BRITISH NAVY PREPARED TO BLOCKADE RUSSIA

Seven Killed and 65 Wounded in Riot READY TO ACT IN 12 HOURS IF ORDERED BY THE ADMIRALTY; EARLY ACTION IS EXPECTED

WEST FRANKFORT, ILL., via Johnston City, Ill., Aug. 6.—Although West Frankfort was quiet today after a night of wild rioting, Major W. S.
Satterfield, in charge of militiamen here, this afternoon telegraphed Adjutant General Dickson 500 additional troops from Johnston City. Satterfield expressed the belief that the rioting might be renewed at any moment.

More than 300 militiamen, members of five companies of the 10th Illinois infantry are on duty here but Major Satterfield expressed the opinion that this number would be insufficient to quell the trouble. He declared that more than 200 men were killed and more than two score injured in the rioting which followed the discovery of the bodies of Tony Caltanero, manager of the Amiel Caltanero hotel, and his wife. Suspicion that the murderers were members of the foreign colony precipitated the attack on the foreigners.

MARION, ILL., Aug. 6.—Seven dead and 65 wounded, according to latest reports from West Frankfort.
The mob is still in control with the militia last reported leaving Mount Fernon, 50 miles from West Frankfort, at 7 o'clock this morning.

The town is in a state of anarchy.
An appeal for troops was made late last night following hours of mob rule. Five companies of state militia were immediately ordered to the scene.

The roads leading to West Frankfort were crowded with armed men rushing out to join the mob.

The mob began burning the homes of foreigners about 1:00 o'clock last night. They disarmed all authorities, seized telegraph and telephone lines and established a censorship to prevent news of their activities reaching the outside world.

TWO PEOPLE KILLED AND 34 INJURED IN A RIOT AT DENVER

PROPERTY IS DAMAGED TO THE EXTENT OF THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS.

NEWSPAPER PLANT IS WRECKED BY THE MOB

Two Thousand Volunteer Policemen
Are Expected to Prevent Recurrence of Trouble.

DENVER, Aug. 6.—Fear that rioting by street car strikers, their sympathizers and other persons who last night resulted in the death of two and injury of 34 persons, will be renewed in official circles today.

No attempt has been made up to 10 o'clock this morning to operate cars.
H. H. Tammen, one of the owners of the Denver Post, said today he could not estimate the damage done by the mob to the Post plant. The Post was burned as usual from its own plant today.

Strikebreakers at the South Denver car barns today were patrolling the yard in front of the barns with rifles on their shoulders.

In preventing further possible resumption of hostilities tonight, the police today prepared to mount two machine guns. Hundreds of snowed-off shovels were piled up in various places assembled at police headquarters. Up to 11 a. m. more than 600 citizens had answered Mayor Bailey's call for volunteers.

Mayor Bailey this afternoon issued a proclamation ordering all theaters to close at 7 o'clock tonight. The police department has recruited citizens to stand at home tonight in the hope of preventing recurrence of rioting.

ORDERS PRICE OF ICE REDUCED TO 60 CENTS

DALLAS, Aug. 6.—Unless the retail price of ice in Dallas, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, Amarillo and other points is lowered to 60 cents a hundred pounds by Tuesday morning, federal complaints charging violation of the conspiracy statute will be filed against dealers and manufacturers, R. E. Taylor, United States district attorney, declared today.

Fort Worth in 1919, a ton and a half in Dallas 1919, he asserted.

ICE DEALERS ORDERED TO REDUCE THE PRICE

dealers, who raised the

the raising of the price was not justified by the cost of operation.

several hours. The damage will set back the construction many weeks.

don peace conference.

HAVE MUNITIONS FOR FIVE YEARS' WARFARE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Soviet Russia is in possession of sufficient munitions to carry on for five years warfare on the scale of that now being conducted against Poland, according to estimates here today by military authorities. Practically all of the stock on hand are from supplies furnished by the allied governments to the old Russian regime during the world war.

Europe today apparently stood on the verge of war. The British cabinet, according to a dispatch from London, has decided on a course of action against the bolshevik which virtually amounts to waging war upon Russia.

There was nothing to indicate the British would actually send a military expedition, but its warships at Constantinople and in the Baltic were ready to compose an airtight blockade in the Baltic and Black seas on twelve hours notice.

France and Britain were believed to be prepared to send munitions to Poland.

Warsaw dispatch said the Poles had checked the bolshevik offensive and were holding the invaders along the general line of the river Bug. Evacuation of Warsaw continued, however.

Laborites and others opposed to British intervention were preparing to hold public demonstrations throughout England, to voice opposition to aiding Poland in any manner.

Both Austria and Germany, the nations which started the great war just six years ago, have declared neutrality. Austria begged the allies to respect its frontiers. Germany, which six years ago violated the Versailles treaty, declared it would fight if necessary to keep its frontiers inviolate if a real war develops.

LONDON, August 6.—Britain's navy is ready to impose an absolute blockade upon Russia within 12 hours after it is ordered to do so, the admiralty stated today.

By WEBB MILLER.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
LONDON, August 6.—It was semi-officially reported today that the British cabinet had decided to take action against Russia which virtually amounts to war.

Premier Lloyd George considers that the bolshevik have broken faith in continuing their advance against Poland, it was stated.

Preparations for aiding Poland have been ordered rushed, according to the information received here. The blockade would be established and munitions sent if the plan decided on is gone through with. The reported plan calls for the soviet government to be notified that British aid will continue to be sent to Poland until it is certain that Russia will grant Poland a just peace, after which the sending of this assistance will be stopped. The cabinet was in session throughout the morning.

DEFENSIVE LINE EAST OF WARSAW IS PIERCED

WARSAW, August 5.—The defensive line east of Warsaw has been pierced in several places, according to reports from the front. Preparations have begun for transferring the government, but it demands that the terms of the Russian advance. The officials, however, still hope the soviet forces will be checked somewhere east of the Vistula.

No announcement has been made as to what place the government would move to, but it is reported it would be Posen-Czesochowa, 143 miles south-east of Warsaw, near the Silesian frontier.

Of the developments along the eastern defensive line, the word from the front shows that after a halt of several days, while reinforcements were brought up and supplies forwarded along the river, the bolshevik forced crossings of the Bug at a number of points. At one point the soviet troops have crossed the river in large numbers.

Fierce Fighting Continues.

The bolsheviks' communique from headquarters announced that the Russians had forced the Bug in the region of Brohelezyn (about 70 miles east of the capital) this being part of the soviet movement to outflank the defenders of Warsaw. The offensive might be a counter attack against the Vistula, the Poles counter-attacked and fierce fighting is continuing.

Between Brohelezyn and Brest-Litovsk, the communique continues, Poles launched a counter attack against the Russians, who had crossed the Bug below Brest-Litovsk. In the region of Brest-Litovsk, which is in the hands of the Russians, the Poles counter-attacked which compelled the Poles to evacuate Teropol, just to the west of the river.

There was fighting at various points to the south, but without gains for the Russians.

Soviet Troops Checked.

The soviet troops have been checked in their westward push along the Prussian border, the statement announced. They have reached Mysyniec in an advance partly designed to bring them to the Warsaw-Dansig railway. Military observers assert that this is part of the Russian outflanking movement planned to encircle the capital, thus saving the heavy losses which would result if Warsaw were attacked directly.

Russian gains are conceded north and east of Warsaw where the soviet forces are regrouping for what may be the final drive on Poland's capital. In the center of the front bearing down upon Warsaw from the north-east, the Russians, according to the statement, are being held along the Ostrow-Czerwonoy line to the Bug.

CONTRADICTION REPORTS REGARDING SITUATION

LONDON, Aug. 6.—While the actual military situation in Poland is not much clearer than it was yesterday, it is admitted to be critical. Reports, however, are in some respects so contradictory that the precise degree of menace to Warsaw, as a result of the recent bolshevik advance, cannot be estimated.

Reports yesterday stated the soviet army had reached points 20 miles distant from the Polish capital, but later advices indicate they are twice that distance away and that the soviet cavalry is far ahead of the infantry. Warsaw dispatches to the Daily Mail states the Polish counter-offensive on the southern front has been successful and that the bolshevik have been hurled back 45 miles.

Most newspapers express great anxiety over the situation this morning and the statement by a high official yesterday that the present position is as grave as that in August, 1914, is given great prominence. Reports that the British government has already ordered the fleet to resume the blockade of Russia, which was partially raised last November, received great emphasis in some journals, but no official sanction is claimed for the statement, and such inquiries as were possible early this morning tend to discount the rumor. It is asserted that notwithstanding the fact that the cabinet has not yet considered the reply of the soviet government relative to an armistice with Poland, it has been determined to send the Kamenoff-Krassinsky delegation back to Russia.

Test Reaches London.

The test message which Poland is known to have reached London but as yet it has not been made public by the foreign office. All of this morning's newspapers, however, print versions of it which coincide, for the most part, and show the reply was worded moderately and maintained the right of the soviet armies to continue military operations against Poland.

Willingness to sign an armistice agreement when Polish delegates arrive at Minsk is said to have been expressed and the soviet government, it is asserted, has declared its readiness to grant Poland complete independence. Moscow, however, has insisted upon arranging the terms of peace by direct negotiations between Poland and Russia, and participation by elements led by General Wrangel, and the Russian bolshevik government.

The reply is also said to contain a statement that the terms Russia will present to Poland are already in the hands of the soviet government. Heads of the bolshevik trade commission now in London.

Protection for Jews.

These terms, according to some reports, include the condition that complete protection be afforded for all Jews and that free passage across Poland shall be allowed for goods exchanged between Germany and Russia. Moderate newspaper opinion reflects the impression that the tone of the reply is reasonable and cannot be objectionable in official quarters. It is the impression that the reply is not so favorable as it appears to be.

Suspicion that Germany is acting in collusion with the bolshevik persists and it is not lessened by reports of the address of Dr. Brüning, German foreign minister, before the Reichstag yesterday, during which he declared Germany would seek to prevent the sending of soviet troops to Poland across Germany.

Among the suggestions advanced for evading Germany's opposition to the dispatch of allied troops to Poland is one that would have the effect of averting such a step. It is claimed, would be justifiable under the treaty of Versailles.

SOVIET RUSSIA MAKES TREATY WITH AUSTRIA

WASHINGTON, August 6.—Soviet Russia has signed a treaty of alliance with Austria, according to government advices today. This alliance has the greatest significance in connection with both the bolshevik offensive against Poland and Moscow's campaign for world revolution in the opinion of officials and military men here.

According to the advices, Russia and Austria signed the treaty last month.

Ostensibly the treaty was supposed to be one for the repatriation of the prisoners of war of each country. It is believed, but other of the provisions are of great significance and constitute a menace to the allies. Besides the provisions for repatriation, prisoners the other article of the treaty, as reported officially to Washington, are:

1.—Austria agrees to remain neutral in any war between Poland and Russia, specifically the Russo-Polish war; and pledges herself to prevent the shipment of any war materials through her territory to the enemies of soviet Russia.

2.—The economic and trade relations between the countries interrupted by the war are to be resumed.

3.—"The soviet government," there is to be a representative of soviet Russia in Vienna and an Austrian representative in Moscow. Already a soviet ambassador, Dr. Bronski, has arrived at Vienna, according to advices here.

4.—All people commissaries of the former soviet government of Hungary in Austria are to be allowed to return to soviet Russia. This article applied to Bela Kun, former soviet dictator of Hungary.

AMERICAN CONSULATE AT WARSAW IS TO CLOSE

WARSAW, August 5.—Owing to the desperate situation on the front near Warsaw, the Kosciuszko squadron, the air force composed for the most part of Americans, attached to the Polish army, is being transferred from the southern front. The squadron will aid in the defense of the Polish capital.

The American consulate in Warsaw will be closed Friday and the American legation here also is expected to close within a very few days. The legation employees have shipped their baggage to Camp Grappe, the emergency headquarters of the American typhus expedition.

POLES HAVE EVACUATED OSTROW, SAYS REPORT

LONDON, Aug. 6.—A semi-official message from Warsaw, filed last night, says the Poles have evacuated Ostrow, between the Bug and the Vistula rivers, 25 miles south-west of Lomza and about 55 miles northeast of Warsaw. The dispatches declare that Polish officials believe that the present rate of advance is such that the Poles would be driven into Warsaw in seven to ten days.

DEPRIVE A FINANCIAL STRINGENCY FORCES COTTON ON MARKET

FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD HAS NOT ADVISED BANKS AS TO LOANS.

LETTER WRITTEN IN ANSWER TO REPORTS

Attitude of Board is Explained to the Department by Governor Harding.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The federal reserve board has not advised member banks as to what loan they should make against this year's cotton crop, Governor Harding declared today in a letter to the department of agriculture.

The letter was written in answer to reports reaching the department that "due to an existing financial stringency, stocks of cotton were being forced on the market at sacrifice in prices."

Such action the department intimating had been prompted through "a ruling or other form of instruction from the federal reserve board which limiting loans on cotton to that only which was in process of shipment."

In answer to this, Governor Harding explained that congress had been requested early in the year to amend the existing statutes which originally restricted loans to individuals by national banks in excess of 10 per cent of the bank's capital and surplus.

"Congress acted upon the suggestion of the board," Governor Harding wrote. "The amended statute now provides that for a period of six months out of any consecutive 12 months a national bank may lend to an individual, firm or corporation up to 25 per cent of its capital and surplus where the excess of 10 per cent is secured by warehouse receipts."

Commenting on the accumulation of lower grade cotton, Governor Harding's letter stated that this was due partially to difficulty in making financial arrangements necessary to sell it to the mills in central Europe, adding that "member banks in the south no doubt feel reluctant to carry too large a volume of loans on collateral which is not readily saleable."

NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN TUBERCULOSIS

Bulletin from State Tuberculosis Sanatorium.

A conclusion, far reaching in its effect on the handling of the tuberculosis situation, has been reached concerning infection in tuberculosis or consumption. It has been established that infection in this disease takes place most easily and most frequently in childhood. Tuberculous disease often results from such infection in the form of lumpy necks, scrofulous condition, hip and joint disease, on through a long list of conditions including pulmonary or lung tuberculosis, the last, however, not often appearing in childhood. In the majority of children, very fortunately, the infection remains dormant, or if there is disease it is so slight as not to attract attention. In such cases the germ of tuberculosis lies buried in the tissues, encapsulated, to us the medical term, with its days of mischief ahead.

In adult life tuberculosis more often manifests itself in the pulmonary type rather than as surgical tuberculosis (glandular, joint, bone, or catap), and occurs most frequently in that period of life when there is most stress and strain—the age period from sixteen to thirty, infection having taken place in childhood.

With this preliminary explanation clearly in mind it should not be difficult to appreciate the importance of the adoption by the public of an intelligent interest in the antituberculous campaign, an interest now lacking, and further that there should be a complete change of attitude towards the tuberculous individual. Considering that not less than one death in ten is due to tuberculosis, a curable and preventable disease, there is no excuse for any but a serious view of the situation. As infection begins with the child great importance should be placed on health work with children, not only to limit infection as much as possible, nine-tenths of which might be eliminated if careless coughing, sneezing and spitting were controlled and the production and distribution of milk properly supervised, but to overcome defects dangerous in themselves or possible causes of future trouble. The last is done through medical inspection, dental hygiene, correct posture work, and efforts towards securing for the child proper nourishment, rest, fresh air, recreation. Such work is best done in the schools and in desirable manner in all classes. Every one of these items has an important bearing on tuberculosis and if tuberculosis is to be eliminated this work must be undertaken.

The connection between the attitude of the public towards tuberculosis and the spread of tuberculosis is this—For the consumptive to observe reasonable care in the disposition of sputum and about his person makes it safe for others, but for him to observe such care at once makes him a marked man and he is avoided as a leper would be avoided, yet if he is at all dangerous it is because of carelessness on his part, whereas his very efforts to protect others work hardships on him. Is it surprising then that the average man or woman with tuberculosis will conceal the fact, spitting whenever it is convenient, coughing and sneezing without covering the face, in these ways scattering the germs of disease broadcast over the land? There must be a complete change of front on the public's part. A more intelligent attitude must be adopted in its treatment of the consumptive, and when that occurs not only will the consumptive undertake all necessary precautions for the protection of others but others, not known invalids but nevertheless hawkers, coughers, and spitters, all spreading respiratory disease, will be ready to take up the use of the sputum cup and the handkerchief.

DEMOCRATIC CLANS ARE GATHERING FOR NOTIFICATION OF COX

MUCH INTEREST IN FEATURE OF ADDRESS WITHHELD FROM PRESS.

ALL IN READINESS FOR THE CEREMONIES

Big Parade Will Be Staged Just Prior to Official Notification Program.

DAYTON, O., Aug. 6.—Democratic clans were gathering here today for their great quadrennial event, the presentation tomorrow to the American electorate of a presidential nominee—Governor Cox of Ohio. All was in readiness for the governor's formal notification of nomination by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, who presided over the San Francisco convention and the candidate's address of acceptance declaring the broad lines of the campaign.

With Governor Cox's acceptance address in type for tomorrow's newspapers, speculation increased today regarding the brief but important insert he had announced would be forthcoming tomorrow. The governor continued to hold it a secret. Speculation in the message centered principally on three subjects, a possible challenger to Senator Harding, his republican opponent, for a joint debate

RADICAL CHANGE IS PROPOSED BY CITY FOR SERVICE CARS

Ordinance is Presented and Passed First Reading in City Council.

Radical changes in the present city statutes regulating the operation of service cars, carriages, transfer wagons and all other vehicles handling baggage and passengers within the city limits are proposed in an ordinance passed on its first reading by the city council last night. The new measure, prepared after several weeks of study by City Clerk George Thorsburn, fixes a scale of charges, assigns every service car and transfer wagon to a described street stand and goes thoroughly into every angle of a situation that has been a cause of complaint in Wichita Falls for many months.

The ordinance, which in some respects is a digest of ordinances in force in Fort Worth, Dallas and other Texas cities, is given below in full:

Proposed Ordinance.

"Be it ordained by the board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls, Texas:

Sec. 1. It shall be unlawful for any person to operate for hire, within the city limits, any transfer wagon, carriage, hack, omnibus, automobile or other motor vehicle without first obtaining a license from the city clerk of Wichita Falls, Texas, the cost of which shall be $100 per year for service cars, such as carriage, hack, omnibus, automobile or other motor vehicle engaged in transportation of passengers for hire, and $25 per year for transfer wagons engaged in transfer of baggage or any commodity for hire.

"Sec. 2. No license shall be issued to any person who has not been a resident of the city of Wichita Falls for a period of eight months preceding the time of application, and all applications for licenses shall show recommendations of at least two disinterested citizens, and shall be approved by the chief of police before license is issued. The license issued shall be non-transferable and shall be signed by the city clerk under the seal of the city, and shall designate the exact location where such vehicle shall park, and it shall be unlawful for any person to operate for hire a transfer wagon, carriage, hack, omnibus, automobile or any motor vehicle at any stand within the city limits, except at the one specifically designated in the license.

"Sec. 3. The following places are hereby designated as stands:

E. corner of Seventh and Indiana and running 30 feet south, and it shall be unlawful for such service car to unload or load passengers at any other point in the city limits, or to load any passengers for transportation within the city limits.

FEED NERVES PLENTY OF PHOSPHATE IN SUMMER

Keen Minded Men, Energetic and Successful Rely on it Asserts Prominent N. Y. Physician

Bitro-Phosphate a Godsend.

Men and women, nervous and fretful, easily upset and often fatigued, need plenty of organic phosphate, and the sooner they heed this advice the better their health will be.

In every one of the millions of cells that make up your body, phosphorus is a most important part.

Your nervous system, your brain, your blood and even your bones must have a sufficient supply of phosphorus or weariness, nervousness and a general run-down condition, as well as lack of normal mental power is sure to result.

Big men of affairs—mighty men who control industries because of sheer will power and nervous force, know this, or, if they don't, are clever enough to have a physician who does.

Physicians more and more are realizing that Bitro-Phosphate, as dispensed by Miller Drug Co. and all leading drug stores, is a necessity to over 40 percent of men and women, because present day foods do not contain enough phosphate to give the body, and especially the nervous system, the supply it needs.

Speaking on this very subject, Dr. Frederick S. Kollie, Editor-in-Chief of Physicians' "Who's Who," and a nationally known author of medical text books, in a most emphatic statement said:

"If I had my way, Bitro-Phosphate should be prescribed by every doctor and used in every hospital."

Later, Dr. Kollie said: "When the nerve tissue begins to lose its vitality, woman begins to lose her youth and vivaciousness. Her lively, pleasant disposition fades away—she becomes irritable, uncompanionable, moody and dependent. It would indeed be a godsend if more men and women were aware of the efficacy of Bitro-Phosphate."

Hot weather is dreaded by men and women who are weak, thin, nervous, timid and lacking in vigorous development because it saps their vitality almost to the breaking point.

To all such people Bitro-Phosphate is recommended because it is the one organic phosphate which, when absorbed by the system, will supply the element necessary for a vigorous, healthy body free from any suggestion of weakness or disordered nerves.

Your druggist has Bitro-Phosphate in the original package with complete instructions for best results.

COMMENDABLE ATTITUDE.

Mayor Wozencraft of Dallas takes the proper position in regard to the proposed raise of Dallas telephone rates in declaring that "any readjustment in rates... should be based upon the actual costs plus the actual expenses for additions since the company began operating and not upon the reproduction value as based upon present cost."

The same attitude toward other public service corporations also is commendable. There is no more reason for telephone companies or any other kind of companies undertaking to base their rates upon present high replacement costs than for the cities and citizens to demand reduced rates if replacement costs were low.

But there is no good reason to believe that among public service corporations as among business men, the temptation to profiteer is too strong, and there are too many who want to get while the getting's good, with this important difference: Public service corporation rates established now are going to be difficult to reduce when conditions get back to normal.

Increased rates for telephone, gas, electric power and other service corporations should be given as they are necessitated by present conditions. But there is no reason for giving such corporations raises simply because they ask for them, and Mayor Wozencraft's attitude is worthy of emulation by other Texas executives.

This sleeping-car surcharge exacts a heavy luxury tax on sleeping-car patrons. If we have it down correctly, Pullman rates were advanced 25 per cent this year and the minimum seat charge was increased 100 per cent. But under the new list of passenger fares increases authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission and expected to be effective this month, there is a penalty charge of 50 per cent, we understand, of the railroad fare levied against patrons of the sleeping cars.

Conditions are worse than bad when they permit five or six men, armed to the teeth, to walk into an office in a crowded union railroad station in a city like Dublin and there coolly shoot to death one of the high officials of the road and then walk off virtually without an attempt to capture the assassins for punishment.

It happened the other day in the Irish capital and it differs only in attitude of position from what has happened dozens of times there and in other Irish cities since the Sinn Fein outrages began. Ireland celebrated quietly one day recently as the first day in five years that nowhere in the island had there been even one killing of a British citizen or official—there could be no more illuminating commentary on "Conditions than that. The British government has temporized with the rebellion and itself thereby helped to make a bad matter worse, but the trouble seems further from solution today than it did five or three or two or even one year ago, and the British administration ought either to use whatever means may be necessary to restore peace and keep order in Ireland or it ought to quit trying. We read more about the trouble in Poland and of the Soviet Russian threat against the peace of Europe. The Irish problem doesn't cover so wide an area, but there is not a sorer spot in Europe than exists in the relations between the Southern Irish on the one side and Northern Irish and British on the other.

Governor Cox's announcement that he is not going to aid either side of the Texas democratic factional fight is to be commended, and his decision to leave the Texas and other state primary fights to the democrats of those states is praiseworthy. Everybody who can read knows what Governor Cox stands for and the platform he is running on—and which he regards as a promissory note to be repaid to the last cent. Everybody in Texas likewise knows what the rival factions stand for and which of them is in agreement with the democratic national platform and which is not, so really a statement from Governor Cox would be a work of supererogation.

Since the satisfactions of life are frequently but mere matters of comparison, we suppose these Texas cities which are granting a 25c raise on gas prices to the Lone Star Gas company are fortunate alongside the residents of Long Island, New York. The 25-cent increase with 10 per cent off for prompt payment makes our natural gas net 67 1/2. A half dozen Long Island cities are facing a demand for an advance from $1.75 to $2.25 per 1,000 feet and a "ready to serve" charge of a dollar in addition. Even 75c gas beats $2.25 gas badly.

By far the biggest item in the expenditures of the Texas state government is for education. No retrenchment even approaching one-third, much more one-half, could be made without serious impairment of the educational system of Texas, which is responsible for by far the largest increase in appropriations and which is in fair way of getting up to what would be commensurate with the real wealth of Texas. How many Texas voters favor economy at the expense of our state colleges and public schools or even of our eleemosynary institutions which are only barely adequate now for the needs of this fast-growing state? When anybody talks 50 per cent retrenchment, ask for the particulars.

In a number of counties it seems there are enough republicans to furnish a complete county ticket without omitting a single office for lack of a candidate. If the republican party continues to grow in Texas as it has during the past few years, it will have enough members in some counties after a while to furnish nominees for most of the precinct offices as well.

In the beginning Mr. Bailey seemed to derive considerable gratification out of the comparison of himself, a former United States senator and self-admittedly one of the biggest men in the whole country, with the "little ex-county attorney" like Neff and Thomson. But since the returns are nearing completion and it transpires that the former senator is only a thousand or so votes ahead of one of the "little ex-county attorneys," we aren't hearing so much about the comparison.

MILLIONS IN IT. (Dallas Journal)

The need of a more extended marketing season for cotton has long been recognized. The sale of the bulk of the South's chief crop has been restricted to a period of a few months, six at most, because storage facilities have not been provided to make deliberate selling possible. No considerable part of the crop which has been held for later sale has suffered deterioration from exposure to the weather, and has sold for a lower price than well-cared-for cotton would have commanded.

This condition has compelled recognition of the need of warehouses for the storing of the staple. Some of the states have taken steps toward meeting this need, have accomplished something, but have fallen far short of sufficiency. And the need persists. For that reason the recent suggestions by Mr. Lever, author of the food and fuel control act, and at this time member of the federal farm loan board, that the cotton-producing states get into the warehouse business on an adequate scale calls for serious consideration.

In his own state, South Carolina, Mr. Lever has launched a campaign which favors issuance of $2,000,000 in bonds for the building of cotton warehouses. He urges that other states of the south embark upon similar undertakings, as their respective needs seem to indicate. The advice is worth weighing. Declared to be the basis of the south's wealth, cotton has too often been the cause of the south's impoverishment. That has been due to improper care and to poor marketing methods. The crop can be made the continuing insurance of the south's prosperity.

By one means or another, adequate warehousing should be provided. There is millions in it.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

You don't need to shout, "Come and see what I do! Come and gaze at my speed as my wheel whirls around. You don't need a bugle to summon the throng. To watch you perform or to cheer you along. You don't need to boast of your strength or your skill, or the things that you know or your course and will. Put the trumpet away, there is no need to blow it. Just do your work well and the wide world will know it.

You needn't announce: "I am great in my line!" I rank with the best and my product is fine." Like a street fak, loud you don't need to attract a crowd. A crowd will gather and look at your act. If your work is worth while, there is no need to shout. These far and wide, men will soon find it out. The whole world is watching for splendid and new things. And it's quick to discover the man who can do things.

You don't need the spotlight, you don't need to boast. Success will be yours if you stand at your post. Merit speaks to the world in all languages known. Through your work it will tell of the skill that you own. And if you deserve it, your fame will go far. Men will know by your deeds just how worthy you are. There's a task to be done, merely step up and do it. Success shall be yours, that is all there is to it.

HOROSCOPE

The stars incline but do not compel. (Copyright, 1919, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.) Friday, August 6, 1920.

Menacing stars rule this day, according to astrology. The Sun, Jupiter and Uranus are all in evil place. It is a way under which to take account of one's affairs, weighing carefully business and financial problems. The Sun is especially menacing to those who have high ambitions and pursue them. Political candidates should avoid any initiative at this time.

Jupiter gives warning to those who exercise power of an sort that they will focus enmity, and even hatred, when the stars are posted as they are today. Increase of crimes that have the acquisition of money as their aim will arouse governmental agencies to the scientific study of causes and radical social reforms will be advocated, the seers declare.

Uranus is in a place said to make human judgment, especially untrustworthy and wise men and women will avoid criticism of their neighbors. False friends may multiply during the next few weeks, but the configuration seems to forebode unusual protection for all who pursue paths of righteousness.

Railway problems again will confront the nation, but they will embody new phases of discontent. Color will be unusually potent during the remainder of the month, the stars indicate, for all the signs should encourage increased use of flags and banners in political campaigns.

Reactionary forces now will be strongly felt by all classes of men and women. The radical viewpoint may cause many men and women to be misjudged.

Uranus is in a place said to make human judgment, especially untrustworthy and wise men and women will avoid criticism of their neighbors. False friends may multiply during the next few weeks, but the configuration seems to forebode unusual protection for all who pursue paths of righteousness.

Children born on this day probably will be many good friends toward men and women of their own age. They should beware of wasting time. Girls have the augury of happy marriage.

WHY?

Do White Streaks Appear in Plaster?

The white, streaked appearance of plaster is due to the fact that the joints or beams are comparatively close to the surface in their spots and that while the air passes through the wall, depositing its dust and dirt, while so doing, the portion of the plaster touching the beams is protected from this process of filtration and retains its natural white color.

Professor N. B. Webster explains this by saying: "The white streaks in plastered ceilings, often noticed in churches and halls, are always just under beams or joists, the intermediate spaces being darkened by deposits of dust in the air which have filtered up through the porous plaster on the lathes. The beams, however, obstruct the passage of the air, so the plaster on the other side of them is not colored. It should be remembered that a plaster ceiling, being quite porous, is a strainer for the air which is constantly passing through it when the air from the opposite side is not of the same temperature."

Side Talks

By RUTH CAMERON

ARE YOU A BILL DOG?

Can you let go? There has been much said in praise of the bull dog grip and it has excellent usages. When the bull dog has hold of the right thing (the would-be thief's leg, for instance) nothing could be finer than his tenacity. But when he has hold of the wrong thing (the grip of a workman, for instance) his grip is considerably less admirable.

And so it is with tenacity among us human beings. There are times when tenacity is a splendid quality, and times when it is the sign of an intellect that is not functioning properly.

One example of these latter times is when one has laid hold mentally of too many things to do and can't seem to let go of them.

This state of mind is sometimes the cause of over-exhaustion, sometimes a symptom of it, and sometimes both. Before You Go Away.

You know, I mean, I mean, you have a certain number of things that you think you must do before you go on your vacation. You must finish your grammar, find out what make certain calls, you must have your hair shampoed, you must put up that jelly. You can't see how you are going to get them all in, and you feel driven and irritated and harassed. And yet you don't or won't or can't let go of any of them.

What happens? Perhaps you got them all done and go away a nervous wreck. Or perhaps some are forcibly crowded out of your program, in which case you undergo a double nerve drain—the strain of trying to hang onto them and the strain of having them crowded out.

Or if you are one person in a hundred, you will let go of some of the things and do the rest in peace and comfort.

The Will Power to Let Go. Letting go is a great achievement. It takes just as much will power to let go at the right time as to show a bull dog tenacity in keeping to a good purpose. Perhaps more.

I know a man who was very ambitious and who almost wrecked his whole career because he set himself certain standards of accomplishment and fought to keep up to them. He was headed for a nervous breakdown when he realized that the only way he could save himself was to let go of these standards, content himself with not doing just so much each month, not making just so much more each year, but doing what he could, and making what he could. Tenacity started this man on his career—but letting go saved him from wreck.

Is this a time when you need to relax and let go? If it is, let go. Do not say "there is nothing I can let go." Will you do it? Suppose you were old or died, would you let go of us and none of our activities are as vital as we think they are. Select the most vital, and definitely let them go. Don't have mental reservations about it. You will do them if you get time (that keeps up the subconscious strain). Just let go of them altogether. Your value to yourself and to all with whom you come in contact, will be immensely enhanced.

Plans. If you observe the also rans, you'll see they're always making plans. Some day they'll reach the shining heights and bask in wealth and fame's delights. Next week, next month, perhaps next year, they'll venture on the high career, and show the natives goggle-eyed that they're all wool and three-feet wide. And while they plan they let today, the golden present, slide away. They sit around the village pump, and plan and dream while others jump. And Time flies on with eager pace; the way Time scoots is a disgrace, and men grow old and bent and bald, and hang around until they're called. And those who worked with pep and power and made the most of every hour beneath their fig trees sit in peace, and find old age

Remember, Home Owners, in just 2 weeks

In two weeks the special representative of the Round Oak Engineering Department will assist us in an educational demonstration and sale of Round Oak Heating Systems.

This Heating Engineer has had practical experience as well as theoretical training necessary to pass judgment on any heating problem. From your description, he will draw out a sketch of your floor plans and demonstrate the proper location for the heating system—how it should be installed—why it will work more economically so installed. He will also explain the distinctive advantages of the Genuine Round Oak. He will point out wherein they serve best, and by best we mean last longer, use less fuel and deliver a finer kind of service. Remember and plan to attend this

Educational Demonstration ROUND OAK HEATING SYSTEMS

Foresight and good judgment say, "In time of warmth prepare for cold"

The building boom is creating a serious shortage in quality heating equipment. This will cause further rapid price advances. The distinctive advantages for those who make immediate decision are these:

- 1 You will invest at the lowest possible price for 1920—much lower, we predict than 1921 terms.
2 Later in the year we have reason to believe it will be impossible to secure one of these heating systems at any price.
3 The installation of one of these systems after the plans recommended by the Round Oak Heating Engineer, will not only increase the value of your property more than the amount invested, but solve for the next generation or more your heating problem. We are counting on your attendance.

POLICE LOOKING FOR BAND OF ANARCHISTS

Begin Search for Men Thought to Be Identified with Alexander Jannuika.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—Police today took up their search for anarchists thought to be identified with Alexander Jannuika, said to be an internationally known anarchist sought by the allied governments for five years and who was arrested here yesterday. A close inspection of papers found in Jannuika's office at 1 W. W. headquarters here brought forth the possibility of the uncovering of a radical plot. A secret propaganda code was explained by him after it had baffled the authorities. It enabled one to write what appeared to be the most acute as a simple letter in the English language. By the decoder its true message was disclosed. He told the police he made his code letter writer from a chess board. It is a small tin plate about five by five inches, with empty spaces in which one letter of a word is placed. The lines then are filled in with sentences to complete an apparently innocent letter. Jannuika said he believed nobody should work more than two hours a day; that every working man should own an automobile in which to ride to and from work with a chauffeur; that each workingman should have a vacation each summer of two months to spend at some seaside resort. "Everything is wrong in the United States—government, political and social systems, everything," he said. Officials said he is one of the leaders in the international or world soviet movement. ### AMARILLO TO TRY OUT ALL YEAR-ROUND SCHOOL

AUSTIN, Aug. 5.—School all the year around has been approved by the Texas committee on classification and affiliations as a two year experiment at Amarillo. The plan contemplates that there shall be three school terms of four months each, and that two-thirds of the 2,000 school children of Amarillo will be in school 12 months of the year. Each student is required to go to school eight months and has the privilege of selecting his four months of vacation. "By this plan the school building will not be necessary to maintain such a large force of teachers," said Prof. R. M. N. Marr, general supervisor of schools in the state department of education. The committee approving the experiment is composed of representatives of the high schools, grammar schools and institutions of higher learning in the state. It also decided that first and second class high schools in Texas must maintain nine months free term or lose classification and affiliation with institutions of higher learning. Certain readjustments were recommended in the history courses in high schools to give better training and citizenship.

READS BLACKSTONE AND GUARDS WHISKEY STILL

TULSA, OKLA., Aug. 6.—Sam Huffman, residing in the Osage hills, eight miles north of this place, was reading Blackstone when federal officers looked in on him today. Three hundred yards from Huffman's two-room house a moonshine still was in operation. Huffman admitted his moonshining activities and announced that he had been equipping himself to become a member of the bar, federal officers said.

GOVERNOR COLIMA IS IN OPEN REVOLT

Declaration Follows Closely That of a Revolt in San Luis, Potosi.

SAN ANTONIO, TEX., Aug. 6.—The first revolt since the announcement by anti-Huerta factions that the assertion of power by Governor Estaban Cantu in Lower California would be a signal for simultaneous revolts throughout the southern republic appeared yesterday when reliable information here said Jose Chavira, governor of the state of Colima had declared himself in open revolt against the provisional government. This declaration follows closely Manual Larraga's declaration of revolt in the state of San Luis Potosi.

COUNTY BOARDS MAKE AN OFFICIAL CANVASS

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 6.—County boards today were making an official canvass of Tuesday's primary vote and were expected to begin certifying the results to the secretary of state tonight. The unofficial returns coming from the isolated sections of the state did not change the results as shown by Thursday's figures. Friends of Governor Allen estimated that he had been given the nomination over G. B. Snow, Okla. farmer, by about 50,000. The figures indicated Senator Charles Curtis had won over John A. Edwards by something like the same margin. Jonathan M. Davis continued to hold a substantial lead over O. T. Wood, his closest opponent for the democratic gubernatorial nomination. The incomplete returns this morning indicated that Thompson was leading in the fight for the republican nomination for state treasurer by 2,500 votes.

TWO ARE ACCEPTED BY NAVY RECRUITING OFFICER

Navy recruiting officers E. E. Hearn and J. M. Joehrandt, recently stationed in this city, report several applications for enlistment, but so far only two have passed. The local station has received a telegram from the navy department stating that until further orders young men who have had two years high school education, or its equivalent, may be enlisted in the rating of apprentice seamen as electricians (generally) having requirements as to electrical knowledge and experience. Only desirable applicants who, in the opinion of the recruiting officer, are fitted by education and ability to successfully complete the electrical school course, will be accepted for this rating. OF INTEREST TO SPORT FANS

The SPORTLIGHT by Grantland Rice

(Copyright, 1920, New York Tribune Inc.) THE SPORTSMAN. Keen to be at his best. Rather than keen to win. Ready to face the test. Fate at its worse might spin.

One of the first boxing matches we ever saw developed a mob scene where half the ticket holders were blocked out and most of the others were denied seats.

Another incident. "I contend," writes L. H. E., "that Ted Ray can drive a golf ball twice as far as 'Babe' Ruth can hit a baseball."

After the pace. You have seen a horse race where the entries started a duel from the barrier, fighting it out with first one in the lead and then the other around the track.

One man can make a terrific difference to a ball club. The one man referred to here is Frank Frisch. Several baseball fans who were in on the start-up in the turn of the sport that a debutante within a few weeks became one of the main supporting pillars of his club.

The main difference between Fred Fulton and Achilles is that Fulton is all heel. One of Old Ivy College's best short stories was called "Sergeant Hagby's Beet."

Sport Shots By Paul W. Larkin

The Spudgers will have at least one new hurler when they take the field today. Hudspeth, the Ranger twirler who has been burning up the West Texas League, is to report to Skipper Salm today.

That boy Watson, whom we missed by a hair, continues to sed the National League on fire. He turned the Cards back with four measly bingles yesterday.

Salm denies that his run in with Empire Miller in Houston was responsible for the team's delay in reaching Wichita Falls in time for Wednesday's game, as other stories.

Wichita moguls are also dickerling with Hunter Hill in an effort to land one of his twirlers. If Salm gets the man he wants, he will not have one weak spot in the team.

UNMASKED BANDITS ROB A MESSENGER

Hold Up 17-Year-Old Youth at Kansas City and Get Off With $3,179.

KANSAS CITY, August 6.—Three unmasked bandits in a motor car today held up and robbed Ralph Williams, 17-year-old messenger for Wilson & Company, packers, at Tenth and Minnesota avenue, Kansas City, Kan., obtaining $3,179 in currency. The bandits escaped toward the Missouri side.

PLAN FOR A TEST OF STRENGTH OF HOWAT

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 6.—With the arrival late today of three members of the United Mine Workers of America at Pittsburg, Kan., the struggle between International President John Lewis and District President Alexander Howat will reach a crisis. W. D. Vanhorn of Terre Haute, one of the three members of the executive board, who passed through here today, said Howat would be temporarily deposed when the commission takes charge of the district. Then if the striking miners refuse to obey orders to return to work, Vanhorn said new unions are to be organized of men loyal to the national union. This, the commission believes, will test the strength of Howat's leadership. While many miners are known to favor Howat, the executive board members doubt if they will stick to him and face expulsion from organized labor.

CHANGE OF VENUE IN CASE OF PRIVATE TYER

GALVESTON, Aug. 6.—Judge Robert G. Street in the 5th district court today granted a change of venue in the case of Private J. C. Tyer, charged with manslaughter for the death of Captain Herbert A. Robertson, which occurred at Camp Hutchings on the morning of July 30. An indictment was returned against Tyer yesterday. He is under bond of $1,000. Earlier in the week Tyer was tried by a general court-martial, which acquitted him of the charge filed against him. The findings of the court-martial have been approved by Governor Hobby. Tyer was on entry duty at Camp Hutchings on the morning of July 30, and shot Robertson when he failed to respond to the entry's challenge.

WADING POOL MAY BE CONVERTED INTO A SWIMMING POOL

There is a probability that the wading pool for children recently given to the city by W. M. Priddy will be transformed into a swimming pool in Bellevue park for both children and adults. If the suggestions of George E. Kessler, city planner and landscape architect, are carried out, a letter to Mayor W. E. Cline, Kessler states several objections to the wading pool idea and also argues for "a complete plan for the whole of Bellevue park before any location for a pool is made."

"With reference to the wading pool," a part of Kessler's letter reads, "this brings up the entire children's playground question. As to the library grounds, unless the local children's population positively requires that at this time in that locality, I would suggest that you hold the library grounds as a dignified setting for that building. On the other hand, at Bellevue park there is a large children's population which should be served with just such things as the wading pool. May I suggest in this connection that you discard the term 'wading' pool and use 'swimming' pool instead. In the first place, I am suggesting that you use a depth of three feet maximum and in this the children, up to 14 years of age, can safely learn to swim and not require special life guard service, which would be required in the deeper pools. On the other hand, our experience shows that wading pools in which the children get wet up to their knees are unsatisfactory. They want to get wet all over, and want to learn to swim. And they can swim in a pool three feet deep. Therefore, unless a depth of two-and-a-half or three feet is provided, the proposed pool will be unsatisfactory and a false investment. Mr. Noyes is bringing with him a plan of a swimming basin which is a standard for this class of service. The size may be regulated to meet your special needs. These range from 20 feet in width to 40 feet long to a size of 40 or 50 feet in width to 60 feet or more long. You will probably find in the course of time that you may need to separate the boys and girls. It may, therefore, be wise to provide one for common use at this time, but planned so that a second or adjoining pool may be placed for the other half. A swimming basin calls for dressing rooms and toilets, and this class of service is frequently placed in connection with a distinctive children's play field house, giving shelter against sun or rain, and opportunity for assembly for indoor sports and indoor recreation. Because of this, it is necessary to complete a plan for the whole of Bellevue park, and its complete use, before you attempt a definite location for the pool itself. Because of all these problems, will you not be good enough to confer with Mr. Noyes and after setting the proper requirements of that playfield, we can then design the whole of the park for its final usefulness. Although you will doubtless at some time want to supply swimming facilities for adults, this sort of investment is quite great, and a thoroughly satisfactory scheme, even for a 40,000 population, calls for an investment of from $25,000 to $40,000. I assume, therefore, that you will not be quite ready for that. The swimming basin, however, even at three feet is of sufficient depth to give adults opportunity for a bit of exercise in the water and might serve your purpose in that way late in the evening, after the children had dispersed."

BAILEY'S PLURALITY REPORTED AT 1,835

Practically Complete Returns Give Total Vote of 450,506 Throughout State.

SIX DEPARTMENTS OF THE ARMY ABOLISHED

WASHINGTON, August 6.—An order abolishing the six departments of the army and establishing nine corps areas as provided in the army reorganization act has been prepared in the war department and is awaiting the approval of Secretary Baker. The departments which would be abolished are the northeastern, Boston, Major General Edwards commanding; eastern, Governors Island, N. Y., Major General Bullard commanding; central, Chicago, Major General Leonard Wood commanding; western, San Francisco, Major General Liggett commanding; southern, Fort Sam Houston, Texas, Major General Lickman commanding; and the southeastern, Charleston, S. C., Major General Morrison commanding.

The geographical boundaries of the nine corps have not yet been announced. Each area would be under a major general as are the present army departments of the country. Each would contain four divisions. Two of these would be reserve organizations which would exist largely on paper and would be called only in case of a national emergency. One division would be of regular troops and the fourth of national guard. Neither the regular nor national guard division would be at full strength, but under plans now being prepared they could be recruited to that strength when the necessity arose. A full quota of officers drawn from the officers reserve corps would be available for these divisions at all times.

BAILEY'S PLURALITY REPORTED AT 1,835

Practically Complete Returns Give Total Vote of 450,506 Throughout State.

DALLAS, Aug. 6.—Bailey's lead over Neff in the gubernatorial race is 1,325 votes, giving him a figure compiled by the Texas Election Bureau Friday morning. These figures are practically final, as the bureau has received reports on all of the 248 counties in Texas, and complete returns on 245 of them. Of those four, three are probably complete, all being counties of small voting strength, and only Marion county has not sent in a complete report. Partial figures from that county are included in the totals.

The candidates now stand: Bailey 152,162; Looney 48,965; Neff 150,327; Thomason 99,052. The bureau has accounted for 450,506.

ARTIST'S PARTY SUPPOSEDLY TAKING PLACE IN SOHO-LONDON

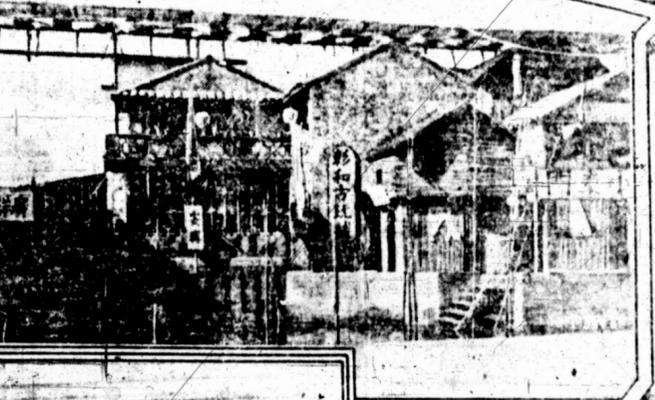

ART STUDENTS QUARTERS SOHO-LONDON

A TURKISH HAREM

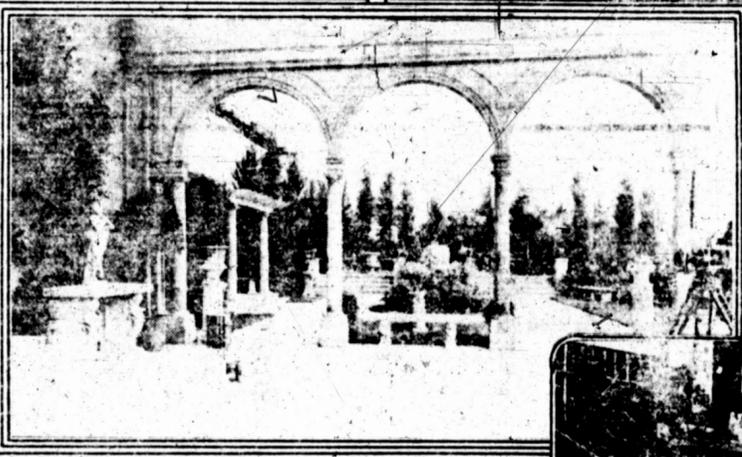

THE motion picture spectator says, just before departing for the theater, "I am going to the picture show."
He could very truthfully express his intention in this way: "I am going to school."
The argument has been expounded that motion pictures are more potent as an educational factor than any other source of learning, because they combine pleasure and learning. The motion picture patron goes to a theater for pleasure and enjoys the pictures that he witnesses, and he is therefore impressed by whatever knowledge he may gain through the program, because it is coupled with enjoyment. This principle is illustrated by the fact that anyone who studies without a certain amount of pleasure in the revelations that are being made to his mind through the printed page or the lecturer, never remembers well what he has studied.

A Good Combination.
Take, for instance, the school child who reads his history lessons with avidity or at least with a very small amount of reluctance, and finishing that opens up his geography book with a sigh and a feeling of hopelessness and struggles desperately to glean the knowledge that to him seems dry, uninteresting printed words and facts. In which lesson will be the more proficient the next day in his class room? Which lesson will he have absorbed? The answer is obvious, and the reason is that with a study of the one was coupled a certain amount, however small, of pleasure and willingness, while the other was a mere grind, dry and uninteresting to him. A successful doctor is successful because he has learned his business because he has found a certain amount of pleasure in that work of learning and practicing which he has learned. But having law, could the doctor, by mere book and grind, become a successful lawyer?

Who can say a person does not get real literary benefit from these gems which are well remembered by the spectator because of the enjoyment which he has gained in reading them?
The student of geography and history reads of the customs and manners of the people of other countries, ancient and modern, of their beliefs, their religious creeds, their mythical lore, their dress, methods of transportation, principal industries, their home life, their architecture, their traits of character, and numerous other facts. But the great masses of the people gain a rough smattering of knowledge of these things in their childhood, forming their own mental pictures and ideas from the reading of text books, all of which is sooner or later either forgotten or becomes a jumbled mass in their minds. But since the inception of motion pictures, it is not only the scholar who knows and is acquainted with these facts. The ordinary working man or woman, even the children have unconsciously gained a broad working knowledge of a great many things which they would otherwise have known nothing about.

Learned at Movies.
Ask the average child what are the Bolsheviks, what kind of uniforms are worn by French, Italian or German soldiers; what sort of a looking man is Woodrow Wilson, Marshalls Joffre and Foch, General Pershing or the Kaiser; how do people dress in Mexico, in South Africa, Iceland or on an Arizona cattle ranch; what kind of a place is the native quarter of Shanghai, China; how do they serve tea in Japan and an endless variety of similar and varied questions, and he will answer correctly nine out of ten questions. Why? Because he has been studying his lessons well at school? Perhaps he has, but it is a pretty safe bet that he has been attending the neighborhood motion picture theater pretty regularly.
One who has not spent some time within a large motion picture-producing plant will not readily realize the vast educational source which motion pictures, as an industry, have opened up to the people of the world.
Recently, at the Lasky studio in Hollywood, the western producing plant of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation and one of the largest and most representative motion picture studios, four different and widely separated sections of the globe were represented in one day by four settings in which four unit producing companies were each engaged in the production of a picture. The most elaborate of these settings was an Italian villa and gardens, which covered almost the entire surface of one of the big outdoor stages, and in which scenes were being taken for William DeMille's production of Leonard Merrick's story, "Conrad in Quest of His Youth." The architecture was of beautiful Italian style, the gardens were rich with flowers and shrubs native to Italy and beautified by gorgeous fountains, long promenades and other features. The combined efforts of many different kinds of artists and artisans had been spent on this one setting.

Has Typical Atmosphere.
In a corner of the same stage was a dance hall and barroom typical of the far Canadian northwest, with the inmates appropriately clothed and every detail of atmosphere typical of such a place. This was being used in George Melford's production of Sir Gilbert Parker's novel, "The Translocation of a Savage," which bears the screen title "Behold My Wife!" On an adjoining stage was a typical Greenwich village party, Bohemian in every respect and reflecting that element of New York society in every detail. On the exterior lot was a perfect replica of a street in the native quarter of Shanghai, China.
Here, in one day, were four distinctive sections of the world and phases of human existence, perfectly depicted, and each a unit within itself. And the beauty of it all is that they were faultlessly correct and representative even to the smallest details. The spectators who will see these pictures will not be deceived or misled as to actual conditions and facts. There is at each studio, an institution known as the research department, whose special work it is to get facts and actual data on any climate, race, nation, structure, city custom, characteristic or condition under the sun, ancient, medieval or modern. In this department are thousands of photographs, magazines, reference books, etc., and when there is any question about any matter or technical detail, this department looks up the facts. The spectators of a motion picture get a visible picture instead of a mental picture, and this visible picture is true and accurate to the smallest detail. What could constitute a better or finer source of education?

Interesting Scenes Screened.
In the past few weeks at that studio, many other interesting locales have been depicted, such as the art students' quarters in Soho London; the interior of the Casino, at Monte Carlo, the interior of a palatial English home; a typical New York theatrical people's boarding house, a Chinese opium den, the interior of the editorial offices of a large daily newspaper and many others such as drawing rooms, bedrooms, ballrooms, etc. In the exterior lot there is also a perfect replica of a certain New York street in the tenement section. The number of people who

Thus, it will be seen how, through the medium of pleasure, the motion picture spectator absorbs all the educational value that might be contained in a picture. Often, he absorbs it unconsciously, but nevertheless, it remains in his mind, being a vital part and parcel of the things which it has given him pleasure to witness.
The question naturally arises: What is taught by motion pictures? Geography, history, literature, art, human nature, are only a few of the subjects that are imparted to the minds of audiences every day of the world in the ordinary film drama, not to mention the numerous educational subjects.

Actual Literary Benefit.
The reading of books develops in one who loves to read, a greater knowledge of the English language, of its idioms, proper phraseology, sentence construction, vocabulary and grammatical structure. A process of continued repetition goes on by which he becomes in time thoroughly familiar with good English and its usage. But what about the man or woman who doesn't enjoy reading, or the working man who doesn't have time to read during the day and is too tired to read at night? He goes to a picture theater and there sees a feature production and reads, during the course of its exhibition a hundred or more printed titles, couched in the best of language and literary style, and evolved after days of constant study and work on the part of learned writ-would have had an insight into all these places, and the characters who people them, would be very small, were it not for motion pictures.

How do the people act in the upper class society of England? What kind of people are there in Greenwich village society, or in other parts of the world? What are their characteristics, their customs, their manners, gestures, types, dispositions? How do diamond thieves operate in South Africa and how is opium smuggled from China? All these questions and many more are answered in the films. The regular motion picture spectator is becoming wise to the ways of the world. Rather a broad statement but one containing a great deal of truth. The rich man may tour his own country and go abroad to see the world. The poor man needs only to see enough motion pictures to see the world well represented and to get a more intimate insight into humanity than the traveler.

Condensed Knowledge.
Few people perhaps realize the vast and varied amount of physical human work and the combined efforts and brains of hundreds of people are expended in condensed down into a vehicle which consumes a little over an hour's time, can be transported in small tin cans and disseminated. In this short time, all the forces which have been injected into it, and a goodly supply of this force is knowledge.

It is not only the actors and director and cameraman who make a motion picture. They are backed up by a hundred various branches of industry. For the better education of the public, a small smattering of the proceedings attendant to the filming of a motion picture at the Lasky studio, are herewith submitted.
First, there is the work of the author. The original, as a play, novel or story, may have consumed months of preparation. Then the scenario takes the original and treats it for screen use. The casting director picks the types who are best able to depict the various characterizations. Each player in the story studies his part and makes himself ready. Melville M. Riddle, household as readily like the character as possible. The research department looks up the doubtful problems in costume, set construction and furnishing, construction of the characters, etc. The director directs the picture and oversees everything, and the cameraman attends to the photography and direct the lightings. The best draughtsman and architects obtainable draw up the plans of the sets. Trained millmen turn out the lumber and experienced carpenters construct the work. Teams of established artists hand the drapes and add their effective touches. Painters, paperhangers and interior decorators do their share. Scene artists paint backings and add other decorations. Plumbers, masons and many other artisans do their parts. Landscape artists put in lawns and flowers. When foreigners are used interpreters and native experts are employed to assure as correct atmosphere and detail. Noted sculptors are sometimes engaged to carve out many statuary that is required. Skilled electricians hand every effort to obtain beautiful and effective lightings. Expert designers make the costumes and original gowns for the principal players. Camouflage artists develop effects denoting the period whether it be ancient or modern. Trained musicians provide music suitable to the nature of the scene, thus adding to the play to get the utmost out of their work.

Experts Work Continually.
After the actual filming is finished, the experts spend weeks titling the picture, skilled artists create effective backdrops for the titles, the film is then colorized by special artists, laboratory experts work night and day to get the best possible results in printing.
These are not all. To mention every step in the production of a picture, from the time of the beginning of the story to its final release, would fill several pages.
A good illustration which definitely proves the value of motion pictures as a disseminator of knowledge, was recently provided by the remark of a spectator during a preview of "Crook and Sneak," Ethel Clayton's latest starring vehicle. Most of the scenes in that picture are supposedly laid in Shanghai, China, and a scene flashed on the screen showing a view of one of the main gates of the great Chinese wall. Before the appearance of the gate, establishing the fact that this was the gate in question, one of the spectators remarked: "Why that's one of the gates of the Great Wall, I have seen it before in motion pictures!"
The number of people so well acquainted with this historic spot would be very small had it not been for motion pictures. This is only one example out of thousands.
A Factor in Education.
Thus, it can not be denied that motion pictures are a powerful and potent factor in education and that since their beginning, the world is much the wiser, and as time goes on will be much more the wiser. In this discussion, which has been more or less on the technical side of the question, no account has been taken of the power-types who are best able to depict the various characterizations. Each player in the story studies his part and makes himself ready. Melville M. Riddle,

BRALLEY AUTHORIZED TO NAME LEE HUFF AS CHIEF OF POLICE

DECISION IS REACHED AT REGULAR MEETING OF CITY COUNCIL THURSDAY NIGHT.

MAYOR INVESTIGATES AND GIVES APPROVAL

Alderman Curlee Agrees to Appointment After Stating His Position.

The hope of the council that an outside man would be obtained to reorganize the twisted condition of this city's police affairs, went glimmering last night, when the city council authorized Police Commissioner Bralley to appoint Lee Huff, at present head of the detective bureau, chief of police at a salary of $4,000 a year. Huff's appointment was recommended by Bralley and Mayor Cline, who declared him to be "the best man available."

Aside from the mayor, only Aldermen Curlee, McDowell and Bralley were present to represent the city. Bralley stayed "on the fence" throughout the discussion of Huff's qualifications; McDowell favored the appointment as a piece of team work by the council in support of the police commissioner, and Curlee finally voted for the appointment, although expressing his dissatisfaction.

"After going into this matter at some length with Commissioner Bralley," Mayor Cline said in introducing the subject, "I find only two courses open at this time. One is the appointment of Huff, the other the turning over of the police department to George Thorburn, city clerk, for a few months pending a definite appointment of a police chief. Mr. Thorburn is willing to assist in reorganizing the department, but he does not care to be chief of police."

"I wired the mayor of Waco, where Huff served nine years, and received an answer endorsing Huff as a splendid officer, and an honest, capable man. Similar letters have been received from other prominent citizens of Waco. Lud Williams, former city attorney of Waco, who worked with Huff for 20 years, stated that he would pick him as a police chief over any man in Texas. "I want to say, however, that these recommendations have not had all weight with me, as I know how easy it is to obtain such letters. I based my choice of Huff largely on Bralley's recommendation of him and on my personal observation of the man. Of course, we, the council as a whole, must understand that we will have to stand the responsibility if we make a bad selection."

Alderman McDowell, asked for his views regarding Huff, stated that he was "satisfied with the mayor's investigation."

Alderman W. S. Curlee, however, told the council frankly that the appointment did not meet his approval: "I had hoped," he said, "that we could get an outside man. I have been more or less directly concerned with this police matter a long time. We have had trouble continuously. There are factions in the police department, and if we appoint as chief of police a man already on the force there is grave danger of reopening many of these old wounds. I want to make my position clear on this point, although I am willing, if he is acceptable to Mayer Cline and Commissioner Bralley to take Huff as chief of police subject to the conditions mentioned; that his term of office will be cut short if he fails to prove the right man for the place."

Mayor Cline then brought up several objections that had been made to the appointment of Huff, and stated that an investigation conducted by him and Commissioner Bralley had failed to support certain accusations.

"I want to get this matter out of the way as soon as possible," he added. "I am not criticizing the press of the city, but I do say that any city department will work with less friction if it is left alone to iron out its troubles; and for that reason I will be glad when we can discuss this police difficulty from out deliberations and from the public mind."

A motion authorizing Commissioner Bralley to appoint Huff then was introduced by Alderman McDowell. No seconding voice was heard, and an embarrassing silence followed. Alderman

Curlee broke the silence by again stating his position clearly:

"I am not going to vote against the appointment of Huff," he added, "but I cannot be honest with myself and give my unqualified endorsement. However, since the matter has gone this far, I will second Mr. McDowell's motion."

The motion was passed with the stipulation that the salary of the chief of police should remain at the former figure of $4,000 per year.

Huff came to Wichita Falls to serve in the detective department at the personal solicitation of Robert Goodfellow who resigned as chief of police recently, following several bitter differences of opinion with Commissioner Bralley regarding the conduct of police affairs.
