Fleet Operated On Commission Basis And Operators Have Nothing At Stake.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—With the publication today of revised estimates of the shipping board's deficit for the last fiscal year, showing a total of $380,000,000, or approximately $280,000,000 more than previous estimates, Chairman Lasker of the board said he was prepared to appear before congressional committees to explain the condition of the board's finance and ask for a relief appropriation of $200,000,000 for the current fiscal year. In announcing the new estimate of the deficit incurred in operation of the government fleet, Chairman Lasker said the books of the shipping board were in a "deplorable condition" and that they "could not have been kept in much different shape had they been kept with a view to cheating and deceiving congress and the country."

Former Assistant Secretary of Navy Makes Counter Attack Upon Motives of Committee.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Former Secretary Daniels and Franklin D. Roosevelt, former assistant secretary of the navy, are denounced for the methods used in investigating the war-time scandal among enlisted men at the Newport training station in the majority report of a senate subcommittee made public today.

The charges made by clerigymen of Newport, R. I., and the Providence Journal, the report says, "have been proved to the satisfaction of the committee," and both the clergy and the Journal, says the report, "deserve the thanks of the people at large."

At the same time today, Mr. Roosevelt, who was the democratic candidate for vice-president, issued a statement declaring that Senators Ball of Delaware and Keyes of New Hampshire, the two republicans who constitute the majority of the investigating committee, had issued their findings without giving him a hearing after promising to do so, which Mr. Roosevelt in his statement contended "shows a premeditated and unfair purpose of seeking what they mistakenly believe to be a partisan political advantage."

It throws off ultra-violet rays that kill bacteria and gradually heal the injured tissues. The photo shows Dr. W. J. JUBILEE'S PARDNER

When me and Jubilee woke up this morning we was both mighty happy, because it was vacation and I had got a dollar and a half and everything...

We thought at first that we would put them in cages and make out like they were wild animals, but we did not have no cages, and then Jubilee said that when people kept a lot of dogs they cut dog meat up in little pieces and cooked it in a kettle with a lot of corn when they were sick...

And then they let it get cold and there was enough of it to last one dog a week. But we was all going to do it, so we went and whacked up and bought 37 cents worth of meat and a bag of corn meal and a bag of salt and took it all down back to Hopper's house by the duck pond...

LATEST STYLE

Many brilliant colors gather on a frock of cretonne for the summer girl who wishes to contribute a pleasant spot to the landscape. It is the kind of frock which has been very popular this summer for sports, and it may be worn those sportlike moments when one wishes merely to be languid and picturesque.

At such times one may complete the picture with a wide brimmed hat and a parasol made of the same material. They sell them that way in a smart little shop in New York. Their newest model is cut with the long waistline and slightly flared skirt like the one in the sketch. In this frock cretonne is good to them. They did not even ask us if they could have it. They just took it off the fire and set it in the duck pond and stirred it till it would burn their noses. It had a hard smell more than half of it and put the rest in two tin cans they had. When they got done I asked them to tell us about being burnt and they said they dasent, because it was so horrible we could never sleep again. We went and got the dogs some raw meat, and they liked that just as well. I snuck around

NEGROES BUY LOTS NEAR WHITE SCHOOL INSTEAD OF OWN

COUNCIL HEARS MONDAY NIGHT OF SITUATION SOUTH OF VALLEY TRACKS.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL FAR FROM WHERE PATRONS LIVE

Negro Delegation Told That Property Rights Will be Protected—New Park Involved.

With a new negro school being erected some distance from the present negro district, and with a white school and a park for use of white people being constructed in a district largely inhabited by negroes, a rather incongruous situation has arisen, and one that will be difficult to remedy, it developed at Monday night's council meeting.

At a previous meeting, white residents in the vicinity of the new Barwise school and tourist park called attention of the council to the fact that the negro district was being steadily extended westward and encroaching on the territory immediately around the school.

Monday night a delegation of negroes headed by Felix Lindsay appeared and wanted to know where they stood. They said that a number of negroes had acquired lots in the vicinity of the school and park and were ready to build, when given assurance that they would not be disturbed.

At the time that the school board selected the site for the new negro school, the idea was present in the minds of the trustees that the section east of the baseball park, where the negro school is located, should become a negro center. At present, many negroes reside and have their stores and churches in and near the section known as the flats, which has never been entirely freed of the unsavory reputation once attached to it.

Instead of building near the negro school, the negroes who plan new homes have looked in the other direction, and some of them have already constructed homes near the Barwise school; it was indicated Monday night that some of them thought the new building there was for their use rather than for white children. Negro children in that section would have to cross a maze of railroad tracks and the site of the old East lake in order to reach their own school.

Members of the council felt that the situation was an unpleasant one, but were not sure what remedy, if any, could be applied. Councilmen Curlee said he had protested to the school board against putting a white school in a negro vicinity.

"Your property rights will be respected," Mayor Pro Tem Bonner told the negro delegation Monday night, "there is no disposition on the part of the council to make any change."

The council on Monday night definitely abandoned the Fifteenth-Elizabeth paving project. A petition signed by 14 property owners, or about one-third of those involved, protesting against the paving was presented, and although Contractor Roberts thought that a sufficient number could be signed up to make it possible to proceed, A. W. McClelland, representing the property owners, thought that the project ought to be abandoned, and the council decided to do so.

A. L. Ruolo asked for fire plugs and better water facilities in the section north of Fourth street and east of the tracks. Councilman Bonner thought some relief could be provided, but said the water department had no money left for as much pipe as was needed.

The Wichita Falls Electric company asked for a little more time to prepare its explanation of the North Wichita situation, and the council set the matter for hearing next Monday at 9 a. m.

Paul Langford was elected temporary police judge on recommendation of Councilman Fitts. The council suspended the rules and passed an ordinance designed to keep carnivals out of the city, in line with a movement started by Councilman Eraly.

JUDGE WILL CALL ALL CRIMINAL CASES

Murder Case of Dan Bennett Will Go On Trial Wednesday Morning.

Judge H. F. Weldon of the 10th district court will call all the criminal cases on the docket Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. The judge stated several days ago that he expected to try as many cases as possible during his twenty-day session which will close on August 10.

The case against Dan Bennett, charged with murder, has been set for trial. A special venire of 100 men has been summoned. Bennett is charged with the murder of George Gentry, alleged to have occurred on the night of May 17. It is alleged in the indictment that Gentry came to his death by being struck on the top of the head with a heavy instrument.

Detective Jack Miller of the city police department effected the arrest of Bennett after working diligently on the case for several weeks.

DETECTIVE CHIEF BOYD RESIGNS HIS POSITION TUESDAY

TRACON COMPANY TO START SHORTLY ON CUT-OFF LINES

Work on the two cut-off lines of the traction company will start within 30 days, General Manager Abellton of the company said Tuesday, following final passage of the franchise by the city council Monday night. The Ninth street line will be constructed first and that out Thirteenth and Clark later. Lids on material, special switches and concrete work have already been received and will probably be awarded within a short time. The old Southland line will be operated for the present out to the corner of Collins and Clark. Later, it is hoped to turn this line southward on Holliday, but objections of interested property owners are expected to delay this for the present.

BETTER STREET CAR SERVICE IN PROSPECT.

The way is now clear for construction of a street car system that will really serve Wichita Falls. Approval by the city council of the franchise asked by the traction company assures the carrying out of the immediate construction program of that company, and there are indications that the building of new lines will not stop with the completion of the work outlined but that such sections as Riverside and North Wichita will be served later.

REGRET POSSIBILITY OF ABANDONING BUREAU OF GEOLOGY AND TECHNOLOGY

AUSTIN, July 18.—That the prospective abandonment of the bureau of economic geology and technology of the University of Texas, because of lack of legislative appropriation for its maintenance, is viewed with alarm by men of the state who are familiar with the splendid results accomplished by this branch of the institution is shown by a letter which Dr. Robert E. Vinson, president of the university, has just received from Dr. Ellis W. Shuler, professor of geology of the Southern Methodist university of Dallas. He writes: "I note with grave concern the report that the bureau of economic geology is to be disbanded as a method of retrenchment in the university funds. This will prove such a serious blow to the future development of the economic resources of the state that it should not be done under any consideration. You are doubtless fully aware of the value of the bureau and of the history of its connection with the university. May I ask if it is your purpose to transfer its important work to some other department of the university? Or do you contemplate stopping the department as a part of the university activity? Would you prefer that the bureau be organized by the legislature as a separate bureau of geology? I do not believe that the people of Texas will permit the important work of the bureau to stop and if the university declines to do it then it will be necessary to organize a bureau separate and apart from the university. That from some points of view it is undesirable, but, of course, may be necessary."

He gives Holmes and Watson a clipping, asking them to read it. "Have you never heard of the League of the Red-headed Men?" he asked, with his eyes open. "Never." "Why, I wonder at that, for you are eligible yourself for one of the vacancies." "And what are they worth?" I asked. "Oh, merely a couple of hundred a year but the work is slight, and it need not interfere very much with one's other occupations."

SPORTS HOTSPOTS by Paul W. Barkin

Wish Walter Salm could dig up a couple of hurters with crippled thumbs like Paul Wachtel.

It doesn't take a prophet to foretell that the Spudders will soon be battling with the Gassers for the bottom rung instead of with the Panthers for the top rung.

Walter has cried for the past couple of weeks that his staff is bound to come through. He was supposed to have a bunch of hot weather twirlers.

Hollingsworth is the only dependable twirler on the staff, and even the best of them receive their bumps occasionally.

Good twirlers are mighty hard to get. Everybody admits that. But they can be bought. They all have a price, though it may be high in some instances.

This is no time to be fooling around with Duncan stars, etc. The Spudders have a pennant within their grasp and it will be nobody's fault but their own if they lose it.

THE FAN'S DEFICIT. Where are the rabid clients who cheered in sacred ranks? The Braves and the Giants? The Indians and the Yanks? Who crowded ball parks daily? And stood in endless lines? To see Ruth hit one daily? Across some well known sign? Are they fed up on crashes from Senators or Reds? Of seeing endless smashes sail over fielders' heads? Or weary now of sitting while endless runs career, where every block is hitting around a hit? But wait—above the collar I send this thought aloft, A dollar is a dollar, and times are none too soft. So as I sit and ponder I wonder, O I wonder, If they have got the dough?

MAIL, COLUMBIA, TRAPPY LAND! Shortly after the 200 and 100-hour trials, the crack of the driver, the whirl of the nibbler and the muttered curse attached to the missed putt will indicate that Columbia's well trapped course within a few months of the White House, is starting a new drive for the open golf championship of the United States.

Since 1910 McDermott and Hagen, home-bred, have won four of the eight crowns. Gulmer, Travers and Evans, all amateurs, have won three. Ray, the Englishman, won the other.

So home-bred talent has triumphed in seven out of the last eight starts since Jack McDermott first broke through.

There are four divisions to be considered in this championship, listed in order: 1. Home-bred professionals, led by Hagen, Kerrigan, Deigel, French, Brady, Loom, McLean, Frank and Tom McManis, etc.

2. Foreign born amateurs, such as Hutchinson, Barnes, Smith, McLeod, Ross, Hampton, etc.

3. Home-bred amateurs, featuring Evans, Jones, Guilford, Marston and others.

4. British invaders—Mitchell, Duncan, Kirkwood and Murray, Canadian champion.

You may observe from this briefly sketched roster, if you happen to be acquainted with the White House of London, that each division is topped by an extreme amount of class—and that each division has at least two or more men capable of winning a championship. Considering the uncertainties of the three-foot putt, the main idea now should be to sit back and permit the actual scoring to tell the story.

THE REVENUED BRAVES. After failing to impressively brighten in 1914, Boston's embattled Braves began to disappear rapidly over the hill until they came again to the fore. Now under Fred Mitchell's guiding hand and brain they have come back a much greater distance than any figured they could come this season.

As a steady turn they have looked their best in the league, with a fair chance of going to still higher crags.

At the best of all baseball statistics is about ready to welcome a contender after the last two years of drought. And the Braves are breaking up the drought.

How many home runs would Frank Schulte at his best have struck off with the modern ball? A bystander queries. Schulte ran up over twenty one year with the old maul. Something To Think About

What Do You Want Most? By F. A. WALKER.

FOUR things, one or more of them, furnish the incentive for ninety-nine per cent of men's endeavor—FAME, WEALTH, POSITION, POWER.

Aspiration to realize one or more of the quartet of achievements, begins early in everybody's life. The desire to win the most valuable marble is only a demonstration of the desire to attain wealth as it is represented by "glassy" or "agate."

The position the bully would possess as the "boss" of the school or of his associates is only the youthful index of what the man would achieve whose greatest desire is for Power.

There never was a boy in the world who did not swell with pride when he achieved a reputation for being the best fisherman in his crowd or the best baseball pitcher or the fastest in a foot race.

Men undergo torture, risk their lives, sacrifice their loved ones, go to any extremes to gain fame—fame that is sometimes only notoriety thinly disguised.

Men will be dishonest to gain wealth. They will risk the penalties of the law to gain fame. They will sacrifice to the limit to gain power. But they will do all three and more to gain position.

FOUR ARE TAKEN TO SAN ANTONIO INSTITUTION. Deputy Sheriff Lanner left Tuesday afternoon for San Antonio with four people who have been committed to the state institution there.

FITTS CALLED UPON BY MAYOR TO MAKE GOOD ON TAX RATE

CLINE DOUBTS CHANCE FOR REDUCTION IN FACE OF CITY'S BIG OVERDRAFT.

SEES SLAP AT COUNCIL IN SATURDAY'S RESULT

Says If New Member Knows How to Cut Taxes, Others Anxious to Hear From Him.

J. B. Fitts took his seat Monday night as a member of the city council, and within the next hour or two he was given cause to realize that said seat may not be altogether comfortable.

First, he was reminded by Mayor Cline that he had been elected largely on his promise to reduce the tax rate, and that it was a promise that required keeping.

Second, he was told that he was to be the real head of the police and fire department; a suggestion on his part that other councilmen advise with him on police department personnel met the answer that he had full responsibility and full authority. His nomination of R. W. Morgan as police chief was promptly accepted by his fellow councilmen, who also concurred in his suggestion that the position of chief of detectives be abolished.

There was no suggestion of a clash between the older councilmen and the new member, and everything was entirely good natured.

Mayor Cline made it clear that he considered that Mr. Fitts had assumed an obligation to the voters in the matter of the tax rate. In his talk to the council on this subject, Mr. Cline indicated his belief that Saturday's result was due in considerable measure to dissatisfaction on the part of the voters with some things that had been done by the council as a whole, and that the council should consider it as a rebuke.

"I think we have a right to assume, Mr. Fitts," the mayor continued, "that when you spoke of reducing the taxes, you were familiar with the city's present financial condition, which may be summed up as a $226,000 overdraft, and that you were familiar with the fact that the city has, and that you have some remedy in mind. The other councilmen want to hear from you as to how this reduction may be made, about, because they have been unable so far to see how to do it."

"But, Mr. Mayor," interrupted Mr. Fitts, "the city is not in a position to issue any statement of its financial condition. I didn't know the city was overdrawn so heavily."

"Then you lacked information which you could have gotten, and which you ought to have had before you promised the people a reduction in taxes," Mr. Cline replied.

Mr. Fitts replied in economical city government. Mr. Fitts said, "I believe each department can be practicing economy save right money. I believe I can give better service in my own department and still reduce expense."

Mayor Cline then continued with his statement, taking the firm stand that not only can taxes not be reduced, but an increase is necessary.

Police Chief Huff's letter of resignation was read, and Mr. Fitts said he would nominate R. W. Morgan for the place, although he had several other good men in mind if the council wanted to discuss the matter. Mr. Morgan was elected without further discussion. His salary was fixed at $250 a month, $50 a month less than Huff has been receiving.

Mr. Fitts said that he believed Mr. Morgan would be able to take charge of the detective bureau also, and that there would be no further need of chief of detectives. He asked the council how he should proceed about the appointment of policemen, and was told by Mayor Cline that Mr. Morgan, Cline having departed, that the council wanted him to take full authority in such matters.

Mr. Cline, after making his statement on the election, the tax rate and the gas situation, left to catch a train for Louisiana. His statement in full follows:

As I interpret the result of the election last Saturday, it is not so much the repudiation of Mr. Bralley and his administration of the police department as it is a reprimand from the voters of Wichita Falls to the mayor and the other members of the council for the policies they have pursued in administering municipal affairs during the past year. No criticism was made and no charge was substantiated against the efficiency of the police department, but in my judgment the thing which influenced the majority against Mr. Bralley was the feeling of those participating in the election that they were not satisfied with existing conditions. We other members of the council must recognize the fact that we were elected by the voters and are at present simply hired hands, subject to orders from the same authority which placed us in office.

"With this thought in mind, and the frank and sincere desire to co-operate with the majority of the people of Wichita Falls, I would suggest: First, that the public be notified of the existing bonded indebtedness of the city and the amount of money necessary to pay interest and create a sinking fund on these bonds; and then that they be given the proposed budget for the coming year together with the present condition of the funds in the various departments. This will give them an intelligent idea of the money necessary to carry on their present operations for the next year. Those of you who have served on the council are familiar with this, and I assume that the newly elected members of the council are also familiar with this condition, because I notice that he is advocating a reduction in our tax rate.

"I want to make my position clear in this matter of the tax rate, as I shall not be in the city for the next several weeks. I have held, and still hold to the position that Wichita Falls grew so rapidly that it will be necessary to place an unusual tax burden on the property owners of this city in order that the outlying residence districts be given the same municipal improvements which in my judgment they are entitled to. The fact that we took charge of the city government with an overdraft almost as large as the one we now face, I considered and still consider no reflection on the past administration, as I believe that they were organized and set effort to bring some relief to the thousands of homes in Wichita Falls who do not enjoy the usual privileges of citizenship in a well organized city.

"I have analyzed the situation and believe it is to the best interests of Wichita Falls to continue a reasonable municipal development during this time of depression. I have said, and wish to repeat here, that in my judgment the tax rate should be raised. If the majority of the council decide that it is best to do away with our present organizations in the various departments and simply mark time, pursuing a policy of depression and strict economy which will mean the discontinuance of paving, water extensions, sewer extensions and various other municipal developments, I shall have no quarrel with you gentlemen for doing so. My thought has been that it will be much better during this time of depression to burden the taxpayers with a heavy tax load, expending the money among our laboring classes and with our material men at a time when business is dull, and prepare Wichita Falls for a return to more prosperous times, which I am sure every good business man agrees with me will come during the next year or two.

"In discussing the tax rate, I wish you gentlemen would give particular attention to any suggestion made by Mr. Fitts, as I am sure he favoring a reduction in taxes and knowing the present conditions of the city treasury, must have some practical method of having our tax rate reduced. I say this with no desire to pass a political buck, because in my judgment the politics in this campaign closed Saturday night, and I am simply trying to co-operate with Mr. Fitts in giving at a sensible and fair solution of a problem which the voters last Saturday gave him instructions to try and work out. I am sure that the extravagance and unwise application of funds has been made during the past year should not enter into the present discussion because the money has been spent, and whether spent wisely or no, must be paid; and the problem which now faces us is the one which would be included in the financial statement of the several departments and the treasury of the city.

"I hope that you gentlemen will be able to work out a satisfactory solution of the gas situation. Since my return about ten days ago I have attended several conferences and have consulted a number of attorneys, and have tried to take care of the interests of Wichita Falls so that nothing that I might do or say would involve me in any future negotiations. The trade we now have is not satisfactory either to me or to the other members of the council, and less satisfactory to the sure to the consuming public in this or any other city in this state. I sincerely hope that you gentlemen will be able to do something that will give a measure of relief. In this connection I have no recommendation to make, because I know of nothing that can be done at this time, but the developments of the recent lawsuit and the action of the representatives of the gas companies may make it possible during my absence for you gentlemen to make a better trade.

"I find not only as a result of the vote cast last Saturday, but from my conversation with representative men in our city, that there is a feeling that the expense in our engineering department should be reduced. As you gentlemen know, I was responsible for bringing our city engineer, Mr. Montgomery, to this city, and was also responsible for the fixing of his salary. I have concurred in Mr. Curlee's recommendation for the engineering department at this time, but feel that the public which we serve will expect efficient service unless he has the full and friendly co-operation of the men under him.

"In leaving town for a few weeks to take a vacation with my family, it is my sincere wish that the same spirit of co-operation which has existed in the past will continue, and I can see no good reason why the council should not continue in its united effort to give the people of Wichita Falls what, as we see it, they want, and what we are charged under our responsibility of office to give them.

"I hope that each member of the council will have as much luck in administering the affairs of the city as I plan to have in fishing."

"With reference to the fire and police departments, I would suggest that these departments be handled as they have in the past and as the other departments have been handled. I mean by this, give the alderman in charge of his department a rather free hand in the administering of the affairs of his department. I am firmly convinced that the fire department is such that we can stand pat on it as it is today, and would oppose any change in the personnel or the salaries paid to men in the police department. I assume you gentlemen will be governed largely by the recommendation made by Mr. Fitts in selecting a chief of police or anyone else in that department. That you may understand my attitude, I would be inclined to allow Mr. Fitts to select a not only a chief, but the entire personnel of his police department. It will not be possible for him to give the proper that some further investigation be made by the council into the expense of the engineering department; and I have only this suggestion to make with reference to the engineering department, and that is that you get the consent of our engineer to use sand for paving purposes from our local gravel pits. I find that paving laid with this sand is in my judgment good paving, and when properly screened I believe that it will give satisfaction, and I do not think that Mr. Montgomery and his engineers will object to the use of it when properly screened and inspected. If this be done, it will make some saving in the cost of paving to the property owners.
