

HARDING NOMINATED ON 10TH BALLOT

MARION, OHIO STAGES A BIG CELEBRATION OVER THE GREAT VICTORY FELLOW TOWNSMAN

HARDING IS ELATED OVER NOMINATION TO HEAD TICKET

Mrs. Harding's Interest in Price of Millin Falling

CHICAGO, June 12.—Caught at the hotel to which he rushed from the coliseum after his nomination, Senator Harding made no formal statement but declared he was "very happy" and "deeply grateful" to his friends.

The republican nominee showed plainly his elation when he emerged from his rooms with Mrs. Harding to face a battery of camera men.

"If you want to make Mrs. Harding look pleased," said the man whom the republican party had just conferred the greatest honor within its gift, "tell her something about the price of millinery coming down."

There was a burst of laughter in which Mrs. Harding joined and the camera clicked incessantly as the photographers adopted the suggestion.

Mrs. Harding was beaming with happiness. Asked for some comment upon her feeling as to the distinction given her husband by his fellow republicans, she said:

"I am tremendously pleased, of course. But I think my husband is worthy of this honor and I am content to be in the reflected light."

Leave for Washington.

Senator and Mrs. Harding were busy with preparations to enable them to catch a train leaving for Washington within a few hours. The senator has been up nearly all night in a round of conferences with party chiefs, which led to his nomination and today spent hours in the heat and strain at the coliseum while the battle from which he emerged a victor by overwhelming vote was being brought to its dramatic close.

The pleasure of the victory had relaxed the senator's strain, however, and the Ohio senator showed little evidence of it after he had bathed and put on fresh clothing.

MARION, O., June 12.—The little central Ohio city of nearly 36,000 people went wild with joy and enthusiasm tonight when it learned that one of its citizens, Warren G. Harding, had been nominated for the presidency by the republican national convention.

Minutes before it was announced officially at Chicago that Harding had been nominated, Marion started celebrating what it considered a sure thing. Factory whistles were sounded, church bells rung, and Harding's friends and neighbors gathered on the streets in shouting, laughing groups. No one was at the Harding home to receive the news.

Harding's father and sister, who live here, were the center of enthusiastic groups of townsmen who discussed excitedly the developments.

Father Elated.

The father, Dr. J. P. Harding, a practicing physician, received the news of the honor to his son on his 76th birthday. He seemed highly elated, as did his sister, Abigail Harding, who teaches English in the Marion school.

The elder Harding received the news without excitement. He declared he had not wanted his son to be nominated but now that he is nominated, he declared he would vote for him for president.

Earlier in the day, when Harding's nomination appeared in the papers, the father told intimate friends he hoped "Warren" would not be nominated, as so many presidents and men in high office are assassinated. Nevertheless, Dr. Harding appeared to be the happiest man in the world tonight.

Mrs. Harding was with her husband at Chicago when the nomination was made.

The Hardings have no children.

Senator Harding is a successful newspaper publisher.

Newspaperman.

Since 1884 he has owned and published the Marion Star. He has been in newspaper work since he was 19. When in Marion he spends his time in the active management of the paper. He is a practical printer and delights in spending hours in his composing room managing type.

He began his newspaper work on the Marion Mirror, a democratic newspaper, at $9 a week salary, and was discharged from the staff during the Blaine campaign because his sympathies were with Blaine and because he insisted on wearing the high hat of the Blaine partisans.

The republican presidential nominee was born on November 2, 1862, at Blooming Grove, Morrow county, Ohio, 19 miles east of Marion. When a boy his family moved to Caledonia, nine miles nearer Marion, where young Harding taught school two years. He played a cornet in the Caledonia band, and later received a college education at a little Baptist college at Oberlin, Ohio.

Studied Law.

When 19, Harding moved to Marion to study law, but law did not hold his fancy. In college he had been editor of the college newspaper and newspaper work attracted him. It was his political life began in 1889, when he was elected to the state senate from the 13th Ohio district. In 1893, a member and lieutenant governor of Ohio and was elected to the United States senate in 1914.

He was married in 1891 to Miss Florence King of Marion. They have a boy, his family's particular hobby. He also is a great baseball fan.

He is a great home man and likes nothing better than to sit at his own fireside entertaining friends. He takes great pride in the fact that he has never had any labor trouble at his newspaper plant.

Good Baptist.

Senator Harding is a trustee of the Trinity Baptist church of which he is a member and upon whose services he is a regular attendant when in Marion.

Senator Harding's middle name is "Cassius." The republican nominee knows how to smile even under defeat. This was shown in the 1910 Ohio campaign, when he opposed Judson Harmon for governor and was defeated by the democratic candidate by more than 100,000 despite campaign assistance from Theodore Roosevelt.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Besides his father and a sister living at Marion, Ohio, Senator Harding has one other sister, Mrs. Carolyn Votaw, wife of Dr. Heber Votaw, and a member of the woman's bureau of the Washington police department. She received the news of her brother's nomination at her headquarters at Chicago over the long distance telephone.

By Associated Press.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 11.—The first considerable offensive of the forces of General Wrangel, anti-bolshevik, against the Crimean front is reported to have been successful.

On June 4 large detachments of Wrangel's troops left Theodosia and landed June 6 at Berdiansk and Marioupol, ports on the sea of Azov. The forces of General Wrangel were not attacking the Crimean front through the Strait of Kerch. They landed with slight opposition and captured both ports easily.

The movement was designated to coordinate the anti-bolshevik forces in the Don and Kuban country and strengthen the defense of the Crimea by cutting off the bolshevik retreat and communication. General Wrangel's landing party included adequate forces of artillery, cavalry and infantry.

SPROUL DELIGHTED ABILITY HIS STATE END BIG FIGHT

CHICAGO, June 12.—Governor William C. Sproul of Pennsylvania said he was pleased to think that Pennsylvania's votes had been the on to nominate Senator Harding. In a statement thanking his delegation for the support they gave him, Governor Sproul said:

"Senator Harding has a splendid experience both in his state and in the senate and I think he has all the qualifications to be president. Pennsylvania republicans will be solidly for him in November. I am glad Pennsylvania had the honor of casting the vote that nominated him and I am deeply grateful to the members of the state delegation for the splendid support they gave me throughout the balloting."

When it was seen that a candidate had been nominated, the customary changing of votes began with a half-dozen who had voted for other candidates switching over so as to appear in the winning column. Most of the vote deserters in the county were members of the Wood men, too, asked to have their votes recorded for Harding.

Final Check.

The final check-up showed 692 for Harding with only 12 left supporting Wood, 157 for Wood and 89 for Johnson. At their best, earlier in the day the Wood people had mustered 312 votes and the Lowden forces 311. Johnson's high point was 148, recorded on the second ballot yesterday.

A motion to make the nomination unanimous was passed in a great chorus of applause, but when opportunity was given for negative votes there were some "noes" from Wisconsin whose delegation throughout the day had voted amid hisses and catcalls almost solely for Senator Robert M. LaFollette.

The plan to nominate Senator Lenroot for the vice-presidency had the backing of many of the men who had helped put Harding over. The name of Governor Coolidge stirred the delegates and galleries to repeated cheering and he was swept into the second place on the ticket before the first roll call had gone two-thirds of its length. Again it was Pennsylvania which furnished the winning votes.

Big Vote.

Governor Coolidge got 674 votes to 146 for Senator Lenroot and 68 for Governor Allen of Kansas. Several others got scattering support without being placed formally in nomination. The result was greeted with another demonstration and there was renewed cheering a few minutes later when the tired delegates were told that their work was done. It was early evening by the time adjournment was reached but before midnight hundreds had checked out and were on their way.

P. A. MARTIN IS JUDGE OF NEW DISTRICT COURT

AUSTIN, June 12.—Governor Hobbs late today signed the bill creating the 5th judicial district, composed entirely of Wichita county, and announced the appointment of Judge P. A. Martin of Wichita Falls to be judge of the new court.

The bill is now a law, as it carries an emergency clause, and was passed in both branches by the necessary two-thirds vote. The name of Judge Martin will be sent to the senate early next week for confirmation.

The governor also signed the Cox gas bill which places the gas pipelines and distributing companies under the jurisdiction of the railroad commission. This bill does not become effective for 90 days after the adjournment of the session.

The bill carrying an appropriation of $100,000 to defray the expenses of the militia while on duty at Galvestor was also signed by the governor. It will become effective immediately.

When the name of Judge Martin had the unanimous backing of members of the local bar association, of which Judge Martin for a number of years has been one of the most prominent members. Judge Martin was formerly judge of the 30th district court, which position he resigned some five years ago. The new court was created to fill a need created by the great increase in litigation following the oil development in the county and the consequent great increase in population, which had hopelessly crowded the dockets of the other two courts.

SAN ANTONIO LEADS TEXAS CITIES IN ITS POPULATION

Census reports from Washington yesterday gave to San Antonio the distinction of being Texas' leading city in population. It has a population of 161,308, an increase of 64,694 or 47 per cent.

San Antonio's only close rival is Dallas, whose population, according to the report issued some weeks ago, is several thousand short of the leading city.

As is always the case, a flurry of alibis present themselves whenever a city doesn't come up to its expectations. In Florida, for example, it was charged that the census bureau was in error. In the Dallas case a plea of a larger city, however, retarded by non-existence of proper city bonds is offered.

An increase of 67 is one that compares well with increases of many of the cities of the country.

Chicago, whose 1920 census was announced tonight by the census bureau, had during the last decade the second largest growth numerically in its history in an increase of 515,929. It was the third time Chicago had shown an increase of more than half a million.

Chicago's rate of growth was 23.6 per cent which was 1.7 per cent less than the previous 10 years and exceeded New York's rate by 57 per cent. New York's 1920 rate having been 17.9 per cent.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—San Antonio, Texas, 161,308, increase 64,694 or 47 per cent.

Chicago, 2,701,212, increase 515,929 or 23.6 per cent.

Allentown, Pa., 73,302, increase 21,589 or 41.6 per cent.

LOWDEN FORCES GIVE HARDING REPUBLICAN NOMINATION WITH COOLIDGE AS RUNNING MATE

CHICAGO, June 12.—Warren G. Harding, United States senator from Ohio, was nominated for the presidency today by the republican national convention after 10 ballots, and which last for nine ballots, and which finally forced out of the running all the original favorites.

As his running mate, the convention named Governor Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts, upsetting a plan of a combination of the Harding backers to nominate for the place Senator Irving L. Lenroot of Wisconsin.

The collapse of the forces of Governor Frank O. Lowden and their transfer in large part to Senator Harding put the Ohio senator in a position to lead the party.

General Wood lost heavily when the Harding drift began and Senator Johnson, the third of the trio of leaders on the early ballots, also was defeated, also went steadily downhill.

Entering the convention four days ago as a candidate distinctly of the "dark horse" class, Senator Harding got only 64 votes on the first ballot yesterday and on the second he dropped to 56. When the convention adjourned last night at the end of the fourth ballot, he had 61.

Conferences.

In all night conferences among the party chiefs, however, he was mentioned many times as the most likely to break the nomination deadlock should neither Wood, Lowden nor Johnson take commanding lead today. They all failed to do so. Wood and Lowden running a neck and neck race for leadership on four more ballots while the strength of the California candidate dwindled.

Meantime, Harding pushed his total to 133 individual delegates from many states, swinging to him from the columns of the leaders and various favorite sons. The Johnson managers, fearing a landslide was impending, tried to make a last play to save the fortunes of their candidate. They moved to recess for a couple of hours in order to take an inventory and seek a new combination.

The Wood and Lowden forces, both virtually at the peak of their strength but disheartened at the long string of ballots without material gains, fell in with the recess plan and the convention adjourned at 11 o'clock.

In the dramatic succession of conferences that followed, the fate of the candidates virtually was sealed. Some of the Wood and Lowden managers tried ineffectually for an agreement which would hold their delegates in line and kill off the Harding boom. Some tried to get a Wood-Lowden-Johnson agreement to adjourn till Monday without making a nomination. There also was a conference between Johnson and Harding supporters in which the Ohioan supporters tried without success to have the Harding-Johnson strength swung to Harding.

Parley Held.

It was the parleys between the Harding and Lowden forces, both which apparently bore the most fruit when the balloting began again, for Governor Lowden came to the convention during the ninth call and reversed a previous plan to agree to adjourn the convention itself, issued instructions from behind the scenes releasing his instructed delegates. Senator Harding instructed delegates in the coliseum during the voting and conferred with Chairman Hays.

Almost as soon as the alphabetical call of states began after the recess, the ground was also won. It was stated that it could not be forestalled. Connecticut, when her name was called, took thirteen of her fourteen votes from Lowden and gave them to Harding. In Florida, he got seven from Wood, and then Kentucky, almost from the first a solid Lowden state, flopped completely into the Harding column.

Delegates Followed Suit.

Amid scenes of rising enthusiasm, other blocks of Lowden delegates followed suit while many of the routed Wood supporters also went into the Harding camp. By the end of the roll call, Senator Harding had rolled up a total of 374, putting him far into the lead and several scores of votes nearer the nomination than any candidate had been before.

Lowden at the end of the ninth had only 121 votes left out of the 397 with which he ended the eighth. General Wood's strength had fallen from 259 on the eighth to 245 on the ninth. Johnson dropped from 87 to 82.

As the tenth roll call began, delegates quit Lowden, Wood and Johnson right and left, and the big haul was in almost continuous applause as state after state announced accession to the Harding standard. It was reserved for Pennsylvania to add the crowning touch of enthusiasm. When the Keystone state was reached, the Ohio senator needed 32 votes to nominate him and Pennsylvania gave 69.

Sproul Appears.

It was Governor Sproul himself, the candidate of his state on every preceding ballot and mentioned many times as a possible dark horse to break the deadlock, who announced the big Pennsylvania vote for Harding. Entering the coliseum floor for the first time since the balloting began, he made his way to the Pennsylvania standard and amid cheers, released the delegation from longer supporting him. Then he took a poll, got the floor and threw in the winning Harding votes.

A demonstration of several minutes followed, most of the delegates and spectators standing in a cheering line while a procession carrying large pictures of the candidate and standards of some of the states that supported him, took up its march around the hall. But it was too tired a convention after the grueling excitement of two sweltering days of balloting to keep up such a demonstration. Senator Lodge, presiding, rapped off the order, and the delegates did not argue with him.

CHICAGO, June 12.—No agreement as to adjournment over Sunday could be reached at a conference in which Governor Lowden, Will Hays, chairman of the national committee; Harry Daugherty, senator; Harding's manager, and Charles B. Warren of Michigan, formerly national committee member, participated in while the convention was re-assembling.

Four o'clock, the hour of reconvening passed by and the convention was not in order.

Frank Knox, floor leader for Wood, said on entering the hall:

"They are trying to run a bluff on us and they haven't the votes."

The Massachusetts delegation decided to take one vote for Wood and give it to Harding on the ninth ballot. The Wood vote was to cast for Coolidge after three more ballots.

The Harding forces returned to the hall confident and full of fight and equipped with a fresh supply of banners, streamers, portraits of the senator and noise making devices.

Surcharged Air.

The atmosphere of the convention was surcharged with electricity.

Everybody knew there was either going to be a nomination or a fight to prevent one. Streets leading to the coliseum were choked with steady processions of people, who had no hopes of getting inside the convention hall, but who were prepared to be satisfied with hearing the news outside.

More than a half hour after the three-for-minute, the aisles were packed with delegates constantly conferring and the effort was being made by those opposed to Harding to get an adjournment until Monday.

It was understood the Wood manager was joining in the adjournment movement. The galleries were loudly voicing their opposition with the cry: "They all failed to do so" and "start up" were frequent.

COLISEUM, JUNE 12.—Floor manager Knox of the Wood forces announced to friends that the Wood, Johnson and Lowden forces had agreed to combine to support the movement for an adjournment.

COOLIDGE WILL ACCEPT PLACE AS HARDING'S RUNNING MATE COMING NOVEMBER ELECTION

Calvin Coolidge

BOSTON, Mass., June 12.—Governor Coolidge, when notified tonight that he had been nominated by the Republican for the vice presidency, authorized the Associated Press to say that he would accept the nomination. Calvin Coolidge of Northampton, Mass., although in public life almost ever since his graduation from Amherst College in 1885, was little known outside of Massachusetts until the greater part of the police force of Boston went on strike in September, 1919. Coolidge was governor. He ordered the state guard to patrol the streets of Boston after a night of rioting. He announced that law and order would be preserved and declared that the strikers were deserters and that their places would be filled by other men. The strikers never regained their order. A new police force was recruited and taken by the governor carried his name throughout the country and in his own state he was promptly nicknamed "Admirals Urge." As the presidential campaign of 1920 approached his admirers tried to induce him to become an active candidate for the Republican nomination for president. They had gone so far as to open headquarters for him in Washington and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge had offered to present his name to the national convention if the governor so desired, when he announced publicly that he was not a candidate and that he considered that while he was governor his job was at the state house. The headquarters was closed but the majority of the Massachusetts delegates went to Chicago with the declared intention of voting for him at least on the first ballot. Calvin Coolidge was born on a farm in a little village, Plymouth, Vermont, on July 4, 1872. His father, in addition to carrying on the farm, was a large storekeeper. Coolidge's ancestors from the time John Coolidge settled in Watertown, Mass., in 1630, were all farmers. Young Calvin worked on the farm and in the store and attended the village school. Then he progressed in his education in academics in the Vermont towns of Ludlow and St. Johnsbury and his father sent him to Amherst College. At the commencement exercises he was one of the class orators. Coolidge next studied law in the office of a law firm in Northampton which good effect that after twenty months he was admitted to the bar. He opened a law office in the same town and continued to practice there until his public duties occupied his time. Member City Council. His first public office was as a member of the Northampton city council in 1899. Successively, he was city solicitor, county clerk, state representative for two years, mayor for two years, state senator for four years, the last two serving as president of the senate, and lieutenant-governor for three years. In 1918 he was nominated by the Republicans without opposition for governor and was elected by a plurality of more than 125,000 and received the largest total vote ever cast for a governor in Massachusetts. Governor Coolidge was married in 1905 to Grace A. Goodhue of Burlington, Vt. Their two children are boys. He was awarded the honorary degree of doctor of laws by Amherst, Tufts and Williams colleges in 1919. Were Pleased. Governor Coolidge received word of his nomination in his apartment at the Adams House in company with Mrs. Coolidge and his aide, Captain Charles S. Riley, and his secretary, Henry F. Long. The governor indicated that he was very pleased with the honor. In his rooms this evening Governor Coolidge had followed the balloting with the keenest interest and upon the announcement of the nomination of Senator Harding he immediately sent the senator a telegram of congratulations. He had then left the hotel for a stroll when he was recalled with the word that his name had been placed before the convention at Chicago a second time, this time for the vice presidency. Over a telephone line from the local office of the Associated Press, he received a vote of the states and the

Other measures are being employed in the campaign, he said, one of them being the purification of water supplies by the installation of a chlorination plant.

10-INCH CASING SET SECOND TEST FISHER-WHALEY

Ten inch casing has been set and cemented at 1400 in the second hole of the Fisher-Whaley Oil Company in section 22-4-14 Tillman. It was announced from the offices of the company Saturday, and cable tools are being rigged up to drill the well to the contract depth of 2500 feet.

The first hole of the company was drilled at 1420 while the test was attracting more attention than has probably been enjoyed in months by any wildcat test to the fore in recent months. Under the terms of a contract with the Indian bureau the test is to be drilled with cable tools, but under special dispensations, and in order to save months of time in the drilling of the second hole, permission was obtained to drill the hole to the depth of the first test with a rotary. A crooked joint of casing proved the undoing of the first hole, resisting efforts during several weeks to pull the casing and eliminate this joint.

The encountering of the 700-foot shallow sand found in the first test was repeated in the second, the oil from the sand coloring the slush pit in spite of the mud and water in the hole. No test was made of this sand in either test, however, as the drilling of the deep test is the immediate concern of the company. Drillers estimated the productivity of this sand from 20 to 50 barrels.

Other tests in the immediate vicinity of the Fisher-Whaley include the "Triple E" in the northwest corner of section 29-4-14, which is drilling with a rotary around 1500 feet. Two other tests are reported ready to drill in this section, being located in sections 30 and 36 respectively.

PRETENTIOUS SETTING BILLY'S TOMBSTONE AT WICHITA THEATER

Commencing with the new policy under new management of Dye, Ford & Rogers, who will on tomorrow take charge of the Wichita Theater, inaugurating a policy of bargain matinees daily, the 1920 Revue which will alternate weekly with Pantages Vaudeville, offers for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, a screaming farce with special stage setting, in one act called "Billy's Tombstone." This vehicle is one of the feature offerings of this splendid company's varied repertoire; the scene is laid aboard the "Candy Ship" at sea, and is one of the most pretentious stage settings carried by any musical stock organization in this country. Billy Maine and Miss Helen Huntington will be seen at their best, as well as the remainder of the large cast, introducing for the first time at the Wichita, Miss Grace Connelly who makes her debut in this program together with added pretty girls in the chorus. The Harmony Fiends quartet will again be heard in new song numbers. Their renditions of the past week have been repeatedly encored and is a feature of this attraction well worth a visit to the Wichita to hear. Starting tomorrow with the bargain matinee of 25c and 35c and a new schedule of night prices, 25c, 50c and 75c, the Wichita should prove a very popular place for the amusement seekers of Wichita Falls. The new management announces that no expense will be spared in making the Wichita the coolest and most enjoyable spot to spend an evening or matinee for amusement in this city.

THE NEWS IN RHYME.

By C. F. C.
 'Tis the song of events that I blithely sing,
 And I warble this delicate lay
 To call your attention to things that need mention.
 The current events of the day.
 If you've read all the "extras" and
 You know that "Hi" Johnson is dead;
 And that Governor Lowden sent delegates
 To nominate Harding, instead.
 It really counts little, and now that it's over,
 The joy is not in the selection,
 But rather the blessing of no further guessing
 Until the November election.
 The report is now with us that Salm and his Spudders
 Have just won another ball game.
 We'd welcome that pennant as a
 Wichita tenant.
 So why not go annex the same?
 You never can tell, and it's possible,
 fans,
 That measles and fever and halt
 Might descend on Fort Worth, and the Spudders in mirth
 Might win the league rag by default!

CHICAGO NEGRO SENTENCED ONE TO FIVE YEARS FOR MISLEADING KANSAS GIRL

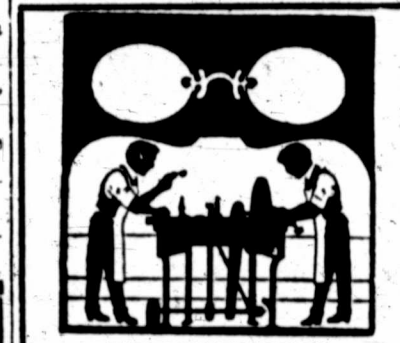

CHICAGO, June 12.—Dorsey Chambliss, a negro policeman recently found guilty of misleading Bertha Wiebeck, a young Kansas girl who turned to him for guidance on arriving in Chicago, was sentenced today to the penitentiary for from one to five years.

Mrs. Emma Ross, keeper of the house to which Dorsey was charged with abducting the girl, who subsequently died, received the same sentence. A stay for a bill of exceptions to be filed was granted.

Now is the time to think of some better way of keeping warm next winter. It's certain there will be a shortage of gas just when we will need it worse. For this reason we have provided for the public by receiving the full line of the celebrated "Round Oak" ranges and heaters and the part of this announcement probably most interesting to you is the R-O pipeless furnace. We have these in stock now and will be pleased to have you inquire about this new and simple way of heating the entire house from the basement. Wichita Hardware Co., 804-8 Ohio Ave. 31-32c.

TWO OFFICERS DISMISSED

Officers Bell and Reeves were dismissed from the Saturday by Chief Goodfellow, following an investigation of complaints made by a man and woman. The man was Austin St. Paul, and the woman was Mrs. Bell. The investigation was conducted by Chief Goodfellow, who is in charge of the police department. The officers were dismissed for failing to appear for duty on Saturday. The man and woman were not named in the report.

TWO OFFICERS ARE DISMISSED FOR INDISCREET ACT

Officers Bell and Reeves, members of the plainclothes squad, were dismissed from the police department Saturday by Chief Goodfellow following an investigation of complaints made by private citizens. The retirement of the two men was said to be based on their actions in entering an Austin street house in search of a man and woman wanted by the police.

"I regretted very much having to let Bell and Reeves go," Chief Goodfellow stated. "For they were hard-working officers. But we made the most careful investigation, and my decision seemed necessary in view of the lack of discretion shown by the men."

Chief Goodfellow called attention to the steadily growing need of new quarters for the department, and better department facilities if the police force of Wichita Falls is to continue the good work it has started. While numerous arrests in felony cases not originating in this city have been made during the last two months, and convictions on misdemeanor cases have brought fines averaging $7,000 a month, the department is still badly handicapped by lack of any system whereby the Chief of Police can keep in touch with his men. On Monday morning all members of the department will report at headquarters in uniform, and Chief Goodfellow will assign every man to certain work, with definite "beats" for the city patrolmen. It was stated Saturday that any man leaving his beat at any time, except on duty, will be immediately dismissed from the force. "With a few exceptions," the chief added, "the men have been doing fine work, and I am doing my best to keep them efficient. Quarters for plainclothesmen and detectives, however, are badly needed, and a call box system ultimately will have to be installed in order to keep the city properly patrolled at all times."

"The record of fines in misdemeanor cases shows plainly that the local police are doing wonders in suppressing petty crimes. In some quarters there is the opinion that too much money is being collected; that the police department is simply on the job to gather revenue—but I wish to state earnestly that we have nothing to do with this. We make arrests whenever we believe an offense has been committed, but disposition of the case and the assessment of fines lies wholly in the hands of the court."

ELECTION WILL BE ASKED FOR IRRIGATION DIST. 2

Petitions for an election for the forming of Wichita County Irrigation District No. 2, the district embracing the farm lands, which in co-operation with the district No. 1, embracing the city, will build the Big Wichita Irrigation project, is to be presented to the county commissioners within the near future, necessary signatures being rapidly obtained to the petition now, it was announced Saturday by J. A. Kemp, president of the board of directors, district No. 1, and the prime mover of the irrigation project. Mr. Kemp addressed a meeting of farmers at the Valley View school Friday night, outlining the details of the project, and securing the signature of every man present to the petition for the creation of the second district. District No. 2 will comprise about 150,000 acres of farm lands. According to present plans, bonds for the construction of the entire project will be voted by the Wichita Falls district, and the bonds voted for their proportionate share by the farm land district will be held in the treasury of the city district to carry their part of the bond issue. Ability to market the bonds on better terms through its being handled in this way, is the reason for this plan.

SUMMER TERM FEDERAL COURT BEEN POSTPONED

There will be no summer term of federal district court here, J. A. Lantz, United States commissioner, announced on Saturday. It was thought for some time that Judge James Wilson of the federal district for Northern Texas would arrange to hold a short session here, but later plans call for a mid-summer recess following close of the Amarillo session, Commissioner Lantz says he has been advised.

It is feared that some difficulty would be encountered in securing proper chambers for conducting court here should a term of federal court be attempted at this time, it is understood.

The next term of federal district court will convene in November, it is announced.

There is a general rumor throughout the country that all kinds of merchandise will be cheaper. From all the information I can obtain or any other merchant can obtain, it does not look probable that merchandise would go down in price. Labor will not be any cheaper in fact the textile mills in the east have just given a 15% increase to their employees. There is no over production in this country on any line of merchandise.

Here Is the Whole Truth In a Nutshell

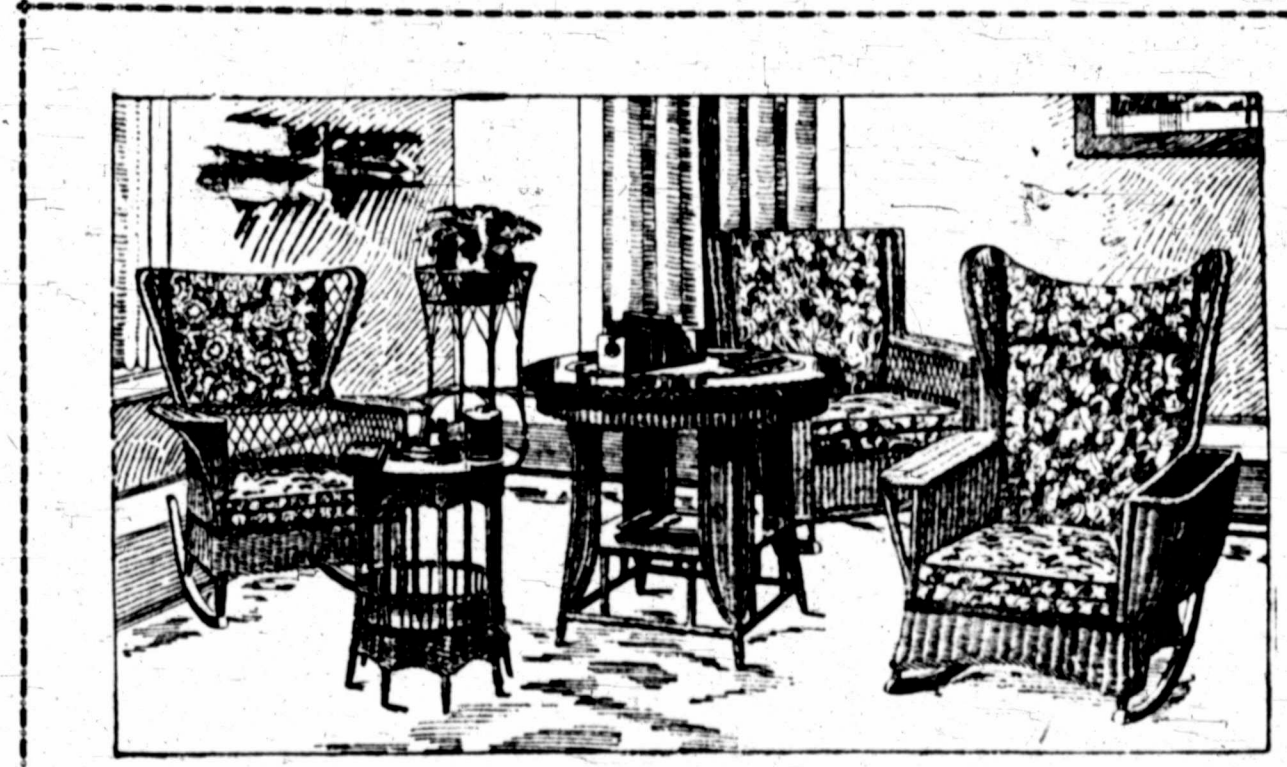

Every merchant in the country is overloaded with merchandise. We all did it in order to protect ourselves against continual advance. Now then! John Wanamaker started this thing a going. Business in the east, due to unfavorable weather, has slackened down. John Wanamaker with his mammoth stock which runs into millions, got cold feet and started CUTTING PRICES and of course every other merchant in the country followed this merchant prince's footsteps.

Beginning FRIDAY, JUNE 18th, I will place my entire stock of merchandise on sale at a reduction from 25% to 50%. I carry a stock of over $100,000. I will sell $50,000 worth of merchandise at actual cost, actual wholesale cost. It's poor policy for any merchant to advertise that he would sell $50,000 worth of merchandise at cost. But let me show you where I would benefit at the end: When I am through with this price smashing sale I'll go with the cold cash to New York. The manufacturers and jobbers are hard up for cash and a shrewd merchant can easily make up there for the profits he has sacrificed here in taking the lead of bringing prices down in Wichita Falls.

WILL INSTALL CRUDE OIL HEATING SYSTEM AT COUNTY COURT HOUSE

An oil-heating system is to be installed in the basement of the court house and both the court house and county jail will be heated by oil immediately upon installation of the new system. It was announced on Saturday by Lewis Jernigan, superintendent of the court house and county farm. The plant to be installed is known as the Foss System Turbine Burner and is manufactured by a Houston, Texas, concern. The Foss system of oil burners is now passing its fifth year in service and is said to be the latest idea in the science of burning fuel oil without the use of steam or compressed air for the atomizing force.

Mr. Jernigan says that the installation of the oil-burning system will prove a great saving factor for the county. It is figured that two barrels of fuel oil will be required daily in the winter to heat the court house and county jail, which will mean an approximate cost of $240 the month. Gas last year cost an average of $300 the month, county officials say. Coal is absolutely prohibitive as a fuel, Mr. Jernigan declared.

It is also proposed to heat the county farm and the City-County hospital (Wichita General) with fuel oil. Mr. Jernigan said. The proposal to heat the Wichita General hospital with fuel oil was brought before the county commissioners at their last meeting but no definite action was taken.

CAMPFIRE GIRLS LEAVE FOR MEDICINE PARK

The Hawee Tejas Campfire Girls left this morning for their summer camp at Medicine Park, Oklahoma, under the leadership of their camp mother, Mrs. E. M. Harris, and Mrs. Jonnie R. Morgan, the Guardian, will also accompany the girls. It had been planned to have this camp on the farm home of Mrs. H. L. Baker, in Bentonville, Ark., but on account of the illness in the family these plans were necessarily changed to the Oklahoma camp. The girls have earned their expenses for this camping trip during the past several months by selling sandwiches and ice cream, cones at school and by means of a Carnival Fete at Hack's academy in May. The girls have enjoyed many social features, parties, hikes and picnics, and in addition have earned their honor beads, and in addition took a widow and four children under their care for a number of months. They were organized in October.

The girls who will be on the camping trip are: Marjorie Woolsey, president; Helen Knotts, Janie McCallister, Corinne Whaley, Vivienne Harris, Mable Gunn, Sally Lewis, Burleigh Davenport, Dessa Key, Helen Young, Sibylene Smith, Lucille Early and Alma Smith, secretary.

PROHIBITION LAW IS CONSIDERED GREAT REFORM

Effort Will Probably be Made to Elect Less Drastic Congress

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 12.—In sustaining the validity of the Eighteenth amendment and the Volstead Act, which makes effective the national prohibition law, the United States supreme court has made complete the greatest reform ever effected in the United States, except the abolition of slavery.

This is the opinion, not only of the members of congress, but also, though reluctantly admitted, of the senators and representatives who have wet sympathies or leanings.

Absolute prohibition of the liquor traffic in the United States has made the "land of the free and the home of the brave" the driest country on the globe. The supreme court has "cinched" that condition. The chapter is closed.

It is idle to claim, as some of the "bit-enders" in the liquor traffic do, that national prohibition represents the minority opinion in this republic. The majority opinion is overwhelming. For it, otherwise the constitutional amendment would never have passed congress and been ratified by the states.

Change Definition.
A vigorous and desperate minority, however, is bent on electing enough congressmen who are wet in November to change the definition of the alcoholic contents of wines and beers under the law. It is now one-half of 1 per cent. That is the fatal loophole left in the Volstead act. For many years to come the liquor dealers will try to elect enough wet congressmen to have a majority in house and senate—and it will only require a majority vote to change the alcoholic content of the cup that cheers yet but cannot intoxicate under present conditions.

The liquor question is closely bound up with all social and economic questions. Who can deny that social and economic conditions will not be far better in this country with John Harney in his grave forever than with him living to elect enough wet congressmen to have a majority in house and senate—and it will only require a majority vote to change the alcoholic content of the cup that cheers yet but cannot intoxicate under present conditions.

Many of the present generation, used to strong and milder drink, will still protest against the Eighteenth amendment, but the next generation never having tasted the juice of the corn, or barley, or the grape will pay small attention to any agitation or return of alcoholic beverages twenty years from now.

Discussing the situation with congressmen today it was pointed out that the lead taken by the dry nation will have to be followed by every other great nation in the world—not so much from moral reasons but from economic reasons. The sober nation has its industrial efficiency increased from 15 to 25 per cent. This is not guess work but the cost of business gathered by many a wet congressman in private conversation, however reluctant he might be to talk for publication.

Still Sober.
The liquor question is closely bound up with all social and economic questions. Who can deny that social and economic conditions will not be far better in this country with John Harney in his grave forever than with him living to elect enough wet congressmen to have a majority in house and senate—and it will only require a majority vote to change the alcoholic content of the cup that cheers yet but cannot intoxicate under present conditions.

Already this is realized in England, where the principal arguments for a dry Britain are based on this very argument. Similar arguments are being used now in Germany in the agitation which would abolish the beer drinking of the Teutons.

World-wide prohibition is certainly on the way. Anti-Saloon League officials estimate that the whole world will be dry within 25 years. And the United States started the ball rolling.

That car load of oil and gasoline stoves that so many of our customers have been waiting for has arrived and we are now showing the full line on our floor at 804-6 Ohio Ave. Wichita Hardware Co. 21-32c.

AUTO RACER $36,300 RICHER AS A RESULT OF RECENT VICTORY

INDIANAPOLIS, June 12.—Gaston Chevrolet of Indianapolis is $36,300 richer as a result of his victory in the recent 500-mile automobile race over the Indianapolis Speedway course. His prize money included the $20,000 offered by the promoters of the event for first place, $1,300 of the business men's lap purse, and the remainder offered by automobile accessories firms. Rene Thomas, who won the speedway event several years ago, took second money $10,000 and also $3,200 more in the lap and accessory prizes. Ralph DePalmer, who was five miles in the lead with only thirty miles to go when his machine faltered, took $8,500 in lap money and $3,000 for fifth place.

Speedway officials have indicated that next year's race again will be for cars having a piston displacement of 181 cubic inches or less. James A. Allison, treasurer of the speedway, said an additional $25,000 probably would be added to the purse, making it $75,000 in all. Business men of Indianapolis are considering a suggestion to make up a lap purse of $500 per lap for next year, instead of $100.

FIRST CHRISTIAN SOCIAL MEETING ON MONDAY

The June business and social meeting of the Ladies Aid of the First Christian church will be held on Monday, June 14, instead of the last Monday in the month, because of the plans of many members to leave for their summer vacation before that time, and will be held at the home of Mrs. Frank Miller, 1303 Taylor, at 3:00 o'clock. The following will be hostesses jointly with Mrs. Miller: Mesdames Caskey, McGrath, Weidman, Perdus, Milbury, Kilander, Spores, Detlefs, Ashford and Hall. A good attendance is urged.

MARINE SERVICES OFFERS WONDERFUL LOT OF THRILLS

GALVESTON, TEXAS, June 12.—A marine service which will afford opportunities for thrills equal, if not greater, than those incident to life aboard destroyers and sub-chasers during the war will be inaugurated on the Gulf of Mexico, where "hurricane-chasers," small crafts of the sub-chaser type, will patrol during storm periods and transmit by wireless to the weather bureau stations particulars of storms and hurricanes encountered, according to A. H. Scott, local observer, who recently returned from a conference at Washington with his chief of the weather bureau, C. M. Marvin.

Instead of fleeing from the storms, Mr. Scott said, the little vessels will risk destruction by either riding before them or hovering on the outskirts in order that they made obtain the fullest information to the land stations of the weather bureau. Veteran seamen who are thoroughly familiar with both gulf and West Indian storms, which rank among the most violent of any seas, will man the little crafts which will ride with Neptune and his winds.

At present, Mr. Scott declared, warnings of approaching storms are wireless landward to weather bureau stations by passing liners and freighters, but often these reports are incomplete because vessels sending them are making all haste to get away from the storm area.

With the chasers patrolling the gulf storm areas, he said, more accurate and full information of hurricanes headed northward will be available. In addition to the tremendous convulsions of nature which have swept Texas coastal cities and caused large losses of life and property, smaller hurricanes drift over the gulf and when their approach is unheralded, they sometimes play havoc with fishing boats and other smaller crafts. The new service is expected to reduce losses of coastwise shipping and tow-

GROVE NO. 1447 MEETS FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Grove No. 1447 Woodmen Circle met Friday afternoon at the Swartz Wood building, with a large attendance. Mrs. Barnett was elected to the advisory office to succeed Mrs. Robinson for the remainder of the term. Plans were made for a picnic to be held next Friday in Cannon Park, and all members are urged to meet at the hall on that day at 9:00 a. m. with well filled baskets, and prepared for a jolly picnic. Much pleasure was expressed at the work the grove is doing and members who do not attend regularly are urged to do so.

AFTERNOON TEA FOR FORMER WICHITA GIRL

On Saturday of last week, Mrs. H. C. Young, Mrs. O. T. Gorline and Miss Minnie Young entertained with a delightful informal tea in compliment to Mrs. J. C. Green of Dallas, formerly Miss Lenna Thomas of the city whose visit has been the occasion of many delightful reunions among the friends who constituted the "younger social set" of several years ago, when the honoree was a leader of the set. The diversion was informal, many old time friends calling between three and six and iced punch was served through the afternoon. The guests included: Mesdames Von der Lippe, Eugene Sherrod, J. A. Kemp, Newton Maer, J. M. Harty, R. P. FAREWELL PARTY FOR MRS. E. E. TRAWEEK

An exceptionally attractive party was given on Friday afternoon by Mrs. Lester Jones and Mrs. Leon Deaton, at the home of the former, 1901 Lucile, as a farewell to Mrs. E. E. Traweck, in which she was honored by the Floral Heights Wesley Girls of which club she has been a prominent member. The Jones home was attractively decorated with a profusion of sweet peas in rainbow tints, and the feature of the afternoon was a guessing contest, in which the prize by prearrangement went to Mrs. Traweck, this being a dainty miscellaneous shower, as an expression of the love and regard of the class. An impromptu musical program was enjoyed, given by Miss McCune of Slaton, Texas. Punch was served throughout the afternoon and the refreshment plate consisted of pink and white brick ice cream and angel food cake.

The guests and members enjoying this occasion were: Mesdames Billy Burke, McGee, Billingsley, Will Ellis, D. C. Hudson, Charles Crowell, S. E. Trevathan, John Dobbis, Bernard Trevathan, Allen Haskell, P. B. Cox, T. E. Alford, Joseph Barrow, Ray Hanks, W. T. Kuhn, P. J. Lea, H. A. NEW WELLS AND OTHERS ON SAND CENTER INTEREST IN KEMP-MUNGER-ALLEN DISTRICT

With the news that the Boger-Ard-Maer No. 3 Kemp and Kemper block 41 was flowing late Saturday evening, and its rate of production declared to mark as one of the best wells yet obtained in this pool, the Kemp-Munger-Allen pool furnished its third sensation of the week, a succession of events which has brought about another of the dramatic revivings of interest which has marked the development of this territory. The flow in this test came following the drilling of the sand, which was encountered around 1778, less than two feet, and the cleaning out of the well. It is the intention of the owners to drill the sand even further, it is reported—expected to result in an even larger well. Three other tests reported on the sand in this territory are expected to drill if Sunday, the Boss and Dillard No. 1 Kemp and Kemper in block 41, on an offset lease, the Logan Farm Syndicate on the Boone lease on the Logan, just to the north in block 36, and the Ed Harrison et al test in block 21, cornering on the northwest with the Boger-Ard-Maer lease. The Harrison test was reported Sunday night, June 14, at 8:30 p. m. for the purpose of organizing a Women's Labor League, an auxiliary to the Trades and Labor Council. All ladies in sympathy with the organized movement are urged to attend. The men are also invited to be present.

DUNDEE O. AND G. ON GRIFFIN RANCH IS STANDARDIZING

The Dundee Oil and Gas company No. 1 Griffin, rigging up standard tools for completion, was reported to have made a 50-minute flow, filling the slush pit, on Friday night.

A mass meeting of the wives, sisters and daughters of the union men of this city, together with any ladies friendly to organized labor, will be held in the auditorium of the Labor Temple Monday night, June 14, at 8:30 p. m. for the purpose of organizing a Women's Labor League, an auxiliary to the Trades and Labor Council. All ladies in sympathy with the organized movement are urged to attend. The men are also invited to be present.

TEST TO BE STARTED ON THE DUNN FARM SOUTHWEST NOCONA

NOCONA, Tex., June 12.—The rig has been skidded, the cellar and pit dug and considerable work done in preparation to start work on the Dunn farm well, formerly known as the Big Six. This is an important well, and means much to Montague county just now when the deal for the Dallas-Wichita Falls interurban line has been put over, and in the event of a real strike being made, it would probably mean that either the main line would come via Nocona or a feeder extended over from Bowie. Either would be fine. There are one or two deals on out north that might mean as much as the Big Six should a good strike be made. The best thing to do is to get one or all these wells going down as soon as possible. They would be pretty certain, according to very good geological dope, to put this county on the oil map and at the same time on the interurban line as well. In the event the wells out north come in paying wells, it might be anticipated the interurban line would connect across to Ringling also, and what is said here is no dream, either. Now is the time to get behind every substantial effort for a test well. Part of this county has the highest mark that can be given so far, as geology goes, but that will not produce oil. Some real tests must be drilled. With plans being made to start work on the interurban, so much is at stake in Montague county, that all reasonable haste should be made to get the deals that are on for test wells put over and the drill started.

The American Oil & Refining company test at Illinois Bend is under-reaming 10 inch at 660 feet. The Warner Oil company test in the southwest corner of the Fielding Street survey, is drilling past a broken stem at 3,150 feet. It is reported this company will make another location a mile or so west or northwest of the present well and that work will be started on the new well while further effort will be made to clear the hole or drill deeper past the stem in the present well. It is stated also that a geological survey is to be made in that locality.

The Simms Oil company test on the Budd Reed farm in section 14-7s-6w is reported under-reaming the 10 inch at 1,100 feet. This well is located about a mile back from Red River and on the Oklahoma side, and was located by Lee Hager, geologist of Houston, Texas. The prospect is very good for some kind of a strike.

KANSAS CITY BANDITS ROB CASHIER $3163

KANSAS CITY, June 12.—Three bandits today choked and robbed Herbert V. Allen, cashier of a wholesale millinery house here, in front of a downtown hotel, seized a payroll of $3,163 and fled in a motor car. They were pursued more than a mile by a motorcycle policeman, the bandits' automobile was wrecked and two of the three men were captured. The payroll, dropped by the bandits, when their car was wrecked, was picked up intact.

SPUDDERS HAVE ONE BIG INNING IN WHICH THEY SCORE ENOUGH TO TAKE THIRD FROM BEARS 3-1

SAN ANTONIO, June 12.—The Spudders got to Wetzel in the third frame of today's game with the Bears and pounded out enough runs to win 3 to 1. As was the case Friday, the visitors had just one big inning, but that one was enough. In this round, an infield hit by Miller, Zinn's safety to right, Josefson's sacrifice, Tanner's single and Grubb's one base clout gave the Spudders three runs and the game.

Jimmy Zinn was on the mound for the Spudders and he was more than lucky to escape with his game. The Bears had men on the bases in every inning except the sixth a total of 12 men being left stranded on each.

Josefson grounded out to first unassisted. Tanner was thrown out by Fuller. Snedecor singled to center. Gross booted Mokane's roller and both men were safe. On a double steal Snedecor was thrown out at third. Gibson to Nee walked. Harrow was struck.

Booe fouled out to Kitchens. Gross drew a pass and scored on Brown's two fly ball to right. Gibson went out on three straight strikes. Knisely flew out to Miller.

Grubb fanned. Kitchens followed suit. Brown led to Brown. Northern fanned. Fuller was thrown out on strikes. Grubb threw out Fuller. Nee poked a safety to center but got no farther as Wetzel went out. Grubb to Snedecor.

Miller beat out a hit to first and went to second with a sacrifice. Nee to right. Both men moved up a notch on Josefson's sacrifice. Nee to Fuller, who covered first. Tanner singled to center scoring Miller, but Zinn was held at third. Tanner went to second when Snedecor flew out to Booe. Zinn was again held at third. Wetzel pipped the bases. He was fanned. Harrow was struck. Grubb singled just out of Nee's reach, scoring Zinn and Tanner. Kitchens flew out to Booe.

Booe walked. Gross also worked Zinn for a pass after Jimmy had him in the hole. Brown sacrificed both runners along. Gibson pipped to Tanner. Knisely popped to Snedecor.

Brownlow grounded out. Nee to Northern. Miller was thrown out by Fuller. Zinn tripled to left out of play. Fuller to Northern. Northern was hit by a pitched ball. Fuller forced him at second. Tanner to Brownlow. Nee flew out to Josefson and Wetzel fanned.

Fifth Inning. Snedecor singled to right and remained at the first station while Molsan flew out to Brown and Grubb popped to Gross. Zinn got away to a poor start again by passing Booe to Tanner. Fuller doubled again to the left field fence, sending Booe to third. Gibson walked, filling the bases. Zinn then changed his tactics and tried to be a hero, by flying out to Josefson.

FELSCH WHITE SOX OUTFIELDER NO. 6 VIEING WITH BABE RUTH FOR HOME RUN HONORS IN THE AMERICAN LEAGUE

HAPPY KEEPS RIGHT ON THE BABE'S HEELS

"Happy" Felsch, the White Sox's slugging outfielder, has been posting out home runs such a merry clip of late that he shows promise of giving the mighty Babe Ruth a little competition—and even a little competition against the wallowing Babe is no idle boast, for Felsch is close on the "Yankee" outfielder's heels in the race for home-run honors in the American league.

Felsch ranks among the greatest outfielders in the big leagues, being a brilliant defensive player as well as a heavy hitter. He seems to have recovered from the miserable showing he made last year in the world's series against the Cincinnati Reds, and is a vital cog in the machine Kid Gleason is pinning his hopes on to win another pennant.

Double play combinations of course center around short, second and first. The three positions that handle the greatest number of chances in the course of a season. Due to the possession of the scintillating Bobby Stow, Fort Worth boasts the best double play combination in the league in Stow at short, Hoffman at second, and Kraft at first. Stow has started more double plays than any other man in the league, 12, and Stow, Kraft and Hoffman without outside assistance have reeled off twenty-two plays.

Only seven regulars are still hitting over .300 and the week ending June 7 seen a general falling off. San Antonio's sudden drop into the second place was reflected in the average of the Bears' spring hitters, Brown being the only player left with his head above the dead line. Correspondingly beginning to tell. Although none of the Cats has averaged .300, four are near that mark.

Leaders through games of June 7: Doolley, Wichita, .400; D. Robertson, Ft. Worth, .311; Silva, San Antonio, .308; E. Appleton, Wichita, .292; Fincher, San Antonio, .282; Pate, Ft. Worth, .281; Zinn, Wichita, .278; Montague, San Antonio, .275; Ens, Houston, .272; Josephson, Wichita, .268; Stollbauer, Houston, .261; Williams, Ft. Worth, .245; Easterly, Beaumont, .241; Massey, San Antonio, .235; T. Miller, Wichita, .230.

Naturally, in a race which has been so remarkably and conclusively appropriated by one club, the pitchers of that team show by far the best winning average. The lowest of Jack Ait's quintette has a winning percentage of 600 even, while the others are all clustered close to the top. Since Beaumont put a stop to Jimmy Zinn's winning record on his return to the game last week, the only unbeaten hurler remaining on the list is Clyde Wilson, Hunter Hill's six-foot-six Pennsylvanian. Carefully groomed and started but twice, the tall left-hander has won three games.

Wichita Falls and the Gros-Fuller-Northern combination at San Antonio. These trios are responsible for eighteen each. The leading single combination of the season to date is "Gross to Fuller to Northern" that has figured ten times in box scores.

Double plays in the first third of the Texas League season have been less frequent than the character of play exhibited in the circuit would indicate ought to have been reeled off. San Antonio leads the circuit with 28 double plays, followed by Wichita Falls with 25, and Houston with 24.

MOKAN AND JOSEFSON IN SELECT CIRCLE OF TEXAS LEAGUE BATTERS; SILVA OF SANTONE TOPS THEM ALL

By WILLIAM E. RUGGLES, League Statistician. Antonio leads the circuit in the number made, 39, with Wichita Falls at 38, a close rival. The others are Houston, 36; Beaumont, 35; Fort Worth, 32; Shreveport, 30; Dallas, 27; Galveston, 28.

AMERICAN NATIONAL TAKES ONE FROM FIRST NATIONAL, CITY NATIONAL COPS TWO

The American National Bank strengthened its grip on the top rung of the City league yesterday by defeating the First National Bank 12 to 5. Darcy Bonner was in the box for the winners and held his opponents to six hits. Errors by the First National aided materially in the large score made by the leaders.

The American National is now leading the league by 1 1/2 games. The Wichita Motors are in second place and when the two teams meet this week, the fur is bound to fly. The first meeting between the two teams will be Tuesday at Athletic Park.

The City National Bank of Commerce took both ends of a double header from the Texoma Oil and Refining Co. by a score of 2 to 0 and 13 to 3.

Sport Comment

By Paul W. Larkin

Jimmy must have had a rabbit's foot in his pocket. Inability to hit in the pinches has cost the Bears most of their games. In the series with the Spudders they had no less than 30 men left stranded on the sacks.

Now the burning question is, "What will we do to the Pirates? The Pirates are in no pleasant frame of mind after being held scoreless in two games yesterday."

Jimmy Zinn tried in and out. He fanned 8 and passed 7. He must have put the men on the sacks at to show that he was there in a pinch.

Gibson had three golden opportunities to break up the game, but couldn't come through. He hit safely once after two men were out and the bases were empty.

"Red" Josefson has at last reached the select class. Jo has been on a batting rampage of late. He hit safely in 16 consecutive games before he was stopped and the spurt carried him among the leaders.

Johnny Mokane is coming fast and has his eye on the leadership. He is going at a .348 clip, only 22 points behind Silva, the league leader.

Manager Al Edwards of the Camel A. C. will have a dark house this week. The match that was underway fell through, owing to the fact that one of the men was unable to appear.

Swimming is a sport so we can use the following in this "colium": One of the Airmen fans asked the other day why there were so many freckled knees in evidence at the swimming pool. Upon investigation we learn that they are caused by the high steps on the street cars. We tell 'em, don't explain 'em.

The Oldest Piano. The oldest piano in existence was made by Cristofori in the year 1720, and is still in good condition. But its sound is more like that of a harp than a piano, for its wires, instead of being struck by hammers are plucked by points of quill or of hard leather.

SPUDDERS CLAIM UMPIRE ROBS THEM IN BEAUMONT; TEAM HITS WINNING STRIDE IN SANTONE

After getting away to a disastrous start this week, the Spudders pulled themselves together in San Antonio and started on the upward trail again. The Exporters handled the local outfit in a decidedly rough manner during their four-day stay in Beaumont and shammed them four times in a row. The Spudders, however, claim that they ran into the worst piece of umpiring in Beaumont that they have seen this year. Umpire Doyle gave them the raw end on every decision and handed the Exporters everything. The Spudders claim that they were continually kept the Spudder twirlers in a hole and it was impossible for them to have a strike called unless the ball was dead and they got a catcher, a ball was called and the Exporters drew frequent passes. The only thing left for them to do was to throw them across the middle of the platter and take a chance on the ball being hit into some fielder's hands. They didn't have a bit of luck and the odds were too great. Their hitting fell off somewhat in San Antonio, but they hit more opportunely and all their blows counted. The airtight fielding which the Spudders displayed at home has not been in evidence to an alarming degree since they went on the road. The infield has been boomer than with great regularity, though the loss of a game can be laid to errors.

NEW YORK, June 12.—Interest in the stock market this week was at all times eclipsed by political developments. Trading was limited to the professional element and prices were uncertain at best. The strength of a few selected industrial and speculative and a moderate rally in wheat the latter due to the cut in Chicago and Northwestern dividends. Under conditions improved for further reports of reduced activity and downward revision of price schedules for fall delivery.

ONE TEXAN INCLUDED AMONG EIGHT WHO ARE TO REPRESENT AMERICA IN TRAPSHOOTING EVENT

The Olympic trapshooting event which is to represent the United States in the competitions at Antwerp, has been chosen by Jay Clark, captain of the team, who made the selection of its members with a committee appointed to aid him, was conducted with a difficult task, and almost a thankless one. A brief record of those selected follows: Frank Aric, of Thomasboro, Ill., is without question the star of the aggregation. He led last year's average list with 2,856 breaks out of a total of 2,920 targets, which gave him an average of 97.80. He has been shooting at just such a clip this year. Frank M. Troch, of Vancouver, Wash., tread closely upon his heels for the distinction being the foremost shooter of the United States. He finished third in the average lists last year with 2,845 breaks out of 2,920, an average of 97.45. He won the 18-year championship at the Grand American with a score that never will be beaten and quite possibly never will be equalled. He has won so many honors with his $18 pump gun that it would be an all day task to enumerate them. Frank Wright, of Buffalo, N. Y., is another member of the team. Wright made an average in 1919 or 97.25, breaking 4,707 out of 4,840. He finished fifth in the average lists. A fair criterion of his ability was shown by his impressive victory in the amateur championship, which he won after trying with the Buffs and out of 200. In the shoot-off he broke 80 straight. Horace Bosner, of Cincinnati, is less

CHAMPIONSHIP TITLE IS PASSWORD TO FAME AND WEALTH TODAY

They are boasting today of the fact that Jack Dempsey, who was riding the rails not much over three years ago, is now close to a million-dollar fortune. The reason for this is his championship title. It is a password to fame and wealth today. Little different from that of heavy-weight champions who came before him, nearly all of whom acquired wealth in no time. Take Willard, from whom Jack won the championship so quickly. Big Jess was five years ago on the bum. He was so poor a year or two before he whipped Johnson that his wife was compelled to wash dishes in a Kansas restaurant to support herself and her two children. Now Jess is rated a millionaire and is down as one of the wealthiest as well as one of the biggest men in Kansas. Jack Johnson, whom Willard whipped, for two years before winning the championship, worked a lunch route in Galveston where he was born, and Jack, after winning the championship, made loads of money and would be a rich man today if he had taken even fair care of his earnings. Jeffries was only a poor boiler-maker, working in a boiler shop in San Francisco, until he went in to help Jim Corbett train for his fight with Fitzsimmons. Big Jeff hadn't been then. But he had the physique, and after Corbett had taught him how to box and all the tricks of the game, Big Jeff went in and whipped his teacher. Of the last half dozen champions Fitzsimmons was the only one not to put away money for the rainy day which comes to rich and poor fighters alike. But, even at that, Fitz was earning big money in vaudeville just before he died. John L. Sullivan, starting out as a tinmith's helper, made and gave away two or three fortunes before he died.

KEMP-MUNGER-ALLEN DISTRICT FURNISHED SEVERAL INTERESTING DEVELOPMENTS LAST WEEK

Operations in the Kemp-Munger-Allen district, where there are at least four distinct centers of interest, are marked by a vigorous campaign of actively reflected in the steadily climbing production of the district, and the opening up of what now appears to be a new pool in the South, Burkburnett district by the Texas Interstate's fine producer on the Robertson provided joint features for the operations of the week in the Wichita Falls oil district.

The completion of a 600 to 800-barrel producer by the Panhandle Refining, Cline Oil Company in lot 21 of the Munger Subdivision of Block 25, providing a better than 1,000 feet due northward extension of the production in the western part of the pool, was distinctly the chief feature of the Kemp-Munger-Allen operations of the week, and the most important development since the completion of the first producer on the west side of the pool some months ago—the second producer in the entire pool and affording a mile extension to the west. The Kemp-Munger-Allen company is preparing to effect the chief feature of interest in this section is afforded by the report that T. H. Bass et al have a showing for a good shallow producer in the second hole on the Kemp-Munger lease in the north part of Block 25, located in the southeast corner of the lease. The depth of this sand, which is now being tested, is around 1200 feet.

The final completion of the Prescott Phoenix No. 1 Munger in Block 30, just east and north of the Kemp-Munger-Allen discovery well, and the second producer on the east side of the pool, which was reported pumping late in the week at the rate of 35 barrels per hour, is a second of the features furnished during the week by the Kemp-Munger-Allen district. The Kemp-Munger-Allen company is rigging up a western offset to this well, while Art Hayes cannot afford offsetting it on the north on their Munger "A" lease.

Developments to the South Prospects of an early test of the producing capacity of the hilling in the vicinity of Block 41, a mile south of the Kemp-Munger-Allen discovery, where four tests are on the sand and casing, and the Boger-Ard-Maer No. 1 Kemp and Kemper, which has made one run in spite of water trouble and established its title to the discovery exemption in this district, and is now ready for the resetting of casing, creates new interest in this section, which has intermittently held the spotlight for the past several weeks. The four new tests on the sand are the Boger-Ard-Maer No. 1 Kemp and Kemper, block 41; Bass and Dillon No. 1 Kemp and Kemper, an offsetting lease in Block 41; Boger-Ard-Maer syndicate No. 1 Logan in Block 38, adjoining to the north; and Harison et al in the southwest of Block 21, joining diagonally with the Boger-Ard-Maer Kemp and Kemper lease on the northwest.

This district first came into notice weeks ago when it was discovered that the Boger-Ard-Maer No. 1 Kemp and Kemper, whose casing had blown over in a storm and allowed to be undisturbed for three weeks, was not abandoned as originally supposed, but really had just encountered a sand. Considerable excitement followed this discovery, which came about when the rig was rebuilt and tools put back into the hole. The well following this performance with several flows, an attempt to bail, however, the bailer was lost in the hole, necessitating several weeks of fishing, during which a standard was rigged up over the test, and during which the other tests started in the district began to approach the sand depth. Following the recovery of the bailer, it was found that the casing had a faulty seal and was letting in some water. The test was swabbed into the slush pit and the oil pumped into the tanks for a run, however, as other tests were approaching sand depth, and the owners were anxious to make a run to establish their claim to the discovery exemption. The sand depth, which was a closely guarded secret until the other tests got the sand, is now established as around 1778 feet. The last of the features from this pool comes with the final completion of the Ryan Oil Corporation No. 1 Nance, a cable test which shows for a 40 or 50 barrel pumper. The sand depth is 1240. The test is a mile and a half north and across the Wichita river from the nearest Kemp-Munger-Allen production.

The Texas Interstate on the Donohoe was reported late in the week flowing at the rate of 10 barrels an hour, indicating the striking of a new pool to the south and east in the South Burkburnett such as the Texhoma developed on the Daniels, and the Pioneer on the Keller, to the South and West of the Daniels.

Nothing save routine developments were reported during the week from the Waggoner or its extensions. One completion was reported by the Danziger and Willis interests from the Emerich and Dancker pool, the No. 1 Michna, in lot 6, Block 1, Tredwell subdivision of Block 819, a general Burkburnett drilling summary follows:

MRS. BURRIS CLOSING RECITALS OF MUCH INTEREST

The week just past contained several events of more than usual interest in musical circles in the five recitals with which Mrs. Laura Tabor Burriss marked the formal close of the 1919-1920 season of her school of piano. There were two class recitals, and three individual recitals extending over the week, and each occasion was marked as unusually successful, by the many expressions of admiring approval of the friends and patrons who attended.

Mrs. Burriss is concluding her third season in Wichita Falls, and in her work has featured the juvenile training for which she uses the Duaning system, and in which she has been unusually successful, as these recitals demonstrated. Worthy of especial note was the recital work of the little Misses Katherine Avis Weeks, Dorothy Dalton and Mabel Drinkard, all three of whom began their musical study with Mrs. Burriss, and who during the three years study have made remarkable progress. These three girls, and all those who took part in the recitals have made much progress in their harmony study, and the demonstrations showed an unusual grasp of the foundation principles by even the tiniest beginners.

Little Miss Weeks especially has made exceptional progress, exhibiting a natural musical talent that is unusual, with a maturity of appreciation of the value of study far beyond her years, and the eight-year-old Misses now playing sixth grade compositions. Her recitals, in which she was assisted by Dorothy Dalton and Mabel Drinkard, occurred on Thursday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weeks, 1413 Tenth street.

FAREWELL RECEPTION FOR MRS. S. L. FOWLER FRIDAY

A farewell reception for Mrs. S. L. Fowler, whose departure from Wichita Falls to make her home in Fort Worth has been the occasion of a number of parting social compliments, was given Friday afternoon at the attractive home of her daughter, Mrs. J. G. Hammond, 1717 Eleventh street, with both her daughters, Mrs. Hammond and Mrs. C. H. Gilchrist, as hostesses.

An elaborate perfection of detail was noted in the decoration of the reception suite, with lavender and white the favored colors. The drawing room where the handsomely gowned receiving line greeted the guests, was decorated with a profusion of lilies, and in the dining room, the sweet peas in the favored colors were combined with smilax in attractive effect. The dining table, overlaid with lace, and with all appointments in the accepted colors, was centered with a mound of lavender and white sweet peas, and the smilax marking the outer edge.

MRS. BURRIS CLOSING RECITALS OF MUCH INTEREST

The week just past contained several events of more than usual interest in musical circles in the five recitals with which Mrs. Laura Tabor Burriss marked the formal close of the 1919-1920 season of her school of piano. There were two class recitals, and three individual recitals extending over the week, and each occasion was marked as unusually successful, by the many expressions of admiring approval of the friends and patrons who attended.

Mrs. Burriss is concluding her third season in Wichita Falls, and in her work has featured the juvenile training, which she uses the Dunning system, and in which she has been unusually successful, as these recitals demonstrated. Worthy of special note was the recital work of the little Misses Katherine Avis Weeks, Dorothy Dalton and Mabel Drinkard, all three of whom began their musical study with Mrs. Burriss during the three-year study which has made remarkable progress. These students and all those who took part in the recitals have made much progress in their harmony study, and demonstrations showed an unusual grasp of the foundation principles by even the tiniest beginners.

Little Miss Weeks especially has made exceptional progress, combining a natural musical talent that is unusual, with a maturity of appreciation of the value of study beyond her years, and the eight-year-old miss is now playing sixth grade compositions. Her recitals, in which she was assisted by Dorothy Dalton and Mabel Drinkard, occurred on Thursday, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weeks, 1418 Tenth street.

Mrs. Burriss will resume her classes at her studio, 612 1/2 Scott, in the Henderson apartments, this fall.

The first recital of the week was the elementary recital, which was held Monday morning at the First Christian church. The program followed:

1. La Marche—Burgmüller; Les Bohémiens—Burgmüller—Katherine Avis Weeks.
2. Dominant Seventh Chords and Resolutions in Major and Minor—Katherine Avis Weeks; written, Dorothy Skeen.
3. Questions and tests in: (a) Interversion of hands—Wright; (b) Triads—Piano, Dorothy Dalton; written, Neva Black; (c) Common Chords; (d) Common Chords in Succession; (e) Melodious Harmonization.
4. Romance in A—Thurlow Leurance; Etude—Bourbour—Lucy Rountree.
5. By the Mountain Inn—Bohm; Farewell to the Alps—Bohm; Capriccio—Dominico Scarlotti—Mabel Drinkard.
6. Mazurka Impromptu—Bohm—Neva Black.
7. Gypsy Dance—Evans; Chase of the Butterflies—Williams—Mary Ferguson.
8. Valse—Dorothy Skeen.
9. The Storm—Burgmüller; Waving Branches—Morrison—Katherine Weeks.
10. Scherzo—Schubert; Impromptu—Bohm; Daisies—Fontaine—Dorothy Dalton.
11. Biographies—Mary Ferguson.

Monday evening, Miss Lula Wood and Miss Ruby Avis, advanced pupils of Mrs. Burriss, were presented in recital at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Wood, 1000 Brook, parents of Miss Wood. The program for this occasion follows:

1. Hungarian Dance No. 6—Johannes Brahms—Primo, Ruby Avis; Secondo, Lula Wood.

Fowler, whose departure from Wichita Falls to make her home in Fort Worth has been the occasion of a number of parting social compliments, was given Friday afternoon at the attractive home of her daughter, Mrs. J. BUSINESS COUNCIL WILL RECOMMEND ORDINANCE FOR PARKING REGULATIONS

Important changes in downtown traffic regulations will be urged upon the city council by a committee from the business council of the chamber of commerce, which on Friday night approved the report of the committee which has had the matter in charge. The changes urged are:

Creating a "congested area" extending from Seventh to Tenth, inclusive, and from Michigan to Lamar.

On Eighth street, cars to be parked parallel with curb with one hour limit.

On Indiana and Ohio between Seventh and Ninth, cars to be parked at 45-degree angle, with one-hour limit.

Exceptions to be made on one-hour limit for physicians' cars.

Placing of signs to acquaint public with regulations.

Enforcement of ordinance prohibiting cars being left in street without drivers.

Placing of traffic policemen at Eighth and Ohio, Eighth and Indiana and Ninth and Indiana, from 5:30 to 8 p. m.

The committee which submitted the report, consisting of Lamar D. Fain, Leon Loeb, J. A. Gardner, E. S. Goodner and P. B. Cox, was requested to bring the matter before the city council.

A considerable part of Friday night's meeting was taken up with a discussion of recent newspaper items dealing with real estate values. Real estate men were emphatic in declaring that no appreciable reduction in values had been recorded here.

The council also took up the question of charges for transfer and service car operators, a number of complaints being registered. A committee was named to recommend a new ordinance regulating such charges on a case-by-case basis, this committee consisting of E. S. Goodner, H. E. Bachman, Horace Robbins and G. D. Young.

A suggestion that Wichita Falls undertake to obtain the headquarters of the Texas Cattlemen's association, soon to be moved from Fort Worth, was referred to a committee for necessary action.

J. C. Mytinger, vice chairman of the council, presided in the absence of Chairman B. F. Johnson, who was out of the city.

ELWELL'S DEATH SHROUDED WITH UNRAVELED MYSTERY

NEW YORK, June 12.—Twenty-four hours after the murder of Joseph B. Elwell, wealthy sportsman and authority on whist, the police admitted today that they were virtually without an important clue as to who shot him in his home in this city.

Examination of scores of friends and acquaintances served the purpose, however, of convincing the police that there was nothing to substantiate a theory that he might have ended his own life. No weapon was found in the house.

Detectives attached some importance to the story told by Elwell's chauffeur, Edward B. Rhodes, that he knew a number of women friends had keys to Mr. Elwell's home. These women were wont to come and go at will, Rhodes said.

Mrs. Elwell, who had been legally separated from her husband since 1911, was questioned by the police last night. The police declined to make public anything regarding the nature of this interview.

FEDERAL BUILDING NOTES

All routine business of the United States internal revenue office in Wichita Falls was suspended today, and the office temporarily became a schoolroom for the holding of civil service examinations. The examinations are for minor appointments, typists, stenographers and government clerks in various branches of the service.

L. B. Scharnburg, deputy collector of internal revenue here, has been transferred to Galveston. He will leave Wichita Falls Sunday. His successor in the local office has not been named.

The postoffice inspector for the North Texas district is in Wichita Falls. It is rumored that a number of cases of alleged use of the mails to defraud, cases based on oil stock sales, are occupying his attention.

A. F. Bowden, chief zone deputy collector of internal revenue for this district, is at Vernon on government business.

NOTICE.

To the voters Precinct Number 1, Wichita County:

Owing to the great amount of work of the constable's office, I doubt being able to see each of you personally in regard to my candidacy for re-election to the office of constable of said precinct for my second term. Hence I take this means of respectfully soliciting your vote and influence and fair consideration at your hands in the coming July primaries. The lawyers and justices of the peace, for whom I have done most of my work during the past two years, can bear witness as to how I have performed the duties of my office. J. B. Nail, 28-11c

200 WICHITA FALLS SHRINERS WILL LEAVE ON SPECIAL THURSDAY FOR PORTLAND, ORE.

Almost 200 members of the Wichita Falls Shrine Club (counting a glittering and gorgeous galaxy of 50 musicians) will roll away from this city at 3:00 a. m. Thursday, over the P. W. & O. railroad, bound for Portland, Ore. Wichita Falls is a finer place by far than Portland, and the shriners are not fleeing their Texas citizenship; not by a jugful! They are going with supplication, prayer and insistence to persuade the Imperial Council of the Ancient and Accepted Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine to grant a dispensation for the establishment of a shrine in Wichita Falls.

The Imperial Council is holding its annual meeting in Portland, June 23-24. The council's meeting was being held on board a house boat in the straits of Magellan, those Wichita Falls shriners would be just as joyously crusading over the briny, if it were no difference to them—and it would be smoother traveling over the ocean, anyway, than over some of the railroad roadbeds that become treacherous during the period of government control.

The local shriners will hold a parade next Wednesday, just to bid a brief farewell to the home folks. With it most 200 good citizens departing, including prominent lawyers, doctors, oil men, bankers, merchants, contractors, engineers, druggists, were the mayor of our fair city, their loss, even though a temporary one, will be felt. But truth forces the scribe to state here that those 200 Wichitans will be merely a tiny grain of sand on an ocean beach of humanity when they reach Portland. For we have it on the authority of H. M. Belcher, secretary of the shrine, that over 100,000 city is expecting not less than 250,000 visitors during the convention.

But if the Wichita Falls delegation should, perhaps, go slightly "lost in the shuffle," let to the city, that is, in dollars to doughnuts (which one wag declares is even money these days) that the Wichita Falls delegation will be heard. There are fifty manufacturers of both melody and discord in the "home gang's" band, and they intend to play everything from "Down By the Rio Grande" to the "Cowboy's Lament" and O. Henry's "Hallel of the Hot Tamale."

In fact, that band will probably establish several new records under the influence of new uniforms. The uniforms arrived Saturday, and the manufacturers were careful not to leave out of the fabrics any known colors; a simple reporter cannot do justice to those shrine band uniforms—that is the work of a Rubens, a De Angelo, a Corot or a circus poster painter.

Mayor W. D. Cline, who was recently elected to be the first Polemarch of "Maskat" Temple (That's the name chosen for the shrine-to-be), will head the local delegation—and it might be mentioned, in passing, that if you wish any streets paved, desire to call attention to violations of the sanitation ordinance or to transact any other city business, Walter Curlee will probably be in his office in the former-City Wood Building—"Curlee & Johnson, Real Estate and Acting Mayoralties."

Passing from the ridiculous to the necessary, Secretary Belcher desires to state that there are still a few reservations left for shriners who wish to make the trip, and they can be obtained by writing him or J. W. Chatham at the Chamber of Commerce. Also, those who have reservations should call on Chatham without fail next Tuesday, state the route over which they wish to return and obtain their tickets.

It is going to be a wonderful trip, and it is sincerely to be hoped that the dispensation for the establishment of a shrine in Wichita Falls will be obtained. Among those who have signed for reservations and are waiting for the locomotive's whistle, are Dr. and Mrs. P. Bass, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Shackelford, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Cline, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McCutcheon, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Rowe, Mr. and Mrs. O. Craven, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Sheppard, Mr. and Mrs. H. Chamford, W. W. Gardner, H. L. Hany, E. M. Belcher, H. Pois, W. J. Sincely, W. U. McCutcheon, M. Cook, R. Duford, J. H. Schumm, R. N. Sanbury and many others.

NEW EQUIPMENT WILL ADD GREATLY TO EFFICIENCY OF WICHITA FALLS FIRE DEPT.

Let some modern Nero of the Southwest take his dad-blasted fiddle from his case, and start a conflagration in Wichita Falls! Let Mrs. Leary's feet be paged, if the bovine still lives, and invited to kick up another blaze! In brief, let incendiarism and the accidental torch do their worst—and the Wichita Falls fire department, equipped with as splendid fire-fighting apparatus as any city in the United States today, will turn a deluge on the flames that will extinguish them as quickly as the hopes of several republican candidates were extinguished in Chicago following publication of the first ballot.

Fire Chief McClure was as delighted as a boy with a new bicycle Thursday, when the department received two big Stutz machines, one a combination hose and chemical, the other a combination hose and turret. Fire Chief McClure was as delighted as a horse with a new harness when he received two big Stutz machines, one a combination hose and chemical, the other a combination hose and turret.

The combination hose and turret pipe expects to prove one of the most valuable pieces of apparatus in the department. It has four two-and-one-half-inch pipes that lead into a single four-inch pipe, connecting to a two-inch nozzle. It is simple to imagine the tremendous water pressure that can be hurried through that nozzle into a blazing building; a pressure sufficient, Chief McClure states today, to throw a stream over five stories in height or to pound a hole through a brick wall.

The department also has received 5,000 feet of new hose, making 5,000 feet of hose now available for fire use; a pump; a life line, and a new Burrell gas mask. The masks already have proven their value. During the recent fire in the Empress theater, Chief McClure sent four of his men, wearing the masks, inside the building—and their work in the smoke-filled theater was largely instrumental in checking the fire.

In addition to the equipment received, the department is expecting daily a big Stutz combination hose wagon and a 75-gallon pumper, and a vacuum deluge set, the which rests on a ground frame, will operate four streams of water simultaneously.

With this equipment, with work progressing rapidly on the installation of the new fire alarm system, and with a fire chief whose popularity is based on a splendid record for hard work and thoughtfulness, the Wichita Falls fire department is "sitting pretty."

DEVELOPMENT EXPECTED IN AUDITOR'S FIGHT ON ROAD EXPENDITURES

Sensational developments in the fight on the county road building contract between the county commissioners and Potts & Prentice, road building contractors, is expected for Monday when County Auditor W. W. Murphy will be requested to return with his approval bills of Potts & Prentice totaling more than $20,000. The bills were passed up to the county auditor's office early in the week by County Road Engineer Isbell.

County Auditor Murphy issued the following statement on Saturday, regarding his stand on approval of the bills: "There has been filed with the county auditor bills amounting to $20,000 by Potts & Prentice, road contractors. The county auditor was asked if these bills would be approved and presented to the commissioners' court for payment at their regular meeting on Monday, June 14. I wish to state that I have not even gone through the bills. I have been working overtime trying to keep up with the affairs of the office and until I am permitted by the county judge to secure assistance to do the work that is required I will not have time to go into the Potts & Prentice bills and am not in a position to say whether or not I would approve or refuse the payment of the bills."

CHATTANOOGA PLUMBER CARRIES PLUMBING SHOP TO THE JOB WITH HIM

A Chattanooga plumber has effectually served notice on the public that the standing joke about plumbers changing their tools and an hour "to go back after their tools" does not apply to him. He carries his complete plumbing shop with him to every job in a Dodge Brothers business car. The interior of the panel body is so arranged that there is a place for every tool and every part. The owner, James H. Lipp, is fully aware of the advantage he enjoys with this equipment and uses it in his advertising. The car is painted purple, tinted in maroon and lettered in gold leaf.

FIGHTING CHANCE FOR BOND EXEMPTION BILL

The prospects for carrying the bill to exempt Texas municipal bonds from taxation are not greatly improved, according to reports from the special session at Austin.

After the measure had apparently been definitely killed, the Texas chamber of commerce and the local chamber of commerce were able to get the question reopened. A motion to reconsider was made, and opponents sought to table this motion, which would have finally knocked the bill out. The vote on this motion was a tie, 46 to 46, the motion to table being lost. On the motion to reconsider, the vote was 51 to 51, it also being lost for the time being. There is still a fighting chance, according to information from Austin, to get the bill through.

PARRISH WILL MAINTAIN OFFICE DURING RECESS

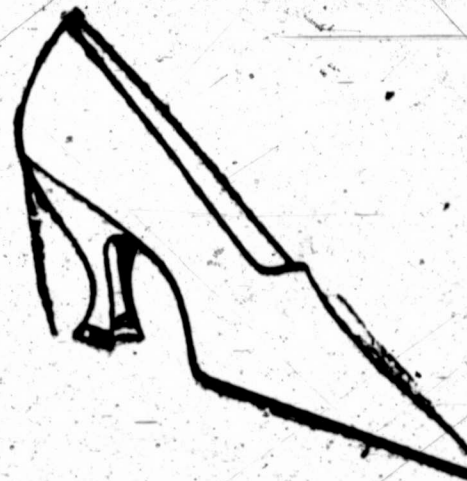

Maintaining a policy of "sleeping with one eye open," Congressman Landon W. Parrish has left Washington to enjoy the congressional recess—but has wisely left a competent man in charge of his Washington office to look after all departmental matters. Mr. Parrish will arrive in Henrietta tomorrow, and can be reached there by any of his constituents in this congressional district, or through his Washington office, Room 171, House Office building. Before leaving Washington Congressman Parrish stated that he hoped during the recess of congress to visit many of the cities and towns in the Thirtieth district, to obtain additional information regarding the needs of the district and the wishes of his constituents.

The Democratic Presidential Candidates

By WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

(Copyright 1920 by the Wheeler Syndicate)

To every political observer two things are apparent: first, that the contest for the democratic presidential nomination is proceeding without acrimony. The republicans are fighting and harrying in an arena that is vocal with accusations and cries of distress. If the public can believe what the republican candidates are saying about each other—and they are all honorable men—none of them are fit for the office to which they aspire.

How different the situation in the democratic party. Everything is peaceful as a pink tea; the candidates are most lady-like in their treatment of each other—it is "After you, please." You first, Gaston," is it the lull before the storm or is it because the prospects of success are not so exciting?

That brings us to the second obvious characteristic of the campaign, viz.: the shortage of democratic votes. It is shown by the primaries and by the various straw votes recently taken. Take Nebraska for instance. In 1916 President Wilson carried the state by 41,000 majority. This year, in spite of the spirited fight over the liquor question the democrats polled only about 76,000 votes at the primaries while the republicans polled about 130,000. In Michigan the republicans polled more than twice as many votes as the democrats. In the various public polls considerably more than twice as many votes as the democrats, although the democrats carried Ohio in 1916. The same rule holds good—or should I say bad?—in Indiana, California, Massachusetts and other states where a vote has been taken.

The Literary Digest poll, the largest ever taken, reveals a lamentable lack of Democratic votes. But more astounding than the scarcity of democratic votes is the apparent hostility of democratic voters to republican candidates. The voters are asked to state their party affiliation, and up to the publication which appeared on the fifteenth of May, 14,000 democrats expressed a preference for republican candidates while the republicans expressed a choice for democratic candidates was only 1,000. The proportion is as great in the issue of May 22. It is quite unusual for two-fifths of the democratic vote to indicate a leaning toward the candidates of the opposite party at the beginning of a campaign. One who has been in the field cannot include all the voters—they are counting upon only eleven million out of the total number of voters, and the voters already in represent only about one-tenth of the total number expected. It would not be surprising if the republican trend was conclusive, but it is enough to excite alarm among the democrats—enough to compel earnest consideration of the problem which must be met in the campaign.

The question will be asked with increasing emphasis as the convention approaches in the minds of democratic party rally to its standards a sufficient number of votes to win? To win is the thought uppermost in the minds of delegates at a national convention, however much they may differ as to the methods to be employed to win, but those two groups are united in purpose. Having in view this primary object of winning, let us consider the relative availability of the candidates, and it must be remembered that availability does not necessarily proportionate to merit.

President Wilson. The candidate need not be considered. While vague hints and suggestions have been thrown out occasionally, no one claiming to be the president or near enough to him to assume to express his wishes has announced his candidacy.

Herbert Hoover. Mr. Hoover need not be considered as among the available candidates. For a time he seemed to hesitate about declaring his allegiance to any party. He was inclined to wait until the platforms were written with a view to choosing the one which came nearest to his ideas. But this hesitation did not last long. For some reason—whether he acted voluntarily or was pushed by his supporters—he became a rival of Senator Johnson for California's nomination. Before he took the fatal plunge, many democrats joined his colors, and some of these would doubtless follow him into the republican party if he were the nominee. But he appears to have but little chance in the republican convention and none at all at San Francisco.

Governor Edwards. The most active of the avowed candidates for the democratic nomination is

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

Governor Edwards of New Jersey. The primary vote shows that he has a strong following among the Knights of Third Degree. His variety of luxuriantly in wet cities. His propaganda, however, does not take root to any great extent in the agricultural sections and his following in the convention will not be sufficient to make him a serious competitor for the nomination. Before the convention the supreme court is likely to demolish his platform by affirming the right of the people of the United States to amend their constitution as to prohibit the manufacture and sale of beverages alcoholic; and second, by denying the right of his and other states to nullify the national enforcement law by state statute. His opposition to prohibition is so violent that he would not be available except on a wet platform and a wet platform is an impossibility.

Governor Cox. Governor Cox of Ohio, is likely to be the residuary legatee of all the other wet candidates and may be regarded as the final rallying point for all democrats who, either because of financial interest in the liquor traffic or because of their own fondness for intoxicants, regard love for liquor as the only legitimate affection and the right to buy it as the only inalienable right guaranteed by the constitution.

Gov. Cox's friends will urge him as a compromise between wet and dry. His supporters will make their fight under the false flag of the prohibitionist, but the harmony in which they would feel no interest whatever if they could muster one majority for a wet plank. But Gov. Cox's record is as malodorous as Gov. Edwards, and extends over a longer period. The New Jersey governor began work in the vineyard, if I may be pardoned the illustration, at the eleventh hour, while Gov. Cox entered in the morning and perished under the rays of the rising sun of prohibition. He can secure letters of recommendation from all the brewers, distillers, wholesalers, retailers and sops in his state. He refused to aid in securing an enforcement law in Ohio after the voters had written prohibition into the constitution by 25,000 majority, and then he sat silent in the governor's office while the representatives of the liquor traffic, with his knowledge if not with his aid, waged a bitter fight against every law that the temperance element had secured during the past fifty years. He was willing to allow these reactionaries to repeal constitutional prohibition, nullify the enforcement law and withdraw Ohio's name from the list of ratifying states—erase it from the nation's roll of honor. He was even willing that the brewers should write into Ohio's constitution a falsehood, declaring that 275 per cent beer is not intoxicating, thus violating the national enforcement act. No wonder he has the enthusiastic support of those who manufacture criminals for pay and make a business of the corruption of politics. It is the height of audacity that a man with such a record and such a support should aspire to a democratic nomination in face of the fact that every democratic state ratified the prohibition amendment, and in face of the further fact that thirty-four of the states are dry by their own individual acts. The absurdity of his candidacy becomes the more apparent when it is remembered that at least fifty million women will be able to vote at the coming presidential election by ratification of state laws. If the suffrage amendment is ratified before November some twenty-five million women will be entitled to vote.

Vice-President Marshall. Vice-President Marshall is making a feeble bid for the wet vote, but he is hampered by his church connections. His religious speeches excite suspicion among those who might otherwise be attracted by his denunciation of national prohibition while Christians are disgusted by his weakness. In like manner the Vice-President is inviting Wall street support by his praise of "old fashioned democracy" and by the veiled opposition to the initiative and referendum, but the enthusiasm of the reactionaries is likely to be damaged by the rude remarks which he occasionally makes against the exploiting class.

Attorney General Palmer. Attorney General Palmer entered the campaign with considerable advantage. He was in a position to deal sternly with the profiteer and an expectant public stood ready to applaud. But the profiteers seem to have things all his own way and the Attorney General is now suffering from the reaction, which philosophers tell us is equal to the action and in the opposite direction. He has also roused the antagonism of labor and has their opposition to a greater extent than any other democratic aspirant.

It is unfortunate, too, in having to renounce the ratification of the treaty without reservations. His candidacy is, in this respect, a rebuke to twenty-seven of the democratic senators, twenty-three of whom voted for ratification with reservations and four of whom opposed the treaty entirely. The primaries reveal Mr. Palmer's weakness as a candidate. In Michigan he polled a little over eleven thousand votes out of about eighty thousand votes cast by democrats. In Georgia, he polled about one-third of the votes cast at the democratic primary. In the Literary Digest poll up to May 22nd, he has secured only seventeen thousand out of some three hundred thousand votes cast for democratic candidates.

William G. McAdoo. Ex-Secretary McAdoo has up to this time, led all the other candidates as far as the sentiment of the party can be gauged by primary and polls, although his name has been on the ballot in only a few places; that the proof is only prima facie. He came next to Hoover in Michigan and has a considerable lead in the Digest poll. His vote of eighty-six thousand out of some three hundred thousand democratic votes counted is quite complimentary to him, coming as they do from the whole country, but it is not very encouraging vote of confidence when it is measured against more than nine hundred thousand votes cast for republican candidates.

As Mr. McAdoo has announced no platform it is impossible to know what following he will have when his position on public questions is known. It is evident that he has considerable strength among the wage earners, especially in railroad centers, but he is handicapped by his variance with the sentiment of the voters. If he favors ratification with reservations, he is not in a position, for family reasons, to lead the opposition to the President. He is even more seriously handicapped by his close relationship to the President. Without an enforcement law to support those to whom, the President's candididacy appealed with special force, he furnishes an easy mark for all the President's enemies. The virulence of the hostility which he invites is very accurately described in the twenty-first chapter of Matthew, versus thirty-three to thirty-nine.

The republicans have indicated the advantage which they would seek to take of his nomination by frequent reference to the marriage tie which binds him to the White House.

Champ Clark. Speaker Clark has his own state behind him and has reason to feel complimented by the number of votes he has received in the Literary Digest poll. Judge Girard's candidacy has South Dakota's support and he has many personal friends among the delegates.

Owen and Meredith. Senator Owen of Oklahoma and Secretary Meredith of Iowa will be presented by their respective states. They deserve to be named among the few available men thus far mentioned. To be available this year a candidate must be known to be for woman suffrage, for prohibition and against Wall street.

By this standard, Senator Owen and Secretary Meredith are one hundred per cent available.

This is the last of the William Jennings Bryan articles.

WATCH YOUR ICE SUPPLY

That is indeed a most practical suggestion. Be ready when our wagon makes its regular round—see that the way to the refrigerator is clear and all the fragile dishes are out of the driver's way and have your money ready. Better yet—get one of our coupon books and you'll never be without the right change.

Above all do not allow your ice supply to run out. To do so will get the refrigerator warmed up and take twice the ice to chill it again. If you don't keep your ice box filled, you may not get it just when you want it for our driver will have to double back to get to you.

With just a little care and forethought you can save us just world's of time and assure yourself of that efficient service which makes securing your ice supply a pleasant incident of the day.

P. S.—The above mentioned coupon books can be had for $3.25 for the 500-lb. books and $6.50 for the 1000-pound books.

MANUFACTURERS OUTLET SALE

The Reason For the Sale

Our Mr. W. W. Anderson has just returned from New York City, where he spent many busy days, taking full advantage of the recent unusual market conditions.

Mr. Anderson bought nearly $50,000 worth of new mid-summer merchandise at the lowest prices desirable merchandise has been sold for many months.

He struck the market at the opportune time—the time when the silks which had been hoarded for several months by silk speculators were thrown on the market, in an effort to raise money for loans advanced to the speculators.

Small manufacturers of ready-to-wear, and kindred lines were demoralized by the silk panic, and threw their garments on the market at sacrificed prices.

With ready cash, and an outlet to take advantage of this unusual opportunity, Mr. Anderson "made hay while the sun shone." He bought thousands of dollars worth of crisp, new, mid-summer merchandise of the better kinds. The very cream of the best offerings were personally selected by him, and you now have the opportunity of reaping the beneficial results of this foresight—his ability to meet and make the most of this unusual market condition.

The Pendulum Swinging the Other Way

The silk slump has passed. The market has rallied. Prices of practically all commodities are steadily advancing in price, and there is every reason to believe that Fall prices will reach still higher levels than the present Spring prices.

Cottons are higher. Good woollens are higher. Better leathers are higher. Wages are higher. Transportation is higher. Production is diminished. There is an acute shortage of many items. Demand is greater than supply.

With these conditions confronting us, this store is always on the alert for merchandise of the better kind that may be offered at under the market prices. That's the reason for this Manufacturers' Outlet Sale, beginning tomorrow.

VIGOROUS ATTACK ON REPUBLICANS MADE BY LABOR

Carefully Couched Language Adds Comfort to Enemies of Labor

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM IGNORES PROFITEERING

Peaceful Arbitration Wage Disput Deny Right to Cease Work

MONTREAL, June 12.—Amid tremendous applause the American Federation of Labor at its annual convention here today adopted a report condemning the republican convention in Chicago for turning its back on labor in adopting its platform.

The report was ordered printed and distributed to the labor declaration of the republican platform proposes an industrial enslavement and an abrogation of rights as precious as life itself, and that it denied the right to strike.

Mr. Gompers announced today that the executive council has announced that labor's demand submitted to the republican convention be presented in identical form to the national democratic convention.

During reading of the report presented by Samuel Gompers and Matthew Woll, president and vice president of the federation, various sections of the republican planks criticized by the labor leaders were hissed, while their critics reaped applause.

The republican convention has "turned its back upon labor" and has adopted a platform "defiance in its defense of the enemies of labor and calculated to secure for them fresh advantages and greater privileges," Samuel Gompers and Matthew Woll, president and vice president of the American Federation of Labor, declared here today in a statement presented at the federation's annual convention.

The labor declaration of the platform as adopted, they asserted, proposes an "industrial enslavement and an abrogation of rights as precious as life itself."

"While there is in the platform a certain shrewdness in selection of language, there is never any opportunity for doubt as to the true meaning of their provisions relating to labor," they added.

Labor's Grievance.
The statement, presented to the convention by President Gompers, goes into great detail, pointing out labor's grievances against the republican platform and vigorously assails the republicans for neglecting anti-profiteering legislation recommendations.

"The republican platform practically ignores the profiteer," the statement added, "and while recognizing the evils of currency inflation, offers no remedy for that condition. Specific proposals submitted by labor for relief from the high cost of living and profiteering, are given no place in the platform."

The Mexican plan of the platform, the labor leaders charged, clearly aims to undermine the sovereignty of the Mexican government and to make the maintenance of order in Mexico the business of the government of the United States.

"It proposes the fulfillment of what long have been the hopes and aims of those whose sole object is the exploitation of the people and boundless resources of Mexico," according to the labor chiefs. "The republican endorsement of the transportation act provision was declared to be a complete denial and repudiation of the demand submitted by labor and is an emphatic endorsement of the labor provision of the Cummins-Each railroad act."

"The section of this plank referring to 'peaceful arbitration on the wage disputes' was said to be 'denial of the lawful right of the workers to cease working.'"

"The denial of the right to strike," the labor chiefs asserted, "is a complete denial of one of its greatest achievements."

"We hold no brief for the democratic party," continued the statement, "but we condemn the republican condemnation of the democratic administration for failure to enforce the anti-profiteering laws," but "we call attention to the fact that specific proposals on this subject submitted by labor ignored completely."

Evades Issue.
"The republican platform evades the issue and offers no remedy, it denied the importance of profiteering as the leading cause of the high cost of living, and endeavors to put a part of the responsibility upon what is falsely called 'disproportionate wage advances.' We have no knowledge of any substantial or effective anti-profiteering laws passed by the republican congress."

"The plank regarding labor's right to strike constitutes a denial of labor's demands and contemplates the erection of government machinery for the coercion of labor and for the suppression and limitation of its proper lawful activities," said the statement.

"It proposes to erect government tribunals with the power to compel involuntary labor. The entire plank is a denial of freedom and in addition subversive of the best interests of our republic."

The labor leaders asserted the republicans failed to mention in their platform labor's demands for a federal law for the legal rights of "voluntary association" to protect itself against "unwarrantable issuance of writs of injunction" and the "vigorous enforcement of the seamen's act and the most liberal interpretation of its provisions."

"It will be noted that the platform," said the statement, "is silent on the essential right of wage earners to organize into trade unions and select their own representatives and ignores the fact that only collective bargaining through such organization of the wage earners can industrial justice be attained."

CALIFORNIA HAS ONE CAR FOR EVERY 6.07 PERSONS

"California now has one car for every 6.07 people, while Iowa is a breathless second with a ratio of one to 6.74. Bryan's home state is third with 6.84 and South Dakota holds fourth place with an automobile for every 7.2 humans," says John C. Long, in the June issue of Motor.

"But before these westerners yell their throats out let's turn to the figures on biggest population, forgetting all about population. New York's on top there with 566,511. Ohio is second with 511,031, back east again to Pennsylvania for third place totalling 482,117, then to Illinois which holds the fourth rung with 478,438."

"There's another way of assigning the honors: The state which made the greatest per cent gain. Which is it? Hands please. Iowa? Wrong. New York? That's two down. The answer's North Carolina. Dixie has shown the greatest motor progress for the year. North Carolina leads the list with 51 per cent gain. South Carolina is in second place with a 43 per cent improvement over last year. Kentucky shows up fourth with a 36 per cent lead. Then comes Texas."

Italians Own a Big Slice of New York.
The ownership of land and property in this country by foreign-language people is far more extensive than is usually supposed. For example, it is claimed that the Italians own $100,000,000 worth in New York city alone.

In the great farming states their property is counted in the millions of dollars. The state auditor of Minnesota reports that two-thirds of the farm stock and equipment of the state is owned by Swedes and Norwegians by birth and descent and represents $366,000,000.

THE MOTORISTS' PROBLEMS

By WILLIAM H. STEWART, JR.

Motor Department:—I have an Olds with Delco electric system. When ignition switch is closed the ammeter shows about 20 discharges, engine not running. Is this correct? If so, in case generator stopped charging would it not discharge battery? What is the proper charging rate, lights off and on? Thanking you for any information, I remain, F. R.

In any case, battery will discharge if generator stops generating current, but the danger is not as great as you suppose. Your ignition system does not draw 20 amperes when running, but more nearly 5 or 6. When speeded up it draws less than one ampere. The high resistance of the system and the fact that the interrupter points make good contact. When running the interrupter points touch for so short a time that very little current is used.

Motor Department:—I have an Overland 75B, 1917 model. Please tell me what causes a vapor to rise from oil breather pipe after only a few miles of travel. Radiator has been well cleaned with sal soda and flushed with engine running for 15 minutes, cleaned out crankcase with kerosene and refilled with rock (Mobile Arctic) oil. I use Miracle oil w. h. my gas. Is there any objection to this? The engine has great power and is standing.

This is due to some of the kerosene remaining in the crankcase and vaporizing with the oil. It also appears very early, if you feed oil with the gasoline you will soon carbonize the engine. This trick is a useful one on two cycle engines, as the mixture goes first to the crankcase, where the oil remains. In your case the oil is drawn in on top of the piston, which is the last place it should be allowed to enter.

Motor Department:—I have a 1915 model Overland 55. How is the best way to reset the priming cups? They leak around the bottom and also around spark plugs, where the head screws into engine head. One of my drive wheels wears the tread off of one side of tire. I thought it was on account of certain turns. How do I remedy these troubles? P. B.

They should be tightened until they stop leaking. If thread is damaged a little shellac and graphite might be used, but it would be better to have a machinist cut the threads a little deeper. Your gear axle may be sprung, throwing the rear wheel out of true. Measured from felloe to felloe, the rear wheels should be perfectly parallel. If they are out very much they will require special treatment in order to straighten them.

Motor Department:—My engine has suddenly developed a bad case of weak power and it looks as if the cause was a weak spark. The hydrometer test shows 1.360, but the spark at the plugs does not seem as strong as formerly. When I remove the top of distributor and crank the engine with the starter there is heavy sparking at the interrupter points. I cleaned them with fine sandpaper until they were bright and smooth, but got the same heavy spark. What do you think is the cause of this trouble? T. K.

Undoubtedly a saturated condenser, as you have tried everything else. This is expensive to replace, but there is nothing else to be done. Heavy sparking at circuit-breaker points is usually due to dirt, but if points are usually due to dirt, but if points are sparking a burped out condenser is indicated.

Motor Department:—My engine when running seems to skip except when on a pull or when speeding up. It will run all right for a while, and then I give it a little more throttle will commence to skip again. It has a Rayfield carburetor. If I give it a little more gas it makes it make it a lesser mixture it makes it backfire at carburetor. Spark seems to be in good shape.

Trouble is evidently in the mixture. The inlet manifold may leak or the air valve not close properly. A piece of lint may have caught in the spray nozzle. Run engine and inject oil around the joints of the inlet manifold. If oil is sucked in there is a leak and bolts must be tightened or gasket replaced. If no leak is found remove carburetor and overhaul it carefully.

Replaces and readjust, and the trouble will probably have disappeared.

Motor Department:—Please help me to locate a knock in my Ford. About two weeks ago my crankshaft broke, which also broke cylinder block. Put in new parts, including pistons, and had engine thoroughly overhauled. Differential and universal in good shape, but knock is just as bad as ever. Knock is loudest when running down hill or idling. A valve lifter pin is tight and sometimes sticks. Timing gears and camshaft appear to be in perfect condition. H. S.

Valve guide tight, allowing valve to remain up, would be a cause of knock. This will not happen if spring can push it down again. There may be too much space between valve lifter and stem. Some adjustment of connecting rods or other parts have been overlooked and left loose. Nothing but a reinspection of the parts can determine this.

Motor Department:—Are larger flywheels used with 12-cylinder engines or with four-cylinder engines? L. G.

The more cylinders we have the less the fly-wheel is needed, so that 12-cylinder on eight and 12-cylinder engines are smaller than those on four- and six-cylinder engines. On engines of one to four cylinders there is being developed a fly-wheel carrying the crankshaft over these places. Engines with more cylinders have no such period, the lower strokes develop. The fly-wheel tones down the strong part of the power stroke and speeds up the weak parts, thus giving a much smoother turning effect on the drive shaft and rear wheels.

Motor Department:—I always get a knock on a hill, but it stops if I retard the spark lever. Is this anything serious? Please give me the remedy if there is one? J. R.

This is known as "spark knock" and is the result of advancing the spark too far. The gas is exploded before dead center and the explosion pressure downward meets the piston coming up. This makes a knock. It does not occur on a level road because the engine is running faster and has time to pass over dead center. But the car slows down on a hill and this causes the knock. The lever for spark advance is to keep the lever advanced just short of the point where a knock occurs.

Motor Department:—Please tell me why I get a muffler explosion when I retard the spark all the way. The noise is louder if I open the throttle part way at the same time. Please tell me how to correct this? C. L.

The circuit breaker is set a little too late on its shaft. It may be coming loose, in which case the engine will stop and an experienced man will have to be called in to reset it. The noise is caused by the gas igniting almost at the end of the power stroke just about as the exhaust valve opens. Naturally this noise is made louder by feeding more gas.

Motor Department:—Recently several wires came off my distributor and I put them back as best I could, but the engine fires back at the carburetor, in the muffler and kicks back in fact does everything except run forward. Please tell me how to put these wires back in the proper places.

Find firing order by cranking engine slowly by hand. Retard spark. Set No. 1 cylinder slightly past firing dead center. Now remove distributor head and note where distributor arm points. This carries the current to the spark plug wires and No. 1 spark plug wire should be fastened to the contact nearest the arm. Now go around the distributor head in the direction of rotation, fastening the wires in the firing order. The next one to fire goes next to No. 1 wire, the next one to fire goes next to that, and so on. It could be well to disconnect No. 1 wire at spark plug and set it less than a quarter inch from the head of plug to test for spark. Close switch and advance spark lever quick. This should give a spark at No. 1 plug. If the distributor is wired correctly the engine should run.

Helpful Hints.
Remember to touch the points of the interrupter occasionally, as they become pitted from constant use. A so-called "memory board" used for measuring may be used, as it has sandpaper on both sides. This clears away the oxide and assures good ignition for several hundred miles.

Also keep careful watch on your distributor. In case of a leak in the high tension wires a spark will jump and you can see it. But the spark may be jumping inside and you do not know anything about it. So remove the cover occasionally and wipe out the dust. By this means trouble is avoided long before it can occur.

In case the spring squeaks it will not be necessary to remove it in order to oil. Jack up frame to take weight of car off spring, remove the clips that hold spring leaves together and pry leaves apart with screw driver or cold chisel. Graphite grease should then be spread over each leaf, using a table knife or thin piece of metal. There is a tool on the market which spreads the leaves without requiring that the car be jacked up.

Keep careful track of your tire mileage and you can then face the tire adjuster with a clean cut story that will insure you best treatment. Note when tire was put on and the speedometer reading. Also note when tire was removed and the reading.

Keep careful record of mileage in each case and you may be gratified to find a tire running way beyond its guarantee.

One of the best ways to save gasoline on the road is to keep the spark well advanced. Some experiments with new drivers show that carelessness in this respect reduced the mileage of a car from 25 to 30 per cent.

Dr. J. Waldschmidt, of Berlin, says that every drunkard is born, not made. He has an inherited predisposition, not necessarily from a parent who is an alcoholic, however, but from one who has transmitted a weakness of the brain. For, he insists, a sound brain repudiates the abuse of alcohol. This he says, the human race cannot get along without, though its more dangerous forms should be prohibited.

The TULSA

A Chain of Great Factories Behind It
—Contribute Their Experiences and Master Products

The Tulsa Engineers searched far and wide for these units which work in perfect harmony with each other, and at the same time satisfy the exacting demand of the rugged oil field roads. Only standard and tested units that had proven their worth nationally were considered.

The new TULSA represents a whole chain of individual manufacturing parts plants, whose combined size and strength is not to be compared with any one automobile factory. Each maker to his chosen specialty—concentrating capital, brains, experience and efficiency on one individual automobile part—has produced a masterpiece in that particular part.

With rare judgment and engineering ability the TULSA makers have combined these parts into a car that has astounded the industry in performance and value. Every important part in the TULSA is identical with that in some car costing $2,000 or more.

Such a combination of well known and respected features is rarely seen in a single car—certainly not in cars priced so modestly as the new TULSA, at $1,550. Check off feature after feature—the TULSA is a car anyone would be proud to drive on any boulevard in America.

AMERICAN FARMERS CLASS AUTOMOBILE PRIME NECESSITY

If there is any one class of automobile owners who resent their cars being classed with highly scented French perfume and fancy silk hose, it is the American farmer.

Periodically, it seems, there pops up some movement designed to brand the automobile as a luxury and a non-essential. To prove such allegations at variance with fact, the Travel and Transport Bureau of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company, instituted a survey of a representative farming community which consumed a week's time and during which a majority of the farmers in an entire county were personally interviewed.

Lorain county, Ohio, was selected for this check because it possesses everything from the small truck arden to large highly cultivated acreages.

Over 75 per cent of the farmers owned passenger cars, the census takers found. Each owner was asked whether he classed his car as a business or pleasure car. Fully 50 per cent of the answers were in effect: "Absolutely necessary," and "Couldn't get along without it." Of the other half of Lorain county motor car owners, fully 40 per cent stated that they considered their machines a fifty-fifty proposition—half as utility and half as pleasure vehicle. The balance regarded their cars chiefly as pleasure cars but when asked if they would have purchased cars for pleasure only the reply was invariably, "No."

The investigation shows that the motor vehicle is a necessity of the farmer. Ten per cent of the farmers questioned owned motor trucks—largely of one and one-half ton capacities. Five per cent stated they were in the market for light trucks. Over 15 per cent declared a large part of their product was hauled to market by truck. Trucks operated by creamery companies have made dairy operation profitable in Lorain county. Nearly every farm has a small milk shipping platform in front of its gate. Produce, garden truck and fruit are quick transported to market by both passenger car and light truck, thus saving thousands of precious hours for the farmers each year.

The farmer's attitude on the relation of the automobile to public welfare is significant since over one-half of the nation's automobiles are owned in sixteen middle western states, and some 65 per cent of these farm owned.

Frequently during the present governmental investigations called to prescribe some procedure to ease up the shipping situation and to reduce the cost of living, certain economists have endeavored to class the automobile with silk shirts and bay rum in efforts to discriminate against the industry. They lose sight of the fact that over half of the cars and trucks made deliver themselves over the highways and that when they reach their owners, they perform a definite and invaluable business and transportation function.

At a recent Washington investigation, the automobile industry went on record as favoring a ten-day test when the running of all automobiles in the nation would be stopped and thereby determine at once and for all whether the automobile is an essential part of the business mechanism of the country.

KNOWLEDGE FOR CAR OWNERS

Interesting and Important Facts That Every Motorist Should Know.

When planning a trip of any length it is wise plan to inventory the car and its equipment.

If you keep to a schedule of battery examinations you will never find yourself without lights and unable to start or with a battery worn out before its time.

An excellent steering gear connection can be made with a slightly tapering bolt with a number of steel washers under the head so that by removing one or more the bolt may be tightened in its bearing.

It frequently happens that it becomes necessary to jack up a car on soft ground where there is no support for the tool. In an emergency it is both handy and convenient to take a wooden floor board or toe board and use it for the jack to rest upon.

A stretched tire should never be pumped too tight and incidentally it is better to fit such tires with an inner lining, as this will add many miles to their useful life.

Front wheel skids come chiefly from rounding a corner or curve at so high a speed that the front wheels lose their traction. To overcome this, apply the brakes gently which will drag the rear wheels and give the front wheels a chance to take hold.

Hemp string and soap is the proper material to use for packing the stuffing box of gasoline pumps. It is a well-known fact that gasoline will dissolve practically any kind of oil used as a lubricant, but has no effect on soap. The latter is also excellent for use in making screw joints tight.

When polishing some flat surface with emery cloth instead of with a file, it will be found convenient to wrap the cloth around the file and bend a bit of wire into a clip form to hold the material at the lower end. The cloth at the outer end of the file is held by the fingers anyway, so this does not need a clip.

The connection on dry cells should always be kept tight. Any one connection in a series which happens to be loose will cause difficult starting. The vibra-squarely above the pin with a hammer. This serves to start the rim turning, and the rest is easy.

When an under-inflated tire strikes a sharp stone the rubber gives but the fabric does not. Perhaps several or all the plies are punctured. The tire may not blow out at the time, but may later. To avoid along the road troubles and delay, outside protection and rim cut patches should be a part of every car's equipment.

In filling the radiator of the car, allow enough water to pass in to bring the level over the end of the vent pipe. If this pipe is clear as it always should be, the fact will be indicated by the overflowing of water through it. If it is not clear the water will overflow through the filter cap and not through the vent pipe.

which should be given attention at once.

The car owner who does much work around his vehicle should certainly have a rubber mallet that is designated to permit hammering of polished surfaces without running the finish. For smoothing out dents in the fenders or similar disfigurements, these mallets are invaluable. In an emergency, the head of an ordinary hammer may be covered with several thicknesses of old rubber to serve this purpose.

It is easy to scratch and smear the front mudguards with grease when doing work on the engine, and the motorist would do well to follow the example of the best garages in protecting these at times of engine repair. Secure a heavy piece of cloth or other suitable material of cloth or imitation leather, large enough to completely cover the fender from tip to the point where it attaches to the running board. Also throw this protective cover over the mudguard when making repairs or adjustments under the hood and you will keep the enamel in much better condition.

On a Hot Day the CHALMERS Runs Cool with Hot Spot and Ram's-horn

THE reason the Chalmers runs cool on a hot day is the very same reason a Chalmers starts quickly and runs smoothly on a cold day. Service records show no complaints of over-heating in summer.

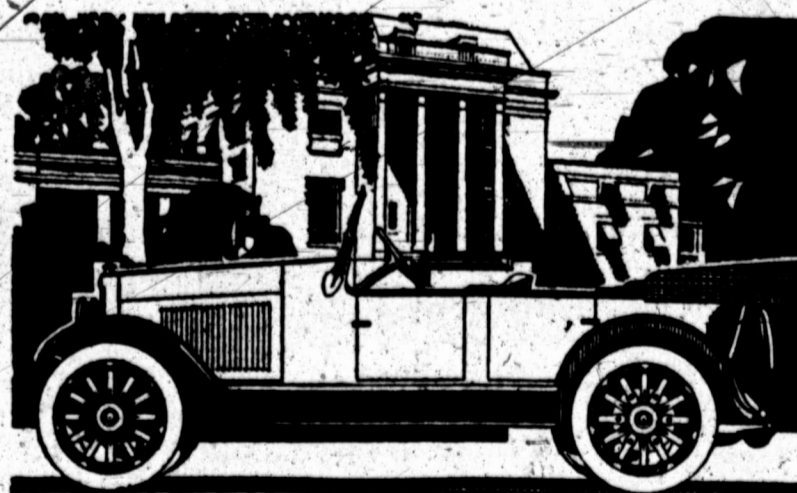

Such trouble in other cars comes from unevenness or the charges, "improperly digested fuel," and other matters often attributed to the raw, heavy, inferior gasoline you buy today.

Hot Spot transforms such "gas" into a "fine vapor cloud," just right for quick combustion.

Ram's-horn hurries it at a velocity of 100 miles an hour through "easy air bends" to the cylinders.

Thus follow power results that are smooth and even; and notably absent are those troubles that cause an engine to overheat, or burned bearings, or scored cylinders, or frequently fouled spark plugs and the like.

Engage a Chalmers owner in conversation about his car. He will tell you Chalmers is one of the few great cars of the world.

AUTO TIRE DOCTOR NEW PROFESSION OF THE MOTOR AGE

Doctors ailments which afflict the automobile tire is practically a new profession. Ten years ago it was not heard of. Today, however, there is not a single town of any size which does not need several tire doctors. The increased use of the automobile is, of course, responsible.

In many respects the doctoring requires as much skill as doctoring the ailments of a human being. When a tire goes "sick" expert knowledge is required to give the proper treatment. When an operation is necessary a skilled hand must wield the knife. The tire doctor's "mistakes" go to the scrap heap, just like the "mistakes" of the medical profession go to the grave.

Before a person can become a tire doctor he must go to school and learn everything there is to know about tire anatomy. He must learn how they are built and from actual experience how to care for them when they show signs of disability. Without this thorough training, a person professing to be a tire doctor might be a "quack."

One of the best known tire doctor schools in the country is that of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber company at Akron. Students come to this school from all parts of the country, determined to learn how to care for tires properly. In the classroom and in the factory they are taught everything there is to know about the tires and they do not receive certificates of attendance until proficient in every phase of the work.

One of the most interesting features of the Goodrich school is its cosmopolitan enrollment of students. Men from every walk of life rub elbows at the work benches—college graduates, barbers, civil engineers, tailors, contractors, chauffeurs, sons of millionaires, lawyers and so on down the list. All see the big field waiting ahead of them and are determined to get in the game.

The school differs from most in that no examinations are given before entrance. Anyone regardless of previous education can enter. The only qualification is willingness to work.

Hotel for Babies.
A hotel for babies is the latest idea in domestic life. The institute is located in London. The baby gets a change and the mother gets a rest. The institution is in charge of two certified nurses and the children left in their care get excellent attention. Their health and amusement are looked after. It is generally patronized by parents of the middle class who desire to take a short outing without the care of the infant.

INDUSTRY'S NEED OF OIL IS SUBJECT OF ADDRESS

Industry's need of oil was the subject of an address by George Otis Smith, Director, United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, before the American Iron and Steel Institute on May 25. The following is an abstract of Director Smith's remarks.

The last ten years might be called the petroleum decade. The world war depended upon American oil wells for motive power. Gasoline and oil booms increased popular faith in an inexhaustible supply of petroleum. Domestic production doubled and consumption more than doubled, so that Mexican oil has become an absolutely necessary part of our supply. These ten years mark a transition from over-supply to over-demand.

The ever-increasing demand for gasoline and fuel oil are the outstanding oil needs, so that the question of priority supplies can not long be maintained. Benzol, naphthalene and other products which are produced from the coke ovens promise only enough motor fuel to meet part of the present increase in demand; oil from oil shales will not be labor cheap like the petroleum now flowing from the wells. Regard for the future forces us both to plan to use less oil and to import more.

Some restriction in gasoline consumption must soon come; fuel oil in locomotives and stationary steam plants must give way to the demand for this fuel by the Navy and the United States merchant marine, which alone this year require one-third of the output of fuel oil. Oil as a power-saver has a unique function and the demand for lubricating oil must continue to increase as the use of machinery increases.

COLE SERVICE STATIONS COVER ENTIRE COUNTRY

Hardly less important than the designing and building of a high grade motor car is the matter of service obtainable for that car.

The time was, and not so many years ago, either, that the manufacturer considered his responsibility to the car buyer ended when the car was sold.

The car buyer today demands not only the best in his motor car both in the way of appearance and mechanical perfection, but he demands also that assurance of service, not possible in the old days.

The car buyer today demands almost uninterrupted service from his car. That means both time and money to him. He demands that service wherever he may be. If any thing does go wrong, he wants to be assured of a service station within a reasonable distance where he can get necessary parts and labor.

As a result of this demand, every community today has its score of service stations. Besides carrying stocks of spare parts, these stations are prepared to cooperate with the owner in all of those things that mean increased service.

J. J. Cole early realized the growing importance of service if the automobile was to attain the high place it has now reached. Cole service stations are scattered from one end of the country to the other. They are manned by men training in Cole work.

But, the Cole service station has gone a step farther. Cole dealers everywhere are being urged to become thoroughly familiar with road routes in their territory, to acquire a knowledge of special tours, of camping outfit requirements for those things so appreciated by the average motorist who is planning or making a tour.

The Cole company wants Cole buyers to get the utmost out of their purchases. The company's interest in their buyers does not end with the sale but continues during the entire life of the car.

26 CENTS EVERY DOLLAR TO FRANKLIN COMPANY GOES TO PAY WAGES

Of every dollar expended by the Franklin Automobile company of Syracuse, the cost of raw material, supplies and parts sets up 45 cents, according to a statement just issued by H. H. Franklin, president.

Labor is paid 26 cents of every dollar in wages—this constituting the second largest item. Income added to working capital takes 8 cents. This represents the fund devoted to expansion purposes, which in turn gives employment to more labor with each succeeding year.

Administration and operating expenses of the factory uses up 8 cents. The selling expense attached to merchandising the car is 5 cents, this latter item including the expenses of the sales, advertising, service, and test departments. Taxes exacted by the federal and state governments take 4 cents, and the depreciation in property value takes 2 cents more. Two cents on every dollar is paid in dividends on stock.

A Well-known Man

Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., the celebrated physician, known throughout the entire civilized universe because of his many years of successful medical practice, once said:

"At this time of year most people suffer from what we term 'spring fever' because of a stagnant condition of the blood, because of the toxins (poisons) stored up within the body during the long winter. We eat too much meat, with little or no green vegetables."

Bloodless people, thin, anemic people, those with pale cheeks and lips, who have a poor appetite and feel that tired, worn or feverish condition in the springtime of the year, should try the refreshing tonic powers of a good alterative and blood purifier. Such a tonic as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has sold for fifty years, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a standard remedy that can be obtained in tablet or liquid form. Made without alcohol from wild roots and herbs. If your druggist does not have the tablets send 10 cents for trial package to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

"Ask your neighbors, they have tried it!"

MULBERRY, KANS.—"I am glad to recommend Dr. Pierce's medicine. My son, at the age of 10 years, was taken with pneumonia. He got better, then took chicken-pox, measles, and last typhoid fever—all in one winter. It left him with a terrible cough and I feared he could not get well. I got two bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and gave it to him and it cured him entirely."

"I lived near Monroe City, Mo., when my son was sick. No doubt many there remember the case well."—MRS. JANE S. CANNON.

PEERLESS-EIGHT

The Peerless is ready to vie successfully as of old with the class of the cars of the day in which the gentler virtues have been frankly sacrificed to power and speed. KANSAS CITY HAS GREATEST MOTOR CAR DENSITY

To Kansas City, Mo., goes the honor of having the densest motor traffic in the country," says Alexander Johnston, writing in the June issue of Motor, "the proportion of motor vehicles per square mile within the city limits being 1,555."

The figures quoted above are merely a part of a compilation which shows the traffic density in all the larger cities of the country. The writer takes as a basis of his table the number of motor vehicles in each city and the area in square miles. Dividing the latter into the former, gives the number of vehicles per square mile, which indicates in effect the motor traffic density. Following Kansas City in point of density come Milwaukee, Wis., Cleveland, O., and Providence, R. I.

Proving Essex Reliability

A Fact Not to be Disregarded

One cannot ignore the Essex performance of 3037 miles in 50 hours when considering light car endurance.

In fact no car ever was driven at top speed for such a distance or for so long a period of time.

But if any doubt remained after that official proof made with a stock Essex, the 40,000 cars in service each shows the degree of Essex reliability.

Thousands of Essex cars show in excess of 25,000 miles service each.

And owners by their testimony are daily establishing the Essex not only as the most amazing light car from the standpoint of performance, but also as the equal of the costly large cars in the question of endurance and freedom from mechanical attention and expense.

PECOS VALLEY THE NILE OF AMERICA

The Land Where Nature Yields Her Richest Returns And Farmers Rewarded In Virgin Gold

The Pecos Valley is a land with the soil of Egypt and the climates of the Isles of the Southern seas; a land where golden opportunities, farms, homes, comfort and prosperity awaits the homeseekers of limited means

We propose to place a home on the richest soil in America and in the healthiest climate on earth, within the reach of not only men of moderate means, but within the immediate grasp of industrious poor people.

Concerning our offer, we ask that not one step be taken for granted, but let every statement be subjected to the severest test. References are hereby given by not only farmers who are mining gold dollars with their plow, but by preachers, teachers, judges, doctors, merchants, and business people of the highest moral character. Read them, and you will find that our story of the Pecos Valley and our proposition to the people will bear the light of the noon day sun.

A FORTUNE-MAKING COUNTRY

Do you want to put your hard-earned money into something which will not only bring good returns on your investment and make you a living in your old age, but double and treble in values as the years go by?

Do you want to live in the land of peace and plenty where the sunlight kisses into being the fruits of the tropics; the flowers of the Orient, and the products of the Far North? Where irrigating canals fed by eternal flowing waters sing a never-ending song of gladness and purity—the garden spot of all the domain over which the reign of prosperity ever continues?

Do you want to leave the crowded, worn-out fields of the north and east and "grow up" with the newest and richest country in the world?

Do you want to get away from the flood lands; away from the desert; away from the hot winds; away from the blizzards; away from the climatic changes which make life a burden; away from those congested hidebound conditions and traditions which rob home-life of ambition?

If you do you will come to the Pecos Valley, the most fertile land of all the nations, and here among the true American people, build a home for yourself and family and start even in the free for all race of success; on the only track where favorites are unknown.

Are you a wheat raiser, a cotton planter, a stockman, a horticulturist, a shepherd, a truck gardener, a believer in the power of corn crops, an expert in small berries, an agriculturist in any line, or a man who looks to the products of the soil for a living?

If you are, there is a place for you in this great country where, in all its virgin purity, you can grow raspberries, grapes, melons, onions, beans, peas, radishes, canteloupes, babies, corn, rye, alfalfa, hogs, kaffir corn broom wheat, potatoes, yams, apples, peaches, prunes, pecans, walnuts, and nearly all of the fruits vegetables and cereals that can be grown anywhere in the United States.

IRRIGATION—THE FARMERS' INSURANCE AGAINST FAILURE OF CROPS

Few people realize the value of irrigation, but strangely enough civilization was cradled upon irrigated lands. Man first began to look heavenward and move along the pathways of civilization in the sun lands by flowing waters. Here he first learned that watered soil yields a hundred fold, and for many long ages the highest type of men and women and masterful intellectuality flourished on the shores of the Nile. For thousands of years Egypt was the granary of the nation and the seat of learning. Fifty centuries looked from the Pyramids upon irrigated fields sustaining a people who had never hungered or been prostrated by toil. The Pecos Valley is another Egypt, and the system of irrigation is now doing for farms and farmers just what the Nile did for Egypt. An industrious race of people are now flocking into the Valley and the wealth of these irrigated lands will soon amaze the nations of the earth. Wherever there is a rich soil and irrigated water, you will find happy homes and contented people.

Alfalfa the Most Prolific of All Products

There is no product known to men near so profitable as alfalfa. Everything that goes on four feet, and fowls of the earth or air, feast and fatten on this wonderful plant. Hogs, horses, sheep and cattle flourish and fatten faster on this plant than any other product known and there is no food that produces more and richer milk and golden butter than alfalfa. It is so prolific in the Pecos Valley on our irrigated farms that it can be cut from five to seven times a year, yielding from one to one and one-half tons per acre. Dr. French received Two Thousand Dollars rent from forty acres. George P. Hanks states he cut six crops of alfalfa, two hundred and seventy tons from thirty acres; sold at sixteen dollars per ton, and after the cost of baling, cutting and raking, netting him One Hundred and Twenty-two Dollars and Twenty-five cents per acre. He also states that he likes the country and believes that an industrious farmer can make Three Thousand Dollars per year on twenty acres of alfalfa. Mr. Olden states that he received Forty-Seven Thousand and Five Hundred Dollars from his ranch; that his income for one year from three hundred acres of alfalfa amounted to Twenty-Eight Thousand Dollars in cash for their pasture on the three hundred acres of alfalfa. The three hundred acres pastures twenty-one hundred head of cattle.

The climatic conditions of the Pecos Valley are most desirable for the curing of alfalfa hay. It retains its lustrous green color which is commonly known as pea green alfalfa, and sells on the market from $1.50 to $2.00 per ton more than any alfalfa grown in the country. This valley is also one of the few places where alfalfa seed can be raised successfully, but here in this valley, seed crops run into enormous money, being the most prolific, and bringing the highest prices of any alfalfa seed raised in the United States. Buy yourself an alfalfa farm and make a fortune.

Cotton the King of All Staple Crops

Cotton in the Pecos Valley grows like magic. It yields enormous crops, matures quickly, and is of much longer staple than cotton grown anywhere in the Line Star State. Cotton grown in this imperial valley yields from one and one-half to two bales per acre. Another great advantage of growing cotton in this fertile valley is that it is free from insect pests, no caterpillar worms, no boll-weevil, nor boll-worms, that infest the plant further south. It is no uncommon thing for farmers in this section to grow and harvest a crop of cotton yielding two bales to the acre. Cotton grown on this soil will grade several points higher than cotton grown in Central and South Texas, and receives a premium from $5.00 to $6.00 per bale over cotton grown elsewhere in the state. Farmers on our irrigated lands are making fortunes raising cotton.

Mr. J. W. Lutz is planting 600 acres in cotton on his new farm this year, and he expects to harvest a crop not less than a bale and one-half to the acre.

Mr. James F. McKee, a resident of our Colony, who owns 320 acres of land under our great irrigating canal, has this to say: "Cotton and alfalfa are our staple crops, both of which produce well. We had 320 acres under cultivation last year; twenty acres in alfalfa, which netted us $2,500.00, and our cotton crop netted us $17,500.00 a total net profit of $20,000.00 on our farm last year. I consider this an average crop. We have a fine climate and plenty of water and all we need is good, industrious farmers."—James F. McKee.

Mr. J. D. Renu, who is also one of our farmers makes a statement: "I have been living here six years and I don't think this climate can be beat. It is very healthy. As to its value as a farming country, I think there is no better place. We grow alfalfa, cotton, maize, oats, wheat, and will grow corn. This is also a good stock country. Hogs do especially well here. I raised about 700 head one year, and never lost a hog from disease. Cholera has never been known in this country. Our schools are good and we have churches of different denominations. We always have good roads and many other good advantages that I might mention, but in all you could not find a better place to live."—J. D. Renu.

STATEMENT from Judge Howell Johnson, County Judge of Pecos County, Fort Stockton, Texas, concerning the water rights and possibilities of our great Gravity Storage and Irrigating System.—
"Mr. S. H. Jackson,
Fort Worth, Texas.
Dear Sir:—
I herewith give you statement and opinion of the franchise and other rights of the Zimmerman Land & Irrigating Company, incorporated under the laws of the State of Texas, and do business in Pecos County, Texas, with its main office in Pecos County, Texas.
The number of acres of land for which the appropriation was made and proposed to be irrigated was 18,000 acres. The number of acres under the System are approximately 12,000 acres and there has been sold land and water rights for same amounting to 14,000 acres.
This said appropriation and declaration, recorded as hereinbefore referred to, is in perfect legal standing, and has superiority in law, both statutory and common, under the rights admitted to be in riparian lands; a priority over the several irrigation companies operating on the Pecos river between our system and the county of Reeves, north and west and adjoining counties between the County of Pecos and Reeves.
There has been approximately 22,000 acres sold and there are approximately 4,500 acres under cultivation; that is, in the past season. The coming season we anticipate an acreage planted to cotton and corn, small grain and alfalfa, of about 12,000 acres.
We have ample good water for acreage of all the land under our system. We completed the retaining wall or dam to our large reservoir site last fall. This reservoir covers about five sections of land, or about 2,500 acres. This we have full of water and which we are now delivering through the outlet gate of said dam, and our large canal, for irrigation purposes. The outlet gate of said dam, and our large canal, for irrigation purposes, land is now being prepared and crops planted. We have what is termed a "run around" canal, from which we use water for irrigating purposes, when we desire to save water in the reservoir. This "run around" canal is getting the water directly from the river. Our canal, now known as the "Red Rock" canal, and the "Amity" canal, are completed, from the said reservoir down to the said section 20, in block 8, including also sections from 1 to 7, in block 11, and headgates, or diverting gates, are established along the entire length for the purpose of diverting water to the various tracts of land. One water right under our system is equal to one cubic foot per second, or sufficient for 30 acres of land.
I have been in charge of this company's business activity for the past two years, and have been working for the company, as an attorney, for the past seven years.
Respectfully,
HOWELL JOHNSON,
Judge of the County Court of Pecos County, Texas.

FREE WATER TO FARMERS BY OUR GREAT GRAVITY IRRIGATING SYSTEM

In submitting our proposition to the people, we can do so with great pride and with the utmost confidence, as our irrigating project is one of great merit, and we believe, second to none in the U. S. A. Owing to the unquestionable abundance of water in the Pecos river, and the fact that we have a gravity system, we know of no other place or proposition that will nearly equal ours. We feel that men who buy these lands with our free and perpetual water rights under our gravity system, will be able to raise crops of alfalfa, cotton, corn, wheat, and other crops, and they plant they know they will reap. Our water system consists of a reservoir covering more than 2,500 acres of land, protected by four miles of concrete retaining wall, which protects the reservoir from storms and floods, besides we have access to all water of the Pecos river, by means of a dam across the river, and concrete inlet gates to our reservoir. We have superior rights in the waters of the Pecos river. Our entire acreage can be irrigated by the gravity system. Not one dollar's worth of machinery is required on our entire acreage, and we now have more than sixty miles of canals and irrigation ditches, which extend the entire width and length of our holdings. Every acre of land we own and have for sale in this valley can be irrigated by our "gravity system." The capacity of our great water system is sufficient to irrigate more than 50,000 acres of land, and as there are only 20,000 acres dependent on our water system, it can plainly be seen that people in buying these lands are assured of an abundant supply of free water. Here lies the opportunity for the man of moderate means to own a home and farm. There is a chance here for you in this fortune-making country.

LOCATION OF OUR LANDS

This property is located in Pecos county, Texas, in the valley of the Pecos river, thirty miles southeast of Stockton, the county seat of Pecos county, six miles from Girvin, a railroad station on the Orient railroad, which railroad parallels our property on the south. It lies 35 miles south of Pecos City, county seat of Reeves county; 48 miles south of Tovar, Texas; 25 miles from Barstow, 25 miles from Monahan, 29 miles from Grand Falls, 15 miles south of Imperial, and 10 miles east of Buena Vista. The altitude is 2,750 feet, and the climate is one of the best in the world for both winter and summer. The mean temperature for winter is 47.7, winter 51, relative humidity 23. Winter days—favorable for out of door work.

We are building a town in the middle of our irrigated farms which has been christened Caro-Sado; to every purchaser of a farm we will give a home site free in our town. The Jackson Syndicate also proposes to give a business lot in this town to the first ten business houses established, and will agree to subscribe to each establishment one-fourth interest in each business concern.
Here is an opportunity for a Bank, Merchandise, Garage and a Gin. There will be 4,000 bales of cotton to gin on our irrigated lands this year.

"The Nile of America Has Been Overlooked"

For many long years this wonderful country, through some strange fatality, has been overlooked. But now its hidden wealth and wonderful possibilities, and resources are being brought out and developed by means of irrigation; the fat soil, though hardly fertile, is now yielding crops that amaze the world and people are now flocking into the valley and the irrigable lands are rising in value so rapidly that within a short time they will only be in reach of the man with millions. The man who wishes a home and farm in this land of wonderful possibilities had better act promptly. Send in your application today and secure for yourself and family the greatest present that money can buy—a home and farm in this land of peace and plenty.

OIL FIELDS IN THE PECOS VALLEY

As to the oil possibilities of the Pecos territory, there is no spot in Texas which we regard more favorable to the oil men than the Pecos County territory. Backing our opinion, we refer to the geological opinions of many of the world's most famous geologists, who state: "Along the sources of the Pecos river from New Mexico to the Rio Grande, including the Pecos Valley, and especially Pecos County, the possibilities for both deep and shallow sands are phenomenal and great reservoirs of petroleum exist throughout the entire length of the river. A few of the geologists who have made favorable reports of this territory are: Professor W. H. Van Steersite, who, as far back as 1854, states that the Tovar and Pecos Valley would some day be developed into the greatest oil producing centers of the world. Since his time, there have been many others of the same opinion, namely: Professor W. G. Mendenhall, of the University of Texas; George Burr Richardson of the United States geological survey; Dr. Robert T. Hill, of the University of Texas; William B. Phillips, former state geologist of Texas; R. D. Beckwith, mining and petroleum engineer, California; and Dr. H. H. Tucker, Professor R. L. Ditto and Dr. Q. O. Gathier. All of these and many other experts have concurred that the Pecos territory would within some years be the Pennsylvania of Texas, and possibly the greatest oil field in the world.

There have been a number of shallow sands already encountered in Texas and Pecos valleys, and are now being developed. The irrigated farms we are under contract and are being made in this territory. The irrigated farms we are now selling to the farmers at such low prices and on such reasonable terms are surrounded by both deep and shallow sands, a few miles from the great irrigated farms on what is known as the Turney ranch, shallow flowing oil wells can be seen.

While we do not sell our irrigated farms as oil lands there is no doubt but that some of these farms will most likely carry oil sands. In buying our irrigated farms you do not only buy the agricultural and surface rights, but you become the free-holder of all the oil and mineral rights in and under your town lot and farms.
As much as the Jackson Syndicate expects to prospect for artesian water on our new town-site, we have decided to make a few deep tests in our irrigated farms, in case oil exists in paying quantities we expect to develop same. These wells, however, are for the purpose of developing artesian water, which we have existing under our town, and we do not advertise out of the syndicate, but if we should strike oil in our deep test, it will mean fortunes for those who buy our farms and our town lots.
Never again complain of hard luck after reading our proposition, for here, without the least inconvenience or financial strain, you may secure yourself a home, and farm, if not an oily fortune.

OUR PROPOSITION

The Jackson Syndicate is now cutting into farms and selling to farmers, ten thousand acres of the very cream of the Pecos Valley, and on account of the rush for our irrigated farms, we are making a proposition and terms that will put direct home-seekers on the land with some of the best irrigation water in the country. We can give you the title to a home in the town-site of Caro-Sado, the coming city of the Pecos Valley, and a farm on the farming lands of this alfalfa Nile of America. We are offering 40-acre farms, 20-acre farms, and 10-acre farms, and selling them at the price of $150.00 per acre; $30.00 per acre cash; $20.00 per acre in 12 months; $40.00 per acre in 2 years; $50.00 per acre in 3 years. In making first payment of $30.00 per acre, you give a check for $20.00 per acre, which completes your first payment of $50.00 per acre. In case you wish to buy one acre, send us $5.00 per acre, or $100.00, and on receipt of your application we will send you certificates of purchase, with maps designating the number of your farm and town lot. Thirty days will be given you with which to inspect your farm, and should you wish to exchange your farm for other unsold farms, you will have the right to do so, subject to the approval of the syndicate. Within 30 days from your purchase we will deliver you Abstract of Title showing a merchantable title to the property of which you will have 30 days to examine same and make balance of payment of $20.00 per acre.

HOW TO MAKE YOUR APPLICATION

In making your application for our farms and town lots, make all communications to the Jackson Syndicate, 425-430 Burton Bldg., Make all checks and payments to A. J. Neece, Cashier of the Security State Bank, of Fort Worth, Texas, who will act as trustee to all parties concerned, and who holds all money and papers pertaining to our proposition. In other words in making applications for farms or town lots, you make a check for $5.00 per acre, or $10.00 per acre for the amount of your purchase, payable to A. J. Neece. Send application checks to Jackson Syndicate, which amount will be deposited in the bank to your credit, and receipt will be forwarded to your address, the receipt of the amount you have paid and maps and plats designating your farm and town lot will also be forwarded to your address.
After you make your application every step will be guided and you will be protected until you have received your farm and town lot. You have the right to buy from 20 to 40 acres with town lot free in the town-site of Caro-Sado with your purchase of a farm.

NORTH WICHITA IS TO HAVE FINE CIVIC AND SOCIAL CENTER

With the realization of plans now being laid by the block organizations and the Women's Civic League of North Wichita Falls, the North Side will have one of the finest social and civic centers to be found in the entire country.

Several hundred dollars worth of playground apparatus have been donated to the north side community by the Rotary Club and with this as a nucleus, the residents across the river are planning to install a fully equipped playground during the present summer.

At a meeting held on the playground Friday evening, twenty men and women of the North Side who are interested in the development of this proposed community center met with W. W. Brown, business manager of the board of education, and P. N. Haughton, the city block organization headquarters. After a thorough discussion of the situation, Chairman Floyd Rose appointed Mrs. A. F. Gullatt, president of the North Side Civic League, and D. A. Crow to consult with Mr. Brown on matters pertaining to schoolground improvements. J. M. Bindel and L. F. Scott constitute a committee to secure dirt for filling purposes and to take charge of the general clean-up of the grounds.

During the meeting Mr. Brown outlined the plans which the school board have in mind for early improvements. Before the opening of school in the fall, two rooms will be added to the present school building and these will be so arranged as to be suitable for the staging of community activities. Mr. Brown also agreed to pay for some of the immediate improvements planned by the committee and offered his services in arranging for the lighting of the playground.

Mrs. Gullatt announces that considerable interest is being manifested by the North Side people in the training school for volunteer playground leaders to be conducted probably during July by the city neighborhood and block organization and stated that a sufficient number of volunteers would be enrolled to hold a separate class on the north side grounds.

Rev. Mr. Gray, secretary of the North Wichita Falls district of the block organization reports that fifteen groups have already been formed and that others will be added to the list shortly.
