M'ADOO CANDIDACY BACK FROM PREMATURE WATERY GRAVE AND MEOWING DEMOCRATS BACK DOOR

By HAROLD D. JACOBS (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—The McAdoo candidacy, bearing marks of rough treatment and a watery grave...

Every time its tormentors consign it to death—and they include McAdoo himself—the candidacy just naturally turns up again...

The situation regarding McAdoo and the democratic presidential nomination varies almost hourly...

Each day the outward signs indicate more plainly that McAdoo and his political friends are determined that he shall neither acquire the nomination nor have it thrust upon him...

Rivals Satisfied. Politicians who supporting various of McAdoo's rivals for the nomination outwardly are satisfied that he is through and that any unorganized attempt to put him over would fail...

Norman E. Mack, Buffalo publisher, has long known that he is for Governor Smith for the nomination and believes the entire New York delegation will side with him...

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—Rumblings of democratic discord over the prohibition issue became hourly more ominous today as delegates and party officials arrived in increasing numbers for the national convention.

Hope that the gathering storm might spend itself behind the closed doors of the platform committee virtually was abandoned by the leaders and they prepared to face an outbreak of tempestuous debate on the floor of the convention itself.

Such a development, it was agreed everywhere, would hold many dramatic possibilities, including a further complication of the uncertainty look as to the presidential nomination.

Already the overshadowing issue in pre-convention conferences, the question of a platform declaration against the present "bone dry" law almost took the whole stage for itself today as the gathering delegates heard the announcement for a modification of the Volstead act.

Others among the party leaders refused to take that view, but no one here assumed to know with certainty how far the sentiments of President Hoover would be in accord with those of Mr. Burleson.

Finish Fight. What everyone here does know, however, is that the practical politics of the party are cementing their lines and bringing their heaviest artillery for a finish fight.

After many conferences and a long day of practical politics, the national chairman, said today it seemed to be a "fair bet" that the question would be taken at the convention floor for a settlement regardless of what decision was made in the platform committee.

It was understood the allies have informed Premier Venizelos of Greece that Greek troops will be permitted to advance from Smyrna in order to check aggressions by Mustafa Kemal Pasha.

An international financial conference is being held at Brussels to work out plans for a loan to aid Germany in her efforts at economic recovery.

All entente countries will send ambassadors to Berlin on July 1 to replace present representatives who have the status of charges d'affaires.

The Boulogne conference devoted much discussion to the question of resumption of trade with Russia. It was finally agreed that the present conferences between British representatives and Gregory Kravtchinsky should be continued without, however, implying any political recognition of the Moscow government.

While the conference was unanimous on the question of reduction of the German army to 100,000 men, delay probably would be granted by the government as the requested reduction could not be effected by July.

The French foreign office issued a statement clarifying that French military operations in the Near East would be confined to policing and resisting attacks. It was said these operations would not be developed into a military offensive.

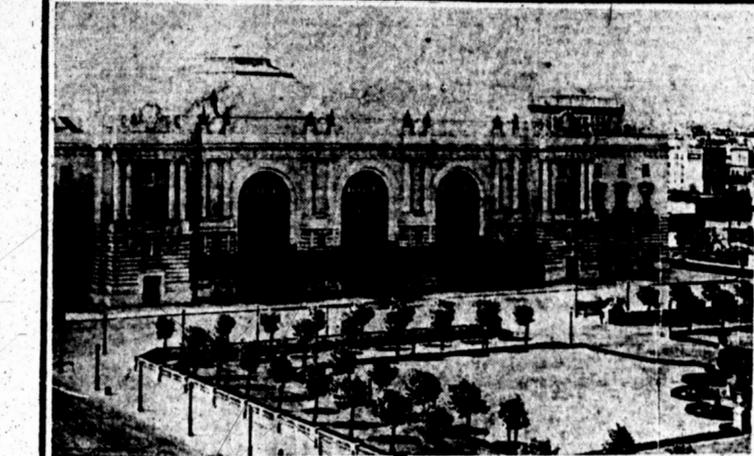

Amounts of German indemnity to be allotted the various allied belligerents was not decided. Some suggestion of the question of the refusal of the United States to recognize the plan conceived by premiers at the strike situation.

The meeting at Spa probably will be held July 7.

Note Handed Peace Delegation. PARIS, June 23.—The note to Germany regarding disarmament, prepared by the council of ambassadors and approved by the allied premiers at the Boulogne conference, was handed to the German peace delegation here this morning.

The communication probably will be followed by another going further into details and telling Germany exactly what she must do to further military occupation of Germany territory.

ALLIED CONFERENCE ADJOURNS WITHOUT DECIDING MEASURES

By HENRY WOOD (By United Press Staff Correspondent.)

PARIS, June 23.—The latest allied conference had passed into history today without having taken any measures to settle the problems facing the world as a result of the late war.

The question of reparations was left to economic experts from various entente countries, will meet early in July to draft proposals for submission to the general allied conference to be held at Spa.

The Tagblatt continues, "and will eventually empower it to say 'No' if the entente, as at Versailles, should demand what cannot be fulfilled."

The Tagblatt says further that the cabinet will meet in Berlin on Thursday when Konstantin Frenbach, the new chancellor, will read a declaration relative to the policy of the government.

The Times correspondent asserts the new government's prospect of remaining in office depends upon the willingness of the majority socialists to observe "benevolent neutrality."

An earlier Berlin message to the London Times, received Tuesday night, reported the collapse of the proposed Frenbach cabinet because the majority socialists would decline to accept a coalition with the conservatives.

The French foreign office issued a statement clarifying that French military operations in the Near East would be confined to policing and resisting attacks.

Amounts of German indemnity to be allotted the various allied belligerents was not decided.

The meeting at Spa probably will be held July 7.

FORMATION OF NEW EMERGENCY GERMAN CABINET REPORTED

LONDON, June 23.—Formation of a new German cabinet is reported in a Berlin dispatch printed in a late edition of the Times this morning.

This cabinet is regarded as an emergency one, the dispatch quotes the Tagblatt as saying, "that newspaper adding that it must walk warily to maintain itself, but will at least be able to go to Spa as representing a large majority of the German people."

The Tagblatt continues, "and will eventually empower it to say 'No' if the entente, as at Versailles, should demand what cannot be fulfilled."

The Tagblatt says further that the cabinet will meet in Berlin on Thursday when Konstantin Frenbach, the new chancellor, will read a declaration relative to the policy of the government.

BIZARRE BATH SUITS IS RAGE IN GALVESTON

GALVESTON, TEX., June 23.—Bathing suits this year are more colorful and bizarre than in any preceding year in the history of this beach. Silk and woolen one-piece suits, daintily cut and with a goody portion of the back left open, are the popular styles. "Beach costumes," as they are known are much more pretentious. These include parasol, cape, saah, half hose and sandals, the cost of which ranges from $25 to $200.

According to bathing house proprietors, women are not alone in their love for bright colors, for this year's crop of men bathers show a predilection for yellow, purple, green, black and white stripe and red and black stripe for swimming suits. Stockings, as a part of woman's bathing togethery, have disappeared from the beach and have given place to bare legs and half hose. A majority of the women prefer to wear neither sandals nor hose in their surf bathing.

Office Clerk Oil Concern Tells of Troubles.

"I feel better now than I have in years and my friends all tell me I look like a new man," said E. J. Thompson, one of the well known and popular clerks employed in the office of the Comanche Chief Oil company, Fort Worth, Tex. Mr. Thompson formerly lived at Burleson, Tex. and has many warm friends throughout that section.

"For three or four years," continued Mr. Thompson, "I suffered with indigestion, nervousness and other troubles until I had become completely broken down. I could eat nothing sweet without blowing up and the gas on my stomach made me miserable a large part of the time. In the mornings when I got up, I felt sore all over and sick at my stomach. I was constipated all the time and my kidneys were badly out of order. I was so nervous I couldn't sleep three hours at a time and I felt weak and depressed and had no ambition for anything."

"I tried various kinds of medicines and Orgatone is the only thing that ever reached the spot. I saw so many people who had used it with good results I decided to give it a trial. I started on the first bottle and found I was improving right away. When I need that up I didn't lose any time in getting another bottle and kept on improving. My appetite is so good now I can hardly eat enough and I am getting stronger every day. I sleep as sound as a dollar now and I get up feeling fine. I'm brimful of energy and ambition and as active as I was years ago. Orgatone certainly has done me a world of good and it is a pleasure to recommend it."

Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy, but a new scientific treatment absolutely free from alcohol in any form and is sold in Wichita Falls by the Young and the Miller drug stores exclusively, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative—Adv.

HECKSCHER GIVES $500,000 CORNELL FOR RESEARCH WORK

ITHACA, N. Y., June 23.—A gift of $500,000 by August Heckscher of New York City for the endowment of research in Cornell University was announced by President Jacob Gould Schurman at the university's 62nd commencement today.

The income of the gift will be used to maintain professorships of research and to provide facilities for scientific work. Those to be selected for such professorships will be relieved of routine teaching and details of administration.

They will be free to devote the best of the energies to scientific investigation and incidentally to the training of future investigators. The aim of the foundation, President Schurman said, would be to discover new fields of great promise in science and learning and to give them an opportunity to engage in research.

When President Schurman closed his address at the commencement exercises today he ended his administration of more than 28 years. His resignation, which was accepted by the trustees February 25, took effect today.

TYPHOID CAUSED BY FLIES AND CONTAMINATED WATER

AUSTIN, June 23.—With the advent of warm weather and flies typhoid is beginning to exact its toll in Texas, according to reports reaching the state board of health, and Dr. C. W. Goddard, state health officer, issued a warning to every community to keep a careful watch upon the purity of its water supply and to properly dispose of all human excreta in a safe manner.

He issued the following statement: "Keep under surveillance every infected person or carrier, and people in rural communities should provide safe methods of night soil disposal. Typhoid infection is spread through human filth, improperly disposed of. It is sometimes carried by storm water to truck and fruit patches and yards where children play.

"It can be carried for long distances by underground seepage to water supplies. It can be scattered by the feet of persons, dogs, cats, rats and other animals. It can be carried direct to food of persons by flies.

"Contaminated water, if used for washing milk vessels or other food containers, may carry the infection to the food. Oysters or other shell fish grown in contaminated water may carry the infection."

RUSSIANS CANNOT TEACH WESTERN EUROPE ANYTHING ABOUT SOCIALISM QUESTION

LONDON, June 23.—A Reuter dispatch from Stockholm today quotes Mrs. Phillip Snowden and Dr. Guest, members of the British labor delegation which went to investigate conditions in Russia, who have arrived in Stockholm on their return as declaring that in their view Soviet Russia could teach western Europe nothing. Socialism, they predicted, would prevail in Great Britain long before it would in Russia, the message adds.

L. C. Hodgson, mayor of St. Paul, won the democratic nomination for governor over a field of seven aspirants, these returns indicated.

Representative A. J. Volstead, author of the prohibition enforcement act, was defeated for the republican nomination for congress by Rev. O. J. Kvale, non-partisan league candidate, returns indicated. Kvale was leading by 2,000 votes.

Volstead's defeat was credited to alleged quotations from him that he had no objection to light wines and beers.

SEVERAL PEOPLE KILLED IN GERMAN RIOTS IS REPORTED

BERLIN, June 23.—Several persons are reported to have been killed at Uim, Wuertemberg, during riotous demonstrations against the high cost of food. Similar demonstrations are reported as occurring in other parts of Germany.

Some circles of the independent socialists, the advices from the disturbed area report, are taking advantage of the unrest to urge the people to demand a dictatorship of the proletariat.

ENTERTAINMENTS OF EXCEPTIONAL MERIT CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM

With the opening of the Chautauqua on Wednesday afternoon the citizens of Wichita Falls will be privileged to listen to and see some entertainments of exceptional quality. The Redpath Horner Chautauquas, designed and presented with the idea of propagating high ideals and one hundred per cent Americanism in addition to the entertainment afforded, are perhaps the most widely known and best liked Chautauqua companies appearing before the American public today, and the city is indeed fortunate in having secured the Horner company for the Chautauqua engagements. The wide scope and various phases of life with which the programs deal give promise of satisfying each and every individual taste, for the personnel of the company includes lecturers on art, literature, philosophy, science and religion, the musicians are prepared to regale their audiences with everything from Wagnerian masterpieces to the latest jazz hits while the readers and dramatists are fully up to the high standards which the Chautauqua platform demands.

Of the lecturers alone there are no less than eight vigorous, forceful personalities dealing with issues of vital importance to the citizens of the nation. Dr. Frank L. Loveland, a prominent exponent of patriotism and honest citizenship, R. E. Pattison Kline, scholar and idealist and Rev. Ernest C. Mohler, traveler, economist and philosopher, are all qualified to talk authoritatively on their respective subjects. Frank Edward Gordon, philosopher and humorist, Dr. Hilton and Jones, scientist, and Jess Pugh, "joy time specialist," will furnish the lighter, but still worthy, parts of the program while Harry L. Fogelman's dynamic lecture on salesmanship, business efficiency, and kindred subjects should hold a special attraction for those interested in such work.

Among the musicians the Baldy Brang and H. J. Leak companies stand out as novel and interesting, presenting instrumental and vocal numbers of unusual merit. The Cavney Company, including J. Franklin Cavney, artist, cartoonist, sculptor and lecturer, Marie M. Cavney, soloist, and Lola Cronin, pianist, will present a varied and unusual program while the big feature of the series will be the presentation of the great comedy-drama "Nothing But The Truth" by the Charles Horner Company of a dozen talented actors.

Truck Census of the Country.
There were 363,093 trucks in use at the end of the year 1919, as compared with approximately 700,000 for the preceding year. This is a gain of 27 per cent, 16 per cent greater than the increase shown by passenger cars. But 18 states have compilations of truck registration. New York leads with others following in this order: Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania, California, Iowa, Texas, Nevada with 700 at the foot of the list.

At the Empress.
When 50 tons of molten metal are seen to shoot from huge converters into ladles as big as great water tanks, sending a fierce glare into the heavens, those who witness a performance of "The Iron Heart" will gasp with amazement. This is only one of the many great scenes in the new William Fox photodrama in which Madeline Travers is the star and which opens an engagement today at the Empress theater.

The huge want of the Llewellyn Iron Works, near Los Angeles, furnished a most effective setting for this powerful drama—which has as its theme the story of a young girl who, with courage born of her faith in mankind, dared to take over the personal direction of a big business and undertake the preservation of the social welfare of its hundreds of employees.

Many intensely dramatic situations have been injected into the action by Denison Clift, author and director—scenes after scenes filled with acute moments and smashing climaxes following in rapid succession. George McDaniel is seen as the hero. Other in the cast include Edwin Booth Tilton, Melbourne McDowell and Ben Deely.

The Empress is also presenting one of Mack Sennett's latest comedies entitled, "By Golly."

The second day of the Redpath Horner Chautauqua at Bellevue park will find another interesting program presented. The Cavney company will furnish the entertainment in the afternoon while the same artists together with Mr. Harry L. Fogelman will be the attraction in the evening. Heading the afternoon performance will be Mr. J. Franklin Cavney, versatile cartoonist, sculptor and painter who will give an absorbing demonstration of moulding in clay, chalk drawings and paintings. Marie M. Cavney, soprano soloist, will give a number of selections and Miss Lola Cronin, pianist and accompanist, will also assist in the afternoon entertainment.

PREPARING THEMSELVES REGARDLESS OF PAY
A large majority of Wichita Falls county school teachers are now at various normal schools taking summer courses. County School Superintendent Earl Bryant announced Wednesday. Due to high rent here and other high living prices school authorities gave up the idea of conducting a county summer normal and practically all teachers are now at Canyon City, Denton or other state normal institutions.

"Teachers of this county are preparing themselves for a greater work regardless of the poor pay they are getting," Superintendent Bryant said.

PROHIBITION MAY CAUSE DISCORD

ed to lead the bone drys and he probably would find pitted against him strategists and orators of the first rank.

W. Bourke Cochran of New York was mentioned as one of those who might be asked to match wits and eloquence with the Nebraska in the convention debate.

Although Mr. Bryan is expected to make a fight also against the administration treaty plank, the general belief of his friends here is that he will reserve his greatest effort for the prohibition problem.

He is expected to reach San Francisco late in the week, though the treaty fireworks may start with the arrival late today of Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, who is credited with holding President Wilson's commission to write the administration League of Nations plank.

Senator Glass is the leading candidate for chairman of the platform committee and the general prediction today was that he would be chosen to that position with little opposition.

Some of the anti-administration managers had not abandoned hope, however, that they might combine their forces to select one else.

Open question. Chairman Cummings said today that it was still an open question whether the adoption of the platform the choice of a nominee would come first on the convention program.

The prospect of a prolonged fight in committee over prohibition and perhaps some other subjects has led to the movement to go ahead with balloting while the committee sits.

Such talk as here was today regarding candidates seemed to strengthen the prospects of a deadlock for several ballots. Some of those in the line today have plans said it was hard to conceive how the two-thirds necessary to nominate could be brought into one column for two or three rolls at least, and they pointed that if two or three candidates divided the bulk of the voting strength among them favorite sons and dark horses would be encouraged to prolong the deadlock by holding to their balance of power.

In the generally accepted view, the withdrawal of William J. McAdoo will operate to make a deadlock more likely by distributing more or less widely the strength which had been lined up behind him. Some thought, however, that a considerable following ever, that a considerable following will vote for him despite his public withdrawal, while the most enthusiastic of McAdoo supporters were still predicting that he would be the nominee.

now leaving the service of the railroads.

Message Not Received. CHICAGO, June 23.—President Wilson's message asking that the railway wage board to give an immediate decision in the wage controversy has not yet been received here, the board announced at 1:00 p. m.

Judge Barton, chairman of the board, authorized a statement that all possible was being done to expedite the decision.

The board's publicity department declared that the delay in reaching a decision had nothing to do with the present railroad strikes and that the board believed the strikes would continue even after the wage case is settled.

The strikes, it was said, are prompted by internal fights for control of the railway unions and not primarily by dissatisfaction with wages. The wage question has been injected, it was estimated, to deceive the public.

The board's decision revising wages of all railroad employees probably will be handed down within the next two weeks, it was indicated.

Men Impatient. Judge Barton said that impatience of railroad men to get a decision was only delaying the case. He declared the board's deliberations were being interrupted scores of times daily by delegations of railroad men asking that a date for the decision be set. As many as 200 calls have been received in a single day, he said.

What effect the decision when reached will have on the strikes of railroad men who walked out without authority of their national brotherhoods is problem, railroad men here say.

The labor board declined to consider the claims of the strikers, the railroads announced that the men's names were vacant and that they had lost all seniority rights and the brotherhoods are supporting the railroads and the labor board in their stand.

The strikers, however, have notified the labor board and president Wilson that they will accept no decision that does not include the restoration of their position with full seniority rights.

Officials of the 15 railroad unions are to meet here Friday for consultation and to learn, if possible, when the board will decide the wage cases.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—Pennsylvania and Reading railroad officials today reported that some of the employees of those lines who joined the walkout, are applying for permission to return to work. While the number is not large, officials say they believe many more will return later.

Strike leaders, however, express confidence that many more men will join the strike in the next few days. Union leaders are said to be working hard to break the strike.

At Pottsville two crews of trainmen are reported to have joined the strike. Men at the Rutherford yards, near Harrisburg, of the same company, went out last night. Officials say the defections have not materially interfered with freight movement.

Wage Adjustment Wanted. WASHINGTON, June 23.—Information prepared for submission to Secretary Payne today indicated that unless assurances were given immediately to railway workers that a wage adjustment might be expected soon, the unauthorized strike of trainmen at Philadelphia, Baltimore and many other points might not be opposed further by the brotherhoods.

W. N. Dook, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, expected to discuss the situation with Mr. Payne, who is director general of the railroad administration. He also plans to leave this week for Chicago, where the railroad labor board is meeting.

Reports to labor headquarters here today indicated no improvement in the situation and pointed to increased unrest among the men. Labor leaders said that since the beginning of the unauthorized strike, 20,000 men had been dismissed from the unions, but that the feeling was growing that to continue disciplining the men was impracticable.

CHICAGO, June 23.—The sporadic railway strikes which have broken out in a half dozen or more cities during the past week spread to Savannah, Ill., today with 50 Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul employees out.

The situation elsewhere in the central states showed improvement, according to reports to the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen offices here.

At Burlington, Ia., where the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy switchmen struck last week, a number of men were reported to have returned to work. At Bend, Ill., where the Chicago and Northwestern men have been on strike, normal conditions have been restored.

John Grunau, president of the Chicago Yardmen's association, and Harold E. Reading, president of the United Engineers' association—the two organizations of "railway vacationists," as the strikers term themselves—today issued a call for a mass meeting Friday night. The purpose, it was explained, is "to lay before the public the true side of the present railroad situation and just what means have been employed to bring the present controversy to a successful conclusion."

Houston Situation. HOUSTON, June 23.—The switchmen's strike dwindled down to insignificant proportions here today. The strikers claimed no more than 25 men out and admitted that some returned to work, and rail heads at B. R. T. chiefs estimated the total out at less than 50, slightly less than the number out yesterday.

BUNDLE OF CLOTHES FIGURES IN TRIAL OF BUDDIE TATUM

A bundle of clothes was unwrapped before the trial jury by District Attorney Fletcher S. Jones early Wednesday in the Tatum murder trial and it is indicated that this bundle of clothes will be an important part of the state's case against Buddie Tatum charged with the murder of S. L. Stringfellow. The clothes were given Mrs. Alma Reeves, wife of J. W. Reeves, Springtown grocer, the afternoon of last April 14, by Stringfellow, an oil well driller in the northwest field, who less than 10 minutes later was shot to death in the Reeves grocery store by R. T. (Buddie) Tatum, who is now being tried for murder in connection with the oil driller's tragic death. Mrs. Alma Reeves told jurors that Stringfellow, following a dispute with Mrs. Cora Tatum, wife of Buddie Tatum, gave her the bundle, saying, "Please keep these for me and I will pay you for the trouble." District Attorney Fletcher Jones displayed to the jury a collection of pretty clothes evidently selected by a parent to be worn by his children. Mrs. Tatum married Stringfellow several years ago at Texarkana but was later divorced from him and married Buddie Tatum. Children were born, however, before the separation and it is implied by testimony Wednesday and by previous testimony brought out in the preliminary hearing that these clothes were intended by Stringfellow for his children then in custody of his divorced wife, Mrs. Cora Tatum.

Mrs. Alma Reeves, a state's witness, told a graphic story of the killing of Stringfellow following the presentation to her by Stringfellow of the bundle. Her story in substance was as follows:

"I went to the front door of our grocery store upon being told that a fight was in progress on the outside. I saw Stringfellow holding a revolver in his hand and talking to Buddie and Cora Tatum. They were all quarreling among themselves and Mrs. Tatum said, 'Stringfellow, you've got negro blood in you anyway,' and Stringfellow said to her, 'Oh, you huzza.' Mrs. Tatum then said, 'Give me a gun and I'll show you who will do the shooting here,' and Stringfellow shouted, 'Trot your man and see if I won't shoot.'"

Continuing her account of the shooting, Mrs. Reeves testified that Cora Tatum stepped between her husband and her divorced husband and that Stringfellow put his pistol in his shirt bosom. Further testimony by Mrs. Reeves disclosed that when Stringfellow started toward the grocery store entrance, Tatum drew a revolver and fired. Several shots passed into the store and Stringfellow ran into the building attempting to escape through the rear but sustained a fatal wound just as he reached the rear. Mrs. Reeves testified, Stringfellow died in her grocery store from a bullet fired by Buddie Tatum as he stood near the front door of the store, Mrs. Reeves said. One of Tatum's bullets went astray and slightly wounded J. W. Reeves, the witness's husband, the evidence disclosed.

"Did Stringfellow curse Mrs. Tatum?" asked District Attorney Jones. "Not that I heard," Mrs. Reeves replied.

"Did he call her any names or threaten her?" asked Jones. "When Mrs. Tatum said, 'You've got negro blood in you,' Stringfellow shouted, 'Oh, you huzza,'" the witness replied.

Ragdale, 12-year-old youth, followed Mrs. Reeves as a state's witness. "I happened to be in the Reeves grocery store when the shooting opened and Mrs. Reeves and I ran to the rear and jumped behind an ice box where I stayed until Stringfellow was killed," Leo told the jury.

"I heard Stringfellow cry, 'Well, you've killed me,' and a second or two later he rolled over upon his face and said no more. I came out from behind the ice box and Stringfellow was lying near the rear door while Tatum was standing near the front, revolver in hand."

Beatrice Stone, 17-year-old daughter of H. A. Stone, a Springtown baker, testified that a few minutes prior to the killing, Buddie Tatum came into the sales room of her father's establishment, holding a gun in his hand.

"Oh, Buddie, what's happened?" Miss Stone said she asked Tatum. "Go into your room, Beatrice. I guess I will have to kill that man," the witness testified she was told by Tatum.

Miss Stone said she ran into her sleeping apartment and looking out of the window saw Tatum and his wife and Stringfellow standing near Reeves' grocery store.

"Did you hear a conversation," the state's attorney asked. "I did not hear anything but I saw Stringfellow run toward Tatum, gun in hand, and I saw his lips move but I don't know what he said," Miss Stone testified.

Continuing the witness said, "Buddie put up his gun and said so loud that I could hear him, 'I am not going to shoot with you. Then Buddie came into my father's store, while Mrs. Tatum backed Stringfellow toward the Reeves' grocery store. 'A few minutes later Buddie told me to go into my room for he had to kill a man,' Miss Stone further testified. 'I went into my room and no sooner had I closed the door when I heard two shots. I ran toward the front and saw Buddie standing with a revolver in his hand. He said, 'Beatrice run out there and see if I got him.' I did not go."

"Did you hear Stringfellow abuse

Tatum's wife," asked a state's attorney. "No," she replied.

Further testimony brought out this statement by Miss Stone: "I heard Mrs. Cora Tatum say to her husband, 'Give me that gun and I'll show you who will do the shooting,' and she was pushing Stringfellow away from her husband. This occurred about five minutes before the shooting, Miss Stone said.

Dollie Stone, 15 years old, and also a daughter of H. A. Stone, was placed upon the witness stand but her story disclosed that she did not witness much of the affair as she ran from the bakery into a house in rear when the trouble started. "When the dispute arose I ran out the back way but I heard three shots fired from a pistol," she told the jury.

Similar testimony was given by Archie Martin, age 13, of Wichita Falls, who happened to be in the oil fields when the shooting occurred. Archie said that he and Dollie Stone ran through the back door of the bakery when the shooting started.

H. A. Stone, proprietor of Stone's bakery at Springtown, drew a diagram for the jury showing the approximate location of the persons who engaged in the shooting affair that resulted in Stringfellow's death. Dan Renfro, age 17, an oil field worker, testified to facts similar to other witnesses. Renfro entered the Reeves' grocery to make a purchase just prior to the shooting, he said.

Additional testimony is being taken this afternoon. E. Robertson, defense counsel, announced Wednesday that Tatum would take the stand in his own defense. Tatum's testimony will probably be given Thursday forenoon. There is much interest shown in the case and the 30th district court room was practically filled throughout the trial Wednesday. The state's representation by District Attorney Fletcher S. Jones, County Attorney John Davenport and Charles J. Francis of the firm of Weeks, Morrow, Weeks & Francis.

The following 12 men are the jurors: W. R. Skidmore, J. T. Workman, J. J. Wilkes, A. L. Jowell, E. E. Alford, C. R. Smith, H. A. McCarty, W. E. Aldridge, H. V. Ditto, J. L. Perry, S. A. Fisher and F. Murphy.

WICHITA CLUB'S LAST LUNCHEON IN CHURCH BASEMENT

The Wichita club bade farewell this noon to the basement of the Christian church. It has been a good old basement, and around it hover many memories of splendid lunches and wild discussions—but the new quarters of the club on the top floor of the City National Bank of Commerce building will be thrown open next Wednesday. As a result there will be no more jovial luncheon gatherings in the church basement, and the ladies of the Civic league now have lost a grand host of lusty trenchermen.

W. W. Anderson, of the house committee, reported the glad tidings of great joy to the club members this noon, stating that the kitchen furnishings have been installed and the table service has arrived—so why wait for the balance of the club furniture?

It is planned to serve two meals daily in the new quarters, and a regular luncheon to Pete New York chef has been engaged, and will be in this city within the next few days. While the prices may be rather "steep" at the start, Mr. Anderson said, a careful check of all operating expenses will be kept and it will probably be possible to make reductions accordingly.

Flipping of any kind will be prohibited in the new quarters, and a triplicate system of signature will be used, with statements mailed to members at regular intervals.

F. N. Lawton spoke briefly to the club members regarding the Chautauqua that opens today, urging all members to attend.

"The program," he said "is better this year than ever before, and it is splendidly arranged."

Miss Bonner and Miss Agnew, representing the Y. W. C. A., attended the club luncheon, and at its close sold many tickets to the Chautauqua. Expenses to the amount of $1,500 have been guaranteed, and it is hoped that record crowds will attend the afternoon and evening programs during the six days that the entertainment will be in Wichita Falls.

F. S. "The reporter 'mighty nigh' forgot to chronicle that President Reid announced during the luncheon that there would be no reading of the minutes as Secretary E. H. Edelman had been so indiscreet as to drop a telephone on his foot, with disastrous results—not to the telephone."

TEMPLE OF PYTHIAN SISTERS TO BE ORGANIZED

Pioneer Lodge No. 49 Knights of Pythias will have an open social session next Tuesday evening, June 23, at 8 o'clock sharp, at their Castle hall, 603 Scott avenue. All members of the order, whether in good standing or not are urgently requested and invited to be present, and to bring with them their wives, daughters, mothers, sisters or other lady relatives who are eligible for membership in the order of Pythian Sisters, as a sufficient number of ladies are expected to be enrolled at that time to institute a temple of that order. A grand representative of the Pythian Sisters will be present to address the audience, and outline the work to be done. Already quite a number of names have been secured as charter members. All ladies and gentlemen who are members of the Pythian Sisters are invited to be present, no matter where they hold their membership nor whether they are in good standing or not. A musical program will be given and light refreshments served.

"The Other Half," King W. Vildor's latest production made for Robertson-Cole and distributed by Exhibitors Mutual as a Superior Picture, is a drama of the masses and classes with "the brotherhood of man" as the keynote.

It is a timely subject in this day of unrest and agitation, and will strike a responsive chord. A true reflection of every day life in American families, both rich and poor, with characters whom we all know and whose joys and sorrows are our own, this production is human and understandable.

J. Martin Trent, the hard-boiled money king, Katherine Boone, the rich girl whose eyes were opened to the hard conditions of the poor; the "Jazz Kid," the laundry drudge who just couldn't make her feet behave; Jimmie Main, the red-blooded son of toil; Donald Trent, who believed in no sentiment in business; Caleb Fairman, who tried to make a truthful newspaper pay; all these are types whose paths cross and recross in a play full of real human interest, rich in emotional content and genuine clean humor.

LIGHT POLICE COURT DOCKET WEDNESDAY

Business was light at the police court Wednesday morning. Even the automobile offenders failed to contribute their usual number of cases and a scant 19 were haled before the court. All of these were on charges of speeding, failure to have proper license tags or for driving after dark without lights.

Two men partook too freely of the liquid cheer derived from a fair tonic bottle and their hilarity brought them under the displeasure of an officer who escorted them to jail. Both pleaded guilty and were fined.

LIMMONS ACQUITTED ON PISTOL CARRYING CHARGE

Jim Limmons, service car driver, was acquitted late Tuesday by a jury in Judge Guy Rogers' court of a charge of carrying a pistol. Sheriff Bob McFall, principal state witness, testified he found a revolver in the service car driven by Limmons. The defense asserted the gun belonged to persons who had ridden in the car. Limmons was represented by S. H. Hester, and the state by Wayne Summer-ville, assistant county attorney.

Mrs. Ed Howard and son, Leslie, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Maloney and family left yesterday for Commerce, Tex., where they will attend the annual Maloney family reunion. The trip was made by auto.

Tire Cost Is Coming Down That is, the cost per mile. Miller Tire mileage has in late years almost doubled, through perfection in tire making. In the factory tests—rear-wheel tests under hard conditions—Miller Cords last year averaged 15,000 miles. The new Miller tread has added 25% to the tread wear. Since its adoption, not a single Miller Tire has come back with the tread gone. Both maker and inspector must sign every Miller Tire. Both are penalized if a tire comes back. Every tire user owes himself a test of the Miller Tire. Its exceptional mileage is talked everywhere today. Under this plan, defects have become a rarity. It is giving hundreds of thousands of users new criterions of tire service. It is winning contests where a score of makes are given million-mile comparisons. Give it a chance to show.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 23, 1920. THE COUNTRY LOOKS TOWARD SAN FRANCISCO.

The interest of the country is now centered in San Francisco and the democratic national convention. Who will the democrats nominate? What will be the attitude of the party on the league of nations? What will they do with prohibition? These are some of the questions that are being asked by every one.

The convention at San Francisco will make answer to these and it is now by no means certain what the answer will be to any of them.

W. G. McAdoo, conceded to have the support of more leaders in the party and greater numbers of the rank and file than any other has asked that his name not be presented to the convention. His supporters say they will present it anyway. It now looks like that if his name goes before the convention he will be nominated. If McAdoo is eliminated Senator Carter Glass looks like a good bet. At least he is a good man of presidential size. Then there is Senator Owen of Oklahoma, who, it is said, will have the support of Bryan, and Governor Cox of Ohio and others. There is a big field of possibilities any one of whom would measure up well beside the republican candidate.

There is strong sentiment within the democratic party for the league of nations, not because of President Wilson's part in the drafting of the covenant but because the idea of such a league has always been entertained by democrats. There are some who believe reservations necessary to the league as presented. There are many others, perhaps a majority, who believe with Bryan that the essential thing is to ratify the treaty and the league on the best terms obtainable. There are perhaps a few democrats who do not wish any league whatever but their influence will have far less weight than had the enemies of the league in the republican convention. We may expect a more frank and unequivocal declaration on the league from the democratic convention than was given by the republicans. On this matter at least the democrats have the opportunity to make the issue.

What will the democrats do about prohibition? There are two very divergent views within the democratic party on this question. There is an element that believes in prohibition and that prohibition ought to bring a real drought. There is another very considerable element of democrats who do not believe in national prohibition and who believe that if we must have prohibition it ought to be mitigated at least with 2.75 per cent moisture. It now looks like these two elements would come to a show of strength at San Francisco. It is improbable that there will be a smoothing over of the issue with a colorless and meaningless declaration. The convention is likely to go on record as endorsing bone dry prohibition or as favoring a slight moisture. At this distance it is difficult to say which is the more likely to be chosen.

It begins to look like the San Francisco convention would be a virile, genuine affair and that the platform may be a frank expression of the views of a majority of democrats. An interesting gathering of democrats is indicated.

The country looks toward San Francisco expectantly and even hopefully.

The Duluth lynching has a reminder that white men are pretty much the same regardless of geographical location with the important difference that in the South mobs lynch the men they think guilty, while in the North the mobs apparently want to lynch all the negroes they can find. And lynching is no more to be condemned in the South than in the North—wherever it is it is quite indefensible, legally or morally, although there are mitigating circumstances that tend in the North as in the South to prevent punishment of the lynchers.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler has made the amende honorable to Col. W. C. Proctor for animadversions on the backers of the General Wood campaign, said utterances having been made in the heat of just after the Chicago convention closed. The apology is good and Wood's backers seem to have accepted it at full value. But there was no good reason for their ever having been given to the world and Dr. Butler—a man of very great ability, influence and probity—suffered in the esteem of not a few by reason of the unthoughtful statement.

Mr. McAdoo's insistence that he will not consent to his name being considered as a presidential candidate probably removes him from the list of possibilities. For not even his staunchest admirers believe he could win the nomination over his protest that he will not accept it if tendered him. All of the other candidates profess to believe that McAdoo's withdrawal has helped their candidacies and, since some of the majority strength probably has gone to virtually all of the candidates, they are within the bounds of truth. But—and this is almost a random guess, based largely upon the great fitness of the man himself—it begins to appear that with McAdoo out, the progressive elements in the party will incline toward Ambassador John W. Davis, whose record is without a blemish and whose ability equips him for any high position the world affords. Mr. Davis is one of the strongest men the Wilson administration took to Washington; he made good and more in every position he accepted, and his appointment to the Court of St. James was based on his admirable equipment for the place instead of as a political reward to a rich man. Right now the West Virginian is a dark horse, very dark; by this time next week, there may be a different situation.

Senator Harding is more fortunate than Governor Coolidge in more ways than having been selected to head the G. O. P. ticket. Senator Harding is due to learn on July 22 that he was nominated at Chicago, while Governor Coolidge will not know that he is the republican vice-presidential nominee until the 27th, five days later. Both men are expected to express their surprise and gratification and both will do a bit of "key-noting" to indicate their attitudes on the various questions of the day and hour—said attitudes having been definitely determined upon at long drawn-out conferences of the G. O. P. leaders.

Senator Bailey's announcement that he will fill his date at Atlanta, Cass county, June 26, but then will return to Washington to fill important engagements in the supreme court indicates that he plans only the most perfunctory of campaigns, if it can be termed a campaign at all. "I am determined to keep that date at Atlanta," he says in a statement given out at Washington, "and I will be able to do so. However, I will be compelled to return to Washington so as to finish the trial, but think it will be concluded early next week. I will then be free to go to Texas and will remain carrying through the campaign program which my friends have outlined for me." Mr. Bailey's statement indicates that he has no zest for the enterprise, and apparently his friends pretty much the same way about it. The whole gubernatorial campaign so far, indeed, is largely without "pep," albeit there is still time for it to warm up when the candidates all get out on the hustings and start "shelling the woods."

Mr. Burleson is running true to form in his advocacy of modification of the Volstead act, because Mr. Burleson has always thought that way. So far as his own delegation is concerned, however, Mr. Burleson has nominal control of one-half of one vote, and that one-eighth of the whole is bound up in unit instructions.

The annual outbreak of dysentery is causing much serious illness over the state, especially among children. It is a disease whose transmission depends largely upon the activities of the house fly, whose feet disseminate the germs over a wide area. Typhoid similarly depends upon the fly largely for the occurrence of so-called sporadic cases. The moral of which is: Swat the fly.

No Party Question (Dallas Journal)

Vice President Marshall is opposed to the injection of such issues as prohibition and the Irish question at San Francisco. He is right about it. Either question would clog the convention machinery, create friction and make for disruption. Neither question has place in the deliberations or pronouncements of the party at this time. If the prohibition issue must be revived, the revival should wait upon solution of the greater problems of the hour. The Irish question, as Mr. Marshall declares, isn't any of our business. It might be if Ireland were oppressed. The business is England's—and Ireland's. The Senate was out of its province when it recognized the Irish question in resolutions. And the democratic party will err more grievously if it makes any pronouncement on that question.

At least one plank in the republican platform was justified. That was the anti-lynching plank. The triple execution of negroes in Duluth shows that the mob spirit is restricted to no particular section of the country and that the task of suppressing it has become a national problem. The Duluth mob operated with as great efficiency and expedition as any that ever manipulated the avenging hemp or the punitive torch in the condemned South. And there, as here, not only the black victims but law and order were lynched. The lawless spirit of the mob warrants the most drastic repressive action that can be taken. The combined power of State and Federal Government should be brought to bear to suppress lynchings and to give law its opportunity to pass sentence upon the bestial beast.

WHY?

Does the Moon Change in Size? (Copyright, 1920, by Wheeler Brady, Inc.) What we know as the change in size of the moon—growing from the tiny thin crescent of the "new" moon to the great silvery disc of the "full" moon—is, of course, only an apparent change produced by varying reflection of the sun's rays when the moon is at different positions in its orbit. The moon itself remains of the same size, as may be seen on a clear night when the dark oval of the unlighted section can be distinguished outside the crescent and new moon.

HENRIETTA PARTY ARRIVES TODAY TO BOOST CELEBRATION

A delegation of some 150 Henrietta business men arrived in Wichita Falls late this afternoon to invite this city to visit a live Clay county town and assist in celebrating July 4. According to the visitors the celebration will be "a mammoth and stupendous spectacle," not to mention other descriptive terms made famous by "Tody" Hamilton in the days when he was press agent for P. T. Barnum's circus interests.

The Henrietta men will be the guests tonight of the Elks club at an informal smoker and conversation-feast. The feed bags also will be tied on and an effort will be made to convince the visitors that Wichita Falls on short notice is capable of staging a pretty fair celebration of its own.

ABILENE URGED TO JOIN IN OPEN SHOP MOVEMENT

A telegram urging the city of Abilene to start an open shop movement was sent by the local Chamber of Commerce this morning to J. M. Radford, of the Abilene Rotary club. The Rotarians of Abilene are considering such a movement. The wire follows: "Wichita Falls, having declared its industrial independence through the open shop movement, and being well on its way toward success, urges its sister city Abilene to take the same step. We believe that the open shop principle is bound to be adopted throughout the country and believe you will never be sorry if you make the fight. It is good business, but above business, it is the right principle of Americanism. We would not return to former conditions for any consideration."

LEE STREET RESIDENTS DEFER PAVING, BUT PLAN SPRINKLING WITH OIL

At a meeting held at the Travis school Tuesday evening and attended by 30 property owners residing on Lee street between Third and Seventh, definite steps were taken to secure immediate relief from the mud and dust now occasioned by the heavy traffic passing over that thoroughfare.

Miss M. R. Kerr of the Chamber of Commerce presented facts pertaining to the relative cost of sprinkling, oiling and paving. In the open discussion which followed, it developed that the property holders were practically unanimous in their desire for paving but felt that the present high cost of same was prohibitive, particularly in view of the fact that no arrangement for time payments was possible at this time.

It was, therefore, decided to go into the matter of sprinkling as means of immediate relief. Messrs. Massey, Holman and Sparks were appointed a committee to confer with the city council and work out a plan for immediate operation. This committee will report at a meeting called for next Friday evening. It was voted to extend an invitation to residents of Adams street and intersecting streets in that part of the city to attend this meeting with a view to adopting some plan for the entire community.

It was voted to continue work on the paving project and a committee consisting of Messrs. Holman, Weideman and Appleby was appointed to consult with the city engineer as to specifications for Lee street and to ascertain just what the cost will be to each property owner. This committee will also prepare a report for Friday evening.

OIL TRANSPORTATION TAXES SINCE 1918 UNPAID AND WILL BE COLLECTED

The winds of Texas are due to waft hither and yon loud wails of anguish and rage from officials of many pipe line companies, judging from information that emanated from the local office of the internal revenue department today. Transportation taxes on runs of oil by pipe line companies have been accumulating without collection since 1918, it is understood—and now a campaign to collect all these back taxes, running into many thousands of dollars, is being instituted.

Deputy Collector L. Shields, from the local office is leaving Wichita Falls today for Dallas to join forces with the assistant supervisor of collectors there in carrying through the program of collection. He will be gone probably two months, as it is stated unofficially that many problems of more than ordinary depth are concerned with the transportation tax law.

The tax has been collected in many sections of the country, but for some reason it was overlooked in this district. Details regarding the tax could not be obtained today, but in view of the fact that the law has been in effect for two years it is indisputable that the pipe line companies here will be asked to surrender to the government sums of money of considerable size.

NO SESSION FEDERAL COURT BEFORE NOVEMBER

There will be no session of federal court here before next November, it was definitely announced Wednesday by J. A. Lantz, United States commissioner here. It was thought for some time that a special session of federal court would be conducted here in July, but Judge Wilson announced last week that he would take a vacation following the close of the Amarillo term. Federal officials here declare that even if a mid-summer session had been secured extreme difficulty would have been encountered in securing accommodations for the court, due to the fact that all state courts will be in session at that time.

LATE RALLY BY SPUDDERS FALLS ONE RUN SHORT AND PIRATES COP FIRST GAME OF HOME SERIES 5 TO 4

There was more shattered hopes and saddened citizens at Athletic Park yesterday than are found in the most lurid of the dark and stormy night melodramas. It all came about because of the last minute efforts of the Spudders to romp away with the pastime were all in vain. The Salm groups seized an exciting but unsuccessful rally in the ninth and when the fray had terminated the Salm's ball yard looked as desolate and hopeless as an Armenian town after a Turkish visit. The Spudders lost their first home game 5 to 4 and came near dropping into fourth place.

Confidence vs. Success. A day or so ago a group of sports analysts became involved in a serious discussion. The point at stake was this: Proper confidence paves the way to success, or is it success that develops confidence?

Are not Walter Hagen and Babe Ruth extremely confident types because they know they have the ability to make good? Proper confidence in first based upon ability to make good. There are any number of entries who have confidence minus ability, and they are always terrible busts.

We have seen a number of confident coves who had little else, and what happened to them was quite enough. It is confidence plus ability that makes for success. There are a few occasions when success comes without confidence and in turn develops confidence, but these examples are not as frequent as the reverse type.

Types and Examples. Ty Cobb was a confident, aggressive type of ball player when he was in the South Atlantic League, a matter of sixteen steamy summers ago. Cobb had confidence plus ability.

Babe Ruth required no "boast of heraldry or pomp of power" to get his confidence working. So right that always jars my soul And makes me rave and screech, Is when the ball lies in a hole Beyond the niblick's reach;

When I know in the deadly rout That Vardon couldn't get it out. Not a Thing. "In the mean time," suggests a reader, "what's the matter with Old Penn? She won the best of the National League pennants 1917 and 1918. She made the best showing in the spring relay races so far as any American college was concerned. Take her average since January, 1920, and you'll find that it is on a par with any record in the country."

Consider belated justice done. A number of years ago Mike Donlin saw George Sisler playing on the Michigan team. "Nothing to it," said Mike, "there comes Ty Cobb's successor. He's the greatest looking young hitter I ever saw." Mike never knew a thing. Not a thing.

Next! New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Chicago and Cincinnati in turn have won the last six National League pennants. The only two outsiders have been St. Louis and Pittsburgh. As St. Louis has never won a pennant under modern conditions—that is within the last thirty years—it is high time that the big mace of Hornsby yank her safely through.

Long line of failures has softened the ancient hysteria which one characterized St. Louis as a baseball stronghold, but one lone winner will stir up the fever again. In the old days St. Louis was one of baseball's strongholds, and the welcome awaiting Professor Ricey's troubadours will revive old memories in more than one Missouri breast.

The value of the individual star in baseball has grown beyond price. Hornsby and Sisler alone were enough to set the old town agog, as the saying sometimes is. For that matter it would be hard to find two greater goggers than this pair.

"Why don't you fellows pan these heavyweights for not taking on a real fight once in a while," comments a wrathful native. Will some one kindly lend us his anvil for a day? We've got a hammer.

Hagen isn't conceded any great chance in the British open, but how many believed the margin of one putt would separate Bob Gardner from the British amateur crown?

Try this test on your friends

One of these evenings when you have some friends at your house, ask them if they'd like a real drink. Watch their interest: see their faces brighten up!

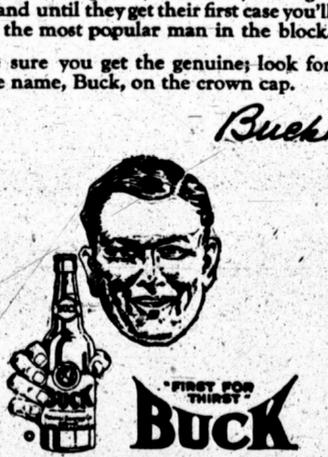

Serve them some Buck. Then watch them smack their lips! They'll want to know where you got it.

When you've got them all good and curious, bring in the labels and tell them that it is Buck, the cereal beverage with the real beer taste. It'll be the surprise of their lives, but they won't feel a bit bad about the joke you played. They can buy the same drink themselves and have a case at home.

Buck is made differently from any other cereal beverage. It is de-alcoholized in such a way that everything I've ever wanted in real beer is left. That's the fine part about it.

A case of good old Buck at home is the finest drink you can buy today. Your friends will quickly discover you've got it and until they get their first case you'll be the most popular man in the block.

Be sure you get the genuine; look for the name, Buck, on the crown cap.

AMERICAN FIGHT FANS

DO NOT LIKE ATTITUDE OF FRENCH CHAMPION

By HENRY FARRELL NEW YORK, June 23.—It used to be the well known "Chinese puzzle" of all hard guesses is the French puzzle facing the American fight fans. As embodied in Francois Descaups and Georges Carpentier, the French puzzle is a baffler.

Since their arrival in the United States to add Jack Dempsey to their list of victims, both Frenchmen have made so many contradictory statements that they have almost ceased to be considered.

Americans are believing that through unfamiliarity with the English language the French didn't know what they were saying when they voiced that frequent "We will fight any time."

While the world's champion was awaiting trial, the fans bore with Carpentier and considered his invader second and third choices.

TEXAS DELEGATION HAPPY AS THEY PASSED WICHITA FALLS ON WAY TO BIG CONVENTION

By HUGH GALE

Many sleepless democratic delegates passed through Wichita Falls during the wee small hours of the morning.

They were all headed to Frisco aboard the Texas Special. The average person would naturally presume members of the party would be sound asleep around two and three o'clock in the morning, however, that bunch is anything but ordinary.

The reporter was far from happy when the editor slipped a little hint that it might be worth the reporter's while to slip down at that early morning hour and garner in a little story for the paper.

He went, and taking things as a whole, the affair was interesting. Delegates were parading up and down narrow sleeping car isles, and lounging in smokers.

A decided atmosphere of politics was in the air. From way back in the smokes the reporter heard the name of McAdoo mentioned. Without the least hesitation he butted in as a private listener.

From in the window corner a rather elongated gentleman, with a great wide sombrero, hailing from somewhere around about the Mexican border, opined, McAdoo was certainly running.

"Yes," agreed a gentleman from Dallas, "running from the wind with all of them are running toward that little nomination ball."

That bit of philosophy was the cause of an open argument. No one, but all had the floor. Some condemned the gentleman from New York for his running attitude, while others expressed themselves as being in a running mood themselves.

Then, without the least warning whatever, the prohibition question was injected into the debate. It was agreed the subject was a dead one, however, still open for debate.

"I am favoring Governor Edwards," remarked a little fellow with a red nose. "In fact, I am strong for him."

"Can't say that I am," replied another Frisco delegate. "He wants liquor and I don't."

"Just betcha, you would take a nice little toddy if it was offered you," retorted the man with the red nose.

"Let us have peace and harmony, gentlemen," urged some delegate, who perhaps thought remarks were getting rather personal. "I am going to vote for the gentleman from Ohio, he added."

"What's yer want? That state already has landed the republican nomination. Wants to have the democratic one, too, I suppose," piped the gentleman from Dallas.

"No, only want him for strategical purposes. He can beat Harding in Ohio, therefore, he is the logical man to offer."

How about the other part of the country besides Ohio. Suppose you forget all about the common people. They count, too, you know."

The siren of the train blew and delegates began to yaw. It was about time too for them to find discomfort within the confines of a short pullman berth. At least most of them would because they are mostly big men.

From what the reporter was able to glean from the conversation McAdoo is the choice of the Texas delegation. In the event he refuses to consider the nomination, it would appear that Cox and Edwards have an even fling for the Texas vote.

In case of a deadlock, what seems from press dispatches to be eminent the Texas delegation will vote for well, it is a rather far fetched effort to make a guess.

The Texas delegation is banking on seeing some "eat and speedy stuff in Frisco. And they plan for Texas to repeat its 1916 performance. That is, name the candidate."

OPEN BETTING AT BALL PARK HAS DISAPPEARED

Chief of Police Goodfellow declared with considerable pride today his conviction that he has convinced baseball fans that gambling will not be tolerated at Athletic park. More than 2,000 spectators attended yesterday's game between the Spudders and Galveston Pirates, but open betting on the result, it was apparent, had died a natural death. The chief had a number of plain clothes men in the stands and it was evident that the police department and the local Texas league officials intend to see that baseball is kept clean in this city.

MANY SIGN PETITION FOR IRRIGATION ELECTION

Four hundred signatures have been obtained to the petitions being circulated throughout the city to declare an election to determine the issue of making a conservation and reclamation district of the Wichita Falls Irrigation District No. 1. As it is necessary to obtain 700 signatures before action on the petition can be taken, all citizens who have not been approached by the men circulating the petitions are earnestly urged to call on the chamber of commerce rooms and sign.

MANY ARRESTS MADE IN PAST TWO WEEKS LIQUOR LAW VIOLATIONS

Chasing the crafty bootlegger occupies much of the time of both state and federal officers at the present. During the past two weeks more than a dozen persons, several of them women, have been taken into custody on charges of violating various liquor regulations. While bootlegging seems to be the order of the day in the oil field regions, yet there is much of it within the limits of Wichita Falls, officers say. Both state and federal officers are after the bootlegger and are working together for his apprehension. In most cases both the state and the government file on persons accused of selling liquor or manufacturing intoxicants in order to make certain a conviction.

CALOMEL IS NOW DELIGHTFUL

No Danger, No Nausea, No Griping, No Salts—Nauseous Tablet Called "Calotab."

One Calotab on the tongue at bedtime, with a swallow of water—that's all. No taste, no nausea, no griping, no salts. You wake up in the morning feeling fine, your liver active, your system thoroughly purified and with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please, no danger. You feel bright, cheerful, clear-headed, energetic and strong.

You can buy Calotab without the slightest fear of unpleasantness, for Calotabs retain all of the liver-cleansing and system-purifying qualities of the old-style calomel without the objectionable qualities. Sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your druggist has authority to refund the price as a guarantee of your perfect satisfaction.—(adv.)

PROFESSOR M'CLURE CONDUCTING UNIVERSITY AT FIRE HEADQUARTERS

Professor J. L. McClure, instructor in city locations in the Wichita Falls Firemen's University, handed out text books in his large and enthusiastic student body this morning. Soon afterward citizens passing the University, which, as you know, is located across Ninth street from the postoffice, heard George O'Brien (Irish spelling) and "Smiley" Turner engaged in a fierce and acrimonious debate as to the location of fire alarm box No. 44. George insisted it was at Ninth and Grace, while Smiley swore No. 44 box had been installed out near the lake.

Jimmy Champion in the meantime had sneaked upstairs to the firemen's quarters, performed a little private investigation and returned with his chest all puffed out.

"Huh," he snorted. "A lot you birds know! Box No. 44 is up there in Chief McClure's room, right against the west wall!"

With the new alarm system in process of installation, Chief McClure decided early this morning to put the "fire boys" through a course of sprouts in committing to memory the locations of all boxes throughout the city. The firemen spent a tough morning, memorizing and "hawling" one another out, but they're all determined to learn those numbers. Professor McClure, it is reported, will hear the boys recite

Swan as the Turkey's Understudy. The swan was formerly in great favor for the table. The old bird calls for good teeth, but the young cygnet is tender and good. The flesh is dark in color and tastes like goose with a suggestion of hare. The peacock also was one of the most famous dishes at royal feasts in the Middle Ages, but it requires a world of basting to make it tender and palatable.

DEATH COMES TO
T. W. ZIEGLER, WELL KNOWN OIL MAN

T. W. Ziegler, manager of the production department in North Texas for the Magnolia Petroleum company, died at his home 2097 Huff avenue at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning after a long illness with liver trouble. Mr. Ziegler had been in poor health for about two years and for the past six months his condition had been regarded as serious. He returned only about 10 days ago from Rochester, Minn., where he went to consult with Mayo Brothers. The end came peacefully this morning after the patient had passed a rather restless night. About an hour before he died, Mr. Ziegler remarked to one of those at his bedside: "Let's take a nap." He then fell into a sleep from which he did not awake.

Mr. Ziegler had an important part in the development of the Wichita county oil fields. He entered the oil business many years ago as a roughneck. He worked for the old Corsicana Petroleum company, which was quick to recognize his worth. In 1911 he was transferred from Corsicana to Wichita county as representative of the production department. When the Corsicana Petroleum company was merged into the Magnolia company Mr. Ziegler remained with the company as its North Texas representative. The company became the largest tax paying property owner in Wichita county, a position it still holds.

Under Mr. Ziegler's direction the well was drilled on the Schmocker lease that discovered the old Burkburnett pool, a discovery that led indirectly to the discovery of the townsite pool. Mr. Ziegler negotiated many of the purchases of oil property in this section for the Magnolia, some of them being deals of great magnitude. He passed his 43rd birthday May 20. He leaves a widow and two sons, Herbert and Leroy. He also leaves two brothers, L. L. Ziegler of Fort Worth and Harvey Ziegler of San Antonio, and a sister, Mrs. Herbert Little of Waco. Mrs. K. E. Bauch Jr. is a niece. Mr. Ziegler's mother died at Waco Sunday, but his condition was such that he was not told of her death.

The funeral will be held at the residence at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Rev. H. D. Knickerbocker officiating. Burial will be in Rosemont burial park.

WELL EQUIPPED AND THOROUGHLY MODERN

With the formal opening of the new City Laundry at 400 Austin street, Wichita Falls has one of the best equipped plants of its kind in the southwest. No pains or money have been stinted on either the building or machinery to make it the last word in economy and efficiency.

"Laundry work is essentially women's work," said one of the plant officials in pointing out the modern improvements, "and for this reason we have spared nothing in lighting, ventilation and installing modern machinery to make the work as beautiful and as little laborious as possible. Another thing we are fighting for is to keep Wichita Falls business in Wichita Falls. Nearly every day truck load after truck load of clothes are sent away to be washed, some going as far as Dallas. This business should stay at home and we have equipped our plant with this idea in mind." One huge washing machine is capable of washing 300 sheets at one time, taking a period of 50 minutes to do the work and using 10 changes of water. Silk is all washed by hand.

The plant has its own garage, rest rooms, filtration plant and operates six delivery trucks.

It is said that the length of the day rather than the temperature affect the growth of plants. Iris given 18 hours of light every day bloomed two months earlier than similar plants which experienced only the day of natural length. This was proven in some government experiments.
