uniformly good success that has been met with by operators here leads to the belief that the best new extension of the Stephens county field lies in this vicinity. The townsite of Frankell is leased by the Texas Co. and for the reason that one company on the lease it is not expected that the townsite will be drilled more closely than economic production of oil shall demand.

Its policy of friendly co-operation assures to National Bank of Commerce customers exactly the sort of banking service they need, precisely when they need it.

AMARILLO SECTION HAS 60 WELLS COMPLETED OR NOW BEING DRILLED

FRANKELL, TEX., Jan. 3.—Sixty wells that are either completed or drilling in a radius of 25 miles from Amarillo have stimulated interest in the gas field there until it is attracting a great deal of attention all over the oil and gas region of Texas. The latest of the big gassers at Amarillo is the No. 4 Masterson that has been gauged and is making 107,000,000 cubic feet a day. Other completed wells make from 3,000,000 cubic feet up to this figure, the newest Haggood well being credited with 100,000,000 cubic feet. The rock pressure in these wells is 480 pounds. They vary in depth from 1,600 to 2,500 feet. Slight showings of oil have been found in most of the wells and operators are confident that oil will yet be developed in this territory.

NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS OF DOUBLE F OIL COMPANY.

Request every stockholder in Double F Oil Company to be present in person. Very important business is to be brought up and it will demand your personal attention, rather than a proxy representation. F. F. Moore, Pres. 218-219.

MEMORIAL

THE NEW YEAR

The past year has been one of prosperity for everybody who has made the best of it so let us start the New Year by remembering those who have answered the call of all mortals to bequeath their last resting place as becomes our property.

WICHITA MARBLE & GRANITE WORKS.
406 Seventh A. G. Deatherage, Prop. Phone 440

SCULPTURE

Temple, Texas.
Dec. 2nd, 1919.

Mr. Citizen, what have you done to Texas? You have wasted its resources in riotous living. Fifty years ago this was a goodly land, with enough timber to last for generations. We have ruined the forests, the minerals, the soil, the fish and game, wasting almost as much as consumed. This association begs the serious attention of all patriotic Texans, in its exhibit of the destruction of the best timberland in pine, cedar, oak, mesquite, etc. Practically all of the big mills operating in virgin timber, will be gone in ten years for lack of material. After that, what? It is up to you, Mr. Citizen, to say if you want another timber crop. The present high price of lumber is but an index of what we shall have to pay in the not far distant future. We can no longer afford to ship in the bulk of our building material from far off Pacific coast and Canada. We can not afford to rob the women of the state of the little homes to which they are entitled. Texas future wealth, health and equable climatic conditions, as well as the happiness of our children, are now up to the people to preserve or destroy. The lumber cut of Texas has been running over one and a half billion board feet annually. Estimating the population at four million, and on a constant increase, we figure the consumption of lumber at 350 board feet per capita per annum. The original pine forests of Texas covered approximately fourteen million acres. The average now remaining in virgin forests is approximately three million. On the eleven million acres of cut land, a considerable amount is in cultivation, showing some good timber grown by farmers; however, with the best allowance possible, we estimate that the state is producing of second growth pine, less than one-third of what it consumes. It would produce more if properly managed and were it not for the annual forest fires that destroy the young timber. Add to the above figures of consumption, some hundred million board feet of timber, annually cut for railroad ties. Again add some five million cords of wood that will probably be consumed this year in Texas, at a cost of say $6 per cord. Think of that, Mr. Citizen. Do you grasp the figures? We are consuming each year, three times as much lumber as we grow. Every business man and woman knows what it means to consume both interest and capital. This association recommends as a remedy for this great evil, the inauguration of a state forest system, by acquiring immediately, one hundred thousand acres as a nucleus, to be added to from time to time. Such a state forest would act as an incentive for others to engage in the industry. At present it is not a paying investment for the private land owner. It would require four or five million acres in forest to supply the state's annual needs. Thirteen states have come to the above conclusion, with several million acres in state forests. This association desires to exploit this great enterprise and to tell the story of the forest in every part of the state. We need financial assistance. We need members for the moral backing, and whose dues will help to bear the expense of the message. All patriotic men and women are invited to become members. The annual dues are $1.00, life membership $25.00. We hope to tell the story on the movie screen and in every town in the state. We appeal to some public spirited man of means to furnish us with a few thousand dollars, so that this can be accomplished. This is home mission work and we need the helping hand from every man and woman. The officers and members of this association are giving their time and best efforts to the cause and without remuneration. We make this appeal to you, Mr. Citizen—will you join us in a united pull for a greater Texas?

SERVICE

Dictionary Definition: "Duty required or performed in any office—Labor, assistance or kindness to another, etc."

In business we understand the word "Service" to represent a quality of banking with the customer as the recipient and the Bank as the dispenser.

THEN WHAT IS SERVICE SERVICE is that quality of banking which is practiced by a bank, in that the Bank makes every endeavor to assist the customer; to anticipate his needs; to meet his requirements as they arise in the quickest and most economical way.

A BANK THAT HAS FOR ITS EXCUSE OF MERELY RECEIVING DEPOSITS, WITHOUT ANY THOUGHT OF SERVICE, IS DOOMED TO FAILURE. The ultimate success depends upon the extent of Service. This service demands that the business be dedicated to the progress and development of the community.
