THOUSANDS PASS BIER OF UNKNOWN DEAD IN CAPITOL

ALL THE WORLD CONTRIBUTES FLOWERS WHICH PILE
MOUNTAIN HIGH.

TRIBUTE LIKE ONE PAID TO MARTYRED PRESIDENTS

Foreign Diplomats Join Throng Of Citizens In An Endless Procession.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Great and small folk moved in endless procession today through the rotunda of the capitol to pay tribute to the unknown dead lying in state there as only martyred presidents have known. The day was set aside for it. All who could spare for groups in the land or for the powers of the world were free to place their floral offerings at its bier.

Hour by hour the heaping flowers about the casket grew mountain high and spread about the vast chamber. Flowers that bloom in France were there and flowers brought in all their beauty from South Africa, 3,000 miles away. There was not a minute of the day unclaimed by those who would do honor to the dead. There was no organization of veterans or of patriotic people over the land unrepresented.

Among the most formal of the pilgrimages to this shrine of patriotic valor was that planned by the British embassy. From the embassy building there was arranged a parade headed by Arthur J. Palmer, head of the British delegation to Washington and former prime minister, and Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador. Nearly a score of automobiles formed the procession and two motor trucks carried the flowers.

A wreath from King George was among them. The king, acting for the king, it bore the legend: "As Unknown, and yet well known."

"As dying, and behold, we live." There was a wreath, too, from Canada, its inscription saying: "But that which put the glory of grace into all that he did, was that he did of pure love to his country." That from Premier Lloyd George said: "Nameless, yet his name liveth evermore."

And that from India said: "They never die who die to make life." There were wreaths also from Australia and New Zealand and all of these except that from India were wreaths of flowers growing on English soil, brought over as living plants.

From the Grand Army of United Veterans of Canada came a wreath of white ribbon across which was placed by Senator Richardson, oldest living wearer of the Victoria Cross. There were flowers from New Zealand from the Army and Navy War Veterans of Canada came a memorial wreath, woven of poppies that bloom in Flanders fields and besides all these flowers from Great Britain sent to pay homage went Earl Bessie, admiral of the fleet; Air Vice Marshal Higgins and others, and a wreath of flowers which this unknown soldier died were great.

The flowers actually were handled by his comrades of the British service, men who also fought in France or on the sea in the great struggle of 1914-1918.

Golden Ribbons of Light
Dawn found a brilliant November sun bursting its way through the clouds of yesterday's storm, and bringing the golden light of the morning through the windows high above the simple bier in the dim, silent chamber. All through the night five armies of flowers were about the catafalque in the center of the great granite circle of the rotunda, watching with the dead comrades as they will watch until he is carried away to sleep out time in the quiet Virginia hills.

The flowers laid on the casket last night had been set to each side of the bier. Again it lay in the simple glory of the great flag that is a soldier's winding sheet. Again the cluster of French blossoms withered and yellow, was the only token on the blended coloring of the banner of freedom, save for the dash of white ribbon across the center, worked and laid in place by Mrs. Harding, and the shield of the nation for which he died laid reverently above the still here by the president.

Outside, as the day came on the sun drove the last sullen cloud away over the distant hills, to leave glorious, rain-washed sweep of blue, shot with golden light above the dome and the wakening city. Last touches were put to the rope-lined aisle through which thousands whose one claim to fame is that they, too, are simple Americans such as he who lies in such state as emperors and kings may not know. Straight to the eastward ran the narrow, roped way, marines in olive green uniforms, bayonets fixed on their rifles, bayonets lined each side. On each man's shoulder swung the looped cord of the sash, and on his chest the badge of a marine regiment decorated by France for high valor on French soil.

Gradually the roped aisle leading on up the great steps to the closed doors of the rotunda filled with folk come to pass by the bier with bowed heads. The steps were where the steps sweep up to the senate chamber, another group gathered about a floral garland, the first of the many to be set in place. From the other side a double squad of soldiers from the engineer barracks, overstepped against a long vigil in the gold of the great chamber behind the dead, with fixed bayonets, moved up the main steps and into the hall. They were going to change guard about the casket as it had been changed at short intervals through the night, as it (Continued on Page 2, Column 4.)

TESTS NEAR MINEOLA AT INTERESTING DEPTH

MINEOLA, TEXAS, Nov. 10.—Never in the history of east Texas has there been the interest in oil development as at this time. Three tests are under way near this town and one of the wells is being watched with peculiar interest, due to the encouraging strata of formation which has been reached. Concerning the well of the Golden Oil Co. the following statement of fact was issued today by geologists, who have the log of the well. The Golden Oil company No. 1 Jones, two miles south of Golden and six miles northwest of Mineola in Wood county reached the top of the Austin chalk at 2,228 feet. This fact is considered somewhat significant. The test is now drilling at about 2,500 feet. The Woodbine sands will probably be reached between 3,000 and 3,100 feet and the result is being awaited with much interest.

AMERICAN PLANS FOR LIMITATION CLOSELY GUARDED

KNOWN THAT PRACTICAL FORMULA HAS BEEN AGREED UPON.

WILL DEAL WITH THINGS AS THEY ARE

American Proposals Apparently Constitute Only Suggestions
Prepared.

By Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Proposals to be made by the American delegation to the conference on limitation of armament, apparently constitute the only suggestion prepared in advance as to ways and means of curtailing naval expenditures without sacrifice by any power of national security. Great Britain is not known to have worked out any formula; Japan is awaiting the American suggestion; France and Italy are more concerned with land forces than naval.

Two days before the conference opens the American proposals remain a closely guarded secret. It is doubtful if any but President Harding, the four American delegates and possibly the highest officers and officials of the navy department know exactly what the proposals are. This much is known: A definite formula for agreement on limitation of naval forces has been reached by Secretary Hughes and the representatives of the American delegation. The formula is an entirely practical one. It does not attempt to state any general rule which would apply to all nations of naval forces between the powers. It does not attempt to fix a common denominator by which all nations would be judged. It is a plan, building or authorized, of naval complements, of the potential naval significance of merchant marines and of other concrete, extensible and adaptable proposals.

Washington is filled, however, with conjectures as to what the proposals are. There are almost as many theories as there are men to talk about it, and their aim is legion. The expert on the Japanese delegation, Admiral Kato, head of the Japanese delegation, has been reported to have said that the Japanese are entering the conference and his willingness to accept a fixed ratio of battleships and battle cruisers. The Japanese are entering the conference and his willingness to accept a fixed ratio of battleships and battle cruisers.

WAR-TIME CROOKS AND SHARPS ARE TO ESCAPE PENALTY

By HARRY HUNT.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—War-time profiteers, crooks and sharps who defrauded the government of millions of dollars in connection with war construction and supplies, unless they already have been indicted or convicted, will face no prosecution.

They may later find themselves defendants in suits brought by the government to recover money paid on fraudulent deals or illegal contracts, but these can be only civil suits which will put no one behind prison bars.

Expiration of the three-year limit within which any criminal action, not capital, must be instituted, has shut the door to prosecution.

Except perhaps in a few scattered cases in which frauds against the government were committed in adjusting war contracts following the signing of the armistice, the government by inaction, has forfeited its right to prosecute and punish.

The department of justice will not give out any estimate as to the number of cases in which immunity is bestowed because of the inactivity of that department in beginning prosecution.

FIGHTING SPIRIT OF DEMOCRATS PLEASING TO CHAIRMAN HULL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Results of yesterday's elections have given evidence that the spirit of the party is still militant. Chairman Cordell Hull of the democratic national committee said today. His statement follows:

"Fighting democrats, who captured numerous republican outposts in Tuesday's election have given evidence that the spirit of the party is still militant. Although this was not a general election, a conservative interpretation of the election held indicate that the people are far enough away from the mist and confusion of war conditions and influences to see the merits of democratic administration, to realize the great benefit so generally enjoyed thereunder; to see and become convinced of the increasing demerits of the present republican administration, and to realize that the comprehensive program of reconstruction proposed by the democratic administration following the armistice was obstructed and its chief measure defeated by a republican congress during 1919 and 1920, with the disastrous result to business which has inevitably followed. They indicate a general trend from the re-

PLAN MOVEMENT TO ALTER CONSTITUTION TO PERMIT ZONING

Civic organizations of Wichita Falls will inaugurate a movement shortly to amend the state constitution so as to permit zoning ordinances to be enacted by Texas cities. It was learned Thursday. The matter will come up for attention at the next meeting of the business council on November 18, and the co-operation of other civic bodies here will probably be enlisted.

Necessity for a constitutional amendment arises from the recent decisions of the state supreme court holding that cities cannot bar any business establishment from a residence district without showing that it is nuisance.

The effect of this ruling is that a grocery store, filling station or almost any other establishment can be installed in the heart of a residence section, regardless of objections of neighboring property owners.

It is believed here that a movement to amend the constitution so that cities would be permitted to enforce zoning would have hearty support, and it is considered probable that Wichita Falls will take the lead in this movement.

The matter cannot be remedied in any other way than by amending the constitution. City Attorney Mann said Thursday.

As further attractions for the day a football game has been staged between Decatur and Graham and a wrestling match between Pat Brown and George Stephens. At 8 o'clock an elaborate banquet will be spread for the 200 American Legion boys by the Daughters of the Confederacy. Every effort will be made to make this occasion the greatest event in the history of Graham.

ILLNESS FATAL TO VALLEY'S VETERAN DISPATCHER HERE

H. E. Darling, aged 59, for 15 years in the employ of the Fort Worth & Denver and Wichita Valley here and at Chil'ress, died at 5 p. m. Wednesday at his home here. Mr. Darling had been in failing health for some time.

Funeral services will be held Friday at Chil'ress, whether the body was forwarded by Merkle & Lunn Thursday afternoon on No. 1. Local Masons furnished an escort to the train, and Chil'ress Masons will be in charge of the funeral services at that place.

Mr. Darling was a Master Mason and a member of the chapter and council at Chil'ress and of the commandery at Memphis. Mr. Darling was known as an exceptionally efficient worker, and in his long period of service for the Denver and Valley made a record equaled by few. His kindly and genial manner and his unfailing good nature made him beloved of all his associates, and there was much grief when it became known that he had succumbed to his illness.

IOWA PARK WOMAN DIES FROM BURNS FROM EXPLOSION

IOWA PARK, Nov. 10.—Mrs. J. W. Busby, who was badly burned in a fire which resulted from an explosion at her home Tuesday night, died here at 11 o'clock Wednesday night.

The fourteen-year-old boy, oldest of four children, who were also more or less seriously burned at the same time, is in a very critical condition at the Clark and Clark sanitarium. The three other children have been removed from the sanitarium to the home of Mrs. S. J. Hood, and neighbors are caring for them.

The fire, which resulted from an explosion which took place when fumes from a mixture of gasoline, carbolic acid and carbon which Mr. Busby was pouring from a container into a bucket ignited. Mr. Busby had brought the mixture near the door, on the gallery, in order to see, and when the explosion occurred and he tried to pick the container from the gallery it dropped into the door instead and the fire spread over the house in an instant. Mrs. Busby's fatal burns resulted when she made her way back into the house to make sure that all of the children, who were in it when the explosion occurred, had got out. They had, but were all painfully burned about the face and hands, and the eldest boy suffered serious burns above the waist and arms. Mr. Busby was not injured.

GRAHAM TO OBSERVE ARMISTICE DAY WITH FITTING CEREMONIES

GRAHAM, TEXAS, Nov. 10.—Graham is preparing to honor the World War veterans of Young county in a most fitting manner Friday, Nov. 11. The entire business district will be closed for the day. A memorial service will be held at 10 o'clock, following which the entire populace will form a grand parade and march through the principal streets of the city.

The parade will be led by 200 ex-service men in uniform, followed by the county and city officials, sons and daughters of the Confederacy and more than 1,000 school children.

The Graham chamber of commerce is offering attractive cash prizes to the best decorated hostess man's float, the best decorated private car, the best decorated class car representing the school and the largest percentage in town of any school grade. These prizes are causing some lively interest and sharp competition. Practically every business man in town will enter the contest for the best decorated float, and more than 100 private cars will compete in that department, while the contest is waxing warm among the teachers of the public school to see who can muster the largest attendance and decorate the most attractive class car.

As further attractions for the day a football game has been staged between Decatur and Graham and a wrestling match between Pat Brown and George Stephens. At 8 o'clock an elaborate banquet will be spread for the 200 American Legion boys by the Daughters of the Confederacy. Every effort will be made to make this occasion the greatest event in the history of Graham.

CHICAGO EMPLOYING PRINTERS TO ADOPT FORTY-EIGHT HOUR WEEK

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Two hundred job printing shops in Chicago will change from the 48-hour week to a 44-hour week next Monday night unless the unions agree to a wage reduction, the employers announced this morning.

The print shops affected now work on a 44-hour week and printers receive $46.50. This they asked to be raised to $48 weekly. The shops countered with the proposition to cut wages to $40 and maintain the present time or to keep the same with a 48-hour week.

Message No. 5
—From the P. B. M. Co. to its Employes
This is the fifth and last of a series of five messages from this store to its employes.
And now, in the last of these talks, just a word about price-sincerity in its relation to this store.
We like to feel that this is something more than just a store, that it can be counted as a Wichita Falls institution; that it is a shopping center for this community and for those in many other communities whose wants cannot be fully met at their local stores; that it is a popular institution, serving the whole citizenship.
We like to feel that this store has the confidence and good will of the public; that those who trade with us do so because they believe, first, that their reasonable wants have been anticipated; second, that they will be rendered the service due them as customers; and finally, that they will receive full value for what they spend.
One purpose of these messages has been to help our employes to take our viewpoint of this relationship.
We could have written each of our employes a letter setting forth these messages; we chose this way because we wanted to give these messages all possible emphasis.
To those of the public who have had the patience to follow these messages from day to day, we can say that we are willing for you to put us to the test.

AN INTERVIEW WITH CHARLIE CHAPLIN ON MOVIES, EUROPE AND THE LIFE HEREAFTER

By JAMES W. DEAN.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—"Well, Charlie, old son, how do you like London Bridge?" I says as I sits down to hearts of lettuce and broken breasts of chicken with Charlie Chaplin at the Biltmore.

Although this is one of Chaplin's latest photographs it does not show how gray his hair has become.

"It's still falling down," says Charlie.

"And I understand you're to be made an earl or a lord or something," I continued.

"Oh, Lord! Charlie," he answers "I don't know whether he means yes or no by that but I goes on with the chatter."

"I hear you been looking up your family tree," I remark.

"Not much I might find rotten roots," Charlie replies.

"Anyway, you're at the top of the tree," I says, thinking that flattery will unlock him for a column or two.

"Yes, and the top is a point and it's doggone hard work sitin' there," is his comeback.

"How do you feet get that way?" I asks.

"By contract," he answers.

"I see what you mean. You're engaged to Princess Mary?" "She hasn't proposed yet," he answers.

"That stumps me and so I go into the polite vernacular for an interview with Mr. Charles Chaplin, the most famous man in the world. The following statement by Chaplin is built from answers to a number of questions.

American Films Too Simple. "Europe looks upon the American pictures as being too simple, child-like puerile. They are tired of bedroom and panty pictures, this sex triangle and sweet and stuff. They say they are sick of our maudlin sentiment."

The Europeans say the American psychology lacks subtlety. They believe they tell the truth in pictures, that they paint life as it really is.

"They believe, even in Europe, that their pictures have the stories and that ours have better technique. There is much in that point of view."

"I shall write my own story for my next picture. I do not believe any story can be transferred to the screen without losing much of its merit."

The photoplay must create its own art. Writing for the screen will develop into a distinct field for writers.

"Censorship would not harm the photoplay if it did not harm truth. Let us present life as it is, with its joys and its sorrows, its goodness and its sins. If it's the truth, morals will take care of themselves."

I always welcome intelligent criticism of my work. I find some of it very helpful.

Doesn't stoop to audience. "Producers have been wrong in their attitude of stooping to the level of the audience. The intelligence of the photoplay patron is much higher than it is credited with being by many in the film business."

"I have found that when I have pleased myself with my acting, have done what I wanted to do for the sake of art alone, I have pleased my audiences."

"I do not think I'll ever return to the stage. It places the actor in too intimate a position with his audience for him to do his best work."

"Shakespeare cannot yet be adapted to the screen. The screen is too erudite.

"My next picture for First National will be a comedy unless it becomes a tragedy by falling to be comic. Every comedian is tempted to do tragedy. Some day I may attempt a serious photoplay, but for the present I shall confine my work to comedies."

Yes, I shall use the custard pie again if the situation demands it. There's art in the use of a custard pie, if it is used at the right time.

Europe Just Like Hollywood. "My European trip wasn't so much of a vacation. I could hardly realize that I was out of America."

"I saw Mary and Doug for about five minutes. I believe it is their intention to film a picture in Europe. They do not plan to stay permanently on the other side as reported."

"H. G. Wells is of the opinion that the photoplay holds great possibilities for artistic development but that it has not yet advanced to a high place among the arts."

"Pola Negri possesses one of the most vivacious personalities of any one I know. Her vivacity is more evident off the screen than on."

Chaplin's Creed. "Chaplin is looked upon as the clown of the world, the jester who points only to the comical as he turns the pages of life. I remember that in 'The Kid' he had burlesqued Heaven and so I wanted to know his attitude toward death and the hereafter. I put the question."

"I believe there is so much in this life, so much of joy and happiness, that if we live to get the most that life has to give the hereafter will take care of itself."

That was his answer.

Personality. "Chaplin evades formal affairs. He takes one lump of sugar in his coffee."

"He employs his left hand for a spoon and his right for a knife. He draws with his left hand and writes with his right."

"He refuses to say how many proposals he received in Europe."

He doesn't want a home in any one place. He wants to live all over the world.

A third of Chaplin's hair is gray. A twin furrow creases the forehead between the eyes when he is in deep thought.

It appears to be in far better spirit than when he left for Europe six weeks ago. Then he was rather tired and unresponsive. Today he is affable, ready to talk and to use the idiom of the day, full of pep.

His Diffidence. No other man of comparable position whom this writer has ever met is as diffident as Chaplin upon introduction. There is almost a school boy shyness about him that for the moment makes you feel that you are famous and he is obscure. There is more sincerity and genuineness in his greeting than one would expect from one whose hand has been clasped by thousands.

I saw Chaplin when he was introduced to a youth of 20, who is a hidden hero worshipper, who was plainly embarrassed at standing in the presence of so famous a man. Within a minute the youth was entirely at ease, talking to Chaplin as though he had known him all his life.

His Sensitiveness. I was with Chaplin when a man told him a wounded Italian soldier had set his spine in position by reaching for a photograph of Chaplin after the doctor had given up hope of saving him. Tears welled to the brims of Chaplin's eyes. A corner of his lips was caught between his teeth. Something bobbed up in his throat. He could not speak.

Then I told Chaplin that I had received a photograph of Jackie Coogan, his youthful co-star in 'The Kid' and that Jackie was wearing a Chaplin moustache in his next picture. His eyes danced at that. A characteristic smile lit up his face.

"That's great," he said, "a fine tribute for the boy is a great actor."

ENDEAVORERS TO PRAY FOR PEACE AT SUNRISE MEETING

There will be a sunrise prayer meeting held Friday morning, November 11, by the Christian Endeavorers of this city. The Endeavorers will meet at the First Presbyterian church and leave at 6:30 promptly for Havener park, where the services will be held. The purpose of the meeting is to offer prayers for the disarmament conference which will convene on that date in Washington, D. C., endeavoring to reduce the armament of the various nations of the world that is so much talked of for the past months.

This meeting will be attended by the Endeavorers of the various churches of the city as they will all over the world for this specific purpose. After the services are closed a report will be sent to the district president, who will gather this information from all over the Wichita district, which in turn will be wired to the southwestern headquarters at Dallas, who in turn will also forward the number of meetings and the number of young people attending to President Harding at Washington.

The Christian Endeavor slogan set at the July world's convention at New York in July was "A Warless World by 1923" and are working with all their might to help bring this about. It will be remembered by many people that some years ago their slogan set was "A Saloonless Nation by 1922" and they hope that their efforts will be at least as well realized as the former one. The Endeavorers are organized in about 90 different denominations and in every civilized nation in the world and in many places where civilization is little known of.

After the services are concluded, those present will enjoy a breakfast cooked and served out in the open. A thoroughly good program will be rendered, including special music and a number of impromptu speeches. It is urged that all those interested in the Endeavor work will be present and not be later than 6:30 in leaving the church to get the full benefit of the services.

ROADS EXPECTED TO ASK CUT IN SHOP CRAFT WAGES

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Decision on the date when announcements of wage reductions will be posted by eastern railroads was to be reached at a meeting of the Association of Railway Executives here today. Another meeting at which problems involved in the proposed reduction by 10 percent of the wages of train service workers were to be considered, was to be held by the eastern presidents' conference. It was forecast the wages of men in the shop crafts and of unskilled laborers would be cut to the going rate for the same class of work in other industries.

ONLY TWO PERMITS GIVEN IN TEN YEARS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—American oil interests have obtained but two petroleum prospecting permits in the Dutch East Indies during the past ten years, according to a report to the commerce department from Trade Commissioner Kowler. Out of a total of 4,965 applications made for these permits between the years 1910 and 1920, the commissioner said, American subsidiary companies were granted only one in each of the years 1915 and 1916, although during the ten-year period 884 licenses were granted. Japanese interests, he added, were reported to be watching closely developments in the oil fields of the Dutch East Indies and to intend demanding participation in the development of the fields on an equality with other non-Dutch capital.

FUNERAL SERVICE HELD LATE WEDNESDAY FOR FONTAINE HARRISON LEWIS

The funeral of Fontaine Harrison Lewis was conducted at Rosemont cemetery Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock by his pastor, Rev. W. A. Betts. A large company of his neighbors and friends were in attendance and several Confederate veterans. The old soldier looked well in his shroud of Confederate gray as his comrades and friends viewed his calm face in the casket for the last time. His favorite hymn, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," was sung.

Mr. Lewis was born in Humphreys county, Tenn., March 24, 1842, and entered upon his eternal reward on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, November 9, 1921, at his country home 10 miles north of this city. He was married at Fountain City, Ark., February 8, 1871, to Mrs. Louisa Aubrey Colburn, formerly of Montgomery county, Tenn., who preceded him to the grave only one week. On November 8, 1875, a daughter, Pauline, was born to them and died July 31, 1878. Elvira Walker, a son of his niece, was fourteen years ago adopted as his heir, and in young manhood now survives his fond foster parents.

Joe Branson, a neighbor, wrote the following tribute which was read at the graveside by the officiating minister: "Mr. F. H. Lewis, a Confederate veteran and highly respected citizen, has been a resident of this community for 37 years. This honored follower of Lee saw the rise and fall of the Confederacy and when the smoke and carnage of battle had rolled away and he saw his beloved Virginia scarred by war and her historic valleys followed by the graves of her dead, the same intrepid spirit that ever dominated his impulsive nature led him to new fields of fortune and adventure in Texas, where he had lived ever since.

"Uncle Harry," as he is familiarly known, was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, for many years. He was a regular attendant at its services until declining age and ill health made it impossible. He is survived by one brother who lives in Palmer, Tenn., and a sister residing in Florida. "Dear veteran head that bows today Beneath the snows of age, We'll ever keep your memory bright On history's living page."

England Suffered Twelve Years Ago

"About 12 years ago I suffered with a severe spell of malaria and afterward was much troubled with rheumatism," said Mr. L. P. England, a reliable citizen of Sparta, Mo. "I tried many remedies recommended for rheumatism," he continued, "but failed to get any permanent relief. I saw an advertisement for Mendenhall's Number 40, purchased a bottle and found so much relief that I continued taking it and am well of the rheumatism. I keep 'Number 40' in the house at all times as I do not wish to be without it."

"Number 40" is recommended for blood troubles from any cause; chronic constipation, rheumatism, indigestion, stomach and liver troubles, eczema, skin troubles, etc. Acts on liver, removing waste matter from the system, thus cleansing the blood of all impurities, and doing away with the need of cathartic pills and tablets. AMERICAN JEWS EXPRESS HOPE FOR UNIVERSAL PEACE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—A hope that the armament conference will result in an era of universal peace was expressed to President Harding today on behalf of American Jews in a telegram from Adolf Kraus of Chicago, president of the B'Nai Brith. Members of the order and Jews everywhere, Mr. Kraus said, would "watch with anxious hearts" the progress of the negotiations.

ILLINOIS MINERS TO ASK RESIGNATION OF JOHN L. LEWIS

PEORIA, ILL., Nov. 10.—That the resignation of John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers, will be demanded by the Illinois miners, now in convention here, is indicated in a resolution that will be brought before the convention today. This resolution will be introduced by the Nokomis local union and will be supported by the Panama, Girard and a half dozen other local unions.

William Green, secretary-treasurer of the international organization, arrived here today and addressed the Illinois mine workers in defense of the actions of the recent international convention, most severely criticized by the Illinois miners, chief of these being the Howat case in connection with the Kansas industrial court controversy and the increased assessment levied on individual miners.

WICHITA HIGH SCHOOL READY FOR DEVOL GAME TOMORROW

SQUAD IN GOOD SHAPE AND ONLY ONE CHANGE IS PLANNED BY VINER

A light workout as final preparation for tomorrow's game at Athletic park with Devol was scheduled today for the Red and White. The highest man on the squad in the best of shape and he will send in practically the same lineup at the start of the contest as faced Henrietta a week ago Saturday. Each man in the contest gave a good account of himself in that game and Viner is contemplating only one change.

HOW TO PLAY GOLF BY JESSE P. GUILFORD Amateur Golf Champion of the United States.

The Grip.

The most important part of the stroke is to grip the club properly, and, strangely, this is the step in the learning of the game. The beginner, therefore, should give particular attention to this feature. In any case, it is a good idea to adopt a method of grip which seems easiest to him and give it a thorough try-out before trying the other grips.

The most popular grip is the Vardon grip, which is also known as the overlapping grip. Those players using the Vardon grip may not all agree on just the position of the thumb and fingers, but the principle of the grip is the same, whether the thumbs are both on the top of the shaft or at the side of the hand. In this grip the left hand is placed on the club with the left thumb on top of the shaft, having the thumb on the top of the shaft. The grip is in the fingers and not in the palm of the hand. The right hand is placed on the club with the right thumb on top of the shaft, having the thumb on the top of the shaft. The grip is in the fingers and not in the palm of the hand.

The line, with the exception of Shaw at end, will remain intact unless Viner decides on a change at the last minute. Since the Henrietta game the team has been drilled in a strong offensive way. The defense has been all that could be desired as the amount of points scored against them will testify. Their line has been consistent only once—and that time by the district champions. As a team, it has been purely a defensive one all season. They have been content to let a touchdown or two and have invariably held their opponents when the occasion demanded.

WEST TEXAS MAY HAVE EIGHT CLUBS IN 1922

STAMFORD, TEXAS, Nov. 9.—The Stamford chamber of commerce is in receipt of a letter from the Young Men's Business League of Ballinger inviting a committee to a meeting to be held in Ballinger on November 14 for the purpose of discussing the west Texas baseball situation.

It is generally known that the question of an eight-town league instead of a four-town league, which now exists, is under general consideration, and this question will be under discussion at the Ballinger meeting. The following is the letter received from the Ballinger organization:

The president of the West Texas baseball league is calling a meeting of the officials of the league to be held in Ballinger on November 14, in conjunction with a meeting of the west Texas chamber of commerce.

SLATED FOR NEW BERTH

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 10.—A violent shake-up of the Pirates is being planned by the owners of the club this winter and many familiar faces will be among the missing when the 1922 season gets under way.

The debacle of 1921 dealt Manager Gibson and Barney Dreyfuss a crushing blow when, after leading in the race for the greater part of the season, the club faltered in the stretch and the Giants romped home winners.

All kinds of rumors have been afloat in the Smoky City since the season closed and the failure of the majority of the players to train properly has been given as one of the principal reasons for the club's downfall.

Yale is the only unbeaten member of the "big three" but her schedule thus far does not begin to compare with those undertaken by Princeton and Harvard.

SPORTS SHOTS by Paul W. Barkin

A Season of Upsets. A couple of days ago we ventured the statement that the Westerners were superior to the Easterners this year on the gridiron and we believe that the big majority of football fans and critics are of the same opinion.

After reading accounts of the bigger games last Saturday, it would seem that Notre Dame, Iowa, Yale, Cornell, Navy, Centre and California have the best claim to recognition for the title, but there would be some sort of cloud attached to the claim of each.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Johnny Buff, world's champion bantamweight, will defend his title tonight against Jack Sharkey in a round bout. INSIST THAT FORD REVEAL HIS PLANS BEFORE THE DEAL

GOVERNMENT WANTS TO KNOW FUTURE OF MUSCLE SHOALS.

FEAR PROPOSITION IS LOADED AT BOTH ENDS

Expected That Contract, When Signed, Will Have Strong String to It.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Just what does Henry Ford plan to do with all the power that will be at his disposal should the government accept his $100,000,000 offer for the Muscle Shoals hydro-electric property? Uncertainty on this question probably has more to do with the conclusion of the negotiations for acquisition of the gigantic power project by the Detroit manufacturer than any other one thing and, although it may approach less material to say so, the administration is going to insist on Ford revealing his purpose before it signs on the dotted line. Moreover, it may be said with assurance, that this contract, when signed, will have a strong and reliable string tied to it, sufficiently stout to hold Mr. Ford to the written as well as the unwritten terms.

Republican politicians have about come to the conclusion that this Muscle Shoals proposition is loaded at both ends. When the project was first conceived, at the beginning of the war, it was designed for the manufacture of nitrates essential to the production of high explosives from dependence upon the natural and would relieve the United States supply, obtained from Chile. The republicans gained control of congress about the time the war came to an abrupt end and before it could be demonstrated what the plant could do in the way of quantity production. The Muscle Shoals project looked like a weak spot in the armor and it was vehemently attacked by the republicans as "a pork barrel proposition, put over by democrats," as "a public scandal and shame," "unfeasible and impractical." Work was stopped and efforts made to junk the property, as was done with so many other of the war-time projects.

Meanwhile, however, the farmers of the country had evinced interest in it, seeing in the Muscle Shoals plant one which would supply them with the necessary ingredients to the various fertilizers. Their protests stopped the junking program but were not sufficiently potent to compel congress to complete the plant. The proposition was in this condition last summer when Henry Ford submitted his offer which contemplated competition of the project and lease of the property to the Detroit manufacturer for a term of 100 years at a rental which will yield the government a return of a hundred million dollars, or the approximate amount of its investment. None of the other governmental "pork barrels" have been disposed of at such advantageous terms and there is every reason to believe that had the offer been submitted by Schwab, Duponts, Morgan interests, United States Steel Company or practically any other aggregation of capital it would have been accepted as soon as the contract could have been drawn.

With Ford, however, it is different. He is a sort of capitalistic Ishmaelite. In the first place he owns, controls and operates his own properties without deference to the wishes of big business. He pays his laborers higher wages than any other similar factory and cuts prices on his products without consulting his competitors. More recently, just while the combined railroad owners of the country were demanding a large subsidy, he took over a defunct and delapidated railroad and almost overnight turned a deficit into a profit. Big business insists Ford won't "play the game" and admits it is more or less afraid of him.

The republican party hasn't any more use for Ford than has big business. Nominally a republican in politics he was the democratic candidate for senator in Michigan in 1918 and it took half a million dollars of republican money and a vast amount of ballot juggling to keep him out of that seat. Besides big business and the republican party can be counted on to get the same general slant on most any proposition.

There is no doubt that Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals has been looked at askance by republican leaders in congress and the responsible officials in President Harding's cabinet. In the first place it gives the lie to the oft repeated declarations relative to the worthlessness of Muscle Shoals. If it is worth a hundred million dollars to a man generally reputed to be worth that much and more and thus financially competent it is going to be impossible to sell it for less without a scandal which would rock the confidence which the country has in the business ability and integrity of the republican party and, it has been hinted in some quarters that was Ford's game in making the offer; that he never expected to get it himself but intended to see that the man or men who do pay a fair price for the property.

However, the general presumption is that Ford is in earnest and, if so, control by him of approximately $60,000 horse power, which it has been estimated can be produced at Muscle Shoals, together with his genius for organization and quantity production would make him a dangerous factor industrially. It has been suggested that he might utilize a portion of his surplus power to produce aluminum and with proximity to vast supplies of bauxite ores he might seriously impair the return and value of stock in the American Aluminum corporation, in which, it has been charged, much of the Mellon fortune is invested.

When there has been a hint that men of science, associated with Ford, have perfected a wireless telephone and that he has an ambition to see one of these in every home in the country. If so, and he were in a position to supply the demand, it is probable that stock in the American Bell Telephone Company would hardly be worth as much as it is today.

Then there is the "infant dye industry," the fertilizer trust, the automobile industry and probably half a score of others which would breathe a bit easier if the announcement could be made that Secretary of War Weeks has been unable to reach an agreement with Henry Ford, has rejected the offer and called for new bids.

Beat All They Can.—People are coming here from all parts of the country to eat as much as possible while their crowns, which have reduced greatly in value, still buy good meals. One restaurant owner reported serving more than 3,000 lunches in a day, instead of the average of 500.

Plan Canadian Tour.—LONDON.—A number of business men are planning to leave next spring for a tour of the manufacturing centers of Canada. It is intended to promote a commercial alliance between the dominion and the mother country.

HIGHWAY FUND TO GIVE EMPLOYMENT TO LARGE NUMBER

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 10.—Approval by President Harding of the federal highway bill, which passed congress last week, will make $75,000,000 immediately available for 6-operative road construction in the various states and is expected to aid materially in solving the unemployment situation. In fact this last proved a dominating factor and brought about an earlier agreement between the divergent opinions in the house and senate to bear or appears to be designed than otherwise would have been possible.

Administration of this fund will be under the direction of the bureau of public roads, department of agriculture. It is allocated to the several states on the basis of population as shown by the 1920 census, copied with the mileage of state roads as shown by the survey prepared by the postoffice department last June.

Before any money may be paid out to the states the amount allotted must be matched by an equal sum which will be under the direct control of the state highway department. Moreover, the state highway department must designate the highway on which it is proposed to spend the money to complete road to be constructed and whether or not it is part of a general highway system. In the event the federal bureau believes the road contemplated will not serve for the traffic which it will be called upon to bear or appears to be designed to serve private rather than public interests a certificate is refused and the money denied. There is nothing to prevent the state's commission from building the road but it cannot use federal funds for that purpose.

It has been estimated that the $75,000 will provide employment for from 200,000 to 350,000 men during the period of six months. In addition it is anticipated it will stimulate other road building projects designed to connect up with the federal roads and thus materially increase the number of men employed.

EMPLOYEES OF FORD'S RAILROAD ARE PROUD OF THEIR POSITIONS AND BOAST OF ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Henry Ford's railroad is the talk of the world because it is making money while it satisfies public employees. NEA Service sent John W. Raper and Bob Dorman to tell the story of the D. T. & I. with pen and camera. This is the fourth article.

By JOHN W. RAPER
TOURING ON HENRY FORD'S RAILROAD, Nov. 10.—You find a wonderful spirit among the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton railroad men. They are proud of the little road. They boast about what they have done and brag about what they are going to do. They dare other roads to equal their performance.

Of course, you can't speak with any degree of accuracy as to what is in the men's minds and about motives, but I am convinced there is something besides high wages in the loyalty of the men to the company, or rather to Henry Ford, for you hear his name and not the word "company" when you talk to D. T. & I. employes.

Time and again men said, "He's white, Henry Ford is. He wants us to live." He's willing to split it up with us. I hope he makes a million a day. "He believes we're human beings." "A man's a man to Henry Ford."

"We're Doing Things"
All the D. T. & I. men take an interest not only in their own work but in the work in all the departments. "Oh, we're doing things on this road," said a freight brakeman. "Did you know we landed a theatrical company? Take 'em from Lima to Springfield. What'd you know about that?"

And then he went on to explain, "You know, the only time a theatrical company used to notice this road was when they kidded us from the stage. They wouldn't ride on us."

Henry Ford has practically wiped out all department lines that are so strictly drawn on other railroads. On any other railroad a man in one department wouldn't consider for a moment attending to any business in another department and the head of one department wouldn't think of trying to climb up and over the high stone wall of another department.

Henry Ford's Theory
"Mr. Ford believes we are all working for the railroad, not for a department," said one of the general officers. "Consequently all of us are called upon at times to do different kinds of work."

"Officials of this company have titles more for the convenience of the public which may have business with the road. These titles are not used in our correspondence. When a man on the road writes a letter to Superintendent Kinney, he addresses it, 'W. H. Kinney, Springfield, O.," not 'W. H. Kinney, Superintendent.' Even the letters to Mr. Ford are not addressed to 'Henry Ford, President,' but 'Henry Ford, Dearborn, Mich.' Mr. Ford doesn't believe in titles."

Tomorrow the Times will tell something about the finances of the D. T. & I.

Other railroad magnates have their private engines and private cars, why not Henry Ford? But Ford's private engine is not a symbol of luxury, but of efficiency. When Ford was looking over the system, he saw four junked engines, Nos. 6, 7, 8 and 9. Out of the junk he made one good engine, No. 7, and designated it for his very own. But No. 7 doesn't lie idle when Ford isn't traveling. Instead, she pulls passenger trains. For Ford has no tolerance for idle rolling stock. Above you see No. 7, her owner and a map of the D. T. & I.

SEYMOUR ENTHUSIASTIC OVER SALE OF BONDS FOR IRRIGATION PROJECT

SEYMOUR, TEXAS, Nov. 9.—Hon. Curtis Hancock, chairman of the state highway committee of the State Automobile association; also H. P. Sammons, business manager of the association, were guests at the regular mid-week luncheon of the Seymour chamber of commerce here today in the interest of the F. P. P. highway which will connect Fort Worth, via Seymour, and Los Vegas, N. M. Addresses made by them were received with considerable interest and the eloquence and wit of Hon. Curtis Hancock met with marked applause.

Great enthusiasm was expressed at this meeting over the fact that the four and one-half million dollars of Wichita irrigation bonds had been sold, and that work on this immensely important enterprise would begin in December, especially inasmuch as the work involves the impounding of the largest artificial body of water in Texas and its southern boundary will be within about seven miles of Seymour. Mr. Hancock took occasion to make special mention of the untiring and Herculean efforts of Hon. J. A. Kemp in connection with this big enterprise and predicted that a monument would be erected in recognition of his splendid and unselfish service.

AMERICA WILL END FAR EAST WOBBLING AT THE CONFERENCE

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
Written Expressly for NEA Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—A radical change of front on the part of the United States with regard to her policy in the Far East will make itself felt for the first time at the arms conference here, according to an important official of the Harding administration.

From an attitude of purely academic protest when the rights of her nationals abroad are assailed, America is expected to serve notice on the nations gathered here that a new rule of conduct, not so passive, will guide her actions in the future.

England is likewise expected to make known a similar, though less drastic, shift of policy, she having less far to go than the United States to arrive at the same stand.

As a result of this long step for America, and the shorter one for Britain, the two nations may fetch up very close together, at least on Pacific problems.

America's Platform
The American delegation's China platform, at the conference here, the same official indicated, will be First: China is the concern of all the powers, not of any one power or group of powers.

Two: The peace of the world must be preserved by insisting upon the right international relationships in the Orient.

Three: A solution of the problems of the Orient must be sought through China.

Four: China's sovereignty must remain unimpaired and her territory unbridged.

Five: There must be a reorganization of China, by the Chinese—with such international aid as may be necessary—on a sound basis, and with a government acceptable to her own people, capable of preserving the peace, protecting life and property inside her borders and discharging her international obligations.

Six: No special advantages must be allowed any power in China which are not allowed the United States.

Seven: What is her due, whether small or great, that America must have.

On paper, these seven points are but the reiteration of the 22-year-old American policy of the "open door." But the significant contention now is that instead of allowing this doctrine to remain the door-mat which it has been up to this time, the United States intends to stand by it, and make it effective, as a necessary preliminary to agreement on Pacific questions.

Behind this change of attitude there is an interesting story. Accepted nearly a quarter of a century ago by all the great powers, the American policy in the Orient has been stopped on and kicked about by nearly all. Japan, Great Britain's ally, has been one of the worst offenders, despite the Anglo-Japanese treaty pledging Japan to respect China's sovereignty.

"Why don't you make your ally respect the 'open door' and be good?" Uncle Sam unofficially, but more the less earnestly, whispered to John Bull.

"Why don't you?" was John Bull's retort courteous. "It's your 'door,' isn't it?"

Which ended the quiz. Threatened with war as the result of 20-odd years of drifting in the Far East, the Washington government now begins to show positive evidence of making a right-about face.

Great Britain, on her part, exhibits a willingness to co-operate with America. The question is, how far can the Harding administration go with England—tied up as it is with election pledges?

SEYMOUR PRESBYTERIANS TO BUILD $35,000 CHURCH

SEYMOUR, TEXAS, Nov. 10.—A contract has just been made with J. C. Mothia, a contractor of Olney, Texas, to erect a church building in Seymour for the Presbyterian church at a cost of about $35,000. The work on the new church edifice will begin next Monday and about four months will be required for completion. The beginning of the work will be featured as an enthusiastic event and a large crowd of people will be present at the ceremonies next Monday at 11 o'clock when J. A. Britain, as mayor for the city, and R. R. Kellum, as president of the chamber of commerce, will deliver addresses.

Hupmobile

Thousands More Can Now Own This Great Car

It won't take you more than a moment to realize the vital importance of this new Hupmobile price $1250. Not more than five cars in America, from the lowest to the highest in price, are recognized as leaders in their respective classes. Not one of these five cars has a more distinct, definite and positive reputation for leadership than the Hupmobile.

Gives More Service at Less Expense

Most people hold no opinion at all of most cars, but nearly everyone—owners and non-owners alike—has the definite conviction that the Hupmobile gives more service at less expense than any car of its class in the world.

The fact of the matter is that $400 or $500 more than the Hupmobile price cannot buy, in any car, any deeper satisfaction, or more continuous economy, than the Hupmobile owner enjoys.

It is perfectly plain, therefore, that the new Hupmobile price of $1250 represents one of the very few reductions of outstanding importance which have yet been made. It is particularly important because it will make thousands of people feel now that they can afford to own the car they have always admired.

By the four great tests of motor car value—reputation for long life, reputation for economy, reputation for high resale value, and reputation for continuously satisfactory performance—the Hupmobile, at $1250, stands head and shoulders above all others in its class.

A Better Car Than It Was Four Years Ago

It is a better value today—a better car in many ways—than it was four years ago, when the price was the same.

You can buy the Hupmobile today in certain knowledge that its low costs, steady service, and long life, will more than repay you, over and over again.

DRIVER OF CAR IN HALLO-WEEN NIGHT TRAGEDY HELD RESPONSIBLE.

NEGLIGENT HOMICIDE IN FIRST DEGREE IS VERDICT

Jury Of Six Men Deliberated 55 Minutes Before Verdict Is Agreed Upon.

J. C. Hampton, driver of the automobile that figured in the Halloween night tragedy on the Iowa Park road, in which Miss Oneta White was killed, was found guilty of negligent homicide in the first degree and a fine of $500 was assessed by the jury of six men. No jail term was imposed.

The case has been on trial since last Monday morning in the county court at law. The case was closed Wednesday afternoon and arguments of counsel concluded before dismissal Wednesday evening. The jury convened Thursday morning and arrived at a verdict after 55 minutes deliberation.

When the jury reported in open court Thursday morning and announced the verdict, counsel for the defense made an oral motion for a new trial.

"CONVENTION" HELD BY MOONSHINERS IN ONE VALLEY COUNTY

RAILROAD MEN BRING REPORT OF UNIQUE GATHERING OF ILLICIT DISTILLERS.

ONE MEMBER URGED AGREEMENT ON PRICE

Claims Man Can't Make Honest Living Any More Unless The Market Is "Stabilized."

A "convention" of moonshiners and illicit distillers was held recently at a point on the Spur branch of the Wichita Valley for the purpose of "stabilizing business conditions, according to apparently well-founded reports reaching here.

O. E. Maer, superintendent of the Valley, refuses to vouch personally for the story, but declares that other railroad men told him about it, and that it apparently has some earmarks of fact. One evidence of its credibility is that the community in question is plentifully supplied with moonshine whiskey.

According to the report, about two dozen moonshiners attended the meeting.

"Things have come to such a pass in this business that I'm getting disgusted with it," one of the delegates is quoted as saying. "Some folks have been cutting prices until a man can't get a fair price for his own stuff any more. I think we ought to have a gentleman's agreement about the price, so that a man can sell his product for enough to make an honest living."

Whether the said gentleman's agreement was effected, was not definitely learned. Neither was it ascertained whether permanent organization was effected.

Every effort will be made to retain the "community property" feature in income tax rulings, now in grave danger of being eliminated, according to a telegram received Thursday from Congressman Lucian W. Parrish.

A number of Wichitans had wired Mr. Parrish, urging that this feature be retained. Thursday a telegram was received from Mr. Parrish as follows:

"I have been actively fighting to preserve Texas laws relating to community property rendition and filed a brief and made argument before treasury department when original decision was rendered. You may rest assured that I will do everything to save the rights of Texas citizens provided under our law, and have presented this matter to Mr. Garner, who is aggressively championing our cause."

JACK FROST COMES DURING NIGHT AND LEAVES EVIDENCE

Jack Frost made a flying visit to Wichita Falls during the night Wednesday and early risers Thursday morning were able to see some evidence of his visit. A white frost was deposited and the thermometer fell down to 37 degrees before sunrise.

The cold wave that arrived Tuesday evening spread over the entire district Wednesday and low temperatures were recorded from all points. Children and, Amarillo, however, even though considered the coldest places in northwest Texas, reported the highest temperatures with 48 degrees.

The operator at Foreman stated it was miserably chilly Thursday morning with a temperature hovering around the 23-degree mark. Woodward reported a temperature of 30 degrees. Other points along the railroad reported as follows: Breckenridge, 40 degrees; Geaham, 41 degrees; Texline, 44 degrees; Spur, 41 degrees; Abilene, 40 degrees; Stamford, 23 degrees.

It seems evident that the cold weather will continue over the

Calomel Salivates Even When Careful

Calomel is dangerous. It may salivate you and make you suffer fearfully from soreness of gums, tenderness of jaws and teeth, swollen tongue, and excessive saliva dribbling from the mouth. Don't trust calomel. It is mercury, quicksilver.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your drugist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel, without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you will take Dodson's Liver Tonic you will wake up feeling great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.—Adv.

Brer Rabbit Syrup

ONE taste of its flavor— And you realize why those who know fine syrup say the best is made from the sugar cane. It's the old time syrup of the South, with all the food sugars of the cane in it. That's why Brer Rabbit is so nourishing. And Brer Rabbit's price is back to pre-war level. Penick & Ford, Ltd., New Orleans.

PARRISH TRYING TO CHANGE RULING ON COMMUNITY TAXES

Every effort will be made to retain the "community property" feature in income tax rulings, now in grave danger of being eliminated, according to a telegram received Thursday from Congressman Lucian W. Parrish.

A number of Wichitans had wired Mr. Parrish, urging that this feature be retained. Thursday a telegram was received from Mr. Parrish as follows:

"I have been actively fighting to preserve Texas laws relating to community property rendition and filed a brief and made argument before treasury department when original decision was rendered. You may rest assured that I will do everything to save the rights of Texas citizens provided under our law, and have presented this matter to Mr. Garner, who is aggressively championing our cause."
