U. S. DEMANDS COSTS OCCUPATION BE PAID BEFORE REPARATIONS

SUGGEST REMOVAL OF LORD READING VICEROY OF INDIA

MAY BE SEQUEL TO VIRTUAL DISMISSAL OF THE SECRETARY.

PLANS OF LLOYD GEORGE FIGURED IN THE MOVE

Duke of Devonshire Mentioned As Probable Successor to Secretary Montagu.

By Associated Press. LONDON, March 10.—Removal of Lord Reading as viceroy of India, it is believed in some quarters, will be the denouement to publication of the Indian government's note. There is nothing tangible on which to base this belief, but it is not improbable as a sequel to the virtual dismissal of Edwin S. Montagu as secretary for India.

The probable effect in India of Mr. Montagu's resignation is the subject of much conjecture and there are some misgivings lest the removal of the champion of Indian political reform have a dangerous repercussion there.

Equally momentous from the domestic political point of view is the effect of the whole affair on the fortunes of the government, especially as to the position of Prime Minister Lloyd George.

Some believe the chances that the premier will make good his threatened resignation have been considerably increased and that, if he also takes the view that American abolition of the viceroyalty is a lessening of the prospect of success there, the country may soon learn of his definite retirement.

It is still unknown whether he intends to begin his holiday today. But in view of the threatened lock-up in the engineering and ship-building trades it is thought likely the viceroy will be in London attending the Washington conference which will again upset his arrangements.

The successor to Secretary Montagu must be appointed soon in view of the dangerous situation in India, but the post is difficult to fill. Talk is mostly centered about the Duke of Devonshire, former governor general of Canada, although other names are mentioned.

FIVE MEN GET DROP ON THREE EMPLOYEES

$20,000 in Money And $50,000 in Bonds and Jewelry in Loot.

SAN ANTONIO, March 10.—Twenty thousand dollars in gold, silver and currency and $50,000 in state and county bonds, together with jewelry with an unofficially estimated value of several thousand dollars, was stolen when five bandits robbed the New Braunfels State bank, 30 miles north of here, at 12:20 o'clock today and escaped in an automobile.

Every article of any value in the bank was taken. The holdup of three bank employees and ransacking of the office took place within the space of five minutes and not a shot was fired or any injury of any kind inflicted. The little town did not know of the most daring robbery in the history of south Texas until the victimized bank employees rushed out and gave the alarm.

The bank is located on the public square, the most conspicuous business site of the district, and the streets were occupied by the usual number of pedestrians, shoppers and business men.

Hundreds of New Braunfels men and boys were assembled to patrol the streets early today and a great posse five minutes after the robbery and armed with every possible means of pursuit, were making a determined effort to cut off the escape of the robber car, which sped northward toward the mountains.

The Rock Island did not operate a train here at all yesterday, and the Santa Fe, which was expected to be maintained on schedule today, was held up at the Rock Island due here this morning from Oklahoma City was seven hours late, and the Oklahoma City train, made up here, left about three hours late after snow plows had been sent out to clear the tracks.

ST. AUGUSTINE, FLA., March 10.—Golf was first on the program for President Harding today, beginning his week's sojourn in Florida to gain rest and relief from the burden of office.

After luncheon the president and his party had arranged to motor down the coast to Ormond, 67 miles distant, and there board the house boat of E. B. McLean, the Washington publisher, who joined the party when its special train passed through Jacksonville on the way here yesterday.

It was planned to cruise on the "Napneoka" as far south as Lock Ledge, probably stopping at favorite opportunities for golf.

BLIZZARD PLAYS OUT A FEW MILES PAST CHILDRESS

PASSENGER TRAINS ON DENVER & NORTHWESTERN DELAYED.

CUTS FILLED WITH 6 TO 10 FEET OF SNOW

Thermometer Drops to 20 Degree Mark and Below in North Part of District.

The worst blizzard of years that struck the panhandle and western Oklahoma Thursday played out a few miles on this side of Childress and from that point south and east no snow was reported. On account of the high winds that piled the snow from six to ten feet high in the cuts, passenger trains on both the Denver and Northwestern were delayed many hours.

Friday morning, from the meagre reports that were received the thermometer dropped below the 20-degree mark at all points in the extreme northern part of the local railroad divisions. Around Forgan and Woodward the thermometer dropped to 14 degrees.

High northwest winds continued throughout the night and although it had stopped showing Friday morning the wind kept piling up the snow. One crew in charge of a snow plow reported to the local office of the Denver that they plowed through a cut where the snow had reached a height of ten feet. A half hour later they returned only to find the path again obstructed, this time with six feet of snow.

NEXT DOSE CALOMEL MAY SALIVATE YOU

It is Mercury, Quicksilver, Shaggs Liver and Stricks Your Bones.

Calomel salivation is horrible. It swells the tongue, loosens the teeth and starts rheumatism. There's no reason why a person should take such a dose of calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic—a perfect substitute for calomel. It is a pleasant vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel but it doesn't make you sick and can't salivate.

Calomel is a dangerous drug, besides it may make you feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tonic instead and you will wake up feeling great. No salts necessary. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tonic acts better than treacherous calomel your money is waiting for you. (Adv.)

BUSINESS COUNCIL STARTS MOVE FOR SPECIAL SESSION

WANTS LEGISLATURE TO CORRECT ERROR IN REDISTRICTING BILL.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE TO GO FOR CONVENTIONS

Chance to Bring Cattleman's Meeting Here is Reported and Action Taken.

A move for a special session of the legislature, to correct an error in the representative redistricting bill which renders it void, was started at the weekly session of the business council of the chamber of commerce Friday noon at the Kemp.

Swisher county, in the panhandle, was left entirely out of the bill, as finally passed. With no representation provided for one county, it is thought that the bill as a whole is knocked out, Frank Johnson told the council.

"It had been thought," Mr. Johnson said, "that a special session of the legislature would be necessary to provide money for the penitentiary system. However, it is announced now that arrangements have been made for a $700,000 loan for the penitentiaries, which means that no special session will be necessary for that purpose, and which also means, probably, that the governor would not call a session just for the redistricting bill."

J. C. Hunt inquired how much a special session would cost. Mr. Johnson replied that $2,000 a day, outside of mileage, was the expense of legislative sessions, and that the correction could be made in two days.

After some discussion a resolution was adopted directing the general manager of the chamber of commerce to take the matter up with other bodies and see if some remedy could not be found. There were two negative votes. J. C. Hunt and Horace Robbins, on this vote. The council heard a ringing talk by B. J. Bean of the Texas-Oklahoma fair situation, and voted for renewal of the effort to make a part of the promotion this year.

A request from the Altus chamber of commerce for co-operation in having the Wichita Falls-Oklahoma city train changed so as to run via Altus instead of changing to the prisco at Frederick was discussed some length, being finally referred to a committee. Some opposition to the proposed change developed.

A committee consisting of Horace Robbins, B. J. Johnson, B. J. Bean, G. Von Allmen and H. J. Forrester was named as a special convention committee. It being stated that there was a chance to obtain the 1923 meeting of the Texas Cattleman's association. One member of the council said that high hotel rates here operated against securing conventions for Wichita Falls. It was stated that the event desired is a redistricting rotary club, Wichita Falls will have an excellent chance to secure the 1923 district conference. The local club is already trying to secure the 1924 conference for the state as a whole.

EXPECT BIG CROWD TO BE AT MONDAY'S KIWANIS CONCERT

ELLEN JANE LINDSAY.

With the theatre capacity already practically sold and with three more days in which to sell tickets, the Kiwanis officials felt safe Friday morning in predicting that the Monday night concert by Carl Venth and faculty members of the Texas Woman's college would draw one of the largest crowds of the year at the Wichita theatre.

Mr. Venth and the other artists who will appear here with him are not entirely unknown to Wichita Falls, it appears, for many of those purchasing seats for the concert have expressed to the ticket salesmen their delight at being able to hear an evening's entertainment by such competent performers.

The concluding feature of the concert is to be a one-act musical play "Lima Beans," music for which was composed by Mr. Venth himself. Ellen Jane Lindsay and Bernard U. Taylor, both prominent faculty members of the T. W. C. music faculty, will carry leading parts in the production. Both will also appear in the early part of the evening as soloists.

The play has only recently been completed, and critics who have heard it, either in its entirety or in excerpt form, have been loud in their praise of its musical and dramatic value.

day's session, being J. M. Haber, representing real estate, and Dr. O. W. Wilson, representing the American legion.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy will meet at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon with Mrs. A. H. Britain, 1018 Grace street, with Mrs. Fred Barron assistant hostess. All members are urged to be present, and all eligibles, including those whose papers are not yet complete, are cordially invited.

LEGION TO STAGE BIG ENTERTAINMENT ON TUESDAY NIGHT

The Pat Carrigan post of the American Legion, in the regular meeting Thursday night, made plans for an intensive membership campaign which is to "carry on" until May, and then concentrated on plans for a big money-making entertainment Tuesday night, March 14, at the Legion hall.

In the Tuesday night entertainment, which is to combine "stunts" with dancing and other features, refreshment and other booths are to be maintained for the money-grabbers, and a general invitation will be extended the public to come and turn loose their pocket change. The entertainment is to be a first class joy giver, according to rapidly maturing plans, and the legion is to have the cooperation of the Girls' club of the high school, which recently pulled off a highly successful circus, the Business Women's club and other local civic organizations. The program will begin at 7:30, according to present plans.

Membership Campaign. The membership campaign will be carried on by two teams, with C. E. Purcell and Ben Neal as captains. A "bargain price" of $1 for dues has been made.

A memorial day program was discussed, for which Judge Nelson Phillips will be asked to make the principal address. The baseball team plans were also discussed. Dr. O. W. Wilson was named post representative on the business council of the chamber of commerce, and J. W. Morgan, Dr. T. J. Strong and Albert Taylor were named a publicity committee.

Sisters to Run for Congress

Two sisters running for congress, Mrs. Irene Cleveland Buell (above) and Mrs. A. K. Gault (below).

Both sisters will run as progressive democrats. Their platforms will advocate soldiers' bonus, decreased taxes, better farm prices, strict law enforcement and uniform marriage laws.

"Born to Politics."

Mrs. Buell and Mrs. Gault were "born to politics," they say. Their mother was a cousin of Grover Cleveland. That is the wherefore of Mrs. Buell's middle name.

And their father, the late E. St. Julien Cox, was a lawyer and the first mayor of St. Peter, Minn. Mrs. Gault fills that job now.

"From the time I was a tiny girl I longed to be a lawyer like father," Mrs. Buell said. "I remember going to court with him and crouching beneath a chair in terror when the argument grew hot."

Both are mothers.

The sisters' leaning toward politics doesn't shut them off from the joys of domesticity. Both are model housewives and enjoy home life.

And each sister is the mother of a son who served overseas in the war. The two boys now are attending the Boston School of Technology. They've written letters of congratulation to their mothers.

As city prosecutor Mrs. Buell created a stir here when she sought full enforcement of the Fourth of July ordinance.

The ordinance prohibits firecrackers. Seven violators, including the mayor's brother, were arrested.

Couldn't "Fire" Her.

Mrs. Buell opened a prosecution. The mayor said he'd disqualify her if she didn't drop it. She didn't.

Then the city council passed a resolution disqualifying her and repealing the ordinance.

But this dismissal was found incorrect legally and Mrs. Buell was retained. The Fourth of July violators were found guilty and fined.

Throughout their careers the lives of the two sisters have been closely linked. Together they were pioneers advocates of women suffrage.

And now they hope to sit together in the house at Washington!

GIRLS' DRAMATIC CLUB MAKES ITS FIRST BOW AT THURSDAY PROGRAM

The Girls' Dramatic club, auxiliary of the Studio Players community organization in the Business Women's club, made its debut Thursday evening in one of the most entertaining and successful plays that organization has yet directed.

"Manners and Modes," projected through the effective medium of a milliner's shop sale room, was a comedy of types and truth so ingeniously complete as to be classic in its artistry. And every member of the cast achieved real distinction in the presentation of her particular character, either of a type of customer or of sales girl. Those who took part in the sketch were Misses Mary Pfeiffer and Ethel McDowell, sales girls, and Mesdames Stella Mason and Edna Vogt and Misses Carrie Webster, Eves Blank, Edna Vogt, Octavia Zetchem, Irma Durnal and Una Steele.

The dramatic club's appearance, preceded and followed by the two acts of a delightful musical and art program, was the central feature of the Business Women's "Manners' Night" entertainment at the Wichita club, and about half a hundred mothers-of-club-members and other folks—were special guests.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS THE GOAT DISAPPEARS

It was a wonderful leap. Onward went the little procession, Nancy first, then Nick. After last of all the goat carrying the basket of chocolate cake.

At last they came to the first of the Seven Mountains, but right at the foot of it a toll-gate closed the road. The twins didn't know what a toll-gate was, all they saw was a great wooden beam directly in their path, and they stopped to consider how they could get round it or over it or under it.

"I know a way," said the goat. "If you take the basket and set it on the other side I'll show you how."

All this time no one was in sight. A queer little house with a roof like a hair brush squatted at the side of the road, but no one came out of it to help them. There was nothing to do but to take the goat's advice.

Nick took the basket and set it carefully on the other side of the gate. "Now watch me," said the goat. "Do just as I do, and we'll over we can pick up the basket and climb the mountain. We ought to get to the top before sunset. We'll be safe there, for I understand that from the top you can see the world like a map. I'm anxious to see where we are going, particularly the Princess Theresa in her Castle of Mirrors. I intend to marry her."

"You!" cried Nancy and Nick. "Ahem! Well, perhaps," answered the goat.

Dr. Herbert Yeuell, who has been entertaining and instructing capacity audiences every evening this week at the First Christian church with his splendid series of historical and travel lectures, several of which have been based upon circumstances of particular connection with the Christian religion, will close the series Friday evening with his lecture on "Ben Hur."

The lecture Friday evening is one of Dr. Yeuell's masterpieces, according to his chautauqua press notice critics, and it is expected that the largest attendance of the entire week will crowd the church. The lecture will begin at 7:45 o'clock, and it has been asked, on account of the grown people who are intensely interested in the series and in tonight's lecture, that babies and very young children be left at home wherever possible.

A silver offering will be taken at the close of the lecture, and Rev. Dr. Keell, pastor of the church, asks that those who attend make the offering as nearly as possible commensurate with what they feel they have profited by the lecture, as the offering constitutes the lecturer's entire pay, the church having assumed no financial responsibility.

WESLEY GIRLS OF FIRST CHURCH MEET THURSDAY

The Wesley Girls of the First M. E. church, south, met at the church Thursday afternoon in business session, when reports were given from all standing committees. Roll call was answered by a payment of dues, the following being present: Mesdames Bolter, Holly, Chesbire, Hanks, Busch, Cole, Duncan, Connolly, Glass, Byers, Dorsey, Craig, Pyle, and Pattillo.

Late in the afternoon Mrs. McCullough's circle served cream and cake.

Misses Janice and Ruth Maloney of Quail are spending the week end this week with their aunt, Mrs. Ed Howard.

SAN JACINTO MOTHERS MET THURSDAY AT 3:30

The San Jacinto Home and School council met Thursday afternoon with a splendid attendance, about forty mothers and teachers were present. During the brief business meeting plans for the monthly use of the Barwise motion picture machine for benefit shows were discussed, as were other methods of raising money for school improvement.

The program was especially interesting, opening with prayer and a song, and with the following well rendered numbers: Readings, by Miss Gretchen Shoemaker, pianist; Helen Allen and Lorens Colvert; reading, Vernon Rusby; reading, Bernice Gowdy.

The ladies of the Lamar Avenue Baptist church will hold their apron and bonnet sale Saturday at Martin's. 200-12c

GIRLS THURSDAY BRIDGE WITH MISS AGNES REID

The Girls Thursday Bridge club members were guests of Miss Agnes Reid Thursday afternoon, when two tables of members and one of guests enjoyed the game. Mrs. Henry Welch won high score and was presented with high art hairpin box, and Miss Helen Edmiston, who held low, was consoled with a Japanese fly swatter.

Miss Reid served a dainty salad course to the following: Mesdames Henry Welch, Leslie Stringer, Jennie Bonner, Harold Haynes, and C. W. Stevenson, and Misses Marian Maer, Lucile Tancred, Thelma Kahn, Flora Lee McCullough of Waco, Helen Edmiston of Kansas, and Florence Sammons.

The club meets next week with Mrs. Leslie Stringer.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR MRS. DAN McGRATH

Mrs. Dan McGrath was the surprised honoree at a pretty birthday dinner party given Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. J. F. Elliott, when her daughters, Misses Ruth, Agnes and Beulah Elliott assisted in the hospitality.

Covers were laid at a beautifully decorated table, centered with a birthday cake, for Mr. and Mrs. Dan McGrath, Paul McGrath, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Strother, Gene Elliott, Mrs. J. F. Elliott, and the Misses Elliott. After dinner the company enjoyed games and music in the living room, when the St. Patrick-decoration scheme used in the dining room was also used.

PLAYERS CLUB BEGINS STUDY OF "TRIFLES"

Those who were present included Mesdames Ben G. O'Neal, O. W. Craven, Will Pagan, G. L. Shapard, J. W. Akin and T. A. Hicks; Misses Louise Fries, Blanche Potter, Heryl Knickerbocker, Margaret Kaye, Margie Shuster and Pearl Smith.

The WRONG FACE

By ISABEL OSTRANDER

They came at last upon a tiny clearing, and with a warning touch upon her companion's arm, Fay flashed the torch on a small dark opening before them.

It was, indeed, the cave of which she had told him, but the stones had been rolled away. From the entrance, with upturned face, protruded the head of a man, asleep. It rested upon one of the stolen launch cushions, and the rug from the same source enveloped his shoulders, opening across the breast to disclose Frank's coat.

Fay bent nearer and scrutinized the sleeping man. It was undoubtedly the same face as that which had looked in on her through the library window—the same white, drawn face, pinched now with privation and exposure, but with those wild, staring eyes closed. The likeness to some one whom she had known grew stronger and stronger.

Then she drew back with a little start. Why, with that horrible, gaunt look gone it would be like—like—was her mind playing her tricks? Had she gone mad? It could not be—and yet—she bent forward with her agonized eyes searching the unconscious face, and then the torch dropped rattling upon the stones and Captain Warren placed a firm hand over her lips to stifle the scream which rose to them as he drew her slightly away.

"You saw?" She tore his hand from her lips.

"Yes," he groaned. "I saw, and I know that we both must be going crazy! Didn't I see him die, out there in No Man's Land?"

"No!" she cried softly. "I have known it. I have felt his nearness to me ever since I came home. That man is my brother!"

CHAPTER XI

"I tell you, I saw him die!" Captain Warren groaned once more. Then he spoke with a change of tone. "Whoever he may be, we must get him out of this accursed hole. No, don't return to him! If it should prove to be Will, he must be suffering from some form of amnesia, and if you awaken him suddenly the shock will kill him!"

"What do you wish me to do, Captain Warren?"

"Take the pocket torch and return to the edge of the woods, where it borders the lawn of your place, and wait. When we come out look at me, and if I nod, it will mean that the miracle is true, and a frightful mistake was made somewhere. Then speak to him quietly, as though you had seen him only an hour before, and had come out to meet him. Ignore me. I will follow you to the house and telephone for Doctor Green. But only if I nod. If I do not, run into the house and leave us alone."

"Do you think you can manage him?" she asked softly.

"I think so. I am going to try an experiment which I have seen prove successful before. Now go and pray that what we hope for may be true."

Without a word Fay took the torch and flew down the trail as though she dared not glance backward lest her strength fail her, and the captain bent over and felt for the splinter of the arrived this evening during his walk, and act as if he knew all about your having been wounded. Talk so that he has no time to think, and get him to bed as quickly as you can. You've sent for the doctor, of course?"

"How the devil do you know all this, sergeant?" Captain Warren gazed at the detective in genuine astonishment.

"Oh, I was there all the time in case you needed a hand. I saw the look upon your face when you heard Frank's description of the half-burned top of a pajama coat which could only have come from an army officer's hospital, and, although I don't think you guessed the truth, I meant to circle back and keep you in sight. But will you go up now and ask Miss Tudor to come down to me as soon as she has made herself warm and comfortable? I am sorry to disturb her after all that she has gone through, and at such an hour, but there is one question I must ask her before I leave tonight."

When Fay came to him, enveloped in a dark cloak, he led her toward the breakfast room at the top.

"There is a little porch out there where we may talk for a few minutes, even if it is a bit damp and

"Come! We're going over the top!"

She interrupted him suddenly. "Oh, not there!" She laughed nervously. "You see, sergeant, a man proposed to me there last night and I don't want to be reminded of it!"

Barry closed the door of the breakfast room and placed a chair for her. "Let us talk here, then, Miss Tudor, don't think me impudent, but I must ask you to tell me the name of that man."

"Really, sergeant?" She raised her eyebrows. "Since I very definitely refused the gentleman I should not care to mention his name. Captain Warren says that you saw it all. Isn't it wonderful to have my brother back from the dead like this, even if he is so broken and ill? Even with the tragedy of my poor little cousin's death still hanging over me, I cannot help but rejoice!"

"You have been blessed, Miss Tudor," Barry replied gravely. "Imagine him as I saw him at the library window that night, hungry and ragged and ill! And out in all that terrible storm last night with nowhere to lay his head—why, even poor Laurel couldn't stand it, being upon her near the windows, and I had to change beds with her."

"You—what?" Barry half rose from his chair.

"Changed beds with her," Fay repeated patiently. "I was still awake when she suggested changing the win-down, but I offered to change and take her bed—I am used to the elements, you know—but she declined. I must have fallen asleep when she woke up and said that she simply could not stand that damp wind-blown air across her face and would change with me, so we did. Why do you stare at me like that, Sergeant Barry?"

"I beg your pardon," he said mechanically. "I am afraid I must offend you further, but to return to my first request, I must insist that you tell me the name of the gentleman who asked you to become his wife. It is vital to the case. I must know!"

"It was—Kenneth Clayton," she responded reluctantly.

"Thank you," Barry said quietly. "Will you tell me, as nearly as you can remember, the terms of your father's will?"

"I remember quite well." Her reply was fraught with surprise. "The attorneys were here only last week to go into the details of it. Inheritance from Wilbur, also. Ah, how wonderful it is to be able to give it back to him! My father made a substantial bequest to Aunt Clara, his brother's widow, and several more to faithful servants and friends, while all the rest of his estate was to be divided between my brother and me. Do I make myself clear?"

"So clear, Miss Tudor, that you have given me the very last link I needed, the key to this tragedy! Don't you realize what that change of beds meant last night? Death to your cousin and life for you!"

THE BLACKEST HOUR.

Twenty thousand Americans committed suicide in 1921. This is the estimate by the Save-a-Life League, whose members work to prevent suicides.

Included in the list of those who took their own lives were 853 children and 509 war veterans.

The oldest suicide was 100 years old and the youngest...

Easy to explain the great increase in suicides, says Harry M. Warren, president of the Save-a-Life League.

He blames it largely on disturbed economic conditions that have caused a tidal wave of business...

Also, "the growing complexity of our modern life, the feverish unrest, crimes, divorces, questionable dress, unhappy home relations, the decline of religious sentiment, and other things have caused deranged nerves, depression and less self-control."

The empty pocketbook is a leading cause of suicides, but not the only one. Last year 76 millionaires took their own lives.

Millions of Americans—wary, disillusioned—are discouraged almost to desperation and distraction.

What they need is this powerful spiritual tonic—the knowledge that it is always blackest just before the dawn.

Since May, 1920, Americans have gone through a terrific earthquake of prices, fortune and general economy.

Many of us are saturated with the poison, self pity.

Yet our grandparents, in the days following the civil war, went through exactly the same sort of hard times that we are going through now.

The only difference is that they suffered more. We of this generation do not know what real hard times are.

Get some old resident to tell you about the panic of 1873—"when a dollar would buy nearly anything, but almost no one had the dollar."

Life is more or less of a gamble, an endless chain of alternate losses and winnings. Many of us, in facing present problems, need some of the gambler's pluck, nerve and fatalism.

Any one who has ever known a professional gambler has heard him say: "I've been a long time in a run of hard luck. Things couldn't get much worse, so they're due for a change."

The gambler has truth behind him. A run of luck is always worst just before it changes.

The fever victim's temperature reaches its highest point, the crisis, just before there's a turn for the better.

Cheer up, folks. The night is black. But the clock is striking 4. Dawn—the sunrise of a bright new day—is close at hand.

Hold the fort just a little longer. Relief is near.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE BLESSEDNESS OF SINCERITY.

Not every man is able to impress his personality on one at first glance or meeting. Nor are the depths of intelligence fathomed with eyes alone.

But there is one thing that stands out from a man's face and manner and words and acts that is as true as a weather vane in a storm—and that's his sincerity.

You can't get away from the blessedness of sincerity—it looks right through you!

Sincerity is so much higher in value than mere brilliance of mind—and there is really no end to the miles and miles of distance that it is able to travel behind great purposes and noble achievements.

For sincerity is a quality of the heart—and not the mind.

It cannot even be acquired—it must be born within one. On the other hand, it can be developed and enlarged. The more you think of others and their interests, the deeper does your quality of sincerity grow.

Friendship without sincerity is like the withered wood from flaring flames—a thing that can be blown easily away and forgotten.

But when you have a friend in whom there is real sincerity, you have what more than a mine of wealth as a refuge, would be.

Just let me know that a man is sincere and honest, and I am willing to trust him—let him believe or aspire to what he will.

The sincere man doesn't have to apologize for anything. You see what he is and all that he represents himself to be. And that is enough.

Sincerity is even higher than great wealth or elevated social standing or fame. It stands apart from grammatical errors and the latest fashions. It takes its place alone in human character—like a white lily in a vast valley of grass and weeds.

Blessed are you if you are sincere! You have something on which to build and live.

JUST FOLKS

By Edgar A. Guest

THE CHOIR BOY.

They put his spotless surplice on And tied his flowing tie, And he was fair to look upon As he went singing by; He sang the hymns with gentle grace, That little lad of nine, For there was something in his face Which seemed almost divine.

His downcast eye was good to see, His brow was smooth and fair, And no one dreamed that there could be A rascal plotting there; Yet when all heads in prayer were bowed, God's gracious care to beg, The boy next to him cried aloud: "Quit pinching of my leg!"

A pious little tyke he seemed, An angel born to sing, Beholding him none ever dreamed He'd do a naughty thing, Yet many a sudden "ouch!" proclaimed For mischief-making, unashamed, A most disturbing pin.

And yet, I think, from high above The Father, looking down, Knows everything he's thinking of And smiles when mortals frown, For in the spotless surplice white Which is his mother's joy, He knows he's not an angel bright, But just a healthy boy.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK

By LEE PAPP

I was doing my lessons without any pleasure last night and pop was looking at me, and he said, Benny, I think I'll try a little experiment with you, now hear a quarter.

Yes sir, I said. Sounding like a good experiment, and pop said, Take the quarter, and then you can really do as you please.

Yes sir, I said. Sounding better and better. And I took the quarter, and then you can really do as you please.

And I went around to a lot of stores looking in the windows wanting to see what I was standing in front of Brant's candy store and I was wanting to go in and spend it all on chocklit mushrooms and pop said, Yes, but I'm a citizen and I'm a citizen, and I'm a citizen.

And what made you change your mind, and I said, Well, you see, I'm a citizen, and I'm a citizen, and I'm a citizen.

GUARD PREACHER RESULT OF THREAT THROUGH A LETTER

WARNED TO LEAVE TOWN OF
ALAMO IN HIDALGO
COUNTY.

WORKER IN CHURCH IS ALSO THREATENED

Meeting Held Thursday Night Provides For Protection of Minister.

BROWNSVILLE, TEXAS, March 10.—The Reverend William Baldwin, a British subject, and pastor of the Alamo community church at Alamo, Hidalgo county, last night was closely guarded by armed citizens while on his way to attend a community club meeting at the church and during the meeting, following receipt through the mails of an anonymous letter threatening him with death unless he left Alamo and the lower Rio Grande Valley by sundown, according to a dispatch to a local newspaper.

Citizens have telegraphed for detectives from Houston and six or seven armed men sat up with the pastor all last night following decision of a mass meeting attended by about 20 men. They maintained guard all day.

Baldwin, 52 years old, had declared his intention to attend the meeting tonight at the church, about 60 steps from his home. Ira J. Dutton, worker in Baldwin's church, also was threatened with death unless he aided in getting the pastor out of the region.

The letter to Baldwin reads: "Johnny Bull Baldwin, you have until going down of the sun on Thursday March 9, to get out of Alamo, you, the valley. You are doomed, your life is at stake."

"Beware!"

The letter to Dutton stated: "It is up to you to help the Johnny Bull Baldwin get out of our country. Should you show any inclination to protect him you will get treatment along with Baldwin. We do not intend to tolerate such actions as were put on Sunday, March 5."

"Beware of this warning or a bullet will pierce your heart!"

"Warning!"

Citizens at last night's mass meeting resolved to protect the pastor and to learn the identity of the sender of the letters, both of which were mailed at the Alamo post-office.

Baldwin came from England to Canada about seven years ago and has been in the United States about three years.

Until he learned of the letter received by Dutton he said he thought that the warning was due to a sermon he preached in the north sometime ago. Dutton's letter, however, referring to an incident March 4, convinced Baldwin, he said, that the letter was due to local troubles. A dispute occurred in church last Sunday, it was said.

DRY AGENTS PLAN TO SEARCH CAVES NEAR SAN ANTONIO

SAN ANTONIO, March 10.—After finding where a huge still had been operating in "Robber's Cave," one of the many underground caverns in the hills northwest of San Antonio, federal prohibition agents are preparing to search the rattlesnake infested caves in quest of "rattlesnake oil," which they say has been leaching from them in quart bottles.

The fire pit and residue from a large still was found when officers entered the caves with drawn revolvers after being tipped off to the location of the illicit plant. But the underground bootleggers had flown. Only bats, white crickets and rattlesnakes were left and after a hurried search they emerged into the sunlight. A more extensive search is contemplated.

SAYS THAT WAGES MUST COME DOWN IF RATES ARE CUT

CINCINNATI, OHIO, March 10.—Robert S. Binkard of New York, speaking before the Cincinnati chamber of commerce today declared that railroad rates cannot be further reduced until wages of rail workers have been further cut.

"The wage reductions now sought by the roads," said Mr. Binkard, who is assistant to the chairman of the Association of Railway Executives, "are for the purpose of enabling the railroads to collect a lesser gross revenue for the shipping and consuming public, while still remaining solvent enterprises."

The roads, he said, have been working for reduced rail wages since October last, "with the understanding that the reduction received would be passed on to the public in the shape of reduced rates."

"The railroads today," he said, "are pleading the cause of the whole producing and consuming public. The policy they are attempting to accomplish in the long run will be equally beneficial to the interest of the railroad employes themselves."

$500,000 WORTH OF NARCOTICS AND DRUG PEDDLER ARE CAPTURED

NEW YORK, March 10.—One hundred pounds of narcotics and one alleged drug peddler were in the hands of the police today as a result of a raid on the headquarters of a drug peddling gang believed to have engaged in the wholesale smuggling of the habit forming poisons.

FORMER GOVERNOR COX OF OHIO SCORES HENRY CABOT LODGE

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 10.—Former Governor Cox of Ohio, addressing the South Carolina general assembly last night, reiterated his belief that the ills of the world today were largely due to the failure of the United States to enter the league of nations and assailed Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts as one of the leaders of the league opposition.

"In no period of American history," the former governor said, "has there been a public official who has been such an evil influence as has Henry Cabot Lodge."

Referring to Ambassador Hoover, Mr. Cox declared that "before he has heard the last of his statement that the United States went into the war to save its own hide, he may have difficulty in saving his."

Hugh Weaver of the King and Weaver Automobile company, Nash distributors, left last night for Dallas to arrange for the immediate delivery of a carload of Nash Six touring cars. Mr. Weaver states that he entirely sold out of this model during the recent automobile show.

PLAN REGULATIONS FOR THE WIRELESS TELEPHONE SERVICE

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Allocation of 20 wave lengths among the various classes of wireless telephony senders and government control of establishment of all commercial wireless transmitting telephone stations are recommended by the three committees of the government radio conference made public today.

The recommendations do not provide for government control of radio for amateur transmitting stations, which Secretary Hoover said have increased into the hundreds of thousands in the last few months. Amateur transmitting stations under the committee's proposals would be given exclusive use of wave lengths from 150 to 200 meters, and share with technical and training school wave lengths of from 200 to 275 meters.

Other recommendations are that wave lengths below 6,000 meters should in a general way, be reserved for "radio telephone service but that those wave lengths which have become fixed in service for telegraph service within this range, such as SOS signals, shall be retained."

The committee's report expresses "the hope and expectation that the radio telephone may ultimately keep the whole range from zero to 6,000 meters."

ATTENTIO TO MURDER IS CHARGED AGAINST UNIVERSITY INSTRUCTOR

MONTREAL, March 10.—J. E. Morin, a modern language instructor at McGill university, was indicted by a king's bench grand jury yesterday for the attempted murder of Prof. Hermann Walter, head of his department.

Prof. Walter's home was burned recently; rings were cut out in the bark of the trees in his orchard so that they died; two dogs were poisoned; a shed was burned, and an anonymous letter threatened other outrages.

When Prof. Walter found that he took to be Paris green in his wall, he started an investigation which ended in Morin's indictment.

The world is demanding, and before, men of good character with well-developed minds—minds ready for specialized work, for bigger jobs, for positions as leaders.

The correspondence instruction of the United Y. M. C. A. Schools is planned for young men ambitious to realize their bigger selves and who are willing to use their spare hours to that end.

Our platform is: (1) the most service for the least money; (2) careful guidance of every applicant in the choice of a course; (3) the interest of a competent and sympathetic teacher; (4) as much encouragement to complete a course as to begin one.

The opportunity for ex-service men to secure this high-grade instruction service at half rates is available only while the funds appropriated through the generosity of the War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A. last. Better act quickly.

"BEN HUR" LECTURE FRIDAY NIGHT WILL CLOSE SERIES HERE

Despite the high winds the First Christian church was filled to hear Dr. Herbert Youell in his lecture entertainment on "France—Yesterday and Today." At the close of the lecture the most frequent remark heard was "The best yet." The pictures were out of the ordi. n. Paris was shown from its life side as well as its art side. The conditions of France before and during the revolution were shown and the effects of that great upheaval, a society giving to the world a Napoleon and a republic of pronounced national characteristics. The pictures of the parks, boulevards, public buildings, art galleries and many evidences of the sorrows of national evolution were startling and rare.

Devastated France was also shown, instead of a war lecture it was evident the lecturer had in mind President Harding's recent remark, "Never again." Prolonged applause greeted the speaker again after his first lecture, President Wilson, Lafayette and General Pershing as personalities representing great motives and ideals in the making of history.

The lecture abounded in sallies of wit and humor which kept the audience laughing much of the time. It was Dr. Youell's longest lecture, yet there seemed to be a general desire for more.

"Ben Hur," Lew Wallace's incomparable story, will be presented Friday night. This is the last of the series and the occasion will be in the nature of a farewell. Dr. Youell was personally assisted by General Wallace in the preparation of this series. In the chautauqua world he is known as the "American of the Chautauqua." The famous chautauque made pictures. In all 200 richly colored pictures will be shown. The general regret is that no place in the city large enough to accommodate the crowds could be secured. Extra seats will be provided and every effort will be made to accommodate the people. Parents are asked if possible to leave the very small children at home.

JURY GIVES NEEES $10,000 DAMAGES AGAINST COMPANY

A jury in the 39th district court in the case of G. L. Nees against the Massey Drilling company awarded the plaintiff a judgment of $10,000 for injuries alleged to have been suffered while he was in the employ of the defendant company.

It was alleged that he suffered bodily injury while employed on a rig at the drilling company. He contended that a heavy timber fell from the derrick a distance of 25 feet, striking him and breaking his ankle and wrist and causing other physical injury.

The jury had deliberated practically an hour when a verdict was returned.

DENIES THAT CATHOLICS JOINED IN MOVEMENT

WASHINGTON, March 10.—John J. Burke, general secretary of the National Catholic Welfare council, denied last night that his organization, as reported in press dispatches from New York, joined with other religious organizations in a movement to obtain immediate ratification by the senate without reservations of the armament conference treaties.

The council, he said, had approved the disarmament conference and its general results, but believes that full liberty of conscientious action should be allowed every member of the senate.

STOCKYARDS INSPECTOR EXONERATED BY JURY

EAST ST. LOUIS, March 10.—John D. Hawkins, chief inspector at the national stockyards here, was exonerated by a coroner's jury last evening following the inquest into the killing of Mark Larkin, a veterinarian and a deputy state inspector of cattle, who was shot to death yesterday morning by Hawkins.

Hawkins testified he had acted in self-defense after he had been knocked down by Larkin, who had threatened his life on several occasions. He said he fired through his overcoat.

The innocent cause of the whole affair was without a scratch. The speaker escaped.

Less than six weeks ago Kinsner was badly hurt and his motorcycle wrecked in a traffic collision at Burnett and Ninth streets.

PREACHER DECLARES WILL NOT LEAVE UNTIL GETS READY

BROWNVILLE, TEXAS, March 10.—Citizens of Alamo, Hidalgo county, today continued close guard over the Rev. William Baldwin, pastor of the Alamo community church, who, with Ira J. Dutton, a church worker, received anonymous letters threatening their lives unless they left Alamo by sundown yesterday.

Baldwin said today he is a native of England, but recently had taken out his first American citizenship papers and that he would not leave Alamo until he "gets ready."

He came here from Winthrop on the first of this year. He attended a community meeting last night, accompanied by armed guards, but the threatening letters were not discussed.

ROBINSON RENEWS CHARGES OF SECRECY IN TREATY NEGOTIATIONS

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Renewing his charge that the four-power treaty was negotiated "secretly," Senator Robinson, democrat, Arkansas, declared on the senate floor today that while the negotiations were in progress, Secretary Hughes, as head of the American delegation, had misled the newspaper correspondents and through them the press of the country by denying that he knew of any such plan.

Correspondents who were assigned to the conference, the Arkansas senator said, not only were unable to obtain any authoritative information as to what was going on, but many of them suffered professionally because they had placed credence in what Mr. Hughes told them.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, republican leader and member of the American delegation, replied that he considered it "inconceivable" that the secretary had denied knowledge of the four power plan because it had been discussed through the delegates before the conference convened.

CONFESES TO THEFT OF $190,000 FUNDS

PHILADELPHIA, March 10.—Walter A. Unger, former assistant treasurer of the Dr. Thomas W. Evans dental institute and museum fund, was today held in $50,000 bail on charges of stealing approximately $190,000 of the fund's securities and money. He will be given a speedy trial.

"I stole the money," Unger confessed today to the police. "And I want to start my sentence and get it over with. I took the money to make my mother happy."

Unger was arrested in a rooming house last night after being missing ten days. Unger confessed he lost most of the money in bucket shops and other broker offices, detectives say.

"I am glad they caught me," Unger said, according to a detective. "Why did I do it? The old, old story. The brokers showed me the pretty picture, the beautiful scenery and the bright outlook. I got in too deep, tried to come back, but beyond my depth. I am willing to pay for my deed. But my family, the innocent bystanders, as always, will suffer."

RUNS MOTORCYCLE INTO CURB TO AVOID CHILD, IS INJURED

Steering his speeding machine into a telephone pole in order to avoid striking a small child playing in the street resulted in putting City Motorcyclist Officer Kinsner on the hospital list and in wrecking his machine. The accident took place at 2300 Friday afternoon in the 2100 block on Tenth street and was due entirely, eye witnesses said, to the officer's presence of mind in avoiding a child who would have meant almost certain death for the baby.

Kinsner was chasing a speeder and was running about 40 miles an hour, reports made to Chief Morgan said, when the accident occurred. He was just passing one automobile when the child stepped from behind the car and stopped directly in front of the motorcycle. Kinsner threw his machine to the side, crashed into the curb and ended up against a telephone pole.

His hand was badly sprained and he suffered severe bruises and scratches about the head, while his machine was badly damaged.

The innocent cause of the whole affair was without a scratch. The speaker escaped.

Gov. NEFF BEFORE TRAVIS GRAND JURY

AUSTIN, March 10.—Governor Neff appeared before the grand jury here today. He was in the jury room about five minutes. It is not known what case the governor's testimony had reference to but several witnesses who are known to have been examined in connection with the Peeler Clayton murder case preceded him. It was believed here that his testimony was in connection with that case.

REV. VOSS IS BADLY INJURED WHEN AUTO COLLIDES WITH TRAIN

Reports from physicians attending Rev. E. M. Voss, Fort Worth clergyman, indicated Friday that injuries sustained by him Thursday afternoon when his automobile was struck by a train at the Holiday street-Wichita Valley railroad crossing would not prove fatal. For a time Thursday it was feared that his condition was extremely serious but later developments have shown a marked improvement.

The accident took place shortly before 6 o'clock Thursday afternoon and was due, according to eyewitnesses, to Rev. Voss' failure to notice the approaching train. He drove squarely in its path, witnesses said, and was hurled about 25 feet when his machine was wrecked.

The train was stopped immediately and members of the crew, together with passengers and several eyewitnesses of the crash, rendered what aid they could to the injured man. He was taken to the county hospital and Parker hospital where examinations disclosed a fractured collar bone, a broken rib and concussion of the brain.

Rev. Voss is conducting evangelistic services at the Holiness Pentecostal church, Fifth and Adams streets, for the past week.

PARIS PAPER URGES ABANDONMENT OF GENOA CONFERENCE

By Associated Press.
PARIS, March 10.—The semi-official Temps urges in an editorial that the Genoa conference be abandoned to let the United States have refused to participate.

SUPPORTERS OF TREATY PREVENT DEBATE DELAY

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Requests to temporarily lay aside the four-power treaty in the senate today was blocked for the time being by administration leaders who insisted that the ratification debate continue and that "irreconcilables" opposing the treaty present their case or else allow voting to begin on the proposed reservations.

Several senators on both sides of the chamber had prepared addresses on a bill to reorganize the federal judiciary but Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the republican leader, declined to let the bill have the right of way.

The "irreconcilables" indicated that they were not anxious to keep up the active offensive they began yesterday. They preferred to postpone further discussion until they had heard the speech in support of the treaty to be made by Senator Underwood of Alabama.

Senator Johnson, republican, California, is expected to reply to him Monday.

Although the treaty remained as the actual business before the senate, discussion at the beginning of today's session took little cognizance of it, ranging over a variety of subjects.

CASE ON TRIAL IN 9TH INVOLVES OVER $140,000
A case involving over $140,000, and styled M. E. Stevens, trustee, against George W. Dewey et al. went on trial in the 9th district court Friday afternoon. The plaintiff alleges that the defendants in selling some real property claimed $140,000 as a commission and extracted the same from the selling price. The plaintiff contends that the $140,000 was not all commission, but was part of the consideration in the sale of the property.

CROSS EXAMINATION OF MRS. OBENCHAIN IS BEGUN FRIDAY

LOS ANGELES, March 10.—Mrs. Madalynne Conno Obenchain, pale and somewhat nervous, took the stand today to face cross examination by the state upon her story of yesterday of her love for J. Belton Kennedy and his death by shooting in her trial on a charge of murdering him. She assumed a position in the witness chair so that she could face the jury.

That it was in the case of Kennedy love at first sight, was indicated by Mrs. Obenchain in her responses to the initial questions of the cross examination by Ana Keyes, deputy district attorney. She testified she first met Kennedy at her mother's home here in 1917, when he was showing property to a relative. They met several times soon thereafter, and the second or third time he mentioned love to her, she testified.

"Belton said that he cared for me, but was under obligation to the state," she testified. It was the summer of 1918 that Kennedy first asked her to marry him, she said. She gave her consent on August 21, 1918.

The engagement continued five months, she said. Ralph Obenchain, former school chum, arrived in Los Angeles on December 24, 1918. The following Christmas she telephoned to Kennedy and broke the engagement, a week before her marriage to Obenchain.

The reason for breaking the engagement with Kennedy, she said, was that in her opinion the home conditions of Kennedy made marriage impossible. She said that during the engagement the relations between the two were friendly.

Phrases of two love letters from Mrs. Obenchain to Kennedy were read by the deputy district attorney. These letters were dated February 4 and 15, 1919.

"My love, my life is yours! It won't be long before I can come to you," was read as one of her phrases in the letters. The prosecutor asked what she meant in writing that.

"I meant that Belton had induced me to leave Ralph," Mrs. Obenchain replied.

In response to questions she said that she had been in love with Kennedy at the time she married Obenchain.

Discussion of separation from Obenchain was held with Kennedy shortly after her marriage to Obenchain, she testified. In June, 1919, Kennedy suggested that she obtain an annulment. She was hesitant in her answers today in striking comparison with the composure and facility with which she responded to her attorney yesterday.

STATE COMMISSIONERS TO CONFER WITH I. C. C.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—A conference between the interstate commerce commission and representatives of state railway commissions to discuss their respective jurisdictions over rates as suggested by the supreme court in its recent decision in the Wisconsin and other rate cases, has been arranged for March 17.

The initiative for the conference was taken by the interstate commerce commission through an invitation by Chairman McChord to Carl D. Jackson, president of the National Association of Railway and Utilities Commissioners, who accepted the invitation for March 17. In its rate decisions, the supreme court said that a general rate increase in some instances might reduce traffic and revenues by discouraging patronage.

LEGION MEMORIAL HOSPITAL SOON TO ACCOMMODATE 600

AUSTIN, TEXAS, March 10.—Provisions for an increase in the number of patients at the American Legion memorial tuberculosis sanatorium at Kerrville, Texas, from $1, the present number, to about 600, will be ready when the final units of the hospital are completed. Contracts for the last units, which bring the total number of units to 20, with a capacity of about 600 patients, were let this week.

E. W. Tittle, a member of the state board of control, said ex-servicemen and civilians are among the patients at the Kerrville hospital at present, with the ex-soldiers in the majority. According to Mr. Tittle, the hospital was designed principally for soldiers but also will be used for the treatment of civilians.

The new tuberculosis sanatorium at Kerrville was turned over to the state by the American Legion early last year, after an appropriation of $1,500,000 had been made for its construction. The hospital, when filled to capacity, will hold more patients than the state tuberculosis sanatorium at Carlsbad, Texas, where civilian patients are treated. The Carlsbad institution has a capacity of about 450 patients, according to Mr. Tittle.

The Kerrville hospital units include an administration building, in which the dining hall will be located, the superintendent's residence, a power house, laundry, two help dormitories, a nurses' home, four one-story dormitories, and six two-story dormitories, according to information furnished here.

O'BRIEN THINKS NOTHING WILL BE DONE ABOUT HIS CONTRACT WITH SPUDDERS

By PAUL W. LARKIN.

"Though I don't believe there will be any trouble about my contract with the Spudders, despite the decision of the national board regarding the purchase of the services of a free agent, you can tell the Wichita Falls fans for me," declared Ray O'Brien to the writer today. "I prefer playing 'all in' in Wichita Falls to balling other teams in the Texas league. One thing is certain—the worst the national board can do to me is declare me a free agent again. Judge Landis has already done, and were that to happen I would immediately sign with the Wichita Falls team again. If you doubt the truth of that statement, all you need do is investigate my correspondence with the Wichita Falls club and I believe you will find that I signed with Walter Salm for less money than I was offered by another Texas league club. I think that will show that I want to play here, regardless of what happens."

The foregoing is the way Ray O'Brien feels about the situation which has created such a stir in the local baseball circles due to the ruling made last month by the national board about the giving of a "bonus" to a free agent. There are several reasons in O'Brien's opinion as to why nothing will be done about the matter, and all are good ones. Neither Manager Walter Salm nor President R. O. Harvey would go into detail about the transaction last night, simply stating that "the Wichita Falls club had not violated any rule whatsoever and that the deal was made in good faith."

be out for a couple of days. Bischoff then went to first base. All the players hit the ball on the nose, hitting practice but that doesn't mean anything at this stage of the game. The hurriers are not attempting to put anything on the ball and the swatters are simply swinging from their heels and connecting every time.

Golf Goes on the Stage With Act That Makes Hit

Golf has gone into vaudeville. Boxing, baseball and football have all done big time. However, not until recently did golf make its debut in "wooden" vaudeville. A "golf act" in vaudeville would have been ridiculed. All of which merely shows the hold the game is getting on the American public. The act is called "A Lesson in Golf" and is presented by two professional golfers. While a spectator may not gain any real knowledge as to how to improve his game from the act it certainly will interest him. It is one in a humorous as well as serious vein. A number of the stunts draw a big laugh, and when the professional misuses some of the shots he really intends to make it the cue for the audience to "raze" him through the medium of the merry "ha ha."

Of course in all vaudeville acts it is most essential to have a whirlwind finish. In the "Lesson in Golf" act the professional finishes by rapidly driving a number of golf balls while blindfolded to the accompaniment of soft music. Motion pictures are used to aid the act and materially assist in putting it over. First the real picture of a player are thrown on the screen as he does the various golf stunts. These pictures are then slowed up and get many a laugh.

SEMI-FINALS IN BIG CAGE TOURNEY TONIGHT

KANSAS CITY, March 10.—Semi-finals in the national A. A. U. basketball tournament to be played here tonight find two Kansas City teams, an Indianapolis and a Kansas five contestants for further honors. The champions of 1921, the Kansas City Athletic club, will meet the Indianapolis "Y" in the first game and Lowe and Campbell, Kansas City, play Southwestern college, Winfield, Kan., in the second game. The winners will decide the 1922 championship title in the final game tomorrow night.

HURLERS GOING WELL WRITES KITCHENS

A letter from Frank Kitchens, in charge of the hurlers at Marlin, by The Times sports editor states that all the pitchers have arrived and are in good condition. Frank writes that they have had three good workouts and that no soreness has been experienced yet due to the baths. Darrough and Ruth seemed to be in shape when they reported and the latter, especially, is going to bear watching this season. Also since he took hold of it, on top of that he has borrowed $200,000 from Rupert of New York, giving a mortgage on his ball park. That's nearly $500,000 he has collected. He hasn't spent it in baseball. The conclusion must be that some of these footlight favorites have found him an indulgent angel.

WONDERS WHAT FRAZEE HAS DONE WITH MONEY

One demon statistician has figured that Harry Frazee has collected $467,000 for ball players he has sold off the Boston Red Sox since he took hold of it. On top of that he has borrowed $200,000 from Rupert of New York, giving a mortgage on his ball park. That's nearly $500,000 he has collected. He hasn't spent it in baseball. The conclusion must be that some of these footlight favorites have found him an indulgent angel.

RUTH'S BONUS STARTS SUSPICIOUS FANS TALKING

The arrangement whereby Babe Ruth is to receive such a large bonus for each circuit scout registered this year is not making a great hit everywhere. The suspicious fans (and there are plenty of those nowadays) figure that Babe will be able to slip the opposing hurler something for a groove ball, and then split with him after the game. Or that some friendly hurler will slide one down the alley. It's possible, but hardly probable. At any rate there'll be a lot of undue comment and criticism this year every time the Bambino parks one, especially if he poles one over the top and won't hurt the outcome of the game.

JOHNNY MOKAN WOULD PLAY THIRD FOR PIRATES

Johnny Mokan wants to play the infield this year, according to a report emanating from the Pirate camp this spring. He is said to have asked Manager George Gibson for a trial at the hot corner. ## SOBEY SHOWS UP WELL

Sorey worked the entire session at second base and if his first workout is any criterion, it would seem that Buddy won't have to tell him much. Though still a younger ball player, Sorey has seen plenty of service. He was in the old T-O league in 1913 with Texarkana—the same team on which Ray O'Brien, Joe Pate, Stalibauer and other players well known to the present day fan played. Wichita Falls was in the league that year. Tex. McDonald had seen him play a couple of years before that when he was a high school kid in Greenville, Texas, and he recognized him the minute he stepped onto the diamond. "He knows his stuff," said Tex. It didn't take Sorey long to get acquainted with the rest of the boys and he showed everybody that he is no rookie. He went to his left and right and whipped the agate across the diamond in mid-season form though it was his first day out. He's going to give somebody a merry battle for a berth and if he should chance to be numbered among those injured boys by Salm, he'll make a good man for some other Texas league club. Holloway held down the initial cover until he hurt his ankle going back after one of Tanner's pegs. He tripped over the bag and gave his ankle a mean twist. He called it a day after this accident and he may

O'BRIEN THINKS NOTHING WILL BE DONE ABOUT HIS CONTRACT WITH SPUDDERS

By PAUL W. LARKIN.

"Though I don't believe there will be any trouble about my contract with the Spudders, despite the decision of the national board regarding the purchase of the services of a free agent, I can tell the Wichita Falls fans for me," declared Ray O'Brien to the writer today, "that I prefer playing in the Wichita Falls club to any other club in the Texas league. One thing is certain—the worst the national board can do to me is declare me a free agent, which Judge Landis has already done, and were that to happen I would immediately sign with the Wichita Falls team again. If you doubt the truth of that statement all you need do is investigate my correspondence with the Wichita Falls club and I believe you will find that I signed with Walter Salm for less money than I was offered by another Texas league club. I think that will show that I want to play here, regardless of what happens."

The foregoing is the way Ray O'Brien feels about the situation which has created such a stir in local baseball circles due to the ruling made last month by the national board of the purchase of a "bonus" to a free agent. There are several reasons in O'Brien's opinion as to why nothing will be done about the matter, and all are good ones. Neither Manager Walter Salm nor President R. O. Harvey would go into detail about the transaction last night, simply stating that "the Wichita Falls club had not violated any rule whatsoever and that the deal was made in good faith."

Player Entitled to Money.

This decision was made February 27, while O'Brien's contract was signed more than a week before this date. Furthermore, the deal was made in good faith, and the world why a club should not purchase a player's services from himself, while a free agent, and still be forced to pay another club for his services were he the property of the latter at the time of the purchase.

The deal whereby O'Brien was shifted about by Fort Worth, Omaha and Galveston was one of the most complicated affairs that has ever been attempted. Judge Landis, in passing on the case over Farrell's head, showed conclusively that there was something radically wrong some place. Maybe Galveston thought she was purchasing O'Brien in good faith and maybe she knew different. At any rate, President Leopold of the Crabs lost no money by the deal, though he did lose O'Brien when the commissioner declared him free. O'Brien is not the first ball player to be declared a free agent this season by the league and the chances are that he won't be the last. There have been several funny transactions made in recent years, but they have been deemed a death blow by the supreme arbiter and managers and owners are moving a bit more carefully nowadays.

Naturally, Leopold was a bit put out when he lost O'Brien. Any manager or owner would be. O'Brien does not grow on every minor league bush. Hence the hope of the Galveston club. But should the transaction whereby O'Brien came to Wichita Falls become nullified it is hard to see how the national board can do anything other than declare O'Brien a free agent again. Should that decision be rendered, he maintains he will sign with the Wichita Falls club again. The board certainly cannot place any blame on the player's shoulders and it is hard to see where it can do anything other than the club. Then, of course, the matter can be taken up with Judge Landis who no doubt would see the matter in its proper light.

Good Workout, Thursday.

The largest crowd of the season attended the afternoon workout Thursday. Approaching the championship game was in progress, judging from the number of machines that were parked along the road. The fans regretted their journey to the park as the session was by far the best they had seen.

After the usual sounds of hitting practice the infielders took care of everything that came their way and try as he might Skipper Salm couldn't poke one past Tex. McDonald, Tex. who has been in the hot corner like a two-year-old and talked it up in a manner that had some of the rookies dumfounded. He had plenty of pop during the first part of the workout, but it didn't last all day. It was his first appearance of the season in a uniform, however, and it won't be long before "Uncle Tex" is showing the youngsters how to do a bit of hitting.

Evans alternated at the bat with him and Buddy Tanner was at short. Buddy is rapidly rounding into form and shot a few over to first yesterday. He looks like a fourth of July stuff. He looks better every day and many a fan was heard to utter when the session broke up that the man who takes Buddy's job in 1922 will be the best shortstop in the Texas league. Buddy looks better every day and says "I'm on your White's. Sorey's et al. I'll show 'em how to play the position."

Sorey Shows Up Well.

Sorey worked the entire workout at second base and if his first work-out is any criterion, it would seem that Buddy won't have to tell him much. Though still a young ball player, Sorey has seen plenty of service. He was in the old T-O league in 1913 with Texarkana—the same team on which Ray O'Brien, Joe Pate, Stellbauer and other players well known to the present day fan played. Wichita Falls was in the league that year. Tex. McDonald had seen him play a couple of years before that when he was a high school kid in Greenville, Texas, and he recognized him the minute he stepped onto the diamond. "He knows his stuff," said Tex.

It didn't take Sorey long to get acquainted with the rest of the boys and he showed everybody that he is no rookie. He went to his left and right and whipped the agate across the diamond in mid-afternoon form though it was his first day out. He's going to give somebody a merry battle for a berth and if he should chance to be numbered among those injured losses by Salm, he'll make a good man for some other Texas league club.

Holloway held down the initial cover until he hurt his ankle going back after one of Tanner's pegs. He tripped over the bag and gave his ankle a mean twist. He called it a day after this accident and he may

Golf Goes on the Stage With Act That Makes Hit

Golf has gone into vaudeville. Boxing, baseball and football have all done big time.

However, not until recently did golf make its mark in "vodvill" and a few years ago a golf act in vaudeville would have been ridiculed.

All of which merely shows the hold the game is getting on the American public.

The act is called "A Lesson in Golf" and is presented by two professional golfers.

While a spectator may not gain any real knowledge as to how to improve his game from the act it certainly will interest him.

It is some in a humorous as well as serious manner. The professional golfers draw a big laugh, and when the professional misses some of the shots he really intends to make it the cue for the audience to "tear" him through the medium of the merry "ha ha."

Of course in all vaudeville acts it is most essential to have a whirlwind finish. In the "Lesson in Golf" act the professional finishes by rapidly driving a number of golf balls while blindfolded to the accompaniment of soft music.

Motion pictures are used to aid the act and materially assist in putting it over. First the real pictures of a player are thrown on the screen as he does the various golf stunts. The pictures are then "slowed up" and get many a laugh.

QUERY DAY

LANDIS WILL NOT ACT FOR NATIONAL FEDERATION

CHICAGO, March 10.—K. M. Landis, commissioner for organized baseball, does not intend to become a court of last resort for the national baseball federation, the "base ball lot group," he said yesterday in discussing reports from Cleveland that he had been asked to take such a position in addition to his major league duties.

"Have absolutely no intention of acting in such a capacity," he said.

JOHNNY MOKAN WOULD PLAY THIRD FOR PIRATES

Johnny Mokan wants to play the infield this year, according to a report emanating from the Pirate camp this spring. He is said to have asked Manager Gibson for a trial at the hot corner. Third base is supposed to be the Pittsburgh weakness this year and Johnny believes he can fill the gap for his boss. He did some third basing while with Minneapolis.

RUTH'S BONUS STARTS SUSPICIOUS FANS TALKING

The arrangement whereby Babe Ruth is to receive such a large bonus for each circuit circuit registered this year is not making a great hit everywhere. The suspicious fans (and there are plenty of those nowadays) figure that Babe will be able to slip the opposing hurler something for a groovy ball and then split with him after the game. Or that some friendly hurler will slide one down the alley. It's possible, but hardly probable. At any rate there'll be a lot of undue comment and criticism this year every time the Bamberger parks one, especially if he poses one where one run won't hurt the outcome of the game.

SMACK 'ER IN THE BIG MITT

Johnnie Walker, athletic catcher, holds up his big mitt as a target for the pitchers in spring training at Eagle Pass, Texas. Connie Mack may use him as a first baseman this season.

SEMI-FINALS IN BIG CAGE TOURNEY TONIGHT

KANSAS CITY, March 10.—Semi-finals in the national A. A. U. basketball tournament to be played here tonight find two Kansas City teams, an Indianapolis and a Kansas five contestants for further honors.

The champions of 1921, the Kansas City Athletic club, will meet the Indianapolis "Y" in the first game and Lowe and Campbell, Kansas City, play Southwestern college, Winfield, Kan., in the second game. The winners will decide the 1922 championship title in the final game tomorrow night.

HURLERS GOING WELL WRITES KITCHENS

Spudder Backstop Also High in His Praise of Treatment Accorded Players.

A letter from Frank Kitchens, in charge of the hurlers at Marlin, by The Times sports editor states that all the pitchers have arrived and are in good condition. Frank writes that they have had three good workouts and that no soreness has been experienced yet due to the bats. Dorough and Ruth seemed to be in shape when they reported and the latter, especially, is going to bear watching this season. Abe Dorough is working hard and expects to experience his best season. Hamsey reported Wednesday night, but had not worked out up to the time the letter was written because his trunk was delayed some place en route. As Kitchens says, "Imagine a ball player having a trunk."

That's about all the Old Fox has to say about the hurlers, but he takes up quite a bit of space telling about the fine treatment that is being accorded them by Dr. Bues and Manager Johnson of the bath house. He writes: "They are especially nice to us and always inquiring as to our needs. They give us all the attention possible and nothing in the place is too good for us. It's so different from the usual hotel service."

WONDERS WHAT FRAZEE HAS DONE WITH MONEY

One demon statistician has figured that Harry Frazee has collected $467,000 for ball players he has sold off the Boston Red Sox since he took hold of it. On top of that he has borrowed $200,000 from Rupert of New York, giving a mortgage on his ball park. That's nearly $667,000 he has collected. He hasn't spent it in baseball. The conclusion must be that some of these footlight favorites have found him an indulgent angel.

AMATEURS WILL BUILD STATUE OF MATTHEWSON

NEW YORK, March 10.—A heroic statue of Christy Matthewson, delivering his famous fade-away is to be erected in Van Cortlandt park by amateur baseball players of New York city.

The famous hero of the pitching mound is still at Saranac Lake in the Adirondacks, fighting tuberculosis. Recently he was reported able to take short walks each day.

LEWIS RETAINS TITLE

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 10.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, world heavyweight champion wrestler, retained his title here last night by throwing Joe Petroff, Bulgarian heavy weight, with a flying dead-kick after an hour and twenty-three minutes. Petroff's manager, Ivan Mickaleoff, protested use of the headlock and refused to let his man return to the mat.

AND BILL THEY GO

NEW YORK, March 10.—A series of aprints today failed to shake the Greyn-McNamara and Brocco-De-greya teams from their lead in the six day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden. The leaders had covered 1,786 miles and six laps at the 10th hour.

The record is 2,051 miles and five laps, made by Folger and Hall eight years ago.

ODD FELLOWS NOTES.

The Rebekah degree of Odd Fellowship has introduced an innovation by serving a lunch on the first Thursday meeting of each month, and the first one was a decided success. About 45 men and women met at the noon hour and the tables fairly groaned with the many good things to eat.

The degree team of the subordinate lodge is meeting on going to Burk Burnett this evening to institute a new lodge. A entire work will be put on from beginning to the end, and it is thought it will be an all night job.

The next entertainment to be held in the interest of Odd Fellowship is planned for March 23 and the committee is making every effort to have this one better than any ever held before.

Chickens Fail to Obey Ordinance On Running Loose

The annual spring migration of the neighbors' chickens to adjacent gardens is now in full swing and has reached such proportions, as to have the attention of "the law."

Chief of Police Morgan, after listening to an irate citizen recount the damage done by a neighbor's feathered flock in his onion bed, opined Friday morning that chicken proprietors hereabouts had better keep their property at home or else come under the displeasure of the police court.

MUZZLING OF DOGS IS PROPOSED IN ORDINANCE TO BE INTRODUCED SOON

More misery is in store for the luckless dogs of the city if another new ordinance being prepared by Police Commissioner J. B. Pitts is passed by the city council next Monday. The new law will require that all dogs appearing on public streets must be provided with muzzles or else run the risk of capture and execution by policemen.

The recent epidemic of mad dog attacks that has resulted in a dozen or fifteen persons being bitten, thus necessitating special medical treatment, has caused him to prepare the new ordinance, Mr. Pitts said. He believes that the safety of the public is jeopardized by the dogs to such an extent that muzzles are warranted.

Dogs that are kept on private property by their owners are of course exempt from the new ruling, but wherever they are taken in public streets the muzzles must be provided. The ordinance will be submitted to the city council next Monday night.

FIXTURES OF MEAT MARKET MISSING; OFFICERS PUZZLED

A considerably mixed-up case involving the disappearance of a large quantity of store furniture and fixtures came to light at the city hall Friday when city detectives who have been working on the affair since the first of the year returned from investigating another fruitless "tip."

The officers are not certain that there is anything out of the way in the disappearance of the property, but inasmuch as several peculiar angles have developed from their investigations, they are continuing their hunt.

The rich maple flavor that New Englanders brag about

you get it always in Towle's LOG CABIN Syrup

If you've got a neighbor from New England he's probably told you that the only way you can get syrup with the real gen-u-ine maple flavor is to get it direct from Vermont.

But, say, if you want some fun, just step into your grocer's and get a can of Log Cabin Syrup. Take it over to your neighbor and let him put a delicious spoonful on his tongue. Watch his eyes light with memories of Vermont boyhood.

Brings memories of sugar camp days
Listen to him tell of those first thawing days when the call, "Sap's Runnin'," sent man and boy pell-mell to the sugar camps. He lives over again those rushing hours when every man and beast worked at top speed gathering the precious flow. Days of carrying; nights of boiling!

But what a goal in sight! Rich maple sugar on the table and in the kitchen all the year 'round. Log Cabin brings this flood of sweet memories—because it has the unforgettable flavor of the real old-fashioned maple at its best.

From the boiled-down essence of maple
This flavor Log Cabin gets from the pure maple sugar—sugar that is the boiled-down essence of maple. Just enough pure sugar of cane—and nothing else—is blended with it to make it most palatable for table use.

Try Log Cabin Syrup on pancakes or waffles. But don't stop there. Pour it over cereals, grapefruit, ice cream and desserts. Have it with hot biscuits or good old-fashioned johnnycake! Every meal there's something that can be wonderfully improved with the Log Cabin flavor of pure maple—the flavor that New Englanders brag about.

The genuine Towle's Log Cabin Syrup comes only in the distinctive log-cabin-shaped cans—3 sizes.
