STATEMENT MADE BY MAN TESTIFYING AT WATSON HEARING.

WITNESS WHO CALLED GEN. PERSHING A LIAR

Also Said He Had Rather Belong to I. W. W. Than to American Legion.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Declaring that he had been robbed and discharged as an employee of the veterans bureau after testifying in the senate investigation of illegal soldierly handling, was made by Charles R. Green of Minneapolis in letters and telegrams received by Senator Watson, democrat of Georgia, and read today before the investigating committee. Green declared in his communications that when on route to his American Legion friends at Cincinnati some one had stolen his suitcase containing his army discharge papers, decorations and other documents. On reaching Minneapolis he charged, he was informed by the veterans' bureau that his services were no longer required.

Green had testified that the bodies of nine soldiers killed by the military police had been sent to a hospital at Chateau Roux, France. Chairman Brandegee recalled to committee members that Green was the witness who declared on the stand that General Pershing was "a liar" and said that he would rather belong to the I. W. W. than to the American Legion.

Three doctors attached to the Chateau Roux hospital testified yesterday there was no truth in Green's charges as to the nine bodies.

The charge that Colonel Paul Malone, now stationed at Camp Benning, Georgia, shot and killed a soldier in France because he could not keep up with his command, was both made and denied.

Colonel R. C. Langdon of the army war college, declared he never heard of an officer shooting a soldier, and that he saw Colonel Malone shoot the soldier and that Colonel Langdon was present. The letter said Colonel Langdon testified that he saw Colonel Malone shoot the soldier and that Colonel Langdon was present.

Colonel Langdon said that Henderson was his orderly and adding: "He was not very bright and possibly he thinks what he says is the truth, but I believe he is making up some mental condition. While he thinks what he says is true, it did not actually happen."

Colonel W. R. Mamie, Knoxville, Tenn., testified that in the area under his supervision, there were four hangings. He declared he never heard of any hanging of a soldier of an enlisted man by an officer.

Mrs. Mary Ellen Furbish, Memphis, Tenn., a welfare worker, overheard two soldiers were hanged at Is-Sur-Tille, after trial but that she never heard of any hangings without trial.

A. Lang, of Springfield, Missouri, told the committee that three soldiers were hanged at Is-Sur-Tille, on the morning that the war department. He was unable to give the names of men who saw that many.

Special to The Times. SOUTH BEND, INDIAN, Jan. 25.—State Ranger J. W. McCormick, U. S. Deputy Marshal C. M. Dodgen, Detective Charles Hebert and Federal Prohibition Officer Tyler, all of Wichita Falls, and former Sheriff M. ALLEGED AMERICAN OIL INTERESTS ARE TAKING A HAND.

TWO ASSOCIATIONS ARE MENTIONED IN PROPOSAL

Inimical to International Confidence and Good Will, Says Congressman.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Congressional investigation of charges that an "extensive campaign of propaganda" has been waged both in the United States and Mexico by "agents and representatives of certain American oil interests" for the purpose of "discrediting the present government of Mexico and preventing its recognition by the United States" was called for today in a resolution introduced by Representative Connally, democrat, Texas.

Mr. Connally proposed that the House Foreign Affairs committee make an exhaustive inquiry into the personnel and activities of the National Association for the Protection of American Rights in Mexico, and the Association of American Owners of Land in Mexico.

"It has been widely and openly charged in the press that these two associations were organized by and are the agents and representatives of certain American oil interests, who are endeavoring to accomplish the abrogation of portions of the Mexican constitution of 1917," Mr. Connally declared.

"It has likewise been charged that during the year 1921, the National Association for the Protection of American Rights in Mexico, its agents, associates, employees, officials and directors, in pursuance of its purpose to discredit the existing government in Mexico, and to bring about a change in the government of Mexico, had communicated with parties within the United States for the purpose of procuring within the republic of Mexico opposition to the existing government and of eventually accomplishing the abrogation of the Mexican constitution.

"Such alleged conduct imperils the friendly relations between the United States and Mexico and is inimical to international confidence and good will," Mr. Connally stated that negotiations have been pending for many months between the United States and Mexico looking to the official recognition of the Oregon government which he declared was "pledged to the maintenance of international order, the protection of the rights of foreigners and the faithful discharge of the national obligations of the republic of Mexico."

DAYTON, OHIO, Jan. 26.—The silence of Mr. James M. Cox, democratic presidential candidate in 1920, in the wake of the Washington banquet here last night, has been interpreted as a sign of his domestic policies. In this regard, he was criticized by United States Senator Sherman of Ohio, Mississippi and Mrs. Pittsford of Ohio.

REPUBLICAN PARTY IS TAKEN TO TASK BY GOVERNOR COX

FORMER DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE BREAKS SILENCE OF A YEAR.

STILL AN ADVOCATE OF LEAGUE OF NATIONS

King Still Files, He Says, and Party is Ready for the Next Fight.

DAYTON, OHIO, Jan. 26.—Breaking his silence of more than a year, James M. Cox, democratic candidate for president in 1920, at a Jackson banquet here last night took to task the Washington administration both on its domestic and foreign policies. In this criticism, he was joined by United States Senators Cameron of Ohio and Harrison of Mississippi and Mrs. Margaret Fuller of Pittsburgh.

Speaking of the economic policy of President Harding's administration, Mr. Cox asserted that an attempt is being made to bring better times by resort to the noisy methods of "circus." Attributing the distress in Russia to sovietism, the former democratic standard bearer said that distress in America is due to the treasury of Logdium.

Speaking of the Washington agreement conference and particularly the four power Pacific agreement, Mr. Cox asserted that "prudence might suggest that judgment be reserved until we know what the treaty means and the extent of Mr. Lodge's secret understandings." He declared that the "real meaning was the unwritten word."

Have Not Retreated. Governor Cox made it plain that he stands today on the league of nations as he stood during the 1920 campaign, declaring "we stand in every track just where we were when the votes were counted. We have not retreated a step. The flag still flies and we are ready for the next fight."

In Memorial Hall where more than 500 were served at a banquet and a crowded gallery, the speaker declared that the republicans already have re-elected Senator Pomerehne "by creating the disgraceful wherry episode in United States history." While both United States senators took a whirl at condemning the domestic policies of the administration, Mr. Pomerehne devoted considerable time to condemnation of the action of the senate in seating Senator Newberry of Michigan.

The senator asked if ever a public body so "discredited itself in the eyes of the American people." The Mississippi senator discussed the tariff situation, asserting that republicans had been trying for three years to enact a tariff law but "up to this hour it serenely sleeps in the rooms of the senate finance committee."

SOLEMN CEREMONY MARKS FUNERAL OF POPE BENEDICT XV

BODY LIES IN CRYPT UNDER GREAT BASILICA OF ST. PETER.

By Associated Press.

ROME, Jan. 26.—Pope Benedict XV was entombed with solemn and impressive ceremony this afternoon. His body, enclosed in three caskets and dressed in the pontifical robes, lies in a crypt under the great basilica of St. Peter to the right of the entrance.

The historic and beautiful ritual was witnessed only by members of the sacred college, members of the pontifical household and the papal nobility and diplomats accredited to the Vatican.

The great bronze doors of St. Peter's had been closed at noon. The ceremony began with the removal of the body to the chapel of the choir. The bier was borne upon the shoulders of the red-robed ushers, whose usual functions are to carry the pope in the papal chair in pontifical processions.

The funeral cortege was headed by the Vatican clergy bearing torches and chanting the anthem, "Exultabunt Domino." On either side of the bier strode gendarmes. As the procession moved the choir of the Chapel Jubilee in flowing robes of purple, sang the "Miserere."

Noble graces in dazzling full dress uniforms formed a court of honor, and the pontiff's bier was covered with a tapestry of red damask.

Immediately behind the body came the major elemosary, accompanied by Sacristan Zampini, and following them was Prince Caspelli, grand master of the apostolic household; and the Marquis Sacchetti, major-forger; the Marquis Francesco and Colonel Dirschbach, commander of the Swiss guards, preceding a corps of the noble guards.

Quaint Medieval Costumes. Next came the major prelates in flowing robes of black and purple, then members of the Ancient Order of the Holy Sepulchre in quaint medieval costumes with ruffled collars, garters and buckled slippers then the high officers of the armed forces of the Vatican.

Meanwhile the members of the sacred college, bishops, archbishops and diplomats, had entered the chapel of the choir.

The strains of the Miserere were heard as the procession approached the chapel and the cardinal archbishop, Merry Del Val, and the cardinal camerlengo, Gasparri, took their places near the casket which was to receive the body.

As the strains of the "Miserere" ended, the pontiff's body was carried in and the anthem "Exultabunt Domino" was again followed by the chanting of "In Paradisum."

Then the solemn ceremony of absolute took place and the choir sang the "In Paradisum" followed by the chanting of "In Paradisum." While the last anthem was being sung the body was deposited in the cypress coffin and the major domo of the Vatican, Monsignor Sans de Samper, covered the face of the pope with a veil of white silk and placed in the coffin the medals and seals of the pontiff.

The cypress coffin in which the body rested was placed in a lead casket, the ends of which were immediately soldered and both were deposited in a hardwood casket surmounted by a wooden cross and the pope's coat of arms with targa and the brief Latin inscription: "The body of Benedict the fifteenth, supreme pontiff, who lived sixty-seven years, occupied the throne of St. Peter seven years, and died January twenty-second, nineteen twenty-two."

The casket was then transferred to the crypt in the left lateral nave near the entrance to St. Peter's, last absolution was given and Benedict XV was left to his rest beneath the flagstones which are trodden by thousands of pilgrims annually.

CULBERSON WILL BE CANDIDATE FOR PLACE IN SENATE

Special to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Senator Chas. A. Culberson announced last night his determination to stand for renomination at the hands of the democrats of Texas. As he is in feeble health Senator Culberson will be unable to enter the campaign in person and will rely upon the efforts and organization work of his friends through the state. His announcement, addressed to the democrats of Texas, is as follows:

"It is my purpose to submit my name to the democratic primary this summer for the nomination as United States senator, which place I now hold through your favor and partiality and for which I am profoundly grateful. This is all I will say now, but in a few weeks I will make a further statement to you on the subject."

HALF OF THE ORANGES AND THIRD OF LEMONS IN CALIFORNIA LOST

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26.—Possibly half the orange crop in California and one-third of the lemon crop was lost in the three-day freeze last week, according to an official statement of the preliminary estimate based on field surveys given out here last night by the California Fruit Growers Exchange.

This would indicate shipments for the season of about 25,000 car-loads of oranges and 9,500 car-loads of lemons, compared with the total of 60,000 car-loads last season. Experts said $700 was a fair average price for a car-load of citrus fruit. On that basis the loss would be around $17,500,000.

THE MOVEMENT FOR A COMMON LANGUAGE.

H. G. Wells in his Outline of History repeatedly expresses the belief that one of the principal reasons for China's failure to progress has been her lack of an expressive language.

There are a thousand difficulties in the way of expressing these different inflections in writing. Comparatively few in China can write Chinese or read the written language and those who have fully mastered the feat of writing and reading the language are few indeed.

There are a thousand difficulties in the way of expressing these different inflections in writing. Comparatively few in China can write Chinese or read the written language and those who have fully mastered the feat of writing and reading the language are few indeed.

Within recent months there has been a revival of interest in the movement to provide a common language for the civilized world.

There is now some debate among those leading in the movement as to whether an attempt should be made to provide a new language or make use of one of the languages now in use.

This bringing of the world to a common language is a big problem. But it must be solved before there is that universal brotherhood of man that has been the dream and hope of the centuries.

Vegetarians are shocked to learn from Vilhjalmur Stefansson, Arctic explorer, that he and two traveling companions lived two years eating nothing except seal meat.

This happened on Stefansson's last scientific expedition on the great sheet of ice that forms constantly near Alaska and, moving 15 miles a day, travels on up over the North Pole, then southeast 400 miles until it is melted as it strikes the Gulf Stream in the Atlantic ocean.

For two years Stefansson and his two followers tasted no vegetables. They had seal meat for breakfast, lunch and dinner—nothing but seal meat, for two whole years.

Dieticians predicted that the three explorers would perish unless they had a balanced diet, vegetables for carbohydrates, mixed with the protein of meat.

An exclusive meat diet, they told Stefansson, would kill any man. They said they knew this because they had tried it on a guinea pig!

How would you like to have nothing to eat except seal meat, for 730 days—two years?

After living on seals a week, the explorers lost their appetites. Even the thought of a seal made them gag.

Several days without food. Then seal meat began to smell good. After that, appetites returned and thenceforth no one hesitated when the cook whistled.

Lord Strathcona, builder of the Canadian Pacific railroad, for years ate only one meal a day. And that meal was always the same. At 36 he was doing two men's work and helping run the British government in his spare time.

GOLD HANDCUFFS

Would you contribute 50 cents to a sure-fire scheme for wiping out the national debt for your descendants?

All right, suppose every one in America chips in 50 cents. That would give a fund of about $54,000,000—not much in these days when government spenders think in terms of billions.

Or let congress set aside $54,000,000. Put it out at eight per cent interest. In 80 years, it would have grown to more than $25,000,000,000, enough to wipe out the national debt and leave several billions in the bank for our great-grandchildren.

At four per cent interest, it would take about 160 years. Money doubles in 17 years 246 days at four per cent compound interest, and in nine years two days at eight per cent.

This scheme will interest Henry Ford, He could change his will, set aside $54,000,000 in a trust fund, and in 80 years have $25,000,000,000 as a gift to tax-ridden Americans.

The scheme, which is simple and workable, does not come from Wall street bankers. It is advanced by a village business man—W. B. Kendall, of Bowdoinham, Maine.

Kendall recently took up a collection of $550 among his neighbors. Eighty years from now, interest will have swollen this nest-egg to $30,000. In the year 2002, that should be enough to buy a couple of dozen eggs or send a ton of freight half a mile.

Kendall's scheme is so sensible that probably nothing ever will come of it. It should drive home, though, to every American, the tremendous power of compound interest to create great fortunes.

The prominent Americans who are as rich as chocolate cake have wisened to the psychology of "shirtsleeves to shirtsleeves" in three generations—the dissipation of great family estates by a couple of generations of heirs.

Having wisened, they are sewing up their money in trust funds. In many cases, the heirs get only a part of the interest.

The dead hand of the fortune builder reaches out from the grave and continues piling up more wealth. Kendall, of Maine, shows how compound interest can swell $50,000,000 to $25,000,000,000 in 80 years.

Pause, for a moment, to reflect what some of the huge fortunes of 1922 will total 80 years hence if the trust-fund-for-heirs idea goes on indefinitely.

Ford says he will make autos out of cotton. Then you might look for your car and find the bolt-works have eaten it.

Society note: This country has received an invitation to the annual Chile-Peru bowl.

THE SNOW SHOVELER. In the good old days of the long ago I'd shout with glee at the sight of snow.

I was a shoveler, lithe and strong. I could shovel at snow drifts all day long. I could toss it far and toss it wide.

COMMON SENSE WAYS TO KEEP WELL

SORE THROAT

Simple sore throats are simple only to careful people. For the careless they are often tragic.

Sore throat may be the first danger signal of any of a number of serious diseases, from tuberculosis to cancer. It may be due to tonsillitis, laryngitis, or it may be merely what is known as a smoker's sore throat or a clergyman's sore throat.

Often, it is the first symptom of infantile paralysis. Its most common cause is tonsillar or laryngeal affection.

When there is an epidemic of scarlet fever, there is often an epidemic of sore throat.

There is chronic sore throat in cases of tuberculosis, syphilis, cancer and ulcerated conditions.

Always apply hot water to the feet, cold to the neck.

YOU AND I

Can Find Business in Dark Times by Using Advertising Lanterns.

The two Wrigley factories in Brooklyn and Chicago are turning out an average of 45,000,000 sticks of gum a day.

What built up this enormous business in a few years? Answer: Advertising.

Admittedly, Wrigley had to have a gum that pleased the public taste. But many other gum companies, with a satisfactory product, remain small because they haven't advertised on a big scale.

Philosopher Emerson was wrong. You may make a better mousetrap, but the world won't beat a path to your door unless you get your message to the world by advertising.

Advertising is the lantern that finds business in dark times.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

WEALTH.

I have noticed that the things people steal are those which other people have earned by the sweat of their brows and by long and patient thinking.

Nobody has ever stolen a sunset—or a beautiful day, or a wonderful tree, or a group of rocks.

I admit there are circumstances which seem to pull a man away from the natural and right course of life. But I am thinking in this talk of the many, the honest many.

There is a natural spring on the hill below the place where I live. Great rocks hide it away from the street. I came to love it so that I finally arranged to buy all the land about it that I might feel it really belonged to me.

And yet that little spring belongs to anyone who will drink from it or to whom it hands out a smile of cheer. Every passerby will own a part in it.

For everything that is in nature belongs to all. Those of us who are fortunate enough to own things, own them for but a short time—and then their right and title pass to someone else.

Wealth isn't the amount of money or land we possess—but that which we so appreciate that it becomes a joy to everyone.

When I plant a flower or rear a tree, I do so hoping that those who pass may love it as I do. Otherwise I would be disappointed and feel that I had made a losing investment.

I recently read in the newspapers of a young man who had inherited a million dollars, but who refused to accept it—that is, permanently. He says that it does not belong to him, that he didn't earn it, and that he intends to give it away as soon as possible.

I admire that chap. He wants to earn what he gets.

We appreciate those things most which we have striven for hardest.

AUSTRIA MAKES AN URGENT APPEAL FOR FINANCIAL RELIEF

LONDON, Jan. 25.—An urgent appeal from Austria to the allies, imploring that disastrous consequences are probable unless financial aid is given the country, is engaging the attention of the British government and a decision favorable to Austria possibly will be reached Thursday or Friday, according to the London Times. It is understood, says the newspaper, that Austria needs immediately 1,500,000 pounds, the same sum she vainly tried to raise in London before Christmas on the security of the famous Gobelin tapestries. The Times says it understands this argument has been vigorously put before the British government because the only remedy may lie in a government loan to Austria. The newspaper urges the serious consideration of Austria's need, saying the disastrous consequences of a complete Austrian collapse would not merely affect Austria, but would have serious effect on the surrounding countries.

This newspaper understands that the loan will be purely British and not allied. It being feared that France will not move quickly enough to avert the impending crash. J. L. NELSON, LOCAL OPERATOR, ACTIVE IN EL DORADO FIELD. The El Dorado (Ark.) Daily News of recent date prints two items concerning John L. Nelson, local operator, as follows: "J. L. Nelson has purchased the Old Dominion company's one-half interest in the 40-acre Shawwell lease in the southeast quarter of section 15, T8, 15, on which there is at present two producing wells making 200 barrels per day and he will drill at least two more wells on this lease."

the 4-inch being set on one now which will be drilled in about the 17th. "Mr. Nelson is also rigging up to drill the Thurlkill No. 2 for himself and Baker & Scarborough, which will be an off-set to the No. 1 brought in the past week, and which is making 31.2 gravity oil at present."

his drilling rig from this well onto the south half of the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 4-12-15, where he will drill a well on the Cullens lease for W. H. Rector, and was spudding in it exactly 24 hours. It is a distance of two miles from the Thurlkill lease to the Cullens lease and this was some quick work."

NOT DECIDED WHETHER TO DRILL WELL DEEPER. VERNON, TEXAS, Jan. 25.—According to H. A. Carpenter, president of the Penn-Barkburnett Oil company, who came here last week with A. E. Dean, an oil operator of Philadelphia, in connection with a possible resumption of drilling on the West Vernon well, no decision has been reached concerning the action to be taken by his company. It is proposed making a deep test out of the West Vernon well, the only one of its kind in the county. "We have reached an agreement with those principally interested," said Mr. Carpenter, "but some of the fee owners have not co-operated to the fullest extent. The situation is such where only a few can block the entire game."

REORGANIZING WILBERGER POULTRY ASSOCIATION. VERNON, TEXAS, Jan. 25.—Adam Douglas was elected president, S. D. Lawless of Oklahoma, vice-president, and H. D. Hockersmith, secretary, of the Wilberger County Poultry association at a meeting here to effect reorganization. Emory Rhoads, local banker, is retiring head of the body. In order to increase the membership of the body, the officers were instructed to appoint a committee which will canvass every available person in the county. It was definitely decided that a show will be held some time this year, probably in December. Walter Burton of Arlington will be asked to judge the next exhibit.

Wichita Wheel and Body Works

This business was started three years ago in a small shack at 1010 Seventh street. Last year Taylor Brothers built the present quarters at 508 Ohio, where they have one of the largest factories and shops of the kind in the state. O. D. Taylor and L. L. Taylor started the business and later were joined by W. H. Gaskins, who is now the business manager. This is one fair example of what can be done in Wichita Falls if only close application will be given to business. In three years this business has grown from one of the smallest to one of the largest in the city, and the company is now equipped with a large two-story brick building, and own the building and lots. Mr. Gaskins, who was formerly in the drug business in Denton county, came here last year and connected himself with the business shortly after his arrival. The Taylor Brothers have been in the city since 1908, and are well acquainted with their patrons throughout the oil field. They manufacture and repair automobile bodies, auto tops, wheels and springs. They make a specialty of oil field bodies. The success of this company is due to the quality of the work turned out. The establishment is equipped with all modern machinery and with skilled mechanics, who do the very best work that it is possible to do. All their manufactured products and all repair work is fully guaranteed to give satisfaction. This establishment manufactures special auto bodies for speedsters or for any kind of a special truck or car manufacturing and finishing the job from the chassis up, and build special wheels.

University Club Still On Top and Methodist Climb Out of Cellar

The University club five maintained its hold on the top rung of the city basketball league last night by defeating the fast high school quintet 21 to 22, while the North Methodists climbed out of the cellar position by beating a 12 to 11 defeat on the much improved Texhomas.

The University-High School battle was by far the most spectacular and the hardest fought of the season and the large crowd which taxed the capacity of the Legion hall was in a continual uproar. Some idea of the closeness of the mixup may be obtained from the fact that when the first half ended the score was in a 12 to 12 deadlock.

In the second half, however, the variety crew tore those and made the majority of their shots count, while the scholastics attempted many long shots which are impossible to make in the Legion court, owing to the low ceiling. The winners, on the other hand, waited until they had the ball under the basket before shooting, and very few field goals were missed.

That the game was one of the by the number of fouls called. The cleanest game in evidence was varied only four times and only two personal fouls were called on them, while the high school broke the rules but once, a personal foul being called on Deems in the second half. Neither side overlooked a bet, either, as Deems turned the four variety fouls into goals and Harry Viner scored his only free try.

Good Passing Game
Both sides used the passing game to advantage. Their team work was the best witnessed this season. The Viner brothers worked together as if they had been practicing for weeks and the Red and Black players always knew what to do with the ball and it was not until they were getting their hands on it, that they had a job on their hands to guard Palmer Herrod, the young high school forward. Palmer Herrod used to get away from him long enough to drop three inside the hoop, but the youngster's coach was on him like a hawk all night and made his work as he never worked before. Deems was helpless before Herrod. The latter had his man bottled to a nicety and "Dummy" was forced to call it a night with only one field goal to his credit.

Harper and Captain Johnson of the high school managed to elude one another often enough to cage nine baskets between them. The latter played a great floor game and was due to make a big hand in the game as close as it was.

The real feature of the game, however, was the all around work of Capt. Herrod. He was the former Missouri star seemed to be omnipresent. Whenever the ball was in play, he was uncocked some stellar shots and when unable to shoot himself, passed to brother Bill who dropped it in. He also made a big hand in the guarding and broke up play after play.

Had the University-High School game happened to be played on another night, the Methodist-Texhomas setto would have walked away with the honors. One would never know from the caliber of the play that it was played by two teams that were struggling to get out of the cellar. The Methodists got the jump on the Texhomas in the first half, but the Texhomas came back strong in the last 20 minutes and outscored their opponents. The winner of the two contests was Herrod. Stiles-featured the game. The scores:

WINTER GOLF BECOMING POPULAR THROUGHOUT U.S.

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—Winter golf is becoming as general as all-year motoring, according to former National Champion Chick Evans. Between the hazy days of the winter follows the red ball through the snow on northern links and the trouspous who journey to more moderate climates. Evans estimates that about half of America's golfers continue play during the frigid months. Besides men and even women follow the rubber pellet with wood and iron over the frozen links in the north, while in the south and Pacific coast states until some 300 semi-tropical links now await the increase of winter players. The fastest growth in winter golf has been in Texas where a friendly but spirited competition has been waged for supremacy in the past few years in the cities in the north and south.

Many Major League Clubs Are Banking On Recruits for 1922

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—A standard baseball is essential to the maintenance of major and minor league play, according to the report of President John A. Heydler of the National League. This statement was made in discussing the report that the Pacific Coast league will adopt a rubber-cored ball for the 1922 season.

"The use of balls of different types of construction would throw batting, fielding and pitching averages into confusion and to a great extent nullify the usefulness of such averages," he said. "How could a manager or a scout of a major league team get a line upon the ability of a minor league player if balls of various composition are to be used?"

"It is my opinion that a rule should be incorporated in the major-league agreement to this effect. The rules now specify that the ball used in all minor league play shall be of the same size, weight and composition as that used in the major leagues," he said. "I am not familiar with conditions at all the leading leagues used a sphere of similar construction."

Averages Misleading
"If different leagues begin to use different types of ball, confusion, regardless of the caliber of individual players, will be introduced immediately. Let us assume that while the Pacific Coast league uses a rubber-cored ball, another league adopts a livelier ball than the one now in general use. The result would be that it would be impossible to make a comparison of batting, fielding or pitching ability of players in these leagues as compared with the averages of the major leagues."

"If attendance figures can be taken as a criterion of the popularity of the game in the major leagues, the fans can be said to approve of the type of baseball being played with the ball now in use. The fact that it is being played with the ball now in use is a strong argument in favor of its use. The fact that it is being played with the ball now in use is a strong argument in favor of its use. The fact that it is being played with the ball now in use is a strong argument in favor of its use."

MEYERS RETAINS CROWN UNDER AMERICAN RULES
CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—Sport fans today analyzed the first American League match held under the new rules providing for ten minute rounds, following the contest last night in which Johnny Meyers retained the middleweight wrestling championship by throwing John Kilonis in the fourth round.

The six thousand fans who witnessed the bout approved of the method of conducting the match and newspaper comment today was favorable. It was felt that the experiment had proved a success.

"MAIN IDEA IS TO GET 'BOUT"—KEARNS

Dempsey Willing to Meet Any Recognized Rival Any Place.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Jack Dempsey is now ready to defend his world's heavyweight title against any recognized rival and is not particular about the scene of combat, declared Jack Kearns, his manager, when he arrived here yesterday. Kearns came east for the purpose of meeting with Promoter Tex Rickard and arranged for a conference with him today.

There has been talk of Dempsey engaging the smiling George Carpentier in another bout, in Europe this time, and there has been gossip in the city of a match with the four-time champion of the world, in this case, in the middleweight division.

"The big idea," said Kearns, "is to get a bout. Harry Wills, Bill Brennan, Bob Roper, Tommy Gibbons—any of them that seeks it—can have a crack at Jack. A Wills fight has been most talked of, but the promoters don't seem to warm up to the idea."

Dempsey is now in Los Angeles waiting for word from the promoters. If he is needed, only in case negotiations for a titular bout in the United States fail will Jack take a flight in Europe.

WINTER GOLF BECOMING POPULAR THROUGHOUT U.S.

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—Winter golf is becoming as general as all-year motoring, according to former National Champion Chick Evans. Between the hazy days of the winter follows the red ball through the snow on northern links and the trouspous who journey to more moderate climates. Evans estimates that about half of America's golfers continue play during the frigid months. Besides men and even women follow the rubber pellet with wood and iron over the frozen links in the north, while in the south and Pacific coast states until some 300 semi-tropical links now await the increase of winter players. The fastest growth in winter golf has been in Texas where a friendly but spirited competition has been waged for supremacy in the past few years in the cities in the north and south.

GIRL TESTIFIES SHE WAS ASSAULTED BY TEX SEVERAL TIMES

Mother Does Not Believe Story of Daughter; Disinterested Persons Bared From Court.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Alice Ruck, fifteen year old East Side school girl, testified last night in city court that she had been assaulted several times by Tex Rickard, internationally known sport promoter. The little girl was on the stand, almost hidden by friends who surrounded him.

Each time, she said, Mr. Rickard first attacked her in his office in the tower of the Madison Square Garden last August. While she was describing this sobbing bit, and talking in a whisper, her mother, a domestic, rushed before the magistrate and shouted:

"I don't think Mr. Rickard had anything to do with my child."

The mother was removed to an ante-room and after the case had been adjourned for the night, she pleaded to be allowed to take her child from the custody of the children's society which preferred the charges.

Last Attack New Year's Eve
The girl testified that Rickard subsequently attacked her on several occasions in apartments near Fifth avenue and 47th street, the last time on New Year's day. On all but one occasion, she went to the place with her 11 year old companion, Annie Hess, she said.

Each time, she said, the promoter gave them money and asked them "not to tell anybody." Dr. W. Traves, physician for the children's society, testified yesterday that he confirmed the girl's statement that she had been attacked.

It was brought out in cross-examination that the story the two girls told at Bellevue hospital when they said they had taken lodges upon reaching there late at night on January 15 was fiction. The witness admitted in telling hospital attendants that they had been kidnaped, and she was taken to the home put over their faces. These stories were told, she said, in an attempt to get lodging at the home on New Year's night, as they feared to go home at a late hour.

The hearing will be resumed next Monday night.

Billy Evans Says

Funny things happen in baseball. It is always safest to take nothing for granted.

In a series at Boston last year between the Red Sox and Athletics, I saw two unusual happenings that changed the complexion of the game in which they occurred.

Both were entirely unexpected. One of them, a freak home run, won a game for the Athletics. Another drive that ordinarily would be good for a home run, turned out to be nothing more than a single, saved a game for the Red Sox.

At the Boston park the scoreboard occupies a big section of the left field fence near the foul line. The figures used on the board are perhaps 10 inches square. Since the American league games, as well as the Boston National League, are played on the same square, it is probably 100 spaces on the board.

It is customary for the boy who is operating the board to remove one of the figures in the section allotted for extra innings, so he can view the game through the opening in the board.

Just before Moore came to bat in the eighth or ninth inning, the boy, getting interested, shifted his view, pointing from the lower section of the board to a spot near the top.

Moore obliged by hitting the ball through the opening for a home run. Had he simply struck the scoreboard it would have bounded back on the field and Moore would have been held to a single.

That hit of Moore's won the ball game. It was a fluke home run if there ever was one.

A drive over the left field fence at the Boston park is worthy of a home run. The fence is about three or four times as high as the ordinary barrier, because of the shortness of left field. In deep left center the fence is six clock used for advertising purposes that extends high above the fence, perhaps six feet.

Wojsh, playing center field for the Athletics, is a great "kicker." He has been joshing a number of the Boston players throughout the game, and they had been returning the compliment. Late in the game Wojsh hit a terrific drive to left center. It was labeled a home run from the very start.

Wojsh was positive it would clear the fence. He jogged down to first base, where he said pleasant things to the players on the Boston bench. When he reached first he was stopped and passed the time of day. Then the unexpected happened.

The ball struck the top of the clock, bounded high in the air and came down into playing territory. Had Wojsh run out the hit he would have gotten two, probably three bases. Instead he only reached first.

Connie Mack expelled a new out on that hit. He stood from one end of the bench to the other.

Merkle's "Bone" in 1918 Is Generally Regarded As The Biggest in Baseball

By NICK ALTROCK

What do I regard as the biggest "bone" play in baseball? There have been so many ivory stunts pulled off in late years that it is rather hard to decide.

Stealing third base with the bases filled is always worth a laugh. A lot of players have pulled that stunt. However, to John Anderson, who seems to have been the first player to do it, goes whatever distinction is due him. It is rather embarrassing to steal a base and find some one there.

Failure to touch a base, and then being called out, usually provokes a laugh from every one but the players and managers of the team affected.

Fred Merkle, a smart ball player, failed to touch a base in 1908. In almost every game in the major league some player does the same trick. Some escape, others are caught at it. If he neglects to touch the base, he has no effect on the score it is forgotten.

Merkle was unfortunate. His play cost the New York team the pennant, and with it the right to play in the world series. That made it a very costly mistake. That play is generally regarded as the biggest bone in baseball, simply because it was so costly.

When a player bats out of order and is called out for so doing, it makes the player feel like taking to the woods. If the player makes a home hit, it is all the tougher because the athletes like their best hits. If the player happens to make a home run while hitting out of order, it is well nigh a catastrophe.

Last year in a game at Washington Harry Heilmann hit the ball into the far end of the left field bleachers. It was a terrific drive, the first time a ball was ever hit into that stand. Then it was discovered that Heilmann had batted in place of Veach. The two players had been transferred in the batting order and were not notified of the change.

Heilmann, of course, was in no way to blame. It was not a honor as far as he was concerned. However, it was the longest "bone" I ever saw made. I am positive of that.

Baseball is such an intricate game that it constantly offers chances to err. "Bones" are part of the game. To me, however, the day Don Gessler caught a fly ball in the ninth with a couple of runners on the bases and ran to the club house thinking the game was over, when in reality only two were down, was the funniest bone I can recall in the history of the game. There was real humor to that stunt.

In tomorrow's service Altrock will tell you who he regards as the most unusual character in the history of the game.

REVIVAL OF MINOR WORLD'S SERIES PROPOSED

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26.—Leach Cross, old time lightweight who quit the ring for dentistry in which profession he is known as Dr. Lester C. He said he enjoyed his "come back" during which he defeated a number of eastern lightweights in and around New York.

Paying a fancy price for a ball player immediately causes that individual to be a much talked-about person.

In most cases the publicity given a player through the medium of some club owner paying a fancy price for him results to the detriment of the player.

The public immediately gets an impression of the player that compares with the price paid for his services. Fandom at once decides that a player able to command such big money, ought to make good from the start.

Detroit once had "Babe" Pinelli. The White Sox also looked him over for a brief time, Detroit turned him back to the coast last year. When he left the Tigers his parting words were:

"I'll be back inside of two years if making an effort will get me anywhere. Maybe I will make a whirl at the National League this time, since I've had two cracks at the American."

Pinelli certainly made good his threat. He is back in the majors inside of a year, this time with the National League. Cincinnati paid $10,000 for him and gave several players to boot.

George Sisler, recently back from playing 10 weeks in the winter league on the coast, was asked what he thought of Pinelli's chances.

"He is a hustling ball player," said Sisler, "and hustling ball players always have a chance. There is Jimmy Austin of our club for instance. They have been trying to replace Jimmy at third for years, but he always kept on hustling and was a tough man to displace."

"I hope Pinelli makes good," he believes he will. However, I saw several other infielders on the coast who looked like $25,000 propositions to me, based on present market values."

Then there is O'Connell for whom the Giants paid $75,000. Major league ball players who saw him perform on the coast say he will have to improve his fielding a lot to hold a major league berth. They admit he can hit.

Then there are the two pitchers, Phillete and Johnson, for whom Detroit paid $40,000 and a bunch of batters.

One American League scout is speaking of their chances to make good in the majors. Johnson has a fast ball with a wonderful hop to it. He has a fine chance to develop.

Phillete has good stuff, but a stiff knee. American League hitters will keep him busy laying down bunts. I saw him pitch several games, and he looked worse on bunts than any of the Chicago Cubs, Harris and Johnson, for whom Detroit paid $40,000 and a bunch of batters.

Then there is Duffy Lewis, who left the Pacific Coast League in batting. The former American League star in speaking of Phillete and Johnson says:

"Detroit has acquired two fine prospects. Both have the stuff. Each has a fine fast ball so necessary to success in the big show. Phillete suffered an injury to his knee in the eighth or ninth inning of a game, but at the close of the season he seemed to have entirely recovered."

These recruits will be much watched in their major league debuts largely because of the publicity given the fancy price they brought in the baseball market.

Both were entirely unexpected. One of them, a freak home run, won a game for the Athletics. Another drive that ordinarily would be good for a home run, turned out to be nothing more than a single, saved a game for the Red Sox.

At the Boston park the scoreboard occupies a big section of the left field fence near the foul line. The figures used on the board are perhaps 10 inches square. MAKE YOUR WIRELESS PHONE IT'S EASY AND COSTS BUT $5 SAYS HEAD OF RADIO SCHOOL

Matthew J. Bergin is director of the Radio Institute of America at New York. He has explained the mysteries of the wireless telephone to thousands in formal classes and lectures.

There are no batteries or electrical currents to frighten you. The work involved is little. The cost is small.

A man on the farm or in the city can build an instrument and rig it up for less than $5. But he will have to buy a set of receivers that will increase the cost to nearly $10.

Some boys have built their sets for $2—but they probably picked up most of their parts.

What You Need. The materials are: Fifty to 100 feet of No. 12 or No. 14 copper wire—half an inch thick—$25 inches.

Two porcelain insulators. One porcelain tube. A wooden base—12 inches. Four bits of wood—half an inch thick—$25 inches.

A cardboard tube—an old cereal box will do—six inches long. Two slider rods—seven inches long.

Two sliders—more cheaply bought than made. One-half pound of No. 22 enamel copper wire. Four binding posts—with screws.

How to string your wireless phone aerial. It's best to stretch it between the house and a tree. One clip or detector cap. One piece of galena—lead sulphide.

Six sheets of tinfoil—2x4 inches. Six layers of wax paper—1x3 inches. A bit of fine springy wire—No. 36 or No. 38.

Some small nails. One of these home-made sets should cover a field of nearly 100 miles from the broadcasting station.

Aerial Comes First. The first thing to be considered is the aerial—which catches the wireless waves. This consists of 50 to 100 feet of wire stretched above the ground as high as possible.

Be at least 40 feet. A good place to string the aerial is between the house and a barn or tree.

Tie a piece of rope to the tree or pole. Attach one of the porcelain insulators—they cost about 5 cents each.

Then take one end of your wire and connect it to the insulator. Carry the rest of the wire back to the house. Pull it up to the roof—your other terminal point.

Attach another insulator to another bit of rope—and complete your aerial connection. Don't pull too tightly. Allow the wire some sag for the blowing of the wind.

Double Wire Aerial. If you want, you may use a double wire aerial—but this is not necessary for the small receiving set.

mark on it the circumference of the tube. Cut along the line and fit into tube. Repeat this—and you have the two heads for your tube.

Before you slip them into place, drill holes for your binding posts—one through each board.

Take the No. 22 enamel wire and start winding it about half an inch from the wood. Do this tightly and smoothly in a single layer—each turn touching the next.

Finish about half an inch from the end. This tube becomes the tuning coil. Shellac it and bake it to make it more durable.

Radio waves are sent out in certain lengths—dependent upon the instrument and the distance. To catch these waves of varying lengths, the receiving set must have some adjustment.

This is made on the tuning coil by two slider rods. You may purchase these cheaply at any supply store.

Making Adjustments. If you want to make them, take two bits of brass seven inches long by three-sixteenths square and bore through a quarter of an inch from the ends.

Get some brass tubing that will just fit over the rods. These pieces, two in number, should be about half an inch long.

A short bit of brass is soldered to the underside of these sliders. Nail these rods on the board heads of the coil—on top and half way down the front.

Adjust the tongues of the sliders so that they just touch the wire of the coil. Scrape this carefully so that there is a path of contact under the sliders. Use a penknife and clean the strands three or four at a time.

These sliders pushed along the rod will give the variations in wavelength. In the center of each of the wooden backs mount a wood screw binding post.

The right hand end of the coil is connected to the post on the right hand side. The binding post on the left is connected to the slider rod mounted on the front of the coil.

In the next article Bergin will tell you how to complete construction of your receiving set.

OPERA HATS ARE AGAIN QUITE THE THING FOR A TRIP TO BROADWAY SHOW

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Opera hats have come back. For many years they were as flat, figuratively, as they are in their collapsed state, but they are again quite the thing for a visit to Broadway shows.

One of the biggest and busiest hat retailers of the bright light section of Broadway is featuring the lately revived chapau in an elaborate window display. He announced they are selling at a tremendous rate.

Nor is the value of recent years' glory dead, according to this same dealer, who says the bright hats still twinkle on great numbers of them. A soft black French hat with a benzine underbrim, he avers, is newly favored for wear with tuxedos.

COTTON MARKET.

New York Cotton.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—There was a further decline in cotton today, all months making new low ground for the movement. The weak on the south side and there was scattering liquidation on the weak on the north and unfavorable trade reports.

February was 40 points lower at the start under liquidation and there was one February notice. The interest in February is a

28 points lower with March selling at 10.18 and May to 10.47. The more active positions steadied up a few points on covering. There was also some price fixing and considerable cotton changed hands at prices ranging from 10.44 up to 10.55 for March contracts. Private cables reported continued liquidation in Liverpool owing to poor spot demand and unfavorable trade conditions in Lancashire.

It showed extreme weakness selling off to 10.60 for March and 10.70 for May, or about 40 to 45 points below last night's closing. Reports of an easing up in the south were accompanied by considerable southern selling here but there was no buying through houses with Wall Street and Liverpool connections.

The decline was checked by covering, later and prices showed rallies of several points from the lowest around mid-day.

Sumner that a better demand was developing for cotton in Europe. He was confirmed and mid-day rallies of 10 or 15 points were followed by a new advance to 10.70 for March and 10.80 for May, or ground for the movement selling off to 10.56 and May ruled at 10.28.

FIRST PATIENTS AT INSANE ASYLUM TO ARRIVE NEXT WEEK

INSTITUTION AT LAKE NEARLY READY FOR ADMISSION OF INSANE.

WILL BE GRADUALLY FILLED TO CAPACITY

Superintendent Warns Against The Sending of Patients Here Without Authority.

The first patients at the Northwest Texas Insane asylum at Lake Wichita will probably be received next week, Dr. J. E. White, superintendent, stated Thursday.

The task of furnishing and equipping the institution is now nearly complete, Dr. White said, and he expects everything to be in readiness for handling patients before Feb. 1.

Patients will be received gradually until things get to running smoothly, and it will probably be several weeks before all that are awaiting transportation here are admitted.

Dr. White said that no insane person should be brought here for admission to the asylum until authorized by himself. It is understood that a number of insane are in Texas jails, awaiting the opening of the asylum, and that when word that it is open is received, unauthorized efforts to secure admission of patients will follow, Dr. White wishes to warn against this.

INDIANS WANT DIVISION OF THEIR TIMBER LANDS

KLAMATH FALLS, ORE., Jan. 26.—An assemblage of Indians at Chiloquin, Ore., representing four tribes within the state, last Tuesday empowered three of their number to prosecute a move for division of timber lands now administered by the government for the Indians, according to word brought here today. The timber is said to exceed 10 billion feet and to be worth $25,000,000.

Helps digestion —and cleans a coated tongue

Thousands of men and women have found relief from various digestive disturbances by eating Fleischmann's Yeast.

It is human nature to want to find out "why." So far as science can tell us this is the reason:

Fleischmann's Yeast is a food abundant in certain elements which are necessary to health and life itself. It promotes the flow of bile and of pancreatic juice. It has a remarkably beneficial effect on the whole digestive process. It cleans a coated tongue.

Try Fleischmann's fresh yeast in orange juice or in milk. Men like it in milk shakes and malted milk. Women like it spread on bread or crackers.

Keep your digestion in the pink of condition and your tongue clean and healthy by using a cube of Fleischmann's Yeast fresh every day before or between meals. Be sure it's Fleischmann's Yeast—the familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label. Place your order with your grocer today.

SAYS ACID STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION

Excess of Hydrochloric Acid Causes The Food and Form Gases.

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather ferments the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that indigestion is caused by Hyper-acidity, meaning, there is an excess of hydro-chloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sour in the stomach much like garbage sour in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflates the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heart-burn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to buy a bottle of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink while it is effervescing and further more, to continue this for a week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

KLAN SENDS $100 MRS. B. M. FINGER RECENTLY BEREAVED

A gift of $100 in cash was handed to Mrs. B. M. Finger by Police Commissioner J. B. Fitts Thursday morning with the compliments of the Ku Klux Klan, which sent the money to Mr. Fitts, Thursday day night with instructions that it be given to Mr. Finger, whose husband and small son were fatally burned in a fire which destroyed their home last week today.

Mr. Fitts was called to the city hall at 10:30 Wednesday evening and was handed the money and a short note by a messenger boy. Ten $10 bills were in the package, while the note stated briefly that it was from the Ku Klux Klan, now under dispensation.

When given the money Mrs. Finger was deeply affected and requested that Mr. Fitts extend her sincere thanks to the donors. Wednesday's incident is the second official act of the Klan in this city, the first coming late last year when a $100 donation was given the Salvation Army.

Two $5,000 damage suits were filed in the 78th district court Thursday morning against the Wichita Valley and Wichita Falls and the Missouri Pacific Railroad companies by Roy Edgmon and Homer Moore. Both suits were brought by their next friend, Mrs. M. H. Sevine.

It is alleged that on July 31, 1921, that the two boys were injured when a train struck the Ford car in which they were driving at the crossing of the tracks on Holliday street in this city.

The complaint sets forth that the view of the track was obstructed by a line of empty box cars and that no warning was given by the train. It is complained that the train was backing up at the time of the accident and that no watchman was present or any signal given to warn anyone of danger.

It is set up that both the boys suffered injuries that forced them to be patients at a hospital for 30 days. The damage suit also includes the damage to the automobile, which it is said was entirely destroyed.

D. P. Taylor is well known hotel proprietor, has been empowered to act as true and lawful attorney in the settlement of the estate of George L. Wagner, deceased, who died December 21, 1921, intestate.

The power of attorney and authority was placed on file in the county clerk's office Thursday. The instrument empowers him to settle all claims, to make collections of all accounts payable and to sell any real or personal property.

The instrument was signed by the four brothers of the deceased, all of whom reside in the city of St. Louis, Mo. They are William J. Stephen M., Charles J. and Joseph A. Wagner.

LEGIION WILL SELL LOCAL NAME PLATES TO OWNERS OF CARS

A plate bearing the words "Wichita Falls, Texas" will be placed above the license number of each automobile in this city, if plans of the American Legion are carried out.

The Pat Carrigan post has undertaken the sale of these name plates and will try to place one with each automobile owner, at a price that enables the post to make a small profit.

At present the number is the only identifying mark on a car, there being nothing to indicate the community in which the owner resides, so that in offering the plates to auto owners, members of the legion feel that they can appeal to civic pride.

Members of the legion will start the sale within the next day or two.

Davy Crockett said a thing or two about what to tell the grocer

Had a lot of experience, Davy had, and gave some practical advice which most of the world appreciates. Here was his motto: "Be sure you're right; then go ahead." That was our motto in making Post Toasties, and that's been the motto of the Southwest in experimenting with other corn flakes and—accepting Post Toasties as the universal household favorite: Post Toasties are crisper, thicker—they have more "body" than substitutes—and they have a perfection of that wonderful corn flavor, which no imitation equals. That's what the Southwest has found—and that is what it intends to keep. Sure that it's right on quality, it intends to keep right on satisfaction. It goes ahead with—
