GERMANS WILL BE DISARMED WITHIN STIPULATED TIME

Allies Insist That Treaty Provision be Carried Out in Three Months

FOCH INTIMATES THAT TROOPS ARE READY

Arms Have Been Smuggled In to Germany and Attempt to Disarm Fails

By CARL D. GROAT

SPA, BELGIUM, July 8.—Germany must comply with the disarmament provisions of the peace treaty within three months, it was decided by the allies. The German delegation will be notified to that effect when the conference reconvenes here today.

The German request for 15 months' time in which to disarm was met by a flat refusal.

When Premier Lloyd George asked the German foreign minister why one million armed men and two million rifles in Germany were still unaccounted for, Herr Simon reminded the British premier that many men were armed in Ireland, despite orders of the British government that they disarm.

General Von Seeckt, chief of the German general staff, declared that if the German army was materially reduced it would be impossible to collect the rifles in the hands of soldiers and former soldiers in outlying districts.

General Von Seeckt met with Marshal Foch today for discussion of methods for demobilizing the German forces. Results of the meeting will be presented at this afternoon's general conference.

Three Difficulties

Herr Simon declared the German government was faced with three difficulties—the district of the allies, the impossibility of meeting financial conditions of the peace treaty, and the fact that Germany would make every effort to meet her obligations under the treaty and asked that the allies continue occupation of neutral zones.

Simon admitted that arms were being smuggled into Germany, saying all attempts to disarm volunteers had failed. He said there were now 15,540 trench mortars in Germany which could be turned over to the allies within one year. He said the German effectives could be reduced to 100,000 men by October 10, 1920, to 100,000 by January, 1921; to 100,000 by April; to 120 by July, and to 100,000 by October, 1921. He requested that Germany be permitted to retain 100,000 men, 750 additional military officers and 50,000 rifles in excess of the treaty terms.

In concluding the conference, Simon said Germany was still facing the possibility of a dangerous revolution from two sides, radicals and monarchists.

MISS BROCK, FORMER SUFFRAGE LEADER URGES TENNESSEE MAN TO VOTE AGAINST AMENDMENT

HARDING PREPARES ACCEPTANCE SPEECH

MARION, O., July 8.—In an effort to get the first draft of his acceptance speech well out of the way today, Warren G. Harding virtually locked himself in his office and labored with a pencil and pad of paper over the phrases in which he will define the campaign issues on July 22.

Will Hays, republican national chairman, and Harry M. Daugherty, Harding's pre-convention manager, are expected to arrive for a conference with the presidential candidate tomorrow.

The nominee has been putting in eight or 10 hours a day at his desk since his arrival here and has exclusively excluded recreation from his daily routine.

Location of campaign headquarters here has brought an influx of visitors which is rapidly leading Marion to take on "city ways." Every effort is being made to keep down profiteering, but housing conditions are fast becoming acute.

Preparations for the acceptance ceremonies are going ahead. Shopkeepers are getting in flags, bunting, horns, noise makers of all kinds for the occasion.

COX TO TAKE OVER LEADERSHIP WITHOUT OPPOSITION OF WILSON

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Governor James M. Cox, democratic presidential nominee, will be allowed to take over party leadership without resistance by the Wilson administration, according to all indications here today.

High democratic officials from President Wilson down have made it plain that their part in the coming campaign depends entirely on the wishes of Cox and his campaign managers. Had there been any disposition to make the platform and get their league of nations plank, Cox has indicated a willingness to stand on that plank and on a broad endorsement of the administration.

Another significant circumstance is no word of criticism of Cox or any of his acts have been made by democratic officials here. As explained here today, the attitude of the administration is that Wilson followers wrote the platform and got their league of nations plank. Cox has indicated a willingness to stand on that plank and on a broad endorsement of the administration.

There is a growing belief here that President Wilson's part in the campaign will be through written word rather than speech, and that Cox himself will assume the burden of carrying the democratic cause to the people.

"Up in Room 6." DAYTON, O., July 8.—"Up in room 6" promises to be one of the most used phrases of the democratic campaign history.

Room number 6 is reached by climbing to the third floor of Governor Cox's newspaper building. "Publishing Offices, Private," appears on the door, and in the room the democratic nominee plans to hold many of the big conferences of the campaign, as well as direct the publishing of his newspaper.

On the wall appears a large picture of President Wilson, and Cox, taken at a dinner for the Ohio Golf Association. Cox was just leaving the lockers for the course for an afternoon round when an attendant called out that San Francisco wanted Governor Cox on the telephone.

"Tell them I'll talk tonight," was the governor's reply, according to James.

The disputed territory will be surveyed up to the 100th meridian, a distance of approximately 400 miles. These officials are accompanied by a party of surveyors.

WATER SUPPLIES INADEQUATE TO MEET CITY NEEDS

Broken Faith, Evasion and Indifference Charged by Aldermen

COMMITTEES NAMED TO MAKE INVESTIGATION

Opposition Develops to Plan to Remove Filling Stations From Streets

Charges of broken faith, evasion of responsibility and the pursuit of a general policy of indifference toward the needs of the public were recorded with verbal forcefulness against the Wichita Falls Water Company at a meeting of the city council last night.

The committee investigating campaign expenditures today.

"They don't lynch me for belonging to the republican party, do they?" asked Senator Kenyon.

"Yes, they lynch me," replied Johnson. "Many a negro voting the republican ticket has disappeared and no tidings have ever been heard of him."

In Dublin, Ga., during the pre-convention campaign there was "wild use of money," the witness asserted. "I spent only $100 there," he explained, "but the other fellows spent more than $2,000."

"The other fellows," he said, "were the representatives of Major General Leonard Wood, while I was working for myself for national committee."

Plenty of Jack.

Asked if Wood supporters "brought delegates," Johnson said he did not know, but "they passed out plenty of Jack to the delegates."

Johnson declared that backers of General Wood spent "around $60,000 in Georgia while the Lowden supporters spent only $200."

"Not one cent given to me was given to any delegate to the republican convention," the witness declared. He said he received $9,000 from Illinois.

"But not from Governor Lowden himself," Johnson said. "I got $600 of my own money, he added, and $4,000 was raised from other sources."

When the witness charged that the democratic spent more money than he did and had bought votes in local elections, Senator Reed interrupted to ask:

"You don't care when you get $9,000, do you?"

"Not a bit," the witness replied, "but I would need about $50,000 to combat some democratic candidates there."

Palmer Campaign.

Senator Kenyon suddenly turned to the Palmer campaign in Georgia, asking Johnson if officials of the department of justice took in the attorney general's campaign there.

"Heard a story," Johnson said, "that he was the leader," Johnson said. "Other questions concerning activities of the department of justice in Georgia brought no definite information."

The steam roller in the republican national convention was an "institution of benevolence" compared with the democratic steam roller in Georgia, Johnson said, adding that conditions there were controlled by the administration.

The senate committee investigating campaign expenditures will move to St. Louis tonight to take up the investigation of Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer's campaign for president.

The principal witnesses in the Palmer investigation will be Edward F. Goltra, democratic national committee man from Missouri, and Joseph T. Daniels, an attorney in St. Louis.

A report that Goltra paid the expenses of 25 delegates to the state convention which ousted Senator Reed from his national convention seat will be one of the matters investigated, it was said. Senator Reed is a member of the investigating committee.

The senate committee investigating campaign expenditures today turned its attention to the $9,000 payment said to have been made by Lowden campaign manager to Henry Lincoln Johnson, Georgia national committee man. Johnson was the center of a bitter controversy before the credentials committee of the republican national convention. While testifying, before the credentials committee he admitted receiving the money for campaign expenses in Georgia.

The committee strayed from the field of campaign expenditures while questioning Henry Lincoln Johnson of Georgia, and discussed subjects ranging from the percentage of negroes allowed to vote in southern states to lynchings and their causes.

Johnson told the committee that 55 per cent of the negroes were present at voting "by brute force and suppression." He said the situation was summed up in the following words, which he attributed to a speech by Senator Hoke Smith:

NEGROES LYNCHED FOR VOTING REPUBLICAN TICKET

Wood Supporters Bought Delegates and Passed Out Plenty of "Jack"

CHICAGO, July 8.—Negroes who have voted the republican ticket in Georgia have "disappeared" and never been heard of again, Henry Lincoln Johnson, negro republican national committee man, told the senate committee investigating campaign expenditures today.

The committee was questioning Johnson about lynchings in the south.

"They don't lynch me for belonging to the republican party, do they?" asked Senator Kenyon.

"Yes, they lynch me," replied Johnson. "Many a negro voting the republican ticket has disappeared and no tidings have ever been heard of him."

COUNCIL OF SAFETY ISSUES VOLUNTEER CALL IN EFFORT TO STEM TIDE RED ADVANCE

WANDERER CHANGES VERSION OF MURDER

Unkempt Man Found Dead May Uncover Another Triangle of Unrequited Love

CHICAGO, July 7.—Owing to the critical condition of the country, volunteers for active service in the army are offering themselves from every side.

They include school and university teachers, students, boy scouts, civil service men, ministerial employees, whose occupations take them from military service. The students are enlisting in such numbers that the Warsaw universities have been closed.

Stirred by the appeal of the national council of defense for volunteers, hundreds of girls and women have taken initial steps to join the army. Yesterday uniformed men and women paraded the streets singing, and for the first time Warsaw detachments of female recruits under the guidance of women officers marched to the barracks.

Many of the recruits were strong girls in short skirts and shirt waists with braided hair hanging down their faces. The sight of female recruits aroused enthusiasm every where along the principal streets. Mixed with the girls, recruits were women of from 25 to 30 years of age, some in uniform and market packages in arms which will soon carry rifles.

The women's battalions will be used chiefly for guard duty in garrison and for their own defense. They will be sent to the front in train escorts, train depots and as train escorts, thus relieving men for the front. The socialist party central committee today issued the following proclamation:

"When the Polish troops were advancing we demanded peace, but now we ought to defend ourselves firmly. We appeal to the soldiers to fulfill their promise to fight against the offenders. The government, however, ought to give guarantees that it desires peace, declare to the world that Poland desires just peace and address to the soviet government proposals for peace negotiations."

LONDON, July 8.—The British war office took a pessimistic view of the Polish situation today upon receipt of reports that red troops were continuing their advance after having captured the important city and fortress of Rovno, in Volhynia.

Advices from Sofia today said a general Rumanian mobilization was under way and the Rumanian general staff had announced its intention of erecting a strong defense against the bolshevik along the entire Rumanian front. And bolshevik forces were reported in precarious position.

Warsaw dispatches said fighting was continuing from Poldot to Molochno and all along the railway running into Vienna.

Polish forces have begun a regrouping in Volhynia preliminary to a counter attack. Dispatches indicated a great battle was developing along the entire Polish front.

By Associated Press. WARSAW, July 8.—Bolshevik troops have succeeded in crossing the Beresina in strong force near Navosilka, southeast of Minsk, it was announced in today's official communication.

Volunteers for immediate service against the advancing Russian bolshevik forces are called for by the Polish national council of defense in a manifesto just issued. Besides calling able-bodied men to arms, the manifesto urges men unfit for active service to register in order to release office men for duty at the front.

Citizens having in their possession swords, rifles, pistols or ammunition are urged to turn them over to the government for use in the army.

Heavy Fighting. LONDON, July 8.—Bolshevik forces have smashed their way forward on the southern flank of the Polish front and soviet military authorities claim success in a series of battles near the city of Orskov, in the westward which town they are driving the Poles, according to a bolshevik official statement received here by wire.

Soviet forces have reached Litchew, 24 miles east of Pratikov, and have occupied Zymw-Pishki in their drive along the Dnieper river.

BONILLAS PREDICTS MEXICAN OUTBREAK WITH MILITARIST IN CONTROL OF GOVERNMENT

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 8.—A conflict of irreconcilable elements that makes up the present regime in Mexico is certain to break out in the near future, Ignacio Bonillas, former Mexican ambassador to the United States, declared here today in discussing Mexican affairs and the recent revolution.

Mr. Bonillas, who was a civilian candidate for the presidency, was with President Carranza during the flight from Mexico City and narrowly escaped with his life after his chief had been killed. He arrived in Washington several days ago.

"The great mass of people of Mexico are tired of revolution and of military rule," the former ambassador said. "They greatly desire peace and a government of civilians, with the army solely as the supporter and guarantor of civil government as other modern nations have. The Obregon coup was purely military. Obregon himself knew that the people were overwhelmingly in favor of a civilian as president and he tried to win this support by putting aside his military rank."

Can't Be Reconciled. "The present regime in Mexico is made of heterogeneous elements that cannot be reconciled for long. The present fighting is going on as other modern nations have. The Obregon coup was purely military. Obregon himself knew that the people were overwhelmingly in favor of a civilian as president and he tried to win this support by putting aside his military rank."

LONDON, July 8.—A Central News dispatch from Berlin dated Wednesday reports that preparations are proceeding for a revolution in Brunswick, the extreme radicals, it is declared, are planning a general strike at the weekend, and a new revolutionary committee is said to have arranged for a big mass meeting with a day or two to consider the question of drastic action.

MIKE GILHOOLEY "CHAMPION STOWAWAY" TO TRAVEL OVER EUROPE AS "REGULAR GUY"

NEW YORK, July 8.—After having crossed the ocean five times hidden behind bales and boxes, Mike Gilhooley, 14-year-old "champion stowaway," may within a few months travel luxuriously aboard a trans-Atlantic liner bound for Europe for a temporary visit to promote his education.

This became known today when Mrs. Marion C. Curry, who adopted the Irish-Belgian war orphan, mascot of American troops, denied an erroneous report emanating yesterday from Ellis Island that she had refused to issue a passport to the boy.

"The boy has been good as gold," said Mrs. Curry, "and I do not want him deported. He has just completed school and is now going to a Boy Scout camp for the summer."

OBREGON CHARGED CARRANZA MURDER

By A. L. BRADFORD
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Ignacio Bonillas, Mexican ambassador to the United States under the Carranza regime, was in Washington today attempting to persuade the state department to refuse recognition to the new government of Mexico.

Bonillas visited the reception by Acting Secretary of State Davis of Fernando Iglesias-Calderon, high commissioner of the new Mexican government.

Bonillas charged that General Obregon, leader of the revolt against Carranza, was the instigator of the murder of the president. Bonillas charged that Obregon, accused of the murder was merely a tool.

Bonillas has visited the state department twice. First he described the flight and murder of Carranza to officials and yesterday he presented a letter from Julia Carranza, charging Obregon with the responsibility of the murder of her father.

McGraw Says There Is Nothing to Withhold

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., July 8.—James J. McGraw, former national republican committeeman, who will be called before the senate campaign investigation committee to tell what he knows of the disbursement of funds in General Wood's campaign, declared here last night that he had nothing to withhold and would tell all he knew about it.

There is very little to add to what has been said," McGraw said. "The money spent in Wood's campaign was legally obtained and spent in a righteous cause. If the people will recall a few years back, the sum spent in the Wood campaign will appear insignificant to the sum spent in the Roosevelt-Taft and Hughes campaign."

member of the council, however, these stations have multiplied so fast that many of them, now constitute a fire hazard, a menace to personal safety and an obstruction to traffic.

The members of the council recognized the soundness of the arguments advanced by the petitioners that to restrict filling stations to locate on private property might result in a monopoly of the business by several of the big companies which have ample capital to purchase sites; but the counter-argument was repeatedly advanced that numerous accidents have occurred because of the blocking of traffic by filling stations located on the public streets.

A permit was granted for the erection of a filling station at 811 Tenth street, but the city clerk was directed to write to the company warning its officers that the city may in the near future take action to remove a number of stations in this locality. Aldermen Bralley and McDowell were placed on a committee to investigate every filling station in the business district, and a third member of the committee will be named later by Mayor Curlee.

The council authorized the construction of a city pound near the city barns at Seventh and Holiday streets. The pound will be 12x24 feet, open on the south side and so divided that healthy and diseased animals may be kept apart.

Alderman McDowell obtained authority to purchase a small amount of additional sewer equipment, and to appoint another sanitary officer, if conditions warrant additional help. He stated that clean-up day in this city had been a marked success; that the citizens had "worked in splendid fashion" and that the city wagons had been unable to haul away in one day the vast quantities of trash and refuse collected by property owners.

Ellis presented by L. H. Roberts, amounting to slightly more than $2,000 for work on city property covering a period of several months, were ordered paid whenever approved by the proper officials.

Action was deferred a week on the ordinance to restrict parking of automobiles to one hour on Seventh and Eighth streets, from the alley east of Lamar street, and on Ninth street, from Ohio to the same point westward. The physicians of the city were urged to express their desire to have physicians' automobiles exempted from the provisions of the ordinance.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You Can Bring Back Color and Lustre With Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wych's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray is disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wych's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.

MEX. OIL SHIPMENTS EXCEED WHOLE WORLD

MEXICO CITY, July 8.—Mexico will export during 1920 between 130,000,000 and 135,000,000 barrels of oil more than all the rest of the world, including the United States, according to estimates made by George Blardone, Tempico oil statistician.

He bases his figures upon the record-breaking production of oil in this country for the first five months of 1920, when he says, exports were 48,617,167 barrels, compared with 28,235,024 barrels during the same period of 1919. Exports for May alone are given as 12,320,568 barrels, which is nearly double the shipments for May, 1919, and sets the world's record for one month's production.

The estimate for 1920 of 150,000,000 barrels is approximately 72 per cent greater than last year's production. Regarding his estimates, relative to shipments in 1920, which he asserts will be 80 per cent greater than in 1919, Blardone says about 100,000,000 barrels will go to the United States.

The 1919 exports of oil, according to statistics for May, 1920, were the Huasteca, 2,632,435 barrels; Aguila, 1,599,942, and the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, 1,022,222. The daily average for May exports, it is stated, was 268,732 barrels.

COM. BRALLEY ASKS REMOVAL OF GOODFELLOW

Makes Charges of Inefficiency and Refuses to Accept Responsibility

NO ACTION YET TAKEN ON CHARGES BY COUNCIL

Goodfellow Denies Specifically and in Detail Charges of Commissioner

The Wichita Falls police department, which has been repeatedly sucked into a political maelstrom ever since the city outgrew its swaddling clothes, again was drawn into the same old whirlpool last night, when Police Commissioner Bralley appeared before the City Council and demanded the resignation of Chief of Police Robert Goodfellow. Detailed charges of inefficiency, intimation of police graft and a refusal on the commissioner's part to accept responsibility featured the accusations made by Bralley.

That trouble has been brewing for weeks between Bralley and Chief Goodfellow is generally known in city hall circles. Repeated attempts have been made to keep many matters secret from the public, and time and again the City Council has held executive sessions, to which representatives of the newspapers were not admitted, and has discussed various phases of the dissension within the police department. Charges and counter charges have been heard freely in the corridors of the city hall, but until last night the public has never been permitted to hear criticism of the department.

A policy of "keeping up good appearances" has, apparently, been enforced rigidly by city officials, and the fact has been studiously ignored that citizens are as equally entitled to knowledge of police conditions as they are entitled to know the facts regarding water supply, sanitation, paving contracts or other matters of public interest.

Bralley's Statement.

Police Commissioner Bralley "let the cat out of the bag" following the failure of the city council to take any definite action on his request for Goodfellow's resignation. Declaring that he had been "called upon by citizens who wished to know why he was retaining Goodfellow in office," and adding that he proposed to defend himself by refusing longer to assume any responsibility, the Police Commissioner gave to the press a statement of the charges he had made against the chief of police.

"I have demanded of the city council," he said, "that it request the resignation of R. E. Goodfellow as chief of police on the grounds of misconduct as an officer and as chief of police."

"He has knowingly allowed policemen to accept as much as $20 for bribes for summoning lawyers."

"He has failed to place policemen in beats across the railroad tracks in the flats where criminals are known to stay."

"He has refused to take any concerted action or instruct policemen generally to take action to close up the flats or bady houses."

"He has made statements to the police commissioner."

"He has allowed men arrested for carrying pistols to plead guilty as 'vags' and be fined $25."

"In investigations of women of the flats some have been found who say they have been there seven years and have never been in police court."

"A great many good citizens of Wichita Falls tell me they have no confidence in the ability of Chief Goodfellow to direct and administer the police department. I have been unable to overcome this lack of confidence."

"In the absence of Chief Goodfellow from the city I caused raids to be made which resulted in the arrest of 30 women. I was informed by officers that about 70 more were seen at the union station leaving the city. Upon the return of Chief Goodfellow Sunday resumed the duties as chief of police. There have been no raids since."

In answer to a question regarding the stand on the matter taken by the city council, Commissioner Bralley said that action had been deferred to a later date.

"I cannot state what the opinion of the various members of the council may be," he added. "Mayor Cline is in California, and Acting Mayor Curlee also will be out of town for a week or ten days. A month may pass before any action is taken. I recall that the city charter provides that written charges shall be filed before any city employe can be dismissed, and that the employe shall have a chance to reply in writing. I had such charges ready, but did not present them to the council as I wished that body to denard Chief Goodfellow's appearance first."

"I have nothing personal against Goodfellow; I hold no ill will of any kind. But I wish to state that I personally am not keeping him in office, and that my reputation would not permit me to do so if I could. I asked for his resignation solely and simply because I believed it to be for the best interests of the city in eliminating crime. I have asked that the change be made for no other reason."

Chief Goodfellow this morning denied in detail the truth of the accusations made by the police commissioner. He declared his willingness to appear before the city council at any time, and answer any charges against him. "I have never had a chance to reply to the charges," he said, "in the following words:

"With reference to Commissioner Bralley's statement that there are immoral women in the flats who have been there seven years without visiting the police court, I wish to state that I have lived in this city only four years and have been chief of police less than a fourth of that time. During the period, however, the present police commissioner to my certain knowledge has been the foreman of at least two grand juries. The public will know whether those grand juries were asked to investigate immorality and vice in the flats.

"If I know of only one case where a policeman received money for obtaining a lawyer for a prisoner. This officer was later dismissed from the force."

"We have a regular mounted police officer on duty across the river, and that district also is visited frequently by plainclothes men."

"I have never at any time refused to enforce any law on the statute books. We have been very busy riding the residential districts and the hotels and rooming houses of immoral women."

"If I have ever misrepresented anything to the police commissioner, it was of the head and not of the heart, and I don't know to this day to what he refers."

"I have nothing to do with the accepting of fines. That is up to the court. If any policeman ever has arrested a man for carrying a pistol and has later changed the charge to vagrancy it has been done without my knowledge. All pistol-carrying cases are turned over by the police department to the county officers for disposition."

"As to the public's lack of confidence in me, as charged by Mr. Bralley, I want to say that I have been unable this morning to do all my work in police court because of the time I have spent answering telephone calls from good citizens expressing confidence in me and asking what they might do to maintain me in office. Many of these people are old friends, many others never have seen me but expressed their appreciation of my record as chief of police."

"No man can hold the position of chief of police here or in any other city, without making enemies if he enforces the law."

Members of the city council would not discuss what occurred at last night's executive session. Each member in turn refused to be quoted in any manner.

JAR AT SECURITY NATIONAL BANK CONTAINED $1414

The money-guessing contest which was held by the Security National bank in connection with its formal opening was brought to a close Wednesday evening and the results tabulated. This contest was perhaps the most novel which citizens of this community have had a chance to participate in, and the fact that a substantial prize was offered to the winner greatly increased the interest which was shown.

A large glass bowl was filled with coins ranging from one cent pieces up to those of the highest denominations and in addition to this, a number of bills of various values were also inserted. This tantalizing conglomeration of wealth was displayed in the banking rooms of the Security National and a cash prize of $100 offered to the individual who registered a guess closest to the actual amount which the bowl contained.

When counted, the money was found to total $1414.14 and to Laurence Brattee, who registered a guess of $1414.91 went the prize. Bank officials stated that the range of the guesses handed in was little short of phenomenal. The highest guess recorded was one of several million dollars, while the lowest, in spite of the fact that two or three $100 bills were in it and a cash prize of $100 offered to number of guesses that were made is not known, but according to the officers of the bank, the number was in the neighborhood of 12,000.

The officials expressed themselves as being well pleased with the contest and its outcome and that the large amount of interest shown justified the work and expense entailed in making it a success.

HOBSON URGES COX MAKE PROHI STAND

DAYTON, O., July 8.—Governor James M. Cox, the democratic presidential candidate, today expressed special gratification over the receipt of a telegram from Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, congratulating him and the country on the selection of the Ohio executive as the party's candidate.

The governor also has received a telegram from Richmond Pearson Hobson, Anti-Saloon leader in Alabama, asking him for a strong statement opposing any effort of congress to modify the Volstead act to permit a greater alcoholic content in liquors. The government stated that he would answer the Hobson telegram in "due time."

The Hobson telegram follows: "Dry forces are restive, republicans amongst them are applying to Harding for strong statement. Democratic convention declared nearly two to one against plank favoring even home manufacture of mildest alcoholic beverages. Ninety-five per cent of population of America live in states that have ratified 18th amendment without reservation."

"They are jealous of its integrity. Supreme court in unanimous decision warned congress against authorizing increase in alcoholic content. National officers of Anti-Saloon League have asked me to get standing from you. They cite that Harding voted for Volstead act. Could you give clear statement opposing any effort of congress to authorize increasing alcoholic content. This would save democracy to millions of voters who need this question above party success."

Many telegrams of congratulation also were received by the governor overnight. They came from Senators George H. Dyer of Oklahoma and many other prominent democrats.

Governor Cox left at noon for Jacksonburg, Ohio, his boyhood home, to take a little rest. He expects to return this evening.

PLAINTIFF ALLEGES INJURY BY LADDER AUTO TRUCK

The Pond Laundry Company is named as defendant in a $10,000 damage suit filed Thursday in the 78th district court by A. T. Pikes, who charges that he was the victim of an automobile accident on last May 21, which, he alleges, was brought about through carelessness on the part of a truck driver in the employe of the defendant. Pikes alleges that an automobile in which he was sitting was struck by a Pond laundry truck and that he sustained serious and permanent injuries as a result of the injury. The accident is purported to have occurred near the Port Worth & Denver tracks on Eighth street.

SHORTAGE OF CARS DELAYS STONE SHIPMENTS

Work on the Wichita county concrete highway system is being seriously delayed due to lack of freight cars to haul crushed rock from the quarries at Chico. It was learned Thursday. While contractors have been able to secure shipments of sand and cement they have been seriously delayed due to shortage in crushed rock shipments.

County Auditor W. W. Murphy and Robert J. Potts and G. D. Anderson of the firm of Potts & Prentice, road-building contractors, returned Wednesday night from Oklahoma City and El Reno, Okla., where they had gone to confer with Rock Island officials in an attempt to secure cars for this section.

Members of the party upon their return expressed hope that the freight car shortage would soon be relieved and that ample shipping facilities would be available. It is understood, however, that no immediate relief is assured, due to the fact that all available cars are being sent to coal-mining districts.

VERNON CITIZENS GUESTS OF LOCAL ROTARY CLUB

Prominent citizens of Vernon were guests at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary club today, and the afternoon period was given over to speeches by the visitors.

Among the guests were R. H. Coffey, president of the Vernon Chamber of Commerce; Jed Morrow, vice president and general manager of that organization; the Rev. Gaines H. Hill, and Buford O. Brown, editor of the Vernon Record. The purpose of their visit to Wichita Falls was to obtain advice and assistance in organizing a Rotary club in Vernon.

The speakers emphasized the inspiration Vernon has drawn—from the steady growth of this city, and stated frankly they had obtained the Rotary club idea from observing the practical manner in which the Wichita Falls Rotary club has served the community.

Judge P. A. Martin welcomed the visitors, and spoke briefly on the subject of Rotary club principles.

JAMES BROWN TO HANG IN DALLAS TOMORROW

DALLAS, July 8.—James Brown, a negro who will hang in the Dallas jail tomorrow for assaulting an aged white woman recently, confessed his guilt today of another crime, for which an innocent negro, Ben Perry, is serving a life sentence in the state penitentiary. Brown admitted to Sheriff Dan Harston that he assaulted a 12-year-old white girl at Bryan in 1912, for which Perry was shortly afterward tried and convicted.

OKLA. BANKER PARDONED; COURT AVERS LIEUT. GOV. HASN'T AUTHORITY

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., July 8.—M. M. Fulkerson, a banker serving a sentence of seven years for embezzlement and who was pardoned Saturday by Acting Governor Tom Waldrop, will probably be ordered back to prison by a mandate of the criminal court of appeals. It was learned today. The pardon was contested on the grounds that Waldrop was not acting governor when he signed the release.

R. L. Davidson, speaker pro tem of the senate, whose place as acting governor Waldrop took, declared he was absent from the state when Waldrop signed the pardon. But it was not attested by the secretary of state until Tuesday morning when Lieutenant Governor Trapp and Davidson had both returned to state it was said.

The question of the validity of the pardon arises over the fact, according to official and will be contested soon. Fulkerson is expected to apply for a writ of habeas corpus to keep from being sent back to prison, officials declared.

Turner Sewall, Kemp City, is charged by complaint filed in Justice C. J. Arrington's court with the illicit sale of liquor. He was arrested in the K. M. A. oil field Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff Lee McDonald and brought to Wichita Falls, being remanded to jail in default of bond.

Turner is accused of selling "choe" beer.

POLICEMAN FINDS POCKETBOOK CONTAINING TWO CHECKS

While walking his beat, Thursday forenoon Patrolman C. M. Willis found a pocketbook bearing the signature of Mrs. Fay Benson of Custer City, Okla. The book contained two checks, one for $7, signed by W. F. Wilmeth and the other for $35 signed by C. W. Yants. The owner of the pocketbook can get in connection with Patrolman Willis by calling at police headquarters.

GERMANY BEING PUNISHED.

Immediately after the armistice was signed misgivings were felt by many that Germany was about to go unpunished and that the pride of the German people would not be humbled. But Germany's punishment has been more drastic than any had imagined.

The old German spirit of might and power and conquest is broken. Germany is being reduced by the victorious allies to a reduced army of 100,000 men. Her plan for doing it is not acceptable to the allies and Germany must now formulate another plan that will be acceptable to them.

Germany must immediately destroy 15,000 cannons and 50,000 machine guns. A. G. Gardiner, former editor of the London Daily News, paints a tragic picture of conditions in Germany: "In every manifestation of the common life," he says, "there is the sense of a people who have sunk to the level of an impoverished existence. In this general dead level of poverty it is the children who are most to be pitied. The German child is born into a hungry world and to a hard life."

Tuberculosis, he explained, has "swept" the country like a plague. Rickets has claimed its hundreds of thousands. "As you go through the schools, stand in the class rooms, watch the children at work, you have the sense of a whole generation stricken by blight. It is revealed in the puckered brow, the lusterless, uncertain eyes, the anemic faces, the bony legs, the dry, cracked, flabby skins, the swollen abdomens, the universal air of exhaustion. It is a generation that has never known what a sufficient of food means. For five years—that is, for almost the whole of the life they remember—they have been starved."

German pride has been humbled. Germany is a suppliant for charity. The fears and misgivings of those who felt that the armistice was a mistake have proven mistaken.

OPEN DOORS AT PUBLIC MEETINGS.

There are few occasions when publicity is harmful in public matters, yet there is a disposition here on the part of public bodies to clear assembly rooms and the reporters to leave when matters of real importance come up for discussion. In more than one instance embarrassing misunderstandings have arisen through failure to have the facts brought out in these meetings presented to the public.

With Other Editors

Price Levels and the Market. (Houston Chronicle) The federal reserve board has decided that lower prices are not in sight, which is of small news value to the average man. He decided the same thing some time ago.

Yet it is a fact that if prices remain where they are this country runs a grave risk of losing much of its foreign trade. The fact that production is insufficient to meet demands, so far as domestic needs go, but especially the needs of raw material, is too obvious to merit discussion; but the fact presents more than it seems to on the surface.

Our whole industrial fabric rests on the production of raw material—material which comes out of the ground, either in the nature of crops or minerals. So far as finishing this raw material into goods, putting it into shape for the retailer and consumer, we are more than well off, but in the initial function of getting it we are woefully handicapped.

Of mills, manufacturing and selling agencies, we have an abundance, but of farms, mines, quarries, etc., our lack is growing steadily. When the war broke out we hurried people into the towns and cities for the purpose of converting our raw material into available supplies in the shortest possible time.

This brought about two very important results. In the first place, it absorbed our surplus of raw material, and, in the second, it changed the relative proportion of our rural and urban populations.

Not only do we find ourselves with a depleted store of raw materials at this time, but we find ourselves with a population altered in inverse of what it should be to provide for the rehabilitation of that store. Until five or six millions of our people move back from the city to the country and resume activities in the production of raw commodities, we need expect little relief.

THE ILLITERACY DIGEST.

By C. F. C.

Easy, Wasn't It? Harding and Cox—there's a childhood riddle. "What's round at both ends, and high in the middle?" We'll give you three guesses; what's that, you don't know? Shucks! The answer is simple; it's O-h-i-o!

Millenium Is Approaching. It's a wonderful satisfaction to know that both candidates are newspaper men. Either may be elected, and it will be possible to obtain federal legislation making it a felony to bar reporters from executive sessions of the City Council when the police department is under investigation. Nothing like having a good, snappy city editor in the White House, eh, men?

We'll Die With Our Boots On. "After July 1st, H. P. Roddie & Co. will move from their old stand on East Concho avenue to the warehouse, corner Oklahoma and Fifth streets. We will still be in the market for your hides, wool and fur products."—Advertisement in the San Angelo Daily Standard. Any man who gets a piece of our hide or wool will have to use a scalping knife, and be a better man than we are, Gunga Dhin!

Holding Out On Wife. In the Devoil Review there's a story that tells how one man paid another 50 cents borrowed 25 years ago. The other man hesitated about receiving it, "the story goes on, 'but the tardy debtor told him if he didn't take it he would go to his home and give it to his wife. He finally accepted it.' Apparently the lender knew his last chance was done if his wife ever got her hands on that four-bit piece."

Apt Abbreviation's Areal Aid. "Mr. and Mrs. B. B. King are making preparations to move to Fort Worth. They will leave about the first of Sep.—Exchange News Item. It seems to us the editor is sadly lacking pep. Who lastly abbreviates 'September' down to 'Sep.'"

This Is Deep Stuff. The scales at the Bellevue public cotton yard have been overhauled and put in good shape, and I am now ready to weigh grain for the public."—Advertisement in the Bel'vue. (Tex.) Which reminds us of the story of the ice magnate who proudly informed his friends that his baby girl weighed 25 pounds at birth. They scoffed at the idea, and he said: "What scales did you use?" asked a doubtful Thomas. "Well, we didn't have any baby scales in the house," the ice magnate answered, "but we got the weight all right from a set of the company's regular ice scales."

Nothing Jare Jasper. "Greenfield, Ind., July 6.—A horse belonging to Jasper Kemper, a farmer living near here, was killed by lightning yesterday afternoon; four hours later lightning killed a cow he was milking, and at midnight lightning struck the farmhouse."—News item. And about four hours later still, we assume, Jasper yawned and crawled out of bed; had a hearty breakfast, and went out to cut up his cow into beef, tan the hide, and his horse and cut a little timber with which to repair the farmhouse.

"When lightning kills my favorite cow and takes away my horse. And wrecks my house," said Jasper K. "It's just a triflin' loss."

Ida Ott'ol Have Done It. Mrs. Ida Ott, charged with shooting her husband to death on the streets of Dallas, jumped a $5,000 bail bond and failed to appear when her case was called for trial.

If he received the proper "bringin' up" at a little girl, Ida Ott to know better.

Powerful Likker! A tumble-bug was laboriously rolling a ball of mud along the ground when he came to a spot where the farmer had spilled some corn. He stopped, then he took a good, long generous drink. He looked around for his ball of mud, but it was gone. He staggered a bit, looked up from some more and backed up against a bale of cotton. He looked up at the cotton bale, and shouted: "Come on, big boy, let's go!"

RIPLING RHYMES.

By WALT MASON.

Over Aastons. The man who is too keen to sell such goods as he may have displayed is headed wrong, and he may well drive from his door the choicest trade. In San Diego, strolled town, I sought a barber, weary-limbed, and in his chair I sat me down, to have my priceless whiskers trimmed. And as he wrought he slipped away; of tonics for the hair he told, and they would change my ringlets gray into the finest shade of gold. And he had dyes of every hue, made up from bark and herbs and fruit, and he could stain my sideboards blue, so all the girls would think me cute. And he had perfumes of the rose and hyacinth that died the death, and he had stuff to bleach my nose and change the color of my breath. He had strange dope in wicker quarts and salves and lotions by the peck, he could eliminate my warts and take the ringings off my neck. He told me that my scalp was soiled and needed treatment such as his; he talked until my blue blood boiled, so all the town could hear it hiss. And, gentle reader, never more, though whiskers grow an inch a day, shall I, within that barber's door, have my ailments shorn away.

It Can't Be Done. LET'S SLIDE DOWN THE OLD CELLAR DOOR FOR OLD TIME SAKE, SPENCE!

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. QUEST

The Single Standard. There are a thousand ways to cheat and a thousand ways to lose the game, but there's only one way to win; And whether you live by the sweat of your brow or in luxury's garb you're dressed, You shall stand at last, when your race is run, to be judged by the single test.

Some men lie by the things they make, some lie in the deeds they do, And some play false for a woman's love, and some for a cheer or two; Some rise to fame by the force of skill, grow great by the might of power, Then wreck the temple they toiled to build, in a single, shameful hour.

The follies outnumber the virtues, good, sin lures in a thousand ways, But slow is the growth of man's character and patience must mark his days; For only those victories shall count, when the work of life is done, Which bear the stamp of an honest man, and by courage and faith were won.

There are a thousand ways to fail, but only one way to win; Stain cannot cover the wrong you do nor wash out a single sin. And never shall victory come to you, whatever of skill you possess, Save you've done your best in the work of life and unto your best were true.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK

By LEE PAPE

After ma called me about 3 times to get up for school I was setting on the edge of my bed holding my other stocking and thinking, and ma stuck her head in the door, saying, Get a grate on, get a grate on, I never see a such a slow poke in all my born days. And she stuck her head out agen and I kept on getting dressed slow and wishing I didn't have to go to school on account of it being Wenday and my class having an examination in arithmetic and arithmetic being one of the things ma had set, and after a while ma stuck her head in agen, saying, Well for pity sake, wasen't just about as fast as mulasses.

Meaning, wasen't fast at all, and I sed, Good, G. ma, I bieve I got a pane sunwarer. You dont seem to be very sure of it, what kind of a pane? sed ma, and I sed, Well it don't feel like a medicine pane, but I aint sure weather I awt to go to skool or not.

And she started to go out, saying, Goodness, this is Toosday, Mrs. Ma is coming this afturnoon. G. gosh, ma, is this only Toosday, aint it Wenday? HOROSCOPE

(Copyright, 1919, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

Thursday, July 8, 1920. Mercury and Neptune rule strongly for good today, while Uranus is in benefic aspect. Foretell should be kept during this posting of the stars which is most encouraging to the fulfillment of large ambitions.

Whatever had to do with writing, whether it be correspondence, journalism or literature, is well directed during this way of the stars. Those who ask for money by letter or wire should be most fortunate in obtaining generous consideration of their requests.

As Mercury has particular influence over the nervous system and organs of digestion this rule should be most favorable to high-strung, overworked men and women. There is a sign read as indicating a more serious study of foreign languages than has been common in the past. Mercury is in a place today supposed to quicken the memory and to keep the mind alert.

Growth in the demand for secretaries will continue to be marked. Honors and dignities for them are foretold. Neptune today is said to yule the sub-conscious mind imparting discernment and power to make plans that will succeed. WHY?

DO BURNING GLASSES BURN?

(Copyright, 1920, by Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.) The production of fire by means of a lens or reflecting mirror is due to the fact that the rays of the sun are concentrated on a comparatively small area, producing a degree of heat limited only by the size of the glass and the perfection of its reflecting surface.

The most famous burning-glass in history is, of course, the one used by Archimedes to destroy the Roman ships which were besieging Syracuse. But a certain Mr. Parker, of Fleet Street, London, perfected a glass which was far more powerful than that used by the ancient Grecian scientist. After several years of experimentation Parker constructed a lens of tint-glass, three feet in diameter and with double-convex sides, each of which was an arc of a circle with an 18-foot radius. This glass increased the heat of the rays of the sun 105,626 times or, taking an average temperature of 70 degrees, was able to produce a heat equivalent to 7,392 degrees over the entire surface of the focus. An application of a second lens increased this heat to 166,352 degrees—a purely mathematical calculation as there was, at the time, no device which would measure heat of such intensity.

A ten-grain diamond, exposed to the heat of this lens for only a few minutes, was reduced to six grains, during which time it opened and flattened like the petals of a flower, emitted white fumes, and then closed again and retained its form. Finally, after a number of interesting experiments, Parker sold his glass to a Captain Mackintosh, attached to the British embassy in Peking, and the glass was stolen soon after it arrived in China.

Side Talks. By RUTH CAMERON. Were You Too Busy? How often one hears people justifying themselves for neglecting some duty or some courtesy or some opportunity by saying, "I was so busy I simply didn't have the time." And yet you know perfectly well (and they know, too, if they will be honest with themselves) that they did have the time if they cared to take it. There is an old saying, "If you have something important you want done, get a busy man to do it; the other kind has no time."

No Busier Man Ever Lived. I thought of that when I read in Roosevelt's letters to his children that no matter what he was doing, no matter what the pressure at the White House, he found time to write each child each week. Think how many men there are who would go on a business trip without being one-half so busy as Roosevelt, and think themselves far too busy to write the kiddies at all—or, at most, not more than a postcard or two. But Roosevelt found the time, because to him the thing was important. Tell me what a man finds time for and what he has to neglect because he is "too busy," and I will tell you what kind of a man he is.

Just Think of It! I have a young married friend whose children were taken one day with a mysterious disease, which to her horror suddenly turned out to be small pox. The house was quarantined, and her husband could only reach her by telephone. She was very busy, and naturally her mind was chockful of the children and her anxiety about them. And yet she found time to think of the approach of Mother's Day, and to telephone her husband to send her mother flowers.

How many young mothers there are who with half that reason, with perhaps an ordinary children's disease on their hands, would have felt justified in being too busy to remember that their reason she didn't forget was not because she wasn't as busy and anxious as any one could be, but because she cared so much for her mother that she had room in her heart for the thought and room in her day for the execution of it.

Whenever I find myself writing or saying or thinking, "I was too busy" to do something that I know I should have done, I stop and look back and I think of that young mother.

DALLAS, TEX., July 8.—Three Spudders hurled today in the opening game of the series here yesterday and the Marines won 10 to 6.

It looked for a while as though Barney were going to duplicate Zinn's relief work of Tuesday as he got two strikes on Landry before he lost him by the same old smoke had cleared, however, three Marines had crossed the platter and the three scores were more than enough to win with; but they pushed a couple across in the eighth for good measure.

"Snips" Conley, the Marine Ace, was the first Marine to face the Spudders and he lasted just 2-3-3 innings. He went along like a world beater for two innings, but went up higher than a kite in the third. The Spudders got to him for four hits and as many runs in that canto before he was derrieked in favor of Landry.

Several arguments between Empire Irwin and the Spudders tended to add a little color to the game. Irwin rendered a few choice decisions that were against the Spudders and the Salmites protested vehemently. In fact, Buddy Tanner became so vehement in the sixth when Irwin called on Landry after Burch had gone into the box that he was parked by the umpire I. E. he was parked with the aid of a limb of the law.

Both sides were retired in order in the opening canto and just as the fans were setting back to watch a pitching duel between Zinn and Conley, a hustled one on the nose of Burch, the beginning of the second canto that cleared the fence in right center and he trotted leisurely around the bases. Riggs flew out to McKee. Palmer took four wide swings and after Shires had popped to Clark, he stole second. Robertson came through in the sixth and stole a safety to left that scored Palmer from second. He was thrown out stealing.

The SPORTLIGHT by Grantland Rice

WHERE THEY GO. "Where do they all go, these big league stars of bygone days?" writes a fan. "You hear of them today, and tomorrow they are forgotten. But I often wonder what becomes of the Benders, the Walshes, the Platts, the Browns, the Doc Whites, etc., that we used to cheer."

Baseball has known few greater names than Bender and Walsh. Bender came into his first game sixteen years ago, as one of the winning stars for Connie Mack.

Walsh stepped into the limelight two years later, in 1906, with the White Sox. If you ever saw them work this letter from Bridgeport, Conn., may be interesting:

"Dear Sir: It may interest you to know that, after years of rivalry in the American League, Chief Bender and Ed Walsh are at each other's throats in the Eastern League this season. Bender is managing New Haven and Walsh is piloting Bridgeport. As luck would have it, each one is a stumbling block for the other's chances for a run-away race for the title. When the teams meet, you can imagine how the fur flies—especially as the outfields are well balanced and of about the same caliber."

"I am inclosing a clipping of yesterday's game—Bender's second victory within the week, by the way—describing how he was robbed of a no-hit, no run performance with two out in the ninth and with two strikes and no balls on his old rival, Walsh. The third pitch sent his chances blooming."

"Thought that this might prove of interest to you, as the two oldsters have long England all 'het up' just about the same way they did when in the big sticks."

"Bender still seems to have about everything a mortal pitcher ought to have, and men who have battled against him tell me he has more stuff than any minor league hurler they have faced. I'll bet there are a lot of boys in the outfields who think the Chipewack could spank right now."

"Incidentally, Bender has won eight straight games after losing his opener—a heart-breaking 1 to 0 affair. McQuade, a Giant farmhand, socked one on him and gave him his only defeat since coming into this league."

FRENCHMAN WILL SIGN TODAY OR ADMIT HE IS DODGING FIGHT

By HENRY L. FARRELL, United Press Staff Correspondent. NEW YORK, July 8.—With Jack Kearns and Francois Desamps both in town, the Dempsey-Carpentier fight seems no nearer a reality than it was months ago when the Frenchman steamed up the bay orating in broken English, "Lead me to him!"

Backing up several unanswered challenges, Kearns hurried to New York to call the Frenchman's hand before they leave Saturday for France. He could not get in touch with the European champion or his manager yesterday. He is to try again today.

While Dempsey was in court, the French manager, apparently, forgot he was under contract not to perform for any one but Cochrane, the British promoter, until 1921. But last night he suddenly remembered and said if Kearns wanted to fight he would have to go to London.

"Here I am, the manager of the world's champion, practically running the challenger out of the country for a fight—and now he says to come on over to London."

Voicing the sentiments of many men pressed the belief today that Carpentier was running away and would not return to America.

"If I can get Desamps in a conference I'll throw down the papers with my name on them for a fight any time and tell him to sign or admit that he doesn't want to fight," Kearns said.

REEVES IS AWARDED DECISION OVER LEN ROWLANDS IN TULSA

CHICAGO, July 8.—It is just thirteen years ago that Tommy Burns, former heavyweight champion of America, went to England and knocked out the English champion, Gusner Moir, in ten rounds to establish his claim to the world's championship title and it is twelve years since he lost the championship to Jack Johnson and quit the game.

Sport Shots

By Paul W. Larkin

Three pitchers had an off day all in one. They've got it out of their systems now.

Buzz Wetzel did not set the world on fire in his first start for Skipper Swin. Hope he comes through in his next one.

The Watson obtained from Pittsburgh is not "Mule" Watson. "Mule" is one of the hardest white men in the sport to handle, and would not be of any use to the local outfit.

It is quite possible that the postponed games we have coming here with the Panthers will be played in the morning. It is up to Sam to name the day and hour at which they will be played and the morning play has been considered.

Chick Mattick opened the Marines' portion of the series yesterday with a double and went to third on an infield out. The next two men were credited with singles, but Mattick was unable to leave third. There is something wrong some place when a team that is three runs in the lead would take a chance on scoring from third on infield plays.

The Marines must be sadly up against it for twirlers when they send a man into the box two days in succession to pitch the majority of innings. Landry went eight innings against the Gassers Tuesday and he worked hard. He passed nine men and struck out nine. That game so it can be seen he didn't have much of a rest. Still, he was shot in against the Spedders yesterday and pitched 6 1/2 frames. The Marines are running a good horse to death.

The Exporters looked like a good bet to finish among the leaders when the second half opened, but they are becoming weaker as the season goes along. Ted Easterly was the first to go and now the word comes that Horan received the axe for breaking training rules and that Doyle has jumped the team because the fans rode him too hard. One thing is certain, Mathes will allow no trifling in the members of his clan and the man who is boss all the time.

Add one more to the long list of attempted comebacks. After taking things easy for 12 years, Tommy Burns thinks he has enough ability to whip Joe Beckett. We admit that it doesn't take any great amount of ability to perform that trick as Tommy used his head when he picked on Joe. Still, countless others have tried to do the same stunt and have failed. Burns may fool the dopester but we doubt it.

The truth of the matter regarding Georges Carpentier's actions should come out today when Francois Luchamps and Jack Kearns lock ho. The latter is all puffed up over a manner in which the French champ apparently ducked the issue and will be a case of "put up or shut up" when the managers meet.

Johnny Wilson has not impressed fightdom to any great extent since he won the middleweight championship from Mike O'Dowd and there are many who believe that Mike is still the better man. Wilson will have no easy time with Jack Reeves when the two meet the 27th of this month and the Pacific Coast will never have a better opportunity to land the crowd than he will on that night. Someone going to take it away from Wilson soon and the middleweight aspirants will find the going tougher with the next man.

Never Felt Better in Her Whole Life.

"I never felt better in my life than I do right now," said Mrs. Joseph J. O'Brien, 1411 Clinton avenue, Fort Worth, a few days ago, telling of her restoration to health. Mr. O'Brien is the wife of Jos. J. O'Brien, a well-known inspector of the U. S. bureau of animal industries, and they have many friends in Fort Worth.

"I was in a very run-down condition for over a year," continued Mrs. O'Brien. "I felt tired all the time and had little sleep. I got didn't seem to do me any good because I just went around all day feeling drowsy and often so weak that I could hardly drag one foot after another. I didn't have hardly any appetite and half the time I didn't care whether I got anything to eat or not. As a rule what little I did eat would give me trouble and cause gas to form on my stomach which was usually followed by severe headaches and nervous disorders. I began losing weight and got terribly worried about my condition, because it seemed to be getting worse and worse all the time.

SCHLICK ERWIN WILL ASK FOR NEW TRIAL

Judge H. F. Weldon of the 30th district court will be asked to grant a new trial in the case of Schlick Ervin, given a two-year penitentiary sentence by a jury in the 30th district court late Wednesday. J. A. Hughes, counsel for the defense, announced on Thursday. Ervin entered a plea of guilty to a charge of felony theft and asked for a suspended sentence. He told the jury a long story of a life filled with sickness and poverty asserting that H. O. Doup, charged jointly with Ervin, had induced him to assist in the theft of a roller bit belonging to an oil company in the northwest extension field. Ervin said that he aided Doup in stealing the bit in order to secure money to pay a doctor's bill but further testified that Doup never gave him the money promised.

"In Almost Everything, Experience Is More Valuable Than Precept"

So said Quintilian, the Ancient Roman Philosopher—and today we see the truth exemplified in every form of business and professional enterprise.

Experience is an ingredient which goes into every prescription which we compound—and is also an element in every sale of merchandise.

If our experience means anything to you—then we shall be glad to have your trade.

While we emphasize quality and service we also protect you in the matter of price.

Years of successful drug selling has given us valuable experience.
