GRAIN JURY MAKES FINAL REPORT

LOVE LETTER ON STATIONERY OF MARY MILES MINTER FOUND IN THE PAPERS OF FILM DIRECTOR

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—Sheriff Harris of Elko, Nev., telephoned to the police department here today that the man at Carlin, Nev., thought to be Edward F. Sands, wanted in connection with the killing of William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director, was not Sands, and has given a satisfactory account of his movements which dissolved all suspicion.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—The police announced today that no warrant on a murder charge has been issued against Edward F. Sands, former butler-secretary, and declared to be the most important witness sought in connection with the mysterious shooting Wednesday night of William Desmond Taylor, noted motion picture director.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—A telegraphic warrant charging Edward F. Sands, alias Edward F. Strathmore, former butler to William Desmond Taylor, with the murder of the film director in his apartments here was issued by Los Angeles police department late last night and wired to Constable A. B. Berning at Carlin, Nev., according to information received this morning by Los Angeles Examiner.

The police had taken this action, it was stated, following the receipt of a telegram earlier in the evening from Constable Berning that he had under surveillance there a man whose description was said to answer to that of Sands.

Another angle of the case involved the "finger" and "gravel" examination, as the detectives describe it, of a well known motion picture actress at her home here. They detected it in the "finger" examination, which was one of a number who have indicated intimate friendship with Taylor.

Prepare for Funeral.—While these developments were in progress and the police were sifting the constantly arriving "tips" on the case from various sources, preparations were being made for the funeral of the dead director this afternoon.

This also was not overlooked by the police, for not only were ten uniformed men detailed to keep order in the street crowds expected to gather about St. Paul's Episcopal Pro-Cathedral at 3 o'clock this afternoon, but a number of plainclothes also were assigned to funeral duty in the hope that even there they might obtain a clue to the murderer.

MABEL ANSWERS ON HER WORD OF HONOR

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—Mabel Normand, film actress, who was among the first persons to see William Desmond Taylor, film director, alive, made a number of declarations on "her word of honor" to newspaper interviewers yesterday.

"Were you ever in love with Taylor?" she asked her. "Not in the way you mean when he uses the expression 'in love.' On my word of honor, I never loved him. Our friendship was based on comradeship and understanding."

"Did you know any woman who might have been jealous of you—who might have loved Taylor?"

"On my word of honor, no." "Or any man who might have been jealous of the place he occupied in your esteem?"

"On my word of honor, no." "After some other questions, she said: "Oh, please say that I never heard of that pink silk night robe they say is missing from Mr. Taylor's apartments."

mitted to enter the grounds or real-estate office, which was the presence was made by the detectives who maintained silence when questioned as to the purpose or by whom they were detailed to the place.

The sheriff's office, which has been conducting an independent investigation into the murder of Taylor, which it was previously made known, was on the theory of a woman involved, announced today that an arrest would be made late today and that it would not be Sands.

KARAKULE BREEDER PLANS LONG TRIP TO REPLENISH FLOCKS

ALEX ALLBRIGHT, OF DUNDEE, MAY GO TO BOKHARA, RUSSIA. APPLIES FOR PASSPORT FOR YEAR'S JOURNEY

Long and Perilous Trip to Remote Section of Russia Will Be Necessary. A trip to Bokhara, Russia, for the purpose of getting new blood for his flock of Karakule sheep, is planned by Alex Allbright, of Dundee, pioneer Karakule breeder in this state.

Mr. Allbright would have to go to Constantinople, thence across the Black Sea to Asia, across two or three newly made canals, to the Caspian Sea, and across that into the mountainous country of Bokhara where Karakules are bred. It is his plan to bring back ewes with male lambs, and as these would have to be shipped home by the same route as the ewes, the undertaking, aside from its dangers, is a considerable one.

The first Karakules in this section were imported by Dr. C. C. Young, now of El Paso, and from him Mr. Allbright acquired a flock that has since grown to large proportions. A number of other ranchmen in north Texas, including W. J. McCallister, W. E. Norton and W. F. Wicks of this city have Karakules obtained from the Allbright ranch. It is Mr. Allbright's plan to replenish and improve his herd by the importation of the new stock for which it is necessary to make the journey to Bokhara.

The first jury found not guilty of violating the city plumbing ordinance and the man who was charged with aggravated assault on a woman on a ride to the country was also found not guilty.

Character Blame Browning. BURKURNETT, TEXAS, Feb. 7.—In view of the fact that there was an extract in your paper which might be considered as a reflection upon the character of the late Charles Browning as a law-abiding citizen, as a man and a gentleman, in connection with the shooting that took place last Wednesday night on the west side of Burkurnett, Texas. We desire to testify to his moral uprightness, his gentlemanly Christian character and his record as a law-abiding citizen for a period of two years, and furthermore, since these reflections on his character are groundless, we desire that this statement in correction thereof shall be published over our signatures. LOCAL DEBATERS LEAVE FOR CONTEST AT OKLAHOMA CITY

Determined to wipe out the defeat handed local debaters last year in the final clash, Joe Bashara and Mostimer Clifton, representing the Wichita Falls high school, left early Tuesday morning for Oklahoma City to prepare for the debate scheduled for 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. In the debate with Oklahoma City here last year the visitors were awarded a judges' decision and the local speakers are more than anxious to square up accounts. Intensive practice and application to their subject has prepared Bashara and Clifton, they believe, for the task of refuting the oratorical assaults to be launched by their opponents. That the federal government should own and operate the railroads, is the question under discussion, with the locals upholding the affirmative and the visitors favoring the negative. Miss Juanita Kinsey, debating coach, accompanied the boys to Oklahoma City.

Mr. Keith paying the highest price reached at the De Moines sale. A similar shipment arrived in the same car as that for Mr. Keith, being destined for Albany, Texas. These Herefords were placed on the Kendrick ranch. The cattle were inspected by a number of Wichita Falls Tuesday morning and were the object of much admiration.

WILL SUSPEND ALL WORK ON THE SHIPS DESTINED FOR SCRAP

ACTION WILL FOLLOW THE ACTUAL RATIFICATION OF THE TREATY. WILL GO TO THE SENATE THE LAST OF THE WEEK. President of Opinion the Navy Should Not Exceed 80,000 Men.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—President Harding will order suspended all work on vessels now building which are destined for the scrap yard under the naval treaty, but will issue no final orders for discontinuance of the work until the treaty is actually ratified, it was said today at the white house. The president, it was stated, already had ordered suspension of work on additional ships on the island of Guam and likewise further developments under way in the Philippine Islands, taking his action in view of the clause of the naval treaty fixing the status quo for those Pacific islands of the United States. The treaties resulting from the arms conference, it was said at the white house, are expected to be sent to the senate the last of this week, although this will depend on the submission of the report of the American delegation to the president. Mr. Harding, it was added, has not decided whether he will present the treaties in person or by letter. The president was represented as of the belief that some reductions in the personnel of the army and navy would result from Wednesday conference agreements but of "reasonable" relation. "The navy in his opinion, it was said, should not exceed 80,000 men, the lowest minimum for safety."

VATICAN RESUMES USUAL BRILLIANCE; CORONATION SUNDAY

ITALY REJOICES OVER THE ELECTION OF ARCHBISHOP OF MILAN.

EXPECTED TO HEAL THE BREACH THAT EXISTED

Widely Quote Speech of New Pope Made at His Installation as Archbishop.

By Associated Press
 ROME, Feb. 7.—The vatican today began to resume its usual brilliance, eclipsed by the death of Benedict XV, in preparation for the coronation of the new pope, Pius XI, on Feb. 12. The pontifical household was being set in order and the rooms used by the conclave during the election will soon assume their normal appearance.

All Italy, judging from the messages received at the holy see, seems full of joy that Pius XI sits on the throne of St. Peter. All predict from his first apostolic benediction that the breach between the church and the state will be healed during the present pontificate.

The pontiff's reaction in this regard as summed up in a speech which he delivered when installed last summer as archbishop of Milan, is now being widely quoted. He then said:

"It is above all, abroad that one sees and feels now the pope console the greatest dignity and prestige for Italy. Through him all the millions of Catholics in the whole world turn to Italy as a second fatherland. Through him, Rome is truly the capital of the world.

"One would have to raise his eyes to see the prestige and advantage our country derives from his presence. When international weight is considered, he is superior to the national sovereign. All nations recognize in him a divine institution. We Catholics of Italy by divine ordination have the care of him and are responsible in honor before the Catholics of the whole world."

Pius XI is occupied with the preparation of long lists of the prelates who will surround him as the spiritual head of 300,000,000 persons. There are indications of very radical changes in the pontifical household, since Cardinal Gasparri retains his post as secretary of state, and many of Benedict's appointments are certain to be reinstated.

An army of workmen was busy in the vatican today re-establishing the offices, ante-rooms and audience chambers, and the beds, tables, chairs and the washstands used for the conclave were being returned to the hospitals and colleges from which they were acquired.

Within a day or two all will be as usual; the ambassadors will be making their calls on the new pontiff and the washstands of the prelates and uniforms of the diplomats again will be in evidence.

WILL REACH ROME IN TIME FOR CORONATION

By Associated Press
 PARIS, Feb. 7.—Cardinal Dougherty, archbishop of Philadelphia, and Cardinal Bégin, archbishop of Quebec, on their way to Rome, reached Paris this afternoon after a stormy trip on the La Lorraine from New York. The two cardinals will reach Rome Thursday night in ample time for the coronation of Pope Pius XI.

Soon after his arrival in Paris, Cardinal Dougherty telegraphed the new pontiff his congratulations.

In a statement later Cardinal Dougherty said:

"The election of the archbishop of Milan a few months after his election to the cardinalate is similar to the election of Benedict XV a short time after his reception of the red hat. Pope Benedict's election was clearly a special providence and no doubt will be found true of Pius XI. I am conscious for his intellect, his piety and learning. He has had experience in diplomacy and the holy see chose him for its first nunzio to the newly liberated and united Polish nation."

ODD FELLOW NOTES

There are a few reported on the sick list among the Odd Fellow members, but special mention should be made of Mr. Cherry, with a Colorado membership, who lies very low at the Call Field hospital. It is desired that both ladies and gentlemen Odd Fellows should visit him. Also, Mrs. R. S. Boston, at 22 Adams street. She is reported as slowly improving.

The drill team of the Rebekah degree of Odd Fellowship will practice at the hall this (Tuesday) evening, February 7. All interested should attend.

D. W. Irwin of Island City, Ore., who is visiting his son, E. H. Irwin of this city, was a pleasant visitor at the Odd Fellows hall, corner of Sixth and Scott streets, at 7:30 p. m., to attend the valentine entertainment. Each person is expected to bring a valentine, also some silver, at least a dime, to put in the grand silver collection march for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the evening. A splendid program has been arranged for the evening.

Invitations have been extended to Vernon, Electra, Iowa Park, Byers, Patsy, Henrietta, Bowie and Archer to attend the first degree work and the holding of David on Monday evening, February 13. It is expected that a large crowd will be present and any visitor happening to be in the city that evening is cordially invited to be present.

Deputy Grand Master Rubenough of Iowa Park reported Monday night that the prospects of instituting a new Odd Fellows lodge at Burk Burnett during the coming month was very promising.

Drawings and paintings in caves in France were executed as far back as 16,000 B. C.

Wireless Set to Tickle the Wrist And Wake Police

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—The old-fashioned policeman who "pulled" a box and then spent an hour napping in some sheltered corner is threatened with a shock—in the wrist.

Chicago officials, planning to equip every patrolman with a portable wireless set, are considering transmitting their signals by attaching two electrodes to each patrolman's wrist and attracting his attention by passing an electric impulse through his system.

Visible or oral signals are unsuitable to the needs of the policeman patrolling a beat, the city's wireless experts say, and so they have begun experimenting with the shocking plan.

Berlin, Germany, policemen have been equipped with an eight-pound wireless set which transmits a shock when headquarters wants a recipient to run to the nearest call box. The instruments are sewed in the officer's clothes so he has no chance to forget and leave them at home.

By a system of selective transmission Chicago wireless engineers believe it will be possible to connect in certain specified areas. A general alarm might wake all the sleeping policemen in the city.

PARTY RESCUED AFTER A DAY AND NIGHT IN A SMALL OPEN BOAT

ST. PETERSBURG, FLA., Feb. 7.—Stranded in a small open boat on a bar at the approach of Tampa bay for a day and a night a party of five winter visitors here from Pintaeville, Ky., were rescued late yesterday by George Roberts, a region guide of Pass A-Grille, and returned here tonight none the worse for their adventure.

DISCUSS QUESTION CALENDAR REFORM

Business, Professional and Scientific Men Meet in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—A national convention of business, professional and science men to discuss the question of a calendar reform with a view to endorsement of a bill now pending in congress to substitute for the present time calendar one dividing the year into thirteen months of 28 days each, convened here today at the national museum auditorium under the auspices of the Liberty Calendar association of America.

"The Liberty Calendar bill" which has been introduced in the house by Representative Schall of Minnesota and the endorsement of the association, would put the new time schedule into effect in 1928 and "give the other nations an opportunity to follow."

The bill is advocated by the association as a reform in the time schedule for every year which would definitely fix for all time the dates of every day of the week by the month, day, month division and thus dispense with the need of yearly calendars and end the inconvenience of having to refer to these to establish the coincidence of "days and dates."

On 365 day years, the odd day remaining would be disposed of as "New Year day," the first of the year to be given no other designation and retained as a legal holiday. In "leap year" the additional one day lay would be disposed of by creating a "leap year day" between the months of June and July as a legal holiday. The extra month of the calendar would be "Vern" to include the "Vernal equinox" and begin spring.

The proposed calendar would begin with Monday instead of Sunday. Thus 1923 is selected for installing it, advocates explained, because the next day after the first is Monday. The same dates for every month then would be fixed for each day of the week until the end of time. An estimated saving of $25,000,000 a year now expended on calendars is one argument of the association in support of the proposal.

PROMISES MAGISTRATE NOT TO DYE HER CATS TO MATCH HOUSE DRAPERIES

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Miss Margaret Owen, 22, a singer, has promised Magistrate Hastings that she will never dye her cats to harmonize with her house draperies or the vivid hues clothing she wears.

Miss Owen was haled before the magistrate when agents of the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals testified she had dyed a valuable pet feline blue to match draperies in her home. The animal died, witnesses testified.

"If I consent to be lenient," said Magistrate Hastings, "I want you to go back to Florida and stop dyeing cats."

She promised.

ARBUCKLE AND HIS PARTY RETURN TO LOS ANGELES

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—Roscoe Arbuckle, his wife and his sister-in-law, Miss Marie Durfee, left Los Angeles by automobile late last night after the date for his third trial—March 13—had been set in Judge Lunderback's court.

Arbuckle is accused of manslaughter in connection with the death of Virginia Rappé, film actress. Two trials have resulted in jury disagreements.

CRAZED MAN KILLS THREE, WOUNDS TEN AND THEN SUICIDES

GENEVA, Feb. 7.—An automatic pistol in each hand, Battista Pestalocci, suddenly crazed, terrorized the picturesque Swiss town of Bellinzona near Lake Maggiore yesterday, killing three persons, wounding ten others and then committing suicide.

He started at the railroad station, where he held up a crowd waiting for a train, shooting and killing the two brothers Bronzini and wounding a third traveler. He then rushed through the streets shooting pedestrians on sight. Eight of his shots took effect and one of his victims later died. He then entered a restaurant, where he shot and wounded two men but lost one of his automatics.

Failing an attempt to capture him in the eating house, he eluded the pursuit of a posse armed with rifles for several hours while the townspeople remained barricaded in their homes until he was found dead, victim of one of his few remaining bullets.

DENY GOVERNMENT LOAN TO A. B. & A. RAILROAD

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The Atlanta, Birmingham & Atlantic railroad was denied by the interstate commerce commission today a government loan of $412,502 which it sought to pay off indebtedness. The company now is being operated by a receiver. The commission held that the advance was not necessary for maintenance of transportation operations, and that the company did not offer sufficient security.

A Valentine tea at the Parish house of the Episcopal church on Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 14, is planned by the Episcopal ladies to be one of the prettiest and most entertaining events of Valentine week, and will serve the double purpose of a social get-together occasion and a day nursery benefit. A silver offering will be taken for the latter during the afternoon.

The tea will be held from 3 to 5 o'clock and a musical and reading program is being prepared under the direction of Mrs. C. W. Reid. Tentative plans for the tea, appointment of committees, etc., were made at the Monday afternoon meeting of the Episcopal Guild at the Parish house, at which 20 members were present.

An invitation to the tea, which is expected to be a big affair, is tendered every woman in the city.

WILL ENTERTAIN CHOIR MEMBERS THURSDAY 16TH

The women of the First M. E. mission society will entertain the members of the First M. E. South, choir next Thursday evening, February 16, with a reception and party at the church, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Tentative plans for the entertainment, which will be an expression of appreciation for the women of the church for their unselfish and splendid service, were made at the Monday all-day meeting of the four circles of the mission society, and Mrs. W. W. Cook, presiding in the absence of Mrs. D. J. Carthers, president, appointed arrangements and refreshment committees to attend to further plans for the entertainment. Members of the choir, husbands, wives or escorts will be invited to the party.

The society also voted to adopt Rev. Mr. Knickerbocker's suggestion in a splendid talk on evangelistic mission work made before the meeting, and devote their study from now until Easter to evangelistic methods and work. In his talk Dr. Knickerbocker deplored the fact that foreign missions in many sections of the field have degenerated into trade school centers, etc., and have put evangelistic work second.

More than a hundred members were present at the all-day meeting, and a delicious chicken pie dinner was served at 12 o'clock by Mrs. F. T. Warren's circle—One. The business meeting was held in the Wesley Girls class room, with devotionals opened by Mother Hartman, who took the twenty-third Psalm for her subject, and a song, "Pass Me Not." By circles, Circle One had 23 present, Circle Two 21, Circle Three 25, and Circle Four 25.

Mesdames W. B. Pyron and R. E. Hardwick are spending two weeks in Houston with their mother, Mrs. D. Edward Greer.

"CHU CHIN CHOW" LONG ON SCENERY AND BEAUTY BUT LACKING IN SOME THINGS

There is a story of a colored lady who, after presiding over the cuisine of a family that cared more for formality than food, suddenly tendered her resignation.

"What's the matter, Ecceema?" asked her mistress.

"Too much passing of the plates for the fewness of the vittles," was her reply.

If the plates be of porcelain and silver and are removed often and deftly by capable hands, it indicates a desire, as Ecceema no doubt would have expressed, to "put on dog" amid such circumstances, one looks for virtuosity in keeping with the style and extraordinary splendor.

"Chu Chin Chow" presented to a packed crowd at the Wichita theatre Monday night has a setting of extraordinary splendor and beauty and no one can soon forget its richness, in that regard. But the virtuosity served in the rare vessels are commonplace and mediocre, corned beef and cabbage instead of the humming bird's tongues one felt should be on the menu. Little of real comedy, rather ordinary and a scarcity of excellent music—these amid scenes of breath-taking, exotic charm, by extravagantly and beautifully costumed performers—made up the evening. The setting is unforgettably pretty and pleasing, a cross-section of Oriental splendor and loveliness, combining Omar Khayyam, Arabian Nights and the Old Testament in one glittering, fascinating panorama that was all sufficient to the eye of the beholder. You got a hazy, hazy eye full, your ears were not so richly rewarded.

Those who had been led to anticipate what is known in vulgar parlance as rough stuff probably came away disappointed; the display of those limbs that usually features such attractions was not in evidence, but what the show lacked in legs it made up in other portions of anatomy. The prevailing female costume left the upper part of the torso bare except for one wispy, filmy piece of dry goods, judiciously placed, but that costume was so much in evidence that the retainer pulled the edge of its naughtiness.

The dancing, which one might have expected to dominate an Oriental production, was rather less in quantity than the average vaudeville performance. Out of the almost incessant music, there was little that lagged, and yet the rendition of "Only a Slave," by Marjannah and Nur-al-Huda, the serenade by the latter, "Any Time's Kissing Time" by Alcolon and All Daba, and "How Dear is Our Day," also by the two, last named, were mighty pleasing bits of melody that the audience would gladly have heard more of.

In some setting the play really does come up to the adjectives with which its advance agent is so generous; in fact, no present agent could really do justice to that nature of the production. Such scenes as the slave market, the back street in Baghdad, and the bazaar, rather beggar description, if such a trite expression may be employed; they are as educational as they are delightful, which is saying something. They were flashed before the spectator with a rapidity and finesse that spoke of a highly efficient organization behind the scenes.

The story itself is roughly adapted from the Arabian Nights narrative of All Baba and the Forty Thieves. There is a skein of pretty, if rather brutal, Oriental romance woven into the fabric, and the moral is pointed out too forcibly to prevent its adorning the tale.

It was Wichita Falls' first taste in several years of anything in the musical extravaganza line, and with most of those who viewed it, its unquestioned merits and beauties outweigh its palpable shortcomings.

It will be repeated Tuesday night Wednesday matinee and Wednesday night.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS THE SMALL VOICE By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Buskins was sitting on it and smiling.

One day Nick ate a green apple and it made him sick. So after that he and Nancy were not allowed to go near their favorite apple tree. That was very hard to bear and more of a punishment than their mother knew, for without the magical elevator they couldn't see their fairy friend Buskins, nor could they make any more visits to the strange country of Up-in-the-Air.

The blossoms in the orchard had disappeared, so the Twins could no longer play that it was a fairy house. It was more fun down in the meadow under their beloved chestnut tree, the place where all their adventures began. The first daisies were out, the weather being very warm, and Nancy started to pick a bouquet for the dinner table. Nick wasn't helping much, thinking it more fun to poke for bugs and beetle in the grass.

Suddenly a voice called out, "Hello!" answered the Twins together, looking around in a puzzled way, wondering who had spoken. But no one was to be seen. The voice was very small and far away. Indeed it seemed to come from the ground. Could it be Flop Field?

Many housewives are now buying baking powder under false impressions—they think they are getting 16 oz. or a full pound when they are really only getting 12 oz.—3/4 of a pound.

In order to keep the price down to compete with other brands, some manufacturers have reduced the contents of their large cans. If you don't look at the label—don't know exactly what you are getting when you buy these brands, you are apt to be 4 oz. or 1/4 of a pound short.

CONFESSES TO INCENDIARY ACTS IN BUSINESS SECTION OF TOWN.

MISSING GOODS FOUND IN THEIR POSSESSION

Thefts Made in Big Fire of Last Week Prompt Them to Cause More Fires.

SOUTH BEND, TEXAS, Feb. 7.—Two boys who kept the town in a state of terror all morning by starting fires under buildings in the heart of the business section of the city were arrested on suspicion by Deputy Constable Captain Long at noon today. Upon the third degree being resorted to, the boys confessed to starting three fires, the first under the Mamie Lee theatre, the second under the Gin dance hall and the third under the South Bend hotel. Fortunately the flames in each instance were discovered before they had made any headway. The boys, who are brothers, came here from Wiles about two weeks ago, with their father. They are aged 12 and 17 respectively and it is said have a step-mother in Wiles. They got the idea of starting fires from the big conflagration of last week, when they stole many articles of great value that had been removed from buildings in the path of the flames. Stolen loot found in their possession included a mesh bag, flash light, pair of shoes and several pearl handled knives, which they say they stole from a store in Graham, but don't remember the location of. Constable Ross has gone to Graham to investigate.

SUGGESTS WITNESS DREAMED OF SEEING U. S. SOLDIER SHOT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The suggestion that George W. Yarbrough of Roanoke, Ala., "dreamed" he witnessed the shooting of an American soldier by a firing squad in France was made today before a senate investigating committee by Col. Holsted Dorcy of the fourth infantry, who denied that he had ever heard of such an incident. Testifying recently before the committee Yarbrough declared he saw the soldier shot by the squad north of the Argonne and that he was close enough to hear him beg that he be not blindfolded. Colonel Dorcy said that harrowing experience at the front often caused soldiers to make statements in good faith as to events which never happened.

WHITE HOUSE DINNER TO DISCUSS LEGISLATION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Another white house dinner to consider the administration's legislative program has been arranged for tonight with members of the senate and house republican steering committee in attendance. The conference, it was assumed by congressional leaders, will follow along the lines of the one held several weeks ago, at which an agreement was reached on a number of matters connected with the legislative program. Among the subjects which leaders considered would be discussed are the soldier bonus, the tariff, and possibly matters connected with the arms conference.

HELSINGFORS, Feb. 7.—Some of the Karelian troops fleeing from the bolsheviks have crossed into Finnish territory badly equipped and suffering from starvation. Thousands of civilian refugees are pouring into Finland. Marauding bands are invading the timber districts in the commune of Savukoski, seizing money, horses and foodstuffs. Measures are being taken to repulse them.

OLD-TIMER RETURNS.

Sauerkraut, after long interment as an alien enemy, is coming back into popularity strongly. So strongly, in fact, that it is the sensation of the food trades.

Those who dislike German chop-suey will sniff and say, "Strongly is right!"

Nevertheless, the return of the prodigal, no longer known as liberty cabbage, is refreshing news in this madhouse age of conferences, blocs, agendas, reparations and parleys.

It's another indication of recovery from the war and return to normalcy.

For normalcy without sauerkraut is as unappetizing as sauerkraut without frankfurters or spareribs.

International politics is important—at least, until viewed from the perspective of a long lapse of time.

In the long run, changes in a nation's diet get down deeper into the undercurrents of humanity.

If the Chinese were to stop eating rice, it would be infinitely more important than their diplomatic relations with Japan, for it would preface a lowering of the physique of the yellow race, now rising to rival the white man.

Many drank for many thousands of years. America suddenly kicked John Barleycorn out. Students 1000 years from now will recognize that prohibition brought a far greater change to Americans and their civilization than even the world war.

The things we eat and drink are the engines, good or bad, that run us. From them come our bodies, much of our mental powers or handicaps, along with virtues and vices.

The Russian soldier on military duty has this for his week's food: Ten ounces of salt, 7 quarts of beer, 120 ounces of barley, 112 ounces each of meat and black bread and 123 ounces of sauerkraut.

Dieticians, talking in terms of calories, claim that kraut has a third more food value than chicken soup.

The real sauerkraut fans, however, are not much interested in calories. They ask few questions when they tackle kraut and its near relatives—pretzels, spareribs, cheese sandwiches and beer.

Possibly the real reason for sauerkraut's comeback is the rumor that its juice, at the proper age, has an alcoholic content that comes close to the Volstead deadline. Or is that just propaganda by cunning kraut manufacturers?

THE TAX QUESTION AGAIN.

The idea of making men of large incomes and businesses which make unusual profits pay all of our taxes dies hard, if it is dying at all. This idea comes partly from a feeling that is inherent in most of us against the wealthy and the successful. We want to penalize them. And if we could find a way to make the owners pay we might tax the big fortunes out of existence. That might be good. It is too much to say.

The latest influential proponent of the restoration of the excess profits tax is Benjamin C. Marsh, managing director of the Farm National Council. He has appeared before the ways and means committee to urge that this tax be restored. He says that it would yield a billion dollars annually. Any tax that would yield as much as a billion dollars is certain to receive some consideration from congress, but there is much doubt whether an excess profits tax would yield this much. It cannot be said that there isn't any such animal as excess profits but it is rapidly becoming extinct.

The excess profits tax was imposed as a war measure. It was justified as a war measure. Almost anything that would have raised money would have been justified. It is not justified as a revenue measure in peace times. It has already been too long continued by an administration whose slogan was "back to normalcy." It is a brake upon enterprise and ability. It lets the big corporation out and gets the little one. It exempts the corporation which has watered its stock and has, in many instances, laid heavy burdens upon the conservative institutions which are the backbone of industry. The excess profits tax is bad because it encourages extravagance and discourages enterprise. It is doubtful whether it would raise any great amount of revenue at this time. It would appeal to that element which believes that it is wrong to be successful or to make or have money.

The excessive taxes that have been laid upon large incomes also fall to accomplish their purpose, whether this purpose is to penalize such incomes or to raise revenue. It has driven the incomes of the wealthy into tax exempt securities and away from industrial investment. It is hurting industry without raising revenue. We can change our laws all we want to and while we may be able to break up large fortunes we can never make them pay taxes that are beyond reason. As the government needs the money, it can, and perhaps ought, to impose a pretty stiff rate on large incomes. But there is a point beyond which the rates will decrease rather than increase revenues. Congress has gone far beyond that point in its surtax rates.

TWO INCIDENTS.

Last week the body of a woman was found on one of the business streets of Fort Worth. It later developed that the woman had been one of a party of four in an automobile and had jumped from the car. The inference is that she was being carried in the automobile against her will.

Saturday night a young woman was brought to an Amarillo hospital with injuries from which she died. She had been one of an automobile party and the theory of her injuries is that she jumped from the car.

It is unnecessary to point the moral from these two incidents.

The Scotch average nearly a foot taller than the Irish. But the Irish were kept down 700 years.

Since there is no "h" in the Russian language, how do they say what kind of a winter this is?

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

WALKING THE TRAIL.

Our lives are made up of trails. Trails are fascinating things. The other day I rode in a train over an old Indian Trail of a century or so ago. And I dreamed pictures of poetry as we rushed over the plains and through the valleys.

I could see the Redskins, in all their magically wonderful existence, long before the White Man came—down through the early sprinkling of cabins and rail fences, to the towns, concrete roads, automobiles and trains of the present.

If you have ever walked over an old trail, you know the thrill it gives to you—something of the past coming up to tell you how to walk it just a little better!

How many of us start out on trails with those in whom we believe and trust—only to end our trail alone.

He who walks the trail to the end must be of steady, sturdy stuff.

Trails are often very lonely affairs—full of testing, and sometimes a maze of despair. But the strong in heart endure—well deserving their sleep under the stars when the night comes on.

There is nothing that fills life with ardor like walking the trail with a friend.

Climbing over the rocks, hearing the crackle of the dead, fallen branches, catching the odor of the woods, and moving through and on with the melodies of the wild songsters of the forest—who would not glory in walking the trail in nature?

However, our little lives may find bigger trails than those through the trees or across broad plains—trails through people's hearts!

You in whom I believe, I in whom you believe—shall we not trail together and catch just a little spirit of the Infinite as He smiles to us through glimpses?

So that at the end of the trail we may bow—made happy by the best that we tried to do.

PIRATE DAYS.

We're reading tales of Captain Kidd And Old Swashbuckling Captain Brand; We're deep in all the deeds they did Upon the seas and on the land, And Bud and I set out each night To sail the rolling Spanish main, Two youngsters with the old delight, Back in the pirate days again.

We fight with Morgan's buccaners, The black flag flying at the mast; The clash of steel is in our ears, The pistol fire is harsh and fast, Rough and adventurous and bold, We take our stand with honest men, Battling the cruel lust for gold, And I a wide-eyed boy again.

Last night we found a man marooned, And saw another walk the plank, We helped the lady who had swooned, And watched a vessel as it sank, Bud's learned the pirates all by name, While I through him have come to know The old delight I used to claim, When I was young so long ago.

I haven't read for thirty years, The pirate tales that thrilled of old, But now another lad appears, Who wants to have these stories told, And here we are—two eager boys, Wading the decks that swim with gore, Claiming adventure's many joys, Back in the pirate days once more.

THE FUEL OF PROGRESS.

So the miners want an alliance with railroad workers for mutual support in the fight against wage reductions.

If such an alliance should be formed, which is doubtful, it would probably begin to function about the time the railroads adopted oil, or were electrified, or had succumbed in large measure to hard-surfaced highways and motor trucks.

Organization may be the mechanics of progress, but the brain of man continues to be its fuel.

One hundred years ago the candle business was flourishing. We have no doubt that its operators, visioned a trust, while its employees dreamed of a union. Then came petroleum and New Bedford lost her prestige.

What has become of the county fair with its race track? Where is the clipper of the "Roaring Forties"? What was it that made the cities turn from gas to electricity for street lighting?

The coal miners are trying to keep too many men at work. That is the sum and substance of their problem. There isn't enough consumption to keep the crowd busy. They admit that the average miner works but a small percentage of his time. He must have higher wages to make up for idle days.

Things never have worked out according to such calculations. Public opinion never has, never will, authorize a yearly salary based on 100 or 150 days of work, not outside government offices.

When there is too little for the number of men engaged in any particular trade their only hope consists in beating up another.

What has become of all the granite cutters, ship carpenters, shoemakers, etc?

If this country can get an adequate coal supply with 300,000 miners it won't pay 600,000. It won't agree to a six-hour day for the sake of having an excuse to do so.

If the miners' union tries to force it to do so, it will merely use more oil, more water power, and there will be less work than ever in the mines.

If there are too many miners, and there obviously are, the logical thing is for a certain portion to seek other trades.

Millions of people have been compelled to do such a thing before, and other millions will be compelled to do it later on.

Discoveries and inventions are not to be resisted because they seem cruel. Whatever makes for speed, economy and convenience will be adopted, no matter whom it throws out of work.

Those thrown out of work by new machines, new products, new methods and new appetites, merely waste time in trying to protect the old niche by organized demands.

RATS ARE CARRIERS OF DISEASE; KILL THEM

By R. R. H. BISHOP.

There are three good reasons why rats should be killed: One—They destroy millions of dollars' worth of property every year.

Two—They are disease-carriers and have introduced the bubonic plague into the country. This disease is always a potential menace, especially in seaport towns.

Three—They cause rat-bite disease, of which there are few reports.

From the economical standpoint, no argument is needed to convince people of the rat nuisance.

Farmers in Ohio—no doubt the same has been done in other states—have combated the rat by organizing teams for competition.

The team which presents the largest number of rat tails is given a dinner at the expense of the owner.

Among the most ingenious schemes for killing them is the use of the automobile exhaust. A farmer will back his machine up to a knot, hat and gloves belonging to the rat, and the exhaust will come pouring out and other farmers in wait will shoot them.

Owing to their cunning it is not easy to clear premises of rats by trapping. If food is abundant it is impossible. A few adult rats refuse to enter the most innocent-looking traps.

Yet trapping, if persistently followed, is an effective way to destroy the animals.

While the use of poison is the best and quickest way to get rid of rats, the odor from the dead bodies makes it impracticable in occupied houses. Poison, however, may be effectively used in barns, stables and other outbuildings.

Among the principal poisons which government experts recommend for killing rats are barium carbonate, strychnine, arsenic and phosphorus.

YOU AND I

Can Now Travel 312 Miles an Hour in Latest Airplane.

Hansch, a Hollander, claims his latest airplane can travel 312 miles an hour. Across the American continent in 10 hours!

The team which carries you through space a trifle faster than five miles a minute. The ground looks better than ever, to most of us.

Not a piece will attract no attention in another 25 years. Airplanes, probably in this century, will travel from New York to San Francisco in 40 minutes. Inventions will prevent the plane's catching fire by friction with the air.

Hansch says his flying speed isn't of first importance. He claims his new airplane, of the helicopter type, can stand still in the air and rise and descend vertically. Doors of garages soon will be in the roof.

MOONSHINERS. Revenue officers arrested a moonshiner in Saline county, Ark. He had a 40-gallon still.

In a slight confusion, the moonshiner swore that he never drank any of his own whiskey, that he wouldn't take a drink of it for $1,000.

Gents who are trying to keep their noses red may have noticed that bootleggers usually are sober. The doctor who takes his own medicine.

INSPECTORS. Government meat experts in 325 of the largest packing houses are inspecting 62,000,000 carcasses a year.

This safeguarding of our health is one of the silent services of Uncle Sam that few of us stop to realize.

The inspectors of meat, year after year, condemn and destroy as unfit for food 131,533 whole carcasses and 671,004 tainted or disease-bearing parts.

This rigid inspection has been going on 14 years. And each year the amount of meat that is condemned and destroyed as unfit for food is increasing.

At the other end of the line is the department of agriculture, gradually stamping out cattle diseases.

CHAMPIONS. The world's 14 greatest butter-fat producing cows are listed by Professor W. W. Yapp of University of Illinois.

Fifteen of them are in the United States! This is one of many proofs that the American farmer is the most progressive in the world.

He raises so much food that it's being sent to the rest of the world he's constantly trying to produce more and better.

NEON. For 20 years neon gas has been an almost useless curiosity in the chemist's laboratory.

It will be used to work in an improved spark detector for automobiles, says a bulletin of American Chemical society.

Every discovery made by man has potential usefulness, though it may be useless when discovered and for years following.

To Erect Church On Site of Noted New York Resort

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Paul Kelly's dive, a notorious den of vice in the days when the old Bowery was world famous for its brazen iniquity, soon will undergo another metamorphosis.

Gambling joint, saloon, rendezvous of the underworld, burlesque house, pool room and hangout for "Lefty Louie," "Dago" Frank, "Gyp the Blood" and other notorious characters—and finally a rescue mission for human derelicts—Paul Kelly's dive has been all these.

Now comes the announcement of "Doctor" John Callahan, bishop of the Bowery, chaplain at the Tombs and superintendent of the Hadley reformatory, that a $20,000 church of all nations will be erected on the site.

When once the human derelict was drawn through the barred doors of the "dive" by the odor of liquor, the click of the wheel and the laughter of women, he will now enter the place at the invitation to a "feed, a flop and breakfast in the morning."

The Church of All Nations will be financed by the New York Society of the Methodist Episcopal church. It will be five stories with chapel, dining rooms, sleeping rooms, gymnasium and libraries.

REPORT PURDUE MEN PARTICIPATED IN A PROFESSIONAL GAME

LAFAYETTE, IND., Feb. 7.—N. A. College, athletic director at Purdue University, received information today that six Purdue university-football players had participated in a professional football game between the City and Marion, Ind., at Marion last fall.

Billy Evans says

Do some pitchers suffer as a result of being over-coached? I am inclined to think that some pitchers really handicap as a result of being handed too much so-called wise advice.

When a pitcher comes to a major league club, he usually has a number of rough spots that must be polished off before he becomes a sure enough big leaguer.

These faults are of various kinds. A great many pitchers are unable to hold the base runners closely, which permits them to run wild.

With runners on the bases pitchers must change their style almost entirely. Very often when a pitcher is compelled to shorten up his delivery in order to hold the runners closely to the bases, he loses much of his effectiveness.

Nine out of ten pitchers need attention in this respect. Usually some of the veteran pitchers or catchers instruct the youngsters in the proper way to correct such a fault.

A great many pitchers suffer from lack of control. They discover at the big league hitters wait the others out a great deal more than customary in the minors.

Control as a rule can be acquired through diligent effort. In some cases, control is largely caused by improper stride on the part of the pitcher.

KANSAS SEEKS LEONARD'S TITLE

Rocky Leonard is to get another shot at the lightweight title when he meets Champion Benny Leonard on February 10 in New York.

He scored knock-outs over such good boys as Jimmy Duffy, Richie Mitchell and Bobby Ward.

As far as a case is concerned, it is all with Leonard, yet Kansas is the type of fighter who must be feared. He is strong, willing and has plenty of courage. He likes to fight. That makes him dangerous.

Local basketball fans will have their fill of the cage game this week if they ever did as no less than 15 games, and probably more, will have been played before next Sunday.

HIDE TOO PRECIOUS TO STEAL BASES

Players Nowadays Afraid of Being "Skinned Alive," It is Stated.

Nowadays says players who play ball nowadays are too lazy to try to steal bases. The heavy batting has made them all sodden.

There is still another fact in connection with base running that Ty did not tell and that is the unwillingness of players to try to steal bases because they don't like to rub the skin from their legs.

WESTERN ATHLETIC DIRECTORS SUGGEST DRASTIC MEASURES TO PREVENT PROFESSIONALISM

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—Athletic directors of seventeen middle western universities in statements to the Associated Press suggested drastic means of combatting professionalism in college sports and agreed that prompt action must be taken particularly in regard to football.

The suggestions included abolition of pro football, formation of a national organization to fight professionalism in colleges, aid from the press in preserving college amateurism, cooperation with pro organizations to prevent signing of college men and a general athletic house cleaning at once of all universities.

NOTRE DAME STAR SIGNS CONTRACT WITH DETROIT

TODAY'S Sport Angle

Recently John Sheridan, one of baseball's leading critics, in commenting on the progress of baseball, made the statement that the major league umpire of today ought to pay to get in the ball park.

Mr. Sheridan was drawing a comparison between the task that the umpire has to perform today and the present-day woes of the umpire.

True, baseball has progressed, and with it the work of the umpire has improved in some ways. I have had 17 years of major league umpiring, and can appreciate some of the progress that has been made.

In the old days there was no such thing as a world series. Neither was there a sum allotted for the finishing of second and third in the two major leagues.

The coming of the world series increased the woes of the umpire. However, it is no way compares to the added duties that were brought about by the division of money to the first three clubs for a season and work in a world series.

RESUMES SESSIONS NEAR KING'S SPEECH

PROROGUED DECEMBER 19 TO AWAIT ACTION OF IRISH TREATY.

KING PAYS TRIBUTE TO WASHINGTON CONFERENCE

Also Touches Upon Negotiations With France For Protection Against Germany.

By Associated Press. LONDON, Feb. 7.—The imperial parliament which was prorogued December 19 to await action on the Irish treaty was resumed today with the reading of the speech from the throne by King George.

Regarding the Irish treaty the king said parliament would be called upon to consider such measures as may be necessary to give effect to the agreement. He also touched upon the negotiations for a pact with France to guarantee action in the event of an "unprovoked attack by Germany" and paid high tribute to the accomplishment of the Washington conference.

In his speech the king said: "During the last three months the Washington conference on the questions of disarmament and the far east continued its sessions. A treaty designed to maintain peace in the Pacific has been signed by representatives of the British empire, the United States, France and Japan."

"While this treaty replaces the Anglo-Japanese alliance I am happy to feel that the long standing concord between the two countries will remain as cordial as ever under the arrangements thus concluded. At the same time our relations with the United States in America enter a new and even closer phase of friendship."

"An agreement also was reached on the question of disarmament. A large measure of relief from the burden of armaments. In all these peaceful relations the success of the conference for which the world will owe a debt of gratitude to the initiative of the United States will be the happiest augury for future international relations."

"The problem of securing payment of reparations by Germany in the manner most comfortable to the general interest engages the conscious consideration of my ministers and of our allies."

"The German government, at the request of the allies, has themselves submitted proposals which are now under consideration. Discussions recently initiated are proceeding between my government and the German government with a view to conclusion of agreements for common action in the event of an unprovoked attack by Germany."

"The situation in the near east continued to engage the anxious attention of my ministers. My earnest hope that the forthcoming allied discussions in Paris may result in an early solution which will terminate the present state of affairs in a manner honorable to all parties concerned."

"Effort for Economy. To the house of commons the king said that the government would be for the coming year would be submitted and that every effort had been made to reduce the expenditures to the lowest possible level in order to relieve the people from their heavy burdens. Retrenchment on a great scale would be hard on individuals, but it was necessary of great industrial depression such as that through which the world is passing. It is the necessity of the situation and in every direction, and I look for your support in securing essential economies."

"For these reasons I welcome arrangements being made for the meeting of an international conference at Geneva, at which I trust it will be possible to establish peace on a fair basis in Europe, and to reach settlement of many important questions arising out of the pressing need for financial and economic reconstruction."

"Proposals will be submitted to you for the reform of the house of lords and an adjustment of the differences between the two houses."

"Among the bills for submission to parliament, most of which are of a domestic character, are: The establishment of the international trade corporation."

Counsel For Plaintiff Denies That The Suit Is Blackmailing Scheme.

JACKSON, MISS., Feb. 7.—The $100,000 damage suit filed against Governor Lee M. Russell by Miss Francis C. Birkhead of New Orleans, alleging seduction, will be called for trial by the federal court. Copies of Miss Birkhead's statements and a lengthy affidavit setting forth her allegations with the governor were procured by Governor Russell from the court clerk last night, and he was in bed in a hopeless condition as a result of two operations.

In a lengthy statement issued last night bitterly denouncing the charges of Miss Birkhead, Governor Russell said that Howard Williams, counsel for the plaintiff, had been in New Orleans in a confidential capacity as a result of two operations.

Mr. Williams, in a statement, said he saw Miss Birkhead last summer and she told her story. "I did not advise or counsel with Miss Birkhead in any way except to tell her that her story could not be handled unless it was made a matter of record in the courts."

PARRISH IS GIVEN HEARTY RECEPTION AT UNIVERSITY CLUB

Ovation For Congressman After He Discusses Issues of Day.

DECLARES ECONOMY IS OUTSTANDING ISSUE

Address Believed to Be Outline of What Candidate Will Say at Sherman.

Representative Lucian W. Parrish, congressman from the Thirtieth district, was given an ovation by nearly 300 men and women at the University club luncheon Tuesday at the conclusion of an address in which he outlined his views on problems before the congressional session.

Mr. Parrish's address was an outline of what he will make in the campaign for nomination for the United States senate. A large number of guests of the club in addition to the regular membership heard Mr. Parrish speak.

Several musical numbers were enjoyed, including selections by Mrs. Louise Thompson accompanied by Mrs. Lucille Brooks Huff.

Mr. Parrish was presented by T. H. Greenwood, secretary of the club. The speaker's life was an open book and should be an inspiration to the youth of the country, from which the speaker said that every man is the architect of his own fortune.

Mr. Parrish said that the great problems before the country, as he viewed them, were economy, revival of business, restricted immigration and world peace.

Revival of business, Mr. Parrish declared, could not be effected through the reopening of the markets of the world to the products of the American farmer. He said that so long as agricultural products were restricted in their exportation, there could be no permanent prosperity in America.

The immigration problem, he declared, was one of the most serious before the country. He said that when the emergency immigration law which he supported was enacted that immigrants were entering this country at the rate of more than 100,000 per month and that but for that measure the number of immigrants entering would have been reduced to 50,000.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The cotton market opened at a decline of 7 to 15 points owing to the continued depression of Liverpool and unfavorable Manchester advices. May sold off to 16.50 and July 15.80 on the call with Liverpool a moderate seller of near months, while there was some spot hogs selling and a few private sales. Liverpool was absorbed by Wall Street local buying, however, and the market was steady right after the call with prices showing recovery of 5 to 10 points from the low of 15.50 to 16.50.

After 7 points net lower, the market became quiet and showed no feature. There were a few private sales, however, but otherwise no pressure developed. The market was steady after 2 or 3 points of the day shortly after midday. There was some light buying believed to be for western account.
